Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

For the first time in three weeks, Ozona got by the week without a potential disaster. The fire two weeks ago and the poisonous gas threat of week before last, made for a peaceful and quiet week so far. The only thing stirred up was a dust storm Sunday afternoon, that was surprising in view of all the rain and drizzle we have had.

Just as we thought spring was on the way, another cold front hit Monday and although snow and freezing rain was predicted, it didn't come to pass and we just froze to death with the wind chill. Of course the day is not yet over and this time of year anything can happen. The few warm days we have experienced has sent bulbs bursting into bloom, along with some fruit trees, however, the wily mesquite has not shown any signs of leafing out, so we are probably in for some more cold weather.

There has been much talk, pro and con, about teenage youngsters drinking, and driving and drinking. I've been here thirty years and can never remember when this was not a problem. Of course, it didn't become my problem until my son began high school. I don't think they flouted it then like they do now, and I am sure the lowering of the drinking age had a lot to do with it. As the drinking age went back to 21 in September, I'm sure a lot of the kids felt cheated, but I feel sure as they get older they will see the wisdom of this act. I don't believe an 18-year-old should be able to purchase liquor, but then again I don't believe an 18-year-old should go into action in the military service.

My son and his contemporaries were very into athletics. They wanted to be the best and they worked at it. However, teen-age kids do not have much self-discipline and quite often one or more of them got into trouble. This was not a big problem back then. We had Rip Sewell as head football coach and if he found a kid out after 10 p.m. on week nights, they were sent home, drinking or not. He saw to it they stayed in shape. They didn't always like it, but they knuckled under to the commanding officer, which was Rip. He probably would not have killed them for breaking the rules, but they thought he would and that was as good as anything. We also had L.B.T. Sikes, and not a kid in high school wanted to come up before his beate-browed displeasure. Then there was Swede Pelt, with his trusty broom to give licks. I'm sure this would be classified as child abuse in today's society. Back then it sure kept them in line. Also, we can't leave Chick Womack out. Another strong disciplinarian, Chick gave them a sense of values they carry with them to this day. He was also committed to giving licks where licks were due. Adults couldn't treat kids like contemporaries then and I don't believe they can now.

Very early in his teens, our son learned we were not his friends, we were his mother and father. There is a very different relationship between friends and parents. When he was out too late, mother or father was out looking for him. His friends gave him this information, and he was usually at the house before we got home from the search. It is a job of monumental proportions to be a parent and it takes much time and effort. A parent is charged with turning an uncivilized little animal into a responsible human being. It's no small chore and it takes from 18 to 20 years to accomplish this. There must be cooperation between parent and teacher, along with the law enforcement officers who are out when the children are out from under the supervision of the parent and the school faculty. It is often a thankless job and you wonder if you will ever survive with any degree of success. However, we all manage to somehow and becomes a worthwhile endeavor. When your child reaches the age of about 30, you can finally be friends.

I think our law enforcement officers are doing a good job trying to stop

Book fair is successful
Coach Green resigns...
The week-long book fair held last week at Ozona Primary School gave residents and children an opportunity to purchase and enjoy and purchase books of all kinds. Showing the books available are, l. to r., Anna Marie Fierro, Anne DeLa Rosa, Jim Bob Flanagan, Johnny Mercado, Allsha Bell, Albert Flores, Michael San Miguel and Zekie Castillo.

Contracts granted by board

Contract extensions were granted to seven professional personnel during last Wednesday's meeting of the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Board of Trustees. Principals Walter Spiller, Sherry Scott, Jack Probst, and Jim Payne were given contract extensions through the 1988-89 school year, as were Assistant Superintendent Ted Cotton, head boys basketball coach John Curry, and high school counselor Jim Williams.

The Board approved a request from Rip Sewell, athletic director, for a reassignment from his athletic duties to a teaching position next year, and they renewed the contract of Rhonda Yarborough, head girls basketball coach, for 1987-88. The resignation of Jim Green, head football coach, was also accepted during the meeting.

Assistant Superintendent Ted Cotton presented the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District Annual Performance Report for Board review and consideration. Mr. Cotton explained that the performance report is a document required by state law, and the purpose of the report is to give the school district the opportunity to present to the local community a comprehensive review of the district's activities for the 1985-1986 school year.

The 115 page 1985-1986 Annual Performance Report is divided into three parts. The district overview section provides information on: trends in student performance, curriculum, special programs, staff quality, facility adequacy, financial condition of the district, impact of 1984 legislation, and paperwork reduction efforts by the district.

The second part of the performance report consists of information which has been compiled by the Texas Education Agency, the state agency responsible for administering public elementary and secondary programs in the state. It is an agency-developed statistical performance summary of district and campus-level information which was previously sent to T.E.A. by the school district.

The third part of the report contains locally developed statistical information, and included in this section are: achievement test results, school drop-out rates, school disciplinary activities, instructional costs per student and classroom size.

After approving the performance report, the trustees approved the appointments of Walter Spiller, Alfredo Enriquez, Randy Branch, Brian May, Tony Sanchez, Billy Tom Turland, and Ortenia Rodriguez to the district's vocational advisory committee.

Informational reports concerning the district's special education program and participation in University Interscholastic League activities were also given by principals Walter Spiller, Sherry Scott, Jack Probst, and Jim Payne during the meeting.

Three wins for locals

By Lisa Colin

The JV boys and Varsity teams competed against the McCamey Badgers last week. All of the games resulted in wins for the Lions and Lady Lions.

In the first game of the evening, the JV boys defeated McCamey 67-46. Ozona leaped ahead during the first quarter and remained ahead throughout the game outscoring McCamey three of the four quarters. Chris Denman led in scoring with a total of fourteen points with Javier Martinez following behind with eleven. Lalo Rodriguez contributed ten points and Oscar Galindo and George Ybarra each scored eight. Others contributing points were Pete Rameriz with five points, Robbie Tambunga and Roger Martinez with four, Sotero Fuentes with two, and Copie Davis with one.

The next game, the girls varsity game, resulted in an exciting competition between Ozona and their opponents. The Lady Lions took an early lead and at the end of the second quarter were leading 25-19. Then McCamey made a comeback and went on to tie the game 46-46 for the final score. The first overtime resulted in both teams scoring two points. In the second overtime, Ozona outscored their opponents 6-0. This led to a 54-48 victory in the final game for the Lady Lions this season. Kelly Williams scored thirteen points, followed by Stacy Lay with twelve and Lydia Pena with eleven points. Others contributing points for the Lady Lions were Adriane Wilson with seven and Vickie Reager and Vickie Flores both with five. Stacie Winkley also added one.

In the final game of the evening, the Varsity Lions totally demolished the Badgers 72-53. The Lions outplayed McCamey both offensively and defensively and held the lead throughout the game. Sam Hightower scored the majority of the points with nineteen with Scott Denman trailing behind with fifteen points. Abel Lara contributed ten points, and Danny Sanchez and Will Seahorn each scored six. Chi Flores, Oscar Payne, Derold Vargas, and Roger Flores each scored four.

Coaches to play Lions Club

A real grudge battle is brewing between the Ozona school coaches and the Lions Club. Their upcoming charity basketball game will be held at the high school gym beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Monday February 23.

Some Lions Club members are expecting a lopsided victory. A couple of Club members were allegedly heard saying, "those coaches could not win this game if the basket was ten foot in diameter and they used a tennis ball!"

The coaches expect to have no trouble winning the game this year either. "If the Lions Club has not paid off the officials again" the coaches allegedly said "and those guys are so bad we may have to let them play alone, a quarter, so they can get a point or two."

The game should be a lot of fun as always and who knows, half-time might be pretty interesting also. Proceeds will help the eyeglass fund as well as other Lions Club endeavors.

Local attends Japan opening

Bob Childress, current Chairman of the International Mohair Association has just returned from a one week trip to Japan. Mr. Childress, who is also a Past President of the Mohair Council of America, was joined on the trip by Herman Moore, Brownwood, Texas rancher and Perry Bushong, Mountain Home, Texas rancher. Mr. Moore is a Past President of the Mohair Council and Mr. Bushong is the current President of the Council.

In addition to the IMA activities in Tokyo the Mohair Council representatives visited 16 major mohair users in Osaka, Kyoto and Nagoya. The group also visited several department and specialty stores. Survey results were that mohair products were prevalent and had good acceptance by consumers.

Justices attend meeting

The primary purpose of the trip was to attend the formal opening of the International Mohair Association's Tokyo office on February 3. The opening was notable due to a large attendance by the Japanese Fashion Press and most major mohair users in Japan.

Mr. Childress commented that Tokyo, like Paris, New York, Milan and London, is a leading center for Fashion Design. Young Japanese consumers are extremely fashion conscious with apparently unknown limits on spending for both traditional and contemporary fashions. He stated the IMA Tokyo office is charged with ensuring that mohair continues to be a desirable fiber with Japanese apparel manufacturers, retailers, and ultimately, consumers.

Ninety-four justices of the peace attended a 40-hour seminar Jan. 25-30 in Austin conducted by the Texas Justice Court Training Center headquartered at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. The seminars are held in compliance with Article 5972, Section B, of the Texas Revised Civil Statutes.

Topics covered include a review of the newly published revision of the Justice Court Deskbook, Civil Law, Code of Judicial Conduct, Attorney General's Opinions, the Texas Property Code, Disposition of Stolen Property, the Penal Code, Probable Cause, the new Criminal Rules of Evidence and Bond Setting.

Seahorn throws hat in ring for school board

Pon Seahorn, an Ozona native and vice president at Ozona National Bank, has announced his intention to run for trustee in the school board election, coming up April 4.

Pon said the community had done so much for him, he felt it was time to give something back to the community, and he feels he could best serve as a school board trustee.

Pon is a graduate of Ozona High School, class of 1966, and holds a BA degree in business from Southwest Texas State University, 1970. He has been involved in banking for the past 17 years, along with ranching interests. He moved his family back to Ozona in 1976.

He is married to the former Jill Martin of Nixon. They have two children, Terel, 14, and Will, 16, both students in Ozona High School.

Since returning to his hometown, Pon has been involved in MYF at the Methodist Church, 4-H work and is a member of the Crockett County Fair Association. He also served a stint on the Crockett County Hospital Board.

He is anxious to serve the youth of the community and work closely with the faculty and administration.

"AMERIKA" THE SILLY

By Edwin Feulner

What fools are saying is wrong with the ABC mini-series Amerika says a lot about what's really wrong with America.

Amerika is about life in the United States 10 years after it is conquered—with minimal bloodshed, apparently—by the Soviet Union. Despite heated opposition from U.S. liberals, Kremlin officials, the United Nations, and even some conservatives, ABC is scheduled to air the fourteen-and-a-half-hour production from February 15 through February 20.

A brief history is in order. In 1983 ABC aired a "docudrama," The Day After, about life after nuclear holocaust. It angered conservatives because it oversimplified things the way liberals generally do. Amerika was produced, some say, because ABC felt compelled to produce something to pacify the Right.

The Day After implied, for example, that any use of nuclear weapons would perforce lead to global holocaust, and wholly ignored what is behind America's nuclear deterrent: Moscow's desire to obtain across-the-board military superiority to further its expansionist designs.

It may be true, as the "peace" lobby constantly says, that Moscow doesn't want nuclear war any more than we do. But the occupation of Afghanistan is only the latest demonstration that the Kremlin still doesn't shrink from going all the way to genocide, carried out by the most grisly means, in pursuit of its expansionist ends. Soviet history since the 1917 revolution also shows that the Kremlin has no qualms about laying waste to scores of millions of its own citizens.

All that is in addition to the cultural genocide Moscow carries out wherever it extends its sway. "Culture" in any reasonable sense presupposes the freedoms guaranteed in the U.S. Bill of Rights—such things as freedom of speech and religion. The very essence of totalitarianism is not only its destruction of all basic freedoms, but also—and this distinguishes it from authoritarianism—its attempt to reshape the minds and spirits of its victims.

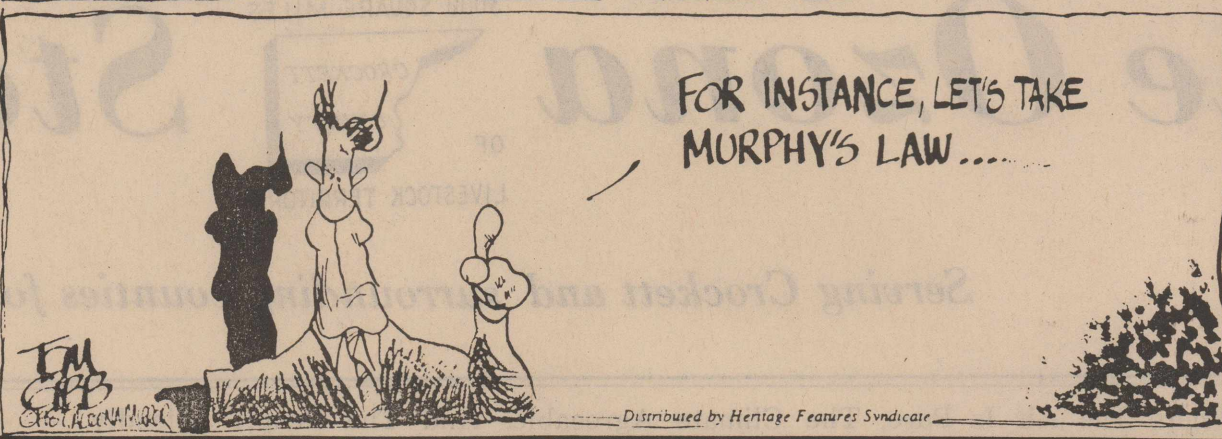

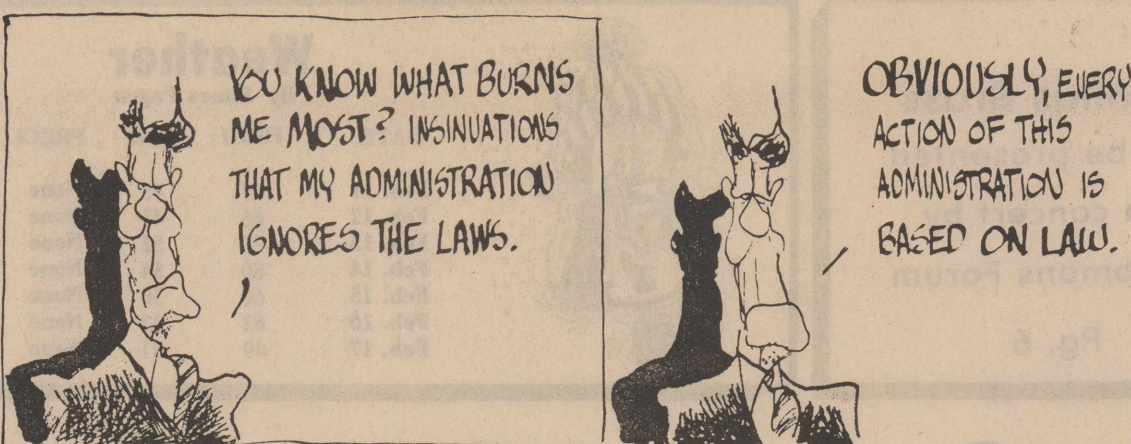

That's why, back when liberal had something to do with liberty liberals would have been the first to cheer on those trying to expose and ultimately defeat history's most vile form of tyranny. Today, as their rage over Amerika shows, they're more interested in opposing tyranny's opponents. One can easily enough understand the Soviet's unsuccessful attempt to intimidate ABC out of airing Amerika, but opposition from those who profit from the blessings of liberty is shameful, if no longer surprising.

Amerika's writer, director, and producer, Donald Wyre, says he was "a little dumb" in not anticipating the firestorm of outrage the show elicited from the Left. "I portrayed the Soviets in a much kinder light than historically they have articulated themselves in occupational circumstances," Wyre told The Washington Post. "I made a specific effort to portray them more generously than might have been possible."

Which is another illustration of the futility of trying to appease the Left. Indications so far are that Amerika will generate far more outrage from the Left than The Day After did from the Right. The conservative criticism of Amerika, based on preliminary showings, is based on what Wyre admits: the Soviets are portrayed as far nicer guys than they are. They're destroyed freedom in the show, but the population seems more bored than bitter and brutalized.

The real trouble with Amerika is this: With so many real-life examples of Soviet brutality around, it's wasteful and silly to resort to fiction. Why not docudramas portraying what the Soviets are doing right now in Afghanistan, for example? Things like bayoneting pregnant women, raping teenage girls and flinging them from helicopters, burning women and children alive, boobytrapping toys—these are only a few of the unspeakably vicious forms of terror the Soviets are using to terrorize and depopulate Afghanistan.

As usual, American liberals have things not only wrong, but topsy-turvy.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Feisty Gov. Bill Clements is swinging at Democrats like Davy Crockett swinging "Betsy" at the Alamo.

He must be having a ball. Every Democrat in the Legislature is attacking his plan to write a no-tax budget, and he waves a veto threat around in response like a broken rifle stock.

In the Senate last week, Democratic senators ranging from liberal Gonzalo Barrientos of Austin to conservative Bill Sims of San Angelo took turns giving the official Democratic response to Clements' budget proposals.

Not every Democrat is ready to vote for a tax hike. But lots of oxen are being gored, and the House and Senate leadership are wondering if they can muster the two-thirds in each chamber needed to override a veto.

Speaker Gib Lewis conceded that the Legislature might be hard-pressed to override the veto. The Republicans control over one-third of the House votes.

Bullock's Tax Reform
At week's end, Comptroller Bob Bullock introduced a tax reform plan to raise $3.3 billion by dropping the sales tax to 4.5 cents while expanding the sales tax base. Bullock is keeping his plan within Clements' financial perimeters, and so far, both sides are looking to Bullock for the answer.

If Bullock's plan fails, the Legislature may be facing the first partisan legislative bloodbath since reconstruction.

State Income Tax
He's not for it, but Comptroller Bob Bullock surprised everyone last week by telling the Legislature it may as well start talking at the merits of a state income tax.

Earlier, Treasurer Ann Richards told the Senate that unless lawmakers raise taxes, the Treasury will be broke by next year.

Clements criticized her for not telling him first and didn't give much credence to her prediction.

Rural Impact

Most legislators are reevaluating the proposed cuts to education, an alteration of the HB 72 reforms passed under White.

But surprisingly, Clements proposed cuts for the farm and ranch sector. Rural counties across Texas boosted Clements to his wide victory margin, but they didn't expect this.

This is in addition to the reduction Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower is likely to take on his budget.

Agriculture Cuts

The Senate's agriculture expert, Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, put his pencil to Clements' proposal to cut $26.1 million out of general government, and found that almost 95 percent, or $24.6 million will be trimmed out of five agricultural agencies.

Sims' Capitol office aide, Laure McLaughlin, confirmed that the sectors ranging from pest control to forestry are under the budget knife.

Legislation Filed

Lawmakers continued to file new bills:

- Speaker Lewis unveiled a new "War on Crime" package that may require a tax hike to address prisoner parole provisions and early release for good time.
- San Antonio GOP Sen. Cyndi Krier's bill would ban cigarette sales to anyone under age 18.
- Austin Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos' bill would require that victims and local law enforcement officers be notified when violent criminals are released on parole.

State of Judiciary

Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice John Hill gave his State of the Judiciary address to the Legislature last week and urged it to switch to a system of appointing judges, not electing them.

In a rare show of High Court politics, three of his fellow justices called a news conference after his speech to say that eight of the nine justices oppose Hill's plan.

Hill is rapped these days for politicizing the High Court and he stands alone on that issue. He apparently broke precedent by failing to contact the other justices about his speech.

Prisons Close

The Texas prison system kept its doors closed last week to new prisoners because of inmate overpopulation, and lawmakers scurried to advance a bill releasing some inmates early.

Attorney General Jim Mattox is appealing the deadline set by a federal court for Texas to show progress on the issue. Mattox said the state is acting in good faith to comply with orders.

Other Highlights

- Clements said he will seek President Reagan's support for a tariff on imported oil, and believes a reversal is possible.
- Texas Democrats got a little hot over the choice of Atlanta over Houston for the national party convention.
- Dallas Congressman John Bryant went so far as to call it "another outrageously stupid decision by the national Democratic Party leadership," meaning chairman Paul Kirk, a former Ted Kennedy aide.
- The Supreme Court expanded custody rights for fathers to children born out of wedlock, striking down the code that automatically grants all parental rights to the unwedded mother.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since our weather has caused the flowering shrubs and bulbs to be late blooming, why not try to design an exciting foliage arrangement for your home. They are long-lasting and don't try to conform to a stiff formality. It sets a style of its own, in the line, form color, and texture of living plants.

Before you begin to combine the plant material, identify the qualities that make a plant unique. Does it have a certain form or unexpected color, or a curiously textural leaf or a handsome line that will create a sense of flow within the composition? It's the interplay of mass and line and of color, form and texture that gives a foliage arrangement its grace and vitality.

Before you start collecting your material, you will need to give some thought to where the arrangement will be placed and how it will be seen. That will determine the size and the size determines the quality and character of the material you use. It needs to be in keeping with the general feeling of the arrangement of your room. The container needs to be heavy enough to keep the arrangement from tipping over, and large enough to hold a supply of water for several days. When all these have been determined, the most important thing to keep in mind is naturalism. To help you select the plants you need for a specific effect, refer to the lists below and there may be others in your garden.

Accent plant material - Cluster mahonia, fatsia, loquat (yellow edge California fruit).

Deciduous line material - crepe myrtle, flowering dogwood, corkscrew willow, red twig, flowering dogwood, winged elm, euonymus and pussy willow.

Evergreen line material - Horsetail, showy jasmine, thorny elaeagnus, willow leaf cotoneaster and Japanese yew.

February is a good time to take cuttings of spring flowering trees and shrubs to force into bloom indoors. Make cuttings 6 to 20 inches long and place them in water in a suitable container.

Good material for forcing include crabapple, red bud-saucer magnolia, forsythia, flowering quince, pussy willow and winter honeysuckle.

Womans League meets for Valentine Party Tuesday

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday night, February 10 in the home of Becky Childress for a Valentine party and salad supper. Assisting Mrs. Childress were hostesses Ann Childress and Barbara Malone. One third of the membership brought various salads and vegetable dishes which was followed with a lovely valentine dessert.

The meeting was called to order and the club's collect was read. Special guest speakers were introduced by Nancy Vannoy. Dena and David Porter then gave an entertaining and touching portrayal of "The Diary of Adam and Eve" which was definitely the highlight of the night. Secret pal gifts were exchanged and an announcement for the April 1 and 2 Screening Clinic was made as well as a list for volunteers was passed around to all members. The meeting was then adjourned.

Members present were Lee Allen, Sandy Baggett, Paula Bailey, Helen Bean, Tina Bean, Cynthia Berry, Tammy Bunger, Cathy Carson, Marilyn Chalmers, Ann Childress, Karen Childress, Becky Childress, Lou Deaton, Nancy Forehand, Sharon Forehand, Debbie Glasscock, Jeannine Henderson, Karen Huffman, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Carol Hunnicutt and Barbara Malone.

Also attending were Mary Jo Mason, Patti May, Susan McMullan, LuAnn Pierce, Jodi Sessom, Kay Stewart, Vickie Stokes, Carmen Sutton, Nancy Vannoy, Lisa Wagoner, Lou Whitley, Belinda Wilkins and Laurie Hale.

Impulse buying is a common and sometimes costly habit.

People who get down to the end of the month and don't know where their money went, or who frequently wonder why they bought certain things, may have been doing some impulse buying.

The first step in reducing impulse buying is to recognize the many temptations. For example, the attractive displays at the ends of aisles or near check-out counters may encourage last minute purchases.

Shopping from a list, whether it's for groceries, clothes or gifts, can be helpful in checking the impulse to buy. Even looking through catalogs at home may help prepare a shopper to go to the store with a specific purchase in mind.

Since groceries are a major purchase category, making sure all family members know how to shop for food wisely may reduce impulse spending. With the large number of employed women, more husbands and teenagers buy the family groceries, yet may not have as many shopping skills.

In some cases shoppers can slow down the purchase process to give themselves time to think before taking action. Before buying, ask questions such as "When will I use this?" "Where will I store this?" or "For the same money, would I rather have something else?" "If I buy this, what will I be unable to buy in the future?" For a major purchase, a consumer can make it a rule to "sleep on it" before buying. A good offer should be just as good the next day or an item should be as necessary 24 hours later as it is when you first consider it.

Consumers should also be aware of their mood when they shop. If you're tired, hungry or depressed, you may buy things that you don't really need. You might be better off postponing a shopping trip until you have rested or eaten a meal. One consumer study reports as much as 17 percent savings on grocery shopping just by eating before shopping.

Being in a hurry can also lead to poor purchase decisions so try to allow adequate time for making product comparisons. It also takes time to check for quality workmanship.

SALE! SALE Opening! FABULOUS CLEANUP

Isn't it rather ironic that some business people will get up in the morning... clean their teeth with an advertised brush and advertised toothpaste... wash with advertised soaps and shampoos... put on advertised underwear, innerwear, outerwear and footwear... sit at the breakfast table and eat advertised tea, coffee or orange juice... read an advertised newspaper... drive to work in an advertised car... answer calls on an advertised telephone system... and turn down a proposal to advertise on the grounds that advertising doesn't pay.

A View of the World Through The Word

By Ralph O. Moore, Minister
Ozona Church of Christ

Obedience is a thing that approaches extinction in our society. The word is still found in our language, but its reality is seldom found in our conduct. Perhaps there are many reasons for the demise of obedience. It is regarded as being a synonym of inferiority or weakness, and, of course, we prefer superiority and strength. It seems that obedience calls for a depth of conviction and behavior that very few people have today.

Have you seen the commercial on TV where a kid in a high chair is given his food and he throws it on the floor? First, he is seen "flying an airplane", then he is shown "driving a racing car." In both instances he dumps his food on the floor and delights in doing so. The commercial, at least to me, is a detestable advertisement sponsored by a carpet company, that, I'm sure, has given many parents an opportunity to clean the floor. It is also an encouragement to disobedience. The cute little boy and his devilish behavior is an apt portrayal of our society in many ways.

Obedience has been on the way out for some time. Modern brides insist on dropping the promise to "obey" their husband from the marriage vows citing, most often, that it is old-fashioned. Children think that they are immune to obedience at home, or anywhere else, on the grounds that this is not "The Dark Ages." The general populace has omitted the practice on the notion that defiance is a more suitable alternative. About the only school that is able to mention obedience and teach it is the dog training facilities, and, even there, there is a lot of barking and growling going on.

While the world suppresses the idea of obedience, the Word of God exalts it. Looking at the concept in Scripture, one finds a connotation of strength. The idea promulgated by the Word is that obedience is a desired conduct attached to one honoring his Maker.

The light of Scripture reveals that obedience is produced best by faith, not by fear. Faith serves as the quickening agent that enlivens obedience with practical persuasion, not embellishing it with crude authority. Jesus was obedient (Phil.2:8; Heb.5:8), yet He was Deity. The emptying of His divine right, and the projection of His submission, illustrates the truth that faith exalts. We would do well to touch the hem of His garment concerning obedience.

The link between faith and obedience is so intercrossed, in Scripture, that one cannot have the real substance of one without embracing the other. It's hand-in-glove: obedience wrapped in faith. Society's commentary that obedience is old-fashioned, out-dated, or too submissive is an admission that our faith is slipping.

The wife who is in subjection to her husband (Titus 2:5) is certainly not his inferior, but she is honoring God by her faithful life. The child who obeys his parents (Eph.6:1) is not just serving time as would a prisoner in jail, but he is following the example of Scripture. Employees who are obedient to the demands of their employer (Col.3:22) are not lower class citizens serving greater masters, they are simply living a relationship that God endorses. Citizens who are obedient to the laws of the land are not inferior pawns being manipulated by superior leaders, they are people responding to the Word of the King (Rom.13:1-7). Of course, in each of these examples, one's subjection to man ceases if their obedience to God is threatened (cf. Acts 5:29).

While the motif of obedience can be regally displayed in the home, the marketplace, and in the socio-political spectrum, it casts its greatest note in one's relationship to God. The Apostle Peter wrote to those who could "obey Jesus and be sprinkled with His blood," and thus be protected "through faith" (1 Pet.1:1,5). Turning from the world to Christ, all Christians are as "obedient children...holy...in all behavior" (1 Pet.1:14f).

Paul, the apostle, admonishes all saints to be obedient, not to sin resulting in death, but to God resulting in righteousness (Rom.6:16-18). It's only through obedient faith that one learns how to follow Christ, and following Christ makes one a leader.

Integrity

Who knows how much is riding on this handshake? Only the two men who have just made a commitment. Later, documents will be drawn up, details noted, the formal contract signed. That's good business—and it's the law. But right now, at this very moment, men who believe in each other's integrity have an agreement both will honor.

Nowhere in high school or college have we heard of a course in Integrity. Does that mean that something so important to our economic system isn't taught? Not in formal curricula.

Rather, it is taught in the home by parents who are people of integrity. Its teaching is reinforced at Church where religious beliefs mold the character of the children and adults. And its practice is encouraged daily in the marketplace by the example of those whose fundamental convictions make their handshake a bond of truth.

Directors under a hospital district by Bill Boswell

Last week, we talked about how the creation of a hospital district would not drastically raise taxes, how the voters have control of setting the maximum tax rate, and, to some extent, the size of the district's budget. Now, let's talk briefly about the hospital district's board of directors.

The first seven district board members are appointed by the commissioners' court as soon as the hospital district law is passed by the legislature. The appointed board will serve until the first elected board takes office. The first elected district board would probably take office in April, 1988. The normal term of office is two years.

A board member can file for reelection as many times as he/she desires and can serve as many terms as the voters approve. Hospital board members serve without pay. To qualify for a position on the ballot, a candidate must be at least 21 years old, a resident of the district, and a qualified voter. The candidate cannot be an employee of the district, which includes the care center and the hospital. Candidates must file petitions signed by 10 qualified voters with the secretary of the district 31 days prior to the election. The candidate must specify which of the seven places on the board that he/she wishes to fill. All places on the board are filled by at-large candidates, which means the candidate does not have to live in a particular precinct. There will be seven board members who are elected at-large for two year terms. The district members receive no compensation except for reimbursement of expenses incurred in performing board business.

Now, let's discuss a little about the powers and duties of the hospital district board. The board appoints the hospital administrator, and assistant administrator, and the hospital district's legal attorney. The board can appoint or remove medical staff members from the active medical staff. The board may adopt rules governing the operation of the hospital and staff. The board can recruit physicians and provide scholarships for medical related training.

The district board may accept donations to the district to hold in trust for any purpose prescribed in writing by the donor. In addition, the board is responsible for good general management and accounting procedures. The board may sue and be sued on behalf of the district. The board is responsible for preparing an annual budget and holding a public budget hearing. The district may not levy a tax greater than thirty-five cents per hundred dollar valuation. The board may, if authorized by a local election, issue and sell bonds to purchase, construct, repair, or remove buildings or equipment and to pay for improvements. The hospital district will assume title to all land, buildings, equipment and other assets used by the hospital and care center.

After the district is formed, the county can no longer levy taxes for hospital and care center support. This becomes the responsibility of the hospital district. The hospital district also assumes responsibility for providing medical care for the district's needy.

WTU's new power station will soon be on line! The Oklaunion Power Station near Vernon, Texas, will be WTU's first coal-powered plant.

A coal-powered plant was our best option back in the 70's when WTU first began planning for a new power station. At that time a new federal law known as the Fuel Use Act prohibited the use of oil or gas as boiler fuel for new utility plants.

Coal is still our best choice, especially over the long haul. The unlimited supply of clean-burning coal means more stable fuel prices and a continued reliable supply of electric energy for WTU customers.

Dallas brass concert to be presented by Womans Forum

The Ozona Womans Forum will present a concert on Sunday, March 1 by "The Dallas Brass." The concert is being held at the high school auditorium and will begin at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 and may be purchased from any Forum member or at the door.

The group was formed in 1982 by Michael Levin after being told there were thousands of weddings each year in Dallas that could use a musical group.

Though things were slow in the beginning, the group continued. Today they are a tribute to perseverance. The group was selected Ensemble-in-Residence at SMU in 1985 and are currently on their second national tour.

The content of the Dallas Brass program will touch many musical bases. With their innovative style and original arrangements, the group performs a multitude of musical styles from classical, to jazz, to pop, to rock, to ragtime. In concert, they provide something for everyone whether your favorite is Mozart, Paul Whiteman, or Lionel Richie.

For a delightful afternoon, make plans to attend the Dallas Brass concert on March 1.

Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Nellie Harp, Moriama Perez, Edna Wallace, Juana Hernandez, and Tomasa Ramos.

Residents left the company of beautyshop volunteers Lola Rios, Vivian Hughes, Lola Rios, Melinda Hokit, Joann Williamson, and Clara Byrd with uplifted spirits, Thursday morning. Their spirits were further uplifted after listening to Clara playing the piano and Clara B. Freeman playing the organ.

VALENTINE QUEEN-Theo Burns was crowned queen during the Care Center Valentine party Friday. She was selected by vote of the residents.

Charles Huffman of the Lutheran Church presented the mid-week Bible study. Ruby Olson played the piano and later treated the residents to homemade cookies.

An exceptionally large group of visitors attended the Spanish Hour of Praise, Thursday afternoon. Mass was conducted by Father Albert.

An elegant candy-filled heart was won by Emma Taylor in Friday morning's bingo. Moriama Perez won a loveable inflated heart. Other bingo prize winners were Tomasa Ramos, Theo Burns, Minnie Karr, Bertha Miller, and Alice Ross. Helpful volunteers were Dorothy Doll, Lillian Tambunga, and Ruth Hester.

This year's valentine sweetheart, Theo Burns, was crowned during our annual valentine party, Friday afternoon. Residents were served punch, homemade heart-shaped cookies, and delicious cupcakes by Marie Pierson, Dorothy Doll, Kathy Bortz, and Jonesy Williams. Thank you ladies for the delicious refreshments and a successful party.

Sunday worship service was presented by Carlos Venegas of the Templo Jerusalem Baptist Church.

School raises money for Tambungas

Using Valentine's Day as theme, the faculty and staff of Ozona Intermediate School are raising money to help the Renal Tambunga family with expenses. Mrs. Chila Tambunga is scheduled for kidney transplant surgery on February 26 in San Antonio.

Her daughter Shio is donating one of her kidneys to her mother. Renal Tambunga, her husband, has been one of the custodians for the Ozona Public Schools for over thirty years and has been at Ozona Intermediate for many of those years. He is devoted to the students and faculty of that school.

Each time a donation is made to the jar, a paper heart with the donor's name is hung on a tree in the lobby.

The aim is to cover the tree with hearts. The fund drive will continue through Wednesday, February 25, and any who wish to contribute may do so by coming to the Ozona Intermediate School office.

As an extra effort to help the cause, Coach Martha Sims sponsored a Basketball Shoot-out last week. Each child was allowed five chances to sink a basket. For each basket made, money was donated by Coach Sims in that student's name. Many of the teachers also participated by pledging money for each basket their individual classes made. Much fun was had by all, and each student had a chance to participate in the worthy cause.

AN EVENING WITH PAUL

the Apostle

John Witcher Young was born in San Angelo, Texas, and received a BFA degree in drama from the University of Texas and an MFA degree in playwriting from Carnegie Mellon University. For a period of four years he was director of theater at Texas Women's University and for two years at David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tennessee where he also taught oral interpretation of the Scriptures.

Mr. Young has written several plays having amateur productions and is now concentrating on writing Biblical plays for puppet and live stage productions.

For the past thirty years he has been a preacher while retaining his interest in drama through community theater groups. In 1978 he wrote and produced The Subversive, a play about the trial of Jesus before Pilate. Another of his religious one-act plays, Three Rats In A Maze has received nationwide productions in churches and in schools.

"I have chosen to devote the remaining years of my ministry to this kind of work because I believe that people of any faith can come together for a reading of the sacred text without comment or exegesis. It is the comments and exegesis that divide us," says Young, "not the text."

All of the words used are the actual words of Paul, taken from his writings as they are recorded in the New International Version, the King James Version, and the Revised Standard Version. Occasionally, the first person singular is substituted for the third person singular when Luke is recording Paul's actions.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I, along with my assistants Manuel Munoz and Ben Ross, would like to say THANK YOU to the fine people of Ozona. The Scouting for Food Program conducted February 7th and 14th was a great success! The Boy Scouts alone collected some 1300 cans of food. I understand the Cub Scouts of Ozona did just as well in their collections. This food will be distributed in Ozona to the needy.

This food drive would not have been as successful without the help of several people who helped with advertising. The Ozona Stockman and The Crockett County News along with KRCT and Circle Bar Cable Television gave all the free advertising I needed without question. I greatly appreciate these local businesses for helping.

I hope Ozona will take pride in their Scout Troop. Please thank the boys for all the work they have done and will do in the future for their community.

Thank you again for your support Ozona. If the troop can assist anyone, please let me know. We are always willing to help this great town.

Ray Don Myers, Scoutmaster
Ozona Boy Scout Troop #153

February 14 - A 21-year-old Boerne, Tx. man was arrested by THP for DWI. He was released the next day after posting a $500 bond.

February 15 - A 19-year-old Utah man and a 25-year-old Virginia woman were arrested by Sheriff's deputies for public intoxication and as suspects in a reported armed robbery. Investigation showed there was no armed robbery and the subjects laid out their fines for public intoxication.

INCIDENTS

February 13 - The Sheriff's office received a report of someone firing a rifle on Monterrey street at about 10 p.m. Sheriff's deputies investigated the incident and arrested a 38-year-old Ozona man on charges of reckless conduct. Bond was set at $2000 in this case and the suspect is still in jail.

February 15 - An Ozona citizen reported to Sheriff's deputies that he had been robbed at gunpoint by a Utah man who took over $120 from the victim. Sheriff's deputies investigated the case and arrested the suspect for investigation of the robbery. Further investigation revealed that no gun was involved and no robbery actually occurred. It turned out to be a drunken argument. The case was unfounded and the suspects were released.

February 16 - A 20-year-old Ozona man reported to Sheriff's deputies that he had been hit in the head with a teenagers from the self-destruction a lot of them seem bent on, and they need the backing of the community and especially the parents to accomplish this.

I have finally reached the age to start worrying about my grandchildren. I thought when the first one was born I would just have fun with her and leave the discipline up to the parents. However, after keeping her a few days last week on my own, I found this to be untrue. Alas, she begged for discipline just like all kids do.
