County joins senior citizens building project

Commissioners voted Monday to approve the use of county labor and equipment for construction of a senior citizens building. At the same time, Eddie Moore, roads and parks superintendent, was authorized to hire the necessary contractors.

In connection with approval for county participation in the construction, the court members voted to reject bids for construction of the building. The project has been put out for bids three times, and the only responses were far in excess of the $190,000.00 Helping Hands for the Elderly has for the project.

The court voted four to one to pay a bill from architect Jack Meek for his work toward the building, in the amount of $9,050.00. Meek accepted 4 1/4% instead of 8 1/2% of the $200,000.00 project. His agreement with Helping Hands includes selling them 12 sets of plans, consulting with Moore by phone and making one trip to Ozona during construction.

Frank Tambunga cast the nay vote.

Representatives of Sunwest Construction, the company that built the new annex and Meek talked with the court about problems with the building. Meek had recommended at the last regular meeting of commissioners that they make a final payment of $15,000.00 to Sunwest.

"I feel like we've done everything we can do to determine the problems and whether or not we're at fault," said Wayne Robinson of Sunwest. His comment came after a discussion of problems with humidity and swelling doors in the building.

Humidity has decreased to an acceptable level according to information from the air conditioning company. However, it will take a long time to de-humidify the building, Robinson said. Other plans to rem-

Wool prices depressed

Prices received at wool sales here Oct. 9 are the lowest since 1971 said Donnie Laughlin of Wool Growers.

"We had quite a bit of wool, and no one is very happy," Laughlin said. "There was some very nice wool and very limited competition."

Wool Growers offered 207,000 pounds with 160,000 of that being paint-free fall short wool. Fall paint short wool accounted for 15,000 pounds and there were also 15,000 pounds of lamb wool and 15,000 pounds of 12-month wool.

Paint-free short wool sold from 17 to 52 cents per pound, paint wool was 18 to 32 cents, lamb wool sold at 30 to 51 3/4 cents and 12-month wool went for 38 to 52 cents.

"This is a reflection of the world market, especially out of Australia," Laughlin said. "It's not very good and I don't see a change for awhile. Maybe next spring."

Wool Growers sold approximately 175,000 of the 207,000 pounds offered.

The offering at Ozona Wool and Mohair was 63,000 pounds with the majority of that being sold.

Questions answered about seizure of money, property

From the Office of Shane Fenton, Sheriff

There have been some questions asked of late about how money can be taken from someone and the person not be arrested.

First, it is important to know that in a forfeiture case you are dealing with civil law and not criminal law. Forfeiture of contraband is covered in Chapter 59 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure. As in last week's case involving the $40,028.00 of U. S. currency, it would be Chapter 59, Article 59.01* which explains what is contraband and why it can be seized, and Chapter 59, Article 59.03, which explains who can seize the contraband and what steps must be taken to secure the property after seizure.

This case is still pending, therefore, I can not give specific reasons why the currency was seized. I will try to give you some general applications of the forfeiture law so that it can be understood.

There is not a single reason used by an officer in a forfeiture case. The officer will take the totality of the circumstances and develop what is called preponderance of the evidence.

Ballot applications creates havoc

Informal applications for ballot by mail sent out by political parties or candidate organizations are causing problems for early voting clerks across the state. Many of these applications show a mailing address only and do not include the residence address of the voter. All applications, whether informal or official (requested from and sent by the clerk's office), must include the residence address of the voter.

Voters receiving one of these unrequested applications for a ballot by mail may use the form, but the resident's physical address and mailing address must be written on the card returned to the county clerk.

If you wish to vote by mail in the Nov. 3 General Election and have not yet contacted the office of Debbi Puckett, County and District Clerk, to request a ballot application, you have until Oct. 27 to do so. An application will then be sent to you.

Should you decide to sign and return the unsolicited informal application you have received, be sure to add your home address under your name and mailing address printed on the application.

Sandra also likes music and used to paint. She loves working with old people and children. She knows they need help and figures everyone in-between can take care of themselves, Sandra says.

Her daughter, Carol Warren is a physical therapist. Son-in-law Steve Warren is head coach at Abilene High School. The Warrens have a son, Stephen, who is in the second grade.

Flu season may be early this year

An outbreak of influenza A in July and August spoiled vacation plans for many senior citizens traveling to Alaska and the Yukon Territory. While Texas was not directly affected, the early appearance of the flu is a wake-up call to be vaccinated according to Robert D. Crider, director of the Immunization Division of the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

The flu season usually lasts from October through April. Crider says, "Since it takes about two weeks for the vaccine to reach full effect, it is best to get a flu shot even before flu season begins." This is particularly true for people in high-risk groups.

People with diabetes are about three times more likely to die from complications of influenza and pneumonia, yet fewer than half get an annual flu shot. Each year 10,000 to 30,000 people with diabetes die from complications of the flu and pneumonia. During a flu epidemic, deaths among people with diabetes rise five to 15 percent according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. An estimated 16 million people have diabetes in the United States. About one-third of these have not been diagnosed. Minority groups, especially African Americans, Native Americans and Hispanics, are at higher risk for diabetes.

In addition to those with diabetes, people aged 65 or older are at higher risk of serious illness or death resulting from influenza-related complications. More than 90 percent of the deaths from pneumonia and influenza occur in people aged 65 or older yet, 32 percent of people in this age group failed to get an annual flu shot in 1997, according to TDH figures. Medicare recipients can get a flu shot at no cost to themselves. Residents of nursing homes and other chronic-care facilities face increased risk of contracting the flu and, because residents suffer from chronic medical conditions, the exposure can have serious consequences.

People with weak immune systems; including those with kidney disease and blood problems; transplant recipients and people with AIDS, should be vaccinated. Others in high risk groups include people with chronic heart or lung disease, including children with asthma; pregnant women; international travelers and children on long-term aspirin therapy. Health care workers and household members who interact with people in high risk groups need to be vaccinated to avoid spreading the disease to others.

Each year the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention estimates what strains will cause problems for the following year. This year's vaccine combats the A/Sydney, which afflicted the tourists in Alaska, the A/Beijing and the B/Beijing. The vaccine offers some protection against other strains as well. People who get the shot will have less severe symptoms if infected with other strains.

No Easy Answer

By Dennis J. Prutow

God permitted Satan to torment Job. Job suffered the loss of flocks, herds and servants at the hands of marauders, lightning and fire. He lost his family when a house collapsed due to high winds. Job's health failed. His medicine was a piece of broken pottery. He scraped the oozing sores and boils covering his skin.

Job had three friends. They came to comfort him. When they saw Job they sat astonished. The wealthy famous Job was a miserable disease-ridden heap sitting in dust and ashes. What were the friends to say? What was the reason for Job's demise, his fall from prosperity to utter financial ruin, physical pain and emotional torment?

Eliphaz answers with a rhetorical question, "Remember now, who ever perished being innocent? Or where were the upright destroyed?" (Job 4:7). Bildad slanders Job's family. "If your sons sinned against Him, then He delivered them into the power of transgression" (Job 8:4). Zophar triumphantly defends God. "He knows false men, and He sees iniquity without investigating" (Job 11:11).

Job's friends utter platitudes. They give the easy answer. Job's personal sins are not the problem (Job 1:8 and 2:3). Neither is the difficulty Job's lack of faith (Job 13:15 and 19:25). Job is exemplary (James 5:11). The lesson? Beware of easy answers which hurt and hinder rather than help and edify (Ephesians 4:29).

"Now consider this, you who forget God. Lest I tear in peace and none to deliver:

"Whoever offers praise glorifies me; and to him who orders his conduct aright I will show the salvation of God.

Breast Cancer Awareness in Crockett County

This year it is estimated 2,800 Texas women will die from breast cancer and 11,500 will be diagnosed with the disease.

The good news is that early detection could save as many as one third of them. By celebrating Crockett County Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the Texas Department of Health and the American Cancer Society hope to increase awareness of how early detection can save lives.

1998 marks the 23rd National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The goal of Breast Cancer Awareness Month is to increase awareness of the importance of early detection of breast cancer through public and professional education outreach efforts.

To find breast cancer early, women should do breast self-examinations every month, have a health professional check their breasts every year, and have regular mammograms.

All women are at risk for developing breast cancer. More than 75 percent of all breast cancers are found in women 50 or older.

The American Cancer Society further recommends that women 40 or older get a yearly mammogram and breast exam. Getting a mammogram and breast exam only once is not enough.

For more information, contact the American Cancer Society at 915-334-6121, the Texas Department of Health Breast and Cervical Cancer Control Program at 1-800-452-1955 or the National Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER (1-800-422-6237).

Eighth Grade Cubs upend Forsan

By David Screws
STOCKMAN SPORTSWRITER

With a tremendous defensive effort and some explosive offense in the second half the Middle School Eighth Cubs overcame an early Forsan lead to beat the Buffaloes on their home field last Thursday. With the 20-6 victory the Cubs pushed their season record to 3-2.

Forsan got on the board early in the game with a 58-yard dash into the end zone. After the extra point attempt failed they had the Cubs down by 6-0. A Cub score in the first half was brought back for a block in the back and the Cubs had to settle for a half-time deficit of 6-0.

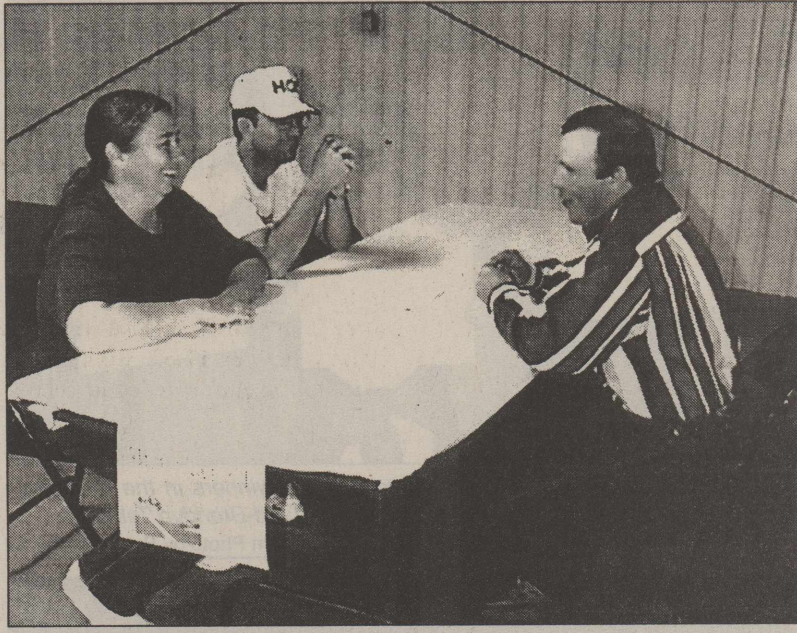

After the initial score the Cubs defense, led by Raymond Trujillo, Johnny Tambunga, and Joe Perez, began to stuff the running attack of the Buffaloes, keeping them scoreless for the balance of the contest.

In the third period the Cubs offense began to click. With Michael Savala guiding the offense the Cubs went to the pass. Savala found Ricky

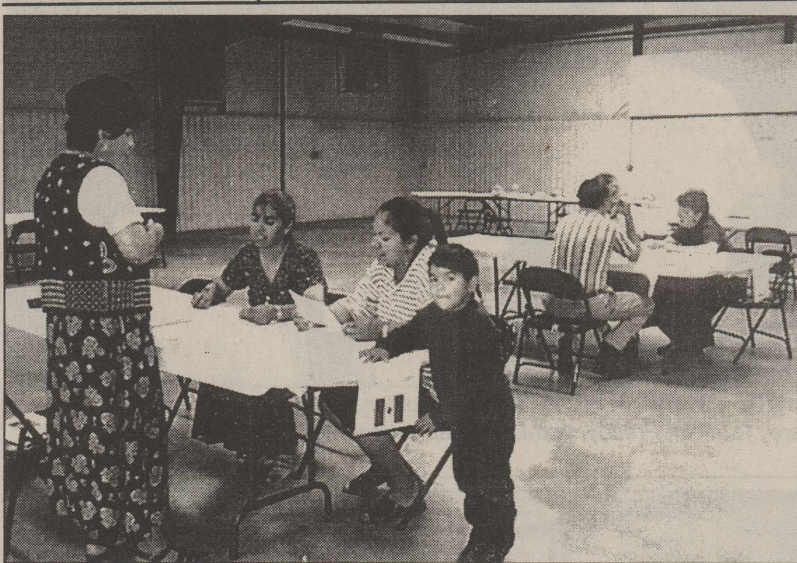

Perez wide open from their own 35-yard line and Perez did the rest, finding the goal line to knot the game at 6-all. With the missed extra point Ozona went into the final period still tied.

Savala and Jarrett Vickers had been quarterbacking the Cubs offense all season, but the coaches switched to the speedy Lalo Garza in the fourth. Garza came through on a bootleg, outrunning the Buffaloes for a 55-yard score. Dominique Perez picked up the extra points and the Cubs pulled ahead 14-6. On the Cubs next possession they drove to the Forsan 22 before Chase Clark, on a sweep, raced into the end zone to make the final score 20-6.

Derek Faught and Robert Ogle contributed to the Cubs great defense, coming up with one Forsan fumble each. Vickers and Savala combined for 3 pass completions and 78 yards in the air. Savala had the one for the initial touchdown and Vickers had one completion to G. L. Bunger and another to Robert Ogle.

Lions hang with Buffaloes

By David Screws
STOCKMAN SPORTSWRITER

With 3:25 remaining in last Friday's district opener in Forsan the Ozona Lions were still only a touchdown and some extra points away from pulling off an upset of the undefeated Forsan Buffaloes. A great Lion defensive game had kept the Buffaloes from running away with the contest, but the offense struggled to make yardage against an equally stubborn Forsan defense.

The Buffaloes first score came on a big play. With only 5 seconds remaining in the opening quarter they struck from 51 yards out to take a 6-0 lead. In the second period the Lions amassed most of their offensive output for the night as they fought to get back into the game. Clay Richardson, who led the offense in rushing for the night, picked up 51 of his 57 yards in the opening half. With only two carries in the second half he picked up 6 more.

Kenny Vargas and Tim Maldonado added 14 yards each, but Vargas gained 11 of his early. Maldonado had 5 at the intermission and 9 more late in the game. In the passing game Ross Crawford was 3 of 7 for a total of 42 yards. Two of those completions picked up 39 yards in the early stages of the game. On the receiving end of Crawford's passes Seth Webster nabbed one for 4 yards, Bobby Cervantez caught one for 35 yards, and Mark Childress had the lone second-half reception for 3 yards.

Tim Maldonado and Ray Ramos led a herculean effort by the defense to keep the score low. Maldonado tallied 15 stops and Ramos was in on 11 more tackles. Not far behind those two were Juan Garcia with 9 tackles, Robert Kelly with 8, and Cade Clark with 7. Ross Crawford and Kenny Vargas brought down the Buffaloes with 6 tackles each.

With time ticking away for the Lions the Buffaloes managed to struggle to the 3-yard line before pushing over for the final score. With another failed extra point attempt the final score remained 12-0 in favor of the Buffaloes. The loss moves the Lion's season record to 0-6. Their next outing, another district contest, is at home this Friday against a strong Sonora Bronco squad. The Broncos, having dropped from the class 3A level down to 2A, are the preseason favorite to take the district.

Buffaloes shut down J.V. Lions

By David Screws
STOCKMAN SPORTSWRITER

Last Thursday in Lions Stadium the Forsan Buffaloes Junior Varsity unit used three big plays and strong defense to out last the Ozona Lions in a 20-0 contest. The loss draws the Lions even for the season with 3 wins against as many losses.

The Buffaloes struck on their initial possession after the Lions had pushed them from the Lion 30 back to the 50. A 50-yard scoring strike gained back the lost yardage and netted Forsan a touchdown. The extra point put them in front 7-0.

With their backs to the wall many times the Lions defense stopped a well-oiled Buffalo offense. Four times, including two times in the first quarter Forsan drives stalled out at or inside the Ozona 10-yard line. On another Buffalo possession Wesley Bishop fell on a mishandled pitch at the Ozona 44.

In the first quarter the Lions could not muster any offense at all and managed just a little more in the second. Kyle Richardson closed out the night with 13 rushing yards and was 4 of 7 passing for 13 more yards. Jimmy Lopez had the longest catch for 7 yards. Luis Cruz led Ozona's rushing with 57 yards and Jimmy Lopez paced off 22 more. Cruz set up the Lion's biggest threat of the evening when he rambled up the middle for 39 yards to the Buffalo 15-yard line. The Lions were unable to capitalize on the great field position.

Forsan opened their lead early in the second quarter on another bomb which covered 51 yards, then sealed the win with a 47-yard scoring pass at the 4:41 mark of the third period. The game ended with the Buffaloes standing at Ozona's three.

Children's portion size increases with age

Confused by the recommendation that everyone, from infants to grandparents, eat five servings of fruits and vegetables every day? Don't be. The key is portion size.

"The serving size for fruits and vegetables is one tablespoon per year of life until the age of 6. After age 6 it increase to one-half cup, the same portion size as for adults," says Dr. Debby Demory-Luce, registered dietitian and nutritionist with the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine.

"It's wise to keep variety in mind when selecting the three or more servings of vegetables and two or more servings of fruit your family will eat each day," says Demory-Luce. A variety of fruits and vegetables are needed to provide many of the vitamins and minerals essential for good health.

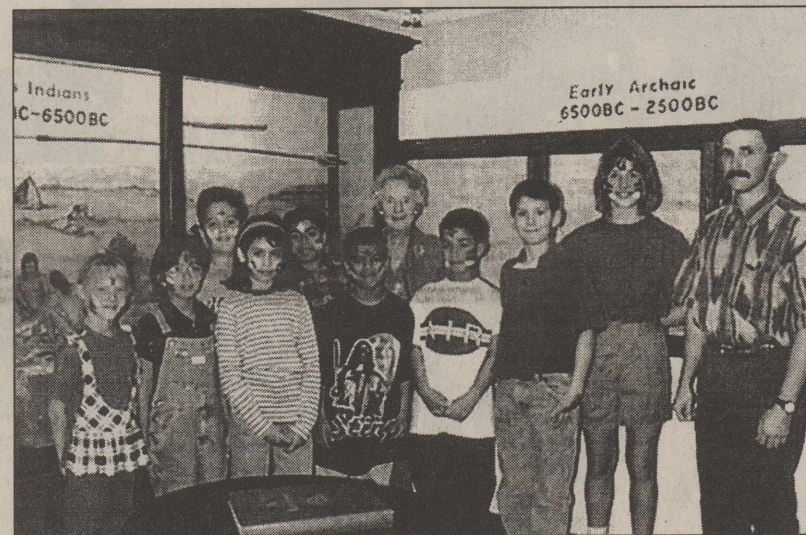

She also says parents should wait until a child is at least 4 months old before starting solids.

Lion Band in Region Marching Contest

The Ozona Lion Marching Band will travel to Brady on Saturday, Oct. 17, to participate in the Region VII U.I.L. Marching Contest. Judging the bands will be James Striet of Vernon, Dr. Daryl Trent of Frisco and Louis Thornton of Abilene. The Ozona Band will perform at 2:45 p.m. Ratings will be announced at 3:30 p.m. after the performance of the Big Lake Band. The Lion Band is under the musical direction of Mr. Kelly Glaze who is assisted by Mr. Norman Carroll. Drum Major is senior Angela Branch.

Other Class AA bands performing at Brady are: Mason, Sonora, Eldorado, Wall, Coleman, Junction, Winters, Bangs and Reagan County.

The public is cordially invited to attend and cheer on their favorite bands.

Bands can earn one of five different ratings at a music contest. A Division I-Superior rating is the highest award followed by Division II-Excellent, Division III-Good, Division IV-Fair and Division V-Poor performance.

Several years ago the U.I.L. began certifying superior rated bands at the region contest on to the area and state level of competition. On even numbered years only 3-A and 5-A bands may advance, and on odd numbered years only A, 2-A and 4-A bands may advance. This makes 1998 a year in which Ozona can not advance to the area marching contest.

Food show awards presented

Crockett County 4-H Food Show contestants were interviewed Sunday afternoon by judges asking questions about nutrition information, his or her project activities, leadership and citizenship. Prior to the contest, 4-H'ers completed two workshops here and participated in a food tour to San Angelo.

Today's Halloween traditions stem from pagan, Christian holy days

The mystical magic of All Hallow's Eve can be traced to early Christian feasts and pagan rituals. Originally a pagan festival of fire and the dead that marked the beginning of winter, Halloween became a prelude to All Saints Day in the mid-700s A.D.

The origins of All Saints Day, which honors all saints and all martyrs, are sketchy, and there is evidence that it was celebrated on various days in different places. A feast of martyrs was kept on May 13 in the Eastern Church as early as the fourth century A.D.

Historians speculate that it was moved to Nov. 1 to coincide with and Christianize the pagan fire festivals.

Sir James Frazer wrote in "the Golden Bough" that "throughout Europe, Halloween, the night that marks the transition from autumn to winter, seems to have been of old time when the souls of the departed were supposed to revisit their old homes in order to warm themselves by the fire and to comfort themselves with the good cheer provided them in the kitchen or the parlors by their affectionate kinsfolk."

Food offerings were left for the dead and bonfires were lit to provide light and heat which would help the sun through the winter.

Visions of the grave also sparked fantasies of more gruesome ghosts--demons, hobgoblins and witches--who stalked the earth on All Hallow's Eve.

People tried to frighten the demons off by waving burning straw atop pitchforks and by wearing grotesque and terrifying costumes, the rationale being that if you dressed ghoulissh enough and went trooping around with the spirits all night they would think you were one of them and do you no harm.

Halloween marked the beginning of a new year in Celtic, Germanic and Scandinavian countries, where rituals were performed to predict the events of the new year.

In north Wales, every family built a bonfire and each person threw into the ashes a white stone which he had previously marked. Prayers were said round the fire, and if a stone was missing, it was thought the owner would die before the next Halloween.

Weather was of great importance in Germanic and Scandinavian countries.

Over time, the costumes and food offerings have been transferred to the children who celebrate Halloween. Going door-to-door begging for candy, apples and pennies dates to pagan times when costumed villagers led the ghosts of the old year away from the festival table and out of town.

In giving the event a Christian focus, the marching children were said to have agreed to pray for the souls of the dead in exchange for an offering to All Saints Day in the mid-700s A.D.

Heart murmurs rarely life-threatening

A heart murmur might be the body's scare tactic, but its bark is often worse than its bite, says a cardiologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

"Most heart murmurs are not life-threatening," said Dr. Miguel Quiñones, professor of medicine at The DeBakey Heart Center at Baylor and The Methodist Hospital in Houston. "Many people who experience heart murmurs have perfectly healthy hearts."

Heart murmurs are buzzing or swishing sounds heard through a stethoscope in addition to a regular heartbeat. The murmur is caused by turbulent blood flow and is usually lined to a heart-valve disorder.

Quiñones says there are two kinds of heart murmurs: functional and pathologic. An functional murmur is caused by turbulent blood flow through a normal heart valve. A pathologic murmur is due to blood flowing through a defective valve or an abnormal opening in the heart.

"More than half of all patients diagnosed with a heart murmur have the functional type that doesn't require follow-up or treatment," said Quiñones, who is also director of the echocardiography laboratory at Methodist.

Quiñones recommends that people diagnosed with a pathologic heart murmur seek a cardiologist who can determine if treatment is necessary.

Cardiologists use echocardiography, an ultrasound test that takes a "picture" of the heart's sound waves and flood-flow velocity, to find defects causing the heart murmur.

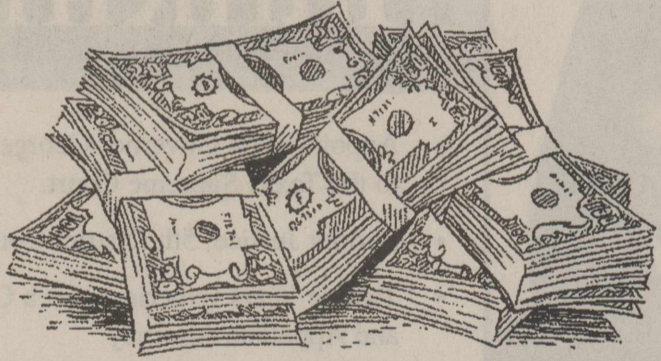

Heart murmurs occur most commonly in one of four ways -- 1) blood passing over a narrowed valve as in the case of rheumatic heart disease, 2) a defect in the heart wall, or 3) backflow of blood through an insufficient or leaky valve.

In many cases, the problem producing the heart murmurs can be corrected surgically. However, Quiñones says surgery is not always necessary. Many patients can live a normal life with medical treatment.

"Don't panic if your physician says you have a heart murmur," Quiñones said. "Chances are you can still enjoy a good quality of life and resume leisure activities like exercise and sports."

The DeBakey Heart Center is a joint program of Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital supporting cardiovascular research, treatment and education.

DOES THIS BELONG TO YOU?

THIS SUNDAY WE'LL HAVE GOOD NEWS FOR THOUSANDS OF TEXANS. WILL YOU BE ONE OF THEM?

Every day, banks and businesses report unclaimed cash and valuables to the state—uncashed checks or refunds, forgotten bank accounts, jewelry and the other abandoned contents of safety deposit boxes.

Once each year, in an effort to reunite these unclaimed assets with their rightful owners, we insert the most recent Unclaimed Property list in the Sunday editions of 33 daily newspapers across the state.

In the past year, we've returned more than $38 million in unclaimed property to Texans.

But more than $800 million remains unclaimed. And in selected Sunday newspapers, we'll print the updated, latest edition of the list.

- Pick up a Sunday newspaper carrying the list and look for your name and the names of your relatives.
- Or call us toll-free at 1-800-654-3463.
- Or visit our Web site at <http://www.window.state.tx.us>.
- Or write to Comptroller John Sharp, Unclaimed Property Section, P.O. Box 12019, Austin TX 78711-2019.

If you find your name on the list, give us a call, drop us a line, or send us an e-mail at unclaimed.property@cpa.state.tx.us and we'll get you back together with your property.

CUT YOUR TAXES!

As a county commissioner, Randy Leifeste cut taxes for the people of Llano.

With the state projected to have a multi-billion dollar surplus, it is more important than ever to send conservative leaders to Austin to return that surplus to Texas taxpayers, not spend it on more government programs and bigger bureaucracy.

- ★ A $2 billion property tax cut.
- ★ A $400 million sales tax cut.
- ★ A $35 million small business tax cut.

Highlight of this year's banquet was guest speaker Jim Bob Solsbery of Big Lake who entertained the crowd with his inspiration and humor. Mr. Solsbery's presentation was sensational.

This year, the 4-H and Youth Committee added many new awards to the banquet, such as Bronze Star, Silver Star, Rookie of the Year and Most Enthusiastic. Also, a new award honoring the Friends of 4-H was presented to The Ozona Stockman and to Mr. Donnie Laughlin. Two special guests were also recognized at the banquet. Together, they represented 44 years of service to the citizens of Crockett County.

A special thanks goes to Laurie Hale, John L. Henderson, Jeffrey Stuart, Diane Anderson, Sally Roane and the rest of the crew for a wonderful meal. Special thanks to Garland and Joyce Young for their donation of the soft drinks for the meal and for their help with setting up for the banquet. FIRST HE OVERHAULED THE IRS. NEXT HE'LL ABOLISH IT.

This year, Henry Bonilla went on record, stating his position to eliminate the IRS.

Next year he will lead the effort to replace it with a more fair and simple tax system.

BONILLA

Protecting you from the IRS

Already this year, Henry Bonilla voted to reform the IRS, strengthening the taxpayers' rights and making the IRS more accountable. Those changes include:

- The burden of proof is now on the IRS, not the taxpayer;
- Innocent spouses who are divorced or separated are only responsible for their incomes;
- In some cases, taxpayers are now given relief from interest and penalties; and
- The IRS cannot seize a taxpayer's home without a court order.

In addition, Henry Bonilla will continue to:

- Support small businesses;
- Keep taxes down;
- Protect private property rights;
- Keep government out of our lives; and
- Demand accountability and responsibility.

Early voting ends October 30. Election day is November 3rd.

Paid for by Texans for Henry Bonilla, Jill Lahaye, Treasurer.

"Whether eliminating the IRS or working to help you keep more of your hard-earned money, you have my commitment to continue fighting for your interests in Washington."

THE BADGE

By Troy Mauris Martin
September 1998

The lawman's badge is a curious thing
It changes the man who pins it on
Though he's often in a crowd
The badge somehow makes him stand alone

The badge is like a two-edge sword
Its power is there for all to see
It can put the bad in jail
It ensures that the good stay free

It often brings out honors best
For those that believe it stands for right
A shield for the young and for the weak
Hope in a dark and frightening night

The man that knows it stands for good
Wears it on his chest with pride
Yet it sometimes breaks that good man's heart when he can't express how he feels inside

For the badge is a view to an ugly world
Where hope can fade when evil wins
Good and right are such strange words
When it seems like crime just never ends

A lawman sometimes sees too much
Of mankind's darkness, fear and pain
Sometimes the weight of the badge he wears
Shrouds his sunshine with clouds and rain

Sometimes he forgets what the badge stands for Even forgets why he pins it on
Sometimes he neglects the ones he loves
Ends up hopeless, sad, alone

The lawman fights a daily war
Against the kind that rob and kill
A war that has not ended
It probably never will

So those that wear a shiny new badge
Should never forget the ones that fell
For the war on crime takes a toll
On the good and the bad as well

Thousands risk disconnection in October

Thousands of utility customers could be without power in mid-October if they don't take action now to deal with electric bills they have delays paying during the past two months.

During one of the hottest summers on record, the Public Utility Commission passed an emergency rule that banned residential disconnections for nonpayment by regulated electric utilities from Aug. 12 through Sept. 30 and required utilities offer payment options to residential customers. The rule was intended to protect Texans whose health could be jeopardized by extreme heat.

After Oct. 1, customers who have not made payment arrangements can be disconnected following 10 days notice.

The PUC's emergency rule applied only to customers of investor-owned and cooperative utilities; municipal electric companies were not required to stop disconnections or to offer payment options.

The rule also required that utilities offer customers deferred payment plans so they could spread payments for the high summer bills up to six months. Other options are payment extension and level billing plans that average bills so each monthly payment is the same. Customers are still responsible for on-time payments of utility bills received before or after Oct. 1.

Customers should call their utility now and make payment arrangements if they are behind on their summer electric bills. Utility representatives estimate that more than 375,000 customers still need to make payment arrangements.

Some customers may qualify for federally or locally funded assistance in paying their bills. Their local utility can refer them to social service agencies who can process their requests.

For utility questions or complaints, customers can call the PUC's toll-free number: 888-782-8477 (888-PUC-TIPS), write to the PUC's Office of Customer Protection, P.O. Box 13326, Austin, TX 78711-3326; or send a fax to 512-936-7003. Customers can also reach the PUC by e-mail at customer@uc.state.tx.us.

WE GET LETTERS

Dear Scotty and Linda,
One more time it's been proven that Ozona cares.

As most all know by now, Jack had lung cancer surgery at Odessa Medical Center three weeks ago. All seemed to go well until he was given Mr. Sizemore's meds, he'd had prostate surgery at the age of 5 according to the records. Transcriber's error we were told, should have been tonsils removed. Good news all week, then the bomb fell. Casually the doctor said, "you would have died on the operating table had we taken enough lung to get it all," as he was taking out the staples. Now you can go home.

In shock, you think great to go home-hurry get the car-not so fast. All these specialists need to parade by with all kinds of suggestions, none of which were worthy or good news. Finally after 2 hours of this, the nurse gets us ready one more time. Then, sorry, you can't go without oxygen. With prescription in hand, all is well, guess again. The hospital pharmacy won't fill it. After two more hours the social services could not find a medical supply to fill the order allowing us to leave the city limits with their bottle.

I'm sure you've guessed by now we would still be at Medical Center had it not been for Fred and Kay Baker driving all the way there at 8:30 p.m.

We walked out of the building and arrived home close to midnight, and met John Baker with the permanent machine. You can call them anything, but God put three angels in our path that day.

Ozona people think twice about going out of town for your medical supplies, when Baker Durable has what we need and they do care. It's been proven.

Jack and Janet Hill McDaniel

Dear Editor:

As an undergraduate mathematics and physics major who is about to attend graduate school in the field of Applied Mathematics, I have had a number of excellent professors and teachers. However, during the 45 hours of mathematics and 29 hours of physics that I've accumulated over the last 3 years, I have never had a teacher who made more of an impact in my academic career than Mr. Frank Reavis.

For several years Mr. Reavis has somehow found a way to teach the average student while at the same time challenge the gifted student. In a day and age where educators (Particularly those in mathematics and science) are forced to essentially teach their students to pass a single exam, this is highly unusual and should not go unnoticed. While most Texas teachers find it tedious enough to just get their students to pass the TAAS exam, Mr. Reavis has also found time to stimulate the minds of those students who actually want to learn something new.

While in Frank Reavis's classes at Ozona High School, I was forced to look at things in different ways and see beyond the normal confines of the teenage mind. With this experience I found that I was light years ahead of my peers in college. Without the things I learned in that classroom on the third floor of the high school I probably would have never made it beyond my first calculus class.

As a supplemental instruction leader for calculus and physics classes at Tarleton State University I have seen freshman students whose math skills are very mediocre. The main reason for this is the fact that teachers are simply not getting the job done in high school. I feel that Ozona should consider themselves lucky for having the privilege of learning from Frank Reavis.

Two years ago Crockett County Schools lost Elinore South, another incomparable mathematics teacher. It would be an even greater loss to see Frank Reavis gone as well.

Sincerely,

Crockett County Library News by Louise Ledoux

Library Flamingos

Flocks of flamingos caught pink-winged! All during the month of October, birdwatchers will be able to enjoy rare sightings of Library Flamingos in Ozona. To get in on the fun of flamingo watching, join the Friends of the Library in a hilarious, enjoyable fund-raising activity.

This week check out the flock at El Gallito's Burritos on Hwy. 163 South enjoying the new Flamingo Burritos!

The cost of a flamingo flock spending three days in any yard is a $15.00 donation to the Friends of the Library. Just call 392-3565. If the flock arrives in your yard, you can have them removed after the three days for a donation of $5.00. A call to Louise at the library will assure you that the Bird Patrol will come capture the pink felons and take your donation. It is also possible to have a pink Library Flamingo delivered to a person's place of work. These "Potted" Library Flamingos will be available for two days for a donation of $5.00 and removed for a pick-up donation of $2.00.

Library Flamingo Insurance is available to protect your yard from the threatened invasion of the tacky, pink plastic birds. For a $25.00 donation, you can rest assured that there will be no sightings of flamingos in your yard or office. Contact Louise at the library to purchase this plan. All proceeds will benefit the building expansion fund to purchase new furnishings and shelving for the public library.

The Friends of the Library ask for your support in this unique way to help furnish our new library expansion. To book the Library Flamingos now, or for more information, please call Louise at the public library, 392-3565. Join the fun today!

Fall short wool went from 40 to 47 cents and fall lamb wool sold at 50 5/8 cents, said Joe Will Ross. Bids were competitive.

Ross commented that short wools averaged approximately $1.14 all of last year and sold for $1.05 this time last year.

"This was a tremendous shock," he said. "It hasn't been this bad since 1971, but in real terms, maybe not since the Depression. The world economy and crisis in the far east continues to hamper world natural fiber pricing."

Ross said there has been some activity going on all year on finer grades of mohair.
