We would like to clear up a rumor which has been floating around for some time now. After publishing the school paper, "The Lions Roar," for forty-odd years, we did not just quit printing it in these pages. It was decided by school officials that journalism students should write, make-up, and print their paper on their own. Three years ago with the beginning of the fall term the first issue of the Lions Roar was put out by the journalism department. We assisted with standing heads and art work. We expected to take it to press when we took the Ozona Stockman, but it did not work out that way. However, we did help distribute it to the public in its fledgling days and try to assist in any way we could. There was never any charge for this service nor for the 40 years preceding.

The past year, the only issue we saw was the graduation edition, or the last issue put out. We have never refused to print school news and have always tried to be helpful and assist in any way we could.

An apparent break-down in communications came about this past year and we missed some school news parents thought we should have printed. This has been discussed with the present administration, and we hope to have a better system of gathering school news when the fall term begins. If it becomes necessary we will hire a reporter for that purpose.

I can't see how that would serve any useful purpose, but if it becomes necessary we can arrange it. With the new school reform bill and legislative changes in the next few years, every taxpayer is going to find they have an interest in the school system and its functions and it is our job to keep you informed. We intend to do our best.

Ozona is in the limelight again, and this time nationally. Steve Kenley, who was featured in a series of ads for Manufacturers Hanover, received word last week the agency had finished the lay-outs and they were in print in several national magazines.

We saw the ad in Business Week. In full living color Fire Marshal Kenley and three firefighters are battling a roaring blaze. The other three Ozona firemen are Max Schroeder, John L. Henderson and Steve Williams.

Other magazines which will run the double-page spread are Fortune, Money, Newsweek, Time and Forbes. Maybe there are some more, but these we know about. We are anxious to know if there are different lay-outs. The agency personnel were in Ozona for days taking pictures featuring Steve who is depicted as fire marshal, deputy sheriff, school business manager, and rancher. He also does several other volunteer civic services which are not mentioned, such as serving as an Emergency Medical Technician. We're right proud of you, Steve.

The wind has blown a gale for three days and nights. I guess we can't complain because it has given some relief from the stifling heat that came late in May and lingered. I read where some weather research center has predicted a "cooler than usual August." It's nice to think about, but we can't count on it. Texas weather is a giant puzzle.

Deadline looms for tennis entries

Tennis players have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to get entries in for the sixth annual Ozona Tennis Tournament which will be held Saturday on the local courts.

As of Monday, 25 entries had been received at the Chamber of Commerce office. More were expected before tomorrow's deadline. The chamber began sponsoring the event six years ago, and it has grown each year with participants coming from all over the area.

Trophies will be awarded all first and second place winners. Singles entry fee is $7.50 and doubles, $15. Players should report to the tennis courts at Ave H and Third Street in this order, boys and girls age 13-18, 8 a.m. all others by 10 a.m. Saturday, June 8.

Ozona pools open just in time for youngsters to cool off from unseasonably hot weather. All pools are open and have been having tremendous crowds daily due to the oppressive heat which has seen the mercury to above 100 degrees for almost two weeks.

Pecan nut casebearers present in Crockett Co.

Pecan growers in the Crockett County area should be aware that pecan nut casebearers are present in the county and can destroy a large part of the crop according to County Extension Agent Billy Reagor. These small worms do most of their damage during late May and early June as the first generation feeds on the small nutlets causing them to fall from the tree. This year the predicted date for this damage to start occurring is May 21. This date has been arrived at by using a model developed by entomologists at Texas A&M University which predicts the date when the damaging first generation of pecan nut casebearer will begin to enter nuts in an area. The model works on the accumulated heat during the year. Since insects are "cold blooded" animals, the time required for them to develop cannot be measured in hours, days and years as it can be in "warm blooded" animals. Instead, development in the insects is governed by accumulated heat units. The more heat that is available, the faster the biochemical reactions that are necessary for insect growth and development occur. Using this basic idea, data from research and the temperatures at a location we can accurately predict the date damage will start occurring.

On the predicted date, pecan growers should check the nutlet clusters of their trees for pecan nut casebearer eggs. These small white eggs are laid singly on clusters. Several nutlet clusters should be examined. If one or more eggs are found per 100 nutlet clusters, the trees should be sprayed with a recommended insecticide such as Sevin, Malathion or Zolone. A second spray application should be made 7 to 10 days after the first one.

A second generation of pecan nut casebearer will occur about 42 days after the first generation. For Crockett County this will be July 5. Pecan growers should recheck nuts at that time for pecan nut casebearer eggs. If 2 or more eggs per 100 clusters are found at that time, spraying again is recommended.

Ozonans may soon be able to dial 1 instead of 112

Due to the installation and implementation of new equipment within the Ozona exchange, General Telephone announces the following changes in dialing effective June 21, 1985. To place long distance station-to-station calls, dial one plus the area code (if necessary) and the number. To place person-to-person, collect, credit card and third-number billing calls, dial zero plus the area code (if necessary) and the number. For local directory assistance, dial 1+411. For party line revert calls (to dial another party on your party line), dial "149" plus the 7-digit number and proceed as usual.

When using a pay telephone, it will be necessary to dial all seven digits when making local calls. Otherwise, your telephone call will not go through.

International Direct Distance Dialing (IDDD) will be available as of June 21. This makes it possible to direct dial calls to foreign countries. Consult the front pages of your telephone directory for details.

Field house will be open to public for the summer

The Ozona High School fieldhouse will be open to the public again this summer.

The coaches have again volunteered their time to make the fieldhouse available to the public during the summer months.

Whether you're an athlete wanting to build additional strength or just wanting to tone up and look good the weight and exercise equipment is available. The coaches will assist newcomers in setting up a workout routine. They request that children under twelve be accompanied by an adult.

Starting June 17, the hours will be from 7 until 8:30 p.m. from Monday through Friday.

If these hours are not convenient check with Coach Green and he may be able to make special arrangements for you.

Many people have begun to make use of both the track and fieldhouse. As many as (38) thirty-eight people have signed the register at the fieldhouse in an evening.

Due to excessive wear on the track and the repair of same, people using the track are asked to use the outside three lanes for their walking and jogging.

Come join those already taking advantage of these facilities and get fit for the summer.

Circle Bar crew on auto racing tour for summer

The Circle Bar Auto Racing crew ran in the Milwaukee 200 Sunday and captured a tenth place finish. Mario Andretti won the pole position and the race. However, the local crew was well pleased with the outcome. Chet Phillip is the driver for the crew, and many Ozonans watched the race on ESPN television.

Corey Phillip, crew chief, expects to have a car ready for the race June 16, at Portland Oregon. This race may also be seen locally on ESPN.

The next 500 mile oval race the group expects to compete in will be the Michigan 500, July 21. This will be the second of the Triple Crown of 500 mile races. The third will be the Pocono 500 on August 18. NBC will carry the Michigan race and ESPN the Pocono.

The fifteen race season includes other shorter races and course races in which the team plans to participate. Most of these are carried by ESPN television and KRCT radio.

Tom Mitchell, who owns Circle Bar Auto Racing, recently returned home from Indianapolis where his car was bumped after qualifying in the first trials.

Other crew members are Tom Anderson, Brian Berry, Mike Rily, David Robinette and Bill Wilson. Timers and scorers are Angel Weis, Cherie McKinney and Julie Hackney.

Three-day weekend boosts fund for van

A fun-filled family weekend at the Ozona Country Club made the Care-A-Van, nearer a reality with $3,400 added to the total cost of the van and move the total above the $6,000 mark. The specially equipped van will cost $20,000, and be used for care center residents. The Crockett County Care Center and Hospital Auxiliary has taken this on as a special project and plan several events to raise money for the purchase during the next months.

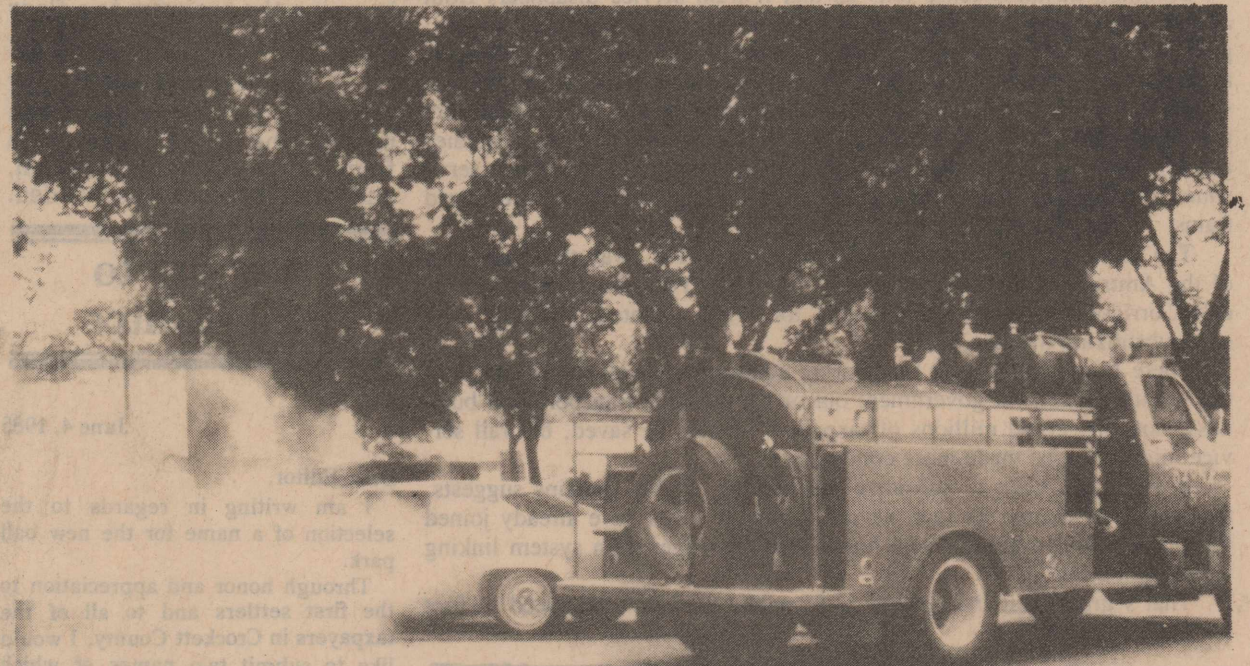

The auxiliary expressed appreciation to members of the club and local merchants for making the 3-day weekend such a success. They particularly wish to thank Dick Webster, Barbara and Larry Walker, Mustard Williams, Royce Newton, Rick Hunnicutt, R. L. Babbitt, Diron Holt, Dorothy Montgomery, Bobbie Fatout, Emma Adams and the Ladies Bridge Assn.

Merchants who donated prizes were Bakers Jewelers, Dorothy Doll, Perry

The next fund-raising event will take place June 22. It will be a flea market in the downtown park. Any organization, club or individual is welcome to set up a booth for whatever they wish to sell. Individual booths will be charged $20. To reserve a booth, call Glenda Henderson at 2-2738 or Jo Davidson at 2-2094.

The Care Center booth will offer ceramics, the Care-A-Van booth will be the white elephant booth, and donations are being solicited for this. Anything of value with the exception of clothes will be welcomed. The auxiliary will also have a booth. It has not been decided what this booth will consist of.

Car blaze in downtown Ozona

Janet Flanagan Yates made a quick stop at the park here Thursday morning when she discovered her car was on fire. A Stockman staff member called the fire department and shortly the flames were extinguished. Bursts of flame were coming out from beneath the car when it was first noticed.

TAKE AMTRAK OFF THE FEDERAL PAYROLL

By Edwin Feulner

You may not realize it, but every time a passenger boards an Amtrak train, the federal government dishes out an average of $35 to subsidize the cost of the trip.

In fact, since Amtrak was created in 1971, $10 billion in federal subsidies has been poured into the system.

Despite this, rail passenger service continues to have great difficulty attracting riders — with trains currently accounting for only three-tenths of one percent of intercity passenger miles. In order to continue operating, Amtrak has requested an additional $774 million in subsidies for Fiscal Year 1986.

Given the fact that Amtrak has never made a profit and its losses have grown considerably, does it really make sense to force taxpayers to provide rail passenger service for the small segment of the population that actually uses this mode of transportation?

Contrary to popular belief it isn't the poor who rely on passenger trains these days. Lower-income travelers tend to ride buses, which have lower fares. For them, it's "Go Greyhound" or Trailways — or not at all. Indeed, studies show that Amtrak riders have higher incomes than the national average. Along the New York-Philadelphia-Baltimore-Washington corridor, one sees mostly business travelers.

Proposals to get the federal government out of the passenger train business continue to arouse great passion. The one given is that Amtrak's annual operating deficit (read that "loss") is paid for by U.S. taxpayers, most of whom never set foot on a train.

One reader of this column, Henry O. Jenkins of Portales, New Mexico, tells me "there are a lot of us out here in the hinterlands that are absolutely 'FOR' the continuation" of the Amtrak subsidy. He suggests that perhaps the states through which Amtrak long distance trains run could help support the service through "diversion" of part of the revenue the states gain from businesses that locate in those states as a result of Amtrak service.

He argues that Amtrak is being "turned into a political scapegoat." Like others, he is concerned that if the federal government withdraws its support, the residents of many communities will find themselves without any form of inter-city travel, other than automobiles. These concerns are genuine.

This doesn't, however, justify taxing the many for the convenience of the few.

Common business sense tells us that if train service disappears from a town or city, something else will appear in its place: bus service, perhaps, or even a commuter airline. It may be more costly to the rider, as an airline ticket would probably be, or less convenient, as slower bus service would likely be, but there is little likelihood of any community that needs passenger service being totally abandoned. Published studies already have confirmed that the only reason inter-city buses don't serve some communities is because the buses can't compete with the subsidized trains.

The federal government should sell or even give away those portions of the Amtrak system, such as the Boston-New York-Washington Northeast Corridor, that have the potential for being operated profitably, and stop subsidizing the rest.

There is no justification for pouring additional federal funds into Amtrak. With the federal government out of the personal transportation business, not only could millions of taxpayers' dollars be saved, but rail service might even be made more competitive.

If the states want to subsidize rail service, as Mr. Jenkins suggests, that's another matter. In fact, several Midwest states have already joined forces and plan to build a new high-speed passenger train system linking their major cities.

That's great. But the general U.S. public shouldn't be asked to foot the bill.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—On the last day of the session, the Legislature passed a $38.6 billion budget, and while lawmakers avoided a $1.2 billion deficit crisis, they didn't sidestep a special session called to provide health care for the poor.

Less than an hour after the midnight gavel banged final adjournment, Gov. Mark White announced he was calling legislators back into session immediately to consider unfinished business.

Three days later, the Legislature approved a $70 million health care plan for the poor. The money comes out of general revenue and contingency funds controlled by the governor, and does not call for a tax hike.

Although the plan was supported by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis, the bill died in the final three minutes of the regular session when an opposition legislator talked it to death.

The bill provides that the state will pay for health care for the very poor, and for expanded medical services for mothers, infants and the elderly. County governments will be reimbursed for costs.

Indigent Plea Heard

Of course, the poor were naturally for the bill, but so were many rural hospital boards strained financially by indigent patients.

Finding funds for the program was the major problem because few lawmakers were willing to vote for another tax increase. Most of them, in fact were careful to avoid even the appearance of voting for a tax increase, so scared are they of voter reaction.

When someone proposed latching onto an eight-cent cigarette tax that the feds are rumored to be repealing, most legislators, and especially Gov. White, were uncertain and slow to act. Hence the delays in bringing the program to a floor vote.

An Election Issue?

But once the budget was passed, the extra money was found to pay for the program, and a tax increase was avoided.

Letters to the Editor

June 4, 1985

Dear Editor,

I am writing in regards to the selection of a name for the new ball park.

Through honor and appreciation to the first settlers and to all of the taxpayers in Crockett County, I would like to submit two names of which either one would be very appropriate. "The Pioneer Ball Park" and "The Heritage Ball Park."

I think our fathers and ancestors, all taxpayers in Crockett County, and hard working citizens, have laid the foundation for the new and modern things that we enjoy today.

Let all the people at the present time and the pioneers be honored in naming the new ball park in their memory and honor.

A concerned citizen,
Ida Mitchell Montgomery

In the early hours of the special session, the indigent care plan threatened to be the foremost election issue of 1986.

On one hand, Mark White and the Democrats, including most of the rural conservatives, had revived and advocated the program.

On the other, the Republicans had fought it all along in the belief they were avoiding a tax increase.

Wishy-Washy or Gutsy?

The man in the hot seat was, and still is, the governor, alternately blasted for being headstrong and "wishy-washy."

Already he must stand for re-election with one bona fide tax hike on his record. He ran the risk of adding another, but by not adding a tax, he and lawmakers diminished the election bomb effect.

The governor saw the need for the legislation and was determined to see it passed. Even his opponents must concede that he pulled it off, and speedily.

Other Legislation

Other approved legislation

includes:

—Raising the legal drinking age to 21 to avoid losing some $100 million in federal highway funds.

—Reviving the law requiring triplicate prescriptions to aid law enforcement officers in drug cases.

—Allowing widows and divorcees to continue receiving health insurance benefits for one year after spousal death or divorce.

—Requiring drivers and front-seat passengers to wear safety belts or face a fine.

—Creating the first statewide plan for water development, conservation, and research.

—Extending unemployment compensation for farm laborers.

—Increasing cities' jurisdiction over billboards and limiting compensation to sign owners for removal.

—Mandating criminal background checks for new day-care employees.

—Establishing a felony and penalties for an unauthorized person who alters or damages data in a computer.

4-H involves everyone and everybody wins at 4-H

4-H's are involved in a lot of competitive events this time of the year—fashion shows, horse shows, roundups and the like. And these types of events are directed toward making youth better individuals, not just winning.

Everybody "wins" with 4-H, says Agents Hall and Reagor.

People are the only creatures on earth who survive by serving each other. It is in serving each other that people can find the satisfaction and reward they require for successful living. This fact is one of the basic principles upon which the 4-H club program is built.

Another way to say it is that "people get what they want in life by helping others get what they want." Individuals cannot succeed or even survive for long without the resources they receive from other people, and vice versa. Today's 4-H program

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

This spring the country landscape has been unusually beautiful with the lush growth of the colorful native flowers. Several have asked the names of some growing along our highways which are now in bloom. Of course, we all are amazed at the bountiful display of blue bonnets all over our hills. Two flowers from the mint family are Salvia farinacea, blue alvia or blue sage which grows mostly in pastures between here and Austin in a massed glorious blue with gray foliage. To me, it competes in beauty with the blue bonnets. Another is Monarda dispersa or purple horsemint which grows in pastures and along railroad tracks. Bee keepers consider it one of the most important sources of honey in Texas. It grows 1 to 2 feet high with long showy, purple rosettes at intervals along the upper portion of the stems. It is easy to grow as it spreads from year to year by new plants arising from the root stalks. The tall spikes are especially delicate and pretty to use in spring arrangements.

From the phlox family is another tall attractive plant to be seen now. Tilia rubra, standing cypresses, with the upper one-third of the stem covered with scarletred, five-pointed, tubular flowers. Still another showing plant of the limestone hills is the Erythraea 'Iceyrickie', mountain pink, from the gentian family. It is a low mound-like, fork-branched plant, two to ten inches high covered with a mass of star-like pink blossoms. Truly a ready-made bouquet. Early settlers used it for a fever medicine.

The lowly Johnson grass has been featured in many arrangements at flower shows and District and National Garden Club meetings. One year it was sent to Montana for their summer meeting. It dries beautifully also.

For the dry places in your garden, one of the showiest plants are succulents, which thrive where other plants wither in the sun and drought. The hardy type which will survive severe winters include the sempervivium (hen and chickens or house larks) sedums, aloes, echeverea and others. Many of these are used for potted plants for patios and the house.

Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Montgomery won Sunday afternoon, with Mrs. Clay Adams and Mrs. Gene Lilly, second, and Mrs. Byron Williams and Mrs. Gene Perry, third. There were four tables of play.

Here's Hoping...

All of us do a lot of hoping, a lot of wishing. That's the human thing to do. But, somehow, we all know that "wishing won't make it so."

Living abundantly means more than just taking a chance on life. It takes courage and confidence to face up to our problems, and it takes strength to solve them.

None of us is perfect enough to live without hope. But, is hope enough? No, to cross our fingers and make a wish is not sufficient. But in church, with prayer and dedication, we can find the strength and faith to make our hopes come true.

Won't you give it a try next week?

Crockett County Care Center News

By Ann McCartney
Director of Activities & Social Care

Our unofficial summertime has indeed arrived. The nice warm weather has our Alice Ross and volunteer Jonsey Williams both working on our flowers. Alice transplanted flowers Dorothy Doll had planted for us in our standing flower bed in the back. We truly thank, once again, these ladies for all their labors.

Our fourth Sunday afternoon church services found five faithful members of the Church of Christ coming and bringing the worship service.

Thanks goes to our local graduation class for sharing their graduation flowers with our Care Center. Thanks also goes to the D. C. Ratliff's for bringing a box of apricots to share with our Center. Further thanks goes to Lib Applewhite for posting the "visit a nursing home" sign downtown. Sue Arledge sent us a subscription to "Texas Highways" as a memorial to Doris Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Doris Haire also sent some apricots over the weekend.

Pearl Morris won the El Chato's dinner for two prize during Tuesday morning's bingo. On Friday Rebekah West was the two day winner of bingo's first place prize, which this week was $5 from Perry Brothers. Hilda Dysart won the second place prize and Minnie Karr won the gift certificate from Baker Jewelers. Tuesday and/or Friday volunteers included: Alice Ross, Elodia Zapata, Amalia Lumbrales, Minnie Karr, Dorothy Doll, Mattie Cooper, Lelia Tambunga, Anna Bell Patrick and Courtney Nelson. Tuesday afternoon we viewed two movies furnished through our public library.

Tuesday night Jamie Knox along with Mr. and Mrs. Don Kilgore, and J. D. Kilgore brought the Knox Band for an evening of dancing and entertainment. Our newcomer Pauline Clinton proved to be quite a dancer as well as Tomasa Ramoz.

Marie Pierson directed our ceramics on Wednesday morning. Residents trying their hand at painting included: Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramoz, Jean Beardmore, Hilda Dysart, Ola Mills, Pauline Clinton and Moriama Perez.

Wednesday afternoon we once again had some of that good Gandy's Ice Cream for an afternoon treat.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Vivian Hughes and Clara Byrd. These ladies have been faithfully coming for months now. They are soon to take some vacation time so we are in hopes some other faithful people will come our way.

By the way friends out there, don't forget our Flea Market on June 22nd. A booth can be bought or extra goodies can be donated to the Auxiliary's booth. We still need lots and lots of money for our van so that means lots and lots of projects still to come.

Four members of the Faith Lutheran Church brought our Bible study this week. Spanish Hour of Praise was brought by Maria Vitela, Carmen Vargas, Felipa Munoz, Mariana Hernandez and Victoria De La Garza. Juana and H. C. Delgado served Catholic communion this week.

Sixteen residents attended our Resident's Council Meeting this past Friday. The June calendar of events was previewed with all new activities emphasized. Happy Birthday was sung to Hilda Dysart.

Nine members of the United Methodist Church assisted with the Sunday afternoon church services. Rev. Ken Harrison brought the service, Katharine Russell led the singing, and Bernice Jones played the piano.

Monday morning we began a new program, that of sitting on the front porch and visiting. Nothing like a little fresh air to start the week off right.

If you happen to be someone home for the summer, bored because you don't have enough to do, why not stop by for one of our calendars and choose some times you might come. We had a newcomer to Ozona do this very thing this week. Volunteers are great!

Darla Lovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lovell of San Angelo, posted a 4. average at Angelo State University this past semester.

Miss Lovell is the granddaughter of Lois Craig of Ozona.

Charles McDonald and his son, Monroe of Bangs, were Ozona visitors over the weekend.

MRS. LES HALE
...nee Miss Katreece White

Miss White and Mr. Hale wed in Brownwood ceremony

Katreece White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl White of Brownwood, and Les Hale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hale of Ozona, were united in marriage at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 25.

The Coggin Avenue Baptist Church of Brownwood was the scene of the wedding. Officiating for the double ring ceremony was the uncle of the bride, the Rev. Bob Green of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. Nuptial music was provided by pianist Paul Blackstock of Temple, organist Miss Dorothy McIntosh of Brownwood and soloist John La Forge, Jr. of Waco.

Guests were greeted in the foyer by Laurie Hale of Ozona, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, who presided over a register table covered with an ivory lace cloth, featuring the bride's book, pink plume pen and a brass urn of brilliant teal taffeta roses.

Vows were exchanged before a brass fan-shaped candelabra flanked on either side by spiral candelabras holding forty-five white cathedral tapers and entwined with pink roses and grape leaves. Brass plant stands holding Boston ferns stood on each side of the candelabras and foliage cascaded over the altar railing.

Three brass candlesticks holding pink tapers and entwined with a garland of English ivy complimented the altar table.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She chose to wear the wedding gown worn by her mother. The gown was designed and sewn by her maternal grandmother, the late Juanita Morgan. The floor-length gown of ivory satin featured an Empire bodice of Chantilly lace with scalloped Sabrina neckline and fitted lace sleeves that extended to points over the hands. The chapel-length train fell softly from pleats beginning at the back waist. A headpiece of silk flowers encircled by crystal pleated netting held her double tiered French silk illusion fingertip veil. Her jewelry was a sapphire drop necklace.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of bridal pink and white roses showered with gypsophila and maiden hair fern. It included an extended shower of peico ribbon with lovers knots holding pink roses.

Lori Montgomery, of Andrews, attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jenny Simpson of Ft. Worth, and Gay and Julie Green of Broken Arrow, Oklahoma, cousins of the bride.

The attendants wore matching teal-length brilliant teal taffeta dresses featuring fitted princess bodices with off-the-shoulder ruffle necklines. Their headpieces were circlets of pink silk roses, baby's breath, and pink ribbons. Each attendant carried a cascading bouquet of pink variegated carnations, bridal pink roses showered with gypsophila, maiden hair fern, and brilliant teal ribbon.

Lindsey Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Browning of Andrews, was her cousin's flower girl. She wore a floor-length brilliant teal taffeta dress with matching cummerbund. She carried a white basket of fresh flowers in shades of pink and white. Her headpiece was identical to those worn by the bridesmaids.

Eddie Hale was his son's best man. Groomsmen were Ed Hale, brother of the groom, Will M. Black, of Ozona, and Todd White, brother of the bride. Ushers and candlelighters were Shawn McCasland and Terry Crawford of Ozona.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. White wore a floor-length rose polycreepe dress with matching lace trimmed jacket. The groom's mother chose a formal seafoam green taffeta with a lace bodice and long lace sleeves. Their corsages were cybidium orchids.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was draped in white lace and centered with an arrangement of fresh pink and blue daisies in a crystal basket.

The four-tiered wedding cake was separated by crystal columns and decorated with fresh pink and blue daisies. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing beneath a large wedding bell. This decoration was also used on the bride's parents wedding cake.

The food table, covered in white lace, was centered with a brass and crystal candelabra holding five pink tapers and entwined with English ivy. Brass appointments were used throughout the reception.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Lori Coppic, Mrs. Linda Browning, cousin of the bride, from Andrews, Kelly Boyd, Andrews, and Leigh Ann Sutton.

Pink bags of birdseed and taffeta roses were distributed by Lindsey Browning. Music for the reception was provided by Paul Blackstock, pianist.

Special guests for the wedding included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. O.T. White of El Dorado, Arkansas, and grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox of San Angelo. Other guests were from Arlington, Ozona, Waco, Ft. Worth, Abilene, Greenville, Andrews, Odessa, Temple, Rocksprings, and Broken Arrow, Oklahoma.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Underwood's Cafeteria.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a kitchen shower hosted by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority in Alpine, and a gift tea in the home of Mrs. George Ogden in Brownwood.

A barbeque honoring Katreece and Les was held Saturday, June 1, at the C.E. Davidson Ranch in Ozona. Hosts were Earl and Pam Acton, Terry and Jack Adams, Paula and Jim Bob Bailey, Marolyn and Joe Bean, Helen and David Bean, Tina and Douglas Bean, Susie and Bill Black, Jane Black, Wanda and George Bunger, Tammy and Louis Bunger, June and Tom Cameron, Janie and Erby Chandler, Fred Chandler, Jo and Charlie Davidson, Sadie and Quatro Davidson, Alena Faye and Floyd Hokit, Carol and Rick Hunnicutt, Teri and Roy Jackson, Anne and Joe Jones, Allean and Taylor Jones, Beverly and Kenneth Maudin, Lorelei and Pancho McMullan, Susan and Cliff McMullan, Jean and Nat Read, Jill and Pon Seahorn, and Patsy and J. C. Schroeder.

After a honeymoon trip to Montana, the couple plans to make their home in Andrews.

The bride, a 1982 graduate of Brownwood High School, was a May 1985 summa cum laude graduate of Sul Ross State University, where she was listed on the National Dean's List, Dean's List, Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, Alpha Chi Honor Society, Outstanding Social Science Student and president of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

The bridegroom, a 1981 graduate of Ozona High School, was a May 1985 graduate of Sul Ross State University, where he was listed on the Dean's List, National Dean's List and was the team roping champion for the National Intercollegiate Rodeo (NIRA) Southwest region for 1984-85.

Methodists to host the Singing Saints

The Ozona United Methodist Church will host the "Singing Saints" June 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary. The "Saints," made up of approximately 35 young people will be on their way home to Richmond, Texas, after a 3,000 mile tour of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

The "Singing Saints" began eight years ago as a Youth Choir of seventh through twelfth graders, but for the past four years it has been limited to only Senior High and College Youth. Each spring, the "Saints," their parents, and members of the congregation work to raise the necessary funds for the Choir's tour.

Members of the church feel very fortunate to have the opportunity to present this new and exciting musical experience. All members of the community are invited for the performance.

There is no cost for this program.

The youngsters raise money throughout the year to completely fund the adventure, and no offering will be taken.

Thunderstorms wreak havoc on area ranches

By W. Ewart White
The Ozona area has been beset with intensely severe thunderstorms that brought power failures as lightning struck light wires or near them and always presented a threat of damaging hail storms. Some of us felt at times that the lightning and thunder were right in the room with us.

At least one Crockett County rancher not only felt that the storm was in the room with him, it actually was—the lightning, that is.

B. B. Ingham, Jr. who ranches on the Pecos river on the extreme western edge of the county, sat in his ranch home during a recent electrical disturbance in the skies above him, listening to the thunder and seeing the flashes of lightning, hoping every clap and crash would bring the much needed rain. Looked down to discover his kitchen floor awash with nearly an inch of water. He was attempting to mop it up before he discovered the source—lightning had struck and surged in on his plumbing and burned in half the cooper tubing carrying water to his icemaker.

Ingham, who is served by an REA line out of Brackettville, says he has been without electrical power 15 hours this spring as a result of thunderstorms. The long rural lines seem to attract lightning and the surges blow the fuses.

EXTENSION OFFICE NEWS
By Rachel Hall

Today there are nearly 700 million charge, credit, and debit cards in use in this country, according to the Nilson Report, a trade publication. Cards were used to buy $294 billion worth of goods and services last year.

New technology has created new uses and new security for credit cards.

New "smart" bank and credit cards will have account information stored in a tiny computer chip embedded in the card, rather than the more usual magnetic strip. Chips are more secure and will eventually use voice prints to check owner identity.

A division of Bell Atlantic Telephone Company has begun installing telephones that will allow customers access to a variety of long-distance companies by using one of five credit cards. The "ChargeAll" phone will bill the call directly to American Express, MasterCard, Visa, Carte Blanche, or Diner Club. Presently, callers can use MCI and ITT long-distance services on the new phones. Other long-distance services will be added.

Sears, Roebuck & Co. is testing a new combination credit/financial services card. The card can be used for retail purchases, travel, and entertainment, as well as such financial services as a savings account. Money left in the card's savings account would earn interest.

In the testing stages is the Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) System which would enable food stamp recipients to use plastic cards rather than paper coupons when redeeming food stamps.

Identification information and the amount of monthly benefits would be checked by a computer when the card is used at the checkout counter. The recipient's account would automatically be debited and the store's account credited.

Monthly trips to the welfare office and the sorting and redeeming of coupons by the store would be eliminated. The system would also cut down on the "black market" sale of food stamps.

Herpes will be subject for telecast Mon.

"Herpes: The Complete Story," will be the subject of a two-hour telecast on Lifeline, Channel 23, Monday, June 10. The show will be shown at 8 p.m. and again at 10 p.m.

Herpetic diseases have been with us throughout human history. They are as familiar as cold sores and as common as chicken pox. Knowing the facts about herpes viruses will help you answer important questions about their risk. The telecast will tell how herpes viruses spread, what diseases they cause, who is most vulnerable, and how they can be controlled or treated.

The five herpes viruses and their most common, related diseases are: Herpes simplex, type 1, cold sores, eye infections; Herpes simplex, type 2, genital herpes; Varicella-zoster; chicken pox and shingles; Epstein-Barr, infectious mononucleosis; Cytomegalovirus, birth defects.

Those having been afflicted or recovered from any of the above disease will find the program most interesting.

Jones and Sanchez to attend range camp

Brock Jones and James Sanchez were chosen to attend the Youth Range Workshop at the Texas Tech University Center, Junction, June 16-21. Selection was based on outstanding projects or interest in range management. Local sponsors are Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District, Crockett County National Bank and Ozona National Bank, strong supporters of range education and leadership development of local youth.

The weeklong Youth Range Workshop, sponsored by the Texas Section of the Society for Range Management, is arranged to recognize outstanding range and ranch youth and to provide them an opportunity for complementary training in range management and leadership skills. According to Barron Rector and B. J. Ragsdale, Workshop Coordinators from College Station, participants will learn to identify range plants, evaluate rangeland potential and current condition, manage rangeland for livestock production and wildlife habitat and practice ranch planning. Leadership training will feature discussion of interpersonal relations, communications skills and group leading practice. Field trips away from the Center will be to a Kimble County ranch and the Kerr Wildlife Management Area in Kerr County.

Range Workshop instructors include Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists, teachers from Texas A&M and Texas Tech Universities, a range specialist of the Soil Conservation Service, and other members of the Texas Section SRM. This will be the thirty-first consecutive year for this educational activity for youth. More than 860 youth have benefited.
