Now that the smoke has settled over the courthouse, I think we can all sit back and wipe the sweat from our brows and be thankful that we as a county at large are not looking at a 20 to 21 year debt with no guaran-

I think everyone agrees that Ozona and Crockett County need a boost, as most areas of Texas do. But, endangering good credit rating by placing the county's name on millions of dollars worth of certificates of participation for 21 years financing a project that could go bust at anytime is just too big a gamble.

The folks here at The Stockman are proud of the new Big 10 Travel Guide that has been published in conjunction with hometown newspapers in Fort Stockton, Junction and Kerrville. We plan to publish the tabloid quarterly in hopes of drawing some of the travelers away from I-10 into our town. So far we have heard nothing but praise. The guide also gives our readers a chance to take a peek at what our neighbors are doing regarding tourism promotion. Maybe we can come up with some new

Road block results in drug bust for two

A road block in Crockett County last week didn't net the suspects officers were seeking. It did, however, result in the arrest of two out of Crockett County Sheriff's Department and Highway Patrol officers set up a road block east of Circle Bar Thursday night after receiving information that a shooting had occured near Junction.

At approximately 8:45 p.m. a 1985 Ford pickup occupied by two males pulled up to the roadblock. Upon approaching the pickup, sheriff's deputies smelled a strong odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle.

Officers found a quantity of marijuana, a handgun and a quantity of pills believed to be a depressant and $10,415.00 in cash.

Grant Jay French, 35, of New Mexico, and Steven M. Ehrler, 37, of Louisiana were arrested and charged with unlawfully carrying a weapon, possession of marijuana, and possession of a controlled substance. The suspects were placed in county jail under $23,000.00 bond each.

Sheriff Jim Wilson and District Attorney J. W. Johnson have begun proceedings in district court to take custody of the money and the Ford

Health Fair set for April 27

It's time to roll up your sleeve and gather up all the kids for the annual Crockett County Health Fair. Slated for Thursday, April 27 from 1 to 7 p.m. at the Civic Center, the fair will feature exhibits and testing from 17 different organizations.

According to Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent-Home Economics, there is no charge to attend the health fair. "Other than one specific test which the Texas Department of Health must charge $3 for, there is no cost. That particular test runs about $36 when your doctor performs it, so there's still a terrific savings," Ulmer noted.

Organizations participating in this year's event include: Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Department of Health (sponsors), Beltone, Angelo Community Hospital, Rivercrest, Crossroads, United Blood Services, Planned Parenthood, Department of Public Safety, GTE, the American Cancer Society, MADD, Crockett County Fair Department, Library, Water Department. Sheriff's Office and EMS, Texas Beef Council, West Texas Utilities, Alcoholics Anonymous and Texas Cradle Society.

In addition to blood typing and testing, United Blood Services will be conducting their regular Crockett County blood drive.

Testing available will include cholesterol testing from both Angelo Community Hospital and the Texas Department of Health, pulmonary function, body fat measurement, and screenings for diabetes, anemia, blood pressure and both skin and oral cancer.

A new addition this year will be a pharmacist on hand to answer fairgoers' questions about prescription and over-the-counter drugs. People can bring in their old prescriptions to see if they're outdated, or bring in new ones for answers they need.

For more information on the health fair, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. The fair is sponsored and coordinated by the Extension Service, the Crockett County Extension Home Economics Committee, and the Texas Department of Health. Extension Home Economics Committee members Tina Moran and Karen Huffman are co-chairmen of the

by Copie Davis STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Ozona Lady Lion golf team received their ticket to the regional tournament last Saturday in Big Lake as they fired a 389 to cap off a district tournament that saw them blow away the field by 54 shots.

For the second year in a row, the Lady Lions can call themselves district champions. Stanton took the second spot; however, they were anything but close to Ozona.

Gina McCollum finished as the district medalist by 31 shots over Stanton's Kelly Glaspie by firing rounds of 45-36 (yes, that's an even-par back nine) for an 81.

Julie Carson, who never shot above 94 all year, posted a 93, which was good enough to take the third medalist spot.

The Lady Lions' third and fourth scores were turned in by Christy Cotton with a 107, and Terel Seahorn with a 108. Missy Bishop followed with a 117.

The Lady Lions' two freshman hopefuls, Marandy Keith and Courtney Childress, both showed marked improvement as "Crash" fired a 127 and Childress posted a 132.

Ozona's next action will be April 27 and 28 at Maxwell Municipal Golf course in Abilene.

Two out-of-state men arrested on charges of possession of marijuana, were riding in a pickup bearing an possession of a controlled substance anti-drug use bumper sticker pro-

and unlawfully carrying a weapon

If your child will be five on or before Sept. 1, 1989, bring him to the Ozona Primary School between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Wednesday, May 3. If your child will be four on or before Sept. 1, 1989, bring him between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on Thursday, May 4.

Please bring your child's birth certificate, shot records, and social security number. These will be needed before he can begin school next fall.

The Crockett County Sheriff's Department and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be offering free finger printing for each child. A photo of your child may be purchased for $1.50 if you would like to have one. These services are not required, but are offered as a service to the parents.

This screening clinic will help you see how well your child is growing and will help you know what you can do to help your child get ready for

Rutherford saves classmate's life

An Ozona High School senior used first aid training Monday to aid a classmate, "probably saving her life," said teacher Opal Mobbs. Wolv Rutherford administered the Heimlich Manuever on cosmetology classmate Missy Bishop when the junior student became choked and collapsed. "He should be commended," said Mrs. Mobbs. "He jumped in there and probably saved her life."

Rutherford had the situation under control when school nurse Lu Ingram arrived on the scene. Mrs. Ingram praised Rutherford for his speed in assisting the stricken girl. "He stayed with her until she was breathing again," Mrs. Ingram said.

Cowboy rides for missing children

A young man named Johnny Granger rode through Ozona Friday after waiting here two nights for the odd April weather to lighten up. He was dressed in traditional cowboy gear. The only unusual item about his rig was a six foot wooden cross hanging across the back of his horse.

Granger's journey began in Call, Texas, and his destination is Phoenix, Airzona. There he hopes to be reunited with his son, who is believed to be a victim of parental kidnapping.

Little Jerett, 3, is reportedly living in a state and federally funded shelter. Granger last saw his wife and child on Jan. 11 before leaving for his construction job. When he returned, they were gone - no note, no explanation, nothing.

Granger felt he had lost everything and professes that his belief in God is the only thing that has saved

After contacting his local authorities, he began to search for his wife and son on his own as well as through agencies that specialize in finding missing children.

Although a Jasper County district court had awarded him legal custody, he spent 43 nerve-wracking days searching without progress until he found the American Association for Lost Children.

"I do hope and pray to find my son," said Granger, but the main goal of my journey is to raise public awareness about missing children... and what can be done to help find them...The Houston-based Association for Lost Children is the only organization that actually goes out and searches for the kids...but funds are desperately needed... "If I could just help one family end the agony of a missing child, then I'll know God helped me make the right decision to take this journey,'

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN-Donning bright plaid coats, lawmakers last week feted Gov. Bill Clements' 72nd birthday, but nothing was louder than his threat to veto a proposed cigarette tax.

Meanwhile, after House liberals stymied a bill to limit the political ambitions of future attorneys general, Clements blasted Attorney General Jim Mattox for touring the grisly Matamoros, Mexico murders scene, implying that it was a ploy for front-page cover-

Clements, now the oldest governor to serve Texas, said the sevencent cigarette tax wasn't needed and vowed to veto it.

House Speaker Gib Lewis and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby supported the new tax, but the governor's stance probably kills the issue.

Sponsors wanted the tax to get $400 million more in matching federal aid for Medicaid, and the Senate had just passed its $46.7 billion budget, which for the first time in anyone's memory, is smaller than the House version.

Clements' veto threat also forced the Senate to reconsider its approval of a $330 million bond program to build new prisons and possibly add $140 million for renovation of the State Capitol.

One month ago, lawmakers were begging the comptroller to release extra money for what they said were needed programs. Elaborate Renovation

Capitol.

The money was found. Now they're on the verge of spending $140 million to totally renovate the

The new prison construction is mandated by a federal court order, while the massive renovation of the Capitol is not. Observers contend talk of the elaborate renovation on the heels of begging for bare bones jeopardizes the credibility of this Legislature.

The Senate is expected to pass a bond package to fund both projects. The House has been inclined to avoid new bonds and use general revenues. Differences remain to be worked out.

House debate on a proposed $46.9 billion budget should begin next week.

Clements Jabs Mattox

Shortly after Mattox appeared on front pages and prime time news spots, Clements indicated Mattox elbowed his way into a Brownsville press conference about the Matamoros ritual murders for political purposes.

Mattox is an unannounced candidate for governor in 1990.

When asked why Mattox was in Brownsville, the governor replied: "I don't know. I don't have any idea. Maybe he's going to go swimming or something, because Mattox' office responded he was invited by the Cameron County sheriff days before the murder scene was discovered.

"It's just one more thing Bill Clements doesn't understand...surprise, surprise," jibed Mattox' press secretary. Another press staffer said.

"Mattox was trying to do this quietly. He wasn't trying to get press out of it." No one, absolutely no one, believed that.

Ironically, Mattox' visit to Matamoros occurred at the same time his allies in the House stalled a bill they labeled "anti-Mattox"

The bill would limit the AG to a single six year term and bar him from holding another political office until two years after quitting that one

The bill's sponsor, Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, denied the bill targets Mattox, who will be long gone by the time it ever becomes law, but said the AG's office has become the most powerful in the state, a political monster which daily faces conflicts of interest. He vowed to come up with the 20 votes needed for passage. Wildlife Overhaul

The embattled Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, reeling from stories of favoritism and illegalities in providing fish and wildlife stock to private citizens, is going to overhaul that program.

The nine-member board will hold public hearings to dispel any impressions that one must be a legislator to qualify for stocking.

The agency has been rocked in recent weeks by a series of revelations of privileges for public officials, including the agency's chairman and House Speaker Lewis, apparently at taxpayers' expense.

50 Percent Funding

Comptroller Bob Bullock said the state should get back to the "50 percent level" of funding local school districts, and that new money for schools should go to poor districts.

Bullock said he does not favor taking from rich districts to give to the poor, the so-called "Robin Hood approach," but he does oppose state increases to rich districts.

"People say this is an ethnic problem, an Hispanic problem. But there are more poor school districts in East Texas and the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex than along the border," he said.

International sorority celebrates 58 years

On April 24, 1989, here in Ozona, the Xi Sigma Omega and Alpha Alpha Mu Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, in concert with 12,500 chapters of 250,000 members throughout the world, will celebrate their Founder's

During the Depression, Walter W.

Ross thought that young women needed more in their lives than work, responsibility, and hardship. He thought a social and cultural outlet was needed and that he was the man to see that it was provided. His efforts brought seven young women in Abilene, Kansas, together on April 30, 1931, to form that sort of organization. Beta Sigma Phi began, and time proved Walter Ross's idea a good one. Because Beta Sigma Phi has continued to meet their needs, on this April 30, Walter Ross will be remembered by this largest Greek letter sorority in the world. Throughout the 58 years of their history, the members of Beta Sigma Phi have enjoyed programs for cultural studies and numerous social events; they had a difference in their lives. As they enjoyed these opportunities for personal growth, they came to devote much of their time and effort to service; they came to make a real difference in the world

A typical year finds the chapters donating over $3 million directly to local charities, reflecting over two million work hours. Early, the chapters created their own international funds for purposes they selected.

Their International Endowment Fund has donated over $2 million to health research groups, to homes for underprivileged children, and to many other worthwhile causes. Through Beta Sigma Phi's International Loan and Scholarship Funds, members and their families receive Basic to Beta Sigma Phi, however, are the socials for its members. One of the most important is their Founder's Day celebration. Each year a theme is selected to both challenge and to exemplify each members. This past year, the theme has been "Pave It With Stars".

The Xi Sigma Omega and Alpha Alpha Mu Chapters will meet on April 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the Ozona Inn of the West to observe Founder's Day. The co-chairmen of the celebration are Jeannie Wellman and Connie Jennings. The mistress of ceremonies for the evening will be Brenda Newton. Others taking part in the program are the members from both local chapters. An invitation is also extended to all past members and those who are on leave, if you plan to attend, please contact either Connie Jennings or Brenda Newton.

Awards will be presented during the evening to outstanding chapter members, recognizing them for their sorority and community work. Some local Beta Sigma Phi projects include: Christmas food baskets for a local family, trash pickup, scholarships and other service projects.

WIC program serves more people

More low-income women, infants. and children who are at nutritional risk will be receiving food assistance and nutrition education in Crockett County this month, as a result of a recent release of federal funds.

Local officials of the Texas Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) are encouraging those who feel they may be eligible to apply for WIC

The clinic is open from 8:00 to 5:00, Monday through Friday. Potential clients can contact the WIC Program at 392-2996 to make an appointment or visit the WIC clinic nearest you. In Ozona, WIC clinic is located at Texas Department of Health, 908 1st Street.

WIC participants receive a monthly supply of nutritious foods such as milk, eggs, fruit juice, ironfortified cereal and iron-fortified infant formula.

Monthly nutrition education classes are also provided so that WIC participants can learn about the relationship between health and good nutrition and how to buy and prepare nutritious meals.

To receive this assistance, participants must have health or nutrition related problems and meet specific low-income criteria.

"Eating a nutritious diet is one of the most important things a pregnant woman can do to help assure a healthy baby, but eating a nutritious diet isn't always as easy as it sounds," according to Ms. Debra Stabeno, Director of the WIC Program in Texas. That is why she is encouraging low-income pregnant and breastfeeding women, infants,

"Some pregnant women simply can't afford a nutritious diet, and many more don't know how to plan one," explained Stabeno. "The consequences of poor prenatal nutrition can be anemia, toxemia, prematurity, low-birthweight infants, complications in delivery, or other maternal or infant illnesses."

The benefits of good prenatal nutrition, achieved through the WIC Program, has been documented in a Barbara Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Martin of Leesville, has been named to the Dean's List for the fall 1988 semester at Texas Lutheran College.

Since the program is delivered through local health care agencies, WIC encourages early and frequent prenatal and child health

Calvary Baptist to host movie "Joni"

An inspirational movie detailing the dramatic story of a young woman's struggle to find a useful life in the wake of a tragic accident which left her handicapped will be shown Sunday night, April 23, at Calvary Baptist Church. The public is invited to attend the 7 p.m. movie.

According to her yearbook, her graduating class at Woodlawn Senior High School in Maryland had voted Joni Eareckson the "Most Athletic" girl in the senior class. She was not only active but outstanding in a variety of sports, including ice hockey, baseball, basketball, and diving. Joni was also an excellent horsewoman, a winner at both trick and show riding. A month after graduation, diving from a raft in the shallow waters of the Chesapeake Bay, she found her world had changed. Her head struck something solid and, in a fraction of a second, she had suffered a broken neck. The film follows Joni's progress from the moment she became a quadriplegic. She survivied the broken neck; she was alive. But she would never walk again, and against that she rebelled with all the quiet rage of her Scandinavian heritage. Every step along the road to recovery was an obstacle she refused to face...until, drawing on her faith in God, she saw a purpose to her existence and began the long, hard fight toward rehabilitation, not always winning, but never

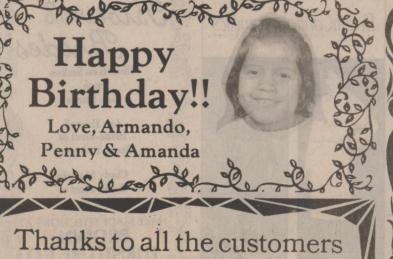

In a powerful and dramatic film, the agonies, achievements, joys and hopes of Joni's experience are shared with the viewer. And the impact of its message is made even more outstanding by the performance of the star of the film: Joni Eareckson portraying herself.

You've got to tell 'em before you can sell 'em, and a STOCKMAN classified tells 'em best.

Form And Function

"Form and Function" is an archibasic premise of the profession of architecture, that a building must have both form and function. It not also it must serve the functional purpose for which it is planned. structure: the science is the workability of the building, the function.

So, too, in building a life, form and function are important. Jesus pointed out the mistake of too much form, tectural phrase that expresses the as in the case of some of the scribes and Pharisees, but he also warned against the imbalance of function, as in the case of Martha, who was so only must have aesthetic appeal, but busy with functional matters that she was unable to enjoy her guest.

care, they grew dull of coat. The wealthy owner called in the king's coachman. He drove them for one month. At the end of the period there was no team of horses in the entire land which carried their heads so high, whose eyes were so fiery, whose pace was so beautiful. No other team of horses could hold out as they did, running even thirty miles without stopping. How could this be?

It is easy to understand. The owner, who was no coachman and who merely played at being coachman, drove the horses according to the horses' conception of how they should be driven. The royal coachman drove them according to a coachman's conception of driving. The rich man saw only the beautiful form of the horses and did not press them into their function. The royal coachman could see that the fine horses would lose their form if they didn't perform their function.

St. Francis of Assisi may serve to put humanity on track with regard to form and function. In his most famous prayer, he states Christian form. "Lord make me an instrument of Your peace." Then, in the rest of the prayer he proposes function. "Where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light, and where there is sadness, joy.'

Ozona in 1916 as I remember it.

by Dean Phillips

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article by Dean Phillips was written depicting Ozona as he remembers it during his early years. He has researched the information and found that his memory is correct in most cases.

For those of us who lived in Barnhart it was school for about nine months with three months during the summer left to hunt rabbits, road runners and killing rattle snakes. There were no picture shows, radios or TVs with which to kill time.

All out-of-town articles used in Ozona were hauled by wagon and horses from Barnhart. Our three wagons were loaded out of box cars and were prepared to go to Ozona during the early morning hours. Loads of wagons were materials to help construct the new telephone office in Ozona plus merchandise for L. B. Cox Store and H. B. Cox Lumber Co.

We left early in the morning and arrived at Twin Lakes by sunrise. The next stop was Double Mills (two windmills near Buckhorn Draw). Horses were watered and fed while we had a prepared lunch. The next stop was at McNutt Ranch for the night as the teams were tired. Early the next morning we traveled south past Baggett Lane, and we soon saw

To the best of my memory I'll try to describe things remembered on the east side of Highway 163.

As we came into Ozona the first three houses that were seen were the D. B. Dunlap, Ralph McKinney and the H. B. Cox homes. The next building in route was the Ozona High School from which I later graduated in 1928. At that time most boys dropped out of school as soon as we were large enough to work on ranches, pick cotton or build fences. On the location where the present Ozona High School is there was a frame building which housed the First Baptist Church complete with belfry. I do not recall buildings, if any, located where the old Church of Christ was located.

According to information the large brick building was the first auto agency in town which was owned and operated by Rob and Roy Miller, dealers of Hupmobile. Some of the mechanics employed by Rob and Roy were Mr. Sam Cox and C. J. Watts.

East of the old Hupmobile building is the Preddy Funeral Home which was originally the McMahon Hotel. It was two-story and furnished lodging for salesmen, teachers and athletes of visiting West Texas

Diagonally across the street was Crockett County's first court house which was also a two-story box constructed building which was used until the present rock court house was built.

One of the main attractions during that time was the county park which was enclosed by a lattice work fence. There were a number of mulberry trees and there were a few antelope grazing there. East of the park was the present two-story court house.

On the west of 163 some of the buildings that I can remember were the homes of Floyd Estes, the Monleith home and the present location of A. C. Hoover.

The present location of The Ozona Hotel, the three-story building was occupied by Jack Piner, boot and shoe shop. Jack Piner was an excellent workman; his boots were known over all West Texas. South of the boot shop was the two-story Mammy Kirk Hotel that served traveling people plus a few local folk.

The next building that I can remember was the Soapy Smith Drug Store. It was a good oldfashioned store where the druggist pounded up crystals and mixed water for perscriptions. At that time, Calomel was used by some doctors and by ranchers to kill screw worms in live stock. We survived some of the Calomel doctors!

The old Ozona National Bank building was located just east of Mammy Kirk Hotel, and the L. B. Cox Co. was in the building occupied by Westerman Drug.

According to records, the R. R. Dudley Ford Agency operated in

The Chris Meinecke Store was on 163 west side. His slogan was

"Everything from cheese, crackers and corsets". He also sold fencing, windmills and hardware.

Carmichael - Perner and Co. was located on the corner of 163 and 290 where Watson's Department Store (Ozona Merchantile) is now located. The H. B. Cox Lumber and Building Supply was on 163 west and later became the West Texas Lumber and Fox Worth Lumber Co.

The S. B. (Byrd) Phillips two-story home was located south of the present location of Crockett Automotive parts.

In the south part of town the only businesses that I can remember were Blas Vargas' and Agruierrie stores.

The telephone office, operated by the Bennett family, was under construction with Mr. Walter Kyle Sr. doing most of the construction. There was a meat market operated some where in Ozona by Mr. Bob Cooke. Mr. Cooke made Cooke's barbecue well known in Ozona.

On Highway 290 east there were several buildings and homes including G. L. Bunger's Store (foods) and the homes of Bill West, J. W. and Roy Henderson, P. L. Childress, Floyd Henderson, S. E. Couch, C. C. Montgomery and Judge Charles Davidson.

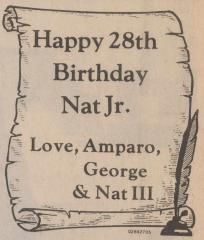

Some Ozona people can remember the "World's Greatest Turpentine Well". It's not in the Guiness Records and I'll not elaborate on it; might embarrass some locals.

On the return trip we loaded three wagons of freshly sheared wool from T. A. Kincaid Sr. Ranch. It seemed most shearing was by crews of Pon Seahorn and Frank Friend.

The estimated population of Ozona at that time was 800-1000. Ozona is a good town; let's help keep it that way!!

Lions capture second at district meet

by T. C. Tucker STOCKMAN SPORTS

The Lion tracksters qualified five members to the regional meet and tallied 86 points to tie with Stanton for second place in the District 6-AA meet held last Saturday, April 15.

Lee Galan, Luis Rico, Jose Gutierrez, Ruben Borrego and Mark Ramirez finished in the top two places of their events to earn their trips to region.

"We had a real good day," Coach Pete Maldonado said. "We set out to attain personal bests from everyone and accomplished this up and down the list.

Don't be misled by the new estate tax law.

A lot of people are going to be disappointed because they think the new, more liberal tax law will solve all their estate problems. It won't. Larger estates will face estate tax rates of up to 50%. And, with inflation, many smaller estates may actually owe the tax man as much as before.

Predator recertification training program set for April 25

A predator management training program will be held at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 25, at the Texas Agricultural Extension Center, 500 North Spring Drive in Fort Stockton.

The session will include instruction on proper identification of causes of predation, alternate methods of predator control, M-44 sodium cyanide applicator certification, and livestock protection collar applicator training.

To continue use of M-44 sodium cyanide after November 1, 1988, all applicators certified before April 18, 1988, must take this course and be recertified. The training leading to M-44 sodium cyanide certification is free and will be concluded at noon. However, to receive M-44 certification, applicators must also acquire a private applicator license, a noncommercial applicator license or commercial applicator license as required to purchase state-limiteduse pesticides.

Those individuals wanting livestock protection collar certification must attend the entire session which will take approximately six hours. The compound 1080 livestock protection collar, which may used on number of theories A have been proposed to explain the disappearance of the dinosaurs.

Some scientists believe that dinosaurs were destroyed in the dusty darkness of a great catastrophy.

According to their theory, a large asteroid collided with the earth. Debris displaced by this disaster blocked the sun's rays from the surface of the earth, causing months of continual darkness. The vegetation on the planet died, leaving the dinosaurs with no source of food.

Other scientists believe that dinosaurs did not die of starvation in the dark; instead, they were mutated into oblivion.

Cosmic radiations caused gruesome distortions in each generation of the giant reptiles, until finally, they were unable to survive.

Another theory even suggests that tiny wormlike dinosaurs into extinction.

ous problems facing the dinosaurs were not even recognized by the scientific community.

Research shows no evidence to prove that the dinosaurs had any regard for the financial fitness of their families. In fact, they didn't even have life insurance.

Dealing with cloudy glasses

Ever feel that surge of disappointment when you take your glasses out of the dishwasher and they look worse than when you put them in? They may be clean--but they're also cloudy

Cloudiness is due to a build-up, a film of matter on the glass, or

To identify the type of cloudiness, try scratching the surface of the glassware with a pin or other sharp object. If the pin scratches off some of the cloudiness, film build-up is the problem.

Or, you can drop vinegar on the glass and rub it with your finger. If the surface is clear when it dries, film build-up is the problem. If the surface of the glass seems pitted or remains cloudy after rubbing with vinegar, the cause of cloudiness is probably etching.

The most common cause of filming--especially in our area--is hard water. Hard water mineral drops dry on the glassware and continue to build up with each dishwashing.

Food films can form on glassware and dishes when hard water minerals combine with protein in the residue of milk, soft-cooked eggs or rare meat. Hot water sets these proteins.

A hard film build-up can be removed by treating with white vinegar rinse followed by chlorine bleach, then another white vinegar rinse in a dishwasher cycle. Commercial products are also available. Remove all metal ware during the

To prevent hardness filming, use softened water or increase the amount of detergent. Using a rinse agent may be all that's needed.

Bike-a-thon planned for May Texas Garden Club has spring meet

Bike-A-Thon coordinator Tina Moran this week asks Ozona residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon slated for May 20 in Ozona:

Tina said this ride honors Brian, a leukemia patient at St. Jude. "With every turn of the wheel, riders become 'spokes' -men for all the kids with cancer, like Brian. This ride is a vital part if the fight against childhood cancer is to be won at St. Jude. Riders are really needed. They make or break a bike-a-thon." Tina said. Riders sign up sponsors who promise to make a donation based on each mile completed. All riders turning in money will receive a certificate. Those who raise $25 receive a certificate and a St. Jude T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a sports bag, a T-shirt and a certificate. Sponsors' forms may be piked up at local businesses.

"The general plan is to have a good time while helping a wonderful group of children counting on our support," Tina said.

Cancer patient nears fourth birthday

Daniel Armijo will celebrate his fourth birthday April 19. Birthdays are special for any child, but even more so for Daniel.

The little boy is a cancer patient, currently taking chemotherapy to complete treatment of a malignant tumor which had been attached to his bladder.

In a few days Daniel's parents will be taking him to Cooke's Children's Hospital in Fort Worth for two days of tests. "If all goes as it has been, we will go back in mid-July to have the tube taken out of his chest and he will be off chemo," said father Duane Armijo. Daniel takes chemo at home for a week, then goes to the hospital in Odessa for a week of treatment, then the cycle begins again, Duane explained.

Since radiation treatment last July, there has been no change in a spot where the tumor had been. "The doctors feel this is just scar tissue where the tumor was attached to his bladder," Armijo said. Happy birthday, Daniel.

Hubbards begin youth rodeo season

Nathan, Marshall and Ashlee Hubbard began the 1989 spring and summer rodeo season with Marshall's recent entry in an AJRA rodeo in Odessa. He earned a fourth place in poles and sixth in breakaway

Marshall won All-Around in Kerrville April 15 by placing first in poles, straight away barrels and steer roping, second in breakaway and third in barrels.

Nathan entered the straight away barrels event and placed third.

The Hubbards were in Rankin Sunday for the first segment of the area series. Marshall again won All-Around, placing first in steer riding and barrels, second in breakaway and third in pole bending.

Nathan captured a first in pole bending and third in barrels while Ashlee placed fifth in pole bending.

The youngsters are the children of Linda and Steve Hubbard.
