Well, I never...heard of such a big ado about nothing. The article about the livestock ad, which officials feel has been deterrent to cattle stealing through the years, and which appeared on the front page of a daily newspaper nearby recently, has spread through the nation apparently.

We have gotten clippings from all over, picked up I guess by some wire service or other. We have been contacted by old friends and have picked up several new subscriptions due to the publicity. I didn't pay much attention to it myself. Didn't see much point in the story, but it must have stirred nostalgia all around.

The clipping sent from the farthest point was from Mike Burns Friend, a former Ozonan, from the San Francisco Examiner. He also ordered a subscription to the paper. He said he remembered when it was $2.50 a year, so he must be older than me.

The oldest friend I heard from was a kid who was in my Cub Scout Troop about 30 years ago. He called his old Den Mother long distance from Kerrville. His name is Phillip Demasco and he was the terror of the den. He is now a respectable banker in Kerrville. I can imagine Phil robbing banks, but I never imagined him running one. He saw the clipping in the Kerrville paper.

There's no telling what might happen if a really interesting story about Ozona traveled the wires. Heaven forbid, we might look up and see a crew from "60 Minutes."

At exactly 4:45, Tuesday, March 15, fifty years ago, Oscar Kost got off the bus to become a resident of Ozona. He was a saddle maker and after working in the saddle shop awhile, he bought it, later he began selling western clothes and the saddle shop became the Ozona Boot & Saddlery with the finest and largest selection of western wear west of the Mississippi. Time passed and Oscar became an adept electrician. Twenty-eight years ago last month, he became one of the stockholders and the manager of the Ozona Television System. Time passed, and the saddle business died out, however, repair of saddles, tack and boots remained a valuable service to Ozona ranchers, and Oscar opened at daylight and closed after dark, all the while keeping the fledgling cable system going.

In 1977 he sold the boot shop to Duane Childress and the cable system bought and moved into the building they now occupy. Oscar began fulltime management of the cable system and it continued to grow under his capable guidance. Indeed it has grown so fast, and has been operated so well-Ozona television viewers have better reception than Dallas or New York.

Oscar has been going to retire January 1, for the past five years, but he is still there-and is likely to be there another 50 years. He adjusts sets and if the television equipment gets hit by lightning, he gets out in all kinds of weather with his trusty assistant, Richard Vargas, and fixes it. He no longer climbs poles. A few years ago he was fixing some equipment atop a pole on Commissioners Court told in regular meeting Mon.

Hospital in danger of losing Medicare service

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in regular session and were told the Crockett County Hospital has been informed it no longer qualified as a provider of services under the Medicare program and action will be taken to terminate its provider agreement.

Hospital administrator James Conaway read the ominous letter from the Department of Health and Human Services, which stated clearly the hospital had not met Medicare requirements, even though it had been given additional time and the State Survey agency has offered assistance in correcting the deficiencies.

Besides the members of the court and officials, Dr. Anita Brown, Lee Carlisle, hospital board chairman Dan Pullen and Dr. Don Carlisle were present for the monthly hospital report.

The hospital has been in violation of Medicare requirements for years, but this latest development indicates the situation has become critical, and no time must be lost in correcting the list of deficiencies. County Attorney Tom Cameron offered to intervene on behalf of the hospital and an emergency hospital board meeting was held last night to address the problem.

The court expressed its concern about the hospital situation, but left the solution up to the hospital board and the administrator.

Some discussion was held on they hospital by-laws, which do not meet state requirements. Conaway submitted a new set of by-laws, but speaking for the medical staff, Dr. Brown, said they had not had time to study the by-laws and wanted legal council to review them. She said it had become necessary for Carlisle Clinic to retain attorneys in order to continue practice at the hospital. Pullen also said the board had not had sufficient time to study the by-laws.

On the good news side, it appears the county was only out $2,000 to run the hospital for the month of February. Judge Johnny Jones said the hospital took in $134,000 and spent $136,000 during the month, and congratulated Conaway on the good showing.

Before leaving, Pullen told the court the care center roof must be fixed to correct another deficiency, plus other repair to the physical plant. Judge Jones said he was in contact with a roofer who should be able to fix the roof.

Also, Mrs. Carlisle pointed out the two Filipino nurses, recently hired to meet requirements for registered nurses, could function only as nurses' aides until they take their state boards in June.

After the contingent left the courtroom, the court spent some time discussing the apparent conflict between the Carlisle Clinic staff and the hospital staff, expressing hope that things can be worked out to everyone's satisfaction while at the same time retaining the Medicare provider status.

Henry Ellledge reported on the road department and told the court the signs for Ave. J had been received and were ready to be installed, but his street patching crews were running behind schedule.

Paving was discussed at length, and the court voted to discontinue paving of private property. With the growth of the town, and increased workload on the road department, it has become impossible to continue work in the private sector. Judge Jones pointed out there are almost 200 persons on the list for private paving, some of whom have been waiting up to two years. The county workers have more work than they can do for the county, and that leaves no time for private paving. Although the Crime of the week is spotlighted

The weekly spotlight on crime from Crime Stoppers concerns a burglary which occurred at Alma's Grocery on Hwy 163 South, where approximately $100 in cash and $100 worth of knives, along with several cartons of cigarettes were taken. The crime took place Tuesday, March 8, sometime between 10:30 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. March 9.

The burglars entered the building by prying off a window screen on the south side of the building and opening the window. After taking the items mentioned, they left through the rear door at the south side. The lock to the glass display case was apparently taken by the thieves.

Anyone having any information about this crime should call Crime Stoppers at 392-5000. Anyone having any information of suspicious nature about this crime or of anyone offering to sell knives is urged to call the 2-5000 number. Callers remain anonymous, they will be given a code number and asked to call back in one month. If the tip leads to the matching of fingerprints found at the scene with a suspect the anonymous caller could collect $100 in reward. If the tip leads to the apprehension or indictment of those involved, Crime Stoppers will pay a $100 reward, also anonymously.

After second straight track win---

Lions ready for Ozona Relays Fri.

Coach Sewell's Ozona Lions will be roaring to go Friday when the Annual Ozona Relays will be held, after racking up the championship and setting records at Eldorado Saturday.

Seven schools will be here to battle for the trophies. Both varsity girls and boys teams from Coahoma, Colorado City, Iraan, McCamey, Eldorado, Sonora and Coleman will compete in the relays.

Field events begin at 2:30 p.m. and running prelims at 4:00 p.m. with finals set for 7 o'clock in the evening.

Special events to highlight the meet include crowning of the track queen, track beau and the Clifford Crawford Memorial 800 meter dash. Special events, including the awarding of trophies will be held following the finals.

Fans are urged to attend and help the Lion Pride to their third straight championship.

In Eldorado Saturday the Ozona Lions' quality and depth was once again superior, as the Lions topped the field and set three records. Out of a 10-team field, the Lions scored 135 points to outdistance second place Sonora with 69 points. Coleman was a close third with 68 points.

The three record-setters were Marcelo Hernandez, who won the 800-meter dash with a sizzling 2:04.4; Mark Vallejo, who won the 110 hurdles with a 14.6 streak, and Harvey Huereca set a record in the discus, hurling the circle 157 feet and 3 inches.

Hernandez and Vallejo also ran legs on the winning 1600-meter relay team. Other team members were David Badillo and David Delgado. The team won the first place trophy with a time of 3:30.1.

Huereca added eight points to the team total with a second place in the shot with a toss of 47'4". Hernandez also placed first in the 400 meter dash with a time of 52.05, and Vallejo came in second in the 300-meter hurdles with 40.3. Hernandez placed sixth in the high jump.

The 400-meter relay team of Carlos Borrego, Robert Flores, David Badillo and Willie Payne placed second with 44.6. Flores also placed in two other events. He was second in the 100-meter dash with 11.12, and fourth in the 200-meter dash with 22.8. Payne got a sixth place in the 100 with 11.52.

David Delgado placed second in the 800-meter with a time of 2:07.3 and third in the 400 with 53.3.

Lionel Munoz got a fourth in the 1600 meter run with 5:05.4 and placed sixth in the 3200. Gino Tambunga and Randy DeHoyos placed fifth and sixth respectively in the 1600 to add points to the team score.

Paul Tambunga placed fifth in the 3200 and Al Ramirez placed sixth in the pole vault to round out the Lion scoring.

Childress takes top goat honors

Twenty-two Crockett County youths exhibited 40 lambs and two goats at the San Angelo Livestock Show last week.

Ira Childress took top honors in the Junior Angora Goat Show. He exhibited the champion Angora doe.

In the fat lamb show, two youths placed lambs in the top eleven and made the premium sale. The lamb show was tough, some 1300 to 1400 lambs competed. Several youths had lambs that came close to placing but didn't quite make it.

Vickie Reagor exhibited the fourth place lightweight finewool and Jena Allen placed sixth with her heavy weight cross and eighth with her light weight finewool.

The Ozona National Bank and Bunker-Cameron Ranch bought Vickie's lamb.

This was the final show and local youngsters made a pretty good showing on all three shows. They didn't place as many lambs in the sales as they would have liked but there is always room for improvement. However, these youths, leaders, and parents did represent Crockett County well. They won the Neatness and Hersman Award at the Houston Show and second at the San Antonio Show.

The agent Billy Reagor feels that he is fortunate to have this good group to work with.

Childress to head Salvation Army drive

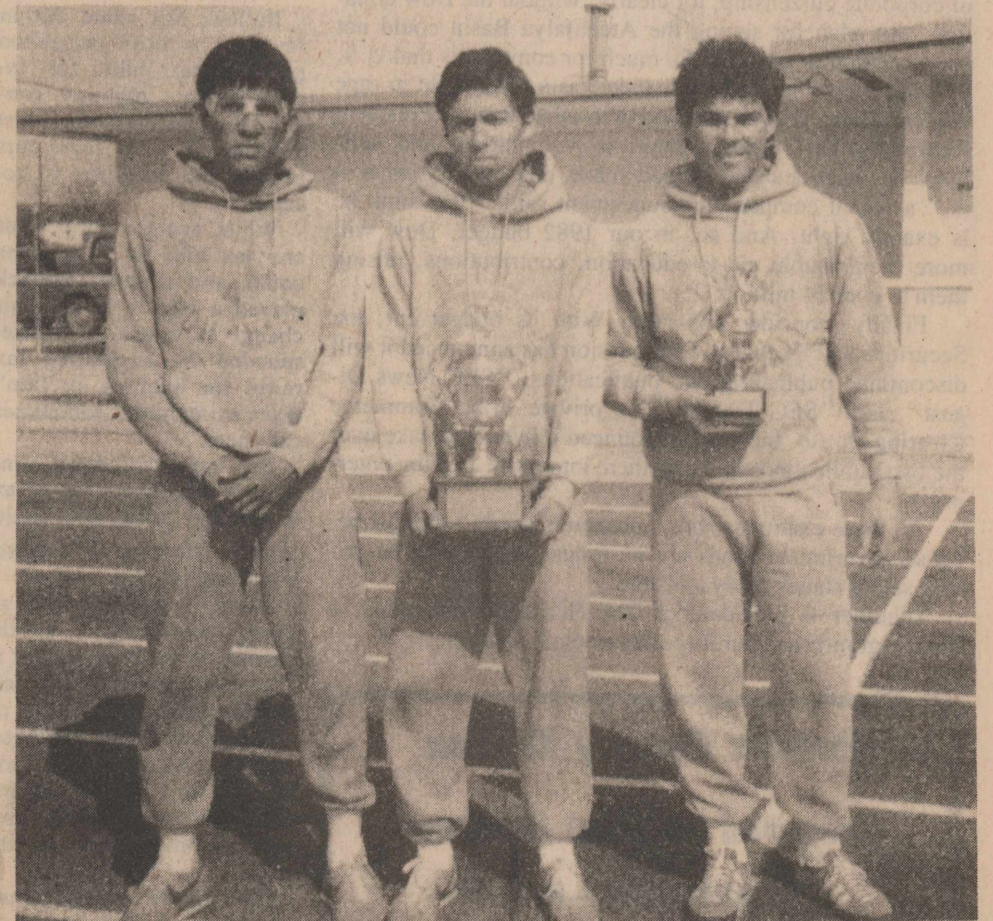

Johnny Childress, chairman of the Crockett County Salvation Army Chapter has announced the annual fund raising campaign will begin March 16.

Volunteers will be calling on individuals and businesses for contributions. If you would like to contribute and have not been contacted call Mr. Childress at 392-3634.

Mrs. Jack Baggett was re-elected president of the organization. Other members are Mrs. Charlie Black, Demp Jones, David Weant and members of the Crockett County Commissioners Court.

RECORD BREAKERS-These Lions had a lot to do with bringing home the championship trophy from the Eldorado track meet last weekend. PRIVATE SECTOR STRUTS ITS STUFF

By Edwin Feulner

While the Reagan Administration's economic program still has a good chance of meeting its objectives, many of the big thinkers from the old liberal-left-labor coalition are convinced the program not only won't work, but can't work.

Not only do they challenge the Administration's economic assumptions, they also poo-poo the idea that the private sector might have the know-how and be willing to step in, where needed, when the government steps out.

But as the President said this fall, in announcing the formation of a new Presidential Task Force on Private Sector Initiatives, "Voluntarism is an essential part of our plan to give government back to the people." The other part of the plan is putting the profit back into making a profit.

The purveyors of gloom and doom have even put together a study which, not unexpectedly, shows exactly that. Commissioned by an organization known as Independent Sector, and conducted by the Urban Institute, the study — whose economic assumptions have been widely criticized — alleges that federal budget cuts will shave about $27 billion in government assistance, through 1984, from non-profit service organizations such as hospitals and schools. Hence, it concludes, funding by private sources — both large corporate and foundation donors and the public at large — will have to increase $27 billion just to keep things going at their present levels.

In 1980, I would remind them, private philanthropy in the United States totaled some $48 billion — no small amount, no matter whose adding machine one uses. With government encouragement and support, there's no reason to believe this won't increase substantially in the years ahead.

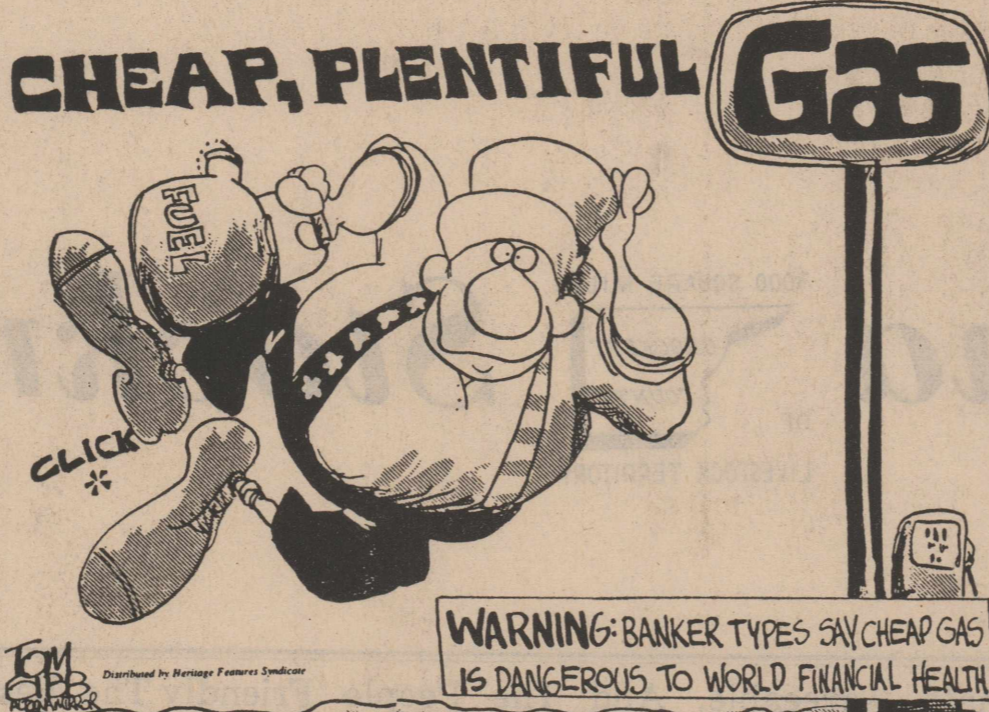

For example, industrialist Edwin C. Whitehead is expected to donate $100 million to the Whitehead Institute for Biomedical Research following the institute's formal affiliation with Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT). The management of MIT has been highly critical of the Reagan Administration's belt-tightening especially in the area of government-funded research.

Meanwhile, half a continent away, Dow Chemical U.S.A. deeded 45,000 acres of wildlife lands around the Atchafalaya River Basin to the State of Louisiana. In accepting the generous donation, Louisiana Gov. David Treen congratulated the company "for this outstanding example of corporate citizenship; for clearly, without the Dow donation, this plan for saving the Atchafalaya Basin could not have been put together." So much for complaints that U.S. industry views the Reagan mandate as a green light to rape the landscape. Dow also is active in other areas. "President Reagan has been urging a return to 'voluntarism' and 'self-help' — qualities that helped make this country what it is," a recent company announcement said. "We think he is exactly right. And so, in our 1982 budget, Dow will more than double aid-to-education, contributions, raising them to over $4 million."

Finally, consider this item. With its budget cut, the Securities and Exchange Commission has announced it will discontinue publishing two publications, "SEC News Digest" and "SEC Docket." A private firm, Commerce Clearing House, Inc., has announced it intends to take over the two publications and turn them into profit-making enterprises.

As these examples show, programs needn't die just because government funds are no longer available. The private sector stands ready and able.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Speaker Lewis
 AUSTIN—Several events building up steam in the Legislature came to a head last week as lawmakers scurried to find replacements for dwindling state dollars.

The hectic week began with Comptroller Bob Bullock's revised revenue forecast which was closely followed by Gov. Mark White's budget address to a joint session. Both officials recommended tax increases of different varieties.

At week's end, House Speaker Gib Lewis announced his own House Ethics Committee would investigate his failure to fully disclose his business interests.

Bullock trimmed $867 million from earlier estimates of state monies available for the next two fiscal years, blaming oil prices and sluggish tax receipts for the reduction in state cash.

His announcement immediately fueled the on-going debate of whether the Legislature should pass a tax bill or slash state spending. The Legislature itself remains visibly divided as Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby seeks a tax increase and House Speaker Gib Lewis stands adamantly against one.

Luxury Taxes
 White, who earlier opposed a tax hike, told lawmakers he supported raising an additional $800 million in state revenue by taxing alcoholic beverages, tobacco and amusements such as video games and pinball machines.

The governor also suggested issuing bonds for highway construction, which got a mixed reaction.

All in all, White's budget is still over a billion dollars more than Bullock says will be available.

If White and Bullock can't agree on revenue estimates, it should come as no surprise to onlookers who have watched the pair jockey for position these past two months: it's no secret that Bullock intends to challenge White in the '86 gubernatorial race.

Special Session
 Bullock has come out in favor of a nickel-per-gallon gasoline tax hike for increased state highway construction, perhaps the most palatable tax for legislators to levy and taxpayers to accept.

White avoided support of any tax hike as long as he could, and whether Bullock played a role in forcing his change of stance, White responded by suggesting tax raises for luxuries, or "sin" taxes as members sometimes call them.

But legislators don't want the political heat that a tax vote might bring, and could well fail to pass any appropriations bill this session.

Some lawmakers are already predicting a special session on the state budget as their best protection for Texas. By then, the price of oil will probably have stabilized, and lawmakers will have bought time to see whether Bullock's or White's estimates come closer to the mark.

Meanwhile, the Texas unemployment rate for February rose to a record 8.8 percent, a grim reminder to lawmakers that the economy is suffering, no matter who figures the budget.

House-Senate Fight
 The Legislature narrowly averted a rare House-Senate fight last week when the House leadership retreated from a plan to change the way representatives sign up to sponsor Senate bills.

Tradition has the senator choose a House sponsor for his bill when it is considered in the House. The proposed change would have let House members sponsor bills on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Critics of the plan charge it was a power grab on the part of House leadership to control, alter or kill bills already passed by their colleagues in the Senate.

Odds And Ends
 —Both the House and Senate held committee hearings simultaneously on the controversial pari-mutuel gambling on horse racing bill before sending it to subcommittees for further study.

—A bill allowing gambling at Texas dog racing tracks was expected to be introduced shortly before the March 11 deadline for introducing legislation. The House began this week to debate bills on the floor.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: Years ago, my elderly father deeded his home and income-producing property to me, but he retained possession and benefits for his lifetime. Now he has married a young woman and wants to leave everything to her. Are the earlier deeds binding, or can he change them? Also, can he sell any of the property without my approval and signature?

A: Once property is formally conveyed to you by deed, only you can sell it. Please be certain the deeds are recorded in every county where the land lies.

Your father's retained life estate gives him the benefits and occupancy he reserved, but no rights to leave the land to another person.

You should be aware that your stepmother, as widow, may have some right to occupy the homestead on your father's death. Ask your attorney to check that the deeds are recorded and that you are, in fact, the owner.

Q: I grow small amounts of marijuana at home for my consumption only. I don't sell it and I don't give it away. Am I violating the law?

A: Yes. The Texas Controlled Substances Act prohibits "knowingly or intentionally possessing a useable quantity of marijuana," and there is no exception that an individual may possess a small amount for his own use.

Even the seeds, if they can be germinated, are illegal as are all other parts of the plant containing the active ingredient, THC.

Q: My daughter is married to a man who left her. He now lives with another woman as his common law wife. Is this bigamy?

A: This is not bigamy because the second relationship is what the law calls a "void" marriage. The first marriage continues until it is formally dissolved and your daughter must file for divorce to end the legal relationship. She may choose not to do so and to later claim her community interest in any property or retirement benefits her husband acquires. The common-law marriage becomes valid when the formal marriage is terminated.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Green Thumb Ideas . . .

Herb gardening is gaining in popularity every year. Herbs are those plants that are used as flavoring agents. The common ones used in cooking are referred to as culinary herbs.

The leaves of most herbs are the part most often used in seasoning. They are needed in very small amounts, so a few plants will be enough fresh and dried herbs for an entire season.

Herbs make very attractive ornamental plants that can be used in flower beds, borders, rock gardens or corner plantings. They are easy to grow and fun to use. If you are interested in developing a green thumb herb garden, write for special Growing Herbs information.

MRS. JAY HUFSTEDLER
...nee Miss Kaye Thompson

Miss Thompson and Mr. Hufstedler are married

Miss Kaye Elaine Thompson became the bride of Mr. Carl Jay Hufstedler in a formal ceremony Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Ozona First Baptist Church with Dr. Nelson Lanham, pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson and Mrs. Mary Hufstedler and J. G. Hufstedler of Fort Worth.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of organza and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was designed with a Queen Anne collar and a sweetheart neckline edged with lace and accented with pearls. Full bishop sleeves were gathered at the wrist with a cuff edged with lace. The full skirt fell from a natural waistline and was trimmed with lace flowing to a chapel-length train.

Her waltz-length veil of white illusion was gathered to a Juliet headpiece, covered with lace and encrusted with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue cornflowers, white carnations and frescia.

Lynn Reed of Abilene attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sherri Painter of Denton, and Lori Logan of Eldorado, Melinda Hokit, and Beth Burton of Abilene.

Candra Sessom was flower girl. The bride's attendants wore formal gowns of blue chiffon and knit. The sleeveless over-jackets of chiffon were highlighted with high necks trimmed in lace. A string belt tied at the waist above a short peplum.

Ushers were Greg Thompson, Jack Thompson, brothers of the bride; Danny Sewell and Bubs Huffman. Groomsmen were Rene Almandarez of San Angelo, Freddy Garza, Wade Beasley and Clay Chapman.

Other attendants were Zackry Thompson, ringbearer, and Wiley Thompson, candlelighter, both nephews of the bride of Corpus Christi, and Shane Wilton.

Don Sessom sang "Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," as he accompanied himself on the guitar. Mrs. Bill Williams furnished traditional wedding music at the organ. The church was decorated with arrangements of greenery and flowers on the Baptisty. Spiral candelabras with greenery flanked the unity candle in an arrangement of blue cornflowers and white carnations. The altar rail was covered with greenery.

Following the wedding a reception was hosted by the bride's parents at the Civic Center. The registry table was centered with a bride doll wearing a replica of the bride's wedding gown, a gift from Mrs. John Whitworth. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered Grecian confection adorned with bridal white roses and satin bells. A double-ring German chocolate cake centered the bridegroom's table. Jana Kaye Cotton and Candi Sessom passed out rice bags.

Mary Hufstedler hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Civic Center Saturday evening.

Mrs. Bill Wilson and Mrs. Benny Logan hosted the bridesmaid's brunch at the Wilson home Sunday morning.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Floyd Hokit, Mrs. Jack Adams, Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Joe Bean, Mrs. Lowell Littleton, Mrs. David White, Mrs. Tom Powers, Mrs. Jess Marley, Mrs. Chester Wilson, Mrs. Billy Reager, Mrs. Charles Womack, Mrs. Eddie Hale, Mrs. T. R. Conner, Mrs. P. L. Childress, Jr., Mrs. Dan Murrah, Mrs. Larry Arledge, Miss Lisa Hohertz, Miss Lisa Mooter, Mrs. Louis Bunger, Miss Molly Womack, Miss Kristi Kirby, Miss ReaLynn Dews and Miss Pam Wilton.

After a trip to New Mexico the couple will be at home in San Angelo, where they are both students at Angelo State University, and employed with San Angelo businesses. Both are graduates of Ozona High School.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

All around our city it seems most everyone is busy with some phase of gardening, repairing or painting to freshen up for spring and outdoor living. The pleasant days we are having in March is such a change for us. I hope all the preparations and plantings will not be in vain.

If you intend to have glads, cannas, caladiums, elephant ears and others this summer, you will find them available now, but don't plant Caladiums until soil gets warmer in April.

For a low border plant, there is a Dwarf Nandina which makes a beautiful small mounding shrub. Foliage is bright green in summer and intense scarlet coloring in cool weather. It can be placed in patio planters or as accent plants as well.

If you have the spreading Pfitzer Junipers, it is not recommended to shear into a boxy look because it produces an unnatural effect and obscures the beauty of the plant. To preserve the layered branching effect, follow back along the top branch to a top shoot directly overlying the branch to be shortened. Cut below it so the branchlet now becomes the continuation of the branch. The 6-inch shoot will replace the 24-inch branch. Annual pruning of this type can keep any spreading Juniper within the scale intended by the landscaper almost indefinitely. If you are planting new Junipers there are several new varieties that are dwarf growing or ground covers which will take less room and pruning.

If you have old Abelias that are dead on the inside, cut all back to start stems and you will be surprised to have attractive new shrubs in a few months.

Hy-pericum plants need to be cut back severely, unless dwarf plants, to control plants getting too tall and heavy.

Watch roses and other plants for early arriving insects. Wash off with strong water spray or use a dust.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Mrs. Robert Cox and Mrs. Sherman Taylor won the top spot in Duplicate Bridge Club play Saturday afternoon at the Country Club. Mrs. Clay Adams and Mrs. Joe Friend were second.

In play Sunday, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Friend won high and Mrs. Gene Perry and Mrs. Gene Williams were second high.

Hartman and Montgomery top ladies golf tourney

Local lady golfers enjoyed a cool select shot tourney Saturday at the Country Club followed by a sack lunch in the club house.

Winners in the championship flight were Shelia Hartman and Dorothy Montgomery, first with an 81; Billie Gene Baggett and Marie White, second. Winners of low putts in that flight were Baggett-White with 26. Third place went to Carol Hensley and Joan Babbitt and fourth were Jimmie Jacoby and Nell Wester.

First flight winners were Jonsy Williams and Katy Jones, first; Wanda and Chesta Stuart, second, also winners of low putts with a 26; third place went to Ella Clegg and Jean Taylor and fourth place was Mary Webster and Monte Sanker. Williams-Jones had a score of 87.

Second flight winners were Jeanette Bailey and Sherry Holt, first with 96; Bobbie Fatout and Barbara Wallace, second (also winners of low putts with 27); and Jill Crawford and Darolyn Webster were third place.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful for the sympathy extended to us during this time of sorrow. Concern has been shown in so many ways and has been a very real source of consolation in the loss of our husband and father.

Mysteries

The words themselves are mysteries to him — black "squiggles" against the white page — but Daddy makes them sound very interesting.

Later he will begin to read for himself and a vast new world will be opened.

In it, however, other mysteries will appear — other things that seem as impossible as the black words against the white page. But gradually these will become clearer.

One of these mysteries is religion. Understanding God's message, learning the meaning of faith — these vital subjects take a particular kind of education and special study. It will take the remainder of his lifetime, and yet more, to fully understand the spiritual universe.

But this little boy is lucky. Although he doesn't know it yet, his parents will see to it that he gets this "education" in the right place — in their house of worship.

After losing 69½ lbs. and 90½" I feel I have found the fountain of youth.

For Health reasons, I had to lose weight, but I was unable to stay with a diet on my own. After hearing of the great results people were having with Pat Walker's I also joined their program, and that was the greatest thing I've ever done for myself.

I no longer could get into a size 18, having to go to a size 20 was a shock, and now I'm in a size 6!!! and I did this in 7½ months. From Ozona to San Angelo is 86 miles and I traveled it twice a week for a total of 344 miles a week [Until the Sonora salon opened].

I fell so in love with the program, I bought the Sonora franchise and have opened a salon in Ozona. We hope to see you at our open house and will be happy to discuss your figure problems and give you a free demonstration appointment.

Springtime cause of more children poisoned

Children are active, loving creatures, but they also are known for eating and drinking peculiar things. "We have seen children eat plants, medications, cleaning agents, soap, even bugs," said Michael Ellis, Director of the Texas State Poison Center. "Spring is particularly bad," Ellis noted, "because this is when the child ventures out into the yard and ingests plants, fertilizers, insecticides, and gasoline. In 1982 the Poison Center received some 35,000 telephone inquiries. "About 20,000 of these involved a victim being exposed to a potentially toxic substance" said Ellis, "in about 75% of these cases a child under 5 years of age was involved."

"About 20,000 of these involved a victim being exposed to a potentially toxic substance" said Ellis, "in about 75% of these cases a child under 5 years of age was involved."

The week of March 20-26 is National Poison Prevention Week. "This is a perfect opportunity for adults that have small children, and even those who just have small children visit occasionally, to take a look at their homes and look for poisons," Ellis said, "especially those items stored under the sink, in the garage, and even the house plants. Proper storage, particularly in high places, makes it more difficult for the small child to obtain a poisonous substance."

"Everyone who has a child around, even only occasionally, needs a bottle of syrup of ipecac. This substance can be purchased at the pharmacy, doesn't require a prescription, and is used whenever vomiting is indicated." But call the Poison Center first, before giving ipecac, because sometimes we don't want the child to vomit," said Ellis.

Are you a single parent?

If you are, you are not alone. One out of five parents is a single parent. And, chances are, like you, worries about where would the money come from if he or she died and someone else had to bring up the child.

Farmers has created a life insurance package to take care of this.

The life insurance covers you while your child is growing up and you have the opportunity to pass on coverage to your child on his or her twenty-second birthday.

Ave. E near the high school, when the ladder slipped. It was before daylight, and Oscar couldn't do anything but hang on the pole until the sun came up. He yelled a lot, and some people heard him and looked around, but they didn't look up, so Oscar had to hang on till help came. Since then he doesn't go out alone to fix things.

He is such an expert in electronics, he can even fix our computers sometimes, if he can figure a way to get into it.

We'd have to say Ozona gained a pretty valuable resident when old Oscar got off the bus 50 years ago.

I forgot to mention, he helped organize the Ozona Chamber of Commerce and served as its first president.

Land bank decreasing interest

The Federal Land Bank of Texas announces a decrease in Bank closed loan fees to 2 percent on farm loans and 4 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans, effective immediately.

"The loan fee reduction was made possible by the recent decrease in our cost of funds," said Thomas H. Benson, Land Bank president.

This reduction follows the Jan. 1, 1983, variable interest rate reduction to 11.25 percent (from 11.50 percent) on farm loans, and to 11.75 percent (from 12.00 percent) on rural residence and farm-related business loans. Bank closed loan fees had been 4 percent on farm loans and 7 percent on rural residence and farm-related loans.

The Federal Land Bank of Texas makes long-term real estate loans throughout the state through its 55 Federal Land Bank Associations.

Texas property owners to be informed of rights

Kenneth Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB), today announced the beginning of a statewide program for 1983 to inform property owners in Texas of their rights, remedies and responsibilities as taxpayers.

In conducting the multifaceted program, Graeber said, SPTB will be working with appraisal districts, local tax offices and the state's news media to help make Texans aware of property rendition requirements, available tax relief measures and of what property owners must do to obtain any tax relief to which they are entitled.

"It is important that taxpayers file renditions and applications for tax relief by May 2 this year," Graeber said.

"Major changes in the state's tax laws were effective last year with implementation of the Texas Property Code and the new central appraisal districts," he noted.

Graeber said that provisions of the code not only make it possible for taxpayers to file all exemption applications and property renditions with one office in a county rather than with multiple tax offices, but also permit one-time applications for homestead exemptions and special open-space land valuation, rather than annual applications as previously required.

However, the tax official said that in appraisal districts which did not implement their operations on 1982, requirements for taxpayers to file renditions and applications will differ. In all except 15 of the state's 254 counties, he said, appraisal districts were in full operation in 1982. Fourteen of the remaining districts started full operations this year, and the Harris County Appraisal District began serving a portion of that county.

In districts which began full operation in 1982, property owners who received homestead exemptions and open-space ("1-d-1") land valuation last year need not apply again for 1983, unless the chief appraiser requests confirmation of current qualification by sending a notice and an appropriate application form, or unless their eligibility has changed.

Graeber noted, though, that applications must be made this year for homestead exemptions and 1-d-1 valuation by taxpayers who have never received them on their present homes or land and by property owners in the 15 appraisal districts implementing for the first time this year.

Applications for disabled veterans' exemptions and agricultural ("1-d") valuation must be made annually in all appraisal districts.

The 15 districts Graeber listed as implementing this year are Bexar, Glascock, Gray, Harris (partial implementation), Hartley, Jasper, Jeff Davis, King, Leon, McMullen, Moore, Oldham, Rockwall, Stonewall and Zapata Counties.

Exemption applications should be filed with the appraisal district office, or, in the case of Harris County, with the district or appropriate local tax offices.

"State law also requires any person who owns or manages income-producing personal property on January 1 to file a rendition statement with the appraisal district," Graeber said.

Special rendition procedures pertain to property on which an exemption applicable on January 1 terminates during the tax year. In such a case, the person who owns or acquires the property on the date eligibility for the exemption terminates must render the property for taxation within 30 days.

Additionally, the chief appraiser may require rendition of other taxable property upon notice to the owner or manager.

Transportation companies subject to regulation by the Railroad Commission must render the value of their intangible property to the State Property Tax Board.

Banks and railroads must file special rendition statements with the appraisal district chief appraiser.

Graeber said rendition forms are available from appraisal district offices or local tax offices in Harris County. Transportation businesses may obtain property report forms from the SPTB.

Complete information on available tax exemptions and rendition requirements for the general public is contained in "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities," a pamphlet produced by the SPTB.

The pamphlet also includes suggestions on how to prepare and present an appeal to the appraisal review board and is available at no charge from appraisal district offices or from the SPTB in Austin.

"The property tax is the primary source of local government revenue in Texas," Graeber noted. "It will generate about $7 billion this year to help fund operations of public schools, cities, counties and special districts."

"We urge all property owners to become familiar with the tax process, to file renditions and to apply for all exemptions or other tax relief measures to which they are entitled," Graeber concluded.

Tuesday morning always begins with bingo at ten o'clock and volunteers are always welcome to come and help with some "added eyes." Games are recorded and the resident with the most games won on Tuesday and Friday wins the gift certificate of the week. On Tuesday we have the added gift of an El Chato dinner for two. This Tuesday's certificate was won by Jesus Hernandez and Marcial Rodriguez. Volunteers were Veronica Tabbitt and Alice Ross.

Wednesday afternoon volunteer Marina Tijerina conducted a reading group in which she read some familiar poems.

Wednesday morning Marie Pierson led ceramics. Residents participating included Juana Hernandez, Frances Borrego, Tomasa Hernandez, Ola Mills and Moriana Perez.

Thursday morning beauty shop was manned by Arlene Clayton and Mary Ruiz. She is the granddaughter of Tomasa Ramos and was visiting from Los Angeles, Calif. How nice she would come to help!

Thursday afternoon we had Bible study led by Rev. Dennis McKain and assisted by Marie Walker. Marie also brought cookies for everyone. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Priase led by volunteers Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Sulema Martinez, Felipa Munoz, Alicia Perez and Juanita Rebelez. Residents attending this event included Carol Reed, Moriana Perez, Frances Borrego, Mauricio Hernandez, Jesus Hernandez, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos.

Friday morning bingo winners for the week were Audra Moore first place winner of the gift certificate from The Teacher Store and Bertha Miller and Moriana Perez tying for second place. Volunteers were Veronica Tabbitt, Alice Ross, Dorothy Doll, Doris Karr, Herminia Garza and Anna Bell Patrick.

Friday afternoon Sara Hignight came for a sing-along on the organ. And, speaking of music, a special thanks goes to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brown for money that went toward the purchase of a new light over the piano.

Saturday Tomasa Ramos was again treated to a birthday party by her family. Family members were present.

The Saturday party was the highlight of the week's events for her. Additional people attended Saturday's party at the G.I. Forum.

Mrs. Ruben Tambunga wishes to thank all who attended the party and made it a success. Music was furnished by the Chubascos Band.

Sunday morning a group of ladies from our local First Baptist Church came and shared their Sunday School class lesson with our residents. Such a delightful treat. It is hoped that other churches will soon be doing the same. Maybe someday we will have groups coming in the morning for Sunday School as well as in the afternoon for Church.

Sunday afternoon a large group of Catholic youth brought their churches religious program.

Monday morning dominos were played by Ola Mills, Nila Turnell, and volunteer Glenn Southard.

Monday afternoon was the time for our monthly birthday party. Those celebrating were Tomasa Ramos, Nila Turnell, Minnie Karr, Johnny Henderson, and Juana Hernandez. Maude Pettit played "Happy Birthday" Doris Karr and Dorothy Doll served the cake furnished by Polly Eppler Mayes. All five wore flowers furnished by Maxine's Flowers. Misty Mathis and Rachel Patten gave a delightful program featuring batons and tumbling. Heath Mathis played the tape for the girls along with Sara Hignight who played the organ.

Thanks this week go to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mayes for sharing flowers from their wedding, Polly's Cakes (again Mrs. Bud Mayes) for giving individual birthday cakes to Tomasa and Nila along with her co-sponsor C. O. Spencer Welding Service, to the Flower Basket for sending flowers for the honorees, to Helen Wall for donating two tickets to the Armadillo Flats concert on April 29, and to Anna Bell Patrick for donating beauty supplies. How nice to have so many thoughtful friends.

Don't forget that visitors are always welcome at our Care Center.

All office supplies purchased at the Stockman office on Tuesdays will necessitate a 10% service charge. Please try to buy your supplies on another day.

Texas crime rate up

The Texas crime rate rose 4.2 per cent in 1982, according to DPS director Jim Adams. The rate was 6,297.5 major crimes for every 100,000 residents compared to 6,042.4 in 1981.

"This is not the most dramatic increase we've seen in recent years," Colonel Adams said. "But it does indicate that there can be no let up in law enforcement efforts to address this problem, especially in light of the serious concern by citizens for their safety and security of their property."

Adams said the total number of major index crimes reported in Texas last year was 962,260, an increase of 7.9 per cent compared to 1981.

Robbery led the four violent crime categories, registering a volume increase of 17.8 per cent in 1982. Aggravated assault cases were up 11.2 per cent, while murders increased by one per cent. A slight change was recorded in the number of rape cases.

"The murder rate, homicides keyed to population, actually registered a decline of 1.8 per cent," Adams pointed out.

In the property crime categories the number of theft cases was up 10.4 per cent, while motor vehicle theft and burglary increased by 4.6 per cent and 3.7 per cent respectively.

Adams said twenty-three per cent of the major crimes were cleared by arrests in 1982. Total arrests for all offenses excluding traffic law violations totaled 908,858, an increase of 9.6 per cent.

"Included in the total arrests are 112,407 for DWI, up 25.6 per cent compared to 1981," Adams said.

The estimated value of property stolen during the commission of all major crimes in 1982 totaled $927 million with approximately $194.7 million recovered.

Nine Texas police officers were killed in the line of duty by felonious action last year. Eight others died in duty-related accidents. A total of 3,728 officers were assaulted last year.

Arson cases reported to the DPS in 1982 totaled 8,201. Twenty per cent of the cases were cleared by arrests.

The crime statistics are compiled by the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau based on reports from 755 local law enforcement agencies.

Statewide totals were:

Murders in 1981 were 2,438 and in 1982, 2,463. Rapes numbered 6,816 in '81 and 6,814 in '82. There were 28,516 robberies in 1981 and 33,603 in 1982. Aggravated assaults numbered 40,673 in 1981 and 45,221 in 1982. There were 275,652 burglaries in 1981 and 285,757 in 1982. The number of larceny-thefts were 454,210 in 1981 and 501,312 in 1982. There were 83,244 motor vehicle thefts in 1981 and 87,090 in 1982.

Extension office news

Striped fabrics are more fashionable and available this spring than in past seasons. Although anyone can wear stripes, it takes thought when planning to select the most becoming pattern for the individual.

Look at a striped fabric or garment in a mirror before buying to see what kind of effect it produces. Consider the size of the stripes, color and design as used or as you plan to use it.

When vertical stripes are too far apart they may make the eye move in a horizontal direction from stripe to stripe going across the body. This can make the wearer appear heavier. Similarly, if a horizontal stripe is wide enough, it creates a ladder effect and makes the eye move upward. This adds an appearance of length or height to the wearer.

When sewing with a stripe, pattern selection is particularly important. If the pattern is illustrated in a stripe on the package, then stripes are especially suitable and have been checked for possible matching problems. Avoid patterns that are labeled "not suitable for stripes" because they cannot be properly matched and will distract from the garment's appearance.

As you buy yardage, include extra for matching. The amount depends on the size of the stripes and the number of lengths to be laid out. Use the most dominant stripe in the center of the major garment pieces such as the bodice, skirt or sleeve. Place a definite horizontal stripe at the hemline or garment edge. It can then be matched to other pieces or a separate garment.

Striped fabrics may seem a little more difficult to work with, but they can also provide opportunities for creativity. You can create many interesting effects by tucking or pleating stripes, or designing other unusual details.

So experiment with striped fabrics this spring—you'll be glad you did when you see the fashionable results.
