Pride of Crockett County steppin' high

By Sandy Stark

The Ozona Lion Marching Band outstepped 11 other bands to assure them of a first division in the U.I.L. Region VII Marching Band Contest held in Brady Oct. 26.

According to band director Kelly Glaze and Skip Carroll, assistant band director, "the judging was tough". Although they are proud of the kids "there is room for improvement," said the directors. The 98 member band began practicing again Monday afternoon.

Ozona and Eldorado were the only 2A bands receiving a first division and the privilege of participating in the U.I.L. area band contest. They will perform at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 2.

Other than Eldorado, the Lion Band will compete against five bands from the Abilene region and two or more bands from the Fort Worth region. The top two bands will be eligible to compete on the state level in Austin on Monday, Nov. 11.

Music to be performed by the Ozona band will be "Nice and Easy" followed by the percussion feature "That's All Folks!" and the ballad "Heaven" featuring Aaron Carroll as soloist. The performance will conclude with the tune "Cheyenne".

Boys win cross county district title

Ozona's varsity, junior varsity and junior high boys' cross country teams ran to district championships Oct. 28 in Stanton. The varsity boys out-distanced second place finisher Eldorado by 10 points at the 6AA meet.

This is the seventh year in a row that the Ozona boys qualified for the regional meet. They will compete in Lubbock Nov. 9.

The Ozona junior varsity team won a district championship by scoring 15 points in their division. The junior high boys scored 26 points to win their division.

The Ozona High School girls placed third in their division, ending the season with an excellent performance, said Coach Pete Maldonado.

Ozona girls were led by Myra Sanchez who finished 14th, Heather Hall 17th, Veronica Mendoza 19th, Claudia Avila 20th, Tonya Amaya 25th, Petra Rios 30th, Carri Chandler 33rd. The Ozona girls scored 79 points for third. Eldorado's team won with 25 points followed by Wall with 34.

In the junior high girls' division, Socorro Martinez was 15th and Amanda Ortiz 18th for the only two girls running from Ozona.

The junior high boys' division was led by the one, two finishes of Cody Porras and Charles Villarreal. These were 7th graders running in the 8th grade division. Other finishers for Ozona were: John Elizondo, 6th; Slate Williams, 8th; Adam Carroll, 9th; Patrick Sanchez, 12th; Sam Fuentes, 14th; and Blas Villa, 16th.

The Ozona High School boys were led by the efforts of Mark Ramirez who was second to Jeremy Stallings.

Today is last chance to reserve booth for carnival

Fun for all ages is promised at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce Halloween Carnival planned for Oct. 31. Spooky events begin at 5:30 with the costume parade. Entrants are asked to line up in the alley behind Ozona National Bank at 5:15.

Costume judging will be held on the bandstand after the parade. To be judged, you will need to get a contestant number for the category you enter. These numbers will be distributed at the bandstand.

There are five costume divisions and each has the same categories: funniest, prettiest, most scary and best season theme. The divisions are: family (must have at least one adult family member), pets (must be in costume with a person), grandparent (must be in costume and with a child), children and adult.

Booths will open after the parade. To reserve space, stop by the chamber office. As of Monday, reservations had been made for the following booths: Xi Sigma Omega - Cokes, coffee, hot chocolate, hot cider, 4-H - pie by the slice, Knights of Columbus - fajitas, Baptist Youth - nachos, Beta Sigma Phi - hot dogs, PTA - pickles, popcorn, chili pie, Rebecca Martinez - burritos, tamales, Mu Chi - sweet shop, Southside Lions - hamburgers, Guadalupe - sweets, Helping Hands - turkey legs, Dee Montanez - sweets, Corinna Diehl - breads, Linda Nicholson - novelties, toys, string masks, Mary and Len Hillman - pictures.

Game booths planned are: 4-H - dunking, dart, petting zoo, Beta Sigma Phi - pluck a duck, cake and book walk, Community Center - football and basketball toss, Catholic Youth - spook house, Boy Scouts - maze, Arts and Crafts Guild - win a fish.

The carnival will also include a decorated pumpkin contest.

Other activities will take place at the bandstand during the evening.

Fiesta Texas theme park representatives come to Ozona

Meeting with County Judge Kathryn Mayfield in the town park on Wednesday, Oct. 23, at 4 p.m. was a road-weary Davy Crockett clad in leather fringed jacket, fringed boots and homespun britches. Crockett, looking authentic with his powder horn slung nonchalantly over his shoulder and his coonskin cap sitting purposefully on his head, was finally visiting the county bearing his name.

Davy was one of three representatives of the $100-million Fiesta Texas musical theme park under construction in northwest San Antonio.

Gregorio Esparza, who served in the Texan forces under Captain Juan N. Seguin during the siege of Bexar in December, 1835, joined Crockett and road manager, Mike Olguin as they presented a proclamation to the judge and in return, placed a shovel-full of Crockett County dirt in a labeled bag to be taken to San Antonio. Participating in the ceremony were county commissioner Jim House and chamber of commerce coordinator Nancy Moore.

The shovel-full of dirt will be combined with the soil from the other 253 counties across Texas and used in "The Texas State Square" which will feature brick pavers bearing the names of all 5000 plus towns, cities and counties in Texas. Combining the various soils of Texas depicts what ties all Texans together...love of the land from the Panhandle to the Valley; from El Paso to deep East Texas.

The three-member group has been on the road for 10 weeks, and with four weeks of travel left, they are looking forward to a well-deserved rest.

Depicting Davy Crockett was Patrick McCord of Houston. McCord recently appeared in a two-hour special of "The Young Riders" which aired on the ABC network. Although McCord has signed for another episode, his immediate plans are to go to Los Angeles where he will perfect his skills.

Jerry Cordona of San Antonio impersonated Gregorio Esparza. Cardona is a caricature cartoonist who guests parties, conventions and various occasions throughout the state.

The Fiesta Texas musical theme park, scheduled to open in the spring of 1992, will feature areas such as Los Festivales with its Spanish influence; Crackaxe Canyon with its sounds and smells of a 1920's boom town; Spassburg, the German theme area offering authentic music, foods and good times for the family; and Rockville which will salute the nostalgic days of Texas in the 1950's.

A subsidiary of Opryland USA, Fiesta Texas expects to employ approximately 350 entertainers who will participate in more than 65 shows daily. Persons interested in auditioning must be at least 16 years of age and may contact AUDITIONS USA, ROOM 900, 2802 Opryland Drive, Nashville, TX 37214 or call 1-800-94-STAGE (947-8243), Operator 9.

The board of directors presented Ms. Williams with a necklace depicting the state seal. The yearbook dedication to Ms. Williams commended her for "her guidance (under which) this organization has been recognized nationally for its achievements", and expressed gratitude for her "commitment and dedication" to the organization.

Ms. Williams was also the recipient of the Paul Ferguson Scholarship Award for tuition to an Institute for Court Management Fellowship Program.

Living will . . . new law protects your rights

Who chooses for you when you are too ill to make choices about the medical treatment you would like to have? Or not have? Generally, family members, close friends and physicians get together to do their best to carry out your wishes.

There is a new law, however, which stems from the Patient Self Determination Act (PSDA), which sets out patients' rights in drawing up advance directives regarding medical care. The law also sets out the responsibility of health care providers to inform patients of these rights.

What Rights Are In Question? The rights addressed in the law are your rights to make your own medical treatment decisions. The law makes sure you are told about those rights.

Who Decides The Treatment? The doctor, of course, must provide you with information and advice about treatment. Then you decide. You can say "yes" to treatments you want. You can say "no" to treatments you do not want - even if the treatments would keep you alive longer.

How Do You Know What You Want? Your doctor tells you what different treatments can do for you and if there are side effects to deal with. The doctor will let you know about serious problems that medical treatment is likely to cause you.

Sometimes there is more than one treatment that might help. People have different ideas about which is best. With advice from your doctor, you choose which treatment you want or whether you want any of the treatments. Choices sometimes are difficult - like whether to be free of pain, or independent, or living as long as possible, or being able to recognize and talk with friends and family. It depends upon your values.

What If You Are Too Sick To Decide? That is the purpose for the new law. To let you know that you have the right to draw up an advance directive on how to handle your health care treatment should such a situation ever come up.

What Exactly Is An Advance Directive? An advance directive is generally a written statement, which you complete in advance of a serious illness, about how you want medical decisions made. The two most common forms of advance directives are: A "Living Will" and A "Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care".

Living Will - In a living will you can write down the treatments you would and would not want and WHEN you would or would not want them. There are many different living will forms.

Most states have their own living will forms, each somewhat different. It may be possible to complete and sign a standard living will form available in your own community, draw up your own form, or simply write a statement of your preferences for treatment. You may wish to speak to an attorney or your physician to be certain you have completed the living will in a way that your wishes will be understood and followed.

Durable Power of Attorney For Health Care - In drawing up a Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care you appoint someone to act as your agent in making treatment decisions. The paper must be signed, dated and witnessed. You can also include specific instruction about any treatments you wish to avoid such as surgery or artificial feeding. Some states have specific laws allowing a health care power of attorney and provide printed forms.

Which Is Better: A Living Will Or A Durable Power Of Attorney For Health Care? In some states, laws make it better to have one or the other.

It may also be possible to have both, or to combine them in a single document that names someone to make decisions for you and describes your treatment choices in a variety of situations.

Can I Change My Mind After I Write A Living Will Or Health Care Power Of Attorney? Yes. You may change or cancel the papers at any time in accordance with state law. Any change or cancellation should be written, signed, and dated. Copies should be given to your family doctor, or to others who have copies of the advance directive.

What If I Fill Out The Advance Directive In One State And Get Sick In Another? The law on honoring an advance directive from another state is unclear. However, because an advance directive tells your wishes regarding medical care, it may be honored wherever you are when it is made known. If you spend a great deal of time in more than one state, you may wish to consider having your advance directive meet the laws of both states.

Who Should Have Copies Of Your Advance Directive? Give copies to: your agent (named in the papers); your doctor for the medical record; keep one in a safe place where it can be easily found, if needed.

Keep a small card in your purse or wallet which states that you have an advance directive; where it is located; and, if there is one, your agent.

Under The New Law, when you enter a Medicare or Medicaid hospital or nursing facility, or receive home health or hospice care from a Medicare or Medicaid-certified HMO, you will be asked whether you have an advance directive.

For further information, please ask those who are in charge of your care.

Snips, Quips, and Lifts

During the baseball season is a domestic triangle: a husband, a wife and a TV set.

To make a long story short, try long distance.

School teachers are not fully appreciated by parents until it rains all day Saturday.

Responsibility for a considerable portion of the world's troubles rests upon two people of the past: one of them invented credit, the other, taxes.

We've had the New Deal and the Fair Deal. Some taxpayers are calling what we have now the Ordeal.

Statistics are like a bikini. What they reveal is suggestive, but what they conceal is vital.

Old quarterbacks never die. They just fade back and pass away.

Baseball is a business that can't thrive without strikes.

Things could be worse. Suppose your errors were counted and published everyday like those of a baseball player!

The trouble with sleep is the "going to" and the "coming from".

When leading a public prayer speak loudly enough to be heard of men and sincerely enough to be heard of God.

The wages of sin are the only wages that are not subject to the income tax.

If you keep your mouth shut you will never put your foot in it.

Spending half of the time keeping quiet and the other saying nothing is one way to keep out of trouble.

It's give and take in this world with too many people trying to take.

Staring up to admire your halo usually creates a pain in the neck.

CROCKETT SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT 40th Annual Report

CROCKETT COUNTY

District

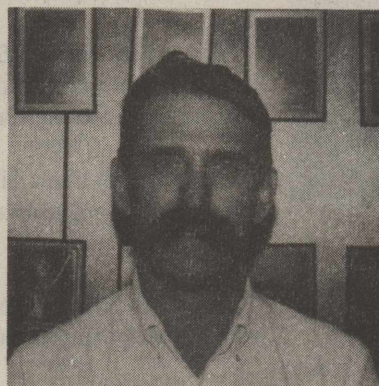

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District was established in 1950 to identify and prioritize resource concerns within the county and to serve as a medium for local ranchers in coordinating assistance from federal, state and local agencies. Agencies providing assistance include the Soil Conservation Service, Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, Texas Agriculture Extension Service, Farmers Home Administration, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and University of Texas Lands.

A Memorandum of Understanding between the USDA-SCS and the District allows the SCS to furnish technical assistance to ranchers, farmers and other interested individuals in order that conservation plans can be developed to meet the needs and capabilities of the land and the objectives of the landowner.

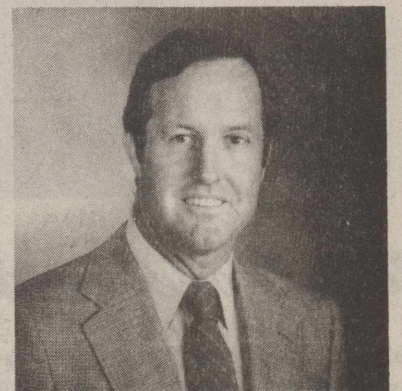

The District is governed by a five member board of locally elected directors. These directors serve as a voice for landowners and operators within the District. Directors for the past year include Earl Acton, chairman; Bud Hoover, vice-chairman; Gene Perry, secretary; Pleas Childress III, member and Larry Williams, member.

Improper grazing management, brush infestation, conserving soil, water, plants and related resources and improving wildlife management on rangeland as a secondary land use are the primary concerns outlined in a long range program and plan.

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District realizes these concerns need to be addressed and steps taken to solve these problems in order to protect our resource base.

Improvement practices such as water storage facilities, pipelines, troughs and fences can greatly improve grazing distribution and forage utilization. Implementation of these practices along with proper stocking can assist producers in getting more grazing efficiency from their livestock and improve range condition.

Conservation Rancher

John Foley, Outstanding Conservation Rancher for Crockett County, receives a plaque from Zone 1 director Larry Williams

John Foley was selected by the district as the outstanding Conservation Rancher for Crockett County the past year and was honored at an awards banquet in San Angelo.

John Foley operates approximately 24,000 acres of rangeland in the western portion of Crockett County. John also has ranching interests in Schleicher and Terrell Counties and Lincoln County in New Mexico. The ranch in Crockett County lies within a transition zone of the Trans-Pecos and Edwards Plateau land resource areas.

John's primary goal of ranch management is to increase the desirable grass cover and reduce the amount of bare ground and undesirable vegetation each year. Periodic forage evaluations are made throughout the year and fluctuations in stocking rates are made accordingly. John runs primarily sheep and goats to diversify grazing use and to average the highs and lows of the livestock market.

Along with a selective deferment program, the initiation of 18,549 acres of planned grazing systems have allowed him to progress in meeting his objectives. Two 3 pasture-1 herd systems, a 4 pasture-3 herd system and a 2 pasture switchback system have been implemented with a great amount of success. Several miles of fence, livestock water pipelines and additional water storage facilities have been installed to facilitate these systems. John feels with the initiation of these systems and proper stocking, greater flexibility has been built into the management unit and improved range condition is being achieved.

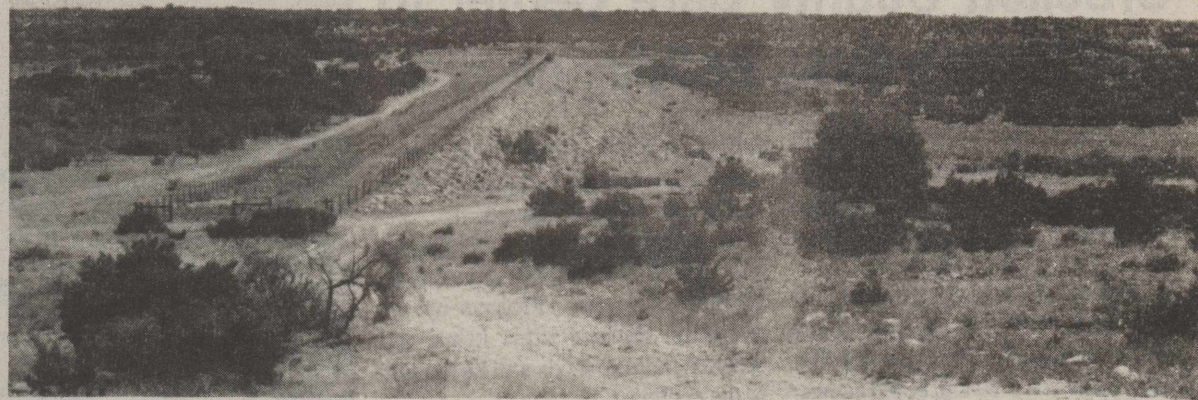

Although John believes proper grazing management is the key to any successful long-term livestock operation, he feels that a certain amount of brush control in key areas can enhance the overall productivity of the ranch. Brush control measures have been carried out for mesquite, cedar and creosote control over the last few years.

John also realizes the importance of wildlife management to the success of the ranching operation. His primary objectives for deer management are to improve the herd's antler size and the buck:doe ratio. Wildlife censuses are made annually and proper harvest recommendations are made to sustain and improve wildlife numbers and their habitat.

With a BS degree in range science and with graduate work in range nutrition along with the years of practical experience, he has perfected his ability to judge proper grazing use on key range plants and to evaluate range condition and trend. This has enabled him to successfully operate a ranch which averages less than 12 inches of rainfall annually.

John has promoted range management by demonstrating his ability to apply sound grazing management on the ground. John has worked closely with the Soil Conservation Service, Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Service over the years. He has shown his interest in educating our youth in the field of conservation by serving on the Board of Directors of the Boys Club and Camp Fire Girls and by serving as advisory director of the Boy Scouts of America. He is currently on the board of directors of Ozona Wool and Mohair Co. He is a member of the Iraan-Sheffield Livestock Association and the Pecos County Livestock Association. John is also serving as president of the Iraan FFA adult advisory committee. He is an adult leader for Sheffield and Pecos County 4-H activities and gratefully gives his time, energy and knowledge to educate future resource managers.

Through his dedication in conserving and improving range resources, John Foley has set high standards for others to follow. The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District was proud to be able to recognize John as Outstanding Conservation Rancher for Crockett County.

Watershed protection and flood prevention

There are four major watersheds in the District. Of these, only the upper northwest corner of the Devils River Watershed, or the Johnson Draw portion, has had any watershed protection work done. After a disastrous flood occurred June 26-28, 1954, resulting in the loss of 17 lives, the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District and the Crockett County Commissioners Court co-sponsored an upstream watershed protection project in the 101,000 acre Johnson Draw area above Ozona. In 1959, the project was completed with dams constructed and 10,032 feet of channel improvement through Ozona. This was the first project of its kind to be completed in the United States. The Crockett SWCD and the county have the responsibility of maintenance of the project to ensure the protection of citizens from flood waters.

Conservation Education

Sixth Grade Conservation Field Day

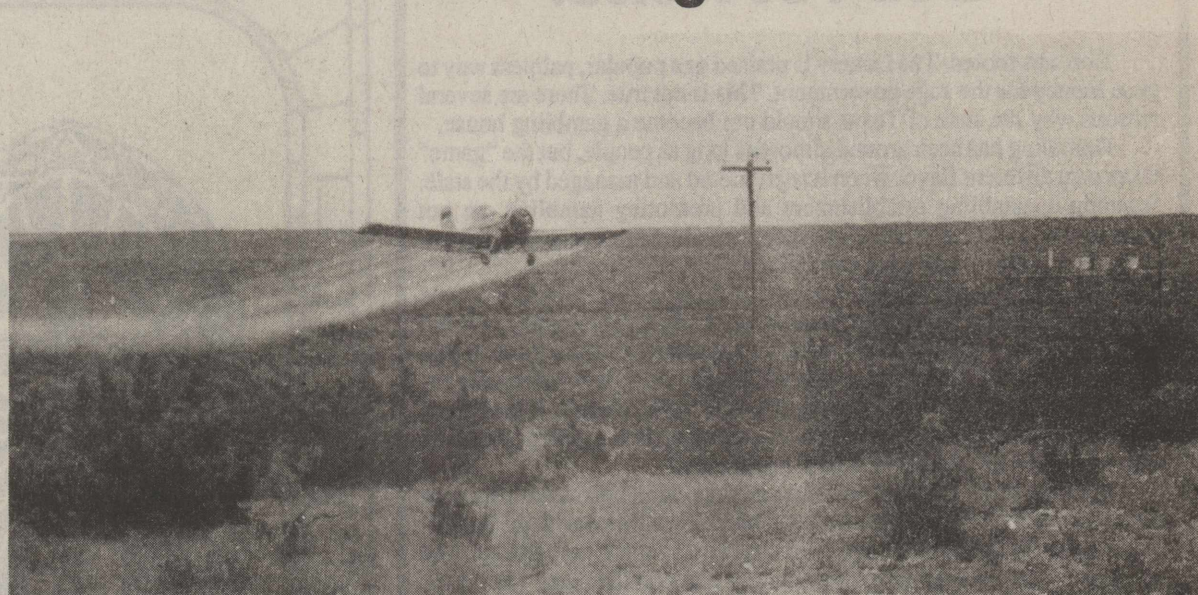

The Crockett SWCD sponsored the 7th annual Conservation Education Field Day for the sixth grade students of Ozona on April 30. Objectives of the field day are to educate the youth on various subjects within the field of conservation and to allow them to have an opportunity to better understand local agricultural business.

Subject matter on range, wildlife and soils was presented to the students in the morning on the Double T Ranch followed by a BBQ lunch provided by the District and prepared by John L. Henderson. The afternoon program allowed the students to observe a sheep shearing crew in operation and to tour Wool Growers Central Storage to learn how the wool is processed.

Range Evaluation and Plant ID Contest

The District has annually co-sponsored the Crockett County Range and Plant ID contest. This year's contest was held on the Double T Ranch. Due to excellent growing conditions and good grazing management, there was an abundance of a variety of plants for the contest. Crockett County senior and junior teams garnered 2nd place finishes in the plant ID competition and 3rd place finishes in Range Evaluation. The District would like to extend its appreciation once again to Double T Ranch and ranch foreman, Art Roane, for the use of the ranch and for their interest in educating our youth in the field of range management and conservation.

Brush Management

Increased brush infestation poses a serious threat to ranching operations. High densities of mesquite, juniper and pricklypear can severely reduce the amount of desirable forages for livestock and wildlife. The Crockett SWCD considers brush control programs to be a high priority in order to improve or maintain our range resources.

Proper grazing management practices along with planned grazing systems implemented prior to the initiation of brush control practices will allow for the more desirable vegetation to retain a foothold and out compete the various noxious species.

Singer and rodeo cowboy to appear in high school auditorium

While many rodeo marriages are breaking up, Susie and Paul Luchsinger profess that their faith and total commitment to the Lord have given their relationship strength, unity and harmony.

The couple will be appearing through Psalm Ministries, Saturday, Nov. 2, in the high school auditorium at 7 p.m.

An evening of Christian influence through song and sharing of salvation testimonies will be offered at no charge to persons wishing to attend.

Although it is uncommon for a family to travel together on the rodeo circuit, the Luchsingers, who have been married for 10 years and are the parents of three children, have managed to do so.

Susie, who is a sister to Reba McEntire, was a member of the band formed in high school with Reba and brother, Pake. She sang backup and toured with Reba for several years and has earned her bachelor of science degree in personnel management from Oklahoma State University.

Paul has been a member of the Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association since 1978, was former vice president of the Cowboy Chapter ministry; competed in the National Finals rodeo in 1979, 1980, 1981, 1984 and 1985.

Tapes, featuring gospel songs familiar to all, recorded by Susie, will be available following the program.

Rene and Tondra De La Rosa and little daughter Christen departed Sunday for Charleston, SC, where he is stationed with the U. S. Air Force. The family will visit in Houston with friends en route and arrive in South Carolina at mid-week.

Citizens urged to "thank a veteran" on Nov. 11

U. S. Sen. Phil Gramm is urging all Americans to "thank a veteran" on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, for the service that millions of veterans have rendered to America.

"On Veterans Day, we honor the brave men and women who have answered the nation's call, who have gone all over the world to defend our freedom," Gramm said.

"I hope you will join me in remembering the 600,000 Americans who died for our freedom in this century and to join me in thanking the tens of millions who have served," he said.

"Like all of us, they had their individual lives which they left to stand up for America. They left their families, their schools, their jobs and went far away and served with distinction. Many faced combat and they fought with courage and pride.

"From Operation Desert Storm to the Revolutionary War, millions of Americans put on the uniform of our nation and pledged their lives to the ideal that is America," Gramm noted.

The senator said that "all of us can remember and honor those who have served and all of us can commit ourselves to the highest ideals for which they fought by working to make America the greatest country in the world."

HOW TO CREATE A PRACTICAL STUDY AT YOUR HOME

By the right kind of decorating, you can carve out a study in your home—which could be used not only for work but also as a nice place for intimate snacks, quiet conversation and even as a guest room.

None of these activities requires much space, so you could create your study in a corner of your living room, in a hallway nook, alcove, or in a small bedroom or spare room.

Unlike a family room, a study doesn't have to accommodate a lot of people. It can be designed for only one or two persons.

To create a study, which could also be adapted for the other uses mentioned above, you might want to consider some of the following things: a beautiful desk that's right for the space involved and for the decor; a desk lamp that gives you both function and beauty; perhaps bookshelves; a chair that can not only be used at the desk but also as a distinctive seating piece of its own when moved into a living room or bedroom; an easy chair; a table for snacks; and where there's room, a sofa bed that can give you extra seating plus an extra bed for overnight guests.

For furnishings for this part of your home, or any part, we invite you to stop in, browse around, and talk over your furnishing needs and placement with us.

Don't be fooled!

Don't be fooled. The Lottery is praised as a popular, painless way to raise money for the state government. This is not true. There are several reasons why the state of Texas should not become a gambling house.

Gambling has been around almost as long as people, but the "game" takes on a different flavor when it is promoted and managed by the state. Running a gambling establishment and promoting gambling are not phrases that compliment the phrase good government. These are inappropriate activities for our state government.

The government would lead us to believe that a lottery would produce sufficient funding to balance the budget. The lottery will not even produce enough revenue to make a difference. Then most of that money goes into advertisement and salaries for those persons running the lottery. Lotteries raise less than 2% of a state's total budget. If the lottery system is the saving factor in state budgets, why is it that 90% of the states that hold lotteries also have a state income tax?

Looking at the lottery from a human standpoint makes the argument for a state lottery even less appealing. Generally, citizens with the biggest financial problems are the ones who buy most of the lottery tickets. The program, when viewed from this angle, is a tax on the poor. The hope it offers is an illusion. A person is ten times more likely to be struck by lightning than to win the lottery.

The Bible teaches us to love God above all else and to love our neighbor as ourselves. The state government running a lottery encourages us to be greedy and self-centered. The Bible teaches us to rely upon God. The state running a lottery will encourage us to rely on luck and money. The Bible teaches us that work is part of creation giving us purpose. The lottery teaches us to look for easy money.

From a very basic economic standpoint we need to closely examine where the money from this lottery will go. Funds spent to purchase lottery tickets will leave Crockett County instead of helping our local economy. Let's be realistic; how much of it will return? How much real benefit will our citizens receive from a state lottery? The lottery will not help our economy. It will hurt the economy in Crockett County.

We as citizens as leaders in the religious community must take a stand against the State-sponsored lottery. Vote NO on November 5.

Ozona is on the map . . . again

Texas Monthly's November 1991 issue presents the tenth and final in the Texas Trail Map Series in a twelve-page, magazine-pullout section featuring the Texas Pecos Trail. Ozona is featured on page 102 of the guide. This map, along with others in the series, will guide travelers through the highways and back roads of the state.

The Texas Trail Map Series is the result of a unique public-sector/private sector partnership between GMC Truck and the Texas Department of Transportation. Texas Monthly launched the series in its January 1991 issue with the Texas Official Highway Travel Map, which was bound into each copy of the magazine.

Travelers using the Texas Pecos Trail Map will discover an area which varies from "raw, arid landscapes to inviting green valleys, from an international river to shifting sands reminiscent of a Saharan desert."

The highly regarded maps in the Trail Map Series have not been available since 1985; they are produced with the cooperation and resources of the Texas Department of Transportation.

Copies of each trail map are distributed at the state's Travel Information Center. Free maps are also available at GMC truck dealerships throughout the state. Visitors to dealerships can enter a special contest organized by Texas Monthly, in which a bed-and-breakfast weekend will be awarded each month. A 1992 GMC truck will be the grand prize at the end of the series.

Texas Monthly, now in its nineteenth year of publication, has a paid circulation of 300,000 and is read by more than 1.75 million people each month.

Grant me a steady hand and watchful eye that no man shall be hurt when I pass by.

Thou gavest life, and I pray no act of mine may take away or mar that gift of thine.

Wall blanks varsity Lions

By Don Stark

The Wall Hawks took no prisoners last Friday night as they crushed the Ozona Lions 40-0 in a District 6-2A football game in Wall.

The Hawks scored on their first three possessions in the first quarter and once in the second quarter to make the score 28-0 at the half.

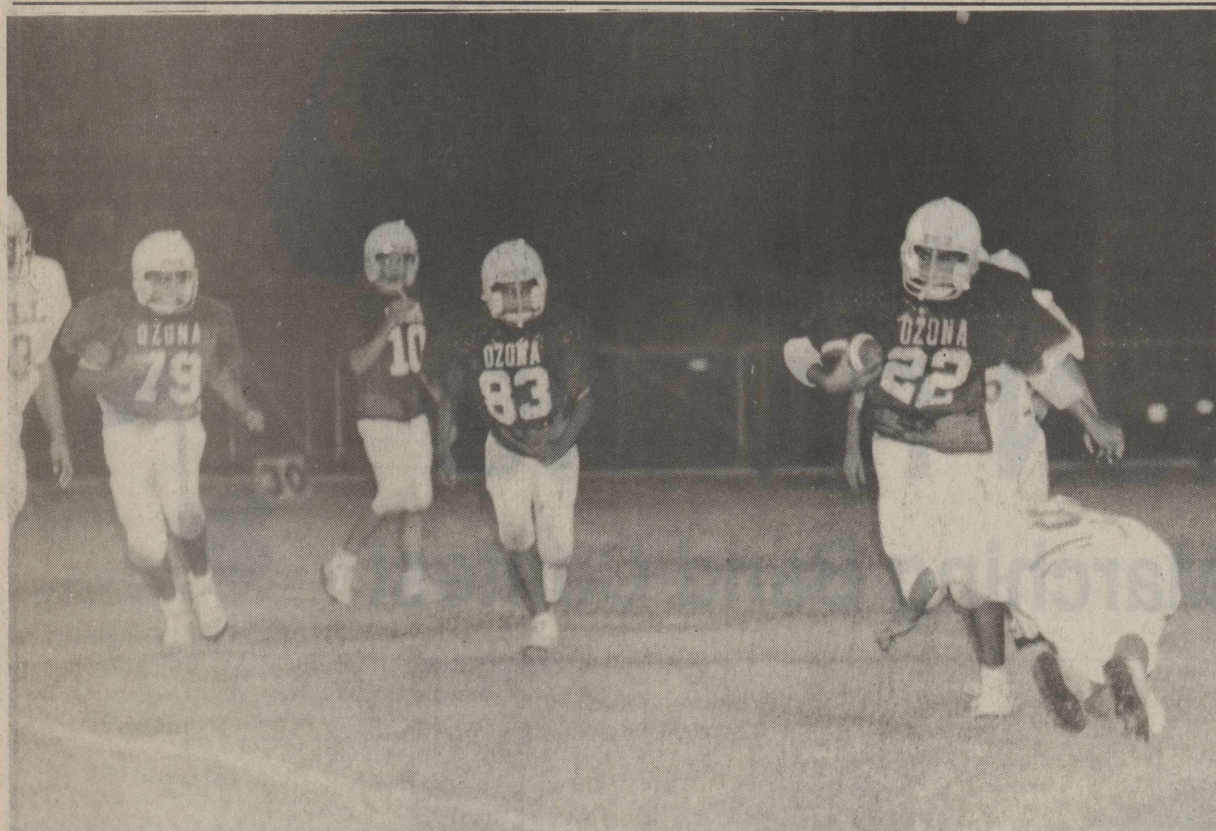

The Lion defense tightened up in the second half as the Hawks scored once in the third quarter and once in the fourth quarter.

The Lion offensive efforts were killed by fumbles and could not sustain a drive throughout the game. These turnovers, combined with missed tackles and mental errors, spelled doom for Ozona against the undefeated Hawks.

Interceptions by Michael Fay and Owen Powell, plus the consistent play of Mike Kenison were the bright spots for Ozona in this game.

With the loss, the Lions' record in district falls to 2-3 and 2-6 for the season.

Things don't get any easier this week as the Lions host the 7-1 Iraan Braves in Lion Stadium on Friday night.

JV Lions edge Wall 7-6

By Don Stark

The Ozona JV Lions pulled victory out of defeat as they scored in the final 1:26 of the game to defeat the Wall JV 7-6 in football action last Thursday.

With time running out and facing a fourth down and 28, the Lions reached down into their bag of tricks and came up with a fake punt run by Travis Davidson that netted 35 yards and put the Lions on the Wall two-yard-line. J.J. Lozano scored the tying touchdown, and Victor Villa kicked the winning extra point.

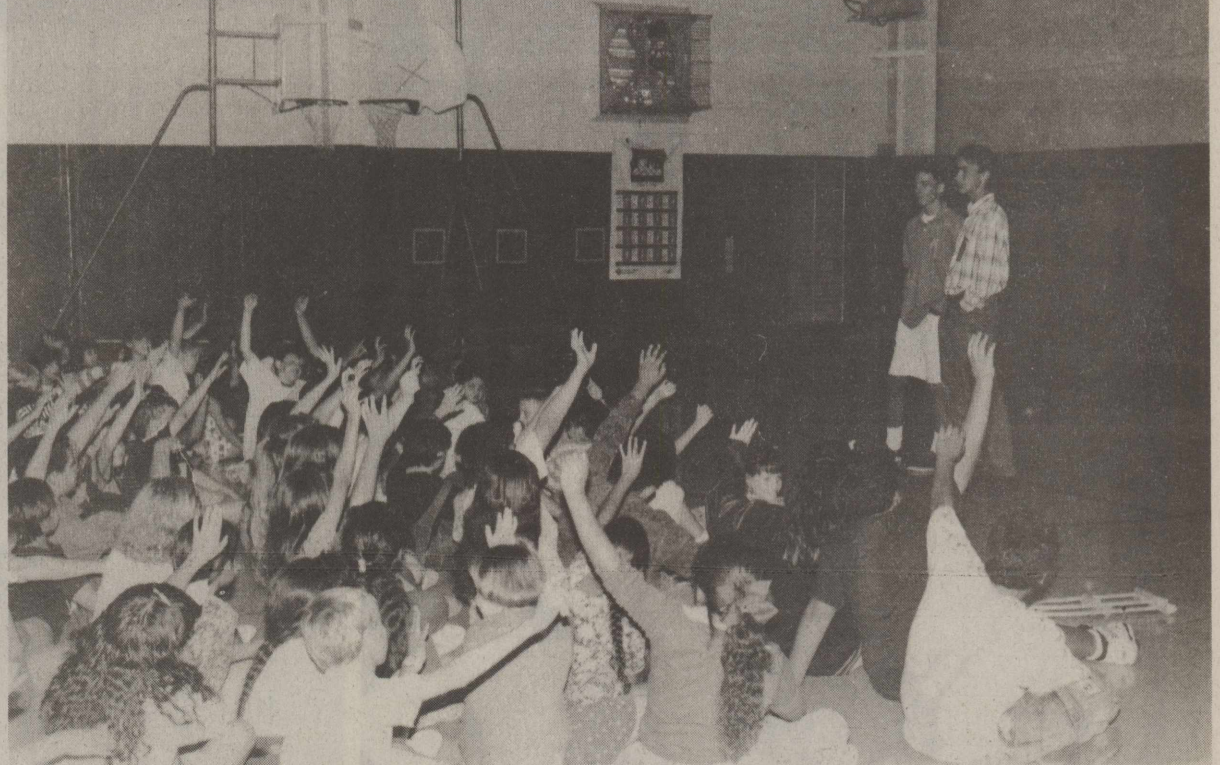

Interceptions by Andreas DeLa Garza, Joe Hernandez and Jesse Garza, plus fumble recoveries by DeLa Garza and Luis Longoria, shot down the previously undefeated Hawks.

The Lions rushed for 193 yards and passed for 91 yards in gaining their 6 victory against 2 loss.

"This was a great victory! We sucked it up in the fourth quarter and outplayed them. Again it was another outstanding effort by the defense. Robert Bryson had a great night running the football. If we can win the rest of our games, we are guaranteed at least a tie for the district championship," commented Coach Brad Bravard.

Drug awareness at OHS during Red Ribbon Week

by Alma Flores

Understanding the dangers of drugs and alcohol was the topic on which students at Ozona High School were lectured last week. Red Ribbon Week made everyone realize the effects that drugs have on people and students just like us.

The Just Say No Club members worked hard all week to make everyone aware of drugs and their dangers. Throughout the week, one member of the club gave statistics each morning on drugs and drug related accidents. Members giving substance abuse messages were Gary Thompson, Chris Cornett, Amy Goshen, Norma Quiroz and Jamie Dalby.

On Wednesday, student volunteers were taken from their classroom every 20 minutes one by one and had their faces painted into a white mask. This would illustrate that every 20 minutes a teenager across the country, age 13 to 19, is killed due to a drug related accident. That is 72 students in a 24-hour period. Many students around OHS believed that this demonstration made a point. As Leslie

Berry stated, "Hope this changed at least one person's views on drinking."

Coach David McWilliams, sponsor of the Just Say No Club, would like to thank everyone who helped during Red Ribbon Week. He also appreciates all the students who volunteered to have their faces painted white.

Reagor attends leadership seminar

Billy Reagor, County Extension agent, as president elect of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, attended the National Association of County Agricultural Agents Leadership Development Seminar in Washington, D.C., on Oct. 20-23, 1991. Also attending from Texas was Joe Pope, president of TCAAA.

Purposes of the seminar were: To enhance the State Officers' quality of leadership.

To provide a better understanding of Extension Service/USDA and its role with states and counties.

To gain a better understanding of the forces and resources at the national and international levels that impact county and state Extension programs

The group spent most of the day on Sunday sightseeing. (Capitol, Smithsonian Institute, Washington Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Memorial).

One of the more memorable occasions was attending President Bush's greeting of Vaclav Havel, President of the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic at the White House. Following this ceremony, the NCAA delegation had an opportunity to visit with their respective U.S. legislators.

The group was addressed by the Secretary of Agriculture, representatives from the House and Senate Agriculture committees, Extension Service USDA program leader, a representative from the Office of Management and Budget and others.

Key issues that were addressed included environmental groups, wet lands, solid and hazardous waste, budgets, agricultural programs, and Farm Bill. According to Reagor, it was a very informative meeting.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

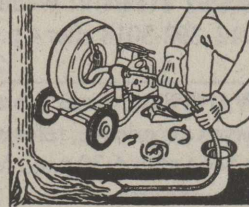

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.
