Jean North and I spent an eventful weekend in Las Vegas, and I'm having a little trouble getting myself together this week. Just when you have adjusted to all the hustle and bustle of Vegas, you are back in the quiet town of Ozona, and it's a whole new ball game. However, it's good to be home. Getting back home is the best part of any trip.

I hate flying, but I found out a long time ago if you are going anywhere you are forced to fly. It took longer to get to the airport in Midland than it did to get from Midland to Las Vegas. The trip up was bumpy and I was terrified when I thought the engine fell off in Albuquerque, but we did finally get there safe and sound. One of my seat mates asked if this was my first flight. I told her "no," but it would be my last. I always think that.

On the way back we had a pretty smooth flight. We sat with Pat Rutherford of Odessa, who knew a lot of Ozona people. She said she liked taking off better than landing. I said I didn't care for either. Jean and I both enjoyed her company.

Upon arrival, we were taken to the hotel in the oldest, black Cadillac limousine you can imagine. It was 110 degrees and the air conditioner never reached the back seat where we were sitting. They said the heat was unusually humid because of rain they seldom had. Whatever, it was unbearable outside.

After we registered and found our room, we unpacked and went down to see the sights. It's always daytime in Vegas and we really had a ball. When we returned to the room, Jean looked at her watch and said she couldn't believe we stayed up until 1:30 a.m. It was really 3:30 by their time.

I guess the most awful thing that happened to me was getting locked out of my room in my nightgown. Jean had gone down to the casino early and I had breakfast in the room. When I opened the door to put the tray out, it closed itself. Oh, what panic. I covered myself with my arms as best I could and started down the hall to find the maid. Not a maid could I find. Seeing a door marked "employees only," I went in only to find no employee. There was a telephone on the wall and in my desperation, I picked up the receiver. The woman who answered, after getting my name and room number, said she would send security up. I went back to my room, or rather the door to my room, and waited and waited. Without my glasses I could not be sure, but I thought I saw Jean's shape coming down the hall with the security man right behind her. Seeing my predicament, she hurried on and dismissed the guard. What a relief.

The best thing that happened to me was winning $75 with a $1 Keno card. There is absolutely no science to that game and I was determined not to play it after losing at least $3 previously. They come by with the cards and if you pick 7 or 8 numbers out of the 20 they put on the board, you win various amounts. We were having lunch, and Jean was filling her card out. I just happened to have $1 so I decided to try it one more time. Lo and behold, I picked numbers at random and won.

There was a lot of talk

Renovation has begun on the Paul and Lizzie Perner home which will soon become the Crockett County Public Library. The house and grounds were donated by the Perner heirs, specifically for use as a public library during the last meeting of the commissioners court.

School reform bill to be excessively costly

Although it's too early to make definite predictions concerning the effects of the recently passed education reform bill, it is feared that "this piece of legislation is going to be excessively costly to the local district," Superintendent Garland Davis said.

Two distinct reasons outlined for the financial impact on Crockett County are 1.) several parts of the legislation will increase expenditures for the local district substantially, and 2.) this district is considered an above-average-wealth district. Any state funds we are now receiving will cease.

"I suspect that when the interpretation of the bill is made, our district will be classified as a budget-balanced district," Davis said. This means we have the resources to support the foundation school program without state aid. Compared to the statewide average, Crockett County fits into a category of districts which have high wealth, low enrollment and low taxes. The amount of state aid lost is an estimate based on estimated data so as not to have much individual impact.

"We lose state aid ($230,000) plus the increases of the tax bill becomes a total burden on the local district," Davis said. The net result is foreseen as a substantial increase in the tax burden.

There are provisions in the legislation to phase in some of these costs and to reward districts who are making average to high tax efforts. But until all statewide data is determined, it's not known exactly where Crockett County fits into the calculations.

The superintendent will meet with Texas Education Association staff July 25, 28 to gain clarification and correct information concerning the bill and its effects in this district.

The bill provides for increase in salaries for classroom teachers in the career ladder approach. It is designed to reward the teacher who demonstrates outstanding performance and continues to improve their skills through education and individual development. The finance structure will be directed toward equalizing available funds for educating children regardless of high or low wealth district. There will be changes made to put more of the management responsibility under the State Board of Education and less administration authority in the office of the Commissioner of Education. The four year appointed Board of Education will come about through responsibility given to the legislative leaders and Governor.

Other facets of the bill include an additional reporting requirement for the local districts and an increased certification requirement for teachers and administrators. All teachers and administrators will be required to take a competency test.

It will be mandated that the school system offer a tutoring program for early age kindergarten, four years old, but not required that the child attends.

The University Scholastic League will be under the authority of the State Board of Education. It will remain to function as it is but the

Library board sets up memorial fund at ONB

The Crockett County Public Library Board announced this week a memorial fund had been established at the Ozona National Bank to aid in the renovation and expansion plans for the county library. Those wishing to donate funds to this effort may do so by depositing directly to the "Crockett County Public Library Memorial Fund" or by contacting one of the library board members. Contributions may be designated for specific use, if so desired. Board members include Sherry Scott, Marilyn Cox, Thomas DeHoyos, Mary Helen Parks, Katherine Russell, Chesta Stuart and Sheri York. Specification plans for the remodeling work are now being drawn up with work to begin sometime in the fall. When storage space becomes available later in the year, an appeal will be issued for new and used books to increase the size of the library's collection. At present, the library owns about 6,000 volumes. Plans are to increase the holdings to from 10,000 to 20,000 volumes to meet minimum state standards. Program plans for 1985 are being discussed, with a special emphasis being placed on children. Also, a Friends of the Library group will be formed in the near future.

C of C meeting filled with reports

The regular meeting of the directors of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce was held in the Chamber offices on July 10, 1984 at 5:30.

Board members present included Frank White, Jack Baggett, Jr., Ronald Shaw, Steve Sessom, Peggy Crider, Sandra Childress, David Young, Garland Davis and Stan Lambert, President, presiding.

Beth Boyd, Chamber Manager, and Herb Kerby, representing the Shriners, were also in attendance.

Herb Kerby reported that plans for the Shriner's Centennial, scheduled for July 28th in Ozona were progressing nicely. Kerby indicated that he was very pleased with all the help and support given by many individuals and businesses. He encouraged the Chamber to promote and publicize their activities, especially the traditional Shriner's parade which will begin on Saturday morning, July 28th around 10:00 a.m. and move throughout the streets of Ozona.

A report was given on new Chamber members during the month of June. The "Crockett Apartments" and "Shot's" are the newest members to the Chamber roll. Directors were encouraged to meet the managers of these businesses and welcome them to Ozona.

David Young reported briefly on the last newsletter sent out. The questionnaire on the back regarding hospital and medical care in Ozona resulted in 19 responses. David indicated that he planned to turn these over to the Hospital Board for their consideration.

Ron Shaw gave a brief financial report on the Chamber, but was lacking some information regarding expenses connected to the selling of Cokes during the 4th of July. He will have a final report on this activity at the next Chamber meeting.

Currently, the Chamber has approximately $1,600 in the banks with only a few minor bills to pay.

In the area of old business, Stan Lambert reported that to his knowledge, the Chamber had not received any formal response from the commissioners court on the "street peddler" problem. The Board voted to send another letter to the Commissioners requesting some type of formal response even if it indicates that they plan to do nothing. The Board felt that, surely, enough time had passed for something to have been decided.

A report on the July 4th activities was given and suggestions and comments concerning potential changes in next year's July 4th were provided by various members of the Board. One suggestion concerned the Range Cook-Off and the idea of giving more awards or prizes for different phases of the competition. The Board thought this was a good idea. Also next year, the Board felt that better communication with the bands was needed. Also, a suggestion that the Washer Toss and Horse-shoes competition should evolve into a major tournament activity with trophies and awards. These were some basic ideas which can only help to make what was a very successful 4th of July even more successful next year.

The Board voted to skip the August meeting. The next scheduled meeting of the Board will be September 11, 1984 at 5:30.

Stockman goes to 6-col. format

Effective August 1, The Ozona Stockman will join over 90 percent of the newspapers in the United States in converting to the 6-column format for news copy and advertisements. Virtually every newspaper in the nation will adopt the style, called the Standard Advertising Unit program.

This format has been introduced to provide a more uniform scale of sizes for advertisers. It will not only standardize the size of ads, but will enhance a cleaner, easier to read, modular product.

In converting from the current 8-column page to the 6-columns, the overall size of the newspaper will also change. The printing surface will remain 21 1/2 inches deep while the width will change from 13 5/8 inches to 13 inches wide.

The basic unit in the new standard unit will be one inch in depth by one column in width which will be 2 1/16 inches. The new depth measurement for ads will have fractions of an inch no smaller than 1/4 inch.

Format changes will mean some changes in ad sizes for some advertisers and basically no change for others. The 6-column format does not in any way reflect a rate increase for your proportionate page impact, but there will be changes in the rate card to compensate for the new column widths. For example an advertiser currently using a 4-column by 10-inch ad will be using a 3-column by 10-inch ad for the same page impact and the same cost when the switch takes place. Your advertising investment buys the same page dominance in the 6-column format while the wider column permits new eye-catching design possibilities. Readership will benefit by the smoother format. Anything that benefits the readership will in turn benefit the selling power of advertising.

Firemen to attend school

The Ozona Volunteer Fire Department will participate in the annual fire school held at Texas A&M University in College Station next week. They will attend classes Monday thru Friday with a final test on the last day.

Ozona has two instructors who will make the trip, Bob Falkner will conduct classes in communications and Steve Kenley in arson. Firemen returning to the school are David Cooke and John L. Henderson. First timers include Elliott Barrera, Fernando Garza, Raymond Borrego and Billy Wagoner.

Newest convenience store is now open on Sheffield Rd. The new store offers one-stop shopping for tourists. It features self-serve gasoline, a full line of groceries and drinks, plus a dell-type restaurant.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin-In the aftermath of last month's record $4.8 billion tax increase, legislators and other officials are closely watching for its effects.

Several legislators complained they were not informed of all the bill's contents on the night of its 11th-hour passage. The bill was altered from hour to hour by a handful of lawmakers sitting in closed meetings with the governor, lieutenant governor, speaker and comptroller.

When the compromise package emerged, there was scant time to rush the bill to passage, much less scrutinize the fine print.

Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock last week calculated the bill will increase the average tax load for individual Texans by $55 a year. Most of the burden will fall on smokers, drinkers and drivers.

But Bullock and State Rep. Stan Schlueter, author of the tax bill, also predicted the Legislature will be forced to pass a personal income tax bill sometime before 1994.

"There are only certain taxes known to civilized man, and Texas has nearly all of them, except the personal income tax and a corporate profits tax," Bullock said.

He predicted the Legislature would eventually consider the corporate profits tax first.

Ouster Urged
Dwindling state revenues forced the Legislature to raise taxes, and the real crunch is coming, Bullock said.

A crunch is being urged right now in the Texas House. Several Democrats are petitioning Speaker Gib Lewis to remove all Republican committee chairmen.

Although those Republicans support Lewis as speaker, they led the opposition to the tax increase last month, and some of their Democratic colleagues are now taking the opportunity to apply pressure.

Lewis most likely will ignore the petition.

Agency Budgets
House Appropriations chairman Jim Rudd is considering sending state agencies a letter requesting them to prepare new budget requests with no spending increases and advising them to freeze all hiring.

Otherwise, Rudd fears, the Legislature will have to wrestle with a sizeable budget deficit in January's regular session, and that means another tax increase.

Only court-ordered staff increases or other special circumstances would be admitted under the hiring-freeze concept.

Mattox Budget
In light of the grim economic picture painted by Texas officials, the new budget request recently submitted by Attorney General Jim Mattox caught everyone's attention.

The Mattox document calls for increasing state funds to his agency by 89% over the next two years, including a 10 percent employee pay raise, an airplane for his use, a new division, and doubling and tripling staff for some current divisions.

The request does seem to fit the old rule about asking for more than you need in order to get what you want but privately some lawmakers are taking it as an affront.

Last March, Rudd and Speaker Lewis wrote state officials an unprecedented letter asking them to draft "no-growth" budgets for the 1986-87 biennium. And two weeks ago, the governor called again for a "tightly drawn, bare bones budget."

Fire Sale
Mattox was involved in a variety of governmental actions recently, including initiating several lawsuits on behalf of the state and seeking to block a federal sale of offshore oil leases.

Mattox asked a federal judge to block the sale, planned for this week, saying it would be a "fire sale to benefit the major oil companies." He will get his hearing on July 16.

His action is part of a coordinated effort by the governor and Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro to protect the state's interest in the oil leases.

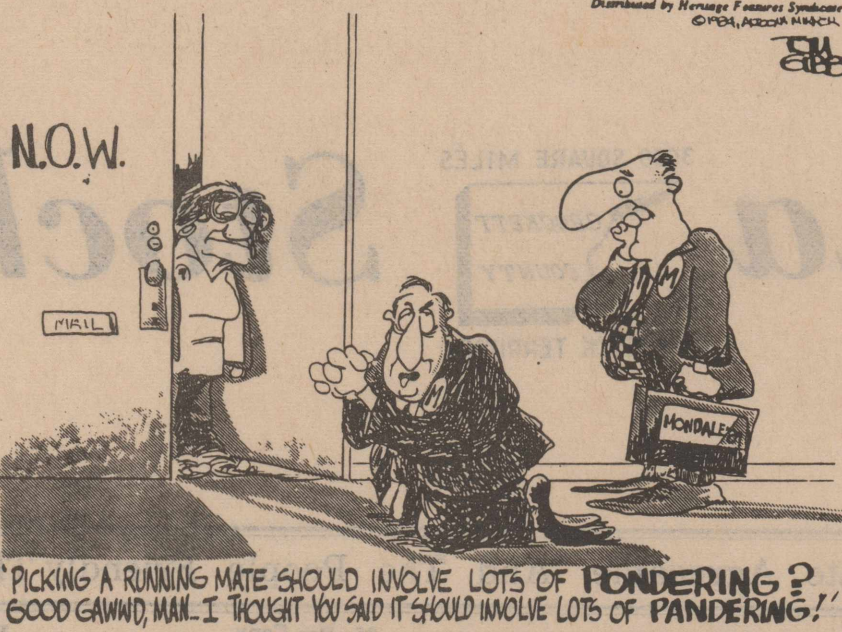

The feds intend those leases to be made on an areawide basis, rather than by individual tracts, which means that every federal tract off the Texas coast is up for lease.

The State is also seeking to collect about $120 million it won from the federal government in a recent lawsuit. The money is in escrow now, and state officials want the feds to release it, instead of appealing the lawsuit.

King Ranch
Mauro is also talking with King Ranch and Exxon Corp. officials about $2.6 million he says is owed the state in oil royalties.

The ranch's Exxon leases should have produced a share of an override to the state, and Mauro is thinking about seeking a $1 million penalty in addition.

The deadline for the deficiencies to be worked out is July 31.

PENTAGON BUDGET REFORMS

By Edwin Feulner

Almost everyone has heard the Pentagon horror stories — how, for example, it managed to pay $50 for nuts and bolts that cost a mere five cents at the local dimestore. And it's easy to be outraged. But neither outrage nor hacking away at the Pentagon budget with a meat axe is going to cause the Department of Defense (DOD) to manage its money more wisely.

The Pentagon's budget woes are not much different from any other government agency's. Pentagon bureaucrats face the same pressures and operate under the same constraints as Department of Agriculture paper-shufflers — and then some. Like other government managers, DOD officials know they must spend every penny allotted to them each year — or see their budget trimmed the next year.

As the procurement system works now, if the Pentagon admits to not absolutely needing some program (for which it has already secured funds), or admits that another program (for which funds have not yet been designated) would be better, it risks losing a portion of its budget. Understandably, those in the Pentagon would prefer to have the original program than nothing at all. That's the big picture.

Behind this problem is what some see as a flaw in the budget process itself: the fact that Congress reviews and must approve every Pentagon purchase, whether it's for the MX missile or spare parts for a tank, on an item-by-item basis. This means Congress as well as the Pentagon is involved in reviewing thousands of individual details within the military budget. This microscopic overkill muddies the water and, in many cases, results in bad decisions, according to a recent study by J. A. Stockfish.

Stockfish, author of Plowshares into Swords: Managing the American Defense Establishment (a book on military procurement), says that the Pentagon could help eliminate waste and improve the military's effectiveness by giving the services more flexibility in the way they make spending decisions.

The current relationship between specific items and the whole defense budget causes "perverse incentives" that discourage innovation and creative management of defense dollars, he says. There is little logic in a process that punishes a branch of the military for removing ineffective, marginal or redundant weapons systems. Yet this is how the system works.

Instead of eliminating the money for obsolete systems, Stockfish wants to see the Pentagon given the freedom to reallocate the money for a more promising alternate program.

Military efficiency should be the highest priority to U.S. policymakers, not whether the Pentagon buys widgets or what have you. America's goal should be a strong national defense.

According to Stockfish, giving the Pentagon what amounts to block grants — designating only what type of missions and programs each service must perform — would create budget incentives and make the military procurement process as effective as possible. In addition, he says, it might even allow the Congress to pass a defense appropriations bill on time.

Letters to the Editor

July 11, 1984
Crockett County Commissioners
c/o Judge A. O. Fields
Crockett County Courthouse
Ozona, Texas 76943

Dear Judge Fields:
As a follow-up to my letter dated May 15, 1984 (a copy of which is attached), the Board of Directors of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce is requesting that a formal, written response be addressed to the Chamber in reference to the problem of "street peddler activity" which was brought before the commissioners in April by myself and other interested merchants and citizens of Ozona.

Again, let me reiterate to the commissioners that our request was not for the removal of these peddlars, but simply for control, regulation, and fairness in their selling activities.

Whatever the decision of the commissioners is, whether it's for or against regulation and control, we would simply ask that the decision be documented and entered into the minutes of their meeting and that some type of written response be sent to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce indicating what action will or will not be taken by the commissioner's court.

Thanking you and the commissioners in advance, I remain,
Respectfully yours,
Stan Lambert

Beth Boyd, Manager
Chamber of Commerce
Ozona, Texas 76943

Dear Beth:
I recently received a questionnaire concerning the hospital—the questionnaire itself proclaims the difference in philosophy, or the different concept we have concerning the hospital as differing from other County supported operations.

I never see an account of the amount of money we have lost in the maintenance and upkeep of the county roads and bridges, which may lose $1,000,000.00 per year if we use the same calculations, that is—expense less revenue. We also have another losing operation in the Cemetery—certainly the meagerly sum charged for a lot does not pay the expense of the perpetual maintenance—we don't expect it to. Instead we are glad to pay a small additional amount in taxes to provide a beautiful, well kept, last resting place for our loved ones.

Each of these is a service: Ball Parks and other County Parks, Road & Bridge Department, Cemetery Care and Maintenance, Care Center, Hospital. (They each cost money; they are not intended to make money).

Certainly we need to create a county wide Hospital District, that would create a tax base broad enough to provide whatever is needed to upgrade and improve the hospital—the X-Ray machine is worn out (or does not presently compare with up-to-date X-Ray equipment, either in intensity or otherwise). A County Commissioners Court is limited as to the taxes they can levy and there are many different demands on the tax-money they get. A Hospital District would be governed (hopefully) by people interested in the well being of the hospital—willing to tax and get adequate revenue, they would also, be held down by the voters as to the money they spent and so would the Hospital Administrator in ways to spend wisely those funds they receive.

Respectfully,
Troy D. Williams

[Ed note: Why not vote in a cemetery district and a road department district? They always need more money too. Then, in lieu of lowering county property taxes, employees' salaries could be raised to take up the slack. It's all county taxes and comes out of the same pot, the taxpayers pocket.]

Dear Kitty,
I am enclosing my check in payment for the renewal of my subscription to the Stockman. I am sorry to be so late in getting it to you. I have not been well the last few months and this is one of the things that slipped by me. I am so sorry about Tom Ed's death. All of the Montgomeries have been so important to me during my life time. Beecher is the closest friend that I have ever had and all of them were so nice to me while I was growing up.

I enjoy the Stockman so much and particularly your column. Both of our county papers lean to the liberal side and your columns give me a breath of fresh air.

Tomorrow is brother Jack's birthday. If you see him, give him a hug for me. Keep up the good work with the paper.
Sincerely,
Ele B. Baggett

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My mother is ill and in a nursing home. My brother and I are sharing this cost. I am wondering whether my brother and I must pay for her care and for her huge credit card charges. Are we liable?

A: As a general rule, children are not responsible for the support of their parents. Children have a duty to support only if the parent has been found by a court to be mentally incompetent.

Once a person is found to be mentally incompetent, however, a guardian is appointed for that person's estate. Only the guardian can enter into contracts on behalf of the ward. Therefore, if your mother was declared incompetent, she was legally incapable of making credit card charges.

Charges she incurred before she was declared incompetent are not your personal liability.
Q: Some years ago, my neighbor planted some shade trees on his side of the fence. Now branches extend over my property and rest on my roof. My neighbor says he will share the cost of having the tree branches cut down. Why should I have to pay anything for cutting the branches?

A: You do not have to pay anything for cutting away the overhanging trees. As owner of the property, you are entitled to protection from invasion of your land by encroaching adjacent owners. In this case, your neighbor has allowed his trees to grow and invade your property; they have become a nuisance. You are entitled to have your property restored to its natural state and you may seek a court order that your neighbor must remove the invading tree branches.

Q: I need to change the executor of my will. Should I go back to a lawyer and get this done, or can I simply write in the change in the presence of a witness and a notary?

A: Do not write on your present will. It would not be effective to change the executor and there is a possibility someone might later claim you meant to cancel your entire will. You can change your executor only by writing a new will or you may write a codicil, which modifies or supplements the will. A codicil must be signed with the same formalities with which you signed your will, and it must make it clear that you are changing only one provision of the will.

You would be much safer having your attorney prepare this for you and supervise the signing.

Q: I own four lots in East Texas and last year, without my permission, someone came onto the property and cut down about 30 pine trees. I reported this to the local sheriff and he said there was nothing I could do about it. I think he's lying. What do you think?

A: If the local sheriff meant that taking the pine trees was not a crime, he was wrong. Taking of any property without consent, including anything severed from the land, constitutes theft.

However, what the sheriff probably meant was that there was no way to discover who cut the trees. If you suspect someone, it is still the prerogative of the sheriff to decide what cases are important enough to investigate, and he could refuse to follow-up on that basis.

Whether or not the sheriff investigates the case, if you know who might have taken the trees, you may sue for damages. If you believe that you have grounds for such a law suit, call a lawyer in that county to discuss the details.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Our present dry spell, especially during vacations, may prove to be a critical time for good gardening.

If no rain, evergreens should be watered deeply and sprayed either early or late in the day occasionally to remove dust and refresh the foliage.

Pecans need supplemental irrigation to assure optimum kernel development during July and August. Water deeply, from out beyond the dripline to half the distance to the trunk.

One of the wonders in many gardens is the aster. It produces its blue flowers year after year on a neat, two foot high plant even when no attention has been given to it. The only attention needed is to cut back after flowering and divided every five years or so. You can have foot high and ready to bloom plants only 2 months after planting. Tip prune in spring and summer to make them bushy for fall blooming.

Hot weather care for container plants should be observed to have them looking their best. Root growth is inhibited when soil temperatures rise to 90 degrees or higher. Result may be the loss of choice plants on fully exposed patios or decks. The sun-loving plant that suffers from heat is the geranium. It does well in cooler weather but cannot tolerate excessive heat in the root zone very long. Dark containers absorb more heat than light-colored pots. Since wood is a poor conductor of heat, it makes a good container material. Try grouping plants together so they will shade each other. Check plants daily to determine water needs. The smaller the container, the more often the plant needs water.

Cool plants during the hottest days with a water spray early or late.

If you must be away for a few days, move plants to a shaded area and ask a friend to water them regularly.

BELLS

Have you ever thought about the importance of bells in your life? From kindergarten on, most of our movements are dictated by a series of bells—the chime of the clock, the peal of the school bell, the sharp ring of the telephone. We are conditioned to respond to these bells almost without thinking.

The most beautiful bells in our life are those that we hear on the Sabbath. We also hear them without thinking, but they are bringing the most important message of all—that God loves you. This week respond to them with your own love and join the other worshippers at your church or synagogue.

quences of the bill. The state available fund was through per capita payments. This money is money earned through the State Permanent School Fund Activity. It involved state owned lands, mineral developed lands and investment earnings from that fund. That money has been distributed across the state on a basis of equal distribution based on the number of students in a school district. Every student across the state got the same number of dollars. That method is being changed and will be tied to the wealth of the district through the foundation program. The end result is the bulk of the money goes into the foundation program and is distributed through it rather than a direct grant to each district.

The TEA will establish the criteria to evaluate teachers. At least two people will conduct the evaluation process. "In our case, one of those will be the principal and the other will be someone approved by the board of trustees," Davis said.

The local board of trustees will set the budget and then the tax rate. The budget will be developed by August 20, and a preliminary date for finalizing is set for August 28.

Davis hesitated to speak in percentages as far as the teachers' salaries are concerned. The legislation calls for a minimum salary schedule of $15,200. Each teacher will fit into a schedule based on experience. The overall salary increase will be a major portion of the increased expenditures.

"There are some things in the bill that are good, there are some things in the bill that will cause problems which will not create any substantial gain as far as the education process is concerned," Davis said.

"Where there have been abuses in the past, there will still be abuses in the reform. It's certainly not a cure-all for the ills of education," Davis hastened to add, "that education was not as sick as many people diagnosed it to be."

He feels many of the entities within the legislation itself were brought about by political and emotional concerns more than education concerns. "I am an optimist where education for Texas is concerned. I am a pessimist in so far as this particular piece of legislation being what the legislative leadership is reporting," Davis said. "I think the cost effectiveness of the bill will result in a negative return."

"I simply believe that the reform legislation passed by the special session will cost a lot more dollars than it will produce in educational gains," Davis said.

The superintendent will speak in specific terms after the region/statewide conferences at the end of this month.

Teacher in-service will begin August 13, and classroom instruction begins August 22. The faculty isn't complete at this time. It lacks a special education teacher for the high school campus and a special language teacher.

The growth of the avocado is so prolific that trees have collapsed under the weight of their fruit.

Sheriff's Department reports a quiet week

The Crockett County Sheriff's Department reported a quiet week ending July 16. Wednesday evening around 8:30 p.m., the department received a rather unusual report. A dog was being dragged by an older model blue Chrysler car on Highway 163 south near the cemetery. The deputy picked the dog up and took it to the veterinary clinic where it was treated for numerous wounds. If you have any information concerning this incident please contact the sheriff's department. Eight arrests were made which included one male for criminal trespass, three males for DWI and four males were arrested for Public Intoxication. On the 12th an investigation was held concerning a broken window at the Red Apple. Saturday at approximately 4:10 a.m. an accident occurred eight miles south of Pandale. It was a one vehicle rollover and the driver, who was the only person in the vehicle, sustained minor injuries.

All-Stars rally in playoffs

The Ozona Senior League All-Stars defeated San Angelo West here 5-4, Thursday night in the first game of the playoffs. In the second game, Junction conquered Sonora, 8-6. It was also played here. In Saturday's action, Ozona won over Junction, 14-2, at Mathis Field in San Angelo. In the second game San Angelo West defeated Sonora, 11-3.

The Ozona team will play the winner of Monday night's game tonight at 6:00 p.m. at Mathis Field.

United Methodist Church welcomes new Rev. Harrison

By Jana Harris

"I feel like the people here are old friends, it feels like we've moved back to an old hometown and people we've always known," Rev. Ken Harrison said after arriving in Ozona about one month ago to become the new pastor at Ozona United Methodist Church.

After serving two years in the armed forces, at the age of 19, Rev. Harrison decided to become a minister. "I woke up one morning and knew that was what I was supposed to be—and it was the right decision." He said he couldn't imagine doing anything else and being as happy as he is now.

Working together as a team, he and his wife, Susie, whom he married in July 1965, are looking forward to meeting the people here. Ozonans were described to them as being "warm, loving and friendly people" and they've found this to be true. They have three children, Zachary, six; Sara, five; and Rebecca, four years-old.

The family moved here from Raymondville, in the Rio Grande Valley where they've spent the past six years. Rev. Harrison attended Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana before attending Garrett Theological Seminary on the Northwestern campus in Evanston, Illinois. He served as a youth director while in Indianapolis and as a student appointment to two churches during his tenure in Illinois. He pastored on the weekends while going to school during the week. After seminary school, the road led back to Indiana where he had his first church, Faith United Methodist Church in Mount Vernon from 1970-1973. They spent three years in New Life before coming to Texas. He was associate pastor at First United Methodist Church in Brownsville for one and one-half years before his stay in Raymondville.

In Rev. Harrison's ser-

ture, First Corinthians 13, "Love is very patient and kind never jealous or envious, never boastful or proud, never haughty or selfish or rude..."

"I believe in the rightness of the scriptures and I believe in the potential good of human kind," Rev. Harrison said. "I believe that everyone is a potential friend."

The minister feels that one of the most important things we can do in our daily lives is to "Remember that you're created in the image and likeness of God and take into consideration what that means."

"I think everybody ought to belong and attend a church whether it's ours or others," Rev. Harrison said.

"The people here have made the transition from a church we dearly loved to this church very easy."

Permian Basin energy report

The U.S. Department of Energy is predicting that there will not be a price flare up after January first when partial decontrol of gas prices occurs under the Natural Gas Policy Act. D.O.E. reported that wellhead gas prices increased 2.4% in 1983, and barring any new legislation, the price will increase only 2.5% in 1985.

In a related matter, 218 members of the U.S. House of Representatives signed a letter to the speaker of the House, Tip O'Neill asking him to schedule debate on the natural gas reconrol bill as soon as possible.

The U.S. House and Senate have approved a bill to increase tax revenues by 50 billion dollars. The parts affecting the petroleum industry include continuing the independent producers and royalty owners percentage depletion for secondary and tertiary production which saves about one billion dollars in taxes through the end of fiscal 1984.

The bill also freezes the windfall profits tax rate for newly discovered oil at 22.5 percent through 1987, moving to 20 percent in 1988 and 15 percent in 1989 and thereafter.

And, there are some limitations on the use of pre-paid intangible drilling costs in the new law.

Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox has asked a U.S. District Judge to delay an offshore oil lease set scheduled for July 18th.

The Permian Basin rig count for this week is 330. Last week 323 and one year ago 216.

J. Jones appointed bank VP

The Board of Directors of the Crockett County National Bank in Ozona announced today the appointment of John R. Jones as Vice-President of the Bank.

Jones recently began working for the bank after being involved in ranching, politics and private business for several years. He served Crockett County from 1977 to 1983 as County Judge. He has also served as a member of the Crockett County School Board and the Crockett County Hospital Board.

JOHNNY JONES
New bank VP

Jones grew up in Ozona and upon graduation from Ozona High School attended Texas Tech University where he graduated with a B.A. degree in 1964. He is active in the Ozona Lions Club, the United Methodist Church, and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Jones and his wife Patti, have two children, Amy-age 16, and Todd-age 14.

His duties as Vice-President will be in the lending and investment areas of the Bank.

Officials meet on cemetery rules

Billie Jean Baggett, president of the Cemetery Association, met with County Judge A. O. Fields and Parks Superintendent Onesimo Ortiz Wednesday afternoon in an effort to establish communication between the association and the county.

The Cemetery Association was organized in 1911 and has operated the cemetery since that time under the leadership of its president, currently, Mrs. Baggett.

The county has provided a crew of workers, who until some time last summer, has been instructed by the president of the association. When a parks crew was organized to take care of the town streets, parks, ball fields and dumpground, the cemetery was put under the foreman, Ortiz. The cemetery crew was cut in half and promised the services of the entire parks staff once a week.

Rules were changed without consultation with the cemetery association's board of directors or even its president. The Crockett County Commissioners Court gave Commissioner B. W. Stuart the responsibility of organizing the new crew.

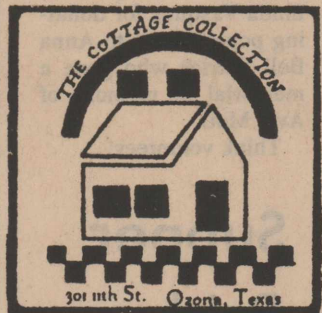

Everyone who owns a lot at the cemetery is a member of the Cemetery Association. The annual meeting is not well attended because the cemetery has been so well operated in the past. However, a large crowd is expected at the upcoming meeting.

Things got out of hand this spring and continued to date. The crew who was supposed to go trim and mow once a week has been at the cemetery one time this year, and then trimmed and mowed the section which the regular cemetery crew had done the day before.

The Wednesday afternoon meeting in the judge's office seemed to be a step in the right direction for all concerned. Mrs. Baggett was pleased with the results and is optimistic about the future of the operation of the cemetery.

Chona Vela is and will continue to head up the cemetery crew. When the full parks crew comes weekly to mow and trim, they will work under her instruction. She will consult with Mrs. Baggett about the needs of the cemetery. Ortiz has agreed to see that the parks crew tends the cemetery once a week. The cemetery crew will be allowed to keep summer hours of 7 a.m. till 4:00 p.m. If these rules are followed, some positive results will have come out of the meeting.

Ozona sets blood drive

The ever urgent need for blood increases with advances in medical science. A donation of blood will result in successful transplants, the repair of damaged hearts, the treatment of leukemia and restoration of the burned and injured.

Your opportunity to help further health care for someone less fortunate will be July 19 when the United Blood Services blood mobile visits Ozona. The staff will be collecting blood at the Chamber of Commerce between 3:00-8:00.

Through the participation in the volunteer blood program, blood donors unselfishly share the blessings of good health. United Blood Services would like to present each donor who had reached the one gallon or multi-gallon level a pin and a certificate as appreciation for the regularity of donating blood.

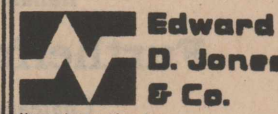

For your information, Ozona residents donated 192 units of blood during 1983 to help replenish blood supplies for area hospital patients.

During this coming year our projected needs are increasing by 11% over last year and this means we must have the support of every healthy individual to support the community blood center. Please take this opportunity to save a life and to let United Blood Services recognize your achievement as a life saver!

In the past, your electric bill was "just another item" in your family budget, but that is not true anymore. However, as a consumer of electricity, YOU can make a difference. How you use electricity is an individual matter — it is in your hands — and in your pocketbook.

At West Texas Utilities we are working to provide dependable service at reasonable rates. Unfortunately, the costs of producing and supplying electricity have soared. WTU has had no choice but to raise its rates to pay for the high cost of fuel to generate electricity.

We know you are concerned about your electric bill, and we suggest a few things that can help you save money and energy.

Make it a family project to learn more about conservation. Keep your thermostat set at 78 degrees or higher in the summer and 68 degrees or lower in the winter. Operate your washing machine, dryer and dishwasher only with full loads. Turn off the television and lights when you leave a room. And check around your house to find other energy-saving measures that can mean dollar savings on your electric bill.

WTU is working to ensure an adequate supply of electrical power for YOU and all of our customers, while trying to assure the most value for your energy dollars now and in the future.

Miss Price receives 1984 humanitarian award

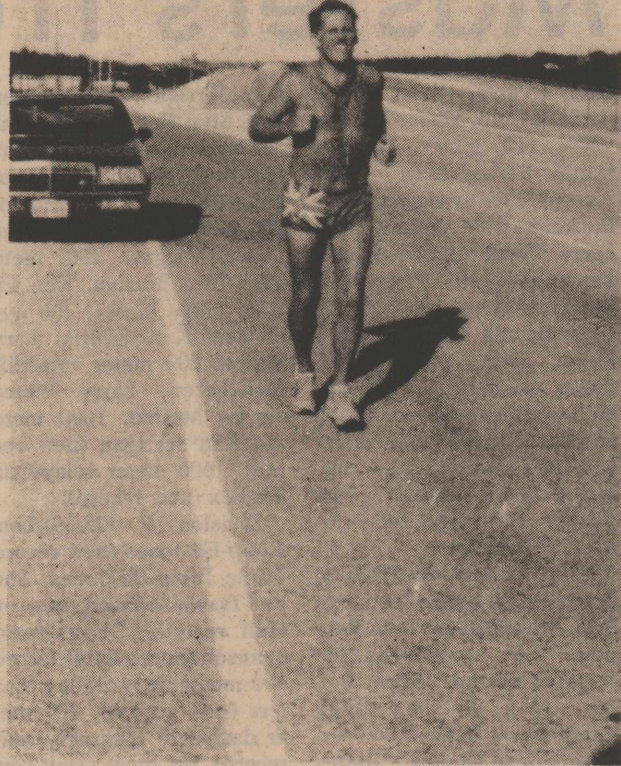

After more than three decades of humanitarian work, a former Ozonan, Miss Dorothy Price, who spent more than 17 years in Ozona as a missionary with the Board of Global Missions of the United Methodist Church, is still active in humanitarian work in her home town of Sweetwater, Tennessee, and in recognition of that work was recently named Monroe County's 1984 Humanitarian award winner.

Miss Price, still active in Boy Scout, Girl Scout and 4-H and Nursing Home work, served as missionary at the Ozona Community Center, along with Miss Ethel Wolfe (now deceased), for nearly 18 years, endearing herself with Ozona people, especially the ethnic groups she served so long.

Miss Price was awarded a beautiful silver tray at an awards ceremony and dinner honoring her in the Sweetwater hospital. Her designation as Humanitarian of the Year created considerable excitement in her home town and the area's two newspapers devoted a page or more each to photos and accounts of her remarkable life of service.

The clippings were sent to The Stockman by Roy Harrell, a member of the U.S. Foreign Service, now living in Falls Church, Va. Roy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Harrell of Ozona. He writes that he is presently undergoing some in-service training and trying to absorb "all the ins and outs of micro-computers" and finally concluding "The world is so complicated—I often want to just retire to Johnson Draw and let the world go by."

AN OLYMPIC SUPPORTER from the Athletic Club of Houston ran through Ozona on 1-10 Saturday evening. Making the run from Houston to Los Angeles the group is made up of 27 runners in 4 teams. Each runner takes a 6 mile stretch. Average age of the runners is 41, the oldest participating is 57. The run started with a send-off by the Mayor of Houston. The runners will be received by Mayor Bradley of Los Angeles as they arrive at the Olympic Stadium July 23 at the Hall of Flags. They will be delivering a proclamation from the Mayor of Houston to the Mayor of L.A. in support of the Olympics.

Uvalde is site for 69th annual TS&GRA meeting

A wool and mohair preparation seminar will kick-off activities at 7 p.m. Thursday, July 19, at the Civic Center. The seminar will conclude with Friday's session which begins at 9 a.m. seminar registration will be $5.00 per person.

TS&GRA convention registration is $35 per person in advance or $40 at the door. Committees will meet Friday from 1:00 to 4:30 p.m. Evening activities include a reception hosted by American Cyanamid, the Sahave Indian Dancers, Auxiliary Auction, and a barbecue and dance featuring music by Hoyle Nix.

Congressman Tom Loeffler will be the key note speaker for the general business session Saturday, July 21. Other speakers will be Dan Murphy National Wool Growers Ass., Washington D.C.; Bob Rolston, American Sheep Producers Council, Denver, Colorado; and Robert Pfluger, Mohair Council of America, San Angelo, Texas.

Saturday evening the annual membership banquet will be highlighted by a Natural Fibers Spectacular organized by Carl Cox, head of the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission, and Barbara Klindworth of the Kim Dawson Agency in the Dallas Apparel Mart. The style show will feature models from the Dawson Agency as well as TS&GRA members and wives. American Cyanamid will host a reception prior to the banquet.

Uvalde County has more miles of spring-fed streams than any county in the Lone Star State. Garner State Park, one of Texas' most popular parks, is located only 30 miles from Uvalde. The scenery is spectacular, with hills and canyons, meadows and magnificent trees. Sheep and goat producers are urged to bring families and enjoy the beauty of Uvalde and the many activities of the 69th Annual TS&GRA convention.

All children, regardless of church affiliation, are encouraged to attend. The theme for this year is "The Bible in Our World."

Everyone will gather in the church sanctuary each evening for opening and closing sessions. Parents may feel free to deposit and pick up their children near the front of the church.

Chris Carlisle recently won a pair of tickets to the Michael Jackson Victory Tour in Dallas Friday night. She went to Graham's Central Station in San Angelo, entered a ticket raffle and 15 minutes later she held the tickets in her hand. She and Kristi Kirby went to the concert where Eddie Van Halen made a surprise appearance.

The ancients are believed to have washed themselves with ashes and water, which was followed by an application of oil or grease to relieve the irritation caused by the ashes.

Summer time often brings an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables. If you're having a plentiful harvest of fruits and vegetables, you may enjoy trying some of the following recipes.

Strawberry Leathers

5 cups halved strawberries
 1/4 cup sugar or honey
 Place strawberries, 1 cup at a time, in blender. Puree strawberries until smooth. Stir in sugar. Line two 15 1/2 x 10 1/2 x 1" jelly roll pans with plastic wrap. Secure edges with tape. Spread fruit puree evenly in pans. Place in 150°F oven, to dry. Leave oven door ajar approximately 4". Place candy thermometer in back of oven. Check temperature periodically to be sure it is correct. If necessary, turn oven off for a while to reduce temperature. Rotate pans every 2 hours. The leather is dry when the surface is no longer sticky. Drying time is 6 to 12 hours. When dry, remove from oven. Remove plastic wrap. Let cool completely. When cool, rewrap in plastic wrap by rolling up like a jelly roll. Leathers can be stored at room temperature for 1 month; in refrigerator for 3 months and in freezer for 1 year. Makes 2 leathers.

Apricot, Plum, Peach or Nectarine: Wash and cut up 3 lbs. fresh fruit. Remove pits. (No need to pare fruit). Proceed as above.

Strawberry Rhubarb: Cook together 3 cups cut up rhubarb, 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 cup water until tender, about 3 minutes. Do not drain. Puree with 2 1/2 cups halved strawberries. Proceed as above, using 2 tablespoons sugar.

Apple Cinnamon: Wash, core and cut up 3 lbs. apples. No need to pare. Do not use hard baking apples. Puree apples as above, adding 3/4 cup water. Stir in 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon. Proceed as above.

Pickled Jalapenos

Wash jalapeno peppers. Pack tightly in hot jars. For each cup of vinegar, use 1/4 cup water, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon pickling spices. Heat mixture to boiling. Pour over peppers to cover. Close jars. Process

10 minutes in boiling water bath. Start to count processing time as soon as water in canner returns to boiling.

If desired, you may add slices of onions and carrots. Cook carrots about 1 minute before adding to peppers.

Dixie Relish

1 qt. chopped cabbage (about 1 small head)
 2 cups chopped onions
 2 cups chopped sweet green peppers (about 4 medium)

2 cups chopped sweet red peppers (about 4 medium)
 1/2 cup salt
 2 qts. cold water
 3/4 cup sugar

3 tablespoons mustard seed
 2 tablespoons celery seed
 1 qt. vinegar

Dissolve salt in 2 quarts cold water. Pour over chopped vegetables and let stand 1 hour. Drain. If too salty, rinse and drain again. Add vegetables, sugar and spices to vinegar; simmer 20 minutes. Bring to boiling. Pack boiling hot, into hot half-pint jars, leaving 1/4-inch head space. Adjust caps. Process 15 minutes in boiling water bath. Yield: about 7 half-pints.

Hot temperatures bring special lawn problems

Along with hot temperatures, mid-summer in Texas may bring special lawn problems-drought, weeds, insects and disease.

These lawn problems can cause concerns for homeowners unless accurate diagnosis and proper treatment takes place before they become severe, points out Bill H. Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Dry spots, thin turf and weeds can result from improper watering, fertilizing and mowing practices. Follow recommended cultural practices before applying a chemical to correct lawn problems.

Drought stress most often occurs in mid-summer and shows up as wilted, discolored turf. Adjust watering schedules to wet the soil to a depth of four to six inches, and water only when grass shows symptoms of moisture stress.

Also, raise mowing height one-half inch to improve drought tolerance in mid-summer, Reagor adds.

Ozona couple's son killed in accident

A 33-year-old Snyder man, son of an Ozona couple, was killed about noon Thursday in an industrial accident three miles west of Snyder.

Larry Glenn Brown, an employee of Southern Electric Co., was working on power lines when he came in contact with a high voltage line.

He was taken by ambulance to Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder, where he was pronounced dead by Peace Justice Dan Callaway.

Brown, formerly of Pecos and Kermit, was a graduate of Pecos High School.

Services were held at 2 p.m., Saturday, at the First Baptist Church and burial followed at the Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brown of Ozona; two sons, Larry Glenn Brown Jr. and Fredrick Lynn Brown, both of Snyder; two sisters, Teresa Gayle Brown of Midland and Joyce Hambleton of Pittsburg, Pa.; his maternal grandparents, Mrs. Iva B. O'Neal of Sweetwater and L. M. O'Neal of Midland.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their sympathy and comfort to us in this time of sorrow. The prayers, flowers, food, cards and memorials are deeply appreciated.

TIMES CHANGE
That means your needs for insurance change too. You might have too little... maybe even too much.

So how do you know if the protection you bought yesterday is what you need for today?

It's easy. Just call and tell your Farmers Agent you want a complete review of all your insurance policies.

There's no cost and no obligation.
