I have been hearing from several people around town that the Moores and the Stockman are against the proposed detention center. I really hate to tell everyone that they are wrong about the Stockman and its news coverage.

Yes, the Moores do have an opinion, but we have stayed up late at night rewriting the news stories covering the center in an attempt to delete any phraseology that might reflect our personal beliefs and desires, as we should!

Our latest (supposedly) boo boo was using the word "vote" in the headline and story concerning the six person committee chosen by the commissioners court to study and report back to the court on their findings and recommendations regarding the county's connection with the center.

Many people, including the county judge, rather strongly suggested that the committee did not vote but came to an agreement on the matter. I personally can not understand how an agreement can be reached without voting.

According to Webster's New World Dictionary, the definition of the word in question means, and I copy word for word, "a decision on a proposal, etc. I believe that pretty well describes what the committee did; they came to a decision. I'm sorry that we left one committee member's name out of the story, but these things happen from time to time.

Crockett County has one asset that in my opinion should be studied for future improvement and that's the airport.

There are twenty-five airplanes hangered here which is probably two or three times the number for towns our size in Texas. Most airports with this much activity usually have a crosswind runway for safety's sake.

I also understand that a local citizen with an instructor's rating has made it known that he would like to offer flying lessons, which is another possible asset to our community.

When I was a kid trying to growup (Linda says I never did!) there was one person in particular that classifies as the most unforgettable person I have ever met. This person is Red Greer.

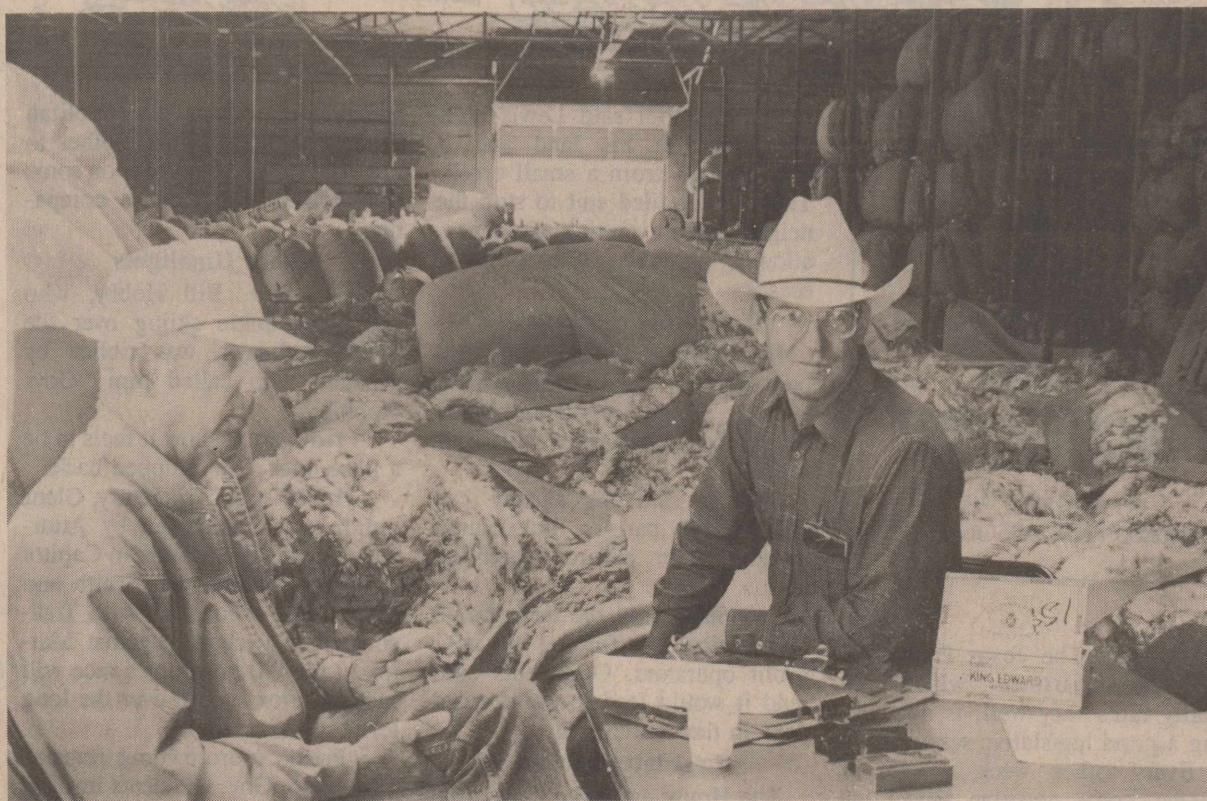

I first remember Red as the guy who gave me burr haircuts when I was five or six years old, and flat tops when I was in high school.

He was an outstanding golfer and still is. If you don't believe me just ask that bunch he plays with most every afternoon. Dub Reeves said, "there are not very many men at age ninety can still play golf much less hit the ball like he does!"

During my high school golf'n days Red taught myself and the other kids that played after school how to hit the ball correctly. I can still remember his coaching even today.

Keep your eye on the ball and your head down, Red; we think a lot of you.

Wool prices down compared to 1988 clip

Ozona Wool warehouse directors David Slaughter and John Foley wait to take bids at the wool sale March 31. The sealed bid sale moved about 90 percent of the wool offered, according to warehouse manager Joe David Yates.

Wool Growers Central Storage

Good buyer participation accounted for almost 100 percent clearance of the 79,500 pounds of wool offered at sealed bid sale last week by Wool Growers. "We were fairly well pleased with the sale," said warehouse manager Jim Adams.

"Compared to 1988 prices, it's a shock," said Adams of this year's prices, "but they're (prices) up 15 to 20 percent over 1987."

Eight-month paint free wool sold from $1.55 to $1.75¼ per grease pound with most of the tonnage between $1.68 and $1.74, Adams said.

Short 12-month paint free wool brought $1.55½ per grease pound to $1.95 on some longer, finer wool. Most 12-month wool sold between $1.75 and $1.95.

Not selling was 20,000 pounds of 20-month California wool, Adams said.

All was original bag wool. Volume buyers were: Burlington Industries Wool Co. of Clarksdale, VA, 11,000 pounds; Forte, Dupee, Sawyer Co. of Boston, 24,000 pounds; Prouvost, Lefebvre and Co. Inc. of Brady, 9,000 pounds; Pendleton Woolen Mills of Pendleton, Oregon, 19,000; A. H. Helmig and Co. Inc. of San Angelo, 7,000 pounds; Texas International Mohair of Brady, 4,000 pounds.

"Because of buyer participation, everybody got some wool," Adams said. "When everybody's busy and the market is close, it's a fairly stable market."

A sealed bid sale in Sanderson last week disposed of approximately 60 percent of the 521,000 pounds of wool offered. Most of the remainder was pending sale.

Longer staple, real bright fine wool sold mostly from $1.85 per grease pound to $2.10 according to Adams. One extremely uniform lot brought slightly more than $2.21.

About 428,000 pounds of choppy, shorter 12-month wool brought mostly $1.55 to $1.80 per grease pound.

7,200 pounds of 10-month wool sold from $1.34.8 to $1.82 per grease pound, mostly in the $1.51 to $1.55 range.

Some 5,500 pounds of 8-month paint free wool brought mostly $1.10 to $1.42 per grease pound.

85,000 pounds of 8-month paint free wool sold for $1.37 to $1.67.3 per grease pound with most going between $1.62 and $1.65.

Top selling lot at Sanderson was offered by Sid and Monty Harkins. The 25,000-pound clip brought $2.2175 per grease pound. Burlington Industries was the buyer.

Ozona Wool & Mohair

A March 31 sale at Ozona Wool and Mohair moved about 90 percent of the 127,000 pounds of wool offered by that warehouse, manager Joe David Yates said Monday. The sealed bid sale included 114,000 pounds of 12-month wool and 13,000 pounds of 8-month wool.

An additional 477,000 pounds of graded and skirted wool offered by the American Wool and Mohair Association was not sold by decision of the warehousemen.

American Wool and Mohair Association's five member warehouses are Del Rio Wool and Mohair Co. of Del Rio, Southwestern Wool and Mohair Inc. of Eden, West Texas Wool and Mohair Association of Mertzon, Ozona Wool and Mohair Co. of Ozona and Sonora Wool and Mohair Co. of Sonora.

"Normally no sales are held until April," said Yates. "For those growers who sheared early, we went ahead and had this sale."

Jerry Davenport and Jeffrey Sutton received the top price of $2.165 per grease pound on 12-month wool. Davenport sold a 1,400-pound clip and Sutton sold a 3,900-pound clip.

30,000 pounds of finer wool sold from $2.0175 to $2.125 per grease pound. 40,000 pounds brought $1.8075 to $1.935 per grease pound.

Shorter 12-month wool sold from $1.6075 to $1.78 per grease pound on 16,000 pounds. Some low yielding or mixed wool sold from $1.3825 to $1.4825 per grease pound.

4-D Ranch Company's 2,500-pound clip of 8-month wool went for $1.77625 per grease pound. A 2,500-pound clip from Joe Hargrove sold at $1.766 per grease pound.

Most of the remainder of the 8-month wool sold from $1.625 to Jim Adams of Wool Growers credits good buyer participation for the successful wool sale last week. Most of the 79,500 pounds offered was sold.

$1.705 per grease pound. "If our growers are pleased, we are, and they are," said Yates. "Most say these are the second highest prices they've been paid on wool."

Yates estimated an average of $1.80 to $1.90 per grease pound on long wool and $1.70 on short.

"This warehouse has sold 150,000 pounds of graded wool by private treaty immediately following the sale," Yates said. Those prices have not been released yet.

Volume buyers at the Ozona Wool and Mohair sale were: Provoust, Lefebvre and Co. Inc. of Brady, 50,000 pounds 12-month; Pendleton Woolen Mills of Pendleton, Oregon, 43,000 pounds; Burlington Industries Wool Co., Clarksville, VA, 14,000 pounds; and A. H. Helmig and Co. Inc. of San Angelo, 5,000 pounds.

Top buyer of the 8-month wool was Ford Oglesby Wool and Mohair, Inc. of Eldorado, 8,000 pounds; Pendleton, 2,500 pounds; Provoust, 2,000 pounds; Forte, Dupee, Sawyer and Co. of Brady, 1,000 pounds.

Galindo chosen for All-region

by T. C. Tucker STOCKMAN SPORTS

Senior Oscar Galindo recently received selection to The Texas Basketball Coaches Association's All-Region Team for his efforts during the 1988-89 basketball season.

Galindo, a scoring and defensive leader for the Lion squad, made the selection as a third-team member.

"I was surprised," Galindo said. "I'm glad I was able to end my senior year on a good note."

Galindo has spent his high school career involved in both football and basketball.

"I've accomplished more than I thought I ever would," he said. "Although I wish we could have made it farther in the basketball playoffs this year."

The Lions won district and bi-district titles for the third year in a row but came up short in the area playoff game with Bangs.

"I'd like to thank my teammates for making it a great year," Galindo noted, "and all my coaches for a successful high school career."

Retirement party honors Alvarez

Co-workers and county officials joined in honoring Arnulfo Alvarez last week upon his retirement from Crockett County Road Department.

Alvarez has worked for the department for 16½ years without a day's absence. A plaque and watch were presented to Alvarez by Judge Kathryn Mayfield and commissioners Chuy Castro and Janet Hill on behalf of Crockett County. Alvarez was also given his final time card as a memento.

The Ozona native of 65 years began work for Crockett County Aug. 1, 1972. "I'm going to miss everyone," says Alvarez who plans to begin his retirement with a fishing trip to San Angelo.

Alvarez expressed his appreciation for the party and for the gifts. "He is very happy that everyone treated him well all those years," said daughter Mary Cuellar who attended the party with her father.

Arnulfo and Isidra Alvarez are the parents of Mary Cuellar, Joey Alvarez and David Alvarez of Ozona. Other children of the family are Victor Gutierrez, also of Ozona, Sally Borrego of Dallas, Irma De La Rosa of San Angelo and Gustavo Ortiz of California.

The couple has 14 grandchildren.

Arnulfo Alvarez retired from Crockett County Road Department last week after 16½ years' work with no absences. Judge Kathryn Mayfield presented Alvarez with a watch and plaque.

Committee never voted on prison proposal says judge

A committee selected to consider the pros and cons of having a detention center in Crockett County never took a vote when reaching its decision to recommend dropping the proposal, says Judge Kathryn Mayfield. The 3-2 vote to scrap the proposal reported in the March 29 issue of The Stockman did not happen, Mrs. Mayfield said Wednesday.

The judge explained that she had asked the committee for a recommendation during a meeting the previous week. That recommendation will be presented to commissioners at their regularly scheduled meeting April 10.

The committee consists of Mayfield, Commissioner Sostenes De

Hoyos, J. B. Miller, Drake McKinney, Dan Pullen and J. D. Brown. Brown's name was not included in the March 29 story.

An offer by Crockett Detention Center Inc. to put in escrow $700,000 to assure that the county would be out no money for payments was made during open session at a called court meeting, Commissioner Janet Hill said Wednesday. According to Mrs. Hill, CDC representative John Nevill made the statement during an evening meeting which drew a vocal, standing room only crowd to the district courtroom.

The March 29 Stockman story reported that no public offer to shoulder the entire annual payment had been made until Nevill brought it up at a water board meeting.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, which normally fares very well, is not having a good legislative session.

Every other week or so, it seems, some negative aspect involving the agency surfaces for lawmakers and reporters to see, and park officials must scramble to control damage.

Last week, its chairman, Chuck Nash of San Marcos, said he wants lawmakers to change game stocking guidelines. This happened only a couple of weeks after questions arose whether he and other officials, Speaker Gib Lewis included, received favorable treatment at taxpayers' expense.

At about the same time, another agency official said he is innocent of alleged unlawful hunting in New Mexico. He was the net gunner on a helicopter chasing antelope when the aircraft allegedly crossed the state line.

At a time when budget writers are serious enough to scrap funds for the Texas Racing Commission, the parks agency doesn't need any more bad press about unbridled behavior.

Lewis Sues Fencecutter
Meanwhile, Speaker Lewis, who has drawn fire for stocking his ranches with game at taxpayers' expense, is embattled in lawsuits with a neighbor over his game-proof fence.

County well levels up over the year

During the month of March, personnel of the Texas Water Development Board, as part of the board's legislatively mandated ground-water data collection activities, measured water levels in 13 wells in Crockett County. These wells are completed into the Edwards and associated limestones and showed an average water-level rise of 1.61 feet over measurements taken one year ago.

The Texas Water Development Board maintains a network of water-level observation wells throughout the state which are visited annually to secure a water-level measurement. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Wesley McCoy at (512)445-1420 or writing to the Texas Water Development Board at P.O. Box 13231, Austin, Texas, 78711.

County. Fluid will be injected into strata in the subsurface depth interval from 1627' to 1882' feet.

LEGAL AUTHORITY: Chapter 27 of the Texas Water Code, as amended, Title 3 of the Natural Resources Code, as amended, and the Statewide Rules of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Requests for a public hearing from persons who can show they are adversely affected, or requests for further information concerning any aspect of the application should be submitted in writing, within fifteen days of publication, to the Underground Injection Control Section, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas, Drawer 12967, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 [Telephone 512-445-1373].

The neighbor said Lewis built the fence on his land and it cuts him off from a small creek. The speaker filed suit to stop the neighbor from cutting the fence, allowing valuable exotic game to escape.

State Bingo Commission
House Ways and Means members debated a controversial bill creating a state bingo commission sought by Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Bullock said his agency can audit bingo parlors, but cannot investigate or enforce gambling laws.

Proponents say the large bingo corporations are forcing out non-profit operators. Opponents contend it would lead to uninformed cops in the church hall.

Legislative Action

The House approved legislation backed by the governor and teacher groups allowing teachers to retire early and improve pension benefits.

Teachers whose age and experience total 85 could retire without loss of benefits.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Jack Rains, a Republican, told the Elections Committee the state could save $4 million per statewide election by combining Democrat and Republican polling places like other states. Democrats testified against Rains' plan.

House budget writers added $197 million to the human services agency but rejected another $177 million for welfare benefits.

They also tagged $22.5 million for AIDS services, $30 million less than the Senate approved the day before, and Corpus Christi Rep. Eddie Cavazos complained, "It seems like every time we turn around, we're throwing more money at AIDS."

House appropriations chairman Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield, predicted Gov. Bill Clements will break his pledge and not veto a new tax on cigarettes.

The Senate passed a bill to reorganize the Houston Metropolitan Transit Authority, and another to raise the cap to 30 percent on some cash loans from finance companies.

Other Highlights

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who broke his ankle skiing over the Easter holidays, was ribbed by senators who called him "Gov. Hobbie."

"I really know how it feels to be a lame duck," he quipped back.

Hobby's press secretary, Glenn Smith, was confronted by Attorney General Jim Mattox in Capitol halls and warned that Smith and anyone else who sides with Treasurer Ann Richards against Mattox in the '90 governor's race will incur Mattox' wrath over the long term.

Prison overcrowding remains a problem. Gov. Clements invoked the Prisons Management Act, giving 30 days early release for inmates with earned good time.

The governor also said he will meet publicly with the Public Utility Commission if he decides to seek clarification over its lowering of rates for GTE. GTE wants a rehearing.

Meanwhile, a private firm's recommendation that PUC members be allowed to privately discuss cases drew fire from state Sen. Chet Edwards as "absolutely traveling down the wrong road." The firm also recommended the number of commissioners be increased from three to six.

State Rep. Patricia Hill, R-Dallas, said she will formally announce in June her candidacy for attorney general.

The Texas Supreme Court gave District Judge Jack Hampton two weeks to answer Dallas lawyers petitioning his removal for his remarks on why he gave a lighter sentence to a man convicted of murdering homosexuals.

The Veterans Land Board is expected to raise interest rates slightly following a bond sale in mid-April. Current rate is 8-3/4 percent.

Snips, Quips & Lifts

by Lottie Lee Baker

What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us.

Many people doubt their ability, but few have any misgivings about their importance.

Skiing may be a winter activity, but some think of it as a fall sport.

If you must drink while driving, drive a nail. Then the only thing you'll hit is your finger.

It is not only what you do but what you don't do, for which you are accountable.

Don't forget that people will judge you by your actions, not your intentions. You may have a heart of gold - but so does a hard-boiled egg.

Think right, act right; it is what you think and do that makes you what you are.

It might be more worthwhile if we stopped wringing our hands and started ringing our congressmen.

Good ideas need landing gear as well as wings.

Leisure is a beautiful garment, but it will not do for constant wear.

All progress is due to those who were not satisfied to let well enough alone.

The world we live in is old-fashioned. It still judges a man by what he does.

The triumphal song of life would lose its melody without its minor keys.

Usually it is on the detours that we pick up the tacks.

Do you realize we're living in a time when almost everybody reads a newspaper, and the only thing they believe are the ads?

To profit from good advice requires more wisdom than to give it.

Old age is that period when a person is too old to take advice but young enough to give it.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK
We make our future by the best use of the present.

Baptist host Healing Touch Revival

Bill and Jimmie Lindley are holding revival services this week at First Baptist Church in Ozona. Bill and Jimmie are from Portland and have been in full-time evangelism for the past five years. Prior to that, Bill worked for oil companies and served as a bi-vocational minister of music.

Today, April 5, will be the last meeting of a noon Bible study. Lunch will be served beginning at 11:45 a.m. with the Bible study beginning at 12:15 p.m. "We invite you to come and join us," said Pastor Jim Gray. A nursery will be provided.

Revival services continue Wednesday and Thursday nights beginning at 7 p.m. "We will recognize the children and children's workers in Wednesday's service, and Bro. Bill will be preaching on 'Prayer'. Thursday night his message is titled 'The Boone and Crockett Club'." A nursery is provided.

Thursday night is "Bring-A-Friend" night and will be followed by a sandwich fellowship.

Friday night will be just for the youth, and they are calling it "No Adult Night" (except for sponsors, of course). There will be games and pizza, and Bill will share with the youth "Life's Two Important Questions". "You are cordially invited to come, and you just might receive a 'healing touch'," said Rev. Gray.

Plant summer tolerant annuals now

William C. Welch,
Landscape Horticulturist

Texans are fortunate in having a number of flowering annuals available now that will withstand our hot and dry summers. Many garden centers and nurseries have plants available of marigolds, zinnias, periwinkles, cleome, portulaca, gloriosa daisies and globe amaranth. Quick effect may be obtained by setting out these plants immediately although all of them may also be started from seed at this time. All the plants mentioned will tolerate full sun if provided reasonably fertile, well-drained soil and sufficient moisture.

For shaded areas, choose from impatiens, begonias, caladiums or coleus. All these are available in a variety of foliage or flower colors to suit most any scheme. Begonias, impatiens, and coleus may be easily rooted from 3- to 4-inch cuttings placed in moist sand or a mixture of half sand and half sphagnum peat moss.

Moonflowers and morning glory vines may be planted from seed now and provide shade and flowers later in summer when grown on trellises or arbors. Castor beans will provide huge masses of tropical foliage in green, bronze or purple with minimum effort. It should be remembered that castor beans and the plant are poisonous if eaten.

Summer is a time for enjoying the landscape. By carefully selecting and placing colorful, easy to grow annual flowers, we can make our outdoor areas more attractive and still have plenty of time to relax and enjoy the season.

GARDEN CHECK LIST

1. Check with your county agent for the average last killing freeze date for your area. Killing freezes can occur after this date but seldom do.

2. Select and order caladium tubers as well as geranium and coleus plants for late April and early May planting. Do not plant caladiums until soil temperature reaches 70 degrees F.

3. As camellia and azalea plants finish blooming, fertilize them with three pounds of azalea-camellia fertilizer per 100 square feet of bed area. Check mulch on azalea and camellia beds and add where needed.

4. Beware of close-out sales on bare-root trees and shrubs. The chance of survival is rather low on bare-root plants this late in the season. Your best bet at this time of year is to depend on container-grown or balled-and-burlapped plants for landscape use.

5. Plant dahlia tubers in fertile, well-drained soil.

6. Select and order caladium tubers as well as geranium and coleus plants for late April and early May planting. Do not plant caladiums until soil temperature reaches 70 degrees F.

New star program to be presented at ASU Planetarium known as Stonehenge and the building and astronomical alignment of the pyramids of ancient Egypt."

The Angelo State University Planetarium is one of the largest and most technically sophisticated university planetariums in the nation.

The ASU Planetarium is located in the Nursing-Physical Science Building, near the corner of Johnson and Vanderventer Streets.

Victory

By Rev. Connie Marroquin
Church of God of Prophecy

worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

To David, the Lord was his victory. We also must love Jesus, not reject Him, receive Him as our Saviour, not turn Him away. We must look for that inner beauty through prayer and reading His word. When Jesus gloriously rose from the grave He became our redeemer. He is Lord of Lords, and some day soon every knee shall bow before Him and every tongue confess His name. He is the most precious man that ever walked this earth. God bless you.

Are you eligible for SSI?

Are you in financial need and age 65 or older? Maybe you are eligible for monthly Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments. This is a Federal program that makes cash payments to persons in financial need who are aged, blind, or disabled.

If you are a blind person whose vision is less than 20/200 with the use of correcting lens in the better eye, or you have tunnel vision or 20 degrees or less, you should apply for SSI payments if you don't own much or have much income. There is no minimum or maximum age limit for blind or disabled people.

If you are unable to engage in substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental impairment that can be expected to last at least 12 months, or can result in death, you should apply for SSI payments. This program makes monthly payments to disabled persons regardless of age. A child under age 18 is eligible if he or she suffers from an impairment comparable to one which would prevent an adult from engaging in substantial gainful activity.

SSI is administered by the Social Security Administration and is financed from the general funds of the U.S. Treasury, not from the Social Security or Medicare trust funds. Applications for SSI are handled by Social Security offices.

There are rules to know if a person or a couple is in "financial need". For example, an eligible individual or couple cannot have countable income in excess of the maximum SSI payment for individuals or couples. In 1988, the payment for an individual is $354 a month and for a couple, $532.

Some might get less than the maximum if they have income from other sources, and some might get more if their States add money to the Federal payment.

We consider as income a Social Security check, any salary, pensions, or any money received, as well as housing, clothes, and food paid by another person in your behalf. If you are a single person and your income is less than $354 a month or if you are married and your income is less than $532 a month, some SSI money may be paid.

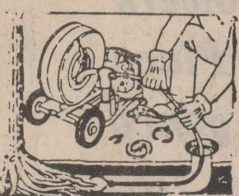

In addition to the income limitation, an individual cannot have resources in excess of $1,900 and a couple cannot have resources of more than $2,850. These limits rise to $2,000 for an individual and $3,000 for a couple in 1989. Resources are mainly savings and checking accounts, bonds, stocks, life insurance, a car in certain situations, real and personal property. Funds set apart to be used for the funeral and burial of an individual and his or her spouse are limited to $1,500 each.

Not all income and resources are counted. There are some exclusions and exemptions that reduce the countable earned or unearned income and resources used to determine both eligibility and the amount of SSI payments.

So, if you are a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence and you think you are not eligible for SSI payments because of your income or resources, get in touch with a Social Security office. Ask them to explain the income and resource rules. They will be glad to tell you whether you are eligible for supplemental security income.

Arizona officer shot while on duty

Willis H. Gravel, police detective in Oro Valley, Arizona, was fatally shot last week by a man he had stopped, officials said.

Gravel, son of Madge Williams of Ozona, was pronounced dead about 30 minutes after radioing for assistance because he was stopping an illegal alien who was apparently on foot. The officer had been shot twice in the chest, and his pistol was lying near the body.

A search of the area conducted by 25 officers was without success. Pima County detectives are continuing their investigation of the shooting, which occurred in a secluded parking lot at a Coronado National Forest trail head. The shooting scene is just outside the entrance to an exclusive sub-division of single-family houses, according to reports.

Gravel, who had worked in law enforcement for 25 years, was the first Oro Valley officer to die on duty in the department's 15 years. He had been there two years after moving from Alpine.

More than 350 federal and local law enforcement officers from southern Arizona, friends and relatives paid their respects at a memorial service at Sun City Vistoso's Mountain View Recreation Center. The March 31 service was preceded by a police motorcade.

During his years in law enforcement, Gravel had worked in Texas, Colorado and Arizona. He was a Navy veteran, serving aboard submarines.

Gravel, who was born in Uvalde Aug. 24, 1939, was buried at Alpine where he grew up. Participating in the Alpine service were former sheriff Billy Mills, Deputy Harvey Hill, Deputy Tommy Wooten and DPS Trooper, Ben English of Ozona.

Gravel is survived by his wife, Kathy, who is also employed with the Oro Valley police department; two sons, Bill Gravel Jr. of Lakewood, Colorado, and Matthew Gravel of Las Vegas, Nevada; his mother, Madge Williams of Ozona; his father, Willis Gravel of Uvalde; and two sisters, Dottie Elrod of Fort Worth and Linda Medley of La Pryor.

Spring winds gusted from 33 to 46 miles per hour at Ozona Municipal Airport Tuesday morning according to airport manager Mary Jo Hearne.

Contrary to the expected, April did not come in like a lamb.

Ladies take lead in golf play

by Copie Davis
STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Ozona Lady Lion Golf team all but clinched a spot in the regional tournament last Thursday by firing a 400 on the McCamey Country Club golf course and taking a 17-shot lead over Stanton in the third round of District 6-2A play.

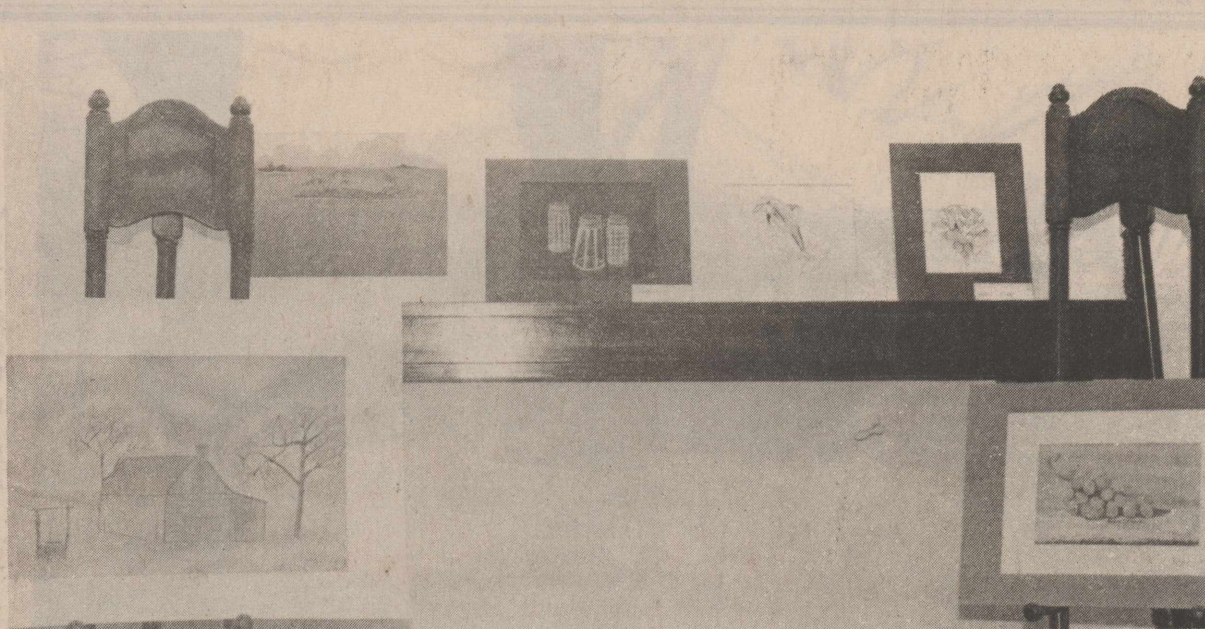

Led by district medalist leader Gina McCollum, the Lady Lions shot their best score of the season and at the same time increased their advantage over the Lady Buffalos by nearly 20 shots.

McCollum solidified her place as the best golfer in the district with a sizzling 81. Right on her heels was Julie Carson who cranked out a barnstorming 91.

Missy Bishop continued her rock solid play by posting a smooth 117. Ozona's final score was a 117 turned in by Christy Cotton. The Lady Lions' fifth player, Terel Seahorn, shot 131.

Following Ozona in the team standings were Stanton with 407 and McCamey with a 422.

In the overall standings, Ozona leads with Stanton in second and McCamey in third.

The OHS art class instructed by Bob Wallace will have a different exhibit each week during April at the public library. Shown on the mantel are works by Cody Sutton, Scotty Burks, Jimmy McCary and Robin Myers. To the left of the fireplace is a chalk drawing by Harvey Dominguez. Bianca Cervantez' watercolor of grapes is also shown.

Other students exhibiting this week are: Robin Pesson, Marisa

Vargas, Alice Borrego, Tondra Hensley, Bryon Dunn, Stacy Berry, Bryan Hensley, Zuelma Gonzales, Dottie Gonzales, Alex Sanchez and Aristeo Duenes.

Lion netters have good showing at Mason

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Ozona Lion netters experienced new faces and gained confidence last weekend at the Mason Invitational Tennis Tournament in preparation for this week's district tourney.

The Mason event sported "A" and "B" divisions. Three Lion netters, the doubles duo of Travis Burks and Tommy Tucker and Summer Shacklette, participated in the "A" division.

Shacklette lost her first-round match in a tough three-setter 7-5, 2-6, 3-6. Burks and Tucker reached the quarterfinals where they fell 5-7, 3-6 to the eventual champions.

"Travis and Tommy played some of their best tennis especially in their loss," Coach Jerry Tucker said. "This allowed them to see how far they can go if they'll just play and have the determination."

In boys' singles, Scotty Burks powered his way into the second round where he survived a three-setter 3-6, 7-6, 7-6. In the third round, Burks came up short against district rival Steven Flores of Reagan County.

"Scotty won though and displayed character in winning two 7-6 sets," Coach Tucker pointed out.

Cody Morris, playing "improving tennis", reached the third round before succumbing to Clint Askins, also of Reagan County.

Elvia Vasquez cruised through her first-round match 6-3, 7-6, but lost her ensuing match. Ami Sewell did likewise, claiming a three-set victory, then losing to the girl who later won the event.

Elvia played well and gained some confidence that will help her at district," Tucker said.

Katie Sellers and Stacie Winkley won their opening match 6-3, 6-4, then had their next foe down 5-7, 6-2, 5-3, before retiring due to conflicts with academic competition.

"Katie and Stacie won close and gained momentum that should help them in district."

The other doubles duo, Jennifer Colin and Janet King, lost their first-round match after a see-sawing three setter, 4-6, 6-1, 3-6. Gary and Joe Perez, boys' doubles duo, also lost their opening match.

"Mason was a good warm-up tournament for district," Tucker noted. "I hope fans will come over and support us at Big Lake."

The district tournament will be held this Thursday and Friday, April 6 and 7, with action beginning at 9:00 am both mornings. The top two finishers in each event will continue play at the regional level.

Lion tracksters compete at Angelo, McCamey

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Ozona Lions tracksters sported a partial team at last weekend's San Angelo Relays while the rest of the crew participated in McCamey's Badger Relays.

Although Ozona only placed 15 at the Angelo meet, their comparative times put them at the top of times at the McCamey event.

Luis Rico tallied times of 10:58.12 in the two-mile and 5:03.77 in the mile to finish third and fourth respectively.

Pablo Talamantez finished sixth in the two-mile with a time of 11:20.0, as Mark Ramirez echoed in the mile with a time of 5:05.25.

Ruben Borrego rounded out the Lions' placing as his 55.12 in the 400m run earned him sixth place.

At McCamey, Ozona collected 60 points to place fourth in overall team standings.

Individual highlights included Mingo Perez' first-place finish in the 200m sprint while Luis DeLaGarza followed in second place.

Martin Urbina paced his way to third-placings in the 800m and mile runs with times of 2:13.98 and 5:18.48 respectively.

Ricky Burger took third in the 400m run on a time of 55.27. An unidentified 400m-relay team cruised to a second-place finish in a time of 46.16.

McCamey won the meet with 117 points as Sanderson and Crane's JV followed in second and third.

Lions trail in dsitric golf

The Ozona Lions entered the third round of the District 6-2A golf tournament trailing second place by a reachable 14 strokes. However, after 18 holes of play on the Stanton golf course, the Lions may have lost their chance at the regional tournament.

Ozona's four-player total of 373 was the single worst score a Lion golf team has posted in the last six seasons. It also placed the Lions 39 strokes out of second place.

Ozona's lowest score was carded by Copie Davis who hacked out a 15 over par 86.

Following Davis was the tandem of Shane Pridemore and Daun Williams who both shot rounds of 92.

The Lions' final score was posted by Bryan Hensley whose hot streak of late chilled to a cold-103.

In the medalist race, Davis' 86 left him 244 for three rounds...12 shots from a regional spot; Pridemore dropped from a tie for fifth to sixth place, and Hensley dropped out of the top 10.

McCamey's Tim Segura still leads at 224, and Forsan's Bryan Stone stands second at 232.

In team standings, McCamey and Stanton are neck and neck in first and second with Ozona a distant third.

Ladies take 4TH at McCamey

by T. C. Tucker
STOCKMAN SPORTS

Despite a team of only five girls, the Lady Lion track team raced to four first placings, tallied 78 points and finished fourth overall at last weekend's McCamey Badger Relays.

Kristina Martinez and Maria Sanchez highlighted Ozona's performance in a meet that saw new challenges and accomplishments for the Lady team.

Martinez leapt four feet, 10 inches to capture first place in the high jump. She complemented with a first-placing 2:42.24 in the 800m run.

Martinez also finished third in the triple jump by attaining a distance of 30'9 1/2".

Sanchez kept to her winning streak in the one and two-mile runs with times of 5:48.65 and an improving 12:43.53 respectively.

Freshman Tamel West showed continual promise in her talents as she participated in the 100m hurdles for the first time and came away with a second-place finish.

West claimed fourth in both the long and high jumps as well.

Another freshman, Susan Pullen, used her speed to clock a fourth-placing 13.79 in the 100m dash.

Pullen, West, Martinez and Sanchez teamed together to produce the third placing mile-relay and fifth placing 800m relay teams.

"I was very pleased at finishing fourth with only five girls," Coach David McWilliams said. "We had some people try some new things and improve their times."

Don't be misled by the new estate tax law.

A lot of people are going to be disappointed because they think the new, more liberal tax law will solve all their estate problems. It won't. Larger estates will face estate tax rates of up to 50%. And, with inflation, many smaller estates may actually owe the tax man as much as before.

Life insurance can guarantee the cash to ease the blow. As your New York Life Agent, I'll work with you, your lawyer, and accountant to make sure your family and estate are protected.

4-H members leaders enjoy busy Saturday

It was trash, burgers and boats on April Fool's Day for 61 4-H members, leaders, parents and guests at the first annual Field and Stream Boating Safety Field Day.

The group journeyed to their stretch of highway for a quick clean-up to begin the fun. 4-H'ers stayed busy for a couple of hours picking up such items as 30 paint cans with paint in them, mufflers, underwear, six oil filters, a shooting target - and the rest of somebody's clothes - pants, shirt and cap.

Following the pick-up, a hamburger lunch with all the trimmings was served, and an educational program on boating was presented by Field and Stream leaders.

PPCFIA added to test list

The particle concentration fluorescence immunoassay test (PCFIA) was added to the list of official brucellosis tests earlier this year.

"The PCFIA test will be the screening test for program herds: adjacent, trace-back, quarantined and postquarantined herds," said Billy Reagor, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Veterinarians or inspectors' market samples disclosed to be positive by the rapid screening test (RST) will undergo PCFIA testing if discrepancies occur, he said.

"Inspectors will draw an additional specimen from all Card positive market cattle, including those from quarantined herds, to be PCFIA tested," he said.

Private test specimens, for change of ownership, shows and interstate movement will be screened by the RST and will undergo PCFIA testing if discrepancies are disclosed, the agent said.

4-H Council retreat held at Prude Ranch

The District 6 4-H Council and 4-H Adult Leaders' Spring Retreat was held at Prude Ranch near Fort Davis on April 1 and 2.

The leaders held their regular spring meeting, and the 4-H Council received training in leadership in addition to their meeting. The Williams taught the youth outdoor skills which included: setting up a tent, packing a back pack, type of food, medicine, back packing and hiking.

FFA judging teams compete in San Angelo

Ozona High School's FFA livestock judging team placed first in the sheep portion of the contest April 1 at Angelo State University. The team ranked sixth over all.

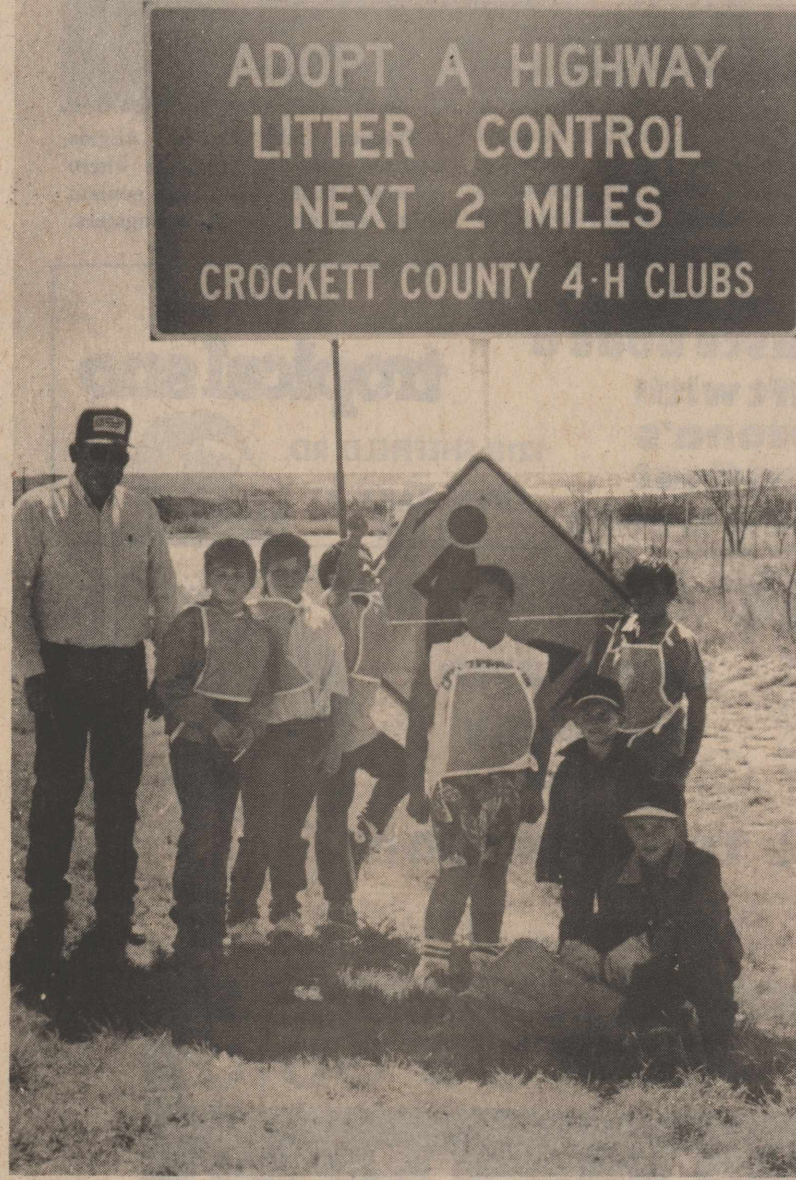

Shane Cooper was eighth high individual. Keith Fowler placed nine points behind Cooper. Other team members are Clay Harris and Tooter O'Bryant.

The wool team placed fifth over all with Andy Stokes as third high individual for the contest. Other team members are Randy Judd and Chris Denman.

All of the judging teams are going to take this weekend off to get ready for area contest in Lubbock April 15, said ag teacher Brent Pool. Ozona teams that will compete in Lubbock are livestock, wool and ag mechanics.

"I think all these teams have a good shot at qualifying for the state contest," said Pool.

The range and pasture teams will also compete in Lubbock before going to the state contest in Stephenville April 20.

Ricky Bishop was one of many adult 4-H leaders assisting 4-H Club members during their trash pick up Saturday.

Starting a low cholesterol diet

If you've been advised by your doctor to begin a low-cholesterol diet, don't panic. There are many sources for getting the dietary information you need.

You can start right here at the county Extension office. We have nutrition information and preparation tips for limiting fat in your diet. You can learn more about kinds of fats in different foods and how to select foods wisely to ensure a heart-healthy diet.

Here are some general guidelines to help you get started on a low-cholesterol diet.

To cut down on fat and cholesterol in animal products, buy lean cuts, remove all visible fat, and prepare them without adding fat.

Remember the key to lowering cholesterol and saturated fatty acids is selecting a well-balanced diet with less fat, especially saturated fat.

For more information on fat in your diet, why not join us for the Progressive Extension Homemakers meeting on Thursday, April 13, at noon in the Civic Center? The program is "Be Fit, Not Fat", and we'll look at ways to remove fat from our diets and - hopefully - lose a little weight in the process.

So come and enjoy a good program, fellowship and learn something that can help you live a healthier life. Bring a friend and a sack lunch - drinks are furnished.

Call the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721 for more details or other information relating to food and nutrition. We're located in the County Courthouse Annex on the second floor.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Students placing first, second or third at district qualify for the regional meet in Abilene the last week of April.

The students earned 10 first places, qualified five for regional with second places and three with third places.

Jennifer Colin won second place in the district poetry competition, and Stacie Winkley placed fourth. Winkley was the fifth ranking competitor in literary criticism.

Cullen Curry's third place win in news writing gave Ozona the top three spots in that event.

Representing Ozona with a fourth place win in prose was Summer Shacklette. Shannon Curry earned a fourth place in accounting; fifth places were added by Rosie Gonzales, informative speaking, and Michael Vasquez, persuasive speaking. Danny Vasquez placed sixth in typewriting.

4-H Field and Stream studies boat safety

Sixty-five members and leaders participated in cleaning up the highway Saturday in cooperation with the Great Texas Trash Off. Crockett County 4-H has adopted two miles of Highway 137.

Following the morning's activities of picking up trash, the youth and leaders went to the 4-H show barn for hamburgers and an afternoon field and stream 4-H program.

The afternoon activities were centered around water safety. The group viewed a movie on boating and water safety. Rod Chalmers discussed water safety regulations, and Dee Keilers discussed water safety. Many leaders and parents brought their boats into the barn and explained uses and safety. Boats ranged from canoes and rubber rafts to large outboard fishing and skiing boats.

Eddie Moore headed up the cooking of hamburgers, and the youth were charged $2.00 for the meal.

Card of Thanks

Ozona is the only town in the 3,215 square mile area of Crockett County. The community prides itself on being unincorporated.

Named for Alamo hero Davy Crockett, the county was created by the 14th Texas Legislature in 1875 from Bexar Territory. The county's original boundaries included what is now its area plus parts of Val Verde, Kinney and Edwards counties and all of what is now Sutton and Schleicher counties.

Crockett County became a subsidiary of Val Verde County when it organized in 1885. The law provided that a subsidiary county could only be organized by an election called by the parent county. After a petition was presented to Judge W. K. Jones of Val Verde County on May 11, 1891, he ordered an election to be held July 7, 1891.

On that date, organization of Crockett County was approved and county officers chosen. An election was then held to decide whether the county seat would be Emerald, six miles east of present day Ozona, or the location of the E. M. Powell well.

Emerald had been settled in 1888 and had a school, store and several homes. Ozona was founded in 1891 at the site of a well dug by E. M. Powell who offered land for a courthouse, jail, school and waterworks.

After election results were canvassed by Judge Jones and Ozona declared the winner, citizens of Emerald began to move to Ozona, bringing some of their buildings with them. Emerald House, oldest house in the county, is located at fair grounds park east of Ozona on Hwy. 290. A historical marker tells its story.

The first commissioners' court meeting was held in a tent under a live oak tree near Powell well. Today the tree stands in the yard at the First Baptist Church parsonage on Ave. D with a plaque to commemorate its place in the history of the community.

A frame courthouse was built shortly after the organization of the county. Materials for its construction were hauled by wagon from San Angelo, 80 miles away. That building served as a courthouse until the present limestone building was completed in 1902.

Crockett County Public Library

Crockett County Public Library opened in November of 1985 after 19 years as an adult reading section in the high school library.

From its humble beginnings in 1966 when school librarian, the late Miss Mildred North, began receiving county funds to provide books for the public at the high school, the public library has expanded to its present 11th Street location.

The two-story Spanish style structure was donated to the county for a library in 1984. Making a gift of the former Perner home to the county were: Pauline Perner Montgomery of Ozona, Elizabeth Perner Wilson of Odessa, P. C. Perner of Lubbock and Mary Perner Daniels of Atlanta, GA.

A library board was established in 1982 to develop plans for a public library, but nothing came of proposals to build a library or a museum-library complex.

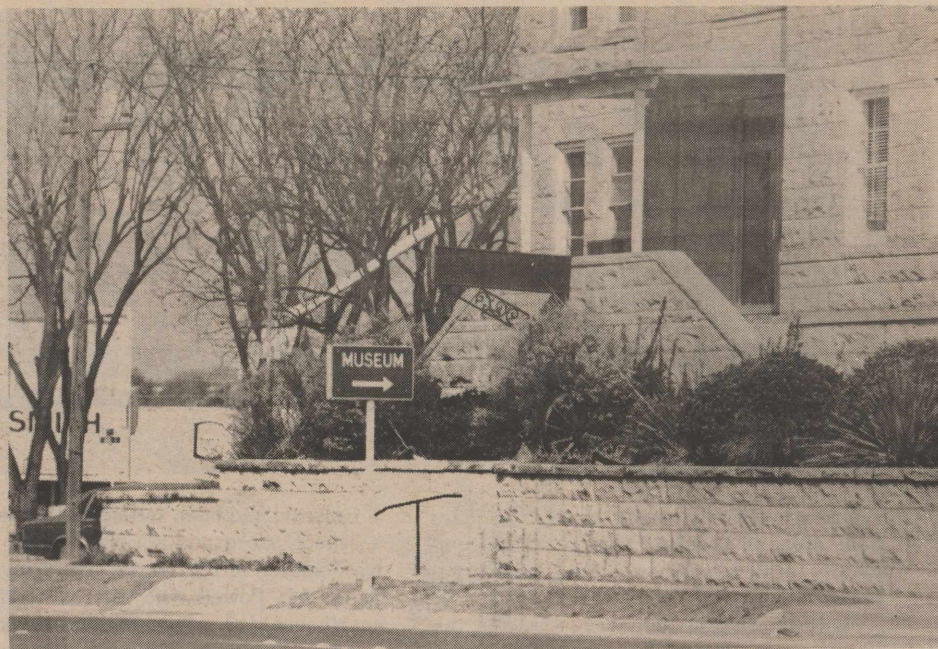

By the time the public library was opened, the adult library room at the high school had grown to include 4,000 volumes.

The impressive facility includes a reference library, interlibrary loan service, film and tape service, reading room, children's room, fiction and non-fiction rooms and an upstairs meeting room.

Many of the furnishings were provided through memorial donations. The Friends of the Library organization has made many improvements possible. The library has available to the public a copier, laminating machine and microfiche.

An Artist of the Month program at the library features works by local and regional artists.

Crockett County Public Library is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Friday and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

Crockett County Museum contains a wealth of antiquities dating back hundreds of years. The museum is open free of charge from 2 until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Crockett County Museum

Crockett County Museum features a large exhibit focusing on the life on Indians who inhabited the area. The exhibit contains artifacts documented from the 10,000-year-old Paleolithic Period. The Paleo period from 10,000 to 6500 B.C. was followed by early, middle and late archaic periods from 6500 B.C. until 500 A.D.

Modern historic Indians resided in the area from 1492 to 1700. Some Indians were found in Crockett County as late as the 1870's.

The museum's Indian exhibit opened in February of 1986 after much research and planning. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department helped with the planning phase. Research efforts were assisted by The Petroleum Museum of Midland, Texas Highway Department and the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas, Austin.

State Historical Commission personnel spent several days at the museum identifying artifacts.

Among the many Indian artifacts are an early bow and arrow. Another weapon displayed is the replica of an atlatl, which was used to propel rocks.

Early tribal residents of Crockett County were Jumanos and Coahuiltecans. Lipan Apaches and Comanches came to the area later.

Other rooms of the museum contain displays of items used by early day settlers and a gift shop.

Crockett County Museum had its early beginnings in a third floor room at Ozona

High School set aside for that purpose by C. S. Denham. After he left Ozona, the museum became the responsibility of the Crockett County Historical Society.

Eventually, space was provided in the courthouse annex. Setting up of the museum began in September of 1958 through the efforts of volunteers.

The museum is open Monday through Friday from 2 until 5 p.m. Admission is free.

Old Fort Lancaster

Fort Lancaster was established in 1855 by the First U. S. infantry. Two companies of soldiers were housed at the fort which had 25 buildings.

The fort became a stopping point on the Southern Overland mail run from San Antonio to San Diego. Ruts made by the locked wheels of coaches and wagons can still be seen on a hillside where the decent was made into the valley location of Fort Lancaster.

Immigrants and trail herds destined for the gold fields of California traveled the Chihuahua trail leading through Fort Lancaster, and the U.S. Army's experimental camel caravan to California came through the area in 1855.

The fort was closed when Texas left the Union in 1861. Although it was never fully manned again after that, a small garrison was established there in 1870 and 1871.

Confederate soldiers occupied the fort from late 1861 to April of 1862.

The site where the fort is located was given to Crockett County by the heirs of Alma and Howard B. Cox in September of 1965. The site was developed by the Crockett County Historical Survey Committee through volunteer help until title to the property was transferred to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in April of 1968.

A visitors' center was completed at the site in 1970.

Admission to the fort is free. Located 36 miles west of Ozona, Fort Lancaster is open Wednesday through Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A special event is planned for Saturday, May 13. Fort Lancaster will come alive with frontier soldiers from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Authentically uniformed and equipped volunteers from the Fort Concho 16th U. S. Infantry and Lubbock's 4th Memorial Cavalry will portray frontier soldiers of the late 1800's.

The squads will perform drill and firearms demonstrations, equipment and camp displays, wagon demonstrations and a children's army drill. The soldiers will also practice "running at the heads", a skillful sabre and pistol drill performed from horseback.

No food service is available at the fort. Those planning to attend the soldiers' demonstration may wish to pack a picnic. For more information, call the park at 915-836-4391.

Ruins of old Fort Lancaster conjure up images of military life on the western frontier. U. S. Army soldiers were stationed at the fort from 1855 until Texas left the Union in 1861.

Confederate soldiers occupied the fort from late 1861 to April of 1862. A small garrison was established there in 1870 and 1871.

Fort Lancaster Historic Site is located in Crockett County just off Hwy. 290 36 miles west of Ozona.

Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. Admission to the fort is free.

David Crockett Monument

A memorial to Davy Crockett, a hero of the Battle of the Alamo, stands at the south end of the town square. The large granite statue, made possible by funds from the Texas Centennial Division of the Board of Control, was dedicated in formal ceremonies June 22, 1939.

The statue was erected with a $7,500 remnant of the state's centennial fund.

Granite for the memorial came from the Premier Granite Quarry at Llano. Carving of the memorial, which took almost a year, was done by William McVey of Houston.

The statue was originally scheduled to be erected in Crockett, Texas, but when suitable location was not available there, it was offered to Crockett County and accepted.

Ozona is the only town in the 3,215 square mile area of Crockett County, sixth largest county in the state. The community prides itself on being the largest unincorporated town in Texas.

Economy of the region is based on agriculture and the petroleum industry. Crockett County ranks second in the state in sheep and wool production and tenth in oil production.
