Commissioners court started 1989 with a new look Monday, barring everyone from the conference tables except court members and those addressing them. While the streamlined, down-to-business look was pleasant to the eye, the two microphones on the tables did little for the ears of the audience.

During a mid-morning break, Troy Williams, father of Judge Kathryn Mayfield, laughingly suggested a class action suit against the county for holding an illegal meeting because those not seated at the tables could hear little of the proceedings.

After several years of being privileged with a place at the court table, I found that my ears were much less than reliable, even from a front row seat. A quick round with Q-Tips and Baby Oil during the noon hour did little to remedy the situation, but a trusty tape recorder helped out during the afternoon session.

The only trouble with a tape recorder is that you have to listen to it. And the listening takes almost as long (or in some cases, longer) than the original happening.

Let's see, now...court attendance for 6½ hours, tape recorder listening time, writing time...if the other folks at The Stockman had depended on me this week, the paper would have had only one page with one story.

Department heads give reports Court considers full agenda

OFFICE SPACE

County Attorney Orlando DeHoyos repeated his request to occupy space previously used by that office during a two-hour stint Monday afternoon at commissioners' court. DeHoyos first appeared before the court in December to challenge use of the office by county Extension agents Billy Reagor and Tedra Ulmer.

Protesting their move into the quarters based on an informal okay by Commissioner Janet Hill and Judge Kathryn Mayfield, DeHoyos told court members they were "condoning an unauthorized act" and "creating a coverup" of the act by allowing the situation to stand.

The issue had been tabled in December due to the absence of Judge Mayfield.

An outline by Mayfield of a sequence of events beginning last summer and an explanation that such moves are often done by common consent of office holders was rejected by DeHoyos.

"...this is the way we've always done it, I'm frustrated with that," he said.

"The issue is, do you want Reagor or myself in that office?" DeHoyos earlier indicated his belief that the agent's move had racial overtones.

Commissioner Chuy Castro insisted that former sheriff Billy Mills, had told Reagor to go to commissioners' court for permission to move, not to the judge and some commissioners as understood by Mayfield.

According to statutes, the courthouse is under the jurisdiction of the Sheriff's Office and auxiliary buildings are under the jurisdiction of the commissioners' court.

A motion by Castro to ask that the office space be vacated died for lack of a second. Failing for the same reason was Commissioner Hill's motion to give the attorney the offices in the east corner of the annex.

Discussion as to whether or not to allow DeHoyos' private law practice to be operated from the courthouse eventually settled the office space issue.

Commissioners Castro, Sostenes DeHoyos and Jim House voted for allowing the practice from county offices based on a 1987 law. Commissioner Hill abstained.

House, Hill and Sostenes DeHoyos then voted to provide the county attorney with available offices in the east part of the annex. Castro voted against.

Commissioners agreed to "refurbish" the area with new carpet and discussed possible replacement of a partition in the large room.

A request for a full-time secretary for the county attorney at a starting salary of $14,400 annually was turned down by the court. The budgeted amount at beginning pay scale for a half-time secretary stood after a Castro motion for a full-time person at base salary failed when Hill and House abstained from voting.

DeHoyos maintained that a backlog of cases extending to 1982 would require a full-time secretary and that the suggested sharing of the Probation Office's part-time secretary (converting that to a full-time position) would be a conflict of interest.

The district attorney will also have a private secretary in the office for his law practice.

The court later voted unanimously to give DeHoyos the option of drawing the amount for a secretarial allowance as an alternative to accepting the position as part-time.

A request for a salary for a full-time investigator for the office was rejected with Hill and House voting that the salary not be approved, Castro voting for, and Commissioner DeHoyos abstaining.

The county attorney indicated he would possibly hire an investigator out of his own pocket. A private investigator for the office will have the power to issue warrants and make arrests, House said. The investigator would be answerable only to the attorney.

DETENTION CENTER

Financing a 350-man detention center would involve no out of pocket funds from the county, commissioners were told Monday.

John Neville, representing Crockett Detention Center, Inc., and John Grice, Texas representative of Diversified Municipal Systems of Lebanon, Indiana, presented a plan they say will "minimize exposure to the county with no exposure to taxpayers".

According to Grice, DMS could finance a center at the former radar bases east of Ozona under a lease/purchase agreement with Crockett County. The proposal included management of the facility by Crockett Detention Center, Inc. present owner of the property. The corporation would pay a lease fee to the county that the note requires, Grice said. The county could do its own management or lease to another company.

Involvement by Crockett County is necessary because under Senate Bill 251, a privately operated detention center must go through a local government agency.

Contract information furnished to commissioners provides that DMS couldn't take anything but the property or allocated funds of $55,000 a month for a note payment in case of default by the county.

Under an annual lease, DMS would have no access to the tax base.

Should the county decide at some point not to allocate funds "you can technically go in and out of the lease," Grice said.

Neville repeated a previous offer of a $1.00 per day per prisoner payment above the lease amount. He suggested that this estimated income of $110,000 be put back into the Sheriff's Department. According to law, all prisoners have to go through the local Sheriff's Office and ultimate responsibility for the center would lie there.

Annual economic impact in the county from the facility could be 10 million dollars, Neville said. Payroll for the center was estimated at $700,000.

Commissioners listened to reports from departments and heard three non-agenda items during a meeting which lasted until 5 p.m. Monday.

Civic Center board members have agreed to allow the Western Jamboree music group to continue using the facility free of charge if the event remains open to the public free of charge, Garland Young told commissioners.

The board also agreed that the event be open to local musicians and there is to be no preaching or collecting of money for any reason.

Clint Landon was appointed to a place on the Teen Council and new songs were chosen for the jukebox Young told the court.

Young advised the court that several more banquet tables are needed at the center.

Discussion of a hospital personnel policy allowing pay instead of vacation time was tabled during a report by Bill Boswell. Commissioners asked the hospital administrator to bring a copy of the entire personnel policy to their February meeting.

Court members approved the hospital board's choice of Gilbert X-Ray to move and install an x-ray machine to the hospital at a cost of $17,500. Western of San Angelo with Glenn Burns of Ozona was the approved bidder for site preparation.

A 13-month contract with Dr. Robert Owensby was approved by the board Thursday night and by the court Monday. The contract is more explicit on the doctor's duties and what he is paid for than a contract submitted in December, Boswell said.

Boswell's request for an oxygen concentrator for the care center was tabled by the court until more information could be attained.

Commissioners approved appointment of five new members to the Energas announces new manager

New Energas manager Edward C. "Connie" Farris comes to Ozona from Midland where he was service specialist for the company.

Farris began his job in Ozona Jan. 1. He will have completed 19 years with the company in February.

"Mr. Farris is very customer oriented," said district supervisor Gerald Nunley of Midland. "Farris is eager to be involved in this community and knows all there is to know about the service business," Nunley said.

Everyone is invited to stop by Energas and meet Mr. Farris and enjoy coffee and cookies Wednesday, Jan. 11, from 2 until 4 p.m.

Banquet date set C of C elects officers

Steve Williams was elected president of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce in a special board meeting held January 5, according to current president Dan Pullen. Williams, the manager in Ozona for West Texas Utilities, will begin his term along with the other newly elected officials on the day of the January 26 chamber banquet.

Serving as newly elected officers with Williams are first vice-president Betty Perry, second vice-president Don Long, third vice-president John L. Henderson, and secretary-treasurer Michael Preddy.

New directors are Randy Branch, Diane Myers, Jim Wilson, Jim Adams and Sandy Stokes. Returning directors are Jeffery Stuart, Ted Cotton, Jim House, Douglas Bean and Ronald Shaw.

"The chamber of commerce is looking forward to a good 1989 and welcomes all constructive suggestions for making Ozona a better place to live," said Pullen.

Livestock show this weekend 70 feeders to show animals

The 42nd Annual Crockett County 4-H Livestock Show and Sale will be held January 13-14, 1989 at the county show barn. Some 70 4-H members are busy getting their livestock ready for the show. There will be about 250 lambs, 43 commercial ewe lambs, 40 angora doe kids, 13 steers and two heifers.

The commercial ewe lamb program is a new division in this year's show. Exhibitors may feed three ewe lambs but only show a pair. These pairs of ewe lambs will be judged Friday afternoon in the wool (using Rambouillet score card-60% body and 40% wool) and scored from 1-100 points. Then they will be shorn Friday night and the pair of fleeces judged and scored from 1-100. Saturday morning the ewe lambs will be judged out of the wool and scored from 1-100. The points will be totaled from the three scores and the pair with the most points will win.

The class should prove to be very informative for the producers as well as the 4-H members.

The market lambs will be brought into the barn on Wednesday afternoon and they will be shorn on Thursday. All other livestock must be in the barn by 8:00 a.m. with the shorn pair of ewe lambs, followed by the regular market lamb show. A barbecue lunch will be served at noon by 4-H Parent and Leader Association for $4.00 per plate. This association will also have a concession stand on Friday and Saturday. The presentation of awards will be at 1:30 p.m. with the premium sale at 2:00 followed by a Chinese auction.

Dr. Frank Craddock, Extension Sheep and Goat Specialist from Uvalde, will judge the livestock and Dr. Rich Machen, Extension Livestock Specialist from Fort Stockton, will judge fleeces, showmanship and First Year Feeder Award.

ASCS reminds producers Incentive deadline coming

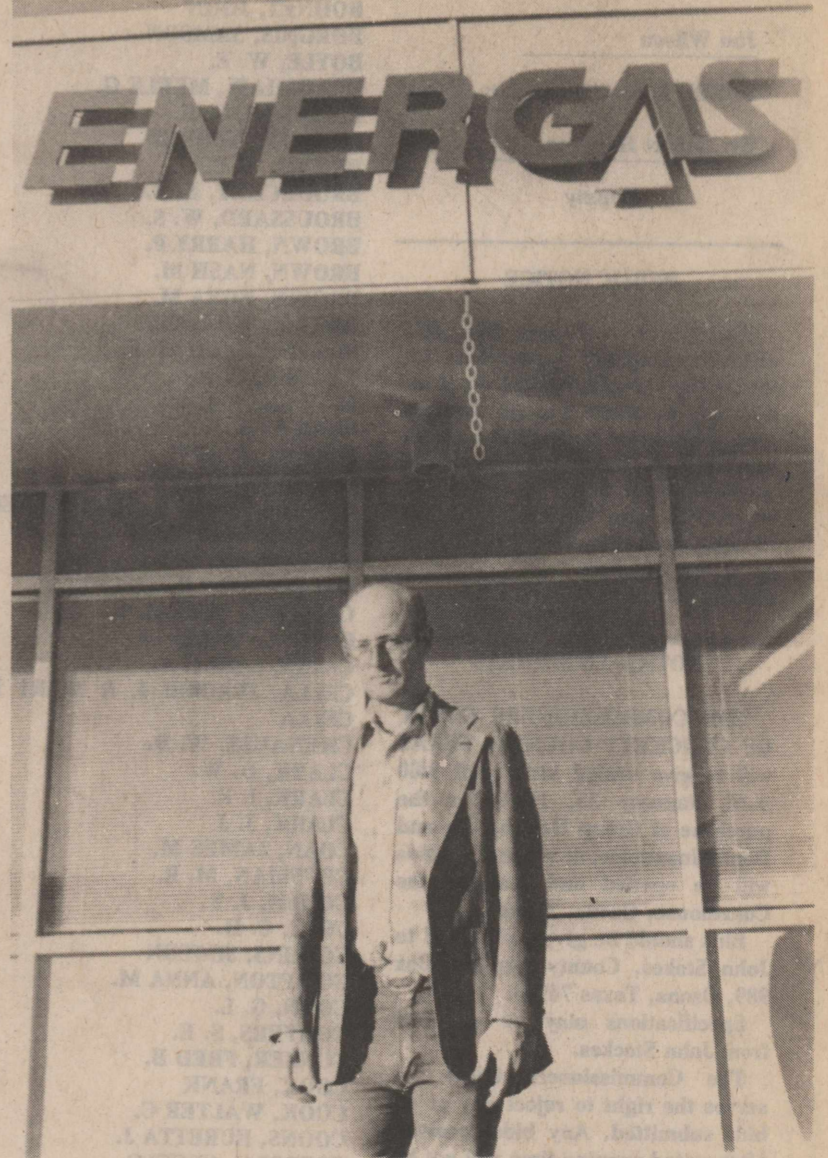

Producers are reminded that Jan. 31, 1989 is the final date to bring wool, mohair, and unshorn lamb receipts to the Crockett County ASCS Office. The following information will be needed to process incentive payments: Animal numbers, dates of shearing, all grading charges, unshorn lamb purchases, and freight charges. All receipts due Jan. 31, 1989; however, applications may still be signed in February.

Crockett County ASCS is currently having a sign up for cost-sharing conservation practices. The sign up will end January 20, 1989. If you are interested in the cost-share program, please come by the ASCS Office for further information or to sign up.

David Bean has been elected to a three year term on the ASCS County Committee. Mike Womack and Bill Forehand will serve as first and second alternate respectively. Your County Committee consists of David Bean, chairman, Bill Black, vice-chairman, and Dan Davidson, regular member.

"Thank you, agricultural producers, for taking part in the election process," said Herb Schwerter. "Congratulations to those selected to serve the Crockett County ASCS."

Connie Farris has assumed duties as Energas manager effective Jan. 1. The public is invited to stop by the office to meet Farris and enjoy coffee and cookies on Jan. 11 from 2 until 4 p.m.

Homemaker's Club to meet

"Dealing with Depression" is the topic for the January meeting of the Progressive Extension Homemakers' Club. The program will be presented by Bobby Todd, a caseworker and health professional from St. John's Mental Health Center in San Angelo.

According to County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer, depression is becoming recognized as a major health problem in the U.S., affecting people of all ages and backgrounds. "If you have questions about depression, or if you're trying to help a loved one who is depressed, you'll want to attend this program," said Ulmer.

The meeting is slated for tomorrow (Thursday, Jan. 12) at noon in the Civic Center's small meeting room. There is no charge to attend, and no obligation to join the club, according to Ulmer. "We want to urge men as well as women to join us for Thursday's program," she stated.

The meeting lasts until 1 p.m., and visitors are welcome to bring a sack lunch.

Library Artists of the Month, Ludy Vargus and Lupe Longoria pose with an array of their originally designed, handmade dolls. Also displayed are handcrafted pillows, quilted items and animals. Come by the Library this month and enjoy their creative handwork.

Craftswomen's work on display

Visitors to Crockett County Public Library will be delighted with an array of patchwork pillows, quilts, fop ear rabbits and lots of little black babies. The handiwork of Ludy Vargus and Lupe Longoria, library artists of the month, is creatively varied. Each doll or animal has a special touch that individualizes it. "All our work is done freehand," said Ludy. "We design them ourselves and use no pattern." These talented ladies consider their work a hobby, but do sell items at bazaars. That is if they manage to hang on to enough pieces to sell. Usually their friends and relatives buy the best ones as fast as they can make them. They also design each other a specially made birthday present each year. "We're very much alike," commented Ludy about Lupe and herself. "our homes are decorated with many of our works that enhance our style of country living."

Moisture would brighten outlook

"What much of the state needs most to get 1989 off to a great start is a good general rain." This statement was made by Roy G. Wheeler of Pleasanton, the immediate past president and currently a member of the board of the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas. He also is an auction market operator and a rancher in Atascosa and McMullen counties.

The practice would be a new facet of the livestock feed assistance program offered to drought-designated counties of Texas, according to N. E. Deweber, an emergency program specialist with the State ASCS Office in College Station.

buy the best ones as fast as they can make them. They also design each other a specially made birthday present each year. "We're very much alike," commented Ludy about Lupe and herself. "our homes are decorated with many of our works that enhance our style of country living."

Adequate water is a concern of many Texans, including homeowners, municipal leaders and producers. The continuing dry weather in many areas is causing concerns about aquifer recharge zones, lake and reservoir levels, soil profile moisture and survival of winter pastures.

With severe hay shortages in many areas of the state as a result of the continuing drought, many ranchers are asking their county ASCS Committees to request fuel cost-share assistance for burning thorns off cactus for their cattle.

"As we look back on national droughts and weather records, the drought of the 1950s was extremely severe for about 80 percent of the nation, including Texas. In fact, 1956, 1953 and 1971 all set new records for this part of the state," Pena said. He has been recording weather data for the official weather station at the TAMU Center at Uvalde for 10 years.

Wheeler, and many other cattlemen in areas that were largely skipped by moisture throughout 1988, worry that rains may be scant in early 1989 as well.

Drought conditions began in that area in August of 1987 and have not abated, according to Joe Pena, agricultural economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Uvalde.

"What we have going now--although affecting only about 38 percent of the nation--is of equal or greater severity than the droughts of the '30s and '50s. The unfortunate part is that much of the current drought is impacting a large part of Texas," Pena said.

Consumers also have concerns that some food prices will continue to climb in the months ahead if timely rains do not come. For the immediate present, some ranchers feel that a new kind of federal cost-share program is needed to get foundation herds through the winter because of hay shortages.

"In south and southwest Texas, we are completing 17 months of dry weather, which may set records as

That help may be forthcoming in an unusual manner for some. A number of county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) of the U.S. Department of Agriculture have notified producers that "they hope to be approved soon for cost-share payment on propane for pear-burning."

County ASCS offices requesting that assistance are located in central, south central and southwest Texas, all extremely drought-stressed areas.

Put recommendations into dietary practice

Hosts of health organizations are making recommendations for healthier eating, but getting people to implement the recommendations can be difficult.

"The challenge is putting guidelines into practice," says Charles DiSogra, Dr. P. H., cancer control epidemiologist, California Public Health Foundation. The bottom line of dietary guidelines, DiSogra says, is to have the greatest impact in reducing fat intake and increasing fiber and fruit intake.

The American Cancer Society stresses the importance of early cancer detection and cancer prevention. In addressing the latter, it has established these dietary guidelines:

- 1) Avoid obesity
2) Cut down on total fat intake
3) Eat more high fiber foods
4) Include foods rich in vitamins A and C in your daily diet
5) Include cruciferous vegetables (cauliflower, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, broccoli, turnips, and rutabagas) in your diet
6) Eat moderately of salt-cured, smoked and nitrite-cured foods
7) If you do drink, keep alcohol consumption moderate

To aid the consumer in implementing these guidelines the cancer society developed a collection of recipes that demonstrate how to cut down fat intake and increase consumption of high fiber foods, for example.

"In fact they may seem tough to do but they're not," DiSogra says. By following such dietary guidelines individuals can enjoy multiple benefits he says. By incorporating these guidelines into their lifestyle a person can not only reduce his cancer risk but he can also reduce his risk of heart disease.

DiSogra advocates selecting from a wide variety of foods--choosing more of some foods and less of others--to improve the diet and reduce cancer risk.

Among foods to choose more often are whole-grain products, fruits and vegetables, lowfat or skim dairy products, lower fat poultry, fish and meat. Foods to choose less often are bakery products such as quick breads, biscuits, croissants, pastries and cookies, nuts and seeds, fats and oils.

Becoming familiar with such guidelines and making changes in the way you select and/or prepare foods can lead to a healthier lifestyle with reduced disease risk.

"We can cut the incidence of colon cancer in half if individuals will follow a diet low in fat and high in fiber," DiSogra says.

Leaann Wisdom is home from the hospital after surgery. She is feeling fine now.

Dealing with depression

Give yourself a little rest. Are you often tired with no apparent reason? Do you either have trouble sleeping--or are you always sleepy? Having trouble concentrating? Feel guilty for no reason? Can't make up your mind? Don't care about anyone or anything? Feel anxious and irritable? Concerned about dying or tempted to try suicide as the only way out?

a problem? Being flexible and searching for solutions while moving ahead can be a positive experience that can help.

If you have five or more of these symptoms, in varying degrees, you may be suffering from depression.

Withdrawal--such as excessive sleeping--is a tempting but temporary solution to depression. However, it may be better to take an active approach to solving the problems which cause the depression--through activities either related to the problem or sometimes unrelated.

What? Me? Yes, anyone can be depressed, whether there's an obvious reason or not.

Finally, a depressed person often feels "out of control," as though they had no control over either their own life or the consequences of their actions. It's important to remember that we have as much control over our own minds and actions as we want to have--our attitude is the key to that control.

For example, you would expect a person who'd recently lost a loved one or lost his or her job to be depressed. But what about the person who seemingly "has it all" with no apparent problems? They, too, can experience depression.

If we're constantly thinking negatively or anticipating the worst outcome, we're tempted to give up--thereby causing the very outcome we feared most, and creating the conditions we wanted to avoid.

What causes depression? Basically, there's a combination of a susceptible person with stress. Depression may be "normal", as in the case of the person who has suffered a loss, or "abnormal" as the person who "has it all" might be experiencing.

To succeed--in life as well as in business--we must have a positive attitude. Refusing to give up in spite of obstacles others throw in our way, exercising inner strength and belief in oneself--will provide us with the drive necessary to persist in dealing with depression.

The person with "normal" depression will generally get over it, in time. It can even be thought of as part of the healing process--a sort of withdrawal from life to enable a person to get over a shock.

If you're interested in more information about depression and how to deal with it, join us tomorrow (Thursday) at noon at the Progressive Extension Homemakers meeting at the Civic Center. The information you take home might help you or someone you love.

However, the person with no apparent reason for depression may need some type of help. That kind of depression is characterized by intense sadness, an inability to find joy in life, feelings of hopelessness and a loss of interest in one's surroundings.

There's no obligation to join, and you're welcome to bring a sack lunch to enjoy while the program is being presented. We invite all employed women to attend--the meeting ends at 1 p.m. so you can get back to the office.

The key to the severity of the depression is in both the extent of involvement and the length of time the person is depressed. If a person stays depressed for more than a month, then professional help should be sought.

For more information on this or other Extension-sponsored programs contact the Crockett County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at 392-2721, or come by our office on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex.

One mistake people often make is to try using "antidepressants" such as alcohol and drugs--and instead of curing the problem, they make it worse.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Looking for hidden causes may be of more help. Does the problem relate to an aspect of life where there's frustration? Has the person been blocked in finding a solution to

Mills, Bourne exchange vows

Deborah Mills and Scott Bourne were united in marriage Saturday, December 10, 1988 at 7:00 p.m. in the Circle Bar Solarium. Rev. Jim Gray of the Ozona First Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mills of Ozona, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Hilda Bourne of Prentiss, Mississippi.

The altar was decorated with a bank of fern and red poinsettias flanked on each side with white tapered candelabra. Lighting the candles was Miss Staci Sessom of Abilene, cousin of the bride.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Stanley Flanagan, organist. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Flanagan and Ms. Marsha Clark sang a duet, "Take My Breath Away."

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was ushered to the altar by her father. As she approached the altar she presented her mother with a white rose. The bride's dress was a floor length Bianchi original design of shell pink Alencon lace over blush pink satin. It was fashioned with a boat neckline coming to a deep V in the back. The long sleeves had at the wrists petal satin cuffs and were closed with a row of tiny covered buttons. The dropped waistline was accented with a scalloped peplum and a semicircular cluster of satin petals at the side. The entire dress was accented with rosettes of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds, baby's breath and ivy cascading to the hemline. Her headdress was an arrangement of baby's breath.

For something old the bride wore a lavaliere belonging to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Ola Mills. Something new were pearl earrings, a gift from her parents. Something borrowed and blue was the traditional garter. For good luck she had a sixpence in her shoe.

Ms. Jackie Ginsberg of Dallas, aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her dress was a mauve crepe and satin chemise with dolman sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Dennis McPhail of Prentiss, Mississippi served his brother-in-law as best man. Mr. Stanley Flanagan of Ozona was usher.

The bride's mother wore an American Beauty silk two piece dress. Her corsage was a matching color of roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the solarium. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with ecru satin wedding bells and the bride's bouquet. Red punch, nuts and ecru mints topped with red rosebuds were served from silver appointments.

The bridegroom's table was laid with a white linen cloth centered with a chocolate horseshoe shaped cake topped with red roses and the matron of honor's bouquet. Coffee, nuts, and mints were also served from silver appointments.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Alma Wester of Coleman, Mrs. Gene Evans of Columbus, Mrs. W. H. Blackburn of Abilene, Ms. Marsha Clark of Ozona, Mrs. Steve Evans of Talpa, Ms. Jodie Sessom of Abilene, Mrs. Charlyne Griffith of San Angelo, and Mrs. Dennis McPhail of Prentiss, Mississippi. Rice bags were handed out by Miss Stormi Sessom of Abilene and Miss Lindsey Evans of Talpa.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Dallas, Brownwood, Coleman, Talpa, Abilene, Midland, Clyde, Columbus, San Angelo, Prentiss, Mississippi and Sacramento, California.

Following a wedding trip to Atlanta, Georgia, the couple will be at home in Oakvale, Mississippi.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Several projects suited for Valentine's Day were looked at during Monday morning's craft class. Coasters, wreaths and memo holders were among the projects discussed.

A game of target ball was played after a short wheelchair exercise routine, Monday afternoon. Residents limbering up and entering the competition were: Elzy Bishop, Nellie Harp, Edna Wallace, Virginia Hoover, Lucia Rios, Consuelo Sarabia, Moriana Perez, Juana Hernandez and Tomasa Ramos. Bulls-eye champion was Consuelo.

Various prizes ranging from necklaces to toothpaste were won in Tuesday morning's bingo. Prize winners were: Frances Davis, Srida Senne, Olive Berry, Moriana Perez, Minnie Karr, Santos Martinez and Elvira Pena. We were happy to have volunteer Sophie Kyle with us and would like to thank her for her assistance with the cards.

Residents took a stroll down memory lane Tuesday afternoon as they recalled their wedding day. Residents reminiscing were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Juana Hernandez, Frances Davis, Virginia Hoover, Srida Senne, Nellie Harp and Manuela Perez. Volunteers joining the discussion was Tina Holmsley.

A performance by the Bob Bell Band joyfully ended the day's activities. Band members present were: Jim and Janet Wilson, George Hester, Marsha and Mike Tomlinson, Bill Hartman and Mike, Dian and Joe Teague. We would like to thank the band for a fine evening of entertainment. The Cotton Eyed Joe was even demonstrated.

Volunteer Ruth Hester had her hands full in Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop giving helpful advice on the different techniques being used. Theo Burns was doing a dry brush, Hazel McDaniel a stain, while Juana Hernandez, Consuelo Sarabia, Frances Davis and Moriana Perez were busy glazing their pieces. Needless to say, Ruth was kept on the move. Thank you, Ruth. We appreciate your help.

Floy Clare Short, Theo Burns, Srida Senne, and Hazel McDaniel met for a rematch Wednesday afternoon. After completing several games, it still seems that each team is evenly matched in their dominoes skills.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were: Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Lola Rios, Jody Miller, Gerry Passon and Melinda Hokit. Thank you, ladies. You brightened our day.

The midweek Bible study was conducted by Jim Gray of First Baptist Church. David McCarley led residents and visitors in the singing of hymns. Maxine Brown played the piano. We would like to thank Jim, David and Maxine for sharing their time with us.

Mass was conducted during the Spanish Hour of Praise Thursday afternoon. Several visitors attended, and Spanish speaking residents enjoyed a much awaited visitation afterward.

Friday morning's bingo was lucky for residents Juana Hernandez, Alice Ross, Olive Berry, Lucia Rios, Theo Burns and Minnie Karr. We would like to thank volunteer Melinda Hokit for taking charge in my absence. She not only called bingo and assisted with the cards, she prepared and served popcorn.

Friday afternoon was set aside for sewing. Several of the ladies worked with their crocheting.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church.

hospital board. Fred Deaton, Beth Smith and Armando Arredondo will serve two-year terms with Oscar Tumlinson and Cynthia Flores to serve one year each. Joe Galvan remains on the board as a carry-over director.

The Justice Department recommends a board made up of one representative from each precinct and three at-large members for a proposed hospital district.

During a report by Road Supervisor Eddie Moore, court members voted to table purchase of a used water truck pending more cost information. A truck located as a possible replacement for the "almost obsolete" 1960 truck now in use is $8,000 to $10,000 above the amount budgeted for the purchase, Moore said.

Commissioners voted to allow application of a protective emulsion on portions of roads in precincts 3 and 4. Work has already been completed in precincts 1 and 2.

Moore was instructed to get written authorization from three court members when repairs exceeding $300 are needed between court meetings.

Janet Hill said that meals were served to 288 people by Helping Hands in December and commodities given to 101 families. Butter, flour and canned pork will be distributed Jan. 19.

Parks Supervisor Onecimo Ortiz was told that the court needed to look at the budget before acting on his repeat request for a new ¾-ton pickup.

An end of year report by Louise Ledoux, county librarian, revealed that 16,415 books were circulated in 1988 compared to 14,240 in 1987. The library now has 18,292 books with a goal of 20,000.

A new microfiche and a laminator received by the library will soon be available to the public, Mrs. Ledoux said.

Billy Reagor and Tedra Ulmer, Extension Service agents, also presented an end of year report. The local Texas Agricultural Extension Service is funded by federal, state and county government, Reagor said, explaining that the aim of the program is to educate people so they can help themselves.

Critical issues for the county as determined by 100 citizens in 1986 were found to be water quality and conservation, agricultural profitability, livestock enterprise diversification, parenting, health, economic development, 4-H leadership development and 4-H membership. Educational activities have been implemented to focus on these concerns, he said.

The Extension health fair served more than 550 persons this year. Youth programs and enrollments included: shooting sports 90, livestock feeders 75, foods and nutrition 66, judging 40, clothing 25 and field and stream 30.

Monthly the office averages 150 visits with requests for information, 200 telephone calls, 135 ranch and home visits and 40 other clientele visits.

Sheriff Jim Wilson advised the court that his department has moved into offices in the former jail apartment and that squad cars are being serviced at the county barn as per the court's request.

Wilson was authorized to advertise for bids for new radios for the department.

Fire Chief Dorris Haire told commissioners his department had made 219 calls last year with 402.55 man and equipment hours involved.

"I want to publicly thank all the employers who allow their people to work as volunteers," he said.

Juan Hernandez of Fort Stockton made an annual report for the Adult Probation Department. Hernandez supervises an area from Presidio to Sutton County. His region had 1076 cases at the end of December, Hernandez said.

After examining a health insurance bid submitted by Mark White for White and Zesch of San Angelo, commissioners voted to again advertise for health insurance bids to be opened Jan. 23 at 9 a.m. The new date will allow possible bidders additional time to accumulate information from several carriers.

Chlorine gas for swimming pools will not be available after 1990 because of the liability and danger, J. C. Schroeder told the court. Acting on his advice, the court voted to advertise for bids for bleach systems to purify both pools.

County holidays for 1989 were set as: Jan. 1, March 24, May 29, July 4, Sept. 4, Nov. 10, Nov. 23-24 and Dec. 25-26.

Van Miller asked the court to determine whether or not a road he has used for three years to reach property he owns in Ozona is public. The area in question on the northside of the Jack Wilkins property has been closed off by Wilkins as a private alleyway.

Miller was told that county records are being searched to see if the road has an express public dedication. The matter was tabled for two months to allow more research time for the Clerk's Office.

During a report by County Auditor Sandy Stokes, commissioners voted to renew the bonds of officials, bond new officials, new deputies Tommy Wooten and Bob Hartman, and Garland Young and Bill Boswell.

Stokes painted a gloomy picture for the group with his statement that "the budgetary process is working, but not generating enough money". The county began 1988 with 2.4 million dollars and ended with two million, "$400,000 in the hole", Stokes said.

In other business, the court: Voted to have Judge Mayfield notify the U. S. Department of Commerce on interest in county eligibility for financial assistance in economic development.

• Re-appointed Steve Kenley fire marshal.

• Drew names of former grand jury list members Mark Curry, Rosario Tambunga, Martha Sewell and Michael Vordick to serve on the salary grievance committee.

• Approved Totsy Hagelstein, Roberta Cooper, Brock and Camille Jones, Lucile and Alvin Harrell, Joe and Tina Moran, Joycelyn and Lee Graves, Don and Marcille Long and Felice Gutierrez as Historical Commission members.

• Approved advertisement for bids for county depository and for fuel bids.

No action was taken on selection of election judges, bonding all county employees or office space for Juvenile Probation officer Kathy Shurley. Shurley had requested use of the office vacated by Game Warden Rod Chalmers who has moved into the jail office area.

Constable Raymond Borrego asked the court for the office formerly used by Chalmers and suggested sharing the space with Shurley in view of the fact that his office work will be after 5 p.m.

Judge Mayfield suggested that the two discuss use of the office.

Mr. Calhoun of Calhoun Property Management spoke to the court about the possibility of rental assistance to help property owners and prospective renters. A voucher program for assisting with rent could be available through the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Calhoun said.

The program must be operated through a division of local government, and housing must pass inspection, he said.

No action was taken on the non-agenda item.

Other non-agenda items before the court included a mandate that underground gasoline storage tanks at the airport will soon require monitors, and testing at the Baggett Ranch north of Ozona for a possible site for a privately owned landfill.

Plan '89 with finance review

If it's January, it must be time for new year's resolutions. Lose weight. Balance the checkbook. Visit your mother. Plan your funeral.

Plan your funeral? According to family finance expert Nancy Granovsky, that's not a morbid resolution.

"Considering what would happen to your family if you or any other wage-earner should die suddenly should be a normal part of an annual review of the family's finances," she said.

Granovsky, a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University, said January is an ideal time to go through what she calls a "financial contingency day."

"The purpose is simply to review all aspects of your family finances, update needed information are helping you get records organized for tax purposes and having ready the financial information you'd need in case of a death, accident or major family crises."

The specialist suggested several items to consider on a financial contingency agenda:

• Write out a net worth statement. That means listing the value of all your assets, and listing all your debts. The difference between the two is your net worth.

• Plan your financial goals for the next year. Those could include such things as reducing your debt load, saving a certain amount in a college fund for the children, or financing a new car.

• Establish a household budget or revise last year's to reflect new financial goals and/or changes in the family's economic status. If one spouse is going back to work, going from part-time to full time employment or retiring, for example, it will have a great impact on income and expenses.

• Check with your lawyer to have a will drawn up or to see that existing wills are up-to-date. Review how assets and property will be handled in case of a death.

• Prepare or review a letter of last instruction. This letter informs survivors of financial matters needing immediate attention and also describes what funeral plans, if any, you have made.

• Re-calculate survivor's income and expenses in case of a death of a wage-earner. Make out a tentative budget for survivors and list all sources of income they can depend upon.

Granovsky said younger couples are often especially reluctant to go through this process, although they may need it most.

You've got to tell 'em before you can sell 'em, and a STOCKMAN classified tells 'em best.

1989 earnings base to increase

The annual earnings base--the maximum amount of earnings that counts for Social Security--will increase to $48,000 for 1989, up from $45,000, the 1988 base. Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo, said recently.

The increase is based on the change in average earnings levels from 1987 to 1988. The 1989 Social Security tax rate will be 7.51 percent, same as the rate for 1988.

Other Social Security figures are scheduled to increase in 1989 as well, Upp said. The annual exempt amount used in the annual earnings test will increase. The annual earnings test is the measure used to determine whether a person who works will receive benefits during the year.

The 1989 annual exempt for people 65 or over will be $8,880 up from the 1988 amount of $8,400. The 1989 exempt amount for people under 65 all of 1989 will be $6,480 up from the 1988 amount of $6,120.

A person whose earnings do not exceed the annual exempt amount will receive all benefits due for the year. A person's benefit is reduced $1 for each $2 of earnings above the exempt amount. The annual earnings test does not apply once a person reaches 70.

The amount of annual earnings needed to earn a quarter of coverage--the measure of Social Security work credit--will be $500 for 1989, up from $470 for 1988. In 1989, a worker will earn four quarters of coverage if his or her annual earnings are $2,000 or more.

More information about Social Security taxes and benefits can be obtained at the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. Free publications can be obtained there which give more information.

Heaven or Hell? Which will it be?

By Martin Sanchez of Church of God of Prophecy

Hebrews 9:27 says: And as is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the Judgement:

God does not want anyone to go to hell, so He sent His only begotten Son to die and pay the penalty for our sins. Romans 6:23. For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

God's love for us is so great that He made a way for our sins to be forgiven. He offers His forgiveness and salvation freely. You can have the gift of God, but like all gifts, is not yours until you receive it.

Here is how you may receive Christ. Romans 10:9 says: If thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. Call upon Him now.

Make this prayer your prayer. Dear God, please have mercy upon me because I know I'm a sinner. Please forgive me of all my sins. I know Jesus died on the cross for me, and I know that His blood that washes my sins away. I know He was buried and that God raised Him on the third day. Now will you please come live in my heart, and save my soul. Thank you for saving me. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Now promise Him with His help you will be true to Him the rest of your days.

WATCHIN' and WONDERIN' with Zeke Smith

Howdy! Boy it sure has turned off cold, ain't it? I been shakin' all over. Me and cold weather never have been on good relations.

Old Zeke sure has had a busy last month. Fact is, ain't even got to go to no high school basketball games, which I sure miss considering I love them kids and all so much. But in some ways it may be better I ain't been able to go. I sometimes tend to embarrass myself. You see, sometimes, I get upset and yell at those fellows wearin' those striped shirts. And I ought to outgrow that kind of behavior.

Somehow we accepted it as proper to yell at officials as if our price of admission entitled us to it. I don't cotton to that way of thinking. We paid to watch a game not make fools of ourselves. And yet I'll do it if I ain't careful just as sure as the wind.

And ever time I do, I'll look around and see some little boy or girl lookin' up at me. I got to wonderin' what kind of example I was settin for them kids.

So, this year I've decided that I'm gonna try harder to act more like an adult than I have in the past and remember that a game is a game. Anyways, most officials I know say that when somebody yells it tends to make 'em want to call against that fellow's team rather than for it. So I don't think it helps, much less being very becoming for me to act like that. I ain't got enough mind to give folks a piece of it anyway.

See you at the game.

Clean microwave for efficiency

Compared to cleaning a conventional oven, cleaning a microwave is easy - so easy that many people don't do it often enough.

According to a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist, infrequent cleaning can impair the efficiency of a microwave oven.

Big Bend to offer seminar programs

1989 promises to be an exciting year for educational opportunities in Big Bend National Park. Twenty-five instructors from across the Southwest and Texas will present a wide variety of seminar programs, making this the largest seminar program ever offered in the park during a six month period.

"BBNHA is making a special effort this year to offer programs that will be of interest both to the general public that is interested in learning more about the park, and to Texas teachers interested in earning credit for advanced academic training. We're working with the Texas Education Agency in Austin to make sure that as many seminars as possible meet standards for Texas teachers," said LoBello.

BBNHA personnel plan to send out nearly 10,000 seminar catalogs during the next two months. Free catalogs can also be obtained by writing Seminar Coordinator, P.O. Box 68, Department F, Big Bend National Park, Texas 79834 or by calling (915) 477-2236.

Featured instructors for 1989 include three members of the Big Bend Natural History Association Board of Directors. Dr. Frank Daugherty of Alpine, Texas will lead a two day seminar on the geology of Mariscal Mountain which will also include a float trip through Mariscal Canyon. Dr. Charles Kelley of Ft. Davis, Texas will lead two day seminars on the archaeology of the Trans-Pecos and the archaeology of the Southwestern United States and Northwestern Mexico with an introduction to archaeoastronomy. Dr. Barton Warnock of Alpine will lead two seminars on the park's wildflowers.

"Microwaves are absorbed by food, whether that food is on the walls of the oven or in a dish," says Dr. Susan Quiring. "So a build-up of food particles on the oven surfaces can slow the cooking process."

She says that food soils around the door or the frame may also interfere with the door seal or even prevent the oven from starting properly.

Ideally, the microwave should be cleaned after each use with a paper towel or sponge dipped in a mild detergent and warm water solution, Quiring says.

To remove foods that have cooked onto the oven surfaces, the home economist suggests boiling a cup of water in a bowl for several minutes. The steam will condense on the oven surfaces and make the food easier to wipe away.

Food soil build-up, cooking strong flavored foods, repeated overcooking and smoke from overcooked potatoes, bacon or popcorn can cause odors in a microwave oven, she adds.

After thoroughly cleaning the oven, remove the odors by boiling a solution of 1/2 cup lemon juice and one cup water in a bowl for several minutes, Quiring says. Then let the solution stand in the oven for 5-6 minutes.

Cubs win, lose to McCamey

The 7th grade boys lost to McCamey while the 8th won Thursday, Jan. 5, in McCamey.

The 8th grade Cubs started the first quarter on top 18-12 and kept it that way. After the first half, they had extended to a commanding 35-18 lead and cruised to a 41-28 victory.

Joe Mendoza led Cub scorers with 14 points.

The 7th grade Cubs lost to McCamey 16-25. Gerald Ortiz had eight points.

"We had every chance to win," Coach Keith Shoush said. "We had a hard time finding the basket and shot poorly at the free throw line."

The Cubs next game comes this Monday when they travel to Reagan County for games there beginning at 5:00 p.m.

Cubettes fall to McCamey

The 7th and 8th grade Cubettes lost before a home crowd to McCamey Thursday, Jan. 5.

The 7th grade girls lost by 19 points. Behind 12 points at the end of the first half, Ozona only scored six points in the following half while their opponent put nine on the board. McCamey eventually won 29-10.

"This group has learned a lot since Christmas," Coach Robyn Payne said. "They executed what they had learned well."

"We got the good shots but it wasn't our night to score. I am proud of their excellent effort and hustle."

Maribel Dela Garza scored six points.

The 8th grade Cubettes also fell behind at the beginning. Down 11-6 in the first half, Ozona rallied in the third quarter and closed the gap to 12-13. However, McCamey kept that margin, winning 19-18.

"We started off too timid and played for three quarters before we got aggressive," Coach Payne said. "By that time it was too late."

Leading scorer Myra Sanchez had 12 points.

The Cubettes next host Reagan County here with games beginning at 5:00 p.m.

8th graders successful at Iraan

The 8th grade Cubs and Cubettes traveled to Iraan over the weekend to participate in the tournament held there. The girls nailed top honors, winning the championship while the boys rebounded from a first-round loss to claim consolation.

The Cubettes played Eldorado's "B" team first. Holding their opponent scoreless until the third quarter, Ozona led 24-6 heading into the fourth quarter.

A dry final quarter only produced three Cubette points, but their earlier efforts insured a 27-10 victory.

Myra Sanchez and Belia Vasquez led scorers with 10 and six points respectively.

In the semi-finals, the Cubettes faced Iraan who Ozona had already faced previously with Iraan winning a close race, 29-26.

This time, the Cubettes came out blazing, grabbing an 8-2 first-quarter lead and holding that margin into halftime. In the third quarter, Iraan struggled back to within two. Ozona held out in the final quarter, winning 21-16.

"The difference was defense," Coach Brenda Pool said. "Our girls held their top scorer to only four points this game."

Top Ozona scorers included Sanchez with 11 points and Michelle Gonzales with seven.

The Cubettes played for the championship against Big Lake in an "exciting and close game."

Behind by eight at halftime, Ozona rallied to steal the win 20-16. Sanchez scored 11 points.

The Cubs first game placed them against Grandfalls who jumped ahead by 10 points in the first quarter and led 20-12 at halftime.

Suffering a let-down in the third quarter, the Cubs rallied in the fourth but came up short, 36-41.

Joe Hernandez poured in 16 points as Joe Mendoza added 11.

The Cubs bounced back into action in their second game when they played Iraan. The lead changed from side to side until Iraan capitalized in the third quarter.

The difference arrived in the fourth quarter when Ozona outscored Iraan 15-5, giving the Cubs another win with a total score of 30-27.

Mendoza led Cub scorers with eight points.

Ozona barely won their third and final game of the tourney, beating Stanton 37-36. The victory gave the Cubs consolation.

Hernandez scored 10 points.

J.V. Lions hold off Broncos

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Copie Davis

The Ozona J.V. Lion basketball team rang in 1989 in classic style last week. In their first two games of the new year, the J.V. Lions downed Sonora 55-52 and Crane 55-29.

In the first game, the Lions overcame a slow start and a height disadvantage to take a three-point win over the Sonora Broncos.

Sonora jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter. By outscoring Ozona 14-12, they gave the impression it was going to be a long night for Lion fans. However, in the second period, the Lions cranked out 14 points while holding their opponent to only 11. At halftime intermission, Ozona had the lead, albeit a thin one, 26-25.

After the half, Sonora emerged from the dressing room the hotter of the two teams. Following a rehash of their strategy, the Broncos dropped in 15 points for the quarter while allowing their counterparts only 12, thereby regaining the lead by the largest margin of the game...two points, 40-38.

In the final quarter, Ozona finally turned on the nitrous. In the last eight minutes of the game, the Lions outscored Sonora by five points, 17-12.

When the clock hit 00:00, the Lions had survived a ferocious Sonora onslaught and won the game by three, 55-52.

Guard Danny DeHoyos led all Lion scorers as he pumped in 12 points. Behind him was Michael Ybarra with 10 and Lonnie Martinez and Ruben Borrego each with eight.

J.V. Lions pluck Cranes

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Copie Davis

Ozona's J.V. Lion basketball team is 2-0 for January and 1989 thanks to a win against Sonora Jan. 2, and then, on Jan. 6, a 55-29 humiliation of the Crane Golden Cranes.

The Lions wasted absolutely no time in getting on the board. In fact, in no time at all they had an extremely commanding lead. In the first quarter Ozona scored 16 points on the helpless Cranes while holding them to a measly total of four. With a 12-point lead, the Lions would never look back.

Although they were very much in command of the game throughout the entire contest, the Lions took a little breather in the second quarter and consequently, Crane chipped their lead down by a point, outscoring Ozona 10-9. Nevertheless, when the two teams took to the dressing room for the halftime intermission, Ozona led 25-14.

In the third quarter, it was obviously clear that some major motivation had occurred at the half on the part of Coach David Porter, because in that period, the Lions totally shut down the Cranes, allowing them only seven points while scoring 15 of their own.

Going into the fourth quarter, Ozona had commandeered a 19 point lead...and they weren't even through.

In the final period, the Lions put the stake through Crane's heart, reeling off 15 more points while holding the Golden Cranes to a tarnished sum of eight.

The final score was a sweet massacre for the lions, 55-29.

Lions bring home two wins, two hard fought losses

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

A rousing fourth-quarter rally spurred the Lions past Crane's Golden Cranes Tuesday, Jan. 3. However, the following Saturday, Crane claimed vengeance with a 51-48 victory in the Reagan County tourney consolation game.

The Lions opened the week with a thriller on their home turf. They and Crane stayed neck-and-neck as Ozona held a 23-22 lead at halftime.

The Golden Cranes took control in the third quarter, out-scoring the Lions 18-13 and leading by four going into the final quarter.

Fighting back, Ozona gained the lead with less than 30 seconds left. A turnover led to another Lion basket, sealing their eventual victory at 57-51.

"Our guys played with a lot of poise and intensity in the final quarter," Coach John Curry said. "Clutch free-throw shooting in that quarter made the difference."

The Lions hit 10 of 14 free throws in the fourth quarter and 19 of 34 in the game. Oscar Galindo and Chris Denman contributed 21 and 19 points respectively to Ozona's scoring.

On Thursday, Jan. 5, the Lions opened against Alpine in the Reagan County tournament. The first quarter went smoothly with Ozona down only two, but in the ensuing quarter Alpine turned on the steam.

"Alpine is probably the best team we've played all season," Coach Curry pointed out. "They easily won the tournament."

Although the two teams played evenly in the second half, the second quarter spurt from Alpine ensured their 66-55 win.

Galindo, Lalo Rodriguez and Chris Denman scored 18, 12 and 10 points respectively.

For their second game, the Lions faced Coahoma who grabbed the first quarter lead but soon faltered back into the dust.

The halftime score of 27-17 faded into 40-24 and game's end 51-39.

Galindo again led Lion scorers, tallying 22 points. George Ybarra added 11.

Ozona ended the week as they started it; playing against Crane. This time, the Golden Cranes held the reins, leading 16-9 at one point; however, the Lions stormed back to force a 21-22 score by intermission.

Crane returned the favor in the third quarter by extending their lead to 37-30 as the fourth quarter approached. There, the Lions faced a 10-point deficit with about three minutes remaining.

In that time, they picked away at Crane's lead, pulling to within two, but failed to move any closer before time ran out, losing 48-51.

Ybarra led Ozona scorers with 15 points as Galindo contributed 13 of his own.

Galindo made the All-Tournament Team while the entire team received the sportsmanship trophy.

By Friday, the Lions will already be one game into district competition and hosting Stanton for their second.

"It's going to be a pretty even district," Curry said. "I think Stanton and Eldorado can be picked as favorites with the other four teams having an equal opportunity to do something as well."

Games on Friday begin at 5:00 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 17, takes the Lions to McCamey; likewise, games begin at five.

J.V. Lions amass five in a row

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by Copie Davis

The Ozona J.V. Lions are on a definite roll. Starting with a win on Jan. 2 against Sonora and ending with last Saturday's defeat of Eldorado, the Lions have won five games in a row and brought home the Reagan County tournament championship trophy.

In the tournament opener against Stanton, the Lions waited until the last possible moment before coming to life and skinning the buffalos 61-55.

After opening the game with a 15-15 first quarter, Ozona edged to the front of the class with a 13 point second quarter as opposed to Stanton's 11 point output. At the half, the Lions held a shaky-and-getting-shakier two-point lead, 28-26.

Stanton returned to the floor with a vengeance after the intermission. The Buffalos reeled off 18 points on the offensive end of the floor while their imperturbable zone defense held Ozona to 13. With only one quarter of the game to play, Stanton had forged ahead by three, 44-41.

In the final quarter, someone set a fire under Ozona's feet and inspired them to take off. By running and gunning their way to 20 points and holding Stanton to only 11 in the last eight minutes, the Lions overcame their deficit and came away with a thrilling 61-55 victory in the opening round of the tournament.

This set up a second round showdown with New Year's Eve foe Coahoma. In this game, the Bulldogs never knew what hit 'em.

Ozona toyed with Coahoma for two quarters before finally blasting them out of the gym in the second half and coming away with a more than impressive 71-49 victory.

Ozona began the game in much the same manner as they had a week earlier against Crane. Hitting stride early, the Lions jumped out to a quick lead. At the end of the opening period, Ozona found themselves leading by a score of 22-16.

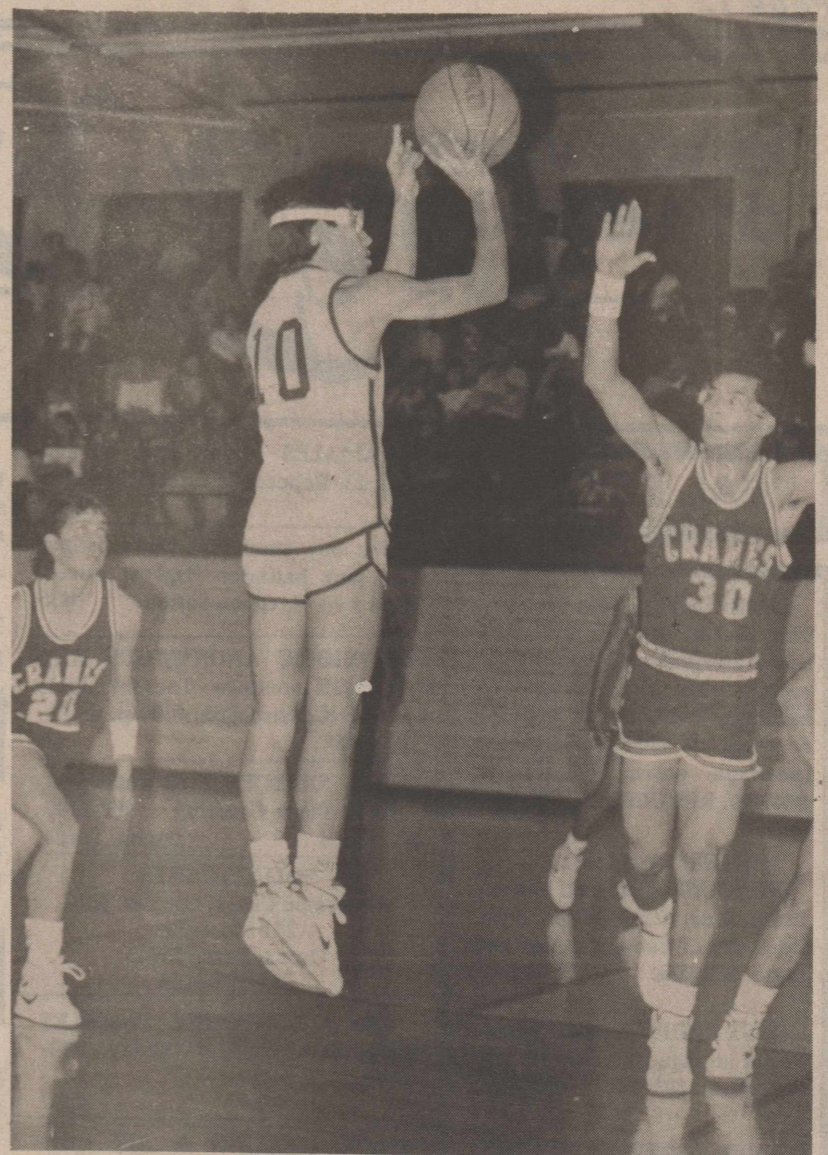

However, in the second quarter, the tempo of the game slowed, which gave Coahoma time to regroup and reload. The Bulldogs took advantage of this opportunity and outscored the Lions by two, 12-10. With momentum creeping back to the Coahoma side of the court, both teams entered the locker room at the intermission with Ozona on top 32-28.

After halftime, the Lions came back to the court seemingly with blood in their eyes. Their newfound determination caught the Bulldogs completely off-guard and when the quarter was over, left them behind.

Ozona scored 20 third quarter points while holding Coahoma to an embarrassing total of eight. This put the Lions virtually out of reach.

In the fourth quarter it was all academic as Coahoma struggled but could not overcome. The Lions outscored the 'dogs 19-13 in the final period, giving them a totally dominant 71-49 victory. This gave Ozona the opportunity to play for the championship against perennial rival Eldorado.

Lady Lions battle opponents

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Lady Lions began last week by suffering a sound defeat at the hands of Crane, Tuesday, Jan. 3, but the Ladies rallied by Friday, clawing at the heels of Coahoma's Bulldogettes before losing 49-40.

Crane took the wind from Ozona's sails in the opening minutes, keeping their opponent to minimum scoring while tallying 61 points of their own.

"We played real bad," Coach Frank Hughey said. "Crane played real well and both of these contributed to a blowout."

Down 36-11 at halftime, the Lady Lions could do nothing but struggle through the last two quarters, which ended with a score of 61-29.

Adriane Wilson scored 10 points for Ozona as Kriss Corley and Dottie Gonzales added eight and seven points respectively.

The Lady Lions faced another tough opponent last Friday, in the form of Coahoma, but the Ladies refused to let a repeat of Tuesday's incident occur.

The 10-6 first quarter score in Coahoma's favor paced the remainder of the game as sides traded buckets to a 23-19 halftime tally.

Going into the fourth quarter, the Bulldogettes maintained their four-point lead, 33-29. This continued until the game's final two minutes when the Lady Lions sent Coahoma to the free throw line in attempts to gain possession of the ball.

Their efforts failed and the game ended at 49-40.

"We lost the game at the free throw line," Coach Hughey noted. "We could have made a difference if we had capitalized at the line."

Ozona made two free throws in 11 attempts as Coahoma shot for 62% with 11 of 18.

Stacy Lay and Stacie Winkley led Lady Lion scorers with 14 and eight points respectively.
