TEXAS WATER RESOURCES INSTITUTE

FORT STOCKTON - The Pecos River Watershed Protection Plan is now being implemented, and those involved want to remind landowners of the voluntarily projects and programs in which they are encouraged to participate.

Two public meetings meant to update landowners are planned for today, March 16. All the meetings will cover the same information, according to Gary Bryant, Texas AgriLife Extension Service Pecos River watershed coordinator at Fort Stockton.

The dates, times and places will be:

· March 16, 9-11 a.m., Community Center, Iraan.

• March 16, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Texas AgriLife Extension Service office, Ozona.

"The watershed protection plan is the culmination of the Pecos River Basin Assessment Program," said Bryant. "Implementing the watershed plan is now the primary objective of the program, and local involvement continues to be critical to its success."

Bryant said the informational meetings will cover activities already accomplished, what landowner assistance

County officials visit Austin

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

A visit to Austin proved to be an eye-opening experience for local county officials last week.

The Crockett County Commissioners and County Judge Fred Deaton, along with Sandra Childress, visited with State Sen. Carlos Uresti, D-San Antonio and State Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville, for Crockett County at the state capitol.

During the visit, the county officials watched the house and senate floor where they were recognized and resolutions in both passed declaring Crockett County Day.

Commissioner Tambunga said watching the legislature work in the house and the senate surprised

"I was displeased on how they handled their sessions. Nobody was paying attention to what people were saying. People were talking on their phones or texting while business was being conduct-

Commissioners discuss animal control

BY MELISSA PERNER

THE OZONA STOCKMAN The issue of animal control once again was discussed during Monday's commissioners' regular court meeting. During his report, new County Road Supervisor Jeffery Stuart asked the commissioners about when the road department oversees the animal control and when the sheriff's office takes over.

County Judge Fred Deaton said animal control has been an evolving issue.

Petra Hernandez, the animal control officer, is employed under the road department. From 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, the road department handles animal control issues; unless the animal is dangerous then the sheriff's office assists.

After hours and on weekends, the sheriff's office takes over handling animal control issues.

"This is what we agreed upon to do with the sherCrockett County public notices page 12 iff and the road department in commissioners' court," Deaton said. "If someone calls during the regular hours, and it's a situation that you don't feel comfortable with, then call the sheriff's department. They don't mind handling those issues. They'll work with you."

Commissioner Frank Tambunga said that in past commissioners' court meetings, sheriff's officials have stated they will handle dangerous or threatening animal calls.

"If someone just calls to have an animal picked up, the sheriff's department won't do it. I know," Tambunga said. "Right now, the sheriff wants that position and that truck back under his department."

Sheriff Roy Glenn Sutton was not able to attend the meeting Monday due to being out of town.

Stuart said picking up animals is no problem for the road department. Also, Stuart said he plans on visiting with Sutton and also would like to have one or two more road department employees trained in animal control for when Hernandez is serving as bailiff in district court.

An ad with information and phone numbers about animal control will also be placed once a month in The Ozona Stockman.

"What we want to do is to have the very best animal control for the people. Believe it or not everybody does work together," Deaton said.

Spiking gas prices hurting our economic recovery

Across the nation, gas prices are on the rise again. In fact, they are approaching levels not seen since 2008, when gas prices reached record levels. I know this is unwelcome news to families throughout the 23rd District, with many already struggling to pay their mortgage, health care premiums, or send their kids to college.

Rising gas prices will force many American families to re-evaluate spending priorities in their family budget. Unfortunately it is not just family budgets that are being pinched by the spike in gas prices, but it is also small businesses across Texas who have been forced into hiring freezes and budget cuts. This sudden and dramatic rise in the price

more than $0.50 per gallon since the beginning of 2011, further harms their ability to hire new workers and get our economy back on track.

Rising gas prices not only impact the family budget and American small businesses, they also highlight the importance of producing more energy in America. As a nation, we are dependent on foreign sources of energy. This dependence leaves us vulnerable to events around the globe, like the unrest the Middle East is currently experiencing. High gas prices could derail our economic recovery and plunge the economy back into recession. To wean our nation off of our dependence on foreign sources of energy and make ourselves energy independent, we need an all-the-above strategy that focuses on producing more American energy, whether that is oil and gas, nuclear, renewable, or any other source of energy. That is why I have co-sponsored A Roadmap for America's Energy Future (H.R. 909). To achieve energy independence, this legislation facilitates and incentivizes greater production of all forms of American energy. Regarding this legislation, the Wall Street Journal has said. "It's a bill designed to produce energy, not restrict it. It returns government to the role of energy facilitator, not energy boss. It costs nothing and contains no freebies."

High gas prices and outof-control Washington spending threaten the family budget, they threaten job creation and also pose a threat to our economic security. If we want to remove the threat to our economy, we must remove our dependence on foreign sources of energy by producing more energy here in America, and stop the out-of-control spending in Washington.

Keep the Sunshine On: Don't change public-notice rules for government here is a galaxy of mandates that state law places on local governments, based on common sense. One is a section requiring open records and open government. That makes it a crime for city council or school board members to do the public's business in back halls or over the phone.

The prevailing rationale is shining the light of day, to the greatest degree possible, on decisions that have an impact on the public.

That principle is not upheld, unfortunately, in several bills filed in Austin this year that would shift legal notices away from newspaper publishing and onto government websites.

Local governments counties, cities and school boards — are now required to take out legal notices for certain bids, purchases and meetings. It's the established, reliable way to assure wide distribution to both citizens and to potential bidders that want a piece of business with local government.

Substituting some or all of those legally required notices with self-published government notices weakens public access and opens the door to mischief.

A local government's notice to bidders involves big contracts paid out of the public till, and government shouldn't be self-publishing for that business on their own websites. A third, independent party assures an arm's-length relationship with a verifiable, permanent record of the notice.

Current publication requirements guarantee a broad spectrum of readership, well beyond internet users who may visit an agency's website. Notices in daily newspapers are typically published online as well, multiplying the number of potential readers. The number of visitors to a government website is dwarfed by total daily newspaper and online newspaper readership.

In addition, the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Press Association maintain a website — texaslegalnotices.com — that benefits potential bidders. The site provides a searchable database of current foreclosure, meeting and business notices taken out in newspapers. Local governments are free keeping with the same spirit. The author of one bill (HB 1668), Rep. Linda Harper-Brown, R-Irving, said she filed it in response to requests from local school administrators and teachers who are looking to trim operating costs and potentially save jobs. We respect the motivation, but the legislation could defeat that goal by crimping the number and quality of bids. Taxpayers might not be pleased with that turn of events.

Today's public-notice laws have worked well to keep government dealings out in the open. Weakening that effort would be an experiment with too high a threat of backfire.

Flying Coach I just finished reading a book about years ago, which is about what a typical airline stagecoaches and was amazed at how difficult it was to get from one end of the country to the other in one of these contraptions. Stories of cramped seating, terrible food (when it was available), long delays and being held up for all your money filled every page. Then it dawned on me, doesn't that sound like air travel today?

In many ways traveling by stagecoach seems preferable to flying commercial airlines. At least back then you didn't have to be groped by men in plastic gloves prior to takeoff. You didn't have to watch bad movies or lose your luggage either. And you got the same kind of service: exactly none! And I'd imagine if you were headed for a crash it was easier to stop a team of horses than a jet headed down faster than Los Angeles real estate prices.

In 1913 the trip from St. Joe to California took three weeks by stagecoach, granted that's slower than a jet but I'd rather do that than be stranded on the tarmac for six and eight hours with nothing to eat in a plane that smelled like a septic tank. At least on the stagecoach you could get out and stretch your legs. If you were to experience "mechanical problems wouldn't you rather it be the harness on a horse as opposed to the loss of a couple engines that are keeping your pressurized aluminum coffin airborne? And wouldn't you rather be held up by Black Bart the unarmed poet than have your plane flown into a building by a terrorist?

They say you could buy a Concorde stagecoach for $1,200 to $1,500 a hundred

LEE PITTS finest leather. They also DID NOT do double duty as "flotation devices". Granted, both the stagecoach and the jet feel like you're riding a bucking horse and you your luggage got there when you did. In the book I read about stagecoaches there was a reprint of an article published in the Omaha Herald in 1877 called "Stagecoach Etiquette." We are in dire need of a similar article today on Airline Etiquette. One of the rules was: "Spit on the leeward side of the coach. If you have anything to take in a bottle pass it around; a man who drinks by himself in such a case is lost to all human feeling." See what I mean? Wouldn't that be better than five dollar drinks?

felt beaten up like an empty pinata when you got off, but at least there was a good chance

"Don't swear, nor lop over on your neighbor when sleeping," read the rules. To which I would add, especially if you weigh over 300 pounds and are wearing a sweaty tank top. I would also like to see the matter cleared up regarding use of the arm rest if you are sitting in the middle seat. And while we're on the topic, there should be no switching of seats! I'm not giving up my aisle seat just so you can sit and argue with your girlfriend.

The Concorde Stage held nine passengers but you could put another seven on the roof. (Try doing that on a Boeing 737!) It also said that the best seat was the one furthest up, the one next to the driver. I suppose that's how First Class seating got started in airplanes. But the way I figure it, you're going to hit the ground first when we crash.

If the horses ran away with a stagecoach, nine times out of ten you'd get hurt if you jumped off, but I guarantee that you'll be hurt ten times out of ten getting off an airliner while it's moving at full speed. Another rule of the stagecoach was that if the driver asked you to get off and walk, you did it. If that happens on a commercial jet I'd recommend you NOT do it. Instead, I'd lock myself in the lavatory the rest of the trip to keep from getting off. The pilot won't find you there to ask you to leave, and you'll have a lot more leg room than in coach.

Yes, there is much in common with riding on a jet and a stagecoach as illustrated by the last rule of Stagecoach Etiquette: "Don't imagine for a moment you are going on a picnic; expect annoyance, discomfort and some hardships." www.LeePittsbooks.com

Pain of proposed education cuts draws crowd

AUSTIN — An estimated 12,000 people from across Texas took part in a Saturday, March 12, rally at the state Capitol to express their feelings about proposed cuts to education.

At issue are proposals aired in daily hearings of House Appropriations and Senate Finance committees that point toward the budgetary goal of cutting as much as $10 billion from public education funding.

In addition, billions more in cuts would be needed to satisfy the state constitutional mandate for a balanced budget.

Of course, lawmakers also hear daily from constituents that the pain of cutting health and human services, law enforcement, roads and infrastructure and a long list of other state functions is too much to bear.

Deliberations continue, but still, no cuts have been voted upon that would make a serious dent in the $27 billion projected revenue deficit for budget years 2012-2013. Where else can lawmakers turn their attention to solve the puzzle?

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

SOME SAY IT'S RAINING RIGHT NOW

One idea gaining momentum among taxpayers, lawmakers, other state officials, and even school children too young to vote, is to use part if not all of the state's $8 billion Economic Stabilization ("rainy day") Fund. Gov. Rick Perry says it's not a rainy day and he wants lawmakers to write a balanced budget without touching it.

However, to address the revenue deficit in the current budget year, House Appropriations Chair Jim Pitts, R-Waxahachie, has filed House Bill 275. The bill would tap into the rainy day fund to the tune of $4.27 billion. Discussed by an Appropriations panel on March 10, HB 275 was left pending but may come up for a vote soon.

ANOTHER IDEA: UNPAID FURLOUGHS

Texas might pick up on a tactic other states have used to regroup in the face of budget shortfalls: that is to cut the state payroll.

The way is to pass a law that — instead of ordering massive layoffs — just allows agency heads to send some workers home without pay for a few weeks when necessary.

Now it so happens that Chairman Pitts has filed HB 2720, relating to unpaid furloughs for state employees.

Under Pitts' bill, a state employee who is on unpaid furlough continues to accrue: (1) state service credit for purposes of longevity pay;

(2) vacation leave; and (3) sick leave. If the unpaid furlough exceeds one month the employee may continue to accrue service credit toward state retirement.

How much money the state might save if large numbers of employees are furloughed without pay for a month just beggars another question: How well could vital services be sustained on the backs of a reduced workforce?

March 11, the 60th day of the 82nd session of the Texas Legislature, was the deadline for lawmakers to file major state legislation. The last day of the 140-day session is May 30.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

BY LYNN ENGLISH SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

We find ourselves in the middle of March with most of all the cold weather behind us. Now, we are in need of a good rain so that our spring will not be dry. Now is the time to be praying for rain.

I spoke with Betty Hartley on Saturday. Bob is still recovering in the local care center. We do miss them so much here at the Senior Center.

There is good news for Mutt Carnes. He has misplaced a diamond ring that was a gift from his wife on their 50th wedding anniversary. Mutt reported that Nancy Vannoy found his ring and he was delighted about it.

We are in hopes Dee Keilers will be back here at the Senior Center for lunch. He has been out with a hip replacement. Keep getting better Dee and get back here with us and head out to our bingo games on Tuesday.

All of the Crockett County Senior Center Board members attended our board meeting on Monday, March 7. Those who were here: President Veronica Fierro, Vice President JoAnn Babbitt, Secretary Susie Childress, Director Lynn English, Yolanda Flores, Nell Wester, Jim Couch, Alda De Hoyos, Ron Shott, and we welcomed new members Janet Pullen, Elma Buckner, Petra Hernandez and Dianne Lott.

Our Senior Bingo Social will be 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 21, at the Senior Center. We will serve "loaded baked potatoes" with lime Jello with fruit, topped with whipped cream, tea, coffee and water. Please plan to attend.

The people that meet to play domino games will be meeting on Tuesday every week after lunch. If you would like to join them in playing, come on in about 1 p.m.

The bridge game will be played on Mondays at 1:30 p.m. Those who attend have the best time playing bridge and they appreciate using our Senior Center.

On Wednesday, a group meets to play Mexican Train. These players get down and have a fun time playing this exciting game.

We have our regular activities: bridge, bingo, home health, pool, canasta, domino games and puzzles. We also have a collection of books, magazines, a Wii game and two computers that are on the Internet for seniors to use.

We also have a projector with stand and screen and have added a wonderful keyboard.

Activities sponsored by the Crockett County Senior Center Board are for adults only.

HELPING HANDS HIGHLIGHTS

BY MELINDA KAY MALONE DIRECTOR

Happy St. Patrick's Day tomorrow! Begorrah, isn't it long the days are now since the time changed on March 13, leaving us to counting the hours until the end of the day?

As you will see in the menu, on March 17 we will have a sample of Irish food. We at Helping Hands send you a few Irish Blessings.

Here's one we hope brings you laughter: "May those who love us, love; and those who don't love us, may God turn their hearts; and if He doesn't turn their hearts, may He turn their ankles so we'll know them by their limping.'

Here's one we hope brings you wisdom: "May you have the hindsight to know where you've been, the foresight to know where you are going, and the insight to know when you have gone too far."

Here's one we hope brings you peace: "May God give you...for every storm - a rainbow, for every tear

- a smile, for every care - a promise and a blessing in each trial. For every problem life sends - a faithful friend to share, for every sigh - a sweet song and an answer for each prayer."

Volunteers needed for office tasks, kitchen tasks and delivering meals.

THE JIG SAW PUZZLE

Usually during the holidays or spring break or when our family gets together my wife will get out a jigsaw puzzle and the family will work on it together. I am more of a observer than worker. It is interesting to watch how children and adults work on a puzzle. One of our children would either hide or throw out pieces if they could not get them to fit. Another child would try to force the pieces to make them fit. These two traits sure got them in trouble with their mother. Another scheme was to try and put sections of the puzzle where they did not belong. Watching them reminded me of something in the Bible. God's word the Bible is a lot like that jigsaw puzzle. Every piece is important and how we treat them will have big outcome in our lives now and a whole lot to do with where we spend eternity, (2 Timothy 3:16, Joshua 1:8). To ignore God's word altogether will cause us eternal suffering and separation from Him, (2 Chronicles 34:21). To force the Bible to make it say what we want will end in frustration and heartache in this life, (Matthew 15:6-9). Leaving out certain parts will never work because it has consequences, (Jeremiah 26:2-6). Oh, what a celebration when every piece of the puzzle is in place. See you in Church Brother J next Sunday.

"When I am gone release me Let me go, I have so many things to see and do You mustn't tie yourself to me with tears Be happy that we had so many beautiful years I gave to you my love

You can only guess how much you gave me in happiness I thank you for the love you each have shown But now it's time I travel alone So grieve awhile for me, if grieve you must Then let your grief be comforted by my trust It's only for awhile that we must part So bless the memories within your heart I won't be far away, for life goes on So if you need me, call and I will come Though you can't see or touch me, I'll be near And if you listen within your heart you'll hear All my love around you soft and clear
And then when you must come this way alone
I'll greet you with a smile and say

Dear Friends,

It would have been impossible to get through the last few days without the love and support each of you has shown me. A sincere thank you from the bottom of my heart to each one who called, came by to give me a hug, or offered words of encouragement and to those who sent one of the beautiful floral arrangements. I especially thank Dr. Marcus Sims for always being there for Bobby and to all the Medway nurses who made his last days a little easier. I cannot begin to mention names because to do so, I would surely miss someone. You know who you are and I will forever remember and keep each of your sweet friendships in my heart. God bless each and everyone who has been there to love and support me.

Hilderbran files bills promoting small business, freezing college tuition

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Promoting small business development, freezing college tuition and a way to cut some of the budget deficit were three bills filed last week by State Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville.

The first bill would promote small business development in Texas by permanently extending the franchise tax exemption for companies that earn less than $1 million a year, according to a press release from Hilderbran's office.

'This bill is about protecting small businesses, because they are responsible for creating the vast majority of new jobs in the state," Hilderbran said.

Nearly 40,000 small businesses across the state benefit from the exemption, which the Texas Legislature approved in 2009. However, the current exemption is set to expire in January 2012 for businesses earning more than $600,000 a year, the release stated.

The U.S. Department of Commerce reported that, in 2010, Texas created more jobs than any other state in the nation, and that it achieved a job growth rate almost double that of any other top ten state. The Wall Street Journal credited the state's low taxes and employer-friendly environment with helping make Texas the "job creation capital" of the nation.

'Texas continues to out-perform its neighbors because of strong, proven economic policies such as the franchise tax exemption for small businesses," Hilderbran said. "Establishing this exemption as one that is permanent will help keep Texas as the top."

As Texas faces a proiected shortfall of $15 billion to $27 billion over the next two years, Hilderbran has introduced legislation that would bring in $72 million without raising taxes. House Bill 257 would accelerate the collections process on unclaimed property.

Currently, money orders revert back to the state if not claimed within seven years. Hilderbran's bill would cut that time down to three years.

Hilderbran, who serves as chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said his bill is one of several steps toward a balanced budget.

"I'm not going to let a tax bill come out of my committee. Period. That means we need to take a serious look at legislation that enhances our revenue in other ways strengthening audits, closing loopholes to address inequities in the tax code, and increasing tax penalties," Hilderbran said.

HB 257 was referred to the House Committee on Business and Industry.

Hilderbran has also filed a bill that would freeze public university tuition rates at their 2010-11 level, effectively repealing a law that allows public universities to set their own tuition rates.

In 2003, the Texas Legislature "deregulated" tuition, giving college governing boards the power to set their own tuition rates. Hilderbran, who led strong opposition to the 2003 measure, said that too many schools abused the power.

"Within six years, the average cost of tuition at Texas universities had increased 72 percent," Hilderbran said. "There are a lot of middle class Texans who don't make enough money to pay for college out of their pocket, but they make too much to qualify for government assistance like the Pell Grant. Skyrocketing tuition rates are pricing these families out of higher education."

According to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board, the average cost for tuition and fees increased from $1,934 per semester in fall 2003 to $3,323 per semester in fall

If passed, Hilderbran's bill would apply to tuition rates beginning with the fall 2011 semester.

Staples has no plan to pull controversial website

BY JULIAN AGUILAR

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples has no plans to pull down a state-run website that allows border ranchers and farmers to document their daily struggles with drug cartels and undocumented immigrants. Instead, he called a news conference last week to promote the site and reiterate its necessity.

Launched two weeks ago, protectyourtexasborder.com has drawn the ire of some who oppose comments made on the site's message board, comments calling for armed vigilante groups, land mines and booby traps on farm and ranch lands near or on the border.

On March 9, state Sen. José Rodríguez, D-El Paso, asked Staples to pull the site, alleging it was fostering hate.

Staples said comments made by a few should not detract from the site's intent: to show the federal government the "war on drugs has evolved into a drug war against America.

'I am absolutely opposed to hate language of any kind and we have already taken steps to improve [the site]," he said at a news conference. Staples said he "hoped and prayed" the comments wouldn't be the public's focus and that instead the "outcry of the crimes against our farmers and ranchers would be elevated.'

Since the site's initial launch last week, Staples' office has added a web page informing users that the department has the right to remove posts that contain hate speech and other derogatory remarks.

U.S. Rep Silvestre Reyes, D-El Paso, said the site was nothing more than propaganda that portrayed rural Texas like "rural Afghanistan," and cited statistics indicating border communities in Texas are safer than most others, including Austin.

Staples instead pointed to an enhanced photograph of a truck riddled with bullets after recently coming under attack 26 miles from the South Texas border.

'If we have officials saying it's safe and that everything is all right. I think you need to say that to the driver of this truck, he said. "These drug criminals are terrorizing our farmers and ranchers.

TODD STAPLES

State Rep. Jose Aliseda, R-Beeville, a former member of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, said there is no doubt illegal aliens are coming across the border to do more than perform thankless jobs.

Of the estimated 152,000 inmates in state prisons, he said, 5,000 to 7,000 are illegal aliens that have committed serious crimes

U.S. Rep. Henry Cuellar, D-Laredo, defended Washington's actions and said his party last year injected more funds toward border security than at any other time in history. But the new GOP-controlled U.S. House has gutted those funds by at least $350 million, he said.

Staples said he has no time for "partisan" games.

"No American should stand by and listen to rhetoric and blame-gaming about one person stepping up and doing more than the other," he said. UPDATE:

Staples has responded to Rodríguez with a letter of his own. Staples says he agrees that any hate speech should be condemned, but asks Rodríguez to join him in his efforts to protect ranchers and farmers.

"I absolutely and wholeheartedly condemn any responses that, as you state in your letter, 'promote violence and hate," Staples writes. "You also state in your letter, 'allowing the spread of violent messages is simply unacceptable On this you and I agree.

Furthermore, I cannot allow and sincerely hope you would join me in also condemning – the spread of violent attacks on our farmers and ranchers."

Ozona Baseball competes in the West Texas Classic in Midland

BY NIKKI LAFITTE OHS BASEBALL

The Ozona Lions truly stepped up to the plate last weekend when they played in the West Texas Classic baseball tournament, entering as one of only two 2A teams in the 10 team tourney. The Lions faced Seminole on Thursday as their first opponent in the competition.

The Lions won the home team flip against the Indians. Saul Vargas started on the hill for the Lions striking out three before turning it over to Alex Borrego in the fourth. Borrego had some help in the field with a ball hit to the short stop, Abey Lara, who threw it to Drew Sanchez at first to get the first out.

The next out was made with a line out straight to Lara. Miley Castro took over and completed the fourth inning with a fly out to center fielder, Kyle Dean. Castro finished the game, adding another strike out to his record.

Offensively, Kyle Dean, Abey Lara, Alejandro Mendez, Austin Suddreth, Andrew Sanchez, Saul Vargas and Alex Borrego all had base hits while Lara also added a double to his offensive record. Although the Lions battled, they fell to the Indians with a 14-3

The Lions came back strong in their second game of the day against the Borg-er Bulldogs. The Lions had first bat as they were in the visitor dugout for this matchup. Kyle Dean hit a single and double, Abey

Lara hit two singles, Alejandro Mendez hit a single, Nathan DeHoyos smashed a triple and got a base hit in the 6th inning, Austin Suddreth had two base hits and a double, Saul Vargas had a base hit, and Alex Borrego hit a single as the Lions battled.

Defensively the Lions held the Bulldogs to no runs in the first and second inning. Abey Lara started on the mound and pitched until turning it over to Andrew Sanchez in the third, who closed the game.

The Bulldogs put the ball in play, but the Lion's defense held them to only four runs in the last half of the game. The game ended with an 11-11 tie but the Lions claimed the win with runners left on third.

The Lions had an early start on Friday morning against the Presidio Blue Devils. Ozona won the home team toss and took the field to start the match up. Austin Suddreth started pitching for the Lions against the Blue Devils. Ismael Castro took over in the second inning, pitching to six batters before turning it over to Drew Sanchez to close the game.

Sanchez struck out three during the four inning competition. Kyle Dean, Abey Lara, Nathan DeHoyos, Austin Suddreth, Andrew Sanchez, Ismael Castro, and Alex Borrego all had base hits during the game. Additionally, Lara and DeHoyos both hit doubles while Lara and Saul Vargas both had triple hits during the game. The Lions fought hard; however, they fell to the Blue Devils with a 17-10 loss.

Friday's play proved to be tough by way of adding wins to the Lion's record. Their final game of the day was against the 5-A Midland High JV Bulldogs. Alejandro Mendez pitched for the first three innings striking out two, while Kyle Dean came in to close, striking out one.

Offensively, the Lions struggled, getting only four hits during the last game of the day. The Bulldogs came away with the victory over the Lions with a 14-0 win.

The fifth game of the tournament for the Lions was played Saturday morning against the 3-A Pecos Eagles. The Lions took the field first with Adam Gonzales pitching. Gonzales struck out two in the first three innings of play.

Abey Lara took over to finish the game earning six strike outs to his record. The Lions came out swinging hard with Saul Vargas, Alejandro Mendez, Alex Borrego, and Ismael all getting solid hits.

However, the Eagle defense proved to be strong competition holding the Lions to only one run. The final score was 12-1, finishing the tournament for the Lions. The Lions record for the 2011 season is now 8-5.

The Lions will host Harper on Friday, March 18, with the JV beginning at 1 p.m. and the varsity following at 3 p.m. on Sat-urday, March 19, the Li-ons will host Junction with the JV beginning at noon and the varsity following at 2:15 p.m.

Ozona students tour college campuses

BY SUSIE DUBOIS

OHS COLLEGE READINESS COORDINATOR

Ozona students have been visiting college campuses recently.

On March 1 OMS eighth graders visited Angelo State University.

During the visit they attended an information session and toured various buildings on campus including the newly renovated Library.

That same day OHS Seniors visited Sul Ross State University, also getting program information and a campus tour.

On March 4 and 5, OHS juniors and seniors went on the campus's first College Tour Trip.

Students had to earn points to attend this trip. Points were earned from grades, extracurricular participation, other various campus activities, and community service.

On Friday, the students were given a formal tour of University of Texas at San Antonio, and also visited the campuses of University of Incarnate Word, St. Mary's University, and San Antonio Community College.

On Saturday the students began their day with a formal information session and tour of the Art Institute of Austin. They continued their day attending "Explore UT - The Biggest Open House in Texas" where they had the opportunity to choose from hundreds of different sessions.

OHS students topped off the weekend with a tour of the UT Tow-

Little Dribblers' game results

BY AUSTIN ELGUEA THE OZONA STOCKMAN

On Monday of last week, the battle was of the Spurs against the Dynamite. This battle wasn't in a war but in basketball. Rachel Mendoza had the most points with 10 plus the most steals for the Spurs. She had 5 steals, 2 rebounds, and 2 fouls. Emily Marlett was having a very good game getting 6 points, and 4 rebounds. Last week Azaylea Tovar played as a Spark to help them out, but the Spurs are her real team. She had 4 points, a rebound and 3 fouls. Julie Marshall had 2 points, a foul, 2 steals, and 1 rebound. One player on the Spurs, Dacie Taylor, just couldn't buy a bucket. She never got any points, yet she got 3 rebounds and a steal.

For this victory game, the Spurs were leading the way in every quarter. At the end of the first quarter, the game was 8-3. During halftime, the score showed 14-3 and the Spurs still winning. In the third quarter, the Spurs scored a huge amount of 6 points, holding the Dynamite to only scoring 2 points. The third quarter score was 20-5. The final score to keep this fabulous team undefeated was 22-8.

The Dynamite had a very good game too. Kelly Sewell had 3 points, 2 steals, 2 rebounds, and shot 2 free throws. Kelly shot 50 percent of free throws making 1 of 2. Bobbie Jo Vargas had 2 points, 6 steals, and 1 rebound. Later in the fourth quarter, Bobbie Jo hit her head against the floor and Coach Harris had to take her out of the game. It was a very bad injury so she was out for the rest of the remaining time. Madalyn Harris, like Kelly, also had 2 points and shot 50 percent from the free throw line. She made 1 of 2. Madalyn got 1 foul, but also a steal. Another Dynamite player named Jasmine Talamantez had 1 foul, a steal, and 1 rebound, but no points. Zena Vargas got called for a foul, and made a steal.

At the end of the first quarter, the Dynamite were losing 3-8, not losing by much and maybe able to catch up. Some people had doubts about that when the halftime score was 3-14 with the Dynamite losing by now 11. After the third quarter, the score turned into 5-20. The final total was 8-22 with their record being now 0-5. With the Spurs getting this win their record is 5-0.

Another game that was on Monday was the boys Spurs against Lakers. Hunter Smith had 2 fouls and 4 points. Roman Esparza got 2 fouls and 2 points. Another Spurs player was Caleb Martinez who had only 1 foul. Yours truly, Austin Elguea, had 4 points and 2 fouls. Austin had 100 percent free throw shooting. Andy Hernandez had just 1 foul. The Spurs team did a good job, but just couldn't make some shots. They lost 10-28.

The Lakers did a fantastic job bringing home their win. It looked like every single bucket went in. Kobe Rodriquez had 2 fouls. Weston Fay, the best player that night out of the two teams, had 18 points and only 1 foul. Weston also had 100 percent free throw shooting. Another Laker, Aidan Fierro had 4 points and 1 foul. In this game there was actually a three pointer made by the Lakers and Alec Lara was the one who got it. Alec got 6 points, shot 100 percent of his free throws, and had 3 fouls. These four people made up the winning score of 28 while the Spurs lost by 18.

On Tuesday night the war of basketball raged on. The first game was the Sparks against the Dynamite. On the Sparks, Asia Lara had 8 points, 1 steal, 2 fouls, and shot 50 percent of free throws. She made 2 out of 4 free throws. Dustine Perez had a rebound and 2 steals. Another Spark, Gabby Flores, got 2 rebounds and 1 foul. Alyssa Perez had 3 steals and 3 fouls. The last player on the Sparks was Cassidy McCutcheon who had a foul and 1 steal. Everybody on this team did something either defensively or offensively. At the end of the first quarter, the Sparks were losing 1-4. By halftime the Sparks were still losing but now the score was 3-6. During the third quarter, the Sparks had not scored any points making the third quarter score 3-8. The Sparks lost 8-9 being a very close game.

On the Dynamite, Bobbie Jo Vargas had the most points with 5. She also had a steal and shot 50 percent from the foul line making 1 of 2. Bobbie Jo fouled out with one minute and six seconds left in the fourth quarter. Kelly Sewell had 2 points and 2 rebounds. Zena Vargas did not have any points but 1 steal, a rebound, and 3 fouls. Jasmine Talamantez got a rebound in this game. At the end of the first quarter the Dynamite were winning by just 3 points with the score being 1-4. During halftime, the scoreboard showed the Dynamite still winning by 3 points with the score as 3-6. The Dynamite made only one bucket in the third quarter. Now the score was 3-8 and the Dynamite staying alive by 5 points. The final score was 9-8 and the Dynamite's record for the season was 5-1. The Sparks record was 2-4. The Sparks only lost by 1 point.

Gibbs said no one was harmed physically or mentally during the incident and the two alleged employees were dismissed from the facility. The Crockett County EMS and Health Services Board gave Gibbs permission to adopt the policy.

programs are now available and how landowners can participant in these programs.

"Our main goal with the meetings is to give landowners ample opportunity to discuss the watershed protection plan implementation and future plans with me and their local soil and water conservation district technicians," Bryant said.

Bryant said one of the project's most successful activities to be discussed at the meetings is the establishment of saltcedar leaf-beetle populations to control saltcedar along the river.

Dr. Mark Muegge, AgriLife Extension entomologist at Fort Stockton has been heavily involved with introducing the beetles.

"This past year was a banner year for previously existing beetle populations, and new release sites also did really well," he said. "We look forward to the beetles' emergence this spring and do not expect any detrimental effects from the cold weather we've had this winter."

For other updates, go to: http://pecosbasin.tamu.edu/.

Bryant said the website is kept current and houses all project-related information on the watershed protection plan. He said paper copies of the plan will be available at the meetings or can be obtained from Bryant himself or from any of the participating soil and water conservation district offices.

Funding and support for the development and implementation of the Pecos River Watershed Protection Plan is provided through a federal Clean Water Act §319(h) Nonpoint Source grant from the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

For more information on these meetings or ways to become involved in watershed protection plans, call Bryant at (432) 336-8585 or glbryant@ ag.tamu.edu .

Beware of charitable scams during Japan relief effort

In wake of the earthquake and resulting tsunami that has caused widespread disaster in Japan and some areas of the United States, the Office of the Attorney General is cautioning Texans to carefully vet relief organizations before making any charitable contributions.

Texans who are solicited for charitable contributions should consider the following:

· Ensure the relief organization is legitimate. Ask for credentials, including the soliciting entity's exact name and telephone number, particularly if the purported relief organization is not well known.

· Call the charity directly and confirm that the solicitor is actually working for that organization.

· Watch for questionable charities using names that closely resemble the names of well-known charities. Find out how the donation will be used.

Be wary of appeals that are long on emotion and short on descriptions about how charitable contributions will aid the recovery effort.

· Don't succumb to high-pressure tactics and demands for an immediate decision. A legitimate charity welcomes background checks on their operations.

Never give a credit card or bank account number to an unknown solicitor.

Never give cash and never agree to give money to a courier. Write a check to the charity directly - not the soliciting individual - and get a receipt.

For information about specific relief operations, visit the American Institute of Philanthropy (AIP) at www.charity-

Time running out to participate in Driver Responsibility Program amnesty

BY TELA MANGE

TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SAFETY

Of the 713,444 people who are eligible to participate in the Driver Responsibility Program amnesty, only 54,035 (about 7.5 percent of the total) have signed up so far. The amnesty program allows delinquent drivers to pay just 10 percent of the original amount owed on all surcharges combined, or a maximum of $250.

Drivers are not required to make a payment when they sign up, however they must pay off all money owed by April 17 to retain their driving privileges. Eligible drivers have until April 7 to sign up for this program and must pay all surcharge amounts by April 17.

This one-time amnesty applies to drivers who had a surcharge assessed between Sept. 30, 2004, and Dec. 31, 2008, and are delinquent on those payments.

Once the online or telephone application is approved, the surcharge suspensions will be cleared on the applicant's driving record within three business days. After three business days, the applicant can review the reduced amount on line and begin making the necessary payments.

To apply for the amnesty program, see the surcharge website at www.txsurchargeonline.com or call 1-877-207-3170. No requests will be accepted by mail, e-mail or fax.

The Driver Responsibility Program, which assesses fees for a variety of driving-related offenses, was passed by the Legislature in 2003 and directed the Department of Public Safety to administer the program. Traffic offenses that carry an automatic surcharge for three years include DWIrelated offenses, no insurance, driving while license suspended, driving without a license and point accumulation. For example, the fee for a first-time DWI offender is $1,000 per year for three years. The revenue generated by DRP goes to trauma centers, emergency medical services and the General Revenue Fund.

Rancher's Workshop March 25

The Crockett, Middle Concho, North Concho River, Edwards Plateau, Eldorado-Divide and Tom Green Soil & Water Conservation Districts (SWCD) are partnering up with local landowners, Angelo State University (ASU), Grazing Lands Conservation Initiative (GLCI) and the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) to host the second annual "Rancher's Workshop.'

The event is scheduled for Friday, March 25, at the Big Lake Community Center in Big Lake.

Lunch will be catered by Kenny Blanek's Village Café. Continuing Education Credits (CEU) will be offered for first speaker starting the day at 8:45 a.m. and concluding at 2:30 p.m.

Dr. Gary Vannoy, D.V.M., from Ozona, will cover livestock diseases common to the area; Dr. Rick Machen, AgriLife Research and Extension livestock specialist, will provide vaccinating schedules and results; Dr. Cody Scott, with Angelo State University will cover range animal nutrition and protein/mineral supplementation; and representatives from Boehringher-Ingelheim and Texas Vet Lab, Inc. will be covering pharmaceutical improvements and available products.

During the event Stay Tuff Fencing, Yellowhouse Machinery Company and Priefert Ranch Equipment will offer on-site live demonstrations of new innovations to the livestock and equipment industry.

Corey Owens, instructor/research associate with the ASU Department of Agriculture will have graduate participants, registration students on hand to display will begin at 8 a.m., with the their rangeland research projects. Both students and speakers will be available to answer questions about their respective research projects and presentations.

For more information and/or to RSVP for the workshop, contact the Middle Concho SWCD at (325) 884-2182 ext.3.

REMINDER:

The County Road Department will pick up, only, separated and un-bagged piles of leaves and limbs from alleyways and roadways belonging to the county. Household trash must be disposed of in Dumpsters only. Concrete, Dirt, or any type of Metals (ex. Pipe, Tin, or Fencing) will NOT be picked up by the County.

ORDER RESTRICTING OUTDOOR BURNING

The Commissioners' Court finds that circumstances present in all or part of the unincorporated area of the county create a public safety hazard that would be exacerbated by outdoor burning; and NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED by the Commissioners' Court of Crockett County, Texas, that outdoor burning is restricted in Crockett County for 30 days from the date of adoption of this Order, unless the restrictions are terminated earlier based on a determination made by the Texas Forest Service or this Court. This Order is adopted pursuant to Local Government Code 352.081, and other applicable statues. This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor burning activities related to public health and safety that are authorized by the Texas Natural Resources Commission for: (1) firefighter training; (2) public utility, natural gas pipeline or mining operations; (3) planting or harvesting or agricultural crops; or (4) burns that are conducted by an approved Prescribed Burning Association, Natural Resource Conservation Service, the and/or Texas A&M Agricultural Experiment Station, or prescribed burn manager certified under Section 153.048, Natural Resources Code, and meet the standards of Section 153.047, Natural Resources Code.

All burns shall be reported to the Crockett County Sheriff's Office (325) 392-2661 and the Fire Chief (325) 392-2626 prior to commencing, together with the name of the landowner, location involved and expert to be on hand.

This Order does NOT prohibit outdoor cooking in a properly contained area which is attended at all times. In accordance with the Local Government Code 352.081 (h), a violation of this Order is a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $500.

ADOPTED this the 14th day of March, 2011.
