DONNIE LAUGHLIN was honored as this year's Citizen of the Year at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce Banquet Thursday night.

It was the influence of coaches, school teachers and those in the 4-H program that helped Donnie Laughlin become the person Ozona knows today.

The man who is often seen on the sidelines as well as at the county stock show was honored as Citizen of the Year Thursday at the 40th annual Ozona Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Laughlin has given many a motivational pep rally talk, been a timer and picker at various track meets, a spotter for football games, an adult 4-H leader for more than 20 years and has served as coach, advisor, auctioneer, fund-raiser and trouble shooter, said Judy Churchill, chamber vice-chairman.

Laughlin has also coached the local wool and mohair judging team for 12 years, winning the national contest last year.

"I enjoy working with young people," Laughlin said. "I'm proud to have so much support and cooperation. This is a great place to live."

Commissioners discuss Helping Hands lease

By MELISSA PERNER
Editor and Publisher

A second look on an agreement between Helping Hands Inc. and Crockett County will be discussed next month.

The decision came at Monday's commissioners meeting after a lengthy discussion involving questions over a contract between Helping Hands Inc. and the county for the use of the building.

In a resolution, Janet Hill, treasurer of the Helping Hands Inc. board, said that the entire board voted unanimously to not "lease our own building."

The contract stated that Helping Hands Inc. would lease the kitchen facilities for one-year for $1. The county would pay all utilities and maintenance on the building.

"Just because we didn't sign it doesn't mean we're not in agreement to negotiate a workable contract, but the one that was presented to use was not one we could agree with," Hill said.

Terms presented to the commissioners by Helping Hands Inc. were that a new office had to be installed for a bookkeeper and for Helping Hands Inc. to pay the utilities on the building.

If the county picks up the utility bills, Helping Hands Inc. would lose $.32 a meal, Hill said.

The commissioners agreed that another office could be established and that the county would continue to maintain the building. As for paying the bills, County Judge Johnny Jones said that the only "proper" way to handle the financial aspect was to commit to a certain number of dollars each year.

"You can submit a budget request like every other department," Jones said. "The problem is to get this thing going, get it on track; we know what your requests are and get it back where it operates. We're going to have to revisit this budget."

Hill said that the organization has not raised meal costs since it started. If the county pays for the utilities, then the money credited by the state will no longer be given to Helping Hands Inc. Hill said the difference would be about $4,000. There would also be a salary increase for the new bookkeeper.

"I just think we should go back to when this started," Hill said. "We accepted in good faith the money and the work that was donated. If (the county) supplemented us each month, that would cover the money lost on utilities."

County Auditor Sandy Stokes said that the county needs a budget ahead of time to project how much money the county will need to supplement if need be. The county gives Helping Hands Inc. $28,000 a year.

"We can't change anything until this is settled," Stokes said. "Work it out and bring something back for all of us next month."

Jones said that the program has always had the priority in that

Mrs. Bean has used a graceful blue ceramic bowl to support a dazzling display of tulips and butterflies. The pinky peach color of the tulips is repeated and complimented by the three mobile butterflies and completely captures the freshness and beauty of Spring.

Thanks, Marolyn, for bringing a glimpse of spring flowers into the Library during these last gray days and storms of winter.

Concho Valley work search requirements

The Concho Valley Workforce Development Board is recommending that one work search attempt per week be mandatory for unemployment insurance recipients in the following counties: Sutton, Crockett, Schleicher, Reagan, Irion, Sterling, Coke, Concho, Menard, Mason, McCulloch and Kimble.

The proposed policy is available for review and comment at the board office at 36 East Twohig, Suite 810, San Angelo.

The Texas Administrative Code mandates that unemployment insurance recipients in the State of Texas make at least three job search attempts each week, unless local workforce boards adopt a policy to lower the requirement in rural counties (less than 10,000 population).

For information, call Cathy Ballard at 655-2005 or email cathy.ballard@twc.state.tx.us.

The Concho Valley Workforce Development Board is an equal opportunity organization.

Resident Helen Stokes is our calendar girl. Helen colors residents' room calendars each month. Thanks Helen for a job well done.

Residents that were with us on delivery for Meals on Wheels last week were Francis Flanagan, Helen Stokes, Mildred Couch and Neva Palmer. Our residents enjoyed the outing.

Friday afternoon was the making of your own pizza for our residents. There were 16 pizzas made by residents. All different kinds were made. Jo Richardson had the pizza with the most toppings. Needless to say there was not a slice of pizza left, and we're talking of 14-inch size round pizzas. Did you know there is 943 different ways to fix pizza toppings? This pizza afternoon was enjoyed by all that attended. Volunteers for this past week were E.A. Wadsworth, Esther Williams, Johnny Griffin, Otis Nester, Merle and Mary Welty, Penn Baggett, JoAnn Williamson, Nell Wester, Martha Landin, members of the Ozona Church of Christ, Catholic Church, Ozona United Methodist Church and First Baptist Church. Thanks goes to these special people that volunteer for our Care Center residents.

On March 17, our local band will be here and we will celebrate St. Patrick's Day at 3 p.m. Come join the fun.

If you haven't been by to see our new improvements, you need to come and see for yourself. From our large, happy home to yours, have a good week from all of us here at CCCC.

Who has believed our report?
Who, when He was reviled, did not revile in return when He suffered, He did not threaten, but committed Himself to Him who judges righteously.
Who Himself bore our sins in His own body on the tree, that we having died to sins might live for righteousness by whose stripes you were healed.

Shining Through

Last week I had to make an eight-hour trip by myself. I put two of my favorite Christian tapes and some memory verses in the truck and headed out. It was real cold and overcast that day and it even rained a little.

When I get the chance to get by myself it gives me time to think about a lot of things like my wonderful wife and how fortunate I am. I also think about my children and about my relationship to God.

On the way back home it started clearing up and the clouds got higher. I finally saw the sun breaking through a small hole in clouds and it looked like a giant flashlight beam hitting the earth.

Further down the road I saw the sun shining through in many places and the holes were all different sizes.

That sight reminded me about our relationship to God. There were many places the sun couldn't get through (John 3:19 & 20).

There were all so a few places that it did (John 3:21). Seeing the different size of the sunbeams breaking through reminded about how some Christians barely let God into their lives (1 Corinthians 3:1-3) while others open their hearts and lives very much to Him. How much of God have we let into our life (Psalms 89:15)?

See you in Church on Sunday.

A week to celebrate the many faces in Texas ag

AUSTIN — Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs announced that March 14-20 is National Agriculture Week in Texas — a time to celebrate the state's farmers and ranchers and acknowledge this far-reaching industry that adds some $73 billion to the Texas economy.

"From healthy food to fresh flowers to warm clothing, agriculture touches our lives every day. Agriculture provides us with generous amounts of nutrients to feed our bodies — iron from lean meat, calcium from milk, vitamin A from carrots, vitamin C from citrus, to name just a few of the ways Texas-raised foods make us healthier," Combs said. "This March, I urge all Texans to recognize the producers who add food, horticulture, fiber and good health to our lives."

Combs will kick off National Agriculture Week in Texas by signing a proclamation March 14. She will cap off the week by honoring more than 100 farming and ranching families during the 30th Annual Family Land Heritage Ceremony in Austin March 19.

"Whether your role involves growing food and fiber or just consuming it, you can take pride in Texas agriculture and the important role that it plays in our future. It is an industry that continues to meet the ever-increasing needs of consumers throughout Texas and around the world," Combs said.

From the Gulf Coast to the Panhandle, Texas is the most agriculturally diverse state. Agriculture generates $73 billion annually throughout the state's economy, with one out of every five Texans working in an agriculture-related industry.

Fast Facts:

- Texas is the second-largest agricultural state in the United States, accounting for about 7 percent of the total U.S. agricultural income.
- The food, horticulture and fiber industry is the second-largest industry in the state and generates $73 billion a year for the economy.

- Eighty percent of the land in Texas is in some form of agricultural production.

- Ninety-two percent of Texas' agricultural operations are still run by individuals or families.

- Twenty-nine percent of agricultural producers were women in 2002; the number of women who were principal operators increased 7 percent from 1997.

- Although agriculture employs one out of every five working Texans, less than 2 percent of the population is involved in day-to-day farming or ranching.

- Texas farmers grow more than 60 different commercial fruit and vegetable crops.

- Texas ranks first in the nation in the number of cattle and calves, accounting for 15 percent of the U.S. total. The Lone Star State also is the top producer of cotton, sheep, wool, goats, mohair and horses. The state's top crops also include vegetables, citrus, corn, wheat, peanuts, pecans, grain sorghum, hay and rice.

- Besides livestock and crops, the state's agriculture industry includes timber/forestry, aquaculture, bees/honey and nursery/greenhouse.

- Texas is one of the leading exporters of agricultural commodities. Texas' top agricultural exports are live animals and meat; cotton and cottonseed; feed grains and products; hides and skins; wheat and products; and feeds and fodder.

- Each Texas farmer grows enough food and fiber for 128 people — 94.3 in the United States and 33.7 abroad.

- Texas' 1 million horses, representing approximately 15 percent of all horses nationwide, makes the state a leader in the United States. Texas also leads the nation in the number of registered American Quarter Horses, American Paint Horses, Appaloosa horses and American Miniature Horses.

THE OZONA HIGH SCHOOL VARSITY TENNIS TEAM will compete in the State Team Tennis Tournament in Round Rock next weekend after placing second in the regional competition held in Mason this past weekend.

Tennis team headed for state

By BECKY BARRERA
Stockman Sportswriter

The Ozona High School tennis team has accomplished a goal that has eluded them to many times in the past.

The varsity team has qualified to play in the 2004 State Team Tennis Championships this weekend in Round Rock.

The tennis team finished fourth in the region for the past three years, eliminating them from any chance to advance.

This year proved to be the "year of the lion" as they finished second in the Regional Tournament in Mason.

After receiving a bye in the first round, the second round seeded the Lions and Lady Lions in defeating Miles 10-1 to advance to the semi-finals where they faced their past nemesis Wall.

The Lions and Lady Lions played lights-out as they defeated a very talented Wall team 10-2.

Their luck ran out in the finals, as they faced defending state champions Mason, and were defeated 10-5.

Sonora, in fifth place, defeated Wall for third place, which set up a playback between Ozona and Sonora for second place and the trip to the state tournament.

The match with Sonora was extremely close, but the Lions and Lady Lions were able to prevail and win 10-9.

"I've never been more proud of my team as I am right now," said Coach Rick Bachman.

"We've worked extremely hard for many years to be able to represent this tough region in the team tennis state tournament. We had our ups and downs, but we never gave up and were able to triumph over a very tough Sonora team in the playback. The emotions in this match were at a fever pitch from the beginning and steadily increased as the match progressed. I'm proud of the way many of our players responded to some of the unpleasant situations that arose during the course of the match."

There was some great talent and depth this year as the players of the tennis team had done well in all of the previous tournaments, but the way they have worked and fought to get the job done in San Angelo was simply fantastic. This has been an outstanding and tremendous season for the Ozona Varsity Tennis Team. Congratulations and good luck at state.

The OHS Varsity Tennis Team will be leaving at 10 a.m. Thursday for the 2A and under State Team Tennis Tournament in Round Rock. Show your support by lining the square on Avenue E to wish the kids luck as the bus leaves town.

JV Lions 3rd at Hubbell Relays

By MELISSA PERNER
Editor and Publisher

The JV Boys of the Lions track team also traveled to the Hubbell Relays and competed.

"These athletes realized good improvement in their events and had a team finish of 114 points," said Coach Tom Duncan.

The standings are: Nueces Canyon, 167 points; Mason, 156; Ozona JV, 114; Junction, 66 and Eden, 55.

Placings are: Discus - Matthew Payne, first, 108-feet, 7 1/2-inches; Caleb Mitchel, fifth, 97-6 1/2.

Triple jump - Tate Collis, second, 33-4 1/2; Roman Tambunga, fourth, 30-9.

Shot put - Freddy Fierro, third, 34-2 1/2; Payne, fifth, 33-1.

800-meter run - Collis, first, 2 minutes, 21.06 seconds; Tambunga, third, 2:24.27.

110-meter hurdles - Mitchel, first, 16.98.

100-meter dash - Michael Maldonado, second, 12.23; Jose Galvan, third, 12.67.

400-meter dash - Collis, first, 57.63.

300-meter hurdles - Mitchel, first, 46.46; John Tom Tyerina, second, 50.36.

200-meter dash - Maldonado, fourth, 26.53; Galvan, fifth, 26.94.

1,600-meter run - Tambunga, second, 5:25.48.

CHAMBER: Perner, Martinez, Meador and 4-H also win banquet awards

"He is respected by producers and ranchers who depend upon his insight and advice," Churchill added. "He always maintains a positive attitude even when the market is negative."

Scotty and Linda Moore received a special recognition award for their dedication and years of service as previous owners of The Ozona Stockman.

"Putting out a newspaper every week means you never get more than one or two consecutive days off-ever," said Scott Moore Jr. of his parents' profession. "Scotty and Linda have not had a full week of vacation since 1976. They have published a paper every week except one, since 1975."

Also receiving a special recognition award was the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District for their assistance in bringing computer classes to the people of Ozona.

Lynn Maness Perner, owner of Maness Texaco and The Little Store, received the Member of the Year Award.

"A huge fan of her hometown, her feathers will quickly ruffle in defense if comments made about our 'wonderful little town,' as she says, are short of positive," said Sally Oglesby, incoming chamber director.

Over the past 23 years, Perner has met a variety of people from all over the country and the world that come off Interstate-10 into Ozona.

"I have the honor of getting to tell curious travelers of our little town," she said. "One of the requirements of my employees is to be able to give good directions into and around town."

Luis Martinez was honored with the Legacy of Spirit Award for his 35 years of service to Crockett County, as well as assistance to the Hispanic community in helping the elderly fill out paperwork such as Social Security information, wills and deeds.

Martinez also owned Dina's Poco Taco for 15 years, has served as a school board trustee, is a charter member of the Knights of Columbus and is a lifetime member of the Catholic Church.

"However, his greatest pastime is with his grandchildren and great-grandchildren," said Robert Flores, retiring chamber director.

For Doug Meador, the recipient of the Unsung Hero award, he was surprised to hear his name.

Meador has lived on and off in Ozona since 1984. He is a member of the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department, has served as training chief and is the assistant Crockett County Fire Marshal. He is also a member of the Crockett County EMS and has served as EMS Coordinator, is an EMS instructor and a paramedic.

He worked for Cook Children's Hospital in the Emergency Room in 2001.

"He love working with kids, and is well-known at Cook's Hospital for the way he handles children," said Fire Chief Bob Falkner.

Meador returned to Ozona in 2002 and continued to serve ever since.

"It's humbling to be here and look out at the crowd and see so many unsung heroes," Meador said. "It still humbles me to be here."

The Crockett County 4-H was honored as Organization of the Year for its involvement in a number of community service projects. The organization consists of 100 youth ranging from 8-18 years-old.

Some of their projects this year include writing letters to local soldiers in Iraq, creating Valentines for Crockett County Care Center residents and decorating Easter eggs for the annual community hunt.

"Youth and community service are usually two things that don't belong together because it usually means the kids are getting in trouble," said Wendy Scott, county family consumer science agent. "4-H kids are doing good work and volunteering their time."

Also honored at this year's banquet were officers and directors of the first four chambers including Oscar Kost, Troy Williams, J.B. Miller, John Childress, Jack Baggett and Dick Kirby.

Kay Shaffer was honored as outgoing chairman with a $100 check to the Crockett County 4-H Angelo Tree Charity by incoming chairman Louise Ledoux.

Retiring directors are Jim Skehan, Frank Tambunga and Flores.

Incoming directors are Mack Richie, Debbie Long, Oglesby and Scott.

Officers for this year include chairman Ledoux, Churchill, vice chairman, past chairman Shaffer and treasurer Clay Gentry.

Boy Scout Troop 153 posted the colors, Stan Burseson provided dinner music and members of the National Honor Society served the meal catered by Bitterweed Catering.

Comptroller states $1.6 billion in federal funds left on table for Medicaid and CHIP

AUSTIN-Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn told the Mental Health Association in Texas that due to state budget cuts in Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance, Texas is leaving an estimated $1.6 billion on the table in federal funds. She made the announcement during a speech at the association's 2004 Honoring Dinner where she was the recipient of the Texas Champion award.

She said the federal money has been left on the table while, "107,000 children have been dropped from the CHIP rolls since last September 2003. That's a 21 percent drop in five months, and Texas was already dead last in the percent of children without health insurance. That's unconscionable."

In the last regular legislative session $41.2 million in state and federal funds were cut from the 2004 mental health budget, Strayhorn said. And Medicaid coverage for adults who need counselors and psychologists was eliminated entirely—up to 200,000 adults will lose these services, she said.

"All of the severe health cuts put together totaled more than $1 billion. We could have more than restored these cuts with a dollar tax increase on a pack of cigarettes as I recommended during the last session. We would have brought in $1.5 billion this biennium with that tax increase. This adiyinistration is abdicating its responsibilities—and ignoring state challenges is creating local crises," Strayhorn said.

Strayhorn estimates that a total of almost $583 million is available now to restore some severe cuts in health care and to fully restore all mental health services for children and fully restore Medicaid cuts for mental health services. Of that, there are $469.3 million that could be distributed by budget execution and another $113.4 million that could be appropriated in a special session.

Interns from Mexico study holistic management at David West Station

By PEGGY MADDOX

Janice Castro Ramirez, Odette Gómez García, and Juan Carlos García Avilez, three young veterinary students from Mexico are the second group of interns at the David West Station for Holistic Management.

In 2001, The Savory Center in Albuquerque, New Mexico, inherited the 11,000 acre ranch from David West. He stipulated in his will that the ranch was to be a working ranch using the principles of holistic management and would also be an education and research site.

The Savory Center is a non-profit organization that teaches holistic management decision-making.

The Holistic Management Model, developed by Allan Savory, is a decision-making framework that helps one make decisions that are socially, economically and environmentally sound.

These Mexican scholars learned of holistic management and the West Ranch internship while studying with Dr. Manuel Cases at Chapa de Mota, a learning site for the veterinary school of Mexico's National University.

Their training included a specific production model, "agro-silvo-pastoral," which means they combine agriculture, livestock, and forestry. Odette explained that they have a multi-species herd of horses, cows, sheep, goats, and pigs grazing in a pine and oak forest.

The students arrived last August and have been involved

INTERNERS FROM MEXICO are working and learning at the David West Station for Holistic Management. In 1991, David West wrote a will that stated he wanted The Savory Center to use his estate to create a holistic management research and education facility.

in all aspects of the work at West Ranch as well as taking a class from University of Texas via the Internet.

Janice said, "I hope to be a real help here, because there is a lot to learn here. I hope I get to fully understand holistic management and how they practice it for real. I also want to learn about living in a rural place, because we come from Mexico City."

Each intern has his own special project. Juan Carlos has collected and identified plants and cares for the chickens. Odette has taken over the organic gardening for the ranch. Janice is mainly involved with caring for the livestock as well as working on an insect collection.

All have participated in biological monitoring of transects that have been established at the ranch. They also have traveled to various seminars and helped the veterinarian here in Ozona.

Joe and Peggy Maddox, managers of the ranch, said the interns have added so much to life at the ranch.

"This is an exchange in cultures as well as a working/learning relationship," said Peggy Maddox.

Juan Carlos and Odette will be leaving soon for Mexico, but Janice completes her internship in July.

Janice added, "I just love all the wildlife. I think the ranch is a place with big potential, not only for sheep and cows, but to produce knowledge and friendship. I hope people come and visit, to see how it changes with holistic management."

COUNTY: museum care, new lifts for care center discussed

facility, and that everyone is going to have to cooperate in order for an agreement to work.

"Obviously there's something wrong going on," said Commissioner Frank Tambunga. "The people that are really missing out on this are the senior citizens."

Patsy White, of the Historical Commission and Museum Board, said that the Crockett County Museum is spending the Motel money to pay for things that will attract tourism, including creating a room dedicated to Davy Crockett. They will also be doing some outside landscaping.

"So many people come into our museum that want to see Davy Crockett," she said.

White also said that the museum was having trouble getting county maintenance to repair or clean anything in the museum.

"We were told no moving of furniture or items, no mopping or cleaning," she said. "Our question is who is going to take care of our yard when it's done?"

White said that regular house cleaning can be done, but it's heavy work such as moving furniture to prepare for the archives are some things that can't be done.

"Seems that when we do ask for help, there's kind of an attitude from the county offices that that's not their job," said Jean Odom, museum board member.

"We want to work with you. We want everything to be smooth, but I don't think we can maintain that by ourselves," White added. "If we have to, we'll hire somebody."

In the past, when the building was converted to a museum, some maintenance repairs were allocated to the county, Jones said.

"When we did dedicate all this, everyone understood that the museum would take care of all that," Tambunga said.

Jones said the museum should keep calling the Crockett County Road Department for maintenance, but no necessarily for the day to day janitorial duties.

Victoria Childress, director of nursing at the Crockett County Care Center, presented a policy for two additional lifts for the care center. The two lifts would cost about $5,000.

County Attorney Bill Mason said that there may be money in the trust fund to help purchase the lifts.

"Our primary goal has been and will be to continue patient safety," Childress said. "Two lifts would work more effectively and sufficiently without creating additional waiting time."

No action was taken by the commissioners on the two lifts policy at this time.

Jones also introduced a Crockett County Employee Safety Incentive Plan that would include incentives for employees each pay period, monthly, quarterly and at the end of the year no injuries on the job.

Benny Gibbs, care center administrator, and Eddie Moore, county road supervisor, both said that their offices are currently doing safety programs and planning to implement their own in house incentive programs.

Jones said the policy was just something to look it. No action was taken by the commissioners. The policy comes as workman's compensation insurance premiums are increasing.

"We are trying to limit our claims, hold down our premiums and pass along some things to benefit the employees," Jones said. "Good policies and good procedures, implemented may be able to help us. That's what we're shooting for."

The commissioners also approved an execution of an amendment of flood damage prevention from the Federal Emergency Management Agency to participate in the regular national flood insurance program effective April 1.

Other agenda items approved:
Final plan for Phase II of the Hersey Ranch subdivision.
Accepted a bid of $2,500 for the sale of a mobile home to Antonio Rodriguez.
Renewal of airport lease contract and agreement.
Appointed Cynthia Flores to the Senior Citizens Board.

Contribution of $3,000 to Crockett County Soil and Water Conservation District.
Expenditure of $1,251 for installation of street light on Cenisa Street.
