

Texas Highway New Map Ready

March 1 — Publication of the Official Highway Travel Map for 1954 was announced in Austin today by D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, and it is now available for free distribution.

Incorporating many changes and new features, it is believed that this is one of the best travel maps the Highway Department has published, Greer stated. For the first time this year type has been used for all names and symbols appearing on the map, instead of the hand lettering previously used. This greatly improves legibility of all names.

A different size and type face was selected for the various categories of names that appear on the map; counties appear in one type, cities of similar population density will have the same size type; mountains will have their own lettering style, while rivers will appear in still another size and type face, Greer stated. In all, thirty-three different styles and sizes of type were ordered for the new map.

Over 1300 villages, towns, and cities are to be shown on the new guide. Each of these falls into one of the five population categories — towns of less than 1,000 persons, towns up to 5,000, those with 25,000, and cities with populations up to 100,000. After a city's population passes this mark, Greer said, it will be shown as a stippled outline of the city limits. Thirteen insets of Texas' largest towns showing highway routes through these towns are continued in the margins of the map again this year.

The Department usually receives about one-half million requests each year for a copy of the travel map. Copies may be obtained free of charge from any of the district highway offices in the state, the travel information bureaus, or by writing direct to the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas.

R. Washington Is Aboard Cruiser USS Manchester

The 43 ships of Task Force 12 gave residents of the San Francisco Bay Area an impressive and spectacular view of the U. S. Naval might upon their arrival Feb. 20 for a three day stay.

Among those who enjoyed rest and recreation in picturesque San Francisco was Raymond E. Washington, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie N. Grubbs, of Muleshoe, aboard the light cruiser, USS Manchester.

The "Winged Victory" division is receiving intensive training in southern Germany as part of the U. S. Seventh Army.

Water District Sponsors Life Saving Program

By JIM COMPTON
One of the major projects of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District for 1954 is concerned with the preservation of human life.

This year the District will sponsor a drive designed to promote a movement on the part of the property owners to fill or cap as prescribed by law, all the old abandoned holes which potentially are killers in their own right.

Manager Tom McFarland says that a recent survey throughout the Plains area revealed an average of about three uncovered open holes per section of land. He says also, that a number of partially covered holes were discovered in the survey.

McFarland says it is the specific duty of each property owner to fill or properly cap such holes — it is the moral obligation of each citizen to call to the attention of the land owner of the Water District every open hole known to exist in the Plains. "What if your child were to fall into one of these holes?" he said. "The child would have little chance to survive."

The District's project theme is "A Little Life Is Worth More than a Little Time."

Educational programs, sponsored by the District and conducted throughout the area by McFarland, will be designed to enlighten the public on the importance of this life saving program.

The filling and capping of the old abandoned wells will not only save the lives of children, but will reduce water pollution and livestock accidents, McFarland said.

McFarland referred to Rule 5 of the High Plains Rules and Regulations which concerns the covering of filling of old wells.

This rule applies to all property owners in the 19 High Plains counties actively participating in the District activities. The rule says in effect, that "Immediately upon completion of a replacement well, the old well shall be filled and abandoned; properly equipped in such a manner that it cannot produce more than 100,000 gallons of water a day; or without exception, closed to comply with Article 1721 of the Penal Code passed by the 51st Legislature. Violation of such offense is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500."

The manager said the District Board of Directors hopes it does not become necessary to press charges against anyone simply because they won't eradicate a death trap. It will only take a few minutes to fill it, he said. McFarland mentioned public response to an appeal last year to get rid of old ice-boxes and refrigerators, after several children across the country had died of suffocation when they crawled in them to play and the door slammed shut. "People went to work and got rid of many of the old ice boxes," he said. "They can do as much for the old abandoned wells. It might save the life of a child."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Teeter spent the weekend visiting their children at O'Donnel and Lubbock. They are former residents of O'Donnel, and they also look after their property interests there.

Record Cotton Crop Expected In Free World

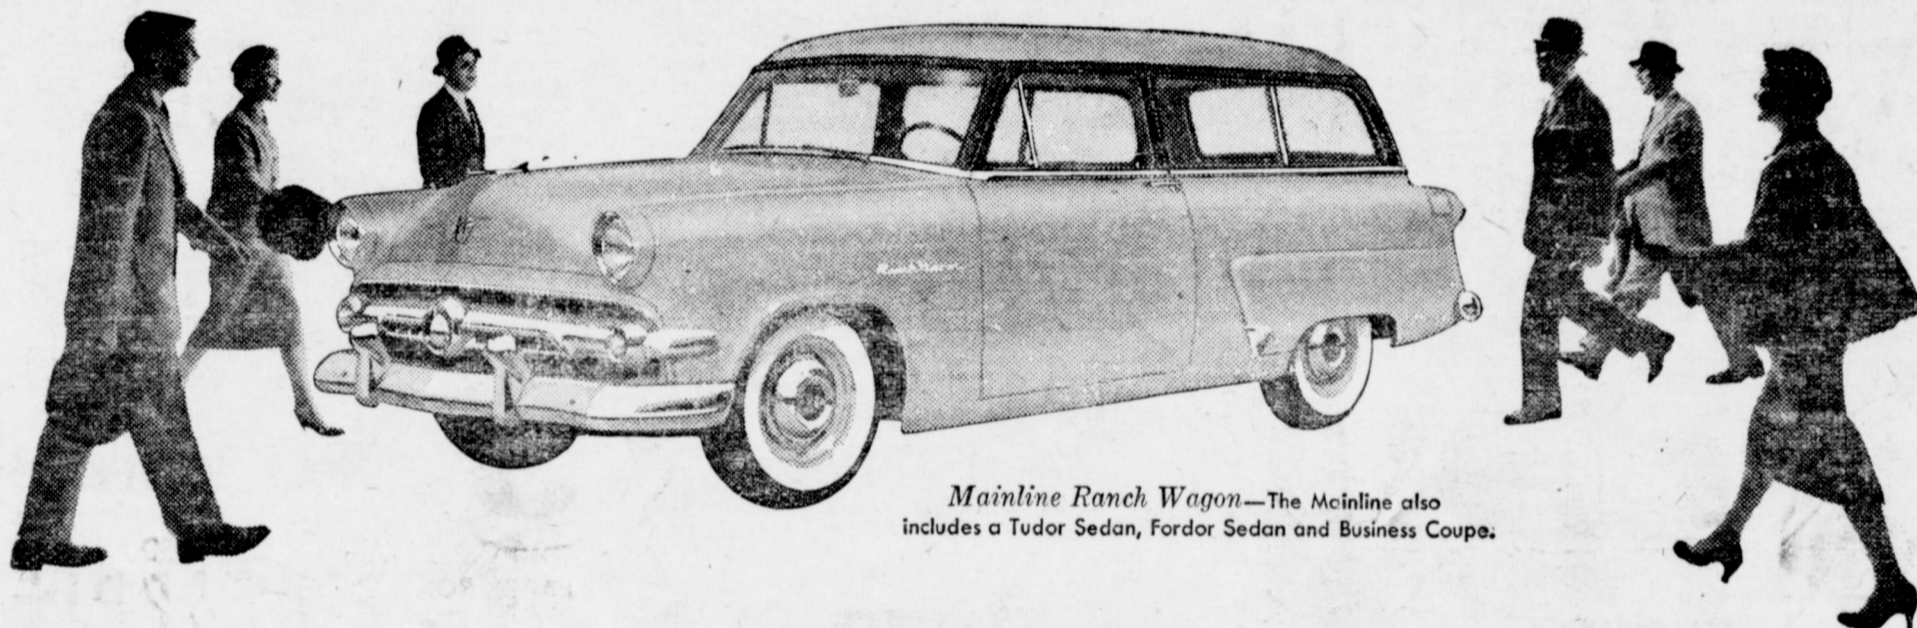

A post-war record high production is expected to be recorded this year for cotton produced in the free world.

The International Federation of Agricultural Producers says current estimates place the production at 29.5 million bales, a substantial increase over last year. Output in United States is expected to run about 16.3 million bales, or 1.2 million bales more than last year. Other increases in production are reported from India, Syria, Egypt, and the Southern Hemisphere. Decreases in production are reported, however, for Pakistan and Turkey.

Cotton consumption in Canada and United States is running below that of last year. In contrast to these countries, however, there has been a very marked recovery in textile production in many Western European countries.

THE RETURNING DUST STORMS

The choking shroud of dust which smothered the State in the last days of February poses an ominous threat to the future of Texas agriculture.

It means our soil is blowing away at a rate greater than at any time in the past 15 years. Our soil moisture content is at such a low ebb in some sections that early crop prospects are very poor. If the dust storms continue, then much of our cropland in West Texas can be counted out of production this year.

These recurring dusts raise the question "What Is Wrong With The Extension Soil Conservation Methods Advocated and Practiced During The Past Two Decades?"

The truth is, we didn't go wrong. We just haven't gone far enough in the right direction. We have done wonders in some sections, but our soil saving measures have broken down under the constant buffeting of a three-year drought.

We need to exercise every known conservation practice to the "nth" degree in all sections of our state. One good pasture or crop can be eradicated or buried by a nearby blowing field where no soil and moisture saving plan is in effect. Conservation is a state-wide, full time job.

The task now rests with the state, the county and the individual farmers. The Federal Government has already announced it will not provide funds to initiate soil and pasture restoration programs which were recommended by the drought states.

A study of 17 states, including Texas, showed that on pasture restoration alone, some $308 million would be needed. And this is merely for seed, lime and fertilizer required to restore about 39 million acres of land.

Actually, this 39 million acres includes only land within "major disaster" areas. The figure would be considerably increased if pastureland were included where weather conditions have been bad but not severe enough to warrant destruction as a disaster area.

Since we cannot turn to Federal aid in this time of need, then Texas must depend upon its farmers to do the best they can under the circumstances. It is a job that must be done!

Fertilizer For Better Results

The production of maximum crops at minimum cost requires the proper balance of plant nutrients, air and water in the soil. But, all too often, says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, fertilizers are not properly applied for optimum results from growing crops.

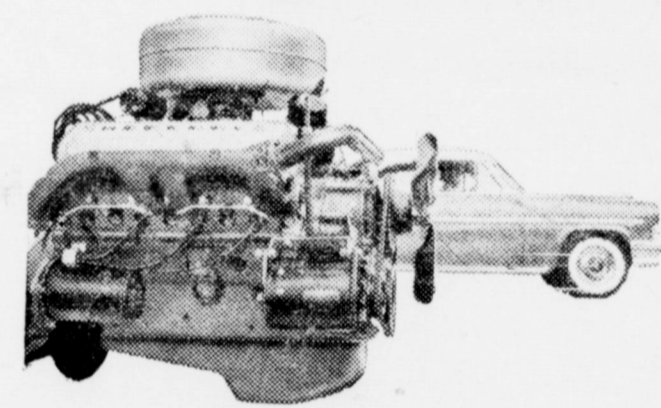

Thornton says crop rotation is one of the best ways to fertilize. A planned rotation program conserves nitrogen, potash and other nutrients that ordinarily would be lost by erosion or leaching during the non-crop season.

In a bulletin recently published, Thornton outlines the most effective methods of applying fertilizers to more than 30 of the state's field and horticultural crops.

Cotton fertilizers, says the bulletin, should be applied upon planting in a band two to three inches to one side and two to three inches below seed level. If side placement equipment is unavailable, the next best practice, it says, is to apply fertilizer in the row middles, then bed and plant upon it. Broadcast applications fertilize the weeds as well as crops, it points out.

On pastures, fertilizer should be incorporated into the soil with either a grain drill or broadcast and plowed into the soil. This is particularly important with phosphate and potash supplements. Nitrogen may be supplied as needed as a top dressing. Fertilizers can be applied in either the fall or spring. Pastures for winter grazing should be treated in late summer or early fall.

It's often impractical to plow and work fertilizer beneath home trees and shrubs. In such cases, the chemist says, punch holes around the plants at approxi-

High School Boys Stage Broadcast For Rotarians

A group of four high school boys put on a radio skit for the entertainment of members of the Muleshoe Rotary Club, who were meeting in the lunch room Tuesday noon in observance of Public Schools Week.

The boys, Jackie Henderson, Wayne Bristow, Bobby Nelms, and Rodney Lambert formed themselves into the ABC Broadcasting Company and presented a program of songs, music, and wise cracks at the expense of the Rotary members.

It was greatly enjoyed by those present, and was so clever that it was hard to believe what the teachers said; the boys made up the whole thing, by themselves, that morning. Jerry Kirk, the superintendent, introduced the program.

Guests included Buford Butts, who is chairman of the steering committee on Public Schools Week and Preston Hawks, Sudan Rotarian. Vance Wagoner was welcomed into the club as a new member. E. A. Dalton, chairman of the Club's youth committee, announced the Rotary Club will give a $100 scholarship to some boy or girl yet to be selected from the senior class. He said Supt. Kirk has appointed a committee of four faculty members to submit five names. The person selected will probably not be one of the top three but scholastic standing, character and ambition to attend college will be considered.

BABSON DISCUSSES— Business And Health

Babson Park, Fla., March 4 — Some weeks ago I wrote a column on the relation of Business to Mental Health. I now wish to write on Physical Health. Of course, people must have employment and wages in order to buy, but they must also be free from worry in order to do good work and get promoted. This is so self-evident that it needs no discussion; but I want to write now of something much deeper.

for three weeks. Although I was not confined to my bed, yet something caused severe pains in my back and legs. I just could not do any constructive work and I began to worry, which I never do when feeling well. I, therefore, am now in Florida for a few weeks. This column, however, is not an advertisement for Florida, although I am very fond of its climate.

My purpose rather is to say that being independent financially and free to come and go, I am not dependent upon any job or salary. If, however, I were, and obliged to go to an office each day, I would not have given my company "value received" for my salary. Worse than that, I probably would have made mistakes in judgement which would have caused the company financial loss.

HOW'S THE HEALTH OF YOUR ASSOCIATES? Yet, there must be hundreds of important executives and thousands of foremen and tens of thousands of workmen, salesmen, and clerks who are dragging themselves to work when they ought to be home in bed. They do this partly not to lose their pay; or—if they are executives—not to have the word get around that they are not well. As the prosperity of every business depends largely on the decisions made by executives, foremen, and others, such "half-sick"

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER— Scores Political Expert For Worrying Over Possible Candidate Shortage

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has now taken to worrying over other people's worries, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I was out here the other afternoon watchin a couple of baby calves play around, there's nothing happier than a frisky calf on a warm sunny afternoon this time of the year, unless it's a politician who has just been no-billed, and I pulled a paper out of my pocket I'd been carrying around for several days and straightened out the wrinkles and spread it out on the ground and stretched out and looked it over.

Over on the editorial page I ran into an article by a political expert who reported there is considerable worry among the Republicans in some states in trying to find a candidate to run against the Democrats, particularly in states that are Democratic strongholds.

Personally, I believe the expert men or women can cause their companies much loss. When you consider that thousands of companies are suffering losses for this reason, it shows how poor health and worry must affect the entire business of the country. If you are unemployed, it may be due to your health or to your boss's health. In other words, if he were "up to snuff", the company might not have needed to lay you and others off. So much for that. Now some statistics on the direct cash cost of illness and accidents.

ILLNESS AND ACCIDENTS The Health Information Foundation reports that during the past full year 22,000,000 families of these United States as individuals paid out over $10,000,000,000 for medical and dental costs. Furthermore, this was in addition to what the Federal Government and the States expended. Of the above $10 billion, $2 billion went to hospitals, nearly $5 1/2 billion to doctors and dentists, $1 1/2 billion for medicines, and over $1 billion for other practitioners, nurses, etc.

Most of the people treated got well, although they lost both time and money. But a good part of this expense was absolutely thrown away—for there were nearly 100,000 deaths, largely from automobile accidents. In addition, millions of others were injured by accidents, such as traffic accidents—1,350,000; drowning—6,800; home falls—20,000; industrial accidents—15,000; burns—6,400; firearms—2,500; etc., etc. These figures are supplied by the National Safety Council. I wonder how many readers of this column will be included in the 1954 figures!

LET US LOOK TO THE FUTURE The politicians and welfare experts are constantly raising the legal age at which young people can go to work. Now they say that all should have a college education. At the same time, industry is retiring more people between 60 and 65 years of age. Today the number of people over 65 years is one in twelve; in 25 years it will be one in nine. But where is the money coming from to give the young people 22 years for education and play, and the old people pensions?

The truth is that somehow (through more taxes or higher prices), these millions of young and old must be supported by those between 22 and 60-65 years of age. The latter must also supply the $10 billion mentioned above. This makes the cost of sickness, youth, and old age far more important than the cost of coffee!

Here At Home

Written especially for The Journal By J. M. Forbes

If you have an idea as to how additional tax money may be raised in Texas for increased teachers salaries, more and better roads and improvements to the same, improvements in our eleemosynary institutions (badly needed), and for other purposes you would do Jesse Oborn a favor if you'd tell him about such idea.

He leaves for Austin about March 13, in answer to a summons from Governor Shivers, bringing the Legislature into special session. He will leave, probably, with no clear thought about how to raise more money, needed in many places. Governor Shivers said the special session is to consider Texas' long overdue raise in salaries for teachers.

In private talks with this writer, and in public utterances, our legislature representative has said he favors using the entire 4 cents a gallon state tax on gasoline for the highway department, which could use a lot more money. One cent of that tax is now going to the schools. Let other and new tax sources supply the money to support our schools is Mr. Osborn's thought.

But, he has said publicly: If you find someone who wants to be taxed, or wants his taxes raised, please let me know. It's a dilemma, you might say. He, and I presume most legislators, are anxious to see the teachers get more pay, the high-worry about, worrying about not finding somebody to run for any office ought to come last. Yours faithfully, J. A.

was having a hard time that day to find something to write about. I have never seen an office somebody wasn't willing to run for or a piece of land somebody wasn't willing to work or a man some woman wasn't willing to marry. I don't care how hard the race might be and how little the pay, or how sorry the land or the man either, there's always somebody willing to give it a try.

Coffee may be scarce, as well as uranium and plutonium, but I don't believe there will ever come a time when there's a scarcity of candidates or workable land layin out or when a bachelor can't get married.

Of course you understand there is some land that ought to lay out, the same as there are some offices, but hope in the Spring will never play out, and neither will the supply of candidates.

I have worked land that ought to lay out, but I've also voted for candidates that should have too, and while it's true you don't get any more out of a piece of land than you put into it, at least that's the saying although I doubt if it's true or I wouldn't be livin, the same is not necessarily true with a candidate. I've known lots of office-holders who got a lot more out of an office than they put in it, and on occasion more than the law intended.

That political expert ought to rest his mind. Whenever there's a vacancy on a ballot, candidates flow into it like air into a vacuum.

With all the things we got to way department get more funds, etc. But, being practical people, they would love to see where the money is coming from before voting additional expenditures.

Regardless, he thinks that the people will be making a grand mistake if they let the Federal government step into the school financial support picture. The Federal government, should they help to finance our schools, would, as a natural step, expect to help decide what is to be taught and how. "Let's keep control of our schools here at home," he urged a group of classroom teachers Monday.

The teachers are standing firm on their premise that teaching is underpaid when compared to other vocations and no legislator or state official would argue the point. The only question seems to be how to do it.

But this writer feels that surely, somehow, the thing can be accomplished in big, rich Texas, if people will only agree on what's the best to be done. Here in Public Schools Week, while we extoll the virtues of our teachers who exercise such a great influence upon our children, let us all study the problem and resolve to see that the inequity in pay of teachers compared to other professions be eliminated, regardless of the cost week.

personally or otherwise to ourselves.

Muleshoe in a round-about way has "broken into" the "Big D" page 1 column in The Dallas Morning News, written by Paul Crume, a former resident of Farwell. Paul writes:

Bill Porter of the Porter Farm at Terrell drove from Lubbock to Muleshoe last week with two companions. One was District Agricultural Agent W. H. Jones. The other was a Turkish agricultural man over here to see how Americans farm.

On the way to Muleshoe, the Turk asked Porter and Jones to tell him some American slang expressions that he could use to bring his English down to earth. They suggested several. One that Porter offered was "clear as mud".

Porter made a speech to Muleshoe farmers on the operation of the Porter Farm. On the way back to Lubbock, he asked the Turk, beaming: "How did you like my speech?" "Clear as mud", replied the Turk with conviction.

says... My ELECTRIC dryer's so gentle—the life of my clothes has increased!

"What's more, my electric clothes dryer gives me 'all weather' drying any season of the year. My time's my own when it comes to picking a drying day."

"By just opening my dryer door, and putting in the clothes, I save an hour and a half every washday. My trips to the clothesline are over, which saves one hour, and I no longer have to sprinkle the clothes for ironing, and that frees me from a half-hour of work."

"Because washing and drying is no longer back-breaking work, I wash more often. This saves money for me, because I can buy fewer clothes for the children. The dryer passes all the tests of true economy, it saves time, money, work, effort, and the clothes."

"You can't neglect your children just because it's washday. But it was hard not to neglect them before I had a dryer. Now I have much more time for the children and my other household duties."

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

For 15 days, in your own home, you can try an electric clothes dryer without obligation. Tell your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer you want to TRY BEFORE YOU BUY and see for yourself, as Mrs. Hankla has, how much a dryer will do for you.

100 YEARS OF PUBLIC EDUCATION IN TEXAS

From the one-room schoolhouse of 1854 to the modern educational plants of today; from the little blue primer to the vast libraries of reference material; from "readin', ritin' and rithmetic" to the liberal arts course of 1954 — our Public School System in Texas has kept abreast of the progress in education.

Today, as never before, education offers opportunities undreamed of 100 years ago, and it is through our great school systems that our youth are so capably prepared for the responsibilities they face in an ever-changing world.

No longer must future Lincolns read by firelight, nor is any child, regardless of race or color, denied the rights of education.

Today, youth stands on the threshold of an era of progress yet to be experienced by man. Only through proper guidance in education can this progress be beneficial to a troubled world.

HUMBLING OUR HEARTS

Every one who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted. (Luke 14:11 R. S. V.) Read Luke 19:1-10.

The well-known Bible story of Zacchaeus, the publican, pictures faithfully the truth which our text points up.

Zacchaeus was a prominent figure. He was rich, and he was chief among the publicans. But there came a day when, in order to see the Master, to glimpse the blessed face of the Son of God, to enjoy His friendship, Zacchaeus found it necessary to humble himself.

In the presence of Jesus he possessed the riches of salvation. Jesus sought him and saved him.

That was Zacchaeus' experience in that day long ago. It is the experience of many in our day.

It is required of us that we repent of our sins and humble ourselves before God. Otherwise we cannot experience the joy of Christ's love nor find fellowship with those of Christlike heart and mind. We need to live humbly so that we may be sensitive and obedient to God's leading.

PRAYER
Gracious God, give us strength to master our pride. May we be as was Jesus, humble in every sense of the word. As we humble ourselves before Thee, give us the desire to seek Thy will for

200-Horsepower Performance and priced far below it

Illustrated is the rakish Buick CENTURY Riviera "hardtop" model.

Come drive the CENTURY

biggest horsepower bargain of 1954!

THE invitation you see headlined here calls for action — and comparison.

For you have to see and drive the 200-horsepower CENTURY — and check its local delivered price — to know how it puts other automobiles in this Buick's dollar class on the spot.

Look for yourself — and you'll see what we mean.

Look at styling, new-day features, visibility, interior modernity, ride comfort, handling ease — we believe you will find nothing on the automotive horizon to equal the CENTURY on all counts.

But what will prove to be the most eye-opening news of all is the power buy you make in this spectacular Buick.

When you compare — when you check the facts — you find that you are buying more horsepower per dollar in a CENTURY than you get in any other standard-production American automobile, bar none.

And it is horsepower that gives you brilliant performance, greater economy, new safety — for here you get the highest power-to-weight ratio in all Buick history.

Why not come in and see the whole story come alive when you take the wheel of a Buick CENTURY?

We know of no better way to prove to you that this gorgeous, glamorous sweep of automobile is the power buy of the year — by far.

Now you can buy the famed Buick Estate Wagon at new low prices — for this all-new, all-steel beauty is now available in Buick's lowest-priced SPECIAL Series, and in the sensationally powered Century Series.
