Leaders of the PTA said it will be necessary to have close cooperation of the parents in the tests. In the first place the parents will have to give their consent for the tests, which are harmless and will cost nothing. Then the parent will be expected to cooperate to see that the patch stays on the child for the desired time.

Patches have been ordered by doctors at West Plains Hospital and are on hand.

Take Crucial Game From Tullia; Hornets Edge Mules

It was a night of mixed emotions when the Mules and Mulettes played host to the Tullia Hornets last Friday night. The Mulettes won the game that clinched the district title for them 56-49. The Mules, however, lost a heart breaker 60-55.

The Mulettes were the first to score in their all important district battle but the visiting girls proved here was a game ahead by jumping back to take a 15-9 first quarter lead. In their previous meet at Tullia on January 25 the Mulettes had led at the end of one by exactly the same score.

It took everything the locals had to hustle to a 24-13 lead going into the second half. With ten seconds remaining in the first half Jean Montgomery laid in the shot that gave Muleshoe its first lead since she scored on the night's first charity toss.

The third quarter was one of the most awkward played by the Mulettes since the beginning of district play, however, the Tullia offense had slackened its fast pace set in the first half and the locals were able to hold a 39-36 third period edge.

Muleshoe moved on ahead in the final frame to clinch the District 2-AA title Jean Montgomery was high point for the night sinking a total of 32. Timmons led the Tullia girls with 21.

TULLIA WINS
In their previous encounter with the Hornets the Mules had trailed by a large margin throughout the first half but Friday night the Mules were in the game from the start. They led 16-14 at the end of one, and found themselves in a 29-29 tie at the end of the first half.

The Mules played a brand of ball in the second half that kept the crowd dizzy with excitement. When the Tullia offense was working there was just one thing that mattered to any of the local players. "Get the ball". Muleshoe was on top 47-42 at the end of the third quarter.

Neither team was there to play around when the last quarter started. The score ran almost even as the minutes rolled by. With two seconds of playing time remaining and the score 59-58 in Muleshoe's favor, a Tullia boy was fouled. Tullia called time out as their fans went wild. It was like a tomb as the Hornets came back out and their boy stepped to the foul line. Once, twice he scored. The clock started and the Hornets won 60-59.

Eugene Shaw led the Mules by laying in 23. Jeff Carlile and Bobo Hamilton teamed up to make 16 each for the Tullia team.

Tickets will be 75c for adults and 50c for children.

Farmers Protest Allotment Plan

One of the most important matters discussed at the last board meeting of the Bailey County Farm Bureau was the problems arising from the combining of dry land farms in the south part of Bailey County with irrigated farms in the north part of the county. The object behind such combinations is usually to move the cotton allotment from the dry land farm to the irrigated farm. Such combinations often result in all the acres of the irrigated farm being put in cotton.

Many farmers in the county have expressed strong resentment against this policy. They feel that this defeats the primary object of cotton allotments which is to reduce supply and also defeats the purposes of soil conservation practices by placing a very high premium on one crop system.

It was further pointed out to the directors by farmers south of the sand hills that this practice was also having a serious effect on their communities. They stated that this combining of farms was most frequently done by absentee land lords who owned both dry land and irrigated farms. He would move the dry land farmer off and rent the land to the farmer operating the irrigated farm. Thus he would comply with the State ASC regulations on combining farms and could move the cotton allotment of the dry land farm to the irrigated farm.

Many farm houses, south of the sand hills, formerly occupied by good substantial citizens, are now vacant or occupied by negroes of Mexicans. This is posing a serious threat to the schools, school bus routes and mail routes in the area.

Many farmers living next to farms controlled by an absentee operator feel that such an operator is not much interested in the dry land farm once he has the cotton allotment moved to the irrigated farm and, as has been frequently demonstrated, let the dry land farm grow up in tumble weeds or become subject to wind erosion much to the detriment of the community. In some localities shinnery sand has been plowed up to procure a cotton allotment then move to good irrigated lands and lands left to blow and raise tumble weeds.

The big majority of irrigation farmers in Bailey County are not in position to take advantage of this combining privilege. Many of them expressed the sentiment that it was very unfair in that the farmers who combined such farms were then in position to produce much more cotton than the same farms not combined. This in turn increases national production and thereby cuts down on the cotton allotment of all farmers for next year.

The Directors pointed out that if Bailey County was the only area doing this it would have an insignificant effect on national production, but the fact that this same system or a similar system is practiced throughout the cotton producing states, does have a decided effect on national production. In some areas where they have no irrigation, they achieve a similar result by combining low producing farms with high producing farms.

The Farm Bureau delegates at the State Convention in Galveston passed a resolution in opposition to the practice of combining dry land and irrigated farms for allotment purposes. With this in mind, the directors appointed a special committee to study the matter and come up with recommendations to be presented at the policy execution meeting to be held in Lubbock the last of February.

The Farm Bureau committee met with the Bailey County ASC committee to discuss the problem. The ASC committee made it evident that they disliked the practice of combining dry land with irrigation farms but were unable to do anything about it since such combinations were permitted under present State ASC regulations. They further expressed a willingness to cooperate with the Farm Bureau to secure more equitable regulations.

The Farm Bureau committee expressed an intention of working toward that end. They think that it is too late to get any changes made for 1955 but hope to see changes made in the 1956 regulations.

They also stated that this practice would have to be nationwide and not county-wide as it would not be fair to restrict the farmers in Bailey County and let the rest of the nation continue combining cotton acres.

According to best estimates there are 35 such combinations in Bailey County at the present time and the tempo is increasing.

Ar-Pan-Ex was perfected by a noted scientist of a world-famed university, working with all known facts about these crippling ailments. The result is a safe, easy to take tablet that promotes the fastest relief known from that stubborn enemy.

The powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can be quickly carried by the blood stream to every pain-wracked muscle joint and nerve.

Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Two defeats dropped the local freshmen from the running in the Floydada Jr. high school basketball tournament held last Wednesday through Saturday. On Wednesday afternoon the frosh squad fell before Littlefield 41-19. Jerry Blaylock was high point for Muleshoe with six. David Mordici led Littlefield to victory with 20 points.

Lonnie Dee Merriott, who was injured in a pickup accident five weeks ago, is still in the West Plains Hospital, but is reported doing fine.

Shaw and Wilson Pace '55 Mules

The 1954-55 Muleshoe Mules wrap up a very successful season tonight at Olton, having their best year since the district champs of 1950-51. The Mules have actually won more games this year than did the district team four years ago, which won 3rd in regional, with a 17-11 record.

The team has been paced this year by co-captains Eugene Shaw and Gordon Wilson. Shaw the "Little Sparkplug" will set a school scoring mark in tonight's game. The diminutive (5' 11") forward has basketed a total of 497 points in 26 games this year, a 19.1 clip. "Flash" Gordon Wilson has been right behind Shaw all year. The big 6' 2" center has been hampered in his scoring average by his all out scrap in controlling the backboards. He usually manages to rule the roost on rebounds, but receives a lot of fouls in fighting for the pill. He has left many games with only one half gone, and in one, against Sundown, fouled out after one quarter, scoring only one point in the contest. Still, Gordon has netted 400 points in 27 games for a 14.8 per game average.

About Homemakers & Homemaking IN BAILEY COUNTY

By MOLLIE STINSON

Mrs. W. W. Couch, council chairman, Mrs. S. C. Caldwell, County THDA chairman, Mrs. Roy Carney and I attended the training meeting Monday for council chairmen, THDA chairmen and agents. This interesting and helpful meeting was held in Idaho. Included on the program was Mrs. Harris, past state president of Texas Home Demonstration Association, from Plainview. She was certainly an inspiration to anyone interested in the work of this group.

Part of the meeting included planning the District THDA meeting to be held in Morton on April 28. I hope that many of the home demonstration club women from this county will attend.

4-H club demonstrations this week were on grooming. Included in the program were slides on "Care of Clothes" and "Grooming". The agent gave a short demonstration on the arrangement of dresser drawers for better utilization of the space and easier dressing.

All of the 4-H club presidents, adult leaders and a delegate from each club will attend a meeting Saturday, Feb. 19 at 2 pm in the agent's office in the courthouse. This meeting will be to plan the county program for 4-Hers this year. Such things as the county dairy food demonstration contest, dress review and county camp will be discussed. This group will also decide on how those girls who attend district camps and roundup will be selected this year.

Seven girls have shown interest in a Muleshoe High 4-H group to meet on Saturdays. The following officers were elected at the first meeting: Pat Cooper, president; Jay Carney, vice-president; Velta Gillis, secretary. Other members include Virginia Gillis, Mary Carney, Evelyn Bratcher, and Louise Davis. The adult leader for the group is Mrs. Roy Carney. It is not too late for other girls interested in this work to join. The next club meeting will be Saturday, March 5. The place will be announced later. This group plans to work on shrubs and landscaping. The next program will be slides on the shrubbery identification list from the Extension Service. There will be a county contest on shrub identification if enough girls or boys, thirteen or older are interested. The winners of this contest will then compete in the district contest on May 7. Winners of the district contest will attend 4-H Roundup at A & M College in June. The county team to go to the district will be composed of the four high scoring individuals in the county contest.

At the home demonstration club meetings this month, in addition to the demonstration on buttonholes, facings and collars, I am showing slides on Farm and Home Development. This is something I think you'll all be interested in hearing about.

C. N. Horne Dies At Plainview Home

C. N. Horne, uncle of Mrs. Doris English of Muleshoe, passed away of a heart attack in his home in Plainview Wednesday. He was a pioneer of Hale County, having resided at Plainview 47 years.

Mr. Horne is survived by his wife; four sisters, Mrs. J. H. Hay, Waco; Mrs. L. E. Harris and Mrs. D. C. Smith, Plainview; and Miss Sally Horne, Phoenix; and a brother, Tom Horne, Bay City.

He and Mrs. Horne helped to raise the children of the late John Tuttle when he lost his wife in 1917. Along with his sister, Minnie Campbell, the children are Mrs. English; Ellen Lookingbill, Bob Tuttle, Amarillo; Milton Tuttle, Big Timber, Mont.; and Sallie Tuttle, San Diego, Calif.

Funeral services will be conducted from the First Methodist Church in Plainview at 2 pm Friday. Rev. Stephen Shorter, Albuquerque, officiating. Interment will be in Plainview Memorial Park.

Senior Play Is Announced

The Senior class of 1954-55 announced this week that the class play this year will be "We Shook The Family Tree", a three act comedy from the popular book by Hildegarde Dolson, dramatized by Perry Clark.

The cast consists of seven women and five men and includes such delightful characters as — attractive Hildegarde, who turns the town upside down; her younger sister who helps; her older brother who invents hilarious gadgets; two parents with their hands more than full; Mr. and Mrs. Shermar who insist on knickers; Freddie who has to wear them; two extra pretty and extra popular girls, and a mischief making little girl who even eats a tube of toothpaste. The whole thing promises to be a laugh a minute from the time the curtain goes up with Hildegarde afraid she will be doomed to spinsterhood if a date to the biggest prom of the year doesn't come along quick.

The dates for cast tryouts and production are to be announced at a later date.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

We have always wondered a little about the motive of the writer of a "Letter to the Editor" with the name withheld by request of the writer. We understand this procedure of course, when the writer feels he must publish something of a nature that may endanger his life, or even his reputation; but when he claims a desire to have his ideas put into practice by an organization of which he is a member in good standing, it seems only logical to us that he should at least let the officials of that organization know who he is and what his suggestions are.

We know of no organization or institution to which we belong that is perfect, even in our far-from-perfect judgment; but when we have complaints or suggestions to make regarding improvement, we go to someone within the organization who can or could take action on our suggestions. We may as well go on and say that our ideas have not a lwa ys received enthusiastic support where they have been heard, though sometimes they have.

These experiences have helped us to understand, rather forcibly in some cases, that our ideas and those of some of our fellow members are not exactly alike. When it was possible to get those ideas before the delegate body and have a decision made by majority vote, a democratic method, we have been able to see whether whether it was right or wrong, not withstanding. The vote did

Littlefield Upsets Mulettes 50-48

The underdog Littlefield Wildcats came from behind Tuesday night to upset the District 2-AA champion Mulettes 50-48. Watching from the bench for the first time in three years was Muleshoe's hook shot artist, Jean Montgomery. Jean was acting on the advice of her doctors and coach due to a tonsil ailment. Ginger Gaede started at the vacant post position.

Barbara Douglass used a long shot effectively to pace the Mulettes to an easy 16-8 lead over the girls from Littlefield in the first quarter.

After coasting through the first quarter the Mulettes found themselves in trouble before the end of the first half. Littlefield rallied to add 15 points to their opening round eight and tie the game up 23-23.

Early in the third quarter Littlefield went ahead for the first time. Mid-way through the frame Elaine Evans moved into the offensive lineup for Muleshoe. Douglass went over to the center slot and Gaede moved down the court to her regular defensive position.

Muleshoe trailed 39-34 at the end of the third quarter. Late in the round the Mulettes began to put defense first and virtually stopped the Wildcat scoring.

Trailing ten points and with only four minutes remaining in the game the rally began for Muleshoe. No matter who had the ball the defense was desperate. Quickly the lead was cut to four points but time ran out with the locals still lacking two.

It was Muleshoe's first loss in 16 starts.

Peachy Cowen capitalized on her hook shot to lead the Littlefield attack with 34 points. Barbara Douglass took the night's honors by sinking a grand total of 35.

The Mulettes will meet Olton girls tonight for their last game before meeting Shamrock in the bi-district contest.

Mules Win 63-56 Over Outsiders

The Mules took a 63-56 win over the City All-Stars Tuesday night in the local gym.

The Mules took full advantage of condition and rolled by the outsiders to lead 13-5 at the end of the first quarter.

Even though their offense began to click in the second frame the outsiders were unable to catch the Mules, who moved to top the half time score 33-26.

Late in the third round of play the All-Stars closed the gap and went ahead for the first time. They led 41-40 going into the last quarter.

After threatening early in the fourth the city team fell back under the power of the well-onditioned Mules. Eugene Shaw paced the Mules' scoring with a total of 31. Bud Barber scored 15 points for the All-Stars.

Jr. Squads Take Four From Olton

Muleshoe's Jr high basketball teams took four in a row Monday night as guests of the Olton Jr. Mustangs.

Gwen Williams led the local eighth grade girls to a 23-14 win by scoring 12 points. Gray and Saint shared Olton's top place with six each.

The home town eighth grade boys edged Olton 21-16 in a very evenly matched game. Muleshoe's Leroy Carralez took the honors with what seemed to be a standard 12 points.

The frosh Mulettes held tight on defense and rolled to a 15-5 first quarter lead in the night's third game.

The local defense was excellent as they allowed only nine Olton tallies in the first half, and kept the ball fed back to the Muleshoe offense for a 23-9 first half score.

Olton saw its best quarter in the third but it wasn't good enough to keep the Mulettes from coasting to a 33-17 lead going into the final frame.

Subs finished the contest for Muleshoe. The final score 44-29. Mary Jo Holt laid in 16 for Muleshoe. Elaine Evans followed close with 14. Doniece Silcott was high for Olton with nine.

The home town freshmen boys took the first lead of their game and held an 8-5 first quarter lead.

Muleshoe never lost that lead moving to be ahead 13-9 at the half, 27-19 at the end of three and the final score read 48-24.

MAGIC SLATES, 2 sizes, on sale at The Journal.

Morton Scores 1

The local six grade boys all but shut out the visiting Morton team Tuesday afternoon, downing Morton 18-1.

Brock Motor Co. Will Show New Hudson Car Line

Appointment of Brock Motor Co., Plainview Highway, Muleshoe, as a Hudson dealer has been announced by N. K. VanDerzee, vice-president in charge of sales for the Hudson Motors Division of American Motors Corporation. Mr. Ernest H. Brock heads the new dealership, latest addition to the Hudson Division's nationwide retail sales organization.

Mr. Brock stated that the '55 Hornets and Wasps will be on display soon. He now has a Rambler on the floor and invites your inspection of these cars.

Commenting on his appointment as a Hudson dealer, Mr. Brock said:

"We are pleased to have become members of the large family of Hudson dealers throughout the United States. Hudson is a name that has become synonymous with performance, economy and durability, and we are sure that the Hudson Division's new product program, which now provides an outstanding value to fit every car-buyer's budget, will meet with approval in our community.

"We are especially impressed with the newest additions to the Hudson line, new companion cars for the Hornet and the Wasp. The Hudson Rambler in sedans, hardtops and station wagons is definitely a 'new-idea' car, built to meet new, changed driving needs, including traffic and parking congestion.

"And the Hudson Metropolitan in sports-car size, with its hardtops and convertibles at sensationally low prices, is something refreshingly new on the American motor-car scene."

Mr. Brock announced that Hudson's complete line of Hornets, Wasps, Ramblers, and Metropolitan will be on display in the company's Plainview Highway

We have thought of Thy loving kindness, O God, in the midst of Thy temple.— (Psalms 48, 9.)

If we go to church merely as a formality or habit—or if we just sit there passively listening—what is the benefit, where the devotion? Rather should we affirm in our hearts, each individually and personally, God's abiding mercy and love, and strive in righteousness to earn them.

FARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News
By RAYMOND EULER

Membership renewals continue to come in ahead of time. T. E. Lett and his membership drive workers appreciate this more than you know, because they will have time to talk to pros-and D. H. Nelson attended. Most if not all of these, will be community drive chairmen. Confusion results when opinions of various commentators and writers are put together. They range from saying the farmer is doomed as a cotton, wheat or grain producer, or as a diversified farmer and stockman, to saying everything is rosy and the farmer is getting too good a deal. With complete disregard as they once might have thought agriculture will have a pretty pective new members at drive time. Membership leaders were in Lubbock Monday afternoon and evening laying plans for spring drives. They heard and talked with Walter Hammond and other State Officials as well as American Farm Bureau Officials. Lovett, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Archie McCutchan, O. B. Moyer, Charlie Calaway, Hadley Beeve, good year, with better ones coming in the future. Many are beginning to realize that marketing perhaps with particular emphasis on exports, is the problem that must be solved to compensate for modern mechanized production. Even over ambitious politicians are facing the reality of their suspicions that agricultural producers are not as dumb as they once might have thought. The man who offers higher income for the farmer "when he is elected", is being faced with the simple, but sometimes perplexing question, "How?" Fortunately, the answer is being earnestly sought and some progress is being made to its solution.

We want to extend a sincere welcome to the new residents of Farmer County. It would be nice if we could list them but there are too many. The majority of them are transferring their membership in Farm Bureau here, or enrolling as new members. We want you all to know that your suggestions for improving the effective operation of your organization will be given full consideration. We are glad to see and hear that many of the newcomers are active church people, too.

Consider This: Doth not wisdom cry and understanding put forth her voice? Proverbs 8-1.

Social Security Man Here Feb. 23

Our representative will be in Muleshoe at the Post Office at 9:30 am on Feb. 23 and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles prepared for farm families by the Lubbock, Texas, District Office of the Social Security Administration.

Most farm operators will be affected by social security in two ways, beginning January 1, 1955. We have discussed how he will determine and report his own income for social security in previous articles. Today, we will endeavor to explain his responsibility concerning his hired farm laborers under the social security laws.

The law provides that any farm worker, whether it be outside the farm home or inside, who is paid as much as $100 in cash wages in a calendar year is covered by social security and such wages must be reported by the farm operator. There is no other test except the receipt of $100 or more in cash wages. These wages are taxable, 2% to be collected by the farmer from the worker when he is paid and another 2% to be paid by the farm operator when the wages are reported to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

This means that Farmer A must deduct two cents from each dollar of cash wages earned by his hired help; must obtain each worker's social security number and full name from the worker's social security card; and, must report these numbers, names and amounts of wages paid each worker to the government thru the Bureau of Internal Revenue, periodically. Along with the reports, Farmer A will send the tax collected from the workers, together with a matching amount for himself. Only cash wages are to be reported and taxed.

Should Farmer A hire a hand and be uncertain whether or not the hand will receive as much as $100 cash wages, he is permitted to deduct the tax from his hand's wages anyhow, and, is less than $100 is paid, give the tax back to the worker when he leaves Farmer A's employment.

This coverage of farm labor is compulsory on both the farmer and the farm worker. Forms on which the reports are to be made will be furnished by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, along with instructions on how to complete

Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind.—(Romans 12, 2.)

Happy and strengthened is he who, in God's presence, cleanses his mind every morning of doubts, fears, anxieties, negative and resentful thoughts. Then, in devotion, he must replace them with positive, constructive thoughts—renewing his mind with the good that is God.

Minister Urges People To Work For Community

Rev. James Todd, minister of the First Christian Church, delivered a powerful plea for all people to work for their community and its institutions in a talk before the Rotary Club Tuesday. He is chairman of the club's community service committee.

The speaker reminded his listeners that he has been a resident of Muleshoe only three months, but that he has not waited for others to call on him, rather he has volunteered his services and time to public projects.

Rev. Todd said he couldn't imagine a man or a woman residing in a community and enjoying its benefits without trying to do something to improve that community and make it a better place in which to live. He strongly urges individuals to work for their schools, their churches, and the welfare of the whole community.

The speaker was introduced by Harry Waddle, program chairman this month. Guests included John Stevens, the junior Rotarian; Harry Lyman, Clovis Rotarian; and Ves Terry, Sudan Rotarian.

TOO MANY LUXURIES
The greatest trouble with this modern living is to keep our ambitions pinned down to our salaries.

EYES ON GOAL
Successful is the man who goes straight forward—with an aim on only what is right.

Too many dollars in the wrong man's pocket soon crowds out the sense in his head.

The half of the world able to make ends meet is unable to understand why the other half is always short.

It is next to impossible to make a man see the light if he is blind to his own interests.

Natural Gas Conservation Aim Of Texas Bill

One of the most important conservation measures in Texas history is the Economic Waste

Bill now pending before both houses of the Texas Legislature. Jack Woodward of Dallas, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, has pointed out.

"This legislation, which is House Bill 7 and Senate Bill 49, would prevent the economic waste of Texas' second greatest natural resource, its natural gas," Woodward declared.

"Huge quantities of such gas, bought at depressed prices from small producers, farmers and royalty owners, are daily shipped North. After being piped 1,500 miles, the gas is dumped at prices cheaper than Texas homeowners can buy it locally."

Pipeline monopolies can do this by offering the small gas producer a "take it or leave it" price. However, Texas natural gas will not last forever, Woodward warned, and steps must be taken to conserve it and use it wisely for the economic good of the state.

"The Economic Waste Bill would place the regulation and conservation of our natural gas under the Texas Railroad Commission which has done such an outstanding job with Texas' flourishing oil industry," Woodward said. "This would prevent price fixing by selfish interests, would conserve this valuable and irreplaceable resource and would halt further attempts by the Federal government to take over control of the Texas gas industry."

Texas citizens, concerned over the depletion of the state's natural gas, were urged by Woodward to call or write their State Senators and Representatives and urge them to support passage of the Economic Waste Bill.

Corn Planting Time In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 15—Drouth received most of the blame for an average per acre corn yield of only 16 bushels last year in Texas. Scores of growers, however, beat the drouth and report near phenomenal yields.

San Jacinto county farmer Wade Parker hauled in 91 bushels an acre. He gave the credit to "good land preparation and fertilization based on the needs of the soil". W. F. Smith, of the same county, pulled 83.7 bushels an acre.

Doyce Turner, Lamb County 4-H boy, set an all-time record in the 1954 Texas Hybrid program. His irrigated Texas Hybrid 30 made an impressive 204.3 bushels an acre.

Corn planting time is here again, says Ben R. Spears, extension agronomist, who offers some tips on how to do better with corn in '55.

Plant as soon as weather permits so the crop can get maximum growth before summer's heat and dry weather sets in, advises Spears. In most areas, the time of the last average frost is about right. Poor germination and slow growth results from earlier planting.

A deep, well-pulverized, weed-free seedbed is an "of course" for high yields, the agronomist continues. To conserve moisture, the seedbed needs early preparation and as little disturbance as possible until planting.

Even the bumps are smoother

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways — they're rolling up bigger sales than ever in history — topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three."

in the '55 Buick ride

To be honest — there are some bumps which nothing will level out completely. Yet even the real rough ones turn out a lot smoother when you're in a 1955 Buick.

And that's not just our say-so. New owners of these bright new beauties keep telling us that.

So you may wonder—how come? What's different about the Buick ride that makes it such a marvel?

The answer is—plenty.

Most cars have coil springs on front wheels only. Buick has them all around — and this year they're newly calibrated for even deeper smothering of jounce and jar. So here your ride is balanced, buoyant, level, serenely smooth.

Most cars drive through the rear springs. Buick drives through a torque-tube that takes up all driving thrust, wipes out rear-wheel wiggle and wag, steadies your going to a sure and solid track.

And no other car in all America has these great comfort extras plus the backbone of a massive X-braced frame plus both direct and lever-type shock absorbers to snub after-bounce plus a special front-end geometry to stabilize "cornering" plus tubeless tires on extra-wide rims for softer riding and greater stability.

Surely, you owe it to yourself to try this great Buick travel, just to judge things for yourself.

You'll find it the nearest thing to velvet on wheels—and made even more so by the silkiness of record-high V8 power and the absolute smoothness of Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* Come visit us this week — for sure.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Miss June Smith Becomes Bride of Frank Spittle In Lovely Evening Ceremony

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony performed at the First Baptist Church in Lazbuddie at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, February 1, Miss June Smith became the bride of Frank Donald Spittle, and Mrs. Frank Spittle, all of Lazbuddie.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a street-length dress of white organdy, featuring a tight fitting bodice and rounded collar trimmed in lace. She wore a band of white flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of blue carnations atop a white Bible.

Carrying out the tradition, something old was her earrings; something new was her dress; something borrowed was the Bible and something blue was her flowers.

Miss Jo Smith, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of blue organdy. Her other attendants were Miss Mary E. Kaelburn and her sister Miss Gracie Smith. They also wore dresses of blue.

Leonard Smith, life long friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Clarence Smith, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always". She was accompanied at the piano by Bernice Weber, who also played a prelude of wedding music and the traditional marches.

RECEPTION FOLLOWED

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the groom's parents. The serving table was covered with a lovely lace cloth and centered with double wedding rings standing in fern flanked by candles. The wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom sat opposite the punch service. Bridal attendants served the cake and punch to approximately forty guests.

After a wedding trip to points of interest in Oklahoma, the couple will be at home in the Lazbuddie community, where he is engaged in farming.

The bride attended high school at Lazbuddie and the groom graduated from Lazbuddie High school with the class of '54.

SANCTIONED SLAUGHTER

The Journal continues an article started last week, a thought provoking article by Gilbert L. Kerr, vice-president, America Fore Insurance Group. This copy was furnished by Pool Insurance Agency, which will have additional copies for local distribution.

Here is another example. The Oct. 31, 1953, "Saturday Evening Post" carried an article concerning the political fortunes of Mayor William E. Hartsfield, of Atlanta. Hartsfield, in his expiring term, had introduced and rigidly enforced life saving traffic regulations. The result I quote:

"His only defeat in six mayoralty campaigns came in 1940. His opponent ran on a platform opposing the traffic regulations, which had reduced deaths and injuries, but which had halved a record number of citizens into court."

The National Safety Council itself, only a month or so ago, in a hot, and I believe ill-advised, argument with New York's Park Commissioner Robert Moses, found itself lending aid and comfort to the anti-anti-accident camp.

A spokesman sharply assailed Moses' assertion that high speeds were a major contributor to highway fatalities; the Council found an ally in the person of an executive of the New York Auto Association, and the battle was on. As a result, Moses resigned his position as trustee of the Council; the publicity that ensued did neither the Council nor the safety movement any good.

Here is a press reaction to this tempest which I endorse completely. This is from the Albany, N. Y., Knickerbocker "News", dated Aug. 7, 1954, under the caption, "Safety Experts Give speeders Green Light".

"When top officials of automobile associations and safety councils make with speeches belittling speed as a main cause of auto accidents it may be time to take to the hills. Recent statements by them have given more aid and comfort to screw-ball car operators than anything that has happened since the first horse was frightened by Hank Ford's '999'. Never have hell-for-leather drivers been so cheered. Pop and Mom have taken another licking in their efforts to convince Junior fast driving is dangerous. Police overtaking speed maniacs are getting the answer: 'Eighty miles per hour ain't dangerous. I thought you knew.'"

This statement was not made by a safety expert—but by a guy with plain common sense.

Here is more evidence of the resistance movement—the anti-anti-accident campaign.

In the August, 1954, issue of "Car Life" Magazine appeared an article entitled "Speed Traps", which makes this startling assertion:

"Unmarked police cars, radar detectors and hidden traffic signs are menaces facing the cross-country motorists."

Enforcement of the menace—not death?

Why resistance? It is true that nearly every driver has a vote. I do not suggest, and would hate to believe, that our people knowingly, have voted themselves a license to kill.

We simply have to get this thing into its proper perspective: We, the people, license the driver. We educate our children. We make and enforce the laws.

Probably most drivers know how to drive. Convincing proof is in accident reports. They know what perfect driving is, because that's the way they were driving when the accident occurred. Of course, according to the other fellow, he was perfect, too. Sometimes we really wonder how two such perfect drivers can approach an intersection, stop, look both ways, see nothing, proceed at 10 miles an hour, then a second later shatter each other into the scrap heap. But that's the way they tell it.

So they know how. But the results prove they don't drive the way they know how to.

Accidents of all kinds are the leading cause of death among all persons aged one through 36. The automobile leads all other accidental killers.

This being so, how do we educate our children to live in the Motor Age?

The nation's total automobile bill, exclusive of accidents, is as follows:

Taxes of all kinds	$ 7 billion
Vehicles	$22 billion
Operation	$12 billion
Total	$41 billion

Against this $41 billion we spend $12 million on driver education. After 25 years, only 8,000 of our 20,000 high schools offer driver training.

What this adds up to is an indictment of attitudes: that of the public as a whole and the average driver as an individual.

To effect any improvement, attitudes will have to be changed first. A changed public attitude can force a changed driver attitude.

Here are some measurements of current attitudes:

"Popular Mechanics Magazine", in its February, 1954, issue, reports a survey of motorists' wants, the result of a poll. On the subject of speed, 2 per cent wanted a maximum of 60 mph; 31 per cent wanted a maximum of 75 mph; 54 per cent wanted a maximum of 100 mph, and 13 per cent wanted a maximum of 125 mph.

The automobile advertisements appeal, or think they do, to the attitudes of drivers. For years the ads have been full of increased horsepower, "greater power for emergencies". What emergencies? Beating a train at a crossing? Passing on hills? Passing on curves? Beating stop signals?

Horsepower was safer when only horses had it.

The following I quote from a recent advertisement for a popular foreign make:

"There's something mighty satisfying about a car that can lope along at an easy 80 to 90."

And a selling point is made that "there's ample room for the children. And ample room in Heaven too, I hope."

You have heard of the "Three E's" of Safety—education, engineering and enforcement. So have I. I believe I may have heard too much. Perhaps it would be kinder to say that I have learned too much in proportion to the results obtained.

This holy trinity of the safety engineer promises that some one of these days all will be sweetness and light on the highways.

So engineering gave us the super-highway, and along with it came the super-crack-up.

Our dereliction in the field of education has already been cited, and I am skeptical of its lasting powers under today's highway conditions. To me, there are two ways of forming or reforming attitudes. One I consider slow and uncertain. The other I consider fast and certain.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER—
 Claims Expansion of Cities Will Solve
 The Problem of Crop Surpluses

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has another odd idea this week, with maybe one or two grains of truth in it. Dear editor:

In nearly every paper you pick up these days you read something about crop controls, dissatisfaction over how much cotton or wheat or whatnot individual farmers are getting to plant this year, and at the same time everybody knows if everybody produces everything he's capable of the country will be overwhelmed with surpluses and the price will drop to nothing or the government will have to open up Fort Knox and exhaust its gold reserves buying the stuff.

This has caused a lot of people a lot of concern, and some pretty heavy thinking has been going on.

I have thought the problem over carefully myself and can now announce that the people who are alarmed are not considering all the angles.

While the problem of surpluses may be pressing at the moment, if we can just hold on a little while longer, it'll disappear.

I make this prediction from a recent trip I had to take which took me through several Texas cities, including Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, etc. That's more traveling than I've done in years and I expect it will last me from now on. I'm glad to be back home.

But the thing I observed and which the farm experts and worriers apparently are overlooking, is that there's more building going on in every direction for more room, and a man who announces in Houston for example that he's putting up 100 more houses has a hard time even getting his name in the newspapers. It ain't news any longer.

And the same is true in smaller cities and often in towns. They're growing in all directions too Everybody's building a new house.

Now here's my point. Every time a city develops a new subdivision, it takes that much more land out of cultivation, makes that many more people to feed. Every time a city grows a few more thousand, it increases its traffic problem that much more, which naturally increases its traffic deaths.

Expansion of cities and cemeteries, if it keeps up at the present rate, is gonna take enough land out of cultivation in Texas to solve the crop surplus problem. We ain't got a thing to worry about.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

BABSON DISCUSSES—An Amazing Story

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 17 — I am back here again for the winter and wish to tell of a tragedy occurring during my absence, although you may have read of it in your local newspaper.

TWO FATAL MISTAKES

This story involved: (1) A well known and able lawyer living for many years in our community; (2) Two very respectable and intelligent well-to-do friends of mine; (3) Two WILLS prepared by the said lawyer; and (4) A "trigger man" allegedly employed to murder one of my above two friends.

Now for the tragedy. The lawyer had apparently drawn up WILLS for these two friends. When he submitted them to the makers, they suggested certain corrections, asking the lawyer to have the WILLS retyped, and they would come in again shortly thereafter for signing. Fatal mistakes were apparently made by these intelligent people for not again reading the WILLS before the final signing and witnessing, and for not initialing each page. Nor did they take the signed WILLS with them to a place of deposit, so that they might be reread once each year. This would have entailed some bother, but this would have been nothing compared to the trouble which followed.

edly slipped into the WILLS a clause leaving him a large sum of money. "The Shamrock", bi-monthly publication of Shamrock Oil & Gas Corp., devoted practically all of the January-February number to Muleshoe and countryside, and Earth.

Some of the finest pictures yet made of the local territory, both city and farm, were carried in the magazine. Ray Franz, Chamber of Commerce manager, spent two days with the Shamrock representative, supplying data, etc. He has several extra copies of magazine to be distributed to local people.

Shown were pictures of irrigation wells, cotton, corn, maize, potato and castor bean crops, the interior of the compress, Muleshoe's Little League Park, cattle grazing on irrigated pasture, the huge accumulation of cotton bales on grounds of the Union Compress, Bailey County Electric Cooperative Ass'n. building, some representative homes, hospital, high school, and some of the best aerial shots of the town that have been made to date.

The magazine is well worth keeping, and it is suggested that those who desire a copy should apply at the Chamber of Commerce immediately.
