Texaco puts new plant on line

Texaco has put their new plant on the Gene Perry Ranch on line Friday, Feb. 19, by processing 17 million cubic feet of gas daily. The plant has a potential of 22 million cubic feet per day.

Ozona superintendent Cecil Buckner said, "We had a few problems getting it up and running with the correct temperatures, but things are smoothing out now."

The new plant was moved from the Burnett Ranch in Borger and was sent to Tulsa to be refurbished before reconstruction in Ozona by the Armellini Co. of Tulsa. Construction took approximately three months.

Texaco employees sent to Ozona for the start-up of the plant were Michael Hitchcock, project engineer from Tulsa, and Gary Riddle, operator from Eldorado.

Local employees are: mechanical crew members Oran Howell and John Tarr; plant operators Ben Maytubby, recently transferred from California, and relief operator Charlie Ramos; David Screws, assistant superintendent, and Cecil Buckner superintendent.

Texaco has one other processing plant in Crockett County approximately five miles south of Ozona on Hwy. 163.

Lions fall in play-off bid with Wall Monday night

By Don Stark

The Wall Hawks converted both shots of a two-shot foul attempt in the final three seconds of the game to defeat the Ozona Lions 54-52 in a district basketball playoff game in Rankin on Monday, Feb. 22.

The loss ends the Lions' up and down season and leaves Ozona with a final 11-14 record for the year.

Wall played Coahoma Tuesday night for the right to advance to the state playoffs as District 6-2A's second place team. The Eldorado Eagles won the district crown and will play

Anthony in the first round of the playoffs.

The Lions and Hawks played an even first half as the 29-27 Ozona halftime lead indicated. In the second half, the Hawks' superior height began to show as they outbounded Ozona and scored numerous times on second and third attempts at the basket. Ozona, for the most part, was forced to shoot from outside as Wall utilized several zone defenses and clogged up the lane area.

After the Hawks built up a 41-38 lead at the end of the third quarter, the Lions came back and tied the game midway through the final quarter. The lead changed hands several times in the closing minutes of the game. The Lions' final two points came with 10 seconds left when Alex Borrego tied the game 52-52 on a short jump shot.

A few seconds later the Lions had the ball out of bounds under their basket. However, they couldn't convert this last chance to win.

Joe Mendoza led the Lions' scoring with 12 points.

Ozona shot 38 percent from the field and 66 percent from the foul shot line. The Hawks shot 57 percent from the field and 42 percent from the foul line. Playing their final game for Ozona were seniors Joe Mendoza, Alex Borrego, Andy Borrego and Joe Hernandez.

Letters to the Editor

Crockett County Residents,
Noting that both the Crockett County Hospital and the Nursing Staff have recently been front page news, perhaps this letter will be appropriate. Crockett County is not unique in having a severe shortage of nursing staff. That's the down side. The up side is the fact we have many residents with the potential of becoming a nurse.

Since coming to Ozona, countless times people have made the statement, "you know, I always thought of becoming a nurse". Now is the time to turn words into action, preparing our own people to care for ourselves. Let's take stock in ourselves, raising up our own people, instead of becoming increasingly reliant on others.

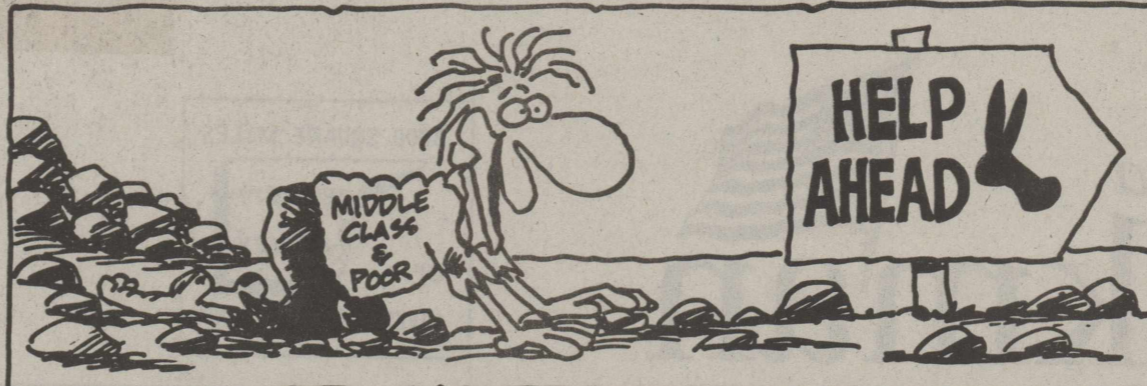

Grants, scholarships, and loans are available from several sources to assist those of you interested in pursuing a nursing career. Do not be misled. Nursing school is grueling mentally, physically and emotionally. It is also rewarding. In other words, 'Hang onto your hat, it will be a bumpy ride'.

I ask each of you, if you know someone interested in pursuing a career in nursing, please show your support. If I can be of assistance to you concerning the above mentioned subject, please do not hesitate to call.

Respectfully,
Diane Schwertner RN, BSN,
CNOR

Ronald Carnes returned to his home in Eaton, PA, Tuesday after visiting several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Carnes.

Wilburn and Jan Conklin of Kettlefalls, WA, were guests of Mrs. Lucile Harrell Monday. The Conklins had been to Kerrville to attend a family gathering and celebrate the 79th birthday of his mother, Jessie Conklin Baccus. This was the first time all the kids had been together since 1977, Wilburn said.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,
If King George III had been smooth instead of demanding, the course of history could have been changed. The colonists were tired of King George's officers who ate away at their substance. But, consider what might have happened if his hair had been blow dried; and if he had been able to smile into a TV camera and say that he really cared about the people and their colonial homeland, and that "he" wanted the "invest" in their future? What if he had related that, as a boy, he and his friends pulled together in the name of "patriotism" to overcome adversity. Possibly, if confronted with the facts in this manner, the colonists would have done the virtuous thing and gladly paid the Tea Tax. Should we do the honorable thing and "contribute" to the "future" so that congressmen can continue to buy their way back into office with new and "wonderful" programs, that they created for "us"? Should we forget about the DOE, DOT, EPA, ESA, HUD, IRS, OSHA, and other agencies created by Congress that eat our substance? Also, are we to disregard the fact that they continue to fund numerous boondoggles such as: studies of every frivolous and nutty thing imaginable; the National Endowment of the Arts and its pornography; the Aerostat radar balloons which have spent only 39% of the time in the air; and payment of welfare to able bodied men who refuse to work. Most of all, should we forget that Congress and our new President still refuse to pass the Balanced Budget Amendment? I'm not falling for that "patriotism" line. I will gladly "contribute" my fair share once the gross waste of public funds is stopped. And I have a hunch that more taxes won't be necessary once it's gone. We have all paid more than our fair share of taxes. The deficit is deep rooted in mismanagement and fraud. Private and corporate businesses cannot arbitrarily increase their income, and they make it through lean times by cutting spending. Shouldn't our government be forced to do the same?

The Balanced Budget Amendment will not be enough! We need a law that sends our leaders to prison if they approve a deficit. They really like deficits because their power and kick backs are directly related to the money they have to dole out. When they have wasted all the real tax revenues, they become impotent unless they can create "deficits" to renew their power and restore favor by giving us "something for nothing".

The arrogant spirit of King George still lives today, but it has learned to con citizens with words. If we agree it's "patriotic" to contribute more" before all the fat is trimmed, we will get shafted and find ourselves being "asked" to contribute even more. Sincerely, Luke Shipp, Box 726, Iraan, Texas 79744

Wisdom is knowing when to speak your mind and when to mind your speech.

Congress will not know what a real filibuster is until women members are in the majority.

Kind words can never die but without kind actions they can sound mighty sick.

There's a new medicine on the market called ZIP. It doesn't cure anything but it is easy to spell.

Beware of using sharp words. You may have to eat them further down the line.

Most women won't admit anything over fifty-five—whether it's speed or age.

Words can make deeper scars than silence can ever heal.

A new word is "smearsay" meaning hearsay with a smear.

The four most important words in the English language to some people are I, me, mine and money.

Happiness is the result of being too busy to be miserable.

A task worth doing and friends worth having make life worthwhile.

The thing that most of us don't like about work is that it is so daily.

The Lord didn't burden us with work, he blessed us with it.

You need the church, the church needs you, the world needs both.

If all the world is a stage, it's about time for a new plot.

Worry never robs tomorrow of its sorrows; it only saps today of its strength.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK

Remember when you are praised to the sky, it's best to keep your feet on the ground.

Ozona Woman's League members met in the home of Lori Williams on Feb. 9. Assisting as hostesses were Katrece Hale and Lucy Humphries.

Since this was the Valentine meeting, members answered roll call by sharing something they collect that is sentimental. The inspirational reading followed given by Karen Huffman. President Camille Jones reported for the scholarship committee which has selected the 1993 topic for the scholarship essay. Applications for graduating seniors will soon be available from the high school counselor and are due April 1 for consideration by the committee.

Following the business meeting, Naina Bhakta presented a program on traditions and customs involved in Indian marriages. She wore her own wedding dress and showed a video of a family wedding. A light supper of Indian cuisine was served.

Twenty-one members were present, including new member Alice Childress.

Safety program presented to Alpha Alpha Mu

Home and personal safety was the subject of a program given by Sheriff Jim Wilson to Alpha Alpha Mu members Jan. 25. The members were "hanging on the edge of their seats" during the whole program, according to Jackie Necessary, president of the chapter. Mrs. Necessary hosted the meeting at the Ozona Senior Apartments.

The group learned more about crime from Crockett County probation officers. Mike Graves, Ron Cook and Will Brown delivered the program on Feb. 22. They described the probation program and its enforcement.

The chapter voted on which charities would receive proceeds from the poinsettia sales. Also discussed was the trash pick up on April 3.

Those present Monday night were: Jackie Necessary, Sally Roane, Laurie Hale, Diane Anderson, Gail Spence, Wanda Sanders, Monica Bendele, Janelle Sparks, Molly Criner and Beverly Solansky. Tonya Poindexter and Stephanie Chapman were hostesses.

The food guide pyramid is an outline of what to eat each day to help you choose a healthful diet. Mrs. Ulmer reminded the group that the key to eating is moderation.

William A. Gary, AARP district director for District II, from Fredericksburg also was present for the meeting.

A 55 Alive mature driving class will be held March 20 from 8:30 to 1:30. The certificate for taking the course is good for three years and allows a discount on car insurance. AARP will provide the course instructor. Cost is $8 per person. Age is 50 years or older. A limited amount of people will be able to attend.

Alpha Alpha Mu selects Valentine Queen

Laurie Hale was named Valentine Queen of the Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Feb. 8 at the group's Valentine Casino Party. Her court consisted of Janelle Sparks and Jackie Necessary.

A bouquet of red roses with a red velvet slipper attached was prepared for the queen. Every girl in the chapter was given a beautifully decorated shoe box to open. The girl who found the matching red velvet slipper in her box would be crowned Valentine Queen.

There were moans and giggles as the boxes were opened. Monica Bendele found a 1950's vintage high top sneaker with purple shoe strings in her box. Tonya Poindexter found a tiny, pink baby shoe in hers. Beverly Solansky came up with a glass perfume bottle in the shape of a roller skate, and Janelle Sparks unwrapped a little wooden boat on a key chain. Finally, Laurie Hale opened the box with the red velvet slipper, which she slipped on her foot.

After the meal and the crowning of the queen, everyone was given a stack of Monopoly money and encouraged to try their hand at roulette.

It's a boy!

Around the world with books read-a-thon

On Feb. 15, 1993 the Ozona Primary School kicked off the Books & Beyond Read-A-Thon program. The program is a nationally validated program that is recognized for motivating students to read. The purpose of the program is to help students produce a long lasting behavior of recreational reading.

The theme for the Books & Beyond Read-A-Thon is Around the World with Books. Each station is a different continent, and the eighth station is a gold medal. All students have been encouraged to participate from the three year-olds up to the second graders, along with any faculty, staff, parents and/or community members who wish to participate.

Each participant will receive a personalized hot air balloon marker to move around the eight stations.

To get to each station, a person must read 15 books, and then a specific prize will be awarded to that participant every week. The prizes include book markers, pencils, notepads, rulers, pencil toppers, key chains, yoyos and a gold medal will be given to each person who goes around the world at least one time. A special chart will be kept for those students who have traveled around the world. Each of the prizes are thematic and go along with the world or the continent. A list of the awards and requirements are displayed on a wall in the school building.

Books of any type can be read for the recreational reading. Magazines, newspapers, and chapter books can also be counted as reading material. Two articles out of a newspaper or magazine may be counted as one book, and for books over 50 pages, 25 pages may be counted as one book. Books and stories may also be read to the students.

Teachers will be aiding in their students trip around the world. Each teacher is allowed to read a certain number of books to their class during the week. The books that are read may not include those that are used for instructional purposes. A class roster will be on one list and when that teacher has read fifteen books, the whole class will receive a prize and move to the next station. For the PK and kindergarten classes, the teachers will be allowed 5 books a week. For the first and second grade classes, the teachers will be allowed three books a week.

Parents have volunteered to help with the record keeping on how many books each participant has read, and what prize they will be receiving. On Fridays, Mr. Spiller will be going around to the different classrooms and passing out the prizes and the participants will move their hot air balloon to the station they are on. At the end of the read-a-thon, in May, an assembly will be held to recognize the participants, and the gold medals will be given out to those participants who have earned them. More information will be provided at a later date.

An added feature to the read-a-thon is a raffle held every Friday morning for the students who have visited the public library. The library has tickets for the students when they go to the library. The students put the tickets in a treasure box located by the office. A certain number of tickets will be pulled out of the box and the student's whose name is on the ticket will receive a prize from the goody box.

Anyone who would like to volunteer to help with the record keeping, read to the classes, donate prizes, or have any questions concerning the program, please contact Tammy Bunger, Sally Oglesby, or the primary school for more information.

Everyone is invited to come view our world map and see the progress our students will be making as they journey Around the World with Books.

SALLY OGLESBY ASSISTS Mrs. Dena Porter's kindergarten students with moving their balloons to the next continent. The students are participating in Ozona Primary School's "Around the world with books" program. They are: Tina Martinez, Taylor Oglesby, Catharine Marmolejo, Kristen Bunger, Stephen Lara and Hillary Huffman.

Students place in Sonora UIL meet

By Justin Southern

The Ozona UIL participants competed in the Sonora UIL meet on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 12 and 13. The speech contestants traveled to Sonora on Friday to begin their preliminary round of competition and returned on Saturday to finish the competition.

The cross examination debate team composed of Hollie Williams and Lisa Herring won their first three debates in the preliminaries and were not defeated until the semi-final round. Herring and Williams ended up in the third position due to their number of speaker points which were higher than the other team's, who were defeated.

In other speaking events, Myra Wilson placed third in Lincoln-Douglas debate and first in persuasive speaking. In prose interpretation, April Graham placed sixth, and JoLynn Vannoy placed second in poetry interpretation.

In other academic events, Eli Hernandez placed third in the ninth grade number sense and Doug Meador also received a third in the tenth grade number sense competition. In the mathematics contest, Eli placed fifth in the tenth grade division and Doug brought in another third in the tenth grade division.

The computer science team composed of Melanie Thompson, Jennifer Lee and John Vasquez placed second.

In the science competition, which is composed of biology, chemistry and physics, Doug Meador and Clay Westmoreland tied for the sixth position in the tenth grade division.

Jennifer Lee placed third in the current issues and events contest, Ryan Morris was second in ready writing, Dora Garcia took third place in the spelling contest and Doug Meador was fifth in headline writing.

UIL students place in McCamey

By Justin Southern

The Ozona UIL students traveled to McCamey on Saturday, Feb. 6, to participate in the non-speaking UIL events.

Doug Meador had a good day, placing first in headline writing, fourth in news writing, which are journalism events, and third in the tenth grade science division.

Dora Garcia placed third in spelling. The spelling team, coached by Debbie Arrott, placed third in the team competition.

OHS students who compete in speaking events did not compete in the McCamey UIL meet. This was strictly an academic event competition.

On Monday, residents celebrated Valentine's Day by electing Frank and Alma James as Valentine King and Queen. They each were presented with a crown of hearts and a box of candy. Lots of pictures of the couple were taken. Homemade angel food cake with strawberries and whipped cream and punch were served. We would like to thank Ruth Hester for making the delicious cake and Allie Mae Parker for assisting during the serving. It was a delightful celebration. It may have been celebrated a day late, but the love and warm feelings were apparent.

An unusual thing happened in Tuesday's bingo. Alma James bingoed on the first four numbers called during the game of four corners. She received two dollars for her piggy bank. She then proceeded to win two more games. Games were also won by Frances Davis, Monnie Boyd, Juana Hernandez, Jose Arredondo and Hazel McDaniel. Our helpful volunteer was Georgic Kirby. Thank you, Georgia.

Residents gathered in the Day Room for a study hour Tuesday immediately following bingo. Their Spanish/English skills are really improving with each lesson.

Tuesday evening residents greeted Ben Sanchez, the Spanish/English class teacher, in Spanish. He was impressed. Several common sentences were the topics for study during the class. Residents were so interested in the class that time got away with them and they stayed an extra 30 minutes in the class. They couldn't believe that two hours could go by so quickly. Thank you, Ben. Not every class stays late because they want to.

Volunteers for Wednesday morning's ceramic class were Ruth and Patsy Hester and Ruthie Dorris. We sure appreciate their help and advice. Southwestern pieces are still popular in the class.

A new activity was introduced Wednesday afternoon. It was called Hoopla Ring Toss. Fishbowls and cups were placed on a flat colored wheel on the lobby floor, and residents were handed three ping-pong balls and two wooden rings. The object of the game was to toss a ball into the cups or bowls or to ring the tall vase filled with a bouquet of dollar bills that was in the middle of the wheel. A variety of prizes were offered. Residents were having so much fun that the staff had to remind them when it was time to eat.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers were Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson and Audrey Smith. Thank you, ladies. The residents look forward to your visits.

Mass was held during Spanish Hour of Praise. Rev. Ray Gallagher conducted the service. Members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church attending the service were: Beto and Alicia Perez, Nip and Maria Vitela, Felipa Munoz, Isabel Ramirez, Anita Fierro, Paulita Leal, Beatriz Vasquez and Germana Onofre. We would like to thank them for coming.

Thursday evening we were entertained by the Levis and Lace Square Dance Club. Dancers performing were: Otis Nester, J. D. and Lillian Brown, Raul and Maria De La Rosa, Betty Allen, Gayila Underwood, Sue Spoons, Carol Peek and Leroy Adcock. We sure appreciate their sharing their time and talents with us. We enjoyed it.

Another study hour was held Friday afternoon. If report cards were being given out in Spanish/English, all the residents would receive an A.

A pie party was held Friday afternoon. Residents were treated to a slice of pie of their choosing. Flavors available to choose from were: cherry, apple, lemon, coconut, chocolate, buttermilk, banana and lemon meringue. Staff members of the care center and hospital were also included.

"Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: Let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me.

"Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The Lord be magnified.

TEXAS MAGAZINES

Out of the more than 30 magazines and newspapers in CCPL's collection, three of the most beautiful and informative are Texas magazines.

In the February issue of Neil Sperry's Gardens, check out the great articles on gorgeous plants that thrive in Texas. Late winter is the peak season for pansies, violas and Johnny jump-ups. They will bring wonderful color to the winter garden. One of the earliest bloomers each spring is flowering quince. These hardy, showy shrubs date into the 1800s in Texas landscaping. They bloom in a beautiful range of colors from deep red, to coral and orange, to pink and white. Mr. Sperry's article on year-round gardening is excellent. Every season can be beautiful with a little careful planning to find and plant beautiful plants with blooms and foliage that thrive in even our harsh Texas winters and summers. This magazine is a very good choice for the Texas gardener or for just browsing through the gorgeous photography.

In the February Texas Highways, Lori K. Moffatt has captured a very exciting part of Texas, the film industry. Since 1911, more than 500 made-in-Texas productions have captured on film the myths and realities of Texas life and diverse landscape. Stories that feature sites in Texas, like The Last Picture Show, Giant, Bonnie & Clyde, The Sugarland Express, and Urban Cowboy, are natural for on-location filming. But how about the sci-fi film Robo Cop, set in futuristic Detroit and filmed in Dallas? Or the Robert Redford/Susan Sarandon film The Great Waldo Pepper, set in 1920s Kansas but shot in Elgin? Or the Academy Award-winning Born on the Fourth of July by Oliver Stone, filmed in the Oak Cliff neighborhood of Dallas? Or the last scene in Steven Spielberg's Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade, filmed near Amarillo? Move over, Hollywood! The state of Texas is covered with movie sites, and also check out some hometown stars that call Texas home.

The Texas Parks & Wildlife for February has several great articles on the Devil's River. Some 40,000 acres of the Devil's River region are owned and administered by two separate entities - the Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. and the Nature Conservancy of Texas. These two conservation organizations, one public and one private, share a fence line, Devil's River frontage and a commitment to protection of this unique area. Gorgeous pictures portray the long history of use of the area and the recent destruction and defacement of Indian pictographs and drawings.

There is a great article on fishing. The Devil's River, virtually teeming with small mouth bass, is an irresistible temptation to the adventurous angler. But with hidden boulders, surprise waterfalls, and the possibility of flash floods, canoeing the Devil's is not for the inexperienced. Fishermen must also respect private land and avoid trespassing on inviting riverbank campsites. Arthur Nagel, president of the Riverside and Landowners Protection Coalition, Inc., sets out guidelines for canoeists and fishermen on enjoying the river and respecting the landowner's right to privacy. Mr. Nagel urges education of all river recreationists, state agencies, legislators and outdoor writers, too, on how people can enjoy the rivers without getting on the adjacent private property. The Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept. has taken a positive step, in allowing canoeists to use the Devils River State Natural Area as a public access point. In dry West Texas, the Devil's River is indeed an oasis for anglers and river recreationists, but only if it is used responsibly.

Come check out these great Texas magazines and all the periodicals available at your public library.

TAYLOR WORD WAS THE HONORED GUEST at a luncheon celebrating his 92nd birthday Feb. 17. Hosting the celebration, complete with balloons and flowers, were friends Janet and Jim Wilson, Tonya McGuire and Katharine Russell.

Mrs. Lucile Harrell was in Kerrville last week to attend the Conklin family reunion. Celebrating Jessie Baccus' 79th birthday was part of the three-day event. Others enjoying the gathering were: Mrs. Baccus husband, Doc; Ben and Joyce Conklin of Albuquerque; Carl Conklin and his son, Shannon, of Nacogdoches; Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Conklin of Kettle Falls, WA; Nonie Hendrickson and her daughter, Julie, of Hamilton; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boothe of Fort Worth.

The Mind Of The Spirit

By Dennis J. Prutow

The Bible says, "The mind set on the Spirit is life and peace" (Romans 8:6). But what does this mean! Literally the texts speaks about "the mind of the Spirit." The word "mind" refers to the attitude toward life which a person has. The apostle Paul uses the same word when he exhorts, "Have this attitude in yourselves which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5). Now the "mind of the Spirit" is an attitude about life dominated or guided by the Holy Spirit. And if anyone has a mind fully guided by the Holy Spirit, it was Jesus Christ. This is why we are exhorted to have the mind of Christ.

But what was Christ's attitude toward life? He was a servant! "The Son of Man did not come to be served; but to serve, and to give His life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45). Jesus did the work of a servant when He washed the disciple's feet. Not only so, He served mankind by dying on the cross to pay the penalty due to people like you and me for their sins.

As a result, the mind of the Spirit trusts in this sacrifice of Christ in payment for sin. And so the individual who has the mind of the Spirit enjoys the peace of forgiveness and of life given by God!

OHS tennis teams shine

By Don Stark

Coach Renee Schultze's tennis teams participated in a tri-dual tennis meet in Monahans on Saturday, Feb. 20, and looked strong against 4A competition. Other teams in the meet were Monahans and Pecos. Against Pecos the OHS team played doubles first followed by singles for a total of 21 matches. Ozona won 17 out of 21 matches played. Without a break, the Ozona teams played the Monahans teams using the same forum of doubles and singles. Ozona won 16 out of 19 matches played against Monahans. Two matches were cancelled due to a rain shower.

"I am so proud of our players," commented Coach Schultze. "They played and acted like a 5-A school."

Players for the Ozona team were: C'Jay McKinney, Julie Childress, Jennifer Evans, Stefny Sutton, Jami Dalby, Carmen Gutierrez, Ryan Morris, Mickey White, Billy Tramel, John Vasquez, Chris Cornett, Marty Martinez, Llarior Porras and Slate Williams.

Ozona will play in a tournament Friday and Saturday in Fort Stockton.

Coahoma Bulldogs defeat the Lions

by Don Stark

Despite a 28 point performance by "Super Soph" Chris Sanchez, the Ozona Lions were defeated 77-69 by the Coahoma Bulldogs in a boys' high school basketball game played in Coahoma on Friday, Feb. 19.

The loss prevented the Lions from being the second half district winner and forced them into a playoff for second place with Wall and Coahoma.

A slow start in the first quarter by the Lions, when they were outscored 22-13, proved to be the difference in the ball game. Coahoma outscored the Lions 19-17 in the second quarter. Both teams scored 17 points in the third quarter and Ozona outscored the Bulldogs 20-19 in the final period.

Sanchez's 28 point performance was his best for the season. Alex Borrego scored 13 points and Tony Valencia scored 11 points for the Lions.

Coach Keith Shoush's JV Lions finished their season with a 53-52 victory over the Coahoma JV. The JV's finished the season with a fine 13-5 record. "I think our kids had a good year overall, considering we had several players out for academic reasons for much of the season. "Several boys got more playing time than we had expected at the beginning of the season so everything ended on a positive note," Shoush commented.

Sign-up for youth basketball league

Boys and girls in grades one through six who are interested in playing in the Ozona Youth Basketball League may sign up Feb. 22-26 in P.E. classes at the primary, intermediate and middle school or on Saturday, Feb. 27, from 10 a.m. until noon at Davidson Gymnasium.

Lions self-destruct against Eagles

by Don Stark

The Ozona Lions fell apart in the fourth quarter and allowed the Eldorado Eagles to defeat them 57-56 in overtime in boys' basketball action on Tuesday, Feb. 16, in the Ozona gym.

After an evenly played first half which saw the Lions leading 27-26, Ozona came out in the third quarter and built up a 46-39 lead by the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Then the wheels came off the Ozona offense and defense as the Lions committed seven critical turnovers allowing the Eagles to tie the game with 50 seconds left in regular time and then hang on to defeat the Lions in overtime.

The Lions shot 35 percent from the field and 53 percent from the foul shot line. Eldorado shot 36 percent from the field and 83 percent from the foul shot line.

Chris Sanchez scored 20 points to lead the Lion scoring. Joe Mendoza scored 12 points and Julio Martinez scored 11 points for Ozona.

The workshop on procurement and collusion featured speakers: Alan Pason, Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department of Justice; Pam Perkins, State Attorney General's office and Bill Godwin, vice-president of the Texas School Food Service Association.

One hundred food service directors from across West Texas learned about bidding laws and procedures for school districts and problems with bidding food service products and how to deal with them. The speakers also addressed bid rigging and used examples of recent milk bid rigging cases.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GENERATION CROCKETTS, David Crockett and David Crockett visited the local museum Monday morning. Stockman photo by Sandy Stark

David Crocketts visit museum

Two David Crocketts greeted Mary Hillman, Crockett County Museum curator, Monday morning. David Crockett and his son David Crockett are fifth and sixth generation descendants of the David Crockett. The Crocketts hail from Three-Points, TN. but have lived in Laredo for the past 15 years. The elder David and his wife Mary Helen, have two daughters, Doris and Christina. And what will young David name his first son? David...of course.

James will be taking his 13 word per minute Morse code test and Nancy will take the Tech Element 3A test to receive her technician license.

County 4-H third grade shooting team holds second meet

by Nancy Harris

It was ear protectors and safety glasses in place and a call "Relay to the firing line" to get things underway for the young shooters. Targets already in place, a second command was heard. "Ready on the firing line", then "Is the line ready?". All hands up brought the command "Load" and then the long awaited call for the first time, "Commence firing". This is a thrill for the beginning youngsters. All twelve shots are fired by the first five shooters. As they finish one by one they wait in their prone position while their companions finish. First things first, clean up the empty brass, and it is off to retrieve the targets for scoring. The top shooters this week were Kyle Richardson with a 12/24 and Jessica Bragg with a 12/11.

The 4-H shooting team works like any other sport in school in that they cannot continue to shoot if their grades fall behind. Those present at this week's meeting were, Jonathan Kennedy, Shane Albers, Chet Stuart, Jessica Bragg, Christopher Kennedy, Dustin Smith, Kyle Richardson, Casey Petty, Thomas Sertain and Hays Worthington.

The third grade will continue to meet on Monday nights from 6:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the 4-H barn.

OHS thinclads race in Fort Stockton

Ozona High School track season will get underway Friday and Saturday when the boys and girls' teams participate at the Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton. Field and running events begin Friday at 2:30. Finalists return Saturday for competition which begins at 12:30 p.m. Finals of the 3200m run will be after the 400m relay on Friday.

"The Ozona High School boys are looking forward to this season in order to improve on their past performances," said Coach Pete Maldonado. The team is going to be a mixture of young athletes and experienced athletes due to the return of a number of lettermen. Leadership of the returning seniors will be beneficial in the success of the team. Returning senior lettermen are: Aaron Carroll, Owen Powell, Leroy Martinez and Michael Kennison.

One of the strongest areas will be the distance events. Sophomore John Ramirez, and freshmen Rene Tambunga and Bryan Valdez who were all state qualifiers in cross country and have experience on their side will be coached by Leandro Gonzales.

In the weight events, the Ozona boys will try to improve their performance of last year, Maldonado said. Returning senior letterman Michael Kennison will lead this group. Others competing are: Luis Longoria, Doug Meador, Justin Moran, Patrick Sanchez and Adam Carroll. The weight events will be coached by Rodney Schneider.

In the hurdles, sprints and relays, youth will be the factor to overcome. This group of versatile athletes will be led by senior letterman Aaron Carroll who will run the high hurdles, intermediate hurdles and the mile relay. Aaron was one of the top hurdlers in the district last year and missed out of going to regional. He should be one of the favorites to qualify in the regional track meet this year.

Helping in the intermediate hurdles will be sophomore Anthony Sanchez. Anthony finished third at the district track to two seniors who have graduated. He will also run on both of the relays with a year of experience under his belt. Sophomore Chris Sanchez will be a force in the triple jump, long jump, triple jump and will run on both relays. 4-H'ers exhibit at San Antonio

Sixteen Crockett County 4-H Club members exhibited 33 lambs, eight Angora goats and two steers at the San Antonio Livestock Show last week.

The San Antonio Market Lamb Show is the nation's largest, with some 2685 head tagged and weighed in for competition. Not only is it the largest, but it is one of the toughest shows.

Lauren Wilkins exhibited the fourth place heavyweight finewool lamb. JoLynn Vannoy placed fifth with both her lightweight finewool and her middleweight crossbred lambs. Whitney Vannoy placed sixth with her middleweight cross, seventh with her middleweight finewool and 14th with her heavyweight finewool. Codi Richardson placed 21st with her heavyweight crossbred lamb. In all, Crockett County youth placed seven lambs in the premium sale that sold for $5-$6.50 per pound.

In the Angora Goat Show, Stefny Sutton placed as follows in the junior division: 1st doe kid, 6th billy kid, 7th pair of kids, 8th yearling billy and 8th aged doe. Her placings in the open show were: 2nd aged doe, 4th yearling billy, 4th doe kid and 5th billy kid.

Other Ozona youth exhibiting lambs were: Ty Allen, Nancy Arrott, Leigh Chandler, Mark Childress, Tommy Conner, Adrienne Dickerson, Clay Richardson, Kyle Richardson, Casey Upham, Chad Upham and Tara Wilkins. These youth were accompanied by their parents and County Extension Agent Billy H. Reagor.

Capitol Comments
by BOB TURNER
State Representative - District 65

Senate Joint Resolution 7 is the legislation which authorizes placing on a May ballot, for the voters of Texas, a proposed Constitutional Amendment authorizing the recapture and redistribution of local property tax dollars. The Texas Senate passed SJR 7 on January 28 and the bill was sent to the House on January 29. The Texas House passed the bill February 11 and it has returned to the Senate. This legislation is in compliance with, and as directed by Judge McGowan's court. In the Judge's most recent ruling, he has notified Texans of his intent to close schools in June if the matter of equitable distribution of tax wealth, per student, is not corrected. I am convinced that he is absolutely dead serious.

Letting Judge McGowan close public schools on that date did not seem to me to be a viable option. Even though the issue of recapture and redistribution of local tax dollars from the richer school districts to the poorer ones is not a good choice, it is really the only option acceptable to satisfy the mandate of the court, so long as property tax is the system we use in Texas to finance public education. The only methods that are realistic, and still use property tax for the funding mechanism, all require some sort of redistribution of property tax revenue.

Remember SJR 7 is not a school finance bill, or a public education bill—it is simply the authorization to hold a state wide election to amend the Texas Constitution, to legalize the redistribution of local tax dollars. The House Public Education Committee, is now considering and evaluating five or six different possible school finance bills. It is now my next major concern to be sure that our rural schools (all of the 73rd Legislative District's schools are rural) continue to have those things included in that final bill that will enable us to stay in the business of public education. Such things such as sparse and small school formulas, the weighting formulas for special education and vocational training, and a provision for the purchase of school books to continue to be a state funded item (not local funds) are just a few of the concerns I am monitoring.

An interesting note is that the House approved version of SJR 7 includes wording that will put into the Texas Constitution the requirement that any mandates from the state to a local school district, after January 1, 1993, must be funded by the state. Another thing that really pleases me is the appointment of a committee to study the existing mandates to local school districts in an effort to determine which should be kept or be discontinued.

Let me stress again—as I did in my first week's Capitol Comments—that prior to Senate Bill 351, prior to the Edgewood Court decisions that each child in Texas must have equal access to the same basic amount of tax wealth—prior to the initiation of the CED's to attempt to level the education playing field—there was basically nothing wrong with the way school finance was being handled in the state of Texas. This court determination, coupled with the major media slanting their information, has left the impression that the legislature was at fault for not fixing the system. Let me voice my opinion again: The system did not need fixing until these court decisions were made. True, some school district had much more property wealth than others, but no child was actually being deprived of a free public education in the state of Texas. Obviously, not everyone agrees with my philosophy on this issue, since it is clear that the courts did not concur. The vote in May, by the citizens of Texas now places the problem in the hands of the voters of Texas. We really have two options, remembering that we are still using property tax for public school financing. These options are: vote yes, and constitutionally authorize the redistribution of tax funds within Texas and comply with the court's demands, or vote no, and authorize Judge McGowan to close Texas schools on June 1. Not a good choice to have to make, but a rather simple one in reality.

The secret now, is to get the court off the field, and then to busily go about restructuring the way schools are financed in our state. I believe it is the consensus of the Legislature that this must be done, or problems of this nature will continue to happen. I have always felt, after 17 years on a school board at the local district level, that there are two basic things that people are most sensitive about as a whole, one is their money, and the other is their children. The school system has the worst of both worlds, in that we deal with people's money and their children in the same setting, and this poses a gigantic problem, to say the least. School finance is undoubtedly the hottest thing going, and the media, as a whole, would leave the impression that it is the only issue in town. But, I assure you, that it is not. There are more hot potato issues in the legislative oven than either you or I ever dreamed possible.

It is estimated that an excess of 3,000 different bills, or pieces of legislation will be introduced during the 73rd session, and I am here to assure you that many of these bills are either unneeded, or would be a disaster for you. To give a couple of examples: A bill has been introduced by Maxey & Danburg which permits same sex marriages (a bill I bitterly oppose)—and another that would declare the mountain lion a game animal, no longer a predator—a move that would be a disaster for the livestock producers in Texas. Aren't they?

I get mass inquiries on some topics of major interest, and will take this opportunity to comment on a few of these commonly discussed topics. I want you to know how I stand on issues, though I know we will not always agree. I am sponsoring a "stalking" bill during this session of the Legislature, and feel that it is necessary (most states have such a law in place currently). Further, I am sponsoring a bill that will raise the load limit from 20,000 lbs. to 34,000 for agricultural producers who are moving their own crop or product to market. I am one of many sponsors of a "right to carry" bill (a legislative move that significantly reduced the homicide rate in Florida upon its implementation in that state). I am supporting a bill which will put teeth in the law concerning on artists taking advantage of the elderly, (this bill is in cooperation with the Silver Haired Legislature), and a bill calling for the review of all health care insurance policy mandates now in effect. The latter is an attempt to determine the amount added to the cost of basic health insurance premiums by these mandates. I might also say that I strongly favor leaving the Teacher Retirement System alone (it's not broken, and certainly does not need legislative "fixing"). I strongly favor adequate funding for higher education to include business and technical vocational training institutions. I voted for a product liability bill during the last session, and as you know the bill passed in the House, but died in Committee, in the Senate. I strongly support this reform bill of product liability laws. I will not go into more individual issues, but felt it important to let you know what your representative in state government feels, and what I am attempting to do in my role as your Representative.

Again—let me assure you that I and my staff are here to represent you to the very best of our ability. Please call Austin at 512/463-0644 or Coleman at 915/625-3596. We stand ready to serve you.

TS & GRA winter directors meeting March 9

The Winter Tri-Annual Directors' Meeting will be Tuesday, March 9, in the auditorium of the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center on Highway 87 North of San Angelo. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m., and the committees will meet one after another starting at 9:30. Lunch will be served at the center, and the meeting will continue afterward.

The auxiliary will meet in the classroom area at 10:00 a.m., followed by an advisory board meeting. President Doris Haby has a number of items she needs to cover, so she hopes many ladies will attend and become active in the work of the auxiliary as well as the work of the association.

Many people have called the association in regard to Doug Swanson's stinging article in the Dallas Morning News in regard to the mohair incentive program. By way of information, DMN has granted the sheep and goat industry an 800 word guest editorial which will come out under Jeffrey Sutton's name as president of the Mohair Council of America and Robert Pfluger's name as president of TS&GRA. This editorial is a joint effort of the TS&GRA, American Sheep Industry Assn. and the mohair Council of America.

Pfluger stated, "For those of you who would like to write a letter of your own on this issue, the address is: Dallas Morning News, Attn: Doug J.

Swanson, P.O. Box 655237, Dallas, TX 75265.

The directors' meeting was set to coincide with the start of the San Angelo Stock Show which many members will attend.
