Slowly Falling Showers This Week Benefit Young Cotton In County

Cotton farmers voiced open approval of showers that fell slowly here Monday and Tuesday, which added .40 to the scant moisture supply in the soil of dry land farms. The shower Monday amounted to .25 inch and Tuesday morning .15 of an inch was added. Lots of cotton planted the last two weeks or so is up and may be seen across the fields. The showers this week must have helped considerably where there is no irrigation. R. J. Klump, weather recorder here, said the total rainfall for May through Tuesday is .47 of an inch. He said the total rainfall for the first five months of 1952 is only 3.36 inches. Precipitation totals by months are: Jan. .80; Feb. .09; Mar. .26; April 1.74; May .47. In 1951 through the first five months he had recorded a total of 8.96, but in 1950 the first five months precipitation amounted to only 9.0 of an inch. Still, in 1950 the total was more than 19 inches for the year. It all depends upon when the rain falls whether the county experiences good crops, he pointed out. April rains this year gave enough planting moisture and thousands of acres have been seeded to cotton all over the county. County Agent J. K. Adams recently estimated there will be 225,000 acres seeded to cotton in the county this year out of a total farm acreage in the county of 330,000.

Aims, Program Of Work, Policies Of West Texas C o C Are Outlined

Cards in the current water controversy that is agitating the minds of South Plains people will be laid face up on the table at a meeting of a group of Lubbock people with men representing Bailey County and several adjoining counties at the Lubbock Country Club the evening of Wednesday, June 11. The Lubbock men promise facts and figures, and the visiting delegation from this immediate neighborhood promise to require plenty of information at the meeting. Arrangements for the meeting were completed when four Lubbock men met Friday morning in the directors room of the Bailey County Electric Cooperative Association here with members of the "Committee of Nine," representing the Chamber of Commerce, the Bailey County Farm Bureau, and Bailey County directors for the Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District. In the Lubbock group were: Mayor Murrell R. Tripp; City Commissioner Harry Morris; Ray Dickey, member of Lubbock's Water Resources Board; and Arnold Purtell, who has acquired land in the neighborhood and has given Lubbock an option to water rights. Muleshoe and Bailey County's case in the water situation controversy has been conducted by this Committee of Nine, composed of three members from the organizations named above. At the meeting Friday morning were O. C. Thomson, Joe Sooter, Ross Goodwin, Bill Miller, Al Hall, Jesse Osborn, and Myron Pool, committee members, and J. M. Forbes of The Journal. Since the purpose of the meeting here was to make final arrangements for the Lubbock confab, it was agreed early that this group would not go into details about the many ramifications of the water situation but would confine itself to a discussion of the Lubbock meeting, the date, time and place for it, and general composition of each town's delegation. Mayor Tripp and his group would be composed of some 25 or 26 men and suggested that it would be desirable to limit the delegation from Bailey and adjoining counties to approximately the same number. Hall, C of C manager, told the mayor that the tentative list of Bailey County and other county representatives added up to 27 and the Mayor said that would be fine and said his group would arrange food for the number indicated. He said it was not the intention of Lubbock to suggest the composition of the delegation, but thought that each representative ought to be someone who is vitally interested in the subject of water and has given the underground water of the Plains some study. Joe Sooter said that Bailey County could not take the position of telling other counties who to appoint as representatives, and the Lubbock men agreed to that readily. Mostly, the Lubbock men just wanted to know how much food to have prepared and what other arrangements should be made.

VISITING IN POST

Mrs. Bob Knight is visiting this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Parsons of Post, Texas. Bob will join hr there this week end where they will attend the rodeo.

STORE MANAGERS ON TRIP

Piggly-Wiggly store managers of the Davis-Humphries, Lubbock, group were guests of the visitor Alton Peak, of Lubbock, was last week. Some 14, including Bob Harvey, Muleshoe manager, were on the party. Store supervisor Alton Peak, of Lubbock, was in the group.

Mr. Tripp said the Lubbock delegation would be composed of representatives of the City government, the Water Resources Board, the city's engineers, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce. Their group will be composed of men who, because of their association with Lubbock's water development plans, will be in position to answer questions of the visiting group and will have facts and data to present. While the Friday meeting, as said above, concerned itself almost exclusively with arrangements for the Lubbock meeting, still a few hints came out as to what questions might be expected. Members of the Bailey County committee indicated some questions that they certainly have in mind and one Lubbock man himself suggested a strong possibility that the visitors will want certain other information. Mayor Tripp reiterated that all the information that anyone on his group has is at the disposal of the visitors, or any private citizen who shows a desire to learn about it. Again he said, "We have nothing to hide in this matter and we want you to ask every question, and request every bit of information or conclusions we have reached. We will do our very best to explain our position our aims, what we believe we have learned about the nature of our underground water, the sand formations, geologic picture, probable amount of water, etc." Other towns and cities expected to be represented by one or two observers include Portales, N. M., and Littlefield, Levelland, Sudan, Morton, Farwell, Bovina, Earth, Springlake, Hereford, Friona, and Amherst. All are in the vicinity of the Sand Hills, which stretch from New Mexico approximately 35 miles eastward into Hale county and range in width from about 15 miles downward to the point of their disappearance.

$10 Payment Asked

The tract on which Lubbock has secured water right options from L. A. Purcell of Lubbock, is about four miles west of Muleshoe in northwest Bailey County. It extends about 15 miles from west to east and seven miles from north to south. The City Commission has agreed to pay $10 an acre out of available bond funds for the rights if tests now in progress prove the existence of good water in large quantities on the property. R. L. Oldham, city director of public works, said the tests thus far made indicate the presence of water of a quality and in the quantity required.

BABSON DISCUSSES

Bad Investments

Babson Park, Mass., May 23 — E. H. Harriman was probably America's greatest railroad builder. Incidentally, he was the father of the present W. Averell Harriman, formerly Ambassador to Russia and who is now seeking the nomination for President on the Democratic ticket. Once, when riding in the father's private car, I asked: "What is the most important factor in selecting a good railroad investment?" He replied, "Character of the Management. Good Management can make a profitable railroad from two streaks of rust; while poor Management can turn a good railroad into two streaks of rust."

Selecting Good Management

I then thought that by studying the location, capitalization and earnings of a railroad it would be possible to tell a good investment from a bad investment. Unfortunately, I have since found Mr. Harriman to be correct. There are too many who at the present time think they can select good investments and detect bad investments by studying earnings statements and other statistics, for the collecting and analyzing of which I now spend a million dollars a year.

Such figures are valuable. Every careful person should study balance sheets and earnings statements before investing hard-earned money in any stocks or bonds. From sad experience, however, I have learned that such figures, although recording the past, are little indication what the future will bring forth. To avoid losses, one must look deeper. The future depends upon the Management. Not only does the character of Management change as new men are selected; but Management will deteriorate under the same men who stay too long, or become careless. Unfortunately, the required information to judge the character of Management cannot be secured from manuals and magazines, but only through personal contacts and confidential studies.

Importance of Character
I have almost reached the point where I must employ retired FBI men as my assistants, rather than statisticians or economists. A few trained newspaper men are useful in detecting bad Management; but the popular policy of leading Banks, Insurance Companies, and Investment Trusts to depend upon so-called "investment analysts" is dangerous practice. Colleges have graduated hundreds of these investment analysts and they hold such jobs today. They are honest and hard working young men, but very few of them can forecast the future of a corporation by relying on published reports.

To prepare worth-while reports on the Management of any corporation, it is necessary to visit the plant and talk with the officers, directors and employees. Furthermore, these men need not be judged by the answers which they give to your questions so much as by their language, ethics and basic principles. When interviewing men high up in the management of a corporation, I may learn more of their character by discussing their home life, children, churches, schools, liquor, race tracks, and other general subjects than by talking about their own company.

What The Neighbors Report

In addition to such personal interviews, I have information connections through many thousands of clients and the four hundred fifty newspapers which carry this column. I also am one of a confidential organization which secures undercover information of the most important kind. These and other confidential sources are in addition to publications, vast files and printed reports which all investments advisors have to study. Readers should know that there are today over 750,000 corporations whose stocks have been bought or sold and are now a total loss, the companies passing out of existence.

Young people especially need to realize the importance of character in connection with securing and holding jobs, as well as in connection with the investing of their hard-earned savings. The strength of America today came not from money or big business or even colleges. These are but the fruits of character implanted by praying parents, devoted school teachers, ethical employers and good neighbors.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER Wants Government To Hire Man To Come Out And Empty His Rain Gauge

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes up with one of his laziest ideas this week. Dear editor:

For some time now I've had a rain gauge out here on my Johnson grass farm and it's a handy gadget, but there's one thing wrong with it.

After each rain, when it does rain, you have to go out there and empty it, and a man with the world on his mind and already three years behind with his plowin' ain't got time to do it.

What I want to know is why don't the government hire Rural Rain Gauge Emptiers, give each one a regular route, and take this burden off us farmers? You might say it's a small job, emptying a rain gauge, any farmer ought to be able to do it, but after you consider all the other things he has to do, it adds up. A man can go just so far and no further.

The fellow that gave me this gauge said he gave one to another farmer and after a rain one time he asked him how much it measured and he said three inches, when everybody knew it hadn't rained near that much.

"Did you empty it after the previous rain?" he was asked, and he said naw, didn't know he was supposed to.

Well, I got sense enough to know I'm supposed to empty the thing, but I also got sense enough to know I'll make better crops if I keep the weeds and grass out, just as I've got sense enough to know if I do the latter I'll have to work harder. Thinkin' is a great thing but sometimes it just leads you in a circle and you get right back where you started from.

But back to these rain gauge emptiers. A lot of people say times are so good it's a hard proposition to find anybody who wants to work these days, but I've never seen a job remain unfilled very long if it had two drawin' cards: good pay and little effort. I will be glad to help work up a route through this area for a government rain gauge emptier, but I'm not an applicant for the actual job, I won't have time. I got the Presidential election on my hands, not to mention Korea, Europe, and my wife's naggin'.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

Deadline - U. S. A. Stars Bogart As Fearless Editor

The battle of a free and vigorous press against the forces of big city corruption, where politics and crime has too often been found to go hand in hand, is delineated in "Deadline—U. S. A.," the new Twentieth Century-Fox melodrama to be shown June 5 and 6 at the Cox Drive-In Theatre in Muleshoe. Heading the cast of the realistic display are Humphrey Bogart, Ethel Barrymore and Kim Hunter.

Bogart, who is reportedly in rare form in the kind of part he is best associated with, plays a crusading editor who will not be intimidated by the rackets machine headed by boss Tomas Rienz, enacted in the film by the noted stage and screen character, Martin Gabel.

Giving substance to the Bogart drive are Ethel Barrymore as the reliant publisher of the newspaper he edits and Kim Hunter as the wife who sees her loyalty in a new light as a result of Bogart's efforts.

Actually filmed in large part in the news plant of the New York Daily News for the sake of authenticity, "Deadline—U. S. A." employs a number of well-known New York stage players in its company. Among these are Ed Begley, Paul Stewart, Warren Stevens and Audrey Christie. Others featured are Joseph de Santos, Joyce MacKenzie, Fay Baker and Jim Backus, and there is a long supporting roster.

Richard Brooks, author of the screenplay as well as director of "Deadline—U. S. A.," is noted for his realistic flair, and has spared nothing to incorporate this flavor in his latest work. The working of a big city newspaper; the intricate alliance of gangsterism with weaknesses in a political set-up; the cold slaying of an ex-showgirl who becomes involved with the rackets king, these are among the graphic events virtually lifted from recent headlines that punctuate the narrative of "Deadline—U. S. A." Sol C. Siegel produced the film.

Kelley-Husband Addresses C. C. Group Meeting

More than fifty representatives from eight South Plains cities heard addresses by Frank Kelley, President, and Fred Husband, secretary and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, at a special dinner meeting on Thursday, May 23, at Fellowship Hall.

Members of the Chambers of Commerce of Littlefield, Sudan, Dimmitt, Friona, Farwell, Morton, Bovina and Muleshoe, heard Mr. Husband elaborate on the objectives and developments of the W. T. C. C. Mr. Kelley expanded his theories on a most timely subject. . . "The Governments Paramount Rights." He stated that a common definition of Paramount Rights among America's most brilliant legal minds is that "You've got what I want and I have the machinery to get it."

Kelley's vivid description, timely thoughts and factual quotations, brim full of pathos, most certainly were received with interest and zeal.

Al Hall, secretary of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce, discussed briefly the water situation in Bailey County and its concern of Lubbock's purchasing water rights here.

THE HOLY SPIRIT
Strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man. (Ephesians 3:16.) Read Acts 1:1-8.

On a most beautiful creek there is a dam impounding the strong power of the water. Along the banks stands a large grist mill, which serves many families. A large sluiceway conveys the water to turn the machinery of the mill. But until the sluice gate is opened, the mill stands idle. See, the miller comes. He turns the gate wheel. The sluice gate opens; the mill comes to life. The power which was waiting is now made to work to serve mankind. "Ye shall receive power," promised Jesus. The power of the Holy Spirit flowed upon Peter as he preached at Pentecost. Christians have passed on the bread of salvation. Thus has the Church grown.

Today the Holy Spirit is ready to set us in motion to feed the souls of men. Everyone of us faces the question: "Shall I open my life and let in the power?" Those of us who do so become a part of the divine machinery of the Holy Spirit for bringing men, near and far, to salvation.

PRAYER
This day, O Father, help us to open our hearts to receive the power of the Holy Spirit. Pour out afresh Thy Spirit upon Thy Church. Use us in Thy service and Thy Church to the honor and glory of Thy name; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Mrs. Taylor Hosts Homemakers Class

If all this gives any impression of a dour bluenose, it couldn't be more wrong. Liz Carpenter and others of the feminine contingent of the Washington correspondents corps rate Mahon as tops both in charm and ability. He has a quick, almost bashful smile and a ready sense of humor. His literate, infrequent speeches are painstakingly written out in longhand, and worked over and over for perfection. Few know it, but the tall, lean, former farm boy also writes poetry.

International-minded, Mahon has backed the foreign aid programs and Point Four, and he supported the Administration in the MacArthur dismissal fight. Another fault is an unwillingness to delegate any of his work. He opposes any sizable increase in the staff of the Appropriations Committee to help cope with the greatly expanded military budget.

But the hard-working Texan is a perfect example of a man "at peace with himself." He loves his job and says he has no ambitions. To run for the Senate or Governor would "take two or three hundred thousand dollars," he says. Mahon adds that he hasn't the money and doesn't

College Degree Will Open Door To Air Career

Reese Air Force Base, May 23—Early in June, thousands of young men, with the pulsating strains of their alma mater still ringing in their ears, will be out to find what doors his college degree will open. For such a young man, the U. S. Air Force is an open door to good pay, security, recognition and adventure. With the ever increasing amount of advantages and benefits afforded to servicemen, a career as an officer and pilot in the Air Force is an excellent opportunity.

The U. S. Air Force, through its aviation cadet program, has made it easier than ever before to become a rated officer. The application and examining procedures have been streamlined, so as to consume the least amount of time before an applicant is admitted to a class. Since the Air Force is in great need of men to train as aviation cadets, it has appreciably lowered the requirements for the receiving of such training. By doing this, it has not in any way lowered the standards on the caliber of pilots trained by the Air Force. The same high quality product is still for sale; that is, wings and a commission, but the asking price and the credit restrictions have been greatly reduced.

A single young man, between the ages of 19 and 26½ with two years of college is eligible to apply. He must be able to pass qualifying examinations and have an aptitude for flying. His physical condition must be good with high requirements for eyes, ears, heart and teeth.

While undergoing one year of intensive training, cadets receive clothing, equipment, housing, medical and dental care, a regular monthly allowance, and insurance benefits. At graduation, they receive a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve, with an aeronautical rating as a pilot, a uniform allowance, and a 30-day leave with pay. The time is right to join the millions of young men who are making a career in Air Force Blue. For further information on how you can find security while defending your country, you are urged to contact your local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

Concrete Pipe Lines Praised

Plainview, May 24 — Farmers in the Hale County Soil Conservation District are extremely pleased with concrete irrigation pipeline according to reports received by the SCS office there.

In March, 1951, B. F. Sammann Jr. of the Prairieview Community installed 1,400 feet of underground concrete irrigation pipeline in connection with his irrigation system. He was so pleased with this method of watering that he installed an additional 2,500 feet of line in November. Then in April of this year, Sammann installed 900 feet more of the concrete irrigation pipeline and plans to install 4,000 feet more in the near future.

Conserves Time, Labor
He says that the use of concrete irrigation pipelines conserve irrigation water, save labor and time, and prevents unnecessary soil erosion due to open ditch watering.

All of his pipeline is on hard land and is used for the irrigation of row crops, alfalfa and permanent pasture.

Three other co-operators in the Hale County Soil Conservation District have recently finished installation of concrete irrigation pipeline. They are J. D. Cobb, who lives west of Plainview; Glen Witten, whose farm is northeast of Edmonson, and Emmett Thornton, whose farm is southeast of Plainview.

Cobb has installed 1,250 feet of pipe, while Witten has installed 2,357 feet and Thornton has installed 2,383 feet of concrete irrigation pipeline.

All three seem pleased with the results of the concrete pipe.

Mr. Dell Barron, Lamesa, Texas

"OUR QUONSET IS WORTH $100.00 PER MONTH"

—MR. DELL BARRON,
Lamesa, Texas.

"One hundred dollars a month is a conservative estimate of the value of our 40' x 100' Quonset to us," states Mr. Dell Barron farmer and purebred cottonseed producer, whose 640-acre farm is located southeast of Lamesa. "It provides protection for our six tractors and equipment as well as storage for grain, seed and feed. The 18' x 100' shed attached is an added convenience that makes our Quonset one of the best investments on our farm."

"Our Quonset is a decided advantage to our cottonseed business. Purebred cottonseed must be ginned in separate blocks. To do this efficiently during the past harvest we stored ten trailers loaded with our cotton in the Quonset, then carried them to the gin in a block—30 bales at a time."

"We'll recommend the Steel-Bilt Quonset as the ideal farm building."

QUONSET PAYS FOR ITSELF!

Quonset's multiple-storage features can save money for you, too! Steel-Bilt Products Company is ready to erect Quonsets on your farm or ranch for many uses, such as grain storage, cattle feeding, dairy production, implement protection and labor housing.

Reasonable initial cost, fast delivery and erection, rodent and weather resistance, extended durability and versatility put Quonsets in a class by themselves. Get the facts, and you'll get a Quonset!

Tax Policies Absorb Railway Economy Savings

Fort Worth, Tex., May 23 -- Public policies imposed on the railway industry have absorbed practically all of the savings resulting from increased operating efficiency, including the switch to diesel power, Z. G. Hopkins, Chicago, special representative of the Association of Western Rail-

"None of us have much control these days over the size of our tax bills," the speaker said. "It is likewise true that, under current public policies, no business management has much control over wage rates. The railroad tax bill last year was roughly three and a half times as big as the 1940 tax bill, with a payroll amounting to about a billion and a quarter dollars more than the increase in revenues that may directly be credited to advance in rates.

SIX-BAR OFFSET REEL MAKES A BIG DIFFERENCE

The Ferguson Side-Delivery Rake is designed specifically for tractor operation. It greatly reduces leaf-shattering... safeguards the quality and value of your hay!

This rake is truly unique. New six-bar offset reel handles hay gently. No pitching, kicking and tossing even at high speeds. Instead, your hay is lifted gently, up and over into light fluffy windrows with the precious leaves turned inward.

True "sideward" raking action reduces the distance from swath to windrow by 50 per cent. There is far less rolling and churning... no sudden jarring.

Tractor-mounted... power take-off driven... Finger Tip Controlled. And it's surprisingly low in price.

Some Facts On Election Laws Are Explained

If you live in Bailey County and have become of voting age since January 1, you are eligible to vote in coming elections, but you must have a certificate from the county tax collector's office, which you must obtain at least 30 days before the election in which you wish to participate.

If you didn't pay a poll tax and are a newcomer in Bailey County, you still might be eligible to vote. The law says that you can get an exemption certificate showing you are eligible to vote even if you did not pay the poll tax, provided you have just moved here and have resided in the county 6 months. But you must have been a resident of Texas at least one year, and it is hard to see how one could qualify under this provision of the new Texas election law, because he would have had to move from another county and in any event would have paid his tax there or here.

VISITOR FROM MORTON

Elsie Perkins of Morton is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Perkins. He is anticipating making his home here if he can find work.

But that's what the law says. As for people over 60: They do not need a certificate of exemption in this county in order to qualify for voting. In counties of more than 10,000 population, however, the oldsters are required to furnish a certificate of exemption.

Confusion Exists In Government At Austin, Also

Washington, D. C., has no monopoly on governmental confusion and duplicated efforts, for Austin, the capital of the Lone Star State of Texas has quite a bit, too, in the opinion of A. J. "Andy" Rogers, of Childress, who has served 4 years in the Texas Legislature and now seeks to become Senator of the newly created 30th Senatorial District.

He voiced these opinions in an address before the Muleshoe Rotary Club and before other groups in this portion of the district in the last few days, speaking before the local group at their noon luncheon Tuesday.

There is no way of determining how much the State of Texas owes, or how much is owing the State, Mr. Rogers declared, saying that a reorganization of the State's various departments, agencies, commissions, and bureaus is needed, and a new accounting system is required.

Mr. Rogers said Texas now has 200 separate, independent agencies; many of them are taxing agencies, and in a city block in Muleshoe he found that during the year representatives of 52 taxing agencies will visit in this block. Sometimes, he thinks, the bureaus are in doubt themselves as to who collects what tax.

Rogers said too many people regard their state Government as conducted by a vague group called "they"; he urged that more people adopt the attitude of "we" and take more interest in what is actually going on in their local governments. It won't do any good, he said, to straighten things out at Washington, for they will be back in the same shape the next day unless we straighten ourselves out at home.

Guests for the luncheon included Sid Stone of the Sudan Rotary Club, Ken Kendrick of Clovis, and a group of Continental Oil Co. men, Mr. Goob, auditor, Mr. Dedloff, district supervisor, and O. D. Holton, who is succeeding his brother, Bud Holton, Rotary president, as Conoco consignee here.

Bacterial blight is a disease which cotton growers have become more and more aware of in recent years. The disease is also known as angular leaf spot, boll blight, blackarm, sore shin and damping off, depending on time of year and part of the cotton plant affected.

On the leaf, bacterial blight appears as watersoaked, angular spots which become brown upon drying. On the bolls, the watersoaked round lesions become sunken and black upon drying. The blackarm phase of the disease occurs as black elongated lesions on the stems and fruiting branches. Sore shin and damping off are seedling diseases and infect the young of cotton just after it comes up.

The angular leaf spot infection maintains the disease in the field during the entire growing season and may then spread to the boll blight phase of the disease which probably causes the greatest loss. In boll blight, the bacteria may stain fibers, thus reducing the grade of the lint. Boll blight lesions may serve as avenues of entrance for boll rot fungi which normally would not infect healthy cotton.

Treating cotton planting seed with Ceresan M is helpful in preventing bacterial blight during the seedling stage.

Muleshoe Journal
Muleshoe, Texas
Dear Editor:
During the past nine months we have received the "MULESHOE JOURNAL." We have enjoyed reading the news and the happenings around the Muleshoe communities. The Journal keeps us posted on what has happened during the past week. We appreciate the courtesy and the intelligent workmanship of the Journal staff. I know that you are proud of your staff as much as we are.

One of the boys here, majoring in Journalism took a copy of The Journal to class one day. The Journal was judged as an excellent countywide newspaper. You can see why we are very proud of our hometown paper.

We are planning to come and spend the summer working with our fathers on the farm. Everything is wonderful here at Baylor. We are looking forward to the football season, hoping that Baylor will win the Southwest conference championship.

We are looking forward to seeing our old friends and most of all to be back home.

Thanks a lot for sending the Journal. We sure have enjoyed reading the well supervised paper.

Sincerely
Charlie Roark

Walter Seales
It's quite nice to have boys as young as these to take note of the paper, and even nicer that they took the time to write and praise our efforts. They asked that we refrain from printing the letter since it had, they said, so many mistakes, but we couldn't refrain.

Film "Uncle Tom's Cabin" At Theater
Here Tonight

One of the most famous stories in American literary history, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a story that greatly influenced the course of life in the U. S., is coming to the screen of the Cox Drive In Theatre here tonight and Friday night, May 29 and 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox, proprietors of the theatre, are going "all out" to acquaint the public with the fact that the famed picture will be here on the dates named above.

It is called the "greatest human interest motion picture ever filmed. Based on the old original classic, Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal story. It is filmed in authentic settings in a spectacular manner with soul stirring scenes.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" first ap-

Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, and Switzerland. He is planning a 16,000 mile trip through continental Africa for 1953 and 1954.

Music director will be Wayne Philpott, also 24 years of age. He is a senior at Baylor University. His home is in Beaumont. He is music director at the First Baptist Church of College Station and former music director of Trinity Baptist Church of San Antonio. He is a member of The Baptist Student Union Council and is music chairman of the State Baptist Student Union.

Everyone is invited and welcome to attend these services. Seated in serial form in The National Era, an anti-slavery paper of Washington, D. C., then came out in book form in 1852 and blew up a cyclone. The Civil War came only 9 years later. The book sold like wild fire and was translated into 23 tongues. People who had been sympathetic to slaves but indifferent about doing anything now awoke to the need for action. "Uncle Toms" was a mighty prod.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

Mankind gains complete freedom from disease and unhappiness through the realization that God is ever present. This is brought out in the Lesson-Sermon titled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 1. The Golden Text promises: "When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him" (Isaiah 59:19).

The constant availability of healing truth is further explained in this verse from the Bible: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev. 3:20).

The following correlative citation will be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal error, and error has no creator. If goodness and spirituality are real, evil and materiality are unreal and cannot be the outcome of an infinite God, good" (p. 277).
