David was born June 8, 1968 in San Angelo. He was a resident of Ozona all his life before moving to San Angelo with his parents about a year ago. He attended school at Wall.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lovell of San Angelo; one sister, Darla Lovell of San Angelo; his grandparents, Mrs. Charles Craig, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lovell, all of Ozona.

Storm brings rain to Ozona

Ozona and the surrounding area was blessed with a good general rain Saturday afternoon and night with up to 2 inches being reported in town. The official gauge at the water district office recorded 1.56 inches.

The heaviest rainfall came at mid-afternoon when a booming thunderstorm hit the town. Television service was disrupted in the northwest part of town as well as the Circle Bar and Crockett Heights. Several sets were damaged by lightning during the storm.

The storm broke a late summer heat wave, but temperatures were on the rise by Monday afternoon. More rain and a cold front was forecast for the area by Tuesday night.

Disaster designation for county

Crockett County has been declared a federal disaster area by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to telephone calls from Rep. Tom Loeffler's office and the office of Senator John Tower.

The county along with Irion and Glasscock counties was added to the list of 23 counties already designated as a disaster area due to drought and extreme temperatures.

Ranchers in these counties become eligible for federal administered emergency loans.

Applications for emergency farm loans are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration. Ranchers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses, or the operating loan needed to continue in business, or $500,000, whichever is less. For those unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest rate on the first $100,000 borrowed is 5 percent. For those who can obtain commercial credit, but who choose to borrow from FmHA, the interest rate is 14.25 percent.

Lions drop first district tilt to Ballinger Bearcats

By-Gary Davis

The Ballinger Bearcats handed the Ozona Lions their third loss of the season in Ballinger Friday night. The district opener was a 34-13 loss for the Lions. The Lions will host the Colorado City Wolves Friday at 7:30, looking for their first district win.

The Bearcats received the opening kickoff of the first district 6-AAA contest and held the ball for 6 plays before making their first touchdown of the evening. With 10:06 on the clock, Ballinger's star quarterback, Aaron Keese, tossed a pass for 11 yards to senior Stephen Medrano, who ran into the endzone for 6 points. The extra point attempt by Matt Allen, was successful and the Bearcats jumped ahead of the Lions, 7-0.

The Lions were not to be outdone. Thirteen plays and five first downs later, the Lions were on the scoreboard with 7 points. Senior back, Diego Leal, broke for a short two yards to make the touchdown. Robert Flores kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7 points for each team.

Ozona went ahead of the Bearcats midway through the second period of play. Senior, Rowdy Holmsley, who was named player of the week, burst through the Ballinger defensive unit and ran 9 yards for the second Ozona touchdown. The two point conversion attempt was unsuccessful, but the Lions took a small 13-7 lead.

Shortly before the first half of play expired, Ballinger's Keese took the ball for a long 65 yards for the Bearcat's second score. Allen booted the extra point which made the score 14-13 at the conclusion of the first half.

The third and fourth quarters belonged solely to the Bearcats. Keese completed two touchdown passes, one to Medrano and one to Allen, and Eddie Galvan scored once as the Ballinger team racked up a 34-13 win over the Lions.

Statistics showed that the contest was very evenly matched. The Lions had 21 first downs compared to the Bearcat's 19. Ballinger led the Lions in rushing with 291 yards compared to Ozona's 279, and in passing yards, which were 139 to 96.

Leading the Lion team in rushing yards were David Delgado, 79 yards; Diego Leal, 70 yards, and Rowdy Holmsley, 56 yards. Other rushers were Robert Flores, Oscar Vargas and Johnny Rodriguez.

The leading passer was David Delgado, who had all 96 yards of the Lion's passing total.

Robert Flores, Bob Reneau and Mark Vallejo led the Ozona receivers with 31, 29, and 29 yards respectively.

The Lions will be looking for their first district win against the Colorado City Wolves in Lion Stadium, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Court attends to routine business

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular session Monday morning and attended to routine county matters. The court approved the bills and ordered them paid and heard reports from various county entities.

Some discussion was held on installing a water fountain at the back of the district courtroom, subject to approval of Judge Troy Williams.

Henry Elledge gave the road department report and said 5.4 miles of new paving had been completed in the city. He reported a paving crew working in town and a crew out in the county blading county roads.

The court voted to close the dumpground and lock it at night. The dump will be opened at 9 a.m. and closed and locked at 5 p.m. Onecimo Ortiz will be in charge of closing the dump and the cemetery.

The annual fall clean-up is scheduled to begin in two weeks. County trucks will be picking up discarded items, rubbish, and generally cleaning up the town.

Garland Young gave the youth center report and asked for two new members, as Chesta Stuart had resigned from the youth center board. Ann Childress and Jim McCrohan were appointed to serve on the board.

The court voted to take bids on all county property and liability insurance. Bids will be let January 1, 1984.

Don Hopkins, hospital administrator, gave the monthly hospital report and said the staff had been issued copies of the admission policy for the hospital. He also reported leased equipment at the hospital would be replaced with new purchased equipment.

Hopkins was asked at the last meeting to look into the possibility of making the two hospital rooms nearest the care center available to care center residents. He reported Monday it could be done, but the doctors are not in favor of the change, since the rooms could not be returned to the hospital if needed.

The court appointed Raymond Davee to the post of Veterans Service Officer, a post vacated by A. O. Fields when he was sworn in as judge last month. Davee was appointed Justice of the Peace and sworn in, but apparently due to oversight the other appointment was not made at that time.

Discussion was held on the Emergency Food Assistance program administered by the Department of Human Resources. Judge Fields suggested handling the program here through the "Meals on Wheels" group, and said he would talk with them and report back to the court. County Auditor Dick Kirby gave the quarterly report and was ordered to transfer $150,000 to the hospital fund and $75,000 to the care center.

The court agreed to purchase the furniture in the office of the justice of peace from Judge Fields for $300, before adjourning the meeting.

Emerald House sets opening

Open house to show off the restoration work that has been completed on the Emerald House, the oldest house in Ozona, moved here from Emerald, the pioneer days settlement east of Ozona which bowed out of existence when Ozona was voted the county seat of Crockett County, has been set for November 8, 1983, general election day.

The open house date was set at a meeting of the Crockett County Historical Commission held at the restored house in east Ozona Friday afternoon. At a previous meeting the date was set for Veterans Day, Nov. 11, but members felt that more people would be in town for the election and might find time to visit the historic house and see the renovation and restoration that has been accomplished by the Historical Commission, under the leadership of its chairman, Mrs. R. A. Harrell.

Mrs. Harrell pointed to the latest in furnishings in the gradually growing bits of home items being added as donations come in. Newest of these is a Kelvinator refrigerator which has made the well furnished kitchen almost complete. New throw rugs, the handiwork of Jack Stanton have also been added.

Mrs. Harrell also reported that Ozona National Bank has agreed to furnish 30 new upholstered seat chairs for the use of persons and groups expected to use the building for public meetings.

The Myrtle Post Garden Club of Ozona has announced it will landscape the premises in the near future. Word of this promise brought by Mrs. Harrell drew loud praises from members of the commission.

The open house hours on Nov. 8 will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Members of the Historical Commission will be assigned hostess duties during the day and descriptive and informational literature will be prepared to be given to visitors. Everybody will be welcome.

GED tests to be given here

GED tests will be given on Saturday, October 15 at the high school from 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Jim Williams, Counselor, will administer the tests.

Cost of the tests will be $20 for all five tests. In case of retakes, the cost is $4 for each test. Tests will be given in reading, writing, science and social studies.

Jury says not guilty

A jury's verdict was "not guilty due to self defense," in the voluntary manslaughter trial of Barnabe Villarreal in 112th District Court here last week.

Villarreal was accused of voluntary manslaughter after David Fierro suffered a fatal gunshot wound to the head in the early morning hours May 8.

BUMPER CROP OF PECANS is the forecast for Ozona. This tree, like most pecan trees in town, is bending under the weight of its harvest. The clusters of pecans have the limbs touching the ground in several places and it seems amazing they don't break off. The drought apparently had no bad effect on the pecan crop. This tree is located in Suzie Semmler's yard in Chandler Addition.

LIBERAL MEDIA: SO WRONG AGAIN!

By Edwin Feulner

The remarkable mediamen and women who pull down six- and seven-figure salaries and bemoan Ronald Reagan's economic policies should be eating crow right now.
 Instead, with a stubbornness that says as much about their politics as it does their knowledge of economics, they either ignore the recovery, or continue to issue storm warnings: high interest rates will kill the recovery; the budget deficit will keep interest rates high; and on and on they drone. Some, while acknowledging the recovery, go out of their way to say it has nothing to do with Reaganomics.

For better or worse, more than two-and-one-half years into the Reagan administration, the nation's economic policies—while still a hodgepodge, confusing, and in some cases counterproductive—are generally modeled along the lines Ronald Reagan proposed as a presidential candidate. Taxes have been reduced; government spending increases have been slowed; the regulatory burden has been eased somewhat. The mix would be far different in an ideal world; but Washington is far from that.

In other words, whether Sam Donaldson of ABC-TV or Hobart Rowen of The Washington Post like it or not, the economic program is more similar than dissimilar to what we called Reaganomics three years ago.

If it's working, it's Reaganomics we can credit; if it's failing, Reaganomics gets the blame.

Is the program working?
 Not as well as we would like, and not as well as it would have if Ronald Reagan's economic brain trust could have gotten its way with Congress, but there are not only signs of life in the economy, but signs of robust health.

For example:
 • Sales of domestic autos were at a 7.2 million rate in July, up by more than 40 percent over the 5.1 million rate of June 1982.

• More than 74 percent of manufacturing, mining and utilities capacity was in use in June, up 7 percent from November, when the recession was at its worse.

• The University of Michigan index of consumer confidence soared to 93 percent in May-June, its highest level in ten years. People are more optimistic about their current and future economic situation and about the prospects for the economy as a whole.

• Consumer spending, adjusted for inflation, surged at a 10 percent annual rate during the second quarter—the largest quarterly increase in two decades.

• The civilian unemployment rate fell to 9.5 percent in July and August from its high 10.8 percent last December—falling a full one-half percent in July alone. New claims for unemployment insurance, moreover, were down to 388,000 during the first four weeks of July, the lowest level since July 1979.

• New housing starts were at a 1.7 million unit annual rate in June, up 92 percent from a year earlier.

Much to the dismay of the gloom-and-doomers, inflation remains firmly under control. Interest rates are well below earlier peaks, as well.

The bottom line is that the economic recovery is gaining momentum. Real GNP grew at an annual rate of 8.7 percent in the second quarter—far higher than forecast, and three times greater than the 2.6 percent rate in the first quarter.

The limousine liberals in the news business have willed failure on the Reagan economic program from the beginning. The only thing that has failed, however, is their credibility.

'REALLY? A KOREAN JETLINER FELL ON IT?'

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Lame duck U.S. Sen. John Tower last week gave his studied answer to critics, some angry, who have wondered what he planned to do with the $1.6 million he recently raised for re-election.
 Tower said he will use the funds to finance a Republican Party voter registration drive and to boost conservative candidates in '84 campaigns. His answer so far has angered only Democrats, and has breathed new hopes into the GOP.
 His basic outline calls for voter registration of GOP and conservative independents in Texas, for a portion of money to be given to the national Senate Republican campaign, and for a portion to be transferred to selected candidates inside and out of Texas.
 One new question now going around in GOP circles is how much of that money will go to the candidate who will replace Tower on the ballot.
 Tower has said he will not endorse any candidate until after the GOP primary in May.

Republicans were crestfallen when Tower announced he was quitting, but his continued aid to the '84 election cause has them somewhat optimistic they can replace him with another of their own, particularly by utilizing the voter registration tool wielded so effectively heretofore by Democrats.

Texas Economy
 As always, the general state of the Texas economy may be the biggest factor in '84, and things aren't looking so great in some places.
 The drought has devastated parts of West Texas ranching and agriculture and a major Midland bank is in serious trouble because of the oil and gas business decline.
 Last week a major survey revealed business failures in Houston may hit record levels this year, because of the energy business decline. Bankruptcies in Dallas have leveled moderately because of a more diversified economy; hardest hit there were energy, manufacturing, construction and real estate.

Hightower Firings
 Texas' populist Agriculture Commissioner, Jim "Whole Hog" Hightower caught some unsavory press flack last week after disgruntled fired employees turned their guns on him.
 Hightower has been "airing out" the department to implement his new program, which means letting some old hands go to make room for his new hands.
 Some old hands resented losing their jobs, especially at the hands of a woman consultant who has reportedly recommended many of the personnel changes. Hightower has defended the personnel changes as a legitimate part of government changing hands.

Gunslingers
 The growing political power of the Hispanic bloc has been touted for months and the man portrayed as most likely to benefit is San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros.

Now Cisneros is engaged in a legal shootout with the man who has probably drawn the most negative press of '83: South Texas multimillionaire Clinton Manges.
 Manges is spearheading the USFL San Antonio football team, the Gunslingers, and is in the process of renovating Alamo Stadium there under a city lease.
 The San Antonio city council, headed by Cisneros, has moved to stop the use of the stadium after it was found to be prohibited under an old lease agreement. They want the new lease declared invalid.

"Snakes", Referendum
 The legal saber rattling has increased and the words have been thrown across the table, Cisneros even calling the USFL franchise backers "a bunch of snakes."
 For his part, Manges has challenged Cisneros to take a lie detector test, and circulated a petition to overturn the 1939 deed restriction.

Manges claims he has about 42,000 signatures, more than enough needed to force a city ballot vote on the issue.
 The two-pronged battle, one in the courtroom and one at the ballot box, even though a local issue to Bexar County, could well decide whether Cisneros will rise or not to eventually become the first Hispanic statewide official, as has been predicted.

Conspiracy Charge
 A staff attorney for Texas Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox last week pleaded guilty to a conspiracy charge related to mail fraud. The lawyer was indicted last year and has since been on Mattox's chief of staff services payroll for $32,000 a year.

A spokesman said Mattox knew of the indictment and did not use the employee to do legal work for the state.
 The man pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the IRS, which said he and two others manufactured false and fraudulent tax deductions for themselves and others through a consulting business in the Bahama Islands.

During the time it takes to read this article, at least two citizens in Texas will become statistics of property crime.

In Texas during 1982, a citizen became a victim of theft every 63 seconds, a household or business was burglarized every two minutes, and a motor vehicle was stolen every six minutes. According to the Texas Department of Public Safety, a property crime occurred in Texas every 36 seconds during 1982.

Over 90% of all crime in Texas is classified as property crime. The criminals who make their living by taking the possessions of hardworking citizens depend on a means to dispose of their stolen goods quickly and cleanly. That means is the fence.

Without the person who buys, trades, and sells stolen property, burglary and theft would not be the billion dollar business in Texas it is today.

For the month of October, the Governor's Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is concentrating its efforts on stopping the lucrative business of fencing. If any citizen has information concerning people involved in the buying, selling, or trading of stolen property, they are asked to call their local Crime Stoppers program or Texas Crime Stoppers toll-free at 1-800-252-TIPS anytime, day or night.

Crime Stoppers will pay cash rewards for information leading to the arrest and felony indictment of those people who deal in stolen goods. Citizens will not be asked their names, and will be given a unique code number for reward purposes.

The Governor's Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is also asking citizens to contact their local police departments to find out how to protect their property and better identify it in case of theft. Marked goods provide greater risk and difficulty in reselling, and fences often refuse to deal in identified property.

Crime Stoppers will pay rewards for information leading to the arrest and felony indictment of an individual involved in any type of felony criminal activity. Call a local Crime Stoppers program or Texas Crime Stoppers at 1-800-252-TIPS.

An underground conduit system with electrical outlets placed at strategic places through the central area of the park was installed this week in the downtown Ozona park.

The new park wiring system will eliminate the necessity for stringing temporary electric service lines to the park each time a nighttime public gathering is staged in the park and will prove a convenience to the public in the use of the park.

 Still unbeaten but scored on for the first time this season, the Ozona Junior High grid squad conquered a stubborn Grandfalls team 10 to 7 at Grandfalls last Thursday night.

Coach Chick Womack's red hot gridgers were never threatened by the opposition's offense, the only Grandfalls score being an intercepted handoff in the Ozona backfield and a 70-yard scamper for a touchdown.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Our locality is not the only area missing the usual fall color which should reach its peak of brilliance this and next month. Two factors are necessary for the production of red fall color, sunlight and cool nights. There must be warm bright sunny days during which time the leaves manufacture sugar. Such days must be followed by cool nights, which we have had but very few sunny days the past month.

Brightly colored foliage of our deciduous trees and shrubs interspersed with evergreen plants presents an array of fall beauty. The blazing reds of native sumac, red maples and oaks are the first fall colors. Then come the bright yellows of the elms, redbud, persimmon, pecan, pomegranate, oaks, hackberry and Chinaberry.

Trees with a multitude of colors from wine to red to yellow are the tallows, crepe myrtles, sugar maple and crabapple. Foliage of trees and shrubs growing in the shade usually do not show much red fall color.

If you can add only one planting to your landscape this year, make it daylilies. They are easy to grow and perennially colorful, a good choice for beds, borders, or

Womans Forum meets in home of Mrs. Perry

The Womans Forum of Ozona met October 4th in the home of Mrs. Gene Perry. Mrs. Lowell Littleton and Mrs. Madye Jo Humphreys acted as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Arthur Phillips opened the meeting with the invocation. Roll call was answered with "How I Practice Energy Conservation."

Mrs. Humphreys discussed plans for the clubs weekend trip to Midland in November. Those participating will enjoy visits to the Permian Oil Museum and the Midland Community Theatre. Other activities will include a morning coffee at the home of Mrs. Danita Bounds and afternoon shopping.

Mrs. J. D. Brown presented a program entitled "Science Will Save the Day." Mrs. Brown predicted that present and future scientific research will be able to solve most of the environmental and social problems facing us today. She also asserted that technological advances will enable the world to feed and shelter a population of nine billion in the year 2015.

Other members present at the meeting included Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. Mike Clayton, Mrs. Roger Dudley, Mrs. Huey Ingram, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. L. D. Kirby, Mrs. Allie Lock, Mrs. J. McCartney, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mrs. Kirby Moore, Mrs. Roy Pearson, Mrs. Buddy Russell, Mrs. C. O. Spencer and Mrs. W. H. Whitaker.

Pandale Study Club has program on color analysis

The ladies of the Pandale Study Club met in regular session Thursday, October 6, at the Pandale Community Center. Vice President Lara Sue Baggett presided over the short business meeting in the absence of the president, Lou Deaton.

Jodie Sessom, d'Saison Color Consultant from the Teacher Store, with the help of her model Tammy Bunker, gave a most revealing demonstration of the effectiveness of colors in make-up and clothing. Mrs. Sessom spoke of the growing interest in the use of color that is "right" for the individual, not only for appearance but also for a general sense of well-being.

"Wearing the colors that are right for you, makes you feel better," she said. Mrs. Sessom pointed out that it was possible to relate "bad days" with "wrong" colors. After having Tammy wear her "worst" color, Mrs. Sessom applied correct make-up for Tammy and had her dress in colors that were "her colors." The result was sensational.

Cake, coffee, cookies and punch were served by Myrtle Everett to members Sue Arledge, Lara Sue Baggett, Lela Bunker, Myrtle Malone, Josephine Mills, Judy Norsworthy, Ginger Perner, Jessie White, Vonnie Womack and Becky Young. Guests were Mrs. Sessom, Mrs. Bunker and Sarah Hargraves.

Friday Bridge Club meets

Mrs. Bailey Post entertained the Friday Bridge Club at her home last week.

Mrs. Evert White won high and Mrs. Arthur Kyle, second high. Mrs. Joe Friend won the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. O. D. West, Mrs. Oscar Kost, Mrs. Sidney Millsbaugh, Mrs. Eddie Arnold, Mrs. Sterling Baker, Mrs. Roger Dudley, Mrs. Sherman Taylor and Mrs. L. D. Kirby.

Chester Wilson is in Room 206 in Humana Hospital in San Antonio, recovering from heart surgery. He was moved from the ICU Monday.

Poisons and Your Family
Many times poisons are swallowed by mistake by youngsters. As a parent, babysitter, or family member do you know the correct way to treat accidental poisoning from household products, medicines, and other chemicals?

In all cases of poisoning or overdose:
Call the physician immediately.

If one is not available, contact the police department or a poison control center.

Keep the victim warm.

If the victim is unconscious, do not give liquids.

If the victim is unconscious or having convulsions, do not induce vomiting.

Save the bottle or container from which the poison came.

Milk of Magnesia, bicarbonate of soda, castor oil, and syrup of ipecac should be used according to physician or poison center recommendations.

The closest poison control center in the area is Shannon West Texas Memorial Hospital, 1205 Harris, San Angelo Texas 76903--(915)653-6741. This poison control center provides 24 hour information for the public on accidental poisoning.

Joe Tom Davidson is receiving treatment in a Houston hospital. He and his family are in Room 701 of Anderson-Mayfair, 1600 Holcombe Blvd., Houston 77030.

LONG AGO PEOPLE

It happened while I was hiking in the mountains . . . suddenly I came into a clearing and saw the crumbling foundations of what had once meant shelter and protection for a pioneer family. Rugged mountains surrounded the decayed dwelling on three sides. But in front there opened a panorama across a valley which in all its beauty held me spellbound.

I turned and noticed a small old-fashioned rose bush which seemed to reminisce with yesteryear beside the moldering stoop. I could feel the presence of those long-ago people. How they must have loved this place. The woman had tended flowers and vegetables here, had borne her babies and had helped her man carve a life from the wilderness.

What was their secret . . . these pioneer people? Where did they find the courage and confidence needed to face the privations and dangers of primitive living? God was their refuge and strength. Their love of Him illumined their lives, and goodness graced their days.

Just so today, God and His Church are the source of all bounty, greatness, and joy. They are yours for the asking.

FOOD IDEAS for all seasons

Make Golden Apple Streusel With Microwave Convenience

Make a homemade dessert in a fraction of the usual time with this Golden Apple Streusel made with Golden Delicious apples. A microwave oven makes the difference.

An excellent dessert favorite for today's working cook, Golden Apple Streusel combines sweet, juicy Golden Delicious apples with a spicy streusel topping. It's a homey dessert that's a cinch to make with a flavor combination that's hard to beat.

Shredded coconut and chopped walnuts are added to a traditional streusel topping that is sprinkled over fresh apple slices. Serve this homemade treat warm with cream for a special ending to a meal.

GOLDEN APPLE STREUSEL (Microwave)

- 4 Golden Delicious apples, cored and sliced
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/3 cup each flour and packed brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon each ground cinnamon and mace*
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup each chopped walnuts and shredded coconut
- Half-and-half or cream

*Nutmeg may be substituted for mace.

Toss apples with lemon juice and layer in 9-inch round baking dish. Blend flour, sugar, spices and butter with pastry blender or fork. Add walnuts and coconut; mix well. Sprinkle evenly over apples. Microwave at HIGH 12 to 14 minutes; rotate dish one-quarter turn every 5 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes; serve with half-and-half. Makes 6 servings.

Conventional Method: Bake at 350°F. about 35 minutes or until topping is golden brown and apples are tender.

Golden Delicious apples from Washington State are ideal for baking since they retain their shape when cooked. And, because of their natural sweetness, very little additional sugar is needed in baking. Thanks to an excellent harvest, you can enjoy the abundant crop of Golden Delicious apples now, and all through the year.

Wildcats set for Crockett County

Two wildcats were scheduled in Crockett County. Also, a confirmer was finalized.

Anglo Production Co., Houston, will drill two wildcats in Crockett County.

The No. 1 James T. Padditt, an 8,000-foot wildcat, is on the southeast edge of the Clara Couch multipay field, 1 7/8 miles northeast of the depleted opener and lone producer of the Meadows (Strawn oil) field and 4 1/2 miles north of Fort Lancaster.

Location is 900 feet from the northeast and 1,800 feet from the southeast lines of 17-AZ-S.C. White Survey. Ground elevation is 2,289 feet.

The deepest pay in the Clara Couch field is the Wolfcamp at 5,670 feet.

The Meadows opener, Fortune Drilling Corp. No. 1 Meadows, was finalized Aug. 15, 1972 to pump 62 barrels of 42 gravity oil, plus 48 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,451-1, through perforations at 6,528-540 feet.

The No. 1 Shannon Estate "C", a 10,000-foot wildcat, is 5/8-mile northeast of an 8,300-foot failure, 3/4-mile east-southeast of the opener and lone producer of the Escondido, South (lower Strawn oil) field, approximately 1 3/8 miles southeast of the Escondido multipay field and 35 miles northwest of Ozona.

Location is 1,667 feet from the north and 467 feet from the west lines of 13-Q-J.H. Gibson Survey. Ground elevation is 2,739 feet.

The Escondido, South opener, Jem Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Shannon "B", drilled to 9,414 feet, was finalized April 4 for 206 barrels of 44 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,262-1, through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,356-70 feet. It topped the Ellenburger at 9,107 feet on ground elevation of 2,574 feet.

The Escondido field produces from the Fusselman at 8,560 feet and the upper Strawn at 7,734 feet. Ellenburger production at 9,043 feet and lower Pennsylvanian production at 8,306 feet are depleted.

The Escondido, Northwest multipay field of Crockett County gained its current second Ellenburger producer and a 3/8-mile north extension to that pay with completion of Conoco Inc., Midland, No. 1 C.T. Harris "12," 20 miles south of Big Lake, to pump 185 barrels of 38.8 gravity oil, plus 35 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 54-1.

Production was through perforations at 9,093-136 feet, with 7-inch casing set at that depth, it is plugged back to 9,240 feet.

Location (amended) is 1,340 feet from the south and 1,680 feet from the west lines of 12-3-WCRR.

Scientists announce recent breakthrough

Scientists in Texas and California have jointly announced a breakthrough that would double the production of rubber from a wild desert plant and could free the United States from its dependence on rubber from Southeast Asia.

The chemical treatment used in greenhouse experiments on the shrub guayule (pronounced why-oo-lee) increases rubber production by regulating the chemical and physical processes that lead to the formation of rubber in the plant. The researchers said the same technique could be used on other food crops.

The discovery was made by a team of scientists headed by Dr. Chauncey Benedict of Texas A&M University and Dr. Henry Yokoyama of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Pasadena, California. Their findings were reported to the National Science Foundation which funded the research.

"Their discovery brightens prospects for reducing our dependence on foreign materials for rubber production through expanded production of guayule plantations," said Dr. Neville Clarke.

Bearded iris provides beauty with little care

Bearded iris, often called a poor man's orchid, provides landscape beauty with minimum care. Early fall is the time for planting or renovating bearded iris beds, says Everett Janne, a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

If you already have iris in your flower beds, renovate the beds to reduce crowding. Dig up and separate the rhizomes (thickened underground stems) and replant only those that are clean, strong and disease-free, suggests Janne.

New plantings do best in a garden-type soil that is well drained and high in organic matter. Space good, strong rhizomes about 12 to 18 inches apart.

To plant iris rhizomes, scoop out a shallow depression in the prepared bed. Build up a cone-shaped mound of soil in the center of the depression so the cone's top is almost even with the surface of the bed. Place the rhizome on the cone top, with the fan of leaves pointing upward and the roots spreading down around the cone. Shallow planting is best with the rhizomes set below the soil surface. New growth occurs from the leaf end of the rhizome, so place the leaves in the direction you want the plant to spread. Iris foliage should be trimmed only to prepare plants for digging and transplanting and to remove diseased areas, notes the horticulturist. At transplanting time cut back the foliage to one-third its original height.

In established beds allow the foliage to do its job—to manufacture carbohydrates in the rhizomes for next season's flowers. After planting, water enough to settle the soil around the roots. Then give the bed a good soaking every 10 to 14 days.

Each spring after the plants have flowered, topdress the bed with a complete fertilizer high in phosphorus, suggests Janne. This helps produce good, strong rhizomes needed for abundant flower production the next year. Broadcast the fertilizer at 2 to 3 ounces per square yard of bed area and water in thoroughly.

With a minimum of care, bearded iris will provide many years of pleasure and beauty in your landscape, says Janne.

Hunting season requires safety with firearms

As the main hunting season begins in Texas, safety should be the foremost concern in using a firearm, says the Texas Medical Association.

This applies particularly to hunters under age 21, who cause almost 60 percent of gun casualties. Persons in this age group also make up about 40 percent of all accident victims. For this reason, hunter safety programs in Texas concentrate on the young hunter.

But safety while hunting applies to all ages. As guidelines, the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife lists the Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety:

Treat every gun as if it were loaded.

Be able to control the direction of the gun's muzzle even if you should stumble.

Be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. Use only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying.

Unload guns when not in use. They should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with a firearm.

Never climb a fence or tree or jump a ditch with a loaded gun. And never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

Be sure of your target before pulling the trigger.

Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or at water. During target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.

Store guns and ammunition separately beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.

To protect the hunter from being mistaken for big game, the Texas Medical Association and wildlife officials recommend that hunters wear a brightly colored outer garment or cap. The best color is "hunter orange."

Football contest winner

Marsha Goelz was the winner of the weekly football contest, only missing one game and winning the $20 jackpot for the week.

Entry blanks may be found on the sports page, sponsored by local merchants and the Stockman. Everyone is eligible to enter each week. Entries must be clipped from the Stockman and be in the office or in the mail by 5 p.m. on Fridays.

Honor society to help

The Ozona Chapter of the National Honor Society will be conducting an "Extra Help Hour" for students of Ozona High School.

Assistance will be available in English, math, history, and science.

Monday, October 17 is the date of the first meeting, and Monday, November 7 is the second. Both will be held from 6:30-7:30 p.m. on the second floor of the main high school building.

All students who are sincere in their need for assistance and desire to improve their grades are urged to attend.

Salt substitutes cost much more than salt

Instead of reaching for the salt shaker, consumers are being urged to reach for their wallets to buy costlier salt substitutes.

Salt substitutes may cost up to $17 a pound, compared to 27 cents a pound for table salt, says nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.

Most salt substitutes are simply potassium chloride, with added ingredients to improve its flavor, provide shelf stability, control acidity and perform other functions. Substitutes do not duplicate sodium chloride—table salt—in either taste or in functional properties, says Sweeten, a specialist with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

In the past, taste problems and cost have limited the consumption of salt substitutes. But the potassium-based substitutes now on the market claim to have overcome the bitter aftertaste of earlier products. They are also now more widely available in supermarkets, health food stores, drug stores and even by mail order.

Some of the products available include a light-sodium salt, a mix of one-half sodium chloride and one-half potassium chloride, sodium-free baking powder substitutes and low-sodium bouillon cubes, says the specialist.

"Salt substitutes are not for everyone," says Sweeten. Some labels state, for example, that the products should be used for "salt-restricted diets," or are recommended "only on the advice of a physician," or "for use by healthy persons."

The primary concern, says Sweeten, is for people with kidney disease or those taking hypertension medication who should avoid potassium chloride products.

"In the long run, it may be safer and less expensive for most people to cut down on salt without developing a need for salt substitutes," says the nutritionist.

Simply putting the salt shaker away can cut the average person's salt consumption by 25 to 30 percent, she says.

Another method of reducing salt is to substitute an entirely different flavor, such as lemon juice, to perk up foods. Most herbs and spices contain virtually no salt and also add flavor, notes Sweeten.

Baptists to host speaker

On Sunday morning, October 30, at 10:00 a.m., Temple Baptist Church will be hosting a guest speaker, Rev. Mike Reap, who is a missionary enroute to the Philippine Islands. The public is invited to attend this service to view the slide presentation and hear this special message from Rev. Reap.

Temple Baptist Church is already supporting seven active mission projects. Thus far, $3500.00 has been given to these projects this year.

By-Steve Sessom
"Bonding" is about the hottest thing going in dentistry right now. I am continually amazed at its varied applications and relative easiness and inexpensiveness for the patient. The process was originally developed to restore fractured anterior teeth, but now can be used for anything from simple fillings to bridgework.

Seafood has high value

October--National Seafood Month--is a good time for consumers to salute the Texas seafood industry by preparing seafood at home. "It's fitting that we acknowledge both the economic and nutritive value of this natural resource," says Annette Redell Hegen, consumer information specialist with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas fisheries produced $186 million worth of seafood in 1982, notes Hegen. Because it is a high quality source of protein and is low in fat, more nutrition-conscious Texans are discovering seafood, says the specialist. Although 70% of the seafood consumer by Texans is eaten in restaurants, there is a growing interest in preparing it at home.

People have gotten over the idea that all you can do with seafood is fry it or bake it, says Hegen. Seafood is becoming popular for microwave cooking, smoking and grilling outdoors, and even drying for jerky.

Consumers are also learning that they can use seafood for salads, dips, sandwiches and a variety of recipes in addition to main dishes.

During the fall, shrimp, oysters, crab, bay and gulf fish are available for Texan consumers. Although the price per pound may seem high, says Hegen, it is quite reasonable when you figure the per-serving cost of this high-protein food.

covering discolored teeth to improve appearance, restoring chipped and broken anterior teeth, stabilizing loose teeth and in some cases, restoring missing teeth. Just lately I have discovered that crowded, overlapped, or spaced teeth can be made to look almost perfect by artistically sculpturing the material.

Basically the bonding process works by gluing a soft glue to the tooth and then by gluing a hard glue to the soft glue. It is this hard glue that can match the color of teeth or change the color of teeth to a more desirable color and it is this hard glue that can be sculptured to rebuild or replace teeth.

The whole process is painless. It does not even require an anesthetic for numbness, in other words, no shot. It is capable of being changed or modified in the future by polishing, shaping or adding to it. It is less expensive and much more conservative than crowns or bridges.

It is not intended to be done in the place of crowns or bridges because it cannot support or strengthen the teeth, but it is a very nice intermediate or alternative to crowns and bridges if they are inappropriate for some reason.

Brownies attend outing

Brownie Troop 53 attended a Teddy Bear Sleepover, October 8 and 9 in San Angelo. Fifteen girls and three leaders attended the event.

The troop enjoyed meeting girls from other towns and various activities.

Members attending were Monica Mundell, Heather Criswell, Heather Weant, Stacy Sessom, Steffy Sutton, Kellye Robinson, Diana Ramirez, Brendi Turner, Tiffani Vargas, Sunny Lowman, Kasey Russell, Mackenzie Hopkins, Jami Dalby, Shelby Stuart and Joani Lee.

PEARS GROW BIG here as well as apples. In spite of the drought, Sonny Bailey harvested a large pear crop of large pears, as may be judged by the pen laying beside them. Each pear weighed over one pound.

AMA says hair analysis has very little use

Mail-order ads touting "hair analysis" to detect nutritional deficiencies and even diagnose diseases can be found in health-food stores, health magazines, and books.

For $35 or $40, commercial laboratories will test the hair, send the customer a computerized listing of the minerals it contains, and may attempt to interpret nutritional shortcomings.

The Texas Medical Association notes, however, that hair analysis is unreliable in determining if an individual has a mineral or vitamin shortage, let alone diagnosing diseases.

In addition, an American Medical Association panel says there is no proof that low amounts of an element in hair indicate low levels throughout the body. "The state of health of the body may be entirely unrelated to the physical and chemical condition of the hair," says the AMA panel.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration says one purpose for hair analysis appears to be to promote the sale of vitamin and mineral supplements. More often than not, the customer is told he or she has a number of mineral deficiencies and is advised to take several supplements, which the same firm commonly offers for sale.

The FDA says a company also might recommend vitamins even though hair analysis cannot provide this information since hair trimmings contain no vitamins. One hair-analysis company that the FDA checked recommended virtually the same supplements for most customers.

The FDA says hair analysis is useful for studying population groups when enough samples can be taken, but its use is still extremely limited for study of individuals. One problem is that several factors affect the hair's mineral content: the body it came from, the season of the year, and the person's age, sex, and race.

In addition, elements can be added or removed from hair through contact with water, environmental pollutants, shampoos that may contain zinc or selenium, hair sprays, hair dyes, color "restorers" containing lead, hair dressings, and treatments for bleaching, straightening, and permanent waving.

State and federal agencies also are investigating whether some commercial hair-analysis firms are breaking the law. Allegations have included practicing medicine without a license, violating license requirements for laboratories engaged in interstate commerce, and making false or misleading claims for hair analysis.

White elephant sale is Sat.

Troop 53 increases members

Brownie Troop 53 met October 4 for their regular meeting. The troop has increased in membership to nineteen members with Leslie Wilson joining the troop as an additional leader.

The girls were informed at the meeting that they will be sponsored this year by Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and the troop expressed their appreciation for the sorority's support.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank you for all the flowers, food and many other condolences upon the loss of our beloved son, David. A special thank you for all the prayers, support and undying love given during his illness. For all this, Ozona and Crockett County will always be very dear to our hearts.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

October is now rolling along. Every Wednesday we think it might be the last time for sunshine hour out on the porch. This week it was plenty warm. Everyone was able to go out for their banana.

We have recently received a memorial from Billie Whately in memory of Pat Byrd and one from Mr. and Mrs. J. McCartney in memory of W. T. Stokes.

On Tuesday afternoon Billie Whately, Inez Biggs, and Tomasa Ramos had one of those long awaited rides around town. They were escorted by Lela Fierro, daughter of Tomasa, who was visiting from California, and yours truly.

We have a real project going on. We are trying to replace draperies through volunteer donations. This is a very worthwhile project, indeed, needed. All help will be appreciated.

Ruth Hester directed ceramics on Wednesday morning. Elodia Zapata was her assistant.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Madye Jo Humphreys, Arlene Clayton, Lola Rios and Clara Byrd. Welcome to the crew, Clara!

Thursday afternoon Rev. Dennis McKain gave his farewell service to our Care Center. His replacement, Charles Huffman, will be here next week. A special thanks goes out to Rev. McKain for all the services he has given for the past two years!

The Spanish Hour of praise followed Bible study, led by Maria Vitela.

Friday morning's bingo winner of the Clayton Drug certificate was Nila Turnell. Jesus Hernandez won the second place award for the week and also won the El Chato dinner for two on Tuesday. Ramona Lugo won the Baker Jewelers award. Volunteers included Lela Fierro, Elodia Zapata, Veronica Tabbett, and Anna Bell Patrick.

Friday afternoon residents Juana Hernandez, Bertha Miller, Ola Mills, Inez Biggs, Billie Whately, and Moriama Perez all assisted Lola Rios and Tina Moran in the making of some new throw pillows for the living room.

Tina brought her sewing machine for what proved to be a very productive activity. Thanks, Tina!

Sunday afternoon services were brought by a large group of fifth grade students from the Catholic Church. A fine program of Spanish and English music was presented.

Monday afternoon was the time for our monthly birthday party. Verna Talley is our only birthday person in October so she stole the whole spotlight. Her daughter, Alma Wilson, furnished the plates and napkins, Maxine's Flowers furnished the corsage and Polly Mayes furnished the cake. Dorothy Doll and Anna Bell Patrick served as hostesses.

Don't forget to come by Friday between 2:30 and 5:00 and pick out some ceramic pieces for Christmas gifts! See you there.

Center has new program

The Ozona Community Center will kick off a new program entitled the "Parental Awareness Program" on Monday, October 17. The goal of this program is to help parents of pre-school and school age children become more alert to school situations.

It is a goal of the Community Center to hold one of these meetings a month, with a new topic each month. The initial topic will be in regards to Early Childhood education, and will be of special interest to parents of children in pre-school through Intermediate. Betsy Sadler from Region IX in San Angelo will give a short talk on ways to prepare your child for school and ways to continue to help your child when they reach school age. Following her talk, there will be a short question and answer session.

Parents are urged to attend. The meeting will begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Community Center. If you are interested in your children, please try to attend.

Savers should shop for higher interest rates

Families trying to build a nest egg should be alert to changes in interest rates that might help them reach their financial goals, says home economist Nancy Granovsky.

Banks and savings and loan associations may pay any interest rates they wish and require any minimum deposit they choose on all time deposits 32 days or longer, as of October 1.

Savings institutions can also ease the penalties on early withdrawals from time deposits.

"Consumers can benefit from these more competitive offerings if they are willing to shop around," says Granovsky, a family resource management specialist with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

OHS honor roll is announced

The O.H.S. Honor Roll for the first six weeks of the 1983-84 school year was announced this week by high school principal Jim Payne.

Band, P.E., Athletics, Health, Driver Education, Office and Library Aides do not count toward the six weeks average. A student must have a 90 or better academic average to be on the Honor Roll, and not have any grade below an 80 on their report cards.

Thirteen freshmen made the honor list. They were Rodney Beasley, Robin Bolf, Jaime Castellanos, Lisa Collin, Roger Flores, Michael Glaze, Sam Hightower, Darla Judd, Peggy Knox, Jennifer Parks, Vickie Reager, Mark Sellers, Kenneth Sessom.

Sophomores on the honor list numbered 14. They are David Adams, Bonnie Cameron, Harvey Fierro, Valerie Fierro, Raedene Flores, Annalu Lopez, Ty McKinney, Pamela Miles, Vanessa Miller, Steve Sanchez, Amy Scoggins, Melody Stark, Eilda Tijerina, Kim S. Williams.

Junior honor students numbered 14, and they include Terrye Ann Abbott, Haley Anderson, Barbara Clinton, Angela Dalby, Gary Davis, Raul Delgado, Matt Gutierrez, Peery Holmsley, Ann Hoover, Angie King, Christy Parks, Alma Kay Ramos, Kala Sessom and Catressa Zak.

Fifteen seniors made the list. They are Bobbie Lynn Acton, Bo Aycock, Travis Wayne Bentley, Sherri Buckner, Katrina Louise Burger, Matilde L. Castellanos, Capp M. Couch, Rowdy A. Holmsley, Jennifer Justiss, Peggy S. Skains, Rick R. Tambunga, Kristal E. Williams, Pam Wilton, Russell Winkley and Dennis F. Young.

PHONE NEWS TO THE OZONA STOCKMAN.

For example, it used to take a minimum deposit of $2500 to open a money market account, but financial institutions are now free to set their own limits. Some will be offering low enough ceilings that even families with a small amount of money to save can invest in a money market account and get higher interest than with a regular savings account.

New early withdrawal penalties should also be in the consumer's favor, says Granovsky. Banks and savings and loan associations can lower penalties for early withdrawal from 90 days interest to 31 days interest on accounts that mature in less than a year.

Although financial institutions can ease their penalties, they are not required to do so, and many may keep the old restrictions in effect, notes the specialist.

"That's why consumers should watch financial institution advertisements carefully over the next few weeks," says Granovsky. Savers may be able to benefit from artificially high interest rates designed to attract new deposits, she says, but the high rates are likely to vanish later.

The home economist recommends that families comparison shop for new savings opportunities by asking the following questions: What savings plan does your institution offer? What is the annual percentage rate paid to each of these plans and to what balance does it apply? What is the minimum deposit required to open an account? What are the penalties for early withdrawal? What method is used to compute interest on the account?

"Start by asking these questions of your present financial institution," says Granovsky. "You may be surprised to find that you already have your money in the best possible place for the highest rate of return."

Fire prevention is theme for sorority meeting

Fire Prevention Week was the theme of the regular meeting of the Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening. Held in the home of Leslie Wilson, the program was a slide presentation on fire prevention given by Dee Keilers, a representative of the local fire department.

Also discussed at the meeting was the upcoming Model Meeting to be held October 24 at the home of Nesa Chandler. Hostesses will be Mrs. Chandler and Sandra McLean, and a program to introduce pledges to the chapter officers will be given by Jan Henderson.

Plans were also made at the meeting for booths at the Halloween carnival. The sorority plans to have a Sorority Sweets booth as always, as well as a face-painting booth for youngsters.

Present for Monday's meeting were the hostess, as well as Debbie Glasscock, Jan Henderson, Philda Morrison, Sandra McLean, Nesa Chandler, Jeannine Perry, Stephanie Ruthard, Elizabeth Clark, Ellen Lipsey, Dena Porter, Lori Parker, and Celia Stone.

Ellenburger production reopened

Ellenburger oil production was re-opened in the Buckhorn multipay field of Crockett County with reclassification of Estoril Producing Corp., Midland, No. 1M. Elliott, former Ellenburger gas re-opener, 5/8-mile southwest of the original Ellenburger oil opener and 15 miles north-northeast of Ozona, for 22 barrels of 50.22 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 9,318-1.

Production was through a 16-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,991-8,027 feet.

It originally was finished March 14, 1980 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 10 million cubic feet of gas daily, with gas-liquid ratio of 11,440-1, through the above perforations.

Location is 1,200 feet from the north and 2,000 feet from the west lines of 16-AB-D&SE.

The original Ellenburger oil opener, Willets & Craig No. 1 Melissa Childress Smith, was finished Feb. 21, 1955 for 213 barrels of 44.1 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,499-1, through perforations at 7,948-8, 162 feet.

A&M RESEARCHERS INVESTIGATING HIGHWAY HARDWARE

As cars get smaller, the probability of driver injury in accidents will increase unless changes are made in highway hardware such as barriers and sign posts, warns a transportation researcher.

Dr. Donald L. Woods, a research engineer with the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI) headquartered at Texas A&M University, outlined the needed changes in a recent article for ITE Journal, a national transportation studies publication.

He said American automakers are "down-sizing" present maximum vehicle weights—from about 3,500 pounds in 1975 to just over 3,000 pounds by 1985, and to 2,500 pounds by 1990. By 1985, they are expected to introduce new two-passenger urban vehicles weighing only 1,000-1,500 pounds.

Woods said lower, narrower and lighter vehicles will be less stable than those on the road now. Potholes and changes in roadway section heights will be more serious problems for small cars.

KICK OFF FALL WITH A NUTTY SALUTE

Fall is not only the kickoff for cooler weather but also the official kickoff for that great American game of football. Whether you follow the professionals, high schools or collegiates or engage in an occasional game of touch football, the gridiron season provides a great excuse to get together with friends.

Kick off an after-the-game celebration with a real winner such as this tasty Impossible Peanut Butter 'n Chocolate Pie. A longtime favorite candy combination, these two flavors now team up in a delicious and easy-to-make pie. As with all impossible pies, there's no messy pastry crust to prepare because the pie makes its own crust as it bakes.

Simply mix the ingredients, pour into a pie plate and bake. Then top with melted chocolate chips and chopped peanuts. After it cools in the refrigerator, it's ready to serve—as good and rich as the candy that inspired it.

It's sure to be a favorite with adults and children alike.

IMPOSSIBLE PEANUT BUTTER 'N CHOCOLATE PIE

The pie that does the impossible by making its own crust.

- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup Bisquick baking mix
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2/3 cup chunky peanut butter
- 1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate chips (1 cup)

Heat oven to 350°. Beat all ingredients except chocolate chips in large bowl on high speed, scraping bowl occasionally, until fluffy, 1 minute (do not use blender). Pour into ungreased pie plate, 9x1 1/4 inches. Bake until puffed and dry in center and knife inserted in center comes out clean, about 35 minutes; cool slightly. Heat chocolate chips in 1-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring occasionally, until melted; spread over pie. Sprinkle with chopped peanuts if desired. Refrigerate until chocolate is firm, about 1 hour.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Decrease brown sugar to 3/4 cup. Bake about 40 minutes.

Teeth determines victim age

A new method using teeth to accurately determine the age of victims from natural disasters, fires or murders where bones are the only clues to identification is being developed at Texas A&M University.

Scientists have long known that teeth are held in their socket by a bony substance called cementum, explains veterinary scientist Dr. George Stott.

After a tooth first comes in, two new layers of cementum are added each year until the tooth is pulled or the person dies, said Stott. The two layers are known as an annulation, and each annulation leaves a ring like those on a tree trunk.

At Texas A&M, Stott and veterinary student Jay Naylor are devising a technique for staining thin sections of teeth so that the annulation rings are distinct enough to count. From that count, pathologists can determine the individual's age.

Stott said his research, supported by a two-year $118,087 grant from the National Institute of Dental Research, may prove to be of major assistance in police and fire investigations where victims are unidentified.

If the method is perfected, he said, pathologists may be able to pinpoint the victim's age at death with just a half-dozen samples from any tooth.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tanner of Daingerfield, were in Ozona, Friday, for a visit with Mrs. Tom Montgomery.

the completion of registration forms and sending them into council along with a financial report for 1983.

The election of delegates to the annual board meeting to be held in San Angelo, January 14, 1984 was held. Delegates are Thelma Janes, Wanda Halford, Tracey Preddy and Melissa Lowman. The alternatives are Cynthia Ramos, Mary Skains, Mike Preddy and Terry Lowman.

Final plans were made for the upcoming Halloween Carnival and the Annual Fund Raising Dinner to be held at the Civic Center on Sunday, November 6.

Invested into Girl Scouts, as leaders, were Cindy Collins and Barbara Clark receiving their World Association, Girl Scout pins and leader bar.

All leaders enjoyed a film and program given by Ann McCartney, activity director at the Care Center on "Growing Together," showing the need for volunteers of all ages. The program was very informative and enlightening, teaching us the importance of volunteers in the community.

Refreshments were served and the door prize was won by Tracey Preddy.

In attendance were Cynthia Ramos, Wanda Halford, Thelma Janes, Cathy Carson, Peggy Phillips, Mary Skains, Nikki Dunn, Barbara Clark, Cindy Collins, Melissa Lowman, Tracey Preddy, Judy Madden-field advisor of San Angelo, and Terry Adams.

The next meeting will be November 7 at the home of Terry Adams at 7 p.m. All interested parties are invited.

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Time for Safety Check

Changing seasons can signal the time to do all those jobs put off for a "rainy day."

This simple checklist can help you save energy and make your home safer:

- Check your heating system. Have you installed an automatic temperature thermostat?
- Is your furnace area litter-free?
- Are pilot light filters clean?

Some good tools for these jobs are adjustable wrenches, pliers and screwdrivers, such as those made by Crescent. Important, too, is to make sure the tools you use are in good condition.

This is also the time to take a look at storm doors and windows. Replace and add weatherstripping where needed. Caulk air leaks. Strong, sturdy shears are necessary to cut weatherstripping. Good steel blades, hardened to hold an edge, are those from Wiss, makers of the "edge of excellence" since 1848.

Check lampcords and wiring. If there's a need for soldering, choose a reliable soldering gun such as a Weller. Before working with connected wiring, remove fuses or switch circuit breakers to "off."
