

WE FINALLY DID IT

The staff has had as a goal the publishing of a story in the Journal that had an error in each and every line and nearly succeeded last week with the story about the Muleshoe State Bank having been approved for FHA property loans in this area. Two or three lines in the half column story were right and the proof reader didn't catch on.

Now we can say the bank has been approved, not approved. Likewise we can say the words "bed get" should have been the one word "budget." And the president of the bank, his name is Woodrum, not Woodrum, although that does sound pretty good come to think of it.

We don't know what "live" was supposed to be, probably stood for "life".

And finally they positively won't lend you $25000 to finance a new bathtub, water heater, air conditioner or TV set. That figure ought to have been $2,500.

There were some minor typographical errors that aren't worth mentioning. This story and its handling has caused a revamping of the proof reading system in the editorial rooms of this staid old family newspaper. Henceforth, if you see an error in the Journal it will be purposely put there to see if you can catch it, see?

I told Walter Woodrum that I knew the limit was only $2,500; but I've had a fellow figuring a little revamping job on my fence, and it begins to look like the $25,000 upper limit would be required if I go ahead with the project. He agreed to consider an exception in my case.

But now, all viable to one side this column is glad that local men have got this FHA improvement loan set up for Muleshoe and environs. Lots of people need to improve and modernize, and this loan makes it feasible for them to do so. It shows, also, that the economy of Muleshoe and territory is as sound as it can be.

Lewis Welch, who has helped to get the FHA set up here, says his firm will be using the loan frequently. Don Taylor, out at Taylor Metal Products is also advertising his air conditioning installation to be financed by this loan.

Meant to use this last week, it's just as good now, though the Fourth has come and gone:

PATRIOTISM

Patriotism is not belonging to a political party, and voting for its candidates. . . that is partisanship; it is not paying taxes to support the government. . . that is discharging obligation for the privilege of security, freedom, liberty. It is not boasting of institutions that make for the education and enlightenment, institutions which must be preserved after we are gone. Patriotism is love of one's own country with a respect more tender, more holy and profound, than one's own life.

Freeman Asks Support of Voters In July Primary

Editor's Note: When A. H. Freeman authorized the Journal to announce that he would be a candidate for public office several months ago, he did not publish a statement. But since it is customary for each candidate to publish a statement concerning his candidacy, Freeman's statement is printed herewith.

Friends and Voters of Bailey County:

I am taking this means in contacting each of you that I may have missed while campaigning for the office of Sheriff. As you well know, it is almost impossible for me to see all of you and still do the job you have entrusted to me.

If I have missed you, I hope you will take this as a personal solicitation for your continued vote and support.

Here I want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for your past support, and hope that I have served you in a way that may merit your continued support.

I have served you as tax assessor and collector for the past 7 1/2 years. During that time the office only paid $312.50 per month until January 1, 1956, when it was raised to $435 per month.

The job for the next four years will be a much better job, and I believe I will be better qualified to do a better job of law enforcement with my past experience and the cooperation of the other peace officers of the county and State.

I have worked for a highway unit to be stationed here ever since I got the job as sheriff. We have them now. We also have a much better police force that we can work with as well as our surrounding counties and state officers.

If I have served you in a way that can merit your vote and support, I will endeavor to work for better law enforcement and try to make you an officer that you deserve.

Thanking you again for your past support and reminding you to vote July 28.

Your Sheriff,
A. H. (Hugh) FREEMAN

Fleahoppers In Area Fields Not Serious Threat

A cotton insect survey in Bailey county, just completed by J. K. Adams and his assistant agent, Jim Ward, of the local Extension Service office, indicates that fleahoppers are very scarce in fields where early season control was practiced, while fields that have never been poisoned, showed counts of up to 25 fleahoppers per hundred terminals.

This degree of infestation should be controlled, but to do so this late in the season could destroy many beneficial insects needed to kill cotton bollworm eggs and bollworms.

A survey made Wednesday morning throughout the West Camp community and areas north of Muleshoe, revealed a rather serious buildup of cabbage loopers and some lygus bug damage.

Collect or Cut Off Policy On Water

The Muleshoe City Council this week announced a new firm policy concerning delinquent water bills.

Water Commission Begins Active Campaign

Employ Full Time Coordinator For Area Activities

An accelerated program of water conservation was inaugurated here this week when the Bi-State Water Commission retained the services of a full-time coordinator and launched an intensive campaign to retain every drop of Bailey County water it could do legally.

Dr. L. T. Green, Jr., president of the organization announced that Al Hall, former regional staff writer of the Amarillo Daily News, and a Globe Times, had been employed to coordinate the efforts of the Commission that has membership in six South Plains counties and two in New Mexico.

Purpose of the organization is to exert every effort to fully protect rights of irrigation farmers in the underground water reservoir underlying the affected area.

One of the first projects of the rejuvenated program will be to fully inform all interested businesses, organizations and utilities of the impact the loss of 70 million gallons of water daily, and possibly more, will have on the economy of the area.

The first week information on the magnitude of the Lubbock project is being compiled. It will be presented to members of the highway commission, the Santa Fe railroad and similar groups to whom the City of Lubbock has applied for assistance in getting its pipeline from the present terminus in Shallowater to the Bailey-Lamb county well field.

In Hall's first comment on the situation he said the information compiled by the commission office would also be presented to chambers of commerce, county commissioners courts, farm organizations and similar groups in the eight-county area.

"This appears to be the start of a long-range program that can be concluded only when every legal step has been taken to assure the utmost protection to every irrigation farmer and associated business man, Hall said.

"The directorate of the Bi-State Water Commission is composed of some of the most progressive people in this section of Texas and New Mexico. From the ideas expected to evolve from a continuing study of the situation, it is our aim to draft a program worthy of the cooperation of farm, civic and political organizations in every community from the Hi-Plains Underground Water District, the state board of water engineers and the hydrologists stationed in Plainview by the federal government."

800 Acres Cotton Damaged In Hail Storm Friday Nite

An estimated 800 acres of cotton was hard hit by hail damage Friday night in the Pleasant Valley area, about eight miles northeast of Muleshoe.

Hardest hit were the farms of Oscar and Harold Allison, Jack Obenhaus, and Bill Gaede.

The Allison brothers reported Monday that about half their cotton received 50 per cent damage from the hail while the remainder suffered a 25 per cent loss.

Gaede estimated his 90 acres as almost 75 per cent lost from hail, and about the same was reported from the Obenhaus farm.

Although considerable electrical display was seen in Muleshoe, only a light sprinkle fell here, recorded at .08 of an inch.

The hailed out acreage will be left in the fields, as it is too late to replant. Some farmers feel their cotton may still produce despite the damage.

To Protest Use Of Santa Fe Property For Pipeline

The disastrous effects of allowing unlimited amounts of irrigation water to be diverted to municipal and industrial uses were described to Santa Fe railroad officials at a conference held in Amarillo this morning.

A delegation of Bi-State Water Commission members from Muleshoe and the surrounding area met with R. G. Buchanan, president of the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad to present the position taken by irrigation farmers toward the City of Lubbock's project to tap Bailey and Lamb counties' underground water resources.

Al Hall, coordinator for the Bi-State group, returned Wednesday afternoon from a hurried trip to a dozen area towns and cities to stimulate interest in the Amarillo conference.

He announced two or more delegates from Portales and Clovis, N. M.; Farwell, Bovina, Friona, Hereford, Earth, Springlake, Littlefield, Anton and Muleshoe were to meet at 8 a. m. in the Jim Hill Hotel at Hereford for a caucus before the delegation made the trip to Amarillo in a body, for the 10 a. m. conference in the Santa Fe auditorium.

Attorneys for the commission described the situation as it appears to the water conservationists who asked the railroad to deny Lubbock's request for use of its right-of-way whenever the city needs to circumvent a city or avoid litigation over highway right-of-way to which the state does not hold clear title.

According to the latest information received by the water group, Lubbock has asked permission to cross the railroad five times and to use more than seven miles of the railroad right-of-way.

Good Rain Monday Over South County Helps Crop Outlook

Rains, falling just at the right time and in many of the right places, brightened the crop outlook over most of Bailey county trade area early this week. Ranging from a .10 of an inch near Muleshoe up to 2 1/2 inches on the Muri Stevenson place, six miles south and two east of town, the rains touched the drylands of the south end of the county pretty generally.

Muleshoe recorded .50 Monday night. Lathbiddle had .35 of an inch, and from a half to more than an inch fell at Needmore. In the Baileyboro-Stegall area, Monday afternoon, from 1/2 to 3/4 of an inch fell, and the Circle-bark community got from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 inches Monday afternoon and night.

Only a trace fell west of Muleshoe, with most of the moisture south of here.

Shower Honors Bride Elect of Wayland Harris

The home of Mrs. M. F. McCormick was the scene of a pre-nuptial shower in honor of Evelyne McMahan, bride elect of Wayland Harris, on Thursday, July 12.

The house was tastefully decorated in pink and white, chosen colors of the bride to be.

The table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink with a lovely center bouquet of pink gladioli and white daisies.

Guests were registered in a brides book.

Pink and white angel food cake, pink bridal punch, mints, and nuts were served.

Many lovely and useful gifts were received by the honoree, including a pressure pan from the hostesses, who were Mmes. L. D. Cannon, Jack McCormick, Marge Clements, Joe Harbin, Gene Scarborough, W. W. Mullins, and M. F. McCormick.

In taking this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to all of you who were so good to us during our recent time of distress we should first like to thank the doctors, nurses and all other members of the hospital staff for the expert service and good attention which you gave us. You were splendid in every way. To our relatives and friends, who so faithfully and patiently attended at the bedside, assisted at home and carried on our work we owe a debt of gratitude which we will never be able to fully pay as long as we live in the world. We love you and appreciate you very much.

And to the many who came by to see us, brought food to our home, sent floral offerings, and set well notes and letters of encouragement, made financial contributions, donated blood or in any way manifested an interest in our welfare we say "Thank you and God bless you" from the depths of our hearts.

In our humble judgement the greatness of people is most truly reflected in the interest they manifest in the welfare of a sick person. With this in mind your every kind thought and deed will live in our hearts, and you will live in our prayers always.

Glen, Gladys and Gwen Williams Betty and Virgil Phipps.

From Tee To Green

By JOE LOPEZ

Official opening date for the Muleshoe golf course was last Sunday, the 15th. There were 44 entries in the tournament composed of Scotch foursomes.

Tied for first place honors were Russell Haberer and Hattie Ray Jones, playing Woody Lambert and Iva Gaede. Third and fourth was the foursome of Wayne Man-tooth, Barbara Douglass, Douglas Hart and Nona Blake Douglass. Fifth place was won by Russell B-yant and Chief Jones.

The course is coming along real good. The greens seem to be improving every day and the last rain really helped the fairways.

All ball marks on greens must be repaired and there should be no practicing on or onto any green. The putting green is about the worst in the bunch, but it will be top dressed between now and the weekend and maybe it will be more enjoyable putting.

Five of us went to Jal, N. M. Tuesday: Houston Hart, Elmo Evans, Irvin St. Clair, Russell Haberer, and myself to play in the $750 pro-am. Russell and myself finished in third place in the pro-am, with a couple of partners from Odessa.

I finished third in the pro division with a 69. Russell played real good, having 3 bogeys on the last 5 holes, to finish with a one under par 71 and in the top 8 amateurs out of a field of around 200.

Don't forget the 29th when we play Portales here.

People coming out to play nine holes or so include Dr. Green, Mrs. Bernard Phelps, and Mrs. Charles Lznau. The two ladies are doing real well with their golf.

GOLF TIP
One fundamental fault which I have observed to be shared by many women golfers is that they start with their hands behind the ball at address and, consequently, have their hands in a weak position throughout their swing.

The error begins when a player lines up faulty. In the process of lining up her hands with the target, a golfer tends to get the hands behind the club face in the act of placing the club behind the ball to sight the line. After obtaining her line, she for-

Bailey County's 1956 Cotton Crops Estimated At 65,000 Bales

A prediction that Bailey County will produce 65,000 bales of cotton this year was released Sunday by Lubbock Cotton Exchange, which had revised upward its estimates made as of June 1. Bailey County's estimate was upped 3,000 bales.

Such a crop would be the third largest for the county. The Texas Almanac gave Bailey County's production in 1949 at 69,614 bales; in 1953, 73,245 bales.

Bailey has 45,000 dryland acres planted to cotton, 50,000 irrigated acres.

The first estimate on 1956 production, made June 1, was 1,430,000 bales for the 20-county South Plains area and topped the 1955 harvest of 1,113,000 bales. However, it was still under the 1 1/2 million bales harvested in 1954. However cotton allotments have dropped each year. The 1955 allotments were down at 200,000 acres and the 1956 allotments were off the 1955 total by about 153,000 acres.

Swisher Shows Decrease
The counties of Bailey, Crosby, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Parmer and Terry showed gains in production estimates from June 1 to July 1 while Swisher County was the only county that showed a predicted decrease.

Figures show Swisher County with 49,000 irrigated acres and a production estimate of 50,000 bales on July 1, down to 47,000 bales July 1.

Terry County showed the biggest production increase, up 10,000 bales from 65,000 bales estimated June 1 to 75,000 bales on the July 1 estimate.

Production estimates were up 3,000 bales in Bailey, 5,000 bales in Crosby, 2,000 bales in Floyd, 5,000 bales in Gaines, 3,000 bales in Garza, 2,000 bales in Parmer and 10,000 in Terry.

The 20-county area has 2,045,538 allotted acres and on July 1 had 1,951,000 acres planted either dryland or irrigated.

Area agriculture officials warned that farmers who have been hailed out can expect almost no relief from the government's soil bank program, which pays $6 per acre for land not in production.

Officials pointed out that farmers whose crops were hailed out this time of year will probably realize the biggest economic gain by planting short term or "60-day" grain crops.

Bailey County's 45,000 acres of dryland cotton and 50,000 acres of irrigated land compares with neighboring counties like this: Castro, 1,000, 50,000, and 50,000 bales; Lamb, 45,000, 145,000, 155,000 bales; Cochran, 25,000, 50,000 and 50,000 bales; Parmer, 41,000 irrigated cotton acres, 43,000 bales estimated.

Lubbock, Hale, Lamb, and Hockley counties are expected to be the big leaders again on the High Plains in cotton production this year.

BID FOR HIGH FOREIGN AID
Sec. of State John P. Hays, accompanied by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, returned from the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived in Washington, D. C. to make a last minute stand for the Senate Appropriations Committee to approve the full $1 billion authorized by Congress for the foreign aid program. There has been considerable senatorial dispute over the amount and conditions as proposed in the new program.

Safe 'n Sound

By W. M. POOL, JR.
One of the least expensive, most used and profit-protecting insurance is plate glass insurance. If one of your windows is broken, your insurance will not only pay the loss but guarantees prompt replacement. Insurance companies are the glazier's best customers. They get top priority at any time and especially during time of disaster . . . wind storms, hail storms, explosions, and earthquakes. A smashed display window draws curiosity seekers, but no customers. . . When breakage occurs, you lose the best and least expensive salesman you have, until those windows can be replaced. If you want to know how little plate glass insurance will cost you, call—

Former West Camp Pioneer Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dotson of 2540 N. Stone Ave., Tucson, Ariz., celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary July 8, with a dinner given at the home of their son, Bill Dotson, of Tucson and a reception at the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. J. Conolly, the former Margaret Dotson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dotson were married in McLean, Texas, in 1906, and moved the following year to Farwell, where he was engaged in ranching and later in farming in the West Camp community.

He helped to organize Bailey county in 1918, at which time it was annexed to Castro county, and was appointed commissioner at that time by Governor Hobby, and then was elected and served in that capacity for ten years.

Mr. Dotson was president of the school board at West Camp from the time it was organized in 1918 until they moved to Tucson in 1943.

He was employed by the PFF of the Southern Pacific railroad until his retirement in 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. Dotson have six

Wayne Bristow Visits Journal

Wayne Bristow, who was employed at The Journal as Sports and Farm Editor last year paid this newspaper a visit last Friday. With him was his friend, Alex Gede, of Regina, Sask., Canada, who was visiting in the Bristow home. The two boys have been pen pals since they were in the fifth grade. This is the second visit to Muleshoe for Alex.

Wayne is home for the summer from Wayland College at Plainview, where he is a Ministerial major. In addition to his studies, he is employed in the sports publicity department of the college, and is Sports Editor of the school paper. Next year he will be president of the sophomore class.

This summer, Wayne and two of his friends from Wayland, Bobby Lacey, of Alamogordo, N. M., and Vernon Stokes, of Sandown, are working as an evangelistic team. Last month they conducted a revival meeting at the First Baptist Church of Ropesville, and next month, August 12-19, will conduct a meeting at the Highland Park Baptist Church in Albuquerque, N. M. Wayne says they plan to do more of this type work next summer.

Wayne's friend Alex, holds an enviable position in the production department of T. V. Station CKCK in Regina. This station is one of two in Saskatchewan. Before arriving here last Monday, Alex had visited in Los Angeles, Calif., for a week. He left yesterday, Wednesday, for St. Paul, Minn., where he will stay a few days before returning home.

"POWDER-PUFF" DERBY WINNERS — Mrs. Frances Bora (L), of Los Angeles, and her sister and co-pilot, Mrs. Edna Bower, of Long Beach, Calif., proudly exhibit the trophy they won in the tenth annual all-women transcontinental air race which began at San Carlos, Calif., and terminated at Flint, Michigan.

is Golf Ass'n, Wednesday, July 11. Mary Frances Holt, of Muleshoe, won the first flight low gross net for the field. Local ladies taking part in the tourney were Ruth Malone, Nona Blake Douglas, Lois Lenau, Melzine Elliott, Marie White, Rita Johnson, Lydia Lopez, and Mary Frances Holt.

Sweet Corn For Table Use To Be Marketed By M. E. Little

SWEET CORN on the M. E. Little farm 8 miles from Muleshoe. Little has five acres of Calumet 57 corn that is going into freezers and cooking pots of Muleshoe area housewives this week. (Staff Photo)

Sweet ears of fresh corn, dripping with butter and salted to taste! That is one of the joys of summer time, and this week sweet corn in abundance will be appearing locally, as the M. E. Little corn goes to market in the Muleshoe area.

Located eight miles west of Muleshoe on farm to market road 1400, Mr. Little has five acres of Asgrow's Calumet 57 sweet corn, ready to pick just about the time you are reading these lines.

The five acre plot which represents the fourth year Little has raised table quality corn, was planted April 10, after being pre-irrigated twice.

It was later side dressed with 100 pounds of anhydrous ammonia and 20 pounds of 20 per cent phosphate. A total of five irrigation waterings have been applied and one application of liquid nitrogen and phosphate was applied by Western Fertilizer on May 15.

Mr. Little is working with county agent, J. K. Adams and with Ervil S. Fry, president of the Asgrow Texas Corn Co., developer of the Calumet 57 seed. In addition to the Calumet, Little is also conducting growth and yield experiments for Asgrow with several other experimental types of corn seed developed by Asgrow.

Calumet was chosen by Mr. Little due to its high resistance to ear worms and to drought and

EARL LITTLE is seen here examining a stalk of Calumet 57, to see if the ears are maturing properly. The corn is of the table use variety. (Staff Photo)

Tests are being carried out on the following corn varieties in cooperation with the county agent and Asgrow: Huron XP112, and Bantam Cross.

Polling Places
For Wheat Quota
Voting Named

Voting places in Bailey county for the wheat marketing quota referendum to be held July 20 are as follows, according to Charles Daniel, office manager of the Bailey County ASC office:

Community "A" Bailey County ASC Office; Community "B" Three Way School house; and Community "C" the Enochs gin building.

The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Growers are eligible to vote in the wheat referendum if they have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest on a farm in 1957. They have been notified of their allotments. Quotas do not affect those farmers who harvest 15 acres or less of wheat for grain on a farm.

If quotas are approved by two thirds majority, the quotas will remain the same and in effect for 1957, and the price support will be available to farmers who have complied with the allotments at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

Farmers who exceed the larger of the farm allotment or 15 acres will be subject to a penalty of 15 per cent of the parity price on the excess production.

If the quotas are disapproved, they will not be in effect, and price supports will be 50 per cent of parity.

Christ Jesus' healing of the centurion's servant, as recorded in Luke's Gospel (chap. 7), will be among the Scriptural passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth".

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (86:11): "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth; unite my heart to fear thy name."

Portable Light Turns Night Into Day For Work Or Play

Outdoor work areas on farms can be utilized in the cool of the night now that portable outdoor lighting is available. Tractor or farm machinery preventive maintenance, usually hot daytime work, can be made reasonably pleasant and at a time when the machines are not in active production. Added bonus, of course, is the use of these portable lights for entertaining, croquet, table tennis, or other nighttime outdoor activities. Also, night-flying insects tend to go to the light source; consequently, they stay up high (13 feet) and annoyance is reduced.

The pole components for supporting the light fixture equal about 13 feet; and to the pole, single or multiple adjustable lamp holders can be attached. The flexibility of these units makes it possible for you to get as little or as much light as you need. Weatherproof PAR lamps (150 watts) complete the unit. These lamps are available in either flood or spot. Normally the flood lamps are used in yard lighting.

For those who are unable to make similar units, most electrical supply stores either carry them in stock or can order them for you. But, whether you make or purchase the units, you are sure of comfort, convenience, utility, beauty and safety in the farm outdoor areas every night.

Drawing below shows components of portable outdoor light. Measurements can be changed to suit personal necessity. The unit may be stored under the eaves or any other convenient place when it is not in use.

MULESHOE CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC

PHONE 6090
Located Across From Courthouse
WHEN SHOULD I CONSULT THE CHIROPRACTOR?

This question was asked the other day and I ad libbed, "when other methods have failed" but this is only partly correct. Actually most people think of Chiropractic when they have stiff neck or a sore back because they know Chiropractors work on the spine. Yet this too is only partly correct.

There is a human tendency to think the cause is where we hurt, one of our greatest errors. We fail to realize that sick organs are usually affected by a faulty nerve supply or by other sick organs.

To illustrate, all our organs are connected with the brain by nerve lines through which the organs are regulated by the brain. These nerve lines pass through the spine enroute between brain and organ. When one or more spinal bones (vertebrae) becomes displaced, pinching these nerve lines the organs at the end of the pinched nerve lines starts giving trouble. Here are cases wherein the pain is at the malfunctioning organ, but the cause is in the spine. There may or may not be pain in the spine.

All this time, patients never suspect their spine pain is elsewhere. They may remain sick, become a slave to pills, potions or diet. These patients instead have their spines checked for pinched nerves so that the real cause of their trouble can be corrected.

So, when should you consult a Chiropractor? It is best not to wait until all other methods have failed (damage is usually great in these cases) or until you get a stiff neck or sore back. Instead a Chiropractic Analysis should be included every time you are sick, regardless of the name given your condition.

Case History RUPTURED DISCS

Case History: A man, age 44, was referred to our clinic with conditions medically diagnosed as ruptured disc and arthritis. He suffered excruciating pain in lower back and down right leg, whether sitting or standing. Entrance complaints also included nervousness, back and shoulder pain, nervous indigestion, black out spells. This man had not been able to work for some time. After a spine analysis to locate pinched nerves causing this trouble, spinal x-rays were taken to reveal the cause of the nerve pressure. Spinal adjustments were begun to remove pressure on nerves affected. Under recommended service, this patient reports no aches or pains.

DAILY HEADACHES VANISH WHEN CAUSE CORRECTED

Case History: "I get headaches every time I lie down or get hungry", said this 28 year old housewife and mother of one child. She complained of weak spells that came suddenly, and indigestion, heartburn, stomach pains, and low blood pressure. She came to our clinic for an examination to locate the cause of her trouble. Our spinal x-rays and spinal analysis located nerve interference in her central nervous system.

At our first comparative check up, she stated the headaches had vanished at the very beginning and had not returned, and all other symptoms were greatly reduced or gone.

When your personal opinion is based on fair investigation and not upon conditioned emotions, you become a satisfied patient. It will pay you to investigate now.

Texas Schools Get 22% Increase In Funds For Lunches

Texas public schools will get about 22 percent more funds from the U. S. Department of Agriculture than last year to serve noonday meals under the National School Lunch Program.

The increase of $853,453 brings the total to $1,686,808 for the coming school year.

Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Les Price, of Sudan.

This announcement was received today by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, Texas Educational Agency.

First quarter allocations of this money will be made to Texas this month, according to John J. Slaughter, chief, southwest food distribution division, Dallas.

This office of the Agricultural Marketing Service deals with the states in this region on the National School Lunch Program.

Slaughter explained that the 22 percent increase in the Texas allotment was the result of an increase of $16,700,000 over last year's appropriation by Congress. Federal funds are shared by the states on the basis of the number of children between the ages of 5 and 17, inclusive, and the need for assistance in the state as indicated by the relation of the per capita income of the United States to that of the state.

Slaughter praised the Texas Educational Agency for the way it has developed and administered the school lunch program.

VISIT PARENTS

Visitors in the C. J. McKnight home over the weekend were their son, O. D. McKnight and family of Portales, N. M., and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Albin and two children, and their son Gene McKnight all of Alamogordo, N. M.

Plans Announced For Farm Safety Week July 22-28

Here is something for farm families to think about as plans are made for National Farm Safety Week, July 22-28. Based on past records, W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, says farm accidents in the U. S. are killing, on the average, 40 farm residents each day and injuring one farm person about every half-minute.

He poses this question: How can farm residents continue to tolerate such losses in human lives and suffering to say nothing of the billion and a half dollars lost each year as a result of farm accidents? The problem will not be whipped until accidents are wiped out or so reduced as to become a minor consideration in the agricultural industry. Experience has shown, says Ulich, that the accident problem can be whipped for many industries have done it.

Industries which have the most outstanding records in safety carry on a continuous safety education program with all their personnel. Safety engineers have removed accident hazards from plants. Machines have been improved and shields used to protect the workers. Visual materials can be noted in and around plants and jobs where hazards exist but above all, points out the specialist, workers in other industries are made and kept safety conscious.

Farm machinery comes equipped with shields and other protective devices but too often they are left in the barn or are never installed. Farmers and their families, their friends and neighbors must take it upon themselves and organize their efforts if farm accidents are to be prevented, says Ulich.

Perhaps the most common cause of all farm accidents is just plain carelessness and the only person who can do much about this one, says the engineer, is you. It takes no longer to do most farm jobs in a safe and sane manner but it does require forethought and planning. By just thinking before acting a lot of fatal accidents would be prevented, lives saved and endless misery and needless costs never started. The answer then, says Ulich, is up to farm residents. Better be on the alert, for one of these days your number may come up unless changes are made.

Babson Discusses COMMODITY PRICES

Babson Park, Mass., July 19. The whole world has been upset economically and politically by World War II and its aftermath. In the midst of our own long postwar boom — only recently showing signs of decline — it is hard to believe there are many areas where serious losses and widespread suffering have resulted. Prices here have been so stable that we have forgotten the importance of commodity market trends.

PRICES SHOULD BE WATCHED CLOSELY
For more than fifty years, I have been keeping tabs on commodity price swings. The Babson Organization has been publishing a Business Inventory-Commodity Price Forecast over this long period, primarily because I believe that a knowledge of month-to-month developments in the major cash commodity markets will benefit all businessmen. Commodity prices should be watched closely, especially in these uncertain times.

The so-called "built-in stabilizers" of our post-depression American economy have helped us forget the basic principle that the price of each commodity is finally determined by the supply relative to the effective demand. A surplus of a commodity brings lower prices and vice versa. The many attempts of governments and individuals to control prices have all ended disastrously.

SWING IN PRICES
Years of study have shown that commodity prices move in definite cycles. I have proved to my own satisfaction that individual commodity prices, as well as groups, follow distinct — though not regular — periodic fluctuations. Of course, one must distinguish clearly between the major cyclical or long swing movement and the minor or shorter swing movement. When both trends are in the same direction, the price movement is accentuated. Otherwise — as in recent years — prices tend to hold fairly steady or to move in the direction of the stronger trend. In order to gauge properly the movement of prices, you must consider both the major and the minor trends. Commodity experts who now follow the various commodity markets more closely than I do believe that the major trend in commodity prices continues upward. They forecast a higher average of commodity prices before this present major cycle has been completed, but they emphasize that interruptions to this upward trend are possible. Also, they tell me that there will be individual commodities which will move contrary to the underlying trend. Hence it is absolutely necessary — especially in these uncertain times — to analyze each commodity separately. I forecast that failure to do so may prove costly. For the next minor movement in commodity prices will be downward. I forecast it may get under way sooner than today seems possible.

COMMODITIES AND INVESTMENTS
From my readers' mail, I notice that there are comparatively few questions on commodities. Most people are interested only in individual securities or groups of securities or groups of securities. They simply do not realize that supply-demand trends and prices in the commodity market determine, to a considerable extent, the return they get on their stocks.

I never buy stocks without giving consideration to price trends in the products made or heavily used by the company in which I plan to invest. I recommend this policy to others and I caution against speculating in the commodity futures markets. You can make money fast in commodity futures, but you can lose it twice as fast! The fluctuations of the stock market are great enough; but commodity prices fluctuate even more.

ADVICE TO MANUFACTURERS AND MERCHANTS
Most manufacturers must buy their raw materials nearly a year in advance; but they can usually protect these purchases by buying or selling "futures". In such cases, however, they should never be traded in to "make money" or for speculation.
Merchants should not bother with "futures," they are dangerous. Better stick to the advice of wholesalers with whom you have traded for many years. Do not let any salesman "high pressure" you into buying more than you will need for more than six months ahead. This is a time to keep inventories in good control.

THIS WEEK -In Washington

Clinton Davidson
Faces around the Department of Agriculture these days are wrier than they are long, and that is quite a change. Officials feel certain their popularity rating among farmers is going to go up.
Pay no attention to that cynic leaning over our shoulder and asking: "Where else could it go?" He probably is a Democrat, anyway.
For the first time in four years, the optimists around the Department are not afraid to look at the statistics prepared for them by their economists. They can quote facts and figures.
Farm prices now average about 10% higher than when Santa Claus last passed up millions of farmers. For the first time since 1952, prices received by farmers are higher than they were a year earlier.
Cash income, the kind you can jingle in your pockets, isn't much to boast about yet, but it is higher than it was a year ago. Price averages for both crops and live stock have been going up for six months in a row.
Under Secretary of Agriculture True D. Morse became so enthusiastic over the statistics that he made a speech saying: "The decline in farm prices and the parity ratio has not only been stopped — it has definitely turned up. The most difficult part of the adjustment for agriculture apparently is behind us."

Talk with the economists who prepared the figures, and you get a more cautious optimism. But, you understand, they are not running for re-election. They say chances are we have passed the bottom of the farm recession, but that it is a bit early to claim that it is over.
Exports of farm commodities have been increasing a little recently, and that probably will continue as long as we put up the cash for foreign buyers to use in paying us for what we are selling them.
Hog growers who were squeezed so hard last fall and winter can breathe a little easier now. When prices got too low, they decided not to raise so many hogs this year. They cut down on the pig crop last spring by 9%, and plan to do the same on the fall crop.
But if you want to give the Agriculture Department credit for reducing hog production, we're sure that will be all right with Secretary Benson. The idea wasn't original with him, but he did suggest it last winter.
Not all Agriculture Department statistics, however, are on the favorable side of the ledger. Farm operating costs have begun to rise also. The index of prices paid by farmers increased by two per cent from January to June.
The cost-price squeeze that forced farmers deeper into debt than ever before has, however, begun to ease somewhat. Latest price statistics show the average of farm commodities at 85% of parity, up from 80% at the start of the year.
Farm debt changes usually are a pretty good barometer of how farmers are doing, and the trend in borrowing still is adding to an already record total. Last year farmers borrowed $2.4 billion, the largest amount for any year since 1923. Close to a million farmers still don't have enough income to meet expenses.

Today's Meditation

GROWING TOWARD PERFECTION
Read Matthew 5:43-48.
Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Matthew 5:48.)

To be perfect is so sublime a goal that instead of kindling our enthusiasm it sometimes slows down vigilance, deadens the spirit, unnerves the will. The goal appears so inaccessible we think the best thing to do is to turn our eyes from such heights. It is no easy task for us to fulfill our Master's word, "Be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." We can accomplish it, however, if we strive to be perfect on the plane of sonship as God is perfect on the plane of fatherhood. Our doubts disappear and hope returns in the light of a truth which is not impossible for us to attain.

It is not enough for us to consider the majesty and power and greatness of God. We are to seek the Lord with all diligence and

PRAYER

O Lord, our goal is to be perfect in Thee. In our own strength we can achieve this blessed hope. We come to Thee. Guard and guide our thoughts that Thy strength may be made perfect in weakness. In the name of Christ, in whom we have hope of achieving perfection. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Christ equips us with everything good in order that we may do His will.

Sand Hills Philosopher Favors WATER PIPED OVER COUNTRY FROM THE SEA

Editor's note: The Sandhill Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm apparently has water on his mind, or brain, as you prefer, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
While coming back from town the other day I found a newspaper some roadside picnicer had used to wrap his lunch in, newspapers are a lot better and far cry from the models we used to get 25 years ago even if they aren't any more anti-proof now than they were then, and I brushed the crumbs and the ants off and brought it on home with me and headed straight for a shade tree in the pasture without going by the house, women have no sense of intellectual values and consider household chores like patching the floor or emptying the garbage as important as mental nourishment.

I hadn't been reading long when I ran across an article that got my mind off the international situation and down to common ordinary living. According to it, the time may come when man will whip the water shortage situation, not by producing rain but by figuring out a cheap way to eliminate it from sea water and piping the stuff inland to wherever a dry spot shows up. Have a network of pipe lines running all over the country.

According to the expert making this prediction, it may be around 1990 or the year 2000 before this takes place, and while I don't believe my crops can hold out that long, still I think somebody ought to be giving some thought to the matter and while I'm waiting on a rain and don't have anything else to do, that's what I've been doing.

As I see it, say they get the thing perfected and there's a 12-inch water pipe running by my farm ready to turn on and make the present crop surplus look like the sixth year of seven years of want in Egypt. This will be fine, except that some bureaucrat will come along and put in a water meter just ahead of my hydrant, with the result that all the fun will be taken out of turning it on and financially I'll be broke with green crops instead of broke with dry ones.

Before this pipe line network gets started, while it's still in the talking stage, is the time to get Congress to outlaw the water meter. Freedom of the seas has got to be brought inland, all the way to my farm. I think you ought to get your Congressman to working on this right now. Time is short. You've got to consider how long it takes Congress to shresh out a problem

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EHLER

We welcome the Florian Jurecki (the c is pronounced as an s) family as a new member of Farm Bureau. Mr. and Mrs. Jurecki come from Nebraska, and he is employed on the Raymond Schueler farm in Rhea community. They have five fine children who are enjoying the big out doors of farm living.

We also commend Franklin Bauer and Raymond Schueler for arranging a meeting at which farmers had a full explanation of the workings of the Soil Bank Program. ASC office manager, James Whitefield and Joe Jones, county agent, were on hand to answer farmers questions. Rhea people have been continuously community minded. The revival of community activity in the Black Community makes us hope that perhaps farm people are following a trend of getting back together for the solution of their common problems. County Farm Bureaus are stronger where community groups are maintained, too.

Glenda, your office secretary, says the annual Farm Bureau Queen Contest will be held in the Friona Auditorium, on Thursday night, August 16. Details will be published next week. One thing we know now, the county winner will be presented with a check for $100, as usual.

In spite of the fact that farmers are exempt from minimum wage restrictions, organized labor can still affect farm income very directly. Everyone familiar with the increased cost of farm machinery that immediately follows wage increases in the factory or on the railroad. Now, because of cotton bales, in some areas, where cotton is now being harvested, there is a real threat that cotton cannot be baled because of this shortage. Charles Schuman, AFB President, recently urged labor and industry to release all stocks for immediate use, and to take immediate measures to produce enough for the present cotton harvest. A small item of very great importance.

Most Texas Counties have already exceeded last year's membership in Farm Bureau. Texas' goal is to lead the southern states in membership in November, so that we will have the say in the National Convention on matters related to cotton. If West Texas Counties, which are a little low right now, will enlist more, we won't have to let south and east Texas run the show.

Moderate Grazing Pays In Plains Area Research

Moderate grazing of land in the Great Plains region is more profitable in the long run than either too-heavy or too-light grazing. Twenty years of research at the U. S. Range Livestock Experiment Station, Miles City, Montana, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist, has furnished the proof.

On the heavily grazed land, 1 cow to 23 acres, 71 percent of the cows produced calves. These made an average daily gain of 1.6 pounds, and pounds of calf produced per cow at weaning averaged 268. This amounted to 11.6 pounds of calf per acre. Cows in moderately grazed range produced an 86 percent calf crop; gained 1.8 pounds daily and their calves averaged 428 pounds at weaning. Calf pounds produced per acre was 121. One cow to 31 acres was considered moderate grazing.

In the light grazing experiment, 93 percent of the cows produced calves; average daily gain was 1.9 pounds; calves weighed 438 pounds at weaning which meant 10.5 pounds of calf produced per acre. Under light grazing one cow was run on 39 acres.

Heavy grazing not only resulted in smaller calf crops and lighter gains but also caused injury to the range over a long period. It also reduced the vigor of range plants, causing a shift from the better native tall grasses to the less productive short grasses. Trampling left the soil less permeable to moisture and left little grass residue for soil cover and for maintaining soil structure and fertility.

Light grazing, though good for conserving soil residue, did not give the ranchman the most from his range. Moderate grazing is favored because of more profit in the long run and also because ranges remained in a more stable condition.

Walker points out that this research is highly significant because during the last 7 years breeding stock were used in the tests which had been produced from stock raised under each of the three grazing intensity patterns. Six lots of cows have been used in the experiment — two for each grazing pattern.

COTTON INSECT REPORT

Cotton continued to set fruit at a rapid rate in a majority of fields. The crop is farther advanced than normal for this date. Weather conditions and a lack of serious insect outbreaks have favored the development of cotton.

Thrips infestations were reported as light in most fields. Numbers were not sufficiently large to require control in any locality.

Fleahoppers were found in sufficient numbers to warrant control in widely scattered fields. While control is recommended when as many as fifteen fleahoppers are found per one hundred terminal buds of cotton as plants reach the fruiting stage, applications should be made not only on numbers, but also on damage observed.

Bollworms are generally reported in light infestations throughout the area. Medium to heavy infestations were found in some localities in Dawson, Howard, Terry and Yoakum Counties. Occasional fields in several other areas had sufficient infestations to require control. Infestations often increase in seven to ten days after cotton is irrigated, so recently irrigated fields should be checked frequently for eggs and small worms.

Lycus bugs were present in most fields. While infestations were generally light, the insects occurred in damaging numbers on cotton in some fields in Cochran and Hale Counties.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

Farming is a dangerous job. So dangerous that nationwide attention is being focused on the problem by declaring July 22 thru July 28 as National Farm Safety Week.

The risks of the farm are both physical and financial. In one year about 15,000 U. S. farm residents are killed in agricultural accidents. Another 1,300,000 or more are injured.

Each farm is a separate sphere of management and operation which involves a wide variety of activities and working conditions. The heavy toll of accidents caused each year by these different farm tasks wipes out some 17 million man days of labor.

In some areas, Texas farmers may face one of the major accident creating situations — labor shortages. When hired help is scarce, the farmer takes on more of the work load. He toils longer

Bailey County Farm Bureau News

By LONNIE M. BASS

Bailey County Farm Bureau news will be scarce this week as Lonnie left for Waco, Sunday to attend a training school Monday thru Thursday. However we might mention that July 22 thru July 28 is farm safety week. Each year thousands of accidents happen on the farm that could be avoided. We should not have a farm safety week, but a farm safety year. Let's make it a perfect week in Bailey County without any accidents of any kind.

Siegfried Hoffman Leaves For Germany After Year Here As Exchange Student

A graduate of Muleshoe high school leaves here July 27, enroute to Maryland, and thence to Germany to continue her education with a new understanding of American ways and customs, and as a sort of unofficial ambassador to her own country from the United States.

She is Siegrid Hoffman, German exchange student, who has been living with the Gordon Murrah family during the past year. She expects to arrive at home in Weidenau, Germany August 15, completing a year in the States, almost to a day.

Siegrid has enjoyed her year in Muleshoe. She was a senior student and was named class favorite, honorary member of the Future Homemakers of America, member of the student council, named to Who's Who in Civics, and had a role in the senior play.

Although she couldn't take all the subjects she wanted, she did get to take typing, algebra, Spanish, civics, chemistry, American history, and English. Siegrid made good grades but admits having some difficulty with civics, particularly as she was also having trouble with the English language at the same time.

A considerable difference in American and German schools is noted by the exchange student. She reports that teachers in America are friendlier than in Germany and do not hold themselves as aloof as in Germany, where teachers seldom speak to students outside the classrooms.

Highlight of her school year here was the senior trip to Lake of the Ozarks, Missouri. Mrs. Murrah was one of the adult leaders on the trip. She also recalls with pleasure, the initiations she received as a freshman, into the FHA and the FFA.

Although she did graduate here, Siegrid expects that she will spend two to three years in Germany completing her high school education there, and to make up for the time she spent in Muleshoe.

Siegrid, who is 17, reveals that there is a noticeable difference in American and German home life. At home she did not do much sewing, but in the Murrah home, she adopted sewing as a hobby and became quite proficient at it.

On the Murrah farm, Siegrid was treated as one of the family. She quickly learned to drive the tractor and to help with chores about the house and farm.

She also learned to cook a number of American dishes, her favorites being home made ice cream, spanish rice, and gravy. She is especially proud of these three items, as they are American dishes she feels sure her sister at home does not know how
