"A LITTLE MIXED UP"

Just a line to say I'm living
That I'm not among the dead,
Tho' I'm getting more forgetful
And more mixed up in the head.

For sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of the stair
If I must go up for something
Or if I've just come down from there.

And, before the 'fridge--so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt,
Have I just put the food away, or
Have I come to take some out?

And then there's times when it's dark out,
With my night cap on my head,
I don't know if I'm retiring--
Or--just getting out of bed.

So, if it's my turn to write you,
There's no need in getting sore
I may think I've already written
And don't want to be a bore.

So, remember that I do love you,
And I wish that you were here.
And, now it's nearly mail-time
So I must say "Good-bye, m'dear".

There I stood before the mailbox
With a face so very red
Instead of mailing you my letter,
I had opened it--instead!

Charter issued for detention corporation

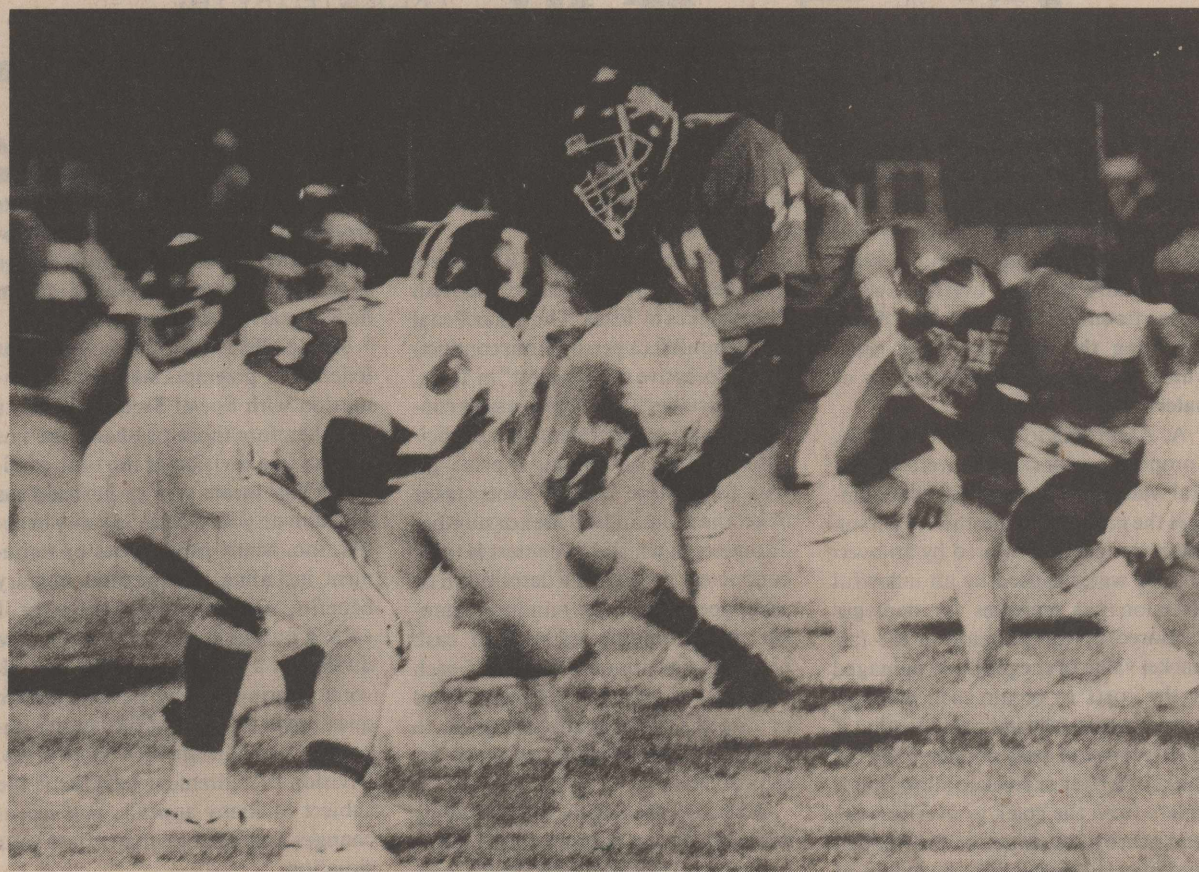

Although no instruments have been filed in the County Clerks office, plans for a minimum security center seem to be moving right along. The facility will be located at the old Radar Base, which is now Crockett Heights.

Harry Sinclair of Midland has been promoting the operation and a corporation has been formed. The name of the corporation is Crockett Detention Center, Inc. and the charter from the state was received here Monday.

A representative from E. F. Hutton was here last week with Sinclair. At that time it was proposed that the corporation ask the Commissioners Court to issue industrial bonds to finance the facility which will need in the neighborhood of 1.3 million dollars to get operational. However, one of the directors informed the Stockman Monday, that this move might not be necessary as subscribers were "waiting in the wings" to buy stock in the corporation.

Hospital to sponsor outpatient clinic

Crockett County Hospital will be sponsoring an outpatient clinic Thursday, Sept. 25th, Monday, Sept. 29th and Tuesday, Sept. 30th from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Dr. Williams and Dr. Bass from San Angelo will be at the hospital to provide medical services to residents of Crockett county. Anyone needing medical services on these days can come by the hospital or call 392-2671 for further information. While there will be a physician fee for services rendered, there will be no emergency room charge for non-emergency visits during clinic hours.

THE MIGHTY LIONS overpowered the Iraan Braves Friday night here with a final score of 18-15. The most exciting play of the night came in the fourth quarter when QB Sam Hightower hit Roger Flores for a thrilling touchdown where Flores went 93 yards for the winning touchdown. Photo by Micheal Glaze

Lions pass their way to victory over Iraan

By Lisa Colin

Friday morning the "Pick It Line" in the Standard Times picked Iraan to win over Ozona all the way across the board. Last Friday night, the Lions proved that the "Pick It Line" could be wrong. In a spectacular display of teamwork and fantastic playing, the Lions defeated Iraan 18 - 15 in one of the most incredible games that they have had in several years.

Statistically both Ozona and Iraan had eleven first downs. Rushing, the Braves had 242 yards on 42 plays while Ozona only had 26 yards in 33 plays. The Lions running was clearly off so instead of being run, the football, thrown by Sam Hightower, took to the air for nine out of 17 completions for 184 yards. Iraan completed five out of eleven for only 35 yards. Each team threw one interception. Ozona had six punts with an average of 42.3 yards while Iraan had two punts with an overall average of 31.5. Ozona lost the ball twice on fumbles and had seven penalties for 65 yards. Iraan fumbled four times and had eleven penalties for 79 yards.

Rushers for the Lions include Butch Gonzales with eleven carries for 28 yards. James Sanchez with one carry for two yards, and Oscar Payne with seven carries for 29 yards. Also rushing for the Lions was Valdo Galindo with eight carries and eight yards. He also had the only interception of the game.

On the receiving end for the Lions, the majority of the passes were caught by the invincible Roger Flores, who, with his incredible willpower, scored all eighteen points. Roger had 144 yards in five receptions, and if this type of play is continued by him, he will be looking at stardom. Roger takes credit for the actual scoring, but the most important aspect of the game was the blocking, which made it possible for him to score. Also receiving for the Lions were Butch Gonzales with three receptions for 36 yards and Oscar Payne with one reception for four yards.

Scoring first, Ozona put twelve points on the scoreboard early in the game both in the first and second quarter. Victory for the Lions seemed apparent but then in the third quarter, the Braves rallied, scoring fifteen points to lead the Lions 15 - 12. Scoring both of these touchdowns for Iraan was Chewy Ulate who had 22 carries for 112 yards. Both PAT's were good, one a kick by Raul Mendoza, the other a two point run by McCrabe. This put three more points on the scoreboard for the Braves.

The beginning of the fourth quarter tensions flowed among both teams, each having a determined desire to win. Then, suddenly, when Roger Flores made the third and final touchdown of the game with a 93 yard pass reception, you could have heard a pin drop in the Braves' stands. Meanwhile, on Ozona's side, the crowd went wild and everyone was on their feet yelling and cheering the team on. There has not been spirit like this in Ozona in a great while.

With their never-ending confidence and will to win, Ozona has once again proved that they are a capable football team with much talent, and that they have what it takes to be victorious even when the odds are against them.

This Friday the Lions face the McCamey Bulldogs in McCamey at 8:00 p.m.

In quest for abandoned money --- County wins first legal tilt

Crockett County won its first court battle last week in a struggle with the U.S. Government over $600,000, which the government claims is drug money.

County authorities maintain the money, the largest amount ever seized in a routine traffic stop, should go to the county because the owners have not laid claim to it and it was abandoned in Crockett County. Federal Judge Halbert O. Woodward holding court in San Angelo denied the U.S. Government's motion to dismiss Crockett County's case claiming possession of the money. The judge said the government failed to prove the money was not abandoned. His ruling will allow the county to pursue its claim to the money.

Both County Judge A.O. Fields and County Attorney Tom Cameron feel the county has a good chance to recover the largest portion of the money, although it may take some time. If and when the money is recovered it will be placed in the general fund.

Trooper Cliff Babbitt, D.P.S., discovered the money May 11, after stopping a rental car for speeding on I-10, three miles east of Ozona. The driver, a 37 year old man from Riverside, Calif., allowed investigators to search the Florida rental car for contraband without a warrant. After citing the driver for speeding, he and his passenger were allowed to leave the scene. Both men denied any knowledge of the money, which was found inside a suitcase and an attache case in the car trunk, in denominations of $20, $50, and $100 bills.

Without notifying local officials, D.P.S. officers here took the money to the Department of Public Safety in Austin where it was seized by a U.S. Marshall on behalf of the government.

Photo copies of the bills were made for a Drug Enforcement Administration check of the serial numbers for links to undercover narcotics investigations. There were no drugs found on the men or in the vehicle although an Austin chemist said a random test of 172 bills yielded some cocaine residue, enough to fit on the head of a pin.

Upon discovering the incident, County Attorney Tom Cameron took immediate steps to claim the money for Crockett County. He said state law is very clear that the county has a legal interest in the $600,000, due to the fact that it was relinquished voluntarily and unclaimed for more than 30 days after the seizure.

Attorneys for the government claim the money was not abandoned because the driver signed the receipt disclaiming possession of the money so he could leave D.P.S. custody.

Government attorneys claim no one has been able to show there was a non-drug source for this money and the point of origin was Miami, a known drug corridor. They claim traces of cocaine on the bills are probable cause to dismiss the county's claim.

Cousins named to Womans Hall of Fame

Margaret Cousins was one of the thirteen inductees into the Texas Women's Hall of Fame Thursday.

Mrs. Cousins is a cousin of Lucille Littleton and Geniece Childress. She has been a frequent visitor to Ozona and has entertained the Woman's Forum and the Woman's League.

Mrs. Cousins, a San Antonio writer and editor, was honored in the literary arts category. She was an associate and managing editor of Good Housekeeping magazine for 17 years and editor of McCalls magazine for four years. She has authored six books and is a senior editor of Doubleday Publishing Co.

Mrs. Childress was in Austin for the induction ceremony when Gov. Mark White welcomed the thirteen inductees.

"I am proud of their accomplishments and am pleased to join other Texans in honoring these women for providing our young people with role models for excellence," White said.

An eleven member panel, including White and members of the Governor's Commission for Women selected the finalists for the Hall of Fame.

Plans shaping up for Crockett Co. Fly-In

Plans for the Crockett County Fly-In scheduled for Oct. 25 are shaping up according to Bobby Aycock, Chamber of Commerce fly-in coordinator.

The Confederate Air Force participation is definite. CAF Col. Sam Short of San Angelo says limiting the numbers of warplanes because of the Ozona Airport size is more of a problem than getting them to come to Ozona.

Several U. S. Army helicopters from Ft. Hood are on tap for static display as well as a number of experimental aircraft.

Food, drink and craft concessionaires are being sought. Concession Chairman Marie Pierson reports that the Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary will sell barbecue sandwiches to the lunchtime crowd.

Tickets for an evening barbecue provided by the Ozona Lions Club will be sold.

"We still need more concession booths and a number of these are available," Pierson said. "We've marked off several 20 by 15 foot booth spaces to rent for $25 each. I'll be glad to give more information to any organization if they'll call me at 392-3082."

The booths are limited to Ozona civic or non-profit organizations except for aviation related organizations.

A small admission charge will be used to help defray fuel costs for the CAF warbirds. Thirty to forty gallons per hour is a common fuel consumption rate for many World War II planes. A B-25 bomber which is expected to be on display burns about 60 gallons of gasoline per hour.

A San Angelo model airplane club will demonstrate planes and flying skills in the afternoon.

The fly-in is being staged to celebrate the Texas Sesquicentennial, David Crockett's 200th birthday, and 29 years of aviation at Ozona Airport. Texas aviation will be given special recognition.

Lion's Club Pancake Supper

The Lion's Club Pancake Supper was a big success Friday night and the Lions served around 300 people before the Ozona-Iraan football game. Busy workers above are Bill Watson, R.B. Babbitt, Dorris Haire, Jim Gray and Bobby Aycock.

MILKING THE PUBLIC

By Edwin Feulner

Import quotas and tariffs are not new ideas. For centuries, nations have been trying to make it difficult for foreign manufacturers to compete with home-grown industries. Sometimes the efforts have preyed upon prejudices and suspicions. Other times they have been based on murky economic arguments. The idea is simple, however: since tariffs drive up the prices of foreign products, citizens are more likely to buy goods produced at home.

Unfortunately, the idea is nearly as bad as it is old. One study showed that restrictions on shoe imports from South Korea and Taiwan cost U.S. consumers billions — about $40,000 for every shoe-industry job saved in the U.S. as a result of the restrictions. That's a lot of money to pay for loafers.

In the United States, the first import tariff was instituted in 1789 to protect fledgling American industries from British imports. Since then, nearly every U.S. industry, from steel to textiles, has lobbied Washington for protection.

Now comes the dairy lobby. It's the same old story — but with a bizarre new twist: U.S. dairymen are fighting "competition" from foreign producers of a product that isn't even made in the USA.

The product in question is called casein. A processed milk protein, casein is used in more than 400 products, including baby foods, cakes, non-dairy creamers, pharmaceuticals, glue, paper, and animal feed. More than 200-million pounds of casein are imported each year.

Now here's the twist. There is no U.S. casein industry to protect. Casein has not been produced in the United States since the late 1940s, when the U.S. milk price support made it more profitable for dairy farmers to produce dry milk, which the government then buys and stockpiles.

The 50-percent tariff that the dairy lobby wants to impose on casein imports would triple the price of casein from $1- to $3-a-pound. As a result, the tariff would cost U.S. consumers an estimated $200 million to protect an industry that doesn't exist.

The total cost, however, would run even deeper than that. Thousands of jobs that depend upon the supply of cheap, imported casein would be jeopardized by a cost increase. In fact, several U.S. companies recently told the U.S. Department of Agriculture that if the price of casein is forced up they will simply start manufacturing products using casein abroad. Moreover, since a casein quota would violate the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade (GATT), other industries would inevitably be hurt when our trading partners respond with restrictions of their own.

All this to protect an industry that doesn't exist.

The story doesn't end here. Because, ironically, one of the biggest losers in this latest milk-the-public scam would be U.S. dairy farmers, who rail against casein imports while using the protein generously in calf feeds. The measures proposed by "their" lobby would strike them hard — right in the pocketbook.

Special interests have always been willing to sacrifice the public interest in pursuit of their own narrow agenda, but this is the first time that a lobby has been willing to sacrifice its own clients. One can only hope that the milk producers will wake up and smell the clover.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

Q: My neighbor has built a dam just on his side of the fence in a creek that runs through both our properties. This dam will probably divert the water flow from its natural channel into a ditch that usually handles overflow water during flooding. What is the law, if any, governing the damming of a creek which may divert the natural flow of water?

A: According to Texas Water Code, a property owner cannot divert the natural water flow in a manner that damages the property of another. A person whose property is injured by an overflow of water caused by an unlawful diversion has remedies for damages measured by the decrease in the fair market value of the property damaged or the costs to repair such damage. Note, however, the law provides that if ditches have cut away or intersected the banks of a river or creek to allow floodwaters from the creek to overflow the land nearby, the owner of the flooded land may fill them up to the height of the adjoining banks of the river or creek without liability to other property owners. For additional information, consult an attorney.

Q: Is it against the law in the state of Texas to buy or sell Irish Sweepstakes tickets? I sell tickets, but have been told that it is illegal.

A: A close question. I do not believe it is illegal to sell tickets to the Irish Sweepstakes in Texas. The Texas Penal Code prohibits a person from conducting a "deceptive sales contest" in Texas. A Sweepstakes is a "deceptive sales contest" if it (1) misrepresents the participant's chance of winning a prize, (2) fails to disclose on the sweepstakes ticket the geographical area or number of outlets in which the contest is to be conducted, an accurate description of each type of prize, the minimum number and minimum amount of cash prizes, the minimum number of each other type of prize, or (3) is manipulated or rigged so that prizes are given to predetermined persons or retail establishments.

Although the tickets you are selling probably do not contain all the information required under the Penal Code, I do not believe you are "conducting" a deceptive sales contest. However, it is a close call and you may wish to get specific legal advice from a local lawyer.

Q: My husband and I were married 21 years. We are no longer married. Will I be eligible for Social Security benefits from earnings he has paid into the Social Security system when I reach the age to qualify for payments if in the interim he is remarried but I am not?

A: No. Texas courts have held that federal law preempts state law in connection with Social Security benefits and therefore those payments are not subject to a division at the time of divorce. That means your ex-husband has no claim on your Social Security benefits, too. Many other types of retirement, including, in some cases, military benefits, are community property if earned during a marriage and can be divided by a judge or jury during a divorce hearing. If you have a specific question in this area of the law, it's important you consult with an attorney. Division of retirement benefits is the subject of many appeals, and recent changes in procedure may affect your situation.

Q: My wife and I sold our home and made a profit. We also bought another home at the same time. I want to report a gain on our tax return next year, but am a little confused about how to do it. Could you explain this fully and whether the purchase of the second home would affect the gain?

A: Generally, a homeowner who sells his old home and buys a new one can avoid "gain" recognition if the new home is more expensive than the old one, and the new home is purchased within two years before or after the sale of the old home. To avoid "gain," an election must be made on your income tax return. In order to make the election, a statement must be attached to the return that shows: (1) the basis of the old residence, (2) the date the old residence was sold, (3) the sales price of the old residence as adjusted to take in "fixing up" costs, and (4) the purchase price, date of purchase, and date of occupancy of the new residence.

If you are over age 55 at the time the old residence is sold, you may exclude up to $125,000 of the gain realized on the sale. The exclusion election may be made only once during your lifetime.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Kitty,
I'm writing this letter concerning prejudice. Recently I went into a convenience store and felt like I had just stepped back into the 60's!! There was a lady in there who was very, very insulting in the way she waited on me. Smart answers and questions, not to mention bad faces, proves that her attitude towards ethnic types is very prejudiced. When I phoned the manager she didn't even know who I was talking about!! That is when I decided to write this letter. If no one is going to listen to me I know you will! I hope you print this letter to let the people of Ozona realize that this is the 80's not the 60's! People like this should not work in an environment such as a convenience store. Furthermore, let me say that people who think they are better than others because of the color of their skin are just fooling themselves. These are the people who deserve prejudice. Also the employers, please know beforehand who your employees really are because in this case, a description of the employee didn't help the manager at all!!
Please withhold my name for reasons of threatening phone calls which my family does not need!!

Dear Kitty:
Having been an avid reader of your newspaper for the past 21 months, I have really enjoyed your paper and your comments on the left hand side of the front page. Sorry about your "snap", you should have gone to Las Vegas, indispensable or not!!
My wife, originally Pamela Lynn Young and I, have been receiving your paper ever since I married her up there in your country and brought her down to my country to stay with us. "99.0% humidity and 99.9 degrees fahrenheit."
I haven't spent a dime on your paper because mother-in-law, Joyce Young, wife of Garland, has religiously sent us a paper every week since we were married!
Since times are getting harder, I'm sending you the subscription paid for out-of-towners so you can keep sending us your paper! Tell mother-in-law to save her postage. She's a sweetheart. By the way, Pam's first baby is due on September 20th, so Ozona girls can stand this high humidity!
Enjoy your paper!

Dear Kitty,
I enjoy reading the Stockman every week. I am sending you this article that I came across in the Sunday Fort-Worth Telegram newspaper. I read the article about the exotic dancer in Wednesday Sept. 3rd. Then I got Sept. 10th paper and read in Kitty's Korner that the woman had denied the story. Here is the clipping to tell you news travels a long way. Once it is written on paper it must be true. Sorry, I am not writing my name but I thought you would get a kick out of this.
Thanks! The best place on Earth to call home is "Ozona".

School bus fatalities caused by ignorance of drivers

Last year in Texas there were 1,288 accidents involving school buses with seven fatalities and 323 non-fatal injuries.

An increasing problem in recent years has been drivers who either ignored or were unaware of the law restricting vehicles from passing a school bus while the bus is loading or unloading children. Children often cross the street in front of the bus, and a car that's trying to pass may not see them coming.

The problem became so bad two years ago that the Texas Legislature considered requiring buses to have mechanical arms at the driver's window that would extend into the traffic lane while the bus is stopped. At present, buses in Texas have flashing lights at the front and back of the vehicle when stopped, as well as signs noting that vehicles are required to stop for the buses.

To emphasize the importance of stopping for these buses, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has produced public service announcements with Texas singer-songwriter Jerry Jeff Walker as its spokesman.

Walker, the 44-year-old author of the classic, "Mr. Bojangles," believes in the message he offers in the television commercial. "It's important to note that stopping for those flashing red lights is not just a courtesy, it's the law," Walker said. "That means stopping whether you're behind the bus or approaching it from the other lane."

The law states: "The driver of a vehicle upon a highway inside or outside a business or residence district upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle before reaching such school bus when there is in operation on said school bus a visual signal such as specified in Section 124 of the Act, and said driver shall not proceed until such school bus resumes motion or is signaled by the school bus driver to proceed or the visual signals are no longer actuated. A violation of this subsection is punishable by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200."

In addition to Walker himself, his daughter Jessie, son Django (named for 30's-era jazz guitarist Django Reinhardt) and 10 other children from the Austin area took part in the PSA production. The Austin Independent School District supplied a brand new bus for the spots.

Tax practitioner workshops VICA officers are set for November are elected at high school

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Internal Revenue Service in offering many Tax Practitioner Workshops across the state, reports County Extension Agents Billy Reagor and Rachel Hall. Twenty-six General Workshops will be held in all major Texas cities. The General Workshop nearest our county is in San Angelo on Nov. 20-21. There will also be fourteen Advanced Workshops offered in major cities. The General Tax Workshops will concentrate mostly on personal taxes -- the Advanced Workshops' emphasis will be on business tax problems.

In addition to the General and Advanced Tax Workshops, there will be three Partnership Workshops, four Estate Planning and Tax Form Preparation Workshops, four Problem Resolution Workshops, and -- new this year -- three workshops dealing with Income Taxation of Trusts and Estates.

The Tax Practitioner educational program has been highly successful. Last year about 4,400 people participated in this state-wide series. These practitioners reported filing more than 519,000 tax returns. For Additional information, please contact the County Extension Office for a brochure explaining more about the program and registration information.

The VICA Club of the Cosmetology Department of Ozona High School met Tuesday, Sept. 16, and elected officers for the coming year.

The new president is Alma Gutierrez. Alma is a senior in OHS this year. Susan Kenley, a junior, will be the new vice-president. Secretary will be Oscar Payne, also a junior. Treasurer is Frances Moran, senior, and reporter is Bernice Ybarra, senior. Parliamentarian is Julie Cantu, junior.

The new officers will represent the VICA Club of the Cosmetology Dept. in opening and closing ceremonies of different areas of competition. The club meets twice monthly.

Lions Club feeds 300 Friday nite

The Ozona Lions Club fed around three hundred people at their pancake supper Friday night at the Civic Center.

"This was the best attendance for the pancake supper in several years," said Burl Myers, the pancake supper chairman this year. He was pleased with both the attendance and the performance of the Lions who gave their time to cook and clean for this worthwhile project. The funds raised will go a long way in providing for the many Lion's causes in Ozona.

The club would like to thank Ozonans for their excellent support.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since the much needed and refreshing light rains of this month, our area is beautiful and green. Maybe we won't have any more sizzling summer days, and the fall colors will begin to turn for us to enjoy.

Fall fruits ripen now specifically pears and apples. Pick the pears before they are fully ripe. As the first yellowing appears, pick and wrap them individually in newspaper. Store in a cool place for many weeks of enjoyment. If left on the tree too long they will fall off, bruise and rot in the center.

If you haven't ordered or spoken for your bulbs, arrange to be notified by your merchant or nursery when they arrive.

Plant strawberries from now to November, for fall is the best planting season for them in Texas. Plants set out between now and November will bear next April. For a family of four, set out at least three dozen plants. Plant them in a spot that is sunny for at least half a day. For the best fruit production, work compost or other organic matter into the soil to promote both rapid root establishment and adequate drainage. Set plants so the top of the root ball is at the same level as surrounding soil; then firm the soil around the plants. Keep plants watered during the dry weather of fall. Water at least once every 4 to 6 days during periods of little rain fall. Be sure to select a variety that is suited to our area. To keep lawns, flower beds, shrubs and vegetable gardens at their best, water the entire garden throughly every 5 to 7 rainless days. Some plants may need more.

Since September has been such a pleasant month we are hoping for another in October, but usually we have some 80 degree or more days before the fall is over.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the beautiful flowers and arrangements displayed in the Myrtle Post Garden Club Flower Show last week. They improve every year it seems.

If you have had your work published, or know someone who is a published author, please contact Louise Ledoux at the Public Library. There is no subject restriction, but you do have to have had your work published in some form. 1986 is a great year to recognize all our talented local people.

The CCPL has been featuring a different local Artist each month in the Library as a part of our Sesquicentennial Celebration in 1986. Our Friend's Art Chairman, Ginger Perner, has done a great job setting up interesting exhibits and she says she's had so much fun that she wants to continue next year. She already has several Artists lined up for 1987, but she needs some help. If you know a Local Artist you think should be featured in the Library, please call Mrs. Perner and share your ideas. Call 392-2447. There are no restrictions on the type of art. Do Se Do and away we go square dancing Saturday

A Square Dancer is a person who knows his left from his right but occasionally forgets it. A Square Dancer is someone who has learned to do as he is told but doesn't always do it. He is fanatical in his search of a good time, traveling miles in all kinds of weather, going places he would never go to otherwise, spending all night on his feet which were killing him at work, and smiling happily all the time. A Square Dancer speaks a language all his own. He calls his partner his taw, his date, his honey, darling, or pretty little thing; and he promenades, sashays, weaves, circulates, dances, circles around the ring, circle or set. He learns his dancing thru and thru; right and left thru, pass thru, turn thru, step thru, barge thru, and he must be agile enough to do such unlikely things as box the gnat (or flea), shoot the star, slip the clutch, pick up a girl or shuck the corn.

If this description fits you, don't worry. Although it is practically incurable, this disease is not all harmful, and most Square Dancers have a strong desire to infect other members of the community.

You have an opportunity to enjoy a nice group of friends doing a fun activity. Visit the Levis and Lace Square Dance Club Saturday night and/or Monday night.

"Help-I've Got A Problem"

By Rev. Jim Gray

"I asked God to restore my family, but my ex-husband has now remarried. Just a few minutes ago, my son came in and said he needs $35 for school pictures. I don't have any money in my purse, and I only have $50 in the bank. Why doesn't God answer my prayers? Where is the money going to come from to live on?" These were the pleading words of a letter I received this past week from a lady in Central Texas whom I met a little more than a year ago. She closed the very brief letter with the cry, "Help!"

We live in a world filled with problems. Some people cry out for help but others sink into isolation and despair overwhelmed by their problems. In Psalm 77, the psalmist points a picture of despair as he describes a person with no help-the psalmist says in verse 2 that he sought the Lord without ceasing but "my soul refused to be comforted." Sometimes our problems seem to not allow us to find consolation or help from any source not even from the Lord. In verse 3 the psalmist describes a person with no hope when he says "my spirit was overwhelmed." Sometimes our problems seem so numerous and so difficult that we are "overwhelmed." I know I've felt like if my problems were water, I would drown. In verse 4, we see how unresolved problems result in no happiness. The psalmist says I can't sleep and "I am so troubled that I cannot speak." We get to where we withdraw, we isolate ourselves. Our problems fill our minds and rob us of sleep. We've talked until there seems to be no more words and so we stop talking. There seems to be no help, no hope, and no happiness for us.

One major problem with problems is that we have a tendency to deny them. People, in general, are afraid they will be looked upon as failures if they admit to having problems. Christians are no exception! In fact, Christians often feel they must protect God's reputation by denying their problems. "What will people think of my God if I admit to having problems?" Most people deny their problems and the problem eats away at them. There are a few people who are just the opposite. These may "whine" about their problems so much that people become insensitive to them. Neither extreme is good. I believe God will give you someone to share your problem with. It may be your pastor, it may be a close friend, or it may be a professional counselor. Open up, admit to yourself that you have a problem, admit to God that you need help, and ask His guidance in seeking help.

Psalm 77 goes on to give us help in dealing with our problems. Verses 10-12 tells us that we need to refocus our attention-away from our problems that are bigger than we are, to our God who is bigger than our problem.

This has been a summary of a sermon I preached Sunday night. It was the first in a series of sermons I will be preaching on Sunday nights on coping with problems. Let me invite you to join us on Sunday night at 7:00 p.m. as we look into God's word to find promise that will allow us "to live right-side-up in an upside-down-world."

Business of the week

Pat Walker's has been selected as the Business of the Week and above are owner Pearlletta Morris and Madye Jo Humphreys, manager.

Pat Walker's makes losing weight easy and lots of fun

Editor's Note: This article is another in a series on Ozona's appreciated businesses. Business of the week is Pat Walker's.

By Connie Jennings

One 30-minute session is equivalent to a five mile jog, a 10 minute horseback ride or 18 holes of golf. It is the symmetricon machine, and it is a part of the fitness program offered at Pat Walker's of Ozona.

"We are really sold on this!" says local owner Pearlletta Morris. "When I first started going to Pat Walker's, I drove to San Angelo. I lost 97 pounds and 98 inches in seven months."

The Pat Walker program began in 1950. It consists of a balanced diet, all natural diet supplements and periodic work-outs on the symmetricon machine. The machine, built much like a lounge chair, is divided into five sections to work different areas of the body.

"This method primarily offers the most healthy, easy, most long-lasting results of all the weight-loss plans that are available," proclaims employee Mayde Jo Humphreys. Mrs. Humphreys, beginning as a patron herself, explains the entire program offered by Pat Walker's is one of a cleansing nature. "Each individual program is set up according to height and bone structure. When someone enrolls in the program, we do a figure analysis to determine what would be best for that particular individual," Mrs. Humphreys explains.

"We would also like to encourage this as a medical program," Mrs. Morris adds. "The machines serve as great therapy for people having trouble with joints such as arthritis. The program is recommended by many doctors," she says, "and in those cases it is tax exempt!"

Mrs. Humphreys says she has been interested in nutrition for a long time. "This is very rewarding to me," she says with a smile. "I've seen men and women come in here feeling bad both physically and emotionally, and I just love watching them start to feel better about themselves."

"And when you lose weight, you feel good," Mrs. Morris adds. "This job was made for her," the owner of four years says of her co-worker, Mrs. Humphreys. "She really 'mothers' people."

The ladies add that there are also many side benefits in the program, including relief from pain, relaxation and improvement of overall health when participating in the food program as well as the work-outs.

"Establishing good eating habits is very important for good nutrition. That's one reason this program has such long-lasting results," emphasizes Mrs. Morris.

The Pat Walker program is guaranteed according to Mrs. Humphreys. If someone completes one program according to all recommendations and he does not lose the projected weight, the program may be repeated at no charge to the customer.

The local establishment serves patrons from Ozona as well as many surrounding communities. It also houses a suntan bed in which 90% of the sun's harmful rays have been deleted.

Mrs. Morris enjoys painting, designing and antiquing in her spare time. But most of all she enjoys being a grandmother. "I do a pretty good job spoiling all my grandchildren," she says proudly.

Mrs. Humphreys puts greatest emphasis on her spiritual life. The Women's Forum member loves reading, yard work, listening to music and just being creative. To sum it all up, she says she just likes to help people.

"And she certainly does a good job of that," says her employer and obvious admirer.

Miss Ima Hogg is First Lady of Texas in history preservation

If Miss Ima Hogg had her way, some think she would single-handedly preserve the whole state of Texas as an historical landmark.

The "First Lady of Texas," as she is affectionately known, renovated the plantation belonging to James Stephen Hogg who was her father and Texas' first native-born governor. She furnished the plantation house with prized period pieces, then donated it for the site of a 65-acre park near West Columbia. She did the same thing with the first home of her father and mother, a cottage near Quitman.

Today, on this cool day in April, 1969, she and hundreds of fellow Texans are celebrating the second anniversary of the dedication of the Stagecoach Inn in Fayette County—a two year restoration project that she personally supervised.

Miss Ima discovered the old inn through a "close friend" and was fascinated by the grand architecture and history the building represented. Miss Ima and her crew worked for two years to revitalize and furnish the inn and convert the high-peaked barn into a theatre. The project included another building, now called the Four Square Barn, and the moving of two houses onto the premises now known as the Winedale Inn properties. In April of 1967, Miss Ima presented it to the University of Texas as a center for the study of the history and culture of ethnic groups who migrated to Texas before the Civil War.

Miss Ima's love for the state of Texas and the city of Houston goes back to the days of her childhood. She revered her father and adored her older brother, Will. Their example of acting for the betterment of the people of Texas became her lifelong vocation. The Hogg family firmly believed that their wealth, which was based not on their efforts but came from the land itself (oil), never really belonged to them. It was almost as if it had been put in their keeping to assure its wise use for the people of the state from which it came.

An avid lover of music since she was a child, and an accomplished pianist, Miss Ima has been instrumental in the founding of the Houston Symphony.

Friends remember her trudging up and down Main Street soliciting ads for symphony programs, showing her "enormous facility for getting people to work for her."

Many consider her most precious gift to the city of Houston her home—Bayou Bend. She and Will became interested in collecting American antiques, and in 1927 she commissioned architect John Staub to design a house that would provide an appropriate background for the antiques as well as a home for themselves and their brother, Mike.

While still living in Bayou Bend, she planned how to convey the collection and home to the Houston Museum of Fine Arts, and how best to present the many pieces of furniture and art. Bayou Bend, located on Buffalo Bayou a few miles west of downtown Houston, was formally dedicated as part of the museum in 1966.

Always interested in the welfare of children, Miss Ima ran for and won a term on the Houston School Board in 1943. She ran for only on term because she felt she was "slandered by those who thought her too liberal." She also played a key role in founding the Houston Child Guidance Center and contributed her own funds and the funds from Will's estate to establish the Hogg Foundation for Mental Hygiene through the University of Texas in 1940.

Miss Ima takes pleasure in many things, but the one subject she does not find humorous is her name. She is upset by references to a fictitious sister named Ura, which began as what she considers a cruel political joke when her father ran for governor. Apparently her father never considered the effect of the combination of his daughter's given and family names. He wanted to honor his brother and took the name from the lines of a poem the brother had written.

STEALING ELECTRICITY IS AGAINST THE LAW

Stealing Energy is a Felony

Some people tamper with their electric meters to avoid paying for the energy they use. Stealing electricity is a felony offense in the state of Texas and violators will be prosecuted. West Texas Utilities' Current Diversion Department is working hard to help combat the growing problem of energy theft.

Energy Theft is Dangerous

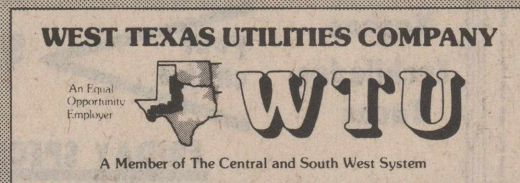

Not only is service theft a crime, but it is also very dangerous. Serious injuries can result from meter tampering.

A Crime Against You

When someone steals electricity, they are not only stealing from WTU — they are also stealing from you, as a rate-payer. Just as shoplifting increases the cost of items you buy in the store, power theft increases the cost of your electric service.

WTU Will Prosecute

Because we are concerned about the dangers and costs resulting from meter tampering, West Texas Utilities will prosecute energy thieves.

Learn to deal with job stress

Seven o'clock in the evening. The boss is still waiting for an overdue report. The stack of work on the desk grows taller. The phone doesn't stop ringing. The headache throbs.

Does this sound familiar? Workers who experience this kind of day too often are candidates for job stress and are in the running for job burnout, said William Myerson, Ph.D., a psychologist with Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital's Institute for Preventive Medicine in Houston.

Today's average office working environment, with long hours of sedentary work, puts an emotional strain on people accustomed to activity. The unstable economy and high unemployment in states such as Texas can also lead to increased job stress.

"One thing we see constantly when we go into corporations is people not doing a lick of physical labor, but they are absolutely drained at the end of the day," Myerson said.

"We see that they are drained not from physical effort, but from the stress of it all."

Factors that contribute to stress include demanding job tasks, a continual need for immediate decisions and a lack of control over time and tasks on the job.

There are ways to cope with job stress, short of quitting your job, by keeping physically fit and exerting more control over time and tasks, Myerson said.

Signs of excess stress on the job include a lack of ability to concentrate, a loss of interest in work, an absence of job satisfaction for months on end, or a mild sort of depression or continuing disappointment about work.

Physical signs of job stress include ulcers, nervous stomach, high blood pressure and migraine headaches.

"One of the signs is a feeling at the end of the day like your brain is dead," Myerson said.

"Somehow, you just can't think, and you can't imagine doing anything but going home to watch television and have a drink or a beer. Ideally, you should leave work feeling good about yourself, and feel that something good has been accomplished."

It is important to recognize stress and deal with it before it becomes job burnout, a more psychologically and emotionally troubling problem, Myerson said.

"One of the things you can do is focus some of your energies elsewhere and put more emphasis temporarily on another part of your life, like your family, favorite sport or hobby," he said. "It is also helpful to take more control over how your day runs. For example, try to schedule lunch away from your desk occasionally, decide when to take breaks and figure out your priorities and schedule for the day."

Keeping physically healthy will also ward off stress or at least reduce its damage. Myerson recommends regular exercise, healthy eating habits and cutting back on caffeine and alcohol.

When job stress is leading to job burnout, he suggests testing the job market.

"A job is not a marriage," Myerson said. "You're not getting a divorce if you look around for another job. It's all right to keep your options open by inquiring about other jobs and other opportunities."

He said getting additional information on the job market can lead to renewed job satisfaction with a current position or a decision to change jobs or even careers.

"The bottom line in avoiding job stress is to make work as enjoyable as possible," Myerson said. "But realize that every day is not going to be great, and don't let it get you down."

Antelope Hunt announced by Texas Parks Department

The U.S. Forest Service, in cooperation with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, has announced a public drawing for pronghorn antelope hunts on the Rita Blanca National Grassland in Dallam County approximately 14 miles Northeast of Texline.

A total of 10 permits will be available for a two-day hunt to be conducted from 12 noon Oct. 4 to 12 noon Oct. 6.

No fee will be charged for the hunt. Prospective hunters may apply by submitting their name, address, age and telephone number (including area code) on a postcard. No more than two names will be allowed per card. Send cards to Rita Blanca National Grassland, P.O. Box 38, Texline, TX. 79087.

Applicants must be at least 12 years old. All hunters less than 17 years of age must be included on an application card with an applicant 21 years of age or older and will be required to hunt with the sponsor. All application cards must be received by 5 p.m. Sept. 25.

Successful applicants will be notified by telephone by Sept. 27. Officials said the hunt is being conducted separately from the TPWD's regular wildlife management area hunts, and hunters who have applied for one of those hunts may also apply for the Rita Blanca hunt. For further information call (915) 655-2231.

CONTROLLING CREDIT

Credit is one of those good news-bad news items.

The good news is - you can have the VCR, furniture and car right now and pay later. The bad news is - you're legally obligated to pay even if your income goes down, misfortune comes your way, or you have overestimated how much you can afford.

Most credit agreements involve a signed contract. Before signing, a contract ask yourself two questions: Do the payments fit into my budget? Can I make the payments for the length of time agreed upon?

If you agree to make large payments and money becomes tight, you could find yourself in a difficult situation.

See physician with varicose vein problems

Varicose veins are veins, usually in the leg, that have become twisted and swollen and appear just under the skin. Blood flows backwards into the veins from above because their valves do not keep the circulation going toward the heart. Pressure builds and the legs swell.

Deeper veins within the leg often can compensate for the shallower, varicose veins and maintain circulation without significant swelling. But if the deep veins also have faulty valves, swelling increases and more varicose veins may develop.

The problem of weak valves may be inherited. Varicose veins are also associated with occupations that require prolonged standing. And diseases, such as phlebitis, can destroy valves and lead to the enlarged veins.

The common first symptom of varicosity is the veins protruding from the leg. Other signs include fatigue in the leg muscles, and cramps and tenderness near the swollen veins.

Complications arising from varicose veins can often be prevented by wearing support stockings to reduce the pressure on the veins, elevating the legs above the heart level daily, avoiding long periods of standing, exercising lightly (swimming, cycling, walking, dancing, golf), and not wearing tight garter or girdles.

If varicose veins worsen, your physician may suggest surgery. In the most common form of surgery, the affected veins are simply stripped from the leg. The remaining small veins rapidly enlarge to take over the function of collecting blood and channeling it to the deep veins.

If your income situation is not stable, it may be better to keep your monthly payments smaller for a longer period of time than pay out more money than you can afford each month. Although a longer term of payments costs more in interest, you can pay off the debt sooner if money is available.

What are the consequences if you default on the agreement? What will you lose? When an installment contract is not paid by the terms agreed, the creditor can repossess the collateral. You would lose not only the item but also any money that you have already paid. Read the fine print before you sign a contract to avoid situations you can't handle.

Credit is like food, clothes, appliances or any other product - you buy it. Therefore, you should "shop" for credit as you would any other product.

To find the best value, understand how much it costs, what you get for your money and compare different agreements.

For example, repayment terms can vary from creditor to creditor. The creditor determines these variables, but you can find credit to suit your needs and situation on terms you can live with - if you shop around.

Americans still fail to use seat belts in spite of laws

Today, all 50 states and the District of Columbia require safety restraints for young children. Twenty-five states and the District of Columbia have passed mandatory safety belt use laws, and similar legislation is pending in other states. Yet, despite legislative initiatives, a majority of Americans still fail to fasten their belts before taking to the road.

Young children can be creative when they don't want to eat their brussel sprouts. Excuses range from "I'm not hungry" to "The dog ate them!"

When it comes to safety belts, adults are no less inventive: "Seat belts are uncomfortable;" "I'm only making a short trip;" "I can't escape from the car if I'm strapped in;" and the popular "It's nobody's business but mine."

Between 12,000 and 16,000 people who used such excuses on our nation's streets and highways last year might be alive today had they taken just six seconds to buckle up.

The 1.7 million who suffered disabling injuries might have survived with lesser injuries had they listened to the facts.

more likely to be fatally injured if thrown from a vehicle than if inside and buckled up.

Fact-75% of serious and fatal injuries occur less than 25 miles from home. Fatalities involving non-belted occupants have been recorded as low as 12 mph. In a 28,000-vehicle study with speeds up to 60 mph, no fatalities were recorded to belted occupants.

Fact-Even in a low-speed crash, the forces involved make it impossible for anyone to avoid contact with the vehicle interior, which ultimately results in injury. At the moderate speed of 30 mph, an auto collision would throw occupants forward with a force equal to 30 times their body weight.

Fact-Each time you buckle up, you increase your chances for living by 70%.

It takes a while for young children to accept brussel sprouts. But they get used to them. They're good for their health.

It may take you a while to accept safety belts. But they're worth getting used to. They're good for your life.
