Kitty's Korner

I noticed in the Tuesday Standard Times a bill to allow a hospital district vote in Crockett County is well on its way to Bill Clements' desk to be signed into law. At the last Commissioners Court meeting the hospital administrator reported on a visit to Austin by he and County Attorney Tom Cameron to get the legislature moving on the bill. Also, they enlisted the assistance of Senator Bill Sims and Representative Gerald Geistweidt in this endeavor.

Apparently we will have this election which will amount to voting for a hospital district and another taxing entity, which would allow up to 35 cents on the $100 valuation to be managed by an elected hospital board. The only qualification to become a member of this board is to be a resident of Crockett County and have reached the age of 21 years. As far as we can tell, with very brief research, the hospital board member would not be required to own property in the district nor to know anything at all about the running of a hospital.

Presently the hospital is running in the red by $750,000 per year. (1986) The hospital is not utilized by the doctors nor the community. Almost every emergency ends with the Crockett County ambulance transporting the patient to a San Angelo facility. One local physician even works in San Angelo several days a week.

According to the present administrator, lifesaving equipment is badly needed along with a new X-ray machine. He believes a hospital district would allow these purchases to be made. He also believes another physician could be secured by the town if a hospital district came into being.

Statistics indicate this is not the case. Doctors have come and gone through the years, always leaving better off than when they came, and if appearances do not lie, physicians presently serving here are not exactly on the welfare rolls. Everybody is worried about the economy and rightly so, however, neither physician has indicated that a hospital district would improve their practices or improve the status of the hospital, much less secure a physician who would use or entice his patients to use the hospital facilities.

The hospital is a county hospital and administered by the commissioners court and the county officials. Through the years the court has approved numerous pieces of equipment which was supposed to improve the hospital. With ever more government intervention, the cost of running the hospital has seen astronomical increases year by year. Yet, proponents (and there are not many) of a hospital district say the court has kept them from purchasing the necessary equipment to run the hospital.

I have been covering the court for at least 25 years, and I have yet to hear them turn down a necessary purchase for the hospital. Advocates of a hospital district say the county would be forced to lower taxes in the event a hospital district is formed. This is not the case. Nowhere is it written that the county would be forced to lower county taxes to compensate for a hospital district tax. Have you ever heard of a governmental body lowering taxes? They say they lowered taxes when the appraisal district was formed and all property re-evaluated to reflect market price. True, they lowered the tax rate, but valuations on homes and property almost doubled, so although the tax rate was lower, taxes were being paid on increased values, and most taxes went up regardless of the lower rate.

I think, judging by other small hospitals, a hospital district will not make a bit of difference in the fate of the hospital. Many small hospitals have been forced to close the doors. The majority of these were operating under a hospital district.

However, I still have an open mind and I would be happy to listen to anyone who wants to try to convince

Lions head for state

By Lisa Collin

In the past week, the Ozona Lion basketball team has displayed the qualities of a very fine playing unit, attaining both the district and bi-district championships. This is the first time in five years that Ozona has been in the playoffs in any sport, and no one deserves this honor more than our hardworking varsity boys and Coach John Curry. As you can imagine, both the team and Coach Curry are quite pleased.

On Tuesday, the 24th, the Lions traveled to Rankin to face the Stanton Buffaloes for the district championship. Not only did the team travel to Rankin, but many townspeople went to support the boys in their endeavors. As soon as the first Ozona uniform appeared through the doorway, the crowd was on their feet cheering, as the Lions came out of the locker room ready and determined to give it their all.

The first quarter started off with a bang, both teams hoping for a victory. Unfortunately, Ozona had a slow start, and Stanton took advantage. The Lions struggled to recapture control from the Buffaloes, but to no avail with a 16-7 score in favor of their opponents at the end of the first quarter.

As the second quarter began, a realization of the importance of this game finally struck the Lions and a better played game had thus begun. Although the Lions played a much better game this quarter, they still trailed at the half 29-22.

The beginning of the second half started, and the crowd's encouragement never ceased. The Lions put on a tough show but could still not break the Buffaloes lead. At the end of the third quarter, Stanton still lead with a 41-33 margin and a desperate Ozona team was looking at all possible ways to win.

As the start of the final quarter came into view, a new, dominant Lion team appeared, cutting no slack to the Buffaloes whatsoever. Ozona destroyed their opponents again and again with a total of 24 points for the quarter while the Lion's strong-willed defense held Stanton to a seven point gain.

The final score of their match was 57-48 in a hard-earned district championship. Scott Denman led in scoring with 17, followed by Sam Hightower with 14, and Abel Lara with 10.

For the second game of the week, a better organized Lion team once again traveled to Rankin to compete against the Presidio Blue Devils for the bi-district championship. Also, many of the Ozona fans appeared again to cheer their team to victory.

In the first quarter, the Lions came out fired up and ready to play. This eagerness surprised the Blue Devils and Ozona jumped to an early lead 20-13.

The second quarter came and went with Ozona still on top 43-21 in a spectacular game. By the end of the first half, a confident Lion team was looking for a bi-district win and going on in the playoffs.

As the second half began, the Lions went on to widen their lead and at the end of the third quarter were ahead 58-44. The fourth quarter was once again phenomenal, and Ozona scored an astronomical 24 points going on to win 82-56. Leading in scoring were Scott Denman with 26, followed by Sam Hightower with 15, and Roger Flores with 10.

Coach Curry was ecstatic about these wins. "I'm really proud of the way the boys have played as a unit this year. There has been a lot of effort put out by the boys. They have played well as a unit, especially on defense, which held our opponents to 40 points per game in district play."

Ozona's next competition was against Coleman yesterday at Lakeview High School in San Angelo. At this time, the results are unknown, but if Ozona has defeated Coleman they will advance on to the regional tournament in Big Spring. This tournament will be played in the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum at Howard College on March 6 and 7. Possible opponents will be either Morton or Stratford. Game time is also not definite and is set tentatively at 6:00 or 8:00 Friday night.

Businesses close and change hands in Ozona

The failing economy caught up with the cafe business the past few months, and the cafe was forced to close Monday night.

Several other changes have taken place in the business community in Ozona over the past two months. Industrial Specialties and Supply, an oilfield supply store, closed in January. The store was located next to the Hiway Cafe downtown.

Freddie Nicks sold Nicks Chevron Station to Vance Worthington. The change will be effective March 16. Nicks and his wife, Pat, have no plans except to "take it easy" in the future. Weldon Nicks, who worked with his father-in-law, Cliff Williamson, in an oil-related business.

Randy Kilpatrick, who has been employed by Texas Oil and Gas for the past year or so, moved to Plano, Monday. He plans to find employment near his family, Reggie Quiett, who has been with the Soil Conservation Service here for several years, has been transferred to Balmorhea.

Locals listed for unclaimed money

The Texas State Treasury has about $80 million in unclaimed money, safe deposit boxes, oil royalties and stocks and bonds that it wants to return to about 100,000 Texans.

Sunday the annual list of names will be published in its entirety in a number of papers. However, the Ozona Stockman has obtained a copy and will publish the names listed under Ozona, as a service to its readers.

Owners of unclaimed accounts from Ozona, include Beulah Kay Baggett, Penn Baggett, Lloyd Beard, Tite Bishop, Malavan Blanton, Mary K. Brewer, James Brown, Wilma West Carson, John W. and Eileen Childress, Jennifer Collin, Lisa Collin, Crawford Garage, E.L. Dyer, Alonza Fielder, Belia Florez, Mary K. Friend, Melvin Hoffman, Donald P. Hoover, Billy Joe King, Mina M. Mayfield, Terri AcAlpin, Larry McMann, Tim McNulty, Robilen Miller, Alta Myers, Brenda Ann Ortiz, Sylvia Pena Alfaro, W.R. Prophet, George W. Scurra, and Kathy Smith.

The most common types of property reported to the Treasurer include dormant checking and savings accounts, uncashed money orders, cashiers checks and travelers checks; unclaimed insurance benefits, mineral royalties, abandoned safe deposit boxes, unused gift certificates, unclaimed security deposits, credit balances on dormant charge accounts, cash dividends and stocks.

The unclaimed money fund list was first published when Treasurer Ann Richards took office in 1983. Since that time, the State Treasury has returned 73 percent of all the money ever returned since the law took effect 26 years ago.

Persons who find their name on the list may reclaim their property by calling the State Treasury, toll free at 1-800-321-2274 or by writing to the State Treasury at PO Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Tx. 78711.

Quiett promoted and transferred

Reggie Quiett, Range Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Ozona, has been promoted to District Conservationist in Balmorhea. The promotion and transfer will become effective March 15.

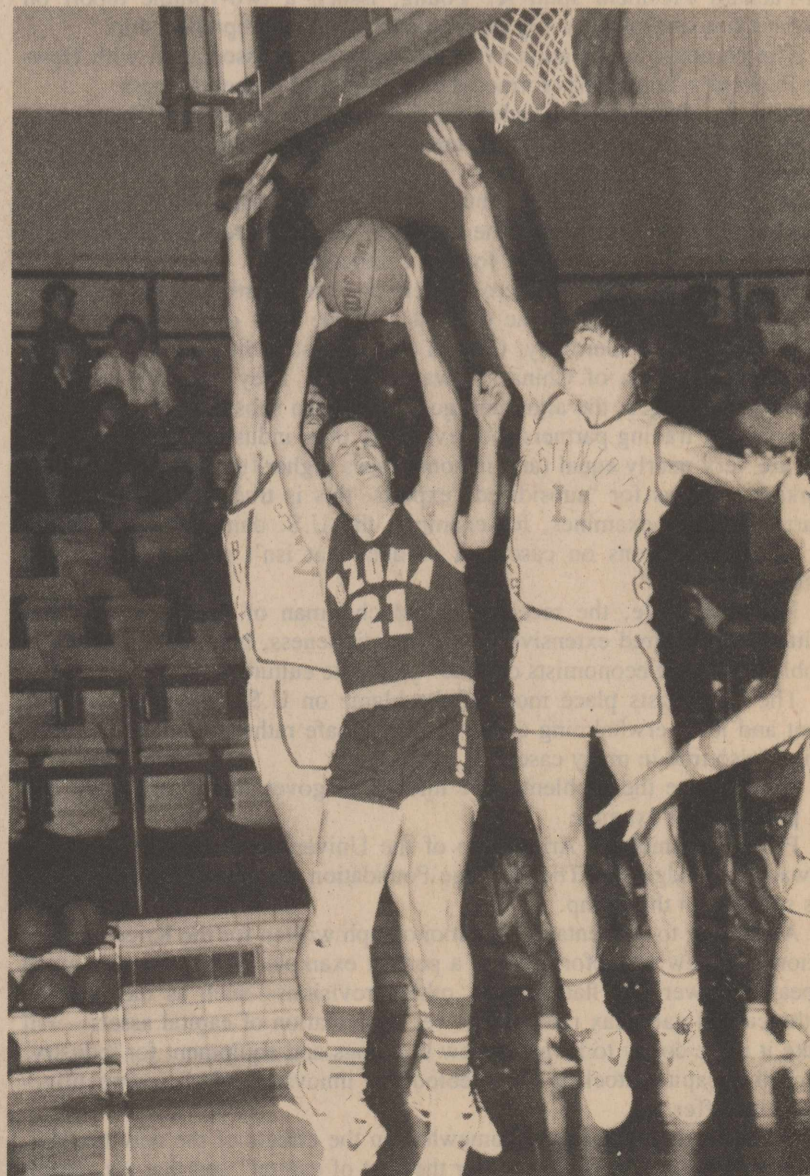

Reggie came to Ozona in January of 1982. As a staff member of the local Soil Conservation Service, Reggie has been instrumental in continuing and strengthening the range and wildlife management program of the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District.

"His activities in Crockett County have increased the District's ability to provide local ranchers with the professional services they deserve," says W.R. Baggett, Jr., chairman of the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District.

"With Reggie's help we have expanded our expertise in brush control, wildlife management and grazing management. His efforts have been tireless and we are most fortunate to have had his services for the past five years," Baggett said.

Reggie has been a very active supporter of various local organizations. As a member of the United Methodist Church he has served on various advisory boards. He is a member of the Extension Service Program Building Committee and has assisted in training 4-H youth Plant Identification and Range Evaluation teams. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge where he serves as their chief officer.

We wish Reggie all the best in his new position.

NEW BUZZWORD: COMPETITIVENESS

By Edwin Feulner

The new buzzword in Washington is "competitiveness." Just everybody, from the White House to the presidential hopefuls on the chicken and mashed-potatoes circuit, is talking about it. There is even a newly formed Congressional Competitiveness Caucus.

U.S. News and World Report chose the theme for its February 2 cover story: "America's Competitive Drive: Are We Losing it?" And President Ronald Reagan raised the issue in his State of the Union address.

Is there really something wrong here, or has Washington simply discovered a new national ailment to feed one of its all-too-familiar multi-billion-dollar bitter pills?

As columnist Chuck Conconi noted in the Washington Post the morning after the January 27 State of the Union address, competitiveness apparently is a convenient euphemism for trade protectionism. In other words, if the Asians are beating the pants off our textile industry, the problem, newly redefined, is U.S. competitiveness. Said Conconi, "In Washington it's not what any new catch phrase or word means that is important, it's how nicely it rolls across the tongue while obscuring the issue."

According to the competitiveness clique (the CCs), the issue is this: American businesses are unable to hold their own against foreign firms because they have lost their competitive edge. For this reason, say the CCs, U.S. exports are flat, imports are grabbing a growing share of the domestic market, and the trade deficit is skyrocketing.

Interest in U.S. competitiveness is not new. In December 1984, the President's Commission on Industrial Competitiveness, chaired by Hewlett-Packard President John A. Young, issued a two-volume report on Global Competition, focusing on productivity and entrepreneurship.

The National Association of Manufacturers, in association with Hewlett-Packard's Young, has formed the Council on Competitiveness.

And the Democratic Leadership Council, the midstream Democratic policy group that hopes to recapture the party from the left-wing fringe, has made this one of its priorities.

In other words, while the buzzword is new, many Americans have been keenly aware for some time that U.S. manufacturers are increasingly unable to duke it out with their foreign competitors.

So what's the problem? Here's where there is a parting of the ways.

According to many of the CCs, it's all the fault of our trading partners—Japan, West Germany, Canada (our largest trading partner, incidentally), the Republic of China (Taiwan), Korea. They not only pay their workers low wages, the argument goes, they also subsidize exports. Most of our major trading partners, however, pay their industrial workers wages that are very nearly equal (and in some cases higher) than those paid U.S. workers. And as for "subsidized" exports, this is true at times, but falls apart when one examines, for example, the U.S. dairy lobby's demand for trade restrictions on casein, a product that isn't even manufactured in the U.S.

Robert Kriebel, the recently retired chairman of Loctite Corp., has written and lectured extensively on competitiveness, blaming much of the problem on what economists call the "corporate culture."

The Kriebels place more of the blame on U.S. corporate management and its overwhelming desire to play it safe rather than take chances. This is also true in many cases.

Others trace the problem more directly to government; regulatory and tax policies, for example.

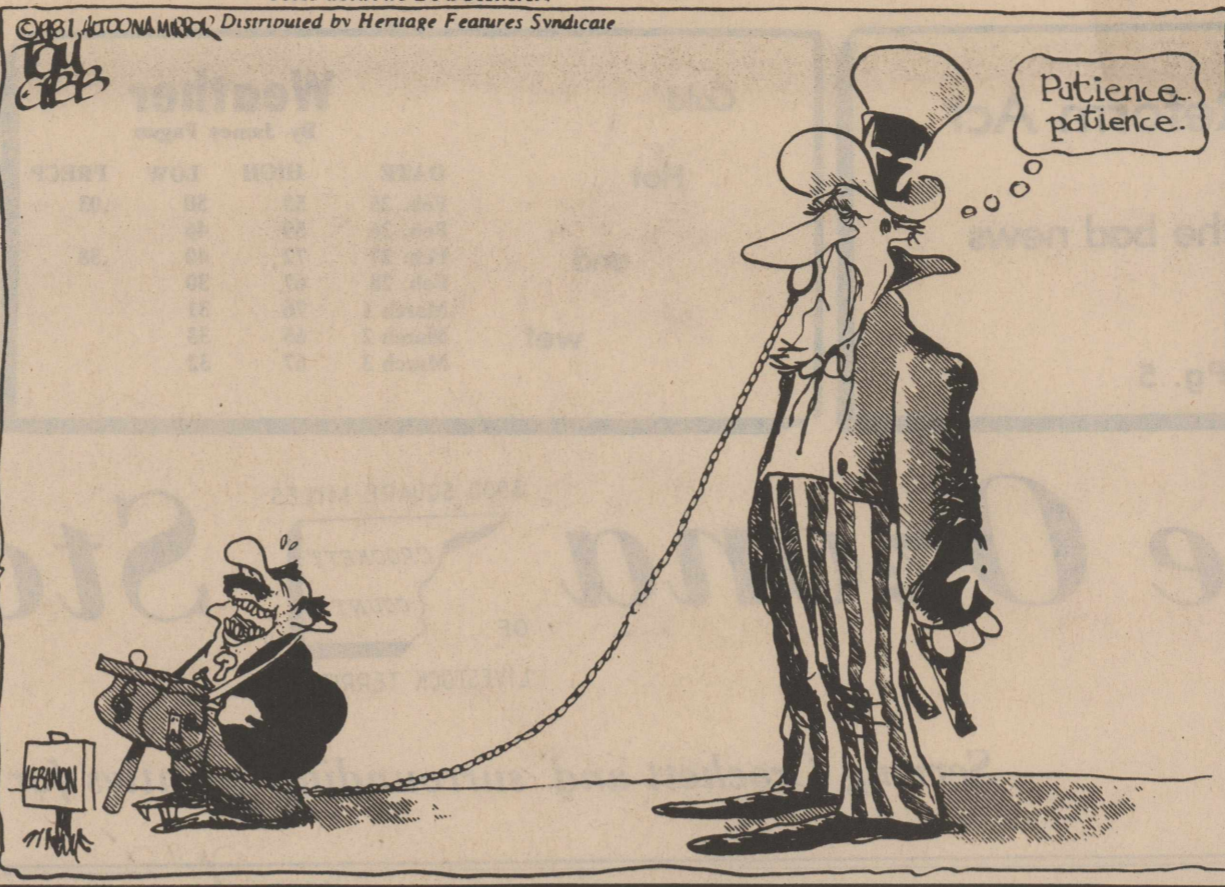

Prof. Dominick T. Armentano of the University of Hartford and Dr. Edward L. Hudgins of The Heritage Foundation are among the many serious scholars in this camp.

According to Armentano, in a monograph written for the Kriebel Foundation, the new tax-reform act is a perfect example. While there is much appeal to lower and flatter rates, other provisions—such as the increase in the capital-gains tax rate and slower depreciation of capital assets—will make it more costly to invest in new buildings and equipment for industry. Since this capital stock is the lifeblood of innovation, U.S. competitiveness will suffer.

While Hudgins disagrees somewhat on the effects of the new tax law, he agrees the U.S. needs to "lower the cost of capital" and that tax reform is the place to start.

You'll be hearing much more about competitiveness in the months ahead. Trying to sort out facts from fiction will be the real challenge.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Gov. Bill Clements lobbied Washington and lawmakers fine-tuned teacher testing last week while they waited for a legal green light on their $20 million emergency prison reform bill.

Their action diverts $32 million from the Highway Department to pay for prison reform and replenish the workers' compensation fund for state employees.

But until Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox says the diversion is constitutional, and until the federal court accepts the bill as adequate, lawmakers cannot move to complete the budget process early.

In past sessions, the budget was passed in the waning hours, but Gov. Clements said he wants lawmakers to act earlier this year. Last week, some predicted a special summer session would be needed to approve the budget, an idea which Speaker Gib Lewis nixed as too expensive.

Clements In Washington

Clements met with President Reagan last week to urge an oil import fee and build the multibillion dollar supercollider in Texas.

He also discussed those subjects and relations with Mexico with other White House and Department of Energy officials.

And in a meeting with the Texas congressional delegation, he advised them to let DOE pick a Texas site and then pull together to push it through Congress.

Test Abolished

On the same day with no debate, the House and Senate voted to abolish subject competency tests for teachers, one of two tests for teachers required under the controversial HB 72 reform package.

The governor is expected to sign the bill and no change looms yet in the basic skills test requirement.

First Clements Defeat

While he was in Washington, the state Senate handed Clements his first legislative defeat by voting 18-12 to trash a bill giving him more budget control.

The vote reversed the Senate's approval of the issue during last summer's special session, and some thought that Clements' proposed cuts to education caused second thoughts.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby pronounced the bill dead for the session, but Clements predicted the issue would resurrect "like Lazarus."

Brews, "Road Warriors"

A bill banning open alcoholic beverage containers for automobile drivers was introduced by Rep. Bill Blackwood, R-Mesquite.

The penalty for getting caught—being seen taking a drink or getting stopped with a cold brew on the floorboard—would be a ticket with a fine up to $200.

Batting for new Railroad Commissioner John Sharp, lawmakers filed legislation to keep "road warriors," or unsafe truck drivers, off Texas highways.

The bill brings Texas into compliance with federal law and regulates interstate truckers. Texas has the highest truck traffic in the nation.

Pay Raise to Charity

Congressman Beau Boulter announced that he has begun the search for charities in the 13th Congressional District to which he will donate his recently-enacted $12,000 pay raise.

"Congress pulled a fast one on the people in allowing the pay increase to take effect," Boulter said. "I can not, with a clear conscience, accept it," the GOP lawmaker said. "Rather than give the money back to the government to spend on programs I oppose, my wife and I want to give it to people in the district who truly need it and will use it for good purposes."

Other Highlights

- A Houston federal judge okayed a consent decree which opens hundreds of Department of Corrections jobs to women.

- Gov. Clements, attending a National Governors' Conference meeting, voted for resolutions to raise the highway speed limit to 65 mph in rural areas and to require welfare recipients to work for their benefits.

- The governor's appointee to the State Aircraft Pooling Board, Jim Kaster, said selling former Gov. Mark White's jet would be a bad deal for the state. He said the aircraft would now sell for less than one-third its original cost.

During the '86 campaign, Clements turned the expensive jet into a symbol of White's big spending.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club

by Mrs. Bailey Post

Throughout the South spring unfolds during March. Beginning in the southern-most areas, the colors of spring rapidly spread northward as fruit trees, forsythia, redbud, daffodils and other bulbs, violets, and many ornamentals come into bloom.

You may think winter is really over but very few years get by without a severe freeze or two in March and April.

With days getting longer, gardening activities increase. Especially now if we don't have more rain. Do try to avoid fires getting started by getting rid of dried weeds and grass. The safest way is to collect the refuse and have it ready for the county pick up in the near future.

Here are some reminders for Spring:

*Remove mistletoe from trees now, for it shows up well against bare branches.

*Water shrubs, trees, lawns and especially newly planted plants, if no needed moisture comes our way.

*Plant cool season grasses before the weather warms too much.

*Fertilize established cool season grasses early this month.

*Prune figs and other fruit trees if you haven't done so already.

*Summer flowering perennials should be divided and replanted before new growth is very far advanced. These include candy tuft, phlox, daisy, hollyhocks, poppies and others.

*Watch for early insects on pansies and roses as well as other plants.

HEALTHY COUPLE RELATIONSHIPS

Lack of communication skills is a problem common to many couples - even those married for a number of years. Yet a healthy couple relationship requires sharing feelings as well as words.

Couples who communicate on a feeling level as well as a verbal level use many non-threatening techniques to get in touch with their own and their partner's feelings.

Talking about feelings is always a risk. Partners risk confrontation, accusations about being unfeeling, or intruding into one's privacy. Yet intimacy is built upon risk, and the rewards of taking that risk can be enormous.

Intimacy is an aspect of relationships that may be learned and shared. In our culture however, many men have not been encouraged to develop this side of themselves. Many wives will say, "He's a wonderful provider, a good father and always faithful, but..." Then she indicates he cannot talk or show feelings.

Humor is another sign of good couple communication. There can be a right and a wrong time to use humor and a spouse may not always be receptive to it. However, a few good laughs together can break a lot of tension.

Couples who share their feelings begin to become friends, not just spouses. Because marriages often begin with a sexual attraction rather than friendship, some couples never become good friends.

Being a good friend means being able to share ideas, activities and feelings without being owned or judged. Even couples who develop friendship find that life is not always smooth, but communication skills help.

A View of the World Through The Word

By Ralph O. Moore, Minister

SPIRITUAL FREE-LANCERS

Many writers and artists are free-lancers. Rather than working for someone or some organization, they work alone selling their product to any who will buy it. A growing number of people called "consultants" join in on the art of free-lancing plying their professional talents to the highest bidder. Free-lancing does offer some advantages over other work arrangements. Among these advantages, independence, unorthodoxy, and opportunity seem to enjoy prominence.

A large number of people are spiritual free-lancers. The reasons they give for following this spiritual lifestyle coincide with those given by their secular counterparts. These spiritual loners are tired of the confusion generated by organized religion and they seek to serve God in their own way. In their quest for God they pursue independence. They want to avoid rigid organization and experience. Their motives are admirable, but their methods often run contrary to the expressed will of Christ.

Take freedom for instance. The free-lancer, whether secular or spiritual, marches to his own drum beat. No one can confine him to a schedule or program. Independence is his treasure. That thought is noble, and Jesus did, indeed, set one free, not only from the bondage of sin (John 8:34-36), but also from the bondage to human ordinances (Gal.5:1). The Word binds one only to God.

But the freedom that one enjoys in Christ must also be shared with others who attach themselves to Him. No one has exclusive rights to God. Jesus prayed that His followers be "one" (John 17:20f). That spiritual union manifests itself in the church, the body of Christ (1 Cor.12:12ff).

The cherished freedom found in Christ must be used to serve Him - and His people. Desiring freedom is a natural response, but one must not use it selfishly or wrongfully (1 Pet.2:16). The free-lancer can have his freedom in Christ, but he will hear the Master say, A freedom found is a freedom shared.

The free-lancer is repulsed by organization. The routine and rigid formalism of many churches turns him off to religion. A common cry of many seeking Jesus is, "Christ, yes - Church, no."

The Pharisees of old, by their self righteousness and straight-laced rules, made people miserable. Jesus rebuked them soundly, and demonstrated that God's way was simple and loving. As the body responds to its head, the disciples respond to Christ (Col.1:18).

The free-lancer is an adventurer. He wants no part in the dullness produced by routine and orthodoxy. Many sincere people set out to follow Christ through His Word, but get discouraged when organized religion shackles them to boredom through monotonous repetitions.

The first century church was alive, awake, and adventurous. Christianity was exciting. Disciples of Christ lived on the cutting edge of history and took Christ to the world. Read the book of Acts and feel the pulse of the church of Christ.

The longings of the free-lancers are legitimate concerns of those seeking Christ. These attitudes can be realized in the church as God ordained it. Our motive today must be to serve God and Him alone. Walking by the Word of God, one will find the same freedom, divine planning, and adventure as those in the early church. So be it!

A HIGH DENSITY LIGHT was installed last week to come on at sundown and click off at sunup. Focused on the all-weather flag and the Davy Crockett statue, the flags will stay up day and night. Drilling holes in the frame to allow water to escape is Doug Meador of the Water District and assisted by Charlie Ramos, employee.

Methodists to show film series on family

The Education Committee of the Ozona United Methodist Church is pleased to announce the showing of the film series "Turn Your Heart Toward Home" - Dr. James Dobson's latest film series on the vital issue of family relationships. Over 50 million parents were inspired by the Dobson's first film series, "Focus on the Family" and the Dobson's have taken the next dramatic step with this most powerful six-part series that will move parents into action, and Christian commitment within the family.

"Turn Your Heart Toward Home" begins at the Ozona United Methodist Church on Monday evening, March 9 from 5:30 - 6:30 p.m. (nursery provided) with the first in the series entitled "A Father Looks Back" - emphasizing how swiftly time passes and appeals to all parents to "turn their hearts toward home" during the all important child-rearing years.

As the series continues issues are confronted from early childhood battlegrounds such as mealtime and bedtime to the all important adolescent years.

Dr. Dobson, America's most trusted family life expert, brings to focus the all important idea of the vital Christian family in today's rapidly changing world. The series deals with pressures that today's parents and children are forced to confront and portrays ways to counterbalance this struggle by a loving, Christian home. This is a personally challenging film series that every parent should see.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend this important film series. A free will offering will be taken to help defray the cost.

Baptists to present McEntire-Luchsinger

The First Baptist Church will host special guests Paul Luchsinger and his wife, Susie McEntire Luchsinger, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Susie, sister of Reba McEntire will be singing in concert. Paul, a P.R.C. A. cowboy will be presenting the gospel in testimony.

Before 1984 the Luchsingers led a hectic marriage, meeting only when their schedules allowed. Susie was touring with Reba, and Paul was competing successfully with the P.R.C.A. rodeo. Then in July 1984, they totally committed themselves to God. Part of that commitment was Susie's decision to sing to glorify God.

The Luchsingers tie their gospel ministry in with rodeos all over the United States, but sharing their commitment to the Lord through their testimony and songs is one of their primary goals.

Landscaping is project for auxiliary

The Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary's project for this year will be to replace some plants and redo the landscaping at the Care Center. The County has already helped us by pruning the large trees and digging up large plants and shrubs that will be replaced. Scherz Nursery has drawn us a plan which we have on display at the Care Center.

If there are any organizations, groups or individuals who would like to help us by donating plants, money or physical labor - it would be greatly appreciated. This would be a great place for a memorial tree, rose garden or outside sitting area.

Worth 98¢ Plus

An insurance agent is an interesting person. He will sell only so much insurance for your auto or house or business. But he will sell all the life insurance you can afford for yourself, your spouse, and all members of your family.

Now, he's a business man. He knows that an auto or house is worth only so much, and its worth can be calculated almost to the dollar.

But not so with the human being! No calculation can determine the worth of a person. No price is too great; no sacrifice too severe for one individual life.

Someone calculated years ago that "the human body contains:

- enough lime to white wash a chicken coop;
- enough fat to make two bars of soap;
- enough potassium to set off a toy cannon;
- enough sulfur to rid a dog of fleas;
- enough iron to make a twelve penny nail;
- enough phosphorous to tip a box of matches;
- enough gases to fill a few jars,
- and the rest is water.

Total worth at pre-inflation prices: 98 cents"

But we, along with the insurance agent, know better. We are created in God's image. Dust, yes, but dust that's been in Divine Hands.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son..." (John 3:16)

Immigration law explained at meet

A large crowd of persons for the most part in agriculture were on hand at the Civic Center Thursday evening to hear explanations on the new Immigration Reform Act. Most agree with Senator Phil Gramm, about it being a "bad law," but it is the law and must be complied with.

For a melinium Crockett County ranchers have depended on illegal aliens to work on ranches. Commonly known as "wets" it is traditional for them to cross the river and seek employment on ranches. Heretofore, it was not illegal for a rancher to work these people. Indeed, it was expected, since ranch help this side of the border was impossible to find.

Under the new act employers should ask for and make copies of documents presented for all employees hired since Nov. 6, 1986. Applicants should not be hired without proper documentation.

As far as agricultural employees are concerned; It is illegal to knowingly hire, recruit or refer for a fee any person not authorized to work in this country. There are stiff penalties for violators. All employers are affected regardless of size or number of workers.

Employers must inspect documents and attest to the legal right to work of every person hired. There are penalties for employers who do not comply with this paperwork requirement even if no illegal aliens are employed.

Most agricultural workers will be able to attain legal status. Workers can obtain temporary resident status and, after two years, become permanent residents if they can show they have worked 90 or more man-days in producing and harvesting perishable agricultural commodities during the year beginning May 1, 1985. Those who have worked 90 man-days in the same capacity in each of the three years ending May 1, 1984, 1985 and 1986 may become residents after one year. The number allowed permanent status under the three-year consecutive years of work provision is limited to 350,000. Once either group has obtained permanent status, however, they have no obligation to continue to work in agriculture.

Anyone who can show continual residence since Jan. 1, 1982, can be granted temporary status for 18 months and may be granted permanent status after that period.

Any of the following documents or combination of documents are proof of resident status as set forth in the law:

A U.S. passport, certificate of U.S. citizenship, certificate of naturalization, resident alien card or other alien registration card with photo that is evidence of authorization to work, a current foreign passport with a current endorsement allowing the applicant to work in the U.S., Social Security card and a driver's license or other identification card with photo issued by the state, or U.S. birth certificate or birth certificate which establishes U.S. nationality at birth and a driver's license or other state-issued identification card with photo.

Employers who knowingly hire unauthorized aliens can be fined between $250 and $2,000 for each such employee for a first offense.

The second violation carries a fine of $2,000 to $5,000 per employee found in violation, and fines range from $3,000 to $10,000 per offense after more than two previous citations.

If the attorney general rules that an employer is engaging in a pattern or practice of violations, that employer may face criminal charges which carry fines or jail sentences.

No citations will be issued through March 1987. After March, 1987, all violations are subject to the full measure of the law.

The new law also addresses workers employed through a labor contractor. If a rancher knows the employees are not authorized to work in the U.S., he is considered to be the one doing the hiring. Any sanctions imposed will be against the rancher.

Employers who do not adhere to the documentation requirements also may be fined. The law mandates employers to maintain a record keeping system that verifies they have examined documents presented. Employers may photocopy the documentation. Those employers found in violation shall be fined between $100 and $1,000 for each individual in violation.

Dallas Brass concert gets excellent marks

The Dallas Brass presented a community concert in the high school auditorium here Sunday, under the sponsorship of the Ozona Womans Forum. A nice crowd was on hand for the two-hour program presented by six young musicians from Dallas.

The musical styles ranged from Mozart to Copland and from Benny Goodman to Lionel Richie. The audience was enthralled with the presentation.

The ensemble includes Wiff Rudd, trumpet, who holds degrees from Baylor and Northern Colorado University. Teaching at Oklahoma Baptist University, he was a regular with the Oklahoma Symphony and is the only native Texan in the group.

Michael Levin, trombone, is the founder and inspiration for the group. He is a graduate of Juilliard. A principal with the Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra, he was director of its brass ensemble. He is a native of Minneapolis.

Tim Anderson, trumpet, is a graduate of Nebraska and Indiana, where he was soloist with the Lincoln and Omaha symphonies. He is a Nebraska native.

Alex Shuhan, on the horn, is an Eastman graduate. He played with the Dallas Ballet and Dallas Symphony orchestras and is a native of New Jersey.

Gary Carper, tuba, studied at North Texas State University. He has been with Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians, Alexander's Ragtime Band and the Dallas Cowboys Band.

Rob Ward of Oklahoma City is the youngest of the group and is a very fine drummer.

State to let contract for seal coating

A contract for seal coating 202 miles of highways in 13 central West Texas counties has been awarded by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

Seal coating consists of applying thin coatings of asphalt and rock to the pavement. This process provides some added skid resistance and protects the highway from deterioration by sealing cracks in the surface.

In a way, this tar-and-gravel application acts like a new roof to protect the highway and its foundation. Water seeping into the road base, freezing and thawing, and the effects of traffic eventually lead to the creation of potholes.

Strain Brother, Inc. of San Angelo received the contract on a low bid of $1,842,959.41. According to a rule of thumb worked out by the Federal Highway Administration, the work will generate the equivalent of 43 fulltime jobs during the life of the contract.

Dan Gower of San Angelo is the highway department's engineer in charge of the work.

Highway sections to be improved in Crockett County include Interstate 10 from US 290 to one mile east of Howard Draw.

me a hospital district would save the hospital. The commissioners court has indicated they are going to see to it the people in this community have adequate medical care. I think we should hold them to it. What's the point in having two taxing units telling us the more money we throw at it, the better medical care we are going to have. If we tore down this hospital today, built a new one and equipped it with the finest equipment money could buy, would the people use the hospital? Probably not.

Silver bullet bass classic to be held April 4-5 in San Angelo

Thirty fishermen will share in a $25,000 pot at the conclusion of the Silver Bullet Bass Classic slated for April 4-5 and someone will drive away from the event with a $9,000 fish and ski boat and custom drive-on trailer donated by Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of San Angelo.

The bass tournament, sponsored by Coors of San Angelo, will pay $10,000 to the fisherman who brings in a maximum of four large-mouth, small-mouth and/or Kentucky spotted bass (black bass) with the greatest total weight.

Second place prize money is $5,000; third is $2,500; fourth is $1,500 and fifth is $1,000. Winners of places six through 30 will receive $200 each. Tournament lakes include San Angelo's three lakes, Lake Spence near Robert Lee and the Ballinger Municipal Lake.

Entry fee will be $100, which entitles the entrant to fish either on both days of the tournament. Specific rules, deadlines for entries and other tournament information is available at West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

3001 South Jackson, San Angelo, Texas 76904 or 4-D Distributing Co. (Coors of San Angelo), 1821 Industrial Avenue, San Angelo, Texas 76904.

The 15-foot Phantom boat donated by Coca-Cola has a 70 horsepower Evinrude outboard motor with tilt-trim, Hummingbird depth finder, Minnkota trolling motor and custom drive-on trailer.

A $1 donation - which will go to West Texas Rehabilitation Center - is all that's required to be eligible for the drawing to be held April 5 at the Goodfellow Recreation Camp at Lake Nasworthy, headquarters for the Silver Bullet Bass Classic. Tickets are available in San Angelo at Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Coors of San Angelo and West Texas Rehabilitation Center. You do not have to be entered in the bass tournament to win the boat.

"This is the second year Coors and Coca-Cola have joined together to make this an exciting tournament," said Coors spokesman Brent Scott. "The $9,000 boat and trailer combined with the $25,000 guaranteed prize money to be given to tournament winners should appeal to hundreds of fishermen - and make this even profitable for West Texas Rehabilitation Center, which is why we're having it."

West Texas Rehab Center is a private, nonprofit outpatient treatment program which provides rehabilitation services to approximately 11,000 handicapped children and adults of the Southwest through its facilities in San Angelo and Abilene.

Afghans of all different colors and designs were worked on in Tuesday afternoon's crocheting circle.

Wednesday morning's ceramic work shop was assisted by Ruth Hester and Mattie Cooper. Residents attending were Juana Hernandez, Moriama Perez, Doris Robnett, Tomas Ramos, Hazel McDaniel, and Theo Burns. Pieces ranging from cups to rabbits were worked on.

Residents started Thursday off by getting their hair styled by volunteers Vivian Hughes, Clara Byrd and Melinda Hokit.

Next Clara and Clara B. Freeman entertained them with beautiful piano and organ music.

Charles Huffman of the Lutheran Church presented the mid-week Bible study Thursday afternoon. Ruby Olson played the piano and residents were delighted to see Marie Walker among the visitors.

Immediately following the mid-week Bible study, Father Albert conducted Mass during the weekly Spanish Hour of Praise. Herberto Gutierrez played the guitar and a large number of visitors joined residents in the singing of hymns.

Thursday's activities were ended on a good note by the Bob Bell Band. Band members present were John Babb, Bob Bell, George Hester, Randy Kilpatrick, and guest singers Clare Babb and Joannie Hernandez. After a year of persuasion, Randy finally stepped before the microphone and sang. He was great.

Friday morning's bingo was assisted by volunteers Mattie Cooper and Melinda Hokit. Prize winners were Samuel Martinez, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Virginia Hoover, Edna Wallace, Emma Taylor, Minnie Karr, Rebekah West, and Theo Burns. Popcorn was served.

Sunday worship service was presented by Ken Harrison of the United Methodist Church.

We would like to thank the volunteers and the Bob Bell Band for making this week an enjoyable one. We appreciate the time you share with us.

Dear Kitty,
T-Ball season is coming up. Would you consider running this as a reminder to the parents & coaches.

Thank you

HE'S JUST A LITTLE BOY

He stands at the plate with his heart pounding fast;

The bases are loaded; the die has been cast.

Mom and Dad cannot help him; he stands all alone.

A hit at this moment would send the team home.

The ball nears the plate; he swings and he misses.

There's a groan from the crowd, with some boos and hisses.

A thoughtless voice cries, "Strike out the bum!"

Tears fill his eyes; the game's no longer fun.

Remember-he's just a little boy who stands all alone.

So open your heart and give him a break.

For it's moments like this a man you can make.

Keep this in mind when you hear someone forget.

He's just a little boy, not a man yet.

(The above Ann Landers column was re-printed from the Feb. 21 edition of the Standard Times)

February 27, 1987

Dear Editor:

As you know, the Texas Legislature in its 70th Regular Session is facing some of the most difficult decisions it has faced since the Depression - budget deficits, insurance and tort reforms, possible restructuring of the state's tax base, just to name a few.

In trying to keep the voters of the 25th Senatorial District aware of the issues I think are significant, I am beginning this week to write a weekly or bi-weekly column that hopefully will be of interest to you and your readership. In it, I will try to explain some of the political history of issues that have come before the Legislature during the week, what is expected to come up soon, and issues of sustained interest during the session and beyond.

This week I have had to send you a press release, but I hope to be able to send you a camera-ready, column-type release in the future. I hope you will find it timely, informative and of general interest. As always, please feel free to contact me if there's anything I can do for you.

Sincerely,
Bill Sims

May I help you Mrs. Stark

As a local beautician I was somewhat dismayed by Sandra Hancock Stark's column titled "A Trim, Anyone?" I suppose the words "beauty shop" do conjure up "Cinderella-like fantasies" and so in light of this perhaps "beautyshop" is a misnomer. However, it is much more convenient for the yellow pages to list our profession under "beauty shops" than under "Make the Most of What the Good Lord Gave Us and Hope for the Best Shop."

Alas, I am but a humble beautician not a magician and so, as you stated Ms. Stark, cannot perform miracles; however, I can offer you the utmost in cooperation! In light of this, Ms. Stark, I offer you the following challenge:

Come spring, when you feel the need of another "trim", bring your "cutting code", your crumpled picture and your high expectations to me at Better Trims. If I fall short of your expectations and you are not pleased, there will be no charge!

In closing, please remember, beauty is in the eyes of the beholder, not in the hands of the beautician.
Billy Tom Turland

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED-Mr. and Mrs. Rosalio Longoria announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cristela, to Robert Pena, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruperto Pena of Rocksprings. The bride-elect is a graduate of Ozona High School and is employed by Southwest Texas Telephone Company and U.D.P., Inc. in Rocksprings. Her fiancé is a graduate of Rockspring High School and is employed in a family-owned business, Pena & Sons. The couple plan an April 4 wedding at Templo Bautista Jerusalem in Ozona. They will make their home in Rocksprings.

Aycock to speak on poison gas

Bobby Aycock will discuss the dangers of H2S gas at the Lions Club meeting at noon on March 5. Bobby has been trained to deal with that lethal gas. He will cover the hazards the gas can create, such as the case recently when I-10 was closed.

Louise Ledoux informed the Lions in their February 26 meeting about the tremendous resources that are available through our library. She reported that not only are all kinds of books available but so are films, equipment, meeting rooms, and many other services.

The Club heard moans and groans from some of the players in the recent basketball game. It seems the game was a great success in spite of the many strained muscles the players complained of.

No segment of the economy has ever been challenged to change so fast and so completely as has the new agriculture. Never in American history have so many innovations been adopted in such a short time. When these changes have required capital, your Federal Land Bank Association has been a primary source of funds. We recognize the inevitability of change - except in the importance of the man and the land. We also believe that a free agriculture - based on the family farm - will continue to flourish in any new environment

Friday rain soaks Ozona

The first fury of spring was felt in Ozona Friday when a rapidly moving front hit town with high winds and heavy rain at mid-afternoon.

Sheets of rain fell horizontally, whipped by the high winds. Motorists found it necessary to turn on car lights as visibility slowed traffic to a crawl. The storm was over as abruptly as it began, but skies remained overcast and fine mist fell through the night.

February closed out with a respectable 2.25 inches of moisture. Added to the .60 of an inch which fell in January, the yearly total for the first two months of the year comes to 2.85 inches of moisture, for one of the wettest beginnings of a year anyone can remember.

The Savings Really Add Up

with WTU's Energy Saving Plan!

Energy Savings

Your energy savings will really add up when you qualify your home for WTU's Energy Saving Plan. You'll save money in energy bills for years to come when your home meets the energy-efficiency standards of the Energy Saving Plan.

Cash Allowances

WTU's Energy Saving-Plan will now pay you larger cash allowances for installing energy-efficient equipment in your home. Consider a central system electric heat pump:

WTU WILL PAY YOU:
$140 per ton	SEER 9.6 & above
$110 per ton	SEER 8.0 to 9.5

To qualify for the cash allowances, your home must meet the E.S.P. requirements and be served electricity by WTU.

Resale Value

An E.S.P. Home will have a better resale value than other homes on the market, because it offers home owners lower energy bills. Energy bills are an important consideration for most families, so your E.S.P. Home will fit into a prospective home buyer's budget easier than a non-E.S.P. Home.

E.S.P. Book

The new E.S.P. Book clearly outlines all of the programs, cash allowances and requirements of the New and Improved Energy Saving Plan. The E.S.P. Book also has specific information on insulation, air infiltration control, energy-efficient equipment and much more!

Pick up your FREE copy of the new E.S.P. Book at any WTU office, and start adding up your savings today!
