Rain brings relief for Ozonans

Rain fell in Ozona last week and over the weekend, and when the sun peaked out Tuesday, a total of 1.88 inches had fallen on parched lawns and gardens since last Thursday.

The first rainfall came in a heavy shower about 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon, leaving .4 of an inch in rain gauges on the west hill. There was cloud build up in the afternoons and scattered showers in the county but Ozona had no more rainfall until Sunday afternoon when a thunderstorm dumped .7 of an inch on the town.

The bottom really dropped out at noon Monday when over half an inch fell during the noon hour in the space of about 30 minutes. Streets were flooded and several cars stalled out in the west part of town, intermittent showers fell all afternoon and by 5 o'clock a total of .7 of an inch had been recorded. Another .08 of an inch fell during the evening.

The showers were scattered and while some ranches reported good rains, others had little or none, so the weekend rainfall did little to alleviate the drought in the county, but homeowners in Ozona felt they had been given a precious gift.

D. P. S. Sgt. to assume local post

Ozona's Department of Public Safety office will soon become an area headquarters with the arrival of a Sergeant.

Effective September 1, Sgt. Jesse Thomas Sharp and an additional trooper, Neal Lindley Lovorn, will join the local squad.

Sharp, originally a highway patrolman in Eagle Pass, is presently stationed in Beaumont as a sergeant. Lovorn will arrive from Lubbock where he has served as a trooper for over four years.

"It'll make it a lot easier for the highway patrolmen in Ozona and Sonora," R. B. Babbitt, Communications Supervisor said, "to have someone readily available to make decisions."

Currently Ozona D.P.S. must call San Angelo, which is the sub-district office, for needed decisions.

The two new workers are expected to arrive in Ozona during the next two weeks.

Accident fatal to driver

One man was killed in a one vehicle accident on Tuesday, August 2, at approximately 12:15 p.m.

The driver and sole occupant, 34-year-old Robert Burton McGarvey of San Angelo, was west bound on Interstate 10 when his 1977 van went off the right side of the road, struck a bridge pillar, rolling one time and coming to rest up right.

The accident occurred 6.6 miles east of Ozona at the Taylor Box Rd. bridge overpass. McGarvey was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace, A. O. Fields.

The fatality was investigated by Troopers Cliff Babbitt and Dale Taylor of the D.P.S. and Deputy Aldo Gonzales.

McGarvey was the grandson-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McCaleb of Ozona.

Ozona streets flood during a heavy downpour here at noon Monday. Over half an inch fell in about 30 minutes and motorists going back to work from lunch found the rain water up to the hub caps and then some. Triangle Park at 11th Street and 290 was completely under water, as was the parking lot in the shopping center. It was a most unusual sight for Ozonans who have been suffering through the worst drought since the 1950s.

Court hears various reports, requests Mon.

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in regular monthly meeting, hearing reports from the various county entities, requests for expenditures, review of the proposed budget for 1984, plus accepting the low bid on fuel for the next six months.

The court appointed Onesimo Ortiz foreman for town maintenance and agreed to give him a seven-man crew. Henry Elledge will be Ortiz' supervisor as well as head of the road department, where a 25-man crew was agreed upon. Dudley McCary, who has been head of maintenance of parks and grounds of county buildings, was made maintenance supervisor for county buildings and given an assistant.

During the afternoon session, Commissioner Castro motioned to retire McCary, and B. W. Stuart made the second. They were the only two to vote for the motion and it failed to carry. In a subsequent motion and second, the court voted against raising McCary's salary this year. The vote of Castro, Stuart and DeHoyos being enough for the motion to carry.

In giving the road department report, Elledge said paving was coming along on schedule and the crew would get to in-town projects in the near future. When asked about the filthy state of the streets in town, Elledge said the employee who ran the sweeper was on vacation and there was no other employee who could operate the machine.

School paving was given first priority when the crew gets to town. Elledge also reported work had not begun on clearing trees and shrubs from corners where they are obscuring stop signs, but would begin soon.

Before concluding his report, Elledge asked to promote an employee and give him a 25c raise, plus the proposed 7% across the board increase in the proposed budget for all county employees. The court agreed.

Don Hopkins, new hospital administrator, came before the court with the hospital report and a proposed 1984 budget for the hospital. He was accompanied by Dottie Tuttle, Dr. Carlisle and Lee Carlisle. Hopkins gave the report for the month in which collections were up, but occupancy down.

Bob Falkner, a member of the hospital board, came to the court to ask that money for a new ambulance be put in the new budget. He said the second ambulance now in use has 67,000 miles on it, is a 1979 model, and it is just one opened for another. He also stated the new ambulance, which already has 11,000 miles on it, is poorly constructed, and he really believed another new ambulance should be purchased. He asked the court's consideration and said the ambulance service could get by another year, by using the new ambulance more and keeping the old one for a back-up.

Hopkins presented the proposed hospital budget, pointing out that there was a 4% increase in most areas, which would result in about the same amount of deficit as this year. This would mean the hospital and care center would need over $700,000 of county money to operate.

Hopkins pointed out some areas he was expecting to operate more efficiently, money-wise, since he came here. He plans to make some sort of adjustment in linen service, telling the court $38,000 was entirely too much for the annual laundry. He said the loss in the care center is mostly dietary. In reviewing the first six months of this year, he found the cost of meals averaging over $5 for each meal, and he feels the cost should be no more than $3.50. He also said there are more on staff than he has seen in any care center, but adding the local facility gives excellent care. Hopkins' ideas about cutting down expenses was a refreshment to members of the court, who usually hear how much more the cost will be.

A representative of Marketing Associates appeared to ask the court to make a supplement to hospitalization plan available to county employees through payroll deduction. He was given permission to present the plan to county employees, but the court declined to make another payroll deduction system.

At 11 o'clock bids were opened for diesel and gasoline for the next six months. Of the four bids received, Moore Oil was the low bidder, bidding diesel at 85c per gallon, regular gas at 97c per gallon and unleaded at $1 even. The bid was accepted.

Tom Stokes, Tax Assessor-collector, met with the court and announced the effective tax rate for 1983 has been set at 54.01c per $100 valuation for ad valorem tax purposes. If the county exceeds a rate of 55.63c, a public hearing must be set. The current rate is 48.5c.

Stokes told the court re-appraisal will begin here next month. He said the job would take six to eight months to complete. Cost will be $25 per parcel (or piece of property), and there are about 2,000 parcels in the city. His office will re-appraise the ranch lands. He also asked the court for a $50 raise for his chief deputy over and above the 7% raise projected in the budget. This request was turned down in later court action. Crockett County had a 2-year exemption on re-appraisal, but 1985 values must reflect the true value of the property, due to the Truth in Taxation law passed three years ago by the legislature.

New rules were made about the public swimming pools. Vehicles will not be permitted inside the fence of a pool area and pools must be closed by 11 o'clock each night. The pools will close for the year August 20.

The court adjourned for lunch and reconvened at 1 o'clock. Discussion continued on the 1984 budget, mainly on how to cut the hospital and care center loss and employee salaries.

In public meeting Monday night

District ponders disposal plant

The long search for a site to construct a new sewer plant came to a head Monday night when the board of directors of the Crockett County Water District held a public meeting to discuss a site one-half mile from the present plant where they had made tentative plans to begin construction.

The permit to operate the present plant has expired and the state is pressing the district to move the plant and construct a more adequate facility. A site on the Early Chandler ranch had been offered and the district had made tentative plans to build the plant there. However, objections arose from property owners in the area and the plan was scrapped in the Monday evening meeting.

Meeting with the court to object to the site were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lilly and Cleophas Cooke. Others present included directors, Duane Childress, Dan Davidson, J. W. Johnigan, Mary Friend and Harold Shaw, who replaced Gene Williams after he resigned last month. Also present were Dee Keilers and Bill Cooper, who manage and operate the present system; Tom Cameron, Erby Chandler, Fred Chandler, County Judge Johnny Jones and Brock Jones, who is legal counsel for the district.

Keilers gave a brief review of what has transpired on moving the sewer plant for the past three years. The first site selected by the engineer was on the Seay ranch some 1 1/2 to 2 miles south of the present plant. When negotiations fell through another site was selected on the Helbing country, some 2 1/2 miles south of the existing plant. The landowner agreed at first and later changed his mind, so that put the district back to square one. When the Chandler site was offered by the landowners, the board made plans to build the new plant under a 20-year easement with the Chandlers.

After the meeting was thrown open for discussion, Cleophas Cooke asked what good it is going to do the town to spend half a million dollars to move the plant a half mile and in a few years spend 2 or 3 million dollars more to move it again. He said if the townspeople objected to the odor now, it would only be a matter of time before the same problem arose at the proposed location.

Gene Lilly, whose home is just north of the proposed site, asked the directors if they were aware the sewer water would have to be pumped to an elevation of 25 feet at the site being discussed. He declared if the pump broke down sewer water would back into the town and every resident would be up in arms. Lilly said he would be more than helpful if the district would put the plant on down the draw where a much better location is available, but if they persist in locating it south of his house he plans to use every means to prevent it.

Bill Cooper spoke up and said if he thought the proposed plant would be as offensive as Lilly did, he would be against it too, but he declared there would be no odor and no problem at the proposed site.

Lilly objected saying he believes public opinion would bear him out. He said the public does not want it moved if it is going to have to be moved again in a few years. He said if the first selection made by the engineer was used, the plant would last for 50 years and allow for the growth of the town. He asked the board to let common sense prevail, build the plant on down the draw and have a facility which would last for 50 years and cost the average household less in the long run. Mr. and Mrs. Lilly and Cooke retired from the meeting and further discussion was held.

Erby Chandler told the group his interests would be better served to move the plant further south. He said he offered the present site strictly as a trade-out to get the existing plant moved and get the ponds off their present location.

Condemnation procedures were discussed with attorney Jones. He said there was no doubt that land for the site can be condemned as well as for the pipeline and discharged water can be pumped down the draw after it is treated.

When asked if construction must await the outcome of condemnation procedures, Jones answered in the negative and added the landowner had no say about the operation of the plant once the land is condemned.

All present were in agreement that nobody wanted the plant on their land, and for three years all plans have come up against a brick wall. It was clear that land must be condemned for a plant site, or land must be condemned for a pipeline at the Chandler site.

After further discussion Duane Childress made a motion to select the Seay site, which is the best location, try to negotiate with the landowners and if necessary start condemnation procedures and break ground as soon as possible.

After expressing the opinion that there was no room for expansion at the Chandler site, Dan Davidson seconded the motion. Four directors voted for the measure and one abstained.

Rodeo queen contestants

HEMISPHERE THREATENED

By Edwin Feulner

While members of Congress continue their war of words on Central America, recent polls show that the American public is more confused than ever.

A recent New York Times/CBS News poll on El Salvador, for example, disclosed wide gaps in the public's knowledge. The percentage of Americans who even knew which side the Reagan administration is supporting in the Salvadoran struggle was a mere 8 percent. The only item of agreement, which bears little statistical validity if 92 percent of the respondents are uninformed, was opposition to sending U.S. combat troops to El Salvador, something President Reagan currently has no intention of doing.

With widespread ignorance being the rule rather than the exception, the public sorely needs to be better informed about the goings-on in Central America. There is much more at stake than the public's base attitude would indicate.

One good analysis of the situation can be found in an August Reader's Digest article by roving editor David Reed, a veteran globetrotter who has covered many of the world's trouble spots for the magazine. Make no mistake, Reed says, the guerrilla movement in El Salvador is anything but a local matter. Instead, Reed asserts, the Soviet Union "is focusing its might on Central America in an effort to bring that key region under the control of pro-Soviet client regimes." Cuba, propped up by $12.8 million a day in Russian subsidies, carries out the dirty work for Moscow, sending a barrage of materials into that region, and training guerrillas and urban terrorists, he says.

One lesson is clear from the Indochina War: revolution is not accomplished without outside support. When that support is Marxist, the side effect is the perpetuation of instability, violence and genocide as that revolution is forcefully transferred from one nation to its neighbors. For Vietnam, it was Cambodia. For Cuba it is Nicaragua. For Nicaragua it became El Salvador.

What is America's stake in Central America? To listen to some critics, the U.S. is up to its usual bullyboy tricks. But these are the same people who even today won't acknowledge the anguished cries of the millions of Indochinese who died at the hands of Communist "liberators." Forget our humanitarian reasons for stopping communism, and try this: San Salvador, the capital of El Salvador, is closer to Washington, D.C., (1880 miles) than is Los Angeles (2300 miles). Central America is on our doorstep. If we don't help our Latin neighbors, no one else will.

Recently an 18-member study panel on Latin America was organized by the prestigious World Affairs Council of Pittsburgh, and chaired by Daniel McMichael. The panel found that the Western Hemisphere today clearly "is threatened by a pattern of penetration and infiltration from Havana and Moscow." This offensive, warned the study team (which included former Florida Senator Richard Stone, now the U.S. special envoy to Central America), "must be met by a U.S. program — in concert with other concerned Latin nations — to halt the exportation of terrorism, armed attack and violent revolution, and prevent creation of more Marxist-Leninist states in the region."

It doesn't take a genius to realize that if the Communist-backed guerrillas wrest control of El Salvador from its elected government, the U.S. and its hemispheric allies will be faced with still another Marxist revolution in some other Caribbean nation. Perhaps Honduras. Or Costa Rica.

The appetite of the Communist world for armed conquest, modern history shows, is insatiable. The American people should know this, even if their elected representatives don't.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Last week the U.S. Justice Department finally approved the redistricting plan for the Texas House of Representatives, originally drawn up three years ago. The long battle which has spilled from the legislative chambers into the court rooms is still not over yet—the feds still must approve redistricting plans for Texas Senate and U.S. Congressional seats—but last week's favorable ruling was taken as a harbinger of good luck for the other two plans.

The Justice Dept ruling means the federal executive branch finds no denial or abridgment of voting rights. However, House redistricting chairman Rep. Tom Uher of Bay City believes a Mexican-American legal group will appeal the ruling in federal court to force creation of a Hispanic district in Houston.

If that's the case, the group is about the last of the redistricting combatants still on their feet. Most participants are sick and tired of the three-year old battle which has been hashed and rehashed in courtrooms, backrooms and committee rooms.

No one group particularly likes the plan, but most political groups are anxious to get on with the election year politicking.

Labor Unions

One group that has already decided on its game plan for the coming election year is Texas labor. Last week the Texas AFL-CIO leadership endorsed State Sen. Lloyd Doggett of Austin, a liberal, for the U.S. Senate race against John Tower. News that the unions endorsed Doggett over conservative moderate Bob Krueger was a surprise only in regard to the haste of the endorsement.

Labor endorsed Krueger in two congressional races but became disillusioned with his voting habits on labor issues. At the Texas AFL-CIO annual convention in San Antonio last week, delegates also stood and cheered embattled Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox, under a grand jury investigation for misreporting campaign loans.

Waving his '82 campaign signs, delegates voted to support Mattox's call for a boycott of Mobil Oil Corp. products. Mattox has blamed his problems on "big oil" which he claims wants him out of the way.

Mobil Oil

Mattox says Mobil Oil wants his scalp because he is pressuring the company to settle a $1.67 billion lawsuit to "help the school-children of Texas."

Only labor unions have shown any interest in supporting the boycott, and Mobil Oil officials say they aren't worried about the possibility of a boycott of their products.

The Permanent School Fund, which funds Texas public schools, has about 1.7 million shares of Mobil stock, worth about $51 million.

Senate Race

Krueger has been regarded as the Democratic frontrunner to challenge Republican incumbent U.S. Sen. John Tower, but the loss of the union endorsement last week was not the only scratch he received.

Krueger, a former ambassador to Mexico, has strong Hispanic support among the Democrats, but last week the National Hispanic Chamber of Commerce endorsed Tower. The group's president also indicated he supports Reagan and wants the President to appoint a Hispanic to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Federal Election Commission reports show Tower leading both Krueger and Doggett in fundraising, which surprised no one but Doggett showed up on paper with more money in his campaign fund than Krueger—about $100,000 more.

Krueger Weds

Krueger's mind, no doubt, has been more on his wedding, which occurred in San Antonio last week, than on the political race. Reported as the social and political event of the season, the groom's lineup read like a political Who's Who of Texas Democrats including groomsmen Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and political strategist Roy Spence.

Voter Registration

Meanwhile, both Democrats and Republicans at the helms of their parties are planning ways to garner the minority vote in Texas.

The Black Republican Council of Texas chairman is helping the GOP woo black votes, and the Democrats have launched a massive voter registration project aimed strongly at the Valley Hispanics.

Democratic Party chairman Bob Slagle said the project will cost about $300,000 and will add 500,000 new Democrats to the rolls in time for the '84 elections.

State Republican chairman George Strake also said recently the GOP also plans a registration drive to add about the same number to the Republican flock.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I recently went into business. Do we have to file income tax on the business, even though we just broke even?

A: If you and your husband together had $5,400 gross taxable income last year — from all sources — you must file a tax return. This is true whether or not losses equalled or exceeded income for your business.

If you have formed a corporation, regardless of the taxable income, you must file a return unless it is expressly exempt.

Failure to make and file any tax return within the time prescribed by law imposes a five percent per month penalty on the amount due up to 25 percent penalty.

Q: I am thinking of making a will. Do I need to appoint someone from Texas as administrator or can it be someone from out of state?

A: Under Texas law, the person named in your Will to settle your estate is called an executor (or executrix, if female). You may appoint anyone over the age of 18, but, of course, it would be most convenient for the executor to live in the county where the estate will be probated.

To allow people to resign, or refuse to serve for their own reasons of convenience, your attorney will want you to nominate one or two alternates to be called as successor executor if necessary.

Q: A few summers ago, we purchased some window unit air conditioners. They didn't work then and they don't work now. After a lot of hassling, the store said we could just buy bigger units. I want my money back! What are my rights?

A: You might be able to sue for breach of an implied warranty — a promise that merchandise should fulfill the for col. 308: and bought. Depending on the purchase price of the units, if you can show you were the victim of a deceptive trade practice, you could also ask for three times damages and attorney fees.

You must bring this kind of lawsuit within four years of purchase, so get in touch with your attorney soon to review the sales contract and the facts of your case.

Q: Concerning witnesses to the signing of a will: can the beneficiaries of a will serve as witnesses, and must the signing be witnessed by a notary public?

A: Let me separate out the two parts of your question: when you sign a formal Will, a notary must take your oath and the oath of the witnesses that you understood you are signing a testamentary document and that you wanted these people to witness.

Although any person over the age of 14 may witness, you do not want your beneficiaries to be involved in the signing ceremony. They are not disinterested witnesses, and the Will may be vulnerable to a challenge by a dissatisfied relative who did not inherit. Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P. O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical format; personal answers not possible.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor: I receive your newspaper regularly and just want you to know how much I enjoy it. You are well able to project the image of the town in a manner that makes me feel I know the people and recognize the places.

Your paper is my refuge from the daily routine of too much activity at work, 80 miles of bumper to bumper traffic, $1.55 gallon gas, and wall to wall houses and people.

One of my favorite fantasies is that I figure out how to buy one of those houses listed for sale, to pack up my dogs, and leave all this behind to return only to visit Disneyland.

...nee Miss Kimberly Sinclair

Sinclair and Padilla are wed in Ruidoso

Kimberly Sue Sinclair and Alex Dean Padilla of Ruidoso, N.M. were married July 30 at 8:00 p.m. at First Christian Church in Ruidoso, N.M. The Reverend Ricky McClatchy, cousin of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Sinclair are parents of the bride. Mrs. Raymond Padilla of Ruidoso is the mother of the groom.

Rails in the church were trimmed with greenery and carnations. Green plants also decorated the church. Sid Chavez played traditional music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza floor-length gown with an attached train edged with Chantilly lace. The empire bodice was highlighted with Chantilly lace over sheer organza and trimmed with pearls. It also featured full sheer sleeves with Chantilly lace. A matching veil was held by a Juliet cap outlined with Chantilly lace.

Jan Beck of Midland, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a gown of aqua taffeta with puffed sleeves, a fitted bodice and bright pink sashes.

Bridesmaids were Molly Womack; Robin McClintick of Plano; Mickie Padilla and Linda Padilla. Both sisters of the groom.

Artie Chavez, the groom's cousin, served as best man. Groomsmen were Kelly Sinclair, brother of the bride; Steve Byrd of Ruidoso; Cecil Ross of Bangs; and J.R. Padilla, Santa Rosa, N.M. brother of the groom.

Jeana and Johna Beck, nieces of the bride, were flower girls, while Michael and Dion Reynold, nephews of the groom, were ring bearer. Farrel De Soto of Ruidoso and Jeff Findley of Austin, cousin to the bride served as ushers. Holly Ross of Bangs and Shannah Coolsey of Brownwood were Candelighters, cousins of the bride.

Karen Ramirez, of Garland, neice to the groom, handed out rice bags. Gloria Padilla of Denver, Colorado, sister to the groom, sat at the guest book.

Hostesses at the church reception following the ceremony were Lala Reynolds, Ruidoso, N.M.; Veronica Padilla, Albuquerque, N.M.; Janie McClatchy, Bangs; Becky Armstrong, Lovington, N.M. and Ann Hoover.

The bride graduated from high school in Ozona, and attended McMurry College in Abilene, for two years as an elementary education major. The groom graduated from Ruidoso High School and attended the University of New Mexico for two and one-half years as a business major. After a wedding trip to El Paso, the couple will attend Sul Ross in Alpine.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Though August is one of our hottest months usually, you may take advantage of this for many shrubs and ornamental trees will grow very rapidly if given adequate water.

Water requirements of plants vary, so a list of a few may be helpful for the summer. The soil around shallow-rooted plants such as fern, dogwood, hydrangeas, camellia and azalea should not be allowed to dry out even once.

Plants with moderate water requirements should be next on the list. This group includes juniper nandina, pyracantha and Chinese Holly.

Among the drought-resistant plants are lantana, pampas grass, yucca, vitex and oleander. They are able to go without water for longer periods of time without adverse effects.

Tender fibrous roots cannot penetrate a tight soil, so you need a loose soil containing plenty of humus. Most of these are evergreens. Lateral waxy roots can live in clay soil, such as lilacs and Forsythia.

Tap root plants grow according to the soil they are grown in. In good soil they grow rapidly and in poor soil they are stunted and gnarled-(pecan, mesquite, snap dragons).

Plants that grow well in alkaline soil are fruit trees, rock garden plants, cacti, bulbes, succulents, vegetables and the majority of flowers.

Since we live in an area of alkaline soil and usually have dry summers with constant irrigation necessary, the lime in the water raises the alkalinity of the soil. If your soil contains plenty of humus, so much water will not be required.

One advantage of alkaline soil is that there is a much wider variety of alkaline plants than acid-loving ones.

Maybe these suggestions may help you in planning and selecting your fall plants and shrubs. Follow August spray recommendations for insect and disease control. In pecans. Spray schedules are available from the County Extension Office.

React to first signs of fall webworms with biological or chemical insecticides. Burning webs in the tree may cause tree damage. Irrigate pecan trees if the absence of adequate rainfall continues.

For a colorful bed or border this winter, try flowering cabbage or ornamental kale. This pair of look alike resembles nothing else in the flower garden. Both are tight heads of ruffly leaves tinged with pink, red or purple at the center and fading to bright green around the edges.

Feed chrysanthemums and dahlias this month!

Mrs. Wagoner honored at gift coffee Saturday

The Lowell Littleton home was the scene of a gift coffee, Saturday morning, honoring Mrs. Billy Wagoner, nee Miss Lisa Mitchell. Mrs. Littleton and Mrs. T. J. Bailey greeted the guests. Mrs. Wagoner's wedding attire was beautifully displayed in the entrance hall. Her pearl encrusted camelot head piece was on the banister post with her cathedral train gracefully flared up the spiral staircase. Her gown was hanging from the stairwell with a bridal bouquet of white and pink silk flowers streaming down the side. Her bridesmaid, Miss Kristi Kirby's pink gown was in the background.

With Mrs. Wagoner in the receiving line were Mrs. Maude Cunningham, her grandmother, of Baird; Mrs. Gary Mitchell, her sister-in-law; Mrs. Guyman Henry of Coahoma, and Mrs. John Hardwick of Baird, both aunts of the bride. Miss Kirby presided at the bride's book where about one hundred guests signed.

The serving table laid in white, was centered with white and pink arrangements of carnations and greenery. The buffets held white lace fans with pink flowers and silver candelabra with white tapers. Silver appointments were used on the serving table. Servers were Mrs. Joe Pierce IV, Mrs. Tom Ed Montgomery and Mrs. Leonard Boyd.

Other hostesses for the occasion were Msdms. Joe Bean, Mark White, Jack Brewer, Benny Logan, B. W. Stuart, Taylor Jones, Buddy Russell, Jeffrey Sutton, Pleas Childress, William J. # HARD HATS MAKES SENSE

They're not the most comfortable type of headgear, but they've become the badge of the construction industry. No good superintendent will let you step on his building site without one.

The idea of protecting ourselves against possible hazards is an ancient one. Through the centuries it has had its religious counterpart. The Bible urges us to put on the whole armor of God.

Each week in our churches and synagogues we can prepare ourselves spiritually for the challenges tomorrow will bring. We can strengthen our souls to meet and overcome whatever dangers might one day confront us.

Teachers' in-service commences Monday

"Where has the summer gone?" will be the comment of many teachers in Ozona Public Schools as they begin preparations for the upcoming school term. While it is true that the summer has indeed been short, it is that time of year again to "start-up" the educational process and "get in gear" for another school year!

Faculty members will report to the Ozona High School Auditorium on Monday, August 15, at 9:00 a.m. to begin a series of orientation and inservice sessions that will culminate in the beginning of school on Monday, August 22.

Garland Davis, Superintendent of Schools, will address the faculty during the Monday morning meeting, and information concerning school policies, educational developments, insurance plans, and personnel will be discussed.

Individual faculty meetings will be held Monday afternoon, and Tuesday activities will include a presentation by Alice Woodard of the Region XV Education Service Center on the Learner Based Accountability System for Curriculum Improvements, as well as emergency C.P.R. training by employees of the Crockett County Ambulance Service.

The Ozona staff will be in Sonora on Wednesday and Thursday, August 17 and 18, to attend the Sonora Inservice Conference, along with faculty members from Juno, Nueces Canyon, Rock-springs, Eldorado and Sonora.

Dan Marquis, spokesman for the Lyceum Corporation, will begin the Wednesday activities at 9:00 a.m. with a presentation entitled "I Am A Teacher", and this will be followed by small group sessions relating to the individual interests of teachers.

Sectional sessions will be given on Thursday to members of the participating districts, and activities will conclude after the presentation "Instructional Strategies That Work!" by Dr. Douglas Brooks, professor at the University of Texas-Arlington.

Adjournment of the conference is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Thursday. The staff of the Region XV Education Service Center in San Angelo is in charge of the two-day event, and David M. Smith is the Director of Programs.

Ozona faculty members will have an inservice workday on Friday, August 19, and school will begin on Monday, August 22. A complete list of the Ozona faculty will appear in the next edition of The Ozona Stockman.

Extension office news
By Rachel Hall

Last Thursday, there was good attendance for the immunization clinic. There were 108 youngsters immunized for measles, mumps, rubella, polio and TB. Jill De La Garza, Concha Zapata, and Lou Ingham assisted the public health nurses with immunization records.

Alaina Hartmann and Tamie Reagor dressed as clowns, helped Judy Adams entertain youngsters with balloons and slide movies. I presented demonstrations on breakfast snacks with samples available.

The Progressive Extension Homemaker Club will be meeting Thursday, August 11, to elect officers and plan programs. If you are not a member of this club or the Crockett Heights club, you are encouraged to join the one of your choice. The Progressive Club meets the second Thursday at noon, while the Crockett Heights club meets the first Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Club members meet monthly and learn from educational programs. Guests and new members are always welcome.

Re-enrollment in 4-H programs has begun. Enrollment forms can be completed at school registration or at the County Extension Office. Members of 4-H must re-enroll each August.

School is just around the corner. Many youngsters will be beginning their very first day of school. What are some steps for decreasing their anxiety or fear?

When a child begins school for the first time there are three tasks that are being tried: shifting dependency from parent to peers and other adults; separation anxiety-temporary separation from family; learning to accept authority of other adults and teachers.

The school transition can be made easier several ways. One way is to treat school as a part of normal events (something that is expected). Telling a child the number of attendance days, length of time away from home, and traveling transportation routes are important.

Forcing a child to be excited about going to school isn't necessary. It is natural for them to be anxious and to say such things as "I wish there were no schools or teachers." A calm reassuring statement of an adult might be, "but we can't always do the things we'd like to, even if it's fun to think about it."

Communicate with the child that you appreciate the effort that he/she is doing to meet the new responsibility of going to school. Some possibilities for support include: "Think of something special you'd like to do after school" or "would you prefer your new shoes or tennis shoes on your first day of school?" This gives the child some say-so over school activities.

A normal routine atmosphere at home during the first few days of school is important. A sudden change in home atmosphere might confuse the youngster about school.

It is normal for a child to cry a few tears before leaving for school. But most of those tears are gone long before the child sees the teacher. This transition time triggers temporary emotional reactions, which go away quickly with family and home support and encouragement.

PAM YOUNG

Miss Young assumes County Extension post

Pamela Lynn Young, an Ozona native, assumed duties as Sutton County Extension Home Economist, according to Sutton County Judge Charles Sherrill and Dr. LeRoy Hoermann, district director for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, an agency of the Texas A&M University System.

Miss Young most recently served as Extension home economist in Edwards, Kimble, and Real counties. In her new position she will be responsible for planning, implementing and evaluating family living educational programs for citizens of Sutton County. She will also work closely with the family living program building committee to coordinate educational programs, demonstrations, lectures and illustrated talks on various subjects relating to home economics and family living.

The new Sutton Extension agent holds a B.S. degree in home economics education from Southwest Texas State University. She also attended Angelo State University and Texas Tech University.

During college she was employed as assistant department manager for Foley's in San Antonio, consumer consultant for The Pan-Tree and Olive Nursery in San Angelo, and Cloth World in Lubbock.

Miss Young has extensive experience in home management organization, energy efficient home improvements, financial management and use of computerized terminals and general office management, public speaking and classroom instruction, child development training, creative sewing and cooking, and youth program organization.

"We are pleased that Pam Young has accepted this appointment," said Hoermann. "She is experienced in all areas of home economics and family living education that relate to this position. We know the clientele in Sutton County will make full use of her capabilities as an effective Extension educator. Pam knows this area very well and can make many outstanding contributions to this county's development."

Miss Young is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Young of Ozona.

Cattlemen must become businessmen who specialize in cattle, rather than ranchers who function as businessmen only on occasion, the keynote speaker for the third annual International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) told some 500 ranchers here Aug. 1.

William J. "Dub" Waldrip of Lubbock, president of the National Cattlemen's Association and general manager of the Spade Ranches of Texas and New Mexico, said cost efficiency can be accomplished by producing animals with better conversion rates that more nearly satisfy market demands.

Speaking on "Innovative Ranch Management," Waldrip was the first of some 100 speakers from 12 states and South Africa to address the gathering of ranchers.

Marketing experts agree that the beef business is a "mature" industry, or one that can't expect a steady increase in demand and per capita consumption such as was experienced in the 1960s Waldrip said.

"Our best opportunity for increased marketing is to capture a greater share of the entire meat protein complex, which for the past dozen years or so has been about 200 pounds per person," Waldrip said.

Several indicators give the cattle industry reason for optimism in this regard, he added. Competing meats have already achieved most of their potential improvement in efficiency. The price spread has leveled off and should begin to narrow. Also, pork and poultry enterprises cannot run their programs with "waste materials," for cattle can convert grasses from poorer quality lands into a high quality protein product.

"Beef also remains the most strongly preferred meat, by far, and the basic demand is good. Our job is to take better advantage of this product preference and market it more competitively and profitably. Good business planning, management and marketing will become essential if ranchers are to remain in business," Waldrip said.

Ranchers must also become more efficient in order to cope with periodic droughts, such as the worsening drought now underway in West Texas, he said.

Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, welcomed ranchers to the educational activity which is presenting research updates in regard to beef cattle, sheep and goat production; family ranch business management, grazing management, wildlife, marketing and ranch computer use.

Everyone concerned with the ranching business must strive to understand whole ranch management, thus keeping each aspect in perspective. This gathering is the first attempt at multi-national conferencing to be conducted away from the Texas A&M University campus, he said.

Hansen pointed to recent successes of the TAMU System, noting that the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has developed a vaccine to control Blue Tongue in sheep. He said the Station is moving ahead with brush and weed control research and improved range management techniques, is striving to overcome the problem of toxic plants in many areas, and is conducting research on brucellosis. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is rapidly transferring this new technology to producers through sessions such as the International Ranchers Roundup.

Legislation affecting ranching was discussed by Cong. Tom Loeffler of the U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C.

As with any business, the rancher must realize a profit to continue operating, he noted, and it remains essential that the federal government not further injure ranchers through confiscatory and counterproductive laws and policies.

Loeffler said that efforts continue toward the development of an improved vaccine and testing procedure for brucellosis, and are supported by the beef and dairy industry, scientific community and administration.

Economic recovery is now underway, Loeffler said, adding that "Congress remains our worst economic indicator." Work is moving ahead on the water crisis, which is acute; on predator control, toward expanding beef exports, and to correct the problem of wool being imported and dumped on our markets, particularly by Argentina.

Registration to be held for youngsters

Boys and girls who will be four years of age by September 1, will register at the Ozona Community Center on Wednesday, August 17, from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m.

Local attorneys, Mason and Cameron, discuss new, stiffer D. W. I. penalties

The following article is a public service by the Ozona Stockman through the courtesy of Bill Mason, District Attorney and Tom Cameron, County Attorney of the 112th Judicial District. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, or your responsibility as a resident of Crockett County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

The outcry against driving while intoxicated has grown tremendously, and rightly so. The statistics can be frightening: Half of the people in the U.S. will be involved in a D.W.I. collision during their lifetime. In 1980 drunk driving was involved in the death of a person in Texas every 4 hours.

Drunk driving is the most common form of violent death and the leading cause of death among young people. Earlier this year this office in cooperation with the Prosecutor Council presented a series of articles examining the problem. Recognizing the need for reform, the Texas Legislature addressed the issue in its last regular session. In June Governor Mark White signed into law Senate Bill 1, which becomes effective January 1, 1984.

The bill brings many changes, some of which are highlighted below.

The very definition of D.W.I. has been revised. If a driver has a .1% or more alcohol concentration in his blood, he will be by definition guilty of D.W.I.

Evidence of alcohol in the blood is often shown by the results of a breathalyzer test. If a driver refuses to take a breathalyzer test or similar test, that refusal could now have two effects. First, he will lose his driver's license for 90 days. This will be true even if he is not later charged with or convicted of D.W.I. Second, the fact of his refusal may be introduced at his trial. The jurors will know the defendant refused a breath test and may believe that the defendant knew he was drunk.

Counties of 25,000 population or more will be required to use videotape equipment to preserve for trial how the defendant looked and behaved shortly after arrest. The tape will allow jurors to see for themselves how the defendant looked and acted that night. Upon conviction a first offender could lose license for 90 days to a year. A repeat offender could lose his license for 180 days to 2 years.

Stiffer fines will also be imposed. The driver can expect to pay from $100 to $2,000, depending on how many times he has been convicted of D.W.I.

Jail time has also been increased. Again, depending on the number of times he has been convicted, a driver could expect to spend from 3 days to 5 years in jail.

If the driver has seriously injured another person as a result of his drunk driving, his punishment will be even greater. An additional $500 fine and an additional 60 days in jail could be tacked on to the fines and sentences already mentioned.

The use of deferred adjudication has been eliminated. Under this method of handling cases, the individual pleads guilty before a judge. The judge delays entering judgement pending a period of probation. If the person completes his probation, the offense is removed from his record. This process will no longer be open to D.W.I. defendants.

Probation will also be affected. In the future, if the convicted driver receives probation, he must be evaluated to see if he needs alcohol or drug rehabilitation. Furthermore, a probation sentence will count as a final conviction. If the same driver is convicted again, it will be his second conviction for purposes of figuring his punishment.

Other changes in the law help keep the offender off the streets. Under certain circumstances, a repeat offender will be forced to forfeit his automobile to the state. Some drivers may find themselves unable to afford automobile coverage; insurance companies will be allowed to place a surcharge for up to three years on rates to a D.W.I. offender.

These changes highlight efforts of Texas lawmakers to address the problem of D.W.I. Now the responsibility lies with you the citizens. As jurors you have the final responsibility in determining how the crime of D.W.I. is viewed in our community and how it is enforced.

This article is provided by Bill Mason, your local District Attorney, and Tom Cameron, County Attorney.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED-Mr. and Mrs. Azael Villarreal announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marisela, to David Sanchez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Sanchez of Sonora. The wedding mass is planned for September 10, at Our County agent Billy Reagor met with the court to clear up a misunderstanding on salaries for his office. When asked about the 4-H archery program, he seemed to be in the dark. Two men met with the court during the morning hours to ask for assistance in moving the archery range from the Baggett ranch where it is now located to the skeet range, due to vandalism at the present site. Reagor was not aware of the situation and told the court he would check it out and report back.

David Weant informed the court that archery was the fastest growing sport in the nation and he felt the court should provide a place for both adults and 4-H members to use for a range and suggested the rifle range. The court had no objection to this, but pointed out the rifle range has many problems with vandalism and the Ozona Rifle Club is constantly clearing away and cleaning up after vandals.

A delegation from the Texas Highway Department met with the court. Headed up by

D. R. Watson, the committee presented new county maps and asked the court's preference in new farm to market roads in the future. Lengthy discussion was held with all members of the court involved.

In other business, the court turned down a Sheriff Department request to give jailers the same salary given deputies and refused the request for an extra car for the department.

Workers have priced themselves out of jobs

America's unemployment problems are largely due to workers who have priced themselves out of jobs, says a Texas A&M University economist.

"In a nutshell, labor is overpriced in certain industries and that has resulted in high unemployment levels," said Dr. Morgan Reynolds.

Sustained, massive unemployment has resulted because wages have been influenced more by government policies than by free market competition, Reynolds said.

"Governments, and their coercive offspring-labor unions- prevent competitive pricing," he said. "They are the major causes of unemployment."

The economist said unemployed people aren't finding jobs largely because the work force has overlooked the principle that pricing must please both buyers and sellers before transactions occur.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

August has arrived with its usual hot fury. Makes it nice that we have a cool place to stay indoors.

First place bingo winner from the Tuesday and Friday games was Virginia Russell. She won a gift certificate from Clayton's Village Drug. Second place winner was Moriama Perez. Max Schneemann won the El Chato dinner for two. Volunteers included sitters Veronica Tobbit, Elodia Zapata, Anna Yruegas and Sammy Patino, as well as Anna Bell Patrick, Dorothy Doll and Doris Karr. Some twenty residents played.

On Tuesday afternoon our reading group studied the history of the way various towns arrived at their names in Texas.

Wednesday morning ceramics was led by Jackie Ginsberg, daughter of Ola Mills, and by Marie Pierson. Residents participating included Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Inez Biggs, Pearl Morris, Bertha Miller, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills and Moriama Perez.

Wednesday afternoon Kellye and Danette Robinson furnished our Sunshine Hour entertainment by telling about and sharing pictures of their trip to Florida. Ice cream cups donated by Gandy's were served to all residents.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Arlene Clayton, Lola Rios and Blanche Walker.

In the afternoon Rev. Dennis McKain, assisted by Marie Walker, brought our weekly Bible study. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Praise led by Maria Vitela and a large group of Catholic ladies.

Friday afternoon we were treated to a field trip, which included pie donated by Marie Pierson, to the Cottage Collection, one of Ozona's newest stores.

Residents enjoying the trip included Frances Borrego, Tomasa Ramos, Billie Whatley, Maude Pettit, and Inez Biggs. Volunteers included Pierson, Dorothy Doll and Jo Davidson. Thanks goes to Patti Jones for serving good tea and coffee and for the discount.

Dominoes were played on Saturday and Monday by Maude Pettit, Bertha Miller, Ola Mills and Paul Cavin.

Sunday afternoon church services were brought by members of the United Methodist Church, Rev. Wayne Boyce, pastor. He was assisted by Lucile Harrell on the piano, Ann McCartney, song leader, and singers Madye Jo Humphreys and Velma Marley.

Monday afternoon we had our monthly birthday party. The party time fell on the day of lucky Granny Carter's birthday. Our other celebrity was Ola Mills whose birthday was last Thursday. Both ladies were treated to a cake baked by Polly Mayes and served by the Older Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ. They also wore flowers donated by Maxine's Flowers. A lovely punch table was set by Granny's daughters, Lottie Davis and Barbara Roderich. Barbara's husband, John, sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Other volunteers include Katie Goodman, Zelda Bennett, Almeda Hoover and Monnie Boyd. Thanks, ladies for a lovely party. Visit a friend.

Ozona Royals split wins with Big Lake Red Sox

The Ozona Royals split a double-header with the Big Spring Red Sox taking the first game 2-1 and losing the nightcap 5-3, Monday.

In the first game, Jimmy Ortiz pitched a four-hitter for his fifth straight run and also scored the winning run to ensure the Royals the victory.

In the second game the Red Sox went with their ace pitcher Frank Rubio, who has pitched with the farm team of the Philadelphia Phillies, who won the World Series two years ago. Rubio had a 5 to 0 lead in the 6th inning and also was recording a no-hitter up to that point, but the Royals scored 3 runs in the 6th with John Galvan pitching up the first hit, then was followed by Richard Sanchez with a single to right field trailing 5 to 3. The Royals had the bases loaded with 2 outs but Rubio struck out Mike Sanchez who attempted to bunt but was called out on strikes. Elpidio Martinez Jr. also got a double off Rubio.

The Royals didn't have a good season and even though they've got a 26-12 record they would like to invite everybody to their last home games this Sunday, August 14, where they will host a 4-team tournament. Teams entered are Brownwood, Sonora, Ozona Bears and the host, Ozona Royals. The public is invited to attend the tournament and support the Royals, who are considered to be in the top of West Texas semi-pro teams.
