Kitty's Korner

by
Kitty Montgomery

Here another week has gone by and we are still waiting for the grandbaby to arrive. I have begun to think of it as "Gordo." Remember the Becket play "Waiting for Gordo?" The three characters in the play patiently waited through the seasons for the character who never showed up, "Gordo." I remember it as the most boring play I ever sat through, nothing like the suspense of this day.

Tom filled the car up again this morning. It took two gallons. Debbie went to the hospital at 6:15 a.m., accompanied by Jim. It is now 1:30 Tuesday afternoon and we have heard not a word. I believe it is easier to have a baby than wait for someone to have your first grandbaby.

Cathy Dawn Moore has some "it's a boy" and "it's a girl" banners. She is going to loan us one to put up in the Stockman window, when the baby comes. She had found the "it's a boy" banner at 1:20 p.m. Tuesday, but was still looking for the other one. We are wondering if that's some kind of omen.

The telephone is ringing constantly with inquiries. If Jim has tried to call, he found the line busy. As soon as we get the paper to bed, we are going to San Angelo and find out what is going on. Being there can't be any worse than waiting here for "Gordo."

More news next week, hopefully.

Heavy rains soak county

Soaking rains covered Crockett County and Ozona during the weekend and Monday, leaving 1.76 inches of moisture in the official gauge at the Water District office.

The unusual January rainfall came intermittently throughout the weekend and early Monday, falling slowly and steadily. The rain soaked pastures and lawns with little or no run-off. It should prove beneficial in the growth of topsoil weeds and grasses that will produce good winter feed for livestock.

Up to and over two inches were recorded in other parts of the town and in the county.

Hospital Board meeting

The Crockett County Hospital Board met Thursday, Jan. 5, at 7 p.m. in the care center dining room.

Hospital administrator Don Hopkins presented the list of bad debts. The list was approved without exception to be sent for collection by legal action.

The firm of Price-Waterhouse was chosen to audit the hospital books and prepare the cost report.

The December financial statement showed a $654.72 loss from operations and $25,441.49 short on cash flow.

Medical staff appointments were reviewed and approved for staff privileges. Dr. Owensby, Dr. Carlisle, Dr. Jackson, Dr. Kulig, pathology; Dr. Logan and Dr. Sessom, dental, were all approved for reappointment.

Local man honored

RETIRED CROCKETT COUNTY AGENT honored at the annual Society for Range Management meeting in Midland recently. Three awards were given and Pete Jacoby of Ozona received the plaque for the County Agent category.

First meeting of year for commissioners

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in the first meeting of the new year, receiving monthly reports, appointing new board members and attending to other county business matters.

After hearing the monthly reports and approving bills for payment, the court met with representatives from a Junction roofing concern about the care center roof. The group had looked at the roof at the center twice and after the recent rain the court was informed the roof was indeed in bad shape. This was nothing new for members of the court, since the roof has leaked since the building opened in the mid 70s.

In telling the court about the roofing materials used by Rapid Roofing of Junction, the representative said the acrylic-latex materials used by the company gives the buyer the only roof in the United States which will pay for itself in energy efficiency. He compared the tar and gravel method with the new roofing material to horse and buggy vs. horseless carriage. He painted a glowing picture of the new roof, giving some demonstrations. He also said the new roof carried a 5-year guarantee, with hail damage covered. Cost to the county would be $31,996 with payment upon completion.

The court asked that names be furnished by the company of buildings which had had the roof in question for at least five years. Also, he was asked to work up specifications for bid advertising, as the court must advertise for bids before signing a contract.

In giving the Civic and Youth Center report, Garland Young said the Christmas Dance had been much more orderly than the youth dances held before, since two deputies were patrolling the premises. He said the trash and bottles that usually litter the area after such an event were not visible the day after and suggested the deputies be used at all such dances in the future. He said the Civic Center board, which is strongly youth oriented, had changed its by-laws to have nine members on the board, three to serve one year, three to serve two years and three with three-year terms. Also, any member who misses three consecutive meetings will be dropped from the board and another member appointed.

He gave the judge the board's recommendations and the court acted on them later in the meeting, accepting the recommendations offered. Serving one-year terms will be Leo Cervantez, Alice Lopez and Elizabeth Upham. Given two-year terms on the board were Belinda Wilkins, Ann Childress and Jim McCrohan. Three-year terms were drawn by Patti Jones, Don Abbott and Felice Gutierrez.

Henry Elledge, in giving the road department report, informed the court there had been some damage to roads in the area due to the extremely low temperatures, and his crews were presently working on maintenance.

C. C. National names officers

The Board of Directors of the Crockett County National Bank is pleased to announce the promotions of two employees to officer positions. George Ann Aycock has been promoted to Administrative Officer and Elsbeth Shelton, Assistant Cashier. The announcement was made by Stan Lambert, President and Chief Executive Officer.

Mrs. Aycock began her banking career in 1967 with the First National Bank in Alice, Texas (now the First City Bank of Alice.) Since then, she has been associated with the First National Bank in Refugio, and the Ozona National Bank. Her responsibilities as an Administrative Officer of the bank will include overseeing various aspects of lobby operations including safety deposit, certificates of deposit, IRA, new accounts, and

Some discussion followed about a loader which had been replaced, but the crew was presently using in town. Elledge told the court it had broken down and estimated repairs amounted to $2,000. Members of the court were reluctant to repair the loader and felt it should be discarded. Some discussion was held on the purchase of a bucket loader to be used in town.

Commissioner Jack Williams expressed the opinion if the county kept holding on to equipment that had been replaced, it was going to build up too much surplus equipment. He suggested discarding the old loader and looking into the purchase of a bucket loader. Other court members seemed to concur.

County Auditor Dick Kirby said he would have the surplus figures for last year in next month and expressed the opinion there would be enough surplus to take care of any new equipment which might be needed.

special projects. Mrs. Aycock became associated with the Crockett County National Bank in September of 1982 during the Bank's organizational phase. She is actively involved in various school and civic organizations.

Ms. Shelton's banking career began in 1961 with the First National Bank in Sonora. She has worked in various operational areas of the Marfa National Bank, the Ozona National Bank, the Federal Land Bank Association, and most recently, the Ozona branch of the First Savings and Loan of Ft. Stockton. Ms. Shelton is primarily responsible for the computer and proof operations of the Crockett County National Bank. Her responsibilities as Assistant Cashier will involve overseeing computer and proof operations, bookkeeping, and teller operations.

After Elledge submitted his report, Commissioner B. W. Stuart brought up the dumpground situation with him. Stuart told Elledge he requested a bulldozer to work the dumpground in November and was unable to get the use of it from the county barn. Elledge said his crew could handle the dumpground. Stuart said the road department employees were unable to maintain the facility. He said it was being filled up with dirt instead of trash and no packing was being done and was in general a mess, receiving state disapproval. He said the court was responsible and wants it back like it was when it was approved by the state. Some discussion ensued.

The wood chipper, purchased by the county last year, was brought up. Since Water District employees are not using the equipment, county employees were given permission to use it.

Don Hopkins brought the hospital report and noted Medicare inspection had turned up two minor deficiencies. He brought up the care center roof, saying it had failed the states life-safety standards. Judge A. O. Fields said he had been in contact with a civil-engineer consulting firm about the roof. They do not repair, but give advice on how to prepare. Arrangements were made for a member of the firm to meet with the Junction roofers.

In other action taken by the court airport repairs were discussed as well as an exhaust fan for the fire department.

After finding the Del Rio Commissioners Court had approved RM 1973 for pavement to the Crockett County line, the court agreed to do the necessary right-of-way work and fencing to turn the road in Crockett County over to the State. After the preliminaries are over, the state will pave and maintain the road.

The court voted extra help for the Justice of the Peace, instead of redistricting the county along JP precinct lines. The part-time help will

37th Annual 4-H

Record entries in Livestock Show

The 37th Annual Crockett County 4-H Livestock Show and Sale was held Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the county show barn with a record number of 4-H members, lambs and goats. Some 100 4-H members exhibited 400 lambs, 100 goats and 2 steers. The county 4-H lamb feeding program has grown to be the second largest in the state.

The addition of a commercial angora goat division to the show proved to be a big success. Twenty-five 4-H members exhibiting 100 commercial doe kids made this the biggest commercial goat show in the state of Texas. Following the goat show on Thursday night, a seminar for ranchers was held in the barn.

A large number of speakers, guests and buyers were on hand for the show, barbecue and sale.

Richard Powell, Vocational Agriculture instructor from Alpine, judged the lambs and steers and Jack Groff, Sheep and Goat specialists with the Extension Service from Kerrville, judged the goats and fleeces.

R.J. Everett, General Superintendent, did an excellent job organizing and running of the show.

Pon Seahorn, chairman of the sale committee and members did a tremendous job on the sale. The champions averaged $900, the reserve champions $600 and placing lambs well over $250.

Jeffrey Sutton and Bob Childress were co-chairmen for the barbecue and figured around 500 people were fed. Jeffrey was also lamb superintendent of the show and Bob superintendent of the goat division.

Jena Allen took top honors in the finewool division of the show. Jena, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Allen exhibited the Grand Champion Finewool lamb. The lamb was bred by Tony Allen. Jena received a silver belt buckle donated by Ozona Wool and Mohair Company.

Her lamb was purchased by L.C. McDonald for $1000.

Vickie Reager took top honors in the Crossbred division by exhibiting the Grand Champion Crossbred lamb. Vickie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reager. Her lamb was bred by Bud Cox. Vickie received a silver buckle donated by Ozona National Bank and the Ozona National Bank also paid her $1000 for her lamb. She also received a buckle from Federal Land Bank for reserve showman.

Julie Reager exhibited the Grand Champion Steer. The Chianina cross steer was bred by W.S. Wise. Julie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reager, received a silver buckle donated by L.B. Motor Co. and a $700 premium check from Nathan's Jewelers.

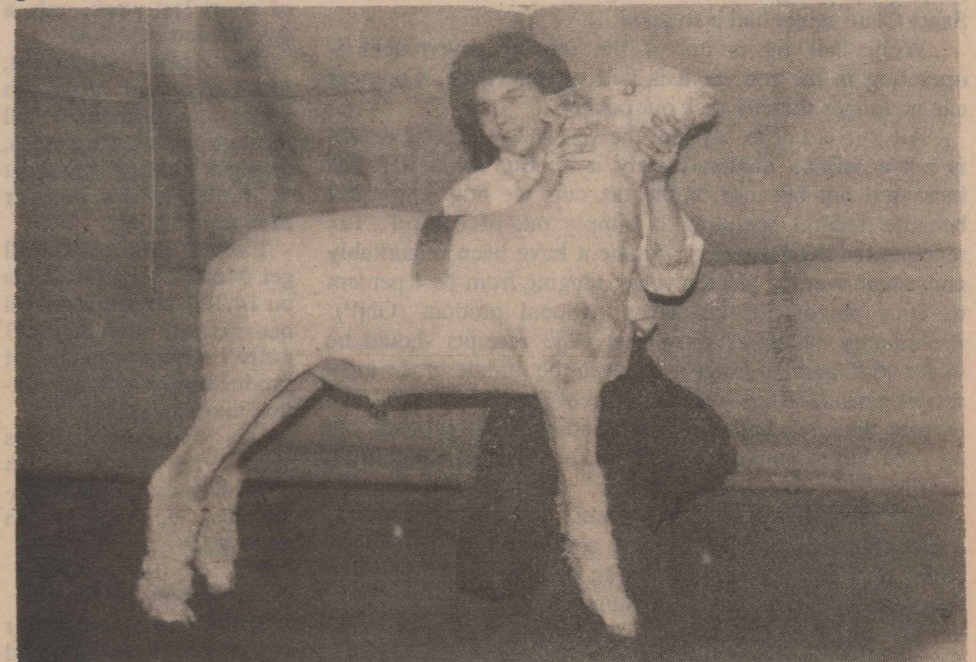

Ira Childress took top honors in the goat show. Ira, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Childress and Mrs. Judy Childress, exhibited the Champ-

Hagelsteins honored on 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ele Hagelstein were honored with an open house on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, Tuesday, Dec. 27, in their home in Fort Stockton. The couple's children and grandchildren hosted the affair between the hours of 3 and 7 in the afternoon. Over 150 were present for the occasion.

The party was held exactly 50 years after the couple was married in the home of the bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Childress, here in Ozona.

The bridegroom was a young Crockett County rancher at the time and was the son of Mrs. Mamie Hagelstein of San Angelo. During his youth he lived in various places all over West Texas. He attended San Angelo Business College.

Mrs. Hagelstein was born and reared in Ozona. She attended Lindenwood College in St. Louis, Mo., and Texas Christian University in Fort Worth prior to her marriage. Mrs. Hagelstein's first trip to Lindenwood was her first trip on a train. She was accompanied by her cousin, Pauline Perner, now Mrs. Marshall Montgomery of Ozona. Mrs. Montgomery was in Fort Stockton for the celebration.

The couple made their first home on the Crockett County ranch, where they lived until 1948. At that time, they bought a ranch near Sanderson from Joe F. Brown, and operated it until Mr. Hagelstein retired and the couple moved to Fort Stockton in 1973.

While living on the Crockett County ranch, their only son, Chris, was born in a San Angelo hospital in 1941. The Hagelsteins have three grandchildren, Ele Chris Hagelstein, 20; Dennise Hagelstein Pittillo, 18, and Karlton Hagelstein, 17.

The Hagelsteins have always been active supporters of the community wherever they have lived. They have actively sponsored the work of 4-H clubs and scouting.

Mrs. Hagelstein was a charter member of the Womans Forum at Ozona, and received her 50-year pin from that organization. She was also active in PTA work and in the leadership of 4-H and Scout groups, and has been a member of homemaking clubs for many years.

Mr. Hagelstein was a member of the county ASCS committee in Ozona and was a director of the Federal Land Bank Association of Fort Stockton for 25 years. He served five years on the county board of the Soil Conservation Service in Sanderson.

Friends and family attending the celebration included friends and family from Ozona, Hobbs, Sanderson, Girvin and Midland.

DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

We were pleased to have a break in the weather and an opportunity to get out for some individual shopping and for some outside walks too.

We will miss Frances Borrego. She was one of our more active residents when she was well. Everyone knew Frances. The letter she submitted to the Caring magazine concerning living in our Care Center was selected as a winner and will be published this month.

Yours truly is still working on writing the thank you's for all who did so many kind deeds, baked goodies and shared fruit. One such family not previously mentioned, who a thank you goes to is Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Perez, mother and father of our Moriama. They brought bananas for our resident's stockings the night of our Christmas party.

This week's bingo winner was Bertha Miller. She won a gift certificate from Clayton's Village Drug. Nila Turnell won a tube of Avon handcream donated by Anna Bell Patrick. Juana Hernandez won the El Chato's dinner for two certificate.

Volunteers included Anna Bell Patrick, Dorothy Doll, Virginia Bishop, Aurora Gutierrez, Maggie Cooper and Sammy Patino.

We had a good residents council meeting on Tuesday. Christmas likes and dislikes were discussed as well as future plans for January.

Ceramics on Wednesday were led by Doris Karr and Ruth Hester. Welcome back Ruth.

That afternoon Alice Ross led the reading session and shared the story from Guidpost about the young woman who dressed like an older woman and then wrote about her experiences.

Thursday morning beauty shop was manned by Lola Rios and Blanche Walker. The afternoon bible study was given by use of records and a reading on prayer submitted by Nila Turnell. Maria Vitela followed this program with Spanish Hour of Praise.

Friday afternoon residents were treated to a new activity when Joyce Terry brought her potter's wheel and gave a demonstration on how to make clay pots.

Sunday church services were brought by the Catholic Church. They brought their usual fine program.

Dominoes were played this week several times by various residents.

Monnie Boyd brought us some popcorn this week. That is a gift we always enjoy.

This year's sweetheart is Celia Stone and duchesses are Jeannine Perry and Debbie Glasscock.

A program followed the regular meeting on "Estate Planning." Elizabeth Clark and Ellen Lipsey were also program directors.

Others attending were Nesa Chandler, Philda Morrison, Lori Parker, Jeannine Perry, Dena Porter, Tracey Preddy, Billie Renfro, Stephanie Ruthardt, Celia Stone and Leslie Wilson.

Also Rhonda Shaw, Karen Huffman, Ralph Sullivan, Rita Sigwing, Becky Dillard, Cindy Johnson, Marcie Williams and Lisa Wagoner.

Lionettes begin district play with 32-48 loss

To open district 6AAA play the Ozona Lionettes traveled to Ballinger on January 3, and were defeated 32-48. The Lionettes played good defense throughout most of the game but made too many turnovers.

High point for the Lionettes was Sherri Buckner with 11 points, Kristal Williams had 10, Vanessa Miller contributed 6, Zeldia Munoz had 4 and Rita DeLa Rosa added 1. The leading rebounders were Kirstal with 13, Lydia Maldonado 9, Zeldia 9, Sherri 7, Vanessa 4, Rita 4, Julie Reagor 3 and Christy Parks had 2.

The Lionettes were in the Eldorado Tournament over the weekend.

High point was Sherri with 12, Kristal had 5 points, Rita 2, and Vanessa 1. Rebounders were Kristal with 13, Lydia 5, Vanessa 3, Zeldia 3, and Sherri with 2.

In the second game of the tournament Ozona was defeated by Ballinger by a score of 34-48. The Lionettes played a good first half both offensively and defensively. The Lionettes went into the dressing room at half time with a 23-21 lead but couldn't keep up the pace the second half.

Leading scorer was Sherri with 11, Kristal and Lydia had 5 points each, Zeldia 6, Christy Parks 4 and Vanessa had 3. The leading rebounder was Kristal with 10, Zeldia 8, Sherri 7, Lydia 6, Christy 3, Vanessa 3, Rita 2, and Julie Reagor 1.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Rural Water Supplies Are Critical Problem To Increasing Numbers of County Dwellers

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

"The back to the country movement, widely speculated about, is officially confirmed. There has been a major reversal of population growth in the U.S. and there is a decided increase in rural settlement," according to H. L. Goodwin, Jr., rural sociologist at Texas A&M University.

"The 1980 Census of the Population confirmed that growth rates in rural and non-metropolitan areas now exceed those in metropolitan areas, for the first time in decades."

"In Texas, for example, the total population increased to over 14 million in 1980, a 27 percent growth in the period 1970-1980. Total population in Texas is expected to exceed 21 million by the year 2000 with much of this growth occurring in rural areas."

"With this increased rural settlement and the resultant population growth comes the accompanying need for improvement in the quality and quantity of all services, but particularly water services."

"Quality water to meet the needs of rapidly-growing rural areas must be supplied if continued growth is to exist. Indications are that the increasing demands for water in rural areas will continue as both rural population and per-capita water consumption increase." Across the nation, many hundreds of rural water systems, charged with providing adequate supplies of potable water to rural Americans, are currently facing physical plant limitation and growing economic pressures, according to Goodwin.

Many rural systems must decide whether to expand facilities to serve additional customers or limit growth in the area by serving only current customers. Expansion is often the selected alternative but this can place additional strain on systems which may be at their limit of either or both financial and managerial capabilities.

The need for planning is essential in order to handle the difficult task of providing adequate quantity and quality of water with a financially-stable water system.

This widespread and recurring problem of overburdened rural water systems prompted Goodwin and an associate, Dr. Gerald A. Doeksen of Oklahoma State University, to investigate this issue.

The project, funded by USDA, and reported in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, focused on an alternative, consolidation or merger, that water systems may employ to solve their problem.

Studied were seven consolidated districts, which serve rural areas in Missouri and Oklahoma, ranging in size for 264 to 3,813 customers. Records from the systems and Farmers Home Administration, (FmHA), were analyzed to discern changes within the districts which might have resulted from consolidation.

Many of the districts, (16 before consolidation, 7 after), realized that increased size would enable them to hire full-time employees for management and maintenance, thereby improving the service quality and financial stability of the system.

Prior to the consolidation, only 5 of the 16 districts had full-time personnel. Upon consolidation, all districts were served by full-time employees or several part-time employees.

These employees can be expected to more readily detect and repair malfunctions in the system than could the previous volunteers. All but one of the consolidated systems were able to own and operate their equipment which may be utilized to repair the system.

Consolidated systems utilized interconnected lines, which stabilized both water pressure and the quantity of water available in the systems.

Establishment of wells for water supply, and meeting demand for more water by drilling additional wells where the best, most reliable water supplies exist, were other improvements realized through consolidation.

Systems utilizing purchased water are in a better bargaining position now than before consolidation, Goodwin found, because they are larger single purchasers and can be relied on to provide revenues to their water suppliers, through increased purchases.

Perhaps the most important result of the analysis was that consolidated districts were found to have markedly lower per customer costs after consolidation. Costs decreased by as much as 85 percent for one group of systems, but more typical decreases ranged from 15 to 60 percent.

The lower per-customer costs in consolidated water systems are most likely the result of improved management and maintenance and the elimination of duplicate services. Availability of full-time personnel lowers costs by preventing extravagant water losses of sub-optimal use of equipment.

Contract labor expenses and small-quantity purchases of supplies may also be reduced. It is also possible to eliminate costs which result from duplicate office facilities, part-time labor, and inefficient billing and accounting practices.

FmHA regulations were altered in 1973 to allow for the possibility of consolidated systems, Goodwin says. State directors are now empowered to approve consolidations when the resulting association will be eligible for an FmHA loan. All the liabilities and assets of the consolidated borrowers are assumed by FmHA.

The actual process of consolidation is fairly straightforward. Rural water districts desiring to consolidate, upon passing the consolidation proposition by a vote of their respective boards, begin proceedings. Legal assistance is necessary in order for the districts to comply with statutory guidelines and financial arrangements are made through FmHA or other lenders to consolidate loan obligations.

Finally, a vote is taken of the entire membership of each involved district. If all districts approve, then the consolidation process is complete.

Districts considering consolidation should follow certain steps in evaluating this option. These include: 1) an inventory of the existing system or systems; 2) an estimate of the water system or systems capacity and use; 3) an estimate of the financial condition of the current system(s) and the proposed consolidated system; and 4) an evaluation of per customer costs, with and without consolidation.

These factors, Goodwin says, combined with consideration of any political "cooperative attitude" limitations, should suggest the appropriate course of action. It should be noted, however, that all will fail unless there is a spirit of cooperation and improvement among and between the systems considering consolidation.

Organizational structures, physical facilities, financial status and managerial capacities will vary from system to system. Whether consoli-

Osteoporosis alert for women

More than five million women suffer from osteoporosis.

Yet a recent national survey shows that 77 percent of all women in the United States know nothing about this degenerative bone condition, says health educator Dr. Mary Ann Huessner.

Osteoporosis is a disorder which causes bones to lose calcium and become thin, weak and brittle, explains Huessner, who is a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program.

National figures show that osteoporosis affects one out of four postmenopausal women.

Complications resulting from osteoporosis are the twelfth leading cause of death in the United States today. The condition has also been directly linked to more than 200,000 hip fractures suffered by American women each year.

With awareness and understanding, this "silent epidemic" can be controlled, says the specialist. Preventative measures include a calcium-rich diet, consistent aerobic exercise, and when appropriate, hormone replacement therapy.

Women should inform themselves about osteoporosis and talk to their doctors about means of treatment and prevention, Huessner says.

To learn more about the disease and some of the risk factors associated with it, you can order a free brochure "What is Osteoporosis?" by writing to: Women's Health, 866 Third Avenue/20th Floor, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Information about osteoporosis can also be obtained from health agencies and County Extension offices.

Pandale Club has program on archeological excavations

The Pandale Study Club met Thursday, January 5, at the Pandale Community Center with President Lou Deaton presiding. Vonnie Womack, who was in charge of the program for the day presented Jack Skiles manager of the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry. Mr. Skiles showed a video taped interview he had conducted a few months ago with members of the archeological team who were working excavations in Bonfire Shelter in Mile Canyon just east of Langtry. The location of Bonfire Shelter cave, which is 120 feet long, is such that the cave is very well preserved and has suffered no erosion, thereby making it one of the most significant archeological sites. Evidence of the caves' occupation by man dates back more than 10,000 years. Bison were stamped over the cliff close to the cave, and their bone fragments, as well as those of horses and camels, have been unearthed and painstakingly numbered and wrapped and sent to laboratories for further study. The bones of small animals and rodents were treated with the same meticulous care given the larger bones. "Archeology is not only digging something out of the ground, but recording what has been found," Mr. Skiles pointed out.

Myrtle Malone and Ginger Perner served Tex-Mex dips, sandwiches and slices of fruit cake with coffee, tea and spiced cider to members Sue Arledge, Lara Sue Baggett and Leana, Lela Bunger, Lou Deaton, Barbara Malone, Jessie White, Vonnie Womack and Becky Young. Guests were Mr. Skiles and his mother, Mrs. Guy Skiles of Langtry, Susan Womack of Ozona, Carl Malone, Sr., and Carl Malone, Jr. of Pandale.

Jr. High Cubettes win Sonora Tournament

The eighth grade Cubettes "A" team won the championship title at the Sonora Tournament this past weekend. Members bringing home the first place trophy were Dawn Hanson, Regina Cervantez, Griselda Hernandez, Lydia Pena, Judy Flores, Julie Cantu, Randi Thompson, Lacy Miller, Eileen Moran, Melissa Vallejo, Olga Borrego, Martha Enriquez, and managers Donna Patrick and Opie De Hoyos.

In their first game Friday they defeated the Del Rio "B" team by a score of 37-8. Scoring points for Ozona were Regina and Lydia with 6 each, Eileen Moran 5, Lacy Miller and Judy Flores, 4 each; Randi 2 and Melissa 1. Friday afternoon the A team Cubettes won against the Sonora A team 25-23. High point scorer was Regina with nine points. Other team members contributing to the final score were Lydia 8, Dawn 4, and Lacy and Martha with 2 points each.

The championship game was played between Ozona and the Del Rio A team. In a very exciting contest, Ozona won 28-27 in overtime. Again the leading scorer was Regina who sank thirteen points. Lydia tossed in ten, Lacy and Martha had two each and Olga had one point. Coach Schulze summarized the A team's games by saying that the girls played defense very well the entire tournament. Regina and Lydia were outstanding on offense with Regina scoring 28 points and Lydia 24 points. Lydia also scored the winning free throw against Del Rio in overtime. Lacy, Martha, Olga and Dawn were outstanding on defense and all played very aggressively.

The Ozona B team Cubettes who reached the consolation finals were Isabel Benitez, Trebie West, Mi Mi Villarreal, Donna Patrick, Sylvia Flores, Lydia Rivera, Loretta Ledbetter, Larisa Schoenhals, Sandra Ramirez, Leah Gonzales, Patsy Vasquez and Opie DeHoyos.

The girls saw first action against the Del Rio A team and were defeated by a score of 26-7. Scoring for Ozona were Sylvia 3, Lydia 3 and Trebie, 1 point. In their second game they defeated the Sonora B team, 14-12. High scorer was MiMi with 8 points followed by Donna 3, Isabel 2, and Trebie 1. Donna was responsible for shooting the winning basket with eight seconds left on the clock.

In the consolation game the Ozona girls lost to Meard 19-7. Scoring for the Cubettes were Sylvia, Lydia and Donna with two points each and Isabel with one point.

Coach Schulze said, "I was very pleased with the way all these girls played. MiMi Villarreal and Donna Patrick were outstanding on offense. Lydia Rivera, Trebie West, and Sylvia Flores were outstanding on defense."

This weekend the Cubettes will travel to Crane to participate in a tournament.

Low temperatures here damage trees & shrubs

A quick survey around town indicates some visible results of our recent cold spell. Ligustrums have a bronzy-gray cast to their leaves. This condition may be over the entire plant or in localized spots in a hedge. Almost every euonymus in the county has light brown stems and leaves in irregular patterns. Winter creeper euonymus and Chinese photinia now have leaves with a coloration similar to the ligustrums. Palm fronds are brown or browning rapidly. Oleander leaves and stems are variously light brown to gray in odd patterns. The prickly pear cacti in town are dismembering, literally falling apart at the joints. All of these maladies were caused by sustained temperatures less than 10°F during the past few weeks.

It seems strange that the visible browning is so random in its appearance. Remember that every home site has certain microclimates. Usually the south and southeastern sides of a home have slightly warmer conditions than the other facings. A few degrees may make a big difference in the extent of winter cold damage. The other major contributing factor to the apparent random nature of the cold damage was the condition of the plant as it went into the cold weather. Trees and shrubs that were drought stressed last summer are in the worst condition now. If your trees and shrubs show considerably more damage than the neighbors, you may want to change your future water management practices. Try watering the dripline of trees and shrubs instead of just the trunk.

All of the plants mentioned above are evergreens. Deciduous trees and shrubs will show their damage this spring and it is very likely that the evergreens will continue to show some freeze related damage throughout the growing season of 1984.

In the meantime what should be done? If we don't receive substantial rains every 3-4 weeks through the winter then water your landscape plants.

Wait to prune wood until the latter part of January and through the month of February. It will be easier and better to prune dead branches from deciduous trees and shrubs this spring. This type of spring and summer pruning will not damage the plant. Follow good pruning practices (topping is not one) or you may add to the damage instead of correcting it. Fertilize trees and shrubs during the first weeks of March, now is too early. Avoid miracle cures and door-to-door pruners. The best things to do now are wait, water and be consoled that the majority of the ugly problems will eliminate themselves through new growth from healthy tissue next spring.

Cut the calories with citrus

Substituting citrus for the high-calorie sweets you have been eating during the holiday season can help get your weight under control without breaking your food budget.

Consumers often think that citrus prices will double or triple after a freeze such as the one that struck Texas in December. But things may not be so bad for consumers since part of a bumper crop of Texas grapefruit and oranges was harvested before the freeze, and a large supply of juice was already in storage from last year, says Marilyn Haggard, a food and nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Even if prices go up a few cents per pound, citrus fruit is a particularly good buy, says the specialist, because it has a high proportion of nutrients for the calories.

The high nutrient-density of oranges and grapefruit is also an advantage for dieters who want to keep their calorie intake low without sacrificing good nutrition, says Haggard. Because Texas citrus is known for its sweetness, it makes an excellent low-calorie snack. A half grapefruit, for example, contains only 55 calories and a whole orange has just 64 calories.

Most people know that citrus is high in vitamin C, but may not realize that just one orange provides 110 percent and half a grapefruit provides 80 percent of the recommended daily allowance, says the specialist.

In addition, citrus has negligible sodium and is high in potassium. This is important for people on sodium-restricted diets, and those interested in overall good nutrition, she notes.

All Texas citrus is tree-ripened and ready to eat when you buy it.
