Ozona treatment plant in operation

Ozona's new wastewater treatment plant goes into operation today, Sept. 23, announced Dee Keilers, manager of Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District. The change over to the new system ends a 15 year project which began with the search for a site in 1972.

The new plant was designed for 5,040 persons or until the year 2000. Estimates set the current population at 3,800.

Two lagoons of 6.8 acres each provide the primary treatment with a gravity system to draw the effluent into two stabilization ponds of 24.4 acres each. Detention time is 63 days. Water will then be discharged into Johnson Draw.

Once the new plant is determined to be working correctly, the old plant will be torn down and buried with nothing left except the point where the two systems connect, said Keilers.

The location for the new plant was actually selected in August of 1983 and the acquisition process began. Despite the size of Crockett County, there are few sites suitable for the plant.

Locations were previously chosen by the district board in 1974, 1980 and 1981 before settling on the location on the Sarah Seay property 2½ miles south of Ozona.

State hearings began on the project in August of 1984 and were approved on June 25, 1986 by the Texas Department of Water Resources. An Environmental Protection Agency permit was granted at the same time the state approved the plans.

The local waste treatment system was named to the state's list of worst polluters for the first time in 1986, while construction was being held up by two things. A suit had been filed by property owner Arlington Helbing asking that the Texas Water Resources permit be set aside. Helbing stated that the discharge from the treatment plant into Johnson Draw would create a nuisance and damage his right to subdivide his property for future development.

The second obstacle at this point was the federal government's yet to be completed tax plan which held up bond sales.

The tax plan was finalized, the Helbing case was ruled in favor of the water district in appeals court, and construction began in mid-April.

Financial cost of the project was $715,000. Initially expected to cost $760,000, the facility was paid for by a $950,000 bond election held Aug. 10, 1985. "The balance of the election proceeds, $235,000, will be used for other water, wastewater or sanitation collection projects directed by the board," Keilers said.

A number of people worked on the project who are unknown locally, financial advisors with Underwood-Neuhaus and attorneys with McGinnis, Lockridge and Kilgore, said Keilers.

"Bill Cooper and former directors had a whole lot to do with it." Cooper was water district manager when the search for a plant location began in 1972.

Homecoming

Homecoming week at Ozona High School has been filled with activity beginning with Slob Day on Monday. The students continued the fun with Nerd Day on Tuesday, Hippie Day on Wednesday, '60s day on Thursday and Spirit Day on Friday.

The annual bonfire, always a big spirit builder for the students and the community, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the baseball practice field across from Crockett County National Bank.

The Lions will host the McCamey Badgers in the homecoming tilt Friday night. Football queen candidates will be presented in a pre-game ceremony at 7:40 p.m.

Music by the Ozona Lion Band will serenade as candidates and their escorts appear.

Chosen as candidates by members of the football team are: Sharon McCrohan escorted by Jim Etheridge, Eileen Moran escorted by Bret Hood, Sandra Ramirez escorted by Jones Fay and Melissa Vallejo escorted by Derold Vargas. All are seniors at Ozona High School.

The annual homecoming dance will be held from 8 p.m. until midnight Saturday at the Civic Center with music by De Ja Vu.

Town meeting held with Sims

Sen. Bill Sims told 25 listeners that he agrees with all the amendments on the ballot for the special election Nov. 3 at a town meeting Tuesday.

The senator touched on several of the amendments and answered questions from the audience after giving an outline of the Texas Legislature's makeup. Maintaining that his 25th district is the largest in the world, he talked about the diversity of the 68,000 square mile area ranging from half of El Paso County to Bexar County on the east.

The people being let out of prison so more can go in are white collar criminals, not murderers, Sims said, indicating they might be coming out to steal your money, but would not be likely to take your life.

On a more serious note, he did state that the cost of building a maximum security cell is $50,000.

Praising the research centers of Texas A&M and The University of Texas, Sen. Sims told his audience that he would like to see the research money from the Permanent University Fund go entirely to these universities.

Proposition 7 on the Nov. 3 ballot grants low interest loans while 4 and 6 will help with economic development, the senator said.

Prop. 17 he categorized as confusing, but good, and pointed out that Prop. 24 allowing a county to use county equipment and personnel to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity, was his amendment.

"And I would certainly encourage voting for Referendum No. 2," Sims said. That measure submits to the voters the question of whether pari-mutuel wagering should be legal in Texas on a county-by-county local option basis.

Lions trampled by Iraan 48-0

by T. C. Tucker

There's a saying about some people making things happen, others watching it happen and those who wonder what happened. Last Friday night, the Ozona Lions were a part of the happening, but exactly what happened is not quite clear.

The Braves came out fired up, fire in their eyes and a memory of last year's upset loss to the Lions feeding that fire. In the course of four quarters' time, the Braves repaid that loss with interest.

"They were ready for us," Coach Don Payne said. "They brought the fight to us and we didn't respond." Iraan opened play by taking the first possession and moved the ball 82 yards downfield for their first of a long list of touchdowns. Within four minutes time, the Lions were down by six.

On their opening possession, the Lions fumbled the ball into Brave hands. Turnovers would shut down the Ozona offense as the Lions lost three fumbles and had an equal number of their passes snatched out of the air by foreign hands.

Still, on their next two possessions, the Braves would lose the ball to fumbles, once giving the Lions great field position 17 yards from the end zone.

Even then the Lions failed to capitalize and Iraan forced them to attempt a field goal, and that proved to be the closest the Lions ever got to scoring.

Any hope for staying right beside Iraan vanished when the second quarter rolled around and Iraan drove the field twice and converted an Ozona turnover into eight points, giving the Braves a 27-0 halftime advantage.

Except for the one time late in the fourth quarter, the Lions would never again cross the 50 yard line into Brave territory. Time and time again, the Lions suffered negative yardage and had to punt from deep in their end of the field, allowing Iraan the opportunity to travel only 50 yards or so to come within scoring range.

The third quarter resembled the first in that Iraan only scored once and moved ahead 34-0.

During the third stanza, Ozona's quarterback, Chris Denman, went

Robbery update

No arrests have been made in connection with the Sept. 15 armed robbery at Circle Bar Truck Corral says Sheriff Billy Mills.

"We are still running polygraph tests; we are still investigating every lead we can think of," said Sheriff Mills.

A robbery was reported Tuesday morning after cashier-secretary Sandy Montgomery was found unconscious inside the vault in her office.

"This is a very serious situation," said Mills.

The amount of cash, credit card slips and other receipts, has not been released, but six to eight days' receipts were believed to be in the vault.

"This is one of the largest robberies I know of," said Mills, indicating that the investigation would continue.

Sheriff Mills to retire

In an announcement to The Stockman Tuesday, Sheriff Billy Mills stated that he does not intend to run for re-election.

"When my term ends Jan. 1, 1988, I am retiring," Mills said.

Commenting that he wished to lay the question of his candidacy to rest, Sheriff Mills said he started in law enforcement here 38½ years ago and is ready to retire.

Sheriff Mills said he does not intend to support any candidate for his office.

Yates new Ozona Wool & Mohair manager

New Ozona Wool and Mohair manager Joe David Yates officially began his job in Ozona Sept. 21, just in time to be part of the big wool sale scheduled for Wednesday. "I'm looking forward to the sale, and I'm pleased to work with the people at Wool Growers on it," Yates said.

Ozona Wool and Mohair, Wool Growers Central Storage and Sanderson Wool Commission will hold sealed bid sales Wednesday beginning at Ozona Wool at 10 a.m. Approximately 350,000 pounds of 4-month short wool will be offered at 10 a.m.

Wool Growers and Sanderson Wool Commission will begin their sale at 2 p.m. with 250,000 pounds of 4-month short wool offered.

Former Ozona Wool manager Brian May will be on hand for the sale. May was selected to replace Bob Paschal as executive director of the Mohair Council of America last month.

"Brian and I attended ASU together," said Yates. Both men were on livestock and wool judging teams at ASU.

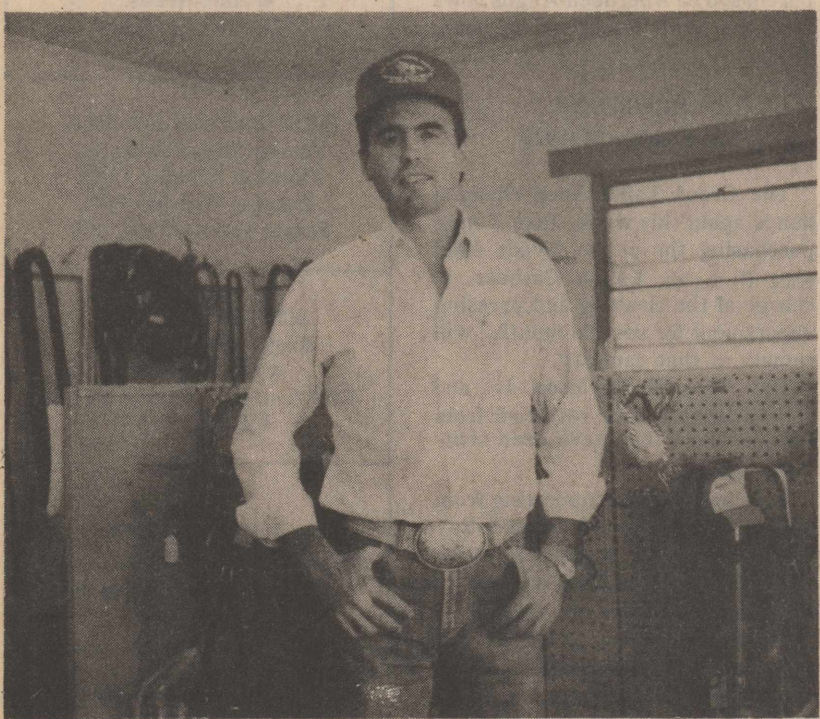

Yates was a member of the 1980 National Wool Judging Team and is pleased to be able to carry his winning knowledge into the business field.

"I enjoy what I do," said the busy warehouse manager.

Ranch raised, the Llano native was in feed sales there prior to taking a position as general manager at Southwestern Wool and Mohair in Eden in February.

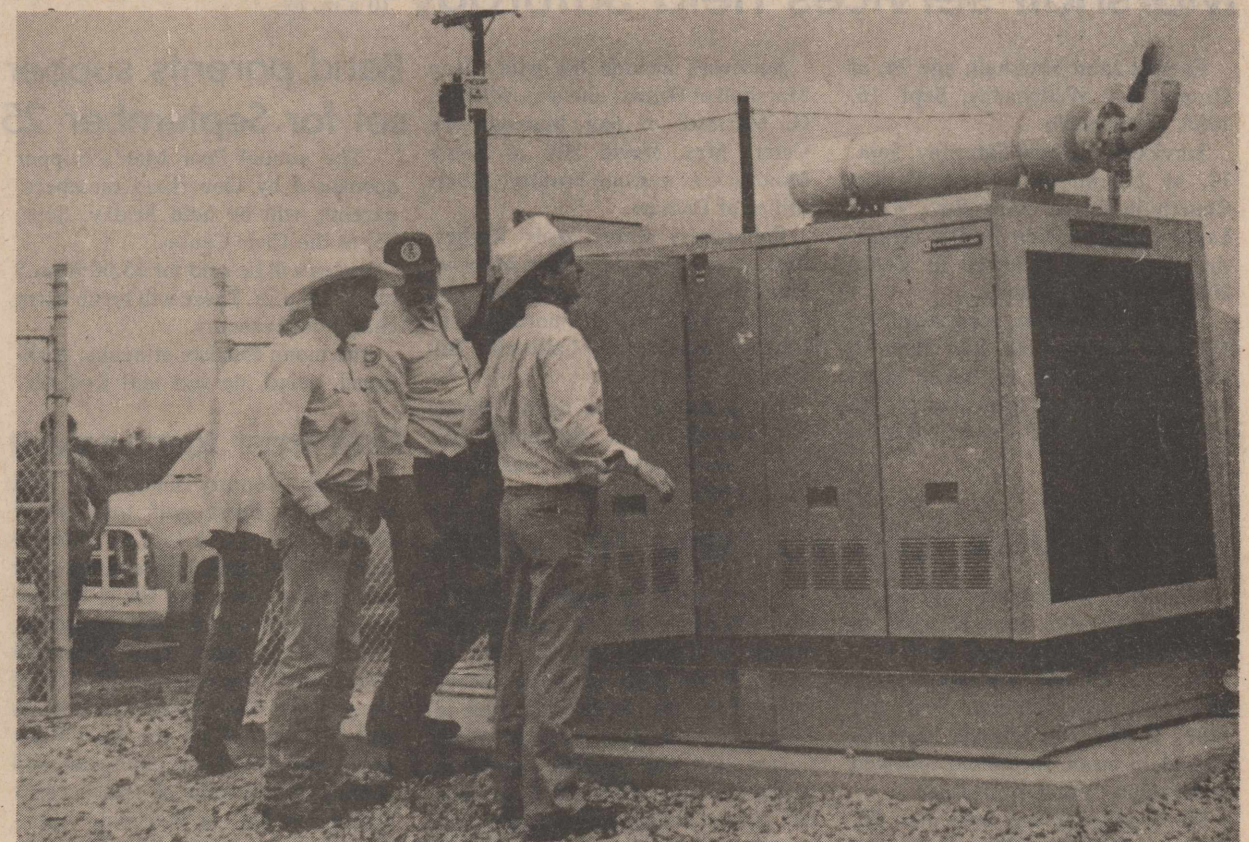

Yates was a member of the 4-H Club and FFA during his years in the Llano school system and hopes to continue working with young people in these areas.

"The warehouse and I are for the community. Our doors will always be open," said the new manager.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—State Treasurer Ann Richards, after spending several weeks testing the political waters, said last week she will run for governor in 1990.

Richards, the first major-party candidate to declare a definite intention to run, said her recent Texas travels convinced her she could win. "I just know everything looks good to me. All I can say to you is at this point, I feel really positive about making the race," she said.

Richards added that she would be pleased to run on a Democratic ticket with Comptroller Bob Bullock, who recently announced for lieutenant governor.

The treasurer said her immediate political priority is the 1988 reelection of Texas U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen.

Richards Party Divider

Meanwhile, Attorney General Jim Mattox said if Richards runs against him for governor in 1990, it will divide the Texas Democratic Party.

"I just think it would be an expensive, divisive-type matter," Mattox said. "You have a set group of people that support people within the party, and if you have two candidates trying to get support, by definition it's divisive."

Mattox, who has all but announced for governor, said he thinks Richards will change her mind about running. "I doubt seriously if she's going to be a candidate, when all is said and done," he said.

Anti-racing Group Formed

Opponents of legalizing horse and dog race gambling last week launched their campaign against the racing proposal on the Nov. 3 Texas ballot by saying the sports bring sharp increases in animal cruelty.

"For every multimillion-dollar race horse like Secretariat, who makes an enormous amount of money for its owner and is royally treated for the rest of his life, there are thousands of cheaper horses that endure a miserable existence and even die on the race track," said Ann Koros.

Koros, of the Texas Humane Information Network, charged that racing dogs also suffer abuse. "Very few greyhounds live to the age of four, since even dogs that race successfully are destroyed to save feed costs when they stop earning money," she said.

Koros spoke at a news conference sponsored by Texans Who Care, a coalition leading opposition to the referendum that would legalize pari-mutuel wagering in Texas.

Sue Cox, campaign director for the group, said opponents will attack the proposal on many fronts, including the increase in crime she said accompanies legalized gambling. She said the group hopes to raise $500,000 for its campaign.

Nick Kralj, president of the Greyhound Racing Association of Texas, said charges of animal cruelty are unfounded. "It's a rather desperate tactic by some people," Kralj said. "Animal abuse is not going to happen in Texas and it's not happening in Texas where large numbers of greyhounds currently are bred."

Mauro Defends Contract

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro defended awarding a 20-year contract for administering the Veterans Land Board's home loan program to Lomas & Nettleton Co., Dallas.

Questions were raised about how the firm headed by Democratic fundraiser Jess Hay was selected and over sizeable loans by L&M to Mauro and his family.

The loans include a $200,000 working capital loan and $1.4 million property note in 1984 to Mauro and others, and $71,000 loan to Mauro, wife Judith Bagley and brother-in-law Jeffrey Bagley for a Washington, D.C., condominium.

L&M has received $2.9 million in fees with the contract expected to provide approximately $18 million.

Mauro insists the contract was put out for competitive bids, but that L&M was the only bidder, and denies any improprieties. Now-Secretary of State Jack Rains, a Republican, was a member of the Veterans Land Board when the contract was awarded and voted with Mauro to approve the contract. Rains says he relied on staff recommendations.

Other Highlights

• Former House Speaker Billy Clayton urged the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority to consider an Andrews County disposal site and to abandon plans for one in Hudspeth County.

• The Texas Association of Compensation Consumers is gearing up to push for changes in the worker's compensation system.

• Houston lawyer John Odom, who served as legislative counsel to former Gov. Mark White, says he is considering running for attorney general in 1990, but probably won't decide until after the 1988 election.

CROCKETT COUNTY OUTDOORS

by Rod Chalmers

There's a hunting season going on that I bet most of you didn't know anything about. And after I tell you about it, you'll probably say, "So what?" But Crockett County does harbor a few of a very dedicated, almost fanatical group known as Duck Hunters, so we'll give equal time to their vice and say a few words about teal season. (For the uninformed, a teal is a duck!)

Bluewinged, greenwinged, and cinnamon teal are legal from Sept. 19 through Sept. 27, and the legal daily limit is five in the aggregate. A Texas hunting license is required of everyone hunting ducks, as is a Texas Waterfowl Stamp and a federal duck stamp.

All the laws we've been discussing in the past about doves applies when you're hunting ducks, as both species are migratory. As you no doubt remember, migratory birds cannot be hunted with an unplugged shotgun, over bait, from a vehicle, etc. All the information you need can be found in the Early Season Migratory Bird Hunting Guide, which can be found most places licenses are sold.

The dove situation in Crockett County seems to have gone from bad to worse, probably due to the rainfall, and it'll stay that way till we get some northern birds down this direction. But I'd rather have the rain anyway, as there's a lot more to carry through the winter than doves. We seem to have more quail than doves, but let me caution dove hunters that the season for quail doesn't open until Nov. 7. The limit will be very liberal this year, and you can hunt through Feb. 28, so let's not be tempted prematurely.

The next few weekends will bring out-of-town hunters into our area as they prepare leases for hunting season. When they get here they have just one thing on their minds... "How's deer hunting gonna be this year?" They'll ask a bank teller or a grocery sacker just as quick as the Game Warden or a landowner, so for those of you who haven't heard, here's the forecast.

There's a lot of deer in the county, thanks to three years of bumper fawn crops. Deer in general are fat, but you might occasionally find one that looks rough due to a bout of stomach worms, or ticks, or both. It's just something that goes with a wet year. Good body condition on the rest should continue throughout the season. Antlers on bucks will be as good as they can get, with the only limiting factor being the age of the deer. (There's nothing wrong with our genetics!) The plus in the age factor is the number of bucks that made it through last season because of a light harvest.

I hate to ride a tired horse to death, but I must emphasize that this is the time for landowners to look seriously at the need to harvest some surplus does so we don't get in trouble when we go back to our normally dry years. I've got some ideas about how to encourage deer harvest, so if you're interested give me a call and I'll be glad to discuss it with you. My number's 392-3972.

Queen Diana Ramirez and King Juan Tijerina Jr.

Fall festival royalty crowned at OLPH Parish Hall

Our Lady of Perpetual Help's Fall Festival began Saturday, Sept. 19, with the Cinco de Mayo princess, Frances Moran, crowning the Fall Festival queen, Diana Ramirez, and the king, Juan Tijerina Jr. The crown placed on Diana's head has been in her family since her aunt, Lupe Guerra, was queen in 1954. Another aunt, Yolanda Martinez, won the crown in 1957, and Lupe's daughter, Leticia Macias, was queen in 1972.

The king and queen led their court and did the traditional "marcha". The court consisted of the candidates, Tracy Vitela, Tiffany Vargas, Yvonne Madris, Maribel De La Garza and Jennifer Ybarra, as well as Marie Maskill, Tanya Amaya, Tracy Ybarra, Myra Sanchez, Michelle Mendoza, Nicole Martinez and Christy Porras. Their escorts were: Frankie Moran, J. J. Ybarra, Gabriel Perez, Javier Perez, Thomas Galan, Andy Borrego, Eric Sanchez, James Tambunga, Larry Sanchez, Alex Borrego, Dean Fierro and Leroy Martinez.

Elliott Barrera was master of ceremonies for the coronation and marcha.

On Sunday, Sept. 20, the king, queen and their court attended the 11:15 a.m. Mass. The festival continued with contests, games and races.

The menudo cookoff was held with George Ybarra as the chairperson. Winners was Connie Perez with runners up being Inez Ortiz, Rebecca Martinez and Juan Perez.

Charlie and Carmen Ramos chaired the baking contest. There were 20 entries, and the platter winner was Lelia Tambunga with a Butterfly Funnel Cake. The runner up was Ester Lewis. Judges for the contest were Beth Boyd, Janet Hill and Lynn Harris.

The jalapeno eating contest was won by Manuel Munoz Sr. who ate 40 jalapenos. First runner up was Albert Talamantez. Others winning were Mabel and Juan Hernandez.

The pickle eating contest as well as the jalapeno eating contest was chaired by Ernie and Celda Borrego. The person eating the most pickles was Gabriel Vasquez who ate 360 slices of pickles. Winners for different age groups were Michael Vasquez, first; James Tambunga, second; and J. J. Ybarra, third; Melecio Martinez, first; Jon Sanchez, second; and Eric Ramos, third; Natalie Ybarra, first; R. J. Elizondo, second; and Mark M. third.

Races for the children were held with many winners in the sack races, three-legged race, run-walk race and relays. Races were held for four-year-olds, six and seven-year-olds, eight and nine-year-olds and 11 and 12-year-olds.

Live music was provided by Gilbert Gomez and his band. There were different couples winning in the dancing.

OLPH would like to thank Felice Gutierrez and Lupe Galan who coordinated the festival, as well as the Knights of Columbus, Kaycee Ladies, Altar Society, Rudy Martinez family, Cursillistas and chairpersons; George Ybarra, Ernie and Celda Borrego, Charlie and Carmen Ramos, Frank Tambunga, Juanita Delgado, Richard Sanchez, Willie Fierro and the super cleaning committee. A special thanks goes to the fall festival king and queen and their families.

It's a boy

Derrick Ace Delgado was born Aug. 31, 1987 to Fabian Delgado and Alma Gutierrez at Shannon Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Herculano Delgado of Ozona, Lupe Gutierrez of Ozona and Juan Gutierrez of San Angelo.

Register Thur. for English classes

Adults who are desirous of learning to speak, read and write English may register for classes at the Community Center on Thursday evening, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. Text books will be furnished, and this service is free of charge. It is stressed that students MUST register on Thursday as once classes begin, additional adults cannot be accepted in this particular class.

Adultos interesantes en comenzar las clases para aprender a hablar, leer y escribir Ingles, se pueden registrar el Jueves, Septiembre 24, 1987, en la Community Center. Estudiantes se deben registrar el Jueves porque despues no se podran comenzar las clases. A los que no estan registrados.

For some time, Joan Nicholas, volunteer coordinator and tutor for the Crockett County literacy program sponsored by the library system, has had a growing waiting list of adults needing volunteer tutors. Some volunteers have dropped out or moved away, and existing volunteers, namely, Ene-mencia Flores, Alleane Jones, Glenda Henderson, Jean Conner and Mrs. Nicholas, currently are servicing students.

Laubach Literacy International prefers that students be taught on a one-to-one basis, but it has been decided, since so many adults are waiting, a class will be formed for ESL students (English as a Second Language).

Food stamps tax exempt

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last week that changes in the state's sales tax law will bring Texas into compliance with federal regulations on food stamp purchases.

Bullock said that Texas law exempts all food stamp purchases from the state's sales tax starting Oct. 1.

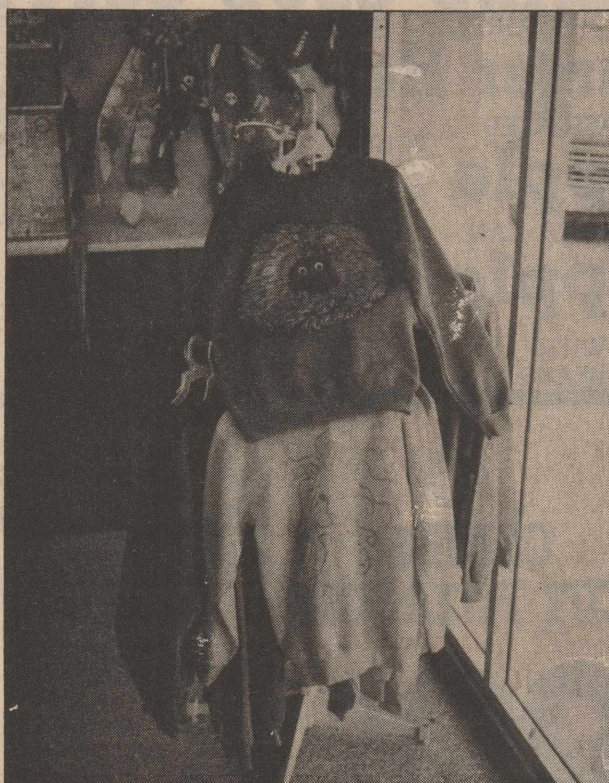

The exemption will cost the state about $5 million in lost revenue in 1988, but will prevent the federal government from withholding a projected $808 million in annual assistance to 1.4 million Texans.

Last year's reauthorization of the federal food stamp program added new language that prohibits states from receiving food stamps if they collect taxes on food stamp purchases.

Although most food items are exempt in Texas, the state does collect tax on candy, soft drinks, diluted juices and other foods.

Mrs. Juanita Pruneda has volunteered to teach this class. "We are so fortunate to have Mrs. Pruneda come forward," Mrs. Nicholas said. "She has taught in the public school system for many years and at Central High School in San Angelo she taught ESL to students from several foreign countries. She has also taught government and given U. S. citizenship instruction."

Mrs. Nicholas added that the problem of so many adults needing tuition and the lack of volunteer help has been uppermost in her mind for some months, and to have someone with Mrs. Pruneda's qualifications volunteer to teach this class is truly a Godsend.

"One more" is a common phrase among people affected by alcohol or substance abuse. This "one more" is always one too many. More and more people are realizing that alcohol and substance abuse are treatable diseases. Signs of these diseases are taking a drink or using a drug first thing in the morning, poor work performance, blackouts and feelings of guilt. There is no instant treatment for these diseases. But there is help. The kind of help provided by the First Step Program of St. John's Hospital in San Angelo.

This professionally supervised program offers help to both the patient and the family. Help is available on an inpatient or outpatient basis and is only a phone call away. 653-2273 or 1-800-227-5905 in Texas.

Banned books week at library

Featured at the Crockett County Public Library this week is a display of books that you can't check out. For one week, books that have been previously banned are again prohibited. This is to demonstrate the power of censorship and to emphasize the rights we sometimes take for granted, rights that have been guaranteed to each individual under the Constitution.

The following statements have been taken from Banned Books by Anne Lyon Haigh.

"The number of people who want to prevent other people from reading or seeing certain things is truly amazing; amazing, that is, unless we admit that there is a censorious impulse, latent or overt, in most of us. Power gives the impulse free rein, but people without power are also tempted by the wish to censor, partly to obtain some measure of influence over others, and partly to strike out against something they fear.

Censorship by religious, kingly, and parliamentary authorities was familiar in the past. Actual or attempted repression by governmental authorities at every level is all too familiar in the present. This is true even in the relatively free societies. Britain has its severe Official Secrets Act; the U.S., with some difficulty, escaped having one passed in 1976. Both nations experienced localized efforts to restrict freedom. Debate has sharpened over the application of rights to privacy and of the public's "right to know".

The plain fact is that there has been no suppression of books since the 1970's - no ban, no successful prosecution. But that does not mean there cannot be, or that there never will be.

We sorely need the reminder of where we have been, and where, if we don't watch out, we will return. "Constant vigilance," the Supreme Court has told us, "is required if we are to preserve our First Amendment freedoms".

The statements come from the Texas Library Association's Intellectual Freedom Handbook.

Intellectual freedom, the essence of equitable library services, promotes no causes, furthers no movements, and favors no viewpoints. It only provides for free access to all expressions of ideas through which any and all sides of a question, cause, or movement may be explored. Librarians cannot justly permit their own preferences to limit their degree of tolerance in collection development, because Freedom is Indivisible.

It is the responsibility of librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large. Librarians believe that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

It continues stint at No. 1

by T. C. Tucker

When a person crosses over from a child into adulthood, pleasures and items of the past become "childish". Comic books take a trip to the garbage, stuffed animals pass on to other youngsters or join the comics, the imaginary play friends retire and no longer accompany alongside, and the noises heard at night while lying in bed are merely the boards creaking and not the monsters one imagined as a young child.

So is that which Stephen King exemplifies in his biggest horror book; biggest merely in size (three pounds, seven and one-half ounces) as well as in terms of broad range of subject. King says IT should be his last horror book, and in doing so, he figured to bring every monster back for the grand finale. Thus, tackling many different areas told through the eyes of the seven heroes and several other characters, King incites a length of 1,138 pages in hardcover, slightly a hundred less in paperback.

IT first hit the bestseller list even before it made its way to the bookstores early in October of last year. Due to the first printing of 800,000 copies, the huge novel claimed the top spot just on that account.

Among the vast amount of pages filled to the brim with words comes the story of seven individuals both as young, adolescent teens and successful middle-aged adults. The stories run parallel as King shifts from the '50s to the '80s and back again, over and over.

Besides showing the difference between a child's thinking and beliefs and those of an adult, the king of horror also gives a suggestion as to what happens to those young persons that vanish every year in our nation. Sure, some run away, others are abducted; but by whom? Individual psychopaths? Has anyone ever pointed the finger at Pennywise the clown? A clown that resembles Ronald McDonald, but no one in the fifties knew of a Ronald, so the seven young kids classify him as a cross between Bozo and the local circus clown. Yet, Pennywise does not give off the fun-loving shine most clowns possess. Instead, Pennywise will offer young George a balloon, telling him that they float and "down here you'll float, too". Nice charm.

Together, the seven heroes see IT as Pennywise, but individually alone, they see IT differently, whether as a huge, crawling eye, a vampire with razor blades for teeth, a mummy, or a werewolf wearing an orange high school letter-jacket. Pennywise proves to be IT's favorite shape to assume and orange the chosen color. However, deep in the sewers of Derry, Maine, and deeper still, IT sheds all costumes and becomes something seemingly undecipherable (although King gives it his best shot) and not of this world.

Regardless, IT seems to like the food offered on Earth, except we would not consider young persons a main course. While rummaging through town records, one of the heroes discovers that the monster renting the area beneath the city eats in cycles. Once IT's appetite is satisfied, nap time arrives and sleep commences for the next 30 or so years. The seven heroes face the horror twice: in the '50s and '80s.

Getting through the first 300 pages or so might be a little tedious, but two things make the task somewhat easier. First, the opening killing of George (hero Bill's younger brother) turns the stomach. How many times does it occur in your neighborhood that a person's arm is torn completely from the rest of the body? This stunning death does a lot to keep the pages turning. Second, after passing the 300 mark, one becomes accustomed to the punchy style, and before long, the end of the book nears.

Another problem evolves from the constant change from '50s to '80s. Getting mixed up in all the time changes would not be too hard. Plus, the same effect takes place with the narrators; who's doing the talking right now, anyway?

Overall, though, the book serves its purpose of entertaining the reader while making King big bucks. After hanging around the top 20 bestsellers for so long, IT finally slipped out of sight long enough to allow for the printing of the paperback, that handy piece of literature that costs relatively little and fits in the back pocket. Wrong.

King's book, which could alternately serve as a doorstop while not being read, as a paperback easily munches a fiver and can compare with the likes of Michner and perhaps even overpower Ludlum in size. But the likes of it will probably not be seen again in awhile. King's The Eyes of the Dragon remained small in size, and his current hardcover bet, Misery, trickles slightly over 300 pages.

The avid fan most likely has already had hands on the hardcover, but for those who have never tried King or who only frequently read him, IT proves to be an entertaining as well as thought-provoking book.

No longer will Ronald McDonald be viewed the same, and the next time something goes bump in the night, parents may say to themselves, it's only the wind, but the children see the monster of their worst nightmare creeping along the outside walls toward their rooms. And perhaps they may be right.

Sorority begins club year

The Alpha Alpha Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a regular business meeting Aug. 31 at Crockett County National Bank.

Members of the executive board provided tea and bags of popcorn and candy while the organization reviewed the new yearbooks.

Those present included Debbie Bachman, Kim Hager, Jeannine Henderson, Karen Huffman, Connie Jennings, Ellen Lipsey and Rita Hensley.

Also attending were Roylan Sullivan, Lisa Wagoner, Marcy Williams, Katrece Hale, Brenda Pool, Monica Schwartz, Lori Williams, Teri Williams, Tracy Preddy and Barbie Myers.

The chapter met again on Sept. 14 at Ozona National Bank. Following the business meeting, members participated in a program on paper crafts.

Those present then enjoyed tea and dessert. Hostesses for the meeting were Connie Jennings and Ellen Lipsey.

Mrs. Kirby's class presented a patriotic program Sept. 16 at the Citizenship Day celebration in the park.

4-H members elect officers

The Ozona Senior 4-H Club met Wednesday, Sept. 16, at the Civic Center. The following officers were elected: Randi Thompson, president; Tamie Reagor, first vice-president; Julie Carson, second vice-president; Cody Sutton, third vice-president; Keith Fowler, secretary/reporter; John Williams and Misty Fowler, council delegates.

Senior 4-H Club leaders for 1987-88 are: Jimmy Arrott, club manager; Carmen Sutton, assistant club manager; Elaine Williams, first vice-president; Cathy Carson, second vice-president; Joe Moran, third vice-president.

County Extension Agent, Billy Reagor, discussed the requirements necessary for any Senior 4-H member wishing to apply for the Dan Bean Scholarship. Applications are available at the Extension Office.

The 4-H Club agreed to adopt a two mile stretch of Highway 137. This is in conjunction with the "Take Pride in America" project.

There was some discussion about members wishing to enter the calf scramble at a major stock show and rodeo. Interested members can sign up at the Extension Office.

The members of the group are also making plans to attend the State Fair in Dallas on Oct. 17-18.

Members enjoyed refreshments of cookies, Cokes and pop corn balls before the meeting came to a close.

Intermediate 4-H activities

The Intermediate 4-H Club met Sept. 14 to start the new year.

Officers elected for the 1987-88 year are: Jo Lynn Vannoy, president; Dana Berry, vice-president; Leigh Chandler, secretary/reporter.

Third grade representatives are: Michael Nicks, Jason Hignight and Lando Pena-Alfaro.

The 4-H'ers made posters for the 4-H awards banquet to be held Oct. 6 at the Civic Center.

4-H'ers were urged to meet Oct. 6 after school at the Civic Center to decorate for the banquet.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12. Respectfully submitted, Leigh Chandler

Broncos corral Ozona Junior Varsity

by Copie Davis

The Ozona J.V. Lions took on a powerful Sonora Broncos' squad and came up on the short end of the stick, losing by a score of 25-6 Sept. 17.

Ozona began the game on a bad note as a trick play backfired on the Lions. On third down and 17 from their own 41, Ruben Borrego attempted a halfback pass, only to have it picked off by the Sonora secondary at the midway mark of the first quarter. Shortly thereafter, the Broncos' capitalized on Ozona's miscue and scored on a one yard run with 4:41 left in the first quarter. The PAT was successful, and Sonora took a 7-0 lead.

During the second quarter, both teams found the going rough. Neither team could get its offense untracked, and no points were added to the scoreboard. At halftime, Sonora was still protecting a slim seven point lead.

The third quarter was the Broncos' tour de force, as they scored twice. The first came at the 7:28 mark of the drive when the Broncos busted loose on a 37 touchdown ramble that made the score 13-0. The second was on a 27 yard drive that began after a timely pass interception, culminating on a four yard touchdown run with 2:12 remaining in the quarter. The fourth quarter began with Sonora leading 19-0.

The Broncos tried a ball control game in the fourth quarter, keeping it on the ground and eating up as much of the clock as possible. This strategy paid off in points as Sonora struck pay dirt once again with a little more than two minutes left in the game, making the score 25-0.

Ozona regained the ball, traded punts with Sonora and then, at the 0:44 mark, tailback Ruben Borrego raced 72 yards for the Lions' only score of the game. The clock hit 00:00, and Ozona was defeated 25-6.

Offensively, the Lions outgained Sonora 227 to 174 in total offense. The Lions rushed the ball 41 times for 211 yards and completed five of eight passes for 16 yards, but tossed two interceptions.

The one major setback to the Ozona attack was penalties. Ozona tallied eight penalties for 40 yards compared to Sonora's one for 10.

Sonora rushed the ball 34 times for 149 yards and scored all of their touchdowns on the ground. They also were 1-3-25 yards and one interception through the air.

Ozona's leading rusher was Ruben Borrego who attained 133 yards on 16 carries with a TD. Following Borrego were Mingo Perez with 33 yards and Lonnie Martinez with 27.

Defensively, Ozona was again led by standout linebacker Sotero Fuentes who stuffed Bronco ballcarriers for nine tackles. Behind him was Lonnie Martinez with seven tackles and a pass interception. The Lions' third leading tackler was newcomer Joe Teague with three.

The J.V. Lions' next game will be Thursday, Sept. 23, in McCamey at 6:30 p.m.

Eight grade cubs drop season opener

by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Junior High 8th grade Cubs lost their season opener Sept. 17, allowing Sonora to gain a 24-0 lead before scoring their own touchdowns and coming up short, 20-36.

Although they failed to move the ball at first, the Cubs did a respectable job of holding Sonora until midway in the second quarter when a completed pass set a score to put Sonora ahead 8-0.

Immediately, the Cubs lost the ball to an interception which Sonora capitalized on and extended their lead to 16.

Again Ozona lost the ball to an interception and Sonora commenced to drive toward the end zone until #22, Pablo Talamantez, picked off a pass and returned it to the 50 yard line.

The second half opened will for Sonora when they returned the kickoff 37 yards to put them in Cub territory and eventually led to another six points and two point conversion.

Adam Alba, #10, found Mark Ramirez, #20, after an eight play drive, and put Ozona's first points on the board. Alba went to the air again, this time connecting with Randell Wilson, #80, for the two point conversion.

A few minutes into the fourth quarter Sonora again found their way into the end zone of a quarterback bootleg. The Cubs would lose the ball to another interception on their next possession, giving Sonora the opportunity to score again, which they did for the last time.

Mario Mendoza, #30, broke the ice by replying a few moments later with a 70 yard touchdown run off a right sweep and hoisting the Cubs to 11 points. Mendoza carried the ball 11 times for a total of 102 yards on the night.

With 10 seconds remaining in the game, Alba completed a screen pass over the middle to Mendoza who broke a tackle, then followed his blocker, Talamantez, into the end zone and closed out the game at 20-36.

Alba had a good night despite the loss, completing eight of 15 pass attempts for 126 yards and two touchdowns. His favorite target, Mark Ramirez, caught five passes for 79 yards and one touchdown. Talamantez intercepted one pass and led in defensive tackles.

The Cubs host their first game this Thursday against McCamey. The first game will begin at 5:30 with the other following approximately at 7.

Scholarships for top grads

Top Texas high school seniors are eligible for $16,000, four-year Texas Excellence Awards for Scholarship and Leadership sponsored by The Ex-Students' Association of The University of Texas at Austin.

In addition to the top awards, $8,000 four-year Awards of Distinction and $1000, one-year Awards of Recognition will be given to other finalists.

Applicants must be in the top five percent of their class and demonstrate leadership ability in the classroom and/or extracurricular activities. Applications for the Texas Excellence Awards will be available from high school counselors by mid-September with a Nov. 1 application deadline.

More than 1400 high school seniors made application last year, and during the six year history of the Texas Excellence Awards, more than 7500 Texas students have applied for the annual scholarships. For additional information, contact The Ex-Students' Association, P. O. Box 7278, Austin, TX 78713, or call (512)471-3822.

Cubs routed by Sonora Colts

by Copie Davis

The Ozona 7th grade Cubs traveled to Sonora Sept. 17 for their 1987 season debut where they fell victim to the perennial Class AAA powerhouse with a 26-6 defeat.

The Cubs gained the ball after the opening kickoff and drove 61 yards to the Sonora 13 yard line before giving up the ball on downs. This drive took up the entire first quarter.

Sonora promptly opened the second quarter by driving 87 yards and scoring with 2:41 left in the half. The PAT was successful, and Sonora took an 8-0 lead.

On the very next series, Cub quarterback Chad Upham was intercepted by Sonora's Pete Perez who raced 57 yards for the score. The half ended with Sonora leading 14-0.

On the opening kickoff of the second half, the Colts returned the ball 75 yards for a TD, making the score 20-0, Sonora.

Ozona then turned to trickery, namely a halfback pass from Manny Munoz to Eric Sanchez, for a 47 yard touchdown strike, cutting the Sonora lead to 20-6.

For the next quarter and a half, play turned sloppy as neither team could move the ball.

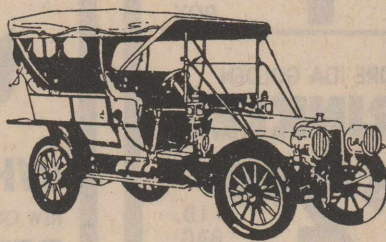

Then, with 1:24 to play, the Colts snagged another interception and returned it to the four yard line. Two plays later, with 0:26 left to play, Sonora scored the last time to up their total to 26-6. Time ran out on the Cubs, and they ended up with a loss.

Leading rushers for the Cubs were the tandem of Raul Rios and Joe Hernandez, each gaining 29 yards on the night.

Defensively, Ozona's leading tacklers were Joe Mendoza with six, Alonzo Hernandez and Larry Sanchez with five, and Manny Munoz with three.

Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

Childhood obesity and television

Parents, do you know where your children are? If they're not in school, they're probably watching television. Many kids spend the same amount of time at both activities. If they're watching TV, there's a good chance they're snacking on something, maybe even something they saw in a commercial. Or they may ask you to buy the food they see on commercials.

According to the National Health Survey, childhood obesity is linked to the amount of time children spend watching TV. The time kids spend watching TV reduces playtime, when they could be doing something active, instead of sitting and watching.

The things youngsters tend to eat while watching TV don't help either. They tend to eat what they see advertised, which isn't always the most nutritious food. Kids also see skinny models advertising these products and may think that if they eat the product, they will stay as skinny as the model.

Using these findings and taking into account factors such as family size, socioeconomic status, race, age, marital status, and parental obesity, the survey showed a two percent weight increase with each hour of TV watched in 12 to 17-year-olds. It also found that TV watching wasn't the best predictor of obesity for kids in this age group. Kids between the ages of 12 and 17 are more likely to be obese if they were obese between the ages of 6 and 11.

There are ways to prevent childhood obesity. Get your children interested in other things besides television. Encourage youngsters to use their imaginations and increase their physical activity. When they do watch TV, help your children cut down on how much they snack, and offer them nutritious food, not always the things they see advertised.

Boosters elect officers

The Ozona Lions Booster Club held a weekly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 15 in the high school auditorium. Coaches Hood and Porter introduced the 7th and 8th grade football players and also the junior high cheerleaders.

Officers for the 1987-88 year are: Jessie Fierro, president; Lloyd Winkley, vice-president; Frances Denman, secretary; May Lay, treasurer; Glenda Winkley, spirit items.

Any one wishing to buy button pins of their football players or cheerleaders should pay for the pins in advance at Camera's Two or contact Susan Womack or Sharman West. Each button is $3.00.

If you have ordered a jacket, please pick it up. They will be on sale until Thursday, Sept. 24. Some one will be at the cheerleading room at the high school on the 17th from 3:30-4:30, 22nd 6:15-7:15, and 3:30-4:30 on the 24th.

Any jacket that isn't paid for and picked up will go on sale to the public at the homecoming game Friday, Sept. 25.

Lion Boosters meet each Tuesday night at the high school auditorium at 7:30. All parents, friends, relatives and interested parties are invited to attend.

"The Booster Club supports all sports," said a spokesman for the organization. "Come one and all and support our young adults."

His voice in the storm

By Charles Huffman, Pastor
Faith Lutheran Church

"Have courage. It is I. Don't be afraid." - Matthew 14:27

Jesus had just fed a crowd of about 5,000 men - plus women and children - with only five loaves of bread and two small fish. The people had been well fed and were elated about this miracle. His disciples were thrilled also, having been involved by passing out the food.

They could have been riding on the waves of popularity, but their Master had sent them out on the waves of a storm! And the strange thing was that He hadn't even come with them. What a fine mess to be in! Meanwhile, Jesus had slipped away to be alone in prayer to the heavenly Father. Then, after several hours of rowing on the edge of despair, the men in the boat see a strange image moving toward them on the lake - and terror is added to their dilemma. Thinking it's a "ghost", they are paralyzed by fright - until they hear His voice in the storm, saying: "Have courage. It is I. Don't be afraid!"

Christ's Word changes things and the disciples are transformed. Now reassured, Peter calls out: "Lord, if it's You, order me to come to You on the water!"

Our Lord's willing and says: "Come", so Peter started out. We must admire Peter, especially when we compare him to ourselves - for too often we refuse to even get out of the boat! You see, Peter was a man of tremendous faith - at least his faith is unusual for a little while. But when he sees the waves out of the corner of his eyes and feels the blustering wind against his body - when he's more taken with the storm that with Christ and His Word - fear is quick to take over. As Peter begins to sink, he cries out: "Lord, save me!", and only the rescuing hand of the Saviour keeps him from a watery grave. Then when they enter the boat, the violent winds stop and the pride of the sea is broken - for Jesus Christ is Lord over wave and wind. As the men in the boat realize what has happened, they bow down before Jesus and confess: "You certainly are God's Son!"

If there's any one disciple we're grateful for - beyond the others - it surely must be Peter. He's so much like us, so weak even when he claims to be strong! And on this stormy night on the Sea of Galilee we find that Jesus was teaching about faith, for He says to Peter after He'd rescued him: "How little you trust Me! Why did you doubt?"

By the way, we need to be sure about what is meant by this faith - for it's obvious that fierce storms still have their way of coming to all of us. Faith is not some idle hope that "everything will work itself out OK". Faith is not some dreamy wish that a good solution to our trouble will somehow come from somewhere. Christian faith is intimately tied to a person - the Person of Jesus Christ. Faith would make us aware of His presence in the midst of the problems and dangers we face - aware of His voice in the storm.

Our Lord still sees the boat and men's hearts failing them, and He'd still come to us to be there in the midst of each difficulty or disaster. And He still tells us, as He did the disciples in the boat: "Have courage. It is I. Don't be afraid!"

In the original Greek, Jesus' words literally translate: "Be of good cheer. I AM. Do not fear." "I AM", Jesus says! The God of Moses' burning bush, who identified Himself as "I AM who I AM", comes to His disciples in the storm. His voice in the storm identifies Jesus of Nazareth as that same Word by whom all things were created! Once in John chapter 8, Jesus told the Jews: "I tell you the truth, before Abraham ever was born, I AM". He claims to be the very Author of Abraham's call and promise - an undeniable claim that He is the eternal God!

Do YOU believe Jesus is who He says He is - truly God, and therefore Lord over all of life's circumstances? Do YOU really believe that Jesus performed miracles in the physical, emotional and spiritual storms in people's lives? Most Christians can answer "Yes" to those two questions, but some are unsure or reluctant about the two following questions. Do YOU "dare" to believe that He CAN AND WILL perform those same miracles in your life TODAY? Are you WILLING to ask Him to be the triumphant "I AM" in YOUR life - RIGHT NOW?

If we can answer "yes" to all four of those questions, then we're on our way to making the storms in our lives into stepping stones. And if we accept Jesus of Nazareth as true God, the ultimate "I AM", then all the rest of His "I AM" statements begin to sparkle like diamonds of truth. When He's OUR Lord, we can allow Him to come into our hungry hearts and say: "I AM the Bread of Life", into our darkest nights of blindness and declare: "I AM the Light of the world", into our worries and fears and assure us: "I AM the Good Shepherd".

Even when the storms of life are so fierce that we begin to sink and cry out: "Nobody understands what I have to go through," Jesus' voice cuts through the wind and wave to tell us: "Touch My hands and side and feel the marks of My pain for you". When we cry out: "Nobody really wants me," Jesus will tell you: "I endured untold suffering in order to have you as My very own". When we say: "But I'm so all alone," Jesus answers: "No, you're not! I AM with you - always - till the end of the world". Even when we cry out in fear: "But I'm afraid to die!", Jesus reassures you: "I AM the Resurrection and the Life... Anyone who lives and believes in Me will never die!". Jesus is the Christ who comes into all our doubts and uncertainties and affirms: "I AM the Way, the Truth and the Life".

So, with Peter we can learn what faith really is - not so much our hold on Jesus Christ, but the certainty of His hold on us. And even though we let go of Him - more often than we care to remember - He NEVER lets go of us. Though everything else finally lets go of us, Jesus Christ wouldn't let go of us - even when it meant that He had to go through hell itself for us on the Cross. The risen and reigning Lord of all surely won't let go of us NOW! Instead, He says: "Be of good cheer. I AM. Do not fear". Hearing that Word, we need not keep huddling in our corners of fear, but we can hear Him saying to us: "Come" - and in a daring trust, we can boldly step forth.

You see, with Jesus Christ, the storms of life aren't merely to be endured, but will be conquered. So listen for His voice in the storm and trust in His Word, for the writer to the Hebrews declares in chapter 13: "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, TODAY and forever!". When you believe that, you'll find that not only will He rescue you from the storms of this life, but will finally bring you safely to "yonder shore" of heaven.

out of the ball game with a lower back injury. Copie Davis had been hurt in the first quarter while playing defense. So, junior Oscar Galindo suddenly found himself quarterbacking.

Several times he went to split end, Robby Tambunga, who made a number of good catches, but the Lions never mustered enough yardage to really move forward, once taking control of the ball after recovering a fumble, only to have their first-play pass snatched out of the air by the Braves.

Late in the fourth quarter with Iraan leading 41-0, the Lions finally received a break as Galindo found George Ybarra behind Iraan secondary for a 34 yard pass reception. However, Ybarra suffered a neck injury in the process, having to be carted off in an ambulance.

Galindo connected with Tambunga to move to the Braves' 24, but a play later the chance of scoring collapsed as a Brave intercepted a pass and returned it 80 yards for their final touchdown.

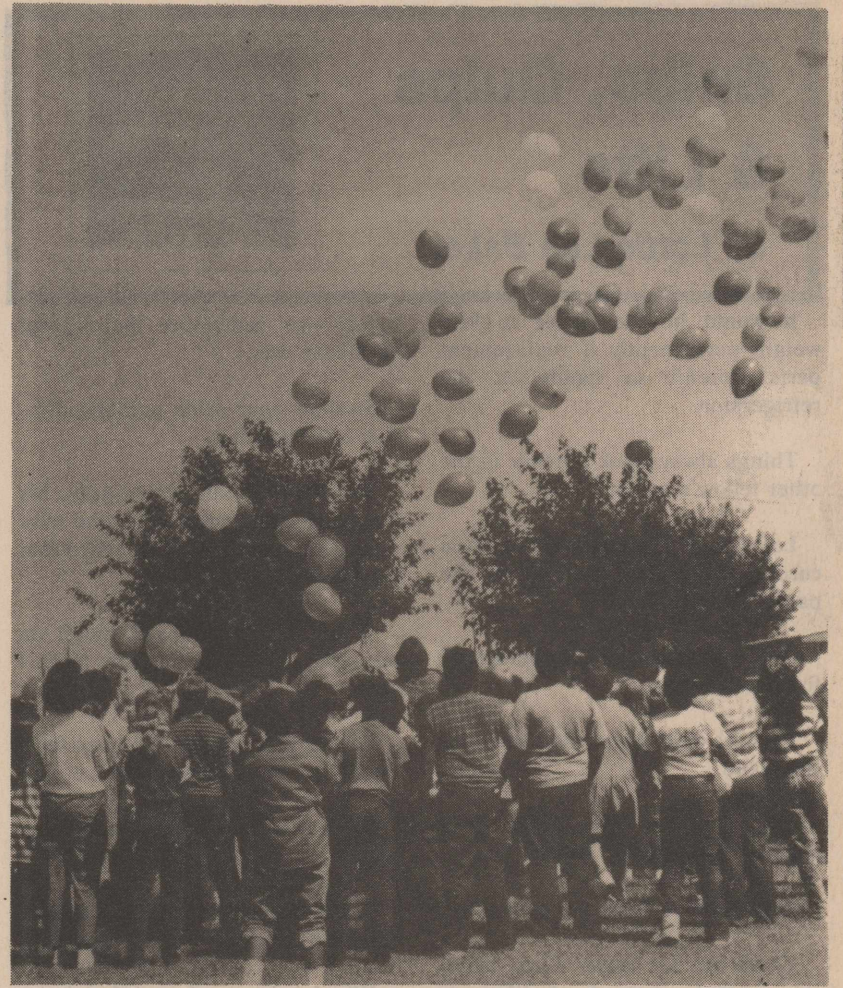

Statistically, things looked bad for the Lions with only a 137 total offensive yards.

"Our defense didn't do too well," Payne said. Iraan amassed 338 yards rushing and only had to punt two times.

Iraan is the first of three tough games as McCamey comes to visit this Friday for homecoming. Currently, 3-0, the Badgers sport a hard-hitting game and could possibly be better than Iraan.

"We can play with them if we have our heads in the right places," Payne said of McCamey, Iraan and Greenwood.

McCamey has won their district the last two years, defeating the Lions on their homefield last year, 35-3.

Young patriots pay homage to the flag

Patriots from Ozona Intermediate School gathered on the square Sept. 16 for a Citizenship Day observance. The youngsters marched from their school to the downtown area where they waved flags, sang and gave the pledge of allegiance.

"Fifty, Nifty, United States, From thirteen original colonies,

"Fifty, Nifty, stars in the flag that billows so beautifully in the breeze," the students chanted as they began their program.

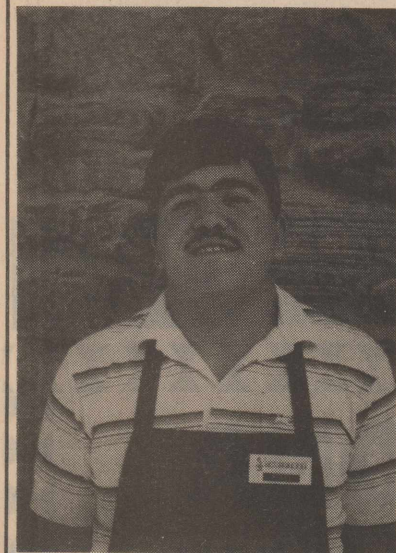

District Judge Brock Jones was guest speaker for the event.

After returning to their school, students and teachers had a picnic lunch and launched red, white and blue balloons before going inside to join students around the nation in the pledge of allegiance led by President Ronald Reagan via television and radio.

All things are for the glory of God the Father

The people of Ozona opened their hearts to us from the beginning, from the smallest hello to the greatest service.

You continued with us through Everett's illness. Everything above and beyond our needs was met with great measures.

For your prayers and kind deeds, we are most grateful. And for those of you who have done so many special things, thank you from the depths of my heart. You know who you are.

My prayer is that you will be greatly blessed for your kindness to me and to my husband. He would be honored with the treatment I have received and will receive.

Social Security on reaching 18

Children who reach their 18th birthday are no longer entitled to Social Security checks unless they are unmarried and are disabled or full-time students in an elementary or secondary school. Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

A child can continue to get monthly payments if he or she has a physical or mental condition that prevents him or her from doing substantial gainful work and that is expected to last at least one year, Upp said.

If a child's monthly payments are discontinued at 18, they can start again if he or she becomes disabled before reaching 22, or becomes a full-time elementary or secondary school student before reaching 19.

Under the law, a person is considered to reach a certain age on the day before his or her date of birth.

More information about Social Security benefits for children can be obtained at the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

VFW, Auxiliary to host convention

Ozona V.F.W. Post members and the auxiliary will host the District 22 convention Oct. 3 and 4 at the V.F.W. Hall.

Saturday's events begin with registration at 2 p.m. A social get-together will be held beginning at 5 p.m.

George Sparkman, State Sr. Vice Commander, will be the guest speaker on Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. Sparkman was elected to his present post for 1987-88 of the Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the 67th Annual State Convention held in Dallas in June. He is a Life Member of Stephenville Post 9181.

Before being elected as State Senior Vice Commander, Sparkman had served as State Junior Vice Commander for 1986-87 plus having served in many post, district, state and national capacities, including several terms as Stephenville Post Commander, several District 21 offices, including District Commander, and as Department Instructor, as well as several state and national committees.

Sparkman served in the Navy from February 1943 until December 1945 with duty aboard the U.S.S. Tekesta Tug Flett, ATF-93. His 27 months of sea duty in the South Pacific earned him the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal with three bronze stars and the Philippine Liberation Medal. He was discharged as a MMO 1st Class.

Born 5 November 1922 in Olney, George and his wife Lorena, who is also active in the Ladies Auxiliary, reside in Stephenville. They have three sons, George, Robert and Duane.

The V.F.W. and auxiliary will have separate business meetings beginning at 10 a.m. Commander Mel Stanley of San Angelo will preside at the V.F.W. meeting, and Geraldine Franke, District 22 president, will be the auxiliary representative.

Arthur Pierce of San Angelo is the senior vice-president of District 22 and Bill Kerr of Coleman is the junior vice-president.

Women Veterans recognition

The Big Spring VA Medical Center is planning a Women Veterans Recognition Day and Wellness Clinic on Tuesday, November 10. This observance is intended to focus attention on the significant contribution of women in the Armed Forces. Because of their traditional roles as non-combatants, the heroism of military women in war has been overlooked, but they too, have paid the price for freedom.

The Wellness Clinic is designed for the prevention of illness. Prevention strategies include early diagnosis and education. The Wellness Clinic will provide gynecologic examinations, cancer screening, diet counseling, mammography, where indicated, and other health screening tests.

The Big Spring VA Medical Center needs your help in identifying women veterans in our area. If you are a woman veteran (or know this information about a woman veteran), please send name, address and telephone number to the Big Spring VA Medical Center, Attention: Dr. Carolyn Reed, 2400 S. Greg, Big Spring, Texas 79720. This information will be used to mail additional information about the upcoming event: The Women Veterans Recognition Day and Wellness Clinic on November 10, 1987.

4-H LAMB FEEDERS

4-H lamb feeders will bring in their lambs to the County 4-H Show Barn on Saturday, Sept. 26. The plans are to start shearing lambs about 8:30. At this time, leaders and agent will finish tagging the lambs. Lambs will then be weighed and 4-H members will receive special feeding instructions.

This will be the final day to tag lambs for the county show. All 4-H members are expected to bring their lambs in for this activity.

Senior 4-H members and 4-H adult leaders will conduct halter making sessions to teach youth how to make inexpensive lamb halters.

There are 67 4-H members feeding about 325 lambs this year.

4-H RIFLE CLUB

The 4-H Shooting Sports leaders met on Sept. 15 and planned the county rifle program. Rod Chalmers will coordinate the program again this year. There are some 87 youth enrolled in the program, and they will begin meeting Sept. 28.

The 1987 shooting schedule and leaders are:

- 3rd grade, Tues. 5:30-7, Helen Kenison, Jill House
4th grade, Mon. 5:30-7, Steve Usener, Greg Stuart
5th grade, Thurs. 5:30-7, Elliott Barrera, Pat Willmon, Clayton Robinson
6th grade, Thurs. 4-5:30, Rod Chalmers, Doris Haire
7th grade, Mon. 7-8:30, Ed and Betty Martin, Jim Wilson, Helen Kenison
8th-12th grades, Tues. 7-8:30, Ben and Kathy English, Jim Gillitt, Steve Bueno.

The county rifle match will be held Oct. 31 at the County Show Barn.

4-H AWARDS APPLICATIONS DUE

4-H members, parents and leaders are reminded that awards application materials are due in the County Extension Office by Sept. 25. The awards selection committee will meet on Sept. 29 to select the various award winners for the County 4-H awards program to be held on Oct. 6.

4-H'ers PLAN TRIP TO STATE FAIR

The Senior High 4-H Club is planning a trip to the State Fair of Texas in Dallas on Oct. 17 and 18. They will attend the fair on Rural Youth Day as guests of the fair and the membership of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce. They will also attend the educational seminar in the Hall of States sponsored by The Southland Corporation and 7-Eleven Stores.

Other interesting and exciting activities will include entertainment on numerous stages throughout the park, 10 exhibit buildings, museum displays, Food and Fiber Pavilion and the Million Dollar Midway.

Senior High 4-H members are reminded to notify the County Extension Office by Oct. 2 if they plan to go on the trip.

Office Supplies, rubber stamps, business cards and all types of printed forms are available at THE STOCKMAN.

VOLUNTEER ROLE IN 4-H PROGRAM IS REWARDING

One of the most rewarding things an individual can do for tomorrow's leaders is to serve as a 4-H adult volunteer today.

Volunteers not only give leadership to 4-H experiences for youth, they keep the program relevant to local community needs and interests, point out Rachel Hall and Billy Reagor, Crockett County Extension agents.

Today, 80 4-H adult volunteers in Crockett County work with 225 members from nine to 19 years old. These volunteers share their skills and experiences by assisting young people in a variety of 4-H projects and activities.

With National 4-H week set for Oct. 4-10, this is a special time to recognize and applaud those volunteer leaders who give so much to the 4-H program.

Volunteers do not have to be experts in specialized subject matter areas. They can rely on the Extension Service staff in the county and at Texas A&M University, the state's land-grant university, to provide them with training, educational materials and resources to use in the 4-H program. The land-grant system makes 4-H uniquely qualified to meet both the constant and ever-changing needs of young and older people alike.

The 4-H volunteer corps is almost 620,000 strong nationwide; more than 30,000 volunteers support the 4-H program in Texas. Volunteers are the backbone of a basic and cost effective system which delivers practical educational experiences to some 4.5 million 4-H members in the United States. The time, travel and support volunteers contribute is valued at $1 billion annually.

The 4-H program provides many opportunities for growth and stimulation for adults and helps them attain enjoyment and self-fulfillment. So help prepare the young people in our communities for tomorrow by joining the ranks of 4-H volunteers.

For more information about the 4-H program and its many opportunities, contact the county Extension office at 392-2722.

Gas news

The Holt Ranch multipay field of Crockett County gained another Ellenburger oil producer with completion of Baytech Inc., Midland, No. 2 Brewer "33", 12 miles north of Ozona, to flow 157 barrels of 45 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,401-1.

Production was through a 12.64-inch choke which had been acidized with 420 gallons.

It was drilled to 8,000 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set, and plugged back to 7,934 feet.

Location spots 973 feet from the south and 467 feet from the east lines of 33-OP-GC&SF Survey.

Painting Texas ceramics to add to the Ozona Chamber of Commerce visitor and newcomer packets are: T. K. O'Bryant, Zella Ruthardt, Donna Sanders and Donna Snyder of the the Crockett County Arts and Crafts Guild.

Services to be taxed Oct. 1 at 6%

Many new services will become taxable on Oct. 1 when the state's sales tax rate increases from 5 1/4 percent to 6 percent according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock. "The tax change will not only hit items which are now currently taxed, but a number of newly taxable items and services," Bullock said.

The expanded sales tax base was a major element of a $5.7 billion tax bill approved by the Legislature this past summer.

Oct. 1 is also the effective date of an increase in taxes on cigarettes, going up from 20.5 cents a pack to 26 cents a pack.

The Legislature extended the sales tax to several broad categories of services such as real property services, including landscaping, janitorial, garbage collection and pest control; security services, including private investigators and armored car services; information furnished by credit bureaus; and debt services, such as adjustments and repossessions.

It will also include information services like financial research, specialized information and insurance services including damage appraisals, investigations and claims adjustments, but not premiums paid for insurance.

The expanded tax base is expected to add more than 64,000 Texas businesses to the state's tax rolls, joining the more than 420,000 merchants and businesses already collecting sales taxes.

Newly taxable items include custom computer programs, labor on installations to tangible property, some transportation charges on the sale of goods, telephone service and membership and dues to private clubs.

"Businesses need to reprogram cash registers and alert workers and staff of the new rate taking effect Oct. 1," Bullock said.

There is no increase in the one-percent local option tax collected in some areas of Texas.

A fee for getting a sales tax permit and an increase in the state's motor vehicle sales and hotel/motel room taxes went into effect on Sept. 1.

A rollback in the state's motor fuels tax from 15 cents to 10 cents a gallon was also cancelled on Sept. 1.

Starting Jan. 1, 1988, the sales tax will be further extended to data processing services, including word processing, data entry, retrieval and search as well as payroll and business accounting, data production, time sharing and computer management.

Taxes will also be due on repair and remodeling services, except on new construction and owner-occupied residences starting Jan. 1, 1988.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Rag dolls were started in Monday morning's craft class. A variety of dolls ranging from Indians to ballet dancers will be ready to sell at the Arts and Crafts Guild Fair to be held in November. Residents giving each doll a personality were: Theo Burns, Consuelo Sarabia, Doris Robnett, Tomasa Ramos and Moriana Perez. Doris Karr was the helpful volunteer.

Monday afternoon, residents celebrated the monthly birthday party. This month's party honored Bertha Miller and Maggie Crawford. Jo Davidson was the hostess, and the delicious cake was made and donated by Mena Carnes.

Tuesday morning's bingo volunteers were: Sophie Kyle, Georgia Kirby and Lillian Tambunga. The special game prize of an El Chato's gift certificate was won by Nellie Harp for being the first to form the letter X on her card. Tomasa Ramos won a cute jack-o-lantern pin for being the first to form the letter L on her card. Other prizes were won by Maria Cervantez, Emma Taylor and Samuel Martinez.

Educational and entertaining movies were the activity for Tuesday afternoon. The films, "A Kitten Runs Away" and "Peter and the Potter" were provided by the Crockett County Library. We would like to thank them on the splendid selections.

Ruth Hester and Beth Stallings were the busy Wednesday morning ceramic workshop volunteers. Residents being creative were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Consuelo Sarabia, Santos Martinez, Doris Robnett, Tomasa Ramos, Moriana Perez and Juana Hernandez.

Bananas were served during Wednesday afternoon's Sunshine Hour, and several of the residents enjoyed the springtime weather while sitting on the front porch.

Residents left the beauty shop Thursday morning with smiling faces after receiving gorgeous hairdos and friendly conversation from volunteers Vivian Hughes, Clara Byrd and Audry Smith. Clara Byrd kept their spirits up with lively piano music.

Thursday afternoon's mid-week Bible study was presented by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church. Glenda Henderson played the piano while visitors and residents sang hymns.

Father Alberto Tijerina conducted Mass during the Spanish Hour of Praise. A large number of visitors attended. Juana Hernandez discussed her recent visit to San Antonio the see the Pope with several of the visitors afterward.

Things were really hopping Thursday evening when the Knox Band delighted residents with a performance. Band members present were Jamie Knox, Don and J. D. Kilgore. Several of the residents couldn't resist the urge to dance. Everyone had a good time.

Friday morning's bingo winners were: Samuel Martinez, Manuela Perez, Minnie Karr, Santos Martinez and Rebekah West. Lucy Mae Meinecke won both special games. Her prizes were a lovely scarf and a rhinestone pin. Lillian Tambunga was the volunteer.

Friday afternoon, residents enjoyed an imaginary trip to Australia, compliments of a VCR furnished by Thornton's Supermarket. We would like to thank Thornton's for their thoughtfulness. The VCR was great.

We welcomed two new residents this week, Thelma Yaw and Santos Martinez.

A special thanks goes out to Janice Lott for the refreshing snow cones she donated. We appreciate her thoughtfulness.

Rachers enter mission field

A dream came true for Terry Racher last month when he and wife Patty stepped aboard a plane in Albuquerque, NM as the first leg of their trip to a new life in Chung-li, Taiwan. The former music director at First Baptist Church in Ozona and his wife will be teaching at Sheng-Te Christian College for an indefinite period. "We don't have a contract," said Mrs. Racher. "We will stay until God sends us home."

There are 70 faculty members on staff at the college which has an enrollment of 500. "Nearly all the staff members speak English," said Racher.

He will teach Bible and conversational English. English lessons begin with seventh graders in Taiwan. Terry will teach through an interpreter to his freshman and sophomore classes and in English to the juniors and seniors.

Terry will also be teaching college choir.

He attended a three day seminar in Dallas on teaching conversational English as part of his preparation for the assignment.

Patty will be developing a home economics course at the college.

Racher has wanted to be a missionary for 22 years, and when he and Patty learned of the openings in Taiwan, they decided "now is the time".

Acquiring their visas was one of the difficult parts of the preparation. The visas are issued through the government and are extremely hard to get. All was in order in time for their departure, however.

Classes were to begin Sept. 21 with a month off for vacation during the Chinese New Year.

Donations and support from their church in San Angelo, Hillcrest Baptist Church, through the Racher Mission Fund, made the trip as independent missionaries possible. "We needed $5,000 to get to Taiwan," said Patty, "and the Lord gave us $5,050. He always gives more than you need," she said with a smile.

One of the Racher children, Dan, is also in the mission field through his music. An album, "Reign On Me", was recently released on the Jericho label and is available in Christian bookstores. Two more albums are planned within the next two years for this junior music major at Angelo State University.

Dan made a summer tour of the West Coast and Canada with the group Departure out of Fort Davis. Funds from the road trips by the group, formerly known as His Ambassadors, will be used to start a children's home in Fort Davis, said Patty.

Bike-a-thon set for Sept. 26

The St. Jude's bike-a-thon will be held Saturday, Sept. 26, 1987 beginning at 9 a.m.

Riders will start in front of the FESCO Building across the street from Crockett County Hospital according to chairman Mrs. Patricia Willmon.

The ride will run until noon or until the last rider finishes.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital's dramatic progress has been made possible primarily by voluntary contributions raised through event such as the Wheels for Life bike rides.

Rodriguez, Arredondo vows repeated in Angelo

St. Joseph Church in San Angelo was the setting for the Saturday, Sept. 12, 1987, wedding of Anna Lydia Rodriguez of Knickerbocker and Armando Arredondo of Ozona. The Rev. Albert M. Tijerina of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Ozona was the officiant.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogelio C. Rodriguez of Knickerbocker and Mr. and Mrs. Jose M. Arredondo of Ozona are parents of the newlyweds.

Alma Delia Rodriguez of Knickerbocker served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Nandin of Grand Prairie, Tabitha Nandin of Del Rio, Juana Chavez of Christoval, Linda Padron of Knickerbocker, Magda Perez and Maria Morales. Amy Lynn Sherrell of Lovington, N.M., and Kimberly Peacock of Ozona were flower girls. Steve Williams of Ozona was best man. Groomsmen were the bride's brothers, Ruben Rodriguez and Ricky Rodriguez, both of Knickerbocker; Juan Manuel Blas of Knickerbocker, Glen Davis of Mertzon, Jerry Monroe, and Eddie Castenada. David Arredondo of Midland was ring bearer, and ushers were Reggie Quiett of Balmorhea and Humberto Martinez of Houston.

Mrs. Arredondo is a 1979 Christoval High School graduate and received a secretarial degree from American Commercial College in 1979.

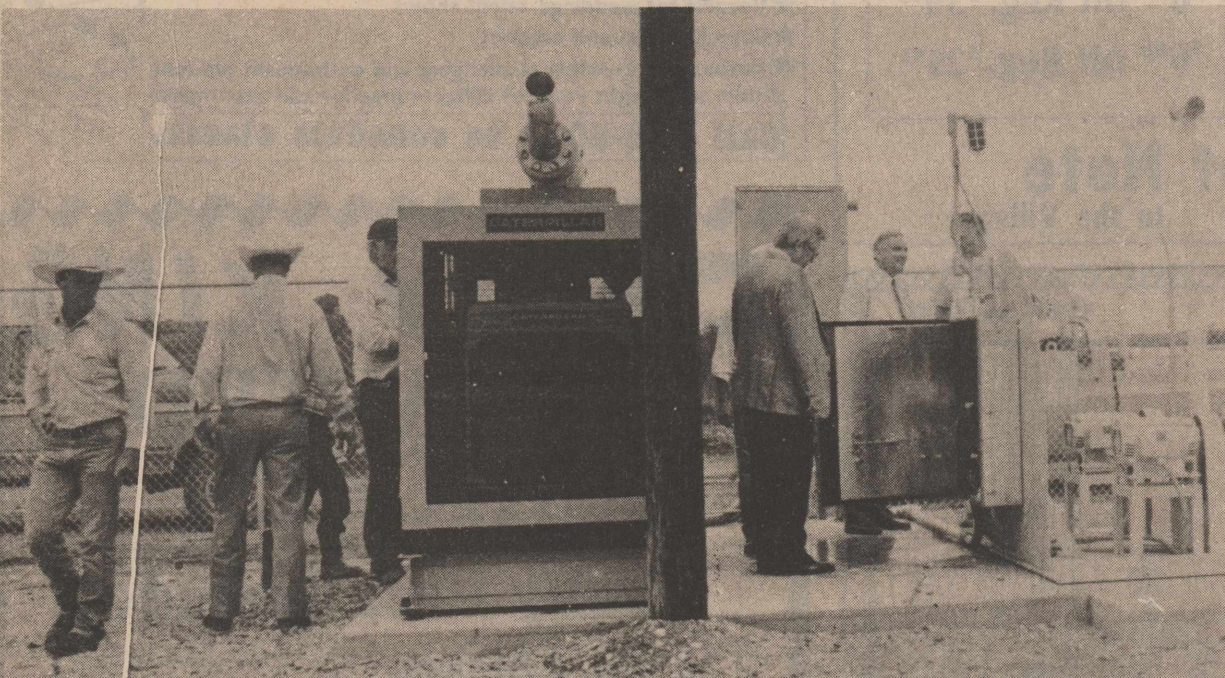

The bridegroom is a 1974 Ozona High School graduate and a 1977 graduate of Aero-Tech Institute in Wichita Falls. He is a serviceman for West Texas Utilities.

Following a wedding trip to South Padre Island, the couple will live in Ozona.

Wastewater project completed

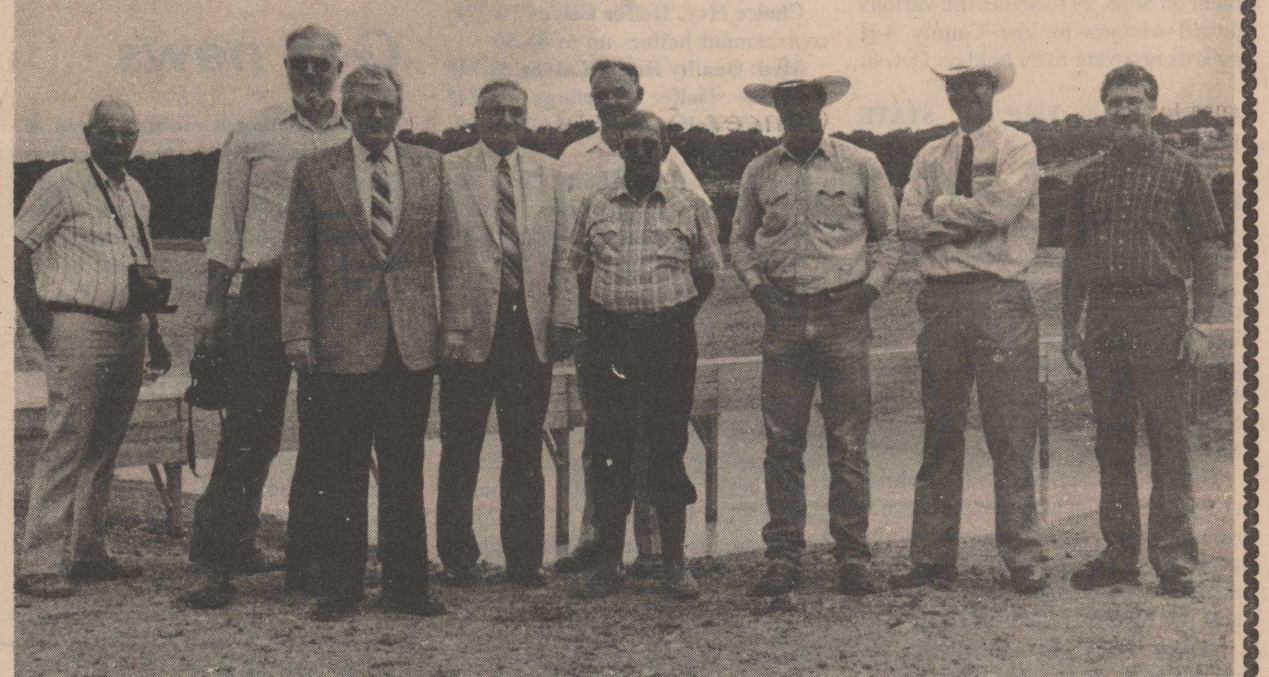

Water district directors and engineers are overlooking a lagoon as water begins to flow.

Making the final acceptance of pumping and generating equipment are: Dennis Clark, Pon Seahorn, Ray Moreland and Dee Kellers at the generator and

THAR SHE BLOWS!!!

Construction of the pump pit is being done by Reese Albert employees.

Laying pipeline to the treatment plant.

Weber Construction of Uvalde contracted the oxidation pond construction.

Pump station construction being examined by water district employees Alena Faye Hokit and Ampara Enriquez.

Landscaping for energy conservation

Texans spend millions of dollars every year beautifying their homes with trees, shrubs, vines and flowers. With proper planning, many of those dollars can be recovered through reduced utility bills. Studies have shown that shading walls from direct sunlight in the summer can reduce wall surface temperatures by as much as 29 degrees. This can make a big difference in the cost of air conditioning the home. And while it may take many years for trees and hedges to mature, certain vines planted now may be trained on trellises to provide relief from the heat, and from high utility bills, this summer.

When planting trees, homeowners should also consider the potential for saving on heating bills in the winter. For the east, west, and especially the south side of the house, choose trees that will lose their leaves in the fall, allowing the sun to strike walls and window. The sun is too often ignored as a source of free light and heat on cold days. On the north side of the house, plant evergreen trees and bushes that can act as windbreaks, diverting blasts of cold air away from doors and windows.

Sheriff's report

Week Ending Sept. 22, 1987

ARRESTS

09/16/87 A 38 year old Ozona man was arrested by sheriff's deputies on charges of public intoxication. He was fined by the Justice of the Peace and released.

09/19/87 Sheriff's deputies flew to McAlester, Oklahoma, to pick up a 32 year old man on a bench warrant issued by the District Court. The suspect was brought back to Ozona to stand trial in a 1985 jewelry theft.

09/20/87 Two men and one woman, ages 28, 28 and 18 were arrested in a stolen car from Florida. They were held in county jail, and arraigned by Judge Davee. The suspects were finally released on 09/21/87 when Florida declined to come and get them.

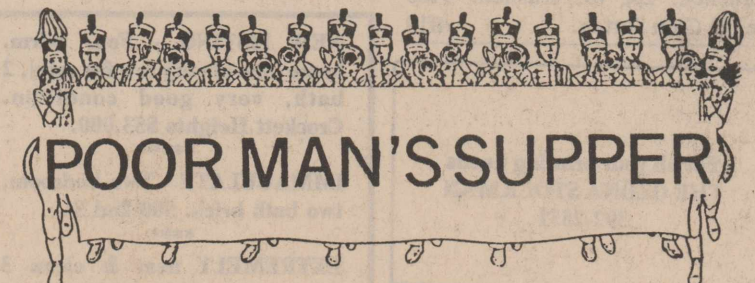

INCIDENTS

09/15/87 The Circle Bar Truck Stop reported an armed robbery in which a 34 year old employee was hit over the head. Sheriff's deputies responded to the scene and began an investigation and a crime-scene search. Evidence has been collected and an investigation is under way. Taken was a large amount of money, the exact amount is being withheld for investigative purposes.

09/16/87 A citizen on Jones Street reported the theft of a handgun and some jewelry from his house while he was gone on vacation. This case is still under investigation.

09/21/87 A citizen on Santa Anna Street reported that a disk grinder was stolen from the back of his truck while that vehicle was parked at the band hall.

If a network bank rejects your loan, it's probably nothing personal.

When you come to us for your home mortgage, commercial property or home loan, we handle your application personally. Right here in town.

We don't send it off to a mysterious big city "main office," or let a cold, impersonal computer make our final decision.

At our bank, your requests are handled by friends and neighbors who know the local real estate scene, both residential and commercial, and are happy to advise you.

And that's important. After all, if friends and neighbors won't do their best to help you, who will?

You Know Us. We Know You.
