Prosecutors explain the judicial system

The following article is a public service by the Ozona Stockman through the cooperation of Bill Mason, 112th Judicial District Attorney, and Tom Cameron, Crockett County Attorney. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this county and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

You get a postcard in the mail. It reads "Jury Summons." It informs you that your appearance is needed on such-and-such date at such-and-such time in such-and-such court to serve as a juror. And you wonder how in the world your name got on the jury list.

It all started when you registered to vote. That's the sole and mandatory source from which the state of Texas obtains jury lists.

In the presence of the sheriff and the district judge, the district clerk draws at random the number of names needed for the upcoming trials. County Clerks draw names in the presence of the county judge and the sheriff for county court trials. The clerk then prepares a list of jurors selected and seals it in envelopes. The list is attached to a list of petit jurors and given to the sheriff when the jurors need to be summoned. This list authorizes the sheriff to summon the jurors to duty on a certain date.

There are three exemptions that eligible persons may claim if they opt not to serve. If you claim one of these, you are automatically excused and need not appear in court.

The exemptions are: 1. Persons over 65 years of age. 2. All persons who have legal custody of a child or children under the age of 10 years if jury service by that person would necessitate leaving the child without adequate supervision. 3. Full time students.

Excuses other than those above must be presented to the judge, normally in person.

Failure to appear as a juror can result in a fine for contempt of court. Of course, there are legitimate reasons why some people don't show. They may not receive the summons because they are out of town when it arrives, or the summons may be sent to the wrong address. Information that is incorrect or not up-to-date results in added expense to the county because not as many jurors show up as may be needed. People who have changed their name (such as after marriage or divorce) or their address should notify the county tax assessor collector's office.

Many more names are drawn for the jury list than the exact number needed for a jury. For civil cases, 50 may be called; for non-capital criminal cases, the number could go as high as 75 or more. A large list is necessary for several reasons. Some persons will claim legal exemptions; others will not

Tax refunds are not always mailed

Some taxpayers who expect Federal tax refunds this year may find that the check isn't in the mail. In fact, there are several situations that can detour a taxpayer's refund check after the tax return is filed.

When a person files a Federal tax return for 1983, the return is processed to the Internal Revenue Service Center. If any back taxes are owed from prior years, the 1983 refund will be credited to those taxes owed. This will happen even for a bill that may have been registered as not collectible several years earlier.

A refund check for personal taxes also may be credited or offset against business taxes owed by the same taxpayer through cross-referencing of accounts. Other taxpayers will have their refund checks redirected to cover outstanding child support payments due in states that have asked the Department of Health and Human Services to help collect on these delinquent payments.

Refunds from one year's taxes may also be applied to estimated taxes for the following year.

However, not all persons who fail to receive an expected refund check will find that their monies have gone to pay other bills. Some refunds are adjusted to reflect the correct amount of tax owed for the tax year. For instance, if a taxpayer files a tax return and an error is discovered on a particular item, or a credit has been figured incorrectly, the IRS will make an adjustment to the return and send a notice to this effect to the taxpayer.

This adjustment may affect the refund the taxpayer planned on. In some cases the refund will be reduced, but in many cases the refund will be increased due to overlooked items. The taxpayer will receive a check, but it may not be for the amount expected.

While most people anticipate a refund from federal taxes, refunds are not automatic and even if one is forthcoming it usually takes ten weeks from receipt of the tax return for IRS to process a refund. Taxpayers should wait at least that long before inquiring about their refund.

Finally, an important step to ensure that you receive your check is to notify IRS if you have moved since filing your tax return. Some refunds are returned as "undeliverable" because a taxpayer does not file a change of address or leave a forwarding address. Checks that are returned are credited to the taxpayer's account.

Davee announces for Justice of the Peace

Raymond Davee has authorized the Stockman to announce his candidacy for election to the post of Justice of the Peace, subject to action of the May 5, Democratic Primary. Davee, who was appointed to the post last year, is presently serving in that position. Davee and his wife, Christine, moved to Ozona in June of 1966. He was a game warden with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Service, a post he held for twenty-nine years before retiring Sept. 1, 1983.

A veteran of the U.S. Navy, Davee served on the McCulloch County police force and as a U.S. Deputy Marshall before becoming a game warden.

The Davees have a son, Bobby, who is in the plumbing business here, and a daughter, Judy Hemen, who is business manager for a Tennessee hospital. One of their three grandchildren, Tonya Carter, lives here with them.

Davee has no opponent in the upcoming election, but asks the vote and support of Crockett County citizens.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

It seems we have plenty, clouds coming our way, but either they play out or go east of us. I'm sure our time will come for it usually does. In the meantime keep your trees, plants, and flowers watered, especially newly planted ones.

The Ozona Garden Club flower show last week really surprised us all after such a cold and dry winter, but as usual, more horticulture was displayed than expected, and perhaps the most interesting design arrangements the club has presented. Also, the junior arrangers did well and seemed to enjoy their contribution to the show in their designs. Also, we are grateful for all the non-members who exhibited their best specimens or helped in any way in presenting the show. Too, we were pleased with the many visitors from Ozona out of town and the Care Center.

May is not too late to start planting glad bulbs every two weeks for late blooming. When planting petunias or other small plants, protect them for several days from the sun and wind until well established. Uncover before night if pill bugs are bothering or sprinkle insect powder nearby. If not controlled insects can take over this month.

Now that the roses are about over their first blooming, cut off old bloom stems and apply a balanced rose fertilizer throughout their growing season. One-fourth cup of 8-8-8 per rose should be sufficient. Be sure the soil is moist at the time. Spread the fertilizer over the surface, work in the top inch of soil, and water thoroughly. Repeat every 6 to 8 weeks until summer. Frequency of watering depends upon type of soil, climate condition and growth stage of plants. A good mulch will protect the roots from extreme heat.

For abundant summer blooms, feed crepe myrtle with fertilizer, same as for roses. For a large shrub use as much as one cup per plant.

Have your valuables appraised by a pro

You don't have to have a million dollar estate to need the services of a professional appraiser, says home economist Bonnie Pienrot.

A good appraiser can be as important as a good banker, broker or lawyer if you have insurance damage or loss settlements, divorce proceedings or an IRS audit, explains Pienrot, a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Appraisers are not directly licensed or certified by government agencies, so you should investigate before you hire one, she advises.

Ask for and check any references provided by a potential appraiser. Past experience and client satisfaction is as important in selecting an appraiser as in any other major financial decision, Pienrot says.

Knowing what you want appraised and why will help you select the best person for the job, states the specialist. For example, a skilled personal property appraiser may not have full knowledge of the value of your stamp or coin collection. Or an antique expert may not adequately appraise your jewelry.

To find the right kind of appraiser, you can consult one of several organizations for a list of members in your area, Pienrot suggests. The Society of Real Estate Appraisers includes appraisers of all types of property, art, antiques, jewelry and real estate. The Appraisers Association of America, Inc., lists its membership according to type of appraisal and geographic location.

Once you select an appraiser, request an estimate of his or her charges and ask how the fees are determined. Most appraisal societies for-

What do you think of when you see a Church?

To almost everyone, the sight of a slender steeple raised to the sky evokes certain emotions — awe, perhaps, nostalgia, maybe — the sense that by not going to church lately, you've been missing something!

Next time you see a church, take a good look... and let yourself really feel what you see. If that makes you decide not only to look at the outside but also to go inside, that will be all to the good. For no matter how lovely a home you may live in, it can't compare with God's House. If you open the door, you'll find that, no matter how long you've been away, the welcome is warmer and more wonderful than you'll find anywhere else.

No drugs found

A SEARCH OF THIS OLD LIMO by law enforcement officials last week failed to turn up the large cache of drugs it was reported to be carrying. However, the two men driving it were arrested for possession of illegal drugs. The Seattle men were out on bail before the search was over, but the car was confiscated.

Ranch management is theme for roundup

'Holistic Ranch Management—Putting It All Together' will be the theme of the 1984 International Ranchers Roundup (IRR) scheduled in San Angelo's Convention Center, July 30-Aug. 3. Livestock owners from some two dozen states and several countries other than the U.S. are expected in San Angelo for the five-day educational event designed to assist ranchers with practical solutions to improve their operations, said Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the conference organizer.

Ranchers who attend will expect to become quite familiar with the word "holistic," which implies that all aspects of the ranching operation are to be considered in the planning process, since each is an integral part of the whole, the director said. Carpenter noted that IRR coordinators are placing emphasis on meeting the specific needs of ranchers of North America's semi-arid rangeland, but added that many of the ranching principles addressed during the conference are applicable to ranches throughout the world. He said program and registration details are available by writing to: IRR, P.O. Box 1849, Uvalde, Tx. 78801. Goals of the IRR program are to encourage ranchers and others to evaluate, plan and manage each aspect of the ranch enterprise in view of total benefits and goals, and to provide exchange of information and skills for improved holistic ranch management. Additionally, IRR proceedings will be published for use by ranchers. Some 80 speakers from almost a dozen states of the U.S., as well as South Africa and New Zealand, are to address Roundup sessions. Highlighting the Aug. 3 program will be a ranch tour which will cover all aspects of ranching on the Edwards Plateau, where traditional combinations of cattle, sheep and Angora goats are utilized. In addition, the tour will include some aspects of livestock handling and marketing, hunting, and evaluation of range sites and wildlife habitat.

A general session the opening afternoon will feature four speakers who will address various aspects of the "Holistic Ranching" theme. Concurrent sessions during the next three days will key on range, wildlife, livestock production and the ranch family. Special workshops also are scheduled to deal with microcomputers for ranch management, featuring ranchers presently using high tech to improve their enterprises, and shared decision-making, which will address the many pressures of business on family issues. Coordinators for the IRR program are Dr. LeRoy Hoermann, district Extension director, Uvalde; Robert H. Kensing, Extension economist-management, San Angelo; and Dr. Larry White, Extension range specialist, Uvalde. Other Extension specialists and county agents of the Southwest and West Central Extension districts will assist with planning and conducting the conference.

More than 2,000 ranchers representing some 25 states and seven countries have taken part in the IRR program during the past three years.

Buckner competes at regional

Sherri Buckner competed in the 100 meter low hurdles at the Region I Track Meet in Odessa on Monday and Tuesday April 16 and 17. In the preliminaries on Monday, Sherri turned in her best time ever, running a 15.17, coming in second right on the heels of the girl from Coleman who won the heat. Sherri went into the finals with the third best time and an excellent chance for a second place finish on Tuesday and a chance to qualify for the state meet in Austin. Unfortunately, Sherri didn't get the chance to prove herself worthy of a chance at state, she jumped the gun and therefore was disqualified from the race in the finals. Sherri represented Ozona very well at the meet, as well as in the other meets this year, and should be proud of her performance Monday at the Regional Meet, stated Coach McColloch and Coach Dillard.

Factors affecting meat sales

"Advertise more and the product will sell"—this is a common marketing tactic that just doesn't always "hold water," particularly when it comes to meat. That's the view of Dr. Ed Uvacek, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Just what does affect the per capita consumption of meat, or the amount of meat produced or available per person? "The most important factor is production," Uvacek says. "If meat is produced, it will be consumed. The question is, at what price will it be consumed?"

"When we tie a price to the consumption level, then we have the demand concept," notes the economist. "Demand is the schedule of quantities taken from the market at different price levels." Thus, the second most important factor affecting consumption is price—not only the price of the meat product but also the price of substitute commodities as well, Uvacek points out.

Income is the next important factor influencing meat consumption. In a sound economy, with many affluent consumers having high disposable incomes, the per capita consumption of meat is high, he contends. Uvacek also suggests that these factors influence per capita meat consumption levels: occupation of the consumer; urban vs. rural dwellers; family size; race, religion and nationality; away-from-home eating; season of the year; institutional factors such as government food assistance programs and food stamps; and finally, the prestige associated with meat consumption. "Each of these factors affects the nebulous 'tastes and preferences' of consumers which we have been chasing for years," says Uvacek.

Hope you are making plans to attend Health Roundup at the Civic Center, 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m., Wednesday, May 2. and has a mild, pleasing flavor and smooth texture. Other ingredients such as pimentos, olives, pepper and spices may also be added.

Recently, pasteurized process cheese products have been introduced into the marketplace. Like process cheese, cheese spreads and cheese foods, pasteurized process cheese products are made from cheese and other milk-derived ingredients. However, they are generally lower in fat and calories than the other process cheese types previously described.

Cold pack, or club cheese, is natural cheese that has been ground and blended, without heat, to be soft and spreadable at room temperature.

According to legend, cheese was discovered several thousand years B.C. by an Arabian traveler who, before starting on a journey, poured milk into a pouch made of a sheep's stomach. Later, after making camp for the evening, the traveler opened the pouch to discover that the combined action of the sun's heat and enzymes in the sheep skin lining caused the milk to separate into a thickened mass (curd) and a thin, watery fluid (whey). On this journey, the traveler had inadvertently discovered a simple method for making cheese. Shepherds and travelers soon learned that cheese was a very satisfying food that remained fresh for longer periods of time than milk.

Since this accidental discovery, over 2,000 varieties of cheese have evolved, representing centuries of tradition and many cultures throughout the world.

A taste tour of this fascinating world of cheese can begin right in the dairy, delicatessen and grocery departments of your nearby supermarket. There is a vast array of sizes, shapes, flavors, colors and textures to suit every culinary need and personal preference.

Knowing the fine points of buying, storing and using cheese will increase your appreciation and enjoyment of this versatile food. Study the colorful world of cheese; then be adventurous!

Pasteurized process cheese is made from natural cheese. Processing consists of grinding and blending select natural cheeses and heating them with an emulsifier. The result is a cheese of uniform quality, flavor, texture and body.

Pasteurized process cheese is milder in flavor and softer in body than the natural cheese from which it is derived and has good slicing and melting properties.

Pasteurized process cheese food is similar to pasteurized process cheese except that milk or whey ingredients, termed optional dairy ingredients, have been added. Process cheese food is higher in moisture, lower in fat, milder in flavor and melts more readily than natural or pasteurized process cheese. Meats, fruits, vegetables or other natural flavorings may be added for variety.

When a softer, more spreadable product is desired optional dairy and other ingredients may be added to pasteurized process cheese. The resulting product, pasteurized process cheese spread, is higher in moisture and lower in fat than pasteurized process cheese food

The ideal way to store cheese is in the refrigerator. However, if you discover you have an abundance of cheese and do not anticipate being able to use it close to the "Best When Purchased By" date stamped on the package, the cheese may be frozen.

Most cheese, when in its original, unopened package, may be frozen for 8 weeks and still be of acceptable quality provided it is tightly wrapped and sealed in moisture-vaporproof wrap designed for freezing. Remember to label and date the package before placing the cheese in the freezer.

Maintain a freezer temperature of 0°F to -4°F (-18°C to -20°C).

If the cheese has been cut into small cubes, keep it frozen for no longer than 3 weeks.

Thaw cheese, unopened, in the refrigerator. Cream cheese that has been frozen may undergo a change in texture, therefore, it is recommended only for cooking.

Meat prices to increase

Consumers have enjoyed plentiful supplies of meat at reasonable prices for the last few years, but 1984 will bring higher prices in the supermarket, a livestock marketing specialist says.

Americans use a smaller percent of their income for meat now than at any time in history, notes Dr. Edward Uvacek of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. However, he adds, meat still accounts for about 25 percent of total food expenditures.

Since the boom in meat supplies in the mid to late '70s, prices have been good for consumers. Meat prices have risen less than the overall rate of inflation during the last four years, Uvacek says. In 1984, however, meat prices are expected to increase faster than inflation. Last year's improving economy will begin to show its effect on the meat market through strengthened consumer demand.

Much of the price increase is expected to occur in the spring and summer months as beef and pork supplies decline and this demand increases. Last year's drought and rising feed costs due to federal programs such as the payment-in-kind (PIK) for feedgrains have resulted in reduced beef supplies. Hog numbers are also being reduced in an attempt to recover from last year's excessive supplies which depressed pork prices to an unprofitable level for producers and forced many to market breeding herds, Uvacek says.

Another federal program, this one designed to reduce dairy supplies, is sending many culled dairy cows into the meat markets. However, Uvacek says, these increased supplies of hamburger and ground beef will be more than offset by reduced supplies of whole-muscle cuts such as steaks and roasts.

S. Security schedules May visit

Garland Gregg, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his May visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, May 16, between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. People who file for Social Security retirement, disability, survivor, or Supplemental Security Income benefits by telephone are urged to return the applications and requested documents promptly.

This will enable the Social Security Administration to process your claim quicker. If you have any questions about any aspect of your claim, call the office for clarification, and remember, don't delay, mail today.

Home improvement scams affect elderly

Now that spring is here, it's time to be on the watch for this year's home improvement scams.

While consumer frauds are widespread and pervasive, the elderly are special targets of these abuses, says Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

According to recent research conducted by the U.S. Senate Special Committee on Aging, home repair and improvement frauds were the most frequent type of frauds committed against the elderly, she explains.

Nationwide, 71% of the elderly own their own homes. The majority of these homes were built before 1940. This combination of the number of elderly who own homes and the age of the dwellings is especially attractive to phony repairmen, notes the specialist.

Some of the common scams include itinerant repairmen who operate on a "hit-and-run" basis, cautions Granovsky. They may use scare tactics to persuade the elderly person that the chimney will collapse, the roof will leak or some other drastic problem needs immediate attention.

The elderly person winds up paying high costs for poor workmanship, and sometimes for no work at all. Often the con man will ask for money for paint or materials and then simply leave without doing any repairs.

The driveway resurfer promises a first class job at a "bargain price," says the specialist. The resurfer may claim to have some leftover asphalt from a construction job in the area which is too much trouble to haul back to the plant.

But you will usually get a driveway that is poorly laid or coated with material that will wash off with the next rain. Then when you try to locate the person to complain, you may discover that the name and address on the business card are phony.

Itinerant exterminators may offer a "free" termite inspection that will create a termite infestation, quickly treats it for a fee and then leave town.

Fake tree surgeons may also prey on elderly homeowners, offering to chop trees and bushes and rid them of any disease, she cautions.

Senior citizens-or people of any age-can avoid being taken in by these scams, says Granovsky, if they will do one or more of the following:

Call or write the Better Business Bureau for information about any unknown firms or individuals.

Ask the salesperson for name of local customers; then call them to find out about their experience with the company.

Does your community have a requirement that all door-to-door salespeople register with a local agency such as the police, mayor's office or chamber of commerce? If so, ask the salesperson to show you their registration cards-tell them that you will think about the offer, call the registration office, and then get in touch with the seller if you are still interested.

Stay in control. It is your house, your yard, your money and your time. Never sign a contract until you read every word and understand it.

Clay Garlitz of Midland spent the Easter holidays here with his grandmother, Mrs. Clay Adams. He was accompanied by two friends, Jim Crawford and Keith Byrd, also of Midland.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Our Ladies Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary meeting was held last week. It was not as well attended as we would have liked. However, the faithful ones who were here continued to help with our projects last week and we are in hopes that some who were not present will also join our "volunteer bandwagon" because we have some projects in the planning that will need help.

Our "Grandmother's Baby Shower" was declared a success in every way. Everyone had a good time honoring our new grandmother, Emma Smarr. Our residents made the favors, candy pacifiers and tiny diapers holding candy, and served as honorary hostesses. A large crowd of residents and staff attended. Hostesses furnishing and serving cake and punch were the day shift.

Tuesday afternoon all residents were treated to two movies obtained through Region 15 school district.

Doris Karr was back to lead ceramics on Wednesday morning. Wednesday afternoon Karen Huffman, Earlene Jones, Jo Jones Richardson, and Lola Rios all helped our residents decorate their Easter hats for the Easter parade. Residents joining in the fun of helping make their own hats included Juana Hernandez, Paul Cavin, Tomasa Ramos, Rebekah West, Virginia Russell, Alice Ross, Bertha Miller, Hilda Dysart, Nina Mayfield, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Billie Whatley, John Henderson and Minnie Karr.

The big annual parade of hats style show was held then on Friday afternoon. Volunteers Karen Huffman and Earlene Jones assisted all residents as they paraded, either by walking or by being rolled in their wheelchairs, in front of judges Maude Couch, Ileana Sutton, Madye Jo Humphreys, Bonnie Warth and Ramona Turnley. Music was furnished for the march by Marlys Thurman. Everyone deserves a big thanks for all their volunteer help.

Winner of the prettiest hat was Ola Mills with Rebekah West winning honorable mention. Moriama Perez won the funniest with Jesus Hernandez winning honorable mention. John Henderson won the craziest hat with Tomasa Ramos winning honorable mention. Inez Biggs won the best model contest with honor mention going to Maude Pettit, Alice Ross, and Pearl Morris. All first place winners received a duck ceramic piece made in ceramic class. Residents were served darling Easter basket cupcakes made and delivered by the Big Lake Baptist W.M.U. ladies.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Lola Rios, Glenda Henderson, Jo James Richardson, and Clara Byrd. Thursday afternoon Ted Turnley led Bible study. Following Bible study on Thursday volunteers Bernice Phillips, Marie Pierson, Jean Beardmore, and Lola Rios assisted all residents who wanted to go in attending the flower show at the Civic Center. Residents attending included Juana Hernandez, Paul Cavin, Alice Ross, Bertha Miller, Nina Mayfield, Pearl Morris, Elzy Bishop, Ola Mills, Inez Biggs, Billie Whatley, Moriama Perez, and John Henderson.

Tuesday and Friday bingo winners included first place winner Tomasa Ramos, who won a gift certificate from Watson's Department Store, second place winner Minnie Karr who won Avon donated by Anna Bell Patrick and Billie Whatley who won the certificate for El Chato's dinner for two. Volunteers included Elodia Zapata, Amalia Lumberas, Anna Bell Patrick, Virginia Bishop, Sammy Patino, Lisa Gutierrez, Cherry McGuire, Alice Ross and Maude Pettit.

I believe in giving credit where credit is due and who but Ralph Anderson and the Church of Christ could get ten people out on Easter Sunday afternoon for our Care Center Church services. Thanks, gang.

Just as services were about to start I understand "bunny" Armando Ramirez came hopping through to everyone's delight.

Thanks goes to our fifth grade adopted grandchildren for sending Easter baskets filled with candy eggs for the potted mums shared from the Keaton services to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Henderson for the Easter lilies, to Kellye and Danette Robinson for bringing gifts to Maggie Crawford and Paul Cavin for the ceramics cleaned by Barbara Walker for the Easter eggs sent by the Faith Lutheran Church, for roses sent by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stewart (and for sharing his antique Easter egg) and special thanks to several staff members who "walked that extra mile" helping out with all our Easter programs.

Make yourself useful. Become a volunteer!

Dr. and Mrs. Jim Montgomery and Natalie were weekend visitors in the home of his mother, Mrs. Tom Montgomery.

THANK YOU OZONA

Thank you for your concern, flowers, cards, phone calls and visits.

I appreciate and thank our E.M.T.'s, ambulance service, Dr. Owensby, the hospital staff, for your excellent care. A special thanks to these special people who were there when I needed them, Kelly Buckner, Mark Kirby, Stanley Najjar, Johnny Rodriguez and Blas Vargas.

Thank you all,
Marla Wilson

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 112th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

If I have not personally been by to see you during this campaign, it is because I am busy fulfilling the requirements of the office of District Attorney, a job that requires a great amount of time. Nonetheless, I need and ask for your continued support in order that the progress we have made and are continuing to make against drug offenses and other crimes will not be lost. I therefore ask for your vote in the May 5 Democratic Primary for Bill Mason, District Attorney, 112th Judicial District. I appreciate your support!

Thanks
Bill Mason

Amended tax returns

Left something out of your tax return after you have filed it, such as a deduction or an income figure? The Internal Revenue Service says you can change your original tax return simply by filing corrected returns on Form 1040X. The original return can be amended any time during the 3 years following the due date (including extensions) of the original return, or 2 years from the time the tax was paid, whichever is later, according to the IRS. Taxpayers can receive copies of Form 1040X and additional information by calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information number in the local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Jury System

tential juror, alleging some fact which renders him incapable or unfit to serve on the jury.

Reasons for challenge for cause include:

The person is not a qualified voter in the state and county, the person has been convicted of a felony, the person is under indictment or legal accusation for a felony, the person is a witness in the case, the person served on a petit jury in a former trial on the same case, the person is insane or has a bodily or mental defect or disease as to render him unfit for jury service, the person served on the grand jury which returned the indictment, the person has a bias or prejudice in favor of or against the defendant, there is already established in the mind of the person such a conclusion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant as would influence him in his action in reaching a verdict, the person cannot read and write.

With the exception of the second, third and sixth of the reasons, all other grounds for challenge may be waived by the parties to the case. In addition, each side is allowed to strike a certain number of persons from being jurors without having to state for the court a reason or cause. These are "peremptory challenges." In District Court, each side to a criminal case is allowed 10 peremptory challenges; in County Court, each side is allowed 3.

What is the cost of a jury system? It can be considerable. More and more litigants are requesting trial by jury. In addition, criminal defendants by law are guaranteed a jury if they want one at their trial. In this county, persons who are summoned for court appearance, but who are not chosen for jury duty, will receive $10.00 for their time. Persons selected for jury trial duty receive $10.00 per day. Jurors also have their meal tab picked up by the court. And if the court sequesters the jury the court also pays the expense for overnight lodging. In addition to juror pay, most jurors will continue to be paid by their employers while they serve as a juror. However, not all employers have that policy.

Most court cases tried by a jury average 2 or 3 days in length, but there are some cases which may take a week or more. For long trials, the personal cost to a juror can be high. The Patty Hearst trial, which lasted around 6 months, resulted in unstable marriages, economic problems, and some lost jobs. There are no laws to protect the juror in such instances.

Despite its problems, the jury is vital to our criminal justice system. As prosecutors, District Attorney Bill Mason and County Attorney Tom Cameron have a responsibility to see that justice is done. When you become a juror, you share that responsibility with them. They encourage you to serve, and to serve to the best of your ability. Without you--without capable, fair-minded jurors willing to serve--they cannot do their jobs and all of us suffer.

TO THE PEOPLE OF OZONA

I would like to take this opportunity and thank all of my supporters for your vote of confidence in the School Board Election.

I look forward to serving the next three years as a member of the Board of Trustees. Thank you, Jeffrey K. Sutton
