Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

We came out with our new format (6 columns) last week at great mental strain and deadline agony, and not one person mentioned a difference in the paper. The only gripes I heard were from those few followers who feel called upon to remind me this column had been missing for a couple of weeks. We thought it looked a lot different, and it certainly created a lot of difference in our production methods. Jana Harris, our summer lifesaver, took it in stride, but Willa and I had a hard time, disliking change as we do. We seem to be somewhat set in our ways.

We think we have figured our rates so there will be little change if any, except for some special rates given to longtime advertisers which should have been increased several years ago. I don't know why it's so hard for me to increase rates, when every time I buy something it costs more. I seem to always wait until we are on the way to the poorhouse to do this chore.

I noticed most all our exchange papers had lead stories about what the school reform bill is doing to school budgets. Locally, we have had no firm decision on the impact the reform bill will have. However, it is expected the bill will affect taxpayers as well as school budgets. There will be increased taxes and cuts in budgets. I have heard, this is strictly rumor, the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District, will lose from $230,000 to $600,000 in school funds during the coming years. That, along with the increased costs mandated in the bill has left school administrators scratching their respective heads.

Taxpayers are not faring much better. Concerned about higher sales taxes, fuel subscription taxes, home repair taxes and after receiving their re-evaluation statements, they are wondering what on earth is going to happen to their pocketbooks. Nobody really knows the full economic impact of this most recent legislation.

I noticed in the Big Lake Wildcat, the Reagan County School Board voted to raise rent on teacher housing, from the present $45 to $55 to $250 and $300 monthly. This has created an outcry from the teachers who live in the teacher housing. We have the same situation in Ozona, however, I understand there is no plan to raise rent on the teacherages here. I think less than one-half the faculty members live in teacherages in Ozona. The others live in homes they have purchased themselves and pay taxes on. This does seem a little unfair. Why should teachers who own their own homes be penalized to this extent.

On the other hand, why should property taxpayers in general subsidize teacher housing. I had never given it much thought before now. I have mentioned the unfairness of having a female teacher move out of her teacherage when she marries, when the male teacher is able to move his new bride in after the vows are said. This seems left over from the dark ages and is blatant discrimination. I don't think anyone would disagree with that.

Back to teacher housing. This began long ago in small West Texas towns to attract teachers to this area where there was very little if any rent property. It was a good thing at the time. However, now it seems a little ridiculous to furnish housing, water and gas, plus maintenance and in some instances furniture to teachers for $35 per month. Teachers who own their homes, pay their own utilities and do their own maintenance are not subsidized by the school. I really have done no research on the subject and can't make an accurate determination, but it seems unfair, not only to teacher homeowners, but to the remainder of the property tax payers in the county.

I will close by saying this special session which brought about this mess has been one of the more stupid antics ever performed by the State Legislature. It should go in the books as neck-and-neck with the rewriting of the state constitution for

RODEO QUEEN

Miss Julie Reagor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reagor, was named rodeo queen Saturday night during the show, and was crowned and presented a bouquet of red roses by out-going queen Christy Parks. Duchesses were Donna Jo Patrick and Gena Allen.

Rodeo success in spite of rain

The Friday afternoon shower during the parade and early part of the rodeo performance dampened the spirit of most spectators. However, the contestants didn't seem to mind. Most local residents were glad to get the needed moisture regardless.

The attendance at the performance and the dance Friday night were extremely low, not taking in enough at the dance Friday night to pay for the band. However, the Saturday night attendance at the performance and dance took up most of the slack.

George Guerra was the winner of the Charles E. Davidson Memorial Scholarship. The $500 scholarship is given to a local youth with most points in the rodeo. Wade Shanna of Del Rio was All-Around winner in the 12 and under division; Ashley Johnson of Eldorado was All-Around winner in the 13-15 division; and Richard Batla of Garden City in the 16-19 age division.

Total number of entries were 151 youths in the rodeo and this was slightly larger than last year's 149. Contestants came from as far south as Uvalde, east as Taylor, and north as Joshua.

Highlighting the final night's activities was the crowning of the new rodeo queen. Selected was Julie Reagor, who also received Best Western Attire Award. She was crowned by the reigning queen Christy Parks, and presented a silver belt buckle. Gena Allen won the horsemanship award and Donna Jo Patrick was Miss Personality. They all received silver trays for the awards.

The arena and grounds for the event were in excellent condition thanks to Crockett County Roads Department and the Parks Crew. Onecimo Ortiz and Stanley Najjar and crew did a fine job. Also Granvill Flanagan had all the gates and chutes in order. Tite Bishop and his equipment got the arena in the best condition it has been in for years.

The Lions Club appreciated the help and support from many Ozona merchants and individuals for donating buckles and furnishing stock and providing manual labor for the running of the rodeo and dance. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller necessary to enroll them in kindergarten.

Faculty members will report to the Ozona High School Auditorium at 9:00 a.m., Monday, August 13, to begin a series of orientation and inservice sessions that will result in the beginning of school Monday, August 20.

Superintendent Garland Davis will address the faculty during the Monday morning meeting, and information concerning school policies, personnel, insurance, and educational developments will be presented. Following afternoon faculty meetings, the staff will report back to the auditorium for a presentation by Mr. Dan Brainard regarding a new drug prevention program that will go into effect this year.

The Ozona staff will be in Sonora on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 14 and 15, to attend the Sonora Cooperative Inservice Program. Other schools participating in the two-day conference are Juno, Nueces Canyon, Rocksprings, Eldorado, and Sonora.

Mr. Jack Johnson will begin the Tuesday inservice activities at 9:00 a.m. with a presentation entitled "If You Innovate, You Better Communicate Or You Won't Motivate", and this will be followed by small group sessions relating to the individual interests of teachers. Sectional sessions will be given on Wednesday to members of the participating districts, and activities will conclude after the presentation "Does Mrs. Cherico Still Wear Red, White, and Blue on Friday?" by Mrs. Toody Byrd, counselor at West Lake High School, Austin, Texas.

Adjournment of the conference is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Wednesday. The staff of the Region XV Education Service Center in San Angelo is in charge of the two-day event, and Mr. David M. Smith is the Director of Programs.

Ozona faculty members will have teacher preparation days on Thursday and Friday, August 16 and 17 and school will begin on Monday, August 20. A complete list of the Ozona faculty will appear in the next edition of The Ozona Stockman.

Community meeting to explain drug program

The Ozona Board of Trustees has called a special community meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday, August 13, in the Ozona High School Auditorium. The purpose of the meeting will be to explain a new school drug prevention program that will be implemented in Ozona Public Schools this year.

The program, which is as unique as it is successful, centers around the use of highly trained, yet gentle and loving, Labrador Retriever dogs to detect the presence of illicit drugs. However, the actual discovery of drugs, if that occurs, is secondary to the main goals of altering attitudes and reversing peer pressures experienced by young people in regard to the use of narcotics.

It is not designed as a search and seizure technique. Instead, the dogs are used in demonstrations, assembly programs, and educational activities closely correlated to a specific effort to attack the problem of narcotics in the community.

The program will be presented by its founder, Mr. Daniel R. Brainard. Mr. Brainard is a graduate of the University of Texas Law School and is a former special agent for the F.B.I. During his early career in law enforcement, Dan Brainard was primarily responsible for all vehicular and aircraft hijackings and all theft from interstate shipment cases throughout the state of Arizona.

Later he was transferred to Los Angeles where he spent several years assigned to a special squad responsible for the disposition of incidents most likely to entail violence, such as bank robberies, kidnappings, extortion and aircraft hijackings. He enjoys the distinction of once arresting one of the F.B.I.'s "Ten Most Wanted" fugitives and was personally commended on several occasions by the late J. Edgar Hoover for bravery and outstanding performance.

Upon his resignation from the Bureau, Mr. Brainard returned to Austin to accept an executive position with the Criminal Justice Division of the Office of the Governor. During his tenure with the Governor's Office, he began his independent research and experimentation toward the development of a program designed to significantly reduce the use of drugs among young people. After leaving the Governor's Office, Mr. Brainard founded his company, Maximum Security Systems, Incorporated, to carry-out his program.

Dan Brainard will be introduced by Mr. Brock Jones, Crockett County Judge, and everyone is welcome to attend.

Services here for Mr. Smith

Funeral services for Douglas Wayne Smith, 49, were held at 10 a.m. today, Wednesday, in the Faith Lutheran Church in Ozona, with Rev. Charles Huffman officiating. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Mr. Smith died at 7 p.m. Thursday, August 2, in South Nevada Memorial Hospital in Las Vegas, where he had been undergoing treatment.

He was born October 1, 1934 in Brady. He married Consuelo Ramos January 10, 1962 in Guadalupe, Mexico. They have been residents of Ozona since 1976. Mr. Smith was an oilfield consultant.

Survivors include his wife of Ozona; three sons, Ruben Smith of Huntington Beach, Calif.; Ty Bateman and Joe Bateman both of Midland; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dink McNeil of Hugo, Okla.; one brother, Joe Smith of Paharume, Nev.; and six grandchildren.

GRAND ENTRY

in the rain, marked the beginning of the annual junior rodeo Saturday night. Events ran off as scheduled and when the sites cleared the brief shower really made for a better arena. Pictures of the afternoon parade failed to develop because of the rain and other problems.

By Edwin Feulner

Just in time for the August 2-6 U.N. World Population Conference in Mexico City, the World Bank has trotted out an alarmist new report claiming that the world's population will double in the next 65 years unless poor countries cut back their birth rates.

The world population today stands at approximately 4.8 billion. The World Bank's Annual World Development Report estimates it will grow to about 10 billion by the year 2050. Leader of the pack will likely be India, the report said, with more than 1.5-billion people in 2050, followed by China, with approximately 1.45 billion. Meaning lots of mouths to feed.

China, of course is doing something about its problem. And perhaps this is the bottom-line to the family-planners. In China, the government maintains a birth-control policy which involves the slaughter of infant girls, drowning them, if reports are to be believed, much the way a farmer might drown a litter of unwanted kittens.

Coupled with political executions, it is estimated that some 27-million people — young and old — were killed during China's "Great Leap Forward," in the late 1950s and early 1960s. And the infanticide continues with the numbers running in the "tens of thousands" per year, according to a July 10 National Academy of Sciences report.

A. W. Clausen, World Bank president, said in a speech in Nairobi, Kenya, that the projected population explosion "poses an unacceptable situation" for developing countries "because it means lower living standards for hundreds of millions of people."

Most of the growth projected in the World Bank report would be in poor, developing countries, which by the year 2050 would have to support 8.4-billion people, while they are having trouble supporting 3.6 billion today.

"Poverty and rapid population growth reinforce each other," Clausen said. "Therefore, the international community has no alternative but to cooperate, with a sense of urgency, in an effort to slow population growth if development is to be achieved." The alternative, of course, is widespread hunger, and a continuation of the alarming death-by-starvation that grips much of Africa and Asia.

At least that's what the alarmists would have us believe. But as is so often the case, the alarmists are wrong. Wrong that population growth and poverty go hand-in-hand. Wrong that population growth is the cause of Africa's and Asia's horrifying death rates. Wrong, even, according to a new report from the anything-but-conservative "Hunger Project," that there are 15- to 20-million hunger-related deaths in the world each year.

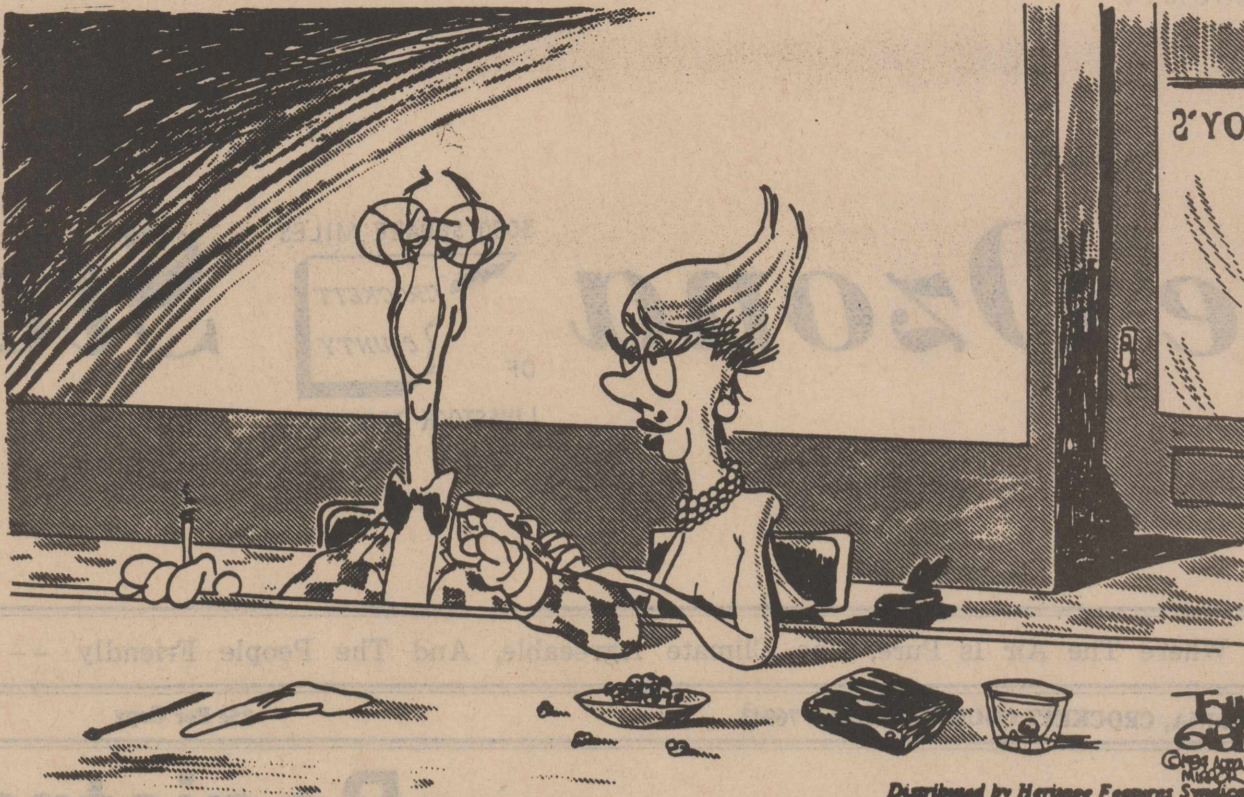

Instead, says Roy L. Prosterman, author of the Hunger Project report, the infant mortality rate and number of hunger-related deaths have been decreasing for the past thirty years, leading him to conclude "that nutritional needs increasingly are being met and that conditions in the world are improving as they relate to hunger," despite the growth in population.

As population economist Julian Simon of the University of Maryland has repeatedly pointed out, hunger and poverty are not caused by the number of people on the earth, but by institutional factors, such as government control of the means of production, that limit available resources. Taiwan and Singapore are among the most densely populated countries on earth. They also are among the most prosperous.

The University of Washington's Prosterman says "the world now possesses a variety of tested approaches to attack and overcome the combination of health and hunger issues that keep infant and child mortality rates high." The approach in the Soviet Union is to buy U.S. grain. Communist Poland strictly rations food. Red China slaughters baby girls. The United States uses its collective genius to feed a growing world.

That's the message the U.S. delegation ought to carry to Mexico City.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas Democrats fired right back last week, quickly inviting their party's presidential ticket to visit the Capitol on the heels of President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush.

Walter Mondale, Geraldine Ferraro and a few state officials tossed speeches, challenges and wit from the Capitol steps, attacking Reagans' record of budget deficits. The ticket-toppers made campaign stops in Houston and San Antonio before leaving for out-of-state destinations.

Meanwhile, a statewide Republican poll released by vacating U.S. Sen. John Tower last week showed Reagan-Bush leading Mondale-Ferraro by 27 percentage points in Texas, 59 to 32. Republican strength was shown as concentrated in Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and portions of West Texas in the poll conducted by Lance Tarrance of Houston.

Those figures contrasted with a nation-wide poll released about the same time by pollster Louis Harris, which showed the GOP ticket ahead only two points, 50-48.

Water from the Desert

While most state officials were partaking of the campaign flurry, Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and State Sen. Bill Sims were mapping plans to capture water from arid land.

Sims showed Mauro an area called Rocky Creek near San Angelo where 40,000 acres were cleared of brush for water conservation. Clearing brush replenishes the aquifer Sims said.

"After the brush was cleared, the springs started flowing again," he said. "We wanted Garry to see that."

Mauro plans to visit Israel this month to inspect their technology in water transfer.

Water Plan

Sims, a widely respected rancher who represents most of the drought-plagued West Texas areas in the Legislature, is working on a bill to provide cooperation between the state and private landowners in brush-clearing efforts.

The program to eradicate useless brush which traps and withholds water from useful purposes will probably be incorporated into water plan legislation in January.

Mauro manages Texas' public lands, including thousands of acres in Sims' West Texas district, and he has an eye on installing brush control as part of his conservation program.

The fact that Sims, called "a conservative's conservative," and Mauro, who won his office on a progressive theme, have their heads together bodes well for the political strength that a brush control water plan could move forward.

Smoking Areas Law?

Another piece of legislation which might emerge during next spring's regular legislative session would create a new state law setting up separate dining areas for smokers and non-smokers.

Yet another poll released last week, the Texas Poll from Texas A&M University and Harte-Hanks Communication, Inc., reflects that almost 75 percent of Texas voters support mandatory smoking and non-smoking areas in restaurants.

Almost two-thirds of the respondents favored such a law separating smokers from non-smokers at work.

Houston is the only major Texas city with a law banning smoking in many public places. Whether a similar bill would make it past the Legislature's smoke-filled rooms is anyone's guess.

Fuel Tax

The law to increase revenues for education and highways became effective last week.

Gasoline prices for both regular and unleaded, rose an extra five cents a gallon.

An additional 3.5 cents per gallon for diesel was tacked on in the recent special session.

Retailers estimate that the average fuel bill for Texas will go up $40 a year, unless competitive market forces keep it lower. The tax is actually paid by the supplier, who normally passes it on to the consumer.

Two Resign

Two top officials in state agencies resigned last week, Texas Secretary of State John Fainter and Texas Veterans Land Board Executive Secretary Harmon Lisnow.

Fainter, top political assistant to Gov. Mark White for years, will resume his private law practice at a much higher salary.

Lisnow, whom some consider the best administrator in state government, leaves Land Commissioner Garry Mauro's employ to take work for Attorney General Jim Mattox.

Under Mauro and Lisnow, the new Veterans Housing Program approved 6,000 home loans for veterans.

Short Takes

• U. S. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, says he believes opponents of the Simpson-Mazzoli bill have enough votes to defeat the measure in the House.

• U. S. Senate hopeful, Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, has accepted three debates with U. S. Rep. Phil Gramm to be broadcast on KERA-TV, Dallas, KMOL-TV, San Antonio and KHOU-TV, Houston.

• The State Board of Insurance reports 15 percent of Texas drivers still have not purchased required auto liability insurance.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

GARDEN OF THE MONTH

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wilkins
207 12th St.

As selected by THE OZONA GARDEN CLUB

With vacation time and summer relaxation almost over, it looks as though more or less dry, hot weather may be in store for us, unless the usual pattern changes.

I'm having a treat of being in beautiful, cool Ruidosa for a week. Being cold enough for a fireplace going and rain every day is most unusual for me. The most amazing thing though, is the vast growth of this place since we were here years ago. Its all very interesting and beautiful, but I'll be happy to get back to Ozona.

If you have azaleas or camellias be sure to keep them well watered. The shrubs are shallow rooted, making them particularly susceptible to drought stress. Place a small stationary sprinkler or soaker under the plants to insure that the water is distributed over the root area.

I have been reminded that blue-bonnets are coming up now, so if you have them near enough to water, do so for blooms next spring.

There is a splendid article on Hollyhocks in the August Southern Living that you may be interested in. They may be old-fashioned, but they are very colorful and attractive. Also they are an herbaceous perennial to come back year after year. The new double doesn't take so long to bloom, so if planted in the spring they will be blooming by mid-summer and continue until frost. They are blooming here in Ruidosa in so many yards, but all seem to be the old single variety. The new double are not so tall, so require less staking and bloom at a younger age, so try some if you haven't. They are colorful in crimson, scarlet, rose-pink, salmon, white and yellow.

Moore, Applewhite exchange vows in garden wedding

Ms. Shelly Dunn Moore became the bride of Mr. Jack Applewhite in a 5 o'clock ceremony Saturday afternoon, Aug. 4, in a garden wedding at the Riverhill Country Club in Kerrville. Rev. Richard Johnson, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Kerrville, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dunn of Kerrville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applewhite.

Mrs. Mark Wetzel of Austin, was matron of honor, and flower girl was Shannon Moore, daughter of the bride.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Soloist was Wally Rae Miller of Champlin, Minn.

Baskets of greenery and large potted plants adorned each side of the steps at the entrance to the club house.

A reception followed in the garden area.

Attending from Ozona besides the bridegroom's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Childress, Courtney and John Clayton. From Eldorado were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Preston, Trey and Hunter, and Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Nichols, Clifford and Derek of Shive.

Mr. and Mrs. Applewhite and Mrs. Willie V. Baggett Miller hosted a rehearsal buffet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Miller in Kerrville.

Letters to the Editor

August 1, 1984

Dear Kitty,

Thanks once again for keeping our paper coming to us here in Hood County long after it was over due.

Knowing your feelings about snares, I just have to tell you I had a run-in with a copperhead here in our backyard a couple of weeks ago. My 9-year-old daughter and I were tramping around in the dark at 10:30 at night when "whacko" it hit me on top of the foot. I had on leather thongs, so it had a clear shot and I got a full dose of venom. The trick is not to panic and I packed my foot in ice and called someone to drive me the 25 miles to the hospital in Weatherford. They put an IV into me and started shooting cortizone (a steroid) into the tube. After an overnight stay in C.C.U. I came home with a very sore foot. It later turned black and blue from deteriorated veins breaking because I didn't stay off it. All is well except for my foot being sore. I think a snake bite may not be as bad as it is cracked up to be, but it would be wise to be wary!

Yours truly,
Barbara Byrom

Douglas Newton of Brownwood visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M.E. Nicholas for ten days while his parents, Jennifer and Rick Newton, vacationed in Colorado. The family returned to Brownwood Saturday.

Nick Dacy of Eldorado and Sonora was also with his grandparents for several days during this period.

WE ARE SO LITTLE

One almost feels that Yosemite was designed to make us feel small. The sheer cliff of El Capitan at the end of the valley merely compounds the effect.

Perhaps we need occasional reminders from nature that we are neither as great or as powerful as we like to think... for God is the only creator. El Capitan is a piece of divine scripture that we haven't matched... nor can we!

Yet, the God-given stature of man has been described as "a little lower than the angels." Our might is realized as we grow in the spiritual dimensions of living.

Going to Church doesn't make people feel small. But it generally will open their eyes to their potential greatness.

Freshman Orientation

Marty Acton, Pam Wilton, Bo Aycock, Bobbie Acton and Marcelo Hernandez recently attended freshman orientation at Sul Ross State University in Alpine.

Five Ozonans attend Sul Ross orientation

Five Ozona students were among the 150 incoming students who participated in Sul Ross State University freshman orientation recently in preparation for the fall term. Attending were Martie and Bobbie Acton, Pam Wilton, Marcelo Hernandez, and Bo Aycock. Bobbie Acton is planning to major in physical education and minor in math, and Marty Acton is planning on majoring in industrial arts. Ms. Wilton will be studying elementary education with an English minor; Hernandez is planning to major in physical education; and Aycock will be studying agri-business.

During the orientation, students met with university officials, visited with faculty members and toured campus facilities. Students also took math and reading placement tests and worked on their fall class schedules. Get-acquainted activities for the students included a barbecue on the mall and a dance.

The purpose of orientation is to "eliminate as many of the surprises as possible," said Richard Manley, director of the center for Student Development and orientation director. "The fewer surprises incoming students encounter at the beginning of their college careers, the more successful they are."

Mrs. David North and Katie returned home here Friday after spending a week with her parents in Arlington.

Texas Board of Health backs continued DTP immunization

Despite some controversy over pertussis vaccine, the Texas Board of Health has urged the continued use of this immunization against whooping cough.

At its monthly meeting in Austin recently, Board members went on record for supporting the Texas Department of Health's use of DTP vaccine, which protects against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis or whooping cough.

The Health Department purchases DTP vaccine from commercial pharmaceutical manufacturers and distributes it free to local health departments around the state.

In June, Wyeth Laboratories, the manufacturer of DTP vaccine under contract with the TDH, announced it was discontinuing its production because of the high costs involved in defending against lawsuits over the vaccine's infrequent, harmful side effects. Because of legal costs and the limited availability of the pertussis vaccine, its price has sky-rocketed. Earlier this year a 15-dose vial cost $1.60. That price is expected to jump to $42—or 26 times the earlier price.

According to Commissioner of Health Dr. Robert Bernstein, the 45,000 vials needed by the TDH each year will now cost $1.9 million.

"The pertussis vaccine infrequently causes reactions which on very rare occasions are serious. The important thing, however, is that it does provide the needed protection against whooping cough," he told the Board.

Statistics show that serious reactions to the vaccine occur in only one out of 300,000 immunizations.

The Commissioner emphasized the need for the vaccine by explaining that in 1934 there were 265,269 reported cases of pertussis in the country and 7,518 deaths. In 1983, there were 2,258 cases and fewer than 10 deaths.

He urged parents to have their children immunized against pertussis saying, "The fact that there is little pertussis now is because of the use of the pertussis vaccine. Without the use of the vaccine, the disease will return in large numbers, and many children will die," he said.

Dr. Bernstein said one way or another the TDH will provide pertussis vaccine for Texas children who cannot get it otherwise. He added that the Department also will urge the continued acceptance of DTP immunizations by the public and its careful and controlled use by private physicians.

In addition, the Board of Health recommended that the TDH support efforts to promote federal legislation which would limit the liability related to producing DTP vaccine. Such legislation would allow pharmaceutical companies to produce the vaccine at reasonable prices.

State law requires that a child attending a day-care center be vaccinated against diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis. Any child attending an elementary or other school must have received either DTP vaccine or tetanus-diphtheria vaccine. Children attending child-care facilities or schools must also have received polio, measles, rubella and mumps vaccines.

County 4-H agents plan statewide confab

Educational seminars and tours aimed at professional as well as personal development will highlight the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Extension 4-H Agents Aug. 15-17 in Corpus Christi.

Theme of the annual conference, which will be at the Holiday Inn-Emerald Beach, is "Rounding Up Our Resources."

More than 150 county agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, are expected to attend the conference, notes Karen Vaughan of Robstown, Nueces County Extension agent and TAE4-HA president.

A major item on the conference agenda is the planning of the 1985 meeting of the National Association of Extension 4-H Agents which will be held in Fort Worth. "Our association is extremely proud to be hosting the national meeting next year," says Vaughan, "and we will be working hard to make it a memorable occasion for all who will be attending from across the nation."

This year's conference will open with a meeting of special committees that are working on the 1985 national conference. The opening day also will include a meeting and workshop for association directors along with registration for the conference.

The conference will officially open with a breakfast on Thursday, Aug. 16, which will feature a program on "The Image We Present."

Seminars will follow dealing with record keeping, wardrobe planning, seafood cookery, livestock production and management, and stress management.

Representatives of the NAE4-HA and of the southern region of the NAE4-HA also will address the conference.

The afternoon program will feature tours of the Weider Wildlife Refuge, King Ranch and the ports of Corpus Christi and Port Aransas.

Friday's program will include committee workshops and a business meeting and will be highlighted by an awards luncheon and the installation of new officers.

12 year-old Uvalde boy contracts primary amebic meningoencephalitis

A case of primary amebic meningoencephalitis has occurred in a twelve-year-old Uvalde boy who, reportedly, swam in the Frio River at Garner State Park, Uvalde County. This form of meningitis is caused by free-living Naegleria or Acanthamoeba amebas, normally found in many fresh-water ponds, lakes, and rivers. They multiply rapidly in stagnant waters at temperatures between 85 and 100°F.

Human illness may result within seven to ten days after exposure to the amebas. Infections may be acquired when infested water gets into the nasal passages. Primary amebic meningoencephalitis is characterized by sudden onset of headache, fever, nausea, vomiting, and stiff neck; almost always, death occurs within ten days.

In Texas, two cases of this disease were reported in 1980 (Travis and Polk Counties) and one case in 1983 (Bexar County resident). The disease is extremely rare. In one study, the risk of acquiring the disease by swimming in infested lakes was estimated to be less than one in 2.5 million exposures.

Cases are most likely to occur when temperatures are high and water levels low, conditions which lead to stagnation and multiplication of the amebas. Even under these conditions, clinical infection is rare. Any body of water which is or becomes stagnant can support rapid growth of these amebas. This includes lakes, ponds, rivers, and even swimming pools which are improperly or inadequately treated.

Why only one swimmer in over two million is infected is unknown. It may be pure chance or some anatomical or immunological abnormality which allows the ameba access. There is no way to predict who might become infected. It is not practical to attempt to place all potential sites of exposure off-limits for swimming. The actual risk is lower than many risks the public accepts every day. Therefore, the Texas Department of Health can only warn of the possibility and request that local health departments and the news media join it to inform the public regarding the conditions of local bodies of water used for swimming. Each individual and, in the case of children, parents must make the decision as to whether swimming in stagnant water under present conditions is worth the risk involved.

It rained on our parade Friday afternoon, but not enough to cancel the parade or any of the rodeo events.

The rain was intermittent throughout the evening, but all events at the show were run off as scheduled. When the final drips fell, only .2 of an inch was recorded in town.

Coaches attend school; practice to begin

Last week the Ozona High School coaching staff attended the Texas High School Coaches Association convention in Houston. Attending were Jack Probst, Gene Hood, John Curry, Don Payne, Thomas Hanson, David McWilliams, David Porter, Milby Sexton, Pete Maldonado, Rip Sewell and Jim Green. This staff was part of the record-setting crowd of 8,249 coaches who attended.

Coaches who had coached 25 years and more were presented plaques announcing this honor. Rip Sewell and Milby Sexton were two of the recipients.

John Curry also brought distinction to the staff by being elected to the state staff of directors by being elected to the basketball advisors position from Region 4, for a 2-year term. The advisors from each of 8 regions meet as a committee to make recommendations to the UIL Legislative Council concerning basketball as a UIL activity.

Local coaches were treated to lectures by outstanding coaches from around the nation. The Ozona staff received a couple of special treats. Dean Campbell, defensive secondary coach for the University of Texas Longhorns, held a mini-clinic for the coaches. Later in the week Rip Sewell arranged for the University of Houston defensive coordinator, Don Todd, to hold a similar session at the motel where the Ozona coaches were staying.

Sewell coached Todd in High school and the staff heard some interesting stories about Todd's playing days when he was a teammate of Ozona's Jim Williams.

Coaches returned to Ozona Friday and are working hard to prepare for the upcoming season. Ozona's athletes will have physical exams at the high school library Wednesday at 4:00 p.m. Football players will then proceed to the field house to check out shoes. Practice will begin Monday of next week.

Workout schedule: 5 to 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, 7:30 to 9 a.m. and 5 to 7 p.m. Wednesday through Friday.

Guild formed for county artists and craftsmen

It has been stated that there are probably more artists and craftsmen per capita in Crockett County than in any other area of West Texas. In addition, our community can take pride in the superb quality of its resident arts and crafts people. Anyone who viewed the art exhibit held recently at the Ozona National Bank can attest to the abundance of talent to be found in Crockett County.

In order to assist the many and varied talents of Crockett County residents, Crockett County Arts & Crafts Guild has been formed.

Crockett County Arts & Crafts Guild is a non-profit organization comprised of artists and craftsmen who live or work within Crockett County. The purpose of the Guild is to promote arts and crafts within Crockett County.

The Guild is currently planning two arts and crafts fairs a year. In addition, they hope to sponsor lectures, demonstrations, exhibits and project meetings designed to help artists and craftsmen share ideas and knowledge.

There will be an open-house type membership drive meeting at the Civic Center auditorium on Thursday, August 16th at 7:30 p.m. Everyone in Crockett County is invited to attend. Guild members will be on hand to answer questions.

Crockett County Arts & Crafts Guild welcomes the participation of anyone in Crockett County who is interested in the advancement of arts and crafts.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mason and Mrs. Rufus Ward returned home recently from an extended tour of Europe.

Youth must re-enroll each year in 4-H. 4-H projects which will be offered for 1984-85 include: Food/Nutrition (cooking), Sheep (lamb feeding), Goats (commercial Angora) Shooting Sports (rifle, archery), Clothing (Personal Appearance and sewing), Flower Arranging, Horse Judging, Range and Grass Judging, Wool Judging, Livestock Judging, Demonstrations and Share the Fun, Horse, and Babysitting.

4-H enrollment forms will be available at school enrollment sites or they may be picked up at the County Extension Office. Anyone interested in 4-H must complete an enrollment form whether they are first time or several year members.

If you have purchased new clothing items for school or fall wear recently, you'll be interested in knowing how to protect your investment for longest wear. How a garment is cleaned depends upon fiber content, fabric weave, or finish, and design. Always check care labels and care for fabric as recommended.

Care labels are easier to read and understand following the January 2, 1984 Care Labeling Law. Washing and dry cleaning labeling were standardized for easier consumer clothing care. A few tips for clothing care are below.

Always pretreat stains and heavily soiled areas with a gentle stain remover and follow the instructions for best results.

To remove old stains and lighten discolored fabrics, soak the garment in a presoak laundry detergent. Again, pay close attention to fabric recommendations on detergent box labels.

Liquid dishwashing detergents will harm wool or silk fabrics. Although they are designed to cut grease, they will also remove natural oils from the fabric. Instead use soaps designed for hand-washables.

Knits and loosely woven garments will stretch out of shape when hung, so lay them on a light-colored towel to dry. Trace an outline of the dry garment on cardboard or brown paper before beginning so the wet garment can be shaped to its original size.

If sweaters are accidentally shrunk, soak them in warm water with several capfuls of good hair shampoo. This softens the fibers so the garment can be reshaped.

To reduce staining, allow deodorants, antiperspirants, and perfumes to dry before dressing. Make or buy dress shields for garments and wear absorbent undergarments made of cotton, linen or silk.

If perspiration odors are a problem, add one drop of ammonia to wash water. A few drops of vinegar or glycerine in the final rinse water helps keep sweaters soft and prevents itching.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

August has arrived. My, summer is slipping away, isn't it?

We gave to four school age students who have helped this summer, certificates of appreciation for all their help. Receiving their certificates early were Barbara, Dwayne, Tammy, and Monica Davee. We were glad that they shared part of their summer with us and do hope they will come again next year.

Weekly events included two movies, resident's council meeting, dominoes, and bingo. More about our bingo winners next week. We also had a song service by the Davee foursome.

Many thanks goes to Velma Marley and Georgia Kirby for bringing our residents a colorful fruit plate for Sunshine Hour, to Rev. Nelson Lanham for filling in for Bible study on Thursday, to Maria Vitela and her large group of ladies who came for Spanish Hour of Praise and to the United Methodist Church for Sunday's service.

We were pleased to have Ruth Hester and Doris Karr both back for ceramic class on Wednesday. We also want to thank Ann Shaw for cleaning and decorating some green-ware for us.

Thanks also goes to the Jay Miller family for sharing their memorial flowers and to Anna Bell Patrick for memorials in memory of the mother of Barbara Burnett and the father-in-law of Audrey Glynn.

Thursday morning we had a nice treat when Patti Coates along with her daughter Mindy helped Karla Turland and seven toddlers and Lisa Branch and eleven preschoolers sing for our Care Center residents. We are pleased to have this new group from the United Methodist Day Care Center come and we want them to come again soon.

Clara Byrd and Vivian Hughes assisted Lola Rios with the beauty shop on Thursday morning. We appreciate all these ladies do for us.

Ola Mills had a birthday on Saturday August 4, and the family members have been here in Ozona celebrating all week. Isn't that a great way to show a mother how special she is!

Many thanks goes to Katherine Russell for laminating our R.O. board words and letters for us this week.

Friends, keep visiting!

Individuals fund Gramm; Labor unions aid Doggett

A comparison of Phil Gramm's and Lloyd Doggett's campaign finance reports has shown that almost 80 percent of Congressman Gramm's campaign funds have been contributed by individual citizens.

In contrast, Doggett's donations from individuals amounted to only just over 60 percent of his total financing. Doggett's reports also reveal that he has tapped labor unions and used personal wealth to help make up the difference.

"I am proud that so many thousands of individuals have invested their confidence in me," Gramm said. "I promise that their money will be put to work for the working people who contributed it."

Financial support from organized groups was widely divergent.

For example, Doggett listed a total of $96,000 from 33 labor unions on his report for May 14 through June 30 alone.

Doggett also collected donations from such groups as the liberal Americans for Democratic Action ($1,000); the Human Rights Fund of Washington, a gay-lesbian rights group ($1,000); the Council for a Livable World, a Massachusetts nuclear freeze organization ($5,830); and the political fund operated by Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass., ($5,000).

Contributions to the Phil Gramm campaign included $100 from Blue Bell Creameries in Brenham; $500 from the Veterans of Foreign Wars; $5,000 from the Texas Cattle Feeders Association in Amarillo; and $5,000 from Citizens for the Republic, founded by President Reagan.

Food, Nutrition Workshop slated for Texas 4-H youth

Texas 4-H youth will be the beneficiaries of a statewide Food and Nutrition Workshop slated for Aug. 17-19 at the Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood.

"The workshop is designed to train volunteer 4-H leaders who, in turn, will return home and train other volunteers in food and nutrition topics," points out Gayle Hall, 4-H specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "In essence, we hope to create a multiplier effect among volunteer leaders who receive the training."

4-H leaders as well as county Extension agents from across Texas will receive training on a host of topics related to food and nutrition and on how to teach this subject matter to young people, notes Hall. Thus both adults and youth will have a broader knowledge of the importance of good nutrition.

The upcoming workshop is being made possible by a grant from the National Oats Co. of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Hall points out.

Conducting the training will be Extension food and nutrition specialists Dr. Alice Hunt and Dr. Dymple Cooksey; Michele Lawler, home economist with National Oats; Preston Sides, Extension 4-H specialist; and Hall.

Assisting with the training will be five volunteer leaders who have represented Texas at previous National Food and Nutrition Leader Forums in Washington, D.C. They are Barbara Peters, Port Lavaca; Carol Smith, New Boston; Katie McDonald, Pampa; Linda Harden, Tyler; and Diane DeKeraty, Amarillo.

These leaders have accepted the challenge to enroll and teach 4-H members, to secure and train other volunteers, and to create effective local food and nutrition programs, says Hall.

Child sex abuse workshop, Aug. 13

Cindy Dennis, Child Protective Services Specialist, workshop coordinator has announced a half-day meeting for professionals who are concerned with the shocking increase in the problem of sexual abuse of children.

The meeting, scheduled for August 13, at Sonora Jr. High School will feature panelists who handle child sexual abuse cases representing various professions: J. W. Johnson, Sutton County Attorney; Betsy Thornton, Psychological Associate, and John Brogden, Educational Coordinator.

Along with Cindy Dennis, other members of the committee are Brock Jones, 112th Judicial District Judge; V. Murray Jordan, 198th Judicial District Judge; Charles Sherrill, Sutton County Judge; Frank Sandel, Reagan County Judge; Cleon Nunnally, MD, Reagan County; Ralph Anderson, Crockett County Child Welfare Board Member; Wilbur R. Dunk, Kimble County Judge; Otis H. Lyckman, Menard County Judge; Ted Cotton, Asst. Supt. Crockett County CCSD; Linda Carta, Sutton

County Child Welfare Board Member.

The number of identified cases of child sexual abuse in Texas has risen dramatically each recent year. During 1982, 4,951 cases of child sexual abuse were confirmed. Texas Department of Public Safety estimates 7,164 child sexual abuse cases are reported, 14% under 6 years of age. Of the total, 85% are females.

Many authorities agree that the figure may be as high as 1 in 4 children who have been victims.

Some studies conclude that over 70% of the cases involve a perpetrator known to the child and that these cases are the least likely to be reported.

Discussion groups will exchange information and techniques for current handling of cases, and John Brogden of Multi-disciplinary Institute for Child Sexual Abuse Intervention and Treatment will describe a for-credit training course available for professions.
