Barbecue to kick off fund raising drive

A benefit barbecue will kick-off the fund raising drive for a Care-A-Van for the residents of the Care Center, Friday evening, April 26, at the vacant lot next to the V.F.W. Post on Hwy. 163.

The Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary has determined a need for the van, which will accommodate residents confined to wheel chairs and other residents on outings and field trips. The auxiliary plans several fund-raising events for the purchase of this specially-equipped van in the near future.

Tickets for the barbecue are $4 and will be available at the door. Serving will be between 5 and 7 p.m. Take-out serving will be available as well as on the spot dining.

Everyone is invited to enjoy this good dinner and contribute as well to the purchase of the Care-A-Van.

Ozona sheep dog found in Carlsbad, NM

Jim Morgan of Morgan Tires, Carlsbad, N.M. has in his possession a male border collie with a 1983 Ozona license tag. Morgan said the tag was bent and worn and he was unable to give the number. He said the dog appeared to be four or five years old and had been at his place for two or three months.

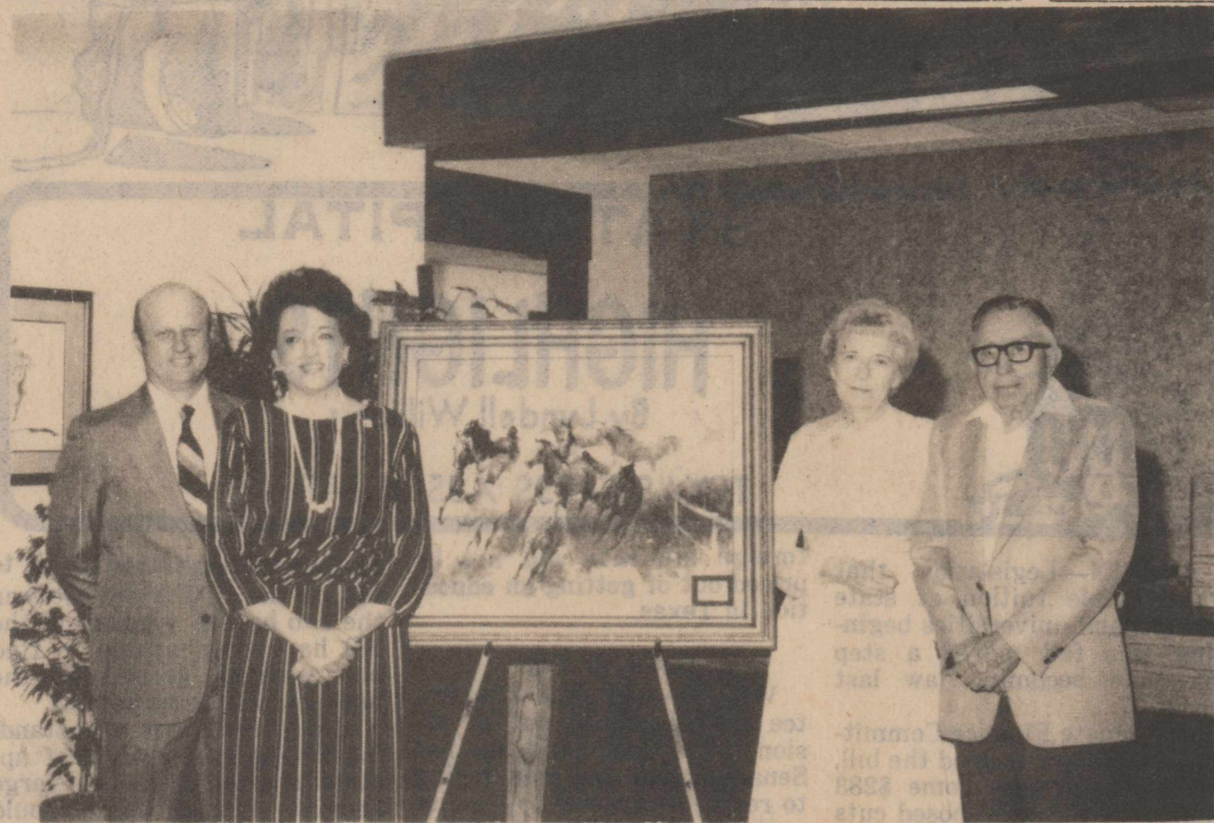

He thought the dog might have gotten out of an Ozona vehicle as it passed through the area, or might possibly have been stolen in Ozona and dropped off there. A check with several dog handlers and Dr. Gary Vannoy, failed to reveal the dog's owner.

Anyone having knowledge of this animal should call Morgan at area code 505/887-6198 or 885-2498.

Crimestoppers pay reward on telephone tip

The local Crimestopper fund recently paid a reward to a person who was responsible for the apprehension, arrest and conviction of a man wanted for several bogus checks in the area. The telephone tip led directly to that person.

The local Crimestopper telephone number is 2-5000. Anyone having knowledge of a crime may report to this number and remain anonymous. Rewards are also paid anonymously.

Oil industry meeting set for tomorrow evening

Plans have been completed for the "What's going on in the Oil Patch" meeting which will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in the high school auditorium, under the sponsorship of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

Ed Thompson or Charlie McCoy, both representatives of the Permian Basin Energy Association, will be on hand to inform the public about proposed legislation in the U.S. Congress which if passed, will deal a death blow to the oil industry in West Texas.

Proposed legislation, to eliminate depletion incentives, disallow intangible drilling costs and the bent in Congress to take sides and give tax incentives for overseas production, will surely hurt the West Texas economy as it has come to depend more on gas and oil and less on the ranching industry in the past few years.

Should this legislation become law, there will be fewer wells drilled, less production and shut-downs in producing fields in this area. The effect will be a downturn for businesses, royalty owners, and the economy in general. All phases of commerce will be affected, not just oil-related businesses. Also, the job market will suffer.

Chamber president Stan Lambert said he expects the speaker to take up 30 to 45 minutes before the meeting is thrown open for a question and answer session. He said the meeting would be held open until all questions from those in attendance were resolved.

Also, refreshments will be served by the chamber. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Annual health fair to be held Thursday at Civic Center

The Annual Health Fair will be conducted Thursday, May 2, from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Civic Center. Adults and children are invited to participate in this year's health fair, free of charge. The Crockett County Family Living Committee and the Texas Department of Health are coordinating this event.

Health screenings for this year's health fair will include high blood pressure, anemia, and diabetes by public health nurses and emergency medical technicians, hearing tests by Larry Clontz, hearing specialist; glaucoma and eye tests by Dr. John Paul Matthews, OD. (1:00-6:00 p.m.)

West Texas Utilities will be distributing nutritious microwaved snacks throughout the day, while the Associated Milk Producers answers numerous questions about osteoporosis. The Extension Service will host an exhibit on food and fitness and include numerous fitness test stations. Other exhibits will include the Fire Department, Health Care Services, Planned Parenthood, and the Family Shelter.

For more information or a ride, call the County Extension Office at 392-2721. Rides may also be coordinated by contacting Agnes Payne at 392-3645, prior to May 2.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Chamber of Commerce does not sponsor telephone book solicitors

Stan Lambert, president of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce, has asked this newspaper to assure residents and members of the organization, the chamber does not sponsor solicitations for telephone books or directories, or any other project which takes money out of Crockett County.

It was brought to his attention lately, that an out-of-town organization was soliciting advertising for a telephone book and giving the impression the sales were sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Renovation of school near end

The Ozona Board of Trustees, meeting in regular session Tuesday, April 16, received welcome news from Ron Barbutti, school architect, regarding the completion of the Ozona Junior High Renovation Project. Mr. Barbutti reported the contractor has significantly reduced the list of items needed to be corrected before the building improvement program can become eligible for acceptance, and he invited the board to a walk-thru inspection of the facilities on Wednesday, April 24.

The Board also visited with Barbutti in regards to other building improvements that are needed by the district. These include renovation of the principal's office, bookroom, and workroom facilities at Ozona High School, band facilities at Ozona Middle School and school housing.

The trustees approved a proposal by Vibra-Whirl Corporation for repairing the track surface at Lions Stadium, and they accepted the bid of Agriplex Computers for school classroom computer equipment for Ozona Middle School. The Board also accepted the resignation of Milby Sexton, Ozona teacher and coach, and they approved the employment of all auxiliary and para-professional staff members for the 1985-1986 school year. Administrative salary schedules and teacher salary supplements were approved as recommended by Superintendent Garland Davis.

Operation of "The Summer Experience", a summer program designed to meet the needs of students who are limited English proficient, was approved by the Board of Trustees. This will be the second year for the program, and it was a great success last year.

In other developments, the Board approved the transfer of adult library funds to the Crockett County Library when the library's move is completed, and they approved a contract with the Region XV Education Service Center in San Angelo for providing instructional services. The trustees also gave Superintendent Garland Davis the authority to call for bids for one large school bus and two smaller buses.

SBA: WHO DOES IT SERVE?

By Edwin Feulner

Strong concern has been raised in Washington over a recent proposal by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) to abolish the government agency intended to assist small business — the Small Business Administration (SBA).

SBA supporters insist that the agency's primary function — providing loans and loan guarantees to small businesses — is essential to the health of the small-business sector, which creates most of the new jobs in the economy, and is responsible as well for a wealth of technological innovation. But in Fiscal Year 1984, the SBA's $3.6 billion in loan commitments went to just a handful of companies — less than two-tenths of one percent of the nation's small businesses, a mere 21,461 out of 14 million.

As a matter of fact, nearly 80 percent of SBA's loan beneficiaries were receiving assistance for the second time, meaning that the gravy really isn't getting around very far. And if it isn't getting to the 99-plus percent of America's small business, it can't be given credit for their success.

That raises another issue. SBA also has a poor loan record. For example, in 1984, the default rate on SBA loans was 18 percent. These loans cost U.S. taxpayers $544 million. In 1983 it was higher — 26.8 percent, and in 1982 it was 39.9 percent.

Instead of allowing the SBA to continue gambling with the money Uncle Sam pulls from our paychecks each week, as has been the case, the public would be better served if the SBA got out of the loan business and left this function to banks and other institutions.

Moreover, it's time for Washington to pay more attention to the dynamics of small business. According to a survey by the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), start-up funds for nearly 60 percent of America's small businesses come from personal savings, not from banks or the SBA. Of the 3 percent of such firms that have received government aid, less than half relied on it as a primary source of capital.

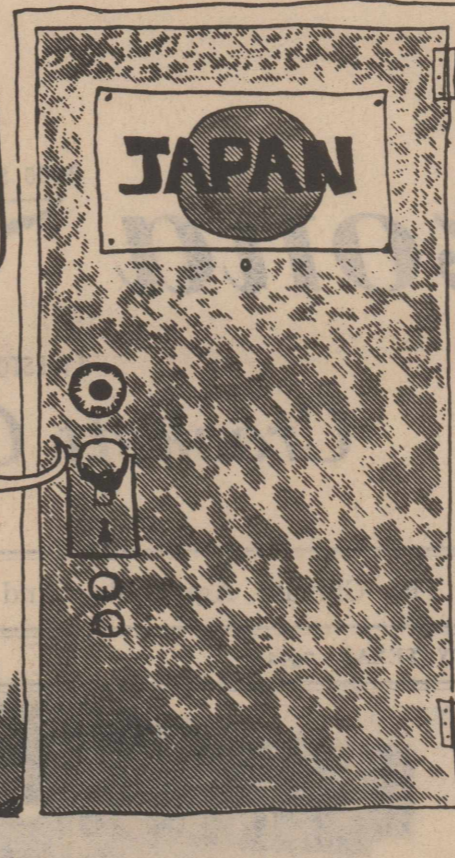

Small business, though it doesn't receive the attention of a G.M. or IBM, is extremely important to the U.S. economy. Currently, businesses with fewer than twenty workers are responsible for providing two-thirds of all net new jobs in the United States and generate a substantial portion of the gross national product. Most of this happens not because the government has been generous with our tax money, but because people have been willing to take risks.

The best way to help small businesses is not by having the SBA underwrite loans, but by enacting measures that encourage saving and investment. This could be done by reducing capital-gains taxes, cutting personal income taxes, and shielding interest on savings from taxation.

The bottom line is that the SBA generally has been ineffective in supporting new business. Continuing the costly existence of the SBA would be more money down the bureaucratic drain.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Legislation that would triple tuition at state colleges and universities beginning this fall moved a step closer to becoming law last week.

The Senate Finance Committee voted 8 to 2 to send the bill, which would raise some $283 million to offset proposed cuts in college funding, to the full Senate for debate.

The measure, which has received the approval of the sponsor of a similar bill that already has passed the House, would increase tuition for Texas residents attending state universities from the current $4 per semester hour to $12 per semester hour beginning this fall.

Resident tuition would increase again to $16 in 1986, to $20 in 1987 and to $24 in 1988.

Tuition for out-of-state and foreign students also would triple beginning this fall, rising from $40 to $120 per semester hour.

Non-resident tuition eventually would be set at 100 percent of the actual cost beginning in 1987.

Law, medical, dental and veterinary students also would see dramatic increases in their tuition under the Senate bill.

Resident law students would see an immediate increase from $4 to $24 per semester hour this fall, with resident law school tuition hitting $60 per semester hour in 1988.

The non-resident law school rate would go up from $40 to $150 per hour.

Medical, dental and veterinary students would experience increases from the current $400 per year to as much as $6,400 per year by 1987.

Non-resident students in those programs would pay four times those rates.

Gov. Mark White, who originally said he opposed any resident tuition increases, last week said he would sign the bill if it passes in its present form.

White said he has been assured the bill provides adequate funding for loans and scholarships to ensure low income and

Phillip Pohl indicted on sex charges

Phillip Lester Pohl, a 42-year-old Sonora resident was indicted Friday by a Sutton County grand jury for rape of a child, incest, indecency with a child and aggravated sexual abuse.

Bonds were set by District Judge Brock Jones at $50,000 on each count. Pohl remained in the custody of the Sutton County Sheriff's Department.

The decomposed body of Pohl's wife, Nancy Nester Pohl, was discovered 30 miles west of Ozona March 9. She had been missing from her home in Sonora since February 20. A .357-caliber pistol was found next to the body which had a single gunshot in the chest area.

foreign students will not be priced out of getting an education in Texas.

Horse Racing

While the Finance Committee was hammering out its version of the tuition bill, another Senate committee was trying to revive a proposal to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse and dog racing in Texas.

The Senate Committee on Economic Development heard testimony in support of the betting bill, which already has suffered a resounding defeat in the Texas House.

However, Senate supporters of the measure are hoping favorable action in that body might encourage House members to reconsider their earlier vote.

The House voted down the betting bill mainly because of provisions that would have required minority participation in track ownership and that minority firms get a share of the contracts for track construction and other related contracts.

House minorities held out for that provision after sponsors of the measure failed to include a provision to earmark part of the betting proceeds for social programs.

However, they say they now are willing to give up that provision to get the bill passed.

The measure has gone to subcommittee for further study.

Water Package

Meanwhile, progress on a compromise version of the proposed statewide water package still remains stalled because of a dispute over provisions to protect coastal bays and estuaries.

Members of a House-Senate conference committee trying to resolve the differences between the two houses' versions of the bill have been unable to find any common ground on the bays and estuaries section.

House conferees are standing behind the position of upstream water users that large amounts of freshwater should not be allowed to flow into the bays and estuaries when it could be used to meet growing demands for residential and industrial water use.

Senate conferees, however, are backing the environmentalist position that the freshwater inflows to the bays is essential to maintain the productivity of marine life in coastal waters.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis met privately in an effort to work out a compromise on the issue.

The same issue was responsible for seeking the proposed water package in the 1983 legislative session.

Hance Rumors

Former Congressman Kent Hance attempted last week to quash rumors that he is planning a jump to the Republican Party.

Despite efforts of Texas GOP Chairman George Strake and U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, himself a former Boll Weevil Democrat turned Republican, to recruit Hance to the GOP, the Lubbock conservative said rumors of a party change are "wild speculation."

Hance said it is highly unlikely he would switch parties and that he has made no decision about running for office next year.

Texas Republicans would like to see Hance join their ranks and challenge Democrat Mark White for governor in 1986.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

Few summer garden features are more impressive than a large bed of annuals. If you can't get help to maintain large flower beds try a small garden. Or you can make it colorful with containers filled with vivid annuals, graceful with trailing blossoms. Place a portable pot anywhere you want a splash of color, or move in planted pots in bloom to brighten a bed of evergreen or small plants.

Select annuals that will sparkle in sunny groups and will grow in relatively poor soil, such as, bush or trailing portulaca (moss), red and yellow gaillardia, poppies, petunia, verbena, and periwinkle. Also creeping or dwarf zinnias grow well in poor or rich soil. Fertile soil in full sun produces good pink, white and crimson dianthus, yellow, orange and mahogany pygmy marigold. Annual phlox in brilliant red, pink, purple, white and lavender and pentas do well in full sun and adapt to broken shade. Nierembergia (cup flower) is a creeping plant that produces purple, blue or white flowers in full sun or partial shade. Choose members of the shading-loving family for spots where the sun doesn't linger too long. The Suntanans are especially cheerful for afternoon shaded places and the always brilliant colors of caladiums last all summer. Most annuals can be purchased as bedding plants from garden centers.

After setting transplants in the garden, feed them with half-strength soluble fertilizer, such as 20-20-20. Then fertilize monthly with 1/4 cup of granular 5-10-10 per square yard of bed.

Throughout the growing season watch for infestations of whiteflies, aphids, mealybugs, and other insects. Spray with insecticide intended for use on specific plants you are growing. Most annuals need to be pinched back when they reach 4 to 6 inches tall. This will help them branch to bear more flowers. Water regularly for best results, and snip off faded flowers so they don't set seeds.

Daylilies will be putting on buds for their May blooming, so keep well watered. If some of the plants show pale as yellow green leaves give them one of the iron foods available. Soon a dark green appearance will be noticed.

Spring blooming shrubs that need pruning should receive this attention as soon as they finish blooming.

Youngsters paint and up-date the Youth Center

The Civic Center Board and Teen Council members have been working on a project to update the youth center.

Teen Council members Matt Gutierrez, Susan Scott, Amy Jones, Andy Dews, Peggy Knox, Jennifer Probst, Jim Ethridge and Sharon McCrohan enlisted the help of Gary Davis to design a logo for the youth center walls. The group met and all helped with the painting. The result is a nice appealing atmosphere for the center. Posters were also purchased to decorate other walls. The board inspected the center at their regular meeting for April and were most pleased with the results. Garland Young reported the kids were pleased with the colorful additions to the center.

The center has continued throughout the year to be used regularly by a large number of the youth. The Saturday night movies have been a success, although attendance has been tentatively scheduled for June 29 after the work is finished.

The youth center is open daily and you are invited to stop by and look at the improvements. "The Lions Den," as the walls now read, is a pleasant place for recreation for the youth and we hope that you as parents will encourage your teenagers to spend some of their time there.

We are striving to provide the youth with activities that will interest them. Pool, ping-pong, and foos ball tables are available. Several board games have been purchased recently. A juke box, video games, T.V. and large screen TV are also available.

We feel the center is well equipped and in addition to recreational activities it provides a place for the youth to gather and see one another rather than on the streets. Your support will be appreciated.

LILAC TIME

They're young, they're in love, they face each other across the table munching hamburgers and sipping cokes. They've got stars in their eyes and they're in a cloud that "comes on" like a country lane in lilac time. Just now they don't need anything or anybody else.

It's beautiful while it lasts, but it doesn't last, at least not this way. In some ways, things get better. In other ways, the repetition of everyday living (with the bills and the dishes and colds in winter and poison ivy in summer) catches up. And so people need a focal point where they can weigh one thing against another and really consider what it's all about.

There happens to be a good place to ponder and to judge... one that's been around for quite a few centuries. The Church, in case you haven't guessed.

Garden Club sets annual flower show

"Spring Fever" will be the theme when the Ozona Garden Club opens its annual flower show tomorrow at the Civic Center. The 26th Annual standard flower show will have some exquisite horticulture specimens this year, provided the weather cooperates. Wildflowers, roses, and iris are blooming in abundance this year, and apparently at just the right time.

The show will be open to the public from 4 until 6 p.m. with no admission charge. Mrs. Bill Mason, president of the club, created the cover for the schedule this year. Besides being an avid gardener, Mrs. Mason is an artist of some note, and this year's cover is outstanding.

Mrs. Joe Bean is flower show chairman this year and was in charge of the schedule. Mrs. Steve Kenley is in charge of staging and Mrs. Charles Williams is publicity chairman. All members of the club will be hostesses during the hours the show is open to the public.

Any amateur gardener may enter the show. Containers will be furnished for horticultural specimens. Awards will be given in design, horticulture and the youth division.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation at 2,319 feet: Clearfork, 1,842 feet; Spraberry 3,200 feet; Wolfcamp, 3,804 feet; Friend lime, 5,178 feet and Canyon at 5,523 feet.

Drilled to 6,400 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 6,331 feet, it is plugged back to 2,227 feet.

Grassland will recover if managed property in 1985

Grassland and other forage plants that were grazed short during last year's drought are in a weakened condition and will recover a lot faster if managed properly during the 1985 growing season.

The Soil Conservation Service encourages producers who sold their livestock last year or greatly reduced their livestock numbers to develop a grazing plan that considers the needs of these weakened plants before they buy back.

The better range plants are very low in vigor due to the dry conditions and the more rest that they can receive this year the faster they will regain their productivity.

Producers who are restocking back now should consider stocking at a lower rate for at least a year or more to give the grass a chance to get ahead of the livestock. Also, there is no assurance that we won't be back in a drought by the end of the year.

Personnel at the SCS office assisting landowners and operators in the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District will help producers work out a planned grazing system or a grazing plan to help improve the stressed rangeland.

Golfers win dual district championships

The Ozona Lions Boys Golf Team joined the girls with a district golf championship at Sonora this past weekend.

It is not often that both teams ride the same bus home as champs, but the Lionettes and Lions did so Saturday. The Lions were led by Diron Holt's 77-77 (154), for the two day, thirty-six hole conference meet. Diron finished as the runnerup district medalist to Colorado City's Jay Piland, who shot a 75-73 (148). Ty McKinney fired an 84-81 (165), freshman Bret Hood 82-82 (164) was as steady as Diron 77-77. J.B. Green had a 90-93 (183), and Will Seahorn shot a 99-95 (194). The top four scores is the team score.

The Lions fired a 333-333 (666) to finish ahead of Sonora (679), Colorado City (681), Crane (753), Sonora "B" (767), Ballinger (824), Coahoma (857), and Ozona "B's" (880).

Diron, Bret, and Ty all made the all-district golf team. The top ten players are named to the team. Diron was second, Bret was fifth, and Ty was sixth. Sonora had five on the team, and Colorado City had three. Crane placed one. Three players were named for 10th, so the team had 12 members.

Odessa's Mission Country Club, will be the site of the Regional Golf Meet, April 29-30. The tourney is composed of 16 teams, two each from districts 1-8. Several very fine teams will be there, but Lion coach Rip Sewell, feels good about his team's chance to advance to the State Meet on May 8th and 9th.

Jan Cagle and her daughter, Rachel Henderson of Odessa, spent the weekend here visiting friends.

Dist. meet qualifies 2 Lady Lions

At the District 7AAA Track Meet last Friday the Lady Lions qualified two events for the regional meet to be held in Odessa on May 3rd and 4th. The 800 meter relay team of Regina Cervantes, Olga Borrego, Lacy Miller and Vanessa Miller, qualified as did Diana Sanchez in the 100 meter hurdles.

The Lady Lions scored 50 points in the meet with Vanessa leading the way with 19, Diana and Regina had 8 each, Lacy and Olga had 7 each, and Donna Sanchez had 1. Other team members who competed were Martha Hernandez, and Tressa Crawford. Melissa Vallejo is also a team member but was unable to compete due to a fracture in her lower leg. Managers for the season were Janet Diaz and Missy Ybarra.

The team did not do as well in the field events as was expected. Vanessa placed third in the discus with a throw of 99'6" and placed fourth in the long jump with a 16'6 1/2" jump.

Donna Sanchez placed sixth in the 3200 meter run. The 400 meter relay team was edged out of second to place third with a season best time of 52.31, the relay consists of Regina, Olga, Lacy and Vanessa. Diana was second in the hurdles with her season best time of 16.48 in the prelims and a 16.66 in the finals. The 800 meter relay team (Regina, Olga, Vanessa and Lacy) placed second with a 1:51.66. Vanessa was fifth in the 200 with a 27.72 and Regina was sixth with a 28.5.

In the J.V. division Griselda Hernandez placed first in the shot put and second in the discus. Mary Lou Hays placed third in the triple jump, fifth in the long jump, sixth in the 200, and second in the 1600 meter run.

The Lady Lions will not be losing any of their present team members to graduation so should be strong next year with all of them back and with the addition of some fine athletes coming up from the 8th grade.

Thunderstorm brings shower

A booming thunderstorm Saturday evening shook the town and left some electrical damage, but only .51 of an inch of rainfall. High winds accompanied the storm, making an accurate rainfall measurement difficult.

So far April showers have failed to materialize in this area and Saturday's rainfall brought the total for the month of .86 of an inch of moisture.

Weight reduction is a major area of exploitation and misinformation. For health and appearance reasons, people do not want to be "fat." Many types of diets have been promoted over the past two decades by people posing as experts. Those which require severe reduction in calories or concentrate on a single food or diet component are of most concern to nutritionists.

"Liquid only" diets, which require purchase of a powdered supplement, range from less than 400 calories to 600 calories and do not provide sufficient nutrients to maintain good health. The potential dangers of these diets or total fasting include dehydration, weakness, lethargy, digestive disorders, ketosis, muscle loss, and depletion of calcium magnesium, and potassium.

High protein/low carbohydrate diets can lead to fatigue, irregular heartbeat, nausea, calcium depletion, elevated blood uric acid levels, and aggravation of existing kidney problems. Diets which rely on a single item--solely fruit or only high-fiber foods--exclude many required nutrients, interfere with absorption of others, and may provide an overload of other nutrients.

These are just a few of the many diet regimens being successfully promoted. Generally, fad diets are expensive, difficult to follow for long periods of time, and ineffective for permanent weight loss. Successful weight reduction is accomplished by reduced calorie intake, increased calorie output, or a combination of the two. This means a carefully controlled balanced diet and/or a sensible exercise program.

Many nutritional fallacies are originated and perpetuated by "self-styled" nutrition experts who lack the necessary credentials to make claims. They write articles and books and endorse products promising simple solutions to complex health problems, such as obesity, hypertension, heart disease, and cancer. Consumers are vulnerable to such advice and are easily duped.

Physicians are generally perceived to be health authorities, but they may not necessarily be nutrition experts. A medical doctor (M.D.) usually has the scientific knowledge to evaluate fad-dish nutrition claims. However, few physicians have the formal training to counsel patients--particularly those requiring special diets--on proper food selection.

Since consumer interest in nutrition has become a marketing tool, it has been used unscrupulously by some food manufacturers and retailers. Terms such as "natural," "pure," "wholesome", and "health food" imply that a food is nutritionally superior or has health promoting qualities. Actually, these terms apply to most foods and, without some definition from the manufacturer, are too vague to have any practical significance.

Claims that eating or avoiding certain nutrients or foods will improve health or protect against disease must be carefully evaluated. For example, many people take Vitamin E and selenium supplements to slow the aging process. Although these nutrients have been reported to provide some cell protection, the aging premise has not been proven. The currently popular practice of self-medicating with massive doses of vitamin or mineral supplements may have harmful effects.
