His

I don't know about you, but I have just about reached the point of not wanting to hear another word about Crockett County's health care facilities. It has been argued and re-argued, and I suppose will be argued again even after it has been settled with an election.

I really don't care what name you call it, hospital, emergency room, dog pound or whatever. The fact remains that we need something to take care of us within the margin of time that will save lives when we or someone we love has a heart attack, car wreck or other health crisis.

I understand that one of the San Angelo doctors that has been holding clinics at the hospital on Wednesdays has made an offer to operate the emergency room with his license with a guarantee that we will have 24-hour doctor coverage seven days a week. This, in combination with our excellent EMS crews and local physician seems to me to be a winning combo!

I guess we have finally stuffed everything that can possibly be stuffed into the Stockman Building. Where the rest of the junk is going to settle beats the heck out of me. It's awfully easy to forget some of the important things that people tell us for the paper when you have a wildcat on a leash that has reached its end and has turned around and started the other way!

Sometimes I feel the same way that a local person felt when he jumped off his riding lawn mower after rustling up a rattle snake only to have the mower continue on its way, chopping down his peach tree. Some days you just can't win, no matter how hard you try.

Please fill us in on any honest to goodness stories that might be of interest to everyone. We all enjoy a lift from time to time.

Those magnificent men and their flying machines were represented in Ozona May 29 with a fly-over by the Sea World blimp and the departure of a BT-13 which had been here since Oct. 25.

The Sea World blimp passed over Ozona while enroute from North Carolina to San Diego, CA. The large blue and white blimp will be at Sea World for the summer season.

Bill Masters was the pilot of the BT-13 as it left for Abilene after repair to damages received in a landing accident during the October fly-in. Loss of landing gear and a bent propeller were the damages reported in the initial survey. Repairs to the plane were made by Paul Shacklette of Ozona Flight Service.

April 30 with 350 attending

Health Fair held in Ozona

The April 30 Health Fair was a success with 350 plus attending and 17 health related organizations participating. The health fair was coordinated by the Crockett County Extension Home Economics Committee and the Texas Department of Health.

Leo Lewis, Beltone representative, administered numerous hearing tests and adjusted hearing aids. Dr. Paul Matthews, O.D., screened individuals for glaucoma and eye abnormalities. Dr. Steve Sessom, D.D.S., was available to screen dental caries. Karen Huffman and Texas Department of Health nurses screened for anemia, diabetes and health risks.

Bill Richards and Shannon Memorial Hospital representatives administered EKG, breathing capacity, pulse oxymetry and blood glucose tests and had exhibits on aging and x-rays.

Tina Moran and Crockett County Emergency Medical Service Technicians demonstrated emergency medical care techniques. Doris Haire and Crockett County firemen explained the usage of emergency fire equipment. Steve Williams and West Texas Utility representatives demonstrated electrical safety.

Charlie Ramirez and Hector De Hoyas Jr, Department of Public Safety, gave vision tests relating to traffic safety. Texas Automobile Dealers Association representatives convinced individuals of the importance of seat belt usage through their "Convincer" machine.

Texas Agricultural Extension Service representatives Rachel Hall, Kathryn Burch and Susan Bennett computed individual diet analysis. Rebecca Yonam, American Heart Association representative, distributed heart/diet related information. Becky Childress, Cancer Society representative, distributed cancer/lifestyle habit information.

Other exhibits included: Texas Beef Council (cholesterol), Social Security, Adult Protective Services, and Planned Parenthood (AIDS).

All organizations and individuals assisting with the fair contributed a day to improving the health of Ozona citizens. Volunteers included: Georgia Haire, Luetta Kost, Hazel Storms, Polly Mayes, Elma Buckner, Concha Zapata, Mary Louise Hayes, Jodi Barton, Jonesy Williams, Jan North, Marilyn Chalmers, Jean Connors, Georgia Kirby, Nancy Hale, Esmi Barrera, Vicki Gonzales, Doris Karr, Alma Bednar, Jill De La Garza and Roberta Schoenhals.

National Hospital Week celebration May 10-16

Crockett County Hospital joins with hospitals across the nation by celebrating National Hospital Week May 10-16. Texas Hospital Week coincides with the National Hospital Week, and many special activities are being planned throughout the state. In celebration of this week, which is dedicated to the health and well-being of the community, Crockett County Hospital is sponsoring a series of special events throughout the week, based on the theme, "We Feel Good Helping You Feel Better".

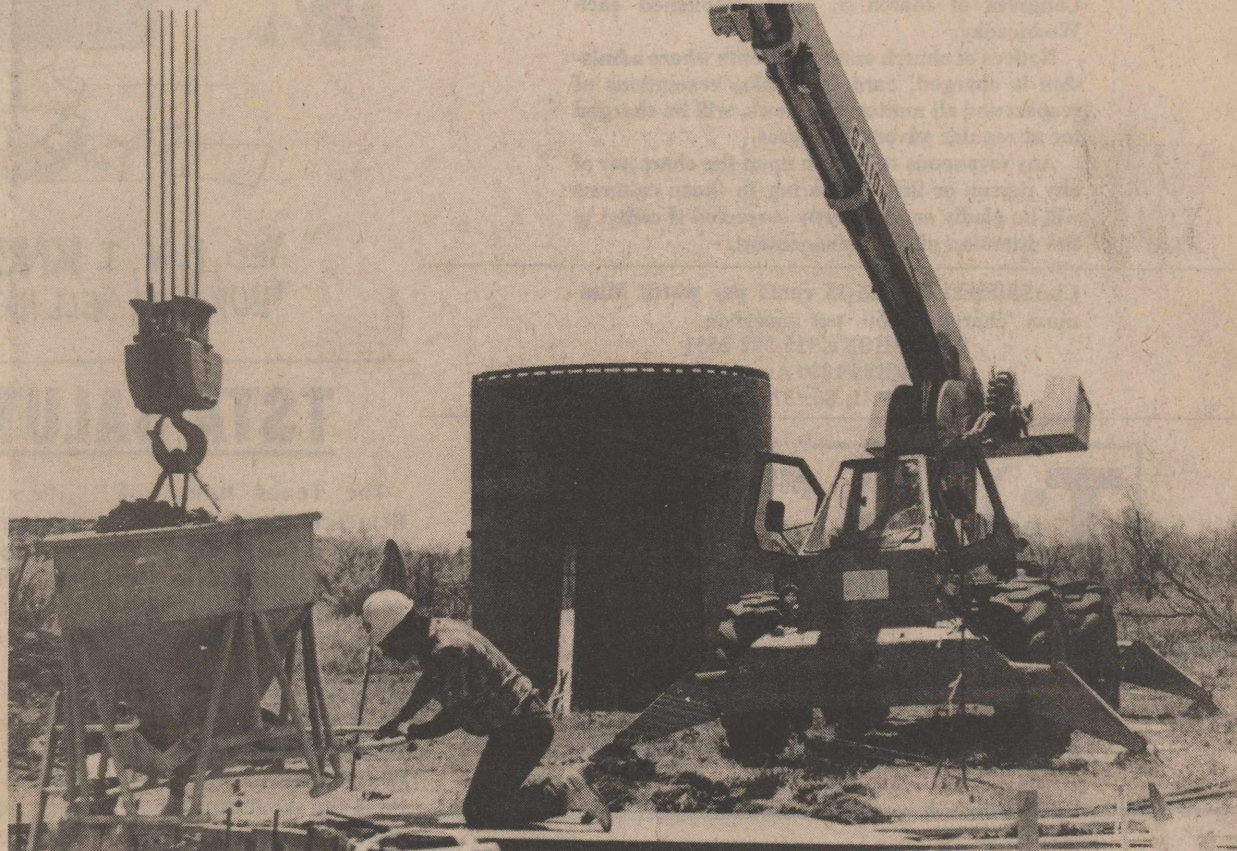

"We think that the 1987 Hospital Week theme reflects the role of our hospital in providing the community with a continuum of health care services and activities which improve the health and well-being of people living in our community," said Bill Boswell, Crockett County Hospital administrator.

Event scheduled throughout the week include a poster contest for all primary school children to be held Saturday, May 9. Kid's Day will be on Monday, with field trips scheduled to the hospital. Wednesday is outpatient clinic day, with Dr. Bill Bass on duty. There will be a mammography clinic for breast cancer screening all day on Thursday. From 6 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, May 14, the hospital will be hosting an open house for the public. Friday is employee appreciation day to honor the employees of the hospital, care center, and ambulance service.

"Crockett County Hospital is available to help you and your family feel better," says Jacquie King, assistant administrator. "We're proud of the service we provide, and we appreciate the support of area residents and community organizations."

Hospital Week is sponsored each year by the American Hospital Association and the Texas Hospital Association. Crockett County Hospital joins this national and state observance to strengthen communications and understanding among its patients, employees and the community.

Speed limit increases to 65 on I-10

Interstate 10 travelers will soon be able to legally whiz past Ozona even faster than allowed at the present 55 mph limit after Gov. Bill Clements signs an authorization increasing the limit.

The new limits will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, May 9, for rural interstate highways outside urbanized areas of 50,000 population which includes Interstates 10 and 20 in West Texas. The maximum of 55 mph remains in effect for most roads.

The legal speed limit on the inter-states will be 65 mph for cars, but heavy trucks will be allowed to drive only 60 mph in the daytime and 55 mph at night.

No cities approaching 50,000 population are located on I-10 between El Paso and San Antonio, and the 65 mph limit is expected to apply to the entire mile distance.

The 55 mph limit will remain in effect on I-20 within the city limits of Worth, Dallas and Longview.

Highway commissioner Robert Dedman of Dallas said statistics show that the highway death rate in Texas doesn't seem to be affected by how fast Texans drive. Other factors such as better highway construction, safer automobiles and the increased use of seat belts seem to have a greater effect on highway death rates, according to Dedman.

The Department of Public Safety is on record as believing the higher rate will increase deaths.

State officials are warning motorists not to begin driving at the new limit until they see new 65 mph signs. Some signs are expected to be in place but will remain covered until about midnight May 9.

Local officers on 4 hr man hunt

Two San Antonio men led officers on a four hour chase which began with the theft of service from a local gas station Monday at about 6:25 a.m.

Sheriff's deputies tried to stop the small brown Plymouth and chased it west on the interstate and then south on Pandale Road. The suspects fled the car and ran into the pasture on the east side of Pandale Road.

A check with the registered owner of the car in San Antonio revealed that the car was stolen. The area was surrounded by sheriff's deputies, DPS officers, Border Patrolmen and State Game Wardens. The pasture land was searched by foot and by aircraft. Area ranches were also notified. At about 10:30 a.m., one of the subjects was located at the Erby Chandler Ranch on Hwy. 163, south of Ozona. He was arrested without incident. Shortly after that, the second suspect was located trying to hitch a ride on Hwy. 163 about two miles south of the Chandler Ranch gate.

Subsequent investigation revealed that one of the suspects was the son of the owner of the Plymouth car. The owner dropped charges with the San Antonio officers.

The two men are currently in Crockett County Jail charged with theft of services, evading arrest and criminal trespass. The last two charges will be referred to the county court for prosecution.

"The Crockett County Sheriff's Office wishes to express its thanks to the various law enforcement agencies that assisted in the search," said Chief Deputy Jim Wilson. "And a special thanks to several local citizens who volunteered and assisted in the search."

Wool houses sell 400,000 pounds

Ozona wool houses sold more than 400,000 pounds of wool at sealed bid April 30.

"It was an exceptional sale. Area growers were well pleased," said Jim Adams of Wool Growers Central Storage Company.

The firm sold 120,000 pounds of 12-month paint free wool from $1.3425 to $1.77 per pound, grease basis. The major portion of the sales moved from $1.45 to $1.70 per pound. Paint wool sold from $1.445 to $1.6075 per pound, grease basis.

Approximately 110,000 pounds of eight-month wool was sold with the paint-free clips going from $1.17 to $1.42 per pound, grease basis. Clips bringing more than $1.35 were for combing wools with fiber lengths from 2 1/4 to 2 1/2 inches.

Pure eight-month, paint free wool sold from $1.25 to $1.30 per pound, grease basis.

The 37,000 pounds of paint free wool sold by Ozona Wool and Mohair Company brought from $1.35 to $1.72 per pound with an average of about $1.62 grease basis.

"It was a good sale. Everybody was fairly happy," said warehouse manager Brian May.

The approximately 21,000 pounds of 10-month paint free wool offered brought $1.25 to $1.45 per pound with an average of about $1.40 per pound.

Almost 116,000 pounds of eight-month paint free wool sold from $1.15 to $1.47 5/8 per pound, grease basis, with an average of about $1.30 per pound.

A total of 2,000 pounds of eight-month paint wool sold for $1.00 - $1.05 per pound.

Prices for wool are currently at their highest levels in years.

This is a public library, protect your valuables

This notice is posted in a large public library in Dallas, Texas. Isn't it a shame it ever had to be posted in the first place? It struck me that the very things that make public libraries great, such as free, unlimited access to thousands of books and materials, can also become a great problem when a few people abuse their Library privileges. This can happen even in a small community library. In Ozona, we have a limited number of books and a limited budget to purchase new books and materials. It doesn't take much to really make a great impact on our library. Recently in a routine check over the books, I discovered that several exercise and work-out books were missing. Several people had asked for these books and they were nowhere to be found. Then, I discovered that a couple of reference books, that cannot be checked out were also missing. These are very expensive books to replace. We may not be able to replace these books at all.

Every citizen of Crockett County needs to realize that theft from our public library hurts the whole community. You are paying for these materials with your tax dollars. This is your library in every sense. Help protect your investment. Stop theft of library materials. It's too easy to check books out of the library for there to be any reason to steal. All you have to do is sign your name.

Keilers named General Practitioner of Year

Royce K. Keilers, D. O. of La Grange, was named "General Practitioner of the Year" April 24 during the President's Night Banquet at the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association's 88th Annual Convention and Scientific Seminar in Austin.

The award is presented annually by the Texas Society of the American College of General Practitioners in Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery to an osteopathic physician who has provided exemplary service to the profession.

A certified general practitioner, Dr. Keilers is a 1965 graduate of the Kansas City College of Osteopathy and Surgery and served his internship in 1965-66 at the Osteopathic Hospital of KCCOS, located in Missouri. Dr. Keilers received his pre-med education at Texas Lutheran College, graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Active on both the state and national levels, Dr. Keilers has served as 1984-85 TOMA president; president-elect; vice-president, and as a member of the TOMA Board of Trustees for 10 years. He is a past president of the Texas State Society ACGP.

Dr. Keilers is currently a delegate to the TOMA House of Delegates, the policy-making body of the Association; a member and delegate to the American Osteopathic Association; and member of the TOMA Governmental Relations Committee. He is a fellow of the ACGP, an aviation medical examiner and is involved in the professional review organization conducted by the Texas Medical Foundation.

He is a cousin of Dee Keilers of Ozona.

The Church as Keeper

In many newspapers "Church news" seldom makes front page. Some coming-event, a special program, or visiting clergy receives notice somewhere in the printed page but hardly any mention on television. (Unless there is church controversy that rates as hard-core news.) And this is understandable from news media's point of purpose.

Yet the church is the "keeper of the springs" of society's great ocean. Jesus called His followers "salt" and "leaven" and "light." One seldom comments on the salt but the steak; not the yeast but the hot rolls; not the lights but the ballgame being played at night.

The church, the great "keeper of the springs," has seasoned society by being the first in education. Many of the great universities were birthed by the church as well as hospitals, medical schools, orphanages, and homes for the aging. Jesus' followers seasoned the U.S. Constitution and outright wrote the Bill of Rights through the efforts of Rev. John Leland and James Madison (whom moved its adoption).

While the church is not front page news, it is nonetheless quietly going about its appointed mission in hamlet and city keeping the springs clean and purifying the water that flows into the mainstream of human existence.

Wilma Carson chosen Artist of Month at public library

Artist of the Month at Crockett County Public Library is Wilma West Carson. The native Ozonan was born to a homesteaded ranch couple, William E. and Alma (Smith) West, Jan. 29, 1901. Her grandparents, Sam and Alice Smith, also lived in Ozona and helped organize the town.

The family lived on the ranch until 1906 when they moved to Juno to send the boys to school. In 1908, the year Wilma started school, they moved to Ozona. She graduated in 1918, and then attended Baylor University.

In 1920 she and Ira Carson were married. They had three children, Bill Carson, Crystelle Childress and Eloise Clegg, all of Ozona.

Through the years, she has contributed much to the community through her work in the First Baptist Church, PTA, Music Club, Federated Woman's Club, Garden Club, Historical Society and many other activities.

Wilma first started painting in oils, self-taught at that time, after she was married and lived on the ranch. She studied with Ruth Matlock for several years, starting in about 1935, and later with Dwight Holms. In about 1948, she gave up painting for health reasons.

She then became interested in photography, and even did her own darkroom work. Her love of Texas wild flowers led her to taking slides and presenting many interesting programs.

At the age of 71, Wilma picked up the paint brush again and joined the art class of Mary Bracker. She has also painted with Jim Hall, Harold Roney and George Konleupas.

An exhibit of Wilma Carson's works will be in the Crockett County Library throughout the month of May.

Box lunch ends Forum year

The Woman's Forum held its final meeting of the club year May 2 at Norma Carson's ranch with Crystelle Childress assisting her as hostess. Members took a box lunch in decorated boxes. Marcille Long won first place with her May Pole box. Other winners were Kathryn Russell, Louisa Pearson and Alleane Jones.

After lunch, the president, Alleane Jones, presided, and she expressed her gratitude to members for their support.

Members answered roll call with program suggestions for next year.

Jewell Bailey reported on the district convention she attended in Waco where the Forum won an award for their yearbook.

The Forum members voted to buy a video and slide projector for the Crockett County Museum and to donate to the Ozona Youth Center to help with the all night graduation party.

The meeting adjourned, and guests were served dessert before departing for Ozona.

Hood wins regional championship

By Copie Davis

Ozona High School senior golfer Bret Hood is on a roll. He won the district competition in impressive fashion and advanced to regionals. Last week at Comanche Trails Country Club in Big Spring, Hood fired two straight 75's to become the Region I-AA champion.

The Comanche Trails course is rolling, hilly and usually windy, but Hood used a flawless iron game and grim determination to conquer the course. Hood's concentration paid off in consistency. "In two days, I never made above a five on any hole. I was really pleased to play that consistent a game," said Hood.

The first round was a roller coaster ride for Hood. On the front nine, he played the course in 39 strokes -- four over par -- largely due to poor putting. After beginning with pars on #1 and #2, he found bogeys at #3, #4 and #5. A birdie at #6 salvaged the round, and he finished at +3.

The back nine was a model of consistency, parring five holes and managing one birdie for a once over par 36. His five over 75 was the lowest score posted. At the end of round one play, Hood held a one shot advantage over D. Cofer of Memphis.

On the second day, the fabled Texas wind kicked up, and Hood's overdrive kicked in. "The wind made it harder to shoot at the pin, but my concentration got better," said Hood of how he handled the day's conditions.

The front nine was as nerve wrenching as any Hood has faced all year. After bogeying three of his first five holes, he clicked off three birdies in a row at #6, #7 and #8 to drop to even par. An untimely three-putt at #9 put him at one over 37.

Hood's final nine holes proved to be a walk in the park. Although he had three bogeys and no birdies, Hood finished his final round in 38 strokes for his second straight 75.

Sounds simple, right? Wrong. At one point in the second round, Hood's one shot lead had evaporated to nothing. As he sat in the clubhouse at eight over par, Cofer was still on the course at five over. He was now in the lead by three shots. Cofer lost any chance of a title on the back nine when he stumbled in with a 41 to shoot 76 for the day, sealing Hood's victory.

Hood's putter was suspect during the first day, yet he considers it his key to success during the second round. "I made the putts that had to be made," said Hood. "When they counted, I had them."

After winning both district and regional, Hood seems confident about state. "The victory at district put pressure on me, but I turned that around and made it work to my advantage," said Hood. "Now, I'm confident because I feel like I'll play better on a better course like Lyon's Municipal (the state contest site).

State competition will begin on Thursday, May 14, and finish Friday, May 15.

Sanchez qualifies for state

By T. C. Tucker

With a second place showing May 2 at region, junior Danny Sanchez earned a trip to the state track meet in the two-mile running event.

Sanchez finished second behind Albany's Brad Patterson, qualifying for the second consecutive year in this event.

Sanchez proved to be the only Ozona track member to make state competition as the mile-relay team, which had a good chance to advance, finished seventh.

In his other specialty, Sanchez clocked a 4:37.13 time in the mile and placed third, serving as alternate to state.

Valdo Galindo, the district champ in both the 100 and 200m sprints, placed fifth and sixth in these events, respectively. Galindo also competed in the long jump, the event he placed second in at district.

Discus thrower Scott Denman ended the track season with an eighth place finish in this event. Denman had previously placed second at district.

Sanchez will compete at the state meet May 14-16 at Austin.

On a signal from Mr. Ted Cotton, students at Ozona Intermediate School excitedly launched their balloons Friday morning as part of School Library Month.

Preparing balloons for lift-off were Mrs. Ellen Sewell, Mrs. Juanita Gutierrez and not shown, Mrs. Debbie Glasscock.

School Library Month Balloon Launch May 1

The Intermediate School's annual balloon launch for 1987 was dedicated to the month for School Libraries. In the past, it has been a project for fifth graders who were studying a story about a balloon launch. Mrs. Glasscock has been the organizer of this project since 1983. However, she is teaching mathematics this year and Mrs. Sewell, the librarian, has sponsored this year's launch, with Mrs. Glasscock's help.

Mrs. Sewell has filled the balloons with helium every year since the first balloon launch. Mrs. Gutierrez is always on hand to help with tying knots in the balloons and strings on them. Other helpers are Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Reager, and Mrs. Glasscock's fifth grade class.

Balloons have been returned from as far away as Canada, in the past. Some have been returned from Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas. The students are always anxious to see the balloons returned and to read the letters which accompany them.

This year every student launched a balloon with a card with the name of the student and the name of his or her favorite book. A space has been provided for the finder to write his name, the name of his favorite book and information about where the balloon was found. A study of wind currents may be possible from this information.

Balloons have been blown north and southeast on most of the previous launchings. This year the balloons were blown to the northwest toward a more densely populated area of the country so perhaps a large number of them will be found and returned.

When the balloons are returned, a report will be made about the success of the project.

National Stuttering Project

The National Stuttering Project has been meeting the needs of children and adults who stutter for more than 10 years. There are three million of them in the United States.

NSP is a non-profit organization with 2,500 members nationwide. The group provides information on all aspects of stuttering to people who stutter as well as to their friends and relatives, and to the general public.

The organization serves as a referral service for people seeking professional help. There are self-help chapter meetings and workshops which provide a safe, supportive environment where people who stutter can learn to communicate more effectively.

Most importantly, NSP lets people know that if they are dealing with a stuttering problem they do not have to do it alone. Most of the members are those who, themselves, deal with a stuttering problem.

Regular annual dues are $20. Student/senior/low income dues are $10 per year.

For more information on NSP, write or call National Stuttering Project, 1269 Seventh Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94122, 415-566-5324.

A neighbor's view of OHS

By Anna Chastain

One of the happiest sights in the Biggest Little Town in the West can be seen of Ave. E about this time of year. Bright-faced, laughing young people stream by in groups, full of the joy of Spring, and, no doubt, the fast-approaching end-of-term.

Teachers, too, reflect the equanimity of the season. Always friendly, now they beam, and the young men have Spring in their steps, a smile, a wave. The young women have shed their coats, blossomed out in Spring colors like butterflies unfurling from cocoons, moving gracefully in the Spring-time warmth.

Naturally the boys and girls have serious things on their minds, that history test, the homework that's due, a Summer job, a girl, a boy, but you'd never know it by looking at their faces. Mostly they look as though they haven't a care in the world.

The teachers may have problems, too. Are they getting through to Johnny or Susie or Bill? Is there enough time left to cram a few more facts into the kids? Is his paycheck going to stretch to include his own child's orthodontist bill? Will hers stretch to buy new tires for her car?

In Spring, however, no worry is quite as great as in Winter. Optimism blows in on the balmy breezes. Serious thoughts can be banished to the nether regions of the mind while spirits lift to touch the sunbeams of the day.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Ozona:

As a member of the Crockett County Library board, I have become increasingly concerned about the cost to all of us of people taking library books without checking them out. I wonder if the public realizes what a serious problem this is?

It is so aggravating to go to the library for a certain book only to learn that that particular book is missing. It's not checked out, but it's not on the shelf either. Some selfish or person just picked it up and sneaked out with it.

We have such a nice library. I love to go in and see new books on the shelves. Sometimes I like to browse through the books and find one of the latest books on a subject I enjoy reading about. At other times I go to the library with a specific purpose in mind; I need a certain book or a book on a certain subject. It's really inconvenient when the book I went for is missing.

This problem of books leaving the library in an unauthorized fashion—in other words, the stealing of books—means that our tax dollars are actually being used to buy books for certain selfish individuals in the community. In that case our tax dollars are not being used for the purpose for which they were intended to add to our library for the use of everybody through the democratic process of a check-out system.

Many of us have problems up with the due dates on library books. Sometimes we simply forget. When that happens, we pay the price by paying a library fine. I think that most of use realize that the fines we pay for overdue books are also used for the benefit of the library in general. If I am irresponsible about returning a book on time, then I pay the price for my lack of responsibility, and I try to do better with the next book I check out. I appreciate the fact that Ozona has such a nice library free to the public for everyone in the community to use.

It's too bad a few selfish individuals think that they are entitled to simply take any book they happen to take a fancy to. It seems to be happening more and more. I hope community members will all pull together to put a stop to this problem.

Every time a book is stolen, many other people are deprived of the use of that book. As a librarian, I know that the average cost of a book is now $15.00 and many books cost more than that. I also know that many books go out of print and cannot be replaced at any cost.

A great deal of work is needed to get a library book ready for the shelf. The librarian must submit an order, wait for the order to arrive, unpack the books, check the invoice, send the invoice to be paid, catalog the book, type the catalog cards, type a book card and envelope, attach the envelope to the book, place a label and a protective cover on the book, stamp the book, and place it in its proper places i the card catalog so that users can find the book by looking for the author, the title, or any of the various subjects the book concerns.

It is really discouraging to do all that work and then have some selfish someone steal the book. Then it's back to square one. Does the librarian reorder that book? Will it ever be returned? Is the book still in print? Has the price gone up? Is it more important to replace that book or to buy another book?

As taxpayers we should all resent this theft of library resources. Our library is diminished each time someone steals from it. We have been sworking hard to build up our library. I hate to think of some people tearing it down book by book. Just remember, when someone steals a book, they aren't stealing from the library, they're stealing from you and from me and from everyone who would have read that book.

Let's see if we can't put a stop to this. Parents, if your children have books that don't belong to them, talk to them about the importance of honesty in the use of library materials. Help the children to realize that libraries are for everybody to use. We want children to love books, but they need to understand about personal ownership versus borrowing. Help them to understand the concept of sharing of knowledge through books and of sharing books. Selfishness doesn't work with library books.

If you are one of the individuals mentioned who has unthinkingly taken a book from the library, have a little talk with your conscience and see if you don't decide that the best thing to do is to return that book. If you are too embarrassed to bring the book back in person, you can drop it in the return box on the library porch. Then you can leave knowing that you did the right thing; you made a mistake but you did something to make up for that mistake.

I always like to think that most people are basically good. I think that library use reflects a community's morals in general. I like to believe that the people of Ozona are a pretty smart bunch, and really honest too. Please, do your part however you can to stop the theft of our library materials.

Sincerely,
Sherry York
President, CCPL Board

Federal Land Bank reduces rates

The Federal Land Bank will reduce its interest rates for long-term mortgages on June 1, according to Jack B. Smith Jr., president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora. Don Rogge, president of the Federal Land Bank of Texas, announced the rate change at the bank's annual meeting.

Smith and other officials of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora were among the more than 500 Federal Land Bank Association stockholders who met in Austin recently. Local association officials attending the annual meeting with Smith were directors Lee F. Allison of Rocksprings, Pleas L. Childress Jr. of Ozona, A. E. Prugel and Glen Richardson of Sonora, James T. Williams Jr. and Otis Deal of El-dorado.

The Land Bank's new variable rates will be 10.25 percent on farm and ranch loans and 10.50 percent on farm related business loans and rural residence loans. The decrease represents a one-half of one percent reduction on farm and ranch loans and a three-quarters of one percent reduction on farm related business loans and rural residence loans. "In some ways, our situation looks a little better today than it did last year at this time," says Smith.

"For the most part, the Texas District has the authority to set its own interest rates. Until last fall, that was all being determined by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D.C.," says Smith. "Also, we were pleased with the recent court decisions regarding the assessments on the Texas District."

Federal judges in both Texas and Massachusetts ruled earlier this year that at least one of the regulations which required stronger banks like Texas to transfer funds to troubled banks in the system was invalid.

Rogge also announced a new loan program he said the FLB plans to initiate within the next 60 days. The program carries an even lower interest rate for loans to buy rural real estate.

The Federal Land Bank makes loans for a term of 35 years. This program will provide a fixed rate for the first 10 years of the loan. Rogge said he anticipates the rate will be set at approximately 8 7/8 percent.

He added that the lower interest rate will be available only for a limited time.

Aimed at stimulating the state's sagging real estate market, Rogge said the plan possibly would encourage other real estate lenders to initiate similar programs, further enhancing land price stabilization efforts. He said details of the plan will be available soon.

The Federal Land Bank and 44 Federal Land Bank Associations make farm and ranch loans and long-term real estate loans. As of December 31, 1986, the bank and associations had $2.38 billion in loans outstanding on 37,000 loans to approximately 100,000 Texas farmers and ranchers. The bank and associations have a combined net worth of $216 million. Reserves for loan losses stood at $103 million on December 31.

Federal Land Bank Association of Sonora has almost $38 million in loans outstanding to approximately 209 area farmers and ranchers who are Land Bank members in a four-county region including Edwards, Crockett, Schleicher and Sutton counties.

Preventive measures guard against stroke

Although great advances have been made in surgical prevention and treatment of stroke, it remains the third leading killer in the country, outranked only by diseases of the heart and cancer.

According to the Texas Medical Association, lifestyle changes such as controlling high blood pressure are a key to preventing stroke.

A stroke occurs when the blood supply to a part of the brain is cut. As a result, the nerve cells in that part of the brain cannot function. When nerve cells in the brain are not able to function, then the part of the body controlled by these nerve cells cannot function either.

Stroke was once viewed as a single devastating attack, but we now know it develops over a period of many years. There are three major types of stroke. The most common form of stroke, cerebral thrombosis, occurs when one of the arteries supplying blood to the brain is blocked by a clot that forms inside the artery.

Stroke may also be caused by a wandering clot carried in the bloodstream until it becomes wedged in an artery leading to the brain. A third form of stroke occurs when a defective artery in the brain bursts, flooding the surrounding tissue with blood and depriving cells of their blood supply.

A stroke requires immediate medical care. Treatment begins as soon as the stroke is diagnosed to ensure that no further damage to brain cells occurs. Major strokes may result in paralysis of one or both sides of the body. Loss of vision and speech also can result.

Rehabilitation should begin as soon as possible after the patient's condition is stable. Progress in rehabilitation varies from person to person. For some, recovery is completed within weeks following a stroke; for others, it may take many months or years.

The risk factors or conditions that lead to stroke include high blood pressure, heart disease, smoking, and being overweight. You can help prevent stroke by taking these steps:

- *Control your blood pressure.
- *Stop smoking.
- *Eat a healthy diet that includes protein sources low in cholesterol (such as chicken, turkey, fish and beans, skimmed milk, fruits, and vegetables).
- *Exercise regularly. There is evidence that exercise strengthens the heart and improves circulation. It also will help in weight control.

*Control diabetes. If untreated, diabetes can cause destructive changes in the blood vessels throughout the body.

*Promptly report warning signs to your doctor. Transient ischemic attacks (TIA'S) are the clearest warning that a stroke may occur; they produce temporary stroke-like symptoms such as numbness or weakness in an arm or leg, difficulty with speech, unexplained headaches, dizziness, momentary blindness, and impaired judgment.

Air Quality Board chief here

Bruce Broberg of Buda, chief of emissions and air quality analysis of the Texas Air Control Board, spent two days in Ozona last week and shared a wealth of information about air pollution with staff at The Stockman.

Although this portion of the state has very clean air in general, particulate pollution from dust and pollens is a problem acknowledged Broberg.

Types of air pollution that are of prime concern to the TAC Board include ozone, lead, sulphur dioxide, carbon monoxide and nitrogen dioxide in addition to the particulate pollution.

The biggest pollutant, ozone, for which Ozona gets its name, regularly exceeds federal standards.

Ozone is not emitted from cars, but is formed when the sun reacts with volatile organic compound emissions and nitrogen oxide, explained Broberg. Chemical industry emissions also contribute to the problem.

Car inspections help regulate the problem. Environmental Protection Agency regulations originally instituted for ozone are also controlling the emission of lead into the atmosphere. Recent studies show that blood lead levels are high in persons living in heavily populated areas or areas where there are lead smelters.

Purpose of a recently held hearing in Alpine was to develop air regulations to help visibility in national parks. Decreasing visibility in the parks is being caused by pollution sources so far away that the TACB can't tell what they are, Broberg said.

The TACB chief's visit to Ozona was unofficial. Broberg spent two days here while having car repairs made. He commented that he had noticed the heading "Out in the west, where the air is pure" slogan on the top of The Stockman.

Forum fair exhibits talent

The Woman's Forum annual arts and crafts fair showed the talents of young and old April 21 at the Civic Center. The exhibits were from pre-school students through high school as well as handwork and drawings from local artists.

The coordinators for the show were Lois Lock, Mary Lee Jones, Norma Carson, Georgia Kirby and Louisa Pearson who arranged and displayed work of 28 artists.

Door prizes were won by Gabriella Tudor, Margaret Tabb, Joanne Marshall, Violen Stanton and Katharine Russell.

Gently her arms held me close
As I nestled my head upon her breast.
There was peace within my heart
As she gave me her love...her best.

Her voice -- so sweet -- now in memory
Falls clearly, so clearly, upon my ear.
And if I but close my eyes tightly
I can feel her very presence near.

Though times were not always easy;
Though times were not always at their best,
Somehow she seemed never to falter.
She seemed to pass Life's greatest test.

Though her heart may have been heavy in sorrow;
Though at times she shed many a tear;
She placed her faith in her Heavenly Father
And told me there was nothing to fear.

She took her strength from the Psalms of David.
She did her chores to hymns of God's love.
And as she departed from this world,
She left assurance we would join her above.

All I have now are precious memories.
Memories tugging gently at my heart.
Thank God for our precious mothers
Who are forever of us a part.

Good year for mesquite spraying

Abundant rainfall received last fall and throughout the winter months has set up conditions that should be excellent for foliar application of herbicides for mesquite control this year. Good growth conditions exist throughout most of the state. The only negative factor is the late freeze received during the last weekend in March and early April. Freeze damage occurred on plants that broke bud prior to the freeze. Application of herbicide on these freeze damaged plants will probably need to be delayed to allow proper development of leaves.

The excellent soil moisture conditions should result in good canopy development on mesquite. Data collected by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station a number of years ago show that higher plant kills occur when rainfall exceeds the average six months prior to spraying. High available soil moisture during the fall and winter months usually results in mesquite plants that develop a large quantity of leaves. Thus, excellent control may be expected if factors other than soil moisture are also favorable.

Proper timing of herbicide application is critical if good control is expected. Mesquite leaves should be fully extended and should have turned from light green to dark green in color before herbicide is applied. Usually this occurs about forty days after budbreak. When the leaves have matured, the plants begin to restore carbohydrate reserves. Research reported by Texas Tech University shows that food reserves are utilized during the period of pod elongation. An application of herbicide during this period usually results in poor control. After the pods have elongated, storage of food reserves is resumed and excellent control is obtained during this period. About 90 days after budbreak, control with foliar applied herbicides decreases because of build up of wax on the leaves and a general decrease in growth activity of the plants.

Another important factor affecting degree of control is soil temperature. Research from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Tech University has shown that soil temperature at 12-18 inches of depth at time of spraying should be 75 percent F. or above to obtain best control. An extensive amount of data collected by Texas Tech shows that poor control of mesquite is obtained if herbicide is applied when soil temperature at 12-18 inches is below 75 degrees F.

Occurrences that affect mesquite foliage just prior and during the spray season will affect results obtained. Frequent rains during the spray season may result in the development of new leaves. For optimum control, the new leaves should be allowed to mature before spraying. Damage to mesquite foliage caused by insects, disease, hail and/or a late frost will result in poor control if new foliage is not allowed sufficient time to mature. A late frost has caused leaf damage in some areas of the state. Thus, spraying will probably be delayed in these areas. Also, certain areas in the Rolling Plains and northern Edwards Plateau are notorious for infestations of the mesquite cutworm. This insect may completely defoliate many acres of mesquite. The defoliation occurs during late May to early June. Thus, sufficient time usually is not available to develop new foliage for spraying.

With the recent labeling of Reclaim (clopalyrid) four herbicides are currently registered and effective for control of mesquite by foliar application. The other herbicides are: Grazon ET (triclopyr), Banvel (dicamba), and Grazon PC (picloram). Grazon ET, Banvel and Reclaim may be used alone. Research information indicates the highest degree of control may be obtained by using Reclaim, Grazon ET and Banvel may be mixed with Grazon PC in a 1:1 mixture.

This mixture will provide control equivalent or slightly better than that obtained when Reclaim is used alone. Reclaim does not provide good control of brush species other than mesquite. Thus, if control of mesquite and associated species is desired, the Reclaim:Grazon PC mixture should be used. Although the registrations of 2,4,5-T have been cancelled and 2,4,5-T is no longer available, a rancher with 2,4,5-T on hand can legally use it. 2,4,5-T may be used alone or in a 1:1 mixture with picloram or dicamba. 2,4,5-T cannot be legally sold nor can it legally change hands.

The success of controlling mesquite with foliar applied herbicides depend on many factors. To obtain the maximum benefit from money spent, herbicides should be applied at the proper time with the proper method and followed up with good range management.

Ozona High School girl golfers were in Big Spring two days last week for regional competition at Comanche Trails.

Eight o'clock came quite early for the five girls and Coach Glenn Graham. Together, the team comprised a powerhouse of individual talents which resulted in an astounding effort. By the end of the first day, the girls were tied for third place and two strokes out of the second place slot. They were eight strokes ahead of Iraan, who beat them in district play.

First day totals for the girls were: Jennifer Probst 100, Loretta Ledbetter 100, Gina McCollum 104, Randi Thompson 106 and Trebie West 119.

After a long night of discussing mistakes and ways of correcting them, the girls went back to the course for the final round. The discussion seemed to have paid off. Three girls substantially improved their scores by a total of 15 strokes.

The two day total came to 822 which put Ozona two strokes behind the second place team, Quannah. Memphis won the tournament after shooting 791. Iraan placed fourth with 844, and San Saba placed fifth with an 858.

The 1986-87 girls' golf season was a rewarding one. These girls have upheld the winning tradition since the beginning of the program.

Senior Jennifer Probst will be leaving the team, but there will be several returning lettermen next year. All team members are looking forward to the future.

Girl netters play well at region

By T. C. Tucker

On their first trip to the regional tennis tournament, both singles player Summer Shacklette and the doubles duo of Sylvia Flores and Suzy King fared well in their matches.

Flores and King lost their opening match to a duo from Winters who eventually finished fourth. The Ozona twosome came close in the 4-6, 4-6 match; however, not close enough to advance to second round action.

Shacklette originally placed third at district, but since the second place girl failed grade-wise, Shacklette qualified for region due to her alternate position.

Nonetheless, Shacklette battled and stood strong in her first match, but Cindy Barkley of Gruver came

Summer's ahead and your serviceman will be mighty busy in the months to come.
While he still has time to include you in an early schedule, calling your air conditioning serviceman will assure the dependable cooling you've come to expect from your electric air conditioning units. Early maintenance or installation of new units will save you from a long waiting period later on. Remember, the hotter it gets, the busier your air conditioning serviceman is.
Proper Insulation!
Keep the cool air you've paid for inside of your house. Consider installing insulation as support for your hard-working air conditioning unit. Value numbers up to R30 in the ceiling and R18 in the walls are recommended for this area.

If you check all windows and doors and install weatherstripping and caulking where needed, you will save on both cooling and heating costs. ### Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

What is good nutrition

For most that's a tough question to answer. With a proliferation of food fads and crazes, it can be difficult to discern food fact from food fiction. We are bombarded daily with conflicting and confusing messages about what's good and what's not.

Most nutritionists agree that a balanced diet draws its nutrients from a variety of foods that have been chosen from the basic food groups: meat, poultry, fish and eggs, vegetables and fruits, cereals and grains, milk and milk products. Today, they are looking at new ways to utilize these food groups.

For instance, nutritionists recommend that individuals eat more foods that are adequate in starch and fiber. Essentially, this recommendation is similar to what the American Heart Association is encouraging; the consumption of a diet higher in complex carbohydrates. Foods like bread, rice, potatoes and pasta are good sources of complex carbohydrates.

Pasta, by itself, deserves special attention. A decade ago pasta was considered by many to be a low-budget, filler food - something to feed the family when the food budget was running low. It was also regarded as a fattening food. But with only 210-220 calories per 2-ounce uncooked serving, this was an undeserved reputation.

Another pasta plus ignored until a few years ago is its nutritional value. Two ounces of dry enriched pasta provide 10 percent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance of protein, 30 percent of thiamine, 15 percent of riboflavin, 15 percent of niacin and 10 percent of iron. Today, pasta is a favorite among people concerned about maintaining good nutritional habits.

Snacking, too, is being re-evaluated. Once viewed as something that spoiled meals, snacking is now recognized as an important way for the body to obtain needed nutrients and calories - especially in children and teens.

For people who don't care to sit down to a full-course meal three times a day, snacking is an answer to obtaining nutrients needed throughout the day. "Grazing" - eating several small meals during the day - is becoming a popular trend.

In addition, some nutritionists point out that we may be better off enjoying a favorite snack food in moderation rather than avoiding it completely. Denial, they say, may lead to feelings of self-deprivation which, in turn, may induce a binge.

Consequently, snack items, like chocolate, should be regarded in terms of the positive contributions they make to the total diet. For instance, a Hershey's milk chocolate bar contains 4 percent of the U. S. Recommended Daily Allowance of protein, 2 percent for thiamine, 4 percent for riboflavin, 6 percent for calcium and 2 percent for iron.

Ice cream, too, contributes to our diet. This delicious food is a good source of calcium, protein, riboflavin and vitamin A. And believe it or not, ice cream is a smart dessert choice for people counting calories. A half-cup serving of ice cream with 10 percent butterfat has only 135 calories.

Since there is no one perfect food to fulfill all our nutritional needs, the best guideline to follow is to avoid food and diet "fads" and instead maintain a balance of a variety of foods, in moderation, including favorite snacks.
