Hers

Sometimes all is not what it seems.

If you passed The Stockman office at night a few weeks ago and saw Scotty and Jon doing what appeared to be aerobic exercises or a new dance step, your eyes deceived you.

On two occasions in late summer, we returned from the press room to find a bat zooming about the office. The building seems small until you are trying to tire a bat in order to escort it outside.

Batman would feel right at home in Ozona. Several downtown businesses have the critters as tenants. At just the right time in the evening bats begin to squeak and are soon flitting about the square in search of whatever it is that bats eat. Early in the morning you can watch them make their way homeward for a day of rest.

Some of the bats have fallen victim to patient cats, but enough remain to put one in mind of Batman's hometown Gotham City.

If you've ever referred to "the old bat down at the paper office," you may have been closer to the truth than you realized.

A good friend who is a retired elementary teacher instructed all her students in the importance of saying thank you. No matter how large or small the deed, when someone does anything for you, say thank you, she told her small charges.

Several thank yous are long overdue from this direction.

First of all, there is Sandra Childress who takes almost all of our group sports shots and several other photos during the school year. We don't always remember to put her name with her photos, but she never says a word.

Ditto Neal Ulmer. Neal took all our pictures at the recent 4-H awards banquet, and nary a cutline credit did he get. Thanks, Neal.

The good folks at the Extension Office provide information on activities we don't have time and staff to cover. We can always count on Nancy Hale to appear with the needed articles before deadline.

Thanks go to the many organization reporters who keep us posted on their club's activities. We also appreciate the individuals who share their news.

Thanks also go to those who give us a good dose of constructive criticism from time to time. There's nothing like an irate call from someone who had a bad day to keep you on your toes.

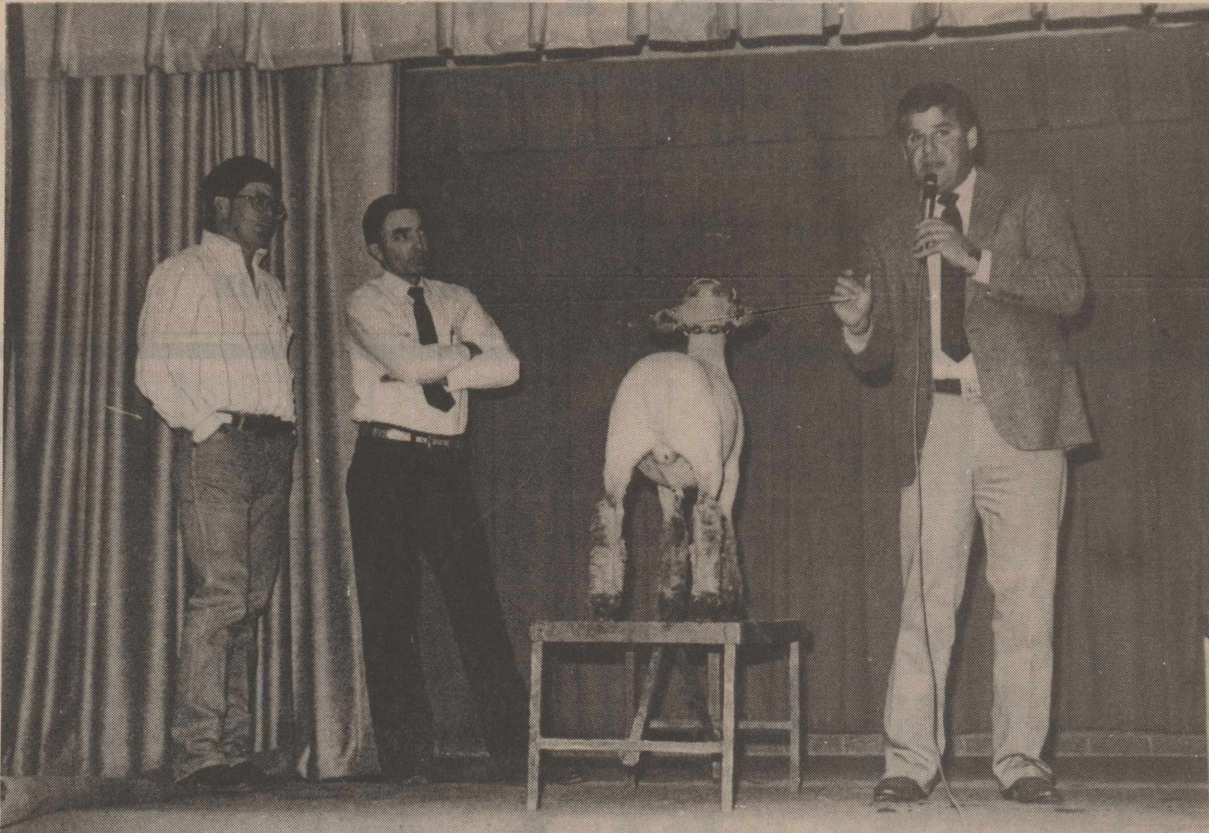

7th grade boys win district title Saturday

Ozona Junior High's boys' cross country team became district champions Saturday in a meet held in Stanton. Rene Tambunga led the team to the top seven places in the division by placing first. Running to the next six places were: Joe Esparza, Tony Valencia, Anthony Sanchez, J. J. Lozano, Mickey White and Griffin Sohl.

David De La Rosa placed first in the eighth grade division. Ozona did not have enough runners for an eighth grade team, but Sammy White and Javier Perez also competed, coming in sixth and ninth, respectively.

Jerri Lynn Tucker, the only junior high girl to run, finished sixth overall in the 7th grade division.

"Congratulations go to the seventh grade boys who are the district champs in cross country," said Coach Pete Maldonado.

Dr. John Edwards, professor and head of Sheep Section Animal Service Department at Texas A&M University discusses evaluating live market lambs in terms of lean lamb production. He stresses the importance of producing these lambs and killing them when they are still lean and will produce a product that is more acceptable to consumer demand. Looking on are Steve Wilkins and Billy Reager, Crockett County extension agent.

Lamb Symposium targets consumer preference

"One of the most outstanding educational activities held in this field in the State of Texas," the Far West Texas Lean Lamb Symposium was termed a success by Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who provided the program summary at the symposium held last Thursday at the Crockett County Civic Center in Ozona.

An excellent crowd was on hand for the event with some 145 persons enjoying the lean lamb meal catered by Fish Powell of Fort Stockton, in addition to some of the most respected and well-known experts in the nation's sheep industry.

The consensus of those experts from the sheep industry were very positive; however, Dr. Gary Smith of Texas A&M's Animal Science Department said, "Consumers do not want fat!" According to Smith, taste is the primary reason consumers select a particular kind of meat, with nutrition/health concerns a close second.

Dr. Dan Hale, meat specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station, said that the industry must change with the demand from consumers.

Demand from merchandisers will also enter influence the future of the industry, Mike Thatcher, meats merchandiser with Kroger Supermarkets in Houston, retails 900,000 pounds of lamb annually - with a goal of one million pounds.

Thatcher said the industry has an excellent product, but waste fat is a big problem for the retailer, who has to pay for the fat - then can't sell it.

Thatcher's statements were emphasized by Curt Terry, product developer for the American Sheep Industry Association (ASI) in Denver, Colorado.

Terry pointed out that there is a fallacy in buying on dressing percent and selling on trimmed retail cuts. At the present time, fatter carcasses have a higher dressing percentage - and more value at packer level.

However, at the retail level the exact opposite is true, with less-fat carcasses being more valuable to retailers because of the higher proportion of usable meat.

More efficient production methods were targeted as the means to producing lean lamb. Dr. Carl Menzies, director of the Texas A&M Experiment Station in San Angelo, said, "Management is the key to producing the lean lamb. When we get paid for lean lamb, we'll remove the fat in a hurry."

Texas Agricultural Extension Service Sheep specialists Dr. Frank Craddock of Uvalde and Dr. George Ahlswede of San Angelo discussed ewes and rams in terms of producing lean lamb and maintaining wool production and longevity.

Bill Schneeman, president of ASI and a resident of Reagan County, reported on the promotional activities of that association.

"We cannot afford to continue to have the fattest product in the meat counter," said Schneeman. "The consumer is demanding lean lamb, while the retailer is not yet demanding lean lamb from the packer," he reported.

Schneeman also commented on the recent article in Livestock Weekly in which Richard Drake, president of the National Lamb Feeders Association, was challenging the ASI's all-out support of a "certified lamb" pro-

Sheriff warns of vehicle thefts

Over the last year, there have been numerous vehicle thefts in an area running from Terrell County east to Kimble County. Crockett County has not been left out of this problem and has lost four vehicles in the last year.

"Our investigations have revealed that these vehicles are being taken by a car-theft ring operating out of the state of Coahuila, Mexico," said Sheriff Jim Wilson. "The thieves seem to prefer small pickups and jeeps. While I am not too optimistic about getting results, we are participating in an effort to recover these vehicles from Mexico."

"It is very important that local ranchers secure their vehicles when they are not in use. It is important that all keys be taken out of unattended vehicles. I realize that this is not the custom, but it would help us to reduce future thefts.

"Please take the time to explain the situation to your deer hunters as they begin to arrive next month. Guns and vehicles should be secured at all times.

"It is not my intention to alarm anyone unnecessarily, but we must have your help if we are to put a stop to these vehicle thefts. Some of the group have already been arrested, but the rest are still active. Please report any suspicious alien activity in your area," Wilson said.

H. O. slipped up on the Texas-Arkansas and Auburn-Florida games, and Ray checked the wrong boxes on the Indianapolis-Cincinnati and the L.A. Rams-New Orleans games.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Residents decorated magnetic Christmas trees with sequins and rick-rack in Monday morning's craft class. Attending were: Juana Hernandez, Moriama Perez, Consuelo Sarabia and Chata Tambunga.

The Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary's quarterly meeting was held Monday afternoon. The style show to be held Nov. 18 was discussed. This year's theme is Travel in Fashion. It will be held at the civic center, and the tickets can be purchased from any auxiliary member. If you have never attended one of these shows, you have missed a lot. I've been impressed with every one I've attended.

All but one of our Tuesday morning's bingo prize winners won two games each. They were: Mattie Cooper, Juana Hernandez, Theo Burns and Moriama Perez. The single prize winner was Tomasa Ramos. Doris Karr was the helpful volunteer. Thank you, Doris.

Tuesday afternoon was spent getting ready for the upcoming arts and crafts fair to be held Nov. 4 at the 4-H Barn.

A new volunteer joined the team for Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop. We are happy to have Marlys Thurmond with us. Residents attending the workshop were: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Sridla Senne, Frances Davis, Moriama Perez and Juana Hernandez. The workshop was headed by Ruth Hester and Ruthie Doris. Thank you ladies. We appreciate your help.

The OHS cosmetology morning class joined regular beauty shop volunteers Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Martha Tijerina, Melinda Hokit and Audrey Smith to pamper and beautify residents Thursday morning. We would like to thank these talented young ladies and our regular volunteers for sharing their time with us.

Spanish speaking residents enjoyed a Spanish hour of praise Thursday afternoon. A large number of visitors attended, and the singing was beautiful.

Local talents presented country music with a flair Thursday evening. Marsha Tomlinson and George Hester sang, and Bob Hartman and Bill Dane played their guitars. As a special treat, Otis Nester played the spoons and the accordion. Residents thoroughly enjoyed their performance.

Alice Ross had a double bingo in Friday's games. Other prize winners were: Juana Hernandez, Frances Davis, Adelaida Smith, Sridla Senne, Monnie Boyd and Consuelo Sarabia. Volunteer Doris Karr assisted with the cards.

Lloyd Winkley's junior high health class paid a visit Friday afternoon. After a tour of the facility, residents were more than happy to enlighten the students on their junior high school days. I hope the students enjoyed their visit as much as the residents did. We would like to thank them for coming by. We hope they will visit again real soon.

An October Fest held Friday afternoon ended the day's activities. Various cheeses, crackers, sausages and pickles were served. We would like to thank Allene Sutton for being a fine hostess and Betty Elledge for providing us with lively polka music. Everyone had a great time.

Sunday's worship service was conducted by Michael Nicks, Justin Glasscock and Ty Porter of the Church of Christ. These three young men are to be commended. Michael preached the sermon and led singing. Justin read scriptures and led singing, and Ty led residents and visitors in prayer.

Crockett County Public Library News

by Louise Ledoux

Just in time for Halloween, Stephen King has come out with another of his chilling tales of horror. In his usual shock-king style, Mr. King pits good against gruesome evil in The Dark Half.

"Is it the tumor? Has it come back? Is it malignant this time? The phantom sound - the voices of the birds - grew suddenly louder, almost deafening..."

'Gonna hook back north, hoss,' (Thad) heard himself say in a low guttural voice, a voice which was not his own.

Then, suddenly, the sight and sound of the birds was gone. It was 1988, not 1960, and he was in his study. He was a grown man with a wife, two kids and a Remington typewriter...

he felt fine. Except...

Except when he looked down at the sheaf of manuscript again, he saw that he had written something there. It was slashed across the lines of neat type in large capital letters.

THE SPARROWS ARE FLYING AGAIN....

-from The Dark Half

Eleven-year-old Thad

Beaumont suffers from puzzling headaches, a convulsive seizure and an auditory hallucination-the eerie sound of a vast flock of sparrows on the wing. Operating on Thad's prefrontal lobe, Dr. Pritchard finds a single malformed eye, part of a nostril, three fingernails and two teeth. Diagnosis: the nonabsorbed remains of what in the uterus had been Thad's twin. The wise Doctor closes up Thad's brain and tells his parents he has located and removed a benign tumor.

But Dr. Pritchard's surgical abilities turn out to be insufficient. He removed the malformed eye and nostril bits - but they will return in an unimaginable form. True, the chirping sparrows were silenced for a while. But many years later they will return - in a gloriously gruesome battle between good and monstrous evil.

Welcome to Stephen King's latest nightmare, a terrifying look at an evil twin, a dark psychotic alter ego and, most horribly, words that become flesh.

Check it out at your public library now!

Terror on Earth

By Rev. Connie Marroquin
Church of God of Prophecy

"Terror on earth!" These were the words that the San Angelo Standard Times used to describe the California earthquake, and indeed they are right. It was a horrible disaster to hear about all the many people that were killed and many more injured. Some were looking for their loved ones, hoping that they would be found alive.

Then we have the other earthquake in China. All this is terror on earth.

As I was watching the news, I felt a deep sadness in my heart and some scriptures came to my mind. "and great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences, and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from Heaven, men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth. For the powers of Heaven shall be shaken. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads for your redemption draweth night." Luke 21:11-26-28.

"Verily I say unto you, this generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled." Matthew 24:34.

Prophecy is being fulfilled all around us every day, and the coming of Our Lord is near; we must believe that our redemption is near. "Therefore let us not sleep, as do others, but let us watch and be sober." I Thessalonians 5:6.

Are you ready, my friend? If you are not, then call upon the Lord and receive Jesus as your personal saviour NOW. "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Romans 10:13.

God bless you is my prayer.

SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION
DISTRICT
38th Annual Report

District

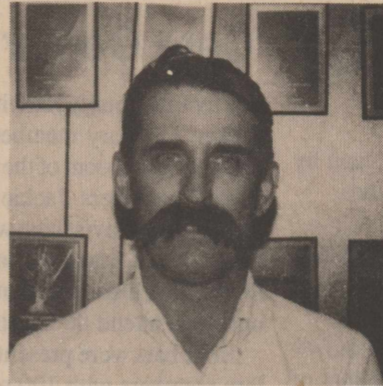

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District was established in 1950 to identify and prioritize resource concerns within the county and to serve as a median for local ranchers in coordinating assistance from federal, state and local agencies.

The Soil Conservation Service (SCS) provides the bulk of technical which the district offers to landowners. A Memorandum of Understanding between the USDA-SCS and the district allows the technical assistance to be furnished to ranchers, farmers and other interested individuals in order that conservation plans can be developed to meet the needs and capabilities of the land and the objectives of the landowners.

Each Soil and Water Conservation District is governed by five directors, each representing a subdivision within the district. The directors serve as a voice for landowners within the district. The directors must be resident landowners within their respective zones and actively engaged in agriculture.

The district identifies resource concerns and outlines solutions to combat these concerns through a long range program and plan. Improper grazing management, brush infestation, conserving soil, water, plants and related resources and improving wildlife management on rangeland as a secondary land use are primary concerns of the districts.

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District realizes these concerns need to be addressed and steps taken to solve these problems in order to protect our agricultural base. Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District has taken a leadership role in protecting our soil and water resources and emphasizes the need for more improved management on our county's rangeland in order to maintain or improve existing conditions.

Proper grazing management emphasizes the use of existing forages by livestock in order to ensure proper maintenance or improvement in range conditions and production. With appropriate stocking and by regulating time grazed in pastures, producers can develop a planned grazing system which can greatly improve rangeland to benefit both livestock and wildlife. The district recognizes improper grazing management as an important resource concern and promotes the implementation of planned grazing systems to offset overgrazing within the county.

CONSERVATION EDUCATION

Brent Poole

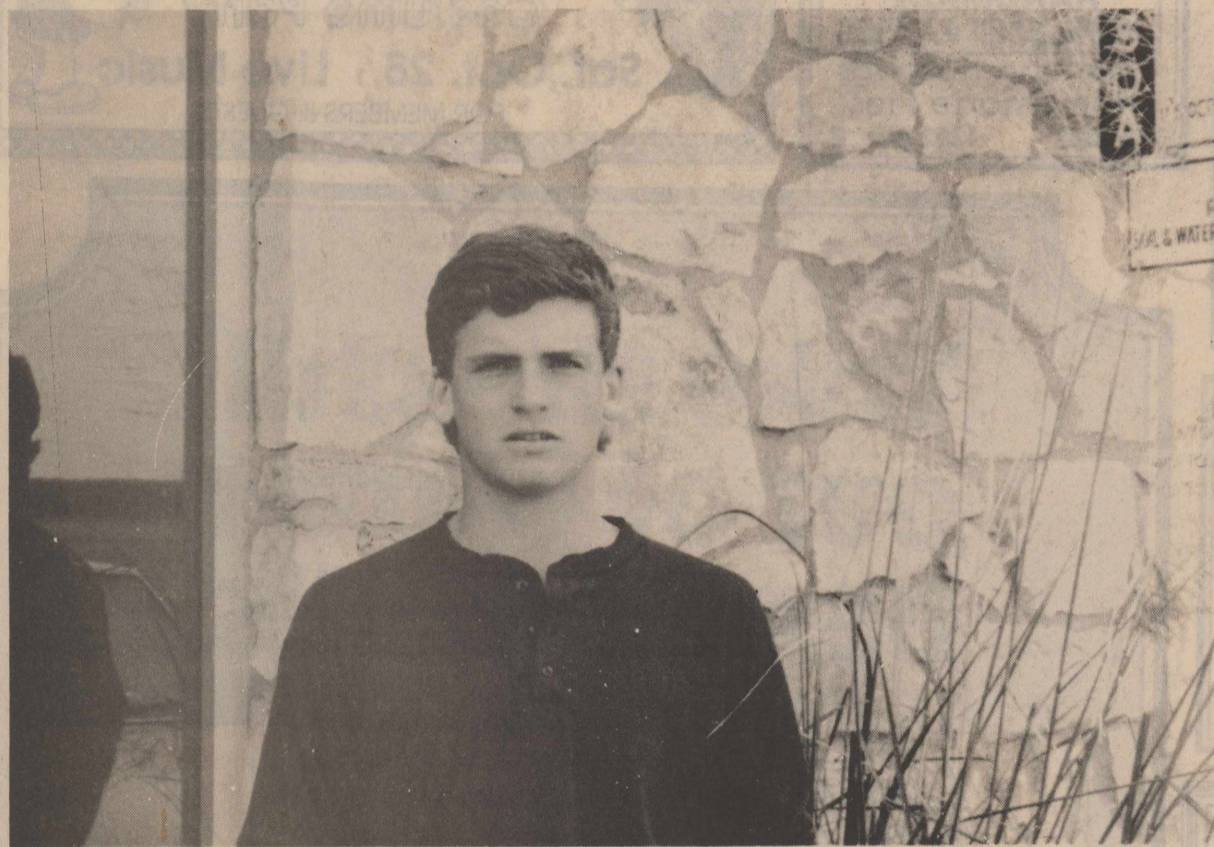

David McWilliams

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District sponsored two teachers to conservation education workshops this past year. High school teachers, Brent Poole and David McWilliams, attended the courses on conservation. Brent attended the two day workshop held in Junction which stressed conservation of our natural renewable resources. During this course teachers learned the basic concepts of conservation. Range and wildlife management techniques were discussed along with man's role in solving many of the conservation problems which exist today. David attended the workshop in San Angelo which consisted of the nationally acclaimed Project Wild program. This program emphasized wildlife ecology, management and conservation.

These workshops were presented to verse teachers in the field of conservation in order to better assist them in presenting conservation material to students. Both individuals received advanced academic training credit for attending the conservation education workshops.

CONSERVATION EDUCATION

Andy Stokes

Each year the Soil and Water Conservation District sponsors a local youth to attend the Youth Range Workshop held each summer at Junction, Texas. Andy Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stokes, was selected to participate in the 1989 workshop. Individuals attending are chosen locally from 4-H clubs and FFA chapter throughout Texas. The Texas Section Society for Range Management conducts the workshop which consists of indoor and outdoor classrooms on various range and wildlife management topics. The youth learn to identify various range plants and differentiate desirable and undesirable plants. Managing rangeland for livestock production and wildlife habitat along with basic ranch planning was also discussed.

The workshop is intended to strengthen the youth's knowledge of range and wildlife management principles and increase their awareness of current and future problems affecting our native rangelands. Youth share fellowship, experiences and knowledge throughout the workshop which enhances their leadership and communication skills.

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District encourages the education of our youth in the field of conservation of our natural resources. This is evident by the district's work in annually sponsoring a sixth grade conservation field day and the 4-H District Range Evaluation contest.

BRUSH MANAGEMENT

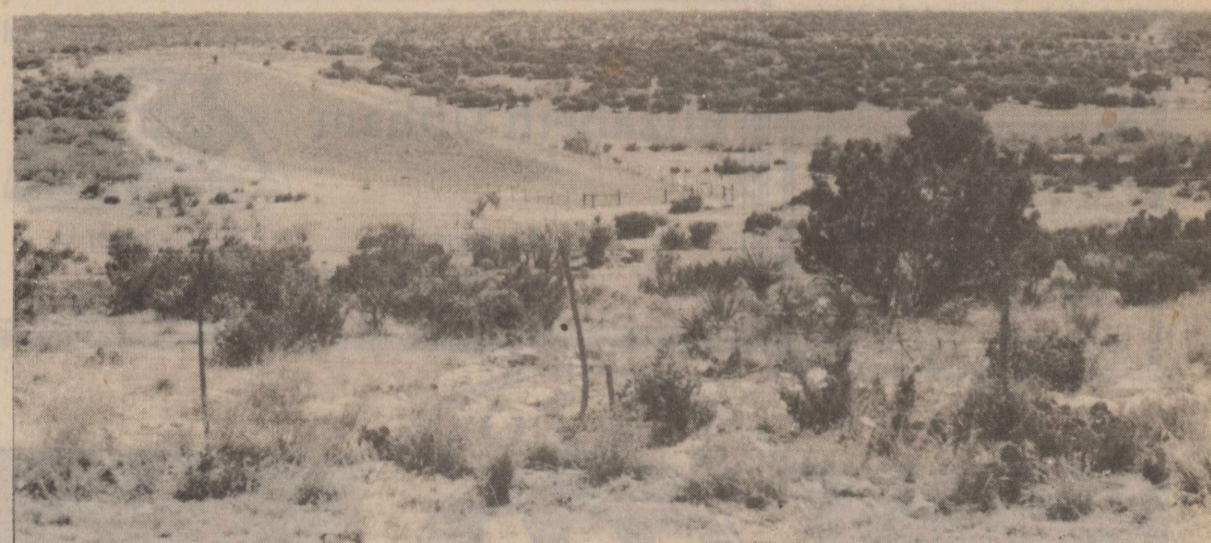

Unwanted brush infests a large percentage of Crockett County. Mesquite, juniper and pricklypear are the primary culprits which either rob valuable moisture from desirable forages or pose a health threat to livestock. This has prompted producers to use various methods of control to combat these noxious species. Grubbing and aerial spraying have been used extensively to thwart the encroachment of these plants.

Research proves that timing of control is very important when herbicidal treatments are done. Coordinating application with various stages of plant growth is important in order to get adequate control. Weather conditions prior to and after treatment also play an important role in the success of chemical or mechanical control methods.

When any type of brush control is tried, one thing is for certain, there is virtually no one treatment that is 100% successful, therefore management becomes extremely important to obtaining desired results. Controlling brush without proper range management practices being implemented prior to and after treatment will almost certainly be a waste of time and money. Ranches must be properly stocked and pasture deferments should be carried out in conjunction with the brush control program.

The district advocates the implementation of proper grazing management practices prior to the initiation of any control program. A combination of sound management practices and timely brush control will allow producers to improve range and wildlife resources.

JOHNSON DRAW WATERSHED

After a disastrous flood occurring June 28, 1954, the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District and the Crockett County Commissioners Court co-sponsored an upstream watershed protection project in the Johnson Draw area above Ozona. This was the first project of its kind to be completed in the United States. The Commissioners Court and the Soil and Water Conservation District have the responsibility for maintenance of all works of improvements.

Substance support group to organize

There will be a meeting Monday, Nov. 6, at 6 p.m. in the high school cafeteria to organize a support group regarding substance use and abuse. This is a follow-up to the interest expressed at an Extension Service Council and 4-H sponsored meeting last week.

Organizing for action will be the purpose of the meeting. Those planning on attending are asked to be thinking about: 1. a group leader, 2. goals to establish, 3. objectives to meet, 4. activities to use, 5. solutions to problems such as: availability, identification of sources, inappropriate advertising, lack of sufficient information, negative influences in our community, funding for support groups, 6. other problems.

Deaton elected to Texas LP-Gas Association Board

Fred Deaton, president of Ozona Butane Company, was recently elected to serve a two-year term on the Texas LP-Gas Association Board of Directors. Deaton, a 17-year industry veteran, is past president of the Crockett County Hospital Board and a member of the Crockett County Library board and Crockett County Hospital Board.

The Texas LP-Gas Association is a statewide organization comprised of dealers and suppliers whose main objectives are to promote safety and education in the LP-Gas industry. LP-Gas, or propane, is a by-product of natural gas and petroleum. Propane is a source of energy used for heating homes, hot water, cooking, and clothes drying. Half of America's farms rely on propane to dry crops, brood chickens, power tractors and warm greenhouses.

Propane is also used as a vehicle fuel. Because it is clean-burning, it can play a major role in reducing air pollution and meeting clean air legislation. Deaton, in his role as association director, will help lead the effort to promote propane as the alternate fuel of choice.

Take the chill out of winter heating bills.

With winter just around the corner, WTU has these suggestions for lower energy bills.

1. Caulk and weatherstrip around windows and doors to help prevent excessive heat loss.
2. Check the attic for adequate insulation; R-30 is recommended.
3. Clean or replace filters monthly in your heating unit.
4. Tightly close the damper in the fireplace when not in use.
5. Set the thermostat at 68° or lower.
6. Open drapes and blinds during the day to let in sunlight and close them at night to hold in warm air.

For a more comfortable home and an electric bill that won't give you a chill, contact your local WTU office for more conservation tips.

To the Editor
c/o The Ozona Stockman

Dear Linda and Scotty,
I am writing in regards to the letter from Debbie Allen in last week's Ozona Stockman. The staff and board of directors of the Ozona Community Center want to invite Ms. Allen to tour the center and see for herself the quality pre-school and day care we provide. The center is fully licensed by the Texas Department of Human Services. We all feel that the Jessica McClure accident would have been avoided had she attended a day care center that is licensed and inspected regularly, including all outside playground areas.

We hope we can be of service to Ms. Allen and her family. Also, a sincere thanks to the citizens of Ozona for their continued support and prayers.

Sincerely,
Cathy Carson, president-Ozona Community Center board of directors

To all customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company:

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hereby gives notice that on August 29, 1989 the Company filed an application with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to revise its Texas intrastate Digital Link Service Tariff. This application proposes to restructure the rates for MICROLINK IISM - Packet Switching Digital Service to establish uniform rates for the service in each of the market areas where it is offered within the State and to expand the service to an additional nineteen (19) Primary Market Areas (PMAs).

MICROLINK IISM - Packet Switching Digital Service is for business customers with interactive data transport requirements who are located within the Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Longview, Lubbock, Midland, San Antonio, Waco, or Wichita Falls Local Access and Transport Areas (LATAs). This service utilizes several existing network services in combination with packet switching capabilities. A MICROLINK II Primary Market Area is the service area from which subscribers may reach public dial access to the service by dialing a local seven digit number. The twenty-four (24) PMAs that will be affected by this filing are: Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, McAllen, Harlingen, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Houston, Galveston, Laredo, Longview, Tyler, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, San Antonio, Waco, Temple, and Wichita Falls.

The PUC has assigned this matter to Docket No. 9034. It is estimated that the proposed rate changes and the addition of the nineteen (19) Primary Market Areas will increase the Company's annual revenues during the first year the proposed changes are in effect approximately $140,000. For additional information regarding MicroLink II Service or this filing, please contact Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Marketing Organization on 512-222-5808.

Intermediate School News

Oct. 23-28 is Red Ribbon Week. The Ozona Intermediate School students will be wearing their red ribbons all week that say "Join Me, I'm Drug Free". Last year our slogan was "Be Drug Free". On Wednesday the 25th, all students will wear red and their ribbons.

We also got our encyclopedias this week with the money we earned in the book fair.

The Ozona Intermediate School will be getting report cards Oct. 19, 1989. A list of the A and B achievers is in this issue of the paper. Some students even made all A's.

Written by Shelly Sullivan

Two weeks ago was Fire Prevention Week. We made posters about fire prevention. The 12th of October the Intermediate School had a fire drill.

When the students got outside, the firemen had put on a show of a burning car. They showed how the jaws of life work and how they rescued people from burning cars. They had people there telling us what to do if we see a burning car.

By Tonya Petty

October 26, 1989, the Ozona Intermediate School is going to take pictures. Every class will participate in taking the pictures. Everybody is anxious to see their faces and how they look.

Red Ribbon Week October 22 - 29

There are weeks named for a variety of worthy causes. Why shouldn't there be a week celebrating drug-free youth? There is, and this year it is Oct. 22-29.

The symbol for the national campaign is a red ribbon. People throughout the country are asked to wear red ribbons this week signifying support for the program. The National Red Ribbon Campaign's slogan is: "My Choice - Drug Free".

The Red Ribbon Campaign began in 1985. The Red Ribbon Campaign became the symbol to reduce the demand for drugs just as other ribbons have been used to symbolize other causes.

The National Federation of Parents assumed the leadership role in the organization of this annual campaign. National chairmen are President and Mrs. George Bush.

The Red Ribbon Campaign is designed to 1) create awareness about the drug problems facing every community; 2) establish effective parent/community teams across America; and 3) support drug-free, healthy lifestyles.

The focus is on youth to youth programs - kids helping kids. Just Say No Clubs are active in Ozona schools from the intermediate through high school classes.

This week the schools will be emphasizing anti-drug education activities and programs. Student assemblies, classroom skits, creative writing and poster contests and specially designated days highlight the week.

On Wednesday the students invite the community to support the campaign by wearing red. Community participation is also invited on Saturday during the anti-drug use march on the square from 10 until 11:30 a.m.

Lions win against Eldorado

by Michael Vasquez

The Ozona Lions defeated the Eldorado Eagles 15-6 Oct. 20.

George Ybarra got the ball early in the game from quarterback Chris Denman on a quick pass. Ybarra broke away from several tackles to score for the Lions.

Ozona soon got the ball, driving it to the opponents' end zone. Denman handed the ball to Michael Ybarra who ran it in for another Lion score.

Late in the third quarter, the Lion offense set up a 24-yard field goal by Ruben Borrego. The halftime score was Ozona 15, Eldorado 0.

Eldorado scored their first points of the game in the third quarter making the score 15 to 6.

The Lions held the Eagles from scoring in the remainder of the game. The Lions approach their next game with a 2-0 district record. They will be home against the Winters Blizzards Friday night.

This week is Red Ribbon Week. Please wear a red ribbon as athletes and fans will do to show support for a drug-free school and community.

Cubs maul the Coahoma Bulldogs

by J. L. Tucker
Stockman sports

Mike Fay rushed for 207 yards on 19 carries and scored three touchdowns to lead the Ozona Cubs to a 27-12 win over the Coahoma Bulldogs here last Thursday.

Coahoma's coach Jim Williams commented, "This is the only time we (Coahoma) have met a team that hits this hard."

Coahoma did some hitting also, as they recovered a Cubs' fumble on the 29 yard line in the first quarter with 3:16 remaining. They drove 29 yards in six plays to score the first touchdown of the game with 39 seconds left in the quarter.

Fay returned the kickoff 17 yards to the Cubs' 35 yard line. Sammy Hinostroza ran over left guard with a good block from Ryan Morris to gain seven yards. Fay bulled over right tackle and raced 54 yards for Ozona's first touchdown with 6:36 remaining in the first quarter. Hinostroza kicked a good field goal making the score 7-6.

The Cubs forced the Bulldogs to punt a minute later, but the ball hit a Cub receiver and Coahoma recovered the loose ball. Coahoma moved the ball 40 yards for another Bulldog touchdown. The extra point failed leaving the score 12-7.

With 1:57 left in the first half, the Cubs drove 66 yards down to the six yard line in eight plays and 66 yards. However the Cubs lost the ball on downs just before the half with 20 seconds remaining.

The cubs returned the second half kickoff to the 30 yard line. After gaining 21 yards and being penalized 15 yards, the Cubs sat on the 43 yard line. Fay bulled over left tackle with a good block from Javier Perez, cut to the outside, and raced down the left sideline 57 yards to score the go ahead touchdown. Gerald Ortiz scored the extra two points, and with 6:45 left in the third quarter, the Cubs led 15-12.

The Coahoma Bulldogs fumbled on the kickoff return and Daniel Caldera pounced on the unclaimed ball at the Cubs' 43 yard line. The Cubs used up most of the quarter to score again, but the Cubs used their time carefully. Resting on the two yard line Fay ran in for the touchdown. The extra point failed leaving the score at 21-12.

Less than two minutes later, Coahoma punted and Ozona claimed the ball on the 44 yard line. Nine plays and 44 yards later, Eric Elizondo plunged over right guard, with good blocking from Thomas Galan, scoring the last touchdown. The attempt for the extra point failed.

Bart Grimes and Fay led the team with eight and six tackles respectively. Caldera, Juan DeLuna, Javier Perez and Jimmy Perez each added five stops.

The win keeps the eighth grade Cubs unbeaten with a record of 4 victories and 2 ties.

The seventh grade Cubs soared to their sixth victory without a loss, when J. J. Lozano scored late in the fourth quarter for the 6-0 win. Lozano ran 60 yards on eight carries including the 36 yard touchdown run.

Head Coach Gene Hood said, "They (Coahoma) were a good ball club. Both teams kept their poise and showed very good discipline. "Our offensive line blocked well for the running backs," added Coach Hood.

Chris Sanchez recovered a Coahoma fumble with 5:46 remaining in the first quarter. The Cubs drove the ball all the way down to the five yard line, but two bad hand offs forced them back to the 14 yard line. Ozona turned the ball over to Coahoma after a fruitless fourth down attempt.

With 1:52 left in the first half, the Cubs took over on Coahoma's 27 yard line and drove to the four yard line. The Cubs lost two yards and the clock ran out before they had another chance to score.

The second half remained a defensive struggle until late in the fourth quarter when the poised Cubs claimed a Coahoma fumble on the Bulldog's 43 yard line, setting the stage for their game winning drive. Julio Martinez gained seven yards for the Cubs, bringing them up to the 50 yard line. Lozano bulled over left guard with a good block from Juan Trujillo for a gain of twelve yards. Joe Esparza ran over left guard gaining five yards. Lozano ran off right tackle, cut outside, and sprinted down the right sideline for the winning touchdown. The extra point failed leaving the score 6-0 with 44 seconds left in the game.

A proud Esparza commented, "They have been the toughest team since we played Sonora."

Esparza and Martinez led the team with seven tackles each. Tony Valencia and Anthony Sanchez added six and five stops respectively.

The Ozona Cubs will host the Eldorado Eagles next week at Lion Stadium. The seventh grade will kickoff at 5:00 P.M. and the eighth grade will get underway about 6:30.

Public Notice

On October 18, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWB) intends to file an application with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to add a new service offering for business customers, called Consolidated Billing (CSB). The proposed effective date for this offering is December 4, 1989.

Consolidated Billing allows the business customer to combine an unlimited number of accounts within a single Revenue Accounting Office (RAO). Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's RAOs in Texas are located in Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. This service will establish a common billing date for each of those accounts so that they may receive one bill each month. Each customer account is tied together for billing purposes, but retains its own identity and level of detail.

PROPOSED RATES

There is no monthly rate associated with Consolidated Billing. However, a nonrecurring charge of $15.00 will be applied to establish a Consolidated Billing arrangement. An additional $15.00 nonrecurring charge will apply for each account which is incorporated into the Consolidated Billing arrangement.

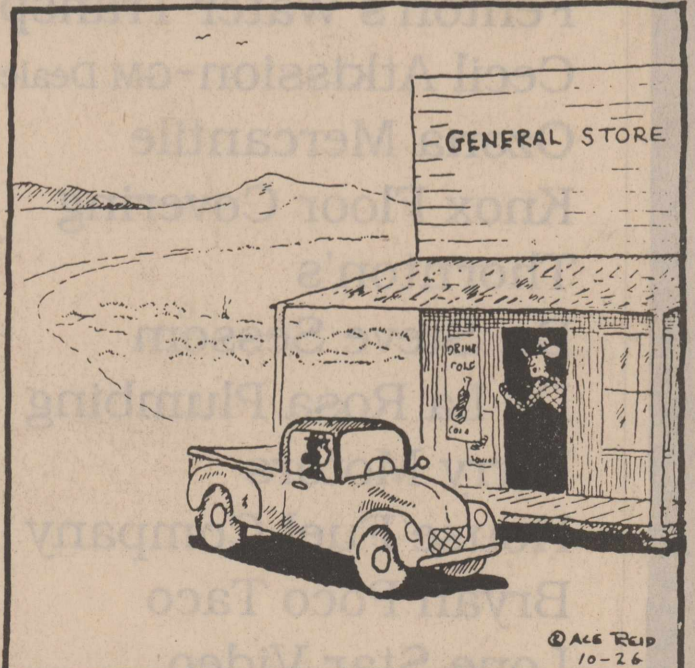

Consolidated Billing (CSB) has been forecasted to generate an increase in first year annual revenues of approximately $581,733.

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by November 24, 1989. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Local youths show rabbits in Angelo

Local rabbit exhibitors attended the Tom Green County Open Rabbit Show last weekend in San Angelo. Competing in the youth division were Amanda and Jason Hignight, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Hignight, and Matthew Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marshall.

Matthew exhibited in the New Zealand division placing third best junior buck and eighth and ninth junior does.

Jason Hignight placed first out of the 618 does exhibited in the California division. His California junior does placed second and third and his junior buck placed second.

Jason and Amanda also exhibited Mini Lops. They placed second, third and fourth in the junior doe division.

Amanda's mini lop named Tinkerbelle won first place, best of variety and best of breed.

Flopsie, a buck Jason exhibited, won first and best opposite sex.

Jason, Amanda and Matthew will compete with their rabbits in the state 4-H show October 28 in Austin. Matthew will exhibit New Zealands and Jason and Amanda will show Californias, Mini Lops and Chinchillas.

Amanda and Jason Hignight won first places with their rabbits Tinkerbelle and Flopsie last week in San Angelo. The Hignights and Matthew Marshall will exhibit rabbits Oct. 28 in Austin.

4-H food show October 29

The "Best of the West" will be competing Sunday, Oct. 29, for top honors in the 1990 Crockett County 4-H Food Show.

Fifty-two 4-H members ranging in age from 8 to 18 will be judged on their food and nutrition knowledge and food preparation skills at the show, held in the Ozona Junior High School cafeteria.

Although judging begins at 1:45 p.m., the public viewing and awards portions of the show begin at 4 p.m. All interested persons are invited to attend and see the accomplishments of Crockett County youth.

The purpose of the food show is to allow 4-H members to show what they've learned in the six-week-long food and nutrition project under the guidance of adult and teen leaders. The event also serves as an elimination contest to select Crockett County's representatives for the District VI Food Show in December at Prude Ranch.

Three age groups, with four categories in each age group, will be represented in the show. The youngest group is the Junior division, with youth ages eight through 11. Twelve through 13-year-olds compete in the Intermediate division, and 4-H members age 14 or older compete in the Senior division.

First-place winners in each category will receive a $50 savings bond and a rosette, as well as a selection of Adams extracts or spices. Second-place winners will receive a rosette and spice or extract selection, and third-place winners will receive a rosette.

This year, 25 juniors, seven intermediates and 20 seniors have entered the show. Each participant must complete lessons in their project and turn in a record of the activities they have been involved in, plus the recipe for their food show dish and a day's menu which influences the recipe.

This year's participants include: Junior Main Dish Leana Baggett, Dana Berry, Rebecca Deaton, Cody Emery, Melissa Emery, Lindsay Flanagan, Misty Graham, Audrey Young and T.J. Young. Junior Snacks and Desserts Angela Branch, Amy De Hoyos, Dee Hobson, Melonie Lozano, Christy Vasquez, Camellia Williams, Taylor Williams and Tres Bailey. Junior Fruits and Vegetables Robin Conner, Ashley Farris, Chad Myers, Janelle Payne and Sheila Yates. Junior Breads and Cereals Sara Mayfield, Nicole Perez, Helena Williams and Natalie Ybarra. Intermediate Main Dishes Adrienne Dickerson, Kelli Gentry and Jo Lynn Vannoy. Intermediate Breads and Cereals Nancy Arrott. Intermediate Snacks and Desserts Stefny Sutton. Intermediate Fruits and Vegetables Doug Meador and Courtney Phillips. Senior Main Dishes Julie Childress, April Graham, Lisa Herring, C'Jay McKinney, Martha Mayfield, Cassie Montgomery and Justin Southern. Senior Fruits and Vegetables Tammy Arrott, Whitney Vannoy, Candace

Williams and Tess Worthington. Senior Snacks and Desserts Jennifer Davidson, Erika Kenison, Margaret Jones, Tami Reagor and John Williams. Senior Breads and Cereals Katharine Durham, Robert Gentry, Jenni Jones and Nikki McCarley.

"What a lot of people don't realize," said Tedra Ulmer, County extension Agent-Home Economics, "is that this is more than just a cooking contest."

The agent explained that each 4-H'er must know about the basic food groups, what nutrients are in their dish, and why the body needs those nutrients, as well as be able to explain how to make the dish.

"Skills 4-H members learn include those of food preparation, menu planning, problem-solving, critical thinking skills, communications and poise," Ulmer noted.

4-H members are judged by adult and teen leaders from neighboring counties.

This year, 88 youth signed up for the foods and nutrition project in Crockett County, with 15 adult and 14 teen leaders managing the projects. Activities included field trips to restaurants, preparing tons of hot chocolate for the community center, and cooking various dishes in their food groups.

Eighty-one donors have aided the home economics projects, including: Ozona National Bank, Crockett County National Bank, West Texas Utilities, South Texas Lumber Co., Mason, Myers and Self-esteem needs to begin early

When a parent is either too unavailable or too overanxious, a baby can sense it! They can react by withdrawing and may not develop emotionally.

That's what Dr. Berry T. Brazelton, nationally recognized child development expert, believes.

He has noted that children need the space to be frustrated—they need a mixture of maternal care and being left to learn and develop on their own.

Children have to begin believing in themselves and their abilities at an early age—just as they often begin learning failure at an early age, and it's up to parents to help them do it.

Frustration, the energy to try things out, temporary failure—followed by a final sense of achievement—are the ingredients of the desire to learn and to achieve in a baby, according to Brazelton.

When a parent encourages a baby who has just learned a task by itself, that parent is reinforcing or encouraging a good future self-image in the child.

What can a parent do to foster self-esteem in a young child?

First, by trying to analyze your own reactions that might interfere with your ability to understand the child. Second, being warm and loving is important, but also important is when parents transmit ways of problem-solving and thinking.

It's important to be able to sit

Homemakers sponsor "Holiday Delights"

Only a few more weeks until the holidays—and if you're looking for some unique recipes and gift ideas, you need look no further. It's time for the annual West Texas Utilities "Holiday Delights" program, sponsored by the Progressive Extension Homemakers Club.

This year's "delight-full" program will be held Monday, Oct. 30 at the Crockett County Civic Center. There will be two programs, one at noon and one at 5:30 p.m., to fit every busy Ozonan's schedule.

Persons attending the free program will receive a copy of this year's WTU Holiday Delights cookbook and will enjoy tasting some of the recipes from this year's book—prepared for the occasion by Crockett County 4-H Foods and Nutrition participants and by members of the Progressive Extension Homemakers Club.

WTU Electric Living Consultant Darolyn Moore will present the program. Hostesses for the day are Gussie Schneider and Diane Schwertner at the noon meeting; and Beth Boyd and Maggie Carroll at the 5:30 p.m. meeting.

All interested persons are invited to attend the programs and enjoy the fun and fellowship. For more information contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

back and watch the child work at developing at his or her own speed, then recognizing his or her accomplishments when they do succeed.

Stepping in earlier—even to encourage—can interrupt this process, according to Brazelton.

The pressure on small children today to learn to read, write and perform tasks that may not be appropriate to their age or stage of development, is an example of the danger for parents of overwhelming a child's sense of his or her competence.

How do you strike the fine line between too much praise and too much criticism? Basically, Brazelton says to watch the child and see if he/she is becoming irritable from too much pressure.

Today, with both parents in many families working, it is likely, says Brazelton, that families may be more irritable and critical at the end of a long, hard day.

But parents must still find the time to offer their children a sure sense of themselves as competent. "Competent," says Brazelton, "to deal with whatever the future holds for them."

For more information on strengthening families and child development, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721. Or come by the office, located on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex.

County 4-H rifle match held

The County 4-H rifle match was held Saturday at the indoor shooting range in the County Show Barn. The top four marksmen in each grade competed for ribbons. The top marksman in each grade competed for plaques in intermediate, junior high and high school divisions.

Rod Chalmers and Dorris Haire coordinate the county 4-H shooting sports project. Some 100 plus youth participated in the activity this fall. Haire served as range officer, and Helen Kenison ran the concession stand for the activity.

Jason Moran was top marksman in the senior high division; Derek Puckett won the junior high division; and Toby Davee won the intermediate division.

Placings in the grade divisions were: Angela Branch - third; Cody Emery - fourth; Toby Davee - fifth; Dana Berry - sixth; Derek Puckett - seven and eight; Jason Moran - high school.

Top four shooters in each division were: Angela Branch, Joe Squiers, Matthew Galindo and Mitchell Martinez, third grade; Cody Emery, Byron Beasley, Justin Browne and T. J. Young, fourth grade; Toby Davee, Christy Vasquez, Jason Hignight and Shelly Sullivan, fifth grade; Also Dana Berry, David Browne, Tommy Conner and Andrea Aldridge, sixth grade; Derek Puckett, Justin Moran, Gary Thompson and Tony Webb, seventh and eighth grades; Jason Moran, Devon Rhea, Fleet Worthington and Mike Kenison, high school.

Court agrees to bid specifications

Commissioners okayed three items they had previously struck from bid specifications for Sheriff's Department cars when they met Monday night.

Sheriff Jim Wilson and Chief Deputy Alton Davis were present to hand out detailed information and answer questions about the rejected requests.

Commissioners agreed to ask for bids on 302 and 350 V-8s in a police package, reinstated the spec requesting brakes which have passed the current year Michigan State Police, Los Angeles Police or Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department test for the model bid, and the request for a speedometer with a reading to 140 mph.

Wilson explained that the police package is cheaper, the brake test conformation is similar to a Road and Track report for a private vehicle, and the speedometer registering greater than 85 mph is needed for safety.

The court voted to proclaim Oct. 22-28 as Red Ribbon Week and accepted drainage easements that have been filed on Santa Rosa Street properties. Bids were opened from Upham Insurance and The Baggett Agency for airport liability and a standard fire policy. The low bid was awarded to The Baggett Agency.

Commissioners met in executive session to discuss personnel. No action was taken after regular session resumed.

During a non-agenda item discussion, Judge Kathryn Mayfield reported on an inspection of the landfill by Michael Edmiston. The inspector was pleased with the present condition of the landfill, Mayfield said.

Judge Mayfield recently attended a regional meeting in Big Lake to discuss trash disposal. New regulations go into effect the first of the year and "I am writing letters opposing them to everyone I can think of," Mayfield said.

Commissioner Janet Hill presented a written report on the brush retention control done in conjunction with the Soil Conservation Service.

Miller receives service award

Jerrilyn Hill Miller was one of three Reagan County High School teachers to receive service awards at the recent chamber of commerce banquet in Big Lake.

Among those attending the banquet was Janet Hill who was present to see her daughter get her five year award.

Former Ozonana Philda Morrison also received her five year award from the school system.

WELCOME HUNTERS

Crockett County, a hunters' paradise, is located in the heart of deer and turkey country of Texas. For years hunters from all over the U.S. have flocked to Ozona and Crockett County for the best hunting this side of Africa.

Wild game is best suited for this part of Texas with its rolling to rugged hills and valleys because there is a plentiful supply of the right kind of grasses and shrubs producing animals suitable for any trophy hunter.

Our motto, "A friendly place to live and visit", has become a legend and is cherished by all of the local people. You will find that Crockett County people are hospitable, friendly, charitable and most of all, appreciative of your patronage.

Ozona has everything that you could possibly need for your hunting and camping with a wide range of grocery, fuel, automotive, ammunition, clothing and beverage outlets all through Ozona.

Welcome, have a safe and good hunt!

1989 Hunting Regulations

By Rod Chalmers
State Game Warden

Crockett County is blessed with a bounty of wildlife and natural resources to rival any area of the State of Texas. Large ranches, relatively inaccessible areas, and low density of people combine to create a habitat which provides a unique variety, quality and quantity of wildlife available to the sportsman or naturalist for their enjoyment.

Whitetailed deer, mule deer (in some areas), Rio Grande turkeys, scaled (blue) quail, and mourning doves are just some of the wildlife that abounds in the county. Fur-bearing animals such as racoon, ring-tailed cat, and red and gray fox are found in sufficient quality to make them an economic asset to the area's trappers. of which there are many. Bobcats are plentiful, and mountain lions seem to be on the increase, much to the chagrin of livestock producers. There are areas that are well known by bird watchers to provide a variety of bird life found in few other areas of West Texas.

Of all the wildlife available in Crockett County, whitetailed deer get the most attention and publicity. Each year scores of hunters come from all over Texas and surrounding states in search of season deer leases and day-hunting opportunities. Good deer leases average over $500 per hunter, and day hunting runs $75 to $150 per day.

Deer counts are down slightly on the county-wide scene, possibly reflecting some loss of older or weaker animals as a result of an extremely dry summer. This is not suggesting that we've had a massive die-off, just a loss of what I'd call borderline body condition deer. Does carrying twins or large fawns typically are hit hardest during dry summers, as are those deer which are shedding yearling teeth (or have no teeth at all!).

With very little deer feed produced this summer, deer have been trying to make a living on the browse that they shouldn't have to eat until the first freeze of the season. This means that lots of winter feed has already been picked over, and this might put us in short supply this winter. All the more reason why hunters and landowners alike should encourage antlerless deer harvest to make room for the healthier deer in what could possibly be a tough winter.

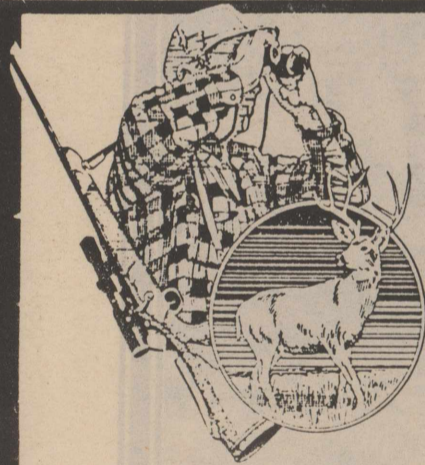

So much for body condition...how 'bout the horns? Four years ago the county enjoyed a high fawn crop, and about half of those fawns were bucks. That gives us a bunch of bucks this year that should be in the "trophy" age class. This is the reason we're seeing a large number of eight and 10 point bucks with decent spreads, but antler weight and mass is light because of substandard nutrition from the rough summer when they were growing those antlers.

It is the opinion of wildlife biologists (and I concur) that leaving the bulk of the bucks for a normal year will greatly increase the quality and quantity of trophy heads for coming years (assuming that it will ever rain again). This well might be the year for hunters to hold their buck harvest to one apiece, and use antlerless tags to put meat in the freezer.

In view of the dry conditions, ranchers involved in good deer management programs will be encouraging hunters to harvest surplus antlerless deer (where they exist) to prevent a full scale die-off, while limiting the buck kill to allow a percentage of the bucks to mature for top quality deer for future years. There are presently several ranches in the county involved in deer management programs under advisement of Texas Parks & Wildlife Department technical guidance biologists. Whether their motive is economics or simply pride of ownership, these operators realize the importance of their wildlife, and are conscientiously developing this valuable resource.

Thanks to early spring rains, turkeys were able to produce an acceptable hatch this year, so we're in pretty good shape as far as numbers are concerned. However, a large percentage of the population will be young, so hunters should cherish any long beards they might collect.

Since quail are early-summer ground nesting birds, they had a tough time raising young this year. Quail are usually hunted in our area incidental to deer hunting, so they won't be sorely missed by the majority of Crockett County Hunters.

There have not been any major changes in the hunting regulations since last season, other than the opening and closing dates and the mandatory hunter education requirement.

Deer season for whitetailed deer opened in our county on Oct. 7 for those hunting with archery equipment only. Bow hunters have through Nov. 5 to take deer and turkey and must tag same with the appropriate tag from their license. Javelina can be hunted during archery season with either bow or gun, but if the hunter is after or has in his possession deer or turkey until Nov. 4, he mustn't have any firearms except maybe a shotgun with no larger than No. 4 shot. An observant reader of the Hunting Guide will notice that the Archery Only season overlaps with the general gun season, and during those two days, gun season rules will apply to both classes of hunters. Mule deer may also be hunted with archer equipment only during the archery season. The general "gun" season for whitetails this year will run Nov. 4 through Jan. 7, during which hunters may use gun or bow, and the general season for mule deer in our area is Nov. 25-Dec. 10.

Quail season opens with deer season on Nov. 4 and closes Feb. 25, 1990. The daily limit on quail is 15, and a hunter can have in his possession (hunting camp, etc.) no more than 45 quail at a time.

There will be Spring turkey season in 1990 from April 7 through May 6. Hunters have three turkey tags on their licenses; one for Fall only, one for Spring only and one that can be used in either season, but not both. In the Fall, either sex of turkey is legal, but only gobblers may be taken in the Spring.

Considerable attention has been focused on the new mandatory hunter education certification system, and some explanation is in order here. First of all, persons whose birth date was on or before Sept. 1, 1971 are not affected by the new requirement. Beginning on Sept. 1, 1989, a person born between Sept. 2, 1971 and Aug. 31, 1973, must have successfully completed a Texas Hunter Education Course to hunt, unless he or she is accompanied by a licensed adult hunter. Next year the course will be required of those born between '71 and '74, and so on each year until the year 1993, when it will be mandatory for everyone born since Sept. 1, 1971. This program is an attempt to ensure safety while hunting by greatly reducing firearms-related accidents. For information regarding courses, contact your Game Warden or call TPWD at 1-800-792-1112 or 512-389-4999.

Overall, the 1989-90 hunting season promises to be a good one for Crockett County hunters. Hunting guides with a complete listing of hunting regulations are available from TPWD field offices, Texas Game Wardens, and most places licenses are sold. Pick one up, read it, remember to put safety first, and...GOOD HUNTING!

Rabies a risk to hunters

Hunters and fishermen should always be on the lookout for wild animals acting in a strange manner or who do not show fear of humans. This could indicate a rabid animal.

Rabies remains a threat to both humans and domestic animals in Texas due to the larger number of confirmed cases in wild animals, according to a veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Some 700 cases of rabies are now confirmed annually in Texas and most of these are in wild animals.

Rabies has declined in dogs and cats, but has increased in skunks and bats. As the incidence of wild animals' rabies increases in a given area, the risk of exposure for domestic animals increases.

All dogs and cats should be vaccinated annually and should be kept away from wild animals. Unvaccinated dogs and cats that are bitten by a rabid animal should be destroyed immediately or isolated for six months. Vaccinated dogs and cats that are bitten should be isolated.

The way to weigh

By Charles Ramsey and Melvin J. Anderegg

Reprinted for PWD Leaflet 7100-7-3-87

A pickup with two hunters drove up to the deer check station on the Kerr Wildlife Management Area. Both hunters climbed out and walked around to the back of the truck and began unloading a couple of deer.

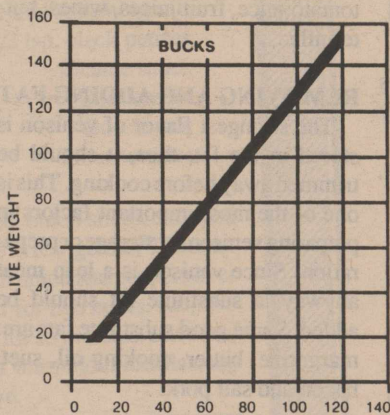

The first deer, a small doe, was tossed upon the table in the check station. Area personnel field dressed the deer and recorded descriptive measurements and weights. Then the doe was loaded back into the truck.

The second deer, a large buck, was lifted onto the table and the process of measuring and recording was repeated. Since the buck was already field dressed, only a dressed weight was taken - 106 pounds field dressed. How big was that deer on the hoof?

This question has been repeated so many times at the check station that two graphs were prepared to help with the answer. These graphs represent the weights taken from approximately 200 deer in good body condition killed on the Kerr Wildlife Management Area. Since these deer were typical of the Edwards Plateau, the graphs will be applicable for deer taken within the Hill Country. Although not as accurate, they are also good guides for deer taken from other areas of the state.

DRESSED WEIGHT
Find dressed weight of buck in figures at bottom of chart and trace line up to diagonal. From intersection, trace line to scale at left and read live weight. Reverse this procedure to determine dressed weight of live animal.

Does are lighter than bucks so a different chart must be used. As above, find dressed weight of doe in scale at bottom, trace up to diagonal, then from intersection trace line to left and read estimated live weight.

Venison preparation and preservation

Game meat is usually leaner, less tender and has a more pronounced flavor than meat of domestic animals; therefore, some special techniques in preparation and preservation may be needed.

There are many good venison recipes to be enjoyed and to add variety to family meals. In order for the prepared recipe to be successful, only fresh and properly cared for venison should be used.

PROCESSING

Properly cared for and aged venison may be processed professionally by a butcher, or you may prefer to process the venison yourself. The processing method preferred by many hunters, wildlife specialists and home economists is the process of "boning out" the carcass. The Texas Extension Service handout called "Wild Game Processing" carries step-by-step directions.

COOKERY

Venison is cooked by the same methods as beef or lamb. The most tender cuts of meat will come from the loin and rib sections of young game and may be cooked by dry heat methods such as roasting, broiling and pan broiling. Less tender cuts come from the remaining cuts. Venison from older game and the less tender cuts are best when cooked by moist heat methods.

STORAGE

Proper storage is extremely important. Overwrap meat to be frozen in plastic wrap. Wrap again in freezer paper or foil, using the drug store wrap method. Venison will store well up to one year if properly wrapped and kept at 0 degrees F. Liver and other organs are best if used within six months.

TENDERIZING

Mature game and less tender cuts of young game can be tenderized by any of the following methods:

- 1) Mechanical - grinding, cubing, pounding
- 2) Commercial tenderizers
- 3) Moist heat cooking - braising, pan frying, cooking in liquid
- 4) Marinating

CANNING CHOPPED VENISON

Chop venison in small pieces or put through food chopper. Cook meat in a hot skillet until it loses its pink color. Add 1 1/2 cups of beef bouillon or tomato juice and one teaspoon of salt for each quart of chopped meat. Pack hot into hot canning jars. Leave one inch head space. Adjust canning lids according to manufacturer's directions. Process pints in a pressure canner at 10 pounds of pressure for one hour and 15 minutes. Process quarts at 10 pounds of pressure for one hour and 30 minutes. Use for casseroles, hash and soup base.

MARINADES

Marinating venison aids tenderization, reduces any strong gamey flavor and adds flavor. A good marinade will have an acid base for tenderizing and seasonings to complement the recipe. The following are some good acid bases: lemon juice, vinegar, tomato juice, fruit juices, wines, buttermilk.

REMOVING AND ADDING FAT

The strongest flavor of venison is stored in the fat: thus, it should be trimmed away before cooking. This is one of the most important factors in preparing venison for storage or preparation. Since venison is a lean meat anyway, a substitute fat should be added. Some good substitute fats are: margarine, butter, cooking oil, suet, bacon and salt pork.

BUTTERFLY CUTLETS

Small, thick pieces of venison can be made into nice cutlets for frying or broiling by butterflying. To butterfly a piece of venison, cut down the middle and almost through the meat. Spread the meat apart at the cut; the uncut flesh will hold the meat together and make a thinner and larger cutlet. Use a meat mallet to pound the cutlet flat and even in thickness.

Place venison steaks in a glass dish. In a large measuring cup, mix wine, onion slices, chopped pepper, oil, vinegar and garlic clove. Pour over steaks, cover dish and store in refrigerator 24 hours. When ready to cook venison, lay venison on heavy foil, pour marinade with onion and peppers over venison. Tightly close foil and cook over medium heat on grill or smoker for two hours. Remove steaks from foil, sprinkle with paprika, seasoning salt and pepper and grill for 15 minutes. Slice into thin strips and serve with marinade, onions and peppers. Place in center of warm flour tortillas; top with picante sauce, sour cream and guacamole, roll up tortillas and serve.

STIR-FRIED VENISON

1 lb. venison	2 ribs celery, sliced on diagonal
1/2 c soy sauce	2 carrots, scraped and sliced on diagonal
2 T cider or red wine vinegar	2 summer squash, sliced crosswise

When ready to use, remove venison from marinade and place on a paper towel to dry off excess drippings. Set marinade aside to use later. In a large heavy fry pan or wok, heat oil until almost smoking. Add venison; stir and fry very quickly. Push venison to sides of pan and add onions. Stir and quickly fry. Continue to add vegetables in order listed except tomato, stirring and frying after each addition. Add ginger root and garlic. Stir and cook about 1 more minute. Add tomato wedges and enough of the leftover marinade to add desired amount of moisture (about 3 tablespoons). Season to taste with salt. Stir all ingredients together and immediately pour over cooked rice or fried Chinese noodles and serve.

Trespass laws clarified

To help clarify trespass law, Section 30.05 of the Penal Code, the following is an explanation as it applies mainly to hunting and fishing.

A person is trespassing if he enters or remains on property belonging to another without consent, or when he has had notice that entry was forbidden or received notice to depart and has failed to do so. Entry means the intrusion of the entire body.

NOTICE means that 1) A sign or signs have been posted on the property that indicate entry is forbidden; 2) If no signs are posted but a person in authority of that property tells them to leave; or 3) If there are no signs and no oral exchange but that person crosses a fence designed to exclude intruders or to contain livestock.

TRESPASSING would be a Class B Misdemeanor, meaning, 1) A fine not to exceed $1,000; 2) Or jail sen-tense not to exceed 180 days; 3) Or both of the above.

If the person trespassing is carrying or in possession of a deadly weapon at the time he is on the property, it becomes a Class A Misdemeanor which means, 1) A fine not to exceed $2,000, 2) Or jail sentence not to exceed one year; or 3) Or both. This includes a sportsman carrying a gun.

Antler sales require records

Persons who buy or sell deer antlers in Texas are required to provide documentation of the transaction to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The P&W Commission authorized an invoice for recording such sales. The invoice contains information such as date of sale, name, address and signature of both buyer and seller, a detailed description of the antlers and the state of their origin. The rules specify that the invoice must be initiated by the seller of antlers. After both parties sign the document, the seller retains one copy and sends the original to the department. The buyer receives two copies of the invoice, one of which he is required to send to TP&WD.

Invoices are available at all law enforcement offices of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Field dressing critical to successful deer hunt

Stalking and shooting a prize buck or doe is a big part of the challenge deer hunting offers sportsmen. But there's a lot more to it than just aim and shoot.

For beginning or inexperienced hunters, the sequence of events occurring immediately after the kill can well mean the difference between taking home a handsome wall mount or returning with a severely butchered-up carcass and, perhaps, little else to show for the effort.

Yet, performing this critical function correctly isn't as complicated as one might tend to assume.

After the deer has been killed, promptly tag and prepare it for field dressing by propping the animal on its back, using rocks or other available objects.

The initial step is to remove external sex organs with a sharp knife. Next, cut down to the pelvic bone. Turning the knife blade up, use your other hand to hold the belly away from the intestinal organs and cut up to the breastbone.

However, avoid cutting the skin any further forward than the middle of the breastbone if the head is to be mounted.

If the head is not to be mounted, hang the carcass by its head and skin it from the neck downward. The hide is easier to remove in this position. Next, cut the skin loose from around the neck, around the legs and down the inside of each leg. Grasp the skin in back of the head and pull down firmly with both hands.

Finally, hang the skinned carcass by its hind legs in shade to cool and age. If hung outside, protective covering is needed to keep insects off the carcass.

The carcass can now be cut to preference or it can be commercially processed.

Handling techniques after the kill will greatly influence final meat quality. The animal should be field dressed soon after being shot, then hung so the carcass will cool thoroughly. Skinning the animal soon after field dressing seems to enhance meat quality slightly. But if the animal must be transported or aged before processing, it's best to leave the skin intact to prevent the outer surface from drying out.

Tagging Of Deer Or Turkey

WHEN AND HOW TO TAG CARCASS: Immediately upon kill, and in a secure manner.

WHERE TO PLACE TAG ON CARCASS: On any part of the carcass so that it is not disturbed, damaged, defaced or lost in hauling, transporting or handling.

WHICH TAG TO ATTACH: The specific tag from the hunting license, appropriately marked, and designated for use on a deer or turkey. Only a legible, properly filled-out tag from the license of the hunter who killed the deer or turkey shall be used to tag that specific carcass. No tag may be used more than one time. No person may use a tag taken from the hunting license of another person.

NOTE: White-tailed buck deer tags on the Hunting License are of two kinds; one tag is valid in counties having EITHER 1 OR 2 BUCK BAG LIMITS, the other tag must be used only in counties having a two buck bag limit. You must use the buck deer tag that is valid in EITHER 1 OR 2 BUCK BAG LIMITS in counties where the buck deer bag limit is specified "limit 1 buck".

HOW TO FILL OUT TAG: A deer or turkey tag is properly filled out when both sides are completed, showing the hunter's name on the front, and the name of the ranch and county where the deer or turkey was killed, with the month and date of kill cut out or marked out on the reverse side. The tag must remain on the carcass until it reaches its final destination and is finally processed.

FINAL DESTINATION: Is defined as the permanent residence of the hunter or a commercial processing facility. Tags and permits must remain attached to the carcass until it reaches its final destination and is finally processed.

How to age a deer

GENERAL ANATOMY OF LOWER MOLAR

Gum Line
SIDE VIEW THREE-QUARTERS TOP VIEW

Reprinted from PWD Lefleat 7100-7-3/87

Age of a deer is determined by tooth replacement and wear on molars and premolars of the lower jaw. As a deer grows older, certain portions of its teeth are worn enough to show definite differences from the teeth of other age classes.

A deer has only six jaw teeth, although they appear to have many more. The teeth are broken into two distinct categories: the premolars, which are numbered 1, 2 and 3, and the molars, which are numbered 4, 5 and 6.

Deer are aged in fractions because they are born around July and are killed during the hunting season.

1 1/2 year old: (long yearlings): The long yearling deer is the most easily recognized of all age classes. The first three jaw teeth are milk teeth, which will be replaced around two years of age. These are worn smooth as a long yearling, while the last three teeth remain sharp. The number 3 tooth has three cusps in the milk tooth stage, but only two cusps appear on the replaced tooth. Fawns in their first season will show little evidence of wear on their milk teeth.

2 1/2 year old: The first three jaw teeth have been replaced by permanent teeth and all molars are sharp. The dentine of the first molar (tooth 4) is not as wide as the enamel which surrounds it.

3 1/2 year old: The dentine in the first molar (tooth 4) is now as wide or wider than the enamel which surrounds it, and this is not true of the second molar or tooth 5.

4 1/2 year old: The dentine of the first and second molars (teeth 4 and 5) is as wide or wider on both teeth, but not in tooth 6.

5 1/2 year old: The dentine of all molars (teeth 4, 5 and 6) is now as wide or wider than the enamel surrounding it.

6 1/2 year old: The first molar (tooth 4) is worn smooth, but teeth 5 and 6 are not smooth.

7 1/2 year old: The first and second molars (teeth 4 and 5) are worn smooth, or tooth 5 may still have a small ridge left.

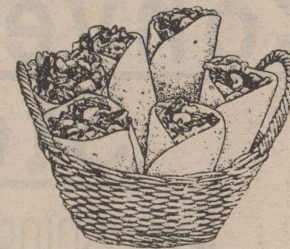

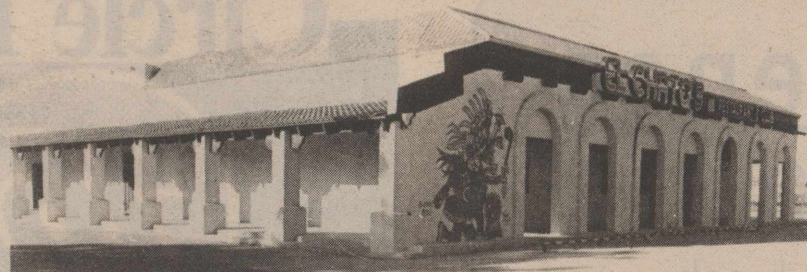

8 1/2 year old: All molar teeth are worn smooth (teeth 4, 5 and 6), but tooth 6 may still have a small ridge left.

Older than 8 1/2 years: Unable to determine, because characteristic formations have all been worn smooth.

The primary factor governing antler formation is food supply. As deer grow older and their teeth wear flatter, food becomes harder and harder to chew. Body condition will drop and, simultaneously, so will antler development.
