Band captures sweepstakes

By Ann Trull

At 8:15 a.m. the Ozona Lion Band departed for the UIL Music Region VII Concert and Sightreading Contest. At 11:30 a.m. the Lion Band arrived at Coleman. At 2:15 p.m. the Lion Band conquered.

Yes, the Lion Band has added yet another notch to their belt when they earned a Division I in both concert and sightreading to receive a sweepstakes trophy May 1, 1991.

The sweepstakes award is reserved for the bands in Texas that earn a Division I rating in marching, concert and sightreading. It is the highest honor a band in Texas can receive, and it belongs to only a select few.

The Lion Band began its success early in the year when they earned a I at district marching and advanced at the regional competition to the state level. This alone ranks Ozona in the top 12 AA marching bands in Texas, but Ozona placed eighth to up its rating even more.

After marching season they set to work on their contest numbers: Brandenburg Gate - Jennings, Connemara Sketches (three movements) - Osborne, and Northpointe Fantasy - Swearingen. According to Mr. Kelly Glaze, director, "Connemara Sketches is a very difficult piece. This is a challenge to a AA band and could be easily on the 4A music list."

In his critique, judge Billy Harrell applauded the band with "...you get a real nice ensemble sound and show good teaching. Congratulations, Division I."

The Lion Band has received Division I ratings for four years in marching, four Division I ratings in concert, three Division I ratings in sightreading. The only blemish on the band's record is one Division II in sightreading in 1989, for a total of 11 Division I's and one Division II.

"The judging standards were very high, and I am proud that we pulled it off," said Mr. Skip Carroll, assistant director.

Last year the band received straight Division I's from all judges in marching, concert and sightreading, and this year received I's from all judges in marching, sightreading, and two I's and one II.

Senior Tamie Reagor believes, "this year has been one great big success. We have done things never done in OHS history. Being a sweepstakes band again just put the icing on the cake, and brought our great year to a perfect end."

The judges had overwhelmingly complimentary comments about the performance.

Judge Bob Nelson of Temple High School said, "This band plays so musically. It is a pleasure to hear a band that plays so much music! This band goes past just playing notes; you really know how to make music. I enjoyed the many extra things you did. You have a great teacher and conductor. Keep up the high level of achievement. Band and teacher are really a winning combination. This is really a (Division) one plus band!"

The Ozona group traveled with a team of 74 members. This is far, far more than the normal amount of members competing in other AA bands.

Of six AA bands competing, only two received sweepstakes trophies,

Nurses to be recognized May 6-12

The Annual National Nurses Week celebration May 6-12 will honor the nursing profession and the contributions nurses have made to communities across the nation.

This one week celebration will recognize how nurses are working for health care excellence through patient education and information and a dedication to quality nursing care.

Join IN to help show our appreciation for the vital work this profession performs for THE community.

Together we can make a difference

Ozona and Eldorado.

Ozona players swept the judges off their feet with their sightreading performance in which the band and conductor have only seven minutes to look over a piece of music they have never before seen or played, and then perform the piece. Ozona showed straight Division I's all across the board.

"Overall you are an outstanding group, and I thank you for playing so well," said Blane Hinton, judge.

"The teaching of Mr. Glaze and Mr. Carroll is what led us to our numerous accomplishments. We couldn't have done it without them," said sophomore Mike Kenison.

The Seniors of 1991 have spearheaded the organization into four District Division I's in marching, three regional contest appearances, one state marching presence, four concert Division I's, three sightreading Division I's and three sweepstakes honors. Their first sweepstakes trophy was earned as freshmen in 1988, and it was also the first sweepstakes earned since 1958.

Senior four-year member Gilbert Rico says, "We finally got it together and performed the way we knew we could and as tradition dictates. It has been a great year."

Freshman Jennifer Evans smiled as she said, "it was the perfect way to end our successes during marching season."

Director Kelley Glaze said "this year the band has accomplished more than any year in history."

Both directors echo comments about how proud they and the band are that the community supports them so much and that this is a great source of pride that not very many bands can brag about.

Stefny Sutton, freshman, is proud that "the band worked diligently and deserved to receive this honor."

On May 23, the Lion Band, along with the sixth grade and junior high bands will perform in their 1991 "Spring Concert in the Park". The OHS band will perform their concert music along with several other pieces.

Court has called meeting

Commissioners canvassed results of the May 4 school trustee election at a called meeting May 6. The court certified that there were 40 votes cast for David Bean and 40 for Gary Buck Mitchell in the uncontested election.

The court voted to authorize advertisement for a deputy clerk for the office of Debbi Puckett, county and district clerk.

In a separate motion, commissioners voted to approve promotion of deputy clerk Debbie Phillips to chief deputy clerk. Commissioner Jim House abstained from voting.

Commissioner House also abstained from voting on a motion to provide temporary help in the clerk's office for two weeks. The motion was approved.

Hospital Administrator Bob Denison was present to explain a decision last week by his board to join other hospitals in the pursuit of a rural health grant for expansion of services. Court members endorsed the board's decision.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of commissioners' court will be May 13 at 9 a.m. in the district courtroom.

Hospitals combine to seek grant

Trustees of Crockett County Hospital and Care Center voted last week to combine forces with others to seek a grant through the Rural Health Outreach program.

Paul Adams of Shannon Hospital, the entity making application, was present at the May 2 meeting to explain the grant.

In order to apply, at least three hospitals needed to be involved, and the deadline was May 8.

After hearing from Adams, Ozona trustees voted to become part of the application along with hospitals from Sterling City, Robert Lee, Menard and Sonora.

If received, the grant could provide up to $300,000 for a three year period with reapplication necessary each of the years. The funds would be distributed among the rural hospitals for the purpose of expanding health care in those communities.

Adams stressed that this would not be Shannon's grant and recipients would not be required to send patients to Shannon if they preferred another hospital.

When asked what Shannon expected to gain, Adams replied that some patients will require specialty procedures and some of that work could be done at Shannon.

The grant opportunity was brought to the attention of Shannon officials by U. S. Rep. Charles Stenholm. He has written a letter of support to be sent with the grant application for the Concho Valley Rural Health Outreach Consortium, which is the name to be used by the group of hospitals.

The grant recipient will be decided in Washington by summer. Funding will be available for the next fiscal year.

Vasquez second in state L-D Debate

By Ann Trull

The 1991 State University Interscholastic League contest was held May 3 and 4 in Austin with two competitors from Ozona.

Michael Vasquez went , he saw and he conquered, as he won three straight Lincoln-Douglas debates and broke to the final round where he garnered a huge second place medal.

Myra Wilson faced some tough competition in persuasive speaking. She was fourth in her round of the preliminaries, and was bested by the two speakers who eventually finished first and second in state.

Myra, only a sophomore, won her spot at the state meet by placing second at the Region I meet.

Michael, a junior, won the 2A Region I title in L-D debate. Last year he appeared at state for the first time in informative speaking.

"We had a wonderful time. I am extremely proud of Michael. This proves that hard work really does pay off," said UIL coach Frances Curry.

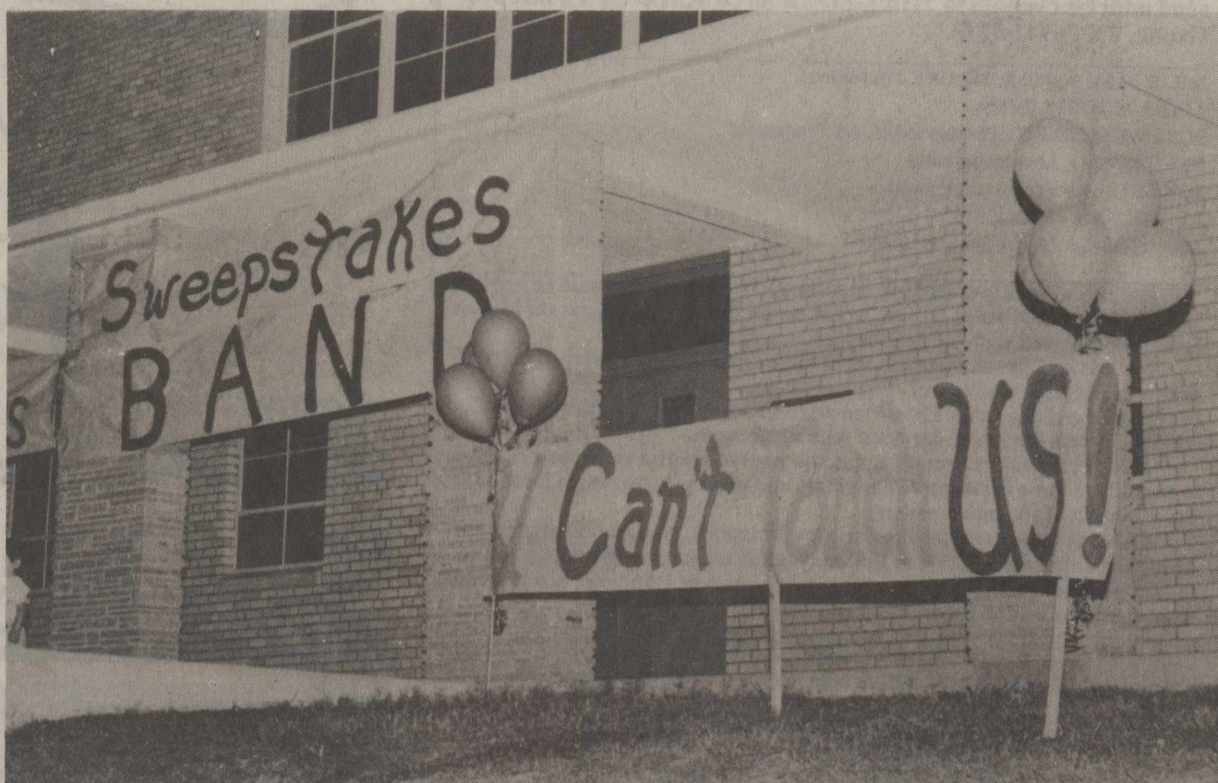

These two students made it to the state level and proved themselves to be among the best as only 12 advanced in each event.

Department of Health open house at new quarters

Supporters of the Lion Band decorated the band hall to show the sweepstakes winning band know that their hard work and dedication is appreciated.

Ozona Health Fair offers free tests

Free screenings for cholesterol, anemia, diabetes and hearing will highlight the annual Crockett County Health Fair Thursday, May 16, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the county civic center.

Twenty organizations and businesses will offer educational materials, informational exhibits and free health testing to the citizens of Crockett County during the fair, which is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Department of Health, Crockett County Hospital and the Crockett County Extension Home Economics Committee.

Included this year will be exhibits relating to senior citizens' services, mental health services, family violence and child abuse, fitness, parenting, teen sexuality, electrical safety and water conservation.

"We invite everyone in Crockett County to come by and save some money with free health tests, and to enjoy the educational displays," said Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent-Home Economics.

She noted some highlights of this year's health fair will include a blood drive by United Blood Services, a demonstration of the Probation Department's new electronic monitoring system, and fitness testing by the Center at Shannon Hospital.

"You'll also want to take advantage of the 'Ask a Pharmacist' booth

Local 4-H'ers advance to state

At the close of the District VI 4-H Roundup awards ceremony on Saturday, 26 senior 4-H members from Crockett County had qualified for state competition by winning first or second in their respective contests.

This is the largest number to advance to state from Crockett County in a number of years, and the county was further honored by receiving a plaque for the most entries of any county participating in this year's contest, for the second year in a row.

During the ceremony, held in Fort Stockton High School's auditorium, outgoing District VI 4-H Council secretary Tamie Reagor was recognized along with other outgoing officers, and was informed that she will be interviewed for a 4-H scholarship at State Roundup in June at College Station.

The new District VI Council officers were also sworn in on Saturday. Katharine Durham is the new District VI Council parliamentarian. She presently serves as county 4-H council delegate.

Two junior method demonstration entries from Crockett County also completed at district this year. They were a family life educational activity entry with team members Camelia Williams, Helena Williams and Lindsay Flanagan, and a rabbit demonstration team consisting of Jason and Amanda Hignight. Both placed second in their contests.

Marty and Mitchell Martinez had also prepared a safety demonstration but were unable to attend competition on Saturday; however, they did present their demonstration at the County Roundup night on April 30.

Senior demonstrations were in the categories of health, meat science, family life, consumer education, and open class. Hollie Williams and Miranda Keith brought home blue ribbons in their categories of family life and health, as did the team of Jennifer Davidson and Julie Childress in meat science.

The team of Katharine Durham and Carrie Chandler placed second in the consumer category, as did Adrienne Dickerson in the open class.

"Miz Tamie's 4-H Cookin' School" placed second in share-the-fun. Cast members are Tamie Reagor, Mike Kenison, Whitney Vannoy, C'Jay McKinney, Stefny Sutton, Chris Cornett and April Graham. These 4-H members will join other 4-H'ers who have already qualified for state competition in judging and evaluation contests. The teams and members are as follows:

Wool Judging — Travis Davidson, Chad Upham, Terry House, Anthony Sanchez.

Range Evaluation — Matthew Marshall, Martha Mayfield, Angie Marshall and Justin Southern.

Plant Identification — Jimmy McCary, Fleet Worthington, Gary Thompson, Heather Hill.

Adults accompanying the group to Fort Stockton for the contest were County Extension Agents Billy Reagor and Tedra Ulmer, and the following adult leaders and parents: Judy Reagor, Nancy Vannoy, Carmen Sutton, Jeffery Sutton, Janis Graham, Helen Kenison, Peggy Dickerson, Neal Ulmer, Sara Hignight, Vonda Flanagan and Stan Flanagan, Sadie Davidson and Sandra Childress.

For more information about leadership opportunities in 4-H, contact the Crockett County Extension Office at 392-2721.

Happy anniversary to Mr. and Mrs. John Bohannon whose special day is May 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress were in Austin last weekend to attend state one-act play contest. Their grandson, Ron Berry Jr., was a member of the 5-A Clearlake High School cast of Rivers and Ravines, which won second place.

each year, and research tells us that those who are abused often carry on the cycle of abuse with their own families.

The Family Shelter Program is new to Crockett County, but badly needed, according to Crockett County law enforcement and government officials.

There is no charge to attend the meeting, and women on their lunch hour are invited to bring a sack lunch for a break from work! Guests are welcome, and the program is open to any interested persons, regardless of sex, religion, national origin, handicap, color, socioeconomic level, race or handicap.

This will be the last meeting before September, and members are urged to attend.

Think About It!

By Ralph O. Moore

Trust

Did you see the recent Texas Poll study that measured the amount of trust that Texans have regarding various occupations? The President fared well, but Congress, the Governor and the Legislature didn't. Neither did TV evangelists or insurance salesmen. While job approval ratings were moderately high, trust took a dive.

Sociologists claim this is due to the "Watergate-Vietnam Syndrome." Those events caused skepticism within the public and plummeted their trust of institutions, especially government, during the 1970s. Other focal points of institutionalism that came under attack then were organized religion, major corporations, and social entities.

Credibility is not one of our strengths anymore. There was a time when men lived by their word - and people trusted one another. Then came an onslaught of materialism and greed that eroded moral energy and trust took a backseat. Evidently, at least in Texas, it is still there.

People don't trust others for a reason - they don't deserve it. In major cities, citizens are on constant watch that someone doesn't put a knife in their backs. In small towns, folks have to watch out for those who kill with the knife of gossip and slander. Every word now has to be validated. Its a sorry state of affairs when you can't trust anyone.

In our "dog-eat-dog" society, where success is often measured by the amount of lies one has gotten away with, or by the amount of things he has accumulated, trust has ceased to command a high place. In fact, suspicion inhabits more hearts than credence does. We need a trusting place!

All of us know people that we don't trust. Their lies, conduct, and attitudes have made us leery of believing them. We keep these folks at arm's length. Some are stereotyped as non-trustworthy; used-car salesmen, lawyers, politicians, and dare I say, even preachers. Not trusting is in vogue in our day and time.

Trust is earned. By one's actions and not his words. Trust is built on the platform of doing, not saying. Words deceive ("no new taxes", "the check is in the mail", or "that's what I believe"), but the proof comes in the putting of actions.

Only the Lord is trustworthy. Only He lives in the domain of truth and satisfies His proclamations with actions. There is a trust building word, but it comes through the person of Christ and His glorious gospel. The Apocalypse draws to its close with an angelic announcement, "these words are true."

If we want people to trust us, we must follow Christ. It is only there that the sharp edge of His sword will cut from us the sin of deceit. We must imbibe His Spirit. The adage on our currency must be written on our hearts, "In God We Trust."

Think about it.

Dr. Rust to practice in Ozona

Effective May 6, Dr. Bernard Rust of Sonora has leased, for two days each week, the office of Dr. Joe Logan. Dr. Logan will continue to practice three days per week in his office at the Professional Building adjacent to the hospital.

"After 47 years, I think it is time to slow down," said Dr. Logan in announcing the change. Logan has practiced 37 years in Ozona and 10 in Sonora.

Dr. Rust came to Sonora in 1988 after 20 years of practicing in Irving. "We have quite a few Ozona patients, and this will make it a little easier for them to get to us," said Dr. Rust. He will be in the office in Ozona on Fridays and some Thursday afternoons.

Dr. Rico Forlano to open Eldorado practice

Dr. Rico J. Forlano has announced he will open his office for the practice of chiropractic in Eldorado in a few weeks.

Dr. Forlano spent most of his life as an Eldorado resident. He graduated from Eldorado High School in 1983, and after earning a bachelor of science degree, he graduated from Parker College of Chiropractic in Dallas in 1990. At commencement exercises he was honored as the recipient of the Clinic Excellence Award.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Forlano of Eldorado and brother of Dr. Viki Forlano Thoma, M.D.

Before returning to Eldorado he was in practice with a medical clinic in Dallas that focused on a team approach to health care with collaborative efforts of medical and chiropractic physicians.

Dr. Forlano is in the process of setting up his office with up-to-date diagnostic and therapeutic equipment and will be prepared to offer comprehensive total body care. He is a member of the American Chiropractic Association. He is licensed by the State of Texas and is Nationally Board Certified. He is currently pursuing a three-year post-graduate program which will lead to certification as a Diplomate in Orthopedics.

"If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures;

Prayer to St. Jude

Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen.

Patient in Tribulation

By Rev. Norvell Allen

It is the Lord: let Him do what seemeth Him good. Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away; blessed be the name of the Lord. What? Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil?

Jesus wept. A man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows.

When the Lord loveth He chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom He receiveth. Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. Strengthened with all might, according to His glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

Crockett County Public Library News

By Louise Ledoux

THE CIVIL WAR

CCPL is proud to announce a wonderful acquisition for the library. The Robert Massie Memorial Foundation has presented our library with the 9 volume video set of the critically acclaimed The Civil War. We cannot thank the Robert Massie Memorial Foundation and Mr. Pierce Miller, who personally delivered the videos, enough for this wonderful gift to the public library and the people of Crockett County, especially our young people. These videos will be enjoyed again and again with each use.

The Civil War covers the conflict between the North and the South from its underlying causes in 1961 through five bloody, tragic years until its end with the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln in 1865. The Civil War is the first full-scale documentary of the conflict that cost 620,000 lives and redefined the meaning of freedom in America. The film was put together by Ken Burns and narrated by David McCullough. The production was made possible by grants from General Motors, National Endowment for the Humanities, Corporation for Public Broadcasting, Arthur Vining Davis Foundations and the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation. The Civil War was presented as a mini-series on PBS Channel 13.

CCPL will make the videos available to teachers and groups and to individuals wishing to study the war. We will also have the videos set up for viewing in the library.

CCPL wants to thank the Robert Massie Memorial Foundation again for this wonderful gift.

Helpers needed for Health Fair

Volunteers are still needed for the County Health Fair on Thursday, May 16. A number of jobs must be done to put the fair on each year, and people are still needed for registration, to bring snacks, and help man some booths.

"Scheduling can be flexible," says County Extension Agent Tedra Ulmer. "We need people to help us get ready from about 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and people to help for various shifts during the afternoon from 1 to 6 p.m.," she noted.

Ulmer said the continuance of the fair depends on the response of volunteers each year, since this is such a large event which reaches from 400 to 600 people in the community.

To help the organizers plan, please call 392-2721 to schedule your time or contribution of food. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Water myths dispelled

National Drinking Water Week May 5-11 is the perfect time to put to rest myths about water.

Myth: We have less water today than we did 100 years ago.

Reality: There is the same amount of water on Earth as there was three billion years ago. Today many more demands are placed on the same amount of water. These increased demands have, in a sense, created a different kind of water: water that is regulated, treated and sold.

Myth: Once you use water, it's gone.

Reality: After water is used, it's recycled...innumerable times. Some water is recycled for use within a week, other water may not be used again for years.

Myth: Water is fragile and will be ruined by so much use.

Reality: Water is resilient and responds well to treatment. However, using water and abusing water by contaminating lakes, streams and wells with toxic chemicals are two different things. To keep our drinking water safe, we need not only appropriate treatment, but also appropriate source protection.

Myth: If lead is in your water, it's the treatment plant's fault.

Reality: The most common source of lead in your drinking water is the plumbing in your home. Your plumbing may have lead pipes or lead solder in the connections. Lead is a contaminant that is particularly harmful to young children. If you are concerned about lead in your water, contact your local health authorities to find out how you can have your water tested by a state certified lab. If the lead content of your water is above 15 parts per billion, you should take steps to reduce your exposure to it. Since warm water absorbs more lead than cold, when you cook, always start with cold water. Because water standing in pipes tends to absorb lead, let your tap run until the water is cold every morning to clear the pipes before drinking. Use the extra water to water your plants.

Myth: We shouldn't have to think about drinking water.

Reality: We can no longer take our drinking water for granted. Public participation is vital to protecting our water sources, building adequate treatment plants, improving water delivery, analyzing costs versus risks, and enacting appropriate legislation.

Myth: If you boil your water, you will eliminate all pollutants.

Reality: Boiling kills bacteria. Other types of pollutants, if present, such as metals and inorganic impurities, will remain in the water after boiling. Water from public supplies is regularly tested for these and other impurities and must meet established national standards before it's released for human consumption. Should an unacceptable amount of any harmful pollutant be found in a public water supply, it is a matter of law that the public be notified. Unless you receive formal notice, your water is safe to

Myth: There are more pollutants in drinking water today than there were 25 years ago.

Reality: Maybe, maybe not. There may be more contaminants that can enter your water sources today. We did not have the technology to know what was in our drinking water 25 years ago. Today we have sophisticated testing instruments that enable us to know more about our water than ever before. With this kind of knowledge, the drinking water community is taking steps to treat what's in our water, to curb the flow of pollution and keep our water safe and wholesome.

Myth: "New" water is better than treated water.

Reality: There is very little water on Earth that is "new". Most of our water has been touched by some type of human or animal activity.

Decorations using empty gold thread spools and glittering diamond shaped pieces of poster board were started in Monday morning's craft class. Residents assisting on the project were: Hazel McDaniel, Frances Davis, Moriama Perez and Monnie Boyd. They must have had a lot of fun working on the project because they sparkled for the rest of the day after working with the glitter.

Monday evening residents enjoyed a performance by the Sheriff's Posse Band. Band members present were: Marsha Tomlinson, Bob Hartman, George Hester, Otis Nester, Bill Dane and Jamie Knox. The music was lively and entertaining. We would like to thank the band members for sharing their talents with us.

Benefits of divorced spouses

Many people know that wives and widows can get Social Security benefits when their husbands retire, become disabled, or die. And, men have these same benefit rights on their spouse's Social Security earnings. What may be less well known, however, is what happens if the marriage ends — what rights do divorced spouses have to Social Security benefits on their ex-spouse's Social Security earnings?

A divorced spouse can get benefits on a former husband's or wife's Social Security record if the marriage lasted at least 10 years. The divorced spouse must be 62 or older and unmarried. The worker also must be at least 62. If they have been divorced 2 years or more, he or she can get benefits even if the worker is not retired.

People often ask if the amount of benefits paid to their ex-spouse will reduce the amount of benefits paid to their current wife or husband. The answer is "no". Social Security figures benefits for an ex-spouse without regard to the amount paid to a current spouse.

A change in the Social Security law that went into effect in January 1991 eliminated the 2-year wait for people who were already getting spouse's benefits at the time of their divorce.

Another new provision of the Social Security law affects women and men who married in good faith and later found out that their marriage was invalid. As of January 1, 1991, these people can qualify for benefits on the worker's Social Security record on the same basis as a legal spouse. Previously, these women and men were considered wives and husbands for the purpose of getting Social Security benefits only if no legal spouse received benefits.

A person cannot receive spouse's benefits if he or she qualifies for a higher benefit on his or her own work under Social Security, nor can he or she receive both benefits. He or she will get the higher of the two. This is one of the reasons why men, with their generally higher earnings and thus higher benefits, are less likely than women to receive spouse's benefits.

The full amount of the Social Security benefit for a spouse is 50 percent of the worker's benefit. If a spouse's benefit is taken before age 65, the benefit amount is reduced for each month before age 65 benefits — to a low of 37.5 percent of the worker's benefit at age 62.

For more information, call the San Angelo Social Security Office at 949-4608.

State arts and crafts fair May 24-26 in Kerrville

Travelers planning ahead for the Memorial Day weekend should consider the 20th Anniversary Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair. The official state event will be held in Kerrville on May 24-26.

"Legend, Lore and Magic" is the 1991 theme for an event which is a legend itself. Year after year, it has provided a quality experience for families in refreshing Hill Country surroundings.

The skills that helped produce two Texas legends will be presented on site by the sponsoring Texas Arts and Crafts Educational Foundation, Inc.

A replica of the Judge Roy Bean law office and saloon in Langtry is under construction in movie-set style. Traveling musicians will come by periodically to play guitar, banjo, harmonica and dulcimer while seated on the porch.

Judge Roy will take on fair visitors or one of his buddies in his famous checker games, the board balanced on a barrel. Outside, Langtry craftspeople will pursue frontier skills.

In authentically made costumes, the presenters will explain their skill and its history. Visitors may ask questions as they watch blacksmithing, leather work, rope making, carding and spinning mohair, rag rug making, Mexican folk art and others.

Across the way, under the shade of oak trees, the wife of an East Texas plantation owner is hostess to a garden party, complete with an azalea decorated gazebo.

Spread over 16 tree-shaded acres, the fairgrounds boast 14 large and colorful tents. In many, over two hundred carefully selected artists and craftspeople present their works for discerning visitors.

Dates are May 24-26 of the Memorial Day weekend. Hours are 5:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m. on Friday, 9:00 a.m. - 9:00 p.m. on Saturday, and 10:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Programs set on lower estate taxes

Farmers and ranchers can help take the bite out of high estate taxes by enrolling in one of three workshop programs scheduled in May by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Landowners have expressed concern for years about high taxes that erode their estates," says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, an Extension Service economist in management and an attorney.

The seminars are planned to help farmers and ranchers learn the newest methods for reducing taxable estates and passing operations to the next generation.

Dates and locations for the meetings are: May 7-8, Harris County Extension Center, Houston; May 13-14, Holiday Inn South, Fort Worth; May 16-17, Radisson Hotel, 611 N.W. Loop 410, San Antonio.

Hayenga said recent tax law changes are having important impacts on farm and ranch estates. He said the best tax planning of the past may be the worst under the new law.

Each seminar will open with a discussion on estate taxes that includes deductions, expenses and tax rates. In-depth explanations will be presented on such basic estate planning devices as wills, by-pass trusts, gifts, disclaimers and property titles.

Hayenga said relating estate plans to income tax savings can be of greater benefit than just a single plan.

"Sometimes income tax savings over many years can be greater than estate tax savings for people with commercial farm and ranch businesses," the economist said.

A separate program segment will deal with treating beneficiaries fairly. This is significant when only some of the heirs want to operate a family farm, for example.

Another discussion will center on estate planning tools for agriculture and will deal with corporations, partnerships and selling part of the business to heirs.

Special estate planning tools for agriculture will be addressed during the final seminar day. These include special farm land valuation, deferred estate tax payment, rules, life insurance, "flower" bonds and other property.

The estate planning process is a step toward reduced taxes, Hayenga said.

"This process should start when you plan to inherit substantial property, when you have an active and growing business, when there's still time to take tax-saving actions, when you have minor children, and when your children marry or divorce," he said.

For more seminar information, contact your local county extension service agent, Hayenga, or Carol Sabo in Texas A&M's department of agricultural economics. The telephone is (409) 845-2226.

New requirement begins for employers who "go bare"

A major new filing requirement begins this May for all Texas employers who have one or more employees and who do not carry workers' compensation insurance, a practice known as "going bare."

By May 15, 1991, all Texas employers who did not have workers' compensation coverage on March 20, 1991, must file a notice with the Texas Workers' Compensation Commission (TWCC). The filing must be made using Form TWCC-5, the "Employer Notice of No Coverage."

Beginning June 1, 1991, penalties and sanctions provisions of the new law go into effect. As of June 1, employers who fail to file the yearly notice of non-coverage by May 15 may be assessed an administrative penalty of $500 for each day of non-compliance.

Non-covered employers—those who do not have workers' compensation insurance—must file the notice every year.

Copies of the form are included in a special guide being mailed to Texas employers in April. The publication, "New Law Guide to Workers' Compensation For The Employees And Employers Of Texas," summarizes new requirements for both covered and non-covered employers. All forms and information in the Guide may be photocopied.

The new filing requirement is part of Texas Workers' Compensation Act, which went into effect January 1, 1991. The filing will allow the TWCC to develop statistics on the number of non-covered employers and employees in Texas.

The form requests the employer's name, business address, a description of business operations, number of employees, principle locations of business and other general information.

The New Law Guide explains additional new requirements for non-covered employers. Non-covered employers must post notices in English and in Spanish telling employees the employer does not carry workers' compensation insurance. The TWCC has adopted Rule 110.102 giving employers specific instructions, including the language that must appear on the posters. The Guide includes sample posters that may be photocopied. Non-covered employers must provide all new employees with a written statement of noncoverage.

Bush nominates Rockwall lawman as U.S. Marshall

The President has nominated Rockwall Police Chief Bruce Beaty to become U.S. marshal for the 100-county Northern Judicial District of Texas which includes Crockett County.

Beaty, 48, is a 25-year veteran of law enforcement, having served as chief of police at Rockwall for the last 18 years.

"Chief Beaty's entire career has been marked by dedication and achievement," said U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm. "I am confident that he will meet the challenge of a tough job and become an outstanding marshal."

Beaty holds a B.S. degree in sociology and psychology from East Texas State University. His career began in 1965 as a game warden with Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife. He also served as a deputy sheriff in Rockwall County before joining the Rockwall Police Department.

His professional and civic activities have included service as president of the North Texas Police Chiefs Association, the Texas Police Chiefs Association and the Texas Police Association.

Beaty has served on the north central Texas Council of Governments' Academic Advisory and criminal Justice Policy Development committees.

"Not much good news," Nabers says!

"The number of unemployed Texans trying to find work increased by an additional 27,000 last month," Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers said. "That statistic forced the statewide jobless rate up to 6.4 percent - up from 6.2 percent last month."

"While the monthly increase is only slight," Nabers said, "the fact that we are up to 6.4 percent this year compared to 5.7 percent in March last year is not comforting. It appears that Texas may be experiencing some of the recessionary trends being felt by the rest of the nation right now."

Most of the Metropolitan Statistical Areas had March rates just slightly above those of last month and some remained unchanged but rate watchers had hoped for another drop in the rate because of the fact that the total number of employed individuals continues to look good. "With almost eight million working Texans we can only conclude that the growth in jobs is just not keeping pace with the increase in potential workers," Nabers said.

Nonfarm Salaried Jobs rose by over 9,000 for the month and that is up by about 104,000 from a year ago. "That sounds good," Nabers said, "until you consider that in the first quarter of 1991 only about one third as many jobs have been generated as during the same quarter of 1990. We are not growing as fast right now as we were this time last year and that is disappointing for a state trying hard to make a steady forceful economic comeback."

The lowest unemployment rates among the MSA's in March were in: Bryan College Station, with a 3.2 percent rate; Austin, at 4.4 percent; Victoria, with 4.7 percent, and San Angelo at 4.8 percent in March.

Metropolitan Areas with highest unemployment rates in March 1991 were: McAllen-Edinburg-Mission, at 19.8 percent; Brownsville-Harlingen, with 12.8 percent; Laredo, at 12.0 percent; El Paso, with an 10.7 percent rate; and Longview-Marshall, with a March rate of 7.7 percent.

Crockett County has a civilian work force of 1,765; 1,652 of this group are employed, leaving 113 who are unemployed at a rate of 6.4 percent. Sutton County has a civilian work force of 2,027; 1,960 of this group are employed, leaving 67 unemployed at a rate of 3.3 percent.

United Blood Services renews accreditation

United Blood Services of San Angelo has been granted renewal of accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks (AABB), according to Carol Glenn, executive director.

Accreditation follows an intensive on site inspection by specially trained representatives of the Association and establishes that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the rigorous standards set by the AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, United Blood Services of San Angelo can join more than 2,200 similar facilities across the United States and abroad that have earned the accreditation rating and recognition.

Ms. Glenn explained: "The AABB's inspection and accreditation procedures are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a blood bank or transfusion service to be accredited, but like many others, our facility has sought accreditation because it represents a level of professional and medical expertise that meets and exceeds government regulations. The primary goal of the program is to assist facilities like ours to achieve excellence, and thus provide higher quality blood, blood components and other services to patients."

was April 29. Rueben, the son of Rueben Sr. and Alice Mendez, turned 14 this year. Hope your day was great.

Anniversary greetings were in order for Charles and Gussie Schneider on May 2. Hope you two had a great day.

Marvin and Jerry Wagner and sons, Jim, Dale and Timmy, of Richland Springs enjoyed an overnight stay in Ozona this past week. Brothers Marvin and Jerry had planned a fishing trip with their boys. The boys spotted the carnival, and being novice riders, conned fathers into a fantasy night. Jerry stated after umpteen rides, a mountain of cotton candy, and some $50 in the hole, fishing didn't seem exciting anymore.

Happy birthday to little Rebecca Enriquez who turned two on May 2. Rebecca is the daughter of Alfred and Ampara Enriquez of Ozona.

Traveling to Miles this past week were Shorty and Frances Flanagan and family and Lou Carson and children. They were there to help Mrs. Flanagan's mother, Juanita Dickerson, celebrate her 80th birthday on April 27. Joining them was Janet Yates of Robert Lee, Jerry Dickerson of Plainview and Johnny Dickerson of Slayton. Jerry and Johnny are brothers to Frances, and the day really became special to her since she hadn't seen Jerry in 12 years and Johnny in eight years.

Birthday greetings go to Refugio Chipman on May 3. It was secretly reported that Refugio is "40 Something". Hope your day was a good one.

Angelita Sanchez received word that son Benjamin Sanchez returned home to Fort Bragg, NC on April 29 from Saudi Arabia. Ben will return to Ozona to visit Mom sometime this week, but Mom was unsure of day and time.

Friends and family of Della Smith feted her with a barbecue dinner on her birthday May 5. We know your day was great, Della. Happy birthday.

Virgil Oden Jr. of Cocoa, FL, and sister Jonelle Ingram of Uvalde were weekend guests of their aunts, Mrs. Maurice Black and Mrs. Velma Lee Cook. While here Virgil and Jonelle also visited with Dixie and Jackie Glasscock of Mertzon, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Black.

Property Tax Protest and Appeal Procedures

The law gives property owners the right to protest actions concerning their property tax appraisals. You may follow these procedures if you have a concern about:

- the value placed on your property;
- exemptions that may apply to you;
- cancellation of agricultural appraisal;
- whether your property is taxable;
- which local governments should be taxing your property; or
- you think the appraisal district has done something else that adversely affected you.

Informal Review: CROCKETT COUNTY APPRAISAL DISTRICT (915) 392-2674
TOM STOKES, CHIEF APPRAISER

Review by the Appraisal Review Board: If you can't resolve your problem informally with the appraisal district staff, you may have your case heard by the appraisal review board.

The appraisal review board (ARB) is an independent board of citizens that reviews problems with appraisals and other concerns listed above. They have the power to order the appraisal district to make the necessary changes to solve problems. If you file a written request for an ARB hearing (called a notice of protest) before the deadline, the ARB will set your case for a hearing. You'll receive written notification of the time, date, and place of the hearing. The hearing will be informal. You and the appraisal district representative will be asked to present evidence about your case. The ARB will make its decision based on the evidence presented. You can get a copy of a protest form from the appraisal district office at 908 Ave D Courthouse Annex

Note: You shouldn't try to contact ARB members outside of the hearing. The law requires you to sign an affidavit saying that you haven't done so before the ARB hears your case.

Review by the District Court: After it decides your case, the ARB must send you a copy of its order by certified mail. If you're not satisfied with the decision you have the right to appeal to district court. If you choose to go to court, you must start the process by filing a petition within 45 days of the date you receive the ARB's order. If the appraisal district has appraised your property at $1,000,000 or more, you must file a notice of appeal with the chief appraiser within 15 days of the date you receive the ARB's order.

More information: You can get more information by contacting your appraisal district at Crockett County Appraisal District, 908 Ave D Ozona TX (915) 392-2674. You can also get a pamphlet describing how to prepare a protest from the appraisal district or from the State Property Tax Board, 4301 Westbank Drive, Building B, Suite 100, Austin, Texas 78746.

Deadline for filing protests with the ARB

(the deadline is postponed to the next business day if it falls on a weekend or holiday)

Usual deadline: On or before May 31 (or 30 days after a notice of appraisal value was mailed to you, whichever is later).
June 30, 1991

Late protests (If you miss the usual deadline for good cause. Good cause is some reason beyond your control, like a medical emergency. The ARB decides whether you have good cause.) Before the day the appraisal review board approves records for the year. Contact the appraisal district for more information.

Special deadlines: Change of use (if the appraisal district has informed you that you are losing agricultural appraisal because you changed the use of your land) Before the 30th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

ARB changes (if the ARB has informed you of a change that increases your tax liability and the change didn't result from a protest you filed) Before the 10th day after the notice of the determination was mailed to you.

If you believe the appraisal district or ARB should have sent you a notice and did not, you may file a protest until the day before taxes become delinquent (usually February 1). The ARB decides whether it will hear your case based on evidence about whether a required notice was mailed to you.

Baylor studies teenage drinking and smoking habits

Good guys drink, bad guys smoke. Or so say the results of recent study at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston that reveals surprising new attitudes among teenagers.

"We found that teenagers today think that, by and large, it is 'uncool' to smoke, but drinking is considered acceptable behavior—even desirable behavior," said Dr. Armin D. Weinberg, an associate professor of medicine and director of the Center for Cancer Control Research at Baylor. Weinberg and Dr. Alexander Siegel, an adjunct professor of medicine at Baylor, interviewed 70 seventh- and ninth-grade students in Victoria, Texas.

"Originally, we were looking at ways to stop family traditions of smoking," Weinberg said. "We found that public-education efforts to curb adolescent smoking were taking their toll. Only two out of 70 teens reported that they intended to smoke as adults."

The researchers reported, however, that nearly 70 percent of the teens said they would likely drink by the time they were adults.

The study, funded by the American Heart Association, sent interviewers into homes in the Victoria Independent School District, which is 48 percent Anglo and 44 percent Hispanic. All of the teens indicated they had one or two parents who smoked.

"What they told us was disturbing," said Siegel, a professor of psychology at the University of Houston. "Not only did the teens think that drinking was okay, but they did not distinguish between drinking and getting drunk."

The adolescents were asked to list the benefits and consequences of smoking and drinking. Most named relaxation as the only benefit for smoking, but some said there were no benefits.

"For drinking, they could name many benefits such as going to the beach, camping—things that are associated with entertainment and enjoyment," Siegel said. "The consequences centered on physical damage, whether from disease or accidents related to drinking."

More surprising were the attitudes in relationship to whether their parents smoked or drank.

Teens whose parents smoked reported no benefits for smoking. Children of parents who drank, however, still listed benefits for drinking.

Both parents and teens were asked to rank drinking and smoking on a scale of 1 to 5, with 5 being the most risky behavior. The teens ranked smoking as 4.8, and drinking as 3.

Weinberg attributes much of the changed attitudes to aggressive smoking-prevention campaigns, and speculates television may play a role.

"During one hour of prime-time television, there are an average of 11 different incidences of drinking," he said. "And I am not talking about commercials. These are popular prime-time shows, where, in every instance, the person drinking is a 'good guy.' In most cases, when smoking is shown on television, it is usually the villain who lights up."

Weinberg believes that campaigns similar to those used against smoking may help curb teenage drinking, and, in the long run, adult drinking problems.

The study also revealed that curiosity and not peer pressure was the main reason listed among teens for experimenting with smoking or drinking. Most campaigns to reduce teen drinking and smoking have targeted peer pressure.

Shriners invade Sonora

Suez Temple Shriners will be in Sonora for Suez Temple's Ceremonial May 17-19. Approximately 100 Suez Shrine Nobles and Ladies will be in attendance. Ceremonials, to other organizations, would be a convention. It's a weekend of festivities, visiting, "ole home-week", and initiating new members. Suez Temple jurisdiction includes 32 counties; Crane-east to Brown County; Dawson-south to Val Verde County.

Activities will begin with a golf tournament Friday morning with various other activities Friday morning and evening. Saturday morning a Shrine parade will begin at 9:30 with assembly area at the hospital and care center parking lot. The Clown units and Nobles will visit the care center and hospital, after which the parade will end at the parking lot in front of the Methodist Church.

Activities for the Nobility will be at the 4-H center right after the parade. The ladies' luncheon will be at the Steak House and a dance will be held at the 4-H Center Saturday night.

The officers of Suez and the Nobility and Ladies look forward to a weekend in Sonora and invite all area Shriners to attend and enjoy the festivities. All the activities are being organized and sponsored by Suez Temple and Tri-Cities Shrine Club which includes Eldorado, Ozona and Sonora.

VA urges veterans to refinance

With VA home loan interest rates at their lowest in more than four years, the Department of Veterans Affairs is instituting an outreach program encouraging veterans and lenders to work together to refinance existing, higher rate VA-guaranteed home loans.

The VA encourages veterans to refinance loans with interest rates that are two points or more higher than the market rate. For lesser differences in rates, refinance costs eat up much of the savings. The current interest rate on a VA-guaranteed home loan is 9 percent.

Under VA's Interest Rate Reduction Refinancing Loans initiative, regional offices will first identify outstanding home loans with relatively high interest rates, beginning with those at 12 percent or higher.

Veterans with the outstanding mortgages are then informed of the potential savings that could be realized through refinancing and are provided a list of lenders willing to refinance the loans, with no out-of-pocket cost to the veteran.

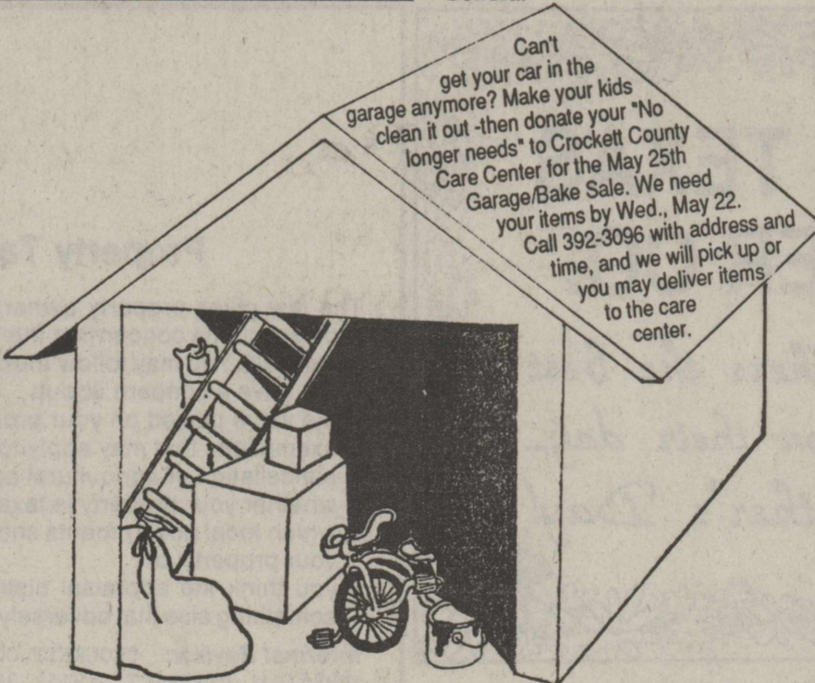

Nationwide, more than 218,700 VA-guaranteed loans currently carry interest rates of 12 percent or higher, and at least another 196,400 loans are in the 11 to 12 percent range.

During the past six years, more than 394,400 veterans have refinanced VA-guaranteed home loans, and in the process earned more than $13.5 billion in long-term personal savings.

The potential individual and collective savings to veterans are substantial. A $70,000, 30 year loan at 11 percent, for example, has a monthly payment of $666.63 but would result in savings of $103.39 a month if the loan were changed to 9 percent.

Veterans considering refinancing should contact a private lending agency. If there are questions concerning eligibility for a VA-guarantee of the refinanced loan, veterans residing in counties served by the Big Spring VA Medical Center may call the Waco Regional Office at 1-800-792-3271, and obtain additional information.

- Don't insert metal objects into an electrical outlet or appliance.
- Use fire extinguishers or common baking soda if an electrical fire occurs.

There's more, of course, to add to your electrical safety checklist. It's yours for the asking. Just give us a call; we'll be glad to help. In our book, every month is the time to observe electrical safety.
