It was gratifying to come to work Monday and find out the wire service had picked up the story we had a couple of weeks ago about the exotic dancer incident. The story was more extensive than ours and made the papers in Austin, Dallas, Odessa and other points.

We didn't think it could be rumor, since it came from the Sheriff's Department, but we were a little concerned. It's such a relief to find we didn't print a rumor. We never print rumors, but we spend a lot of time running them down.

All ethical news people are dedicated to the truth. However, if you never run down a rumor, you miss a lot of the truth.

We had rather print rumor than plagiarize. When you read something in the Stockman it is plainly a news release or credit is given if it is a reprint. During the years I've been here, I have opened area papers and seen my column copied word for word under someone else's by line. That does smart. As any columnist can tell you, pounding out a column every week is something akin to giving birth to a porcupine and whether its a literary masterpiece or a piece of junk, if your byline tops it, it belongs to you. Whether it was written 50 years ago, or yesterday. Copying is not against the law but it ought to be. It is highly unethical, but ethics don't seem to be much of a priority these days.

I'm still not back at my typewriter. I believe this is the fourth week. I'm still having a lot of trouble operating with one hand. Bathing and dressing requires more time than you can believe. I can't help but thank God for my friends in Ozona. If you ask one of them to pick up a can of soup, they bring you a whole pot of homemade.

If you ask one of them to sew up a couple of things, she does that and makes you a new one.

The minute you are out of bread, someone knocks on your door with a fresh loaf of homemade pecan bread.

When you need your hair done, your beauty operator comes up, sticks your head in the lavatory, gives it a good scrubbing, rolls it up and tells you to call for a comb out when its dry.

Your young friends knock themselves out to be helpful too. They will spend the night, fix your breakfast and even come up at 9:30 at night to get you out of a dress, you don't know how in the world you got into that morning.

The flowers, the cards and the phone calls, not to mention the visits, make it almost worth it.

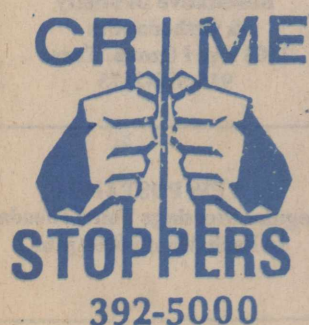

If you have to break your arm, Ozona is the best place to do it.

Randel Wilson winner of the weekly contest

Ozona football fans did not fare well in the past week's football contest. Randel Wilson was the winner with three misses. Wilson was the only entrant with the three misses.

Out of the 30-odd other entries, some missed up to seven games. To say the least, it was a week of upsets.

This week's entries may be found on the sports page. Everyone is eligible. Entries must be clipped from the pages of the Stockman and must be in the mail or Stockman office by 5 p.m. Friday.

Wall Hawks stop Lions

The Ozona Lions took to the road last Friday night with their 1-0 record and stopped off in Wall to face the Hawks who had a 0 - 1 record. It was the second test of the young season for both clubs and both teams were looking to be winners of the Hawks Homecoming Party. Unfortunately the hosting Hawks put up a 21 point wall in the second quarter and the Lions were unable to fight through it even with a fourth quarter rally. Wall won the contest 21-14.

Ozona opened the game by kicking off and the Hawks began what would be a productive night by returning the ball to their own forty. They threatened early as they marched down to the Lion nineteen before they fumbled and Sub Fierro recovered for Ozona. The Lions offense was held and forced to punt on four straight downs as the Wall defense held tough. On Wall's next possession Wolv Rutherford came up with the loose ball and Ozona had their second break of the night. Unfortunately the Ozona offense once again failed and was forced to punt again after four plays. The first quarter continued to be a seesaw battle with neither team hitting pay-dirt.

The Lions would just as soon forget the second quarter as they were tagged for all the Hawks points in that 12:00 minute period. The first score came when Brian Braden exploded twenty six yards with 10:58 left for a fine TD run. The PAT was completed and Wall led 7 - 0. The next score came less than one minute later as Jeff Urbantke picked off a Sam Hightower pass and returned it thirty two yards for another score, and after a failed PAT the Hawks led 13 to zip. The next Lion possession ended in another turnover that set up another Wall score as Ozona fumbled deep in their own territory. Shane Scott blasted in from seven yards out and with the two point conversion Ozona trailed 21 - 0 at halftime.

Glad that the second quarter massacre was over the Lions returned the second half knowing they must fight back or be humiliated. Fortunately the true character of the 85 - 86 Lions surfaced and they fought and clawed their way back in the second half and turned an apparent blowout for the Hawks into a narrow escape.

Things got started late in the third quarter when Roger Flores picked off a Hawk pass and returned it forty yards for a touchdown in a repeat performance from the week before.

Sue Snelson was here Tuesday morning at Ozona National Bank for a reception in her honor at 10:00. Several people came by to meet Sue and enjoy refreshments. Sue was here in behalf of the candidacy of her husband, Pete Snelson, who is the Democratic nominee for U. S. Representative, 21st District. Visiting Mrs. Snelson are Judge A. O. Fields and Dick Kirby.

The PAT failed but the Lions were building up momentum. The momentum carried over into the final quarter as on the second play Valdo Galindo spurred one yard for the endzone. Hightower hit Flores for the two point conversion just as he had two other times in the drive to set up the score. Now the completion of the game had changed and so had the Lions attitude.

The next eleven minutes of the game had the Lions shooting for the endzone and the Hawks dodging bullets in the process. Hightower and Flores took it to the "Big Top" again with spectacular throws and circus catches as they continued to move the ball through the air against the Hawks. Ozona moved the ball up to the Wall twenty - three when a fourth and nine pass fell incomplete. The Lion defense dug in and four downs later the Lions started driving again. Two Hightower completions of fifteen and twelve yards to Flores and Valdo Galindo respectively put the ball on the ten yard line and once again a fourth down pass was foiled on a close and maybe even questionable call. None the less the Hawks obtained possession and the defense of Lions held them again. Ozona received the punt with less than twenty seconds remaining and ran off three more plays before the final quarter ended. Wall led 21 - 14, but it was evident

Ark. woman seriously hurt in auto wreck

An Arkansas woman was seriously injured and a passenger in the vehicle, was treated and released after a one-vehicle accident eleven miles west of here on I-10 around 10:30 Saturday night.

Cindy Lea Morgan, 27, of Waldren, Ark. driver of the 1981 Ford pickup apparently fell asleep at the wheel, drifted into the median, over-corrected and overturned in the median. The passenger 24-year-old Steven M. Nelson was treated and released at Crockett County Hospital.

Miss Morgan was admitted to the hospital where no specifics were released on her injuries.

Investigating officer was Trooper Cliff Babbitt, D.P.S.

Ozona gets drug detection dog

Deputy Sheriff Danny Simmons found himself the recipient of a drug detection dog this week, courtesy of Sonora Chief of Police Brent Gesch.

Gesch had been given two of the expensive dogs by Robert C. Calvert of "Checkmate Canine," a private security company that has several Drug Detection Dogs trained for detection of marijuana, cocaine, heroin and hashish.

The dogs were intended for use at the Comanche Nuclear Plant, but the contract fell through. Calvert attempted to sell the dogs on the commercial market but found that not many people could afford the expensive dogs.

Calvert, a retired law enforcement, then contacted some of his friends still in service. Gesch received delivery of "Else" and "Ralph" June 1, 1986.

After complaints from neighbors, Gesch decided he could not keep both dogs, and this is how Simmons became the owner of "Ralph." Estimated value of the dog is $4,000.

Simmons who has been with the department here for five and one-half years plans to use Ralph for vehicle searches and house searches if it should become necessary.

When questioned Simmons said about the only serious drug problem in Ozona came from I-10. Alcohol is a continuing problem here, but hard drug use is not a major problem. Inhalants have seen some experimentation here, but detection of this kind of chemical abuse is extremely hard to identify. This takes place for the most part in the younger set and is the parents responsibility.

Absentee ballots being accepted in clerk's office

Applications for mail-in absentee ballots for the general election, November 4, are now being accepted in the County Clerk's office.

The absentee ballots may be given to people who are 65 years of age or more, who expect to be out of town on election day, or who can't vote on election day because of religious beliefs, confinement in jail, or disability. Also mail in absentee ballots may be given to people who will be out of town between October 15 to October 31, the period for voting absentee for personal appearance.

Applications will not be mailed out until Sept. 21. Those wishing to vote in the General Election must register by October 5, 1986 to be eligible to vote in the November 4 election.

Voter registration is automatically renewed when a voter has cast a ballot in a previous election. Any changes in precinct residence or other changes should be reported to the tax office and a new card with the corrections will be issued.

School board in brief meet Okays concert in auditorium

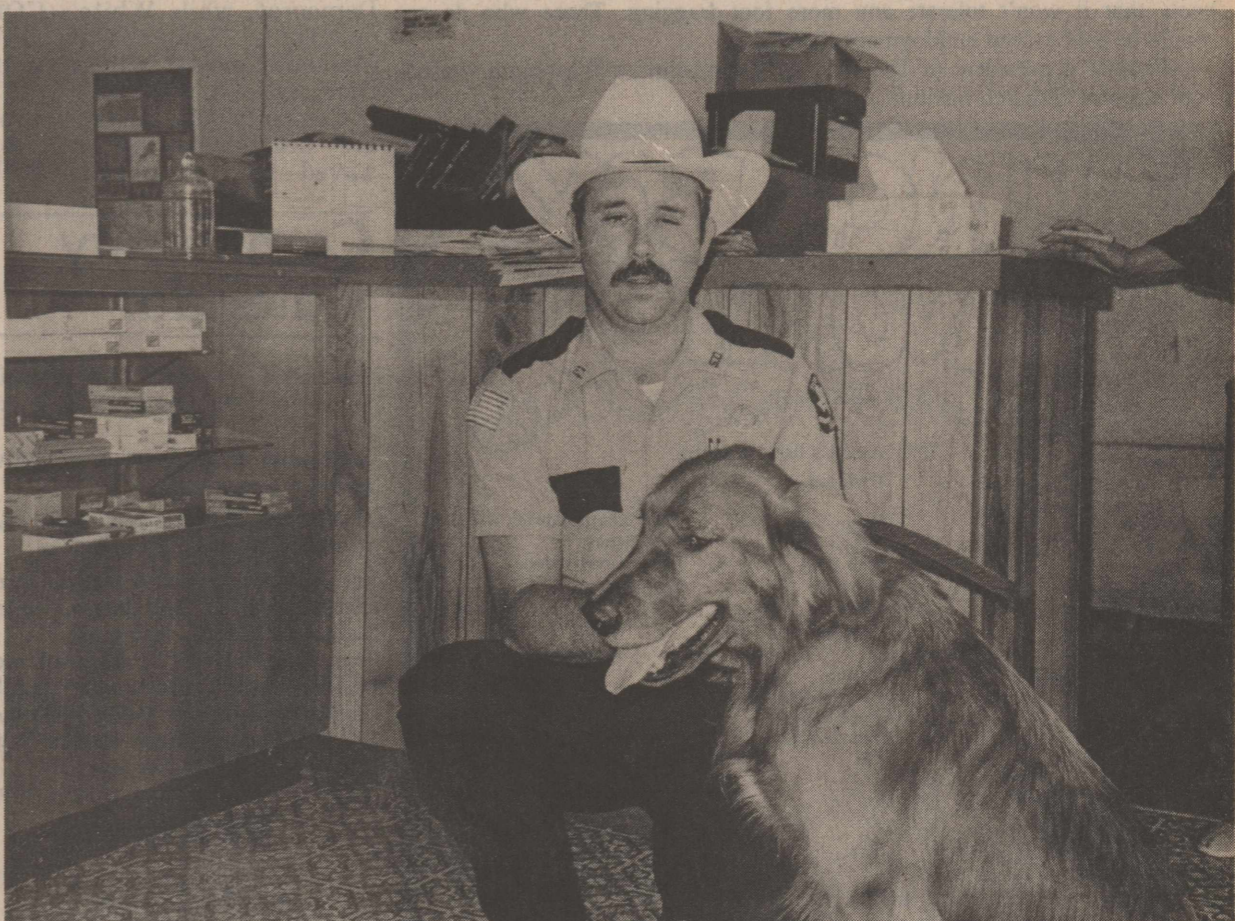

The regular monthly meeting of the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Board of Trustees was held on Tuesday, September 9.

Reverend Jim Gray, pastor of the First Baptist Church, appeared before the local school board to request the use of the Ozona High School Auditorium for a free concert by the singing group, "Faith Work," on Saturday, September 27. His request was approved by the seven trustees.

The members also approved a change order to install ceiling tile in the remaining areas of the new construction in the Davidson Gymnasium Addition Project, and they approved the employment of Helen Wall as a school cafeteria employee.

Superintendent Garland Davis gave a report which compared student enrollment on the first day of the 1985-86 school year to this year. 1,004 students were enrolled on opening day last year, while 995 students were enrolled at the beginning of 1986. He also reported that there were 1,030 students enrolled at the end of the first week of school in 1985, and 993 students were enrolled at the end of the first week this year.

Dog trained to find drugs

Deputy Danny Simmons shows off Ralph, recently acquired drug detection dog. The dog will be used to search for illegal drugs. The dog was a gift to Simmons from Chief of Police Brent Gesch, of Sonora.

Parents need to check family day care centers

Many women care for a small number of other people's children in their own homes each work day. These family day care services provide a home-like atmosphere and continuity of care that is reassuring to both parents and child.

Even when the family day care provider is a neighbor who "takes in" children, or a woman who is caring for children so she can be home with her own child, she is - in fact - running a home business.

Just as you would check to see that the day care home is clean and the children happy and well-cared for, you should also expect the day care provider to follow certain good business practices.

Check first to see if the family day care provider is registered with the Texas Department of Human Services. Registered providers agree to certain guidelines on the number and ages of children cared for in their homes, to refrain from any form of abuse and to certain health and safety standard. The day care provider should be able to show you a registration certificate.

Many family day care providers give parents a contract to sign. A contract tells you what the fee will be, when it is due, the hours of care, overtime charges and penalties for late payments. A contract helps you understand your financial obligation and avoid disputes over payment. In addition, some family day care providers give parents a written policy statement. This spells out what you are responsible for in the way of diapers, formula, changes of clothing and other items. It tells what the provider supplies, such as meals, snacks, transportation services or toys.

A policy statement may also contain information on the day care provider's "house rules" for children, what kind of discipline she uses, how she handles a sick child, and arrangements for vacations. This information, along with your impressions of the caregiver and the home atmosphere will help you decide whether it would be a good situation for your child or not.

In return, be ready to supply the day care provider with health information about your child, information on how to reach you when necessary, and a release form allowing her to seek emergency medical care for your child.

Loving, family-centered child care still requires the formality of registration, contracts, policy statements, health records and emergency forms. They are a necessary protection for the family day care provider, you as a parent and your child.

Make sure your child gets to school safely

For young children, the first weeks of school can be an exciting time—so exciting that they may entirely forget all the safety warnings you've been teaching them. The Texas Medical Association says there are ways to make sure your child is prepared for a safe journey to and from school.

The first step is to decide whether your child will walk or ride to school. Consider factors such as traffic, distance, and your child's maturity. Is your child old enough to walk to school by himself? Does he or she know the rules of traffic and safe crossing? If you do decide to let your child walk, you may want to contact other parents in your area and find a "buddy" for your child to walk with.

Select a safe route. Look at traffic flow, crossings, busy parking lots, blind alleys, garage entrances and exits. Choose the least dangerous path, even if it's a little longer. Take the walk with your child at least a few times to let him learn familiar landmarks. Point out hazards along the way and explain the dangers to your child. Be sure to tell him not to talk to strangers or get into a stranger's car. Remind your child that crossing guards are there for children's safety and should be obeyed.

If your child is going to school by city bus, take a few rides beforehand so he can become familiar with the route. Make certain your child knows the name of his stop and what it looks like. Also, agree on a procedure to be followed if your child misses a bus, or gets lost.

If your child is traveling by school bus, find out the driver's name. It will make your child more comfortable if the driver is a "real person" to him.

Be sure you know the length of time it takes your child to get home so you'll know when to expect him. And remember that most children need reminders about safety particularly during those first few weeks of school.

Plans made by leaders for Girl Scouting year

The first Girl Scout leaders' meeting for 1986 - 1987 was held Tuesday, September 9th. Plans for the year in Scouting were discussed, and the leaders were shown the new handbooks for Brownies and Juniors. There are some changes in the program this year which will allow more flexibility in placing and pacing the girls. In addition, there are now programs available for individual registrations, which make it possible for girls to participate in Scouting although they cannot come to regular meetings, and for special interest registrations, which provide for study in a particular area for a specific period of time (for instance, a three-month photography group) to be chosen by the girls.

Girl Scouts and Girl Guides from around the world will celebrate the 75th anniversary of their organization in 1987. Special emphasis will be placed on this throughout the year.

The Girl Scout Registration Roundup will be held at the Ozona Civic Center on Monday, September 22, at 7:00 pm. The registration fee this year is $4.00, and each girl who registers before or at the Roundup will receive a special "I Love Girl Scouting" patch.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

Here it is autumn again and have you ever thought of making an autumn garden in your plan? I can't remember how long it has been since light showers came our way so often to make our country so beautiful. It seems that most of you have spring gardens with trees, shrubs, bulbs, perennials, rock plants and annuals all chosen to give color at the opening of the season. This does provide a much needed lift after the winter months, but looks a bit worn by fall. Why not plan on a special effort to create a garden that makes a real comeback in the Autumn?

With a selection of plants aimed for this season, a fall garden can rival one of spring. You can have multihued leaves of trees and shrubs, along with bright berries and fruits. There are flowers too that bloom brilliantly in Autumn. There are several beautiful displays of marigolds in our city now.

If spring is too busy a time for you, the fall garden has much to offer, so take time to relax and enjoy a beautiful fall at a slower pace.

Much can be done to establish this kind of a garden now, while you can study plants that appeal to you. Trees and shrubs provide the background of any garden, so an Autumn garden is no exception.

Select the kinds that give the most return in foliage and fruit display as well as late bloom. Among the most colorful trees for our area are the oaks, ash, maples, redplum, crepe myrtle, pecans, vitex and crab apples. Some of the smaller trees and shrubs are the Sumacs, pyracantha, nandina, dogwoods and cotoneasters.

What would an Autumn garden be without chrysanthemums to create a spot of color of their own. Include some new varieties for many are improvements over the old. Others not to neglect are dahlias, cannas and others you may want to try. Last but not least include everblooming roses for they are at their best in the fall.

Alert motel operator leads to recovery of items

An alert motel operator in Ozona was responsible for the recovery of stolen goods taken from a residence in Sutton County earlier in the day on Sunday.

A 25 and a 26 year old man, both of San Antonio, and a 19 year old man from Houston were arrested by Sheriff's Deputies for theft of services from a local motel. One of the men checked into the motel while the others sneaked in. When the motel attendant reported the incident to the sheriff's office the deputies investigated and found the men were in possession of a TV, microwave, guns and jewelry that were taken from a residence in Sutton County earlier that day.

The subjects were transferred to Sutton county on charges of burglary of a habitation.

The Weatherization Program, under the direction of the Tom Green County Community Action Council, will assist low-income persons, particularly those who are elderly and or handicapped, improve their home energy efficiency and lower utility costs by protecting the interior of the house from external extremes of temperature. Improvements are intended to conserve energy, and are not for rehabilitation, renovation or beautification.

Weatherization techniques include: insulation (attic, if roof leaks it will be patched before insulation is blown), caulking, weatherstripping, thresholds, window glass, windows doors, glazing, underpinning, water heater blanket, insulation for hot water pipes, gaskets for wall outlets, vents or turbines when vents cannot be installed, storm windows on the north and west sides of the house, and other minor repairs, such as, patching holes in walls, and ceilings, and rebuilding rotted out window frames.

The weatherization program does not assist with plumbing, electrical, add on additions or storm doors.

The homeowner understands that all the work will be of professional quality and that the work is provided charitably and gratuitously and not for sale or compensation, and thus without warranty and or guarantee.

To apply for this program, we have an outreach worker that comes to your area twice a month. She will be located at the Court House or the Senior Citizen Outreach Centers. You may also apply at our office at:

No segment of the economy has ever been challenged to change so fast and so completely as has the new agriculture. Never in American history have so many innovations been adopted in such a short time. When these changes have required capital, your Federal Land Bank Association has been a primary source of funds. We recognize the inevitability of change — except in the importance of the man and the land. We also believe that a free agriculture — based on the family farm — will continue to flourish in any new environment

A Pure Path-Places to Start!

By Rev. Bekie Diaz
Assembly of God

"How can a young man keep his way pure? By living according to your word." (Psalm 119:9)

As I read these familiar words once again, my heart was deeply stirred. I could easily visualize David, a strong man of God - though possibly still a young man at this time - kneeling in God's presence. Blessings and praises poured from his lips to his Lord and Master.

Then a question formed in his mind. "How can a young man keep his way pure." David was certainly aware of the possibility of sin and impurities creeping into the hearts and lives of those serving God, for he struggled daily with his sinful nature, even as do we. Yet without hesitation he answered his own question, "By living according to your word."

So often we take the presence of the Word of God for granted here in America. Bibles are found in over 80 percent of all American households. Yet the Scriptures are not available, even in part to serve as a source of guidance in hearts and lives of people living in our nation.

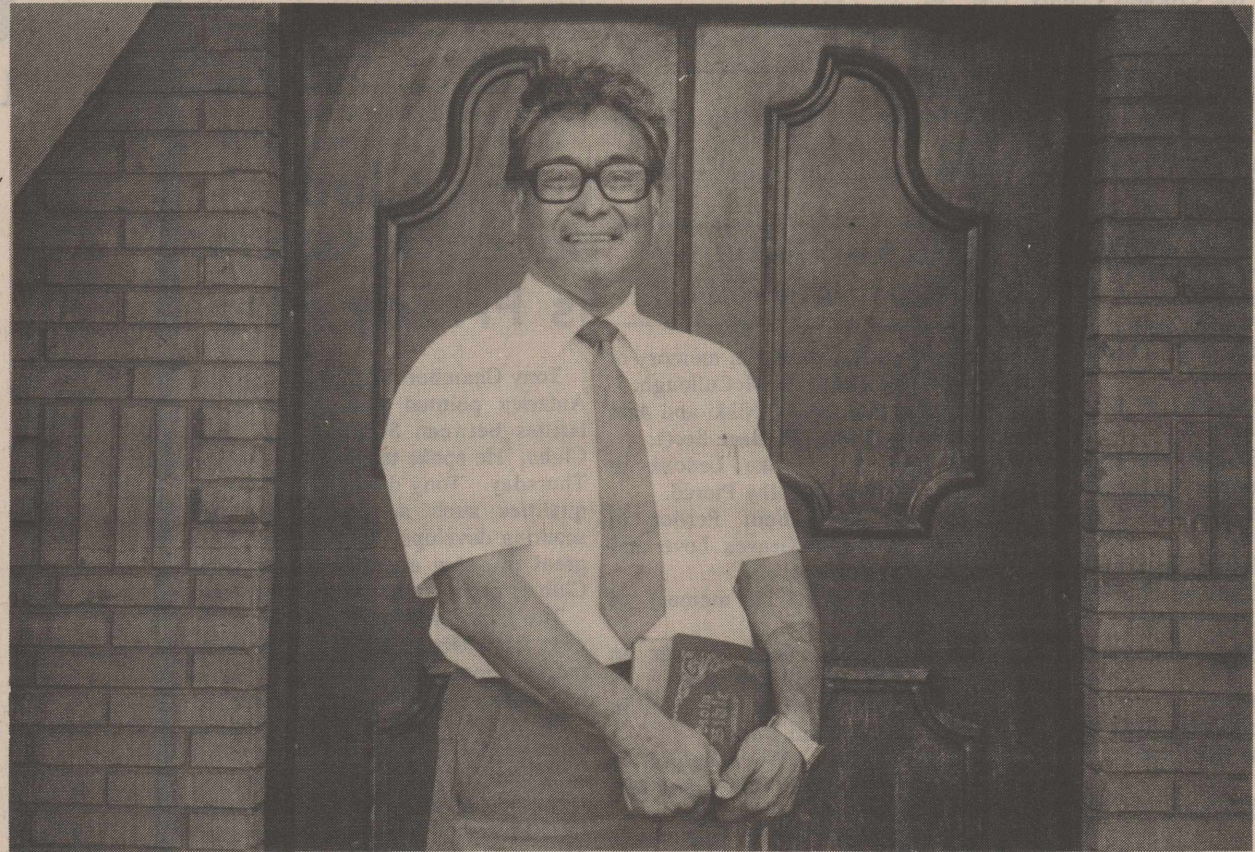

I believe this statement is one we should all be willing to act upon - commitment to bringing the gospel to those around us. This can only be done as we continue to support those who have dedicated their lives to teaching the Scriptures to every tribe, tongue, and nation on earth. (Mar. 16:15-16)

I feel that we are living in the last days before His second appearance. We must work as never before to reach those who are yet unreached with an adequate witness of His saving grace. (Acts 16:31)

A survey I made through our records in our Church, has shown me that out of a whole year we just have 45 minute or maybe 1 hour teaching in Sunday School - which will make it approximately 52 hours of teaching a year. Of course we have other services during the week, but in regular scripture teaching, I think we have to have more time. So, lets face it, its a task also for parents to be aware of.

Why not as parents teach and talk about the word of God to our family in the home! (Prov. 22:6)

by Rod Chalmers

Have you ever started out on a hunting trip, be it for deer or turkey or ducks or doves, and wondered if you would live through it? Of course not! Hunting is a pleasurable experience - never thought of as life-threatening. But every year people venture out into nature on one of the most enjoyable and coveted pastimes known to man and suddenly find themselves in an unexpected situation, where common sense seems to take a back seat. And some die because of it. Almost all of us at one time or another, have found ourselves in one of the following situations, and didn't even realize the potentially dangerous position we were in. Think back....

It's 5:30 AM and that old alarm clock you've used for years in hunting camp rattles you awake to tell you it's time to open deer season for another year. You feel like you've just laid down a munite before, and as you try to shake the cobwebs out of a cloudy brain and rub out the sleep from your eyes that hasn't had time to form, you realize that in fact you've only been down for three and a half hours. As you look at the empty bottle of Old Crow on the camp table, you're glad that you and ole' John had spent the wee hours solving the problems of the world, instead of helping your two other companions find the bottom of that bottle. You feel rough, but they look rougher. High-powered rifles are slipped out of cases and long, shiny cartridges are clinked into magazines. A cup of black coffee and everybody's ready to stumble out into the darkness to pile into one pickup for the ride to the deer blinds.....

Or how about this one.... You've just seen a good buck around the point of the hill, and you know he won't be there forever. You've been running in a half-crouch for 250 yards to get around this ridge, and your leg muscles remind you that you've been hobbled to a desk since this time last year. You're stumbling a lot. Your sweaty palms are protesting the eight pound rifle and trying with every step to get rid of their load. The light mist that's been falling all morning makes everything feel like wet soap and you're doing your best to keep the flat rocks from setting off the alarm that would alarm your quarry below. If you can just get around the point of this bluff without starting a small-scale avalanche.....

And finally, too many of us have been here.... You're not really an old man, but the last hill reminded your body it's already passed the half century mark. Sure, you're packing around about 25 or 30 extra pounds than in years past, but you can handle it. Used to play split end. But by the time you get this 8 point buck back to the jeep, he will have gained about 75 pounds since you field dressed him two hills back. Your heart is thumping in your throat and you feel like you need to rest, but it'll be dark soon and hard to pick up that trail that leads back to where you parked. You peel off one more layer of clothes, wipe your brow, grab an antler, and off you go for that last hill.....

Each of the above scenarios are common and real - and an invitation to disaster.

Last year 72 people hunting in Texas were victims of firearms accidents resulting primarily from carelessness and/or poor judgement. And 15 of them will never see another hunting season. Statistically, you're safer out hunting than fighting traffic on any freeway of any city in Texas. And probably safer than flying commercial to Las Vegas. But whenever you're mixing guns with poor judgement, there's a potential for tragedy. Keeping a clear head and observing basic safe gun handling procedures can divert disaster.

I don't know how many hunters succumbed to heart attacks while hunting, but it's more than just a few. We can remember one here close to home just this last season. Rather than waiting for the night before departure on a hunting trip to try to stuff this year's body into last year's camouflage suit, start early conditioning a month or so in advance of the trip could save your life should you find yourself in the position our split end got himself into. Walking is great, and if you're hunting in hills or mountains, walk up and down hills in your training sessions. Stairways and football stadium bleachers are super. But by all means, start early and work up. Don't wait till the week before you leave to try to regain what you've lost in a year (or several years, as the case may be).

Firearms safety and good health are good common sense, and an application of both will not only make the experience more satisfying and enjoyable, it'll assure you many more in years to come.

SAFETY FIRST!!

ONE OF THE BIG ONES! Ray Boyd caught this big 17 lb. striper at Amistad Lake recently and it was just one of the big catch. Ray said the fish were caught near the dam just before daylight. He and his fishing group, including wife Wyna and son Kirk, also caught a bunch of large catfish on the trip.

Cassie Montgomery is second in gymnastics

Cassie Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Montgomery, competed in her first Class III District Compulsory Gymnastic meet Sept. 13, in Midland. She competed against about forty girls and placed second.

Cassie's second place on the vault scored 8.50. On the bars she had a score of 7.30, floor 7.80 and beam 6.45. Cassie's all around score was a 30.05. This is Cassie's first year to compete in the Class III division. The next meet she will be competing in will be in Midland on Sept. 20.

Cassie will compete in four meets in the compulsory class this year. Her last meet which will be in Pampa on Nov. 1, will be the only meet she will be able to qualify for the semi-final for state. Only the top 120 high score girls from the Pampa and Dallas meet for this area will go to the semi-finals. Cassie has worked hard for her achievements. She is competing against girls who have been in Class III competition for a couple of years.

Cassie has only been on the Texas Tumbleweed's team for around two years. She competed class four last year and was moved up to three this summer.

Cassie's parents, Sandy and James, her sister Ky and her grandmother from San Angelo, Earlene Mayfield, attended the meet.

Get Social Security number at least two weeks early

People in the San Angelo area who plan to apply for a Social Security number should remember to apply at least two weeks before they will need the number. Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

It takes this time to process the application, evaluate the evidence, search the files at Social Security headquarters, and to issue and mail the Social Security number card.

When applying, a person must have evidence of age, identity, and citizenship or legal alien status, Upp said. In addition, a person 18 or over applying for the first time must apply in person.

The best evidence of age and citizenship is a public record of birth issued before age 5. If this is not available, religious records established before age 5 may be considered. Only if these are not available can other evidence be submitted, Upp said.

Evidence of identity can be any document showing identification data such as a physical description, photograph, or signature. Examples include driver's license, voter's registration, school record, report card, identification card, marriage record, draft card, military ID, building pass, adoption record, court order for name change, clinic, doctor, or hospital record, or organization membership.

People applying for a duplicate card to replace one lost must provide evidence of their identity. Also, a person who wants to change her or his name in Social Security records must provide evidence of identity under both the old and new names.

Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency are acceptable.

For more information about applying for Social Security numbers, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. A free leaflet, Applying for a Social Security Number, is available at the office.

Ozona businessman wins national contest

Editor's Note: This article is another in a series on Ozona's appreciated business. Business of the week is Buttery Motor Co.

By Connie Jennings

If you have by some chance been looking for Buttery Motor Co. Manager Richard Berry this week, you're going to have to spring for a plane ticket to find him. Berry and wife Cynthia are vacationing on the Hawaiian islands, compliments of Chevrolet.

Chevrolet sponsored a nation-wide sales contest earlier this year, and Berry led the nation in sales, competing with other dealerships his size. "My goal in coming here was to sell cars, and we've certainly been able to do that," says Berry. He adds his "thanks" to Ozona consumers who helped him win the contest.

Dr. Harold Buttery of San Antonio purchased L-B Motor Co. in May 1985. Berry took over as manager of the following November. Berry attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock. He ran a late-model sports car dealership there before making the move to Ozona.

Berry sees many advantages in the small-town car business. Buttery is unique in that it is one of four or five full-line dealerships in the nation. They not only deal with one manufacturer, but many. "We've had a real good turn-over here. Right now our inventory is very low," Berry said. "I plan to keep about 100 vehicles in stock." Berry adds the '87 models are already beginning to arrive in preparation for the Oct. 8 show date.

The low interest rate has had an excellent effect on sales, according to the 18-year veteran. "All those who were not really in the market for a new vehicle are taking advantage of the low interest. Many of them have really been able to lower their payments!"

The August 1985 edition of "Texas Monthly" recognized the Suburban as the "National Car of Texas." "That certainly holds true in Ozona," Berry observes. "That article just put fuel to the fire. Ozona was known for years as having more millionaires per capita than any other city in the nation."

Berry challenges "If someone made a survey, I know we'd have the most suburbans per capita. Pretty soon everyone will be a two-suburban family," he adds somewhat jokingly. Buttery Motor Co. recently took over the old Foxworth building which is now the new and used truck lot run by J. P. Pogue. Pogue, who has been in Ozona since 1937, recently received a 24-year award from Chevrolet.

Berry would like to make improvements in the service and parts department. He also has plans for improving the overall facility in order to promote more trade within the community.

"My dad bought my first car in Ozona when I was about 13," recalls the Fort Stockton native. "It was a '31 Ford."

Berry still enjoys those early models. He has eight classics in his collection. "It's really more a hobby than a business for me," he explains, "although, I still like to go to antique auctions to buy and trade."

Oil production rate at 100%

The Railroad Commission has continued the Texas oil production rate for September 1986 at 100 percent of market demand.

Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent and Commissioners Mack Wallace and Clark Jobe continued to buy a total of 2,136,338 barrels of Texas oil per day. The September nomination total, a decrease of 11,199 barrels daily when compared to August purchaser nominations, indicates market demand. September 1985 nominations totaled 2,230,019 barrels daily.

Although next month's state total for the permissible rate of production is calculated to average 2,688,021 barrels per day, actual production is estimated to reach 2.05 million barrels of oil per day.

The Commission first went to the ceiling level for oil production in April 1972. It applies to all fields in the state except those that are assigned lower legal rates of production so that reservoir pressures will not be depleted before the maximum amount of oil has been recovered.

Chairman Nugent also reported that September nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,122,747

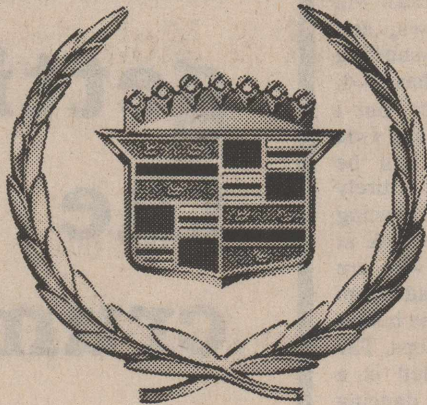

Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas production allowable hearing will begin at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, September 15, at the Railroad Commission in the William B. Travis Building, 1701 N. Congress, in Austin.

Allstate Vacuum & Tanks, Inc. of Alvin agreed to a $1,500 penalty after Commission inspectors documented vacuum trucks discharging drilling mud, saltwater, and other oil and gas waste onto pastureland near the Dincan property in Jackson County. Commission tests showed the fluids, which affected about three acres, had concentrations of about 1,000 parts per million chlorides.

Teffoil Corp. of Beaumont agreed to a $1,500 penalty for an overflowing saltwater tank on the Lydia Conklin lease in Hardin County. Commission inspectors estimated some 150 barrels of saltwater were standing in a low area on the lease. Tests of the saltwater revealed chloride concentrations of about 50,000 parts per million.

To date in 1986, the Commission has levied more than $938,000 in pollution and well plugging penalties. Last year the Commission assessed more than $1 million in such penalties.

Journey through Texas where the buffalo roam

Moving day has arrived once again for the Reynolds family in the midst of winter, 1867. They have lived here at the Stone Ranch in Throckmorton County since the end of the War Between the States. Now the time has come to look for better ranchland a few days farther west.

As the time to move on draws near, their daughter, Sally Reynolds, recalls when the family moved into the area and ponders the memories of the past she'll be taking to their new home:

"When my family moved here, there were no schools, no churches, no newspapers and no calendars. Father bought supplies once a year when he'd make the 100 mile trip into Weatherford. You can still see for miles, from horizon to horizon across our ranch. There are just a few distant hills visible to the southwest and northwest. The closest trees for building grow several hundred miles away in East Texas. That's why all the ranch buildings, even some of the corrals, are made of stone. So we called it the Stone Ranch.

"We had to camp overnight when we moved here from Fort Davis. That's only about 20 miles, two wagons, several horses and some cattle. Our closest neighbors live in Camp Cooper, about five miles away. As Momma said, 'We live just on the border outside civilization.'

"My first memory of the Stone Ranch is the buffalo. When we moved here, large herds grazed across the countryside. One winter, the herds were so thick and close to the ranch that Momma and I walked right up to the herd and clipped forelocks of buffalo hair off their huge heads. She stuffed an entire mattress with our take. We killed so many buffalo that winter that we kept only the choicest meat, especially the tongue. We roasted many in the fireplace and cured several hundred in the smokehouse.

"We may live on the frontier, but we do have some luxuries. My mother and sister always set the big table with china and linen for family meals. We roast pecans from the trees, on the Clear Fork in the fireplace. And we have all the peace and quiet we want.

"But the isolation has been tough on Momma. Women are scarce on the frontier and that makes her lonely sometimes. But she's hardly had time to worry about that with all the work to do. Even on the Sabbath, her cherished day of rest, the women in the family often had to work hard to feed ranch hands and strangers passing through the area. As I recall, Momma has only left the ranch once in the last two years. That was to visit a dying friend in Ft. Davis.

"Even in tough times, Momma didn't want to leave Stone Ranch. One year while Father was gone for supplies, Indians attacked the ranch. The ranch hands were working, so defense of the family fell on my brother and me. Both of us had yet to turn 15. We lost about 100 calves in the raid, but fortunately no one was hurt.

Times have changed around here. Settlers get closer every day. Recently the Army established Fort Griffin, just up the Clear Fork of the Brazos River. The time has come to move on, to find prime grazing land again. And maybe, just maybe, we can also find the border just outside civilization once again.

Parents and students warned of danger of inhalants

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series to better educate the public on the abuse of inhalants. These articles have been provided by Kathy Shurley, Probation Officer, and Texans War on Drugs. This is specifically meant to educate parents and students on the dangers of practice.

Inhalants are a diverse group of chemicals that produce psychoactive (mind-altering) vapors. Most people do not even think of them as drugs because they were never meant to be used that way. They are principally commercial products such as cleaning or beauty agents, glues, paints, fuels for motor vehicles, and some office products such as certain felt markers and typewriter correction fluid.

Inhalants fall into three main categories: aerosol sprays, solvents, and anesthetics. Although different in chemical makeup, nearly all of the abused volatile (vaporous) substances produce effects similar to anesthetics, acting as central nervous system depressants. At low doses, users may feel slightly stimulated; at higher amounts, they may feel less inhibited, less in control; at high doses, a loss of consciousness can occur.

Inhalants' effects are immediate, and they can last from 15 to 45 minutes after inhaling has stopped.

Drowsiness usually follows. Headache and nausea can also occur. Some users experience partial amnesia for the period of intoxication, similar to the effects of several alcoholic drinks.

Sniffing moderate amounts of inhalants for even a relatively short time can disturb vision, impair judgment, and reduce muscle reflex control. Even just one sniffing episode can provoke such effects. Although disturbances resulting from short-term sniffing are usually temporary, some damage may be difficult to reverse. The majority of chemicals sniffed for their intoxicating effects are "fat soluble," that is, after entering the body, they will be retained in fatty tissues, such as the brain, the reproductive organs, the lungs, kidneys, liver, and bone marrow. Because the chemicals are fat soluble and not water soluble, it takes the body substantially longer to purge itself of the chemicals, and the toxicity remains much longer than the high.

In 1983, 14 deaths of young people were reported in the State of Texas. Sniffing highly concentrated amounts of aerosol sprays can produce heart failure and instant death. Medical personnel call it "sudden sniffing death" because it strikes so fast. It can happen the first time or any time a person sniffs.

High concentrations of nonaerosol inhalants can cause death from suffocation by depressing the central nervous system so much that breathing slows down until it stops.

Because the dose of inhalants is not easily controlled, a sniffer can never be sure when he will be inhaling a fatal dose. And, he can never be assured of the chemical make-up of the drugs he is inhaling. A mini-epidemic of paralysis broke out in Florida when a manufacturer substituted one solvent for another in a popularly abused product.

Death from inhalants is usually caused by a very high concentration of inhalant fumes. Deliberately inhaling from a bag greatly increases the risk of suffocation. Even when using aerosol or volatile products for their legitimate purpose, i.e., painting, cleaning, etc., it is wise to do so in a well-ventilated area.

Austin trio found with illegal drugs

A 30 year old man and two 24 year old women, all from Austin, were taken to Crockett County Jail September 14 after being arrested by the Border Patrol on drug charges.

The three were found to have 3 ounces of methamphetamine in their possession valued at around $5300. They were stopped on Hwy. 290 1/2 mile east of Sheffield. The subjects were later released to DPS Narcotics Agents who were investigating the incident.

Quail bag limit

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has adopted a statewide quail bag limit of 12 per day, and possession limit of 36 for the 1986 quail hunting season.

The statewide quail season is Nov. 1, 1986, through Feb. 22, 1987.

Sept. is square dance month

Through the ages dancing has been a necessary element in peoples' lives. Dance has been used to celebrate the harvest, pray for rain, prepare for battle and as a pure form of rhythmic expression. Dance is older than spoken words, for it has described man's hope, joy, grief, and despair. During colonial times, settlers gathered together for husking bees, quilting folics & barn raisings, and when the work was finished, everyone would dance. Pioneers would spend their leisure hours square dancing, finding in it the social pleasures otherwise denied them.

Dancing is open to all people, but the joy in experiencing relationships with others comes with close unity in square dancing. A square is like a small community: each person giving and sharing his feelings with others through participation. This superb exercise can and does build self-confidence by developing individuality through creative happy movement. Square dancing helps to give people a sense of belonging and personal worth, plus an awareness for learning consideration of others and accepting responsibility in a group situation.

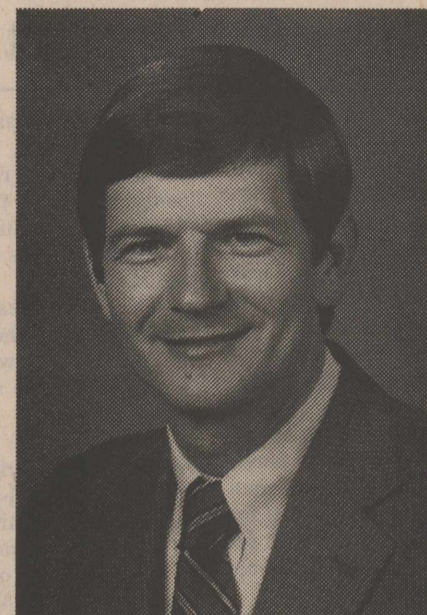

Learning to dance together also helps give people a feeling of unity, especially with overcoming shyness and clumsy moments. Furrowed brows eventually melt into smiling faces. Stiff and unbending folks will relax and let their hair down, and fall into the swing of a rip-snorting good time. Many a person has said, "I've always wanted to dance, but I feel so awkward, and besides if I do get up to dance, everyone will be watching me!" That isn't entirely true. Most people are so busy dancing that they don't have time to look at anyone else. Those persons who are more experienced dancers had to go through the same uneasy times before they conquered the various steps. The only true requirement needed is a willingness to learn: then dancing becomes a rewarding experience, an achievement accomplished by those who give totally of themselves and receive the best rewards in return for their efforts.

The body's systems function better when it's in good physical condition. Dancing is not the only body action that contributes to good physical fitness, but it is adaptable to any age and facility. The wonderful and exciting part of square dancing is that it can free the mind and body, if even momentarily, from the anxiety of daily living.

This social activity is an essential part of total human communication, between man and man, between man and his community, and between man and God. Square dancing has it all!

Levis and Lace is the local club, dancing twice a month at the United Methodist Church. Since September is National Square Dance Month, classes are being offered.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1986

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among counties for purposes of property taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 33 proposes a constitutional amendment that would replace the constitutional requirement that the subject of a bill be expressed in its title with a mandate that each house of the legislature adopt rules of procedure that would require the subject of each bill to be expressed in its title in a manner that gives the legislature and the public reasonable notice of that subject. Determining compliance with the rule would be the responsibility of the legislature. Currently, a law is invalidated if a court finds its caption is defective. The amendment would provide that past and future enactments may not be held void on the basis of an insufficient title.

The amendment also would eliminate the suggestion that the state's laws be revised every ten years, and instead would provide for continuing revision of state laws.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment requiring each house to include in its rules of procedure a rule that each bill contain a title expressing the bill's subject, and providing for the continuing revision of state laws."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policyholder an extra amount on a premium. This amendment will allow mutual insurance companies and stock companies to bid for life and health group policies of political subdivisions. Public liability will be limited to the payment of premiums specified in the contract.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

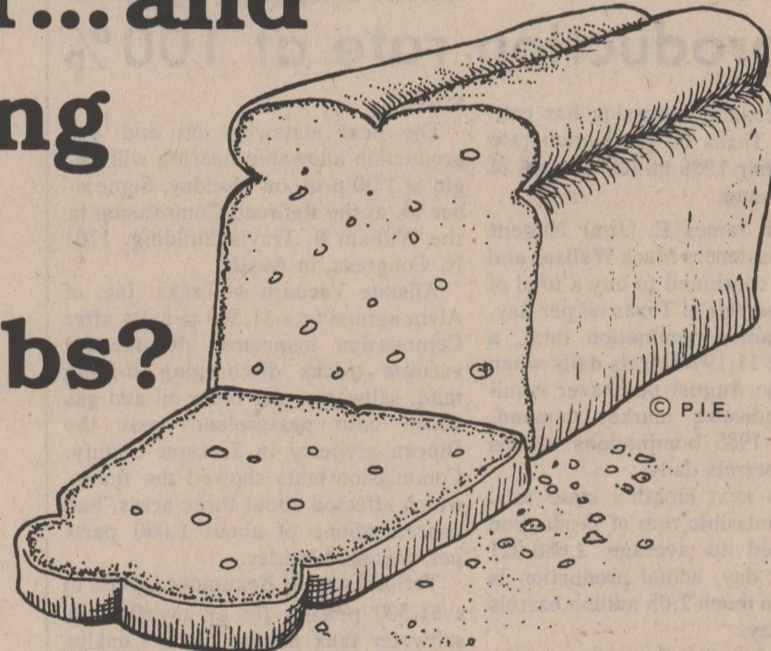

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would repeal the prohibition against branch banking by state banks and would allow state banks and national banks domiciled in this state to establish and operate banking facilities at locations within the county or city where they are domiciled. The amendment would also authorize the Legislature to permit a state bank or a national bank domiciled in this state to engage in business at more than one place if it acquires a failed state bank or national bank domiciled in this state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that a bank may offer full service banking at more than one location within the city or county where its principal facility is located, subject to limitations and restrictions provided by law."

Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 4 de noviembre de 1986. Si usted no ha recibido una copia de los informes en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/252/8633 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12887, Austin, Texas 78711.
