Gas tank explosion

on the Turkey Roost ranch last week sent a cloud of smoke and flames billowing into the sky. Firemen pulled back to a safe distance just before the burning tank exploded and flew through the air 109 yards. Ozona Fireman Larry McMann is dwarfed by smoke and flames, even at a safe distance from the plant.

Lions and coaches set benefit game

The Ozona Lions Club and the Ozona Lions coaching staff, will hold a benefit basketball game Thursday, Feb. 21, at Davidson Gym at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1 for students, and may be purchased from any Lions Club member or at the door.

The game between the Lions Club, who are billed as the Shortbreaths, and the coaching staff, known as the Doubledribblers, should prove a fun evening even for those who are not basketball fans. The charity to benefit from the proceeds will be chosen at the regular noon meeting of the Lions Club tomorrow.

The roster for the Shortbreaths include the following: Dr. Steve (Sure-shot) Sessom, Sandy Stokes, Dr. G. better known as Gary Vannoy, Stan Lambert, Pon (Slam-bamming) Seahorn, Leapin' Louis Hall, Jim (Tree-trunk) House, Steve Williams, Lloyd Winkley, Johnny Jones and Bobby (Bullet) Aycock, among others.

The team has covered all bases, as they have appointed Troy Williams as legal counsel; Dr. Don Carlisle, team doctor; Dr. Sessom, team dentist; Dr. Vannoy, team veterinarian; Sandy Stokes, tax advisor, and Seahorn & Lambert, financial consultants. The team will probably offer these services to the coaching staff, in the unlikely case they are needed.

The coaching staff, known as the Doubledribblers, features such stalwarts as Jim (Ace-bandage) Green, John (Automatic) Curry, Don Payne, David (Trick-shot) McWilliams, David Porter, Jack Probst, Pistol Pete Maldonado, Gene (the machine) Hood, Milby Sexton, Glenn Graham, Mark Duncan and Thomas Hanson.

The Stockman hereby offers a free subscription to all those who show up for work following the game, which will be Friday, Feb. 22. Just bring a notarized copy of your appearance on the job and you will get the paper weekly in your post office box.

Local 4-H members at SA livestock show

Crockett County 4-H youth exhibited livestock at the San Antonio Livestock Show last week.

Sharon McCrohan had the Reserve Grand Champion Lamb carcass in the carcass show. The finewool crossbred lamb was bred by Bud Cox. The carcass sold for $750.00.

Some 30 other youth exhibited 73 lambs and 5 steers in the show. Some 2400 lambs were in the show this year. This is the largest lamb show in the southwest. Local youth placed 7 lambs in the premium sale and 4 lambs in the carcass show. In the light weight finewool class Vickie Reagor placed sixteenth and in the middle weight finewool class Julie Reagor, 18th; Tammy Arrott, 22nd, and Trebie West, 25th. In the light weight finewool cross class, Tamie Reagor placed 16th, Julie Reagor, 18th. In the middle weight cross class Tammy Arrott, 25th. Firemen avert injury in gas tank explosion

Ozona firemen ran into a potentially dangerous situation when they received a call to a J. Cleo Thompson gas plant the morning of February 5. The plant is located east of Ozona on the Childress Turkey Roost Ranch. When firemen arrived they found employees had controlled the original fire, caused by a part failure. However, fire remained around the base of a 10,000 gallon condensate tank. The end result was a loss to the company of $150,000, not counting the loss in production time.

4-H members to exhibit in Houston show

Thirty-five 4-H members from Crockett County will be participating in the 1985 Houston Livestock Show, held Feb. 16-March 3. Animals exhibited by these competitors are a part of the 16,313 junior show entries expected for this year's show. Additionally, 8,960 open show entries and 3,011 horse show entries are expected for exhibition at the 1985 show.

The Houston Livestock Show, considered the world's largest, holds competition on two levels: for professional breeders and ranchers throughout the world and for FFA and 4-H members, representing 788 clubs and chapters, from throughout Texas.

A total of 34 market lambs will be exhibited by local youths. This includes Jena Allen, Tammy Arrott, Carri Chandler, Julie Childress, Martin Childress, Leigh Ann Coates, Jeanie Cooper, Shane Cooper, Keith Fowler, Misty Fowler, Brock Jones III, Margaret Jones, Lance Keilers, Marandy Keith, Roger Martinez, Sharon McCrohan, Robin Myers, Donna Jo Patrick, Sarah Pullen, Susan Pullen, Julie Reagor, Tamie Reagor, Vickie Reagor, Kenneth Sessom, Summer Shacklette, Joseph Stephens, Andy Stokes, Cody Sutton, Greg Underwood, Chad Upham, George Wall, Tamel West, Trebie West and John Williams.

The three Reagor girls, Julie, Tamie and Vickie, will also show market steers. Ira Childress, who was a big winner in last year's show will show nine angora goats.

NOTICE - All persons interested in the Crockett County Cemetery Association are urged to meet Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. at the courthouse annex. Everyone who owns a lot at the cemetery are members of the association. The annual meeting was scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday, but the County Judge could not get in touch with the board members and it was not otherwise made public, so there was no one present for the meeting.

The burning gas was coming from inside the tank. It was a self sustaining process. The longer the fire burned the more vapors were produced and the larger the fire. Firemen attempted to cool the tank and reduce the pressure. They could have extinguished the flames, but a greater problem would have been created as the gas could not be cut off. Many sources of ignition were in the area.

For nearly ten minutes, firemen attempted to cool the tank, hoping for a reduction in the pressure. With water tanks half empty, fire personnel saw they were fighting a losing battle. Instead of decreasing, the pressure was continuing to build. Just how long the vent line would be able to keep the tank from exploding was unknown. The decision was made to withdraw and let the tank burn itself out, with personnel at safe distance. This proved to be a life saving move.

After a period of 45 minutes, the fire around the tank began to decrease. Sounds of the escaping gas also indicated a reduction in pressure. It looked as though the fuel inside was being consumed. In fact, the vent line had been heated and the pipe was beginning to close off, preventing the release of pressure.

The tank suddenly exploded, throwing the large tank 109 yards. Heat from the explosion could be felt by units one half mile away.

After the explosion, units waited as a second tank, also filled with condensate, vented down to safe levels. The second tank did not explode, and after 20 minutes, the situation stabilized and firemen returned to extinguish the fire.

Commissioners hold regular meeting

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met in regular monthly meeting February 11, and conducted the meeting in the absence of Precinct 2 commissioner B.W. Stuart.

Most of the day was taken up with reports from department heads, approval of financial reports and bills for payment, plus opening of bids in several areas.

The Ozona National Bank submitted the only bid for a county depository and it was accepted.

Veva Vargas and Sandy Stokes were appointed to the Crockett County Historical Commission. Mrs. R. A. Harrell submitted her resignation as chairman of the commission as of December 31, 1984, after serving in that position for many years. The court decided to allow other members of the commission appoint a new chairman.

L-B Motor Co. had the low bid for four new cars for the sheriff's department and it was accepted. Moore Oil Co. got the contract for county fuel. Collins Ambulance Co. got the bid for the new ambulance with a bid of $39,299, allowing $7,000 for trade in of the old ambulance, for a total cost of $32,299. The low bid was accepted in all cases.

A lengthy discussion on the legality of using county road department employees and equipment on private property was headed up by County Attorney Tom Cameron. It was decided to wait until all commissioners were present before taking action on the subject.

The court re-appointed County Judge A.O. Fields and Commissioner Sostenes DeHoyos to the county appraisal board.

A representative of a heating and cooling company met with the court to discuss the problem in that area with the Civic Center. An additional unit was recommended.

The annual County Cemetery Association meeting was scheduled for 1:00 p.m. but the only members of the board present were Judge Fields and County Clerk Debbi Puckett, who is secretary of the association. The court scheduled an open meeting with the public for Tuesday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m. at the courthouse annex.

Head-on collision here Friday injures five persons

A two-vehicle head-on collision sent five persons to Crockett County Hospital here Friday night. The accident occurred 2 miles west of Ozona on Hwy. 290.

Ozona firemen extricated one of the wreck victims with the Jaws of Life, but there was no fatalities.

We were not able to list the injured, nor get information on the injuries. Both vehicles were from out-of-town.

Trooper Cliff Babbitt investigated the accident.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas lawmakers worked steadily in committees last week to reduce the impending state deficit, and a handful of legislation inched closer to passage.
Meanwhile, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals refused to review the commercial bribery indictment of Attorney General Jim Mattox, leaving Feb. 11 intact as the opening day of Mattox's trial.
His lawyers wanted the indictment thrown out on the grounds it is fundamentally defective. Mattox is charged with threatening to use the powers of the Attorney General's office to block the municipal bond business of a Houston law firm.

run against him next year bumped heads a little last week over the water plan. Hightower, supporting Montford's plan to dedicate a $200 million bond plan to water for agriculture, was rebuked by Sen. Bill Sarpalio who wants a $500 million bond plan. But Hightower, who earlier watched Craddick wipe out all his proposals in the House version, replied he had learned not to expect everything he wanted from the Legislature.
In other Capitol events: —The Court of Criminal Appeals overturned a state law prohibiting sale of beer to intoxicated persons. The law was too vague in establishing guidelines to detect drunkenness.
—Two Democratic senators urged the governor to reappoint Republican attorney Harry Whittington to the Board of Corrections because of his work in initiating prison reforms. Four board positions are available and Gov. White's office said Whittington is in the running for reappointment.
—White met with Pentagon officials for a briefing on the role of 450 Texas Army National Guard troops scheduled for training exercises in Central America. The troops will go to Honduras, bordering the two revolt-torn countries of El Salvador and Nicaragua.

Parimutuel Betting
Opposition has surfaced to the parimutuel betting bill on three fronts:
—Gov. Mark White last week repeated his pledge to veto the bill unless it contained a statewide referendum. The version recently introduced calls for voter approval only in affected counties.
—Black legislators, who provided momentum when the bill almost passed last session, withdrew their support last week because the present version does not dedicate proceeds to Aid to Families with Dependent Children.
“Horsereading has forgotten who some of their friends are,” commented Black caucus chairman Paul Ragsdale, D-Dallas. The caucus wants dedicated revenues to welfare put back into the bill.
— Baylor University chancellor Abner McCall unveiled a list of 200 prominent Texans opposed to the bill. McCall chairs the Anti-Crime Council of Texas which opposes horserace gambling.
Indications are strong that the support of the Black Caucus could be readily regained. Ragsdale, himself, introduced a bill last week to legalize parimutuel betting on dog racing. The bill limits dog tracks to four coastal counties: Jefferson, Galveston, Nueces and Cameron.

Water Legislation
The House is expected to begin debate this week on a water bill stressing development which passed unanimously out of committee last week. A Senate version emphasizing conservation and water for agriculture may reach the debate stage this week.
The water plan issue is complicated to the layman, but fraught with drama for the players involved. Two dominant personalities are Rep. Tom Craddick, R-Midland, who authors the House version, and Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, sponsor of the Senate version, and they are destined to confront one another in a conference committee.

TREASURY TAX PLAN: PLUS AND MINUSES

By Edwin Feulner
While the much-talked-about tax reform proposals put forth by former Treasury Secretary Donald Regan signal that the administration intends to keep its campaign promise not to chase the federal deficit with individual tax increases, the Treasury plan is not without fault.
Among the good news for taxpayers is that the Treasury proposal would increase the personal exemption for taxpayers and their dependents to $2,000, from the current $1,000. In addition, the proposal would increase to $2,500 per year, the maximum amount each of us could invest in an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), and allow non-working spouses to contribute an equal amount to an IRA, instead of the present $250. The current maximum for a working person is $2,000.
The bad news is that by shifting the tax burden onto business — a big lie if there ever was one, since businesses will just pass on these increases to consumers — the tax plan could slow down economic growth.
The reason for this is that the increases are aimed directly at those provisions of the tax code which stimulate job-creating investment in small and growing businesses.
Under the proposed tax plan, all U.S. corporations would be taxed a flat 33 percent of income. However, the Treasury tax plan also calls for the elimination of the Investment Tax Credit and Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS) — features of the tax code enacted in 1981, which many have credited with creating the investment boom that led to the 1983 recovery. The Treasury proposal also calls for an increase in capital gains taxes — which would help dry up investment capital.
The corporate income tax changes pose several problems. First, there is the matter of truthfulness. Because no matter how you fudge it, the business tax really amounts to a “hidden” tax on consumers, since businesses will be forced to raise their prices.
Also, by increasing the capital gains tax and eliminating the ACRS and Investment Tax Credit, the proposal will tend to undermine the Treasury's goal of designing a “pro-growth” tax bill.
Another questionable change is the proposal to limit the deductibility of charitable contributions. This directly conflicts with the administration's support for the privatization of federal activities — a goal which can only be accomplished by greater reliance on charitable organizations.
The bottom line is that the Treasury proposal encourages economic growth less than most of the other tax reform proposals now before Congress. It should be examined and judged not only as an alternative to present tax law, but in contrast with the several “flat-tax” proposals before Congress.
While the Treasury proposal takes a few tentative steps in the right direction, it is far from being the best alternative available.
(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After the very cold weather we have had, it is necessary to plan carefully and take advantage of every favorable opportunity the weather affords to keep abreast of spring work. If you want to have the year around beauty for your garden make your plans early. This should include both annuals and perennials which is a plant that blooms, lives and seeds more than two years. They are the ones that are non-woody and the top dies to the ground each winter, but resumes growth in the spring. Examples include phlox, peonies, and iris and some plant societies include tulips, hyacinth and narcissi as perennial bulbs. Herbaceous perennials include many of our most beloved garden flowers. Some live on almost indefinitely, while others have a tendency to die out after a few years. Their relative permanence and long life in the garden have been their principle cultural assets, and in this group we find many of our most beautiful and most dependable garden flowers. In our own West Texas area we can have beautiful season-long color by combining both hardy and tender bulbs, and annuals with perennials.

Whether you have a long border or only a 2-foot one, you can easily get continued bloom in it by distributing bold back-bone perennials in groups of two or three of each variety, starting with such early to late subjects as iris, peony, day lily, phlox, michaelmas daisy and chrysanthemum.

Leave enough space between clumps to plant early mid-season and late daffodils and tulips. Use the bulbs in groups of at least 6 each placing them in the center of the bed so that later blooming perennials or annuals will hide their yellowing foliage. If these hardy bulbs are planted deep, the annuals can be planted over the undisturbed bulbs.

In between the bulbs and perennials, fill in with dainty flowers or contrasting foliage such as columbine and shasta daisies. To add a cooling effect use the gray artemisia (dusty miller) or gray-leaved santolina. All these may be used as accent plants, shrubby plantings, color around a bird bath, patio plantings, odd corners or against a wall or fence.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

There was a three-way tie for the top spot in Duplicate Bridge Club play Sunday afternoon at the Country Club. Teams tied include Leota Cox-Kitty Montgomery; Mrs. Gene Williams-Mrs. John Childress, and Mrs. Joe Friend and Mrs. Sidney Millsbaugh.

An appointment is a privilege and an obligation.

It means that at a given hour all else will be put aside because of the importance of the matter which prompted the appointment.

It means that something of concern to you is of equal concern to someone else.

It means that facts are to be explained, problems studied, goals agreed on, progress made.

And—most of all—an appointment means that the issue involved is urgent and must be dealt with NOW!

The most important appointment in every week is the one at worship. Your appointment with God!

Pandale Study Club meets at Mills home and elects officers

The Pandale Study Club met Thursday, February 7, at the ranch home of Josephine Mills. Club president, Lou Deaton, presided over the business meeting during which officers were elected for the coming club year. Serving through 1985-1987 will be Barbara Malone, president; Becky Young, vice-president and program chairman; Ginger Perner, secretary-treasurer; Judy Norsworthy, historian-photographer and Lou Deaton, reporter-parliamentarian.

Beans, chili, Mexican rice, tamales, salad, rolls, tea and coffee along with dessert of pralines, peanut brittle and millionaire chocolates were served by club members to their guests at the luncheon that followed the business meeting. "Fiesta" dinnerware with brightly colored cups and napkins enhanced the Mexican and Indian theme of the day.

Jack Skiles, manager of the Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry showed slides after lunch to illustrate his interesting and informative talk about "The Indians of the Pandale Area". The rare and unusual "painted rocks" left by early Indians are found only in a 60 mile area around the mouth of the Pecos River. A recent discovery--not open to the public--near the Seminole Canyon Historical Site west of Comstock of a presumed "burial" site, has prompted further investigation of other "holes in the ground" in the Pecos Canyon country. Mr. Skiles pointed out that although primitive people lived in the Pandale vicinity for many centuries, the Apache Indians left the most recent evidence of their presence--and not much at that. Only a little more than 100 years ago, the last skirmish between soldiers and Indians in the Pandale area occurred at Howard Springs on Howard Draw. Mr. Skiles, who is currently preparing a book of the history of the Langtry area--the early peoples, the settlers, Judge Roy Bean times--said in closing that much remains to be done in "solving the mysteries left by the Indian and other peoples of the Pandale area."

Sharing and displaying their Indian artifacts collected over the years were Dorothy Askins, Fred DuBose, Myrtle Malone, and Josephine and Henry Mills. Several of the ladies were wearing "squaw" dresses and hostess Josephine Mills was also wearing a turkey feather headdress.

Members and guests present were Sue Arledge, Lela Bunger, Lou Deaton, Opal Everett, Sara and Jim Hargraves, Barbara Malone, Myrtle Malone, Josephine and Henry Mills, Ginger Perner, Jessie and Ted White, Vonnie Womack, Vashti Skiles and Jack Skiles of Langtry, Donna and Fred DuBose and W.O. Mills of Pandale, Doris Moore of Ozona and Dorothy Askins of Pumpville.

Computer speeds up GTE repairs

Telephone trouble is never pleasant but this week General Telephone has introduced a system that will make getting it fixed a lot faster for all Concho Valley customers.

The new system feeds customer trouble reports into a computer, displaying them on video terminals at GTE's repair headquarters in San Angelo.

"Prior to this, we used the traditional paper forms when people called us to report telephone trouble," said GTE general Manager E. O. Cambren. "Now it's all electronic, and the repair information is instantly available to all related departments."

Prior to this week's conversion to the new system, GTE officials said it took about an hour from the time the customer called until the information was ready to be dispatched to a repairman. Now it takes just seconds.

"Our actual repair time once in the repairman's hands has not changed," noted Cambren. "But the time-consuming paperwork up front has been eliminated. This means more convenience and speed for the customer."

The "Trouble Analysis System," or TAS, becomes operational for all Concho Valley area GTE customers this week.

Upcoming Events

February 14-The Progressive Extension Homemakers Club will be meeting Thursday at 12:00 noon, at the Civic Center. Irene Page, County Liaison for Family Shelter and Referral Service from San Angelo will be presenting the program on "child and family abuse."

February 16-The 4-H Clothing Workshop will be held Saturday, 8:00 a.m.-12:45 p.m. at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. Rotating sessions will include quick sewing-plastic canvas weaving; Picture Perfect-facial and hand care by Melissa Hintz and Monica Schwartz; Modeling and Fitness by Mary Helen Parks; Hair Fashions by Ten Sepeda and Kathy Morris; and Conscious Consumer-selecting ready-made garments by Rachel Hall. Some of these sessions are advanced for 4-Hers 12 and older. 4-Hers may attend the workshop and choose not to "sew" a garment later. However, these lessons are necessary prior to beginning a 4-H sewing project.

Some may think it's easier to go to a store and buy clothes, but is it really worth the effort and cost?

If and when you do shop for ready-to-wear, do you always find what you want? Fit and size are common problems, since ready-to-wear clothes aren't made to fit one specific person. Making your own clothes allows you to adjust for variations in hip and shoulder areas.

Creativity and quality are two important aspects of home sewing, since you can design a garment that is exactly right for you. When you make it yourself, you know how it was made and if something goes wrong, such as a seam ripping or a button popping off, you have no one to blame but yourself. Chances are if you sewed it yourself, it's going to be the highest quality and there won't be any problems.

As added bonus to home sewing is financial savings. According to an article by Linda Stewart for the "Village Voice", when you purchase designer's fashions the name accounts for 14% or more of the retail price and 100% or more markup can be due to overhead costs.

Even with high prices, ready-to-wear manufacturers aren't trying to pull the wool over anyone's eyes. Higher retail prices are necessary to cover costs of labor, salaries, and utilities.

It's bad enough that adults have to pay so much for clothing, but the high prices also exist in childrenswear. Making clothes for children can result in savings of 50 to 80 percent. One survey indicated that a size 4-6X dress purchased in a department store for $22-68 can be made in 2 1/2-3 hours for a cost of $8-$11 and save 80%; simple T-shirts costing $7-$11 in a store can be made in 30 minutes for $2-$3 and save 67%; while warm-up suits purchased for $18-$32 might be made in two hours for $9-$12.

Everyone has a different reason for home sewing, but the bottom line is, you can be creative, look your best, feel good about it, and not spend a large fortune.

Cancer: The Good News

Tim Dillard describes himself as "just a country boy from Cross Plains," yet he dreams of traveling to faraway places someday.

Now 24, Dillard dares to share some of those dreams—especially about going to Hawaii—because he appears to be winning his personal war against cancer. He is also busy running the flower shop he owns and planning improvements for the garden he enjoys in his hometown near Abilene.

"I thank the good Lord every day that I've been so fortunate. The doctors in Houston said I had a pretty bad case—and there were times when I felt like I might not make it," Dillard recalls.

Testicular cancer is the type he had. Although relatively uncommon, it strikes young men between 18 and 35, often interrupting their college or career plans. Dillard had never heard about testicular cancer until his diagnosis was confirmed in late 1981, but he has plenty to say about it now.

"Every young man needs to know that a lump or pain in his testicles could be serious. There's no time to waste in getting to a doctor," Dillard says.

The cure rate for testicular cancer when the tumors are contained inside the testicles is virtually 100 percent. Even when the malignancies have spread, as Dillard's cancer had to one of his lungs and several lymph nodes, surgery along with potent anti-cancer drugs can successfully treat 75 percent or more patients. Radiation therapy also may be used in some cases.

Dillard had two operations and multiple courses of chemotherapy at The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston. He has been free of any signs of cancer for nearly two years.

Curing testicular cancer and many other malignancies depends in large part on men and women of all ages paying attention to warnings from within their bodies and looking for clues among their loved ones.

Being cancer-conscious means women take a few minutes each month to examine their breasts for lumps and men check periodically for enlarged—and usually painless—testicles.

Other early warning signs that might signal cancer include changes in bowel or bladder habits, unusual bleeding, sores that don't heal, altered appearances of warts and moles, persistent hoarseness, nagging coughs, difficulty in swallowing and any unexplained bumps or lumps.

"Detecting most cancers early can mean the difference between cure and a poorer prognosis for many people. It is imperative that people seek medical help the moment they notice something out of the ordinary," maintains Dr. Helmuth Goepfert, chairman of head and neck surgery at M.D. Anderson Hospital.

"One message we simply must get across is that people cannot be treated successfully for most cancers until they replace their fears with facts. Getting accurate information and, in some cases, second opinions is everyone's right and responsibility," Dr. Goepfert notes.

Regular breast self-examination by millions of American women gets credit for improving breast cancer survival rates over the past 20 years. Women over 50 and those who have a family history of this type are at increased risk for breast cancer, which affects one in nearly every 10 women in this country.

Dianna Landrum practiced breast self-examination, yet she didn't notice "a funny lump" in her right breast until trying on new clothes in May of 1983. She sought a second medical opinion for the initial diagnosis and soon afterward chose to have both breasts removed because the specialist said her type of malignancy frequently recurred in the opposite breast.

"I didn't want to face a second mastectomy down the road," she recalls.

Landrum, now 39, remembers thinking she was "too young" to have breast cancer. After the bilateral mastectomy—a modified radical on her right breast and a much simpler procedure on the left breast—she chose to undergo reconstructive surgery.

"My husband, Ben, was very supportive at every step...and soon after the reconstruction was completed he took me on a cruise to celebrate. I was able to wear low-cut bathing suits, sun dresses, a revealing evening gown and other clothes that never would have been possible otherwise," she said.

Having three children, ages 11 to 16, means diverse activities for the Landrums, who live in the Woodlands north of Houston. "Recently, I felt wonderful when I was able to ride the rapids again in New Braunfels," she confided.

More options than ever are available now for women diagnosed with breast cancer, although there is debate among medical specialists on the best approaches for some types. Limited surgery combined with radiation therapy is becoming more common for smaller tumors. This regimen not only saves most of the breast tissues but it has produced treatment results equal to more radical operations in many studies. Chemotherapy is being used with increasing success to prevent recurrences and to treat breast cancers which have spread to other body sites.

There is no debate, however, on the value of women practicing regular breast self-examination, perhaps after the monthly menstrual period. Professional breast examinations should be done at least every three years from age 20 to 40, and annually thereafter.

National guidelines also have been approved advising women to have low-dose X-ray tests called mammograms at varying intervals to pick up extremely small lesions, some as tiny as a pencil eraser. A baseline mammogram is recommended for most women between ages 35 and 39, then every one to two years between 40 and 49, and annual after age 50. Women at higher risk for breast cancer and those with abnormal mammographic findings should be followed more closely.

CROCKETT COUNTY CARE CENTER NEWS

By Ann McCartney
Director Of Activities & Social Care

Music was really in the air last Monday when Clara Byrd and Vivian Hughes conducted a sing-along with our residents using our rhythm band instruments. Girl Scouts Troop #189 dropped by and assisted also.

Bingo winners on Tuesday and Friday included: Virginia Russell, winner of the certificate for an El Chato's dinner for two, Inez Biggs, second place winner, and Hilda Dy-sart, first place winner of the gift certificate from the Teacher Store. We welcomed new residents Trinidad Alvarado and Lucia Rios to our games. Tuesday morning caller was Bonnie Warth with Lelia Tambunga calling on Friday. Other volunteers helping one, or both days, included Elodia Zapata, Mattie Cooper, Amalia Lumberas, Sophia Tijerina, Dorothy Doll, Anna Bell Patrick and Velma Marley.

Ceramics on Wednesday morning was conducted by volunteer Lynette Davidson. Residents participating included Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Hilda Dysart, Nina Mayfield, Ola Mills, Billie Whatley and Moriamama Perez. Alice Ross finished painting the Valentine plaques for the dining room during this time also. Reading was held on Wednesday afternoon. Dorothy Doll assisted with this project.

Thursday morning beauty shop was manned by Clara Byrd, Vivian Hughes, Mary Jo Lipham, Betty Bullard and Nelda Wagoner.

Charles Huffman and five fellow church members from the Faith Lutheran Church came for Bible study this week.

Sunday afternoon Church services were conducted by fifteen members of the Catholic Church. An excellent sermon and song services was reported. The residents loved those guitars.

We are pleased that we have so many people helping with our Bible and Church services. We really appreciate all of you.

Friday afternoon Maudie Couch and Dorothy Doll, as well as some of our sitters, assisted our residents in the making of Valentine cards for our adopted grandchildren.

Thanks goes this week to Maudie Couch for mending some clothes, to Mary Lee Jones for making Moriamama some dresses, to the Hoover family for sharing some flowers, to Ann Shaw for donating some ceramic pieces, and to Fling Henderson for sending some new games to the facility.

Lions and Ladies split week's games

Last week, the Ozona Lions and Lady Lions each split their two games. The Lions defeated Coahoma, but fell short of the Colorado City Wolves. The Lady Lions did just the opposite by beating Colorado City for the second time this season and losing to Coahoma.

The Lions defeated Coahoma's Bulldogs in a thrilling, "down to the wire", 51-49 contest. With less than 10 seconds remaining in the game, Steve Sanchez hit a long shot from the field to put the Lions ahead by 2 points and Al Ramirez snatched the in-bounds throw to capture the victory for the local lads. Sanchez and Ramirez led the team in scoring with 18 points each. J.B. Green, a reserve player, came off the bench to pour in 10 points for the Lions. Scott Denman and Harvey Fierro each had 2 points and Gary Davis added 1. Sanchez also led the team in rebounding with 8. He was closely followed in that department by Gary and Harvey Fierro, who each grabbed 7 rebounds off the boards. Denman took 5 rebounds, while Green had 3 and Ramirez had 2.

In girl's action, the Lady Bulldogs from Coahoma took a 56-40 win over the Lady Lions. Ozona was led by senior, Christy Parks with a total of 10 points. She was followed by Donna Sanchez with 9 points, Olga Borrego, with 8, Esmi Borrego with 7, Vickie Reagor with 3, Raedene Flores with 2, and Vanessa Miller with 1.

The Lion Junior Varsity team also took it on the chin, as they were defeated by the Bulldogs, 60-42.

Against Colorado City, the Lady Lions held on for a close 29-27 victory. Donna Sanchez led the team in scoring with 15 points. Vickie Reagor popped the net for 8, while Christy Parks added 4 and Esmi Borrego hit for 2.

Vickie Reagor continued to rebound well, as she led the rebounders with 9 to her credit. Sanchez grabbed 6, Parks, Miller, and Alma Gutierrez each had 5, while Esmi Borrego took 3 and her sister, Olga had 2.

Coach Terri McColloch said that her team never gave up and they kept good composure throughout the game, although the contest was a slug match at times. McColloch praised the performances of Miller, Parks, Reagor and Sanchez.

The Lady Lions rounded out the 1984-85 season with a rather disappointing, 6-19 record and a 2-8 district record. The team, however, will only lose one player from this season's relatively "young" team. Christy Parks will be lost to graduation. Parks has been a three year letterman for the Lady Lions.

The varsity boys team lost to the Wolves, 50-38. Steve Sanchez, once again, took top scoring honors with his 15 points. Harvey Fierro contributed 8 points, while Al Ramirez hit for 7, Gary Davis made 4, J.B. Green shot for 2, and Mario Arredondo and Bret Thompson each added 1. Ramirez captured 8 rebounds. Sanchez grabbed 7, Thompson-3, and Fierro, Davis, Green, and Brad Thompson each with 1.

The Lions will close out the season with Ballinger this Friday in Davidson Memorial Gymnasium. The J.V. team is scheduled to start at 6:30 and the varsity at 8:00.

The Lion basketball team will be saying goodbye to five seniors. Al Ramirez, Gary Davis, and Mario Arredondo will be hanging up their shoes this year, along with Matt Gutierrez and James Fierro. The Lion team will announce their choice for 1985 Basketball Sweetheart at half-time of the Ozona-Ballinger contest Friday night.

4-H goat producers to hold meeting

Angora Goat Producers Meeting will be held at the 4-H Show Barn on Thursday, February 14 at 7:00 p.m.

This will climax the 4-H Commercial Angora Doe Kid feeding program. The goats will be shorn Thursday morning and the fleeces will be weighed and judged Thursday afternoon.

The program will actually begin at 7:00 p.m. with recognition of the 4-H members with top fleeces. Jack Groff, Extension Sheep and Goat Specialist will discuss mohair grading, preparation, selection and marketing. Gary Sides, Livestock Specialist will discuss nutrition.

All producers are welcome to come by during the morning shearing or afternoon when the actual grading and judging of the hair will be done.

This program is sponsored by the Livestock and Range Committee of Crockett County Extension Program Building Committees.

Safety is no accident. The Texas highway department is one of the few in the United States that invested more than $1 million in highway safety research last year, in addition to more than $13 million in highway safety construction.

Memorial mass set for Mrs. Sexton

A Memorial Mass for Ruth Sexton will be held Thursday, Feb. 14, at 7:00 p.m. at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

All are invited to attend. The family requests that in lieu of flowers-donations be made to the Helping Hands, Girl Scouts or the Cancer Society, organizations which were special to Ruth.
