Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

The holiday season is upon us and Ozonans will celebrate Thanksgiving Thursday. Most will celebrate with huge meals and a lot of football watching on the tube. The kids will be entertained with the parades on television Thursday morning. Pat Sazak and Stephani Kramer will narrate the 60th annual Macys Parade, while Larry Hagman and Linda Gray will play host to the 27th annual All-American parade. Traditionally, the females in the family are in the kitchen cooking. Not so at my house this year.

I've taken advantage of my condition, being crippled in one arm, to have everything done I could think of. While I am thankful for many things, I am really thankful for the Womans League members who made my chicken spaghetti, pecan pie, Italian Creme Cake, and asparagus casserole. Involved were Becky Childress, Elizabeth Upham and Paula Bailey, all better cooks than I am. I am thankful to Charlie Frazier, who is cooking my turkey and saving the broth. I am thankful to Sherry Holt who is chopping my celery and onions. Above all, I am thankful God saw fit to let me live through this year.

All I have to do is make the dressing and giblet gravy, and my daughter-in-law, Debbie, who is bringing her cranberry salad, will probably lift it in and out of the oven for me. How pampered can one get.

I have been as helpless as the Cowboys were when they played the Indians last Sunday. Only mine has lasted longer. Believe me, there is no place like Ozona to be helpless in and I am thankful I make my home here.

There are millions of things to be thankful for if you live in America. I could name more than space would permit. I just hope all Americans take a moment to be thankful on this very special day and pray for the traditions which have made this great nation what it is. Freedom is so precious, it should never be taken for granted.

The weather has been fickle lately and furnaces have been used in the mornings with air conditioning in the afternoons. One hardly knows how to dress for the weather. However, Monday was one of those days the mercury hovered around freezing all day. I think 36 was about as high as it got, in spite of what the weather bureau forecast. Tuesday dawned bright and clear and by 3 o'clock in the afternoon, it had climbed to 62 degrees.

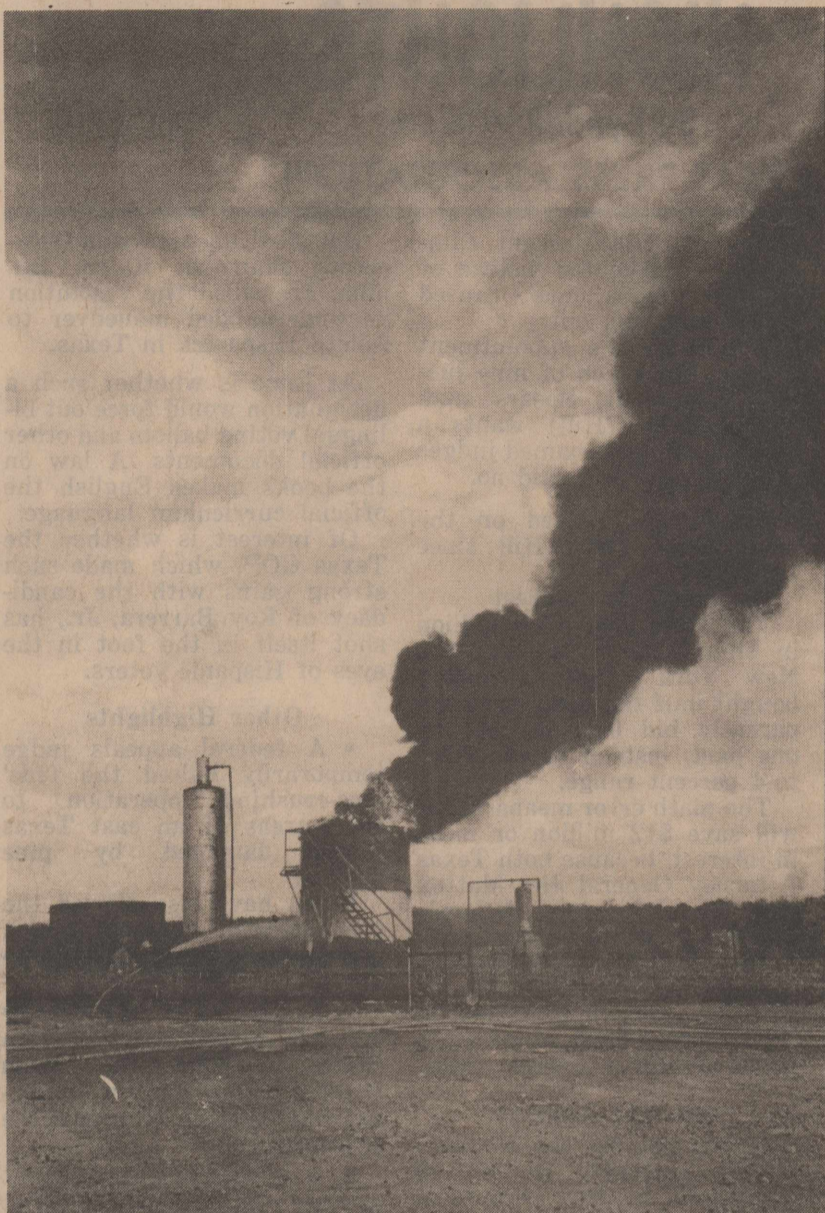

We had every kind of weather Monday except warm weather. It began with peppery rain drops, turned to sleet, then to snow and back to sleet. Fortunately a freeze failed to materialize Monday night and the roads were relatively safe. A brisk wind gave us a below freezing chill factor and it was thoroughly uncomfortable all day long.

As of this writing Tuesday afternoon we have resorted to the air-conditioner.

Christmas decorations are already going up and to get into the spirit of things, we are having a Christmas coloring contest this year for the younger set. We will have four different prints for kids under the age of 12 to color and turn in to a participating merchant. Prizes will be given when the contest is judged by a local artist and winners announced in the Christmas edition Dec. 24. The first entry may be found in this week's paper.

Honor Society officers elected

On November 14, the National Honor Society members elected officers for the school year. The officers elected are Marcos Gonzales, president; Mark Sellers, vice-president; Janet Diaz, secretary; and Peggy Knox, treasurer. All of the officers elected are seniors this year.

A TANK BATTERY FIRE at the Joe Bean ranch sent firemen to this blazing tank. The cause was lightning, unofficially. Gary Adcock, pumper, assumed lightning started the fire, since there is no heater unit at the scene. It was discovered by a ranch employee. Trucks arrived at 10 a.m. and the fire was out at 10:15. Some personnel stood by in case of a flare-up. Damage was limited to replacing a stock tank and the amount of oil burned.

Lions and Lady Lions open the season

By Lisa Collin

Basketball season has started again and the Ozona Lions and Lady Lions have started their hard work, long practices, and tough games once more. Their dedication will hopefully bring a very successful season to them.

This year the boys varsity consists of twelve members, six of which are returning to the varsity team for another year. These six include seniors Chi Flores, Roger Flores, Sam Hightower, and Abel Lara. Juniors include Mike Morrow and Scott Denman. Other team members are juniors Jim Ethridge, Oscar Payne, Danny Sanchez, Will Seahorn, and Derold Vargas. The only sophomore on the team is Wolv Rutherford.

The boys varsity has played the first two games of the season, one against San Angelo Lakeview, and the other against Coahoma. With their first opposition of the season, Ozona suffered a loss of 38-37 in a very close game against Lakeview. High points for the game were Sam Hightower with eleven, and Roger Flores with eight. Ozona's second game against Coahoma proved successful, and they were victorious 48-43. High points for this game were Scott Denman and Sam Hightower both with fourteen points.

The Lady Lions have also started their season. They consist of eight members, four returning lettermen, and four new recruits. Returning for the varsity girls are seniors Janet Diaz and Vickie Reager, Junior Lydia Pena, and sophomore Stacy Lay. Other team members include Vickie Flores, Regina Cervantez, Stacy Winkley and Kelly Williams.

The girls varsity has also played two games so far this season. In their first game of the season, the Lady Lions suffered a 63-40 loss against San Angelo Lakeview. They also suffered a loss in their second game against Coahoma with the score being 64-38. Also playing basketball for Ozona are the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen on junior varsity teams. The J.V. teams are made up fifteen boys and seven girls.

Playing for the Lion JV team are seven sophomores. They are Copie Davis, Jose Gutierrez, Oscar Galindo, Robby Tambunga, Javier Martinez, Tommy Tucker, and Richard Vargas. Eight freshmen make up the remainder of the team. They include George Ybarra, Roger Martinez, Chris Denman, Lalo Rodriguez, Sotero Fuentes, Pete Ramirez, Guadalupe Porras, and Jason Tumlinson.

The seven girls playing for the JV are as follows; Shannon Curry, soph.; Kriss Corey, soph.; Adrienne Wilson, sop.; Dottie Gonzales, soph.; Griselda Hernandez, jr.; Eileen Moran, jr.; and Lucy Miller, jr.

There are also seven girls playing freshman basketball. They are Missy Bishop, Polly Villarreal, Stacy Berry, Tammy Arrott, Terel Seahorn, Sarah Pullen and Lanessa Porter.

Graveside services for Smith infant

Graveside services for Bobby Wayne Smitn, one-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Smith, were held Monday at 11 a.m. in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

The infant died at 8:45 p.m. Friday in Santa Rosa Childrens' Hospital in San Antonio. He was born Oct. 10, 1986.

Other survivors include a sister, Crystal Bell Smith of Ozona; a brother, Dwayne Smith Jr. of Ozona; and his grandmother, Belia Rodriguez of Ozona.

Plans submitted for hospital district vote

The Texas Legislature has been asked to enact a law which would allow Crockett County voters to vote for or against the creation of a hospital district for the Crockett County Hospital. This came about as a result of a petition from the hospital board to the Crockett County Commissioners Court several months ago.

After the bill becomes law a date for the election will be set. The Commissioners Court must appoint seven temporary directors, who will serve until seven directors can be elected through due process.

If the voters decide "for" the creation of a hospital district, all responsibilities and powers will pass from the county to the hospital district. The district board will have vast powers and the Commissioners Court will be relieved of the responsibility of the hospital.

Under a hospital district, directors and officers will serve without compensation, but will be reimbursed actual expenses incurred in performance of duties. However, the administrator, assistant administrator and attorney will be appointed by the board at whatever compensation the board directs.

The election date does not need to be specific, but must be set not less than 35 days nor more than 60 days after the date on which the election is ordered. The temporary directors must canvass the election within 10 days. If the election fails, 12 months must pass before another election can be called. If a district is not formed for 5 years, the Act expires.

The ballot will be simply "for" or "against" the creation of a hospital district. A district is financed by property taxes and the ballot must state the amount for the maximum tax. In this case they are asking 35 cents per $100 valuation tax on all property in the district which will encompass all of Crockett County. This tax may be collected by the district, or may be contracted out to the county. This will in effect be the creation of a new taxing entity. The present tax rate is 40 cents per $100 valuation for the county. Twenty-five percent of this goes toward the upkeep of the hospital. The tax rate for the schools is 78 cents per $100, also collected by the county, and the road tax is .075, for a total of $1.255 per $100 valuation for the property owner.

A hospital district was recently formed in Sonora, with the maximum tax rate set at 10 cents per $100 valuation. The Lillian Hudspeth Memorial Hospital has never been financed by tax money, and an attempt to turn it over to the county failed. The hospital was financed by the Lillian Hudspeth estate, but with new regulations and a turn-over in physicians, plus lack of use by the public, the hospital was more deeply in debt than the Hudspeth Ranch could take care of with annual grass lease and mineral resources. The present hospital board will manage the ranch until the some $400,000 in debt is retired, and it will then become the property of the hospital district.

Crockett County Hospital has operated on tax monies for many years. However, the past few years have seen a drop in use of the hospital by the community. That, along with severe government regulations and turn-over in personnel has run the hospital in the red to the tune of about a half million dollars a year. The county budget for this year was $840,000 to be transferred from the general fund for the hospital and the care center. The hospital at this point is under budget, but the care center is not. Rising costs and vacancies have altered the center's finances since it first opened with a waiting list for residents.

A recent survey of area hospitals by County Auditor Dick Kirby and County Judge A.O. Fields indicates the hospital and care center pay 25 percent more in salaries than comparable facilities, and do not charge higher rates charged by other such facilities, also the cost of services, such as meals, runs much higher here.

The hospital and care center is operated by a board appointed by the Commissioners Court. Each member is appointed for a two-year term and terms are staggered. Board members do not receive compensation and serve only one term.

Proponents of the creation of a hospital district say it is needed to update facilities and needs to be removed from the Commissioners Court. They also feel an elected board would be able to attract more physicians.

Opponents say tax money is tax money and it all comes out of the same pocket. They prefer having the board responsible to the court as a checks and balance measure. If the hospital is not being utilized by the community, most of those against the creation of a district, feel it would be an exercise in futility to create another taxing entity. Although the town boasts two physicians, one doctor has resigned from the hospital staff and one continues to use it when his patients allow. Those opposed to the creation of a hospital district fail to see how the creation of a district could improve this situation.

In the end, unless costs become more reasonable and federal and state regulations eased, most small hospitals seem to be doomed. The local hospital is required to operate under the same regulations as large hospitals in Houston and Dallas. Seventeen small rural hospitals have closed their doors this year. Half of these were operating under a hospital district.

Services here Friday for Mrs. Baker

Eva Martin Baker (Mrs. Sterling Baker), 94, of Sonora, died in the Crockett County Hospital in Ozona, Nov. 19. Graveside services were held in the Cedar Hill Cemetery with the Rev. Monte Jones of St. John's Episcopal Church of Sonora officiating and directed by the Sizemore Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 21.

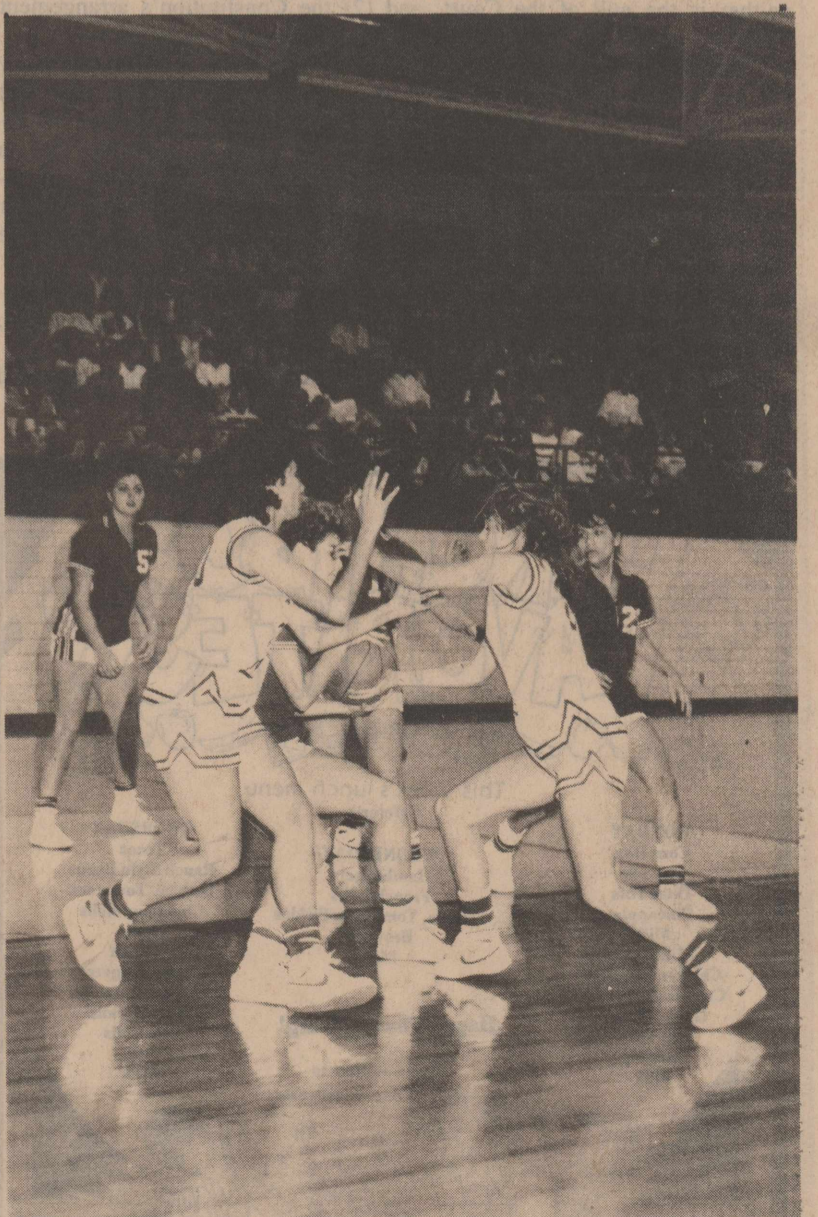

Mrs. Baker was born May 3, 1892. She married Sterling Price Baker Jan. 1, 1911 in Junction where she grew up. Mr. Baker held ranching interests in Sutton County where they made their home on his ranch until he preceded her in death in 1981.

Mrs. Baker was actively involved in helping the Sonora Woman's Club establish the first public reading library in Sonora where she served on the library committee for about 50 years thereafter. Eva received her lifetime membership from the Sonora chapter of the Eastern Star, #575 Order, after 64 years of membership. She was also actively involved in St. John's Episcopal Church, as an early teacher of Sunday school services.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Sidney (Dorothy) Millspaugh, of Ozona and three grandchildren, Linda Millspaugh Andersen, of New Canaan, CT., Mrs. Jim (Marilyn Millspaugh) West and her husband Jim of Colorado Springs, CO, and Sidney Sanderson Millspaugh, III and his wife Judy of San Antonio, Tx., and four great grandchildren, Elizabeth and Eric Andersen, Ryan West, and Sidney Sanderson Millspaugh, IV, also two sisters and one brother, and several nieces and nephews.

BEING JUDGMENTAL

By Edwin Feulner

The gall of this guy Edwin Meese. Sometimes the attorney general talks so much sense that liberals, or "progressives," as most now prefer to be called, seem to get about as upset as they do contemplating those outrageous folks who aid anti-Communist freedom-fighters.

Remember when Attorney General Meese galled the Left by saying it was too easy for criminals to escape justice? Or, a few months ago, when the report by his commission on pornography seemed, well, too anti-pornography?

Such cases cue the progressive chorus into the familiar chants. Meese and his henchmen, they say, are censors out to ride roughshod over the First Amendment and send book-burners into libraries.

This is the "slippery-slope theory" so dear to the American Civil Liberties Union. Give a conservative A, according to the theory, and in no time he'll be trying to get Z. Today he'll censor Hustler, tomorrow Homer. (Rarely does the ACLU apply that logic against the Left, which has moved, for example, from championing equal rights to championing state-enforced preferential treatment based on race and gender.)

And now, just when the outrage was cooling over Meese's anti-pornography campaign, the attorney general has popped off against the Supreme Court, the sacred cow of sacred cows. As the front-page headline in The New York Times said, "Meese Says Court Doesn't Make Law," followed by the misleading subhead "Asserts Rulings of Top Justices Bind Only Those in Case."

Maybe you, too, think Congress, not the Supreme Court, is supposed to make law, and that all Meese has done is restate what everyone knows. Then you haven't kept up with progressive thought over the last generation, hence aren't aware that to a huge extent ours has become a government of, by, and for the judges and the bureaucrats, both of whom enjoy the privilege of being beyond accountability to the lowly electorate. Remember when liberalism used to be about, or so said liberals, "power to the people"?

Now, what did Meese actually say? Simply that a Supreme Court decision "does not establish a 'supreme law of the land' (as the Court wrote of its own powers in a 1958 decision) that is binding on all persons and parts of government, henceforth and forevermore." The executive branch, Meese also said, is bound "for whatever enforcement is necessary."

Meese's point, indeed, is so fundamental that to reject it would seem to imply acquiescence is a form of tyranny, if tyranny is a form of government that doesn't depend on the consent of the governed.

Meese also noted that the Court itself is not bound by its own decisions, which it has overruled from time to time. Besides, those who disagree with a Court ruling can work for a constitutional amendment, as have those who oppose the abortion rulings. Or they can simply back legislation that the Court could later rule is constitutional even though it thus overturns a previous ruling. This is all Meese meant when he said Court rulings "do not necessarily determine future public policy."

The real source of the latest outcry against Meese is the frustration of those whose positions have been rejected at the polls and who are therefore determined to impose them by judicial fiat.

The common will, of course, is not always the commonweal. But (1) neither is the will of the Court, and (2) the Constitution's arrangement of checks and balances offers ways to work against Court decisions.

The Bill of Rights protects individual rights from being trampled by the majority. But it is an irresponsible leap from there to the view that the decisions of nine unelected persons should forever be hailed as infallible and unchallengeable. This is especially so when you consider that so many of today's progressive judges "interpret" the Constitution not according to the intent of its authors, but rather in whatever ways further the judges' policy goals. It's called lawmaking, and it's supposed to be the province of Congress.

Even with the best judges, judicial tyranny is not a good way to govern. The tyranny of today's judges, as we have witnessed again and again, is quite a dangerous way to govern.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Last week Texas was served "the unusual":

- With the first cash management notes issued by the Treasury, Texas made an extra $12 million or more because a Wall Street bidder made a math error. Ours to keep.
- In a rare display of outspokenness from the high court, Texas Supreme Court Justice Franklin Spears criticized Chief Justice John Hill of grabbing for power and ignoring other members of the court. Hill denied it.
- And a new twist on lobbying was added when a Houston lobbyist offered to pay some legislators for attending a cocktail party. Some were incensed.

Spears' beef is not with Hill's integrity or legal ability, but with his treatment of other justices as assistants instead of equals. Hill's recent campaign for appointed instead of elected judges has caused Spears to speak out.

Hill is for the appointment system, but seven of nine justices oppose it, Spears said. "I think he (Hill) wants a voice in who gets named judges at all levels," Hill said no.

Spears has served on the court since 1969, Hill since 1984.

Break On Interest
The state sold $600 million in short-term notes and the New York syndicate which bought half the bond issue apparently bid 0.03 percent on one part, instead of the 3.75-to-4 percent range.

The math error means Texas will save $12 million or more in interest, because both Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox and Treasurer Ann Richards say the bond sale is final.

Some 19 firms bid on the notes, which provide cash for state government that used to be borrowed from other state funds at higher interest rates.

But Mexican-American Democrats chairman Ruben Bonilla, Jr. called the resolution an underhanded maneuver to isolate Hispanics in Texas.

At issue is whether such a designation would force out bilingual voting ballots and other official documents. A law on the books makes English the official curriculum language.

Of interest is whether the Texas GOP, which made such strong gains with the candidacy of Roy Barrera, Jr., has shot itself in the foot in the eyes of Hispanic voters.

Other Highlights

- A federal appeals judge temporarily halted the feds' tree-crushing operation to clear areas of an east Texas forest damaged by pine beetles.
- Rains have also slowed the controversial clearing, which opponents say needlessly destroys plants and wildlife.
- Texas A&M University officials opened a $4.5 million center to house the Ocean Drilling Program, a multinational project to study the sub-ocean core.
- A recount has been sought in state representative District 32, which includes Victoria, where a Republican won for the first time this century by a 19-vote margin.
- Clive Cussler, the famous author of "Raise the Titanic" and other books of naval intrigue, led a team which found what they think is the long-lost Texas navy warship "Zavala" buried under a Galveston parking lot.
- They failed to locate the schooner "Invincible," which sank in Galveston Bay in 1837 after fighting the Mexican navy at Yucatan.
- Cussler was aided by divers from Texas A&M and the Texas Antiquities Committee. His operation finds wrecks and turns over the salvage operations to proper authorities.

"Outright Attempt"

A lobbyist for the Houston transit authority invited 13 legislators to two receptions and said money raised there will be divided among their officeholder accounts, perhaps as much as $500 each, if they attend.

The Common Cause group and some legislators reacted negatively and state Rep. Randy Pennington said lawmakers "should be incensed at the outright attempt to buy special interest."

A transit authority spokesman said it did not consider the money payment for attendance.

Official Language

The resolution may cause a revolution after top officials in the Texas Republican Party called for constitutional amendments to make English the official language.

Appetizing cheesecake adds spice to the Holiday Party

Americans have a big appetite these days for cheese and Mexican-style foods. In the last 15 years, cheese consumption has nearly doubled from 12 to 23 pounds per person, while Mexican food, once thought by some to be just a fad, continues to be a favorite in the ethnic category.

Another more recent trend in American eating is a taste for hot, spicy foods. Witness the popularity of Creole and Cajun foods as well as the variety and number of peppers available at the local produce counter.

Southwest Party Spread combines all three eating trends in an appetizer well suited for a large holiday gathering. The recipe combines Cheddar and cream cheese, taco seasonings and mild green chilies in a cheesecake-like mixture. A topping of sour cream and salsa, that spicy tomato relish created in Mexico, is added during the final stages of baking. Once chilled, the spread is garnished with avocado slices and red peppers, and served with an endless supply of tortilla chips.

During the holidays, it's not a bad idea to keep a supply of cheese on hand for both planned and impromptu entertaining. Cream cheese is a popular base not only for cakes but for a number of holiday dips and spreads. It can be blended with Cheddar and blue-veined cheese varieties to make a cheese log or ball, then garnished with chopped nuts or fresh chopped parsley. Or simpler yet, spread cream cheese with one's favorite chutney and serve with crackers.

Southwest Party Spread
One 9-inch cake

- 2 packages (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened.
- 2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese.
- 2 cups dairy sour cream, divided.
- 1 package (1.25 oz.) taco seasoning mix.
- 3 eggs
- 1 can (4 oz.) mild chopped green chilies, drained.
- 2/3 cup mild or hot salsa.
- Avocado slices
- Hot red peppers
- Cilantro
- Tortilla chips

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Beat cream cheese and Cheddar cheese until light and fluffy. Stir in one cup sour cream and taco seasoning mix. Beat in eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Fold in chilies. Pour into 9-inch springform pan. Bake 35 to 40 minutes, or until center of cake is just firm. Remove from oven. Cool 10 minutes. Combine remaining sour cream and salsa. Spoon over top of cake. Return to oven and bake 5 minutes. Cool completely on wire rack. Refrigerate, covered, several hours or overnight.

To serve, place on large serving platter. Loosen sides of cake with a spatula. Carefully remove sides of pan. Garnish with avocado slices, red peppers and cilantro. Serve with tortilla chips.

Land Bank reduces interest rates

Ozona -- Farmers and ranchers who finance with the Federal Land Bank of Texas will pay lower interest rates beginning December 1.

Variable interest rates on long-term farm and ranch land loans will be 10.75 percent, down from 11 percent. Rural residence and farm-related business loans will decrease to 11.25 percent, down from 11.50 percent.

According to Don Rogge, president of the Federal Land Bank of Texas, the reduction, due to the drop in money cost, will save Texas farmers and ranchers more than $6 million a year in interest.

The bank and its 44 Federal Land Bank Associations have more than $2.5 billion outstanding to 40,000 Texas farmers and ranchers for terms of up to 30 years.

"Lower interest rates will give Land Bank borrowers some financial relief," says Rogge. "We feel that each time we bring interest rates down even a few basis points, we are helping stabilize the overall farm economy and Texas land prices, in particular."

Since August 1 the bank has lowered interest rates 3/4 of 1 percent. This represents almost $19 million a year less in interest rates for farmers, according to Rogge.

"The Texas Land Bank mortgage loan portfolio continues to earn money," Rogge said. "Almost 98 percent of our loans are current. Only 2 percent or about $14 million of our loans are delinquent. We view this as acceptable considering the bank has $2.5 billion in loans outstanding."

Rogge warned that even though the Land Bank continues to make money, third quarter earnings will be negative because of aid to other ailing Farm Credit districts. He emphasized, however, that recent legislation passed for the Farm Credit System would alter these figures. Special accounting methods and spreading losses over a 20-year period will allow the bank to reverse some payables to other districts, changing year-end earnings for the bank significantly, the association president said.

The Land Bank, this year, has averaged almost $2 million a month in net earnings, before aid to other districts and loan loss reserves.

The local association has $37,693,219.42 in loans outstanding to 356 borrowers in Sutton, Schleicher, Crockett and Edwards counties.

Daniel and Katy North are spending the week in Arlington with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis White.

WTU's new coal-fired plant in operation

Start-up operations at West Texas Utilities Co.'s Oklaunion Power Station are proceeding normally, and the new coal-fired generating plant is expected to be in commercial operation before the end of the year.

The huge plant eight miles southeast of Vernon produced its first electricity in a test run this past week, with 22 megawatts going out over transmission lines for a short time. When it is brought on line, the plant will have a net generating capacity of 665 megawatts.

The first test run was fueled by oil, but coal will be burned on future tests as the boilers are brought up to full load. An on-site supply of low-sulphur coal has been building up since July, when the first coal train arrived from Gillette, Wyo.

The Oklaunion station is WTU's first coal-fired plant. The company's other eight plants use natural gas as the main fuel.

"We're glad that we'll no longer depend on just one source of fuel," said Walter Meller of Abilene, WTU's Manager of System Production.

"This new fuel mix means cheaper energy for all our customers in the long run," he said. "and in the short run, the more stable fuel costs will help offset higher base rates that will be necessary to pay for the new plant."

WTU officials say an application for an increase in base rates will be filed after the plant becomes commercial, although details have not been worked out. WTU has not raised its base rates in over two years, and has lowered its fuel charges and made fuel cost refunds four times to its retail customers.

Martin Harvick is in Humana Hospital in San Antonio where he underwent by-pass surgery last week. He lapsed into a coma Friday, and here has been no news about him since.

The Oklaunion Power Station is by far the largest in the WTU system. Construction began in 1982 and all equipment is the most modern available, including state-of-the-art pollution control facilities.

From the beginning, ownership was shared by two other companies in the Central and Southwest Corp. - Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co. Since construction began, PSO and CPL have sold portions of their shares to the Oklahoma Municipal Power Authority and the City of Brownsville. WTU remains majority owner and operator of the station.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

Again another year is about to be in the past - what can we look forward to for the next five months? One writer says, "The South will be at it's fickle best. November can be shirtsleeve or overcoat; December cold and white, wet or like early spring. January frigid, or even mild. February wet and cold or wet and almost balmy; and March, the most fickle of all, may be anything from beach weather to ski conditions."

Now that everyone is beginning to groom their gardens and yards, it is a good time to make your list of goals and plans for next year. Jot them down so you will have the whole list when you are ready for spring jobs. Maybe these suggestions will help; planting fruits, nuts, fruiting vines, bush fruits shrubs, trees, English peas, asparagus, strawberries, early vegetables - Thanksgiving to Easter. Soil preparation and care - November to January, Late winter and spring - garden to be turned. Composting - make pile early, turn it regularly, put on the garden when the soil is turned.

Pruning fruits by February 15; roses by March 15, winter flowering shrubs, after bloom; summer flowering shrubs by March 1. Evergreens - shaping by mid-March, heavy pruning during March.

Fertilizing - manure on vegetable and flower gardens, asparagus beds, rosebeds, and strawberries by Feb. 1. Cottonseed meal on boxwood, camellias, azaleas and other evergreens by Feb. 1 - fruits by Feb. 15. Propagating root dormant wood cuttings by Feb. 1, evergreen cuttings by March 1. Dormant spraying - Fruits, flowering fruit trees, roses by Feb. 1.

Weather is very important in gardening. You may have only one or two days in January dry enough to prepare soil. These things need to be done in sequence before plants start producing next year.

Rachel Hall shares holiday recipes with sorority

The Alpha Alpha Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening at Granny Miller Hall for their regular meeting and program. Hostesses were Sharon Forehand, Becky Dillard, Tina Bean and Leslie Reeves. Guest speaker for the evening was County Extension Agent Rachel Hall.

Mrs. Hall shared holiday cooking and safety tips with the women, including sugarfree recipe ideas. The women enjoyed samples of the desserts, which were prepared by the hostesses, while listening.

A regular business meeting was called to order following the program. President Jeannine Henderson reported on the decision by the executive board to make Leslie Reeves chairman of the service committee upon the leave of present chairman Leslie Wilson. Vice-president Marcy Williams read a letter from Mrs. Wilson requesting a leave-of-absence due to a current conflicting schedule.

Mrs. Reeves presented upcoming projects decided on by the service committee at a recent meeting. Each member should bring to the Dec. 8 meeting three pieces of fruit to contribute to a basket which will be given to residents of the Care Center. The group will also sing carols at the center that evening. Members may also bring packaged food which will be distributed to local families in need of assistance. The committee voted to furnish a 25-pound turkey to Helping Hands for the Elderly for their Christmas feast, and Alpha Alpha Mu will purchase a six-quart deep fryer for the organization.

After the business discussion was completed, members shared their Christmas wish lists, and Secret Sister gifts were exchanged.

Granny Miller Hall was also the site Nov. 17 of a Couples Dinner Party hosted by Lisa Branch, Renee Pearl, Billie Renfro and Barbara Glosson. An Italian Thanksgiving dinner, prepared by hostesses, was served to club members and their guests.

Mrs. White is hostess for Country Club Bridge

Mrs. Ewart White was hostess for bridge at the Country Club Thursday. High score went to Mrs. Gene Williams with Mrs. George Bunger and Mrs. Jack Williams winning second and third high. Bingo winners were Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Gene Lilly, Mrs. Joe Friend and Mrs. Clay Adams.

Others playing were Mrs. Bill

Joint meet for Museum and Historical Society Sat.

The Assissions Committee of the Crockett County Museum and the Executive Committee of the Historical Commission met together at the Museum on Saturday, November 22. Members present were; Mrs. Lee Graves, Mrs. Jack Brewer, Mrs. W.E. Friend, Mrs. W.D. Cooper, Mrs. R.A. Harrell and Mrs. P.L. Childress, chairman.

New items approved for the Museum included a large collection of Southwestern Quarterlies from the Library of Mrs. L.B. Cox, Jr. These will be added to the Wanda Watson Memorial Library in the Museum. Other items accepted included an historical quilt from the C.O. Spencer family; a hand-embroidered linen blouse and skirt, and a pair of dainty high-topped laced shoes from the collection of the late Mrs. Max Schneemann.

The Museum is grateful for all items which are, or were, a part of the history of Crockett County citizens.

Mrs. Childress announced that future meetings of the Commission will be held in The Emerald House at 5:00 p.m. on Jan. 26, April 27, July 27 and

Nov. 23, 1987.

Mrs. Childress urged all who are interested in Historical Preservation to write to Senator Bill Sims and Honorable Gerald Geistweidt, our representatives in Austin, asking that they use their influence to prevent further cuts in the Preservation Budget. Already both the Staff and the money for Historical Preservation have received large cuts.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED - Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cozart of Midland, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kelly Ann, to Ronnie B. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider of Ozona. The wedding will take place December 20, at 2 p.m. in the Johnson Street Church of Christ in San Angelo. The bride elect is a graduate of Midland High School and Angelo State University. She is a teacher in the Paint Rock school system. Mr. Schneider is a graduate of Ozona High School and Angelo State. He is a coach and teacher at Lake View High School.

Mrs. Childress reviews Metatrends for Forum

The Ozona Woman's Forum met Nov. 18 in Mrs. George Bunger's home with Mrs. Allie Lock assisting as hostess.

Mrs. Taylor Jones, President, presided and after the treasurer's report, Mrs. Roger Dudley read a prayer poem and Mrs. Jones led the Pledge of Allegiance. Members answered roll call with "What makes my heart red, white and blue."

Mrs. Allie Lock told of an all brass band that would come to Ozona in February if anybody is interested in sponsoring them.

Mrs. T.J. Bailey moved the Forum endorse Marie Ward for a State Life membership. The motion carried.

Plans for the Forum trip to San Angelo on Dec. 5, 6, & 7 were discussed and members going paid for tickets to Arsenic and Old Lace and signed for hotel rooms.

Mrs. Jones asked if donations to the Ozona Community Center had been paid and after some checking, the president asked that the money be paid.

Mrs. Pleas Childress reviewed the book, Megatrends, by John Naisbitt and told of changes from the past and some things to expect in the future. Mrs. Buddy Russell, Mrs. Huey Ingram, Mrs. John Henderson and Mrs. Bob Wallace sang a Litany for America.

The meeting adjourned at 5:00. Members present were Mrs. T.J. Bailey, Mrs. J.D. Brown, Mrs. Geo.

A NICE BUCK BAGGED - last week by Billy Simmons, right, pastor of the Ozona Full Gospel Church. Shown here with his guide, T.C. Conner, the eight-pointer was shot on the Allison Ranch near Sheffield. Shot in a canyon, the men did not know how the animal field dressed, but said it felt like it weighed 400 pounds by the time they got it out.

Whitetail deer population on the rise in West Texas

By Ray Bronk

The whitetail deer population in Texas has slowly risen to just over 3,500,000. Although an annual harvest is permitted, with about 383,500 animals bagged last year, this census figure has slowly continued to rise, mainly through the management efforts of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

There are four subspecies of whitetail deer found in Texas.

The most populous of these four subspecies is the Texas whitetail, "Odocoileus virginianus texanus." This subspecies is one of the largest of the southern subspecies (but it is quite smaller in body than the northern whitetail deer subspecies.) The Texas whitetail is found in northwestern, western, southwestern and south Texas. It is the famous brush country whitetail deer. The antlers of this animal are widespread, and this subspecies has made entry into the Boone and Crockett record books, among the top 25 largest scored typical and non-typical antlers. The former world's record whitetail deer antlers, (non-typical) were on a deer found dead in 1892, near Brady, Texas. This record remained until about 1980, when a new unofficial record was claimed by a whitetail deer found dead near St. Louis, Missouri.

The Kansas whitetail deer "o.v. macrourus," is another subspecies found in Texas. This is a large deer, with large antler formation. It is found in northeast and east Texas. The Kansas whitetail is found in smaller numbers than the Texas whitetail. Kansas whitetail trophies are also included in the Boone and Crockett record books.

The Avery Island whitetail deer, "o.v. mcilhennyi," is the third subspecies found in Texas. It is found in the extreme east-southeast portion of the state, in an area generally hugging the Gulf of Mexico coastline. This large bodied deer had interbred with the other subspecies found in Texas.

The last of the Texas whitetail deer subspecies is the Carmen Mountains whitetail deer, "o.v. carminis." This small deer is only found in the Big Bend country of the Lone Star State, and because of terrain, has not interbred with the other subspecies. It is a smaller animal than the other Texas subspecies. The Big Bend national park covers a large part of the Carmen Mountains whitetail deer range, and gives it a natural sort of protection, since hunting is not permitted in the park. Because its range extends on either side of the Rio Grande, some hunting is possible in Mexico.

The whitetail deer is a very adaptable creature. It co-exists with man as long as proper habitat is available. Texas has varied types of habitat. Some areas, like the Brush Country, the Big Thicket and the Piney Woods area, are well matched to the number of deer living there, versus the amount of available habitat. The result is large-bodied, healthy deer, although fewer in number. Some of these deer's field-dressed weights were more than 180 pounds. Conditions in the Edwards Plateau area are exactly the opposite. The number of deer living there is tremendous, as many as 120 per square mile in the Llano Basin. These deer have been allowed to propagate well out of proportion to the amount of proper habitat and food available. The resulting malnutrition has resulted in much smaller deer; field-dressed bucks averaging 72 pounds, and field-dressed does averaging 55 pounds. Some of these Edwards plateau deer were moved to prime habitat. Within a short time, they averaged a full 32 pounds more than their former neighbors!

Many ranchers prefer to see lots of deer, thinking that large deer numbers mean prosperity in the form of greater deer lease revenue. This is a short-sighted view which could result in large scale deer die-offs due to disease, parasites, and starvation.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department experts are becoming very skilled in deer management. Their studies have shown that a properly managed deer herd can increase body weight and antler size when proper food, habitat, buck/doe ratios and controlled harvesting methods are used. The future of Texas' whitetail deer population rides on the decisions of ranchers, hunters, biologists and game management experts.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS

by Rod Chalmers

Fur season opens at 12:01 a.m. on Monday, December 1. It's the time of year that leg-hold traps and varmint calling tapes come out of mothballs and many .270's and 30-06's get traded for .22 Hornet's and .22 Mag's. Being basically a commercial activity, there are some very specific regulations pertaining to the taking of fur-bearing animals, and a lack of attention thereto could result in some costly mistakes... in the form of fines to the Justice of the Peace and loss of confiscated pelts.

So let's cover licenses first. The law requires that any person taking a fur-bearing animal have a Trapper's License. Makes no difference if the animal is trapped, called up and shot, or picked up on the side of the road after losing a game of chicken with an auto. Also you gotta have a current Hunting License, because fur-bearing animals are wild animals, and you are hunting 'em. And everyone 17 or over must have a drivers license or official identification card while hunting critters. These licensing requirements apply to everyone engaged in the taking of fur-bearing animals. That means the person setting the traps and the person checking the traps and taking out the animals. In the case of hunting with a light and a gun and a call, it applies to the caller, the shooter, the driver, the light handler, and anyone handling (possessing) the pelts and/or the carcasses. If the wife wants to go along to watch, tell her don't touch anything, just watch. Then she can apply her $10.75 on a hairdo instead of a Resident Trapper's License. And while we're on the subject of wives, please don't send her off to sell your furs for you unless she's got her own Trapper's License.

Animals that fall into the category of fur-bearing animals are the following: beaver, otter, mink, ring-tailed cat, badger, skunk, racoon, muskrat, opossum, fox, weasel, nutria and civet cat. Bobcats are not subject to fur regulations - they're considered predators. But there is a legal "season" for taking the pelt of a bobcat for sale, and that's the period from Nov. 15 through Feb. 15 of the following year. A Trapper's License isn't required to take bobcats, but a hunting license is. By the way, most fur buyers are designated bobcat pelt taggers, and they have to tag a legally taken bobcat pelt whether you're going to sell to that buyer or some other. If you don't like the price they offer, have them issue you a tag and take it to another buyer. And let me know if they refuse to tag it for you!

Pelts of fur-bearing animals cannot be taken or possessed until Dec. 1, and commercial trapping must cease Jan. 31, with Feb. 5 being the last date a licensed trapper can possess a "green" pelt. Can't legally hold 'em over until next season waiting for better prices.

The law which prohibits hunting with a spotlight in deer country was not directed at varmint hunting, but things could get sticky if there's something about a fur hunt with a light that would make a Game Warden think that the hunter is really after that 12 point buck instead of gray fox! A call to the Sheriff's Office before a night in the hills with a spotlight might prove beneficial for the hunter and the Warden alike. But this does not exempt the hunter from being checked, just to keep the honest people honest. Needless to say, hunting or trapping from a public road is forbidden.

Still nothing firm on this year's fur prices. Some say same as last year, others say things are looking up for this year's Christmas money.

This synopsis doesn't come close to covering all the fur-bearing regulations - just the ones most often misunderstood.

College entrance exams set

The Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) and American College Testing (ACT) are National College Admissions Exams designed to measure a student's verbal and mathematical skills; the ACT also includes testing in natural science and social studies. These tests are administered in test centers throughout the country.

In order to register to take a test, you must complete and mail a registration form by the set deadline (the postmark date can be no later than the deadline date). Ozona Test Center will give the SAT on Jan. 24, 1987 and the ACT on Feb. 7, 1987. Pick up the application forms in the counselor's office; read it thoroughly; answer carefully; include a check or money order for the fee; and mail it.

Within 2-4 weeks, you should receive notice that you are registered to take the test. When you go to the test center, take with you 2 number 2 pencils and identification (e.e., drivers license).

On your registration form for the SAT and ACT, you must code in our high school code - Ozona High School Code is - 445290.

For other test date for SAT and ACT and deadlines, contact your high school counselor.

Take care in preparing turkey

Turkey isn't a hazardous food, but what the cook does-or doesn't do-to the bird can literally make you sick.

"Like all protein foods, turkey can harbor food poisoning bacteria, such as salmonella," says food safety expert Marilyn Haggard. "Because it's a large, dense food that requires several steps in preparation, bacteria have even more opportunity to grow if proper precautions aren't taken."

While food-borne illnesses are rarely fatal, they can cause unpleasant symptoms that can last for several hours or even days, she adds. Medical experts estimate that a high percentage of symptoms attributed to over-eating or flu are actually food-borne illness.

The Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist advises the following precautions in preparing a stuffed turkey:

*Thaw the turkey in the refrigerator as recommended on the package direction. Thawing the bird in a microwave oven or by putting it in a watertight package under cold running water are also safe thawing methods. But don't thaw the turkey by letting it sit on the kitchen counter, since room temperatures allow bacteria to grow.

*Wash the defrosted turkey thoroughly, running water over its inside and outside areas. Drain the body cavity and wipe the turkey fairly dry.

*Stuff the turkey right before you cook it. Warm, moist dressing is an ideal medium in which bacteria can grow.

You can prepare the dry stuffing ingredients the day before; cover them tightly and leave at room temperature. But keep the perishable ingredients, such as butter, mushrooms, oysters, cooked celery, onions and broth in the refrigerator. Then combine ingredients just before stuffing the turkey.

*Cook the turkey in a 325 degree oven. Cooking in a very slow oven at 200 to 250 degrees is not recommended. Because of the low temperature, the turkey and stuffing could take more than 4 hours to reach a high enough temperature to destroy bacteria.

*Make sure the turkey is fully cooked. Insert a meat thermometer into the thickest part of the thigh muscle without touching the bone. Then cook the bird until it reaches 180 degrees fahrenheit to destroy salmonella bacteria.

*Once the turkey is completely cooked, remove all the stuffing from the cavities. Harmful bacteria is more likely to grow in the stuffing if it sits in the bird after cooking.

*After dinner, refrigerate the turkey and stuffing immediately. Food poisoning bacteria can grow quickly in high protein food left at room temperature.

K of C plan dance for December 5

Knights of Columbus council # 8572 are proud to bring another well-known band throughout the United States to Ozona. 1986 Tejano Music Awards recipient "Roberto Pulido y los Clasicos" will perform on Friday, Dec. 5th, 8-12 p.m. at the Parish Hall.

Lisa Pfaff and children, Andrew and Laura, of Hunt spent several days last week here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Holt.

J.W. Johnigan is still in Medical Center Hospital in Odessa, where he was taken last week after a fall at his home. Emergency surgery was performed late Friday, and he is reported recuperating well.

Col. Sammie Pierce, Col. Billy Williams, Col. Paul Shacklette, Col. Ray Pierson and Marie Pierson attended a special meeting of the Ft. Concho Squadron, West Texas Wing, Confederate Air Force, Thursday at the Sheraton, San Angelo.

Paper bonnets trimmed with lace were made in Monday morning's craft class. The bonnets were designed to resemble Pilgrim bonnets. Residents attending the class were; Tomasa Ramos, Juana Hernandez, Moriana Perez, Doris Robnett, Edna Wallace, Lucia Rios, and Rebekah West.

Monday afternoon exercise class was a lot of fun. Who says exercising has to be dull? Residents didn't think so as they warmed up to play a game of basketball. Baskets were made by Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Edna Wallace, Robert Shipp, Sam Martinez, Moriana Perez, Virginia Hoover, and Lucia Rios.

Tuesday morning's bingo volunteers were Nancy Forehand, Dorothy Doll, Mattie Cooper, Georgia Kirby and Sophie Kyle. Lucky winners for the day were Juana Hernandez, Theo Burns, Minnie Karr, Braxton Sones, Rebekah West and Alice Ros.

Unicorns and candy dishes were worked on in Wednesday's ceramic workshop. Residents putting their skills to good work were Tomasa Ramos, Theo Burns, Moriana Perez, and Juana Hernandez. The helpful volunteers were Marie Pierson, Ruth Hester and Doris Karr.

Wednesday afternoon residents enjoyed a visit with our pet, Lady Bretany.

Residents received a surprise visit from the OHS Cosmetology class during Thursday's beauty shop and visitation time. The class along with volunteers Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Carolyn Fraizer, and Melinda Hokit, styled and cut hair and gave manicures. The residents were delighted. We would like to say thank you to them all.

Mid week Bible study was presented by Charles Huffman of the Lutheran Church. Ruby Olson played the piano, and residents sang hymns. Cookies were served, compliments of Phyllis Harms. A short visitation followed.

The Spanish Hour of Praise was next with Herberto playing the guitar.

The day's activities ended on a pleasant note, thanks to the Knox Band. Band members present were Jamie Knox, J.F. Kilgore and Don Kilgore. The music was lively and entertaining. Doris Robnett couldn't resist the urge to dance. Thank you Knox Band.

Volunteers for Friday's bingo were Mattie Cooper, Lillian Tambunga and Anna Bell Patrick. Popcorn was made and served by Anna Bell. Winners included Jesus Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Theo Burns, Manuela Perez, Lucia Rios, Ola Mills, Sam Martinez, and Braxton Sones.

Friday afternoon was spent watching two movies. "Mandy's Grandma" and "Ghost and Goblin". The movies were selected by the Crockett County Library and we would like to thank them for their excellent choices. The films were very entertaining.

Sunday's worship service was presented by the Church of Christ. The Timothy Class, under the direction of Eric Wharton and Kim Squires sang several hymns. The boys participating were Joe and Scott Squires, Byron and Jason Simmons, Ty Porter, Trip Farris, Adrian Phillips, Michel Nix and Ronny and Matthew Bennett. Thank you boys, the singing was great.

We had a lot of visitors this week and we would like to say thank you for coming by and hope you come again soon. We would also like to say thank you to Ann Shaw and Donna Beth Davidson for helping us with our ceramic cleaning and to all the volunteers who shared their time with us this week.

Crockett County Library Notes

By Louise Ledoux

I am happy to report that our First Anniversary Celebration was a great success. I want to thank the Friends of the Library for all their hard work putting on the library birthday party. We had about 100 children attend to hear Mrs. Lucille Bohannon's program on poetry and to enjoy cake and favors handed out by Teri the Clown. Paul Perner IV (Davy Crockett) won the best costume in the 6-12 yr. age group and Ray Ramos (Donald Duck) won in the 3-5 yr. age group. Congratulations!

The local Authors reception was very nice. About 50 people came to see the authors' exhibit and visit with them. All enjoyed the refreshments provided by the Friends. Our special thanks goes to Mrs. C.E. Light and Mrs. Floyd Hokit for dressing up our refreshment table.

One very disappointing occurrence marred our celebration. Some of the older children who came to the Library birthday party were very rowdy and ill-mannered. They were old enough to know better, but even when asked by Friends volunteers and myself to get quiet and mind their manners, they would not. I was so disappointed, and I want to apologize to the parents of the younger children who took them home early because of the rowdiness of the older kids. There is no excuse for bad manners, especially in a public facility such as our Library. This type of behavior turns what should be a happy and fun experience into a very upsetting occasion for everyone.

As Alfred, Lord Tennyson said, "For manners are not idle, but the fruit of loyal nature, and of noble mind." And Edmund Spencer, "For a man (or child, in this case) by nothing is so well betrayed, as by his manners." - "Manners are the happy ways of doing things."

The Library will be closed on Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28.

Extension Office News

by Rachel Hall

For years large food and drug companies have been pursuing the perfect substitute for sucrose - or sugar. Most of their efforts have gone into artificial sweeteners, such as saccharin, cyclamate and aspartame. But the companies are also experimenting with other types of sugar, including xylitol, sorbitol and fructose, as a replacement for sucrose.

Every sweetener so far has some disadvantage. Saccharin has a bitter aftertaste and its safety has not been firmly established. Aspartame cannot be heated and is very expensive. Cyclamate may pose health risks. And the sugar alcohols are poorly absorbed by the body.

Dieters and diabetics are the most likely candidates to use artificial sweeteners. Diabetics should check with a physician to see which artificial sweeteners fit into their diet plan.

Since nearly everybody diets from time to time, artificially sweetened foods are growing in popularity. But according to the Food and Drug Administration, there is no evidence that drinking diet soft drinks or eating artificially sweetened foods will help a person lose weight. Consumption of diet sodas and other artificially sweetened products have dramatically increased, and yet Americans are heavier than ever.

The only proven way to lose weight is to reduce caloric intake from all sources and to increase physical activity. Even for diabetics the need to avoid all sugar is open to question, since diabetic diets have been liberalized to allow a controlled amount of sugar.

The sugar substitutes on the market are not harmful, but probably should be kept used in moderation. To be safe, children and pregnant women should avoid saccharin.

Some advance planning and a good deal of will power may help you keep off extra pounds and still enjoy the holidays. The key is moderation. Think about the temptation to overeat before and after eating. Decide when you can eat less. Knowing ahead of time what and how much you will eat can make it possible for you to enjoy sweets and desserts without guilt.

Try these ideas for staying in control of your holiday eating:

- *Allow yourself to enjoy holiday foods, but make it a rule to turn down second helpings.
- *If you have the will-power, avoid rich desserts and eat fresh fruits.
- *When you can't avoid rich desserts, ask for half a serving instead of a whole one or eat only the filling of the pie and not the crust.
- *At parties, carry on your conversation away from the snack table.
- *Look for fresh fruits and vegetables rather than nuts and chips.
- *Plan ahead to limit what you eat at home so you can enjoy holiday eating with your friends.

Bobbie and Jerry Fatout spent the weekend in Odessa visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Blakney and sister, Ginger Johnson and her son, Chad.

Lowell Littleton is receiving therapy in Baptist Memorial Hospital in San Angelo, where he has been for several weeks. He is in room 245. He will be home two days for Thanksgiving, before returning for more therapy.

Geniece and Pleas Childress will have 22 guests for Thanksgiving. Most of these are relatives of the couple.

Happy Anniversary wishes go out to Tommy and Leslie Wilson. Their day is November 28.

Check chimney before using the fireplace

Preventative measures can help reduce dangerous creosote and tar buildup in your fireplace chimney and flue, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist.

"Both flue and chimney units should be cleaned before the first fireplace fire of the season," says Dr. Susan Quiring. "It also may require cleaning again during the winter, especially if you burn wood that has not been air-dried or seasoned."

The specialist says a fourth-inch accumulation of creosote indicates the flue needs cleaning.

She suggests checking the fireplace by hanging a flashlight from the top of the flue to a third of the way down the flue. Then, look up the lighted flue from the fireplace with a mirror to get an estimate of the buildup.

Wood stove distributors and some home improvement stores sell wire and plastic cleaning brushes that fit square, rectangular or round chimneys, for do-it-yourself cleaning. Or you can hire a professional chimney sweep to perform this service, Quiring remarks.

Then, every time you start a fire, allow a small quantity of dry wood to burn hot for at least 20 minutes before adding more fuel, she advises. This small, hot fire will burn off some of the creosote, reducing buildup.

Also check the chimney regularly for heat damage and deterioration. Repair any cracks in the mortar and places where the mortar has broken loose and fallen out, says the specialist.

"Adequate maintenance may not make much difference in how it looks on the outside, but a clean chimney and flue will make your fireplace less of a home fire hazard," Quiring says.

Tim Ogilvy of Odessa, spent several days here last week visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Evert White.

Plan tax reform strategies now

With the 1986 tax reform bill now signed into law, individuals need to be doing some serious thinking and planning regarding tax strategies before the year draws to a close.

"Since many provisions of the new tax bill become effective on Jan. 1, individuals need to become familiar with the tax consequences of the legislation and consider certain actions before Dec. 31," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, an economist and attorney with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Individuals need to take advantage of the new tax code and to capitalize on existing as well as future tax breaks," says Hayenga. He recommends visiting a broker or accountant as soon as possible to look at tax strategies.

According to Hayenga, certain steps should be taken in conjunction with the new tax situation:

*Defer income: Since tax rates will be dropping to either 15 to 28 percent, try to defer as much income as possible until next year so you will be taxed at lower rates. But don't defer income if you plan to use income averaging since this is the last year that method will be available.

*Establish a 401(k): This is a salary reduction plan to which you can contribute up to $30,000 during 1986. That amount drops to only $7,000 a year starting in 1987.

*Review your portfolio: Sell stocks now to take advantage of the favorable long-term capital gains rate, particularly if you feel they won't move up much in price.

*Seek high dividend investments: Select securities that offer high dividends since dividends and capital gains will be taxed the same under the new law. Many investors believe there will be more corporate pressure to increase dividends because long-term appreciation will become less important than immediate income.

*Stay clear of investments with immediately reportable income: Think about investments that should offer a sizeable payoff next year--U.S. Treasuries, Savings Bonds and annuities. Again, income next year will be taxed at a lower rate.

*Increase deductions for this year: Increasing your deductions in 1986 will offer a greater tax benefit. The cost of items still deductible in 1987 will increase from a tax-savings standpoint. Currently a $1 deduction at the maximum tax rate of 50 percent provides a 50-cent tax savings. That same deduction will provide only a 28 cent savings in the future. However, be cautious about prepaying on your home mortgage. Once paid, the money can't be borrowed back for other uses.

*Buy big-ticket items now: Buy items such as cars and boats before Jan. 1 when the sales tax deduction disappears. Also, pay for investment advice and tax preparations before the end of the year so that those costs can still be deducted from your 1986 taxable income.

*Take a close look at tax shelters: Tax shelters, set up to generate big losses in their early years, have been hard hit by tax reform. Under the old law, these losses could be used to offset income from salary, stocks and bonds. Beginning in 1987, tax shelters will be considered passive investments and any losses they generate can be applied only to offset losses from other passive investments. Look for reliable shelters that make economic sense and dispose of investments that do not generate passive income.

*Consider municipal bonds: Municipal bonds and bond funds offer tax exempt earnings and good yields; they are one of the few legitimate tax shelters left.

*Take another look at children's accounts: When transferring assets to children, select those that will mature either when the child is more than 14 years of age or when the money is needed for college or some other specific reasons.

*Don't toss out the IRA: Keep your IRA, even if it doesn't qualify for the tax deduction. An IRA is still a tax-free investment; furthermore, a penalty must be paid on early withdrawals.

*Remember the alternative minimum tax: This tax is computed in high income returns when the initial computation indicates there is no tax liability. If this tax exceeds the regular tax, then it may pay to delay deductions until next year since the alternative minimum tax rate will increase from 20 percent in 1986 to 28 percent next year.

Sheriff's Report

The following is the activity report for the Crockett County Sheriff's Office for the week ending Nov. 25.

ARRESTS

Nov. 18-A 36 year old Ozona man surrendered to sheriff's deputies on a warrant out of Crane county for theft of services. He was released after posting a $200 bond.

A 37 year old Florida man was arrested by sheriff's deputies on felony theft warrants out of Florida. He was released after posting a $1000 bond.

Nov. 20 - A 24 year old Houston man was arrested on traffic warrants out of Houston. He was released to Houston authorities to be returned to face the charges.

Nov. 21-A 22 year old Ozona man was arrested by THP and sheriff's deputies on charges of DWI. He was released, the next day, after posting a $2000 bond.

A 33 year old Del Rio man was arrested by THP and Sheriff's deputies on charges of DWI and traffic warrants out of Del Rio. He was released the next day, after posting bond and paying his fines.

Nov. 24-A 20 year old Miami, Florida, man was arrested for auto theft out of Miami Florida. He was arrested after a search on Taylor Box Road where the stolen car was found to be abandoned.

A 20 year old East Texas man was arrested by THP in possession of a stolen car. He is in jail awaiting transfer to Nacogdoches.

INCIDENTS

Nov. 18-An Ozona resident reported the theft of a rifle from her pickup truck. The theft could have occurred at several locations around town while the citizen was doing some shopping. Sheriff's deputies investigated the theft and entered the rifle's serial number in the national computer as a stolen item.

Nov. 21-The Crockett County Sheriff's office was advised of a jail break at the Sutton county jail in Sonora. At approximately 10:30 a.m., Sutton county requested that a roadblock be set up on I-10 in Crockett county. A roadblock was immediately set up by Sheriff's deputies, THP, and border patrol. The manhunt continued until about 10 a.m. Saturday morning, when it was called off by Sutton County authorities. Crockett county deputies, THP, Texas Rangers, Game Wardens, and Border Patrolmen assisted throughout the day and night, searching for the escaped prisoner from the Sutton County jail.

Nov. 23-Several citizens reported a damaged, and abandoned, automobile on Taylor Box Road north of the truck stop. At daylight, on Nov. 24, the Crockett County Sheriff's office began a search of adjoining ranches for the missing driver. It was believed that the driver was either lost, or suffering from emotional problems. Just before noon, on Nov. 24, it was determined that the vehicle had been stolen from Miami, Florida during the weekend. The search continued until about 2:45 p.m., when the 20 year old suspect was found and arrested. The Sheriff's department was assisted in the search by U.S. Border Patrol, Border Patrol aircraft, THP, Texas Rangers, and Texas Game Wardens. The suspect is being held in the Crockett County jail awaiting a decision by Florida authorities to extradite.

Levis and Lace Square Dance Club entertained residents and guests of Crockett County Care Center Tuesday evening.

A View of the World Through The Word

By Ralph O. Moore, Minister
Ozona Church of Christ

The Fall of 1621 followed a beautiful productive summer, and the Pilgrims, acting upon a declaration of Governor Bradford, enjoyed a day of Thanksgiving in October. That day was marked by several things: food supplied from a yielding ground, peace and friendly gestures between the Pilgrims and the Indians, games and contests, and a joyous display of dependence upon God. There was such jubilation that the festival was extended for three days.

From the annals of history, there comes a note that the one thing that stood out in the Pilgrim's memory of the event was the prayer offered by one William Brewster. God's providential help, His provisions, and His promises were remembered and honored at this first Thanksgiving.

From this early experience of the nation's forerunners has arisen the Holiday we now enjoy and call Thanksgiving. It did come from a national origin, but the occasion is linked to those who had an undying faith in God.

Tomorrow people will gather for such a time of celebration. Families will be united, food will be in abundance, football games and parades will be watched - it will be a time of joy. Let's be reminded as we celebrate this day to let our fondest memories be those of prayer. It doesn't take long to be thankful and the joy of it makes the day.

The word "thanksgiving" is a biblical word, but it is not used in the sense of a holiday. Only one day emerges from the Word as a day to remember, the first day of each week when Christians honor and worship the Lord. The thought of "Thanksgiving" is expressed in "to give freely." Real thanksgiving is an expression of joy that is both sent toward, and stimulated by, the presence of the Creator.

Many passages in the Scriptures mention "thanksgiving", but it's in the act of showing gratitude for the blessings of God. Being able to be in His presence, having the privilege of petition, and understanding God's love and grace initiates that feeling of thanksgiving.

It's easy to get caught up in the festivity of the day and forget our real source of blessing. While there is a tremendous joy in freedom, family, food, fellowship, and fun - these things are not the source of our blessings. These and all blessings come from God.

Let us wish for you and yours a Happy Thanksgiving. At the early part of the day, or maybe as you gather for your meal, try to remember those early Pilgrims and their devotion to God. Let your day of Thanksgiving be written in your hearts and minds as a day that you were thankful to God.

What God requires of children

By Rev. Jim Gray

Before we consider what God requires of children, let's consider a few things the Bible says about children. In Genesis 33:5, we are told that children are a gracious gift from God. Psalm 127:3 tells us that "children are a heritage from the Lord." Proverbs 17:6 speaks of grandchildren when we are told that "children's children are the crown of old men." (Prov. 17:6) Jesus said "suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God."

Who are children? At first, the answer seems quite simple but maybe not. Children as used in Ephesians, the sixth chapter as more a matter of relationship than age. The word "dependent" perhaps best captures the meaning. So as we consider children in this context we are considering those who are dependent upon their parents for shelter, food, and clothing among other things.

Ephesians 6:1-3 tells us; "Children obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. Honor your father and mother, which is the first commandment with promise; that it may be well with you and you may live long on earth."

Fine tune furnace to hold costs down

Cooler weather has brought relief from both from the heat and high air conditioning bills. But another kind of heat - from the furnace - will begin to drive utility costs up again.

Fine-tuning your heating system may help hold utility costs down by increasing its efficiency, says Dr. Susan Quiring, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Gas heating systems should be checked and cleaned at least every other year, she explains.

Dirt accumulation inside the furnace is difficult to remove and reduces heating efficiency, she adds.

Electric furnaces don't need much maintenance, but heat pumps require periodic servicing. A trained service technician can clean and adjust your system to assure maximum efficiency.

"With a forced air system, simply keeping the filters clean will help save money," Quiring says.

The specialist says that the entire volume of air in a house is circulated through the furnace three to four times in a single hour of operation.

The furnace filter traps airborne lint and dirt, preventing it from coating the fan and furnace heat exchanger. But when the filter accumulates dirt, it begins to restrict the air flow and heating efficiency.

Quiring recommends checking filters every four to six weeks during the heating season, and replacing dirty filters promptly.

Disposable fiber glass filters cost 50 cents to a dollar each, so you may find it easier to buy a season's supply and keep them on hand.

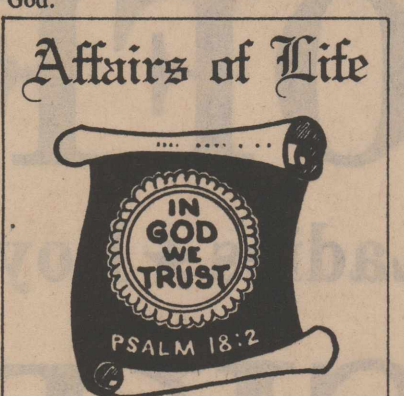

Metallic or plastic filters can be cleaned and reused, Quiring says, but they must be sprayed after each cleaning with a special coating that allows them to attract small dust particles.

What does God require of children? Obedience and honor. The sentence structure of "children obey your parents" tells us that this is a commandment not a suggestion. It's not optional. You can't take it or leave it. Why should children obey? Because "parents in the Lord" tells us that parents are God's representatives, and it is "right" or well-pleasing to God.

To honor someone is to hold them in high esteem, to value as precious. Children are to value their parents as precious because Exodus 20:12 tells us that this is a commandment of God. In fact, "honor thy father and thy mother is the fifth commandment, but it is the first commandment relating man to man. This particular commandment has a promise attached to it - "that it may be well with you and you may live long on the earth." Children, I can't promise that you will live to a ripe old age if you honor your parents because the word translated "long" actually means straight, level, or true. But I can promise you happiness and a straight, level, and true life. What can you expect if you reject the nurture and admonition of parents? We are told in Proverbs 5:12-14, "I have hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof! I have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined my ear to those who instructed me! I was on the verge of total ruin!" If you fail to honor and obey your parents or others in authority over you, you will be on the verge of total ruin.

During this season of Thanksgiving, parents, let us remember that children are a gracious gift from the Lord and thank Him for this gift. Children, let us value our parents as precious, thank Him and receive the promise of God.

Flu season requires two vaccines this year

The good news about the coming flu season is that it may not be severe in terms of deaths; the bad news is that protection against influenza will mean getting two vaccines.

Dr. Thomas Cate, a researcher at Baylor College of Medicine's Influenza Research Center, said A/Taiwan is likely to be the dominant flu virus this year. Because A/Taiwan affects mainly people under age 35, who are usually healthy, the flu season should not be severe in terms of deaths.

But since A/Taiwan is not the only flu virus that may be around this winter, people in all age groups should be vaccinated, Cate said.

The U.S. Centers for disease Control in Atlanta decides on the composition of the coming year's flu vaccine in late winter, based on viruses circulating world-wide. This year, the A/Taiwan virus appeared and began causing epidemics after the trivalent vaccine was made.

The trivalent vaccine, so called because it protects against three viruses - A/Chile, A/Mississippi and B/Ann Arbor, is available now. The monovalent vaccine, which protects only against the A/Taiwan virus, will not be available before mid-November.

Cate, advisor to the American Lung Association's medical division, recommended that people get the trivalent vaccine now and the monovalent vaccine when it becomes available. He said the monovalent is particularly important for people under age 35, but can also enhance the protection of older individuals.

"The danger is that people will say: 'Gee, if I have to get both, I'll wait until the second vaccine becomes available.' By then it's conceivable that we could already be in the midst of an outbreak and high-risk people would not be protected at all," Cate said.

People in high risk groups are more prone to life-threatening infections, such as pneumonia, after a cast of influenza. They include people with chronic diseases and those over 65.

The vaccine is also recommended for health care workers, nursing home residents, anyone regularly exposed to chronically ill or elderly persons and children taking aspirin regularly for such problems as rheumatoid arthritis.

Children taking aspirin are more likely to develop Reye's Syndrome after a flu infection. Reye's Syndrome is a viral disease that can cause coma and death. Symptoms include vomiting and hallucinations.

Influenza usually strikes suddenly and causes fever, generalized aches, weakness, and a dry, hacking cough. It is caused by variants of the two common influenza viruses, types A and B. Variants are identified according to where they were first isolated.

A/Taiwan is a variant of an influenza A virus that circulated throughout the world from 1918 to 1957. Since the virus reappeared in epidemic form in 1977, it has affected mainly young adults and children.

"If A/Taiwan comes, it is likely to cause a fairly strong epidemic in terms of school absenteeism and college campus outbreaks," Cate said. "But it may not be such a major epidemic in terms of death rate."

The American Lung Association's goal is to have 80 percent of those in high risk groups vaccinated against the flu this year. Only about 20 percent of high risk individuals are usually vaccinated annually.

BOY TO JACOBY'S

Dr. and Mrs. David J. Jacoby are the parents of a boy born November 18, 1986 at Breckenridge Hospital in Austin, Texas. The little boy weighed 8 lbs, 4 1/2 oz, was 21 in. long and was named Brandon Dale.

He is welcomed by his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Pete W. Jacoby of Ozona, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilucky of Palm Springs, CA. He is also welcomed by a Great-grandmother, Mrs. Hazel McDaniel, Crockett Co. Care Center, Ozona.

We thank God

By Charles Huffman, Pastor
Faith Lutheran Church

"With thankful hearts sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs to God. And everything you say or do, do it in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by Him give thanks to God the Father." - Colossians 3:16-17.

Each Thanksgiving we are urged to look back over the past year and sort out the many good things that we have received. Then we are told that if we add them all up we will find plenty of reasons to thank God. While there may be some merit in that, it still leaves a lot to be desired. You see, in that way we still 'evaluate' God because we measure what God has done and still does for us by our own standards. And that brings us to this question: "If the gifts and blessings of God are perfectly obvious to us, then what need is there of faith in Jesus Christ?"

We cannot know God apart from faith in Jesus Christ, who reminds us Himself in John 17:3 that everlasting life is to know God, the only true God, through His Son whom He sent. When we think of God or try to come to God apart from Jesus Christ, we come on our own to God as we imagine Him to be. This is how we are constantly tempted to create God in our own image, instead of knowing ourselves as created in the image of God (Genesis 1:26). You see, God is not some higher reflection of ourselves. Because of the Fall into Sin, we are but very poor and distorted reflections of God. But Jesus Christ is the FULL reflection of God, as the Holy Spirit testifies in Colossians 2:9, because in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.

Only faith in Jesus Christ gives God His glory, because faith knows God as true and lets God be God. Only in the faith of Jesus Christ can we, and will we truly thank God. We love our God because He first loves us, as the Apostle John proclaims in chapter 4 of his first letter, and has shown His love by sending His only-begotten Son into the world to pay for our sins. Our God is the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who loved us and gave Himself for us on the Cross at Calvary.

Often we are like thoughtless and careless children. We run to God only in the time of our need. We even complain when God does not deal with us as we think He should. But God is good to us beyond our deserving or our understanding. His goodness is never known in the terms of what we think is good. His goodness is known only in the fact that it is His doing and His dealing, as stated in Psalm 136 and numerous other places: "Thank the Lord, for He is good and His mercy endures forever".

We cannot pray if we're not humble, and we'll never give thanks if we're self-sufficient because in either case we still do not know God through Jesus Christ. But when we take the time to think in terms of our faith and knowledge of God THROUGH Jesus Christ, we cannot help but thank God. Prayer is our acknowledgement of dependence on God, and thanks is our admission that God alone is utterly dependable.

Faith in Jesus Christ is bold to thank God, even for those things in our lives we would like to be rid of. They, too, come from the Father's merciful hand - and therefore must be good for us. If nothing else, they knock our own props out from under us and bring us to depend more fully on our God. When we think on ALL things in the faith of Jesus Christ, we will always thank God for His goodness.

So, if we look over the year past WHILE we keep looking to Jesus as the Author and Finisher of our Faith (Hebrews 12:2), THEN - and then alone - do we see that nothing has been able to separate us from the love of our heavenly Father (Romans 8:39). And to say that is the expression of a grateful heart. May God grant each one of us the grace to show our Thanksgiving every day by our Thanks-living.

Business appreciation

BUSINESS OF THE WEEK STAFF - Maxine's Flowers, selected this week in the business appreciation series, is a busy place this time of year. L. to R. they are Nelda Wagoner, Frances Denman, Billy and Lisa Wagoner.

Staffers are busy at Maxine's

Maxine's Flowers is one of the most exciting places to be during the holiday season, and the staff there as busy as Santa's elves around this time of year.

Monday they were busy with Thanksgiving orders and taking care of fresh flowers that had just arrived. The flower shop has served Ozona's needs for many years. Originally built and operated by Maxine Henderson, the name has remained the same through many owners. Lisa Wagoner bought the shop three years ago and has operated it with the help of Frances Denman and her mother-in-law Nelda Wagoner. Frances is a floral stylist and has been in the shop off and on during other ownerships. She is well-known for her original and lovely arrangements. Nelda came in to help Lisa out in a pinch and stayed on to become a competent helper and assistant. Lisa's husband, Billy, operates a landscape service out of the building.

While showing off a Christmas angel, one of the most gorgeous we had ever seen, Lisa said "It's a lot of hard work, but I have enjoyed every minute of it."

Since it is a slow time for landscaping, Billy helps in the shop and with deliveries and he plans a Santa Helper service this year. Since so many toys come unassembled, he will take on the job and deliver the toy whenever it is wanted. Asked if he would take on such jobs as large swing set, etc. he said "heck yes, we have a flat-bed truck that will deliver almost anything up to a full size car." Package wrapping will also be a part of the Santa Helper service, Wagoner said.

Lisa and Billy have attended several florist shows around the nation and have come up with some up-to-the-minute ideas. One of the most outstanding was a purple and gold arch made of balloons for the homecoming game this year. Some unusual plants and flowers have also been added to their inventory.

Along with being the mother of two boys, Wylie, 2, and Austin, 6 months, Lisa finds time for work in her sorority and to take aerobic lessons. Showing off her Christmas angel creation, she said, "It is made to go on top of a Christmas tree, and I just couldn't resist it. It's for sale if someone wants to buy it, if not, I plan to keep it."

Things get hectic around the shop when unexpected things come up such as funerals, and especially hectic if there are more than one. Friends and relatives are pressed into service for these occasions. It is not unusual to be up all night on these occasions. Flowers come in by bus, and Lisa or some of her crew must be on hand when they arrive to pick them up and give them the proper care.

Hours are spent each Christmas on fresh green wreaths for the cemetery. They are made and decorated to the customer's order and delivered to the designated plot at the cemetery. So, a knowledge of the complete cemetery is necessary. One year following a high wind, the entire staff spent hours replacing wreaths and damaged sprays.

Lisa spends hours on the telephone ordering for the shop. Besides placing out-of-town orders, fresh flowers must be ordered by telephone. It's easy to see why holiday times are the busiest times at Maxine's Flowers.

West Texas WTU patrons paying less

Residential customers of West Texas Utilities Co. are paying less for electricity during November than the average price being paid by customers of other investor-owned utilities in Texas.

The monthly report by the Public Utility Commission of Texas shows that WTU's standard residential rates are $36.80 for 500 kilowatt-hours, compared to an average of $38.53 among the state's eight investor-owned companies, and $64.09 for 1,000 KWh, compared to an average of $70.

Highest rates in the state are charged by El Paso Electric, whose customers are paying $49.69 for 500 KWh and $92.86 for 1,000 KWh.

The PUC report shows that WTU's rates have declined 11.4 per cent since November 1985, while the average decline among all utilities in the survey, including rural electric co-operatives and municipals, was 8.8 per cent.

CHRISTMAS ANGEL - Lisa Mitchell Wagoner, shows off one of the art objects she acquired for Maxine's Flowers for Christmas. The exquisite angel fits atop a large Christmas tree. Many other unusual items are being unpacked and will be on display.

No segment of the economy has ever been challenged to change so fast and so completely as has the new agriculture. Never in American history have so many innovations been adopted in such a short time. When these changes have required capital, your Federal Land Bank Association has been a primary source of funds. We recognize the inevitability of change - except in the importance of the man and the land.
