We made a Blooper last week in Rod Chalmers' column. It's funny what leaving out a line can do to a story. It sounded like the law enforcement officer received the reward for reporting violations. This is not true, and Rod has asked us to clear up this typo. The law enforcement officer is not eligible for any kind of monetary award. The person who reports the violation receives the reward.

We hope this gets to Rod's headquarters in Austin before he gets in trouble for our error. However, that one was not as bad as a Blooper we had a few years ago. This was about the new rules at the dog pound. The typesetter had skipped a line and the article read "If you do not pick up your dog by 5 o'clock the next day, you will be disposed of." That got on the front page and everyone had a heyday teasing us. Of course, it was the dog who would be disposed of, but that's not the way it came out.

We always hear about it when we goof up. In a way it lets us know the people are reading the newspaper, but it is a little embarrassing to the proof reader.

Evart White always told them if they would bring him a Dallas Morning News with no typos in it, he would make a public apology for The Ozona Stockman. Nobody has found one yet, at least not in the almost thirty years I have been here.

It's finally over, this election year. Although we can't give you the results, due to our press time, we feel pretty sure you will be as happy as we are to be rid of the mud-slinging and the continuous television commercials of the candidates. It's enough to make you want to "just go fishing" on election day. I wonder if the time will ever come when we can have an election where the candidates will tell us why they are the best man for the job and not why the other guy is the worst. Probably not.

The Ozona homecoming was well-written up in the Fort Worth Star Telegram, October 26, edition. It's the first time in my memory a large daily has given Ozona a fair shake in a feature story. Lucille Bohannon brought a copy by to us. We would be glad to share it with you, if you'd like to come by and look it over.

A disappointing football season gives way to basketball this week, with the girls getting play underway this week, and the boys set for a scrimmage next week. Practice gets underway immediately following the final football game which will be played Friday night, here, against Stanton.

Our condolences to the Ozona High School Band, who gave one of their best performances ever last Saturday in Waco. The community is very proud of the band this year and feel they should have gotten a better break, but life is funny that way; it's not always fair.

I was thrilled to get Garden of the Month, but was puzzled to find a box of beer cans and bottles, toilet tissue and paper cups near my front door Saturday. They had been scattered over the yard, and everyone was curious about who picked the trash up. Frank James came in and confessed Monday, so I guess that makes him the man of the week.

18-year-old mauled by mountain lion

Hugh Ward Childress, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Childress of Sanderson, narrowly escaped serious injury when he was mauled by a mountain lion about noon Saturday.

The mishap occurred on the Bruce ranch, located in Brewster County between Marathon and Sanderson. Young Childress, a senior in Sanderson High School was attacked when he and another youth, Barry Bruce, entered a pen where the lions were being kept. The 180 pound cat attacked Childress and he suffered severe claw marks on the face and was bitten on the back of the neck. He was rushed to Big Bend Memorial Hospital in Alpine, where it required 200 stitches and six hours to close the wounds.

Both lions were killed. Bruce shot one and then a Brewster county deputy killed the other one. Both the heads were sent for examination of rabies or other viral disease. Young Childress was fortunate, in that a cosmetic surgeon from El Paso, was at the Alpine facility and was able to perform the surgery. Barring complications he should have returned to his home in Sanderson yesterday. He will require further surgery.

The boys had handled the lions on other occasions and the attack went unexplained.

Game officials warn that wild animals cannot be domesticated. They can turn on the owner at any time. For this reason the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. discourages the keeping of them.

There is no law against keeping mountain lions and since the attack occurred on private property, no criminal charges are pending.

Mrs. Hugh Childress of Ozona, is the boy's grandmother. She left Tuesday accompanied by her sister-in-law Catherine Coates, to visit him.

Band fails to get state rating in Waco

By Michael Glaze

The Ozona Lion Marching Band competed in the University Interscholastic League Region D Marching Contest last Saturday at Baylor University Stadium in Waco.

Although the "Pride of Crockett County" did not advance to the State marching contest, it did what was termed by its directors and many townspeople as an outstanding performance.

"Saturday's performance was great!" said band director Kelly Glaze. "The band overcame its fear, and did exactly what was asked of it. It was probably the best show an Ozona band has ever done."

Assistant band director Eric Wharton added, "I can't imagine the band doing a better job than what it did Saturday. I was very proud of them!"

The band competed with five others including Eldorado, Clifton, Manor, Rosebud-Lott, and Lexington. Clifton and Lexington were chosen to advance to state.

A large number of Lion Band fans appeared in Waco to watch the performance.

"We would like to thank the people of Ozona for all of their support," said Glaze. "It is really nice to see so much of the town pull together behind our program."

Weekly football contest winner goes to Cardona

Richard Cardona won the football contest for the week. He was tied with Ray Boyd with four misses each, but had nearest the actual score on the tie-breaker to take the win. It was apparently a week of upsets. Six entries had four misses and the rest more than that number. Cardona and Boyd both picked the Giants to win in the tie-breaker.

Entry blanks may be found on the sports page, sponsored by local merchants. Eligibility is open to all and there is no limit on entries. However, the entry blank must have been clipped from the pages of The Stockman and must be in the office or the mail by 5 p.m. each Friday.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor;

The following is borrowed from a "Dear Abby" column in a Houston newspaper. It is one of many articles we receive from our kid's grandparents to help us be better parents, but in this case I think it should be sent to the kids themselves - to make them better citizens. It was comments from a Judge Alfonso Sepe as he sentenced a 17 year old Florida boy to one year in the county stockade and four years probation, for possessing hallucinogenic drugs and assaulting a Miami Beach police officer.

Judge Sepe spoke directly to the youth and said: "Do you know who is going to serve that year? Not you; your mother and father will serve that year. Your body is in the stockade for a year, but their souls are tormented for a lifetime. Why? Because you are a selfish, spoiled boy, that's why."

"There is no punishment in the world that I could inflict upon you that could in any way compensate for what you are doing to your mother and father. I have not spent 5 cents raising you. I don't know you from Adam. But your mother and father have put their lives, their hearts, their sweat, their money and everything else they have into bringing you up. And now they have to sit in this courtroom and listen to a total stranger who had nothing to do with your upbringing scold you and put you in jail."

This is at a time when phony kids your age are yelling, 'You adults have your alcohol, we want our drugs; you have polluted our water and our air, you have polluted this and that,' and all the rest of the garbage that comes out of your mouths. Meanwhile, you put yourselves above everybody else. I feel sorry for you.

I want you to think of this for one year, and the reason why I say it: If you are sick, a doctor will treat you and he won't be on drugs. The lawyer who represents you won't be high on drugs, and the people in whose custody you'll be won't be on drugs. Your astronauts are not on drugs, and your president is not. And your engineers who build the bridges that you drive across and the tunnels that you drive through are not on drugs, and those who build the planes that you fly in and the cars that you drive are not. Neither are those who build the bathrooms that you stink up with your lousy, rotten drugs. None of them have been on drugs, and this is because of people like your mother and father.

But in the world of the future the same may not be true. Teachers, doctors, lawyers, legislators-products of the new drug oriented generation-may well be high as kites. You won't know whom to send your child to, or whom to trust your life to."

Sepe sighed and closed the case file. "Let's see what kind of world you leave to your children before you talk about the world that we left to ours."

This was in 1972. So here we sit, fourteen years later, and it appears the judge must have had some kind of crystal ball, because most of the judge's worst prophecies have been fulfilled. Our kids need to realize that if they are going to do something about the world they are going to bring their own kids up in, they have to start now by cleaning up their own backyard!

Rod Chalmers
(Ed. Note: This article was recently reprinted in Abby's column. We feel it worthwhile to print Rod's letter containing it.)

Dear Kitty;

The sky was a brilliant blue, there was a crisp fall feeling in the air, and the band gathered to march onto the field. They were tall, straight, and proud. They looked magnificent!

And how they marched! They were dignified, erect, and they played beautifully. The spectators watched in awe. We collectively held our breaths as we waited for the results.

The "pride of Crockett County" our Ozona Lion Band - has won a first division in marching. They will continue their hard work as they go to the Regional meet in Waco, Saturday, November 1.

We salute you, band members. Hats off to you, Kelly Glaze and Eric Wharton! We wish you well in your endeavors. You are indeed "The Pride of Crockett County"!

Dear Friends:

The literacy project in Ozona is now assured of being permanently in place! Thank you, thank you for the wonderful response to my recent appeal for help, and thank you Kitty for printing it.

The Laubach Literacy International workshop held at the library in San Angelo Friday and Saturday was extremely well attended and the presentations enthusiastically received. Volunteers came from all walks of life and there were many teachers, former teachers, and library personnel participating.

I was so proud that seven volunteers from Ozona took part in this workshop and are now ready and willing to take on students. My presence there was to gain additional hours towards a possible certification as a tutor-trainer some time in the future as there is a grave shortage of trainers in Texas. The trainers in San Angelo had traveled from Austin.

Attending from Ozona were: The Rev. Richard Atenbaugh, Tina Moran, Marge Smith, Peggy Skains Dye, Linda Vasquez, Alleane Jones, and Cindy Galindo. Cindy is a newcomer to Ozona and is the wife of our recently appointed social worker. I thank each and every one and know you will gain much from this work.

During the past few days several adults have come to my house saying "I want to learn to read and I hear that you will help me." I hope that we never have to turn anyone away for lack of help. The program is obviously going to be in great demand so, if you did not make it to this workshop and still want to help, let us know because we are definitely going to need additional tutors.

Thank you again, I am most grateful.

Sincerely,
Joan Nicholas

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—As the Nov. 4 general election approached, the final days of the election campaigns were filled with uncertainties, but two innuendos of wrongdoing by state officials were ruled groundless by federal authorities.

The campaign staffs of both Gov. Mark White and former Gov. Bill Clements were cleared in the case involving the office bugging of a top Clements aide. The probe continues.

And an FBI spokesman said it never investigated Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and other officials in connection with a development venture in Houston, as was alleged in an out-of-state newspaper.

In spite of those rumors-set-right, the last week of campaigning was wild and woolly, especially after one pollster claimed his last poll showed White had caught and passed Clements by three points.

The gubernatorial race is expected to exceed the '82 campaign spending mark.

Treasury Crunch

Virtually overlooked in the campaign turmoil was an announcement by state treasury officials that they want to borrow $600 million or more in November to avoid bouncing state checks.

In other words, the $872 million tax bill passed in special session last month won't be enough to keep the state out of the red ink in 1987, they think.

The plan is to borrow the shortfall on a short term using cash management notes which by law would be paid back by Aug. 31, 1987.

Bullock Says No

First, it must be approved by the Cash Management Note Committee composed of White, Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis, Treasurer Ann Richards, and Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Richards is expected to seek approval this week, but Bullock so far thinks such state borrowing is unnecessary. No other committee member has publicly committed to the plan, but the panel is due to convene soon after the election.

Texas legislators will be keeping their eyes on that meeting, since many thought they were solving the fiscal crunch last month with the tax bill that so bloodied the House and Senate.

Lawmaker, Publisher Stable

Former San Marcos state Rep. Bob Barton, in his race to unseat Republican incumbent Ann Cooper, collapsed during a televised debate last Wednesday. Barton retook the campaign trail after a brief hospital stay.

Barton, former publisher of the Union Creek Free Press, and other Central Texas newspapers, experienced fluid on his lungs, the probable lingerings of a summer's bout with pneumonia, and began coughing heavily at the podium.

The debate cut to commercial, and Barton, a gentleman in the tough Texas tradition, reluctantly sat down. "Sorry I chickened out on you," he muttered to Cooper before backing out and collapsing in his chair. He soon recovered enough to walk off the set and medical teams later pronounced him stable.

Space Age Mining

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro elaborated on a contract to mine West Texas state lands for beryllium, a first in Texas history.

Mauro's office nailed down a contract with Pennsylvania-based Cabot Mining Inc. for a proposed multi-billion dollar industry here.

Beryllium is a rare metal that is especially strong, light and has a high melting point, traits which are useful in space technology.

Other Highlights

• Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower announced that Israeli farm experts will help Laredo Junior College students use drip irrigation and other arid land techniques on nearby acreage. The team which helps restore the Israeli desert will begin a four-month evaluation later this year.

• Fugitive fundamentalist pastor W. N. Otwell, who has refused to license his church-run boys home turned up in California where he led prayers for the divine defeat of White and Attorney General Jim Mattox.

• San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros hit the campaign trail heavy with Mark White, making a big hit himself across the state. Party insiders say his impact was enough to rate him among top contenders for the Governor's Mansion in 1990.

• A Lubbock legislator is at odds with the City of Austin over possible foreclosure on five properties there. Republican state Rep. Nolan Robnett accused the city of abusing its annexation authority.

Three Ozona women will receive a one-gallon pin for blood donated at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce today. In addition to art classes the ranch offered several other activities for the over one hundred students attending. Everyone ate too much from the generous menu but enjoyed the scenery and seeing the abundance of grass and beautiful fall colors.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

As November becomes frosty, even Southwest Texas gardeners know that winter will soon be here. After having had several killing frosts and freezes, we will be enjoying the pleasant days of fall with its' colorful show of chrysanthemums, roses, dahlias and marigolds.

Most any night that cold front may be in the forecast, so if we have no more rain, water all outdoor plants thoroughly. A mulch helps reduce cold damage to roots by insulating the soil therefore stabilizing its temperature.

Garden plants indoors may be an unexpected treat. These five plants are usually sold for landscape materials, but they make a delightful addition to the interior landscape as well. They are holly fern, aucuba, cast-iron plant, dwarf gardenia and podocarpus.

Not all landscape plants are suitable for indoor culture, but these were selected for their natural shade tolerance, the most important factor for almost every dependable houseplant. The color and texture of the foliage was another consideration. Each plant has a distinctly different leaf shape; the foliage colors vary from the light green of podocarpus and holly fern to the deep dark green of aucuba and cast iron plant (aspidistra). Fragrant white flowers are the special bonus of dwarf gardenia. Reduce the shock of transition by locating the plants near a large window where they'll receive plenty of bright, indirect light throughout most of the day. Rotate the plants to help ensure even distribution of light over the entire plant. Do not locate plants in the path of forced-air heating outlets or near drafts where they will be subject to frosts.

Variegated ivies grown in rich soil tend to develop all-green leaves. Continue your watering program, but discontinue feeding the plant for several months. Then give it a light application of a soluble houseplant fertilizer every 2 to 3 months. It should soon begin to show white or yellow in the leaves.

November is National Alzheimer Awareness Month

Alzheimer's disease (AD) is a devastating disorder affecting the cells of the brain. Experts used to think that Alzheimer's occurred only in persons under 65 years of age, but it is now recognized as the most common cause of severe intellectual impairment in older individuals. There is no present treatment that can cure, reverse, or stop the progression of this disorder. However, research is being done every day and new methods of treatment are being attempted. The problem many families face is that doctors may not be able to diagnose AD and it may seem to those family members that their loved one is changing before their eyes.

Early diagnosis of AD is difficult, so there is little information on the natural history of the disease in its early phases. However, from clinical investigations, it's been observed that patients initially complain of forgetting where they put things and forgetting names they once knew well. At this point, it is still difficult to tell whether this represents the first stage of AD or whether these symptoms are simply benign forgetfulness. After this stage, clinical observations increase. The individual may forget names they have just heard, or remember little of what they just read in a paper or book. They may recall some events fully, but others not at all. The person with AD usually can't recognize or recall the context or related circumstances of a forgotten event or item. At work, performance decreases. The patient may become lost traveling to an unfamiliar location. These symptoms are usually accompanied by mild to moderate anxiety and poor performance on tests.

This preliminary stage of impairment is usually followed by a more serious decline. Patients can't concentrate, and display decreased knowledge of recent events in their own lives and in the world around them. Patients may have problems managing their money and traveling alone. Complex tasks can no longer be performed efficiently. Denial is a dominant force at this phase. Social symptoms include loss of initiative, tact, and judgment. Patients at this stage often withdraw from their

Agriculture dept. to help ranchers with stock scales

A special taskforce of four inspectors is being dispatched to the 34-county Odessa district of the Texas Department of Agriculture to help West Texas farmers and ranchers make sure their livestock scales are working properly, TDA Assistant Commissioner for Field Operations Dan Ruiz announced today.

"We realize that the next four weeks are a very critical time for ranchers in this area. Many of them will be moving more livestock during this period than they do all year. That's why we are making a special effort to have the necessary resources in place so that we can give them the service they need when they need it," Ruiz said.

The inspectors, their home districts and the counties where they will be checking the accuracy of livestock scales are:

- *Ronnie McKinney, Stephenville -- Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Irion, Tom Green and Concho.
- *Earl Berger, San Antonio -- Pecos, Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Terrell and Sutton.
- *Mark Hatch, Beaumont -- El Paso, Hudspeth and Culberson.
- *Haven Snow, Vernon -- Jeff Davis, Presidio and Brewster.

The above inspectors will share the responsibility for the following counties: Reeves, Ward, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Loving, Wheeler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Crane, Upton and Reagan counties.

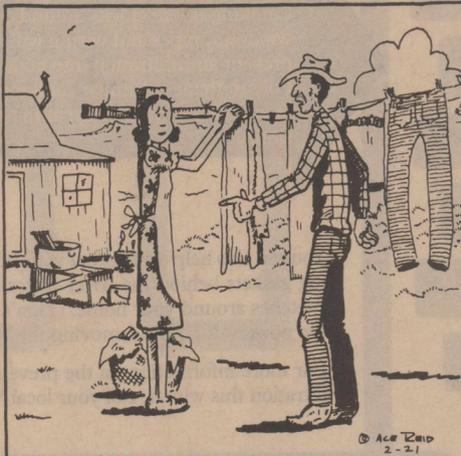

To make an appointment for an inspection of a large capacity scale, call TDA's Odessa District Office at 915/367-5002.

BAGGETT AGENCY

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS

by Rod Chalmers

General deer season opens 30 minutes before sunrise Saturday morning, Nov. 8, and the barrage will continue until 30 minutes after sunset on Sunday, Jan. 4. Hunters will find lots of deer in prime condition, and racks will equal those in anybody's county of the state. Abundant food supply will allow deer to fill up with a minimum of movement, thus making hunting harder and maybe even fooling the less experienced hunter into thinking there are less deer than in slimmer years.

A few reminders are in order to prevent any conflicts between law-abiding hunters and the guys out there tryin' to make hunting better for Texans, the Texas Game Wardens. First thing comes to mind is tagging deer. The law says deer (and turkey) must be tagged immediately upon kill. Wardens are pretty understanding about this, until it comes to a deer hanging on the meat pole with no tag, or a tag with no date cut out, or an untagged deer or turkey in the back of a pickup on a public road, or game with a tag from the license of a person that didn't kill it, and so on. Wardens have to use common sense in enforcement of regulations, all the while enforcing the laws the way they're written. The public can prevent misunderstandings by reading up on the law in the hunting guide and by using common sense in complying with regulations.

Another problem we run into every year is the use of rimfire ammunition while hunting big game. Some parents feel like a kid's first deer rifle should be a .22 or .22 magnum. Less recoil, less noise. And less chance of a clean kill, too. Then there's the poacher that thinks he has less chance of getting caught if he uses a .22 rifle. This seldom makes a difference to anyone but the poacher, who gets to pay an extra fine for being "sneaky." Any centerfire is legal fodder for firearms while hunting deer in Texas; that's the bottom line.

Carry your hunting license while hunting, unless you want to climb down out of your stand at prime time and go back to camp with the Warden to produce your license. Besides, you have to have the tag from your license to make the game legal, remember? Again, a little common sense goes a long way.

For those that haven't realized it, quail season opened Nov. 1. We've got a pretty good crop of birds in the county for a change, but if things go like in years past, they won't be here through the end of the season, Feb.

22. The limit is 12 per day, 36 in possession. Shotguns don't have to be plugged, as in dove hunting, but hunting licenses are required of everyone hunting quail. Rifles are legal, but quail traps aren't.

Have a safe hunting season!

Belt misuse

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, and increasing number of motorists, especially young people and short people are wearing shoulder belts on the arms rather than across the shoulder. In a crash, this could result in serious injury or even death!

Although one of the most common complaints about wearing shoulder belts is the pressure exerted against the neck, most newer cars are equipped with a tension-relieving device in the belt retractor. This allows the user to set a small amount of slack in the shoulder belt which relieves pressure on the neck.

Twin sisters enjoy eight years of toy sales in downtown Ozona

[Another in our business appreciation series. This time we picked Happy Hollow, and the twins to salute.]

By Connie Jennings

"Oh, yes...we came together!" says Margaret Miller of her and twin sister, Ruth Seahorn's, first arrival in Ozona, almost 46 years ago. "We both came to work here in the old Smith Drug Store for Pascal Northcutt.

Ruth and Margaret Holland were raised in Christoval as young girls. They had one other sister who now resides in San Angelo. After moving to Ozona, Ruth married Richard Miller and Margaret married Bill Seahorn within months of each other. The Millers left Ozona in 1954 and spent the next several decades moving from place to place in the oil field business.

Mrs. Miller returned to Ozona 11 years ago, after the sisters' husbands passed away within a month of each other.

"Ruth and I have been one all our lives. We were apart during 30 years of marriage, but it was just natural to dress alike when we got back together," says Mrs. Miller.

The ladies opened Happy Hollow in 1978, and they moved to their present

Girl Scout house is site for Brownies

Brownie troop #24 met Oct. 28 at the Girl Scout house in their first regular meeting of the year. Girls were served a snack upon completing registration.

The girls recited the Girl Scout promise and followed with a discussion of their favorite activities of the past year. The girls made plans for the upcoming year, making repair of the old scout house their primary goal. The house is in dire need of many repairs. The troop played games and sang Girl Scout songs before the meeting was adjourned.

Members present were Jacinda Borrego, Jackie Lara, Melanie Lozano, Andrea Macias, Amanda Maldonado, Michelle Marshall, Glenna May Ross, Shelly Sullivan, Jennifer Tabb, Christy Vasquez and Leader Roylan Sullivan.

location on Ave. E three years later. "Margaret had worked in toys for years. We just decided to go into business together," explains Mrs. Seahorn. "It's been wonderful seeing all the kiddos grow up."

"Yes, it has been interesting seeing them change from year to year," adds Mrs. Miller.

"We don't really specialize in anything, but I guess you could say the dolls are our pride and joy," Mrs. Seahorn says of the many doll collections the store has displayed. "Of course we like little boy things, too," she adds.

Children with approaching birthday's are allowed to complete a wish list at the Happy Hollow. Christmas, however, always proves to be the

Girl Scouts make request for volunteers

All local Girl Scouts are urging for volunteers to help make repairs on the Girl Scout house at a work day Saturday, Nov. 15 from 9 a.m. til 4 p.m.

The scouts will accept donations of tools, supplies and especially help from parents to make much needed renovations on the house. They are in need of step ladders, paint and brushes, hammers and nails, water sealers and stain and varnish.

The girls also need more shelves, bulletin boards, a sink, a commode and chairs.

"We are planning to do a thorough cleaning, paint the inside, finish the unfinished cabinets and shelves and hopefully re-do the bathroom," said local troop leader Roylan Sullivan. "We will also lay carpet squares, which we already have."

The girls will serve a sandwich lunch to everyone helping at the work day. To donate time, tools or help with expenses call Roylan Sullivan at 392-3424, day or 392-3551 at night.

Happy belated birthday to Leslie Wilson, who celebrated her day on Thursday, October 30.

busiest time of year for the "children's paradise." "We just wrap, wrap, wrap all throughout the season," says Mrs. Seahorn. "Then we close the week after Christmas for a vacation."

Mrs. Seahorn has two children and three grandchildren, of which she takes much pride. However, she admits the most of her time is spent with her twin. "We don't live together, but we are always together. We've accumulated too much stuff over the years to move it all into one house," she confesses.

"When we were young, they didn't split twins into different classrooms," Mrs. Seahorn goes on. "As a matter of fact, we even sat at the same desk."

"We had so much fun as young girls. We were always switching and playing tricks on everyone," Mrs. Miller adds. "We were always together even then. We never even spent a night apart until we were married!"

Even though the girls were well on their way to adulthood upon their first move to our community and with several moves within those nearly 46 years, Mrs. Miller insists, "Ozona has always been home to us."

Air Force expert to speak to Lions club tomorrow

The Lions Club will host a U.S. Air Force intelligence expert tomorrow at their regular noon meeting at the Ozona Inn of the West. Captain Dean Sharp, of the Goodfellow Air Force Base, will address the club concerning Soviet forces. All members are urged to attend and extend a warm welcome to Capt. Sharp.

The club voted to provide financial support to the Girl Scout program at their meeting Oct. 30. The scouts need donations for necessary repair on the Girl Scout house.

A presentation was made by Ozona Public School nurse Lou Ingram at the meeting. Mrs. Ingram emphasized the importance of eye care for students. Mrs. Ingram concluded her program with a poem she wrote especially for the occasion.

Eighth grade cubs run up another shut out in a successful season

By Lisa Collin

The Ozona eighth grade Cubs led a crushing victory over Eldorado last Thursday in Eldorado. The score was 28 - 0, and the Cubs added one more game to their amazing number of wins.

Ruben Borrego had an outstanding game on offense, scoring a total of sixteen points for the team. On defense, Jason Vitela had an excellent game, having a total of twelve tackles.

Scoring plays for the Cubs include a twenty yard run by Ruben Borrego, and a PAT kicked by Borrego. The second score of the game was also by Ruben Borrego on a thirty yard run. Borrego's PAT was also good. The third touchdown of the game occurred when Brad Bollier threw a 45 yard pass to Mingo Perez. Another PAT by Borrego added more points to the scoreboard and the confident Cubs showed no mercy for Eldorado.

The last score of the game was a one yard run by Daun O'Neal. The PAT was also good. This touchdown wrapped up another slaughter by the Cubs on a seemingly helpless team.

The Cubs last game of the season is against Sonora. The games will be played in Sonora this Thursday by both the seventh and eighth grade.

Happy Birthday to Amanda Tam-bunga. She is 17 today!!!

Keep the cold out!

Up to 40% of a home's total heating and cooling bill can be a result of air infiltration. Air infiltration is simply the uncontrolled movement of air into or out of your home. You can help keep the cold out this winter by taking a few simple conservation measures now.

Weatherstripping

As much cold air can enter your home through a 1/16" crack along the sides and top of a typical doorway as through a 4" x 4" hole in the wall. Help keep the cold out by replacing worn weatherstripping around all doors and windows.

Caulking

Caulking in the cracks around door facings, windows, pipes and wiring will also help prevent air infiltration into your home. Polyurethane or similar caulking is available in an easy-to-install form at most hardware stores.

You can also help draft-proof your home by installing gaskets behind the cover plates of outlets and switches around your home. (Don't forget to turn the power off before removing the switch plates.)

For more information on the prevention of air infiltration this winter, call your local WTU office.

ALMOND-CRUNCH PIE

Margaret Jones

2 cups whole blanched almonds
1/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
4 tbsps. cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
6-oz. semisweet chocolate
2 pints coffee ice cream

1. Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly butter a 10 or 11" tart pan with a removable bottom. Place mixing bowl and beaters in freezer.
2. Spread the almonds on a cookie sheet and toast in oven. Shaking the pan once or twice until the nuts are pale brown, about 12 minutes. Let cool.

3. Place 1 cup of the nuts in a food processor. Add the flour, sugar and nutmeg. Process until the ingredients are mixed and the nuts are finely chopped (30 seconds). Add the butter and turn the machine quickly on and off 4 or 5 times until the butter is well distributed. Add the egg and almond extract and blend until the mixture begins to clump together (about 10 seconds). Remove the dough and wipe out the bowl.
4. Press the dough evenly over the bottom and sides of the prepared tart pan; freeze until firm (at least 30 minutes).

5. Increase the oven temperature to 400°. Cover the tart shell with aluminum foil and fill with dried beans. Bake for 20 minutes. Remove the beans and oil and bake until crust is golden (5-10 minutes longer).
6. Meanwhile, finely chop 4 oz. of the chocolate. Sprinkle the chocolate evenly over the bottom of the hot crust and as it melts, spread it evenly with a metal spoon. Remove the sides of the tart pan and let the crust cool to room temperature. When the crust is cool replace the sides of the pan.
7. Put the remaining almonds in a food processor and grind to a paste (1-2 minutes). Place the ice cream in the chilled bowl and beat until slightly softened, about 30 seconds. Add the almond paste and continue to beat until the mixture is blended, about 1 minute. Spoon the ice cream evenly into the crust and freeze for at least 30 minutes.

8. Melt the remaining 2 oz. of chocolate in a double boiler over hot water. Piping with a small plain decorating tip or drizzling with the tines of a fork, create a design over the top of the pie with the melted chocolate.
9. Cover the pie with plastic wrap and freeze for at least 4 hours before serving. Serves 8-10.

IRS offers free tax seminars

If you were among the business persons who filed the 563 million information returns in the Form 1099 series last year, you may be interested in the free seminars offered by the Internal Revenue Service. The seminars will cover the legal and technical requirements for filing these information returns on magnetic media.

Recent legislation required most companies to report payments of interest, dividends, and broker and barter transactions on magnetic media rather than paper. For the tax year 1986, this requirement for magnetic media reporting is extended to other information returns. If you have 500 or more information returns such as the Forms 1098, 1099A, 1099MISC, 1099R, 5498, 1042S, 6248, and 8027, you must report them on magnetic media. The requirement also extends to the W-2, W-2P, and W-2G. The legislation also provides for penalty assessments against the payers who do not comply with the requirements.

Happiness is not a matter of good fortune or worldly possessions. It's a mental attitude. It comes from appreciating what we have, instead of being miserable about what we don't have. It's so simple - yet so hard for the human mind to comprehend.

Courage is fear that has said its prayers.

Lions give best effort of season for win over Rankin

By Lisa Colin

Friday night in Rankin, the Ozona Lions led a surprising victory over the Rankin Red Devils. The score was 12-7, and Coach Jim Green said, "It was the best team effort of the season." He also said the Lion defense played exceptionally well. Offensively, the Lions scored early in the game with nine points in the first quarter and three in the second, while Rankin's only score of the game occurred in the fourth quarter.

The Lions had nine first downs to the Red Devils' thirteen. Rankin also outplayed Ozona in the area of rushing having 46 carries for 152 yards while the Lions had 33 carries for 71 yards. Passing, the Lions completed four passes out of fourteen attempts for 115 yards. Rankin completed a total of two passes out of nine attempts for 23 yards.

Both teams lost the ball on fumbles each having one each. Neither team had an interception. Ozona had seven penalties for 51 yards, and Rankin had three for 35.5 yards.

In the first quarter with 7:53 left on the clock, the Lions scored after a 71 yard drive on a pass from Sam Hightower to Roger Flores. This put six points on the scoreboard. Then, late in the first quarter with 2:53 on the clock, Oscar Payne kicked a twelve yard field goal. Ozona's last points were added to the score early in the second quarter when Oscar Payne kicked another field goal of thirteen yards.

Rankin's only score of the game occurred with 9:09 left in the fourth quarter. The touchdown was scored on a fifteen yard rush after a 74 yard drive. The PAT was also good.

Individually, rushing for the Lions were James Sanchez with fourteen carries for 49 yards, Butch Gonzales with nine carries for 22 yards, Oscar Payne had two carries for five yards, Beto Diaz had one carry for five yards, and Harvey Dominguez had one carry for four yards.

On the receiving end of Sam Hightower's passes was Roger Flores who caught all four completions and scored a touchdown.

Oscar Payne had four kickoffs with an average of 56.2 yards. He also kicked one punt for 36 yards while Sam Hightower kicked the only other punt for 25.

Ozona's last game of the season is against Stanton at home on Friday.

THE ANNUAL PARADE BEFORE THE HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL was the highlight of the night with parents, children and members of organizations dressing in costume. The carnival was one of the most successful in years.

Retirement brings second career for many people

One of the interesting aspects of the fact that most people can look forward to a longer life in retirement is a tendency of many to continue working and even to start a second career. For some, it's a matter of filling the empty hours; for many others, however, it becomes a matter of need.

People who contemplate working after retirement should be sure to understand how earnings will affect their Social Security benefits. To insure that benefits are paid to those who are actually retired, there is a limit on how much a person can make and still receive full benefits.

Under the annual earnings test, the earnings limit increases each year with increases in general wage levels. For 1986, it is $5,760 for people under 65; and $7,800 for people 65 to 70. The limit does not apply to people 70 and over.

Earnings over the limit cause benefits to be reduced $1.00 for each $2.00 of earnings above the limit. Generally, this means that a person is always better off working than not working, since it is possible to increase one's income substantially.

For example, a person retiring at 65 in 1986 receiving the maximum benefit of $760.00 a month or $9,120.00 a year, could have a total income of $16,920.00, including earnings and full benefits. He or she could earn up to $26,040.00 before all benefits are withheld.

A person getting benefits who expects to earn more than the limit must report this to the Social Security Administration so the benefits may be adjusted accordingly. Failure to report the earnings could result in overpayments-receiving benefits to which a person is not entitled. The law requires overpayments to be repaid to the Social Security trust funds. Generally, this is done by withholding portions of future checks, but repayments may be made in a lump sum.

People who earn over the earnings limit are required to make a report by April 15 of the following year. The report also requires them to estimate how much they plan to earn in the future. Benefits are adjusted based on the information in the annual earnings report.

Any change in expected earnings after the report is made should be reported to the Social Security Administration immediately to avoid the risk of an overpayment. If it is determined that a person willfully and fraudulently concealed earnings, penalties are possible, ranging from a fine to a jail term.

If you have any questions about earnings after retirement, please contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

A View of the World Through The Word

By Ralph O. Moore, Minister
Ozona Church of Christ

There is a multitude of sayings and definitions concerning friendship. That two syllable word sails many seas, and both its beauty and danger has been heralded by folks from all walks of life.

Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The only way to have a friend is to be one." I like his perspective because he puts emphasis on being a friend. Walter Winchell said, "A friend is one who walks in when others walk out." I could go on and on citing people from Seneca to Eleanor Roosevelt in describing friendship. Each of us has his own ideas about what constitutes friendship, and we have people with whom we enjoy such constitutions. Needless to say, friendship is a relationship that all of us cherish.

Friendships always have a common ground somewhere. It is true that friendship transcends barriers of race, religion, and riches - but somewhere there is a common ingredient that allows friendship to be built on shared property.

In every niche of our lives there is the possibility of friendship. One might have a friend he hunts or fishes with, one he talks politics with, another he attends ballgames with - the list goes on to cover every interest that our lives enter.

There are, of course, circles of friendship that one experiences. The best friend enjoys a space in your life that no one else can claim; then comes close friends, dear friends, and other friends. The depth of friendship can often be measured in time spent together, thoughts shared, and what you are willing to do for one another.

Women generally have more friends than do men. Their psychological profiles, their sensitivities, and their willingness to listen allow them more opportunities than those of men. Most women have several friends, some real close, but only ten per cent of the men, psychologists say, enjoy that kind of relationship with others.

Being a preacher, its difficult for me to define friendship without using a biblical construct. That form allows love, trust, understanding, acceptance, loyalty, and a host of other things to be entered following the mandate of Scripture.

Jesus is the Model Friend. His offer of friendship extends to everyone and can be experienced through faith. Abraham was called "the friend of God" because of his faith. So it can be said of those today who enter the circle of God's friendship through the blood of Christ.

This coming Sunday we are having Friend's Day at our congregation. You might receive some invitations this week from folks who want to share with you the joys of Christ. We would be honored to have you worship with us, stay for lunch, and visit for a while. Friendships bonded in the love of God cast strong lights, and this Sunday our spotlight is on our friends.

SENIOR 4-H FOOD SHOW WINNERS are Candance Williams, Mary Lou Hayes and Margaret Jones.

What God expects of husbands

By Rev. Jim Gray
Pastor of First Baptist Church

Last week we considered four characteristics taken from the fifth chapter of Ephesians which God expects in a Christian home. Today we will begin to look at what God expects from individual family members...first husbands, then wives, and finally parents and children.

Let me begin with the least controversial-what God expects of husbands. Verse 25, the fifth Chapter of Ephesians says "husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the Church and gave Himself for it." But, what exactly is love? Frequently, young couples come to my office interested in getting married because they "love" each other. When I ask them to tell me what love is, they stammer and struggle trying to put into words that feeling they feel in the pit of their stomachs when they see each other. But is that really love? If it is, no wonder our divorce rate is so high. In most marriages, that queasy, "puppy-love," feeling eventually goes away, and if that's love, no wonder people say "I don't love you anymore."

Love is more than a feeling. The kind of love God has for you and I is a commitment. It is an unselfish commitment, and God's desire is for us to have that kind of love for one another. Perhaps "love" is best defined in 1 Corinthians 13:4-8. In those verses Paul tells us some things that love is and some things that love is not. First, love is longsuffering and kind; it rejoices in truth; it upholds; it believes all things; it is hopeful; and is enduring. Secondly, love does not envy; is not arrogant; is not rude; is not self-seeking; is not provoked; is not suspicious; does not rejoice in wrongdoing; and love is never failing. Now that is love--that is commitment. Commitment will be there when the feeling is not.

"Husbands, love your wives" means that a husband's commitment will not be diverted by anything else. It will certainly not be diverted by another woman. It will also not be diverted by other interests such as "hanging around with the guys," being a workaholic, spending every spare moment at the golf course or the fishing hole. That is not to say that a husband cannot have any other interests, but a husband who is diverted away from his commitment of love to his wife is being disobedient to God.

"Husbands, love your wives" means that a husband's commitment will not be diluted by reservations. There is no place in a husband's love for his wife for "ifs". "If she was a better housekeeper," "if she was a better cook," "if she were a better mother," "if she would lose some weight," "then I would love her." No. 1, the Bible says "husbands, love your wives." There are no conditions, no reservations, no diluting of love. If there is, then the husband is being disobedient to God.

EMT classes to begin on December 1

"Husbands, love your wives" means that a husband's commitment will not be destroyed by bitterness. We must always take care that bitterness does not creep into our marriages as a result of disappointments, broken promises, harsh words spoken in a moment of anger, etc. Ephesians 4:26 tells us "be angry, and do not sin: do not let the sun go down on your wrath." Anger is not sin-it is an emotion, a God-given emotion, but it can lead to sin. We should always resolve disputes quickly, especially in marriages. Otherwise, they may lead to bitterness which can be destructive.

"Husband, love your wives." Next week, we will look at what God expects of wives..."Wives, submit to your own husbands, as to the Lord."

EMT classes to be sponsored by C.C. Hosp. & Concho Valley Council of Governments will begin December 1, 1986 thru March 5, 1987. Class nights will be Mondays and Thursdays, 7 to 10 p.m.

Hospital time to be done at Shannon and Angelo Community Hospitals. Classes will involve 20 hrs. hospital time and 100 classroom hrs. Extermination day is scheduled for February 21, 1987.

For more information contact coordinator-instructor Dub O'Bryant at 392-3557 or Joe Moran at 392-3453.

The Glory of God

Charles Huffman, Pastor
Faith Lutheran Church, Ozona Hope Lutheran Church, Sonora

Born on November 10, 1483 in Germany, Martin Luther grew up and became a monk in the Church. Later he became a teacher of theology in Wittenburg, and on October 31st in 1517 he nailed 95 theses on the Castle Church door contending against the sale of 'indulgences' for the forgiveness of sins. This was the beginning of the Reformation in the Church.

Martin Luther is a man worth remembering, not because he was something in himself, but because he was an instrument of God. Very possibly the last words that he spoke before he died were: "We are only beggars after all!"

He was going to stand before his God with empty hands. He has nothing of his own to offer God. Jesus Christ was his Savior and Lord, and apart from Him Luther was only a beggar. Luther was often accused of thinking that he alone was right. How could he be sure that he was not leading millions of people to hell? He had only one answer: "The Word of God makes me sure that I am right". Therefore his teaching gave all glory to God. Any other teaching still gave some credit to man. In the light of the Scriptures, Luther insisted that our salvation from beginning to end, is altogether God's doing and none of ours.

We are constantly tempted to try and make ourselves right with God. But that's how we rob God of His glory and ourselves of certainty. Then God is made into a paymaster or a judge, and we become the rewarded or the damned, the self-righteous or the despair-filled. The only certainty in which we can live and die is to let God be God as He is in Jesus Christ. The faithful saying that is worthy of acceptance by all is that Christ Jesus came into the world to save 'sinners' (1 Timothy 1:15). When we believe that, we let God be true, and everything opposed to that is a lie.

To God alone be all glory! We were lost and could not find our way home. Jesus Christ came to seek and find and save the lost (Luke 19:10). He alone has brought us home to our heavenly Father. We were the hopeless, with no hope in ourselves. Christ Jesus is our Hope, the only hope that will not make us ashamed before God. We are always people with empty hands. But because our hands are empty, we can cling to Christ's Cross (Galatians 6:14).

We glory, but we glory in our Lord Jesus Christ in whose face we see the glory of God our Savior (2 Corinthians 4:6).

"God's righteousness comes to all who believe, just by their believing in Jesus Christ. There is no difference. All have sinned and are without God's glory. They are justified freely by grace, through the ransom Christ Jesus paid to free them." - Romans 3:22-24
