His and Hers

By Scotty and Linda Moore

Hers

To paraphrase an old saying, one woman's wildflowers are another woman's weeds!

If you've driven anywhere the past few weeks, you can't have missed seeing the beautiful yellow flowers alongside the road and on empty (and some not so empty) lots. The pretty yellow flowers combined with the plentiful pecan blossoms have teamed up to create misery for allergy sufferers.

Of course, the pretty weeds/flowers near the back entrance to the shop could be contributing to my itching, sneezing, stuffed-up head feeling, too.

Now that the county is cutting back by not hiring any new parks and road department employees, those of us downtown may miss the cleanup crews that periodically remove weeds from along the sidewalks. But that's okay. I can eradicate those weeds if county employees will just keep the park in the square looking great.

And speaking of looking great, wouldn't those trash cans on the square look great painted green or brown or grey? Sorta blend in with the scenery, and serve their purpose at the same time.

Memorial Day, May 25, will be a time of reflection for many Crockett County residents who lost someone in the service of their country.

This year, Crockett County will join the nation in grieving with the families of the men lost when the USS Stark was attacked May 17 in the Persian Gulf.

Fly your flag on Memorial Day.

Beth Boyd, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, says that hunting lease information is needed to prepare for mail-out. There is no charge to chamber members for listing their deer leases with the chamber. The fee to non-members is $120.

Baccalaureate service Sunday

Members of the Class of 1987 will assemble Sunday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium for baccalaureate services.

The 53 seniors will enter and leave to the solemn strains of Pomp and Circumstance played by Mrs. Barbara Burger at the piano.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Ken Harrison of Ozona United Methodist Church with the benediction by Rev. Ken Eppler of Calvary Baptist.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Jim Gray of First Baptist Church.

Hymns for the service will be lead by Eric Wharton accompanied by Mrs. Rosalind Williams at the piano.

Mills service

Funeral services for Ola Smedley Mills were held Friday, May 15, at First Baptist Church of Ozona. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery, under direction of Wagoner Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mills died May 13, 1987, at the age of 91 in Crockett County Care Center.

She was born Aug. 4, 1896, in Bell County, the daughter of Jessie and Jackie Smedley. The family moved to Coleman County in 1903, and Mrs. Mills attended school at Liberty near Santa Anna.

She was a member of First Baptist Church of Coleman, a mother and a housewife.

Survivors include two daughters, Charlyne Griffith of San Angelo and Jackie Ginsberg of Dallas; one son, Billy Mills of Ozona; one sister, Lida Moore of Nashville, TN; three granddaughters and three great-granddaughters.

Valadez to retire from Community Center

May 22 will mark the end of an era at Ozona Community Center. Graduation day for students in Kiddie Klub and Tinyville will be retirement day for Mrs. Stella Valadez, supervisor/director of the pre-school classes.

Mrs. Valadez began work at the center on Sept. 20, 1966 as an assistant to Miss Dorothy Price and Miss Ethel Wolf. She has been employed in her present capacity for the past four years, but she still fills in as a classroom teacher along with Delfina Perez. "She's my right hand," said Mrs. Valadez of her assistant.

Preparing children to enter the "big school" is the goal of Kiddie Klub classes. The children must learn basics such as numbers, colors, shapes and proper behavior so they will be ready for Ozona Primary.

Working with non-English speaking children, helping them to overcome the language barrier by learning simple commands and appropriate responses, brings pleasure and a sense of achievement to the energetic teacher.

"Their hugs and kisses make my day," she said of her students. There have been as many as 55 children in the program at one time. Present enrollment at the center is 25 for Kiddie Klub and 18 in Tinyville. "It takes a lot of loving, a lot of patience to work with this group," said Mrs. Valadez of the youngsters.

One on one attention for children who are in need of special help is a plus at the center. When a child is falling behind in an area, I make time to help that student, she said.

Continuing education is required of the center director. Workshops make up most of the mandatory 20 hours each year.

The pre-school program for children 3-5 began at Ozona Community Center in the 1950's. The center had its beginning in 1937 when the Woman's Missionary Society of Ozona United Methodist Church brought in two workers for a summer program for Spanish speaking people.

Soil, Water Stewardship Week set for May 24-31

Texas will join in the nationwide observance of Soil and Water Stewardship Week May 24-31, with a wide variety of local programs, says Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Theme for the 1987 observance will be "Help, Hope and Healing."

Foundation of San Angelo provided the major portion of the funds in 1938 for the present stone building. The north wing was added later.

Originally a project related to the National Division of the Board of Global Ministries of the United Methodist Church, now the Community Center is sponsored by Southwest Texas Conference of Global Ministries of United Methodist Church, San Angelo District of the Board of Missions of the United Methodist Church, the Ozona United Reagor explains that application of soil and water conservation practices provide long-term solutions and the help, hope and healing to bind the economic and resource wounds on the nation's farms and ranches.

Joining in participation of the observance will be the Extension Service in cooperation with the state's soil and water conservation districts, the Soil Conservation Service, ministers and congregations, youth groups and others. Goal of the observance is to call attention to the importance of sound stewardship of soil and water resources.

"Survival and welfare of agricultural producers and their land is a concern of food and fiber users. If you eat, you, too, are involved in agriculture. Good soil and water conservation and utilization practices are a concern of everyone," Reagor says.

Bloodmobile coming

Spring is here. The trees are budding, the flowers are blooming, and the birds are singing. Be thankful if you are healthy and pass it on to someone less fortunate. Help make this Spring a joyful one for patients who are in need of blood.

Take time to donate blood when the bloodmobile visits Ozona at the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, May 21, between 3 and 8 p.m.

Methodist Church and individual donations.

"I love the center," said Mrs. Valadez, who is now working with the children of some of her first students. "I've made lots of friends through the children. I love them all."

Ozona is a very good place to raise children according to Mrs. Valadez. She and her husband, Ray, brought up their family of five children in Ozona after moving here from Del Rio in 1959.

Son Joe Robert still lives here. Orlando is market manager at Food for Less in San Angelo, and daughter Maria (Gonzales) teaches in San Angelo. Danny is a teacher in Fort Worth, and Debbie (Rodriguez), who also has a teaching degree, is a supervisor at U. S. Brass in Abilene.

"I know I'll miss the children at first," said Mrs. Valadez of her coming retirement. She plans to spend more time with her husband, who was for many years the minister of the Latin American Church of Christ in Ozona. Visiting their children, reading and doing crossword puzzles will also occupy some of her free time, along with house cleaning. "You know who it is when you work. You just give your house a lick and a promise," she said with a smile.

The Kiddie Klub and Tinyville school year will end with graduation exercises at 7 p.m. May 22 on the lawn at Ozona Community Center.

Payne recognized at ASU Banquet

Former Ozona athlete Larry Payne was among seven Angelo State University student-athletes recognized for outstanding achievement May 1 on the university campus. The 21st annual Nathan's Jewelers ASU Rams and Rammelles All Sports Banquet was held in the Houston Harte University Center Ballroom.

Payne, men's track and field awards recipient, was honored along with Pierce Holt, football; Tim Howard, men's basketball; Debbie Hebert, women's track and field; Michelle Steele, women's basketball; and Jackie Hill, women's volleyball.

Payne, a 6-0 senior, will be participating in the NCAA Division II National Track and Field Championships in Cape Girardeau, MO May 21-23.

The physical education major is a member of the national meet qualifying 4x100 meter and 4x400 meter relay teams. He has also been a valuable point producer in the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

This is the fourth year for the 1982 graduate of Ozona High School to qualify for the nationals.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Payne.

Payne was named two time All-American last year in the 1600m and the 400m relays.

Sanchez places second at state

By T. C. Tucker

For the first six laps, things seemed all right. In fact, Danny Sanchez held a position in which he could make a move in the home stretch. For the first mile he had led, then Albany's Brad Patterson took the lead, but Sanchez stayed right behind him.

But upon reaching that sixth lap, Sanchez' hopes of winning the state meet faltered as Patterson turned on the power and literally sprinted the last two laps.

Sanchez, pleased with his first six laps, said he was surprised at Patterson's outburst.

"...I knew it was over," Sanchez said. "I knew I couldn't catch him." Patterson took the race by 100 yards, clocking a new 2A record of 9:27.6. Easily in second place, Sanchez finished in a time of 9:45.2, while third place had a time of 9:57.

Sanchez improved his order of finish by one from last year's state meet where he placed third in class 3A. However, Sanchez' time proved to be off from last year's by seven seconds.

With one more year ahead, Sanchez may perhaps finish his climb to the top by winning the 3,200m run, thus ending his high school career with a 3-2-1 finish.

The weekend before the state meet, Sanchez competed in a state qualifiers' meet. There he placed second with a time of 9:58.3, edging out Mario Gonzalez of Big Spring who had a 9:59.1. Jimmy Balmer of Lubbock Coronado took first place at this event with a time of 9:47.5.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The compromise tax agreement blew up in the legislative leadership's face after only a few days' life, and at last week's end, no popular solution was in sight.

The House, in fact, dashed hopes of raising a few quick dollars by crushing a bill allowing Texas voters to decide whether to create a state lottery.

That action leaves the beleaguered budget in conference committee where the House and Senate have about two more weeks to hammer out a compromise spending figure that appears, the way things are going, to be unacceptable to the governor.

It was Gov. Bill Clements' apparent reversal on enlarging the tax base to create new revenue that killed the Big Four compromise. What actually happened may never be known.

Some parties, Gov. Clements, for one, said the agreement was never there in the first place. He said the press distorted his role, making it seem he had caved in to new taxes.

Angry Republicans

Lots of people distorted many of the issues in this affair.

Only after a shocked, angry Republican Party moved in to stop him did the governor actually restate his position that he had not erased the spending line he drew during his campaign.

Maybe, when Clements sat with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Speaker Gib Lewis and Comptroller Bob Bullock to explain their plan to the press, his real position just got lost in the conversation.

Some surmise that House Republicans had gone soft on their support of his potential budget veto, and rather than risk an embarrassing defeat of his veto, Clements decided to take his half a loaf and make the best of it.

Tax Issue Regained

But after GOP party chief George Strake and some top committee members wrote to House members to stay tough on taxes, the original Republican plan seems back on track.

They were on the brink of losing the main issue of their comeback: no new taxes.

It was the first time in a long while that one can remember Texas Republicans breaking ranks to leave one of their own stranded in an awkward position, much less a governor.

Clements took the chastisement, ripped the press a bit, and then cancelled his weekly news conferences for the balance of the session.

Annual Sessions

The Senate passed and sent to the House a proposal that the Legislature meet once a year instead of every two years.

The constitutional amendment, if voters approve, would add a 60-day session in even-numbered years to consider only fiscal issues.

Supporters argued that in reality Texas already has annual sessions, citing 17 special sessions in the last 11 bienniums.

In other action, the Senate gave final passage to bills outlawing fishing for striped bass, tarpon and

The House targeted violent offenders with a life sentence without parole, and outlawed the wearing of masks by the Klu Klux Klan and other secret societies.

Also, a House committee advanced a bill to validate the current school finance system, which opponents charge is an attempt to undermine the "Robin Hood" school finance lawsuit.

House sponsors put together a tort reform package tougher than the version sent over from the Senate, despite warnings it could sink the entire issue, and passed it through committee.

Other Highlights

• Dallas-Fort Worth and Amarillo are the two Texas finalists in the competition for the site of the proposed supercollider, the world's largest atom smasher.

Clements signed legislation approving $1 billion in bonds to lure the supercollider to Texas, subject to a statewide vote.

• Attorney General Jim Mattox testified last week that a probe of McLennan County District Attorney Vic Feazell was a state-federal retaliation for Feazell's discrediting alleged mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas.

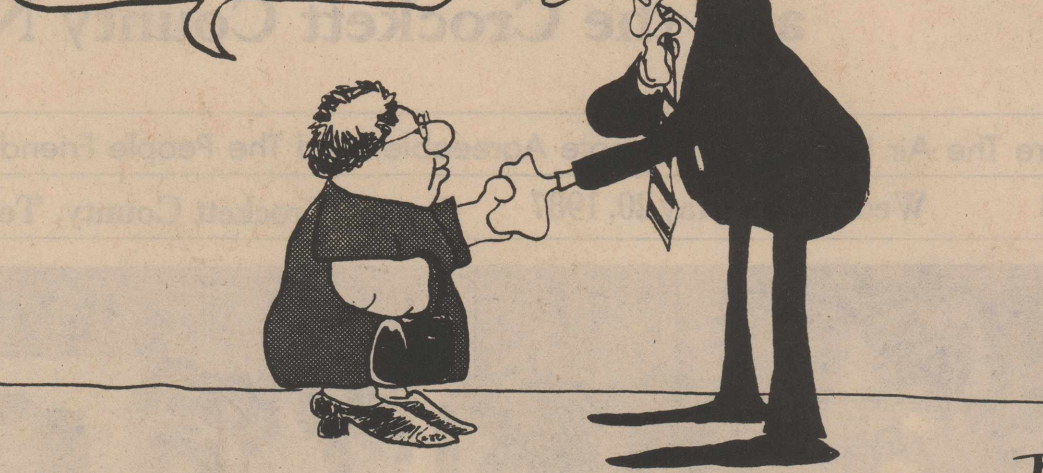

Feazell is charged with 10 counts of bribery and mail fraud. At the trial, Mattox cited agents of the FBI, Texas Rangers and Texas DPS for interfering with Lucas' trial.

• The Texas Poll said most Texans favor higher sales taxes to finance prisons and approve allowing private firms to build and operate prisons.

• That same poll also said seven of ten Texans favor a law making English the official language of Texas. The poll claims 40 percent of Hispanic respondents and 60 percent of South Texans favor the proposal.

• Merger and acquisition activity involved 72 Texas-based firms last quarter, an increase of 50 percent compared with a year ago.

The route consolidation will save the district approximately $5,000 annually. The members also voted to lease a car for driver's education and a Suburban for vocational agriculture from Buttery Motor Company instead of purchasing the two vehicles.

Broken putter breaks Hood's confidence

BY COPIE DAVIS

Ozona High School golfer Bret Hood's dream season, which included both a district and a regional championship, ended in heartbreak May 15 in Austin as bad luck and a tough course got the best of him at the UIL state golf tournament.

Hood went into the tournament with unbridled confidence. After winning Region I-AA going away with a pair of 75's, Hood felt on the top of his game. Accompanied by Coach Rip Sewell, Hood arrived in Austin Wednesday and surveyed the layout of the course he would play, Lions Municipal.

On Day 1 of the tournament, Hood began the round just as he had most of the year. After playing just three holes, he was three shots over par. Hole number four, a rather ordinary par three of 155 yards, was the site of the most unusual occurrence of the season.

"I took my putter out of my bag and began testing the grain of the green," said Hood. "I had made a couple of back and forth motions when all of a sudden, the head came off!" Hood's putter, with which he had played for more than five years, was broken, and Hood's confidence broke with it.

For the next five holes, he putted with his two-iron and struggled lessly. At the turn, Hood began using a backup putter he had brought along just in case disaster struck. He continued to struggle on the greens and watched in agony as the rest of his game collapsed around him.

He turned the front-nine in 45, nine over par. On the back, he picked up four strokes, shooting 41 and posting a 15 over par 86.

"Considering the circumstances, I played all right," Hood said. "Even though I was 10 shots behind the leader, I thought I could make up some ground the second day."

On Thursday night, Sewell and Hood scoured a local pawn shop and bought a putter for use in the second round. The new putter didn't help at all. Playing most of the front nine in a rain shower made putting difficult.

Hood set the tone for the day when he made a triple-bogey eight on #2 and followed that with bogeys at #3, #5, #7 and #9. He turned the front side in 44, eight over par.

On the back nine, Hood played the first four holes in five over par. On the last five holes of the 1987 season, Hood bore down and parred three holes in a row, only to bogey the last two for a 43. Hood's total of 87 for the last 18 holes gave him a two-day total of 173.

Gary Shoen, a senior from Hamilton, won the individual championship with a total of 149. Second was Memphis' Darrel Cofer at 153. Cofer also finished second to Hood at the regional tournament.

Hood reflected on the 1987 season with a down-to-earth outlook. "I'm just happy I got to state," Hood said. "I'm really pleased with the way I played this year. Days like I had at state are going to happen, so I'm not going to get too upset about it."

Hood, along with teammates Will Seahorn, Copie Davis, Shane Pride-more and Jay Haire, will begin summer tour competition in Odessa June 2 in the Optimists' Junior World Championship qualifying tournament.

Shirley Kirby's third grade students enjoyed a field trip around Ozona last week. A stop in the park gave them a chance to rest and hear stories of early day Ozona as told by Mrs. Alvin Harrell.

All-night long graduation party shaping up

The all-night long graduation party to honor the Senior Class of 1987 is in the final stages of planning.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the event which was planned to give students an alcohol-free, fun-filled night. The party is sponsored by the Teen Council.

Merchants and parents have been asked to furnish prizes or donate money for prizes and refreshments. Members of the Youth Center Board are soliciting funds and prizes.

All night movies have been planned for the small back room, and the Youth Center will be the scene of all games and tournaments with prizes for all.

A brunch of egg and sausage burritos and juice will be served at 6 a.m. There will be plenty of food all night.

Students will be allowed to sign in and out before 12 a.m., but no one will be admitted after this time, and no one will be allowed to leave.

The party was planned to give students a fun night without the false boost of drugs or alcohol, so of course, no drugs or alcohol will be allowed on the premises. Those found to be drinking will not be admitted.

This approach to graduation night has proved successful all over the nation in the past few years, and most parents of high school students are very enthusiastic about the concept.

High School Yearly Honor Roll

The following students made the Yearly Honor Roll for the 1986-87 school year. A student must be named to three out of the first five Six-Weeks Honor Rolls to be on the yearly Honor Roll. Band, P.E., Athletics, Photography, Driver Education, Office and Library Aids grades do not count toward the yearly Honor Roll average. A student must have a 90 or better academic average to be on the Honor Roll, and not have any grade below an 80 on their report card.

Driving course a success

A defensive driving course held at Ozona Civic Center on the evenings of May 13 and 14 was very successful according to County Attorney Thomas Cameron who sponsored the event. The course was taken by 30 persons and was taught by two representatives from the San Angelo Safety Council.

Credit for a defensive driving course may be used to obtain a 10 percent reduction in automobile insurance rates (one reduction allowed per family). Also, in some cases, a course may be taken to prevent the charging of a traffic citation to one's driving record.

Cameron stated that "because the course was so well-attended, we plan to offer it again in the Fall of this year on a Saturday as a one-day course to make it convenient for more persons to attend." He urges everyone to use defensive driving skills at all times by driving within the speed limit and using seat belts.

Refreshments were served prior to the meeting being called to order. Members joined together in the reading of the club's collect, then enjoyed a short poem titled "Summer", read by Debbie Glasscock.

The budget committee presented their 1987-88 budget and projects for approval with a short question and answer period following. Both were unanimously voted upon.

Shawn Mitchell reminded members of the cookbook pre-sale parties being held Tuesday, May 19, at Ozona National Bank and Thursday, May 21, at the Crockett County National Bank. Everyone was asked to either sign up to prepare food or work between 10-12 a.m. or 1-3 p.m. Members were also asked to turn their cookbook money in as soon as possible as Thursday, May 21, will be the deadline to sell the books for the pre-sale price of $9.95.

Lou Deaton gave a short progress report concerning the cookbook, then distributed new committee assignments. Also handed out were the new committee assignments for the 1987-88 club year. Members then exchanged farewells for the summer.

Members present were: Lee Allen, Paula Bailey, Helen Bean, Tina Bean, Tammy Bunger, Cathy Carson, Marilyn Chalmers, Ann Childress, Becky Childress, Sandra Childress, Shelly Conner, Lou Deaton, Nancy Forehand, Sharon Forehand, Debbie Glasscock, Jeannine Henderson, Karen Huffman, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Camille Jones, Mary Jo Mason, Patti May, Susan McMullan, Shawn Mitchell, Jane Richardson, Jodie Sessom, Vickie Stokes, Carmen Sutton, Nancy Vannoy, Lisa Wagoner, Lou Whitley and Laurie Hale.

WTU files rate increase

West Texas Utilities Co. has filed for an increase in its retail electric rates, citing the costs of completing a new coal-fired power plant as making the move necessary.

"We have said over and over again that it would be necessary to increase rates when our Oklaunion Power Station was completed," said Stephen Williams, WTU's local manager in Ozona, adding that WTU's last rate request came almost three years ago.

The rate change being sought would add $50,361,475 to the Company's annual retail revenue. This is a 23.9 per cent increase over the test year ending March 31, on which the case is based. The request was filed May 19 with cities in the WTU service area and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Austin.

Williams said there is no such thing as a "typical customer", but that the new rates, if approved, would mean that a residential electric customer using 625 kilowatt-hours per month would pay $10.83 more per month than previously. A commercial customer using 1,500 kilowatt-hours would pay $29.94 more.

"To put this request in its proper perspective, our overall residential revenues will be only six to eight per cent higher than they were two years ago," Williams said. "The decline in fuel costs since then just about offsets this increase."

The Oklaunion Power Plant, situated near Vernon, went into commercial operation Dec. 24, 1986. WTU's share of the cost as majority

Early morning fire destroys home

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bradford was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. According to the fire report, the home was almost lost when trucks arrived at the Barnhart highway location after a 1:11 a.m. call.

Volunteers were back at the station at 3 a.m. after using 4,200 gallons of water on the structure.

The trucks were called to the same location at 11:35 a.m. when the debris blazed up again.

The home, on acreage bought from the Pearson Ranch, had been moved to the location and was vacant at the time.

owner is $275 million, which increased the Company's total investment in facilities by 75 per cent.

"Until this cost is reflected in our rates, the Company does not have the opportunity to recover its expenses and earn a reasonable return on its investment," Williams explained.

Construction at Oklaunion started in May 1982, and the plant was completed on time and well within the original budget. Industry surveys show that Oklaunion was the most economically constructed coal-fired power plant built during the mid-1980s.

Usual procedures at the PUC indicate that a full-scale hearing of WTU's case would be held in late summer, with a final order by the Commission coming late this year. This would make it almost three years since WTU's last change in basic retail rates.

Dickinson-Winkley engagement announced

Crockett County Care Center News

Better late than never could be applied to Monday morning's craft class. Corsages that would have been the ideal thing for Mother's Day were made by Doris Robnett, Ethel Youngblood, Juana Hernandez, Moriana Perez, and Tomasa Ramos. The residents were delighted to wear their creations for everyone to see and admire. We would like to thank Doris Karr for her assistance.

A lovely strand of blue beads was won by Juana Hernandez in Tuesday morning's bingo for being the first to form an X on her bingo card. Regular bingo winners were Harry Blatchford, Virginia Hoover, Doris Robnett, Theo Burns, Manuela Perez and Bertha Miller. Helpful volunteers were Sophie Kyle, Georgia Kirby and Melinda Hokit.

The Bob Bell Band entertained residents Tuesday evening with bits of humor and great country western music. It was with great pleasure that residents welcomed Johnny and Pauline Ringgold and E. J. Whipp from Sonora. Although Pauline and E. J. couldn't be persuaded to sing, Johnny sang like a professional and the residents loved it. Band members present were John and Clara Babb, Jim and Janet Wilson, George Hester, and of course, Bob Bell. The music was so lively, Doris Robnett and Nellie Harp couldn't resist the urge to do a little high stepping.

Long-haired kittens were a few of the pieces worked on in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop. Residents attending were Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Moriana Perez, Hazel McDaniel and Ethel Youngblood. Ruth Hester was the volunteer.

During Wednesday afternoon's sunshine hour on the front porch, residents worked together to make a braided pot hanger.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were Vivian Hughes, Lola Rios, Clara Byrd and Melinda Hokit. After styling hair, Clara headed for the piano to play the residents' favorite melodies.

Mid-week Bible study was presented by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church. Marlys Thurman played the piano and David McCarley led the singing. Spanish speaking residents' spirits were uplifted during the Spanish Hour of Praise. Alicia Perez played the guitar, and a large number of visitors joined residents in the singing of hymns.

Alice Ross was the first place winner of a Watson's gift certificate in Friday morning's bingo. Other winners were Harry Blatchford, Juana Hernandez, Tomasa Ramos, Manuela Perez, Minnie Karr, Bertha Miller, and our new resident, Eva Dean. Volunteers were Melinda Hokit and Mattie Cooper. Popcorn was served.

Sunday's worship service was conducted by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church. A short visitation followed.

High School students inducted into National Honor Society

The Ozona High School chapter of National Honor Society inducted 19 members into the prestigious organization Monday night in the school auditorium. The candlelight ceremony began with a procession of the inductees.

National Honor Society member Vickie Reagor extended a welcome to the inductees, their parents, teachers, administrators and guests. The teacher sponsors for the group are Mrs. Debbie Arrott, Thomas DeHoyos, Mrs. Chesta Stuart and David McWilliams.

NHS officers and senior members began the candlelighting ceremony by expressing their views on preparing for the future and described the goals and attitudes the NHS is attempting to instill in the young men and women of America.

Michael Glaze presented the thought that putting good ideas to work is not always an easy task. Janet Diaz added that working together can bring people together.

Membership in the National Honor Society includes more than just grades. Students are nominated by their grade standings and then voted into membership on the basis of their grade standings and then leadership and character by the faculty.

To be a member, students must maintain a 90 average for three semesters and must be taking geometry. To retain membership, a junior student must maintain an 88 average and meet the previously listed criteria. Seniors must maintain an 85 average.

Once a student's average drops below the required level, he is never again eligible for membership in the NHS.

The 1987 inductees include: Seniors Jena Allen, Tressa Crawford and Chantele Pesson; Juniors Griselda Hernandez, Suzanne King, Eileen Moran, Lydia Pena and Trebie West.

Sophomores inducted are Travis Burks, Julie Carson, Shannon Curry, Copie Davis, Idalia Fierro, Oscar Galindo, Jamie Ramirez, Cody Sutton, Tommy Tucker, Adriane Wilson and Stacie Winkley.

Standing members of the NHS include: seniors Rodney Beasley, Robin Bolf, Janet Diaz, Roger Flores, Michael Glaze, Marcos Gonzales, Sam Hightower, Darla Judd, Peggy Knox, Vickie Reagor, Mark Sellers, George Wall, Peter Shacklette, Richard Gray and Melissa Ybarra.

Juniors who are standing members are: Isabel Benitez, Delma Fierro, Sylvia Flores, Richard Galvan, Bret Hood, Todd Jones, Mark Sanchez, Randi Thompson, Melissa Vallejo and Stanley Winkley.

"I am"
by Connie Marroquin, Pastor
Church Of God Of Prophecy

Jesus is the only one that can come into our lives and really make a difference. Only through Him can we have forgiveness of sin, peace and happiness. There is none other that can give us what He is willing to give us if we let Him. He is our everything.

Jesus said:
"I am the way, the truth, and the life" John 14:6
"I am the bread of life" John 6:35
"I am the door" John 10:9
"I am the Light of the World" John 8:12
"I am the true vine" John 15:1

"I am the good shepherd" John 10:11
"I am the resurrection" John 11:25
You can see through His word that He is our only hope. He is the only answer to our every need. So let Him come into your life and really start living.
God bless you is my prayer.

Rachel's Reviews

CALCIUM CRITICAL FOR TEENS

What teen is unaware of the hottest cut and color of jeans, the most outrageous recording artist, the wackiest wardrobe accessory, or whether gel or mousse sculpts best? If only teens would pursue good nutrition with some of the same fervor. Today's teens are making important nutritional decisions that affect not only themselves but also their families. Recent surveys show that more than half of the teenage girls in the United States shop for all or part of the family's groceries each week. Three out of four teenage girls prepare meals for their families.

Despite the important role they play in determining what foods they and their families eat, teenage girls are not as well nourished as they should be. They especially are missing the mark for calcium and iron.

HOW MUCH CALCIUM IS NEEDED?

A girl may grow one inch each year between age 11 and age 18. Calcium plays an important role in the development of the skeleton, nearly half of which is formed between the ages of 10 to 20.

For girls in this age group, the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) for calcium is 1200 mg. That's four to five servings daily from the milk group. One serving equals one cup of milk or buttermilk, one container of yogurt, one ounce of cheese or one cup of ice cream or ice milk. There is very little safety margin in this requirement since other factors affect how much calcium and other nutrients are actually absorbed by the body. Pregnant teens are recommended to consume an additional 400 mg. or a total of 1600 mg. calcium per day to meet the growth needs of both mother and baby.

A CALCIUM CRISIS?

According to data from research conducted between 1976 and 1980, the median intake of calcium for girls age 12 to 17 is 692 mg. or 58 percent of the RDA of 1200 mg. One half of today's teen girls are consuming 50 percent or less of the calcium recommended every day.

Part of the problem stems from a preoccupation with thinness, causing many girls to confuse a great shape with a great body. When a teen girl turns to crash and fad dieting, she often eliminates dairy products and other foods that are high in essential nutrients. Dieting or not, she frequently replaces milk with soda, depriving her body of an excellent source of calcium.

The skeleton can be built and enlarged only during the years of growth and development, from birth to age 20, with a small amount of bone consolidation occurring during the 20s. If calcium intake is low during adolescence, it could affect the optimal growth and enlargement of the skeleton, resulting in a smaller and weaker skeleton that may have been attained by adulthood. There currently is no reliable way to rebuild or enlarge the skeleton after the period of growth and development.

When too little calcium is consumed in the diet, the body draws calcium reserves from the bones - the body's calcium bank. In addition, from about the age of 40, bone is naturally lost as part of the aging process. As old age is reached, the bones become fragile if the body has had a small bone bank from which to draw. Many women lose enough bone that the skeleton becomes susceptible to fracture by even the most simple movements. This condition is known as osteoporosis.

BECOME CALCIUM CONSCIOUS

To ensure a strong and healthy body, teens need to become calcium conscious. Calcium intake can easily be increased with dairy foods. For example, when planning meals, include calcium-rich dishes such as lasagne or macaroni and cheese, hen eating out or grocery shopping, be sure to get real dairy foods marked with the "REAL" seal - especially pizza and milkshakes. Whenever possible, drink milk with meals.

BUILDING STRONG BONES

John J. B. Anderson, Ph.D., of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, has a three point program for teen: to build healthy bones.

1. Foods First - eat foods from the basic food groups rather than relying on pills, which are expensive and do not provide the nutrient balance of

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS by Rod Chalmers

In 1985, more than one in four Americans, or about 46.6 million, engaged in sport fishing. And if Texas fishermen are indicative of the rest of the nation, most of those did not know the laws regulating the sport while engaged in the activity. Like it or not, there are laws to be observed, and they're there to help assure all fishermen of a chance to catch a fish...this year, next year, and 20 years from now. With that kind of pressure on the resource, regulation is necessary to assure a future for the sport. The same laws apply whether you're a "fisherman", or just a camper passing the time with a cane pole on the bank of the creek, as an afterthought and incidental to another outdoor activity. All of the regulations are explained in detail in the Texas Freshwater Fishing Guide (free anytime licenses are sold), but we'll hit the high points in this column and try to summarize the most important aspects of those laws and answer the most often asked questions before they're asked.

We'll be referring to Texas public fresh waters in general, but be aware that there are some areas (usually lakes) where special laws exist to fit that area, so read that guide or ask about special laws before fishing a new spot.

This week, we'll cover licensing requirements for Texas residents. A resident is defined as a person with U. S. citizenship, or an alien who has officially declared his intent to become a citizen, who has resided in Texas for more than six months immediately preceding application for a license.

There is legislation pending which would provide for exemptions; however, at the present time, a fishing license is required of all persons fishing in the public waters of the State of Texas. For all practical purposes, consider your fishin' hole public waters unless it's a private stock tank. Private land on both sides of the river doesn't necessarily make the waters private!

A Resident Fishing License costs $8.00, or you can buy a Combination Hunting/Fishing License for $15.00 and you'll be covered for most outdoor activity in Texas. Both licenses expire at the end of August following issuance, so if you buy your fishing license in the middle of August, you'll just get to use it for two weeks. A license bought in September will be good for almost a year.

If you didn't already have a fishing license prior to your fishing trip in July or August, or if you know that this is the only time you'll fish this year, you can buy a $5.00 license that's good for 14 days from issuance - called a Temporary (14 day) Resident Sportfishing License.

Residents under the age of 17, or 65 or over, or the holder of a commercial fishing license, need to acquire a Special Resident Fishing License. It's free, but it's still required to fish in Texas, regardless of how you're fishing. Blind persons or certain disabled veterans are entitled to a reduced fee license for $1.50.

A lost or destroyed fishing license can be replaced with a duplicate license for $5.00, but it'll require you to get your old license number from the place you bought it. In many cases, it's easier to purchase another license like the one you lost, and pay the $8.00. The law prohibits buying another hunting license to prevent anyone from getting extra deer or turkey tags, but there's no law that prevents you from buying several fishing licenses.

NEXT WEEK: DAILY, POSSESSION, AND SIZE LIMITS ON FISH.
