Let's take a look at taxes

by Jacquelyn Shacklette

Crockett County property owners who recently received tax statements have probably noted that their taxes, like almost everything else, are slowly inching upward.

School taxes show an increase of $.05 per $100 valuation while county taxes climbed only a penny. No increase in road taxes was made.

As expected, despite slight decreases in valuations of city property, personal property, and homestead deductions, increased valuations in certain other areas, mostly acreage valuation which includes minerals, coupled with the increased tax rate, will bring more money into the county and school coffers.

"Most of our increased valuation was on the mineral roll," county tax assessor-collector Tom Stokes said.

Better production techniques, a few additional wells, and stabilization of gas prices contributed to the increase according to Stokes.

The mineral roll is currently valued at $357,809,010 while the local roll consisting of land, city, and personal property is valued at $69,191,564.

The $.55 per $100 valuation for the county will bring in $120,233.73 more than 1987's total of $2,197,328.47. The 1988 total is $2,371,561.80.

"The department which has showed the need for the largest increase in revenues is the hospital," county judge Kathryn Mayfield said. "Forty-two percent of the county's general fund is used to fund the hospital and the care center."

Mayfield said the increase was an effort to maintain the status quo, and inflation has had its effect.

"We would have had to raise the taxes a whole lot next year if we didn't try to keep up by raising taxes a little bit this year," Mayfield said. "In fact, I'm not too sure we have kept up."

The one cent increase is less than Mayfield expected when the budget was first being planned.

"Some revenue came in which makes our tax base look a lot better than when we started working on the budget in July," Mayfield said.

Stokes said some delinquent taxes on mineral interests had been paid.

Although no increase has been made in road taxes, a higher appraisal roll for 1988 will bring in an increase of $6,451.61 for a total of $188,494.78 in that department. Tax revenue for roads in 1987 was $182,043.17. The combined road taxes are $.055 per $100 valuation.

The school valuation appraisal roll stands at $426,970,574 before deductions for homesteads, disabled veterans, and University of Texas land and minerals have been made. After those deductions the taxable school valuations are $402,407,979, up from $384,628,551 the previous year.

"Primarily our increases are in teacher salaries, insurance costs, and transportation and equipment costs," Ozona schools superintendent Garland Davis said.

Davis explained that as a Foundation school the state would pick up the cost of mandated teacher salary increases, but if the school is budget-balanced, then the salaries are paid from local taxes.

"We won't know which we are until the end of the year," Davis said. "The only money we can depend on from the state is what we call state available money or per capita apportionment money."

"The big unknown factor is what is known as the Asbestos Hazards Emergency Removal Act (AHERA)," Davis said. "The requirements of AHERA are going to be extremely costly to us. We have set aside $50,000 to $100,000 for that."

The school tax rate currently stands at $.98 per $100 valuation for 1988, opposed to $.93 for 1987.

Tax revenue for Crockett County schools will show an increase of $362,941.20. Total tax revenue for the schools will be $3,934,204.55 for 1988. In 1987 the total was $3,571,263.35.

Monday afternoon was very exciting for a few Ozona people who witnessed the refueling of three Black Hawk war bird helicopters from Fort Hood. The group stopped at the Ozona Airport Monday, for fuel after field operations near Sanderson. The whole squadron is planning field practice operation on a ranch near Sanderson in November.

West Ranch tops wool sale

By Jacquelyn Shacklette

Producers and warehousemen alike are pleased with recent sales of Crockett County wool.

A total of 166,000 pounds of wool was sold through Ozona Wool and Mohair Company in a Friday sale with most bringing $1.87 5/8 to $1.94 5/8 per pound. Most of this wool was short, fall wool of 4-6 months.

A 30,000 clip from the West Ranch brought the top price of $2.01 5/8 in the grease at Friday's sale.

"That clip has a reputation, and it's a large clip," Ozona Wool and Mohair manager Joe David Yates said.

The market for wool is strong and active, according to Yates.

"We're real pleased with our sale," Yates said. "The quality of the wool was super good. The growers have done a real good job of putting up a good product."

The 166,000 pounds of wool broke down into 133,000 pounds of fall, paint-free ewe wool, 20,000 pounds of fall, paint-free lamb wool, 12,000 pounds of 12 months wool and some smaller lots of odds and ends.

"These prices are as much as has been paid for fall, short wool," Yates said. "I feel like our reputation for our wool is building - getting stronger all the time."

Wool Growers warehouse manager Jim Adams also reported good sales with 82,000 pounds of paint-free, fall wool bringing prices ranging from $1.82 1/4 to $1.88 5/8 per pound. The average was $1.87 5/8.

"We were really pleased," Adams said. "It was a nice deal for a change. We needed a break."

"We're not through because we are still receiving wool," Adams said. "We probably will be receiving wool for the next three weeks. But a lot of people are holding off for 12 months wool in the spring because of the fluctuations in the worsted market."

The quality of wool received at Wool Growers was good, according to Adams.

"All of our wool was pretty uniform," he said. "It was in pretty good shape considering what we've been through."

Hospital burglarized

Crockett County Hospital was robbed of approximately $800 in cash and checks last Thursday by someone who prized haps away from a drawer and cabinet to get at the funds.

Employees remember seeing a stranger in the hospital before the money was found missing, said Chief Deputy Jim Wilson. The theft is still under investigation.

The theft of meat and produce from the Cadillac Cafe on Wednesday resulted in the arrest of two Ozona men on charges of burglary of a building.

The suspects made bonds in the amount of $5,000 each. The case will be referred to the grand jury for further action, said Wilson.

Other arrests for the week ending Oct. 4 include:

10-2 A 29-year-old Ozona man was arrested by THP on charges of driving while intoxicated. The subject was placed in county jail and later released on a $500 bond.

20-2 Sheriff's deputies arrested three Ozona men, ages 20, 21 and 38, on charges of public intoxication. The subjects were placed in county jail, and were later released after paying a $200 bond each.

10-2 Sheriff's deputies arrested a 27-year-old Ozona man on a warrant charging assault. He was placed in county jail on a $1,000 bond. On 10-3, he made that bond and was released. The case has been referred to county court for further action.

10-3 A 26-year-old Ozona man was arrested by sheriff's deputies on a warrant charging burglary of a habitation. The suspect is currently in county jail in lieu of bond.

Incidents under investigations include:

9-29 Sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of a 16-foot flat-bed trailer from a ranch north of Ozona. The trailer belonged to some deer hunters from Red Oak.

10-2 Sheriff's deputies investigated an assault that occurred at about 12 noon at the corner of Monterey and Santa Rosa. A warrant was issued for the arrest of a 27-year-old Ozona man who was placed in custody about 1:30 p.m. He was later released on a $1,000 bond.

10-3 Sheriff's deputies investigated the theft of a bicycle from a residence on Hwy. 163.

10-3 A citizen on Ave. K reported that someone had been staying in a vacant house on Ave. K.

10-3 A citizen reported that the door of his home was broken down by a 26-year-old man who attacked another man visiting the residence. Sheriff's deputies investigated the incident and a warrant was issued out of J.P. court charging the 26-year-old suspect with burglary. The suspect was arrested shortly after the incident and placed in county jail under a $5000 bond.

Booster Club to sponsor parenting program

Positive Parenting Skills for the 80's and Partners in Prevention for a Drug-free America will be the topics at a community-wide program Oct. 11 in the high school auditorium. Sponsored by the Ozona Lion Booster Club, the session begins at 7:30 p.m.

Speaker for the evening will be Tom Bryon, a statewide parenting co-ordinator. Bryon has worked in this capacity for numerous years and is a retired Army chaplain. Assisting will be Marilyn Gollightly of San Angelo who is the regional co-ordinator for the War on Drugs.

"Everyone is urged to attend as it will take everyone in this community working together to keep our schools and children clean of drugs and alcohol," said a Booster Club spokesman.

There will be no admission charge for the program.

Archery season now open

Archery season opened in Crockett County with a few more hunters than last year. The sport draws more hunters each year according to Game Warden Rod Chalmers.

Three deer counts by a wildlife biologist last week showed a 1 to 3 buck doe ratio and 91 percent fawn crop on a location in the north part of the county. A 1 to 3 buck doe ratio and 84 percent fawn crop was reported on a ranch southwest of Ozona.

A high density of deer was the result of the count in the southern part of the county. Because of this, a lower fawn crop, 50 percent, resulted.

"This is the first year some deer have had a chance to have a decent rack because of their age," said Chalmers. "But because of conditions in early spring, they may have a high or wide rack but not a heavy rack."

Royals claim championship

The Ozona Royals, led by the clutch pitching of Jeff Sanchez and Abel "Bull" Lara, overcame a first game disaster and won the final two games of the championship series to claim its first ever Texas Central League Championship.

The first game of the series was played under the lights in Ozona. The visiting San Angelo Tigers, a team that relied on its aggressive hitting and defensive fielding, quickly jumped out to a 3-0 lead against starting pitcher Rudy Martinez. The Royals quickly responded on consecutive hits by leadoff batter Danny Sewell, Romaldo Cervantez, Abel Lara, and a double by Orlando DeHoyos to tie the score at 3-3.

The Royals defense then proceeded to self-destruct as it committed numerous errors that left many of the fans wondering about the caliber of the Royals team. The San Angelo Tigers took advantage of nearly every error and proceeded to a 16-4 final advantage.

The two teams then met the next day in San Angelo and the change of scenery must have benefited the Royals who started Jeff Sanchez on the mound. After giving up a solo home run by the Tiger's Larry Montelongo and an unearned run in the first inning, Sanchez kept the Tiger batters off-balance with his pitching.

The Royals defense atoned for their first game fiasco by coming up with a steady defense aided by a spectacular double play from left fielder Abel Lara who made a running catch and then nailed the first base runner with an accurate throw to first base.

Meanwhile, the Royals, after being down 2-0, quickly responded with two runs in the top of the second on a two-run double by Abel Lara which scored both Eloy Gonzales and Danny Sewell.

The game, attended by several loud, vocal, and supportive Ozona fans, remained scoreless until the top of the 7th inning, thus causing an intense, yet exciting game.

The Royals responded by scoring three runs led by another Lara double that scored Cruz Garza, Jessie Castro, and Butch Gonzales. Sanchez and the Royals held the Tigers scoreless, thus giving the Royals the win and forcing the tie-breaking third game to decide the league championship.

In the championship game, the Tigers again quickly jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning against the Royal's starting pitcher, Abel Lara. The Royals, who left runners on base nearly every inning, remained scoreless until a five-run outburst sent the Royals ahead.

Delivering key hits in this outburst were Richard Sanchez, Ruben Mendez, and Eloy Gonzalez. Bobby Reneau, Danny Sewell and Orlando DeHoyos were the beneficiaries of these hits as they scored the all-important runs.

Lara, with the aid of catcher, John Galvan, then proceeded to shut down the Tigers the rest of the way, thus making the 5-3 Royals lead hold up, thus securing the Texas Central League Championship for the Royals, its fans, and for the town of Ozona, and causing a wild celebration among the Royals players and their fans.

Team manager Hector DeHoyos Jr. said he appreciates all the support and help of various Ozona fans. DeHoyos said he especially appreciates the George Ybarra family and all the other families of Royals players.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—On the surface they're trying not to acknowledge its significance, but Capitol Democrats are privately seething over former favorite jurist John Hill and his endorsement of the Republican candidate for chief justice.

And Hill, who has always been controversial and gutsy, has put a lot on the line.

Hill, a Democrat, has held two statewide offices and narrowly missed winning the Governor's Mansion, but he rocked the Democratic establishment last week by endorsing his successor to the High Court.

The whole thing is puzzling to politicians who operate in the Capitol mode, yet it's clear if one knows that John Hill is a man who isn't afraid to take the heat for what he believes is right.

There are plenty of reasons why he shouldn't endorse Tom Phillips, at least according to the Democrats.

For starters, when Hill resigned last winter, Phillips was appointed by the governor who defeated Hill in a 1978 upset that turned Texas into a two-party state: Bill Clements.

Still A Democrat

Then consider that Hill served as attorney general before the thumping and as Supreme Court Chief Justice after it, riding to victory both times as a popular, party-backed Democrat.

But once on the court, Hill fell out with the Democratic justices, just about all eight of them, liberal or conservative.

Finally, fed up with behind-the-scenes politics and contributions, and the justice-for-sale scandals which befell some of his fellow justices, Hill resigned to campaign for an appointed court.

He said last week he's still a loyal Democrat, but party insiders don't consider him one, including Texas Democrat Party chairman Bob Slagle, who called Hill "a bitter old man" who is striking back at Democratic colleagues on the court with whom he had personal differences.

That's just the nice things they are saying about him.

Others consider him a party turncoat, and whether Phillips wins or loses, and whether the endorsement helps other Republicans at the ballot box next month, Hill is likely to feel vindictive consequences for a long time, perhaps even in the private sector.

But to his credit, Hill has always done what he believes is right, even when the majority advises against it, doesn't understand it, or even loathes it. Many voters know him and respect him for that.

Texas Growth Fund

A little-hailed proposed constitutional amendment on the November ballot is coming to the forefront. Amendment No. 3 would allow four huge state endowment funds to divert one percent of their assets to job growth and economic development in Texas.

The proposition would create the Texas Growth Fund and jumpstart it with assets from the Permanent University Fund, the Permanent School Fund, the Teachers Retirement System and the Employers Retirement System.

The four currently control about $28.5 billion in assets.

Those favoring the amendment want a sliver of the money steered into small and medium-sized businesses wanting to build or expand in Texas.

Several top state officials, lesser state officials and board members overseeing those funds favor the proposition.

Opponents fear the funds could be weakened by the risk factors involved.

Hispanic Switch to GOP?

In a week of surprising endorsements, the mother and siblings of the late Willie Velasquez, the hero credited with forging Hispanics into a powerful voting bloc with his Southwest Voter Registration Project, endorsed the Republican opponent of veteran San Antonio Congressman Henry B. Gonzalez.

Twenty-seven years ago, Gonzalez became the first Hispanic congressman from Texas, but last week the Velasquez family called him a "patron" and backed Lee Trevino, a San Antonio community college trustee.

Republicans were quick to point out that the stunning endorsement, plus the showing of Roy Barrera Jr. in the 1986 attorney general race, plus the appeal of Bush, means that Texas Hispanics are coming over to the Republican Party.

Other Highlights

• State Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, drew praise from members of a Congressional panel when he tied a strong defense to a strong farm economy, calling it, "a defense food program rather than a farm program."

• In the wake of Hurricane Gilbert, Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro held another clean beaches rally which attracted some 2,000 volunteers to Galveston.

• A new school finance plan that would cost the state an additional $1.5 billion annually won praise from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Comptroller Bob Bullock. The plan was prepared by the 60-member School Finance Working Group.

Nancy Harris and son James Gideon have returned from the 4th annual Confederate Air Force's Wings Over Houston Airshow featuring the Blue Angels.

We make our future by the best use of the present.

There is a vast difference between growth and inflation.

Some grumble because they don't get what's coming to them, others because they do.

There isn't much to do in a hick town - but there are plenty of people to talk about it when you do.

It is impossible to make wisdom hereditary.

It is better to keep a friend from falling than to help him after he falls.

The typical American knows where and when the Pilgrims landed but has no idea why.

In many ways the past two hundred years of our history have changed this country from independence to government dependence.

New OHS cosmetology teacher Opal Huey takes pride in the program offered in Ozona. A former high school cosmetology student herself, she understands the important difference the training can make for a young person.

Cosmetology teacher aims to train quality hairdressers

New cosmetology teacher Opal Huey comes to Ozona from Monahans. Her training in cosmetology began in a classroom at Monahans High School.

"Just because a student starts in a vocation, it doesn't mean they have to stay there," said Miss Huey. Following high school, she attended Odessa College and earned an associate degree in management for fashion merchandising.

She has worked 11 years in a beauty salon and taught cosmetology in Monahans High School. Cosmetology teachers must take state board tests which are much more difficult than those for operators, said Miss Huey.

Her OHS class has "some promising talent," said Miss Huey. The lab is open for customers on Monday evenings. There are four second year students and nine first year students. The goal of the class is producing quality hairdressers, according to the teacher.

Miss Huey, who is soon to become Mrs. Steve Mobbs, works with young people outside the classroom through G.A.s and Acteens. She has been an active camper with an Acteen group for five years at Alpine, going from being a church counselor to staff.

Folk art painting occupies some of Miss Huey's leisure time. Much of her work is given to friends.

What is a senior citizen?

Editor's Note:
The following article is shared by Herb Kerby who clipped it from The Goldthwaite Eagle.

A senior citizen is one who was here before the pill and the population explosion. We were here before television, penicillin, polio shots, antibiotics and frisbees. Before frozen food, nylon, dacron, Xerox, Kinsey, radar, fluorescent lights, credit cards and ballpoint pens. For us time sharing meant togetherness, not computers (or condominiums), a chip meant a piece of wood, hardware meant hard wear and softwear wasn't even a word. Co-eds never wore slacks. We were before pantyhose, drip-dry clothes, before ice makers and dishwashers, clothes dryers, freezers and electric blankets. Before Hawaii and Alaska became States. Before men wore long hair and earrings and women wore tuxedos.

We were before Leonard Bernstein, Yogurt, Ann Landers, plastic, the 40-hour-week and the minimum wage. We got married first and then lived together. How quaint can one be? We had five and ten cents. For one nickel you could make a phone call, or buy a Coke, or even stamps to mail one letter and two postcards. You could buy a Chevy coupe for $650, but who could afford that in 1937? Not many of us. A pity, too, because gas was 10 cents a gallon.

In our time, closets were for clothes, not for coming out of.

Bunnies were small rabbits and rabbits were not Volkswagens. We were before Grandma Moses and Frank Sinatra and cup sizing for bras. Girls wore Peter Pan collars and thought cleavage was something butchers did. We were before Batman, Rudolph the red nosed reindeer and Snoopy. Before DDT, vitamin pills, disposable diapers, E. Q. One, Jeeps, the Jefferson Memorial and Pizza. Cheerios, instant coffee, decaffeinated anything and McDonald's were all unheard of. We thought fast food was what you ate during Lent. We were before Boy George, J. D. Salinger and Chiquita Banana. Before FM radios, tape recorders, electric typewriters, word processors, Muzak, disco dancing, electronic music - and that's not all bad!

In our day cigarette smoking was fashionable, grass was for mowing, Coke was a refreshing drink, and pot was something you cooked in. If we'd been asked to explain CIA, MS., NATO, UFO, NFL or ERA we'd have said "alphabet soup".

We were not before the difference between sexes was discovered, but we were before sex change. We just made do with what we had. And, we were the last generation that was so naive as to think you needed a husband to have a baby. We are today's seniors, a hardy bunch when you think of how our world has changed, and of the adjustments we have had to make!

Luis Rico and Maria Sanchez proved top-placers for Ozona when they took first and second respectively at last weekend's Big Spring cross country meet where the boys' team placed second and the girls finished fourth overall.

Twelve teams competed in the boys' division with some 90 runners, out of which, the Lions placed nine of their 11 guys in the top half.

Following Rico came Jose Gutierrez in tenth place. Ruben Borrego, Gilbert Rico and Mark Ramirez finished 17, 18 and 19th respectively.

In the twenties were Pep Talamantez at 21st and Gary Perez at 28th. Mingo Perez took 35th place.

Rounding out the Lion crew were Roger Martinez and Robert Dominguez with 49th and 54th placings.

In the girls' running, Sanchez and Claudia Avila had the best performances with their second and fifth place finishes. The next Lady Lion, Kimberlee Coy, placed 38th.

Naomie Borrego and Tricia Etheridge cruised to 46th and 48th placings, while Bibi Cervantez, Patricia Maldonado and Susan Pullen followed in 69, 92 and 101st places.

Both the boys and girls' teams head for Coleman Saturday.

Seventh graders scalp Iraan

by Clint Landon
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Five touchdown runs secured a victory for the Ozona 7th grade Cubs over the Iraan Warriors last Thursday, Sept. 29, in Iraan.

Cubs quarterback Michael Fay scored the first touchdown of the night. With 4:06 left in the first quarter, Fay faked a hand-off and ran around the right side 47 yards for the T.D.

The aggressive tackling and the sacking of the Warrior quarterback by Cub linebacker Bart Grimes, along with the rest of the Cub defense, held Iraan and forced an early first quarter Warrior punt.

A minute and four seconds into the second quarter, Ryan Morris ran around the right side of Warrior defense for five yards and a second Cub score.

Shortly afterwards, Sammy Hinojosa ran 47 yards around Iraan's left side and put another six points on the Cubs side of the scoreboard.

With 4:23 left in the half, Gabriel Perez ran the ball seven yards and gave the Cubs another six points to carry with them into the dressing room at halftime.

While the offense racked up points on the scoreboard, the Cub defense not only kept the Warriors from scoring, but held them from even gaining a first down.

During the second half, Ozona's

Cub offense slowed down. The only second half score came when Fay ran the ball back 31 yards with 2:31 left to play in the fourth quarter. Ozona's Cubs now led the Warriors 30 to 0.

However, Iraan refused to go to the dressing room scoreless! With only eight seconds left in the game, the Warriors ran the ball back 40 yards for a last second T.D.

West Texans think teachers do well

ABILENE--West Texas residents say teachers in their communities are doing a very good job; are caring and well-informed in their subject matters are hard working and deserve a pay raise.

These findings are the result of a public opinion poll released recently in the West Texas area by the Texas State Teachers Association. The telephone poll was conducted for TSTA by The Texas Poll which is sponsored by Harte-Hanks Communications and Texas A&M University and has a margin of error of three percentage points. It was conducted between Aug. 15 and Sept. 1, 1988.

Speaking at news conferences in Abilene and San Angelo, the TSTA President Charles Beard said the poll shows that 78 percent of the West Texas region gives the local schools a passing grade, with 51 percent giving an "A" or "B". Similarly, nearly 65 percent graded teachers as "good" to "excellent."

Beard said TSTA commissioned the poll out of concern for a growing teacher morale crisis throughout the state. He said a similar poll of teachers conducted last spring found that 37 percent of Texas teachers were seriously considering leaving the profession due to low pay and low morale. The poll showed teachers believed the public held the profession in low esteem.

"This new Texas Poll proves that West Texans support their local teachers," Beard said. "We hope these findings will be a big boost to morale everywhere."

The poll found that 77 percent said teachers are caring; 79 percent said they are hard working; and 78 percent said teachers deserve a pay raise. When asked how the raise should be funded, 73 percent said it should come from a combination of local and state funds.

"Only eight percent believe that salaries should be paid exclusively by the state treasury," Beard said. "This should serve notice to those school districts which have been cutting back on local district salary supplements."

Seventy-eight percent said that teachers should have a say in formulating educational policies in their districts while only 17 percent felt that the school administrators and school board should make those decisions exclusively. These figures closely parallel those in a national NEA Gallup Poll which found that 63 percent of the American people want to see more teacher control over the decisions that affect how students learn.

A plurality believes teachers earn less money than other professionals and a plurality also thinks teachers are under more stress but are equally capable with other professionals in other fields.

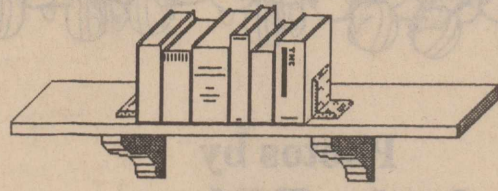

"Unfortunately, 54 percent believe teachers get less respect than other professionals, primarily because of low pay, as pointed out in other parts of the poll," the president said. Fifty-seven percent believe that salaries are the main reason teachers leave the profession.

In the area of teacher training, 63 percent believe that teachers receive the same quality of education as other professions.

In the area of school reforms, a plurality believes that the changes have had no effect on the quality of education in Texas schools but that the reforms have made the teachers' jobs harder (63%).

"We are asking parents and taxpayers to reach out to their faculties in the local schools," Beard said. "Teachers very much need to know that their communities support them--from Brownwood to Big Lake and from Ozona to Sweetwater. We are all striving for the same goal and that is to build a better future for our children through quality education today."

Leave the King alone

by T. C. Tucker

I guess it would have been better to have reviewed this book the anniversary week of Elvis Presley's death. Unfortunately, I went on vacation the week this column normally appears, read another book instead and consequently did a review for it first. And that is that.

Which is practically the theme of this week's review: that is that. Especially when it comes to Elvis' death.

Before I get going here, a little should be mentioned about the book in the spotlight, Is Elvis Alive?, and the circumstances surrounding its existence.

It seems a journalist by the name of Gail Brewer-Giorgio heard of Elvis' death the same day it happened on Aug. 16, 1977. Inspired by the phenomenon created by his death, Gail (Brewer-Giorgio is too much of a mouthful) spent 54 days writing the first draft of Orion. This work basically centers around a country-turned-rock singer who gains immense fame and fortune, grows dangerously weary of his accomplishments then fakes his death to lead a secretive, normal life.

Of course, this sounds incredibly like the theory currently circulating about Elvis. And of course, Gail continually points this out, stating she officially copyrighted the book in 1978, eventually made a deal with a publisher and watched 70,000 paperback copies sell in 1981 before further copies vanished from the shelves, supposedly pulled by the publisher. Gail claims that her book may have inadvertently come too close to the truth, and that she suffered unjust punishment because of her creativity.

Okay, I admit she has a right to investigate the sudden disappearance of her book, but I'd rather she leave us out of the process. While crying on the reader's shoulder, Gail mentions, off-hand like, bits and pieces of evidence questioning Elvis' death. The entire book holds items pertaining to anything from the misspelling of Elvis' middle name on his tombstone to his fascination with the magical essence of numbers (like 1, 2, 3 and so on).

Included with the book is a 60-minute cassette tape containing Elvis talking about his "new life", supposedly in 1981 or so. The taped conversation has terrible background noise and proves almost impossible to hear on a regular home stereo system; headphones work best. The voice on the tape sounds like Elvis, and "he" does talk, in a round-about way, of leading a new life, staying involved in music and having people recognize him.

Gail continually stresses throughout the book and cassette (yes, she even has pieces of her being interviewed on the tape) that she asks these questions and puts them on paper not to benefit herself but rather to protest the loose legal documentation of the King's death. Still, I find this hard to swallow when, at the very end of the book, an advertisement announces that Orion (Gail's book) will be available this fall.

All this wondering and pondering made by Gail and others through the past decade is fine and dandy and makes for some interesting reading in the checkout lane. But I think selfishness has taken over here as persons find it easier to question Elvis' life and death rather than taking care of their own. The King gave something to almost everyone, and his fans replied by entombing him within an image that only "death" could free him of. Even now, his followers still reach, grab and give him nothing in return.

Leave him alone. If now more than ever, those who loved Elvis can return the favor and call off the search. Let him live. Give him peace of mind.

Million Texas men register

As the new school year commences, Selective Service State Director Col. Harold D. Doyle, reminds young men in the State of Texas that if college is in their plans, Selective Service registration must be on their minds. In order to be eligible for federal student aid, job training benefits and federal employment, a young man must first be registered with Selective Service.

More than 1,000,000 Texas men are registered with Selective Service. All men have a legal obligation to register within 30 days of their 18th birthday. "By adding their names to the Selective Service list, these young men are not only bringing themselves into compliance with the law, but are also guaranteeing their eligibility for some important federal benefits and are accepting the responsibility to defend this country in time of need," says Doyle.

By registering with Selective Service these men are joining more than 14 million of their peers across the country.

Colonel Doyle reminds those men who are 18 through 25 and not yet registered that they may do so at any local post office.

Iraan defeats J.V. Lions 14-6

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Copie Davis

The Ozona J.V. Lions hosted the Iraan Braves Sept. 29 in an attempt to avenge their debut loss of the '88 season at the hands of Iraan four weeks earlier. However, Ozona's offense could never quite get untracked, and Iraan garnered the win by a score of 14-6.

The Lions started the game much as they did in previous weeks -- sluggishly. However, the defense made up for the lack of offense, and for that reason, both teams were held scoreless in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the game switched gears and began to heat up as both teams seemed to find their offenses. With 1:25 left to play in the half, quarterback Corby Mauer hit tight end Zack Douglass with a 10-yard scoring strike to give Iraan a 7-0 lead.

However, the Lions didn't even give the Braves time to relax before they marched straight down the field and scored. After scrambling out of the pocket and racing 37 yards for a key first down, quarterback Danny DeHoyos rolled left and fired a bullet to tight end George Quiroz for a 25 yard touchdown. The PAT was no good and Iraan clung to a slim 7-6 lead at the half.

After a climatic second quarter in which each team mounted a drive and scored, the second half turned extremely sloppy.

8th Grade Cubs scoreless against Iraan Warriors

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Copie Davis

The Ozona 8th Grade Cubs traveled to Iraan Sept. 29 in hopes of finding a victory. However, a stagnant offense and porous defense helped fuel the Iraan 8th Grade Warriors to a 16-0 win over Ozona.

Ozona received the opening kickoff and returned it to their own 39 yard line, but, on the first play, the Cubs jumped offside. This play served as an accurate omen for things to come. After gaining nine yards on two plays via the running of Eric Sanchez, the Warrior defense stiffened on third down and six, and the Cubs were forced to punt.

As slow a start as Ozona got, Iraan was just the opposite. After taking over on their own 45 yard line, the Warriors took just eight plays to march 55 yards and score on a four yard run with 2:47 left in the first quarter. The PAT was good in the form of a two-point conversion, and Iraan took an 8-0 lead.

After exchanging punts twice during the second quarter, the half ended with Iraan still leading 8-0 as neither team could maintain any offense at all.

In the second half, the Warriors received the kickoff, but before they had time to breathe, Ozona's Joe Mendoza pounced on a fumble for the Cubs. However, as soon as they got the ball back, the Cubs fumbled it over to Iraan. From their own 32 yard line, the Warriors drove all the way to the Ozona 35 before they continued the newly spawned ping-pong match by coughing the ball up to the Cubs' Manny Munoz. Yet, unbelievable as it sounds, Ozona fumbled the ball back to Iraan with a little over a minute left in the third

The third quarter saw Iraan fumble the ball to Ozona, then Ozona fumbled the ball back to Iraan, who in turn, fumbled the ball back to Ozona. Neither team was able to find the end zone, and Iraan made the only first downs of either team.

When the final quarter began, the Braves still found themselves in the lead by a single point. However, Ozona was very much in the game -- that is until they gave it away. With 5:09 left to play, the Lions fumbled on the Iraan 22 yard line. From there, the Braves drove 78 yards in 12 plays and finally scored from four yards out with 1:25 to play. The PAT was once again successful, and Iraan increased their advantage to 14-6.

After taking the ensuing kickoff, Ozona fumbled on the very next play. Then, after holding Iraan and forcing them to punt, the Lions fumbled for the third time in the quarter. With less than a minute to go in the game, the Braves simply ran the clock out, denying Ozona the chance to regain the ball and tie the game. The final score was 14-6 Iraan.

Ozona's leading rusher was Danny DeHoyos who gained 50 yards on three carries. He also completed two of five passes for 45 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Lions were led by linebacker Daun Williams who had nine tackles. Right on his heels was, not surprisingly, Danny DeHoyos, who had eight.

quarter. From there, the Warriors hit pay dirt from seven yards out to take a 16-0 lead with one quarter to play.

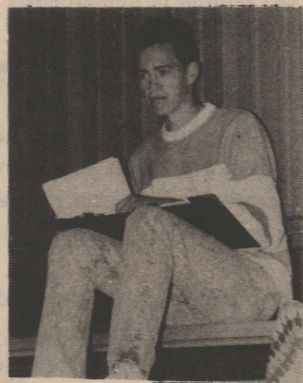

In the fourth quarter, Iraan threatened once again. After a Cub punt with 7:00 left in the game, the Warriors drove the ball all the way to the Ozona 2-yard line before the turnover bug struck yet again and Larry Sanchez came up with Iraan's third fumble.

With less than 2:00 to go in the game, the Cubs tried in desperation to get points on the board. However, on the last play of the game, Ozona's final gasp pass was picked off to end the game.

The Cubs' leading rusher for the game was Raul Rico who rushed for 26 yards on five carries. He also caught a pass and returned a kick for 36 yards.

Defensively, the Cubs were led by Joe Mendoza, who marauded Iraan ball carriers for 10 tackles and one fumble recovery.

STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Coahoma Bulldogs surprised the Ozona Lions last Friday, Sept. 30, handing them their second loss of the season and their first shut-out, 26-0.

"We were all disappointed," Coach Don Payne said. "It was not one of our better efforts."

The Lions appeared sluggish on the opening possession, though they effectively moved the ball on the ground and through the air to Coahoma's 33 before coming to a stop there.

Coahoma kept the ball on the ground until a pass interference penalty against Ozona put the Bulldogs 22 yards out. On the following play, they scored the first of their four touchdowns. Adding the extra point, Coahoma took an early lead of 7-0.

The Lions showed the next signs of threat as the second quarter began. Marching 52 yards downfield, the Lions watched as a Bulldog defender intercepted a pass.

Spurred by their defense, Coahoma proceeded to head toward another score. Two big pass-plays of 13 and 16 yards helped put them closer. Following another Ozona penalty, the Bulldogs capitalized on a two-yard run, claiming a comfortable 13-0 lead going into half-time.

At the third quarter's opening, Robby Tambunga put the Lions into scoring position when he intercepted a pass and returned it 16 yards to Coahoma's 32.

However, Ozona failed to convert a fourth-and-two situation and went back to defense.

On their next two possessions, the Lions edged to within 35 yards of the desired six-point zone, but both times they sputtered out.

Coahoma added more points to the board late in the third quarter as a 31-yard run set up a 24-yard touchdown. A few minutes later in the fourth quarter, they broke away on a 75-yarder, capping the game's scoring and sealing their victory.

The Lions showed a bright spark a few moments later as Lalo Rodriguez turned a 15-yard pass reception into a 36-yard one with a gallant effort, but the next four passes went incomplete and the Lions were stalled again.

One last opportunity arose with 1:21 left in the game and Ozona on their own 24-yard line. Intermingled with incomplete passes, Chris Denman hit Tambunga three times to put the Lions 19 yards away from scoring.

A quarterback sack and a penalty on the next two plays forced Ozona back to the 34, and the last play, a desperation pass-attempt, ended in Bulldog hands.

"Nobody in particular is to blame," Coach Payne said. "Our offensive line was slow getting off; the backs slow hitting the holes; the defense slow tackling."

From here on out lies district and for the Lions, now 3-2, that in particular means Forsan this Friday.

"We're going to put this loss behind us and prepare better for the game," Payne said. "We'll concentrate on the game to be played and not last week or next week's."

As for Forsan the team, Coach Payne notes that "they're an average team trying to win a game."

The Lions take to the road for the second week in a row, playing at 8:00 p.m. in Forsan.

Three pieces of welcome news for area farmers

Texas farmers and ranchers can celebrate three recent pieces of good news from Washington.

First, the Transportation Department announced a reversal of its position and will allow states to exempt some farm-to-market truck operators from the burden of obtaining commercial drivers licenses.

Second, the House passed landmark legislation to speed the system for evaluating possibly dangerous pesticides.

Third, the Senate and House both passed a compromise version of the Textile and Apparel Trade Act, designed to slow the growth of imports in order to make our own producers more competitive.

The Hill Country and West Texas counties I am privileged to represent produce more wool and mohair than any other area in the United States, and in addition raise some of the nation's largest crops of peaches and peanuts. So my commitment has always been to keep a special watch for the interests of agribusiness.

That is why I was especially

Washington Update

By Congressman Lamar Smith

pleased when Transportation Secretary James Burnley told me that by changing course on the driver's license issue the federal bureaucracy had realized it is possible to ease regulation of our nation's farmers without compromising safety.

This is good and welcome news not just for farmers, but for all of us who want the federal government out of our lives as often as possible.

Those who use farm vehicles to transport their products and supplies to and from the farm have no need for special commercial driver's licenses.

As a matter of fact, they have less of a need than others. The most recent statistics available show that the rate of accidents for farm vehicles is less than half the rate for non-farm trucks.

Farmers can also be glad that after a decade of failed efforts we are moving on Capitol Hill to reform the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act of 1972, usually known by the initials FIFRA.

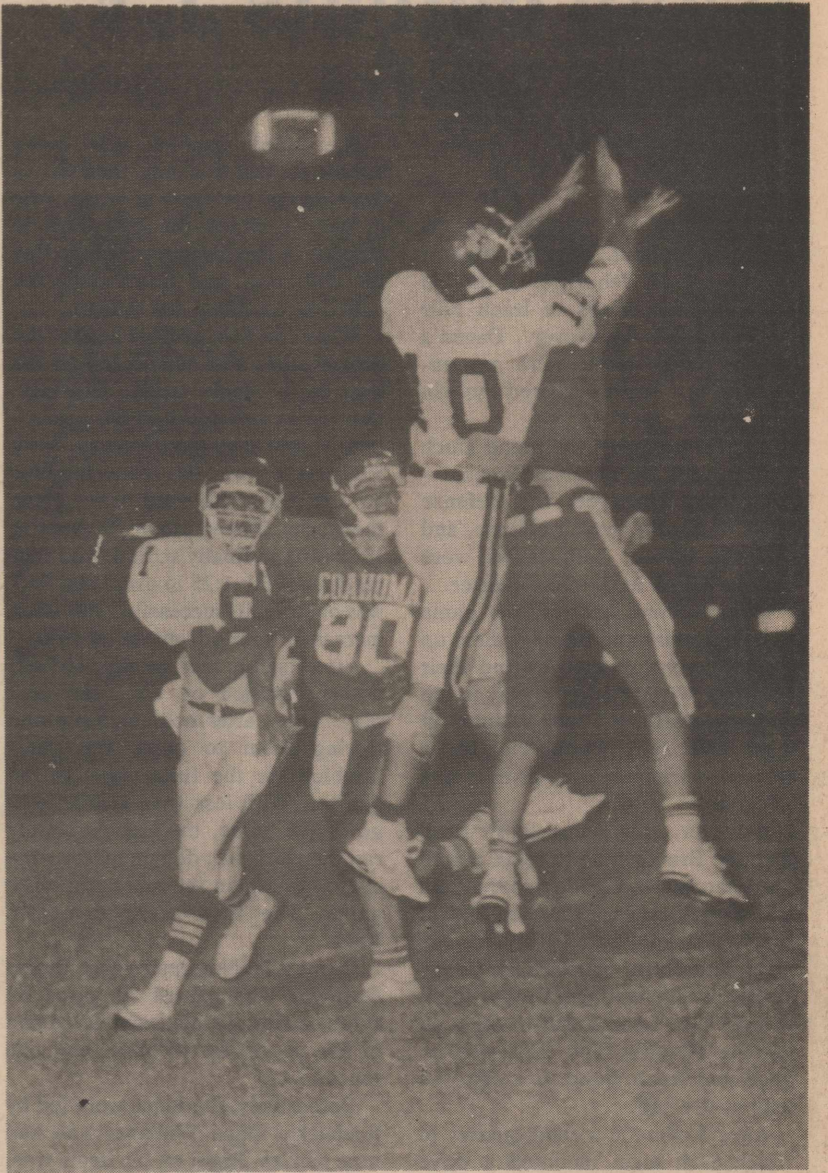

Our compromise bill, which is expected to face little opposition in the Senate, for the first time sets a deadline for re-testing about 600 active ingredients used in more than 35,000 commercial pesticides. This is much more fair to farmers than previous proposals.

In an important move to hold down cost, the House bill would require manufacturers to pay half the $42 million in annual costs for these reviews.

Finally, the House agreed with the Senate's amendments to the bill limiting the growth of apparel and textile imports to last year's levels and permitting 1 percent increases in the quotas every year in the future.

The American clothing industries contributed $50 billion to the gross national product last year. And they are investing billions more to modernize and improve productivity, but can never compete on a level playing field so long as foreign producers continue to pay their workers well below the U.S. minimum wage and put them in dirty and unsafe factories.

This textile bill is an important step in making that playing field level and in keeping alive the American textile mills that spin millions of pounds of Texas wool into the clothes we can wear with pride.

Newspaper preservation formula works

The following information has been around for some years and is credited to Richard Smith, assistant professor at the University of Washington.

The prescription for preserving newspapers, printed in a Texas Press Association bulletin in 1978, follows.

Dissolve a milk of magnesia tablet or one tablespoon of milk of magnesia emulsion in a quart of club soda, recap tightly and let stand in the refrigerator overnight. Pour into a pan large enough to accommodate the flattened newspaper. Soak newspaper one to two hours, remove and pat dry.

The solution cannot be reused. Estimated life of the paper -- 200 years. Chemically, the magnesium oxide combines with the carbon dioxide in the soda to form magnesium carbonate which neutralizes acids in the paper that cause deterioration.

Oil and gas drilling update

J. Cleo Thompson, Dallas, has staked its No. 1 Harris, an 8,000-foot prospector in Crockett County, 3 1/2 miles west and slightly north of 7,152-foot production in the three-well Ellenburger oil area and the depleted 7,115-foot Permo-Penn detrital oil discovery, both in the Condo multipay field, and 35 miles northwest of Ozona.

Location is 660 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the east lines of 80-C. Stern Survey, Abst. 2837.

Production was through perforations at 9,021-401 feet, which had been acidized with 4,000 gallons and fractured with 69,000 gallons.

It was drilled to 9,605 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at the bottom, and plugged back to 9,536 feet.

Location is 2,481 feet from the north and 247 feet from the east lines of 6-GC&SF Survey.

4-H food, nutrition workshop draws many participants

Ninety-one 4-H'ers parents and leaders crowded the Ozona Civic Center on Saturday, Oct. 1 for the "4-H Foods Festival Workshop."

The day-long event included sessions on the four basic food groups, including nutrition, preparation and tasting various foods, table setting and menu planning. Sessions were developed and taught by trained foods and nutrition leaders and teen leaders.

A highlight of the day was a series of "commercials" presented by teen leaders. Topics for the short talks included fiber, weight control, cholesterol and sugar. Speakers were Whitney Vannoy, JoLynn Vannoy, Lisa Herring, Hollie Williams, Jennifer Jones, Myra Wilson, Courtney Phillips, C'Jay McKinney and Jennifer Davidson. 4-H'ers gave the skits high marks on their evaluations, according to County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer. Sadie Davidson, Nancy Vannoy and Debbie Phillips assisted 4-H'ers with preparing their presentations.

A number of Audit 4-H Leaders also planned and conducted sessions during the event. Evelyn Keith and Belinda Wilkins, assisted by teen leader Marandy Keith, presented sessions on the bread and cereal food group, which included experiments with yeast, making pizza crust, sampling different foods from that food group and learning about nutrients present in foods from that group.

Debbie Arrott, assisted by teen leaders Tammy Arrott, Margaret Jones, Tamie Reagor and Rita Rios, presented lessons on the dairy foods group. 4-H'ers were treated to samples of different cheeses and milk products, information about buying and storage of dairy products, and a look at different types of bacteria.

Kathryn Mayfield, who was helped by teen leaders Martha Mayfield, John Williams, Candace Williams and Erika Kenison, treated 4-H'ers to new taste sensations with an abundant display of fruits and vegetables. The 4-H'ers identified and learned about nutrients in the foods. One 4-H'er noted, "I tasted many foods I didn't even know existed." Another said, "It was very challenging whether or not to try them or not--but I tried most of them."

Adult Leader Esmi Barrera and Ulmer joined forces for a presentation on the meat food group which included a highly popular peanut butter taste test that pitted three brands of peanut butter against each other. Participants also cooked hamburger for the pizzas served at lunch, learned about cooking and sanitation tips, and watched a slide presentation from the Beef Council on becoming a better beef shopper.

Karen Childress followed the food group sessions with a demonstration on table setting. In the afternoon, Ozona High School home economics teacher Rose Williams and Tedra Ulmer presented lessons on menu planning.

Another highlight of the day was a pizza lunch--featuring the pizzas the 4-H'ers had helped to create throughout the morning. Following lunch, 4-H'ers and parents traveled to the 4-H club's stretch of highway to assist in the clean-up effort held as part of National 4-H Week. A large number of other Crockett County 4-H'ers and leaders took part in the clean-up.

Ulmer noted that 4-H members, parents and leaders seemed very pleased by the outcome of the workshop, but that there is still much to do before the County 4-H Food Show on Saturday, Oct. 29.

"We will assign leaders this week to work with those who need them," she noted. "Those members who were unable to attend our workshop also need to contact the County Extension Office at 327-2721 and let us know, so we can arrange for them to make up the lessons they've missed."

No 4-H'er need be neglected in the food project, said Ulmer. "We have enough leaders for everyone, but we need the cooperation of the members and their parents in identifying those who need help, she stated." Ulmer said she is available for consultations and individual help, and 4-H leaders are available to help also.

For now, the 4-H members who attended the workshop will begin lessons with their leaders on menu planning, preparing their food show dish, and polishing their nutrition knowledge. "We feel this is putting their knowledge to work in a practical way-- learning skills they'll use every day for the rest of their lives," she concluded.

For more information about the foods project or the food show, contact the County Extension Office or come by from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve persons of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Sims to sponsor internship

AUSTIN--State Senator Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, has announced that he is going to sponsor an internship program again for the next session of the state legislature. The 71st Legislative Session will begin Jan. 10, 1989 and end June 1, 1989.

"This session promises to be very interesting," Senator Sims said. "I will be able to handle more interns this year, so I am looking forward to having even more of my constituents involved in the legislative process through the 25th District."

Gary C. Gilmer, Rocksprings attorney, commented on his experiences as an intern.

"I regret that I could only spend two days as an intern, but I enjoyed the experience very much during the time I was there."

Another intern from Senator Sims' district was Wanda Garner Cash, city editor of the Kerrville Daily Times.

"Watching Texas government at work up close was one of the most eye-opening experiences in my career as a reporter," Cash said.

Because of limited space in the senator's office, internships are restricted to residents of the 25th Senatorial District which includes the following counties: Bandera, northern part of Bexar, Blanco, Brewster, Coke, part of Comal, Crane, Crockett, Culberson, Edwards, part of El Paso, Gillespie, Glasscock, Hudspeth, Irion, Jeff Davis, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Loving, Mason, Medina, Menard, Midland, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Real, Reeves, Schleicher, Sterling, Sutton, Terrell, Tom Green, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, and Winkler Counties.

Residents of the 25th Senatorial District who are interested in working a few days during the legislative session may call Ms. Sharon Allen, (512) 463-0125 or write to her in care of Senator Sims' office, P.O. Box 12068, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

If you are not sure whether or not you are from Senator Sims district, just give the office a call and this will clarify for you.

Hope to see you this next year in Austin.

Folk stories of West Texas come alive in new volume

True takes and tall ones come alive in Castle Gap and the Pecos Frontier, just published by Texas Christian University Press. Patrick Dearen of San Angelo is the author of this definitive, thoroughly documented study of six West Texas folk stories.

- Included are the stories of:
- Castle Gap, a break in a mesa some 12 miles east of the Pecos River, used by Comanches on the warpath, emigrants seeking California gold and cattlemen driving Lohorns up the Goodnight-Loving Trail;
 - Horsehead Crossing, the most infamous ford of the Old West, considered the graveyard of hopes by drovers and emigrants alike;
 - Juan Cordona Lake, the vast salt lake where sandstorms and skull-baking sun defied early efforts to mine the salt needed for everyday survival on the frontier;
 - The "bulto" or ghost who wanders the Fort Stockton night in search of peace;
 - Lost Wagon Train, a 40-wagon caravan entombed in the sands of West Texas;
 - Will Sublett, who found a fortune in gold hidden in the Pecos Country and kept the secret of its location even unto death.

In his foreword to this new book, Texas novelist Elmer Kelton, a lifetime resident of the Pecos River country, recalls the stories and legends he heard as a youngster and comments on the rich mixture of history and folklore they represent. Dearen's years of research into these now-aged mysteries and legends included personal visits with many residents and old-timers of the Pecos Frontier.

A complete index lists everybody interviewed and quoted. In addition, he read yellowing newspapers and dusty court records and walked the country himself, finding the landmarks. From his search emerges a fascinating picture of an inhospitable land, its heritage and its people.

Castle Gap and the Pecos Frontier is illustrated with maps and both old and new photographs.

Dearen, a lifelong resident of West Texas, hold a journalism degree from the University of Texas and has been a regional reporter for two West Texas newspapers.

In addition to Castle Gap and the Pecos Frontier, he is the author of three published novels. Dearen is available to speak to groups, large or small, about his West Texas research. An appearance can be arranged by contacting TCU Press, Box 30783, Fort Worth, Texas 76109 (817) 921-7822.

TCU Press books are distributed by Texas A&M University Press, Drawer C, College Station, TX 77843-4354, (409) 845-1436.

Please don't try this!

A weekly newspaper received the following communication from one of its readers: "Dear Sir: When I subscribed a year ago you stated that if I was not satisfied at the end of a year, I could have my money back. Well, I would like to have it back. On second thought, to save you trouble, you may apply it to my next year's subscription."

Texas guide now available

Charging, splashing, larger-than-life mustangs have greeted visitors to Las Colinas, near Dallas, for years. Now, the majestic sculpture also brands the cover of Texas, an all-new travel guide just released by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Don Clark of the department's Travel and Information Division called the new book "a comprehensive travel guide to the Lone Star State." He said it will be a primary tool for increasing tourism to and within Texas.

"We know what Texas deserves," said Clark, "and we've been aiming at this for five years--the finest state travel guide ever produced in the United States."

Clark concluded, "The Lone Star is on the rise again!"

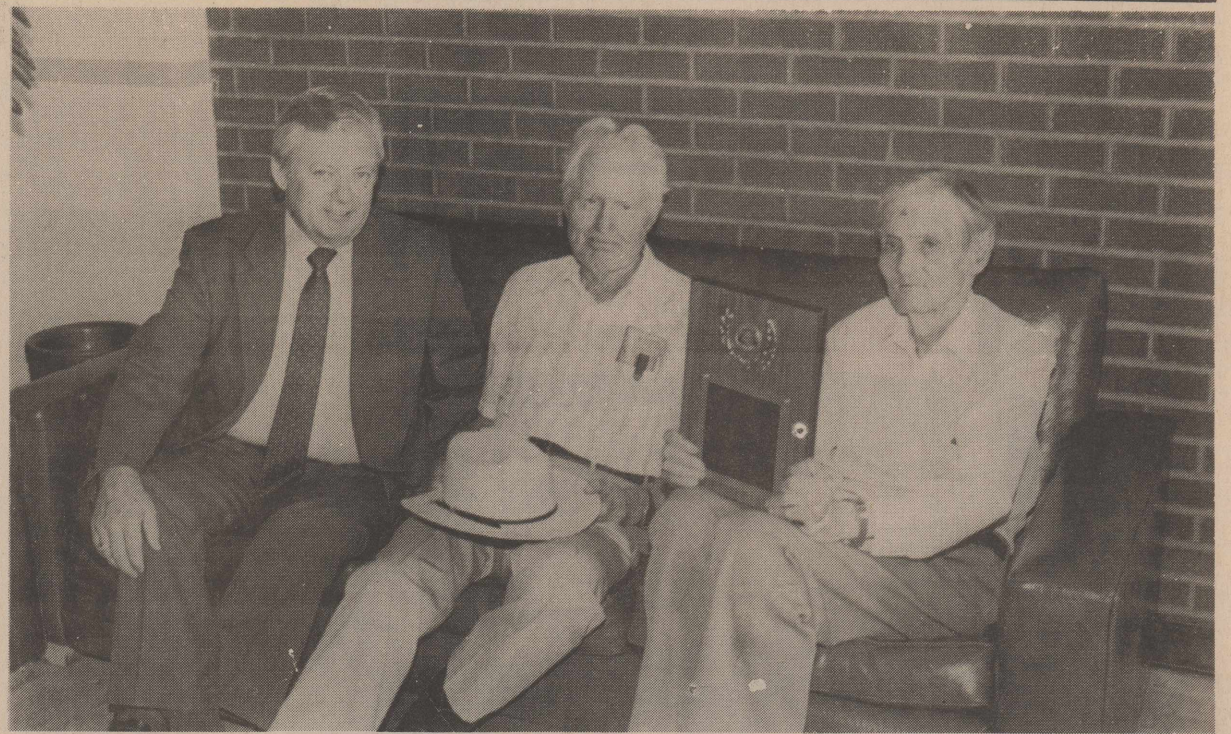

The 248-page book was released to 500 travel industry professionals this week at the Texas Travel Summit in San Antonio. Rita Clements, chairperson of the Texas Tourism Advisory Committee, received a special first-edition copy.

With more than 600 color pictures and descriptive text, the book is designed to inspire explorations of the great reaches of Texas. Keyed to grid codes of Texas' official highway travel map, the book's lavish details describe museums and historical sites, recreational opportunities at state and national parks, lakes and coastal beaches, and public tours of caverns and Texas wineries.

The book pictures bustling cities, eerie ghost towns, desert dunes, soaring mountains, and moss-draped wildlife sanctuaries in every corner of the state. Special bonus sections deal with Texas flowers, birds, climate, and fresh- and saltwater fishing. Travelers will also find tidbits about Texas history and folklore, little-known Texas facts, and travel into Mexico.

The new Texas State Travel Guide joins a family of travel-planning literature produced by the highway department. Free individual copies can be picked up at any of the state's 12 Texas Tourist Bureaus, or by writing Texas State Travel Guide, Box 5064, Austin 78763.

ONB honors Phillips' service with plaque

Hillery M. Phillips was honored last week with the surprise presentation of a plaque commemorating his years as a director at Ozona National Bank. Phillips became a director in 1952 and was named honorary director in 1987.

Making the presentation was ONB president Don Long. The walnut plaque with a sterling silver ONB coin at the top was inscribed to Phillips in appreciation for his years of service.

Others attending were Pleas L. Childress II, Hillery Phillips Jr., Benny Gail and John Hunnicutt.

Hillery Phillips is a member of First Baptist Church of Ozona, a 32nd Degree Mason and Shriner. He received his 50 year Masonic membership award in 1974 and recently was the recipient of a 50 year pin as a Shriner.

The son of pioneer ranchers Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Byrd Phillips, he grew up on a Crockett County ranch. After attending West Texas Military Academy in San Antonio and Texas A&M, Phillips began ranching in Crockett and Sutton counties in 1926. The following year he married Charlotte B. Rawls of Sterling City. They reared two children, Hillery Jr. and Benny Gail, both Ozona residents today.

Phillips remained active in ranching until recent years.

New pipeline permits granted

AUSTIN, Sept. 28-Railroad Commission of Texas announced 14 new permits to operate pipelines in Texas. Two permits were granted for Crockett County.

In July, the Commission had approved 33 permits.

Nine of the new permits were for gathering pipelines, three were for trunk transmission lines, one was for a distribution line, and one was for a gas plant line. Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while trunk lines are larger diameter lines into which smaller lines connect. At gas plants, natural gas is stripped of the liquid hydrocarbons usually present in gas as it is produced from a well.

Railroad Commission Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent said in August, three operating permits were approved for pipelines in the San Antonio area (District 1), two in the Refugio area (District 2), one in Southeast Texas (District 3), one in East Central Texas (District 5), three in East Texas (District 6), two in the San Angelo area (District 7C), one in the Lubbock area (District 8A), and one located offshore.

Gathering lines permits approved: Cambridge Oil Company, Houston, gas, Goliad County; Commercial Gas Corp., Euless, gas, Crockett County; Ernest Operating Company, Rockdale, gas, two lines-both in Milam County; Hadson Gas Systems, Inc., Oklahoma City, Okla., gas, Upshur County; Walter Oil & Gas Corp., Houston, crude/gas, offshore; Victoria Gas Corp., Dallas, gas Jackson County; Dimco Gas Transmission Company, Inc., San Antonio, gas, Dimmitt County; Entex, a Division of Arkla, Inc., Houston, gas, Harrison County.

Trunk transmission lines approved: Amalgamated Pipeline Company, Houston, gas, Harrison County; Exxon Corp., Midland, carbon dioxide, Yoakum County; Detrowan, Inc., Dallas, gas, Navarro County.

Distribution lines approved: Cowboy Pipeline Company, Houston, gas Harris County.

Gas plant lines approved: Citation Oil & Gas Corp., S. Atrium Houston, gas, Crockett County.

Companion program aimed at senior citizens

The Concho Valley Council of Governments is sponsoring a new program within the 13 counties of the Concho Valley called the Senior Companion Program.

The program is funded by ACTION, the national volunteer agency, and serves a dual purpose. It creates part-time stipended volunteer community service opportunities for low-income persons aged 60 and over. The program also provided person-to-person services to assist adults who are confined to their homes - especially the homebound frail elderly.

Kathy Park, director of the Senior Companion Program, is recruiting senior citizens to serve as senior companions to their peers who are homebound.

Companions can volunteer for up to four hours per day, five days per week for a total of 20 hours a week. For that 20 hours, the senior companion receives a stipend of $2.20 per hour ($44.00 per week).

This stipend belongs to the companion and can be used for whatever he or she wants. The great thing about receiving the $2.20 stipend is that it does not in any way affect any other benefits the senior companion receives. What that means is that if the senior companion gets a Social Security check, the stipend is not counted against the Social Security.

The stipend cannot be considered as income; therefore, it does not affect or change a companion's income level when it comes to low-income housing, amount of other benefits, etc. The stipend is allowed and approved under the Domestic Volunteer Act of 1973, passed by the Federal government.

To become a volunteer with the Senior Companion Program, a person must be at least 60 years of age, at an income level not exceeding guidelines set up for the program, and a caring person who wants something to do and likes helping others.

A senior companion visits homebound adults aged 21 or over who suffer from some kind of sickness, disability, or must be confined to their home; provides light house-keeping, companionship, meal preparation when necessary, helps with persons whose illness or age limits their movements; gives friendship to those who need it, especially those who are elderly, depressed or ill.

When becoming a senior companion, volunteers are required to attend an initial orientation workshop, then to attend a regular in-service training meeting each month. In addition, they participate in fun-type fundraising activities, special field trips, special recognition luncheons and group get-togethers.

Anyone interested in the Senior Companion Program should write to the Concho Valley Council of Governments, P. O. Box 60050, San Angelo, Texas 76906 or call (915) 944-9666.

Serious crimes slow increase

AUSTIN--The number of serious crimes reported in Texas during the first half of 1988 showed a slower rate of increase than experienced during the first six months of 1987, statistics compiled by the Department of Public Safety indicate.

From January 1 through June 30 of this year, a total of 635,894 major crimes--including murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, theft and motor vehicle theft--were reported in the state, compared with 627,433 crimes reported in the first half of 1987. That amounts to an increase of 1.3 percent.

"We never like to see any increase in crime in Texas, but a 1.3 percent increase is certainly better than the 6.3 percent increase reported for the first six months of 1987," DPS Director Col. Joe Milner said.

The crime rate, which is the number of crimes reported per 100,000 population, increased even less--only by 0.7 percent, Milner noted. During the first half of 1987, the crime rate jumped 4.4 percent.

No category of crime declined during the 1988 six-month period, however. Violent crime increased overall by 4.9 percent. Murder was up 1 percent, rape was up 8.4 percent, robbery 1.7 percent and aggravated assault, 6.6 percent.

The picture was much better in the property crime category, which increased overall by only 1 percent. Burglary, a perennial law enforcement problem, showed the smallest increase of all, only a half-percent. Theft was up 1.3 percent and motor vehicle theft was up by 1 percent.

"Another bright spot in the crime statistics is that the clearance rate, the number of cases solved by arrest or other means, has held steady at 20 percent," Milner said. "In murder and in motor vehicle theft, the clearance rate increased, from 73 to 75 percent for murder and from 16 to 17 percent for motor vehicle theft."

Though the clearance rate for the seven major crime categories combined remained the same, the total number of arrests made in Texas decreased by 3.4 percent compared to the first half of 1987. Arrests for driving while intoxicated were down 14.2 percent while drug offense arrests were down 1 percent, Milner said.

"On a particularly sad note," the DPS director continued, "law enforcement in Texas was not without a high price during the first half of the year. Five Texas peace officers were killed in the line of duty by criminal action and three others died in duty-related accidents, compared with only three officers killed and two fatally injured in accidents in the first six months of 1987."

All occasion wreaths were started in Monday morning's craft class. Residents were surprised to see what they could do with a Phillips screwdriver, squares of material and a straw wreath. These wreaths can be purchased at the upcoming Arts and Crafts Guild Fair at the 4-H Barn, Nov. 5 and 6. Residents giving the material a new twist were: Juana Hernandez, Consuelo Sarabia, Moriama Perez and Ethel Youngblood.

Juana Hernandez gave her grandchildren, Priscilla and Johnny Tambunga, a lesson in basketball Monday afternoon. They soon found out it was harder to sink baskets than Juana made it look. Other residents trying their luck were: Lucy May Meinecke, Lucia Rios, Nellie Harp, Edna Wallace, Louise Johnigan, Consuelo Sarabia, Moriama Perez and Elzy Bishop.

Tuesday morning's cheerful volunteers were: Georgia Kirby, Sophie Kyle and Mattie Cooper. Thank you, ladies. Prize winners included Juana Hernandez, Edna Wallace, Elvira Pena, Emma Taylor, Minnie Karr, Lucy May Meinecke and Consuelo Sarabia. Juana won the special game played for a miniature bird.

Tuesday afternoon was set aside for sewing and crocheting. Some of the residents took advantage of it while others relaxed in front of the television.

Performers sharing their talents with us Tuesday evening were: Jamie Knox, Bob Bell, Jim and Janet Wilson, George Hester, Bill and Dian Teague and Bill Dane. We would like to thank the members of the Bob Bell Band for the fine entertainment. The music was great.

Ruthie Doris and Ruth Hester kept Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop running smoothly. We appreciate their help. Residents attending were: Theo Burns, Juana Hernandez, Hazel McDaniel, Moriama Perez, Consuelo Sarabia and Ethel Youngblood.

Residents gathered on the front porch to listen to the local newspaper being read or just to enjoy the fresh air and sunshine Wednesday afternoon.

Residents were happy to see beauty shop volunteers Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Lola Rios, Audrey Smith, Bobbie Light, Tasha Nowell, Yolanda Avila and Martha Tijerina Thursday morning. Vivian gave us a special treat by modeling the latest in mink jackets and lamb coats. Both were just beautiful. (Some people are so lucky).

The mid-week Bible study was conducted by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church. We would like to thank Jim and the many visitors for sharing this time with us.

Mass was held during Thursday afternoon's Spanish Hour of Praise. Rev. Bill Du Buisson conducted the ceremony. A large number of visitors were present. We would like to thank the membership of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church for the spiritual uplifting.

Popcorn was served by Yolanda Avila and Mattie Cooper during Friday morning's bingo. Minnie Karr was the big time winner. She won three games. Other prize winners were: Tomasa Ramos, Elvira Pena, Moriama Perez, Lucy May Meinecke and Consuelo Sarabia.

It's a Small World featuring Hawaii took place Friday afternoon. Table decorations including a gorgeous pineapple, cheese and fruit centerpiece was donated by Jan Lott. We would like to thank Jan for creating the center of attraction. Residents got a good laugh while watching me do a hula dance. The costume, including a grass skirt, was compliments of Jo Davidson. Refreshments were served by Joann Williamson, Beverly Preddy and Angie Marshall. Thank you, ladies, for all your help. The activity wouldn't have been a success without you. One of the souvenirs was a monkey carved out of a coconut.

Sunday's worship service was presented by the Ozona United Methodist Church. Communion was offered, and a short visitation followed the services. We would like to say thank you to the many visitors who attended.

Carl Malone celebrates 84th

Family and friends of Carl Malone gathered at the Pandale Community Center Building and Grounds to help him celebrate his 84th birthday on Saturday, September 24th.

Friends and relatives began gathering about 5:00 p.m. and a barbeque supper was served around 6:30 after which a decorated birthday cake with bluebonnets and cactus were served as Carl cut the first slice. Music and entertainment was furnished by Jim Wilson, Jess Malone, Sandy Stokes, and Sonny Malone with singers joining in.

Children played games and old folks had plenty of visiting to do. Carl Malone was born in Crockett County on September 25, 1904, the second son of J. B. and Sara Malone. Carl moved to the ranch north west of Pandale when he was four years old and has lived there ever since. He attended school in Sanderson and married Laura Cain in 1929. Three children were born, Carl Jr. (Sonny), Zelma Lou Malone Braselton, (Baby Lou) and David Earl (Tooter). Carl Jr. lives on the ranch at Pandale with his wife, Barbara. Zelma is married

Jealous Or Zealous?

By Rev. Ken Harrison
Ozona United Methodist Church

In the Bible jealousy appears in two different ways. In the Old Testament it appears often as an attribute of God, in the sense of His desiring to maintain a unique and pure relationship between Himself and Israel. The almost fanatical zeal (zealous and jealous have the same root meaning) for the Lord displayed by some of His adherents is sometimes described as divine or godly jealousy. It really means zeal.

But there is another kind of jealousy which is far from divine or godly. This is what we might call selfish jealousy, and the Bible relates many tragedies resulting from it. Jealousy caused the fall of Satan; turned angels into demons; made a murderer out of Cain; threw a javelin at David; sought to hang Mordecai on the gallows; threw Daniel into the lion's den, and three Hebrew children into the fiery furnace; destroyed nations; dethroned kings; persecuted and killed the prophets; caused Herod to slay thousands of children; it put the thorny crown on Jesus' head and nailed him to the cross. "Jealousy," says the Song of Solomon, "is cruel as the grave".

Although jealousy is one of the deadliest of sins, it is one to which no one readily confesses. Nonetheless, it is a terrible fact with which we must deal. It is an affliction that affects all of us most seriously. Even in Bible times it was so vital a matter that it was made the third story in the Old Testament: Cain's jealousy of his brother Abel.

The green-eyed monster enters our lives early, born in such boasting remarks as, "My dad can whip your dad!"; and fostered by parents who say, "Why can't you do as well as your sister?". It continues through life, evident in sibling rivalry, or an employee's envy for the privileges of the boss, or the shy and lonely person's bitterness at the popularity of peers, and on and on and on.

Aesop had a fable about two eagles. The one was jealous of the other because the other could soar higher and more beautifully than he could. So, one by one, he would pluck his strongest and sharpest feathers and shoot them as arrows, trying to wound or kill the other eagle. As you may imagine, his play was his own undoing. He failed to hit the high soaring eagle, and gradually his own jealousy grounded him because he lacked enough feathers to fly. He had only hurt himself.

Sneering, sly, vicious, the face of Jealousy is never lovely. It is never even faintly pleasant. Its expression crosses our faces in a split second. Few of us are able to suppress a secret jealousy at someone else's good fortune, or even at someone else's good joke. If we confessed each day our jealousies of the day, we might be on our knees longer than for any other sin.

Although most other sins provide at least some form of gratification in their early stages, there is no gratification for jealousy, nothing it can ever enjoy. Its appetite never ceases, yet its only satisfaction is endless self-torment.

It was said of the brilliant scientist Nerzkin, that because of his inner life he was free of jealousy. Professional jealousy, it must be noted, is a common failing among scientists. A strong inner (spiritual) life is the antidote the Bible holds up as a means of combating base jealousy. One needs to be "strengthened with might by His (God's) Spirit in the inner man" (Ephesians 3:16), before victory over jealousy can be won. We must seek only the approval of God and refuse to live for the praise of people.

Governor proclaims Fire Prevention Week, October 9

Texas Governor Bill Clements has proclaimed Oct. 9-15, 1988, as Fire Prevention Week.

"Fire continues to be a major threat to all our citizens, particularly the young and the old," Governor Clements said.

Fires in Texas killed 822 people, injured more than 2,000 and destroyed in excess of $300 million in property during 1987, the governor noted.

"Much of this tragic loss could have been prevented," the governor said. "We have the knowledge and technology today to prevent much of the needless loss of lives and property in this state and we urge every Texas citizen to practice fire prevention every day in an effort to conserve our valuable Texas resources."

This year marks the 66th anniversary of National Fire Prevention Week. The week-long observance was first established in 1922 by President Warren Harding in memory of the so-called "Great Chicago Fire" of Oct. 9, 1871.

That conflagration killed 250 people and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of $168 million. People began thinking in terms of fire prevention in addition to fire fighting as a result of this fire.

FIRE PREVENTION GUIDELINES

The State Board of Insurance, State Fire Marshal's Office offers these guidelines for practicing fire prevention in the home.

- 1) Make sure that heating and cooking appliances are properly installed and used according to instructions.
- 2) Do not use gasoline or flammable liquids for cleaning in the home. Do not use them to start or freshen a fire for heating or cooking.
- 3) Provide proper ventilation for portable gas and oil heaters or fire places.
- 4) Do not smoke in bed.
- 5) Before going to bed, check upholstered furniture to ensure that smoking materials are not lodged in the furniture.
- 6) Dispose of smoking materials safely. Store them out-of-doors in a metal container and immerse them with water to make sure that they are completely out.
- 7) Keep matches and lighters away from small children.
- 8) Make sure that all electrical cords are safe. Electrical cords should not be placed under rugs, over hooks, in door openings or other traffic paths. Check cords routinely for wear. Do not puncture cords with tacks, nails or other sharp objects and do not use cords which appear to be cracked, pinched, punctured or otherwise damaged. Electric cords that are worn or damaged should be disconnected immediately disposed of.

•9) Use only the correct size fuses in fuse boxes.

•10) Keep basement, closets, attic and garage cleared of combustibles such as papers, cartons, old furniture, clothes or oil-soaked rags.

•11) Store gasoline and other flammable liquids in glass jugs, old bleach bottles or makeshift containers.

•12) Keep paint stored in closed metal containers and discard paint-laden brushes.

•13) Furnaces, stoves and stove pipes should be kept well away from combustible walls and ceilings. These appliances should be installed and maintained by qualified service people.

•14) Heating equipment should be checked yearly by a qualified service person.

•15) Do not overload electrical circuits with too many appliances.

•16) When adding electrical wiring or appliances, have a qualified electrician do the installation.

•17) Only special circuits should be used for heavy-duty appliances such as air conditioners.

•18) Use only appliances that carry the seal of a nationally recognized testing laboratory.

•19) Plan ahead.

a) Purchase a smoke detector with a nationally recognized testing laboratory label and install one or more at least outside the sleeping areas of your home. Check your detectors every week to make sure that they work properly. Clean the detectors according to manufacturers instructions. If detectors are battery powered, put in new batteries at least yearly.

b) Determine at least two means of escape from each bedroom. One will be the normal exit from the house or apartment. The other can be a window or a second door between bedrooms. Consider installing an escape ladder from windows.

c) Draw a floor plan to indicate the location of doors, windows, stairs and roof tops that can be used for escape. Always keep escape routes free from obstructions.

d) Agree on a warning device to be used when a fire is discovered. Set a meeting place outdoors for a head count of occupants.

e) Practice escape procedures:
--Sleep with your bedroom door closed. It could increase escape time.
--If you suspect fire, test the door. If it is hot, do not open it because the area on the other side of the door is too hot to enter safely.

--If you think it is safe, brace your shoulder against the door and open it cautiously. Be ready to slam the door if heat or smoke rush in.

--Practice escaping and meeting outdoors at an assigned spot.

--In case of fire, call the fire department from a neighbor's phone.

American lamb scores Fall hit

Think of fall and immediately football, cooler weather and heartier foods come to mind. If post-game time finds you with a crowd to feed, or just the usual bunch, the American Lamb Council's Open-Faced Italian Lamb Sandwich will score the winning touchdown.

Ground fresh American lamb and chopped onions are quickly browned and then combined with mushrooms and prepared pizza sauce. The tasty mixture is spread on toasted Italian bread, topped with mozzarella cheese and popped under the broiler just until the cheese melts. The delicious aroma will bring your team running to the table.

Another way of turning convenience foods into a creative success this fall is by the ingenious use of applesauce, sauerkraut, caraway and delicious fresh American lamb shoulder blade chops in German Style Lamb Chops.

Definitely a winning combination. Fresh American lamb is available year-round in a variety of cuts. It is lean, tender and low in calories, with the average 3-ounce serving containing only 176 calories. And, lamb has nutrients galore as it is an excellent source of protein, iron, zinc, niacin and B-vitamins. A great food to keep your team healthy.

For good food in a flash, treat your bunch to Open-Faced Italian Sandwiches or German Style Lamb Chops.

OPEN-FACED ITALIAN LAMB SANDWICH

- 1½ pounds ground lean lamb
- ½ cup chopped onions
- 1 jar (14 ounces) pizza sauce
- 1½ cups thinly sliced mushrooms
- 1 small loaf (12-ounce) Italian bread, cut horizontally and buttered
- 6 ounces mozzarella cheese strips, about 3½ x 1 x 1/8-inch

Cook ground lamb and onions in preheated large skillet over medium heat 9-10 minutes or until lamb is browned; drain. Stir in pizza sauce and mushrooms. Cook 5-6 minutes or until mushrooms are tender. Trim crusts, if necessary to keep bread level.

Broil 1-2 minutes or until lightly browned. Spread lamb mixture on both bread halves. Place cheese strips diagonally over lamb mixture. Broil 1½-2 minutes or until cheese melts. Cut each half into three pieces and serve immediately.

Makes six (3-ounce) servings-458 calories per serving.

GERMAN STYLE LAMB CHOPS

- 4 lamb shoulder blade chops, cut 1-inch thick (about 1-3/4 pounds)
- 2 cup chopped onions
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 can (14 ounces) sauerkraut with caraway, undrained; or
- 1 can (14 ounces) sauerkraut, undrained and ½ teaspoon caraway
- 1 jar (8 ounces) applesauce

Place chops on broiler rack 3-4 inches from heat source. Broil 11-12 minutes, or until desired doneness; turn once. In large skillet, cook onions in oil 4-5 minutes or until tender. Stir in flour, sauerkraut and applesauce.

Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat and simmer 3-5 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Place chops on platter and surround with sauerkraut mixture.

Makes four servings-287 calories per serving.

Ownership of Watson's Department Store changes hands with the passing of the keys from Bill Watson to Calvin and Lucy Humphrey.

Watson's Department Store sells

Just a week short of 26 years in business, Bill and Julie Watson sold their Ozona department store Oct. 1 to Lucy and Calvin Humphrey. Although papers were signed and keys changed hands Saturday morning, the business will still be called Watson's. "They've decided to keep the name," Bill said when announcing the sale.

Watson's opened on Oct. 8, 1962, one month after Bill came to Ozona to scout out the business climate. That same September afternoon he leased a building on the square from Stephen Perner, which is still owned by members of Lucy's family today.

Always civic minded, Bill has served as president of Ozona Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club, helped with the youth rodeo, Scouts and Lion Booster Club. For several years he and R. B. Babbitt announced Lions games over KRCT radio.

Bill also worked with Mrs. Brownie Harvick to promote Texas wool and mohair.

In addition to operating a store which has clothed several generations of Ozonans, and his civic interests, Bill has helped his wife Julie in the rearing of their two daughters, Janell and Doreen, and led an active church life.

Doreen and her husband, Jason Turner, live in Iran with their children, Andrew and Emily.

The Watson's plan to leave Ozona for a home in Grand Prairie. There they will be near Janell and her family, husband Mark Ramsey, and sons Jacob and Zachery of Arlington. Not yet ready to retire, both expect to work once they become settled in their new environment.

Bill will remain in Ozona for six weeks to train Lucy and her sister, Luann Pierce, in the daily operation of the store and to accompany them through their first trip to market. Luann has accepted the position of manager at Watson's.

The Humphreys are excited about their purchase of Watson's. No immediate changes are planned for the store, Humphrey said.
