"The Perils of Pauline," pale in comparison with our real-life "Terror Trip" to San Antonio last Friday.

I knew it was going to be a bad day when the eggs turned to rubber in the microwave about 3:45 a.m. I didn't know how bad even when we backed out of the garage at 4:07 and were splattered with huge raindrops accompanied by some dazzling displays of lightning and ear-splitting thunder. The further we went, the worse the storm got.

I kept begging Tom to turn off and wait until daylight, but he kept telling me it was "all behind us now." It grew much worse between Falling Rock and Scenic View and the bottom really fell out at Litter Barrel. By the time we got to the Kerrville exit, I was a basket case and begged Tom to stop and at least let me off. However, it did seem to be dying down somewhat. By that I mean we could see the white stripe at the side of the road, so we plowed on. What had been through was a light sprinkle compared to what we drove off into. Somewhere near Comfort, (something ironic about that name) all hell broke loose. There was wind, rain, hail and all this in pitch dark. We were forced to stop, we hoped at the side of the road, but had no way of knowing. I covered up with an afghan and put the pillow on top of my head, the pillow I had planned to sleep on as we traveled.

Well, we finally got on the way again. Cars and trucks were littered all over the median and side of the road. I was shaking so bad I tried to light a cigarette and lit the end of my nose instead. And Tom had the unmitigated nerve to tell me it was just extra large rain drops and not hail during the height of the storm, when hail stones were crashing into the windshield within a foot of my very eyes. I wanted to really let him have it, but my mouth was too dry to speak above a whisper.

We drove into San Antonio, in bright sunshine, but that was not for long. I couldn't close my eyes because they had been glued to the road so long they stuck out further than my eyelids and when we got out of the car, my legs wouldn't hold my body up. Tom got out at the covered entrance at the hospital. I got behind the wheel and when my foot quit shaking I drove about 15 miles to park the car. As I locked the car, the storm caught up with us, and I was pelted all the way back to the hospital.

After waiting two hours, the doctors held a consultation with us and went into detail about everything that could go wrong if Tom had hip surgery. This after two years of making up his mind and losing 20 pounds in a month was deflating to say the least. Anyway after getting an appointment with the head man, we started home, secure in the knowledge that the trip home could not possibly be as bad as the trip down. Oh wow, was that ever false security.

We headed west into the blackest storm cloud you could ever hope to see and sure enough, the big drops began again, this time with wind so terrific Tom could hardly hold the car on the road. The rain was coming in sheets and you could barely election for the renovation of the "Old" Junior High School Building. The election, to be held on April 19, 1983, will provide $1,500,000 for the renewal of Ozona's first permanent school building which was constructed during a two-year period, 1910-1912.

Ron Barbutti, architect for the renovation project, has reported that all work will be done in a manner which will retain the original architectural style and appearance of the building; while allowing for an educational program to function in an up-to-date environment of improved acoustics, lighting, and heating and cooling systems. The project will also include equipment and furnishings for the building.

The building is presently in use with temporary classroom space being utilized for art classes and speech classes. The project, when completed, will retain the existing functions and provide space for expansion of the secondary educational program. Basic education, special education, and advanced education classes are being planned for the building, as well as office space, an auto mechanics classroom, storage for art and speech, and room for expanding computer education.

School officials are planning to conduct activities which will offer information on the renovation project and are receptive to meeting with interested groups and individuals who want to discuss the future of the building.

FIRST THINGS LAST

By Edwin Feulner

In baseball, after three strikes, you're out. Not so with Congress. For three years in a row, Congress has failed to adopt a budget by the beginning of the new fiscal year. We are into the sixth month of Fiscal Year 1983, and congressional action on needed appropriations legislation is almost nil.

But that's not the full story. Even more alarming is the fact that Congress may not pass a budget for Fiscal Year 1983, just as it failed to pass a budget for Fiscal Years 1982 and 1981. That would mean the third straight year in a row that Congress dropped the ball, violating its own Budget Act of 1974.

Without a budget, the federal government must run on something called a continuing resolution. Economist John Palfy notes, "Continuing resolutions postpone (budget) cuts and force administrators to operate under uncertainty, which is to say, inefficient." For a Congress allegedly bent on reducing the deficit, operating in such a manner is the economic equivalent of an ice cream diet for chronic obesity.

Despite public perceptions that there have been massive budget cuts during President Reagan's first two years in office, federal spending increased 11 percent in FY 1982, no doubt in part a result of the breakdown of the congressional budget process.

Who is to blame? Certainly not President Reagan. He sent Congress a budget. But congressional big spenders like House Speaker Tip O'Neill quickly bludgeoned it to death. As of yet, they've neglected to come up with a realistic alternative.

Perhaps Tip and Company really don't want a budget. Not having one makes it easier for them to avoid making the hard choices needed to get federal spending under control. Continuing resolutions are the big spenders' methadone, and Congress seems addicted to them.

This congressional budget charade makes a mockery of all the moaning going on in Congress over impending deficits. And it goes a long way toward exploding the myth that all our fiscal ills can be laid at the door of the Pentagon and President Reagan's "intractability" on defense spending.

One would think congressional leaders would have resolved to do better in the 98th Congress, now that President Reagan has submitted his budget for Fiscal Year 1984. But judging by what senators and representatives have done since the Christmas holidays, it looks like we might be in for our fourth budget-less year in a row.

What are the prospects that we might get a budget passed in fiscal 1984? Well, don't hold your breath. The House of Representatives convened January 3, and guess what topped its legislative agenda?

Don't laugh—reintroduction of the moribund Equal Rights Amendment.

By designating the ERA as House Joint Resolution #1, Tip and his pals in the House Leadership have illustrated just how out of touch they are with America in 1983. Think what you will of this legislative dinosaur, there is no way it can claim priority over hastening economic recovery. But Rep. Don Edwards, chairman of the House subcommittee to which H.J.R. 1 was referred, promises to hold hearings on it "promptly," predicting House passage of the resurrected ERA by midsummer.

It would be travesty to see the ERA passed by the House before Congress adopts a budget for Fiscal Year 1983. If it happens, the public should cry "foul!" and send the culprits back to the minor leagues.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As state officials nervously await the effects of a new recession on Texas, eyes turned towards the Rio Grande Valley last week for clues of its momentum.

The Legislature, facing the prospect of solving the state's problems with too few dollars, must contend with some big money issues in the next few weeks. The Valley, because of its proximity to Mexico, suffers double when hard times hit both nations simultaneously. Today's indications are grim.

According to Texas Employment Commission figures released last week, unemployment in the Valley has reached over 20 percent.

Joblessness is highest in Laredo at 27.3 percent. The McAllen - Pharr - Edinburg area has 20.5 percent unemployment, and Brownsville - Harlingen - San Benito copes with 17.7 percent without jobs.

Last Sunday the Texas United Farm Workers threatened to strike if minimum wages do not improve. The group held its fifth annual convention in Pharr. Texas minimum wage law assures farmworkers receive at least $1.40 per hour.

Politicians do not ignore the growing political clout of Hispanics, particularly concentrated in the Valley. In November Gov. Mark White got more than double the number of Hispanic votes received by John Hill four years earlier.

Illegal Aliens
During a recent trip to the Valley, White discovered many businesses there have suffered 80 percent declines in revenue and unemployment has hit nearly every family.

The political attention of the Hispanics has turned from local issues to the government unemployment policies.

The constant flow of people across the border always serves to keep the job market lower than the rest of the state. Lately, following devaluation of the peso and the drop in world oil prices, the situation has reached emergency proportions.

In Washington last week, White called for the first time penalties for employers who hire workers who have entered the nation illegally.

Special Relief
White said the penalties are necessary to get a grip on unemployment in Texas, and the state's business community which is faced with another tax to bail out the declining unemployment benefits fund seems to go along with him.

White appealed to the federal government for "special relief" in the form of social services, job funds, small business loans, loan guarantees, educational aids and special insurance to hold off mortgage foreclosure.

The Reagan administration sent word to White that it has no plans to provide assistance and that the Valley's problem cannot really be solved without some economic recovery in Mexico.

Senate Action
In the Legislature, meanwhile, action continued in the Senate while the House still refused to suspend rules and begin voting on bills.

Among legislation approved in the Senate last week:
—A bill prohibiting candidate swapping such as the Republicans did in the 1982 primary elections. Last year the Republican Committee selected candidates to replace persons bowing out of the state agriculture commissioner and treasurer races. This bill would leave a party's slot vacant, if a candidate resigned.

—A special windshield decal for persons who get a court order to drive after their license has been suspended.

—Taking the governor completely out of the parole process. Presently the governor can revoke paroles and must endorse parole decisions made by a state board.

—The Court has authority in this suit to enter any judgement of decree in the children's interest which will be binding upon you, including the termination of the parent-child relationship, the determination of paternity and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the children's

JIM'S FOODWAY

Don't Skip Breakfast!!

In an effort to lose weight many people think of skipping meals—often breakfast. Don't—Breakfast is an important start for the day. Many dieters may skip breakfast because of the idea that breakfast is a high calorie meal or that breakfast foods are boring. Neither need be true.

A good breakfast should provide approximately 1/4 of the daily calorie intake. If you don't enjoy the traditional breakfast foods, change the foods. A cup of hot soup may be a good alternative. A peanut butter sandwich (2 tablespoons peanut butter and 2 slices whole wheat bread) will "cost" approximately 300 calories; yet provide good quality protein and a satisfying choice. A grilled cheese sandwich (3/4 ounce cheese slice and 2 slices of bread) "costs" approximately 200 calories.

There are ways to enjoy a different breakfast without adding too many calories. Don't skip, plan—and enjoy a good breakfast.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

March 8, 1983

Dear Editor:

I may not know a tornado when I'm in one, but I do know the streets of Ozona look like they have been hit by one. The streets in downtown Ozona are a disgrace. For awhile, several months ago, they were cleaning the downtown streets real well. The guy on the sweeper was real good and would even let you move your car and he would run the sweeper again. This, of course, was before daylight but I'm sure he got off after he put in his eight hours. Now the streets are worse than ever.

I have called out to the county barn two or three times, asking why the street cleaner is not working. They give me an answer like this: "He doesn't come to work until 8 o'clock and by that time there are cars parked on the street." Are they short of help, or what? Why can't he come to work at 7 o'clock when there are not cars on the street? Ave. E and 11th Street are the main streets that should be cleaned every day. These are the streets people see as they pass through Ozona. In the past we have gotten lots of comments from travelers about how nice and clean Ozona is, but not lately.

People in this town pay taxes, why not have clean streets. I have pride in Ozona, and the people in the community have pride in Ozona. I wish the Commissioners and the people who work for the county had that same pride and would work toward a "Clean Ozona."

Thank you,
Tom Montgomery

March 7, 1983

Editor, Ozona Stockman: For some time (years?) we have read and heard about the efficiency-really most of what we've heard is about inefficiency-of our Crockett County Hospital.

With little personal knowledge to go on, we sat back like most of our fellow townspeople. Well, now we've been there! Bud recently spent a week as a patient and we can say that Ozona is most blessed to have the hospital care afforded by Crockett County Hospital.

We would not ask for a better Doctor than Dr. Owensby.

We depend on him as our family Doctor and appreciate him greatly. The nursing staff under Mrs. Ted Turnley is excellent. Bud lacked for nothing during his stay. The room was well cared for and the food trays were excellent. The friendly atmosphere was "healing" in itself.

We read all the time about the "deficit" cost of the hospital to Crockett County. When we paid our bill, and witnessed the number of patients in and out, we had a little difficulty seeing how the hospital could be a money loser! Realizing that all who go to the hospital do not-some cannot-pay the bill, we can see reason for the deficit. But, with all the money Crockett County spends keeping up more and more places for kids to play ball (and Mamas and Daddies get mad), places for horses, sheep, etc., places for games and "get together," Crockett County Commissioners shouldn't be crying too much about the money lost keeping the hospital open. (Our vote would go quicker for work in behalf of the hospital than for another ball diamond anytime!)

The care rendered and the convenience of being able to stay at home, go to work and still visit the patient is great. Three cheers for Crockett County Hospital--deficit and all!

Bud and Margaret Coates

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

If you haven't driven around in our city to see the many beautiful fruit trees in bloom, the colorful ballis and early blooming shrubs, you have really missed a treat.

Spring-flowering shrubs are almost magic, for overnight their bare winter branches are covered in soft drifts of color. Most of these bloom on last years' wood, before the leaves appear. Examples are beauty bush, deutzia, border forsythia, flowering almond, mock orange, flowering quince, weigela and bridal wreath. The time to prune these shrubs is right after the blossoms fade. New flowerbuds form in late summer and early fall; if you delay pruning until then, you'll remove next season's flowers. If you have a shrub that's been sheared into a tight shape, you can restore its original form. After it has flowered, cut back all the stems to within 8 inches of the ground. The shrub will quickly recover and grow back along its natural lines. To prune correctly, cut off about 1/2 of the shrub's stems at ground level each year, selecting the oldest wood and injured or misplaced stems. New shoots will appear from the shrub's base to replace those removed. Remember, too, that you can prune by clipping flowering branches to use in indoor arrangements. Just make sure to select the oldest stems and cut them off at ground level; then you can shorten them to the desired length when you're ready to begin your arrangement.

If you have a place to garden or beds to border it is easy, fun and great to have the many herbs most everyone uses in your cooking and for garnish. Some of the most popular and easy to grow are chives, dill, parsley, garlic, mint and basil. There is a most interesting and helpful article on herbs in the March Southern Living. It gives advice on planting, how to gather seeds, and when to harvest to encourage new growth. You can begin with seeds or transplants.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Williams are in Dallas at Baylor Medical Plaza, where Mr. Williams underwent successful surgery last week at Baylor Medical Center Hospital. Physicians were to remove the stitches Monday, but Mr. and Mrs. Williams had not been told a release date.

Losers Together!

Dear Pat Walker's, We kept putting off going on a diet because the word diet to us meant bland food, hours of being hungry, and usually giving up without results.

So we were delighted to hear Pat Walker's was opening up just 30 miles away in Sonora. Here was the help we needed. With their help we lost 57 lbs. and 47 inches combined.

We think Pat Walker's is great for couples who want to lose weight, because you not only have Pat Walker's help and encouragement but, you have each other...

DARK CORNERS

Ever have the lights go out suddenly, maybe during a storm? The darkness becomes a tangible thing, you can feel it around you, a cloud closing in. Then you remember the candle out on the hall table. You put a match to it, and you're in business again. And it's amazing how much you can see by the light of a single candle when you've been in the dark.

Transpose this into your own life. Strike a mental match and let it shine in the dark corners, showing you the things you've hidden from yourself. Self revelation is good for us and once we've seen those dusty corners, maybe we should do something about them... like restoring our habits of regular weekly worship.

Sales tax rep to visit here

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Ozona on March 10, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Oscar H. Gutierrez will meet with local taxpayers at the Crockett County Courthouse from 10 to 11 a.m.

"If Ozona area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing state tax forms, the representative will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

The San Angelo office serves San Angelo and surrounding counties.

Attractors improve fishing success

(Attention Jim and Tom)

Fish attractors produce the best results in ponds or lakes containing little or no natural cover, according to Billy Higginbotham, fisheries specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. As bait fish are attracted to the cover, crappie, bass and catfish follow. Several species of sportfish may use the attractors for shelter and spawning sites.

Brush or tire reefs are the two types of attractors commonly used in Texas. Brush attractors are the oldest and most popular type. Willow tops and discarded Christmas trees make excellent fish habitat when properly anchored. Additional brush is usually needed every two or three years to keep this type of attractor productive, especially for crappie. Attractors made of hard-wood trees last longer than willow or cedar tops. Limbs can be pruned so the trees are slightly off the bottom, providing relief and structure. Largemouth bass seem to prefer this type attractor.

Tire reefs are constructed by grouping tires together in various configurations. Holes should be drilled in the tires to prevent air pockets and allow the tires to sink easier. A tire reef will last indefinitely without harm to the aquatic environment, Higginbotham says.

Attractors made from a combination of brush and tires often produce excellent results.

Baiting with soured corn or cottonseed cake generally increases the catch of catfish around fish attractors.

Attractors should be placed near underwater points and drop-offs. The size

Beth Boyd to give program on sewing

The Progressive Extension Club will meet Thursday, March 10, 12:00 noon at the Civic Center. Beth Boyd will present a program on "Hemming Garments."

Everyone is welcome to attend. Bring a sack lunch, salad, or come just for the program. Drinks will be furnished.

of each attractor is strictly up to the angler, but several small attractors placed at different depths usually give better results than a single large attractor. Before placing a fish attractor in a favorite pond or lake, be sure to obtain permission of the owner. For public waters, check with the managing agency to avoid violations of regulations.

While fish attractors do not increase the number of fish in a body of water, they do concentrate certain species already present. Therefore, the odds of filling a stringer are much better.

Kitty's Korner

Continued From Page 1 see the debris swirling by, but when a barrel passed my window, barely missing the car, I insisted he stop. It was absolute panic, but it was stay in the car and hope the bridge we were under didn't come crashing down or get out and be drowned in an upright position on I-10, if indeed one could stand upright. After what seemed hours of the fury of the storm, flying beer cans and other debris, we were finally able to get underway. I saw huge oak trees uprooted and others twisted off like a giant hand had plucked them. I tried to point this out to Tom, but he was so busy driving he completely ignored me and the havoc surrounding us. As we got further west, the sun was shining and the sky was blue. We drove into a dry Ozona, at exactly 2:30 p.m. bone tired and weary, but all in one piece.

You can imagine Tom's surprise when we saw the very spot where we had stopped on the television news that night and they were telling about the tornado that hit Boerne that afternoon. I was not in the least surprised, as I had already seen the damage as we passed by. However, I was confined to my bed Saturday with an acute attack of arthritis which must have been delayed reaction from terrific tension.

4-H project set to get underway

The 4-H Flower Arranging Project will begin the last of March. After attending the three project meetings, 4-H members can enter the Ozona Flower Show, April 21. Any youth 9 to 19 years of age can enroll in this project by calling the Extension Office at 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve all people.

Five mile run is scheduled

Are you physically fit? If not now is the time to start getting into shape. Ozona's Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a 5 mile run (walk-crawl) on Saturday, May 21.

A contest was held at Ozona Intermediate to find a name for the event. Stephanie Saunders came up with "The Biggest Little Race in Texas" and Martin Childress drew a turkey that will also be used on the T-shirt. The lay-out was designed by Judy Probst. There will be a $5.00 entry fee which will include the T-shirt and a cold drink after the race.

The contestants will be divided into age groups with first, second, and third place medallions awarded in each division. The age divisions are women 12 and under, 13-19, 20-29, 40-49, 50 and over. The men have the same divisions. There will also be an award for the youngest runner and the oldest runner finishing the race. For more information you can contact Beth Boyd or Carol Sessom. Entry blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office and at several stores in town.

Locker room notes ----

By-Ross A. Alexander

This year's seniors (according to an inside source) on the OHS varsity track team are providing excellent leadership in setting a strong pace and establishing an early season psychological impetus towards a fourth consecutive district championship. Its beginning to look like it won't matter who our district competition will be. Ozona has a super team.

"San Angelo just barely nudged us to take second in the sprint relay match with those burners from Coleman," a very enthusiastic Rip Sewell said recently. "Note the fact that our guys have turned a time of 44.9."

The OHS Athletic Director, whose coaching record and winning track accumen should have provided the material for an excellent book when he retires, applauded the concentrated efforts of Coach Milby Sexton, whose work with the field performers has made Ozona competitive in those events...adding more point-producing high finishes. Imagine Coach Sexton's delight when the Hurricane pushed a meet record with an unheard of 154 ft. discus throw. But Sexton's expertise really showed itself when his Hurricane heaved the shot to a second place finish, his best some 47.8 feet away.

"Coach Sexton's work with those boys has been outstanding...just a tremendous job," the A.D. said, giving articulation to the evident. "I'd say that we are coming along on schedule. Some of our young men have turned some really excellent times at this early point of the season, so I have reason to think that we've got a team that somebody's going to have to beat...if we continue to improve, we might take that fourth straight district...it's just a matter of how badly we want it. The guys have expressed that wish and I kind of believe them. They know what they're capable of doing, and I know the desire to be #1, and the desire to represent OHS well and to represent this town well...are all ingrained in these youngsters. It's going to be fun."

Marcello Hernandez was the star of the show. The super runner cooked the alleged "class competitors" in the 400, took a quick breather, and smoked the field in the 800, for his second first place finish of the day. To top it all off, Marcello decided to turn a blistering anchoring time of 50.9 in leading the Lion mile relay team to another first place finish. "Marcello has really blossomed into a terrific talent," another Lion source said, asking not to be quoted by name. "If that boy really wants to, he could be one of Ozona's all-time great players, runners and leaders, both on and off the playing field...his character is that outstanding."

Mark Vallejo did his thing to perfection in the 110 high, and the 300 intermediate hurdles, plus a strong closing kick in the mile relay as he passed his baton to the eager Hernandez. (Football fans from all over the district moan when they discover that these two will be returning to torment them again this fall).

There are seniors on this track team who've never lost a district track meet.

Indications are, that record just might remain intact if Coach Rip has anything to do with it.

Track girls get off to slow start

The 8th grade girls got off to a slow start this first track meet, placing only fourth with 56 points, but should improve with more practice time.

The scoring in the field event area was not as good as expected, but there was a lot of competition in these events. Alma Gutierrez placed sixth in the shot put with a throw of 24'9", and she placed 4th in the discus with a throw of 71'5 1/2". Competing with an injury Diana Sanchez placed 4th in the long jump with a jump of 13'5 1/2", and 5th in the Triple Jump with a 28'4 1/2" jump.

The 400 meter relay, composed of Missy Ybarra, Alma Gutierrez, Janet Diaz, and Camille Davidson, placed 5th with a time of 58.66. The 800 meter relay, composed of Missy Ybarra, Janet Diaz, Esme Borrego and Alma Gutierrez, placed 4th with a time of 2:09.2. Tressa Crawford placed second in the 600 meter dash with a time of 1:54, and she placed 4th in the 300 meter dash with a time of 48.3. Camille Davidson placed 6th in the 600 meter dash. Diana Sanchez won the 100 meter low hurdles and placed 3rd in the 1200 meter run. Missy Ybarra placed sixth in the 1200 meter run. The strong 1200 meter relay had to scratch due to an injury Diana Sanchez sustained while running the 1200 meter run.

These girls will go to Eldorado Friday March 11, to compete and should show a lot of improvement over the Junction meet.

Eight jobs will be available to youth in Crockett County through the Summer Youth Employment Program operated by the Concho Valley Council of Governments. The eight week program begins June 6 and will allow youth to work up to forty hours per week.

Public agencies and private non-profit organizations are used as worksites. Worksites that have been used in past summers include Ozona Civic Center and Ozona Community Center.

The purposes of the program are to provide basic work experience to better prepare the youth for the world of work, perform meaningful work in the community, and provide economic resources to enable them to return to school in the fall. Counseling and labor market information will be provided each participant working on the summer program.

To qualify for the program, youth must be at least 14

Natural gas decontrol planned

President Reagan finally unveiled his plan to decontrol natural gas prices. Under the proposal, only cost increases caused by inflation could be passed along until all prices are decontrolled beginning January first, 1986. Hearings on the bill are scheduled to start soon and many amendments will be offered to the decontrol plan. One of those amendments is sure to be a so-called windfall profits excise tax.

Secretary of Commerce, Malcolm Baldrige said recently if world oil prices continue to fall, the Reagan Administration would have to consider a new tax on imported and domestic oil. The new proposal would be in addition to the Reagan 1986 standby tax already proposed. Baldrige said lower prices might encourage an increase in U.S. oil imports and the Administration was concerned about that.

And, several of the OPEC countries are scheduled to meet this week to try to set oil prices and production figures. Many people expect the price to be settled at 27 to 30 dollars a barrel.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for this week is 243. Last week it was 257. One year ago it was 455.

Please reserve your advertising space by Monday each week. The deadline for news is Tuesday at noon.

Production was through perforations at 1,711-839 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 20,000 pounds.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 2,665 feet; Queen, 1,438 feet; Grayburg, 1,766 feet; and San Andres, 2,138 feet. Drilled to 2,300 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 2,151 feet, it is plugged back to 2,100 feet.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates Inc. No. 2 Trapper, San Andres oil discovery, 1/2-mile east of a depleted San Andres oil area of the Ecklaw (San Andres and Queen oil) field and 14 miles north of Ozona, was finalized to pump three barrels of 36 gravity oil, plus 17 barrels of water.

Production was through perforations at 1,318-333 feet, which had been acidized with 1,500 gallons.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 2,536 feet; Yates, 626 feet; Seven Rivers, 800 feet; Queen, 906 feet; Grayburg, 1,010 feet; and San Andres, 1,318 feet.

Drilled to 1,339 feet and plugged back to 1,333 feet, 4 1/2 inch casing was set at 1,318 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of 11-OP-GC&SF.

The Watson Ranch (Canyon gas) field gained its current third producer and a 2 1/2-mile southwest extension with completion of Teneoco Oil Co., San Antonio, No. 1-16 Arledge, 30 miles southwest of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 610,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 4,664-5,344 feet, which had been acidized with 4,000 gallons and fractured with 40,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds of sand.

Scheduled as a 15,600-foot wildcat, it was drilled to 15,621 feet, with 9 5/8-inch casing set at 6,123 feet, and plugged back to 5,972 feet.

Location is 1,888 feet from the south and 1,121 feet from the west lines of 16-A-TCRR.

C. F. Lawrence & Associates Inc. will drill the No. 4

Todd "N" as a 5/8-mile northeast outpost to the eight-well lower San Andres oil area of the Todd, Southwest (upper and lower San Andres and Grayburg oil) field, 18 miles east of Iraan.

Location is 660 feet from the north and east lines of 9-WX-GC&SF. Contract depth is 2,200 feet.

Extension office news

As an older adult you should be aware of your body's nutritional needs to insure your continued good health. The nutritional needs of older adults actually differ only slightly from the needs of younger adults.

The primary difference is a reduced need for energy or calorie intake. Because you need less energy you may eat less in general. Be sure that the foods you eat provide the nutrients you need.

A diet that provides more energy than your body needs will result in putting on extra pounds. Obesity leads to an increased risk of heart and circulatory diseases and diabetes. So restrict yourself to consuming only the calories your body needs.

Although you may be counting your calories, don't skip breakfast. Skipping breakfast makes it difficult to get all of the day's nutrients requirements in other meals.

But do watch what you eat for snacks. Try to avoid snacks that interfere with regular meals by making sure that the snacks are light. Milk, milk drinks or fruit and vegetable juices with a couple of crackers make a good light snack.

Here are some suggestions to help you maintain a healthy diet and the zest that goes with it:

• Drink water, eat raw fruits and vegetables in your diet to prevent vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

• Include plenty of fruits and vegetables in your diet to prevent vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

• Eat green vegetables, whole grain and enriched cereals and meat—especially liver—to avoid nutritional anemia.

• Drink plenty of milk to maintain your intake of calcium and vitamin D. Calcium intake is especially important for older women since it may prevent Osteoporosis, or porous bones, which can lead to fractures.

• Watch out for promoters who try to convince older persons that their nutritional needs are unique and cannot be met by ordinary foods. They may try to sell you special supplements and "health" foods, or get you to experiment with unbalanced diets. These will do you more harm than good.

Also, you will wind up spending much money--the money you need for ordinary requirements for good health at any age. Be sure that you are eating a diet nutritionally balanced for your age.

If you would like more information on nutrition for older adults, contact your county Extension office.
