

Meeting set for local water conservation

A local Water Conservation meeting will be held Thursday, November 21, at the Ozona Civic Center at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Drew Durham, consulting attorney for several newly formed Conservation Water Districts in West Texas, will discuss the newly passed water legislature and its implications to water in the local area.

Following his presentation and informal discussion, those present will decide if further steps should be taken to form a local water conservation district.

Senator Bill Sims stressed the importance of the local people becoming involved in water conservation during a recent annual Extension Committee Meeting in Ozona.

Water is one of West Texas' most precious resources. The public is encouraged to attend and learn more about how recent legislation will effect the community.

Jim is married to the former Jill Graves, who is employed by Dr. Steve Sessom. They have one son, Terry, 11, who attends fifth grade in Ozona Intermediate School.

Perner home deeded to county for library-

Public Library holds open house Sun.

The Crockett County Public Library was officially opened here Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. with ribbon cutting and dedication ceremonies taking place in front of the remodeled Perner home which was donated last year to the county for a public library.

Sherry Scott, chairman of the library board, welcomed guests and assisted with the dedication. Pauline Perner Montgomery, represented the Perner family and presented the deed to the property to Crockett County Judge A. O. Fields. Jeffrey Sutton, president of the school board, presented the school held library funds and the ribbon-cutting and refreshments followed.

Over 200 guests and possibly more called to tour the library during the 2 to 5 open house, and all expressed pleasure with the outcome. The interior was done throughout in soft white. The children were especially impressed with the "Children's Room," which was furnished and designed by the Ozona Woman's League in memory of Peggy Hagelstein Holden. Cheerful decals decorated the walls and a parrot clock was hung over the brass plaque dedication to Mrs. Holden.

All rooms were furnished and dedicated in memory of Ozonans. The entry hall was furnished in memory of Myrtle Mitchell, by her family. The reading room was beautifully done and dedicated to Roy Henderson by his family. The reference room was furnished in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Madden Read.

The fiction room was furnished in memory of the late Mrs. Bascomb Cox and in honor of Mr. Cox, by their children. The non-fiction room was furnished by Pauline and Marshall Montgomery. This room was Mrs. Montgomery's bedroom when the family was growing up in the house.

The meeting room upstairs was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Armond Hoover, Jr. in memory of W. P.

Hoover and Armond Hoover, Sr. This room also contains donations from the Massie heirs which were given to the adult library years ago when the high school library was built and the adult reading room was opened to the public, under the direction of Mildred North, who was largely responsible for the public library.

The upstairs hall was furnished in memory of the late Chief Deputy Sheriff Wayne Wahl, and done by the Friends of Wayne Wahl Committee. A display case designed and built by Marcus Tooke houses Wahl's medals, badges, and other memorabilia including Wayne's hat which has been bronzed. An inscribed plaque hangs on the wall, along with Wahl's framed photos of West Texas.

The restrooms were donated by John and Mary Helen Parks in memory of E. C. Hatton and Carter Parks. The librarian's office, which is housed in what was formerly the family dinette, was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Perner, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Perner and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sloan, in memory of their parents Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Perner.

The Perner family, who donated the house for the library, was represented by Mrs. Montgomery, Elizabeth Perner Wilson and Mary Perner Daniels. Paul Perner, III, was also on hand with his family.

Members of the library board and former board members were on hand to take turns serving and giving tours in various areas of the building, along with the staff, Librarian Louise Ledoux and Ninfa Cervantez.

Serving on the board along with Mrs. Scott, the chairman, Elliott Barrera, Marilyn Cox, Mary Kay Skains, Chesta Stuart, and Sherry York. Former members who assisted were Mary Helen Parks, Thomas DeHoyos and Katherine Russell. These, along with Big Country Library System Lay Rep. Lou Deaton, planned and served refreshments as well as assisting in the move from last month of the over 8000 volumes from the adult library at the high school, along with books which had been donated.

A. E. Morris was the general contractor and in charge of the remodeling project.

Plans for the future of the Library include expanding the collection to 10,000 volumes and expanded services for the public. These include programs for all age groups, reading programs, displays and exhibits, films and plays, beginning next year with the Texas Sesquicentennial Celebration.

The library is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and on Monday and Thursday evenings from 6 until 9. Expansion is planned in all areas and a book drive will be the first priority for the Friends of the Library. It will probably be after the first of the year when this takes place, according to Mrs. Ledoux.

League members Jody Sessom and Becky Childress displayed Bazaar items in various store windows last week. The items will be offered for sale Tuesday at the annual event. Friday is the deadline for food orders.

School board hears annual performance report

The Board of Trustees of the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District met in regular monthly session Wednesday, November 13, with all members present.

Superintendent Garland Davis reported that he had accepted the resignation, effective November 8, of Mrs. Deborah Lambert, reading teacher at Ozona Middle School. The trustees approved the employment of Mrs. Lynda Falkner for Mrs. Lambert's position.

Assistant Superintendent Ted Cotten presented the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Annual Performance Report for Board review and consideration. Mr. Cotton explained that the performance report is a document required by state law, and the purpose of the report is to give the school district the opportunity to present to the local community a comprehensive review of the district's activities for the 1984-1985 school year.

The 154-page 1984-85 Annual Performance Report is divided into three parts. The general information section provides information on: student performance, academic course offerings, staff quality, facility adequacy, financial condition of the district, impact of 1984 reform legislation, impact of curriculum requirements, and the impact of other significant changes.

The district information section of the document contains measures of educational achievement, classrooms exceeding specified sizes, and career ladder information by sex and ethnic background.

The third part of the report contains campus information, and included in this section are: pupil/teacher ratios by educational programs; school attendance ratios; test scores, information on school dropouts; bilingual education reports; school disciplinary activities; distribution of school year 1984-1985 teachers by prior year employment; and general expenditures for instruction.

Mr. Cotton went on to explain that the 1984-1985 Annual Performance Report contains graphs that show how well Ozona's third, fifth, and ninth grade students are doing on the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) when they are compared to other students across the state.

"In a three-year performance comparison, Ozona students have either been equal to or above the state in 175 of the 240 total objectives tested by TABS, and this excellent showing not only reflects good learning but good teaching," he stated.

After approving the performance report, the assembled members also gave their approval for adding Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Joy Scott to the 1985-1986 substitute teacher list. They also approved the transfer of the Adult Library Fund to the Crockett County Library.

Changes in the meeting dates for the December and February meetings were agreed to by the Board. The December Board meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 11, 1985, and the February meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 12, 1986.

Superintendent Garland Davis reported that Mrs. Esmi Barrera and Mrs. Elena Ybarra have been hired to work in an educational program for children who are three-five years old and who have handicapping conditions that qualify them to receive special education services. The "Early Childhood for the Handicapped" program will begin Monday, November 18, and will be held at the Ozona Community Center.

Don W. Long takes post-West Texas native named bank head

Don W. Long has been named Ozona National Bank President, and he took up his duties at that position here Friday.

Long is a native West Texan. He grew up on the family ranch at Post, attended public schools there and entered Texas Tech as an animal husbandry major. He soon changed to agricultural economics and attained his degree in that area.

He began his banking career in 1963 at First National Bank in Tucumcari, New Mexico. After 8½ years he moved to First National in Memphis. Some time later a local group purchased a smaller bank in that city and he became its first president.

Long organized and opened First National Bank in Seminole, and he and his wife, Marcille, come to Ozona from that city. Both wanted to move from the plains area. Marcille was originally from Midland. She and Don met and married while both were students at Tech. They have two grown sons, Lance, the eldest, has a gift shop in Austin. Wayne, the younger, seems to be following his father in the banking business. After graduating from Angelo State University in May of this year he is an employee trainee at the Bank of the West in Odessa.

The Longs enjoy traveling when time permits and they both have an interest in quarter horses.

Funny how things set a person's mind to working...

My wife had said, "The keys are on the table," and we both were thinking of the car keys. I have that abominable habit of laying them down wherever I put my gloves—and I'm always losing my gloves.

But when I saw the keys, I saw the Bible, too. We always keep it there even though we seldom read it.

"The keys are on the table." I am just enough of a philosopher to see the chance implication of those words. The keys to a great many things must lie within the covers of that Book. Perhaps the keys to all of the really important things for you, and for me, and for everyone else.

We've been searching far and wide for the keys to peace, and security, and fairness, and brotherhood.

Are the keys for you on the table?

Crockett County Library Notes

By Louise Ledoux

I want to thank the members of the Library Board and all the Friends of the Library that worked so hard to make our Grand Opening such a successful and special event. We had almost 200 people attend the Dedication and Open House Sunday afternoon. The weather was fine and everyone seemed to really enjoy the occasion. Thanks again to all the Perner Family--the ones who really made the Library possible.

and the Crockett County Library from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby.

Ms. Louise Ledoux, Librarian
Crockett County Public Library
Dear Mrs. Ledoux,

Congratulations. The new facility reflects the growing interest in the use of your library.

The Library is the repository of information necessary for business, education and pleasure. Your dedication to this library has been exceptional. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Bill Hobby
Lieutenant Governor of Texas

Dirty chimneys leading cause of home fires

Chimneys with heavy creosote deposits are a leading cause of home fires in the United States each year.

Chimneys should be inspected annually for creosote build-up, and now is a good time to do so, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Creosote is produced when wood burns. It escapes from a stove or fireplace in the form of smoke and condenses on the inside of the chimney. Creosote is highly flammable, and deposits one-fourth of an inch deep or more should be removed, emphasizes Nelson.

Once ignited, creosote can burn at temperatures up to 3,000 degrees F. The strong upward draft caused by high-temperature chimney fires can lift burning creosote out of the chimney and onto the roof, possibly spreading the fire to the rest of the house, or even neighboring houses.

Chimney cleaning is a messy and sometimes dangerous task which may require climbing onto the roof. Although chemical cleaners are available, most have been proven ineffective.

Nelson suggests steel brushes to clean a chimney, using extension rods to reach the entire length of the flue. To avoid getting soot all over the house, fasten a sheet over the opening of the fireplace.

Chimney cleaning may best be handled by a chimney sweep. He will have a selection of brushes and will be able to spot improper installation of wood stoves or chimney damage, notes Nelson.

Once the chimney has been cleaned, proper use of the stove or fireplace can reduce creosote buildup, he adds.

The newer, more efficient stoves and fireplace inserts allow less heat loss through the chimney. This lower temperature inside the chimney encourages the accumulation of creosote, Nelson explains. With hotter fires, creosote is burned as it is produced, leaving less to condense in the chimney.

If the chimney and stove pipes are free from excessive creosote deposits, accumulation can be controlled by burning a hot fire for about 15 minutes each day to burn off any thin layers of creosote which may have formed the previous day.

Should a chimney fire occur, call the fire department immediately.

Get the red out for tasty striped bass recipes

Striped bass have been embraced by thousands of Texas anglers because of their sporting qualities, but their table qualities have been questioned at times.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials believe that stripers rank with the better freshwater fish in palatability, if one important step is taken. Stripers have a band of red meat running just under the skin along the side of the fillet. This should be removed before cooking, leaving only pure white meat.

Biologist John Moezygema of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department suggests the following recipe for striped bass.

Take one or more fillets, two to five pounds total weight, and marinate them in your spicy salad dressing for 30 minutes to an hour. Crush a large bag of potato chips (sour cream and onion flavor is preferable) into coarse pieces and spread them evenly on a large cookie sheet.

Place the fillets on the bed of chips and cook in the oven at 350 degrees for about 30 minutes, then put a layer of grated mild cheddar cheese on the fish and continue cooking until the cheese is melted.

Vignettes Remembering some stories heard over the years in Ozona

BY EVART WHITE

Who pilfered the 1000-pound anvil ?

Tom Smith, a burly but refined man, was, you might say, a reconstruction of the village smith, a fellow who worked with metals, horse shoes and horse shoeing, making and installing metal tires for buggy wheels, making a myriad of branding iron designs and all that kind of stuff of which frontiers were made.

Tom Smith was not only one of Ozona's earliest and longest lasting blacksmiths, he was also one of the earliest and longest lasting constables in Ozona. In fact, Smith was featured in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" many years ago for his unique record in the office of Constable in Ozona. The Ripley cartoon featured Tom Smith as the Constable "who has served in that post for 25 years and never made an arrest, never carried a gun and never served a paper." "Elect me constable and I'll go to the ranch," was Tom's campaign platform--and he was re-elected year after year.

That's a good story, too, but this story is about an anvil. Not an iron anvil but one carved from native limestone. When Tom Smith built a handsome native stone building in 1917 to house his blacksmithing business, he employed not only a master stone cutter, one who cut and shaped stone quarried from the Ozona quarry in the hillside just east of the high school building, but also an artist at carving art figures from stone.

The Smith building, which adjoined the Dudley garage building on the southwest corner of the highway intersection in downtown Ozona was distinguished by such a work of art forming a centerpiece atop the front cornice of the building. Appropriate to the type of business it housed, the building's outside decor sported a beautifully carved stone anvil topped with a blacksmith's hammer.

The same stonemason artist also carved the automobile wheel that still faces east on the Dudley building, now housing the Western Auto Co. and Johnny Childress' real estate business. Unfortunately his name has been lost in antiquity and all that's left of his stone art work is the stone representation of an early day Ford wheel and its five-inch tire on the Dudley building.

Several years ago the hammer, itself weighing several pounds, disappeared from its lofty display perch.

That happened before Mr. Smith's death, and the theft caused him a great deal of distress.

But just a few years ago the anvil itself disappeared from the building top. How it was pilfered was something of a puzzle. It weighed maybe a thousand pounds, a huge chunk of limestone from the Ozona quarry. How somebody dislodged the anvil, let it down somehow and loaded it and made off with it is still a puzzle. There was no sign on the sidewalk to indicate that the stone was dropped from the building top. So, speculation is that some types of rope and pulley or winch arrangement was used to lower it.

Where is the anvil? Maybe in some antique shop or museum somewhere. But wherever it is, it is not as properly nor as interestingly displayed as it was atop the village smith's shop in Ozona, Texas.

DON'T LET PART OF EVERY DOLLAR GET AWAY FOREVER

We owe it to our friends and family to keep all of the money we spend working for us here at home. If local dollars were spent with home town merchants our standard of living would be better and our community would be more prosperous.

One of the most common and least sensible forms of giving is the making of donations to the growth of other communities. Part of every dollar spent goes to support the community where it is spent — money spent out of town stays out of town.

It's simple economics. The dollar we spend at home buys at out the same goods and services that it will buy anywhere else . . . but . . . to make every purchase at home a better bargain, we get to share in the profit by enjoying a better community.

Let's keep ALL of our money working for us — SHOP-AT-HOME.

Holiday foods should be prepared safely

The traditional meal with turkey and dressing is a popular part of Thanksgiving and Christmas festivities. The Texas Medical Association suggests food preparation precautions that will make sure it is also healthy. Food-borne illness is a common problem when large amounts of food are prepared in the home. Many food infections are caused by salmonella germs. Almost all species of salmonella organisms grow rapidly in such foods as eggs, meat, and milk from infected animals. The germs can survive for long periods of time, but proper cooking renders most foods safe.

Foods (especially pastries, custards, salads, salad dressings, sandwiches, meat and meat products) should not be allowed to stand at room temperature for long periods of time. Always keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold. Thanksgiving and Christmas mean turkey and dressing in many homes. There are several specific rules for preparing both. A frozen turkey should be defrosted for several days in the refrigerator. Defrosting at room temperature is not recommended because it encourages the growth of bacteria. Fresh turkeys should be purchased close to the holiday and stored in the refrigerator no more than two or three days.

The internal cavity of a turkey should never be filled with dressing until the fowl is completely thawed. Because some portions of the turkey could overcook before the dressing inside sustains a high enough temperature to destroy bacterial growth, authorities recommend that turkey and dressing be cooked separately. Do not slow-cook a turkey at a low temperature overnight nor allow a turkey to stay in an unheated oven (such as for overnight holding after cooking). The cooking temperature of turkey should reach 165°F in the thickest part of the breast to insure thorough cooking. Never refrigerate cooked whole turkey for overnight storage without first deboning or slicing it. As soon as the cooked turkey cools to a temperature at which it can be handled, debone and slice or cut the meat into small pieces. Pieces should be refrigerated in portions small enough to cool rapidly and thoroughly. Store turkey and stock in separate containers. If you suspect food poisoning (symptoms are fever, headaches, nausea, vomiting, cramps and diarrhea), seek medical attention immediately.

Fall fruit tree spraying controls disease

Fall is often the time when fruit tree care is forgotten or neglected, but it's a critical time for controlling many peach and plum tree diseases to insure a good crop next year.

With the arrival of fall, there's often a tendency to serve our peach and plum trees that served us so well last summer, notes Billy Reagon, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Reagon says that applying a copper fungicide now can stop or reduce three of the six diseases that attack peach and plum trees in Texas. These are peach leaf curl, bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker.

Puckered and distorted peach tree leaves that were either bright red or light green in diseased areas last spring were due to peach leaf curl fungus. The only time to effectively control this disease is in the fall with a copper-containing fungicide such as Kocide 101 or Kocide 404.

Timing of the fall spray is critical for effective control and for avoiding tree damage, the agent explains. Copper is a metal and may cause severe defoliation unless applied correctly.

He advises spraying when 70 percent of the leaves fall off the tree. Spraying too early will cause leaf shed or cause the spray to be ineffective later.

Bacterial leaf spot and bacterial canker can be partially controlled by fall spraying with a copper fungicide. But again it's important to spray at the right time to prevent foliage burn.

Bacterial leaf spot affects both fruit and foliage. The infection causes fruit to crack and leaves develop angular spots which drop out. Bacterial canker will kill trees slowly. Infected trees will have gum or wax forming on the trunk and main limbs.

Fall spray in Crockett County is most often applied from Nov. 10-Dec. 15. Fall spraying is important to the health and production of fruit trees, because there's no other time when 50 percent of peach and plum tree diseases can be controlled with one spray.

Crockett County Care Center News

By Ann McCartney
Director of Activities & Social Care

Another busy week is now behind us, but we don't plan to slow up much. There are just too many things to do and too many places to go now that we have our new van.

But all our activities aren't field trips. We had a good session of reading in the Day Room last week. One of the things we read was the article on Grandmothers sent by Clayton's Village Drug. Residents Modenia Coose, Hilda Dysart, Moriana Perez, Jean Beardmore, Bertha Miller, and volunteer Elodia Zapata all enjoyed this time of reading and visiting.

This was birthday party week for all our November birthdays and we had a bunch. In fact, we have more November birthdays than any other month. Honorees included: W. W. Mitchell, Moriana Perez, Floy Clare Short, Lucia Rios, Alice Ross, and Jean Beardmore. Auxiliary volunteers bringing and serving the party refreshments included Joan Nicholas, Dorothy Doll, and newcomer Jeanne Wellman. Polly Mayes donated the cake and Maxine's Flowers sent a flower for all honorees.

Monday night our residents were treated to music and singing brought by George Hester, Randy Kilpatrick, and Patti Racher. Some good "picking and grinning" was enjoyed by all.

Wednesday's ceramic class was directed by Marie Pierson with Jo Ann Williamson on hand to clean some greenware. Doris Karr also helped clean some later in the day.

Wednesday afternoon Katharine Russell played the piano for our residents. Some of her program included a sing-along. Her daughter and granddaughter, Susie and Courtney Childress, assisted with this part of the program.

Thursday morning's beauty shop was manned by Vivian Hughes, Alena Faye Hokit, and Jo Ann Williamson.

Ted Turnley led Bible study on Thursday afternoon. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Praise led by Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Felipa Munoz, Moriana Hernandez, Victoria DeLaGarza, Isabel Molina, Heriberto Gutierrez, Lorena Gutierrez, Micaela Cantu, and Beatriz Castillo.

Tuesday and Friday bingo winners included: Ola Mills, winner of the certificate for two dinners from El Chato's and also winner to the first place certificate from Watson's Department Store, Tomasa Ramoz second.

Two DHT employees honored

Two employees of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) were honored for their services. Doyle Lovell has 20 years service and Kermit Schkade has 15 years service.

Doyle began his DHT career as a Clerk Typist in Ozona working for Supervisor Resident Engineer W. F. "Bill" Dixon. He has continually advanced with the Department. In November 1981 he was transferred to the District Automation office in San Angelo. He presently is District Automation Administration in charge of the computer operations for the 17 counties in District 7.

Kermit Schkade began working for Supervisor Resident Engineer C. C. Stuard (retired) as an Engineering Aide I in San Angelo. In August 1984 he transferred to the District Design Office where he now has the title of Engineering Technician IV.

Both men are under the supervision of John Mills, District Design Engineer.

They receive a certificate of Service, Lapel Pin and letter of appreciation from District Engineer D. R. "Doc" Watson.

ond place winner. Volunteers included Bonnie Warth, Mattie Cooper, Dorothy Doll, Alice Ross, Lelia Tambunga, Anna Bell Patrick, Gwen Nelson, Sophia Tijerina, and Elodia Zapata.

Friday afternoon a group of our Auxiliary ladies met and worked on Christmas door decorations. Volunteers Bonnie Warth, Mary Lee Jones, Marie Pierson, Maudie Couch, and Mattie Cooper all did a fine job. One more try and they will be all ready for Christmas.

Friday afternoon residents Tomasa Ramoz, Pauline Clinton, Bertha Miller, Edna Wallace, Hilda Dysart, Emma Taylor, Ola Mills, Moriana Perez, Inez Biggs, and Modenia Coose all made cookies to be served at the style show on Saturday. Volunteers assisting with this project included Jo Davidson, Lola Rios, and Linda Vasquez.

Saturday morning it took two runs with the van to get everyone who wanted to go to the style show there. Helpers included Janet Wilson, Marie Pierson, and Melinda Galindo, aide. Residents included Ola Mills, Hilda Dysart, Pauline Clinton, Inez Biggs, Tomasa Ramoz, and Emma Taylor. (Wasn't the style show nice?)

Thanks also goes to Margaret Coates, secretary of the Baptist Church, for her help in getting Hilda's picture made at the Church for their church directory.

Seven members of the First Baptist Church accompanied their Brother Jim Gray to the Care Center for Sunday afternoon Church services.

Thanks this week goes to Madye Jo Humphreys for donating cosmetics, Ann Shaw for cleaning some more ceramics, and Donuts, Etc. for sending donuts twice.

It is always good to see residents well enough to go home but we really hated to see Modenia Coose leave this Monday. She was attending activities and really getting involved. Maybe she can come back for a visit.

We want the rest of you readers to come visit us too!

DHT honors Ron Stringer

Halley's comet is biggest and safest

The only person who might have died because of Halley's Comet in 1910 probably died of his own unfounded fear of the event. The biggest astronomical event of 76 years will be hovering in the skies to the unaided eye from about early January, 1986 to late April, 1986.

But if you're a superstitious person, like those who've been so since 467 B.C. when the comet was first recorded, and each 76 years thereafter, then go hide in your closet. Personally, we plan to look for the friendly giant each day it is supposed to be visible.

The last time Halley traced its orbit around the sun was, of course, in 1910-1911. At one point, the tail of the comet stretched two-thirds of the way across the horizon, directly overhead! It was quite surprising what relatively enlightened early 20th century people did because of this beautiful phenomenon. "Comet pills" were sold by hucksters to protect people from "harmful effects of the comet." Weather was erroneously blamed on the comet. Mid-Eastern people climbed into barrels of water to protect themselves from the effects of "harmful" cyanogen gas of Halley's tail. Sales of oxygen gas soared "just in case." A religious sect in Oklahoma tried to sacrifice a virgin to the comet, but their plan was foiled by the local sheriff. Because of the comet some might have committed suicide. One possible cause of so much fear might have been the sensationalism of the "fear side" of the news by a capitalizing media, instead of the event being one to capitalize on the educational aspect.

The return of Halley's Comet, named after Edmund Halley in honor of his accurately predicting its return in 1758, began in 1948 when the "wad" of gas, dust, and ice reached its farthest distance from the sun. This point is called the aphelion of the orbit, which was located beyond the planet Neptune, or about 3,250 million miles from the sun. Oddly enough, astronomers say the comet, thought to be made of leftover matter from the formation of the Solar System, at its aphelion was only about three miles across. When near the sun, however, expanded by the sun's heat and disturbed by the solar "wind," the comet may span 100,000 miles in diameter, and have a tail that extends 50 million miles.

Some dates to remember, should you be interested, are these:

Early January, 1986-Comet visible to the unaided eye 10 degrees above the western horizon in twilight.

February, 1986-Comet nearest the sun, but cannot be visible.

March 26, 1986-Comet 10 degrees above SE horizon at crack of dawn. May have a long tail extending away from the sun.

April 10, 1986-Comet 10 degrees above southern horizon at crack of dawn. Should be at its brightest, but best seen in southern hemisphere.

Late April, 1986-Comet fades from unaided vision.

There are lots of interesting things about comets. Many amateur astronomers set up shop and just survey the sky for comets. Some have been rewarded, and have had comets named after them. New comets are discovered almost every year. Comets have variable orbital periods. Encke's Comet has the shortest period--about 3.3 years. There are literally hundreds of comets orbiting the sun. Debris from the path of comets furnish night viewers with the spectacle of "shooting stars" or meteors. The Orionid Meteor Shower that occurs each October comes from material released by Halley's Comet on one of its previous visits.

Lexell's Comet of 1770 came closer to the earth than any other--only 1.5 million miles. Speeds of comets vary from 1,250,000 miles per hour near the sun (whose great mass speeds the comet up) to about 700 miles per hour near its aphelion. The tail of a comet may contain much less than one cubic inch of solid matter, but can extend for millions of miles.

There's lots more information about comets at your public library. The Planetary Society, along with Public Broadcasting System, will present a special TV show on Halley's Comet Nov. 27. But for now, just get ready to enjoy the show. Although not expected to be as bright as its 1910-1911 appearance, Halley's should be worth waiting for.

Staubach to chair Great American Smokeout in Texas

The American Cancer Society announced today that former Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach will call signals on the finer points of quitting cigarettes as honorary chairman of the 1985 Great American Smokeout in Texas.

Recently named to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the star quarterback will salute the good-natured spirit of the Smokeout and encourage fellow Texans who smoke to quit for the day--November 21--to prove to themselves they can.

The annual Smokeout, now in its ninth year, is sponsored by ACS volunteers nationwide as a fun and supportive celebration to help smokers give up the habit for just one day.

A survey by the Gallup organization last year indicated that more than 20 million smokers tried to quit, the highest participation in the Smokeout's history. The same survey showed that 3.1 million smokers were still not smoking one to five days later.

"I've never been one for quitting anything" says Staubach. "But quitting cigarettes for one day might be the best thing you can do for your health. It's a chance to join a proven winning team."

According to Texas ACS volunteers planning the event, Staubach's participation should help in reaching one of the event's indirect audiences--Texas' youth.

"Roger Staubach is a hero to many young Texans and if his support might deter some would-be smoker, so much the better," said Russell Autry of El Paso, who is the volunteers spearheading the campaign in Texas.

As for the smokers choosing to brave the "cold turkey" day, Autry says the ACS has a number of support materials--including survival kits and a new booklet, "How to Stay Quit Over the Holidays."

"This one came about because smokers from previous years told us they needed extra guidance and sup-

Lester Dahlberg announces candidacy for State representative

I am announcing my candidacy as a Democrat for Texas state legislator from the 67th state representative district. I am running on the ticket, which is endorsed by the National Democratic Policy Committee. I am not a politician. I am a farmer. I live in Eldorado. I am a native of Texas, I am 50 years old, am married and have 2 sons. I believe that now is the time that patriotic citizens, must run and become elected to public office if our nation is to survive.

generate new technologies which will create an industrial revolution. This would provide many high skilled, well paying jobs.

We must turn around this depression. To do this we must Federalize the Federal Reserve Board, to create funds at low interest to build up farming, ranching, and production. We must also fund infrastructure projects such as the North American Water and Power Alliance, which would bring water from Alaska into West Texas.

entire world into a deeper and deeper depression. It is looting the Third World through high interest rates, which push these countries to adopt feudalistic slave labor policies. If we got rid of the IMF and Federalized the Federal Reserve Board, then we would create jobs in both the U.S. and Mexico, which is the only solution to the so-called problem of illegal aliens.

If we do away with the IMF, then we will set up trading partners in the Third World for our production, and strong independent allies.

LESTER DAHLBERG

We must provide economic assistance to the Third World. This is not give away programs, this is economic assistance to help these countries develop their own economies. Lyndon LaRouche's proposal called Operation Juarez, will do this job.

Operation Juarez calls for doing away with the International Monetary Fund, (IMF). The IMF is pushing the

I support a full scale War on Drugs. In Peru the new President, Alan Garcia, is using the military to wipe out drugs. The United States must not only help Peru, but also must use the military and all our law enforcement capability to fight drugs.

The media is not telling the truth about the war on drugs, the Soviet Threat or the economy.

We need tax programs which favor production over speculation. Unfortunately, President Reagan's tax program was directed by the IMF and doesn't distinguish between production and speculation.

Our President is a good man, but the palace guard of Don Regan and James Baker III, are trying to manipulate him on behalf of the IMF, and the international banks. We need to build a citizens movement which will tell Reagan that his palace guard is working against him.

Let us give our children a future in beautiful, productive cities, bustling with scientists working side by side with workers. Let them lift their minds to building such creations in the stars.

Retirement before 65 reduces benefits

The full Social Security benefit retirement age is currently 65, but a person can retire as early as age 62, Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

"For those who do retire before 65, however, the amount of the retirement check is permanently reduced. In addition, payment amounts are reduced if a wife, husband, widow, or widower starts getting payments before age 65. The amount of the reduction depends on the number of months the person receives checks before age 65."

Beginning in the year 2,000, the age at which full benefits will be payable will gradually increase until it reaches 67. This means that people born in 1938 and later will be affected.

"Reduced benefits will still be payable at 62," Upp said, "but the reduction will be larger than it is at present."

During the construction of the Hoover Dam, concrete had to be poured continually for two years.

RETAILERS TARGET TEEN DRINKING

When Congress raised the drinking age to 21 last year, Congressmen knew that alcohol retailers would have to play a major role for the law to be successful.

To meet that challenge, the National Association of Convenience Stores (NACS), representing the 57,000 store industry, has launched a two part campaign to prevent alcohol sales to minors.

A sophisticated program called Techniques of Alcohol Management will train clerks how to spot false ID's and to refuse illegal sales.

A communications program will reinforce public awareness of the

Don't Let Your Energy Dollars Escape This Winter

Increase Your Energy Savings By Following These Conservative Tips:

SET THERMOSTAT AT 68°

Set your thermostat at 68 degrees or lower. Turn it down at night and use an electric blanket. Turn it down even lower when you leave home for an extended period of time. Every degree you lower your thermostat will help to increase your energy savings.

OPEN DRAPES & BLINDS

Keep drapes and blinds open during the day so the sun's energy can help warm your home. Be sure to close them on cloudy days and at night so they can help insulate your home against the cold.

KEEP DAMPER CLOSED

Tightly close the damper in your fireplace when you're not using it. The same draft that is needed to help make a fire burn could circulate through your fireplace and pull warm air out of your home.

CHANGE FILTER REGULARLY

Check the filter in your heating unit regularly. Cleaning or replacing a dirty filter will often make a difference in your system's performance. Also, make sure air vents aren't blocked by furniture or drapes.

Pick up items from museum

The exhibit: "Music in Crockett County" has now been removed at the Crockett County Museum and Mrs. P.L. Childress, director, has expressed appreciation to all who helped to make it a success. Many were involved.

Mrs. Childress asks that anyone who still has items used in the display at the museum, pick them up as soon as possible.

As everyone knows, space is extremely limited and work has now begun for the Indian Exhibit which will be featured during the Sesquicentennial.

THC to offer museum grants

Texas museums interested in improving their history collections have until Jan. 8, 1986, to apply for grant funds available from the Texas Historical Commission.

The grant awards, which must be matched dollar for dollar with local funds, will not exceed $1,000 per institution. They are designed to assist museums in the preservation, conservation, and interpretation of collections. Funds can also be used for various other special projects, including obtaining technical assistance, training staff, and developing educational programs.

The appropriated monies, approved by the state legislature for the 1986-87 biennium, total $24,500. Of that amount, $14,000 will be distributed in 1986 and $10,500 in 1987.

THC staff is available to advise and assist with grant applications. For additional information, contact the Texas Historical Commission, Field and Museum Services Dept., P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Tx. 78711, 512/475-3092.
