Lion Band wins Sweepstakes

Hours of rehearsing throughout the school year culminated April 10th with the Ozona Lion Band capturing the state level University Interscholastic League Sweepstakes Award during the Region VII Concert and Sight Reading Contest in Coleman.

"This is an outstanding band," commented contest judge Fred Stockdale following the band's performances.

The band opened the day by earning a first division-superior rating in concert competition, performing "Marche De Triomphe," "Sarabanda and Govotta," and "Excellentia Overture." The group's success was not yet complete though as it then competed in sight reading competition, performing a piece of music on sight without any prior preparation. Again the band earned a first division.

These ratings, combined with the superior rating in marching competition last October, resulted in the Sweepstakes honor, the highest award given to bands in Texas by the University Interscholastic League. In addition, the band earned a listing in the 1989-90 edition of the UIL Book of Champions.

"I am very proud of our bandmen," said Director of Bands Kelly Glaze after the results were announced. "They have worked tremendously hard for this honor."

"The band played very well," added Assistant Director Norman Carroll. "They put in many long hours of work and definitely deserve this. This feels great."

Following the close of conference AA competition, contest judge George Strickland commented that Ozona was the best rehearsed and most prepared band he had judged all day. "You guys play with lots of style and class," he wrote to the band in his comment sheet. "There is much good teaching going on here. Congratulations to you and your fine directors on a super performance."

Louis Thornton, who judged the sight reading competition, echoed the same sentiments.

"This was a very enjoyable musical performance," he wrote. "Congratulations to you and your directors."

The band received a police escort upon its return to Ozona where it was greeted by many excited parents, teachers, students, and band boosters.

"I would like to thank the people of Ozona," Glaze said. "Without their support, our success would not be possible."

The Ozona Lion band captured the sweepstakes trophy by toping off a year's competition with three straight first place decisions in UIL contests. The band received a first division in marching early this fall and two first divisions in concert and sightreading at the UIL contest held in Coleman, Friday, April. Congratulations band on a job well done.

Local producers up in arms.....

GAO calls for re-evaluation of wool and mohair industry's incentive payment program

Wool and mohair producers in Crockett County and across the country responded with alarm last week to a statement from the General Accounting Office calling for a re-evaluation of the industry's incentive payment program.

The GAO, the investigative arm of Congress, claims that the program is not effective and is too costly. The statements come as Congress begins to deal with 1990 farm bill proposals.

According to a report in the April 11 Wall Street Journal, Texas Rep. Dick Army (R) of Arlington and Rep. Charles Schumer (D) of New York are building a coalition in the House with a farm program reform goal. The two find the wool and mohair program to be "one of Washington's more pointless endeavors" according to the story. Both are Budget Committee members.

The Coalition for Common Sense in Agricultural Policy wants to eliminate any kind of support payments to farmers or ranchers with incomes of $100,000 a year or more. The strategy of the coalition is to have a bipartisan team working on each farm commodity when the farm bill reaches the house floor this summer.

Price supports for wool and mohair were made possible with the passage of the National Wool Act of 1954. Incentive payments are made from import tariffs collected on raw wool and certain wool products, not from tax dollars. The total of payments to producers at any time is limited to 70 percent of the total amount of the tariffs collected.

Since its beginning, the Wool Act has used only $2.05 billion of the $4.68 billion of wool tariff collections available for payment under the Act. The balance of the funds are sent to the Treasury where they supplement other programs which are taxpayer funded.

Price supports for wool first became mandatory as a result of a law passed in 1947. This support continued in the Agriculture Act of 1948, and in the 1949 Act, mohair was added to the list of commodities requiring mandatory price supports.

Prior to the implementation of the Wool Act, support was provided through government loans and purchases. The Act passed in 1954 authorizes direct payments to producers.

The objective of the National Wool Act is to "encourage production of wool at prices that will assure a viable domestic industry in the future." The program is also justified in the National Wool Act of 1954 "as a measure of national security and to promote the general economic welfare, a positive balance of trade, and the efficient use of the nation's resources."

The program, which has been extended by Congress eight times since its passage, also provides a funding method for promotion of wool and mohair through deductions. Deductions from 1989 incentive payments were six cents per pound on wool with 30 cents per hundredweight going to the American Sheep Industry Association for promotion of the industry. A 4.5 cent per pound mohair promotion deduction went to the Mohair Council of America.

Following each extension of the Wool Act, the Secretary of Agriculture has called for a referendum of sheep producers to vote on continued deductions to support the promotional programs.

Incentive payments for 1989 were sent to producers last week. Total figures for payments to Crockett County producers were not available at presstime.

Producers interested in a continuation of the Wool Act as it currently exists should express their support of the program to:

Lions Club broom and mop sale April 19

The Ozona Lions Club will hold its annual broom and mop sale Thursday, April 19, on the town square beginning at 8:00 a.m.

All of the items are manufactured by blind and visually-impaired workers in the Light House For The Blind. Every home and business can use some of these cleaning aids, and every item purchased helps to provide dignity and the security of regular employment for the blind citizens.

You can stop by the town square any time during the day on Thursday to make your purchase. A Lions Club member will be more than willing to assist you.

Storm clouds bring high wind, little rain

A fast moving front which passed through Ozona the night of April 12 left a slight .12 inch of rain in its wake. Wind damage from the storm left more visible results.

The east side of the town square fell victim to the wind when large branches were stripped from a tree. The U. S. flag at the south end of the square also suffered damage and hung from its bottom fastener until Monday morning.

A carport joining Mrs. Vera Baker's home was damaged by the wind as was the roof at Blue Ridge Oil and Gas.

Winds were clocked at 44 miles per hour south of Ozona.

Payne employed as athletic director

Don Payne, head football coach at Ozona High School, was employed as athletic director for the school district at an April 9 meeting of the board. Payne takes the place of Ozona's present athletic director, John Curry, who was recently hired as principal of Ozona High School. Curry will continue as varsity boys' basketball coach.

Members of the board also approved a summer class for students who will be entering prekindergarten in Ozona Primary School next year and who have been identified in the recently held screening clinic as needing assistance in their English speaking and comprehension skills.

Supt. Garland Davis was authorized by the board to send paraprofessional and auxiliary employees who are employed for less than 12 months a letter of reasonable assurance of employment for the 1990-91 school year.

The Ozona Lions Club thanks you for your support.

American Cancer Society starts food fight against cancer

Jim Wilson, Tedra Ulmer and Fred Fierro are leading the citizens of Ozona in the Great American Food Fight against Cancer.

The American Cancer Society in Ozona is looking for people who want to pick a fight—the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer. On that day, the Society will ask Americans to choose foods that could lower their risks for certain cancers.

Similar to the Society's Great American Smokeout, the Food Fight will be an upbeat effort to convince Americans to learn more about diet and cancer and to act upon that knowledge. Activities are planned all around the county, in supermarkets and restaurants, in businesses, schools, and hospitals—anywhere food is bought, prepared, or eaten.

"Although there's no magic potion you can take to prevent cancer, evidence does suggest that you can fight cancer through making simple changes in your diet," says Tedra Ulmer, chairman of the local event.

According to Ulmer, the link between diet and cancer has now become a major area of American Cancer Society research. "Studies indicate that as much as 80 percent of all cancers may be related to the environment and to the things we eat, drink and smoke," she states. "Diet alone might account for perhaps as much as 35% of all cancers, except for those of the skin."

Ulmer finds it interesting to think that anything so familiar as the food we eat could have an impact on risks for cancer. She adds, "It's gratifying to know that we can do something everyday to fight cancer."

During the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer, Americans are asked to eat foods rich in vitamins A and C, low in fat, and high in fiber, as well as cabbage-family (cruciferous) vegetables. The emphasis will be on making positive choices and on having fun.

"Changing the diet to eat healthier foods doesn't have to be a chore," says Ulmer. "People will be surprised at how easy the changes are—and how inexpensive they are too."

For example, cutting fat intake involves reducing amounts of butter, oil, and margarine in recipes, not eliminating them. Steaming, poaching, and oven-broiling can be used to prepare foods instead of frying them.

"The American Cancer Society has plenty of information on how to make wise choices when cooking, shopping, and eating out," says Ulmer. "We're hoping the Great American Food Fight Against Cancer will let people know that we're the ones to call for advice."

Joining Mrs. Ulmer in asking fellow Ozonans to participate in the April 19 Great American Food Fight Against Cancer are Sheriff Jim Wilson and Deputy Fred Fierro.

Governor designates April recycling month
The citizens of the state of Texas generate more than 40,000 tons of waste per day, most of which is dumped in landfills across the state. New federal regulations are expected to close at least one-third of these landfills, promising to make solid waste disposal increasingly expensive and harmful to the environment. All sectors of society must act now to reduce the volume of materials in the waste system. Recycling is one responsible and economical way that all Texans can respond to this challenge. State and local governments should set an example by adopting measures that will encourage the recycling, rather than dumping, of waste materials. States agencies in Austin are particularly urged to cooperate with the State Purchasing and General Services Commission in expanding their current recycling efforts. Therefore, I, William P. Clements, Jr., Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the month of April, 1990, as: RECYCLING MONTH in Texas and urge the appropriate recognition thereof.

W. P. Clements, Jr., Governor of Texas

Old photos identified

Ozona Stockman:
Dear Friends,
It is such a pleasure and joy to see and read the Ozona Stockman it is just like getting a letter from home. It seems like Ozona has really grown. Ozona back in the middle 20's might have been small in size, but a heart of gold. I can always remember the Seahorns. They were so good to me; then the Millers (Jake, Slick and Buster); the Coates (Bud, John and the daughter); the Ingham family; the Schneemans (Edda, Phillip and Max); Miller Robison and sister; the Pierces (Ester, Kate and Vicky); Joe Sellers; the Friends; Hendersons (John and Dorothy).
Again, I loved Ozona and still do. I have often wondered what happened to Woodrow Wilson and Sister Melba. I know Woodrow went to West Point, but lost track from there. I will try to guess on the April 4th issue:
Top row: Chester Wilson, Mrs. Albrey Fussell, Joe Sellers Pierce, Childress, ———, Powell, Robison, Vaughn, I'm going to guess Jessie Inghram, Marvin Rape, Vick Montgomery, Bernice Bailey. Next to Bernice I'm going to say Miller, Hop Hoover, Conley Cox, Schwalbe, Williams, if it is her dad that sold meat for awhile door-to-door. Guess I have messed up good Scotty. Maybe someone can fill in the blanks or mistakes.
Before I close I want to wish the best for my friends and their families. May the Good Lord bless and keep them, and may they always look for His guidance.
I was about to leave out two good families, the Casbeer and Johnigans. I liked everyone. God meant it to be that way.
We both need your prayers. My wife, Genora Sue, isn't feeling anywhere I would like for her to feel. We are going on 47 years married.
Your friends,

Dear Editor:
I enjoy the Stockman, and especially the old pictures in the "Newsreel". I have been able to identify a number of people in most of the pictures, but this is my first time to write to you.
My identification of the people in the picture of your April 4 paper may not be exact, and there are some that I can't identify, but here is a try:
Front row, George Vick Montgomery, Bernice Bailey, ——— Miller?, Hop Hoover, Conley Cox, and Abe Lee. My memory after over 50 years may not be correct, so if you have better identification, please do not print this. I have not lived in Ozona since 1949 so probably would recognize the old pictures better than if I saw them today.
Sincerely,
Mona Deland

Editor's note:
Every letter that we receive is enjoyed and cherished by all of our readers. Even I recognize many of the people in the old photos and enjoy hearing my mother and father, Buddy and Maggie (Seahorn) Moore, talk and reminisce about all those that they had grown up with. I went to school with many of their children. If you have old photos that have not been published in the Newsreel column, and would like to have them printed, please bring them by the Stockman office. We promise to take good care of them and will return them in the same condition as they were in when we received them. The reproduction process used in printing the newspaper does not harm the photos.
Keep those letters coming.

EARTH DAY

Garbage Glut. Hole in the Ozone Layer. Medical Waste on Beaches. Contaminated Drinking Water. Acid Rain. Toxic Waste. Pesticides in Food. Oil Spills. Endangered Species. Droughts. Hurricanes. Shrinking Forests. Expanding Deserts. Global Warming.

The environment is making headlines. So many, in fact, that some people feel helpless in the face of these complex, planetary problems. "What can I do?" we ask in a world of environmental crises. Earth Day 1990 challenges us all to reconsider our critically important relationship with Planet Earth. The day can serve as a reminder and a demonstration that our planet is a single ecosystem, and that even for planets, time can run out.

On April 22, 1970, the modern environmental movement was born with the first Earth Day. More than 20 million people participated in demonstrations, teach-ins, parades, art exhibitions, street theatre, and other events across the country. As a result of the first Earth Day, the Environmental Protection Agency was established.

On April 22, 1990, Earth Day will be celebrated again. This time, 100 million people around the globe are expected to participate. In November, President George Bush signed into law a joint Congressional resolution officially recognizing April 22, 1990, as Earth Day and proclaiming the 1990s as the "decade of the environment."

Governor proclaims April 22 as Earth Day

"Almost 20 years ago, more than 20 million Americans joined together on the first Earth Day in a demonstration for the environment. Their collective action contributed to the passage of sweeping new laws protecting our air, water and land," says a memorandum from Gov. Bill Clements. The official memorandum was signed Feb. 16 designating April 22, 1990, as Earth Day and urging Texans to recognize the event appropriately.

"Despite much progress, 19 years later we find ourselves confronted by even more serious threats to the health of our environment. Global climate change, ozone depletion, tropical deforestation, water pollution, toxic and radioactive waste disposal and desertification are among the grave challenges that require the attention and action of all sectors of society.

"Earth Day 1990 is a national and international call to action for all citizens to join a global effort to save the planet. Earth Day 1990 activities -- such as tree plantings and recycling events -- will educate citizens of the importance of adopting more ecologically sound lifestyles.

It's time to care. For more information on how you can help save the environment, come by the public library and check it out.

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK

"Reach For A Star: Ask A Librarian" is the theme of this year's National Library Week (April 23-27). Take at least one trip to the library this week to learn of all the services the library offers. This special week helps us remember how fortunate we are to have lending libraries. How limited our reading would be if we had to buy all of our books. The first children's library in America was the Bingham Library For Youth in Salisbury, Connecticut. This library opened in 1803 with 150 books for kids aged nine to 16 years. Today, children's libraries across the country offer so much more than just books. Special programs, story hours and activities bring children to the library at an early age to show them the wonderful things books have to offer.

CCPL is celebrating National Library Week with displays of all the latest books, an art exhibit by the high school art students and FREE FINES. If you have an overdue book, now is the time to bring it in and take advantage of FREE FINES WEEK. Don't miss out. Visit your public library today.

Youth work camp plans begin

Tuesday, April 24, at 5:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church is the time and place for a meeting to finalize plans for a second youth work camp this summer. All adults who are interested in helping with the work camp in any way are urged to attend. The date for the camp has been tentatively scheduled for the week of May 28-June 1.

The purpose of this year's camp, as was last year's, is to involve Ozona young people in service to their community by cleaning, repairing, and fixing up homes of persons who are either financially or physically unable to do so themselves.

It is hoped that the work camp will be truly ecumenical; therefore, youth leaders from all community churches and interested lay persons are invited to attend this planning meeting.

Gail and Carl Simmons of Hobbs, NM, spent the Easter weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt.

Malava Blanton was hostess for her family during Easter, her son, Doug Blanton, and her daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leifeste and girls, all of San Angelo.

DeHoyos brings new attitude to team

Track team members at Ramona High School in Ramona, CA, have a new attitude about their sport since Randy DeHoyos became coach.

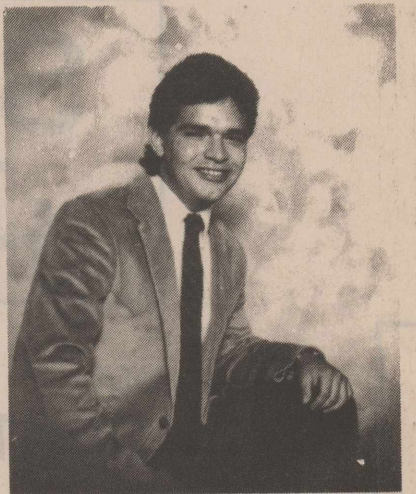

"Ramona and track usually aren't talked about in the same breath," said Tom Smith, a junior student, in a recent interview with the Ramona Sentinel.

DeHoyos, a 1983 graduate of Ozona High School, earned a degree at Angelo State University before moving to California and becoming a coach.

"At first I went out for track to keep in shape for football," said junior track star Sarn Salmon. "But Coach DeHoyos has shown us that we can really compete."

The tracksters plan to use their

Mud and Spit

BY CHARLES HUFFMAN, PASTOR
Faith Lutheran Church, Ozona
Hope Lutheran Church

"Don't play in the mud, _____, you'll get your new clothes all dirty!" "Don't spit, _____, you know that's not nice!" Remember? We would hardly think of Mud and Spit as materials for a miracle, but that's exactly the mixture Jesus puts on the eyes of a blind man - and he sees! Physical blindness is a serious handicap, but even more serious is spiritual blindness - to live apart from God in the darkness of sin. The young man in our text had always lived in physical darkness, but Jesus came by and healed him - and he could see what he'd never seen before.

But more than that happened, as John uses 38 verses to describe how he came to see other things than those in the light of this world. One by one, the spiritual scales are lifted from his heart until at the end of the chapter we find him kneeling to worship Jesus and hear him saying: "I do believe, Lord". So as we meditate on this double healing of Jesus, we ask God's Spirit to remove any spiritual scales that may still be attached to our eyes - and cause us to say, "Lord, in a new and deeper way, I believe." Jesus took Mud and Spit, put it on the man's eyes, sent him to wash in the Pool of Siloam, and he came back seeing. Of course, the healing power wasn't in the mudpack or water of the pool - it was in Jesus Christ, the Word of God become flesh. God attaches His Word to common things - Mud and Spit, Water, Bread and Wine, and miraculous cleansing takes place. As this man returned from the pool, those who knew him were so amazed that they began to debate if he really was the one who'd been begging at the gate. And although it's almost too good to be true, the young man ends the argument by saying: "I'm the one". Since miracles ought to be shared with those who appreciate them most, God's priests, they take him to the Temple. But instead of rejoicing and giving thanks, the Pharisees try to deny this marvelous healing. What a tragedy that some hearts become so hardened that even beautiful miracles can't move them!

And yet, if this young man hadn't gone through a trial because of his meeting Jesus, he might have gone away with only physical sight. Many of us could point to trials in our lives that at the time seemed senseless and cruel. But later, when life had returned to normal and we had time to look back, we saw something that we hadn't seen before. Then we realized how far we had strayed from God, and how that trial had taught us to depend on Him. What had appeared to be the Mud and Spit of senseless trial became God's mudpack of grace, lifting heavy scales from our eyes and letting in the light of His great love. So the Pharisees, unable to deny this miracle even after calling in his parents, must contend with the healed man and through him with Jesus who healed him. They try to discredit our Lord because He worked this miracle on a Sabbath, and even call Him a "sinner". So the young man replies, "I know only one thing - I used to be blind, and now I can see." He seems to get stronger with each question and grows under the attack of the Pharisees. Something's happened that can't be denied - HE CAN SEE! What's more, he begins to see what the Pharisees won't see. God has made contact, a real miracle's happened, the light of the Kingdom is beginning to dawn.

So the Pharisees are right when they ask, "What do YOU say about Him, since He gave you your sight?" Sometimes the world understands the issue better than the church. The object of faith is Jesus Christ, but what do we tend to witness to: our denomination, the building, the pastor, the friendly people?

So often God's people feel uncomfortable when someone asks a question that calls for a faithful answer. We feel uncomfortable with the Mud and Spit of unbelievers who ask WHAT we believe - and WHY we believe it. So, the Mud and Spit push hard, and what we believe can't be hidden in the darkness any longer. But don't get angry at the Mud and Spit; they may be God's mudpack that challenges us to be exposed to the light - and walk in it. So here come the questions! WHY do you believe, Christian? WHAT do you believe? In reply to the Pharisee's claim to be disciples of Moses whom God spoke to - and the denial of knowing where Jesus comes from, the young man says, "Nobody has ever heard of anyone giving sight to a man born blind. If this One were not from God,

He couldn't do anything!" Outdone in both their teaching and denial of the truth, the only way the Pharisees can counter this miraculous healing is to remove the proof from their midst. John tells us they put the young man out of the Synagogue, excommunicated him and cut him off from Temple fellowship. That's the price he has to pay for walking in the light.

The life of each Christian is a life of witness - similar to that of the man in our text, for each day we have living proof of what God has done for us - and to us. That kind of witness will be challenged, and is going to be fought against because it says NO to the arrogance and power of man. It says NO to the darkness, because the scales have been pulled off by the Mudpack of Faith that's been challenged and tried. Jesus heard the young man had been put out of the Temple and went looking for him. Then a tender scene unfolds, as Jesus asks the same question the Pharisees had asked, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?" But what a difference in the WAY the question's asked now. When he finds out it is Jesus, the One who healed him, the young man bows down in worship and says, "I do believe, Lord". That's 20-20 vision! That's where the light is found that enlightens our mind, that floods our path and gives us confidence, that glows into every corner and exposes every obstacle and pitfall.

Mud and spit mixed together, and a blind man sees. But behind the Mud and Spit is Jesus Christ, and the man's spiritual eyes see WHO He is - and he lived in that light. In John 8, Jesus says, "I am the Light of the world. Follow Me and you will never wander in the dark but will have the Light of Life". As we follow Him to a hill called Cavalry and stand under His Cross, the darkness of our sins which surround us seems to overcome the light for a little while. But then as we follow Him to the place of His burial, the brilliance that bursts forth from His empty tomb pierces the darkness. And the Light of the world touches our eyes, and we can see! What a glorious thing when we can see every day, saying "I do believe, Lord," and worship Him who died and rose again for us - that we might live in His Light forever!

Four lady lions qualify for regional, team ties for second at district track meet

by Sarah Pullen

The Ozona Lady Lions' regular track season was successfully completed on Friday, April 6, at Stanton at the district meet.

Eldorado had the winning girls' team with 142 points, while Ozona and McCamey tied for second with 136 points.

Several girls qualified for regional competition by placing first or second in various events. Claudia Avilia won both the 800 with a time of 2:32.58 and the 200m in 26.90. Avilia placed second in both the triple jump and the long jump and was also on the qualifying 1600m relay along with Tamel West, Hollie Williams and Cullen Curry.

Tamel West won the high jump and the 100 intermediate hurdles with a time of 18.1. She also won the 300m intermediate hurdles with a 50.50 time.

In the 400m contest, Hollie Williams placed second, giving her a shot at regionals in 67.2 seconds.

Kim Coy, Tricia Etheridge and Carri Chandler placed third, fourth and fifth respectively in the 3200 meter run as well as in the 1600 meters.

Myra Sanchez, Susan Pullen, Cullen Curry and Gloria Veloz made up the sixth placing sprint relay, while Melissa Mitchell, Tricia Etheridge, Kim Coy and Myra Sanchez made up the sixth placing in the 800m relay. Mikki Ramirez placed sixth in the 300m hurdles and in the high jump. Cullen Curry placed sixth in the triple jump while Tamel West's long jump put her in the fourth spot.

Belia Vasquez placed third in the discus and Tricia Hartnett placed sixth in the shot put.

"It was a successful season with a lot of promise for many girls," Coach Mac said. "We would have enjoyed more participation from other girls to help make up the points we needed to win the district championship. The few girls we had out gave as much as they could and there is a lot of success in that. I feel that our girls' programs are starting to build again and this final sport of the season should leave us hungry to compete next year. I'm thrilled that we qualified to regionals in nine events! We are really looking forward to getting ready to compete on the next level," said Coach David McWilliams.

The girls' success, according to Coach Mac, had a lot to do with the continuity of the girls' programs. "Coach Hughey, Coach Pool and Coach Aldridge really contributed their knowledge and talents to our season."

These outstanding athletes will represent Ozona in the boys class 2-A division regional track meet in Abilene on April 27 and 28. They are: (left to rt.) Mark Ramirez, Luis Rico, Lee Galan, Gilbert Rico and Ruben Borrego.

Sabers West III military operations in Ft. Stockton to leave area as it was found

When military aircraft and vehicles visit West Texas for Sabers West III in April, every effort will be made to leave the exercise area the way it was found. All existing agreements not to overfly specific ranches will be honored.

III Corps will provide a claims officer who will be located at the Civil Military Operations Center at the Fort Stockton airfield. If at anytime any rancher or other property owner suffers damages directly related to the exercise, they should contact this office at 1-800-6CAV-BDE.

If an accident occurs, the legal representative at the CMOC should be contacted immediately. The legal officer will visit the site to determine the best way of fixing the damage. The Army will try to fix the damage first and return the property to its original condition. If that's not possible, a claim may be filed.

A claims representative from Fort Hood will be at the CMOC in Ft. Stockton from April 16-30.

Congressman Lamar Smith co-sponsors legislation to improve rural health care

Congressman Lamar Smith (R-TX) co-sponsored comprehensive rural health care legislation introduced in the House by the Rural Health Care Coalition.

"Rural communities are not asking for a handout," Smith said. "The goal is to establish a level playing field so that rural Americans have a fighting chance at equal treatment."

"A recent report to Governor Clements found that every day in rural Texas there are an average 89 deaths and 43 births, but since 1984, 65 Texas hospitals have closed, 27 counties have no licensed nursing homes, 14 counties have no physician, and some rural Texans have to drive as much as 300 miles to obtain in-patient care."

"Texas has the dubious distinction of leading the nation in hospital closures," Smith said. "Texas had eight percent of the nation's hospitals in 1987 but 25 percent of the nation's closures."

The rural health care legislative package targets two problems, inadequate Medicare payments and a shortage of health care personnel in rural areas.

"Proposed legislation would no longer allow rural hospitals to be paid less than what urban facilities are paid by Medicare for providing the same service," Smith pointed out.

The current difference in Medicare reimbursement rates between urban and rural hospitals is approximately 10 percent, but adjustments for wages and other factors can swell the difference up to 40 percent, according to some estimates.

The legislative proposal would establish a single base-payment rate in October 1991, which would be fully phased in by October 1994.

A primary thrust of the legislation is to lend support to efforts to obtain additional health care professionals in rural areas. The legislation would extend direct Medicare reimbursement for Nurse Practitioners and Clinical Nurse Specialists, provide grants for recruitment, financial aid to students, and funding for training programs in the health professions. It would also allow for direct reimbursement for physician assistants, increasing rural citizen's access to medical services.

Notes from the ASCS office..... 1990 EMERGENCY FEED PROGRAM

Crockett County officially went into the 1990 Emergency Feed Program on April 12. Producers who are interested need to come by the office and sign-up. At this time we are only having you give head counts and feed that is on hand the day you sign-up. We do not have any more information on the program than we did a month ago, only that we will have a program. You are urged to get the information requested in, as each day you wait is eligibility lost. We are still trying to close out the 1989 Feed Program. If you did not receive a feed certification letter, come by the office and get one. Every producer who was in the program must have one completed. 1989 final payments will not be made until these certifications are in. Be sure to have all your feed tickets turned into the office by April 30th. If you have any questions, call or come by the office.

Names of winners of the essay contest, sponsored by Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative, were announced this week by Jim Martin Co-op manager.

Area youths whose winning essay qualified them for an expense-paid Rural Electric Youth Tour trip to Washington, D.C., are John Williams of Reagan County School District and Da Sha Barnard of Menard County School District.

John Williams, son of Larry and Elaine Williams, is a senior at Regan County High School. He is in the national honor society and active in the 4-H programs.

Da Sha Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carlton, is a sophomore at Menard High School and participates in band and UIL Ready-Writing.

The Washington Rural Electric Youth Tour Winners were chosen from a field of entries who submitted essays on the subject "History and Organization of Rural Electrification."

They will be among 75 young people from all over the state participating in the Texas tour to the nation's capital city, June 7-19.

All the participants in Texas' Youth Tour are eligible to compete to represent the state on NRECA's Youth consulting Board. Texas' representative will attend NRECA's February 1991, annual meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana, and participate in a variety of other activities throughout the year.

Approximately 1,000 Youth Tour participants from 37 states will meet in Washington, D.C. for the 27th National Rural Electric Youth Tour.

U.S. mohair consumption low

Want to buy a mohair sweater? Well you'll have to travel to Paris or London. The United States only consumes about 500,000 pounds of mohair per year while Europeans consume 30 million pounds. Even though Texas is the second largest producer of raw mohair in the world, with 15.7 million pounds-28% of the world share, it is next to impossible to find a mohair rich item at your favorite shopping mall.

Being the "big boy on the block" does not necessarily mean having a big share of the income. It is ironic that the $2000 Valentino cape sold in the boutiques of Paris was made possible by a $40 Texas goat which probably spent his entire life in Crockett County or one of the other goat producing areas in West Texas.

Your grandparents' car probably had mohair upholstery while there were no doubt several mohair garments and household furnishings in their home. The movie theaters of the 1930's and 40's used mohair velour upholstery for their seat coverings and the luxury hotels built during that period used mohair carpets.

In the 1950's synthetic fabrics were introduced and there was a tremendous shift in the United States from the almost exclusive use of natural fibers to those made from petroleum bases. The marketing programs sponsored by the chemical company manufacturers of these synthetic fibers coerced the domestic textile industry to switch their processes to synthetics. Subsequently the technologies for processing natural animal fibers like mohair were abandoned and have never returned to the U.S. textile industry.

This decline and virtual demise of domestic processing capabilities has resulted in very few value added dollars from the raw commodities like mohair and wool staying in Texas. The Middle Rio Grande Development Council and Texas Department of Agriculture are working to develop a Texas processing base in Rocksprings.

Eighty-five percent of the 15 million pound Texas mohair clip is marketed in its raw state just as it is prepared at the ranch. There has been little direct communication between local producers and the European end-user of the fiber. Therefore there has been little feedback to producers regarding the quality and specifications required by these end-users of the product. As a result of the mohair project undertaken by the MRGDC and the Texas Department of Agriculture these end-users, mostly European spinners and knitters, have made direct contact with producers and may be participating together in a domestic processing plant.

Another important link in the process is the shearing crew which operates autonomous from the producer and end-user. The way in which mohair is removed from the goat has a tremendous impact on the quality of the resultant garment. Since there has been no communication with the end-user, the shearer has not had the feedback about the way his work impacts the quality of the Valentino cape.

An area processing industry will also provide that vital link between the end-users of mohair and the producers of mohair so that production and processing of the fiber can be tailored for specific end uses. The initial processing of mohair and wool in the region will lead to spinoff textile developments down the road and will create an appropriate diversification for the region's economy.

Barbara Malone-Cook Of The Month

Barbara Malone, Cook of the Month for April, maintains two kitchens, but does most of her cooking at the family ranch near Pandale on weekends.

Barbara's job as an accountant in the firm of John Stokes, CPA keeps her in town during the week. "They hate to see me coming on Monday's," says Barbara of the office staff. The reason? Cookies baked during the weekend.

German chocolate cake and pecan pies are favorite desserts of Barbara's husband Sonny. They both look forward to double quick dinner buns, a Pandale Cookbook recipe of Mrs. Emmitt Cain, each weekend.

The Malones reared their four children in Corpus Christi and Victoria and returned to this area in 1980. "I look forward to going home on the weekend and seeing how much the mesquite has put out and how many new lambs have been born," said Barbara.

Her interests other than children and five grandchildren include membership in Sunday school classes in Pandale and Ozona, Pandale Study Club and Woman's League. She enjoys playing 42 and card games and crocheting. "I have four afghans going now."

DOUBLE QUICK DINNER BUNS

- 3/4 c. warm water
- 1 pkg. dry yeast
- 1/4 c. sugar

- 1 tsp. salt
  - 2 1/4 c. flour
  - 1 egg
  - 1/4 c. shortening or soft butter
- Dissolve yeast in water in mixing bowl; add sugar, salt and about half the flour. Beat 2 minutes. Add egg and shortening, then remaining flour. Let rise 40-50 minutes. Stir down batter and drop into muffin tins. Let rise another 30 minutes until double in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees about 10 minutes. Makes 1 dozen buns.

WHITE GRAPE SALAD

- 2 lbs. white grapes
  - 1 15.5 oz. can crushed pineapple, drained
  - 1 c. chopped pecans.
- Make dressing with: 2 T margarine, 2 T flour, 2 cups milk
Cook until thick, add 24 large marshmallows. Cool pour over grapes, pecans, pineapple. Add a dash of salt.

DORIS EASTERLING'S ICE CREAM

- 4 whole eggs, beaten
  - 2 c. sugar
  - 1 can Eagle Brand Milk
  - 1 lg. can Carnation milk
  - 1 T vanilla
- Fill freezer with milk. Makes 1.5 gallons.
You may add 2 cups of your favorite fresh fruit for variety.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

Easter bonnets were completed in Monday morning's craft class. Residents putting just the right colored bow, ribbon and flower in place were Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Adeliada Smith, Chata Tambunga, Florence Porras, Moriama Perez, Eva Dean, Alice Ross, Frances Davis and Juana Hernandez. Even though residents took their work seriously, they couldn't help but laugh out loud on occasion.

The monthly residents' birthday party was held Monday afternoon honoring Eva Dean. Hostesses for the party were: Alma Bedner, Beverly Preddy and Audrey Smith. They did a fantastic job, and the cakes that Audrey baked were delicious. Eva was presented with a lovely orchid corsage compliments of Ozona Floral. We would like to thank everyone involved for making this day a special one for Eva.

Frances Davis loaded up on prizes in Tuesday morning's bingo. She won three games. Hazel McDaniel and Juana Hernandez didn't do too badly, either; they won two games each. Other winners were: Florence Porras, Theo Burns, Elvira Pena and Santos Martinez. Much appreciated volunteers were Sophie Kyle and Georgia Kirby. Thank you, ladies.

David McCarley of First Baptist Church led a song service Tuesday afternoon. The singing was loud and clear, and residents thoroughly enjoyed participating in the service.

Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop volunteers were Ruthie Dorris, Alma Bedner and Ruth Hester. The workshop was attended by: Theo Burns, Hazel McDaniel, Frances Davis, Chata Tambunga, Madge Davis, Moriama Perez, Juana Hernandez and Florence Porras. It was a busy time, and we would like to thank Ruth, Ruthie and Alma for their help.

Several of the residents participated in an Easter egg hunt Wednesday afternoon. A lovely orchid corsage was won by Lucia Rios for finding the most eggs. After the hunt, all the residents enjoyed the candy collected from the hunt. Prize eggs were also hidden containing necklaces, earrings, pins or cash.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were: Angie Marshall, Melissa Wooten, Vivian Hughes, Lola Rios, Kathy Marshall and Audrey Smith. We would like to thank these ladies for a job well done. We appreciate it.

The Spanish Hour of Praise was held Thursday afternoon. We would like to thank all the visitors who attended this activity. Our Spanish speaking residents really look forward to your visits.

Friday the 13th wasn't unlucky for Moriama Perez. She won three bingo games. Adeliada Smith and Manuela Perez must have rubbed their rabbits' feet before attending bingo, because they won two games each. Alice Ross, Theo Burns and Myrtle Post won one game each. We would like to thank Helen Wall for supplying several of the prizes given out during Friday's games.

The highlight of Friday afternoon's Easter party was an Easter bonnet contest. Winners were: Hazel McDaniel - most beautiful, Moriama Perez - funniest, and Theo Burns - most unique. Each of these ladies received a cute little Easter bunny as a prize. Contestants entering the contest were: Adeliada Smith, Eva Dean, Frances Davis, Chata Tambunga, Juana Hernandez, Florence Porras and Alice Ross. Residents wearing bonnets not entered in the contest were: Floy Clare Short, Elvira Pena, Tomasa Ramos, Minnie Karr and Santos Martinez. We would like to thank Ruth Hester for judging the hats.

Easter Sunday's worship service was conducted by David McCarley of First Baptist Church. After the service, visitors and residents had fun trying on the bonnets on display. Thank you, David. You helped make Easter extra special.

Tag ends
by Scotty Moore

Boy, last week was a real disaster. For the first time the inevitable finally happened. One whole page of copy (four news stories) failed to get printed out from the computer, and unfortunately the Woman's League report, Sarah Pullen's foreign language and girls track stories and the Ozona Garden Club's flower show story didn't make the printing press. I knew it was going to happen one day and sure enough it did. Please accept our apologies.

Old man weather has tried and tried to drop the bucket this past week, but without success. The clouds have been heavy and the air thick, but not in the right sequence for a complete drenching rain. What little, if any, fell has been spotted. What we need is a slow, two or three-day rain, the soaking in kind, before hot weather gets here.

I understand from reading our three delivered daily newspapers in town that there has been some pushing and shoving going on regarding the wool and mohair incentive programs. Why, oh why can't they leave those programs be that really work. Maybe it's because the administration doesn't really understand how the incentive plan operates and has worked well for 35 years. It works exactly like the name implies, encouraging producers to breed for a better quality product through incentive payments. In other words if your product brings a higher price at the market place than your neighbor's your incentive check will be higher, which encourages your neighbor to improve his product. Best of all, the producers spend their own money promoting the increased consumption of the product financed by the deduction from the producers' incentive payment.

One thing is certain it would be a crushing blow to West Texas if this fine program is clipped. You think the streets of Ozona are deserted now, just watch what will happen if this program is busted!

Congratulations go out to the Ozona Lion Band for their fantastic accomplishment of winning SWEEPSTAKES.

The award is given to bands that receive a first division in marching, concert and sightreading UIL contests. Very few bands receive this award of excellence! Hard work and determination have paid off.

After listening to the scanner 16 to 18 hours a day and cringing after every M.I.P. report, maybe there should be some kind of mandatory training program that every kid should undergo during their driver's education training. Maybe a few days riding with the EMS crews would make them think twice about using the streets and highways as play toys. After spending 13 years taking photos for the sheriff's department in Edwards County of auto wrecks and plane crashes, safety has become second nature to me. Not from training but from fear, deathly fear!

Mr. and Mrs. Cuatro Davidson entertained Mrs. Davidson's father and sister, Frank Tillman of Junction and Lida Scharton and sons of Del Rio, over the Easter holidays. Both former Ozonans, Frank ranches in Junction when he isn't on the ACBL Bridge circuit, and Lida teaches in Eagle Pass.

The Franciscan friars are credited with discovering silver in Texas. In 1680 they operated several silver mines near present day El Paso. The mines became "Lost" when the friars concealed them rather than lose control of the mines to the Jesuits.

The 4-H and Youth Committee will meet prior to the leaders' meeting at 7 p.m. at the Civic Center. Business will include suggestions for ways to implement the Making the Grade task force recommendations in 1990. For more information, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721, or come by the office, located on the second floor of the courthouse annex.

4-H clothing deadline Friday

4-H members planning to participate in the clothing project are reminded the deadline to return registration surveys is Friday, April 20 at 4 p.m.

All 4-H members must return this survey to be eligible to compete in the county fashion show. If you need a survey, one can be obtained from the county Extension Office.

Agent Tedra Ulmer reports that 16 forms have been returned so far. "However," she noted, "we know of several more who have either already started sewing or have indicated they are interested in either sewing or buying divisions. We need those people to turn in their forms by the deadline."

For more information, call 392-2721 or come by the Extension Of-ice, located on the second floor of the county courthouse annex.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Fight cancer when dining out

You've probably noticed the photo of Jim Wilson and Fred Fierro by now—they're the guys who bravely gave up junk food for a day to attract our attention to the link between a healthy diet and the fight against cancer.

Of course, our sheriff and deputies have to eat on the run a lot—and that means eating out. If you think you can't eat a healthy diet right here in Ozona's restaurants, think again—it's easy with a little forethought.

Another place our law enforcement personnel have to be careful is when they're patrolling the many miles in Crockett County. It's easy to become addicted to eating as you drive along—and so it's doubly important to keep track of the kinds of food and number of calories you're taking in.

What are some tips for eating out and eating on the run while travelling?

First, try to pick a restaurant with a salad bar which offers lots of low-fat, high-fiber choices. Most of our restaurants have salads you can order, and many feature a soup and salad—just be sure the soup is a broth-type instead of a cream-style soup.

Read the menu carefully. Avoid items that are buttered, fried, breaded, creamed or browned. If you're not sure about a recipe, don't be shy about asking your server. And don't be afraid to ask if items can be prepared in a different manner or substituted. You can also ask that an item, such as high-fat french fries or chips or bread, not be brought with the meal.

Ask for sauces and salad dressing to be served on the side. Order breads and toast without butter or margarine. Ask to have items prepared without added fat.

You can cut down on portion sizes by ordering appetizers as the main course, ordering a la carte, sharing with a companion, or taking home part of your meal in a doggie bag. Some restaurants locally feature small-size meals (which are plenty for most of us).

Look for desserts with less fat and sugar—such as fresh fruit, frozen yogurt, and angel food cake.

Even at fast-food restaurants, you can make a difference by ordering a salad, skipping the cheese and mayonnaise on sandwiches, eating smaller portions, and choosing low-fat milk, juice or tea instead of shakes or malts.

And for the car, keep low-fat, high-fiber snacks in the car. That way you always have a "smart" snack on hand and can avoid candy bars and items you find in vending machines—most of which are high in fat and calories.

For more diet tips to help you fight cancer through a better diet, contact the American Cancer Society or call me at 392-2721. You can also come by the Cancer Society booth at our local health fair on Thursday, May 10, at the Civic Center!

And if you see Fred or Jim on Thursday, give them a pat on the back for their willpower and tell them we're proud of them for eating smart and fighting cancer.

4-H photography group meets

The first meeting of the new 4-H Photography Project group was held Tuesday, April 10, with 224-H members and leaders in attendance.

The group learned about how to clean cameras and how to hold their cameras. They also learned basic parts of the camera.

Any 4-H member who wishes to enroll in this project can still do so. Call the County Extension Office at 392-2721 for more information, or meeting time and place.

All the equipment needed is a camera of any kind. Some costs are involved, depending on how many photos the 4-H member takes during the project. Project leaders are Neal Ulmer and Penn Baggett.
