Over five inches of rain falls here

Ozona got its share of moisture when the season's first front moved into the area early Friday. Over 5 inches of rain fell during the period with varying amounts being reported around the county.

The official gauge at the Water District Office reported a total of 5.13. The TV weather station gave a reading of 5.15 while the gauge at the Ozona Gas Processing Plant 2 miles south of Ozona gave a reading of 4.72. The rain was heaviest north and west of Ozona. Some street flooding occurred but no water damage was reported in town. Highway 163 south was closed for a period Sunday when north Val Verde County experienced a cloud burst.

Skys were overcast at noon Tuesday with intermittent mist falling.

Childress is recipient of range award

Pleas Childress, III was recognized on Oct. 4 in San Angelo as one of the recipients of the Excellence in Grazing Management Award. This award was presented at the annual meeting of the Texas Section Society for Range Management.

The excellence in grazing management award is presented to those ranchers that the TSSRM feel are doing an outstanding job in range and ranch management. Nominations are sent in to a committee of the TSSRM each year. The committee evaluated the nominations and selects only those that are doing an excellent job and setting examples for others to follow.

Pleas was selected as he has done an excellent job of range and ranch management and has actively promoted range management and other related activities. His understanding and wise use of natural resources has helped him gain a better appreciation for the land.

The TSSRM is proud to make these award presentations, as ranchers like Pleas are the ones actually on the land ensuring that productive rangelands will be here for future generations. The TSSRM had no reservations in presenting Pleas this award as he will undoubtedly continue his excellence in grazing management.

WTU to give refund in December

A continuing price decline in the natural gas market means another refund to West Texas Utilities Co.'s retail customers in December.

WTU officials announced Thursday that a request was being filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for permission to refund a total of $6.9 million in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs, and to lower its fuel charge rate for the months of December 1986 through April 1987. The total includes $6,740,467 in actual fuel cost savings accumulated in July and August, plus $149,003 in interest.

Under WTU's proposal, all existing retail customers would receive refunds through one-time credits to their bills in December. A typical residential customer would receive about $17.

The fuel rate--known as the "fixed fuel factor"--is approved by the PUC. When the actual cost of fuel is below the approved rate, the over-recovery is returned to the customers, with interest.

WTU's base rates have not changed since December 1984.

Outstanding rancher

Pleas Childress III was the recipient of the Excellence in Grazing Management Award during the annual meeting of the Society for Range Management Saturday in San Angelo. Childress accepts the award along with his wife, Sandra.

Lions lose out Friday in homecoming game

By Lisa Colin

The Ozona Lions had their third defeat for the year last Friday night in their homecoming game against Greenwood. The score was 30-6, and the Lions were outplayed in all aspects. Why did this demolition happen? It would be safe to say that no one really knows. Hopefully, the team will pull together for their game at Forsan this week.

The Lions did not have a good night offensively and only had a total of 118 yards to Greenwood's 419. Ozona had a total of 11 first downs to the Ranger's 18. Greenwood lost the ball once out of two fumbles, and Ozona did not lose the ball for the entire game, having only one fumble. Penalties were one-sided in Greenwood's direction with six penalties for a total of 151 yards, while Ozona had six penalties for 60 yards. The Lions had six punts for an average of 35 yards and Greenwood had one punt for 33 yards.

Ozona just could not seem to move the ball down the field against the Rangers. Rushing, Ozona had a total of 37 yards on 27 plays while Greenwood had an astronomical 358 yards on 50 plays. Rushers for the Lions include James Sanchez with a total of 24 yards on six plays, Valdo Galindo with 21 yards on three plays, Sam Hightower with eleven yards on four plays, and Derold Vargas with nine yards on 4 plays. Other rushers include Butch Gonzales with eight yards on four plays and Copie Davis with a total of six yards on four plays.

In the area of passing Greenwood completed three out of five for a total of 61 yards, and Ozona completed 7 out of 22 for 81 yards. Quarterback Sam Hightower threw 5 completions out of 18 attempts for a total of 55 yards and Copie Davis made two completions out of four attempts for 26 yards.

On the receiving end of these passes were Roger Flores with three catches for 42 yards, Javier Dominguez with one reception for 17 yards, Wolv Rutherford catching the ball twice for 19 yards and Sub Fierro with a three yard pass reception.

Greenwood scored in all four quarters with six points the first, second, and third quarters and twelve in the fourth. In the first quarter, Glen Teal scored on a five yard run on a 74 yard drive. Then in the second quarter Teal threw a 24 yard pass to Donnell for six more points. Greenwood scored in the third quarter with a nine yard run by Steve Popham and then in the fourth with a one yard run by Mitch Russell.

Ozona's only score of the game occurred late in the fourth quarter with a throw of 17 yards by Copie Davis to Javier Dominguez.

Burglary alert turns out to be rumor

An otherwise dull Wednesday afternoon was perked up somewhat by a rumor that the jewelry store might be the site of another store burglary.

A group of youths, four boys and a girl, in an out-of-state car of ancient vintage stopped at a service station and asked the location of a pawn shop or jewelry store. As they were of questionable character and obviously under the influence of alcohol, the service station attendant called Baker Jewelers to alert them. Since the store had been burglarized twice in broad daylight the past couple years, the staff there went in to a plan of action. The sheriff's department was called, the doors locked, and the staff gathered in the back of the store.

The group came on to town and parked at the park where one went to Westerman Drug and inquired about a pawn shop. Two others made their way to the locked jewelry store.

In a matter of minutes sheriff's department personnel was on the scene. After about an hour of checking I.D.'s the group was allowed to leave town.

M.E. Nicholas, who was out of town at the time, said he felt they were trying to sell gold but that his staff acted properly in view of past experiences.

During the search people in businesses around the square were doing much speculation but as it turned out there was no reason to hold any of the crew and no charges were made, otherwise it brightened up an otherwise dull afternoon.

Absentee voting begins Wednesday, Oct. 15, for the November 4, general election. Voting will be conducted in the law library at the courthouse, and will continue through Oct. 31. Jean Conner will be the absentee election judge.

Turnout locally for the election is expected to be light, since there are no locally contested races. Drawing the most interest here are the election for U.S. Representative 21st District, and that of Governor.

For U.S. Representative, the post being vacated by popular Republican Tom Loeffler, Pete Snelson of Midland the Democratic nominee and former State Senator of this district, will face Lamar Smith, San Antonio attorney and Republican Jim Robinson will appear on the ballot as the Libertarian candidate.

For the office of Governor the incumbent Mark White, Democrat, will face former Governor Bill Clements, Republican. Also appearing on the ballot as Libertarian candidate is Theresa Doyle.

Longtime Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby, Democrat, draws opposition from David Davidson, Republican, and Bill Howell, Libertarian.

Incumbent Attorney General Jim Mattox, Democrat, will face some stiff opposition from Roy R. Barrera Jr.,

Republican. Also appearing on the ballot for Attorney General is Libertarian Candidate Mike Stephens.

Comptroller of Public Accounts Bob Bullock, incumbent Democrat, faces some weak opposition from George Meeks, Libertarian. State Treasurer Ann Richards, incumbent Democrat, also has a Libertarian opponent, Robert F. Reid.

Commissioner of the General Land Office Gary Mauro, incumbent Democrat, will have two opponents, M.D. Anderson, Republican, and Honey Sue Lanham, Libertarian.

Jim Hightower, the Democratic incumbent Commissioner of Agriculture, is opposed by Bill Powers, Republican, and Rebecca Reed, Libertarian.

On the ballot for Railroad Commissioner will be John Sharp, Democrat, Milton E. Fox, Republican, and Chloe Daniel, Libertarian.

The only other contested races are the four places for Justice of the Supreme Court, and State Representative. In the race for State Representative in this district Gerald Geistweidt, the Republican incumbent, is opposed by Lester Dahlberg of Eldorado, Democrat and follower of Laroche.

The remainder of district and local candidates, all Democrats, will appear on the ballot unopposed.

Letters to the Editor

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN-

On Monday, Sept. 29, as I walked inside the church auditorium, I noticed a screen off of one of the church windows. Immediately, I saw the piano bench had been opened and most of its contents scattered on the floor as if someone had searched it.

As I looked around, I saw where the Holy Communion set top was off, and a lot of other things that had been tampered with. That's when I noticed that the little church was missing.

Now, maybe you would say, why so much fuss about a little wooden church. It was worthless, it was maybe a 6 x 10 x 6. No real value to it. Well, to us in our church it was a very dear piece or a momentum of very high concept. Let me tell you the story behind it...

This little momentum was built in 1956, by a very dear friend of the church, his name was Basilio Ramirez, Sr., a local carpenter for many years. It was built with a slot on top of the roof where people could drop coins in. It was sort of a bank to raise funds for future construction. Everytime somebody had a birthday, they would come to the front of the church and a prayer was said over them and then they would come to the front of the church and a prayer was said over them and then they would drop in a dime for every year of his or her life. So, you see it had a little bit of money in it already.

Now, getting into more serious matters. A church is the House of God almighty, and anything in the house of the Lord is sacred. Everything has been consecrated or Sanctified for the use of the Lord. In Exodus 25:10 God told Moses to tell the people of Israel to build an ark. Exodus 37:1, Bezaleel made the ark of shittim wood. Of course it was just a special box built to keep offerings and so forth that was donated to the cause of God. But, that really wasn't the true meaning. As we follow the scriptures we see that Jehovah was in its mists. The spirit of God dwelt in it.

The ark was taken captive when Israel was smitten in 1st Samuel chapter 4 verse 17. And where but the house of the Philistines' God was the place for it. Yes, where the Dagon was! The people of Ash-dod soon found out that their god Dagon was no match to the ark of God. So, they bid farewell to the ark and sent it on its way.

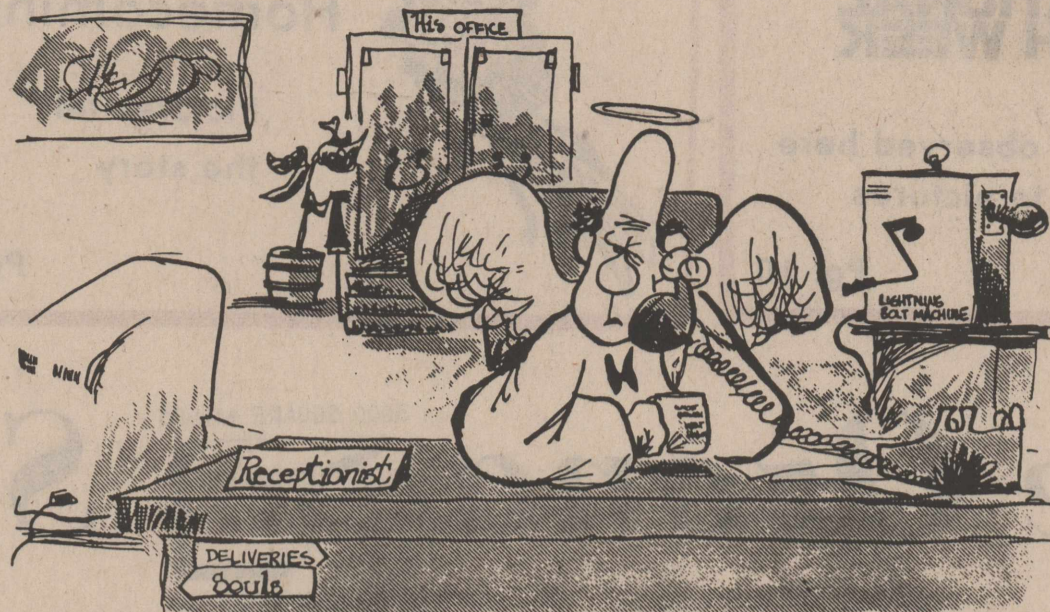

It's not that we are trying to scare people, but people should be more careful when they even think of breaking into the Lord's House. Bel-shaz-Zar son of Nebuchadnezzar who was King of Babylon is another vivid example of the wrath of God on people. The Temple at Jerusalem was destroyed and all the utensils inside the temple were taken to Babylon. It so happens that Balshazzar was celebrating and commanded to drink out of the golden and silver vessels that were brought out of Jerusalem Temple. Well, it didn't take long for him to see the writing on the wall. Daniel 5:25-28.

Oh, yes, God is a good God and He will forgive all transgressions, no matter what creed, color, or persons. With these last words I close for today. May the richness of the Lord Jesus be upon each and every one of you.

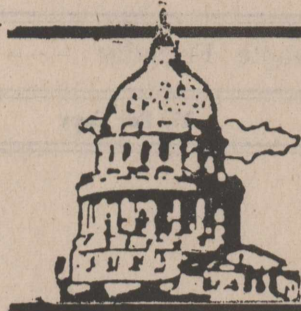

Respectfully yours in Christ
Rev. Bekie Diaz

Dear Kitty,
I just read the letter praising our football coaches for their sportsmanship and good example during the Ozona-Iraan football game. I think we too often let these qualities go unpraised. I too would like to add my thanks to our coaching staff (Jr.HI. and J.V. as well as Hi. School) for the fine job they are doing. They could talk all day to these young people about sportsmanship, but let them see the coaches live it is more important than saying it.

Thank you coaches and teachers of the Ozona schools for the fine job you are doing. Keep up the good work.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The two special tax sessions blew a cockeyed note into the traditional Texas election rhythm, but after the curtain rang down on the Legislature last week, political campaigns finally kick-started their long-delayed endgame strategies.

For some, the strategies may not work. The confusion and misinformation that came out of these two special sessions may have tried the patience of voters a little more than tolerable.

Lawmakers who dealt straight with their constituencies will hopefully be re-elected. And certainly, some who indulged in fun and games in a budget crisis situation will be re-elected, as always. Maybe some won't, this time.

What it boils down to is who do the voters believe? Mark White, who pushed a "temporary" tax hike? Bill Clements, who says no tax hike was needed? Treasurer Ann Richards, who warned the state would write hot checks in December? Comptroller Bob Bullock, who said the budget would hold until the regular session.

House Forces End

A weary and somewhat bloodied Texas House voted for $582 million in budget cuts and Gov. Mark White's $872 million tax hike package, and then almost immediately adjourned before the Senate could reject or amend or pressure.

Tired of struggling with the Senate, the more conservative House dropped its resistance to White's package, but forced pro-tax senators and the governor to take what was passed or go ahead and call a third special session.

Just as weary, the Senate tolerated a short filibuster and then rubberstamped the House action, having gotten far more than its half-a-loaf.

The governor immediately signed both bills into law.

Woes "Not Solved"

Two days after lawmakers went home, Comptroller Bullock said the two back-to-back sessions "improved but did not solve" the budget woes.

When the Legislature convenes in regular session in January, it will face a $983 million deficit for this biennium and a $4-$6 billion deficit for the 1988-89 biennium.

Ways and Means Committee chairman Stan Schlueter said next session's tax debate will "be like drinking picante sauce straight out of the bottle."

Sessions Successful?

Governor Mark White touted the two special sessions as perhaps the most productive seven and one-half weeks in legislative history.

Friend and foe alike say they at least helped White stop his slide in public opinion polls

Drugs and your child

The following was sent by Scharlotta Smith of Sonora who is with the Narcotic Consultants, Inc.

How to encourage your child to use drugs

1. Never eat together as a family.
2. Never have family traditions which occur weekly, monthly or annually that your children can look forward to.
3. Never listen to your children - talk at them but not with them.
4. Never let your children experience cold, fatigue, adventure, injury, risk, challenge, experimentation, failure, frustration, discouragement, etc.
5. Convince your children of the dangers of drugs while you drink alcohol and smoke cigarettes.
6. Never give your children any spiritual training, but emphasize the ritual of religion, the outward appearance, and the letter of the law.
7. When confronted with the choice of either spending your time or money on a material pursuit or on a family activity, always choose the material object.
8. Continually tell others in front of the child, what great things your "little boy is doing" - and always expect him to win.
9. Show your children that you disregard the "minor" laws of the land or of your church because of "expedience" or because "no one will know."
10. Never correct your children appropriately, but uphold them before the law, school, church, and friends as "not my little boy."
11. Undermine the role of the father in the home - never have the father influence in the home - stay together for the sake of the children - or better yet get divorced.
12. Go to the medicine cabinet for relief continually.
13. Always pick up after him-never let him take any responsibility.
14. Always solve his problems - make his decisions.

Drug abuse is the symptom-----
---of a deeper problem.
Drug education will help prevent drug abuse.

OCTOBER ART

The Crockett County Public Library is proud to present ten Indian Portraits by Ray O. Elder on exhibit this month. Mrs. Mozelle Mears was persuaded to share her collection of these great Indian portraits done in oil. I know several other people in town have pictures done by Mrs. Elder. Mr. & Mrs. Sam Perner have loaned three from their collection. Be sure and don't miss this display featuring "The Chief", "Navajo Woman Weaving", "Wolf", "The Apache", "Mojave Girl", and others.

TEXAS TRIVIA

If there's a slight Texas flavor in a glass of champagne or burgundy, there's a reason. The French wine industry owes its life to Texas.

In the late 1890's, grape production throughout France was threatened by a root disease known as Phylloxera. After every known remedy had been tried without success, the French government appealed to T.V. Munson of Denison. Munson had become famous in horticultural circles by developing vast vineyards through the crossbreeding of native Red River Valley grapes.

Using the native Texas grapes, he was able to breed a variety that resisted the disease which was wiping out the wine industry in France. Eventually every French vineyard was grafted with the new variety developed in Texas, and the industry was saved.

A grateful France conferred the Legion of Honor, its highest reward, on the small-town Texas nurseryman who had saved French wines for the gourmets of the World.

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK- business in Watson's Department Store. Bill Watson celebrates his 24th year of Store.

Watson's celebrates 24th anniversary

EDITOR NOTE: This article is another in a series on Ozona's appreciated businesses. Business of the week is Watson's Department Store.

By Connie Jennings

Today is a very special anniversary for local entrepreneurs Bill and Julie Watson. It was 24 years ago that the doors of Watson's Department Store were opened for the first time.

Watson first arrived in Ozona as a prospective business owner at the persuasion of his dad and a friend in Stanton, both businessmen themselves. He was somewhat sceptical of the situation due to the fact that he was once a hearty rival of Ozona, being an Iraan Brave as a high school student. Watson found the situation quite surprising. "Ozona was a much prettier little town than I remembered from when I was in high school. I got here at two and leased the building at four," Watson said of that first day. "Eddy Nations literally took two hours off work to introduce me around. Everyone was real encouraging and I was delighted by the prosperity of the community."

The Watson's moved to Ozona from Clovis, N.M., where Watson was merchandise manager for Sears, Roebuck and Co. "I was disenchanted with big business and the probability of moving on to a big city with Sears," Watson explains. "There was just no time for family."

Family means the world to Watson. His wife Julie has always played an active part in the success of the store. She makes periodic trips to Dallas buying merchandise for the store. She's also involved in merchandise sales and still manages to be able to step-in in all areas of the business when needed.

Very rewarding for the Watson's has been raising their two daughters, Jan and Doreen. "They're both grown and happily married now," Watson says of his girls. "they've given me the two greatest grandsons in the whole world!" he adds with an ever-so-slight hint of partiality.

"The store has given me a wonderful opportunity to work with a lot of local kids. Julie and I began 20 years ago hiring high school girls to wrap gifts during the Christmas season," which Watson expresses as his busiest time of year. "Rewardingly enough many have gone on to get jobs in merchandising."

One of those girls was coincidentally born the same month that the store was opened. Sue Borrego is now a full-time employee of Watson's Department Store. "Sue has been here four years now," Watson explains. "She's the first employee we've had who does any buying for the store." Mrs. Borrego is expanding her business education through correspondence courses. With her experience and continued interest and understanding of the business, Mrs. Borrego is able to run the store when the Watson's are away.

Watson has been continuously active in the lives of young people, both locally and outside the community. He has served two years as Wagon Boss of the West Texas Boys Ranch, was involved with the local Little League program for seven years, has served nine years on the Medina Children's Home board of directors, has been in charge of grounds at the Pecos River Encampment for 10 years and he worked with the Ozona Youth Rodeo for 20 years.

One first lasting impression Watson received from the community of Ozona was the incredible amount of caring among the citizens. He is further involved in the community thru the Lions Club, Chamber of Commerce and he and his family are active members of the Church of Christ, where Julie is secretary. Watson is also an advisory board member of the National Federation of Independent Businesses.

Hobbies holding particular interest for Watson are woodwork and yardwork. However, Watson expresses his most favorable interest is in sports-casting. "Nine years ago I was in the Eldorado press box, and the guy who was going to do play-by-play for the Lions on KRCT could not go on the air. I ended up stepping in, never having done it before," Watson reflects. "I thoroughly enjoyed it, and I've done it ever since."

Watson isn't looking for any significant changes in the local economy before next Fall; however, he feels it's worthwhile to stay. "We believe in Ozona! We're going into our third unprofitable year, but we want to be here when it's over," Watson emphasizes. "We want to be a vital part of the business community."

I have a goal and I need your help !!!

By Joan Nicholas

Yes! I have a goal (and a dream) for Crockett County. It is a goal which can be attainable in a few years, namely, to wipe out adult illiteracy in our community.

There are twenty-seven million adults in the U.S.A. who cannot read or write; there are forty million who have insufficient skills to fill out a job application!

The Laubach Literacy International (LLI) program has been in place in Ozona since early spring when I attended a 2-day workshop and became a certified tutor. I have more students than I can comfortably handle, and many on a waiting list. It is so hard to say "no" when the applicants so obviously want to learn. One hears, mostly: "I want to help my children", or "I want to read to my kids", "I want to get a job", or "I need a better job". "I want to get my GED", or "I want to be a U.S. citizen".

Millions who cannot read are on welfare, or constantly changing employment; they have low self esteem resulting, sometimes, in trouble with the law. As a volunteer you would not only be helping an individual in need, but you will be serving your community, state and country and ultimately, yourselves.

The LLI program is sponsored and funded by the Big Country Library system through public libraries. A volunteer is expected to do no more than take one student (tutoring is done one-on-one) for one hour twice a week at the library, after attending the workshop. Of course, if a volunteer wants to donate more time, that is an extra bonus for Ozona. A degree is not necessary, only one of caring. All materials, student and teacher books, etc. are furnished. Some students do read and write, but only in Spanish; some do not speak English, so we also need some volunteers with a knowledge of Spanish. I also have two students who are coming to improve their reading and spelling skills prior to studying for GED.

There will be a workshop for volunteers of this area on October 31 and November 1 at the Tom Green County Library, San Angelo, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. Applications may be picked up at my house, 1204 Ave. D., or at the Crockett County Public Library. Please feel free to call me for further information - Joan Nicholas, Volunteer - Coordinator, 392-3265. I guarantee, this could be the most fulfilling thing you have ever done.

Please! May I hear from you?

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

These nice October rains should give you the desire to get fall chores done before the severe cold.

This month be sure to notice the spectacular display of native purple eryngo. This is not a thistle, as it is often called, but of the carrot family. Also, another hardy perennial is dotting the highway and hills with its purple spikes. It is liatris, and can be grown from seed sown in late autumn, or from their corn-like base off-sets. For best results group them in masses.

As leaves on caladiums begin to dry, taper off watering before digging or removing from pots. Store them in a warm, dry, well-ventilated place for two weeks. After drying, clean the tubers and dust with a combination of Captan and Seven or sulphur for protection against insects and diseases. Pack the tubers in dry peat or vermiculite and store in a dry place at about 60 degrees.

For instant color now, chrysanthemums are now available in containers for use where needed. They can be planted outdoors after the flowers have faded.

The popular pyracantha is beginning its colorful fall beauty now. This plant may be used as a hedge, screen, ground cover, barrier or espaliered specimen. It is one of the least difficult shrubs to grow in our area. It should be given a spacious place to grow, in a sunny exposure, and in well-drained soil. Either that or kept pruned each year. The thorny plants grow rapidly, but are subject to fire blight, aphids, scale and spider mites. These may be controlled with garden sprays and pruning out infected parts.

Spraying your peach trees now as the leaves begin to drop, will prevent a fungus disease, peach leaf curl, from infesting your trees next spring. A sudden change of environment of a rubber plant may be too much of a shock and cause loss of leaves. A more gradual change may have avoided the problem. However, new leaves should grow back in time.

Home Economics classes plan menu for Oct. 12-18

This year, National School Lunch Week is October 12-18. The week pays tribute to the importance of a healthy and satisfying noon meal with the theme: "It Makes A World of Difference."

A nutritious lunch does make a world of difference to your body. Without adequate nutrients from all the food you consume during the day-including breakfast, lunch, dinner and snacks-your body will never be able to perform at its best. Whether you choose a hot cafeteria lunch or bring a sack lunch from home, make sure it supplies a variety of energy-rich foods from the Four Basic Food Groups.

The Occupational Home Economics 3 & 4 class has just completed a unit of study about eating nutritious meals away from home which involved school meals. Donna Morris, Loretta Ledbetter and Vicky Villarreal worked together to plan the menus for the school cafeteria during National School Lunch week. Mrs. Evelyn Keith explained to Mrs. North's sixth period class how the cafeteria operates and about the guidelines that she must follow for students to have a nutritious noon meal. Cooking in the cafeteria, with nutrition in mind, may sound like an easy job, but the students discovered that there were certain guidelines and limitations that must be considered when planning. Among these were the government foods to be used, the fact that 720 people must like the food and that it must be transported to the other schools. "The students and I was surprised at everything that it takes to prepare one meal, including the planning and the work. It gave us a better appreciation of the cafeteria meals," said Mrs. North. Mrs. Keith and the cafeteria workers checked the menus to make sure they meet the guidelines and were workable before giving them the final okay. The members of the OHE 3 & 4 class hope to see the students in the cafeteria next week!

Fire Prevention Week

is being observed here this week. Ozona firemen will visit each school to conduct fire drills and pass out information on fire prevention. Shown here with the materials are Dee Kellers, Eddie Moore, David Cooke, Elliott Barrera, Max Schroeder and Fire Chief Dorris Haire.

Learn not to burn is theme for Fire Prevention Week this year

Fire Prevention Week is October 5-11 and members of Ozona's Volunteer Fire Department will be at the Ozona Primary and Intermediate Schools Thursday afternoon to present a program on fire prevention. They will demonstrate fire equipment, practice fire drills and pass out literature to be taken home.

"Learn Not to Burn-It Really Works" is the fire prevention slogan this year. This is the 75th anniversary of a national fire prevention observance.

Last year more than 18,000 households in Texas were damaged by fire with a loss of 172 lives and an estimated $186 million in property damage. National Fire Prevention Week is a good time for all homeowners to emphasize fire safety through elimination of fire hazards.

Some of the items that should be checked are: faulty electrical cords, inoperative smoke detectors, storage of combustibles near open-flame appliances, overloaded electrical circuits, and excessive buildup of debris in or near buildings.

Following are some fire prevention and safety rules.

Practice exit drills in the home. Make a plan to be sure that everyone knows two ways out of every room. Establish a meeting place outside where everyone will gather. Once outside, stay out. Conduct fire drills often.

Stop, drop, and roll: If your clothes catch fire, stop what you are doing, immediately drop to the ground, cover your face with your hands, and roll over and over to smother the flames.

Crawl low in smoke. Cleaner air is nearer the floor. Crawl low on your hands and knees to exit a smoke-filled room.

Smoke detectors should be installed outside the bedroom area and on each level of the home. Test the detector according to manufacturers' directions and replace weak batteries right away.

Make sure smokers extinguish cigarettes in large, deep ashtrays. Check under sofa and chair cushions for cigarette butts before going to bed, and never smoke in bed.

Stay in the kitchen when frying on the stove or using the microwave oven. If grease catches fire, place a lid on the pan to smother the fire. To extinguish an oven or microwave fire, turn off the power and keep the door shut.

Keep matches and lighters out of the reach of young children.

Place portable heaters at least 36 inches from combustible materials and never leave a heater unattended.

Cool a burn. The skin can keep burning even after the source of heat is gone. Pur cool water on a burn to stop the skin from burning and to help control pain. Burns may be more serious than they first appear. See a doctor right away about a burn that chars or whitens the skin, that causes blisters, or that begin to look infected.

Fire safety is a community concern. Help the local firemen by practicing fire prevention. However if there should be a fire in town be sure and yield to all emergency vehicles. Stay out of the way so firemen can get to the site of a fire promptly. Ozona has an excellent fire department and they are willing to answer any questions you might have concerning fire safety.

Conservationists are reminded of election

Bill Baggett, chairman of the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District Board, reminds members of the election of directors in Zones 1 and 2 Tuesday, October 14, at the S.C.S. office, located at 401 1st St. The election will be held at 7:30 p.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the district where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years of age.

Legal qualifications state that candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age, and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 1 of the district includes lands in Crockett County north of U.S. Hwy. 290 and west of State Hwy. 163. Zone 2 includes all lands in Crockett County east of State Hwy. 163 from Irion County line to the north line of Section 23, Block F, approximately 10.5 miles south of Ozona thence due east to the Sutton County line.

Current members of the board of directors of the Crockett SWCD are Bill Baggett, Chairman-zone 1; Earl Acton, Vice-Chairman-zone 3; Gene Perry, Secretary-zone 2; Bud Hoover, Member-zone 5; and zone 4 is vacant at this time.

The purpose of the Crockett SWCD is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

Wonders

Kenneth C. Harrison
Ozona United Methodist Church

About a century and a half before the birth of Christ, a celebrated Greek mathematician, Philon of Byzantium, wrote a little treatise called De Septem Orbis Spectaculis, or "The Seven Wonders of the World." His list included The Great Pyramid, The Lighthouse at Alexandria, The Hanging Gardens of Babylon, The Colossus of Rhodes, The Tomb of Mausolus, The Statue of Zeus at Olympia, and the Temple of Diana at Ephesus.

Similar lists have been drawn up over the years as more and more wonders have been constructed by mankind. One list, composed in this century, included the Golden Gate Bridge, the Empire State Building, and the Chicago Sewage Disposal System.

It seems all lists have selected man-made things. But what about the "little" wonders of the world? Take for instance the period at the end of this sentence; the ink in that period contains roughly 4 billion atoms, one for every person on the face of the earth, according to the Christian Science Monitor. Or take the earth; had the crust of the earth been ten feet thicker than it is, there would be no oxygen, without which life is impossible. Had the ocean been a few feet deeper, vegetable life could not exist. The atmosphere is just thick enough to let in the actinic rays needed for vegetation and yet not harm mankind. Likewise, the startling fact that if oxygen were 50 per cent or more of the atmosphere instead of 21 per cent, all combustible objects would burn or explode, according to "The Manuscripts of God", author unknown.

Or take the wonder of water. Dr. John Casteel cites a distinguished chemist who became impressed by the wonder of water. He was not thinking of the beauty of water as seen in the blue depths of a mountain lake or tumbling over the stones in a sparkling waterfall or rolling majestically against the headlands of the sea. The chemist had in mind those qualities of water which make it so serviceable: the quality which makes it evaporate and return as rainfall; the quality which makes it produce horsepower as steam; the quality which makes it expand when frozen so that ice does not settle to the bottom of lakes and rivers and turn the earth into a deep freeze; the quality which makes weight unable to compress it and thus enables ships to float (The Rediscovery of Prayer, John Casteel).

Are not these "little things" the true wonders of the world?

Problems Part 3

by Rev. Jim Gray

Have you ever noticed that problems seem to come in multiples. How many times have you seen problems piling up or someone you know or felt them piling up on yourself? Sometimes it's not any one problem that gets us down, but a combination of a lot of little problems. I heard once about a man who was dying-he had been injured in an automobile accident. When asked about his condition the doctors held out little hope. "He's got something wrong with every vital organ. If it were just one or two, we could pull him through, but it's the combination of all the injuries."

Have you ever felt like that? Every area of your life seems to be falling apart. When you try to tell someone your problems, you hear yourself and even to you the problems seem insignificant. So you don't talk much about your problems, but they just seem to keep on piling up.

When a nation experiences catastrophic events - war, earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, hurricanes, ect. - the people rally together to fight a common foe. But the downfall of nations is when so-called "little" problems pile up and no one cares. Likewise, in the lives of individuals and families, we rally around the family when there is a major illness or death, but we pay little attention when little problems pile up. And what about when "big" problems pile up?

Isaiah 43, verses 1 and 2, provides three promises to us for those times when problems pile up.

"Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by your name; you are mine.

When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow you. When you walk through the fire, you shall not be burned, nor shall the flame scorch you."

First of all, we are God's possession! If you have trusted in Jesus you are a child of God. You belong to Him and He doesn't want to see you destroyed by your problem.

Secondly, we are assured of His presence! God told Isaiah, "I will be with you." Jesus told His disciples, "Lo, I am with you always even until the end of the age." I'm a disciple, and that means He's with me.

Thirdly, and finally, we receive His protection! No matter how high the problems pile up, no matter how deep our problems get, He will not allow us to be overwhelmed.

This is essentially the skeletal outline of the message I will be preaching Sunday night. I hope you will come as we put God's muscle on these bones and seek His strength to face problems even when they pile up.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Pierson and their son Randy of Odessa were weekend guests of Ray and Marie Pierson.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS by Rod Chalmers

"How 'the deer look this year?," seems to be the standard coffee shop question thrown up to Wardens throughout Texas this time of year.

But first, let me explain that Texas Game Wardens are policemen, primarily. Our Texas Parks & Wildlife Department biologists are the ones who do the deer census and advise landowners and hunters on harvest recommendations, and that is their job, primarily.

Generally speaking, if the '85-86 season was a good one for deer, this season should be super. Body condition is good, thanks to abnormally high summer rainfall and what appears to be a bumper crop of acorns already falling in the liveoak-studded areas of the county.

Now for the bad news, if you want to call it that. The adequate food supply and cover are gonna make hunting tough. The deer won't have to forage long or far in search of groceries, and consequently you might not "see" as many deer as you're accustomed to.

Finally, the rapid increase in population makes it imperative that we harvest at least a portion of our antlerless deer. Lots of healthy adult deer make lots of baby deer!

fat and we can save some browse for those remaining.

Now please don't call and ask me, or the biologist, how many bucks or does you should take off your ranch or lease. That information can only be derived from a census and management plan done for your individual place.

It's come to my attention that there are a number of landowners having trouble finding hunters for this season. The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department's new Deer Hunting Lease Registry might be of some help to both parties.

The registry was established to assist hunters in finding a place to hunt while offering the landowners the opportunity to generate additional income through hunting leases.

Bill Clements calls cut to Crockett Co. School tragedy

Republican gubernatorial nominee Bill Clements said the funding reductions from the state to the local school district was straining an already overburdened public and that it is a tragedy that the Mark White administration was not supporting the local school districts.

"In Crockett County alone more than $4,080 has been lost in state-aid to the school district since the school year 1985-86. This loss can only be made up by increasing property taxes or by cutting valued programs and services," Governor Bill Clements said.

"Now Mr. White is planning to increase sales tax, that leaves the citizens of Crockett County paying for his mistakes and for the loss of state-aid to the school districts."

Governor Clements has a clear record on supporting education and local school districts. His "back to basics" bill requires a strong curriculum in the basic subjects like English, Math, Science, Texas History to be offered from kindergarten through grade 12.

Governor Clements signed a bill that gave the teachers, counselors and principals the discipline and control to perform their jobs effectively.

In 1981, he approved the establishment of school-community guidance center pilot programs designed to locate and assist children with problems that interfere with their educations.

"Mark White has done very little to work with the teachers and school districts to solve the problems facing education on a local level. He is proposing even more reductions in education. He has alienated educators in our state. It is time to work with our educators not against them."

Exercising for Bone Health: For years, doctors have stressed the importance of daily exercise in combination with a balanced diet as the key to a healthy lifestyle. Today, doctors believe that, in addition to overall cardiovascular benefits, certain exercises may have a tremendous impact in preventing osteoporosis.

According to recent studies, exercise seems to be a vital factor in promoting superior bone growth and maintenance throughout life. A well planned exercise regimen may not only stimulate the development of bone mass, but may arrest any bone loss that is occurring.

Although the complex cause-effect relationship between exercise and bone health is not fully understood, medical research is studying the following relationships:

*Exercise produces a physical stress on the bones and, as a result, they become stronger and thicker. Without regular exercise, bones may shrink, weaken and become porous.

*Exercise increases the blood flow to the bones, bathing the skeleton with important nutrients that encourage new bone formation.

*Exercise produces tiny electric currents within the bone tissue that may be important for bone-building.

Field day for ranchers set for Oct. 14

Local ranchers can catch up on the latest developments in Range Research Tuesday October 14 when the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station holds a grazing management field day.

The field day, the first in many years, is set to begin with an 8:30-9:30 registration and coffee session at the Experiment Station located on Highway 55 between Sonora and Rock-springs.

According to Dr. Charles Taylor, Superintendent of the Sonora Station, the day's format will consist of a short speaker presentation starting at 9:30 a.m. followed by lunch and an afternoon program of discussion and hands-on demonstration work including range evaluation, prescribed burning, and grazing systems.

"We are striving to meet several objectives during the field day," said Taylor. "First, we will be presenting and discussing current research results which emphasize proper grazing management and profitability. We also will discuss the direction of future research programs and explain our justification for that direction. Finally, we will present several new ideas concerning care and evaluation of range vegetation and site condition."

Some of the topics addressed during the day will include: History of Ranging in the Edwards Plateau, An Economic Analysis of Grazing Systems and Stocking Rates, Proper Grazing Management, Range Improvement, Grazing Management As It Affects Vegetation, Soil and Water and The Influence of Hoof Action on Water Infiltration and Soil Erosion.

Following the afternoon tour, the days activities are set to conclude around 4:00 p.m.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

OCTOBER 5-13

4-H Qualities

4-H centers on the "learn-by-doing" process which enables each member to build a foundation for a life as a productive and contributing member of society.

4-H is based on solid educational experience: educational materials which are research based, active involvement of family members who share in 4-H activities, and support from business and government leaders who provide human and financial resources.

4-Hers build on their own experiences as well as on those of others in acquiring practical skills, using good health habits, developing respect for themselves and others, exploring career and leisure time opportunities, sharing responsibility for community service projects, developing leadership skills, and becoming involved as active citizens in their community, country, and world.

200 4-H members in Crockett County actively participate in foods and nutrition, sheep, goats, shooting sports, clothing, flower arranging, horse judging, range and grass judging, wool judging, demonstrations, horse, and babysitting projects during the year.

4-H membership is open to any youth ages 8-13 regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin. Contact the county Extension office (392-2771) about enrollment.

Volunteer 4-H leaders are the backbone of any successful 4-H program. Leaders are responsible for keeping the program relevant to the local community needs and for sharing skills and experiences by assisting youth in 4-H projects.

Volunteers do not have to be experts in specialized subject matter areas. They can rely on the Extension Service staff and Texas A & M University (the state's land grant university) to provide them with training, educational materials, and resources to use in the 4-H program.

Nationwide, the 4-H volunteer corps is 600,000. Volunteers contribute time, travel, and support valued at $1 billion annually. Volunteers deliver practical educational experiences for some 4.3 million 4-H members in the U.S.

The 4-H program provides many opportunities for growth and stimulation for adults and helps them attain enjoyment and self-fulfillment.
