Voters will choose new school board member

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

A new school board member will be elected in November.

After discussing the issue during the May 18 regular meeting, the Crockett County CCSD School Board voted 4-2 to hold an election to fill the vacant At Large board member position.

Board Vice President Grizz Medina and Board Member Roland De Hoyos voted against the motion.

Medina said she wanted to appoint to save the district the cost of an election.

Dr. Marcus Sims resigned in April. The board could either appoint a person to fill the position or hold an election. The person elected will fill the remainder of Sims' term, which is one year.

At their April regular meeting, board members were interested in knowing how much an election would cost.

Superintendent Chris duBois said election costs would run around $2,500, and that the

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Think before using drugs, alcohol

Dear Editor,

I heard the other day that there was almost another tragedy. A young girl nearly died from an alcohol drug overdose. They got her to the hospital just in time.

I can't believe that these young people see three of their friends die of an overdose and they still use hard drugs. Do they think they are superior beings and it won't happen to them. I have news for them. If they keep using it will happen to them sooner or later.

I just wonder if Bobbie would still be alive if the people she was with would have shown good judgment and compassion when she got sick and had gotten her help. They just let her lie there and die. Maybe they didn't think she mattered much. I can tell these so-called friends that Bobbie mattered a lot to her family. We think about her every day and there's an ocean of tears shed for her. Those are the kind of friends I wouldn't wish on my worst enemy.

One of the things that gets me, there still hasn't been anyone arrested and charged. I think negligent homicide is still a crime, isn't it? Maybe the next overdose will be a family member of one of you readers. I sure hope not. I don't want anyone to go through what our family is going through. We have to get this poison off the streets.

Deployment

My bags are packed,
I've saluted my flag,
I now shall go,
Defend my land,

I shall rise above,
My fear of death,
Help protect
my fellow man,

I'll go places,
I've never known,
Help those people

Protect their home,

I'll touch and feel,
What most have not,
Pay my dues,
A very high cost,

My only request in the end
May God have mercy

Congratulations Class of 2011

Another school year has come and gone. As the Class of 2011 prepares for graduation, I want to offer some advice from someone who was in their shoes more than a decade ago.

When you walk across that stage, you are entering into another part of your life.

Someone once told me that the four years spent in high school are the best ones in your life. While I agree that these four years are memorable, I believe that the best is yet to come for our graduates.

The world is at your feet, but it's up to you to decide how you're going to take that crucial first step.

Whether or not you choose to pursue higher education, or jump into a career, opportunities are out there just waiting for you to grab hold of them.

Of course, there will be times when you are met with temptation, both good and bad.

It's in these moments you have to remember what you've been taught because mom and dad won't always be there to ask. Trust me on this one.

For those of you entering college, you will learn more outside the classroom than in, but go to class. Without those classes, there is no degree.

Be nice to everyone you meet, even if they are not nice to you.

Have a good attitude. My dad always told me that one. As always, dad was right. A good attitude will get you through the toughest times and the hardest decisions.

Trust in your faith. It can also lead you down the right path.

Keep in touch with your friends.

While you may go your separate ways, e-mail, write letters, make a phone call, text message, just let each other know how you are doing. I bet they will be in the same boat as you are.

WHAT'S ON MY MIND

You will have to work in a job that you don't want, at least one or two times, before you find the right one.

Remember, it builds character and reminds you of what you want to achieve.

This year's class is a unique blend of characters. Yes, I mean characters, not students.

Each one has a story, a tale to tell, is a part of history that will continue on after they receive their diplomas.

This is not the end of your book, but only the ending of a chapter.

Ahead of you lies the wide open world ready for you to explore.

That exploration may take many of you to a university campus. It may take some of you overseas to serve our country.

For others, your journey may begin earning a living.

Whatever path you choose remember you are the author of your own book of life. What theme it will be depends on which choices you make.

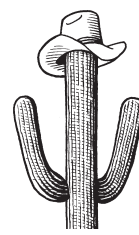

As the Class of 2011 heads out into the world, I want to remind you of some advice from a good doctor named Seuss:

"Be sure when you step, step with care and great tact. And remember that life's a great balancing act. And will you succeed? Yes! You will indeed! (98 and 3/4 percent guaranteed). Kid, you'll move mountains!" - from "Oh, the Places You'll Go!"

Congratulations to the class of 2011. Good luck to all of you!

MELISSA PERNER is the editor and publisher of The Ozona Stockman. Hats off to the Class of 2011!

Riding Lessons

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

People who have seen me ride aren't going to believe this but I've never had an equitation lesson in my life. I just climbed aboard one day and let my feet dangle over the side.

One of the greatest pleasures of my life has been polishing my pants on a saddle attached to a horse. It was those horses who taught me to ride, not some riding academy teacher or professor at an exclusive private school for rich city kids back east. I'll admit, I've always felt inferior around the horsey set who ride flat saddles and jump fences.

They look impressive posting up and down like an oil well, but I've never managed to get on the right beat without bruising my backside. Besides, I look stupid in jodhpurs, crash helmet and tall boots. I mean, even more stupid than usual.

I started riding before I was one year old and I have a photo of me as a baby sitting astride my Grandpa's horse at a rodeo he produced that I'd share with you if not for the fact that it looks like I'm wearing what appears to be a dress.

My first teacher was a saddle sitting on a sawhorse in a room my Grandpa called his "bunkhouse." It was that bunkhouse saddle that taught me to keep my heels down and my back erect and I'm proud to say that I was never bucked off by that saw horse, even though there were some close calls when someone would open the door and a wind gust would test my mettle.

By burying my spurs in the cinch I managed to stay on top.

I'm not saying I can ride anything that wears hair, wool or feathers, but my Grandpa always said that I should ride like I was a part of the horse and I must say, with all humility, that I must have been successful at it because I've been accused of being part of a horse's anatomy many times by folks who've read my column.

In high school I worked part-time on a ranch and the first day the manager assigned me a horse and said that even though I didn't own him, he was mine and no one else could ride him. At the time I didn't know that he meant that literally. Since I'd never ridden before I guess he thought he should give me a horse that had never been ridden before either. I should have quit when he said the horse's name was Buck.

Buck was a horse who didn't like the sensation of anything on his back and the first thing he taught me was to never, ever, climb aboard a horse named Buck, Maneater or Grave Digger. It was Buck who taught me tricks folks back home are still talking about, such as riding under the horse, hanging on to his tail and riding backwards with both knees in the saddle. All at full speed. Although I've never been able to recreate these tricks on other horses I have come close.

The other thing Buck taught me was how to "grab the horn, hunt for leather, reach for the apple, sound the horn, squeeze the biscuit and shake hands with grandma." All euphemisms for using the saddle horn for what it was intended for. No, not roping, but for hanging on for dear life.

The last thing Buck taught me was that the secret to not being thrown off was to not get on in the first place.

Another teacher of mine was my horse Gentleman. Now, old timers will tell you to never buy a horse that is smarter than you, but I disagree for it was important for at least one of us to know what we were doing. Usually it was Gentleman who decided where we went. Although Gentleman was generally well behaved, he kept me honest and I never did forget how to get bucked off properly. After a day spent riding Gentleman my back ached from carrying him around on my spurs all day.

Although he was only slightly more effective than being afoot, and it took him two weeks to "spin" 360 degrees, I did teach some nieces, nephews and neighbors how to ride on Gentleman. Which reminds me of the story of the five year old little darling who, when asked why she was holding on so tightly to her father in front of her on the saddle she said, "So he won't fall off." Sometimes I need someone like that.

Budget close to passage in final week

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Actions taken by the state House and Senate point toward the possibility of completing a state budget on or before May 30, the final day of the session.

House Speaker Joe Straus and Lt. Gov. David Dewhurst, who presides over the Senate, sent out press releases late in the week indicating negotiations were going well enough to pass a balanced budget that relies on historically deep cuts.

The House did pass a Senate "fiscal matters" bill — one just for public education — but House members attached amendments to the bill. The Senate, in turn, refused to concur on those amendments.

A conference committee of five House members and five Senate members has a shrinking window of time to come to an agreement on the final language. Another Senate fiscal matters bill, one that deals with budget areas other than public education, was scheduled for consideration in the House on May 23.

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs on May 17 generated optimism about the state's financial health a few days before the Legislature entered the final week of the 140-day session without a finalized state budget for 2012-2013.

"I am raising the general revenue estimate for the next biennium by $1.2 billion," Combs said, estimating that sales tax, oil and gas production tax and motor vehicle sales tax should bring in more revenue than trends indicated earlier.

Of the projected $1.2 billion, the largest component is $400 million in oil and gas production tax. Whatever the real number turns out to be for oil and gas production taxes, 75 percent of those are constitutionally reserved for deposit into the state's so-called "rainy day" fund.

Even though the budget is expected to total more than $160 billion, the rainy day fund remains a bone of contention. Some Texans say it is "raining" now, so it is time to use most, if not all of the fund to shore up cut-back public education and health care programs. And some Texans stand with Gov. Rick Perry, who said he would reject any plan that employs the fund in 2012-2013. House Bill 1 in its present form does not use rainy day funds.

Perry, now in his eleventh year as governor, recently has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 2012. And although he's been shrugging off the idea while making speeches that seem national in scope, Perry's pressing task is to scrutinize the growing pile of passed legislation on his desk. He has until June 19 to sign, veto or let bills become law without his signature. Here are a few of the 180 bills the governor had signed as of May 20:

HB 15: relating to informed consent to an abortion.

HB 558: relating to payoff statements provided in connection with certain home loans.

HB 613: relating to unauthorized harvesting of standing timber.

HB 1806: relating to fishing tournament fraud.

SB 18: relating to use of eminent domain authority.

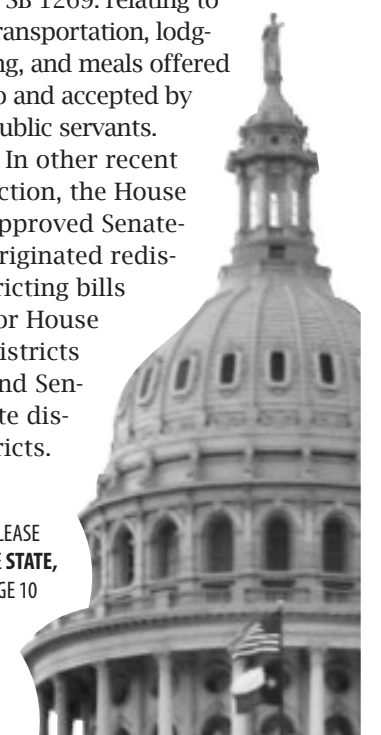

SB 894: relating to employment of physicians by certain hospitals.

SB 1160: relating to the liability of landowners for damage or injury, including liability for harm to a trespasser.

SB 1269: relating to transportation, lodging, and meals offered to and accepted by public servants.

In other recent action, the House approved Senate-originated redistricting bills for House districts and Senate districts.

Knox awarded Hilderbran Scholar

State Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville, has announced four District 53 graduating seniors as 2011 Hilderbran Scholar designees.

Duncan Knox of Ozona High School, Kaylyn Miller of Menard High School, Lourdes Pasillas of Eldorado High School and Sarah Annmarie Rubio of Leakey High School will each receive awards to help pay for their freshman collegiate year.

Scholarship winners were chosen based on academic performance, accomplishments, and an essay question about the implications of voter identification legislation. Since 2003, Hilderbran has awarded scholarships to District 53 students pursuing a degree at a college, university, or technical school.

Applications are sent out each March, and high school officials can request details on upcoming scholarship opportunities by sending the appropriate contact information to harvey.hilderbran@house.state.tx.us.

Jim (Jimmie) was born in McKinney, Texas on Aug. 25, 1930 to Jesse Thomas (Dough) Rollins and Katie Parralee (Patty) Hendrix Rollins. He graduated from Boyd High School, McKinney, Texas in 1948. He was active in Boy Scouts of America and Future Farmers of America. Following in the footsteps of his father, six of his uncles, and ten first cousins, he attended the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Jim graduated with a B.A. in mathematics in 1952, was commissioned into the United States Army, and served in Korea. In 1954, he married Elaine Connolly in Dallas, Texas. Jim taught mathematics at Ozona High School, Ozona, Texas, 1954-1957, and at Grand Prairie High School, Grand Prairie, Texas, 1957-1958. He was granted a M.S. in Secondary Education from North Texas State College in 1958.

Jim studied at the National Science Foundation Institute for Math Teachers at the University of Chicago, 1958-1959. He served on the University of Illinois Committee for School Mathematics, 1961-1963, under Max Beberman, a pioneer of modern mathematics education. Jim also taught at University High School, Urbana, Illinois, 1961-1963. He received a Ph. D. in Mathematics Education from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1966.

Jim served on the faculties of North Texas State College/University, Department of Mathematics, 1959-1961, and 1963-1966, and Florida State University, Department of Mathematics Education, 1966-1970. In 1970, Jim returned to his alma mater, Texas A&M University, as a founding faculty member of the Department of Education and Curriculum and Instruction. He held a dual appointment in the Department of Mathematics. Jim enjoyed supervising student teachers and guiding graduate students through their Masters and Doctoral programs. He served on the Library Council at Texas A&M. In 1992, he received an Outstanding Teacher Award from the College of Education, Texas A&M University. He was active in the National Council for Teachers of Mathematics and Phi Delta Kappa. Jim retired to Estes Park, Colorado in 1993.

Jim had a lifelong love of music. He was a Singing Cadet at Texas A&M, acting as student director his senior year. While a student at A&M, he was the organist for A&M Methodist Church. He was the director of the choral club for Ozona High School, Ozona, Texas and the organist and choir director for Ozona Methodist Church, 1954-1957. He was the choir director for St. Thomas Episcopal Church, College Station, Texas, 1970-1983. Jim also served on the Music Commission for the Episcopal Diocese of Texas. He served as Dean for the American Guild of Organists. He sang in the Community Singers and the Brazos Valley Chorale, Bryan-College Station, Texas. Jim performed in community theatre in Estes Park and sang in the Estes Park Chorale.

Jim enjoyed many hobbies with his family, such as swimming, gardening, cooking, and traveling. During retirement, Jim and Elaine drove and camped along the Alaska Highway three times and traveled above the Arctic Circle. They camped on the North and South Islands of New Zealand and much of the American West.

Jim was preceded in death by his sister, Nancy Rollins Smith. Jim is survived by his wife, Elaine; a daughter, Katy Hays and her husband, Chuck of Pasadena, California; a son, Tom Rollins, his wife, Shannon, and two granddaughters, Sydney and Hannah Rollins of Denton, Texas; a niece, Patty Smith Reynolds and her husband, Giles of Colleyville, Texas; a great-niece, Paige Reynolds of Ft. Rollins, Jr. of Portland, Oregon, and Betty J. Taylor of Lakeway, Texas.

MEMORIAL DAY

Next Monday, May 30, 2011 will be memorial day and it is the day we honor and pay tribute to all of our U.S. Soldiers who died while in the military service. It started out after the civil war and was known as Decoration Day to honor the Union and Confederate soldiers who died in the American Civil War. It was later changed to honor all U. S. Soldiers who died while serving in the military service. Originally families visited the graves of loved ones but it has now changed to a family get together, picnics, fireworks, shopping, and many kinds of other festive activities. It is a federal holiday and yes, there are many special celebrations to honor those U.S. Servicemen. I think it so neat to be a part of those celebrations honoring those servicemen or just to go watch. To see those small U. S. flags placed on the graves, the prayers of thanksgiving, and taps for those who gave their lives always brings goose bumps and tears to my eyes. I know the country we live in and the many freedoms we enjoy had a high cost for many. I hope we never forget. I also hope we never forget the great price Jesus Christ paid on the cross, (1 John 1:7& 2:25, 3:1) for our freedom and the way He provided for us to be in good standing before God, (Galatians 5:1, Ephesians 1:3&4, Jude 1:24). See you in Church next Sunday. Brother J

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

BY LYNN ENGLISH
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

We received a shower early Friday morning. It was refreshing, but we are still in need of a good rain. Barbara Malone has returned from Dallas and did not have to have surgery. She is sick and still running fever. She is still in our prayers as she struggles to be better. There will not be a column next week as I will be on vacation until Tuesday, May 31. I will be traveling to Annapolis, Md. to attend my grandson's graduation. Midshipman Levi English will be graduating from the U.S. Naval Academy Friday, May 27. After he graduates, he will be a Lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps. I visited with Betty Fields at the post office last week. She said her back was giving her a great deal of pain, but outside of that Al and her are okay. Betty, I hope you are feeling good this week. Betty Hartley came by the Senior Center to get some puzzles to take to the Care Center. Bob will be going back to his Midland doctor in two weeks. We hope his report is good and that he will be up and going in the near future. On Thursday, May 26, Area Agency on Aging will be here at the Senior Center to answer questions that people may have. At 5:30 p.m. Monday, June 6, there will be a Crockett County Senior Center Board meeting at the Senior Center. On Tuesday, June 7, Med Way Health will be here at the Senior Center to take blood pressures and sugar tests. There will be no charge for these tests. Also on Tuesday, June 7, the Concho Valley Community Action Council will be at the Senior Center to assist those who qualify with their utilities. They will be here from 11 a.m.-3 p.m. The Senior Center will be closed Monday, May 30, for Memorial Day. We will reopen Tuesday, May 31. The bridge game will be played at 1:30 p.m. Mondays. Those who attend have the best time playing bridge and they appreciate using our Senior Center. Tuesdays have been set aside for any of you who would like to play dominos. You can play in late am or early afternoon. If you would like to set up a game, call Lynn English at 392-9094. On Wednesday, a group meets to play Mexican Train. These players get competitive and have fun playing this exciting game. We have our regular activities: bridge, bingo, pool table, canasta, domino games and puzzles. We also have a collection of books, magazines, a Wii game and two computers that are on Internet for seniors to use. We also have a projector with stand and a screen and have added a wonderful keyboard. Activities sponsored by the Crockett County Senior Board are for adults only. Please have a happy and safe Memorial Day.

DeerFest Scholarship winners

The Crockett County DeerFest Board of Directors is proud to announce the winners of the 2011 Crockett County DeerFest Scholarships. For the past few years, we have awarded two $1,000 scholarships, but after the unprecedented year we had at the 23rd Annual DeerFest in 2010, we only thought it fitting to up the scholarship amount accordingly. For 2011, the board decided to award a $4,000 general scholarship as well as two $500 military assistance awards.

The applicants for the 2011 general scholarship were required to provide an essay containing three scholarly sources telling us about the town they grew up in, how it helped shape them into the kind of person they are today and how the town's structure influences its citizens.

The applicants for the 2011 military assistance fund were required to define how your community is a precursor to Integrity First, Service before Self and Excellence in all we do. These are core values the United States Military uses today.

Due to not receiving any applications for the military assistance fund, and the fact that we had two exceptional essays, the board of directors decided to combine the two military assistance funds into an additional $1,000 general scholarship to award to the 2nd place essay.

The 2011 Crockett County DeerFest Scholarship winner was almost persuaded not to participate. Instead, this young lady's character pushed her to use this experience to develop a set of ideas that very accurately portrayed how Ozona's structure has influenced its citizens and specifically her. Congratulations to Ozona High School Senior Crystal Vasquez for her submission of this profound, heart-felt essay. We would like to wish her luck and continued success in everything she does.

The 2011 Crockett County DeerFest Scholarship runner-up is Duncan Knox. He submitted a well written, inspirational essay detailing the importance of religion, family and community and the values each has instilled in him. Congratulations Duncan Knox. We would like to wish him luck and continued success.

The Crockett County DeerFest is looking forward to another successful DeerFest in 2011 so we can keep providing to the community that supports us and makes DeerFest the success it is today!

Ozona Middle School Summer Band Camp June 16-18

Ozona Band Directors Stephen Martin and Elizabeth Bouquin will be holding a Summer Band Camp for students entering seventh and eighth grades.

The camp will be held June 16-18 at Ozona Middle School.

Cost for the camp will be $35 for one student or $45 for two students.

The cost will cover food, swimming at the pool and to bring in a guest director.

Students will be in a band setup in a non-classroom environment.

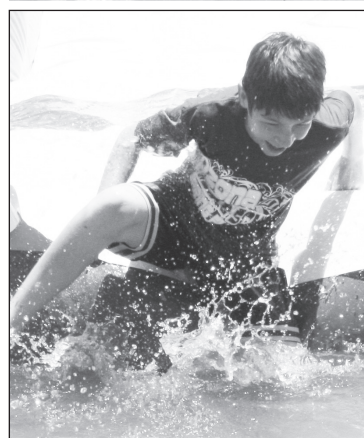

Students will be learning concert music and then give a performance on Saturday morning.

A guest director is also invited to come work with the students.

The other part of the band camp experience is the students will get to have fun at the pool after the rehearsals. Lunch will also be provided both days.

"Mr. Martin and I want to give the band camp experience without the high cost," Bouquin said. "The students will progress as instrumentalists as well as become ready for next year. We are bringing a director in that the students have never met before just to get the band camp experience."

For more information, email elizabeth.bouquin@ozonaschools.net.
