Series set for after school child care

Most children over the age of eight are occasionally left at home without adult supervision. In fact, due to the large proportion of households with all adults employed, coupled with the difficulty of finding after school care, many school-age children regularly spend time alone at home.

Most parents are concerned that this time be spent safely, confidently, and constructively. Many children fix their own snacks, answer the telephone, do homework, chores, and entertain themselves until their parents arrive from work.

For this reason, the Extension Home Economics Committee of the Crockett County Program Building Committee has coordinated a series addressing the responsible after-school-self-care for children. Parents and children are encouraged to participate.

The series will be held September 23 and 30, 7:00-9:00 p.m. at the Civic Center.

On September 23, Joy Isier, Texas Department of Human Services representative from San Angelo, will concentrate on personal crime prevention, door and telephone safety techniques. Dee Keilers and Doris Haire, Crockett County Firemen, will discuss first aid and fire prevention for families.

September 30, Katherine Russell Ozona Primary School teacher, will address loneliness, boredom, and leisure time. Jan North, Ozona High School Home Economics teacher, will demonstrate nutritious snacks and meals for children. Ken Harrison, Methodist Pastor, will conclude the series with a session handling household responsibilities (chores).

Primary goals of the "Families Working Together" series are to develop a sense of security, independence and accomplishment in children to develop in children skills necessary for responsible self-care routine as well as emergencies, and to help parents and children develop common sense guidelines for responsible self-care. Several sessions will be held jointly with parents and children, while others may be divided for parents or children only.

Publication deadlines announced

With the beginning of school and the club year, it becomes necessary to remind the public of the publication deadlines for the Ozona Stockman. Deadline for news and advertising each week is before noon on Tuesday. It is suggested that all news be brought in as soon as possible after each meeting. The Stockman staff will be happy to work with club and organization reporters, needing help with covering their meetings.

Engagement, wedding and obituary forms are available at the Stockman office for these occasions. It is suggested the engagement picture and announcement be placed six weeks before the wedding. The wedding picture and story should be in before the wedding if possible, but no later than Tuesday following the event.

Esmie Moran wins weekly f'ball contest

Esmie Moran was the winner of last week's football contest. She was tied with Elaine Castro and Eleno Moran, all three missing only one game. However, she had nearest to the actual score in the tie-breaker. All three who tied picked Dallas to beat Detroit.

Everyone is eligible to enter the football contest. Entry blanks may be found on the sports page, sponsored weekly by Ozona merchants. Entries must be clipped from the Stockman and be in the mail or the Stockman office by 5 p.m. each Friday.

Flooded streets were commonplace in Ozona Saturday. This was the scene at the junction of Eleventh Street and Hwy 290 near the shopping center at noon in driving rain. Pickups could navigate fairly well, but many low automobiles found water in the floor-boards.

School board approves 3.5 cent tax increase

A tax rate of 73 cents per $100 evaluation was adopted for the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Thursday night by the board of trustees. The budget is set at $5,650,408 for expenditures and $5,085,890 for revenues.

Following long and careful deliberations by the Board members, the trustees voted to approve the budget as presented and to adopt a tax rate of $.73 per $100 of taxable value. This is an increase of 3 1/4 over last year's tax rate, and even with the additional revenue, the district will still have to use remaining 1984-85 fund balances to meet the estimated expenditures for 1985-86.

There was a short discussion concerning raising the taxes more this year instead of having to raise them even more next year, but board members voted to keep it at 73 cents. Garland Davis, superintendent stated that in order to meet the budget they would have to "dip into the fund balances."

This budget, according to Davis, is the "Tightest that I have ever written." He went on to point out that it was cut as much as possible everywhere except where the state mandated certain expenditures because of House Bill 72.

In other action the board voted to continue with the present plans for an addition of dressing rooms to the Davidson Memorial Gymnasium to be a one-level, sized structurally for second floor to be added at a later date. Cost of this addition is set at approximately $201,000 to come from bond money. The plans for the second floor will be included in the blueprints for this addition, but will not obligate the district to build the second floor at this time.

Plans were presented by Ron Barbutti, architect on the Ozona Junior High School renovation project. Barbutti reported to the board that the conflict between the district and Security National Insurance Company in regard to the roof on the Heritage School has not been resolved although he is still meeting with company officials in an attempt to reach settlement on the question.

The board agreed that it was the contractor's responsibility to either replace the roof or to prove that it was not damaged. In order to prove it is not damaged a roofing consultant or an independent laboratory would need to inspect it or samples would need to be taken to an independent lab to be checked. The contractor needs to prove that acid has not eaten away at the steel and made it unsightly. The original contract stated that the roof would be restored to the original appearance of unpainted galvanized steel.

Mention was also made of a strange odor that is especially strong on the second floor of the Heritage Building. Plans for the dedication of the School have been set for Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

Board members voted to accept a bid from Great West Life Insurance Company for the school employee health insurance. Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, the district's insurance carrier for many years, had earlier presented an unfavorable 50 percent rate hike to the district and to its employees. Corporate Risk Counselors also bid on the insurance.

Following executive session, the board approved the hiring of Vicki Jackson, a 1985 graduate of Angelo

State University, to teach first grade. William Thompson was also hired to drive a school bus.

Assistant Superintendent Ted Cotton reviewed new student discipline policies, and they were approved as presented. The meeting was adjourned after Superintendent Garland Davis discussed plans for the dedication of the Ozona Heritage School on Sunday, September 22nd.

Lions to take on Big Lake Owls Fri.

The Ozona Lions will host the Big Lake Owls in their home opener at 8:00 Friday night. Lion supporters are urged to come out and cheer the Lions on.

Wet and wild was the way things went for the Ozona Lions last week in their 13-6 loss to the Eden Bulldogs in Eden. From the time they stepped off the bus until they got back on, Mother Nature unloaded with a constant downpour. Both teams were plagued with turnovers, miscues and dropped passes as so often is the case in those conditions.

Ozona started the game by kicking off to Eden and dropping them on their own thirty. The Lion defense held the Dogs for no first down and got the ball on their opponents 47 to begin their first offensive series. Ozona moved the ball down to the Bulldog 26 where they were stopped on a fourth down and one and turned the ball back on downs. These first two possessions were typical of how the first half would be. Neither team was able to put together a scoring drive and both teams had trouble holding on to the ball. The big statistic was the fact that Eden was unable to get out of their end of the field so the Lions continually had good field position.

Weekend rains flood Ozona area

What began as a good rain shower Friday afternoon, turned into a full-fledged flood by Saturday morning and Ozona was under water for the second time this year.

Heavy rains throughout the night Friday and Saturday morning flooded streets and homes in some areas of the city, forcing officials to barricade streets in many areas. Flood waters receded late Saturday and all draws were within banks, but light rain continued.

The official gauge at the water district office recorded 4.94 inches of rainfall for the weekend period. Six inches was recorded in a gauge in Chandler Addition, with several home gauges reporting five inches and over.

The television weather channel gave the total rainfall for the weekend period as 4.91.

Henderson is named to post

John Lee (Sonny) Henderson Jr. has been named to the Board of Directors of the Ozona National Bank. Henderson, who has been an employee of the bank for 16 years, joins Pleas Childress, chairman; Joe Bean, vice chairman; George Bunger, Jr., Tom Cameron, Gary Buck Mitchell, Massey West, and Frank White on the bank board. Honorary members of the board are Lowell Littleton and Hillery Phillips.

Henderson is executive vice-president of the bank and chief executive officer. He joined the bank staff March 6, 1969, at the post of assistant cashier. His next move was to assistant vice-president, and then vice president before his most recent move to Executive Vice President. He was named Chief Executive Officer following the resignation of John Parks from the presidency several months ago.

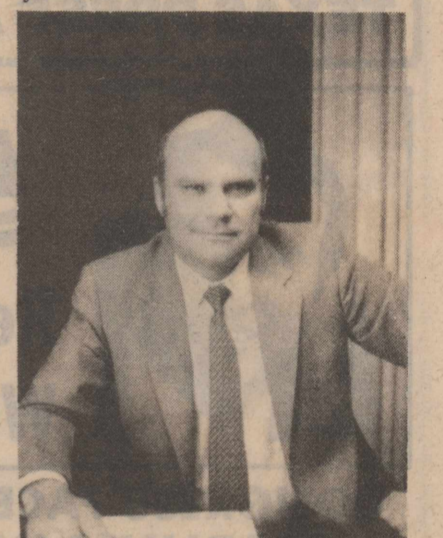

Henderson's great grandfather, J. W. Henderson was one of the founders and the first president of Ozona National Bank.

Henderson, a native Ozonan, graduated from Ozona High School in 1955. He continued his education at Texas Christian University where he holds a degree in ranch management and training. He holds a B.A. degree from Angelo State University with a major in history and a minor in government.

He has been active for many years in civic affairs in Ozona, serving as president of the now dis-banded Rotary Club, and the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department. He has been a 4-H leader and a member of the school board. He has been active in the Ozona United Methodist Church for many years, serving as chairman of the administrative board.

Henderson was campaign manager in Crockett County for Governor Bill Clements and managed Phil Gramm's successful campaign in Crockett County in 1982.

JOHN LEE HENDERSON JR.

He has been involved in ranching since 1956, and brings a wealth of ranching know-how as well as banking experience to the board. He enjoys his work at the ranch and at the bank.

He has a son, John L. Henderson III, and a daughter, Virginia Howell of San Antonio. He is married to the former Glenda McKinney. She has one son, Ty McKinney, a senior in Ozona High School.

Sonny and Glenda enjoy golfing, fishing and traveling as time permits.

Heritage School formal opening set

After serving as Ozona's only school in 1912, and being the junior high school for many years before it was abandoned, the newly restored Ozona Heritage School will have formal opening ceremonies Sunday, Sept. 22, at 3:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Plans to restore the historic structure began in 1978 shortly after it was abandoned. Restoration began Feb. 6, 1984 and completion was delayed when the original contractor left the project only half finished. After months of legal technicalities, restoration was completed and accepted by architect Ron Barbutti.

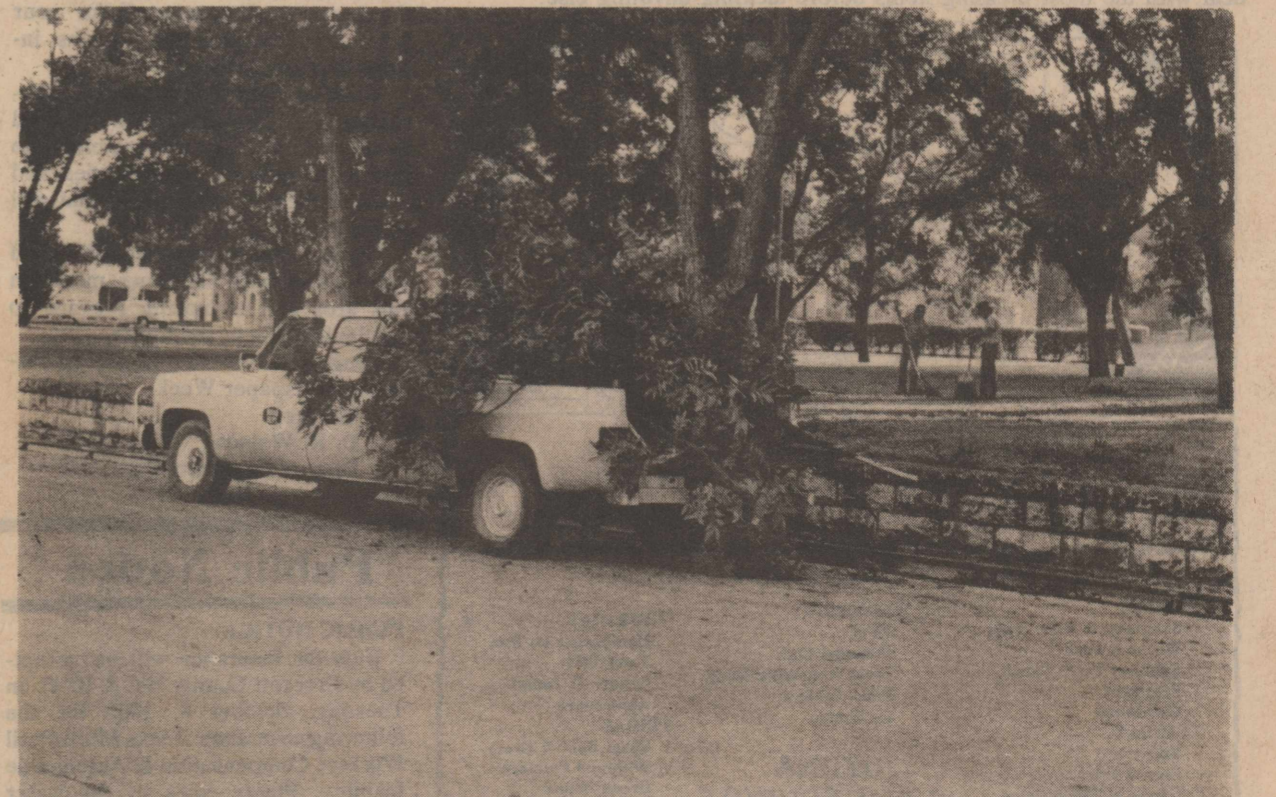

An impressive program is planned for Sunday by the board of trustees. The high school band, under the direction of Kelly Glaze, will open the program with musical selections at 3 p.m. The invocation will be given by Ken Harrison, pastor of Ozona United Methodist Church. Jeffrey Sutton, president of the school board, will give the welcome address, and Superintendent Garland Davis will make the introductions. After greetings by Geniece Childress, Chairman of the Crockett County Historical Commission, and Judge Brock Jones, Jr., president of the Historical Society, Lucile Harrell will make the presentation.

Mrs. Harrell, longtime chairman of the Crockett County Historical Commission and now vice chairman, was instrumental in getting the project underway and deserves much of the credit.

Ted White, former teacher and coach, will speak on "The Building that Was," followed by Barbutti with "The Building that Is."

Open house will follow the program with the student council and National Honor Society members guiding tours of the building. A reception, hosted by the trustees and their wives will close the celebration.

HEAVY WEEKEND RAIN called for double duty for parks department employees Monday morning. Trees in the park lost limbs, leaves and pecans.

Debris littered most streets and many yards, flooding homes in low-lying areas.

CONGRESS FACES LEGISLATIVE DEADLINES IN SEPTEMBER

Like the rest of the nation, Congress headed "back to school" this month, and it faces a full slate of unfinished business that will require action before the end of September.

Top priority will be passing the various appropriations necessary to fund the federal government during fiscal year 1986, which begins on October 1. To date, none of the 13 major appropriations bills which release the funds authorized in the 1986 budget resolution has been cleared by Congress, and if they aren't all approved by October, a stopgap funding resolution lumping together the remaining appropriations will be necessary.

As a member of the House Appropriations Committee, I intend to work for passage of responsible appropriations measures which stay within the budget targets set by Congress. I have also pledged my support for President Reagan's veto of any spending bills which exceed the 1986 budget, because a budget resolution is meaningless unless the appropriations which follow adhere to it.

While Congress is busy with appropriations, other legislative deadlines also approach.

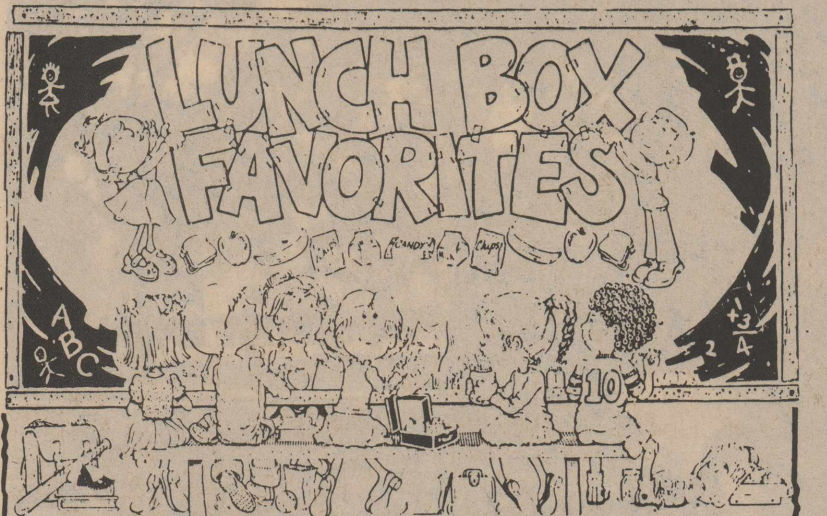

The Interstate Cost Estimate bill which releases federal highway trust funds to states must be approved before the new fiscal year begins on October 1. The highway bill contains a provision which guarantees that Texas and other states which send far more gasoline and truck taxes into the Federal Highway Trust Fund than they get back in highway money now will receive at least 85% of their contribution to the fund. Prior to the addition of this minimum, Texas received only 70%.

Texasans have a large stake in early passage of the highway bill, because our state stands to receive $484 million for highway construction and repair from the trust fund. Congress should not delay action on this measure, because it releases badly needed funds which rightfully belong at work on Texas highways, not gathering dust in federal coffers.

Texas farmers are looking at a 40% decline in farm income this year as the October 1 deadline for renewing federal farm programs approaches. The House and Senate have still not completed action on an omnibus farm bill. While both bodies hold strong sentiment for maintaining current levels of direct income subsidies to farmers, it is becoming increasingly apparent that keeping farm subsidies at current levels will cost more than the budget allows.

Clearly, throwing dollars at persistent farm problems won't restore American agriculture, and new solutions are needed. However, any radical change must also contain a transition to allow farmers to shift gradually from a farm subsidy system which is now nearly 40 years old. We must ensure that the cure for American agriculture does not kill the patient.

Certainly, there are several more items on everyone's legislative agenda during the remaining months of 1985 — more than there is room to mention. But in my opinion, Congress should take first things first and deal with the most pressing items before tackling anything else.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—In a spurt of post-Labor Day activity, new developments emerged last week from the camps of several state officials:

—Governor Mark White promised more crackdowns on prison violence. Meanwhile, one of his appointees, an expert Austin builder, was elected chairman of the Department of Corrections.

—Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice John Hill warned the state's backlogged court system is in danger of collapse unless dockets are streamlined to pick up the pace.

—State Rep. Ray Keller, one of the GOP's rising stars and an outspoken critic of the Texas prison system, stunned his circle by announcing he was abandoning his promising political career.

—Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, arguing for federal farm policy reforms, urged Congress to cut farm subsidies and install national production controls for agriculture.

Prison Gangs
 White said a rash of prison stabbings over Labor Day were probably "gang-related," and that restrictions on letters inmates write back and forth to one another were appropriate, since "they're not discussing what songs to sing in chapel."

Meanwhile, the TDC board elected Alfred D. Hughes as chairman to replace Robert Gunn, who resigned after the final settlement of the long-standing prison reform case.

Hughes is respected as a construction business expert, and the prison system, once scandalized by previous misuses of funds, has several priority building projects ahead.

The new chairman advocated single cells for hard-core prisoners but not necessarily all inmates.

Cases Pending
 Chief Justice Hill predicted by year's end the Supreme Court will enact new administrative rules to speed up some 1.2 million civil and criminal cases pending in state courts.

Hill wants judges to have more control over case movement and stricter deadlines for attorneys in litigation. Otherwise, the overloaded system could "fall under its own weight," he said, noting that some 38,000 cases were added to the backlog in the past eight months.

Keller Quitting
 The high-profiled chairman of the legislative probe of prison system abuses, Ray Keller, is calling it quits.

Texas Republicans had hoped Keller would ride his successful political career to new heights, perhaps even Congress, and his departure left them somewhat stunned.

For his part, Keller cited both legislative "burnout" plus the opportunity to pursue some goals that he "couldn't pass up" as his reasons for quitting. He didn't indicate he would return.

Farm Program

Texas' Agriculture Commissioner wants Congress to cut some $14 billion in farm subsidies from the federal budget and stop all direct federal crop payments to farmers.

But he also wants Congress to set mandatory production controls, approved by a nationwide vote of farmers, and establish a floor price to be based on cost of production.

The down side is an estimated $13 billion groceries increase for consumers, but Hightower said it is a one-time hike and would amount to only a couple of pennies more for a loaf of bread.

The grocery hike would be offset by the $14 billion savings if Congress could be believed not to spend it elsewhere. Basically, Hightower wants consumers to pay more directly to farmers, and cut out the federal government as middleman.

Sharp to Run

Victoria State Sen. John Sharp announced last week he will run for the Texas Railroad Commission seat being vacated by Buddy Temple and said he has collected $1 million in campaign pledges.

Sharp, who also served two terms in the Texas House, is giving up his Senate seat.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM H. HIGGINS, JR

Leanne Arledge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Arledge of Pandale and Ozona, became the bride of William H. Higgins, Jr., son of W. H. Higgins, Sr. and the late Anna Talley Higgins of Coahoma, on Saturday, August 31, at Camp Whispering Oaks in Buffalo Gap. Tollis Talley, minister of Palm Street Church of Christ in Abilene and uncle of the groom, performed the late evening, double-ring ceremony which was held in a clearing beneath an old pecan tree.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a bouquet of silk flowers containing pink and white roses, carnations, gladiolas and babies breath on Victorian lace with satin streamers, and wore a dress of white embroidered English lace. The dress had a fitted bodice, sheer yoke with high lace collar, and large puffed short sleeves. The tea length skirt was of the lace in two deep tiers.

The bride's hat of matching lace and bow of illusion was secured with a family heirloom hatpin which was the "something borrowed" from Madye Jo Humphreys of Ozona. "Something blue" was a garter, "something new" was a gold chain, gift of the groom, and "something old" was a French cameo which belonged to the bride's great-grandmother.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Joe L. Brown of Pumpville and her daughter Jodye. Mrs. Penn Baggett, sister of the bride of Ozona, and her daughters Leana Sue and Whitney, and Mrs. Rick Vannoy of Midland were the other bridal attendants.

Wearing lace-bordered, tea length dresses of shadow striped tulle over pale pink tissue taffeta, with fitted bodices and large lace-cuffed puffed sleeves, the attendants carried long-stemmed pink silk roses with babies breath and pink satin bows and streamers.

Jimmy Campbell of Big Spring was best man and David Higgins of Big Spring and Tim Higgins of Midland served their brother as groomsmen. The groom was wearing a white tuxedo with tails and pink silk double rosebud boutonniere. The groomsmen wore dove grey tuxedos with pink and white striped tucked-front shirts and pink silk rosebud boutonnieres.

Wedding music was provided by relatives of the groom: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Talley of Amarillo, uncle and aunt, and Mrs. and Mrs. Randy Talley of Odessa, cousins.

At the reception following the wedding, which was hosted by the bride's parents and catered by Glenda Hilliard and Carlyn Smith of Abilene, the bride's table was centered against a backdrop of white imported screens decorated with grape ivy and pink and white flowers. Brass and crystal appointments were used on the table which was covered in white sheer with pink flower and satin bow tie-ups.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink and white roses.

The centerpiece was a Victorian arrangement of pink and white silk roses, carnations, and gladiolas in a brass epergne. Mock Champagne punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Serving at the reception were aunts and cousins of the groom. At the bride's table were Mrs. Hollis Talley and Holly, and Mrs. Danny Leach.

The groom's table, with brass and crystal appointments, was centered against a backdrop of Spanish wood screens and was covered with a burgundy floor-length cloth with white drape tied with a burgundy bow. The centerpiece was a contemporary arrangement of burgundy and pink silk lilies in a wicker basket. The German chocolate cake was topped with clusters of chocolate grapes. Coffee was served from a brass samovar. At the groom's table were Mrs. Don Evans and Missy, and Michelle Leach. Mary Ana Talley was at the bride's book to register guests.

The bride attended Ozona Public Schools, Abilene Christian High School and Abilene Christian University and was recently employed by Short and Company, CPA, of Midland. The groom attended Coahoma Public Schools and Howard County Junior College and has been employed with Coffman Roofing of Big Spring. The couple is now attending Texas Tech University in Lubbock where they are at home at 701 N. Indiana.

The wedding was held during the annual reunion of the W. C. and Mattie Talley family and was a first for that occasion as well as the first wedding to be held at Camp Whispering Oaks.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

I'm wondering if Ozona is having showers like we have been having here. Anyway they have kept the country around green and beautiful. I notice here that some are using dwarf English ivy as a ground cover in a small enclosed, fairly shaded bed. Some prefer the large leaved straight species as a ground cover, but the various dwarf varieties will work. They seem not to be quite as tough. Keep them uniformly moist and feed very lightly frequently, and these plants should do well.

Some of you might like to try fittonia as a sort of ground cover and it might work out there. It needs a fairly organic soil, light feeding every two weeks or so, and it will thrive.

If you are a cabbage lover, now is the time to plant for a harvest this Fall. If you don't take Southern Living Magazine, borrow one and read the September article on Cabbage.

If you have a crossandra and would like to know if you should remove the fuzzy pods where the flowers grew, yes remove the old pods and new flowers will not come from them. If you leave the pods on, seeds will form, and this may reduce future flowering.

To keep your hybrid tea roses producing in hot weather, give them plenty of water, spray regularly for insects and disease, and feed every two weeks with liquid 20-20-20 fertilizer. You should get even more blooms.

Ozona Woman's League begins new club year Tues.

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday night, September 10, for their first meeting of the new year. Mrs. Duane Childress and Mrs. Dub Slaughter were hostesses of a salad supper in Mrs. Childress' home. The first half of the membership list provided the excellent food.

Mr. Ken Harrison, pastor of the United Methodist Church, gave a very inspiring talk on "Commitment to Club Work." His talk will help the Ozona Woman's League start the new year with a better image of what each member has to offer and hopes to receive.

Each member brought a "previously loved" toy or book which will be donated to the Ozona Community Center and the Ozona Day Care Center. This is one of the club's projects to help our community.

Mrs. Jeffrey Sutton, president, presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Dennis Clark, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved as read. Three new members were introduced and welcomed: Mrs. Jack Baggett, Jr.; Mrs. Douglas Bean; and Mrs. Carl Malone.

Jr. Mrs. Bill Carson, Jr., first vice president, handed out new yearbooks to members. She outlined the upcoming year, which looks to be very exciting! Following the business meeting, Secret Pal gifts were exchanged.

From siding to main line

Among railroaders the "high iron" is paramount. That's the main line. That's where the action is. And every nerve in a railroad system is dedicated to keeping traffic moving swiftly and safely along the "high iron."

Yet sidings are important, too — for waiting . . . for coupling . . . for making up the trains that will roll on the "high iron."

There are lots of kids on sidings!

The Church depends on you — parents, leaders, citizens in this community — to bring them where the main line begins.

The future is limitless for that boy or girl who gains a vision of his or her destiny in life, and the spiritual stamina to achieve faithfully God-given potentials.

Child's eating habits worry for parents

A child's eating habits can be a source of constant worry for parents.

If you think your child overeats, under-eats, is overweight or too thin, it's a good idea to check with your family doctor. A physician can use growth charts and medical tests to determine your child's growth rate. If the child is found to be growing well with no weight problems, you can stop worrying.

Dr. Symple Cooksey, a nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, says children often go on eating jags, eating mostly one or a few foods for several days.

"Eating jags are usually temporary," Cooksey says, "so continue offering good nutritious food in a pleasing way."

When a child doesn't eat much, this may be a normal "slowdown" stage of growth. Eating will increase as nutrient needs increase, she explains.

If obesity is a problem, check to see whether your child is eating too many high fat or sweet foods, or just too much food. Are snacks nutritious or do they contribute excess calories? Does your child get enough exercise? Is too much time spent at quiet activities that use few calories?

The nutritionist points out that many overweight children have one or more overweight parents, and children often follow their parents' eating habits. If this is the case in your family, she advises including more fruit, vegetables and low-fat foods such as skim milk, lean meats and broiled or baked foods in the family meals instead of sweets and other high-fat, high-calorie foods.

Some parents think all children need extra nutrients from vitamin pills or drops. But most children who eat a varied diet of meat, poultry and fish; breads and cereals; fruits and vegetables; and dairy products; get enough nutrients, Cooksey says.

Children who have eaten poorly balanced diets for a long time may require supplements, but let your doctor decide whether vitamins or mineral supplements are needed, advises the specialist.

We would love to have some programs on the vacation travels of some of you. How about it, friends?

DPS reports increased crime in first half of '85

The crime rate and number of major crimes reported in Texas during the first half of 1985 increased, according to statistics furnished by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Compared to the first six months of 1984, the crime rate for the first half of 1985 was up eight per cent to 3,111.7 crimes per hundred thousand population," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "The number of major index crimes reported for the same period was 497,524, an increase of almost 10 per cent."

All major crime categories showed increases in the number of offenses reported.

Rape led the four violent crime categories, increasing 13.8 per cent. Aggravated assault, murder and robbery were up 9.6 per cent, 8.7 per cent and 3.1 per cent respectively.

"Motor vehicle thefts rose 12.4 per cent," Adams pointed out. "Burglary increased 8.3 per cent and theft was up 10.6 per cent."

Of the total index crimes reported, 21 per cent were cleared by arrests in the first half of 1985. The value of property stolen during the commission of the index crimes was estimated at over $85 million dollars, with approximately 230 million dollars in stolen property recovered by police.

"Two Texas law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action in the first six months of this year," Adams said. "Two officers lost their lives in duty-related accidents."

The DPS also said a total of 1,733 assaults on officers were reported.

DWI arrests in the first half of 1985 were up 2.6 per cent, totaling 68,717. Drug arrests increased 14.4 per cent to 31,913.

The crime statistics were derived from reports submitted by 790 law enforcement agencies in the state.

Statewide totals for Jan-June 1984 were 975 murders, 3,413 rapes, 13,352 robberies, 20,441 aggravated assaults, 123,224 burglaries, 250,672 thefts, 40,748 motor vehicle thefts. The total was 452,825.

Statewide totals for Jan-June 1985 were Murder-1,060; Rape-3,883; Robbery-13,771; Aggravated Assault-22,410; Burglary-133,437; Theft-277,148; Motor Vehicle Theft-45,814. The total is 497,524.

There was a plus 9.9% total volume change from Jan-June 1984 to Jan-June 1985.

Teen suicides without warning are a myth, psychiatrists say

The idea that normal teenagers commit suicide without warning is a myth, according to an article in Texas Medicine.

"Teenagers who take their lives are troubled, and they show signs and symptoms," five Dallas psychiatrists wrote in the Texas Medical Association Journal's August issue.

"Perhaps the most important warning sign is a history of a suicide threat or attempt," noted Drs. John Looney, David Oldham, Lawrence Claman, Frank Crumley, and David Waller. Adolescents who do this "just to get attention" are signaling a mental disorder that requires thorough treatment, they explained.

Suicide is the third leading cause of death among U.S. adolescents. Trailing only accidents and homicides, teen suicide rates are higher for males than females and greater for whites than non-whites.

"The frequency of suicide for all adolescents is increasing substantially," the psychiatrists said. "They noted that each generation has a higher suicide rate than the preceding one and a higher rate at every age."

Parents often can spot the warning signs before the act is attempted, and psychiatrists often can provide treatment to prevent it, the researchers said. "Adolescent suicide is closely associated with depression or other mental disorders."

They cited these signals that may indicate an increased suicide risk among teens:

Changes in behavior--accident proneness; drug and alcohol abuse; physical violence toward self, others, and animals; sudden alienation from family and friends; worsening school performance; refusal to attend school; disposal of possessions; and letters, notes, or poems with suicidal content.

Mood changes--expressions of hopelessness or impending doom; explosive rage; dramatic highs and lows; poor appetite and weight loss; and lack of sleep or excessive sleep.

Change in thinking--preoccupations with death; difficulty in concentration; irrational speech; and hearing voices, seeing visions, or expressing obviously false bizarre beliefs.

Changes in life events--death of a family member or friend, especially by suicide; parental separation or divorce; loss of a friendship; public humiliation or failure; and serious physical illness.

"It is time to dispel myths," the psychiatrists concluded. "Normal adolescents do not attempt to kill themselves. Normal adolescents do not exhibit signs and symptoms of major mental problems."

When We're Thru . . . They Run Like New!

The fourth quarter brought more troubles for the Lions as they remained in their end of the field allowing the Bulldogs good field position. Ozona recovered a fumble on a fourth down play on the Dogs seventeen and appeared to grab the momentum but after four downs they were unable to gain a first down. On Eden's next possession Stacy Dillard popped a two yard run that ended in six more points for the Bulldogs and finished the scoring for the evening. When the final gun sounded it was still raining and the Lions had been defeated 13-6.

Ozona earned more first downs as they had six to their opponents five. Ozona rushed 38 for 141 while Eden was 44 for 107. Neither team completed a pass, and both teams threw one interception. Harvey Fierro snatched one for the Lions midway through the second quarter. Ozona fumbled the ball six times and lost four while Eden fumbled seven times and lost three.

Offensively the Lions' Valdo Galindo rushed 8 times for 71 yards, 62 of which came on his scoring run. Ray Torres led Eden with 10 carries for 51 yards and was then top ground gainer.

Defensively the Lions were led by Senior Linebacker Bret Thompson who had 11 tackles, 10 of which came in the second half. Thompson was also awarded with the honor of "Hit of the Week" for his outstanding defensive performance.

Foxworth to close Ozona store soon

Foxworth-Galbraith, one of Ozona's oldest businesses, is closing out the store here and expects the final closing to come by the end of December. They are in the process now of a close-out sale.

Another Ozona business closed its doors last month. Triple B Athletics moved from Ozona last month. The store, offering all kinds of athletic apparel and equipment was located in the Village Shopping Center. The Flower Basket which was located on Sheffield Road, has moved into the location and changed the name of the business to House of Flowers.

A San Angelo man purchased the Adobe Mini-Mart several months ago. It has been completely remodeled and enlarged. The name has been changed to Kwik Marc.

Other changes in Ozona business life, include sale of Jim's Foodway by Jim Marks to Oscar Tumlinson last week. Tumlinson moved here from Midland. Tumlinson changed the name to T&T Village Supermarket. Store hours have been changed to 7:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. with the same personnel. A wider variety of fresh produce is also being offered.

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 5, 1985

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Sections 1 and 2 of House Joint Resolution 6 propose a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development bonds.

The additional bonds to be issued will be dedicated for deposit in the Texas Water Development Fund, with $190 million of those bond proceeds to be used for water supply loans and facilities acquisition and with $400 million of those bond proceeds to be used for state participation in the acquisition and development of facilities for storage, transmission, transportation, and treatment of water and wastewater. Of the remaining bonds authorized, $190 million will be dedicated for use in water quality enhancement projects, and $200 million will be dedicated exclusively for flood control projects.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to provide for the creation, administration, and implementation of a bond insurance program to which the state pledges up to $250 million of its general credit to insure payment of the principal of and interest on bonds or other obligations issued by political subdivisions of the state for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, recharge, chloride control or desalinization. Unless authorized to continue by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the Legislature, the bond insurance program will expire on the sixth anniversary of the date on which this section becomes a part of the constitution. Bond insurance issued before expiration of the program will not be affected by such expiration.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to create and appropriate money to special funds in the state treasury to make grants, loans, and other financial assistance available to governmental entities for certain enumerated water planning purposes. Also, the legislature would be permitted to extend the benefits of constitutionally approved water projects to nonprofit water supply corporations.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $980 million of Texas Water Development Bonds, to create special water funds for water conservation, water development, water quality enhancement, flood control, drainage, subsidence control, recharge, chloride control, agricultural soil and water conservation, and desalinization, to authorize a bond insurance program, and to clarify the purposes for which Texas Water Development Bonds may be issued."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Section 3 of House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas Water Development Board to issue and sell Texas agricultural water conservation bonds in an amount not to exceed $200 million, if authorized to do so by a two-thirds vote of the members of each house of the legislature. The Texas agricultural water conservation bonds would be general obligations of the State of Texas, and would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury in each fiscal year. The amendment would allow Texas agricultural water conservation bonds to be issued and sold only for four years after the date on which this Act becomes a part of the constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance and sale of $200 million of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to authorize a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property if such relocation or replacement is done in conjunction with or immediately following the relocation or replacement of water mains serving the property. Any legislative enactment permitting the expenditure of funds for such purposes would authorize the city or town to fix a lien on the property, with the owners' consent, for the cost of relocating or replacing the water laterals, and would provide that such cost shall be assessed against the property, with repayment by the property owner to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years at the rate of interest set by law. Such liens could not be enforced until after five years from the date the liens were affixed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to enact laws permitting a city or town to spend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of water laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the use of the proceeds from the sale of permanent school fund land to acquire other land for the permanent school fund. Currently, the constitution requires that proceeds from the sale of such land be invested in certain bonds and other securities.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund."

the services the district must provide, by setting requirements a resident must meet in order to qualify for services, and by determining any other relevant provisions necessary for providing health care to residents.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant an additional $500 million in bonding authority to the Veterans' Land Board for the veterans' housing assistance program. Under the current constitution, the Veterans' Land Board is authorized by Article III, Section 49-b-1 to issue and sell not more than $800 million in bonds, $500 million of which may be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. This amendment would increase that authorization to permit the issuance and sale of up to $1.3 billion in bonds, $1 billion of which would be used for the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund. In addition, the amendment would remove the current definition of "veteran" from the constitution and permit the legislature to redefine "veteran" as the changing times and circumstances require.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing $500 million in additional bonding authority for the veterans' housing assistance program and changing the definition of those veterans eligible to participate in the veterans' land program and the veterans' housing program by authorizing the legislature by law to define an eligible veteran for the purposes of those programs."

propriations Act to require prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of any funds appropriated by the legislature to state governmental agencies.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to protect public funds by authorizing prior approval of expenditure or emergency transfer of state appropriations."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to provide for the issuance of general obligation bonds, the proceeds of which would be deposited in a fund to be known as the farm and ranch finance program fund. The fund would be administered by the Veterans' Land Board and would be used to make loans and provide other financial assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land. The amount of bonds outstanding at any one time would be limited to $500 million. The principal and interest that becomes due on such bonds in each fiscal year would be paid from amounts remaining in the interest and sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year, with the balance due to be appropriated from treasury revenues in the fiscal year when such amounts become due.

"The constitutional amendment relating to the manner in which a person is charged with a criminal offense and to certain requirements applicable to state writs and processes."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would grant the Texas Supreme Court and the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from federal appellate courts. In addition, the two courts would promulgate rules of procedure relating to the review of those questions.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment granting the Supreme Court of Texas and the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that would create a board with responsibility for the reapportionment of judicial districts, subject to legislative approval. The amendment would provide for the continued power of the legislature to provide for judicial reapportionment, and would provide that reapportionment will be the responsibility of the Legislative Redistricting Board if the Judicial Districts Board fails to make a timely reapportionment. The amendment would provide for the creation of judicial districts smaller than a county in counties where the creation of such districts has been approved by the voters at a general election. The amendment would provide for more than one judge for a judicial district. The amendment would rename supreme judicial districts as courts of appeals districts. The amendment would provide that the jurisdiction and terms of court of district and county courts may be as provided by law. The amendment would provide for the jurisdiction of justice courts, which may have additional jurisdiction as provided by law. The amendment would provide for rules of judicial administration and civil procedure to be promulgated by the Supreme Court, and would provide that the legislature may delegate additional rule making power to the Supreme Court or to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The amendment would provide that courts and judges in existence at the time of its adoption remain in existence until otherwise provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the reapportionment of the judicial districts of the state by the Judicial Districts Board or by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of constitutional courts."

If the office of County Surveyor is abolished in any county, the commissioners court may employ or contract with any qualified person to perform the duties of the office.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide for:

- (1) the abolition of the office of county treasurer in Andrews County and El Paso County;
- (2) the abolition of the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson, and Randall Counties."

Writer recalls the attention given to Ozona following national news story

(Vignettes)
By Evert White

It was 35 years ago in February of this year that Ozona broke suddenly into national, even international, fame. This relatively small West Texas ranch town was catapulted into nationwide attention with a feature article in the Feb. 18, 1950, edition of the Saturday Evening Post, one of the most prestigious publications in America (founded in 1728 by Benjamin Franklin.)

Titled "Ozona: Millionaires' Town" the article was written by Harold H. Martin of Atlanta, Ga. who spent several weeks in Ozona researching his story some months before publication.

The tone of the article, which met with mixed reactions here, is summed up in a sub-title which read: "Few people anywhere are better satisfied with their lot than the smug citizens of Ozona—a West Texas sheep and oil-well town, where just 142 purse-proud families own or lease 1,788,000 acres."

And the article, a Chamber of Commerce secretary's dream, started in that vein, to the very probable disgust of our neighboring towns. Magnificently displayed, the article is headed with a half page picture of five Ozona young ladies, waving at the photographer from the backs of as many impressive West Texas cowponies, grouped under the boastful sign "Ozona, Biggest Little Town In The World." These girls were then (from left to right), Judy White, Sue Meinecke, Rosalie Friend, Lillian Schneemann and Joe Lou Brewer.

Phone news to The Ozona Stockman.

Beneath that impressive picture and under the title "Millionaires' Town" and alongside a smaller picture of Oscar Kost in his boot and saddle shop, measuring little Bryan Montgomery, for a new pair of boots, with papa Beecher Montgomery looking on, the article launched into its theme, which caused many Ozona breasts to swell, and some griping at the baring of a possible undue pride, and a lot of breast beating among neighboring towns.

"In the West Texas sheep, goat and oil-well country they will tell you solemnly that when a citizen of the city of Ozona dies and goes to heaven, it is necessary to clip his wings, hobble him and corral him snugly behind a high wire fence to keep him from fleeing the Golden City and stampeding back to his native Crockett County with the speed of a startled steer. There is, no doubt, some element of typical Texas exaggeration in this tale, but no true son of Ozona will deny that he is profoundly pleased with the life he lives in the leafy bower where two generations of ranchers have built their stately mansions, their schools and their serenely beautiful churches in the center of a vast and windy stretch of nearly 3000 square miles of treeless grassland and brushy flat-topped hills. Despite periodic droughts and occasional whistling northers, the high, dry plains around Ozona have produced great riches in the form of wool and mutton, mohair and oil, and no citizen fortunate enough to have been born in Crockett County has ever felt any deep urge to quit his ranchlands or abandon his spacious residence at the county seat even to savor celestial joys beyond the pearly gates.

The placid assumption by the citizens of Crockett that their home range offers all that a man could want of life either now or in the hereafter is sometimes mildly irritating to the inhabitants of the more gaunt and sun-baked towns beyond the horizon. To them, the rich, tree-shaded Ozonans are a fine-haired and purse-proud lot, as pleased with their pioneer forebears as they are with their bank accounts.

The big sign on the square which proclaims Ozona the "Biggest Little Town in the World" annoys the neighboring metropolises. They are offended by the smug satisfaction with which Ozona oftentimes refers to its richest residential thoroughfare as Silk Stocking Street, and even the well-heeled ladies of San Angelo-population, 55,000-are sometimes miffed at their department stores for holding out their most elegant gowns until the wealthier ladies of Ozona-population, 3500-can have first pick.

"This minor carping Ozona endures with serenity, holding, no doubt with justification, that it stems from envy, and only rarely does a resident take the trouble to rebuke his city's critics. Sometimes one does. There was, for instance, the case of Mrs. Joe Davidson's dickey. Mrs. Davidson, the wife of a wealthy rancher, had driven the eighty-two miles to San Angelo to purchase one of the frilly doodads which ladies wear under a suit coat in lieu of a blouse. She was not pleased with the dickets that were laid out for her examination and was preparing to leave the store when a floor lady approached, bearing a magnificent dickey.

"This is our Ozona dickey, Mrs. Davidson," she burbled.

"And Why," said Mrs. Davidson sternly, "do you refer to this particular garment as an Ozona dickey?"

"Because nobody else could afford it," the saleslady twittered.

"Young lady," said Mrs. D., "on behalf of the ladies of Ozona, I resent that remark....Wrap it up."

The long and extremely well-written article, covering some six pages in the Saturday Evening Post, continued to develop the theme of the self-satisfied ranch families and their lack of regard for the opinions of others.

The inhabitants are also undisturbed by the fact that beyond the boundaries of West Texas nobody but a few Boston wool buyers, some oil-well drillers and a handful of Midwestern lamb fatteners has ever heard of the Biggest Little Town in the World. Other than putting up the prideful sign on the city square, Ozona has never been a town to advertise its virtues in a bombastic manner. Like the hermit soul in the poem, its inhabitants have been satisfied to live withdrawn in the place of their self-content, and they are extremely satisfied that the nearest railroad shipping point is at Barnhart, twenty-nine miles away in another county. There was a time when Ozona might have had the railroad, but the citizens, pondering the matter, voted against it. Trains, the Ozona ranchmen decided, would frighten the ewes at lambing time and set the grass on fire, and were likely to bring in all sorts of riffraff who might seek to take up residence in the city. To provide living space for rail-borne newcomers, somebody would have to sell some land, and none of the dozen-odd pioneer ranchers who had bought up the range when land was bringing a dollar an acre was interested in selling. In the ancient Texas tradition, they wanted the land they had plus that which joined them. The 142 descendants who now own or lease Crockett County's 1,788,000 acres of grassland cling sturdily to that same point of view.

"No old Ozonan will deny that he is extremely proud to be one of, or descended from, the leathery, land-loving pioneers who founded the city in 1891, and even latecomers who arrived as belatedly as 1916 like to convey the impression that the blood of the original stock flows in their veins.

"Why, son," they will say to an outsider, "when I come here there weren't no stars at all, and the moon was just a little bitty thing."

Such excesses made for a good story and Martin used them to add interest but at the same time did a masterful job of describing the lifestyle, the attitudes and the attractions of this jewel spot in the then still developing West. Illustrated with pictures of sheep drives past oil drilling rigs, of banker Scott Peters, who with County Judge Houston Smith, Martin said, were the only men in Crockett County who don't dress like cowboys, of square dancers in the courthouse and crowds being fed barbecue at the Joe Davidson ranch rodeos, the writer drew a comparison of degrees of wealth in the ranching business, as detailed by Banker Peters. The little operator with around ten sections could scrape up total worth of a third of a million while the fair-sized operator would have about 85 sections and if pressed could probably scrape up a couple of million.

"Both of these are hypothetical examples, of course, but Ozona agrees that Mr. Peters has given a fair picture of the rewards of Crockett County ranching," the article concluded. "There is no great trick to getting comfortably up in the chips, once you've got the land. All it takes is a little energy, a few good willing Mexican ranch hands and a fine sheep dog or two. For it's awfully hard to mismanage a ranch, they say, so long as it rains just a little, and the ram keeps feeling the way he does about a ewe."

Harold Martin was on the staff of Atlanta Constitution, one of the bigger dailies of the south, and was an assignment writer for the Saturday Evening Post. He died a few years ago in Atlanta, according to information received here.

Mrs. Hector Gutierrez delivered the program on "The Use of Herbs in Medicine." Mrs. Gutierrez drew on her personal experiences in using local herbs as well as those she remembered her grandmother using. The majority of herbs she described were local plants such as horehound, cedar, and cactus. The cures were for everything from baby colic, insomnia, to fleas in the yard.

Members present were Mrs. Jack Brewer, Mrs. R. W. Bullard, Mrs. Steve Cannon, Mrs. R. W. Clinton, Mrs. Jim Dudley, Mrs. Lee Graves, Ms. Becky Herring, Mrs. Scottie Houston, Mrs. Hudson Mayes, Mrs. Richard Mayfield, Mrs. Eddie Moore, Ms. Leta Powell, and Mrs. Bobby Davee.

Ozona FFA lamb feeding program begins

Members of the Ozona FFA purchased their lambs last week for the commercial feeding program. These lambs will be exhibited on December 7, at the Ozona FFA project show. Approximately 30 members will have projects competing at the local show.

The lambs were purchased primarily from Mike Womack and Fred Chandler. The chapter wishes to thank these men for their help and cooperation getting this new program started. The lambs will not be placed at the show, but instead will be quality graded as is done at the commercial level.

Students vaccinated, tagged, and wormed their lambs last week as part of both classroom and after school assignments. The students will assist in shearing the lambs in mid October to help in the animals' growth and pelt value for the December show.

touchdowns. Lalo Rodriguez was the workhorse on the ground running 138 yards in only 15 carries. Rodriguez accounted for three Cub touchdowns, a six-yard run, one yarder and a spectacular 38 yard run late in the third quarter.

George Ybarra also contributed over a hundred yards of offense, 53 on the ground and 50 via the pass. Ybarra also had three touchdowns. One score came on a 48 yard run while the other two were pass receptions from 11 and 9 yards out.

The offensive line did a superb job all night opening holes and protecting their quarterback. That line consists of Gus Garza, Mark Fierro, Andy Stokes, Bruce Beasley, Ricky Burger and Danny Vasquez.

Defensively the Cubs really stung the Rangers with some hard hitting and vicious tackling. Greenwood only managed 34 yards total offense on the night.

The Cubs do battle again this Thursday night as they travel to Big Lake. Game time is 4:30 for the Seventh Grade and 6 for the Eighth. The Seventh Grade opener with Eden scheduled for Saturday was cancelled due to rain.

Crockett County Library Notes

By Louise Ledoux

The Crockett County Public Library Board met in regular monthly session Monday, September 9, in the High School Library. The Board welcomes two new members, Mrs. Mary K. Skains and Mr. Elliott Barrera. They will each serve three year terms. Mrs. Skains and Mr. Barrera were formally approved by the Commissioners Court in their regular monthly meeting.

Reports on progress of the new library were presented. It was reported that all is in readiness except the book shelves. They are scheduled to be delivered in the next few weeks. After they are assembled, the books can be moved from the Adult Room at the high school to the new building, and the library will be open for business. Mrs. Sherry Scott and Mrs. Louise Ledoux were to formulate a "Master Moving Plan" to make the move easier and smoother. Tentative plans were also discussed for the Grand Opening Celebration to be held after the library is opened in October.

Mrs. Lou Deaton and Mrs. Ledoux gave the Board a report on their trip to Abilene, Tx. to attend the Annual Meeting of the Big Country Library System. Our library is now a full-fledged member of the system. Programs and policies of the BCLS were discussed, and Mrs. Deaton detailed how they will effect our library.

In other business, the Board heard a progress report on the memorial plaques being made for each of the donated rooms in the library. It was reported that the portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Perner and the dedication plaque for the house to the library were ready and were very lovely. The bookshelves and display for the Wahl Memorial are almost ready to be installed in the library also. Mrs. Ledoux reported that circulation of books during the summer months was greatly increased over past records. Longer regular hours and increased publicity were cited as contributing factors.

The Board adjourned after resolving to meet next month in the new library building.

Crime Stoppers names Terry Prero to Tex. Most Wanted

Terry Lee Prero didn't make it to his high school reunion in California last month.

Some of his classmates were probably disappointed. But they were not nearly as disappointed as state and federal law enforcement officials, who had hoped to make Prero's 20-year reunion, his last for at least another 20 years.

Prero, who also goes by the name Anthony Ginnetti, is wanted by the FBI and Texas law enforcement officials on charges of defrauding the Coahoma State Bank out of $260,000 and a private individual out of almost $150,000. The Justice Department has a federal Flight to Avoid Prosecution warrant on him. He also is wanted for theft of a National Rentacar vehicle and for making false statements to a bank.

The dapper-looking 37-year-old fugitive's legal problems began in October, 1982, when he began negotiating with Coahoma State Bank to secure a loan for his Car City Auto Sales and Service business.

Investigators say the original agreement provided for $38,000 worth of automobile purchases. A total of $20,000 was to be secured by a Certificate of Deposit held by the bank. The rest of the loan was to be secured by automobile titles held by the bank as collateral.

But detectives say that between October, 1982, and April, 1984, Prero/were honored by the bank. Prero/Ginnetti was originally featured as a Texas Most Wanted fugitive in January of this year. Crime Stoppers programs throughout the state received a large number of calls, most of them dealing with people who looked like the fugitive. None of the calls panned out, although several contained promising information.

However, since that original press release, additional information has been discovered about Prero/Ginnetti. He uses a variety of aliases, including the names Terry Argus and Tony Culpert.

Investigators say the fugitive also is known as an habitual gambler, frequenting gambling resorts in Nevada. Ironically, one of the many calls Texas Crime Stoppers received about Prero/Ginnetti when he was originally featured as Texas Most Wanted indicated that the law "didn't have to look for Tony anymore because the mob killed him over some gambling debts."

However, law enforcement officials believe Prero/Ginnetti is very much alive and still running from justice.

There is a strong possibility that Prero/Ginnetti has left the state. However, investigators say he still has a number of personal ties in Texas that might prompt his return.

A $1,000 reward is being offered for information leading to Prero/Ginnetti's capture. Anyone who might have details of the fugitive's possible location is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477 or their local Crime Stoppers program. In all cases, callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Texas Most Wanted is a cooperative program involving the Department of Public Safety and Crime Stoppers and is designed to generate information about the location of dangerous fugitives wanted for major crimes within the state.

Smith, Michael Francis Cunnion, and Ronnie Dean Russell were arrested at Circle Bar Truck Corral Sunday and charged with public intoxication. They were fined $50 each. Ginnetti was able to get the loan raised to $80,000, with $30,000 in CD's and the remainder in automobile titles used for collateral.

Little did bank officials know that they were being drawn into a fancy version of the old "shell game". Investigators say the bank was defrauded in the following manner:

--all good automobile titles were slowly replaced with illegally-acquired titles, thus reducing a portion of the collateral held by the bank.

--the bank released liens on automobiles after it was told by Prero/Ginnetti that he had sold the vehicles and would return with the money. The money was rarely deposited.

--a large number of automobiles were purchased and customer drafts were honored by the bank, despite the fact there was not sufficient funds on deposit at the time.

--the bank honored a number of insufficient fund checks.

--checks were written on collected funds which subsequently had "Stop Payment" placed on them.

--signatures on vehicle titles held by the bank were allegedly forged.

--a partner's signature was allegedly forged on checks and drafts, which

Allergy season is July thru November say specialists

It's late summer and allergy season is over, right? Not so, say allergy specialists at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

While grasses and trees have stopped pollinating, July through November is the worst time for the many Texans allergic to ragweed and marsh elder weed. Ragweed is found throughout Texas and marsh elder weed is found along the Gulf Coast.

Allergies affect almost everyone to some extent. They can be caused by pollen, mold, dust, pets, certain foods and medicines. They can result in sneezing, shortness of breath, watery eyes and hives.

Baylor specialists say the best way to cope with allergies is to avoid whatever causes a reaction. Over the counter antihistamine drugs can be used to temporarily relieve minor allergy symptoms.

An allergic reaction occurs when the body rejects a foreign substance. In hayfever, for example, pollen or dust enters the body through the nose. The body's immune system reacts by sending antibodies to fight the substance. Chemicals such as histamine are released, causing stuffiness and sneezing.

However, not all allergies cause hayfever symptoms. Allergic reactions to insect stings, foods and medicines can cause hives or welts, without the congestion.

The Texas allergy season begins in January when Cedar trees begin to bloom. Oaks and other trees bloom February through March. Then grasses begin and pollinate until July. Weed season then takes control until November.

Allergy specialists suggest that people with severe symptoms learn what is causing their reactions and avoid places which aggravate their

Jumping for Honors

Margaret Jones, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Brock Jones, rides her large pony Abbey Road in major competition around the state. Margaret won top ribbons in San Antonio recently and in Gillespie County earlier this summer.

Miss Jones takes top honors in San Antonio

Margaret Jones jumped her way into top ribbons at the Fall Bear Creek Hunter/Jumper Show in San Antonio last weekend. Margaret and her large pony, Abbey Road were awarded Reserve Champion, Limit Division and first place in the Large Pony Equitation Class.

Earlier in the summer Margaret was again reserve limit champion and a top prize winner in the children's division at the Gillespie County Hunter/Jumper Show. Both of these shows are American Horse Show Association and Texas Hunter/Jumper Association accredited and had over three hundred entries.

Vernon Jones is chairman for WTRC

Jim Alexander of Abilene, general chairman of the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, has appointed 200 area chairmen statewide to help in the CRCC fundraiser which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

The area chairmen include Vernon Jones of Ozona.

Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo is general co-chairman of the event.

"Livestock donated by ranchers are collected at a designated point in each community and transported to the auction site," explains Alexander. "The area chairman's job is to make a personal pledge, then ask others to join them in this annual drive."

Sales of those livestock are converted to dollars and the amount helps provide treatment for the 11,000 handicapped persons who will be treated this year at the Rehab facilities.

The CRCC idea began in Bronte back in 1960 on the late Conda Wylie's Fort Chadbourne ranch. He came to Smith with the suggestion that 20 top steers be cut from his herd and sold to help defray operational expenses at WTRC.

Today the results speak for themselves. With a goal of treating the whole patient rather than just the handicap, services offered include physical, occupational and speech therapy, audiology, orthotics, psychology, education and social services, all without charge to patients.

Scheduled CRCC sale dates include Cattle Sale-Sept. 30, Abilene Auction; Horse Sale-Oct. 5, Abilene Auction; Coleman Sale-Oct. 9; Stephenville Sale-Oct. 9, Junction Sheep and Goat Sale-Oct. 14; San Saba Sale-Oct. 17; and Brownwood Sale-Nov. 4.

Persons wishing to make a donation should contact the area chairman or call Smith at WTRC in Abilene, 915/692-1633. Donated livestock are collected at designated points in each community and transported to the auction site.

First Baptist Church announces September schedule of events

There are many special events planned at First Baptist Church for the month of September. The church has just completed a week of cottage prayer meetings at different members houses for the purpose of praying for the Mary Hill Davis offering which is the State Mission Offering. The offering is being taken this month at all Southern Baptist Churches in Texas. Baptists are trying to reach a goal of starting two thousand churches in the next fifteen years. Ozona's First Baptist has set a goal to double its giving from last year's total. The Sunday School is gearing up for Celebration Sunday on September 29, a high attendance day in Sunday School and throughout the Southern Baptist Convention. The goal for the local church has been set for 250. Also the church group is hoping to be able to enroll another 50 new members on high attendance day. The goal for Texas is 748,585 in Sunday School on that day. In preparation of reaching the goal the Church has started signing up people who are going to attend on that day.

All contacts and visits are in progress now. October 1 begins a new year at the Church. In preparation for the new Church year, all teachers were urged to attend the Sunday School Convention at First Baptist Church in McCamey on Tuesday evening, September 17. Also there will be a State Sunday School Convention Tuesday, September 24, at San Angelo First Baptist Church.

Visitation is being encouraged and enrollment of new members to be present on September 29 is being strived for. There is a club called the Golden Doorknob Club and to become a member you must meet the following requirements: 20 personal visits, 20 cards or letters, 20 phone calls, and 20 wayside visits. The members of the club will be recognized on Sunday morning, Sept. 29, during the morning worship service. Also on that day the Church bus will be having a special surprise for all the riders.

During last Sunday morning's worship service the Church voted to go ahead with the plans to build a new combination fellowship hall and activities center on the lot east of the parsonage. This building will accommodate 300 people and will include the following: basketball court, volleyball court, shuffleboard, and a place for meals. The Church also approved the remodeling of the present fellowship hall into a parlor with a fireplace and small kitchen.

Other activities for this month will be announced at a later date.

The R. A. chapters first thru twelfth grade will be going on a trip to Fredricksburg to explore the caves there. They will be leaving the Church at 8 a.m. on Saturday morning.

October 6 is homecoming at F.B.C. There will be a dinner on the grounds at the square across from the church, following morning worship service. There also will be a two hour oldtime sing fest and the evening service will begin at five on that day. The Lord's Supper and Baptism will also be observed that day.

All people are encouraged to bring any old pictures or clippings they have about the Church to put on display for this day.

State ASC committee cites need for sound 1985 Farm Bill

"We need sound farm policy that helps Texas farmers, but also has fiscal restraint," according to Harold Thomas, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. Thomas reiterated the Reagan Administration's farm bill goal at the close of the committee meeting held Monday.

New legislation is needed to replace the four-year law which expires at the end of this month.

Thomas's comments on behalf of the State ASC Committee closely followed the resumption of the farm bill debate by the Congress in Washington this week, and the committee's conference with Secretary of Agriculture John Block today. "We just met with Secretary Block by phone, and as his representatives on Federal farm policy here in the State the committee wanted to pass on some of what was discussed," Thomas said.

"Our main objectives are the same as when the legislative process began earlier this year," Thomas said. "Three objectives are central to the Administration philosophy."

"First, we must become more competitive in world markets. Reducing price and income support levels is essential, so that we send a clear signal to our competitors that we are serious about regaining lost export markets. We must no longer hold the price umbrella for the world," Thomas said.

Second, we are committed to a policy of compassion for farmers. That means we want to spend enough money to carry our producers through a transition period as we work toward a reduction in farmer dependence on government."

And third, we recognize the need to reduce the Federal deficit. So, we believe the new farm bill should adhere to the Congress' spending limitation. That will mean less and less annual Federal outlays for farm programs."

He also itemized some things being proposed as part of the new farm bill that the State Committee agreed were unacceptable.

"Mandatory controls are unacceptable. Most farmers want less government control, not more," Thomas said.

"Marketing loans with unlimited

Social Security rep. to visit Ozona Oct. 16

John Willis, representative for the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his October visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, October 16th, between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time.

budget exposure are not acceptable. The cost could be tremendous with a program that would allow farmers to take out loans at one price and pay them off at the market price." "We oppose freezing target prices. This would encourage more agricultural production than we need, because of the guaranteed price."

"We also oppose the proposed dairy diversion program. We've already tried that, and it doesn't work. The cost to government would be high. The cost to consumers would be high. And, it would get the government deeper into the dairy business with inequities in the dairy industry as a result."

"And, finally," Thomas said, "We oppose a simple extension of the present farm legislation. Why keep programs that price farmers out of world markets at a tremendous cost to taxpayers?"

Reception honors Bishop

A welcoming reception for Bishop Michael D. Pfeifer was held Sunday at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church. Over 300 persons were in attendance. Fifteen members of the Knights of Columbus served as honor guard.

Bishop Pfeifer honored at OLPH Catholic Church reception

To characterize his ministry, Bishop Michael D. Pfeifer presented as his model that of Christ, The Good Shepherd. "Getting to know you and love you and hopefully, you knowing and loving me" is foremost in Bishop Pfeifer's goals. These were some of the thoughts shared in his homily at the Liturgical portion of his welcoming reception held at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.
 Over 300 persons attended the reception. The crowd was composed of priests, deacons, sisters and large numbers of laity from different communities of Ozona, Mertzon, Eldorado, Big Lake, Sheffield, Sonora, even some from San Angelo and Rowena.

Fifteen members of the Knights of Columbus Fourth Degree from San Angelo and Ozona served as honor guard.
 From the prayer service and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, the welcoming celebration moved to the Parish Hall. There, representatives welcomed to the area, the Fifth Bishop of San Angelo Diocese, Robert Flores on behalf of the laity, Judge A. O. Fields on behalf of the Crockett County Civic Community, and Fr. Benedict Zientek on behalf of the clergy of the San Angelo Deanery, gave welcoming greetings.
 The hall was beautifully decorated with banners from the different parishes and missions. Other banners expressive of the joyous occasion also appointed the hall, in the center of which was a beautiful tabled area of refreshments.
 The Catholic Diocese of San Angelo is composed of 29 counties of Southwest Texas...extending from Brady and Brownwood to Odessa, and Fort Stockton to Junction. The Bishop is the chief spiritual shepherd of this ecclesial area. It includes 48 parishes, each with a resident priest, and 25 missions i.e. smaller church groups attached to the various parishes.
 Bishop Pfeifer will be back to Ozona for other visits, especially in conferring the Sacrament of Confirmation as well as Blessing the new classrooms soon to be constructed.
 The many persons responsible for the beautiful Liturgy and Reception were satisfactory appreciative of the gratitude extended when they saw the Bishop and so many people enjoying the whole affair so much. Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church was indeed a warm and welcoming host. This gave credence once again to the age old adage that Ozona is "The Friendliest Big Little Town in the World."

Mr. and Mrs. Filiberto Sanchez were visited by the Martinez family, Joe, Sharon, Joe Jr. and Lisa Marie. Joe Martinez is the son of Armenta Sanchez and grandson of Sara Rios. He is a MSGT in the Air Force. He and his family are on their way to Germany.

Working Mothers
 Working mothers often have two full-time jobs-one outside and one inside the home. Yet, many working women continue to carry the full burden of running a household, saying they "can't get the family to help" or "it's easier to do it myself".

The key method for spreading out household responsibility is getting the family organized. Begin by analyzing daily household tasks such as bed-making, meal preparation, kitchen clean-up, grocery shopping, mowing the lawn, etc. Don't be discouraged by the length of your list. Everyone is going to help!

There are several ways of dividing the household task list. Some parents assign chores. Parents take some of the larger and difficult tasks and assign the remainder of tasks based on children's ages and abilities. This system works well for many families, especially if children are able to swap jobs or negotiate for jobs they like and are good at.

In other families, members choose jobs. If one person loves to cook and another loves to clean and they are both willing to "pitch in" and do other

Jr. High 4-H Club prepares for 4-H Week

The Ozona Jr. High 4-H Club met Monday, September 16 in the Junior High Cafeteria. Twenty-five members and one adult leader were present. Members made posters advertising National 4-H Week to be put up in town. The next club meeting will be Monday, November 4 at the Jr. High Cafeteria. Mrs. Rachel Hall will give a program on method demonstrations.

chores, this method works and saves the bother of more complicated means of dividing chores.

Some families draw for chores. All household tasks are written on slips of paper and put into a bowl for drawing. "Hard" and "easy" jobs are usually spread evenly among family members. To insure distribution of "hard" and "easy" tasks, parents may for example, put all kitchen cleaning on one slip including "easy" jobs like wiping counters and "hard" jobs like scrubbing the floor.

Once family members know what tasks are their responsibility, workable routines should be established. Offer advice and praise when needed. Lowering your expectations of a first-time task are necessary. For example, your teenage son may not vacuum as thoroughly as you do at first, but he'll improve over time.

Sharing in household tasks benefits the whole family. Parents and children working together help children feel important and teaches helpful skills.

Fifty-six parents and 4-Hers met Monday, September 16 at the Intermediate School Cafeteria. Officers for 1985-86 were elected. They are Whitney Vannoy, president; Julie Childers, vice-president; Crista Chalmers, secretary; third grade delegates, JoLynn Vannoy and Gabriel Vasquen; fourth grade delegates, Gary Thompson and Mindy Coates, and fifth grade delegates, Jennifer Davidson and Chad Upham.

All members worked on banners for the 4-H County Awards Program to be held October 7. Refreshments were served by parents.

An Open Letter to My Patients:

I have re-entered the hospital to have a surgical procedure done on my leg. I have been hospitalized 6 times this year and I feel that it is time that reparative measures be taken.

I realize the difficulty my absence may cause you. I hope the surgery on my leg will be as successful as the surgery on my right leg and prevent me from missing anymore time from my practice.

I appreciate the support you have given me during the last year and I am certain I will be back before long.

Willard Tate believes success and happiness are virtually the same. Both stem from feeling good about yourself. If you feel good about yourself, you must love yourself and people around you. People who let love motivate everything they do possess the key to successful living.

"Learning to Love," a personal development seminar developed by Tate, vividly presents this important principle. You'll learn that the better you love, the better you live. And in addition to valuable lessons about why love changes lives, the seminar teaches you how to love. Tate has designed "Learning to Love" to challenge everyone - husbands, wives, students, educators and business people - to commit themselves to being great lovers because true success and happiness begin and end with love.

Willard Tate teaches at Abilene Christian University and preaches for the Hamby Church of Christ near Abilene. A native of Alabama, he is a graduate of Alabama Christian College, Auburn University and Troy State University. He was a minister and elder in Alabama before moving to Abilene in 1973. He is married, and he and his wife Bobbie have a son and daughter.
