There is a great deal of rhetoric on the network newscasts these days, especially since the Granada incident and the massacre of our Marines in Lebanon, about becoming involved in another Vietnam. What these critics of U.S. policy fail to point out and what we should have learned from the tragedy of Vietnam is the futility of becoming involved in a no-win situation.

The United States was correct in taking the Granada action. If we had taken such action in Cuba when the Bay of Pigs incident was aborted, we would not have a communist nation just miles off our shores. Our leaders should use whatever force necessary to keep this hemisphere free of communist dictatorships. Anyone with any sense at all can see communism creeping into every corner of the globe, and if we are to survive as a free nation it must be stopped by any and all means.

I can't understand these so-called peace protests. I really think it's a ploy to get on national television, for any rally that is anti-United States will be given full coverage by all three networks. The all-seeing eye of the television camera is wherever one or more folks gather together to burn the American flag or march around with signs. I didn't see one single shot of the numbers of young men who enlisted in the service following the terrorist attack in Lebanon. These are the patriotic, brave young Americans who really deserve the coverage.

The county has several thousand dollars in the budget for animal control, and has had for several years now. Apparently it is not working. I don't really know just what the policy is, but I think the commissioners court should take another look at it. Besides the large number of dogs running loose, dogs who have owners are creating a lot of problems in town. I am speaking of the number of 4-H feeders who have lost animals to dogs, along with persons who walk being bitten by people-owned dogs. I haven't been bitten, but I've been scared to death during afternoon walks, and it doesn't seem to matter what part of town you choose for a walk, the dogs are there.

This is evident by the overturned garbage barrels, the barking all night and other unpleasantness associated with dogs who are not controlled by their owners or who have no owners.

Drought loan info made available

The deadline for receiving nominating petitions for the Crockett County ASC election is October 31, 1983.

The Crockett County ASCS office has available to producers a list of available hay in the state. If you are in need of hay come by the office. The list has the name of the hay producer, type of hay, where located and the phone number.

Open house

OZONA NATIONAL BANK held open house Sunday to show off their newly remodeled facility. Greeting guests were the bank staff and their families. Assisting at this serving table are Johnny Rae Chapman, Terel Seahorn, Ethel McCrohan, Dan Pullen, Lou Haire, Jodie Morris, John Lee Henderson, Jr., Frank White, Mrs. John Lee Henderson, Jr. and bank president, John Parks. A large crowd attended during the open house hours from 2 until 5 Sunday afternoon.

Ozona High School Band is number one

"The Pride of Crockett County--The Ozona High School Marching Band!" arrived home Saturday evening to the tune of thrill, excitement and personal appreciation for the long hours of work and dedication that generated a Class AAA "Superior" rating for the 99 member group. It was the first "1" that the band had received in approximately nine years.

The "Purple and Gold" had left Ozona early Saturday morning to compete in the Region VII University Interscholastic League Marching and Twirling Contest in Brady's Bulldog Stadium and were among 3,000 student musicians representing 32 area high schools. The contest was viewed by approximately 3,500 spectators and prompted James Malow, Brady High School band director and chairman of the contest, to remark, "We had a crowd like you wouldn't believe!"

After marching and twirling to the tunes of "One Fine Day," "Sloop John B," and "Nice and Easy," the band waited in suspense until 5:00 p.m. when pandemonium broke loose as the "Superior" announcement came forth! To add icing to the cake, Ozona twirler Susan Scott received a "superior" rating on her individual performance, and Dena Phillips received an "excellent" rating on her presentation before judges Fred Stockdale of Azle, Dee Tucker of Fort Worth, and Doug Kincaid of Abilene.

The band arrived back in Ozona at 9:00 p.m. Saturday and were greeted by a throng of excited parents, students, band boosters, and residents. Ozona band director Kelly Glaze said, "I would like to thank everyone for the tremendous reception that our kids received upon their arrival back home. It was deeply appreciated by all of us!" Class AAA bands earning superior ratings included Ozona, Brady, Comanche, Llano, and Sonora. From this list, the judges then selected the top three most outstanding bands for further competition in the state AAA marching and twirling contest to be held in Austin's Memorial Stadium on Tuesday, November 15. The top two of the three bands selected will participate in the event and Ozona earned the alternate position. This means that if, for any reason, one of the bands can not compete, then the Lion band would be able to make the trip.

Ozona band director is Kelly Glaze, and the assistant band director is Dewey Lawhon. Members of the band are as follows:

Community blood drive is Thursday

The community of Ozona will sponsor a Volunteer Blood Drive Thursday, November 3. The mobile unit will be at the Chamber of Commerce and the hours will run from 3:00 p.m. to 8:30.

Helping hands need help

Memorials to Helping Hands for the Elderly, a local meals on wheels group, who deliver between 50 and 60 hot meals daily to senior citizens, will assist this group financially.

Kathy Reavis is treasurer for the group and is accepting donations and memorials. The Gene Lilly family made a generous donation this week in memory of Mrs. Winnie Harvey, Mrs. Verna Talley, David Lovell, Mrs. Audra Moore, Walker Epperson and W. T. Stokes.

Mrs. Reavis said the group is in desperate need of financial assistance as well as volunteers who can deliver the meals. She said at present they are getting 25 cents a meal and need at least 50 cents.

Anyone wishing to volunteer or wanting more information may call 392-3904 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 12.

Social Security visit set

Garland Gregg, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his November visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, November 16th, between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

the community blood service. It not only services Crockett County Hospital, it services 34 other West Texas area hospitals.

No one likes to think they may need a blood transfusion--but it happens. In this 30-county area, there are 1200 plus transfusions each month. Blood must be readily available for everyone's use. Most people are more than willing to give blood if they know it's an emergency. But, if the blood was not already available, many people would die. It takes from 6 hours or more to type and test and crossmatch blood before a single drop can be transfused.

The responsibility of keeping an adequate fresh supply of blood is what your community blood service is all about.

Helping out on a good blood drive is a community affair. The entire city must back the program. We never want the time to come in this area where only if you've helped in the blood program will you receive the needed blood.

Many people are unable to physically give blood themselves, but they can ask relatives, friends and neighbors to donate. Also, people unable to personally give blood could volunteer time to greet friends at the blood drive--a friendly face is always welcomed.

The drive is sponsored by the Lion's Club, Ozona Fire Department, Chamber of Commerce and other volunteer groups in Ozona.

There are several Ozona residents who are in need of blood that we as citizens will be donating. Anyone needing blood in our community will be able to use from the supply given during the drive.

Experts check Ozona TV cable

A team of highly skilled electronics technicians from the Superior Electronics Center, Inc. of Sarasota, Fla., and headed by the president of that firm, Dwayne Lipp, spent three days in Ozona last week completing a comprehensive performance test of the Ozona Cable Television system.

The firm was employed by the Ozona system to make the performance tests of the system, required at intervals by the Federal Communications Commission.

The tests, performed with a dizzying bank of computers and sophisticated electronic testing equipment carried in two massive vans trucks, covered the entire Ozona cable system, beginning at the headend of the system under the tower on the east hill and from the Thompson ranch on the north to the gas plant on the south and to the Circle Bar Truck Stop on the east.

The tests checked the performance of microwave equipment bringing TV signals to the system and the distribution of such signals over the system cables. The tests served to pinpoint any minor troubles in the system, giving its management an opportunity to make whatever corrections are needed to further improve local service, said Oscar Kost, manager of the Ozona TV system.

Trujillo services here Mon.

Funeral services for Frank F. Trujillo, 41, were held Monday at 3 p.m. in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with burial in Lima Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Mr. Trujillo died at 2:55 a.m. Friday in Crockett County Hospital. He was a carpenter and a lifetime resident of Ozona.

Lambs killed

4-H LAMBS KILLED BY DOGS--Young 4-H clubber Jesse Fierro was wiped out of the feeding program last week when dogs jumped this fence and killed and mutilated six lambs. This is not the first time this has happened in Ozona this year. To date 4-H club members have lost eight goats and seven lambs to dogs running loose in town.

Yours in Good Health

By-Steve Sesson

I am frequently asked what is meant by restorative dentistry. Basically, it means restoring the mouth to optimum condition. In other words, a condition that enables a person to keep their teeth all of their life, in maximum comfort, function, health, and appearance with least possible stress, expense and future maintenance. That's a mouthful, isn't it? It just means keeping your teeth a lifetime without problems.

This really is possible, feasible and practical. Initially, it involves thorough study, explanation, goal-setting and planning to help people understand for themselves the facts about their present and future. Having the facts, and time to plan, enables a person to choose the quality of dental health they desire.

Planned properly, the goal they set can be accomplished a step at a time and at whatever rate is appropriate. That is a lot different than being forced to take action in an emergency situation. Unfortunately traditional dentistry has not taught people how to prevent problems and therefore, has forced them into a disease-cure situation. Now, many of us know better. We know people can prevent tooth decay and gum disease with proper training and periodic help. If we can prevent our own dental disease then we really can keep our teeth a lifetime.

The idea behind restorative dentistry is restoring teeth in such a way that teeth will not break, decay, get loose, or wear out. Well, if they do not break, decay, get loose, or wear out then, what is going to happen to them? That's right!! Nothing. You are probably saying to yourself-"O.K.-just how in the world do you do it?"

The process involves shaping the teeth so they fit and function in a stable and harmonious fashion with the jaw joint and making restorations (sound natural teeth do not need them) that will support and protect the teeth. The restoration's are made of materials that do not react with oral fluids and therefore, they do not change shape and become uncleanable. The restorations can restore natural shapes and function to teeth to make the teeth more attractive and effective in speaking, chewing and smiling. And probably nicest of all-the restorations are capable of lasting indefinitely in most cases.

Stocker feeder show-sale

The last Stocker-Feeder Show and Sale for 1983 will take place Tuesday November 8, at the Union Stock Yards San Antonio.

South Texas cattlemen will have an opportunity to show English Blood cattle, Cross-breed cattle and Santa Gertrudis cattle for awards in steer and heifer classes in lots of 10, 20 and 30. This sale is open to all classes of cattle, and cattle need not be shown for awards to enter this sale. There is no age or weight limit for livestock.

This special sale provides a better market for quality Stocker-Feeder cattle and gives producers an opportunity to display and sell cattle in shaped up uniform lots. The large number of cattle together at one time and place enables many buyers to meet their requirements and a broad buying demand is expected.

Judging for the November 8th show and sale will begin at 7:30 a.m. and the auction will begin at 9:00 a.m. Prize winning cattle will be sold at 11:00 a.m. Judges for the show will be selected from South Texas cattlemen with a practical knowledge of the needs of the cattle industry.

The Commission Companies will be in charge of the sorting, showing and selling of the livestock. Regular tariff charges for the sale of cattle at auction will be assessed at this sale.

Colored leaves abound in the fall of the year

It's a quiet revolution that happens each fall. Slowly but surely Mother Nature goes about painting leaves on trees and shrubs to produce a riot of red, purple, orange and yellow for spectacular fall displays.

Just what is taking place is enough to cause even the most avid skeptic to marvel. It's all tied to chemical processes in leaves as the summer season gives way to fall and the approaching winter.

"Leaves are actually little factories that manufacture food to support a tree's or other plant's growth," points out Alan D. Dreesen, a forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "They are busy producing food during spring and summer, but as fall approaches, their work slows down as temperatures and daylight hours change. Chlorophyll-the green pigment in leaves-breaks down and other pigments, mainly yellows and oranges, become visible and gives leaves their fall splendor."

At the same time other chemical changes are occurring to form additional pigments varying from red to blue, notes the forester. These give rise to purplish leaves on such trees as dogwoods and sumacs and brilliant orange or fiery red and yellow leaves on sugar maples. Some trees, such as quaking aspen, birch and hickory, boast only yellow colors while many oaks and others display predominant brown or bronze leaves.

"Leaf colors will vary greatly from year to year, depending on weather conditions and the amount of chlorophyll and other pigments in leaves," explains Dreesen.

Warm, sunny days in the fall followed by cool nights with temperatures below 45 degrees F. are ideal for the formation of brilliant red colors. These conditions enable leaves to produce a lot of sugar during the daytime but slow down the movement of these sugars from leaves at night.

Consequently, trapped sugars form the red pigment that is so vividly displayed in leaves of the red maple, flowering dogwood, sweetgum, black tupelo or blackgum and sassafras.

"A lot of warm, cloudy, rainy weather in the fall, on the other hand, will produce leaves with less red coloration because of the reduced sugar production in leaves," notes Dreesen.

"Fall leaf color can also vary from tree to tree," he adds. "For example, leaves directly exposed to sun may turn red while those on the shady side of the same tree or on other trees in the shade may be yellow. Some leaves simply turn dull brown from death and decay."

Where can one find an abundance of showy fall displays?

The eastern United States and southeastern Canada boast large areas of deciduous (trees that shed their leaves) forests with brown-leaved trees and favorable weather conditions for vivid fall colors, notes the forester. Some mountainous areas of the western U.S. also offer vistas of fall colors along with eastern Asia and southwestern Europe.

While arranging for all the fall leaf colors, Mother Nature is also preparing the twigs that hold leaves to gradually sever themselves from the branches, says Dreesen. When the leaves finally fall, due to their own weight or a sudden burst of wind, they enrich the forest floor, returning part of the nutrients that were used by the tree.

New Medicare payment method used

CPR, HMO, and EMS are often-heard medical abbreviations. A new one that is not nearly as familiar to the public is DRG, or diagnosis-related grouping.

But word about DRGs probably will spread because they began having a major impact on Medicare reimbursement for hospitals on Oct. 1, 1983, says the Texas Medical Association.

Until that date, Medicare payments had been based on the final cost of an individual's treatment. But on March 24, 1983, Congress passed a Medicare hospital payment program based on DRGs in an attempt to curb rising health-care costs.

Called "prospective payment," the new reimbursement method determines the amount Medicare will pay when the doctor diagnoses the problem, not after all treatment is completed. This is done by classifying the ailment in one of 467 DRGs, or categories of medically similar disorders with about the same anticipated length of hospital stay.

Initially, the payment amount for each DRG hinges on what region of the country the hospital is in and whether it is rural or urban. If the final cost of care for a Medicare patient exceeds the amount provided by that particular DRG, the hospital pays the difference. If the final cost is less than the amount of the DRG, the hospital keeps the remaining money. This system is intended to provide incentive for hospitals to cut costs.

When this prospective payment system begins its fourth year on Oct. 1, 1986, regional location of the hospital will not be considered in setting payment amounts.

The system applies to all hospitals participating Medicare, except for psychiatric, rehabilitation, children's and long-term care hospitals (the last having an average stay of over 25 days).

Chimney fire is no fun

It's no fun. If it doesn't burn the house down, it will probably wreck your chimney and scare you half to death. Here's how it happens.

Begin with one dirty chimney - let's say a fireplace not cleaned for a couple of years. The soot lining the chimney flue is saturated with flammable stuff called creosote. (More detail on creosote is available in any dictionary.) It doesn't take much to ignite creosote - a newspaper fire sending flames up to the damper is enough.

Once kindled, creosote burns with joyous abandon. In a matter of seconds the fire spreads up through the flue creating a draft that only helps things along. At this point your average chimney fire begins to roar and howl, sending the occupants of the house running for cover.

If you run, you'll be treated to a real fireworks show. As the creosote fire builds and intensifies the heat melts the mortar between the brick. The red-hot mortar actually drips into the flue, only to be caught up in the tremendous updraft, and these little fire balls shoot out the chimney and onto the roof. If you're lucky, the chimney will fall apart destroying one end of the building - if you're not, this miniature volcano can bring the whole house down.

However, if you stand your ground, a chimney fire can be controlled. Put out the fire in the fireplace with an extinguisher or sand. Cover the opening with a wet blanket, call the fire department, and hope for the best. But it should be pointed out that having your chimney cleaned is a lot easier on the nerves than the sand and wet blanket method.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Montgomery were in Fort Worth over the weekend to participate in Texas Christian University's annual homecoming. They also visited with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Cope and Ashley.

Number 1

OZONA HIGH SCHOOL LION BAND gets a "superior" number one rating at UIL contest in Brady Saturday. This is the first number one rating the band has received in annual contest in almost nine years. The ninety-nine member band is directed by Kelley Glaze, assisted by Dewey Lawhon. [Ozona High School photo]

The child trusts him. He buys the child candy, takes the child to movies, gives the child his time when no one else will. He is the child's special friend.

The child does not want to lose his friend. The child will do anything to keep him. Besides, he is a grown-up; he knows what is right and what is wrong. Child pornographers can destroy precious moments of childhood. When a camera is held by a pornographer, the child will be haunted by the experience for the remainder of his life.

According to the Texas Department of Human Resources, studies show that a majority of those who are sexually abused as children will become child molesters as adults. The wreckage of the life of a sexually abused child is devastating and society pays the price.

Anyone from a stranger to a close friend or family member can be a sexual abuser of children. The Crime Stoppers Advisory Council for the month of November is concentrating its efforts on the prevention and apprehension of child pornographers in Texas.

Parents, family members and friends are encouraged to become informed on ways to prevent children from becoming involved with child pornographers and sexual abusers, and learn to recognize the symptoms of a child under a pornographer's influence.

Persons with information on child pornographers are asked to call their local Crime Stoppers program or the toll-free Texas Crime Stopper's hotline at 1-800-252-TIPS anytime, day or night.

Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and felony indictment of criminals in Texas. Citizens are not asked their names and will be given a unique code number for reward purposes.

Child pornographers and other sexual abusers of children can be stopped, but only with the help of informed citizens.

Halloween Carnival is success

The Halloween parade which took place before the largest carnival ever sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was a huge success. Best costume winner was Evan David Fierro. Michael Faye won the prize for the ugliest costume and Megan Mitchell won the cutest costume prize.

More booths and many fun activities were offered the largest crowd to ever take part in the carnival. Bingo and popcorn, manned by the chamber, netted $361.25. Beth Boyd, chamber manager, said the other booths had not reported, but all were successful.

Mrs. Boyd expressed appreciation to those who donated the 42 prizes for the bingo and for all the help with the carnival.

Ms. Ninness is honored

Diana Ninness, daughter of Taylor Deaton and the late Mrs. Deaton, was recently named Woman of the Year by the Denton Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Ninness is administrator of Fairhaven Retirement Complex in Denton.

She earned her bachelor's degree in sociology and her master's degree in studies in aging at North Texas State University in Denton. She holds the Texas Nursing Home Administrator license, the Specialist in Aging certificate and the Health Facility Surveyor certificate.

WINNERS & LOSERS

The U.S. is really a winner when it comes to the Olympics. Since the inauguration of the modern Games in 1896, the United States has produced 998 gold medalists who have earned 1,278 gold medals in the games. No other country has earned as many coveted Olympic gold medals as has the U.S.

healthy breads TOMATO ROLLS

Imagination, ingenuity and an artistic sense of self-expression are as much a part of good cooking as the practical skills involved. The addition of fresh vegetables in season to this classic Tomato Roll recipe is one way the Fleischmann's Yeast Test Kitchen demonstrated creativity.

Now, through January 15, 1984, consumers will have a chance to demonstrate their culinary abilities in the Fleischmann's Yeast Healthy Baker's Dozen Contest. First prize is a 13-day trip for two to one of Europe or $20,000 cash. Fleischmann's Healthy Baker's Dozen Recipe Contest, in local supermarkets and P.O. Box 1101, Libertyville, women's magazines. Send IL 60198.

TOMATO ROLLS

- 1 cup warm water (105°F. to 115°F.)
- 2 packages Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast
- 3/4 cup lukewarm tomato sauce
- 5 3/4 to 6 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup margarine, melted
- 2 eggs, at room temperature

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add tomato sauce and 2 1/2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until bubbly, about 45 minutes.

Add sugar, salt, margarine and eggs to the sponge and mix well. Stir in enough remaining flour to make soft dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Punch dough down. Turn out onto floured board and knead lightly for 30 seconds. Divide dough into 30 equal pieces. Form each piece into ball. Place in greased muffin pan cups. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake at 375°F. for 12 to 15 minutes or until done. Remove from pans; cool on wire racks.

Volunteers need to be selected and trained for group success

Having a good cadre of volunteers to support a program or cause doesn't just happen—you've got to work at it, according to a 4-H program official.

Charles Gardner of Overton, a 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, told church leaders at the recent Town and Country Church Conference at Texas A&M that the development of successful volunteer leadership depends on these seven basic steps.

Identification: find people who have skills and attitudes needed to fill specific leadership positions.

Selection: study the backgrounds of potential leaders and motivate them to fill selected positions.

Orientation: make sure those leaders selected know what is expected of them.

Training: stimulate and support leaders' efforts to acquire knowledge and to develop attitudes and skills that will improve performance.

Utilization: help leaders put acquired knowledge and skills into action and provide opportunities for them to function.

Recognition: use a variety of ways to reward sound leader performance.

Evaluation: determine how effectively a leader has performed and provide feedback.

Volunteer recruitment should be on a personal basis and should relate to specific jobs and needs, the 4-H specialist said.

Gardner noted that the United States was built on a "volunteer ethic" and that the need for volunteers is even greater today due to the cutback in many federal programs.

"Americans have always felt compelled to 'pitch in,'" said Gardner. "Volunteerism can also be a creative outlet for people and can help them make gainful use of an increasing amount of leisure time."

While most people volunteer for humanitarian reasons, some do so for selfish motives, noted Gardner. Volunteerism may enable people to gain practical training and experience for their personal benefit. It may also give people recognition and status which they may be seeking along with a sense of belonging.

Farm Bureau schedules resolution meeting

The Texas Farm Bureau's Resolution Committee, comprised of forty-one farmers and ranchers, will meet in Waco Nov. 7-9 to prepare a set of policy recommendations from the 1,500 resolutions received from county Farm Bureaus. Those final resolutions will be presented to the voting delegates attending TFB's 50th annual meeting Nov. 27-30 in Houston.

Resolutions on state matters approved by voting farmers and ranchers in Houston will become state policy for the state farm organization in 1984. Adopted resolutions pertaining to national policy will be forwarded to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention Jan. 8-12, 1984, in Orlando, Fla.

The TFB Resolutions Committee is composed of three leaders from each of the 13 Texas Farm Bureau districts across the state, the chairman of the TFB Young Farmer and Rancher Advisory Committee and the vice president of the state organization, who serves as the chairman.

The 216 county Farm Bureaus in Texas approved policy resolutions during their annual meetings in September and October. Issues covered included farm program provisions, the federal budget, inflation, interest rates, farm chemicals, state and federal regulations, and others.

The Committee's job will be to study the resolutions submitted by county Farm Bureaus and compile a comprehensive set of tentative resolutions to be voted upon by the more than 1,200 delegates at the state convention.

Chemical people to meet

Wednesday, November 2, 7:45 p.m., at the Civic Center marks the beginning of the "Chemical People" broadcast. The first broadcast will focus on the national and local drug and alcohol abuse. Beginning at 9:15 p.m., thirteen local individuals will address the local drug and alcohol abuse situation.

Wednesday, November 9, the community is invited once again to view the second broadcast which focuses on community involvement.

Many local churches, schools, club organizations, and parents are promoting the "Chemical People" locally. Join the community during these two Wednesday evenings for drug and alcohol awareness and action.

Supplemental security income requirements

People who are blind, disabled, or 65 or older may possibly qualify for Supplemental Security Income benefits if they are within certain income and resource limit.

If you think you may be eligible, you should know that effective October 1, 1982, the method of figuring the first month's benefit was changed. Benefits are now paid effective with the actual day of filing. For example, if you file an application on the 15th day of the month, the first month's payment will be prorated using the number of days left in the month. Before October 1, 1982, the first check was paid effective with the first day of the month in which the application was filed. For this reason, you should not delay filing if you believe you may be eligible.

There are also a few events that can result in this proration of benefits after you begin getting checks. The most common of these events is the release from the publicly operated institution, such as a State hospital. Your checks would stop while you are in such an institution and begin again effective with the day you are released instead of beginning again effective with the first day of the month you are released.

For further information about this change in the law, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way or call 949-4608.

TEXAS A&M PIONEERS NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN FIRE ANT RESEARCH

Texas A&M University fire ant researchers say they have perfected techniques for artificially inseminating female ants and tagging worker ants—two developments that could lead to more effective control of the insect that plagues much of the South and Southwest.

The ability to artificially inseminate female fire ants is the starting point for research to produce a sterile male ant, said Dr. Brad Vinson, head of the fire and project and professor of entomology.

Sterilization was the highly successful screwworm control program launched in Texas more than 20 years ago.

Since February, Patsy Clark of Ozona lost 94½ lbs. and 90½ inches!

BEFORE

Patsy Says:

Before I started Pat Walkers program I weighed 230 pounds. I had high blood pressure and colitis, I was tired and had no energy, all the time. I had no pride or self confidence in myself and I was miserable. I just didn't care.

Pat Walkers changed my life. As my weight went down, so did my blood pressure and stomach problems. I began to have self confidence and pride in myself. I feel great and 10 years younger. I know I can finish my weight problem and be anything I want to be.
