Commissioners approve budget, tax rate

THE OZONA STOCKMAN

A budget and tax rate that will raise more total property taxes was unanimously approved and adopted by the Crockett County Commissioners' Court during Monday's regular meeting.

The commissioners approved a 2010 county tax rate of .45852, the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District's rate of 1.040 for maintenance and operations and .222 for interest and sinking for a total of 1.262, as well as the water tax rate of .00955 for a grand total of 1.73007 per one hundred dollar valuation.

The 2010 county tax rate is lower than 2009's .46177. However, the school's combined rate is higher than 2009's 1.140 and the water rate increased from .00927 in 2009. The total rate then increased by 0.568966 per one hundred dollar valuation.

County Auditor Sandy Stokes said this effective tax rate will raise more total property taxes than last year's budget by $153,951, which is a 1.5 percent increase due to for prisoner transport and new property added to the a $60,000 increase for intax roll this year.

In the 2011 budget, a proposed raise of $2,500 for Care Center Administrator Benny Gibbs was cut since the last budget workshop on Aug. 20. The subject of Gibbs' raise, which was proposed by the Crockett County Health and Emergency Services Board, was part of that workshop discussion. Raises for other county employees, including elected officials, are not included for 2010 TAX RATES

Also included in the 2011 budget are a $5,000 increase proved a contract with Upon mate housing and transport. Prison transport is budgeted under the Crockett County Sheriff's Office at $10,000 total and inmate housing and transport under the Crockett County Jail is $220,000.

In order to make these increases, cuts were made from other items in the sheriff's and jail's budgets, including $5,0000 from radio repair, $4,000 from the copy machine, $10,000 from prisoner meals and $12,000 from supplies and utilities.

A contract from Reagan County approved. Reagan County would charge $42 a day and charge $1 a mile and $20.17 an hour for transport during weekdays. On weekends, Crockett County would in a place readily accessible transport the prisoners.

The budget also does not include any money allocated for courthouse renovations. Money has been allocated in the past two years.

The 2011 budget has a balance of around $5.5 million.

The regular meeting was almost not held due to Commissioner Frank Tambunga asking if the meeting notice was properly posted on the bulletin board outside the courthouse annex.

Case dismissed in federal lawsuit

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The federal lawsuit involving County County and Sheriff Roy Glenn Sutton has been dismissed.

In a stipulation of dismissal filed Sept. 7, Charla Wooten Marley and Michael Wayne Hill stated that they no longer desire to pursue the claims against the county and Sutton and wish to dismiss all remaining claims without prejudice. In a civil case, dismissal without prejudice is a dismissal that allows for re-filing of the case in the future.

The stipulation also stated that each party bear their own costs and attorneys' fees.

The stipulation was accepted by U.S. District Court Judge Sam R. Cummings on Sept. 8.

Just prior to this stipulation being filed, Cummings filed an order setting a trial date for the lawsuit on April 18, 2011 in San Angelo. That order suit. was filed on Sept. 2.

The sheriff's deputy's use of pepper spray to allegedly restrain Jess Marley was "excessive force" as claimed by Charla Marley and Hill.

Hill also claimed that he was wrongfully arrested for driving while intoxicated in 2009. Hill's DWI case is now pending in state court.

Cummings dismissed without prejudice the claims against Hill's arrest and claims against Deputies Joseph G. Bertlino and Daniel H. Arrieta in relation to the seizure, arrest and use of force on July 16.

The only remaining claims in the case were those asserted against the county and Sutton in his official capacity related to the seizure, arrest and use of force.

Lions fall to Buffaloes

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

It wasn't the home opening showing the Ozona Lions had hoped for Friday night at Lion Stadium.

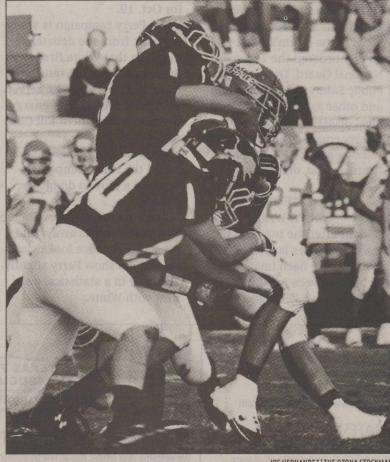

The Stanton Buffaloes came charging into Lion Stadium and overtook the Lions 23-6.

'Stanton has a good football team. They are more physical than we are at this point," said Coach Ray Brown. "Our kids didn't look like they were prepared to play in a varsity football game and that's my fault. We will regroup and move forward in an effort to be ready for district competition on Oct. 8."

While both teams struggled in the first quarter, Stanton, now 3-0, quickly made up by scoring two touchdowns in the second quarter.

Deep in Lion territory, Stanton's Taylor Sparks would find an opening and rush the ball in for 19 yards.

KHOS/KYXX RADIO officially opened their Ozona studio last week with an open house and ribbon cutting. Radio Station employees, Ozona Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, Chamber Ambassadors and county officials were all on hand for the ceremony at the studio located at 917 Sheffield Road.

KHOS/KYXX opens radio studio in Ozona

BY SHANON BIGGERSTAFF CHAMBER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

More than 30 local residents, county officials, Chamber representatives and ambassadors, and KHOS/KYXX managers were present at a Ribbon Cutting held last week to celebrate the re-opening of a radio studio in Ozona.

Visitors enjoyed refreshments and were able to register for a drawing for 30 free commercials.

Marti Ashcraft of Kerrville, Chuck Fitts of Junction, Eddy Smith of Sonora and Eligio Martinez of Ozona, all representatives of KHOS/ KYXX, spoke to the group about the station. Marti and Eddy shared they had been working for sometime to re-open a studio in Ozona.

Eddy met Eligio of Ozona and discovered that he had both the talent and background to fill the position of local Station Manager.

"From that moment forward I was on a mission. The next step was simply to find a location," said Eddy.

"This is exciting for Ozona. Having someone local who can talk on the air about Ozona events, interview people in the community, and who can better serve Ozona in terms of advertising. Ozona now has it's own representative, on the streets of Ozona, who can better represent the town. We also feel this will strengthen the relationship between our three communities," Marti added.

Until January, Eligio will host a morning show Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. - 10 a.m. Next year the studio will be open on a fulltime basis.

The studio is located at 917 Sheffield Road next to the Ice House. Local residents are invited and encouraged to stop in and visit with Eligio about local news.

Tough health care decisions ahead for the family of Texas

Hard-working Texas families about this task, who struggle to stretch their paychecks to the end of the month know how to separate the absolute necessities of life from the things they must live without. So it is with the Texas Legislature. When lawmakers meet again in January, we will face the same agonizing decisions that Texas families deal with every month — but on a vastly larger scale. The projected budget deficit of $18 billion is unprecedented in our history, and so is the gravity of the decisions that we'll have to make.

As the Legislature, state leaders and government agencies go Health and Human Services

Commissioner Tom Suehs followed up with some specific details on what this 10 percent budget reduction would mean. Here's a look:

· $60.2 million less for programs providing health and dental services, including vaccinations, primary care and services for children with special health care needs, resulting in a 50 percent reduction in childhood vaccination and the elimination of a dental services program that serves about 9,000 children.

$73.7 million less for Pretial cuts for the next biennium. vention and Early Intervention programs, resulting in a reduction of 14,172 children currently served by abuse and neglect and juvenile delinquency programs.

• $139.7 million less for state mental health hospital capacity, community mental health services and substance abuse intervention services, resulting in 1,428 fewer patients in state hospitals, and 14,076 fewer adults and children receiving community mental health services.

This is just a sampling of the proposed cuts for this agency and does not include additional reductions for the Department of Aging and Disability Services and the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services.

These proposed cuts target of the Rainy Day fund, look for essential programs for our new sources of revenue through sales tax reform and, without doubt, make some painful cuts.

If you believe as I do, that these cuts must not be made at the expense of abused and neglected children, the sick and the disabled, please don't stay silent during the legislative process.

As a member of the family of Texas, you have a role in the debate on state spending and the setting of our priorities, and your voice deserves to be heard.

Public officials: watch those texts echnology can be a blessing and curse when it comes to public officials. Recently, several Texas cities joined in a federal lawsuit that argued that the Texas Open Meetings Act shouldn't prevent some communication from being considered a quorum outside a posted meeting. Their claim includes e-mails and messages from social networking sites.

The suit was dismissed, but it came from two former Alpine city council members who had sent private e-mails to each other about city business.

Now, text messages between public officials are coming up for debate. Christi Caller-Times reported that the local city attorney told the city council to be careful with their text messages. These 160-character phone messages could be enough to put the city or any other governmental entity in violation of a state law that requires government deliberations to take place in open, public meetings. State law also could require governments to keep old text messages and release them to the public if someone wants to read them, the article stated.

The memo from the city attorney came after a meeting involving two Corpus Christi city council members bickering over sending text messages during council discussion.

Technology has made the definition of a meeting even trickier. Elected officials who text-message one another during a meeting could be violating the open meet-

While the Texas Open Meetings Act doesn't specifically describe text messages, it forbids informal communications and non-spoken exchanges among elected officials during meetings because they can be considered deliberation, something that is supposed to occur only where the public can observe it. Just as a federal judge ruled that the two former Alpine city council members should not have been e-mailing each other, text messages should also fall under that same category.

However, just like e-mail and social networking, text messaging falls under a "gray area" where the law has yet to catch up with technology. Many officials expect this issue to be debated this January in the upcoming Texas Legislative ses-While there haven't been MELISSA PERNER any known instances of Crockett County officials' text messaging during meetings, like all of us they do use cell phones and computers for work and personal correspondence.

WHAT'S ON MY MIND

The Caller-Times article also stated that the legal V boll questions aren't limited to open meeting deliberations. There also is a question over whether text messages elected officials send are subject to disclosure under the Texas Public Information Act, which requires the public release of most government documents.

This means, if public officials are caught text-messaging each, they need to be prepared to turn those messages over if someone makes a public information request.

The Texas State Library and Archives Commission specifies how long governmental bodies must keep different types of records such as e-mails and financial records but doesn't address text messages

Open government means more than the government just giving the public access to information, no matter what form that information is in.

As technology continues to broaden and change, it's time for our laws to catch up with the times.

As our laws change, it's also important to remember the integrity and mission of the Texas Open Meetings Act, which is that the people have the right to know how public officials are conducting business.

When they were elected or hired, public officials became subject to the Public Information Act and the Open Meetings Act, and are accountable to the people they represent.

Statistics say that marriages where the husband goes on an annual trail drive are 20 times more apt to end in divorce. Okay, so I made that up. But I'm sure it's true.

It has come to my attention that men who go straight home after spending a week "trail driving" with their buddies where they drink, cuss and tell dirty stories, are having a difficult time reentering polite society. I know one trail driver who went straight from a week of such debauchery to a dinner party with the parents of his fiancé. Suffice it to say that the wedding has been called off and the fiancee's parents have a restraining order against the poor schmuck.

I, myself, have never been on a trail drive. My friend Terrell invited me to go on one once but my wife, having heard what goes on at these things, wouldn't let me go. Besides, as a writer I occasionally call upon my brain to function and I simply cannot risk the possibility of brain damage from spending an entire week trail driving while under the influence of my buddies.

Because many of my friends do go on these things I have decided to start a new charity which will purchase a home to be used as a halfway house where trail riders can go after their trail drive so that they might gradually reacclimatize themselves to normal living. Just like recently released pedophiles, I realize that people are not o welcome such people into their neighborhoods, so I'll buy a ranch way out and using a knife and fork will be taught by clean and sober ex-trail riders. I am told that on many trail drives the participants tell dirty stories endlessly, sing bawdy songs and recite cowboy poetry that would make a sailor blush. Therefore, intense therapy sessions on language skills will be emphasized at Lee's Halfway House and Cattle Company, so that the trail driv-

As we attempt to reintegrate our clients back into captivity, my staff and I will also address such problem areas as going outside to make water, riding one's horse into living and eating areas, harassing and roping wildlife, betting large sums on trivial occurrences, playing cards all night and fist

In order to promote recovery and restore them to the men they once were, I recommend that for every week spent on a trail drive that each patient spend from one to six months in Lee's Halfway House and Cattle Company. Because they might regress to their previous behavior, there will be a probationary period in which they will not be allowed to communicate with any trail driving buddies until next year. Still we must warn you, recidivism rates are high in dealing with this type of illness.

Thousands of men need your help today, so please, give generously. We think the $10,000 weekly cost per person of our halfway house will be picked up by Obamacare but until that happens, I beg you, Save a Cowboy! Send your cash, old clothes or cows to Lee's Halfway House and Cattle

Feds ask Texas to resubmit application for teacher jobs funding

AUSTIN — Texas Education Commissioner Robert Scott on Sept. 3 submitted the state's application for $830 million in federal funding to hire and keep school teachers.

Funding, if granted, would come through House Resolution 1586, a bill signed into law by President Obama on Aug. 10.

Congress passed H.R. 1586 with an amendment by U.S. Rep. Lloyd Doggett of Austin that gives Texas little wiggle room in the way it spends the money and displeases Gov. Rick Perry.

On Sept. 9, U.S. Education Secretary Arne Duncan rejected the application because it contained no assurance that if Texas were to receive the money, it would not - as it had before — decrease its education spending by a like amount.

In response to the rejection, Gov. Perry said the state constitution and state laws prevent him from entering into binding commitments about future budgets or funding levels.

The Department of Education asked the Texas Education Agency to revise and resubmit the application, and the Texas State Teachers Association called for Commissioner Scott to resubmit the application as requested.

DISASTER PROCLAMATION IS ISSUED

Tropical storm Hermine raged through Texas Sept. 6-8, leaving in its wake flooding and tornado damage.

Gov. Perry issued a disaster proclamation for 40 of the state's hardest-hit counties after he took an aerial survey of areas in the storm's path.

Perry ordered the Texas National Guard, Department of Public Safety, Parks & Wildlife and other agencies to support local disaster relief efforts.

Perry emphasized the common warning regarding flooded roads: "Turn around, don't drown."

NO DEBATE BETWEEN PERRY, WHITE

Right after the two won their party primaries last March. Texans have been imagining a debate between incumbent Republican Gov. Perry and Democratic challenger Bill White, the former mayor of Houston.

Not giving up on the idea of getting the two top candidates to face off in public, the Austin American-Statesman, The Dallas Morning News, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the Houston Chronicle, the San Antonio Express-News and KLRU, the public television station in Austin, set a televised debate for Oct. 19.

The Perry campaign is standing back from the debate, demanding that White first must make public his tax returns from 1993-95, when he served as deputy secretary of energy under then-President Bill Clinton.

The White campaign has called the Perry campaign's demand a ploy to dodge the debate.

There's time. The Nov. 2 election is still weeks away. And presently the race looks close: most polls show Perry slightly ahead or in a statistical dead heat with White.

New Beginnings Church welcomes pastor

By MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Carlos Cantu had visions of becoming a minister in the "spotlight."

By the time he turned 40, Cantu thought God would put him on television or place him in a large ministry preaching to people all over the world.

Instead, God had a different plan for Cantu and moved him and his family to the New Beginnings Church in Ozona.

On Sunday, a special service was held for Cantu as he was anointed the first full-time pastor of the seven-year-old church.

"What an honor this is," Cantu said. "I believe God has done extraordinary things."

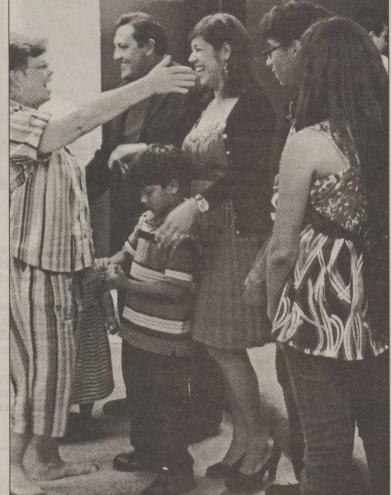

Cantu and his wife, Susan, come to Ozona from Dallas with their three children, Chris, Daisy and Carlos Jr.

Speaking at the service was Pastor Jesus Cardona, who helped found the Ozona church in 2003, and heads a sister church in Uvalde.

Cardona spoke on how becoming a minister is not about money or fame, but that it is a "divine calling" from God.

"God opens a door where there is no door. He makes ways where there are no ways," Cardona said. "We officially welcome Carlos and his family. You are making history today."

For the past seven years, New Beginnings Church, located at 701 9th St., has had several interim or fill in pastors and ministers. Ministers, congregation members and musicians that have helped with the services were also recognized.

LOU HAIRE welcomes Pastor Carlos Cantu, his wife Susan and children Carlos Jr., Chris and Daisy at a special service Sunday at the New Beginnings Church.

Cantu and his family spent a year driving back and forth from Dallas to Ozona to minister to the congregation. Now, the family is making their home in Ozona. Living in a RV trailer for now, the family is anxiously awaiting the completed construction of their new house.

"The last thing I wanted for them was to live in a little camper," Cardona said of the Cantus. "He's (Cantu) not answering to me. I couldn't hold him. I couldn't keep him answering a divine calling."

Cantu met Cardona 12 years ago while Cantu was preaching in a small church attached to a funeral home. "Jesus cared about me. He cared about the person,"

Cantu said. "At that time

I wanted to be known and recognized. It's not about fulfilling the spotlight; it's about fulfilling your purpose. I've made it big. I needed to be here."

Cantu said that services at New Beginnings Church are all about "gossiping the gospel."

"God spoke to me and said plant a church here. We began with two people," Cardona said. "God gives you a vision, but he also gives you provision. Our congregation has been growing lately. This was not done by one man. This church came to be because of the many people who have helped."

New Beginnings Church has services at 10 a.m. Sundays and 7 p.m. Wednesdays.

THE ANNUAL ROUND-UP FOR REHAB supper was held Monday night at Crockett National Bank. The event was catered by Circle Bar Truck Stop and hosted by Crockett County Chairman Max and Stephannie Schroeder, Will M. and Vicki Black, Bill and Susie Black, Arlene Clayton and Ray and Sheri Hill. OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

Senior Bingo Social Tuesday

BY LYNN ENGLISH SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

We are beginning the third week of September. Time does go by so fast and as you get older it tends to speed up.

The group Harmonious Connections entertained us at the Senior Center after lunch on Monday afternoon. This is an outreach music ministry to seniors and we enjoyed having them here so much. Participating musicians were Marvin Kelsey, vocalist and guitarist, Fred Roeben, jazz and swing guitarist, Robert Janek, vocalist and group song leader, Jena Janek, pianist. Those of you who missed this performance really missed a heart-to-heart connection across generations.

We will be having our Senior Bingo Social here at the Senior Center at 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 21. We will serve chili dogs, chips, brownies with ice cream and tea, coffee or water. Plan to attend and please bring a

Any of you who would like to play dominoes are welcome to come and play any morning or afternoon that you would like to play.

The bridge ladies will be playing Monday at 1:30 p.m. These players have fun at their game, at H.

We continue to have our regular activities: square dancing, exercise class, bridge, bingo, home health, pool, canasta and puzzles. We also have a collection of books, magazines and two computers that are on the internet for seniors to use.

We have a projector with stand and a screen and have recently added a wonderful keyboard.

Also for your enjoyment, we have a Wii game and five different stimulating games. We are anxious for these games to be used.

Our activities are for adults only.

Several years ago some friends and I were on a fishing trip in another state and we decided to hike up into the mountains and go trout fishing. It was quit a hike over five miles with many up and downs and climbing all the way not only that but there were bears up there. Our friends that lived there instructed us on what to take and what to watch out for and they also provided a large caliber pistol in the event of a bear attack. I volunteered to carry the backpack with the water and food and the pistol with the extra ammunition. The climb became steep and the trail difficult and because of the heavy backpack I could not keep up. One of my friends came back and took the backpack and the pistol. I felt so relieved and able to even lead the pack before long. That experience reminds me of something in the Bible. We all have a sin problem, (Romans 3:23) and it weighs us down and separates us form God, (Romans 6:23). When Jesus died on the cross He personally took my sins and everyone else's, (1 Peter 2:24 & 3:18, Revelation 1:5, Hebrews 9:28). Jesus is the only one who has the right and authority to forgive sin and if we ask Him, He will, (Matthew 9:6, Mark 2:5,1 John 1:9, Luke 24:47). See you in Church next Sunday.

to the general public at all times for at least 72 hours before the scheduled time of the meeting. It also states that the agenda can be posted on the Interest during the 72-hour period and in a location readily accessible to the general public during normal business hours.

Stokes and County Attorney Jody Upham said since the agenda was posted on the county's website at www.co.crockett.tx.us/ ips/cms/ and was available at the clerk's office it was properly posted.

County Clerk Debbie Puckett said the agenda was on the bulletin board, but that the board also had numerous other agendas and documents that were posted.

ANIMAL CONTROL

Several local citizens addressed the commissioners about Animal Control within Ozona's town limits.

Louise Ledoux read a letter that she submitted to County Judge Fred Deaton, Road Superintendent Eddie Moore and Crockett County Sheriff Roy Glenn Sutton. The letter was also published in the Sept. 1 edition of The Ozona Stockman.

Ledoux's Chihuahua Taco was injured after being attacked by a pack of loose dogs. Ledoux said she called numerous times to report the pack of dogs to Animal Control Officer Petra Hernandez, before her dog was attacked.

Ed Hale said a one of his NatGas employees was bitten by a dog, and that dog owners have been tying their animals to their gas meters.

"If a house catches on fire, or there's a gas leak in the house, we need to be able to turn that gas off," Hale said.

Les Hale said he is concerned on keeping loose dogs away from the county 4-H facility. Les Hale showed photos of a sheep that had its ear chewed off and its neck broken.

Dogs are often used exercise and run sheep, but those dogs are disciplined, Les Hale said.

"We have about 60 animals on site and they range from $200 to $1,500 in initial cost," Les Hale said.

For the past two weeks, Deaton said Moore, Sutton, Hernandez and himself have been meeting about this issue. The sheriff's office will take over animal control duty during the times when Hernandez is off or not on duty, which includes evenings and weekends.

"We've really started doing that on our own," Sutton said.

Moore said that Hernandez's hours need to be locked down and that she will be getting a little more relations-minded public when responding to calls.

"When we get a call, we need to react to it," Moore said.

Jessie Alvarado

Reagan County Care Center

Restorative Aide

The county has adopted the rabies control act, which states that animals need to be penned, fenced or chained up. Animals that are picked up are taken to Ozona Veterinary Clinic.

Deaton said animals need to have tags and collars. Owners can also microchip their animals. The veterinary clinic and Hernandez have scanners for the microchip.

Hernandez said one problem she sees is a lot of times is owners whose animals have tags and they continually let them run loose.

"It's a community problem, it's not just one person's problem. Unfortunately, we have a lot of dogs running the streets," Moore

Moore said more citations need to be written and that the county needs to be more aggressive on animal control. A citation is a class C misdemeanor and goes through the Justice of the Peace Court.

"We need to create a public awareness and let people know that they are also responsible for these dogs and make them aware that they can't turn their dogs loose," said Commissioner Pleas Childress III.

ATTORNEY FOR COMMISSIONER TOBAR

The commissioners voted to not hire an attorney to represent Commissioner Alfredo Tobar.

Tobar had made the request in regards to charges he was arrested on in 2007 for allegedly impersonating a law enforcement official and for allegedly possessing another person's social security card.

Tobar said he was told to get a lawyer in order to get some items back from the 112th District Attorney's Office.

County Attorney Jody Upham said if the commissioners' court is to hire an attorney to represent any county official or employee it needs to serve a public purpose because public money is being spent. "If you were acting under order from the court, I would consider it," Commissioner Randy Branch said to Tobar.

"I don't think it's the county's responsibility to supply it," Childress added.

Tobar said he brought the item to the court because he was told by officials at the district attorney's office to hire an attorney in order to obtain his items.

"I've never been arrested in my life until I got elected," Tobar said. "What I hate is when you (the commissioners) stand here and pray to your God. I don't know which God you're praying to do the right thing. This is the right thing to do."

School board discusses new elementary during called meeting

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The new elementary school opening, as well as district safety and security concerns were discussed during a Sept. 8 called meeting of the Crockett County CCSD School Board.

A day after the new Ozona Elementary School Superintendent opened, Chris duBois told the board that while school is now in session construction continues on finishing up lots of items in and outside the building.

"You're going to hear people say all kinds of little things. Overall, that building is operating really well. There are lots of little things on unfinished items," he said.

As to the morning and afternoon traffic, duBois said the second day was better than the first, and that the district officials are examining the possibility of combining release times or starting an afterschool program for parents who have children in different grades.

"We should be able to combine families and give them one stop," he said. "I think it's going to take a little time."

duBois also said he was going to recommend volunteering to help with morning and afternoon traffic duty as a community service project to the Ozona Lions Club.

"Overall, it's everything that we thought it would be," he said.

A grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremony will take place at 11:30 a.m. Oct. 11. The event is open to the public.

The board postponed any decisions on landscaping and irrigation bids until the Sept. 22 regular meeting because not all of the bids had been completed.

The board approved a motion to reject McCamey ISD's offer to take down all of the wooden decking on the outside of the portable buildings behind the Administration Building.

McCamey Superintendent Donny Wiley sent an offer to CCCCSD that stated Mc-Camey staff would come to Ozona to take down the decking and take it back. However, the offer did not include any amount for a purchase price. McCamey ISD will be receiving the portable buildings attached to the decking. CCCCSD originally paid $26,000 for the decking.

"It's nice of him to offer to come take them down, but he's going to have to offer some money," said Board Member Dwight Childress.

The board told duBois tion Building.

to make an offer of $7,500 for the decking to McCamey ISD.

Also, the board verbally approved the purchase of a Thorguard Lightning Prediction System for $23,225. The system will be house at Lion Stadium with horns and signal lights placed at various district facilities.

The system sends off an alert when lightning is within close radius. UIL protocol states that if lightning strikes within eight miles, players must vacate the field.

Payment for the system will come out of the 2010-2011 budget.

The board also discussed upgrading the district's alarm system.

The next regular board meeting will be 6:30 p.m. Sept. 22 at the Administra-

With 48 seconds left in the first half, Stanton would score again this time on a one-yard run by Tyler Fulton.

Ozona's offense would be plagued by injuries and penalties throughout the game and would only manage five first downs.

After a 30 minute lightning delay, the game entered the second half.

The Buffaloes Ryan Brantley would get a safety in the third quarter to put Stanton up 16-0.

However, at the start of the fourth quarter Quarterback Alejandro Men-dez would connect with Mark Gallardo. Gallardo would then run the ball 68 yards for the score. The Lions would attempt a twopoint conversion but were stopped by the Buffaloes.

As Ozona attempted to get the ball moving again, a fumble would be picked up by Stanton's Andres Chavez and returned for a 70-yard touchdown to seal the Buffaloes 23-6 win.

Ozona is now 1-1. The Lions will face Van Horn (1-2) at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Midland Christian Stadium in Midland.

Eighth Grade Lions shutout Stanton

The Eighth Grade Lions opened their season Thursday night with a 37-0 victory over Stanton.

After holding on fourth and short on the defensive side of the ball, the Lion offense would take off and never looked back.

The scoring started with Daniel Lombrana going wide behind great blocks from the offensive line for a 35-yard touchdown. Dylan Perez would add the two-point conver-

After another great stand from the defense led by great tackles from Fernando Sifuntes, Chase Dehoyos and Jayton Rodriguez, Rodriguez would lead the Lions to their second score after connecting with Ryan Porras on a 35yard reception.

This set up Rodriguez for a 15-yard touchdown run. Rodriguez would add the two-point conversion.

The Lions would score again after a 73-yard run by Dylan Perez. The twopoint conversion would be put in by Lombrana.

After another great defensive stand, the Lions would score again running behind the offensive line when Lombrana would bull his way into the end zone. The two-point conversion would fail.

The Lions would finish off the night after Rodriguez would run down the sideline for a 60-yard touchdown run behind great blocks from everyone on the offensive side of the ball and Chase Dehovos would add the extrapoint kick to give the Lions a 37-0 victory.

"We were really proud of the way the guys came out and played. They came out with a lot of intensity," said Coach John Esparza. "We made some big plays and flew to the football on defense."

The OMS Lions and with every one of these kids performance at this meet. Considering the shear number of runners, our kids held their own and did spectacular," said Coach Jill Koerth. "They also turned in better times this week, which shows improvement over their first meet in Sonora. We will get better, stronger and faster as each week goes by. These kids will hard to beat at our district meet if they continue to work as hard, and be as dedicated, as they have been so far this season.'

Seventh Grade Lions fall to Buffaloes

The Seventh Grade Lions lost to Stanton 30-6 John Gomez, Anthony Gar-Thursday.

The Lions only touchdown came when Quarterback Bryce Martin connected with Dakota Lee. Lee then ran the ball straight to the end zone.

USDA seeks applications from producers to conduct renewable energy feasibility studies

WASHINGTON, D.C. - tricity or fuel. Agriculture Secretary Tom availability of funding under the Rural Energy for America Program (REAP) to conduct feasibility studies for renewable energy systems for agriculture producers and rural small businesses.

duction represents a prommeeting the nation's need and help small business owners, farmers, ranchers and agriculture producers conduct feasibility studies that identify renewable energy opportunities."

'We're pleased to offer this grant availability to those who are interested in identifying projects that will save money and conserve energy," said Paco Valentin, Texas State Director of USDA Rural Development. "As we continue to find ways to make America more energy independent, the program this grant supports will become more and more important."

Eligible feasibility studies for renewable energy systems include projects that will produce energy from wind, solar, biomass, geothermal, hydro power and hydrogen-based sources. The energy to be pro-

ELECTION-RELATED DATES

POSTED Secretary of State Esperanza "Hope" Andrade, Texas' chief elections officer, on Sept. 7 notified the public about these important dates:

Oct. 4: Last day to register to vote; Oct. 18-29: Early voting; Oct. 26: deadline for early voting clerks to receive ballot by mail applications; Nov. 2: Election Day.

REVENUE LOWER THAN EX-

PECTED The Dallas Morning News interviewed Comptroller Susan Combs and reported that the state ended fiscal year 2010 on Aug. 31 about $1.5 billion less than projected in tax collections.

Lower than expected revenue puts additional pressure on the executive and legislative branches to keep state government afloat with an alreadyenormous budget deficit estimated at $18 billion.

ANOTHER MAY RUN FOR SPEAKER

State Rep. Warren Chisum, R-Pampa, said he may file to run for speaker of the Texas House.

Chisum can file on Nov. 1 or as late as Jan. 10, the day before the 82nd Texas Legislature convenes.

Other Republicans who have filed for the powerful office are incumbent Speaker Joe Straus of San Antonio and Rep. Leo Berman of Tyler.
