Tech Students Have Charge of Services At Church of Christ

A group of approximately thirty young men and women from the Church of Christ Bible Choir at Texas Tech College in Lubbock, had charge of the services at the Church of Christ here last Sunday evening. The young people presented a very inspirational program to a large crowd. Joe Upton, local boy who is attending Texas Tech, made inroductions and announcements. Song services were led by Edward Ponder, and Ronnie Clark led in seasonal prayer. June Wagon and a young man whose name was unavailable at this writing, gave some scripture readings. Main speaker for the evening was Franklyn Greer, who is editor of The Christian Chronical, newspaper of the Bible Chair.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

The old saying about giving your child the moon has almost been reached by a man who furnished his children real live reindeer along with Santa Claus four years ago. And he has been furnishing them for others ever since. Grady Carothers, Goldthwaite, Texas, will bring Santa and his Reindeer to Muleshoe on Monday, November 30, 10 a. m. The Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club and Jay-Cees are assuring an enjoyable time for adults and kiddies alike. No boy or girl, or adult can afford to pass up the opportunity of seeing Santa Claus drive his reindeer through our fair city. To top it all off, Santa promises to take time to listen to the little ones requests and wants to see every boy and girl from miles around.

Rudolph, who bears the title of "George" will lead the parade. The name "George" being given to him by the Eskimos.

Just how the parade will form and where Santa will emerge before they begin their long procession remains a secret. But let us invite everyone to this highlight of the Christmas Season. Don't forget, Muleshoe, November 30, 10 a. m., everybody come to see Santa and his real live reindeer.

WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM HOME

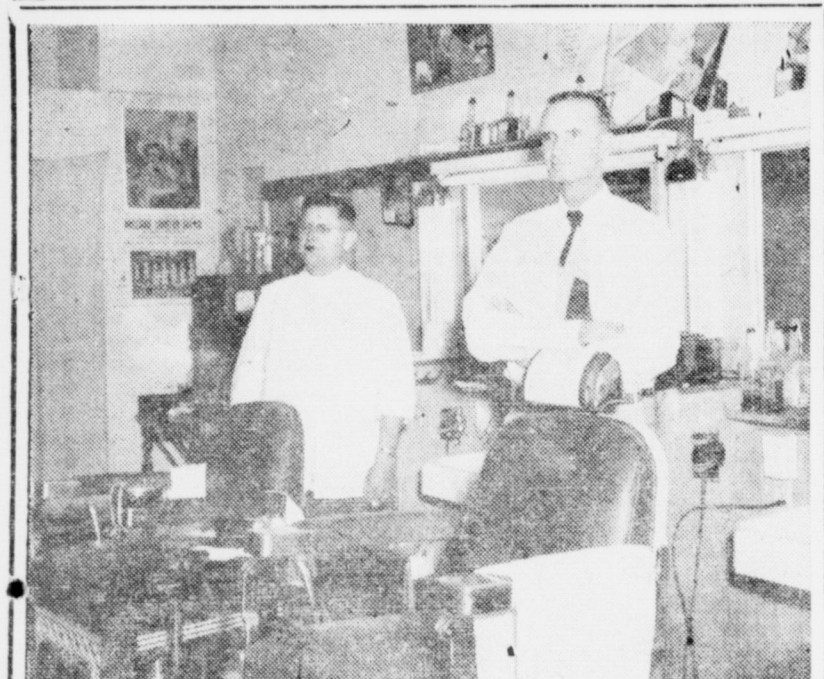

Doyle King, a Muleshoe boy now in Korea, would like to receive a lot of Christmas cards from his old school mates, and friends, and anyone else who would care to send him one. For the benefit of those who would like to send him a card, but do not know his address, it is as follows:

Wise Water Use Now Means Plentiful Supply for Future

Farmers Using Water Unwisely In Some Areas, Officials Say

By TOM McFARLAND
High Plains Underground Water Conservation District

Many a South Plains farmer can remember when there were no irrigation wells in this country; when he had to rely on the moisture yearly provided by Mother Nature; when he planted and prayed for a rain to see the crop through; when he hoped for enough rain to make the crop with which to pay off the bank note which he knew would be necessary again the next year.

In 1954, and maybe on through the years, the farmer may be fortunate enough to have underground water on his place.

So far he has not had to worry about enough rain, or paying the note at the bank off. He has had plenty of water—just by the flick of a switch. Turn it on and out it pours, hundreds of gallons per minute.

Will it always be this way? Can the farmer always have enough water to make a satisfactory crop just by the flick of a switch, the experts say no. They say no because water can disappear from their view just like anything else. Water in itself is an indestructible thing but if it is not on your farm then what good is it doing you?

Ninety-five per cent of all the water on earth is unusable. It is either too salty or is tied up in a frozen state. Of the five per cent that is left, man has in the last few years, begun to keep a vigilant watch to keep the demand a little less than the supply. But, in some of the large agricultural and metropolitan areas, this has not happened. The well has gone dry. The lake, or underground water basins have been pumped dry. It is due in some cases to mismanagement, but we do not know how long we have been drawing on the reserve in others. In the last 100 years, the United States has grown over 600 times, or six times as many users for the number of gallons of fresh water. There is no more water than there is.

By 1975, it is estimated that the United States will have to produce 75 per cent more food from the same number of acres or place the equivalent of that many acres into production. To stay abreast of our growth, we will need 68 million more acres by 1975 to produce food and fiber. Can we do it? Either way, the determining factor will be an available water supply.

Some South Plains farmers will say that they do not need to worry. They have plenty. Their cup runneth over. They are due for a big surprise when that eight-inch well begins to produce six, four, two and only a trickle of water and when there is no shoulder to cry on. No one can make that well produce eight inches again. Perhaps it won't be in your lifetime, but your kids and their kids may want to farm and then they will be the ones to suffer because the water has run out.

There is 85 per cent of the pumping units in Texas located in the 21 South Plains counties. There is also one-twelfth of all of the irrigated land in the United States. This area ranks with the highest in production of cotton. Will it be there in 1975? Who knows. I don't. Do you? Why then should we gamble with something we can't predict? Why not be on the safe side? Practice water conservation.

The place to begin water conservation is at home. Many millions of gallons of water are wasted daily—a few gallons at a time.

On the High Plains we are more fortunate than a lot of other states in that we have a law allowing us to work out our own needs and practices of conservation instead of some bureaucratic agency doing it for us—and, because of this, we are the envy of many of our neighbors.

Therefore, why not conserve the water that is available and remain the envy of others throughout the years? When the kids grow up and want to start on their own, they won't have to start the old cycle of praying for rain every time they put seed into the ground. They will know that you have provided for them; have seen to it that there is and will be plenty of water when and where they need it.

Use the water wisely. Find new means for conserving it. Support the water conservation district that is striving to do all in its power to help you with any and all water problems. Protect your interest. Think it over when you go to water that cotton for the third time when perhaps it isn't even necessary in order to produce the maximum amount of lint and seed. You can't go wrong when you conserve and look ahead. It means more dollars when you conserve and it means empty pockets in years ahead when you do not. It's your farm and its your water, money and future.

Social Security Tax Increases On January 1

The social security tax rate for persons whose work counts toward old-age and survivors insurance is scheduled to increase on the first of January, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, reminded employers, employees, and self-employed people today.

This scheduled increase in tax contribution is in accordance with the 1950 amendments to the social security law, and was enacted by Congress in anticipation of future obligations of the program. Employees in jobs covered by the law will have 2 percent instead of the present 1½ per cent deduction from their pay beginning with the first of January up to earnings of $3600 a year; their employers will contribute an equal amount.

The new rates will apply to all taxable wages paid after December 31, 1953, regardless of when earned.

The social security tax for the self-employed is scheduled to increase from the present 2¼ percent to 3 percent, for the period commencing January 1, 1954. Since the self-employed whose work is covered by the law pay their tax just once yearly at the time of filing their Federal income tax return, they will pay the present 2¼ percent social security tax on their 1953 income that counts toward social security. This will be due not later than March 15, 1954. Their first payments at the increased rate of 3 per cent will be due March 15, 1955, for the calendar year of 1954.

In the meantime, the Internal Revenue Service reports that employers will be furnished late this year with income tax withholding tables and Federal Insurance Contribution Act (social security taxes) tables reflecting rates applicable next year.

The next scheduled increase, six years from now, in 1960, will be to 2½ percent each for employer and employee, and to 3¼ percent for the self-employed.

To answer all inquiries concerning social security, a representative of the Lubbock Social Security field office will be in Muleshoe on November 25, at 9:30 a. m. at the Post Office.

Livestock Producers Use Emergency Loans Of FHA, Fowler Reports

More than $11,689,000 in special livestock loans has been loaned to approximately 1,190 farmers and ranchers throughout the United States and nearly 600 other applications are being considered, Arch T. Fowler, Farmers Home Administration County supervisor for Bailey County, reported this week.

The special livestock loan program authorized last July, helps established producers of cattle, sheep, and goats to maintain their herds, Mr. Fowler said. The producers who can borrow are those with good past records of livestock production but who are temporarily unable to get adequate credit from commercial banks, cooperative lending agencies, or other responsible sources to enable them to go ahead with normal livestock operations. They must have reasonable prospects of success with the help of a loan Commercial feed lot operators are not included.

Applications can be made at the county Farmers Home Administration office next door to the Post Office in Muleshoe. Committees authorized by Secretary of Agriculture Benson approve the loans. Applications for more than $50,000 must have final approval by the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington.

A borrower may use his loan funds for usual expenses of carrying on a livestock operation, including restocking his herd up to the number he held before he had to reduce his herd.

The 5 percent loans may be amortized over a 3-year period and secured by the best lien possible on the borrower's property and his personal obligation to repay the borrowed money. Other creditors, although not asked to subordinate their claims, are expected to agree to stand by so the farmer can have a fair chance to work out his difficulties. Agreements are made to let the farmer apply a reasonable part of his livestock income to repaying the special livestock loan.

Jones, McCool View Hatcheries On 2000-Mile Trip

The year 1954 will be a good year for the producer of poultry and poultry products, is the prediction of "Chief" Jones and E. R. McCool, of Jones Farm Store, who spent most of last week on a 2,000 mile safari to learn what's new in the baby chick business and the outlook for the coming months.

The year 1954, they believe, also will be a busy one for baby chick hatcheries, and there could be a scarcity of chicks for the spring months just ahead.

On their trip of inspection, they selected three of the "best hatcheries in the U. S.", the two men said, to supply them with baby chicks for the farms of the Muleshoe country. Now, they have started to accept orders for after the first of the year delivery.

They lined up with the three hatcheries to give them access to the finest blood lines in all breeds, and they will take orders also for Hy-Line pullets.

The store always stages a "free chick day" and this annual event is in the planning stage right now. Their chicks will be "U. S. Approved, Pullorum Passed".

Jones and McCool set out from Muleshoe and journeyed through Western Oklahoma, inspecting hatcheries in Woodward, Alva, and other towns and going as far north as Marion, Kansas. They went through hatcheries at Marion, Peabody, Wichita, and Hutchinson, inspecting flocks there and came back through the Oklahoma Panhandle for more fact finding inspections.

PART-TIME FARMING

Farmers are often asked for advice by friends who long for "a little place in the country". What do you tell them?

The first thing you can tell them is that a great number of people are already trying it. A recent census listed two-thirds of a million part-time farmers in the United States. Another million "residential" farmers do a little farming for income. Altogether, these small farms make up a third of all farms in the nation.

A lot can be learned from the small farm operators who are established. Probably they will recommend strict planning of land use. Besides a house and garden, about an acre and a quarter will be needed to raise grain to feed a couple dozen hens and 40 chicks. For a cow, the "new" farmer may need two more acres to produce hay and pasture and three-quarters of an acre for grain.

To feed three pigs 6 months takes about an acre each for grain and pasture. And to keep a horse requires three good acres to grow pasture, hay and grain.

These estimates are based on acre yields of two tons of hay and 40 bushels of corn. If he plans to raise only fruit and vegetables for home use, half an acre to an acre of good land might be enough.

A large garden properly cared for will net about $100 to $300 a year in fresh and preserved food. More labor, skill, equipment and a larger investment are required to produce milk, meat and specialized crops.

Both the advantages and disadvantages should be counted before plunging into part-time farming.

Among the advantages: It provides wholesome and healthful environment for children. It gives a measure of security if the part-time farmer's regular job is lost. It furnishes outside work and recreation, beneficial to the health. It supplies the means for profitable use of spare-time family labor and lowers the cost of living.

On the other hand, the job is confining, especially if he raises livestock. In times of crisis on the farm, he may get little sleep at night after a hard days work, frequently in hot sun or cold rain.

It costs a lot of money to get started and keep going. Land near town is expensive and supplies and equipment come high. It is hazardous by reason of drought, hail, disease and insects. This cuts deeply into earnings and sometimes capital.

A good rule-of-thumb to follow is get a farm that has enough acreage to bring in the income expected, and don't set the sights too high. There is a lot to do, and a lot to learn that first year.

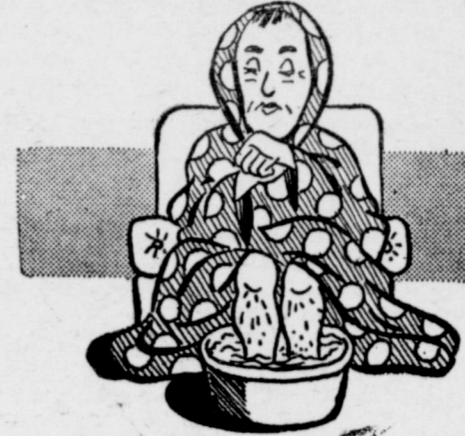

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

This is a leading thought in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon to be read this Sunday on the subject of "Mortals and Immortals". As one accepts his heritage as the immortal son of God, rather than a sick, sinning and dying mortal, his human experience is improved. The "inheritance incorruptible, and un-defiled, and that fadeth not away" (I Peter 1:4) is one of the Scriptural readings included in this Lesson-Sermon.

The Psalmist admonished, "Know ye that the Lord he is God: is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves" (100:3). In connection with this reference to man's spiritual heritage and the many others throughout the Bible, Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, wrote, "The continual contemplation of existence as material and corporeal as beginning and ending, and with the birth, decay, and spiritual Life, and causes our standard to trail in the dust. If Life has any starting point whatsoever, then the great I AM is a myth. If Life is God, as the Scriptures imply, then Life is not embryonic, it is infinite." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 550).

CHRISTMAS CARDS should be ordered now to insure choice, and to insure early delivery.

Vote To Confirm Canadian River Municipal Water Authority Nov. 24

PLAINVIEW, Nov. 9 — Plans for the Nov. 24 election to determine whether the Canadian River municipal water authority will be confirmed were discussed at a meeting here Monday of representatives of 11 of the 12 cities now listed as possible beneficiaries of such an authority.

All towns except Littlefield were represented, 15 of 17 districts attending.

The water district was created by the 43rd Legislature. It was the last scheduled directors meeting before the election date.

Any person who renders property for taxation, resides within the municipality in which they have property and are otherwise qualified may vote.

Any municipality which does not confirm its membership in the district will not be included. Those towns which do confirm such a district may determine in subsequent elections, after the full plan for development of the Canadian River water and its distribution have been decided, whether they wish to stay in the district. If such plans including bonds are approved at the polls by any city, it then remains within the district.

Plans call for impounding water of the Canadian on the North Plains and distributing the water for regional use by means of underground aqueducts. The recent drought, still being felt in parts of this area, has prompted general interest in possibilities of obtaining a source of surface water. How the respective cities will work to promote interest in the election was told by representatives of the respective cities. An effort will be made to get out a big vote showing popular

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By Ralph Smith

Ladies, here is a tip to you, if your husband burns gasoline in his farm tractors: Keep an eye on the mail. When you see a post card stating that your husband's invoices for tax exemption will expire—soon, ask him if he will have time to come in and take care of it right away. If he's too busy, then you can come in and file for him. By performing this extra service for your husband (it's actually beyond the regular call of duty), you may save your family $2.20 for just one barrel of fuel, to $25 or $30 for more.

Now if it inconveniences you in the least to do this, then you should tell your mate, and because he is devoted to keeping you happy, the chances are very good that he will suggest that you use some of the money to buy a new hat, or even a new suit.

If he doesn't volunteer this favor, then perhaps you will know support.

C. A. Huff, president, was in the chair. T. E. Johnson, Amarillo editor and director there, was secretary in absence of A. A. Meredith of Borger.

At the meeting were Directors Huff, Johnson and Fred Thompson of Pampa, Sam Richardson of Lamesa, Clint Walker of Tahoka, Kenneth Harper of Leveland, W. Holbrook and R. Q. Silverthorne, Plainview; J. B. Huckaby, of Slaton, Ray Renner of Lamesa, S. M. Dayton, Jr., of O'Donnell, J. Ray Dickey and Robert E. Maxey of Lubbock, George W. Finger of Borger, C. C. Primm of Brownfield.

Press, radio and Chamber of Commerce representatives responded to invitations and were well represented.

Other than directors, among those here were Fritz Thompson, city manager at Borger; James H. Cowan, city engineer at Pampa; Warren Burkett, Lamesa reporter; Cy Palmer, KPDN, Pampa; Mayor Homer Loofer of Plainview; D. Wayne Davis, Lamesa Chamber of Commerce; E. D. Wedgeworth, Pampa Chamber of Commerce; Dave Moore, Borger Chamber of Commerce; Bill W. Waters, Pampa Chamber of Commerce; T. J. Boney, Plainview; Wayne B. Smith, Plainview Chamber of Commerce; C. A. Taylor, Lamesa Chamber of Commerce; Garford Wilkinson, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce; H. S. Hilburn, Plainview Herald.

how to influence him—you see, you can endorse the check too. (This is not legal advice, consult your lawyer). The moral of this suggestion is: Please do not let invoices expire through neglect. File for the refund and spend it with your local merchant.

Aubrey Ellison, County FB President, left Wednesday, the 4th, for Mineral Wells where he will work with the state resolutions committee in screening and preparing resolutions sent in from all Texas counties. Bruce Parr, former president, was invited by Walter Hammond, State FB President to sit on this committee. When he found he could not go, he arranged for Ellison to sit in his place. We consider this a compliment to Parmer County, since only one man from each district was invited. There are 17 counties in district 2.

We appreciate the voluntary payment of Farm Bureau dues recently, bringing us to our quota of 550 at convention time. Economically speaking, you save the organization about 10c by paying before being billed, 2% of the county's portion.

Lamb County Bureau Resolutions Were Adopted At Mineral Wells

The Lamb County Farm Bureau made a good showing at the State Convention held in Mineral Wells, November 9-11. Out of 10 Resolutions submitted for approval by this body, 7 were accepted. All proposed resolutions on cotton were accepted as follows.

Whereas unplanted acres in excess of 10% of the allotment under controls and quotas reduce a county's history on future years and thereby the history of the State. Be it resolved that the allotment procedures of the present law be amended making it mandatory that any such unplanted acres be returned to the county committee for re-allocation by that same county committee, in order that the county history be maintained. Any acreage so released would not reduce the individual grower's quota in the succeeding allotment years.

2. Whereas the South Plains of Texas has become an important cotton producing area growing approximately one-tenth (1-10) the national crop, be it resolved that the Texas Farm Bureau use its influence to establish Lubbock, Texas, as a Spot Cotton Market. 3. We reaffirm the loan basis of Low Middling 7-8 inch staple adopted at the 1952 Texas Farm Bureau Federation convention.

4. Be it resolved that the cotton support price program be amended to recognize light spots and pluses and values assigned thereto. 5. Whereas there has appeared to be evidence of faulty cotton classing service in the State of Texas in the past by the Smith-Doxey Classing Service, be it resolved:

That more emphasis be placed on the qualifications and training of cotton classers employed by classing offices; b. To attempt to attract more young men to the cotton classing service by increasing salaries and longer periods of employment c. That a minimum moisture condition for cotton be set and standardized throughout the United States before it is graded; that such a minimum be high enough to simulate the humidity conditions of moisture conditions of cotton which is grown, ginned and graded in the seaboard states; and that humidity control be established in classing offices where needed; that all samples be conditioned by sufficient exposures to this standard of humidity to regain moisture lost by exposure to dry weather and/or modern ginning.

Those who attended the convention from Lamb County were Jack Yarbrough, incoming president from Littlefield, George Wuerlein outgoing vice-president from Pleasant Valley, and Mrs. Mickey Stephens, the office secretary. All went as voting delegates.

During the district Caucus Tuesday afternoon, W. R. Tilson of Meadow, resigned his position as District II director due to ill health. He was presented with a gift from those present and Hub King of Brownfield was elected to fill his unexpired term.
