Late hoop puts Lions over Marfa in bi-district

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Ozona took it to the wire in Friday's bi-district game, scoring the go-ahead basket in the fading seconds to beat the Marfa Short-horns and advance to area play.

"We were fortunate to win," Coach John Curry said. "In parts of the game we played well, and in others we were flat."

Marfa opened action by taking a slight lead and maintaining it into the second quarter where they expanded on it to a 10-point margin.

"We didn't play well in the second quarter until our run towards half-time," Curry said.

In a fiery rally, the Lions pulled within two, setting the pace for the third period when they captured the lead and headed into the final quarter at 45-41.

However, Marfa too, proved they could rally, outscoring Ozona 12-9 in the last eight minutes and possessing a 53-52 lead in the final minutes of the game.

The ball slipped through the Short-horns grasp, though, and the Lions took it to their end of the court with 17 seconds remaining.

"We passed it around a few times," Curry explained, "then Javier (Martinez) drove from the corner for a lay-up."

Despite being Martinez' only two points of the game, the bucket proved the clincher as Marfa, with four seconds remaining, failed in a last-ditch effort.

"We changed up our defense during the time-out and shook them up a little bit," Curry said. "When they threw the ball in, we laid a hand on it and sent it out of bounds as the buzzer sounded."

Providing a majority of scoring in the 54-53 victory were Chris Denman and George Ybarra with 18 and 14 points respectively.

If the Lions won Tuesday, Feb. 28, then they will play in the regional tournament in Big Spring this Friday and Saturday.

Ozona Varsity Lions claimed a bi-district trophy after defeating Marfa 54-53 in the final seconds of Friday night's game in Crane. Ozona will participate in area competition in Big Spring this weekend if they succeed in besting Bangs Tuesday night.

Detention center plan draws over 100 residents

Approximately 120 Crockett County citizens attended the Ozona Chamber of Commerce hosted town meeting Monday night to learn more about a proposal for a minimum security detention center east of Ozona.

Judge Kathryn Mayfield, Sheriff Jim Wilson and John Neville of Crockett Detention Center Inc. formed a panel moderated by Steve Williams, president of the chamber.

Judge Mayfield began the meeting by giving a synopsis of a plan presented to commissioners' court by CDC and a report of her findings during visits to detention centers at Pecos and Crystal City.

Sheriff Wilson discussed what his duties and responsibilities would be regarding screening prisoners.

CDC representative John Neville of Eastland talked about the need for prisoner housing in the state.

Location for the proposed detention center is the former radar base east of Ozona on I-10. A group bought 10 acres there in October of 1986, formed a corporation and sold 1,200,000 shares of stock.

Commissioners were approached that year with a plan for a 1.3 million dollar center which they rejected.

The current proposal provides that Crockett Detention Center Inc. sell the radar base property to Diversified Municipal Systems Inc. The property would then be lease/purchased by Crockett County. CDC would continue to be involved through a contract with the county to manage the facility. Management could be through another company of the county's choice or by the county itself.

Financing the project could be done through the sale of 6.2 million dollars in tax free certificates of participation. These would be issued and sold by Diversified Municipal Systems in multiples of $5,000. This would pay for the purchase of the property from CDC and for the renovation.

According to Neville, the money and underwriters are in place at this time.

Crockett County in turn would be buying the center on a lease purchase from DMS with payments of $58,700 per month for 20 years. CDC, as management company, would make monthly payments of $58,700 to Crockett County plus $1.00 per prisoner per day.

CDC would put half the annual payment in escrow, thereby limiting the county's obligation to appropriate by half.

Cost to CDC for the original 10 acre purchase was reported as $131,000 in 1986. Cost to DMS to buy the present property is reported at 1.5 million. Renovation is expected to cost 3.188 million.

Dan Pullen questioned a 1.2 million dollar profit for CDC and was told that $500,000 of that amount would be used for operating and $350,000 would go into escrow for CDC's payments.

Crockett County would allocate funding for the facility one year at a time, and supposedly be able to get out of its involvement any time it did not appropriate money, but CDC is asking a three year management contract with a two year extension.

The county could finance through a bond issue, thereby putting the question to a vote of the people. Through this method, the entire financial responsibility for the project would be the county's.

Sheriff Wilson brought out the basic issues in his opening statement.

1. Can the county government come up with a viable contract and program that will work and do what it is supposed to do.

2. Does our community want the facility and feel it will be beneficial to us.

The management company would carry liability insurance in an attempt to indemnify the county.

State regulations limit the maximum amount for a suit which can be brought against a county as $250,000 per bodily injury and $500,000 per occurrence.

Economic benefit to the area would come in the form of an estimated $700,000 - $800,000 payroll according to Neville. Thirty to 40 jailers would be hired, with as many as possible from here, based on qualifications.

A question about Crockett County's financial status and need for income was fielded to Sandy Stokes, county auditor. In two or three years, surplus funds will be used up, Stokes said.

CDC has approximately 28 private investors. Drake McKinney asked for information on shareholders owning 10 or more percent. "If we're going to partner with someone, let's know who we're going to partner with," McKinney said.

Privacy of Crockett Heights residents adjacent to the center, adequate sewage and water and the possibility of a decline in property values were concerns. Heights resident Jerry Scoggin talked about the burden to homeowners.

"I'd like for all to be able to gain, but some of us are going to suffer. I hope you'll look at our side. There're 27 homeowners out there, and we are a community."

Dale Burger, a CDC investor and 16-year Heights homeowner, said he would not object to living near the facility.

"I just ask the court to do what's best for the whole community," Burger said.

The proposal was discussed as a risk and as an opportunity with careful research and expert counsel urged.

"One thing let's do as a county, if we get involved in a project, let's know exactly what we're doing, where we're going and who we're dealing with," said McKinney.

In response to a question from Dan Pullen regarding CDC's net worth today, Neville replied that it is "probably 0 or a little above that."

"We need you, we got to have you, that's not any secret," Neville said.

John Neville, Sheriff Jim Wilson and Ozona Chamber of Commerce president Stephen Williams listen as Judge Kathryn Mayfield outlines the detention center proposal.

Local jail inspection O.K.

The Crockett County Sheriff's Office was awarded a certificate of compliance last week following the annual inspection from the Texas Commission on Jail Standards.

Inspecting the jail on Feb. 23 was Terry Julian, former judge of Nolan County. Mr. Julian spent the morning making an inspection of the facility and records with Chief Deputy Alton Davis and Chief Jailor Jimmy Gillit.

Following the inspection, Mr. Julian met with Sheriff Jim Wilson and County Judge Kathryn Mayfield.

Mr. Julian commended Crockett County for the manner in which the county jail is being run. He was particularly pleased with the way records are being kept, Judge Mayfield said.

Texas law requires that the Texas Commission on Jail Standards inspect each county jail in the state at least once a year. Jails must meet certain specific standards in order to be allowed to continue operation. Failure to meet state standards may force a county to change its jail procedure or, in some cases, build new facilities.

All-district team includes Stacy Lay

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Senior Stacy Lay received a nod for her efforts during the 88-89 basketball season in the form of being selected to the All-District Team.

Joining Lay in the spotlight were Dottie Gonzales and Adrienne Wilson who received honorable mentions.

Gonzales and Wilson also made the Academic Team along with Shannon Curry, Stacie Winkley and Tammy Arrott.

Lay proved Ozona's only All-District honoree as Reagan County had three named plus another team member selected as the most valuable player.

Stanton and Forsan filled three and two sports respectively while McCamey, Eldorado and Ozona followed with one each.

DALE BURGER - "If it's good for the community, this is what we need to look at."

DAN PULLEN - "What is CDC's net worth today?"

KITTY MONTGOMERY - "How will this help the economy of the county?"

DRAKE MCKINNEY - "This is the first meeting I've ever been to where I've agreed with both sides."

DENNIS CLARK - "It seems like you're using the word 'if' a lot."

Public Notices

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CONDUCT WEATHER MODIFICATION OPERATIONS IN THE STATE OF TEXAS

DATE OF THE FIRST THREE WEEKLY PUBLICATIONS OF THIS NOTICE:

February 27, 1989

1. Notice is hereby given that Atmospherics Incorporated, 5652 East Dayton Avenue, Fresno, California, 93727, has filed an application with the Texas Water Commission for a State permit to conduct weather modification operations to change or attempt to change the natural development of clouds for the purpose, objective, period, and by the method summarized herein below.

2. Atmospherics Incorporated submitted an application for a Texas Weather Modification License on February 27, 1989.

3. The purpose of the weather modification operation is to increase natural precipitation over the drainage area feeding surface reservoirs and tributaries which provide the municipal water supply for San Angelo, Texas. The period of the permit is from April 15th to October 15th in each of the two successive years 1989 and 1990.

4. The proposed weather modification operation is to be conducted for and on behalf of the City of San Angelo, P.O. Box 1751, San Angelo, Texas, 76902.

5. The proposed weather modification operation is to be carried out in both an "operational area" and a "target area" to cause the intended effects to occur only in the target area. This operational area of about 8,000 sq. miles is bounded by the following points.

Beginning at the southeast corner of Schleicher County due west to Ozona in Crockett County, thence northwest to a point three miles west of the southeast corner of Upton County, thence due north to a point three miles west of the northeast corner of Midland County, thence due east to the Colorado River at its intersection with the northern boundary of Coke County, thence southeast to a point three miles due south of the southeast corner of Coke County, thence due south to its intersection with Highway 67, thence due east to the northwest corner of Concho County, thence due south to the point of origin at the southeast corner of Schleicher County.

6. The area to be affected by the proposed weather modification operation is the target area. The target area is an area about 4,700 sq. miles with boundaries parallel to and 10 miles inside the boundaries of the operational area noted above.

7. The methods and materials to be used in conducting this operation are summarized herein:

A licensed meteorologist will select cumuliform clouds for cloud-seeding using a weather radar display, standard meteorological analyses, forecast techniques, observations, and pilot reports to direct an aircraft equipped to dispense the seeding particles, silver iodide crystals, into the updraft air near cloud base or while flying at an altitude where the ambient air temperature is in the range of -10°C to -12°C.

8. Persons interested in knowing more about the technical aspects of the proposed operation should contact the applicant or the Weather and Climate Specialist of the Commission.

9. A public hearing on this application may be called by mailing a petition that requests a hearing to the Executive Director, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas, 78711. The petition must contain (1) the signature, full name, address and phone number of each person requesting; (2) a statement that each person is at least 18 years of age and resides or owns property in the operational area; and (3) a description of each person's interest and how that interest would be adversely affected. Requests for hearing must be received by the Commission within 30 days of the date of the first publication of this notice. More information on calling a hearing can be obtained through the Legal Division of the Commission (512-463-8069) or through the Commissioners' Office of Hearing Examiners (512-463-7875).

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Only days after Democrat senators roasted him for ignoring minorities in his college board appointments, the governor slam-dunked them by opting not to maintain a black on the Texas A&M Board of Regents.

His decision both angered and saddened those who feel that with mostly black Prairie View A&M under its umbrella, blacks should have a vote on the board. Dr. John Coleman, the only black ever to sit as a TAMU regent, ended his term this month.

Instead, Clements appointed Raul Fernandez, a San Antonio developer who once presided over the Aggies' association of former students. The Legislature is expected this session to move three South Texas colleges under the TAMU umbrella.

Clements filled another slot with an Anglo; that's what has some blacks upset.

Some Blacks Upset

The issue is noteworthy, not only because it tests whether senators can force appointments as well as approve them, but it comes at a time when Texas Republicans are trying to court blacks into their ranks via a moderate George Bush presidency.

It also follows the Louisiana election of a former Ku Klux Klan grand wizard-turned Republican, and Texas Democrats are trying to keep blacks from defecting by painting the GOP as racist.

But as one insider pointed out, if blacks want appointments from a Republican governor, they need to support his candidacy. Indeed, that's the way the game has always been played, and to the hilt by Clements' predecessor, Mark White, a Democrat.

Clements, more likely, is signaling senators that he'll take only so much guff off them and it's time to back off; nor is he likely to forgive senators for ripping the appointment of good friend Chet Upham in the first battle.

In fact, a truce has been called, according to Dallas Sen. Eddie Bernice Johnson, who recognizes that Clements is not one to shy away from endless war.

But Sen. Craig Washington, a Houston black active against Upham, warned that Clements is signaling "that there are no qualified black Republicans that the governor feels appropriate to appoint to the A&M board."

Racing Commission Broke

Although designed to be self-supporting, and even though the betting track industry wants to reduce the amount of taxes they will pay, the Texas Racing Commission has asked the Legislature for $10 million to see it through hard times.

The agency is nearly broke from too little money collected in fees, because of delays in setting up pari-mutuel betting.

And it cannot pay back some $4.5 million it borrowed from general revenues to get started.

The industry's sponsor, state Sen. Ike Harris, wants to change the law to have all racing fees deposited in the state treasury.

KKK "Congratulated"

State Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, twitted his GOP colleagues with a congratulatory resolution on the Louisiana win on their ticket of a former Ku Klux Klan grand wizard.

But they would have no part of claiming the KKK, and Houston state Sen. Don Henderson snuffed the joke, saying "if there's to be any resolution on this matter, it won't be congratulatory."

Parker still tried to hang the label of racism on Texas Republicans, saying "They elected someone who agrees with their views."

Parker got twitted himself on his DWI waterborne device operators bill, when Pasadena Sen. Chet Brooks said, "if someone were wearing a Mac West, couldn't you say they are a Mac West operator?"

Parker, who wants to stop DWI boaters, replied, "That would be a perverted reading of the law."

AG: Odom Set, Mauro Close

In the '90 attorney general race, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro stepped closer to formal candidacy by indicating he will probably announce for the race after the legislative session.

Houston attorney John Odom, from the Mark White camp, said he's definitely running and left on a two-day campaign swing.

Ozonans' grandson makes good

Age has been no barrier to Jon Word. At age 28 he is vice-president of the largest private cellular company in the nation.

Although the national headquarters of Cellular Information Systems has relocated to New York City, company operations are still directed from Lubbock.

The grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Word of Ozona, Jon is a native of Lubbock. He graduated from Lubbock's Coronado High School in 1979 and later from Texas A&M University.

While a university student, Jon designed and marketed a board game which is still being sold today. He also designed and marketed a lap board for pilots.

After graduating from A&M, Jon sold x-ray equipment for a time but saved most of his money. He joined with several others to bid on a cellular communications system for Lubbock after the Federal Communications Commission allowed private industry to get into the cellular telephone business.

The company formed by the Lubbock investors, Cellular One, is a subsidiary of Cellular Information Systems. Cellular One began its operations in Lubbock in Sept. 1987 and has grown to a $100 million business according to a recent story published by the Lubbock Avalanche.

As prices on the equipment become more affordable, cellular applications are moving rapidly into the consumer market, according to Jon.

Birds attract Forum members

The Woman's Forum met Tuesday, Feb. 21, at the Civic Center with Jane Black and Totsy Hagelstein as hostesses. Arlene Clayton, president, called the meeting to order. The club members read American's Creed, led by Bobbie Fatout. Roll call was answered with "My Favorite or Least Favorite Bird".

The program, For the Birds, was presented by Delbert Tarter, retired associate professor of chemistry at Angelo State University. Geniece Childress introduced Mr. Tarter, stating he had studied birds in Alaska and all states except Hawaii, in Canada and the Panama Canal area. During his talk, Mr. Tarter showed a number of colored slides.

Forum members present were: Katy Jones, Rachel Childress, Mari-del Dudley, Modene Whitaker, Mary Agnes Ward, Madeline Stokes, Katharine Russell, Bernice Phillips, Ethel Miller, Velma Marley, Joyce Maness, Marcille Long, Lucille Littleton, Sophie Kyle, Georgia Kirby, Madye Jo Humphreys, Glenda Henderson, Totsy Hagelstein, Bobbie Fatout, Arlene Clayton, Geniece Childress, Crystelle Childress, Jane Black and Jewell Bailey. Mrs. Delbert Tarter was a guest.

Eighth graders to pre-register

Ozona High School has begun to plan for the 1989-90 school year. The present high school students are pre-registering for next year during the month of February.

On Feb. 27, Mr. Buddy Hooper, OJHS principal, will hand his 8th grade students a letter to take to their parents. This letter's purpose is to explain the process for pre-registration.

On Tuesday, March 7, at 7 p.m., current 8th grade students and their parents are invited to an orientation and pre-registration meeting with high school principal Jim Payne and counselor Jack Probst in the high school auditorium.

The main purpose of the meeting will be to inform parents and students of the various course offerings that are available at Ozona High School and to assist students in selecting the courses best suited to their individual needs.

It is strongly requested that all 8th grade students and parents attend. Please bring the requirement papers that Mr. Probst will pass out to the students at a meeting during school on March 6. It would be helpful if both the parents and the students become familiar with the requirement sheets before the meeting on the 7th.

Sixth graders take a look at the continent down under Ozona Junior High sixth graders have recently completed a unit on Australia. Taught by Renee Schultz, the students were able to locate or make materials covering Australia. These materials included coral, sheep skins, coins, stuffed animals, pictures, books, magazines, flags, drawings, art, maps, stamps and such.

Mary Castillo wrote an extraordinary paper on Australia's land, people and animals, said Miss Schulz.

Leigh Chandler (not pictured) made an outstanding wood map of Australia complete with cities, states and landmarks.

Also participating were: Mickey White, Courtney Phillips, Jeri Lynn Tucker, Gloria Pena-Alfaro, Jesse Garza, Jo Lynn Vannoy, Micah Taylor, James Nelson, Randy Ruvacaba, Julio Otwell, Adrianno Lozano, Bryan Valdez, Jose Dominguez, Terry Wells, Michael Mitchell, J. D. Lewing, Eddie De Luna, Shauna Pearl, Elliott Barrera, Chris Sanchez, Juan Trujillo, Travis Davidson, O. J. Ortiz, Konnie Fielder, Judy Tijerina, Tony Valencia, Arturo Vasquez, John David Jurado, Cory Huddleston and Shanna Pearl.

Some SS benefits taxed

About 10 percent of the people in the San Angelo area will be paying income tax this year on part of their 1988 Social Security benefits, said Franklin H. Upp, Social Security manager in San Angelo. Up to half of the Social Security benefit can be subject to taxation.

Taxation of benefits applies if a person has combined income--taxable income plus nontaxable interest plus one-half of the Social Security benefit--over the base amount, Upp explained.

Base amount figures are:
 $25,000 for an individual;
 $32,000 for a couple filing a joint tax return; or
 $0 for a married person filing a separate return if he or she lived with his or her spouse during any part of 1988.

The amount of benefits subject to tax is the smaller of these two figures:

one-half of the Social Security benefits, or one-half of the amount of combined income over the base amount.

By now, everyone who received benefits last year should have received a Social Security Benefit Statement (Form SSA-1099) showing the amount of benefits received. A worksheet is sent with the SSA-1099 to use in figuring whether taxes must be paid.

Anyone who has questions about paying taxes on their Social Security benefits can get additional information or the SSA-1099 Benefit Statement can be answered at the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

To all customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company:

Public Notice

On December 22, 1988 Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas several proposed changes in its Universal Emergency Number Service (911) Tariff. These proposals include:

- a. deletion of the current regulation which restricts E911 Service to a single exchange area which has 50,000 exchange access arrangements or more;
- b. revising the tariff text to clarify that costs associated with network rearrangements required to accommodate the 911 code may result in additional charges to be determined on an individual case basis;
- c. a text addition to clarify that telephone company provided Public Safety Answering Equipment is required when a service includes Automatic Location Identification (ALI); and
- d. a text addition to explain emergency ringback.

The application is styled Docket No. 8565, Application of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for Approval of Amendment of Universal Emergency Number Service (911) Tariff. It is anticipated that Docket No. 8565 will be evidentiary in nature.

The public may intervene or participate in this docket but it is not required to do so. Anyone who wishes to intervene in this proceeding or comment on the relief sought by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757 or call the Public Utility Commission Information Office at (512) 458-0010 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf. Motions to intervene in this proceeding must be filed with the Commission's filing clerk by April 12, 1989.

Extension Connection

by Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent

Conservation of resources is important

Conservation - it's one of our 1980's "buzzwords". But unlike some of those other, casually tossed-around words, conservation remains important in our daily lives.

Because of that importance, the Progressive Extension Homemakers Club will present our local game warden, Rod Chalmers, in a program on "Natural Resource Conservation - A Local Update". The program will be Thursday, March 9, at noon at the Ozona Civic Center, and any interested person is invited to attend.

There will be a short slide presentation pointing up what man has done to the environment, and Rod will discuss issues and legislation that affect us locally, statewide and nationally in regard to conservation efforts.

If you plan to attend the meeting - and I hope you do - bring a sack lunch and a friend. Our hostesses this month are Rhonda Shaw, Grace Williams and Beth Boyd, and they'll provide tea and coffee for everyone.

For more information, call the County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Speaking of conservation, spring is almost here, and we'll soon be heading into the hot months. That means it's time to think about water conservation in the home.

Last week I wrote about ways to conserve water in the dishwasher and washing machine. However, there are lots of other places we need to consider when we think about saving water.

First, think about what you do when you get up in the morning. Do you run the hot water full-blast a long time to get it steaming? Do you let the water run while you stand there brushing your teeth? If you'll eliminate these two practices, you can save several gallons of water a day - and that surely adds up very quickly!

When you get in the kitchen, do you let water run while you're doing food preparation - like peeling vegetables? Since most of us have two sinks, we can usually have rinse water in one side and peel into the other.

And try heating hot water on the stove or in your microwave instead of running the hot water a long time for one cup used in cooking.

When you're cleaning the floors, use a mop bucket - don't run water over your mop and let it drain away. You can later use the water from mopping to pour on a tree or other plantings, if there aren't too many chemicals in the water.

There are many other practices you can follow in your home, by installing flow restrictors on faucets and shower heads, minor installations to toilet tanks, and other devices. They're generally inexpensive and will actually pay for themselves with the water they save.

Remember, every drop of water you let go down the drain is a drop of water you could have saved - by being more conservation-minded.

For more information on water conservation, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Home ec majors asked to report

Interest in people/families has been leading many into the field of home economics since it first began as a formal discipline at the turn of the century. The areas of nutrition, child development, interior design, clothing, finance, and family relationships all have their unique characteristics, but the hub of the wheel revolves around people - the personal side of our world.

If you are a college/university home economics graduate or have at least two years of college work in the area of home economics you are asked to write: Dr. Sue Greninger, University of Texas at Austin, Home Economics Department - Mary E. Gearing Hall, Austin, Texas 78712 and provide the following information: name, address, daytime phone number, major, graduation date or if you're not a graduate, the year you last attended college, present employer (if any) and job title and any interest you might have in pursuing additional college level courses. The compiled data base of all home economists residing in Texas is needed to facilitate networking among those who have pursued their interests in America's social core - individuals and families. The information will also be useful to universities for determining course offerings.

Cutting food groups cuts nutrients

Leaving out entire food categories to try to avoid cancer and heart disease may cause many Americans to consume inadequate nutrients, according to a nutrition expert at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a registered dietitian and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said diet modification is not a solution for every person trying to lower the risk of chronic and degenerative illnesses.

Sweeten said a recent report by Dr. Alfred E. Harper of the University of Wisconsin showed that the underlying causes of many illnesses are not nutritional.

She said Harper's report indicated that it is impossible to predict how reducing dietary fat and cholesterol, or increasing calcium or fiber intake, would affect every individual.

People have come to hope that by altering their diet, or by supplementing food with vitamins and minerals, they can avoid cancer, heart disease and osteoporosis, even though not one of these illnesses is directly attributable to nutrition, the report said.

"Those thinking along this line typically speak out against consumption of fat, sugar and salt. However, high-fat, high-caloric foods are rich in nutrients needed by children and adults," Sweeten said.

Some nutrition experts encourage the reduction of saturated fat and cholesterol to keep serum cholesterol low, Harper said in the report. Serum cholesterol reduces the incidence of heart disease, Harper's research showed.

Reducing dietary cholesterol does not always increase the level of serum cholesterol, making it evident that not everyone can benefit from these dietary reductions, according to the report.

While many health professionals recommend that Americans consume more fiber, all we know is that fiber, like cholesterol, does not affect everyone the same ways, she said. Sweeten said although physicians should provide dietary guidance for some patients, it is inappropriate for public health officials to assume that everyone is equally susceptible to chronic and degenerative diseases, thus creating fear about eating certain foods.

"Leaving out specific foods from diets may give some people confidence that they are doing what they can to stay healthy," Sweeten said.

4-H clothing projects begin

4-H clothing projects in Crockett County are in the initial planning stages, according to County Extension Agent-Home Economics Tedra Ulmer.

"All parents of 4-H members who signed up for clothing this year, plus other leaders who assist us during the project, are urged to attend a planning meeting on Tuesday, March 7, at 5:15 p.m. in the County Courthouse Annex," the agent said.

Also invited to the meeting are teen 4-H members who attended the recent district training held in Ozona. The teens are Robin Myers, Whitney Vannoy, Julie Childress, Nikki McCarley, Martha Mayfield, Steffy Sutton and JoLynn Vannoy. They will assist with planning the county fashion show, which will be held some time in June, and will be involved in other leadership activities within the project.

"We need persons who can work one-on-one with a 4-H'er in sewing a garment for our fashion show," said Ulmer. "You don't have to be a great seamstress - just like young people and have patience. You can fit the time you spend to the needs of your schedule, and we have lots of educational materials available to help you know what to teach and how to teach it," she continued.

For more information on the 4-H Clothing Project, or to enroll in 4-H, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721, or come by the office. It's located on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex.

27 pints of blood donated

Ozona donors gave 27 pints of blood during the United Blood Services visit Feb. 22. An additional 11 donors were turned away for medical reasons, said Judy Adams of Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Mary Nations became a four gallon donor during the February blood drive. "This was her 32nd pint," said Mrs. Adams.

Others with many donations to their credit were: Margaret Coates, 29; Evelyn Noah, 23; and Nancy Hale, 15.

First time donors at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce sponsored drive were: Jesse De La Garza, Beth Stallings, Emilio Tambunga, Bill Glasscock and Romeo Perez Jr.

Also donating were: Robert Wisdom, Maxine DeBord, Jan Lott, Ron Bailey, James Cox, Margaret Carroll, Sandra Gonzales, David McCarley, Jim Gray, Glenda Henderson, Sylvia DeHoyos, Marsha Cannon, Lisa Garza, Robert Darling, Debbie Glasscock, Connie Jennings, Della Moore and Veva Vargas.

Big Bend Museum shows cowboy gear

Some of the nation's finest handmade cowboy gear and most admired western art will be displayed in Alpine in March at the Museum of the Big Bend.

Entitled "Trappings of Texas", the exhibit will feature a unique mix of handmade cowboy gear and fine art. Many of the artists and gear makers will be on hand for the opening Saturday, March 4, from 9 to 11 a.m., with their work to remain on display throughout the month. Many of the items shown will be for sale, and exhibitors will be taking orders for custom-made pieces.

The Museum of the Big Bend began its work with cowboy culture in the late 1970s with a series of educational programs that compared the stereotypes with the facts of cowboy life. In 1988, the museum received an Award of Merit from the American Association of State and Local History for its program, "Cowboy -- A Figure of Fact and Fantasy". This program has since become the basis of several other programs on cowboy culture in the nation.

"Trappings of Texas" is planned in conjunction with the Third Annual Texas Cowboy Poetry Gathering which will be held at Sul Ross State University March 2 through March 5. This is the exhibit's third year, and it has been the museum's biggest event in the past two years.

The Museum of the Big Bend is on the Sul Ross State University campus and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and 1 to 5 p.m. Sundays. It is closed Mondays. For more information, call the museum at 915 837-8143.

Sanchez nominee for USAF Academy

Congressman Lamar Smith has nominated four West Texans for appointment to the nation's military service academies.

"This year's applicants were outstanding individuals," the Congressman said in announcing his nominations. "My Service Academy Screening Board had a difficult time choosing the very best."

"I am proud to have such qualified young people in the 21st Congressional District," Smith said. "They have all worked very hard and deserve the recognition this nomination brings to them."

Smith nominated two students from San Angelo Central High School, Rachel A. Burton of 3117 Lindell Avenue to the U.S. Air Force Academy, and Patricia L. Lokovic of 3202 Rockbrook Drive to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy.

Also nominated to the U.S. Air Force Academy was Fort Stockton High's Michael A. Child and Ozona High's Mark Sanchez.

Obtaining a nomination is the first major hurdle service academy applicants must clear. After conducting physical examinations, physical aptitude tests and other evaluations, the academies will announce a complete list of their appointments in the spring.

County judge attends A&M conference

Judge Kathryn Mayfield recently attended the 31st Annual County Judges and Commissioners' Conference at Texas A&M University.

Judge Mayfield was among some 750 county judges and commissioners from across Texas who studied ways to strengthen county government during the three-day conference.

Besides the judges and commissioners, almost 250 other leaders, including speakers, resource people, exhibit planners and spouses, took part in various aspects of the program.

Judge Mayfield said the conference was planned specifically for county commissioners and judges to update them on latest issues of concern to their respective offices.

"In addition, the conference served as a forum where county judges and commissioners of Texas shared ideas and discussed issues of concern to their duties with other state leaders and their counterparts across the state," Judge Mayfield said.

The conference was conducted by the V. G. Young Institute of County Government, a vital part of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, in cooperation with the County Judges and Commissioners' Association of Texas and the offices of Continuing Education at Texas A&M University.

"Persons who attended all conference sessions were awarded Continuing Education Units (CEUs) by A&M's Office of Continuing Education," Judge Kathryn Mayfield said.

Judges could receive both judicial and administrative credit while County Commissioners could be awarded credit for study in the administrative and technical duties of their offices.

The training related to the conference theme, "Strengthening County Government by Strengthening County Leadership Through Continuing Education."

Judge Mayfield said, "Responsibilities of our offices are quite extensive, as was reflected in the conference. Newly-elected county judges and commissioners took part in a special orientation session, and all of the county participants also heard discussions and presentations from key state leaders as well as those from academia and industry."

An Inside Job

By Rev. Ken Harrison
Ozona United Methodist Church

A Christ statue, with its hands missing but still intact, was found amidst the rubble after the World War II firebombing of Dresden, Germany. To this day one can see this damaged statue in Dresden, and there is an attached sign which reads, "You are the hands of Christ."

The statue stands to make a point; and that is that Christ is alive today in the sense that he lives in persons who absorb his spirit into their lives, thus allowing their hands to be Christ's hands, their attitudes to be Christ's, their goals to be Christ's.

It is what the apostle Paul describes as "Christ in you," (Colossians 1:27), a phrase which could serve as the apostle's motto, for he emphasized this idea often and strongly. "For this I toil," claims Paul, "striving with all the energy which he mightily inspires within me."

Here is the basic concept of the Christian life. Christ within the Christian is as crucial as the engine in the automobile. Christ is the motive power, the energy which prompts performance.

Children in Sunday School are asked "to accept Jesus into your heart." It is the early invitation to have "Christ in you," as Paul put it. A painting popular some years ago and found hanging in many Sunday School and Christian homes was one which pictured Christ standing outside a cottage knocking on the door. The painting was inspired by Revelation 3:20, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." An interesting feature of that painting is that there is no doorknob on the door, a deliberate omission by the painter, who wanted to convey the message that the door has to be opened from within. Christ can only knock. He cannot enter unless the person inside lets him in.

Once inside, Christ can do a lot of good. The effectiveness of this indwelling Presence is readily seen. Contrast the lives of those without Christ and those who have Christ within. Take a promiscuous young person, whose face is already raddled with too many late nights, too many messy love affairs, too much dope and drink. Compare that young person with the radiance of a committed Christian youth. Contrast the proud and covetous, with those who possess Christ and live in peace. Compare the weak in spirit who crawl along after carnal desires and earthly pleasures with the lowly in spirit whose conscience is not burdened, whose yoke is easy and light. Christ within is the difference.

Electronic games were explored during Monday morning's Show and Tell. Moriama Perez, Hazel McDaniel, Theo Burns, Consuelo Sarabia, Lucia Rios, Juana Hernandez, Eva Dean and Srida Senne tried to follow the game's pattern of light and sound by pushing the appropriate buttons. If the buttons were not pushed in proper sequence, an error buzzer would sound. Everyone had a lot of fun testing their concentration abilities.

Bullseyes were made by Juana Hernandez, Consuelo Sarabia, Tomasa Ramos, Edna Wallace, Lucia Rios, Nellie Harp and Moriama Perez in a game of target ball that followed a short exercise routine Monday afternoon.

A special thank you goes out to Melinda Hokit, Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby for seeing to it that Tuesday morning's bingo hour ran smoothly during the activity director's absence. Prize winners were Bertha Miller, Juana Hernandez, Srida Senne, Emmett Bennett, Theo Burns, Tomasa Ramos and Minnie Karr.

Volunteer Ruth Hester was back to whip the ceramic workshop into shape Wednesday morning. Residents were delighted to see her back.

Attending were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Srida Senne and Moriama Perez.

A few of the residents spent Wednesday afternoon playing dominos while others relaxed in front of the television.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers deserve a hearty thank you for making the residents look better and feel better. Volunteers were: Vivian Hughes, Lola Rios, Audrey Smith, Yolanda Avila and Melinda Hokit.

Jim Gray of First Baptist Church delivered a fine lesson Thursday afternoon during mid-week Bible study. Maxine Brown enhanced the hour by playing the piano. Thank you, Jim and Maxine. We enjoyed it.

Spanish speaking residents gathered in the Day Room for a much awaited Spanish Hour of Praise Thursday afternoon. Residents enjoyed visiting with the large number of visitors who attended.

Friday morning's bingo winners included Juana Hernandez, Srida Senne, Olive Berry, Moriama Perez, Minnie Karr, Elvira Pena and Bertha Miller. Melinda Hokit was the helpful volunteer. Popcorn was served.

George Hester and Bob Bell did a little pickin' and grinnin' during Friday afternoon's social hour. Residents enjoyed their performance immensely. Matthew Marshall helped serve refreshments. We would like to thank Bob, George and Matthew for sharing the fun with us.

Sunday's worship service was presented by members of the Church of Christ. John Hoover led the singing and residents enjoyed a short visitation afterward.

Sheriff's Report

WEEK ENDING 2-28-89

ARRESTS:

2-21-89 31-year-old Romulo Lopez Lozano Jr. of Ozona was arrested by THP on charges of DWI, second offense. He was released the next day after posting a $1000 bond.

2-3-89 Armando Borrego Ramirez, age 33, of Ozona, was arrested by sheriff's deputies and THP on charges of DWI. He was released the next day after posting a $500 bond.

2-25-89 Sheriff's deputies arrested 19-year-old Cleveland T. Jones III of Sonora on charges of armed robbery at about 4:30 a.m. after Sonora officers advised that the I-10 Exxon station in Sonora had been robbed.

Officers spotted the suspect vehicle westbound on I-10. Crockett County deputies arrested the suspect and held him for Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster. The suspect was arraigned by Judge Christine Davee and turned over to Sheriff Webster to be transported back to Sonora.

2-25-89 Paulino Borrego Longoria, age 35, of Ozona, was arrested by the constable on a warrant charging revocation of probation in district court. Longoria was arraigned by Judge Kathryn Mayfield and bound over to county jail to await the action of the district court.

2-26-89 29-year-old Daniel J. Mouton of Beaumont was arrested by THP on charges of DWI. He is currently in county jail under a $5,000 bond on the DWI and a $500 bond on the charge of driving while license is suspended.

INCIDENTS:

2-22-89 Formal theft charges have been filed against a 19-year-old Ozona man. No arrest has been made. The case has been referred to the county attorney for prosecution.

2-26-89 Sheriff's deputies investigated an assault involving juvenile children which occurred on Ave. J. The case is being referred to the Crockett County Juvenile Probation Office for possible action in the Juvenile Court.

Hospital bill passes committee

The Senate Health and Human Services Committee passed Crockett County's amended hospital district bill Tuesday afternoon.

The bill, which would enable the county to hold a hospital district election, could go to the Senate floor for a vote as early as Thursday afternoon, according to Bill Boswell. The hospital administrator was in Austin to testify before the committee if necessary.

Should a vote on the bill not be called on Thursday, the vote will be taken early next week, Boswell said in a phone call Tuesday afternoon.

Love made public

Was he serious? Well, would a man who wasn't splash his pledge of love and a proposal on a billboard? And to boot, a billboard passed by 128,000 vehicles daily.

When Warren Chirhart decided that life without Suzanne sharing it was pure misery, he knew that a proposal made in a very special way was in order.

The couple had dated for about two years, but the relationship was sometimes off-again and later on-again.

Warren, 47, knew that having a family was important to Suzanne, 32. But, having raised one family and having a grandchild, Warren found the idea of starting another family difficult to accept.

Suzanne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of Ozona, did convince him that the age difference between the two of them wasn't a problem. The only problem was the commitment to a family issue.

Finally, they parted for good - or so it was supposed to be - at the beginning of last summer.

That was when Warren discovered that life without Suzanne wasn't much fun. He began changing his mind about a family. After deciding on a billboard as the means for his special proposal, Warren, an operations manager for 3M, noticed the perfect blank billboard while driving to work one morning. Strategically placed alongside Central Expressway in Dallas, it was also near Suzanne's office.

Warren jotted down the phone number, and through the billboard division at 3M, rented the billboard, hired a sign-painter and proceeded with his plan.

The sign was to be painted on a Friday. Warren had called Suzanne and made a date with her for Saturday night. It would be a special date - hired limosine, roses, champagne, dinner at the same place where they had first dated - the whole works. And, he would have the limo drive by the sign before he proposed.

But, the best laid plans of mice and men don't always work out as scheduled. The sign-painter finished early, about 11 a.m. Friday. Suzanne happened to be a passenger in a car on her way back to her firm, McSearch Personnel Consultants, and she saw the billboard.

"It was a good thing I wasn't driving," she says. "I was hyperventilating."

She knew then that Warren was serious, very serious.

The sign had boxes for a "Yes" or "No" answer. Suzanne phoned Warren and asked him how she could contact the sign-painter. By the end of the day, the "Yes" box had been filled in.

Warren and Suzanne were married Feb. 11. Warren's children took part in the Dallas ceremony. Warren Jr., a senior at Texas A&M, was best man. Jessica, Warren's granddaughter, was the flower girl.

The billboard? It was up for a month. Radio traffic reporters talked about it. At least one minister used it as an example of unconditional love in his Sunday morning sermon. Radio KVIL even had Warren and Suzanne on a morning program to tell about the billboard proposal.

The Dallas Morning News told the story in a Sunday feature on "The Weddings Page".

Warren and Suzanne are both serious about love and marriage. It's no secret.

Cedar fever often winter annoyance

Every year, some people suffer through the colder months with what feels like a head cold, combined with itchy eyes, headaches, general tiredness and other symptoms, just because they breathe the brisk outdoor air.

Allergy sufferers are plentiful in Texas, especially in the central region and hill country. And December and January are some of their worst months, according to the Texas Department of Health (TDH), since the onset of colder weather invariably brings "cedar fever."

Cedar fever is an allergic reaction to the pollen of male mountain cedar (actually two species of juniper), which grow wild throughout Texas. The male trees have tiny green cones which turn brown, spring open, and release a yellow pollen onto the winter winds.

The minute, sticky, pollen grains irritate the eyes and sinuses, and enter the sufferer's respiratory system, triggering an allergic reaction.

Allergy specialists say that cedar fever is second only to ragweed allergy in the number of Texans it affects. And its severity may be greater. Even persons who are able to resist other allergens may fall victim to cedar fever. And for reasons not fully understood, some may react more severely in one year than in another.

Ladies 3rd, Lions 6th places at Fort Stockton track meet

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Backed by three first and two second places, the Ozona Lady Lions tallied 76 points en route to a third-place showing at the 45th Annual Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton last weekend.

The boys' team secured 45 total points to finish sixth.

Freshmen contributed heavily to the Ladies success. Claudia Avila and Tamel West served on the winning 400m relay team along with Kristina Martinez and Bibi Cervantez.

The freshmen duo, Martinez and Maria Sanchez teamed together to clock a winning 4 minute, 17.70 second mile relay as well.

Avila proved she could hold her own, streaking to a second placing in the 400m run with a time of 1:03.58. West took second in the high jump with while another freshman, Susan Pullen ran a 28.77 200m dash, earning fifth place.

Sanchez, a consistent top-placer in the long distance runs of two and one mile, held form at Stockton, taking first in the 1600m with a time of 5 minutes, 54.15 seconds.

The 3200m came to the wire for second place as Sanchez edged out her third-place competition with a time of 12:55.03.

Hereford took top prize for team standings after scoring 122 points. Fort Stockton followed with 84.

Though the Lions ended sixth overall, their showings looked positive in preparation for future events.

For one, freshman Mark Ramirez sprinted to a 2:10.72 third place in the 800m run. He followed up with a fifth placing in the mile run in a time of 5:15.34.

Martine Urbino and Ricky Burger finished fourth and fifth respectively in the 400m run. Urbino clocked a time of 55.73 and Burger had 56.17.

With a time of 3:41.92, the mile-relay team of Luis Rico, Ricky Burger, Luis DeLaGarza, Martin Ubina placed third. The 400m relayers Albert Talamantez, Martin Urbina, Oscar Gutierrez and Roger Martinez took fifth in a time of 47.16.

Distance runner Luis Rico clocked a 5:07.31 to finish fourth in the mile run. He had the same placing in the two mile as Jose Gutierrez followed in fifth place.

Jason Tomlinson hurled the shot and discus 41 feet, 10 1/2 inches and 118 feet, 8 1/2 inches respectively to place fifth and sixth in those events.

Lee Galan pole vaulted his way to a fifth place showing.

Mason, Iraan and McCamey claimed the top three places in team standings. El Paso Lydia Patterson, O'Donnell and Ozona followed in due order.

Students share unique views of history from THE DAILY JOURNAL, International Falls, MN, Feb. 11, 1988

by Richard Lederer
St. Paul's School

One of the fringe benefits of being an English or history teacher is receiving the occasional jewel of a student blooper in an essay. I have pasted together the following "history" of the world from certain genuine student bloopers collected by teachers throughout the United States, from eighth grade through college level. Read carefully and you will learn a lot.

The inhabitants of ancient Egypt were called mummies. They lived in the Sarah Dessert and traveled by Camelot. The climate of the Sarah is such that the inhabitants have to live elsewhere, so certain areas of the desert are cultivated by irrigation. The Egyptians built the Pyramids in the shape of a huge triangular cube. The Pyramids are a range of mountains between France and Spain.

The Bible is full of interesting caricatures. In the first book of the Bible, Guinnesses, Adam and Eve were created from an apple tree. One of their children, Cain, once asked, "Am I my brother's son?" God asked Abraham to sacrifice Isaac on Mount Montezuma. Jacob, son of Isaac, stole his brother's birth mark. Jacob was a patriarch who brought up his twelve sons to be patriarchs, but they did not take to it. One of Jacob's sons, Joseph, gave refuse to the Israelites.

Pharaoh forced the Hebrew slaves to make bread without straw. Moses led them to the Red Sea, where they made unleavened bread, which is bread made without any ingredients. Afterwards, Moses went up on Mount Cyanide to get the ten commandments. David was a Hebrew king skilled at playing the liar. He fought with the Philatelists, a race of people who lived in Biblical times. Solomon, one of David's sons had 500 wives and 500 porcupines.

Without the Greeks we wouldn't have history. The Greeks invented three kinds of columns - Corinthia, Doric, and Ionic. They also had myths. A myth is a female moth. One myth says that the mother of Achilles dipped him in the river Styx until he became intollerable. Achilles appears in the Iliad, by Home. Home also wrote The Oddity, in which Penelope was the last hardship that Ulysses endured on his journey. Actually, Home was not written by Homer but by another man of that name.

Socrates was a famous Greek teacher who went around giving people advice. They killed him. Socrates died from an overdose of wedlock.

In the Olympic Games, Greeks ran races, jumped, hurled the biscuits, and threw the java. The reward to the victor was a coral wreath. The government of Athens was democratic because people took the law into their own hands. There were no wars in Greece, as the mountains were so high that they couldn't climb over to see what their neighbors were doing. When they fought with the Persians, the Greeks were outnumbered because the Persians had more men.

Eventually, the Ramons conquered the Geeks. History calls people Romans because they never stayed on one place for very long. At Roman banquets, the guests wore garlies in their hair. Julius Caesar extinguished himself on the battlefields of Gaul. The Ides of March murdered him because they thought he was going to be made king. Nero was a cruel tyranny who would torture his poor subjects by playing the fiddle to them.

Then came the Middle Ages. King Alfred conquered the Dames, King Arthur lived in the Age of Shivery, King Harold mustarded cannonized by Bernard Shaw, and victims of the Black Death grew boobs on their necks. Finally, Magna Carta provided that no free man should be hanged twice for the same offense.

In midevil times most of the people were alliterate. The greatest writer of the time was Chaucer, who wrote many poems and verses and also wrote literature. Another tale tells of William Tell, who shot an arrow through an apple while standing on his son's head.

The Renaissance was an age in which more individuals felt the value of their human being. Martin Luther was nailed to the church door at Wittenberg for selling papal indulgences. He died a horrible death, being excommunicated by a bull. It was the painter Donatello's interest in the female nude that made him the father of the Renaissance. It was an age of great inventions and discoveries. Gutenberg invented the Bible. Sir Walter Raleigh is a historical figure because he invented cigarettes. Another important invention was the circulation of the blood. Sir Francis Drake circumsised the world with a 100-foot clipper.

The government of England was a limited mockery. Henry VIII found walking difficult because he had an abcess on his knee. Queen Elizabeth was the "Virgin Queen". As a queen she was a success. When Elizabeth exposed herself before her troops, they all shouted, "hurrah." Then her navy went out and defeated the Spanish Armadillo.

The greatest writer of the Renaissance was William Shakespear. Shakespear never made much money and is famous only because of his plays. He lived at Windsor with his merry wives, writing tragedies, comedies, and errors. In one of Shakespear's famous plays, Hamlet rations out his situation by relieving himself in a long soliloquy. In another, Lady Macbeth tries to convince Macbeth to kill the king by attacking his manhood. Romeo and Juliet are an example of a heroic couplet. Writing at the same time as Shakespear was Miguel Cervantes. He wrote Donkey Hote. The next great author was John Milton. Milton wrote Paradise Lost. Then his wife died and he wrote Paradise Regained.

During the Renaissance America began. Christopher Columbus was a great navigator who discovered America while cursing about the Atlantic. His ships were called the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Fe. Later, the Pilgrims crossed the Ocean, and this was known as Pilgrims Progress. When they landed at Plymouth Rock, they were greeted by the Indians, who came rolling their war hoops before them. The Indian squabs carried porpoises on their back. Many of the Indian heroes were killed, along with their cabooses, which proved very fatal to them. The winter of 1620 was a hard one for the settlers. Many people died and many babies were born. Captain John Smith was responsible for all this.

One of the causes of the Revolutionary Wars was the English put tacks in their tea. Also, the colonists would send their parcels through the post without stamps. During the War, the Red Coats and Paul Revere was throwing balls over stone walls. The dogs were barking and the peacocks crowing. Finally, the colonists won the War and no longer had to pay for taxis.

Delegates from the original thirteen states formed the Contented Congress. Thomas Jefferson, a Virgin, and Benjamin Franklin were two singers of the Declaration of Independence. Franklin had gone to Boston carrying all his clothes in his pocket and a loaf of bread under each arm. He invented electricity by rubbing cats backwards and declared, "A horse divided against itself cannot stand." Franklin died in 1790 and is still dead.

George Washington married Martha Curtis and in due time became Father of Our Country. Then the Constitution of the United States was adopted to secure domestic hostility. Under the Constitution the people enjoyed the right to keep bare arms.

Abraham Lincoln became America's greatest Precedent. Lincoln's mother died in infancy, and he was born in a log cabin which he built with his own hands. When Lincoln was President, he wore only a tall silk hat. He said, "In onion there is strength." Abraham Lincoln wrote the Gettysburg Address while traveling from Washington to Gettysburg on the back of an envelope. He also freed the slaves by signing the Emasculation Proclamation, and the Fourteenth Amendment gave the ex-Negroes citizenship. But the Clue Nux Clan would torcher and lunch the ex-Negroes and other innocent victims. It claimed it represented law and odor. On the night of April 14, 1865, Lincoln went to the theater and got shot in his seat by one of the actors in a moving picture show. The believed assassinator was John Wilkes Booth, a supprisingly insane actor. This ruined Booth's career.

Meanwhile in Europe, the enlightenment was a reasonable time. Voltare invented electricity and also wrote a book called Candy. Gravity was invented by Isaac Walton. It is chiefly noticeable in the Autumn, when the apples are falling off the trees.

Bach was the most famous composer in the world, and so was Handel. Handel was half German, half Italian, and half English. He was very large. Bach died from 1750 to the present. Beethoven wrote music even though he was deaf. He was so deaf he wrote loud music. He took long walks in the forest even when everyone was calling for him. Beethoven expired in 1827 and later died for this.

France was in a very serious state. The French Revolution was accomplished before it happened. The Marseillaise was the theme of the French Revolution, and it catapulted into Napoleon. During the Napoleonic Wars, the Crowned heads of Europe were trembling in their shoes. Then the Spanish gorillas came down the hills and nipped at Napoleon's flanks. Napoleon became ill with bladder problems and was very tense and unrestrained. He wanted an heir to inherit his power, but since Josephine was barones, she couldn't bear children.

The sun never set on the British Empire because the British Empire is in the East and the sun sets in the West. Queen Victoria was the longest queen. She sat on a thorn for 63 years. Her reclining years and finally the end of her life were explanatory of a great personality. Her death was the final event which ended her reign.

The nineteenth century was a time of many great inventions and thoughts. The invention of the steamboat caused a network of rivers to spring up. Cyrus McCormick invented the McCormick raper, which did the work of a hundred men. Samuel Morse invented a code of telepathy. Louis Pasteur discovered a cure for rabbis. Charles Darwin was a naturalist who wrote the Organ of the Species. Madman Curie discovered radium. And Karl Marx became one of the Marx brothers.

The First World War, caused by the assignation of the Arch-Duck by a surf, ushered in a new error in the anal of human history.

Friends of Esme and Elliott Barrera will regret to learn of the death of her brother-in-law. The Barreras were in California last week to attend funeral services.

Don't be surprised if you notice a guitar sticking up in the passenger seat of Rod Chalmers' vehicle. His hat hasn't fit quite right since he was in an Austin elevator last week with a lady who asked him if he was George Strait.

Rod just ducked his head, smiled, and replied shyly, "yes, ma'am". When we asked if he gave autographs, Chalmers laughed and said, "No, I couldn't carry it that far".

In a brilliant defensive move, scoring attempt by the Marfa Short-Chris Denman defects a crucial horns.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

After attending the Chamber of Commerce sponsored meeting about the minimum security facility Monday evening, I came away with the realization such a facility would not be an economical boom for Crockett County. Heaven knows this county needs a shot in the arm of its economy, but the information gleaned failed to convince me that this was the way.

I do not believe the county has any business obligating the taxpayers for 6.2 million dollars and hiring an outfit that has no experience whatever in running such a facility. Especially, not at this time when property taxes have gone up at an alarming rate in the past two years. There is no guarantee whatever that the county would come even close to getting their money back on the deal, and even if the facility stayed full to capacity local merchants would not benefit. The only benefit I can see is that local investors would make a handsome profit. We've always heard "there is no pie in the sky," however, should this come about, the theory would be disproved.

The county judge and commissioners have been looking into the matter and investigating other facilities, however, two of the commissioners were not present at the meeting.

I have been a resident of Ozona for over thirty years, most of those years were spent in the newspaper business. I love this town and have always had its best interest at heart.

When a friend of mine accused me of being like some of the others here, and not wanting any benefit for the economy, I really took exception. I spent years boosting Ozona, always wanting the best for the town and its citizens, many times at the cost of personal friendships.

This same situation came up a few years ago, however, without the county being so heavily involved. At that time there was no mention of the county having to purchase the facility and own it. The matter was thoroughly investigated by county officials and the sheriff's department. It was decided not to involve the county in such a venture. At that time we were concerned about the creation of jobs. Investigation revealed there would be minimal local jobs. Most personnel would have to be certified peace officers and be sent in.

This is a new ballgame. All the old officials and officers are no longer in a position to make these decisions. We can only hope the present regime will do what is best for the county and not be swayed by the greed of a few.

Sincerely,
Kitty Montgomery

P.S.

I would like to see The Stockman publish a list of the investors in the CDC. When I tried to print it some time ago, I was informed it was private.

FROM
BOOKSHELF

by T.C. Tucker

The magic of stuffed animals

Dean R. Koontz has a knack for conveying the emotions of true friendship and compassion in a highly entertaining piece. He did so in Watchers and has repeated the feat in "A Fable for All Ages", Oddkins.

This book takes a turn from the mainstream, enticing adults with its almost 200 pages of mature text and children with Phil Parks' stunning illustrations, both with its story of the basic emotions.

Based simply on good versus evil, the plot line specifically deals with six magical stuffed animals who, with the passing of their creator and toymaker Isaac Bodkins, must find the successor before a group of evil toys tears them to shreds.

Led by Amos the Bear (stuffed bear, that is), the good toys leave the shelter of Bodkins' toy shop and plunge into stormy weather and new foreign encounters. Their first view of the city leaves them spellbound at the millions of lights and looming buildings that "must arch together and meet at some impossible distance overhead."

Their journey through the city's network of streets and alleys, their inevitable confrontation with the Rex, Gear, Stinger and the other baddies, and the revealing of their own destinies provides the opportunity for philosophy, usually given by Amos.

He said, "God's world is full of magic, isn't it? Not just secret kind of magic of which we're a part, but the simple magic of everyday life...."

"No one ever has to be afraid of endings," Amos said, "because there aren't any. No endings...just new beginnings. Isn't it a wonderful world? Isn't it a wonderful life?"

This book also has a surrealistic touch. Consider the Oddkins (named so on account of Bodkins and their being "odd") possess a power to appear real to children in need of companionship. As an adult, the former child considers the encounters as figments of uncontrollable imagination just as anyone in reality does. It makes one wonder if all stuffed creatures are not Oddkins themselves.

Though the stuffed beings create a compelling wonderment, the humans cannot be overlooked. Again, both good and evil are represented, but Victor Bodkins, nephew of the former toymaker, symbolizes the born-again believer. With his world based on money and calculated figures, he is stunned into self-doubt when he stumbles upon the living toys. Victor pursues them through the city, believing in their reality more and more, and when he meets up with the evil Nick Jagg, he proves capable enough to refuse the more than two million dollars offered for Isaac's old toy shop.

In essence, Koontz has created a beautiful book to be enjoyed by all ages. The expressed dedication and love plus the parallelism to Christianity make Oddkins an education journey as well.

Dear Scotty:

Just a note to comment on the "town meeting" last night. I am fully aware of the problems faced by the county; no real difference than any other county - the need for money and where to get it. Buster Miller thinks that we ought to gamble; I would rather Buster gamble with his own money, not mine. Nevertheless, the main issue was never addressed, i.e. the stockholders' (investors in Crockett Detention Center) desire that their investment be guaranteed by the county and as stated, "it will only cost the county $700,000.00 per year for the next 20 years." Like Oscar Kost said, "we've already got one of those; we don't need another." I could draw other corollaries between this and the proposed hospital district but I'll leave that for another day. As you can see, my opposition is showing.

Sincerely,
Bill Mason

Golfers swing into success

The Ozona Lion and Lady Lion golf teams debuted in Fort Stockton Friday and Saturday for their first tournament of 1989...and the results were, to say the least, encouraging.

With sunny, cloudless skies and 80 degree temperatures smiling on them both days, the Lady Lions captured fourth place with Julie Carson and Gina McCollum grabbing spots in the top 10, and the Lions gained valuable competition experience while Copie Davis secured a top five location in the medalist race.

On Friday, the Lady Lions fired a 391 with scores breaking up this way: Carson - 86, McCollum - 91, Stacy Berry - 105, Christy Cotton - 109 and Terel Seahorn - 115.

The Lions were paced by Davis' opening round of 79 followed by Daun Williams with an 87, Fleet Worthington with a 102, Wade Cypert 108 and Bryan Hensley 113.

On Saturday both teams improved their totals of the previous day. The Lady Lions, led by McCollum's 85, fired a 385 with Carson posting an 89, Cotton a 105, Berry a 106 and Seahorn a 117.

The Lions were led again by Davis' identical 79, followed by a 90 by Williams, 95 by Worthington, 100 by Hensley and 107 by Cypert.

In the individual competitions, Carson's total of 175 for the tournament gave her sixth place overall while McCollum was one shot back in seventh place. Places one through five were all held by 4A participants with the exception of Iraan's Leslie Hartman.

In the boys' medalist race, Davis' total of 158 put him in fifth place, seven shots back of the leader. All the players who finished before him were from class 4A schools.

You've got to tell 'em before you can sell 'em, and OZONA STOCKMAN ads tell 'em best. 392-2551.

Netters take 2nd in tourney

Shacklette captures gold in girls singles

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Summer Shacklette's claiming the girls' singles title, and Travis Burks and Tommy Tucker's second place in boys' doubles paced the Lion Netters to overall second places in girl and boy standings at last weekend's Garden City Tournament.

Marked as the tourney's top seed, Shacklette lost few games in five matches on her way to winning the singles' championship.

Katie Sellers and Ami Sewell added to the Ozona's point standings by finishing as consolation runner-ups.

After losing their opening match, they replied by pouncing their next three opponents before falling in the consolation finals.

Jennifer Colin almost made the consolation finals. She, too, lost her first match but won her next two finally stopping in the consolation semis.

Janet King and Carol Easley both won their first matches in girls' singles but lost their ensuing ones to be forced from further action.

Burks and Tucker beat two Reagan County teams before losing to a third in the championship finals. Another Lion team consisting of Gary Perez and Alex Sanchez lost their first two matches to retire from play.

In boys' singles action, Scotty Burks defeated his first opponent, then lost a close match to the tournament's eventual winner.

"I was real proud," Coach Jerry Tucker said. "In two days, we progressed well in character, effort and overall team attitude.

"From our performance, I can say we're a little bit ahead of where we were this time last year."

The netters travel to Junction this Friday and Saturday as the road to district play gets into full swing.

"In order to compete well in district this year and insure a sound overall team performance," Tucker noted, "we will have to improve fundamentally, work harder and get mentally tougher."
