Graduates look to the future

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Diplomas were conferred on 41 students as the Class of 2012 graduated Friday night at Lion Stadium.

In her welcome speech, Salutatorian Isabel Trevino Ybarra spoke of the pride each graduate should feel from living in Ozona.

"I'm proud to say I come from this town. Our community has supported each and every one of us," she said.

As the graduates get ready to set out into the world, Ybarra said no matter where they go or what road they take they can show the pride in being from Ozona.

"We will laugh, cry, be afraid, get lost, but at some point all roads take us back home," she said. "Today, we remember and we will never forget. This is the end of this life and the start of a new one."

Natalie Marie Hernandez, the third-highest graduate, spoke on the future.

"Dream big, don't settle for less than what you deserve," Hernandez said.

She spoke on how responsibilities for all of them will soon change, but whatever path they chose to go with faith.

"I ask you all not to dwell on the past and look forward to the future. Let's go out into this world and show them what we have to pursue our dreams," Hernandez said.

Gabriella Allie Gutierrez, the fourth-highest graduate, spoke on how the past has shaped this year's class.

From the first day of school to sleepover parties and glory days at Ozona Middle School to the high school years where they beat Sonora in football, the band bus got stuck in the sand on the band trip and won this year's Class Olympics, all of these events shaped the Class of 2012, she said.

"Most of our memories are filled with joy and humor," she said. "Our past has taught us so much. We keep growing and changing as a person, but never forget who you are and where you come from. Watch out world, here we come."

During their speeches, Gutierrez and Ybarra both remembered their classmate, Amber Sanchez, who was killed in a tragic car accident their sixth grade year.

"I wondered how it was possible that someone so full of life could be gone so fast," Gutierrez said. "She will be a role model to us all. We must live life to its fullest because tomorrow is not a guarantee."

In his Valedictory address Lane Daniel Hale thanked teachers, parents, his family and community for guiding the Class of 2012.

"I've never driven to a town where all the businesses along Main Street decorated for every sports season.

We were fortunate to grow up in a community like Ozona," Hale said.

During their school career, Hale said being in CCCCS was a challenge having four different superintendents, six athletic directors, eight principals and four campuses.

"In the long run it helped us as students. We have learned how to function in an adverse environment. Things that will benefit us throughout life," Hale said.

Hale also gave the Class of 2012's Top 12 facts about life.

These included Alejandro Mendez proving it was possible to break a femur all by himself, procrastination happens no matter who you are, no crying in Francoland, if you don't shave Mrs. DeLeon will catch you, school always comes before anything else, friends come and go but true friends will be there forever and you only have one life, so live life to the fullest and be the best you can be.

"This is a fresh start and the opening paragraph to a long life," Hale said.

Giving the invocation was Kelsie L. Ramirez, and the benediction was given by Michael Wayne Medina Jr.

The President's Academic Excellence Award winners were recognized. They are Hale and Kramer Riley Hall. Graduates earning college hours were Anthony Lee R. Avila, Erik Carrizales, Tevin Kade Cordova, Hall, Hernandez, Medina, Kelbie Lynn Renfro and Ybarra.

Military Graduates were Carrizales, Cordova and Alexandra Rodriguez.

Awards were also presented to the 11 honor graduates.

Ushers for this year's graduation were Allie Black, Cris Taylor, Cynthia Garcia and Jerrod duBois.

Hawthorne, Rodriguez headed for runoff

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Crockett County voters will go to the polls again to elect a new sheriff.

Bob Rodriguez and Ron Hawthorne will face each other in a runoff for Crockett County Sheriff in the Democratic Primary.

The runoff election date is July 31. Early voting will be July 23-27.

Rodriguez led the race with 492 votes, which was 44 percent of the voting total.

Hawthorne had 307 votes, which was 27 percent of the voting total.

Incumbent Sheriff Roy Glenn Sutton received 163 votes, 15 percent, and Paul Stroope received 155 votes, 14 percent.

Rodriguez carried early voting with 241 votes. Hawthorne had 172, Stroope 144 and Sutton 91 in early voting.

In Primary Election Day voting, Rodriguez won three out of the four precincts. In precinct 1 he had 78 votes, precinct 2 65, precinct 3 37 and precinct 4 71.

Hawthorne was second in all but one of the precincts. In precinct 1, he had 27, precinct 2 47, precinct 3 47 and precinct 4 14.

Sutton had 13 votes in precinct 1, 22 in precinct 2, 24 in precinct 3 and 13 precinct 4.

Stroope had 0 votes in precinct 1, 4 in precinct 2, 4 precinct 3 and 3 in precinct 4.

In the 112th District Attorney's race, incumbent Laurie English won her third term as 112th District Attorney.

English carried all five counties in the Democratic Primary winning overall with 1,810 votes to opponent James Jepson's 1,294.

English will not be fully elected until the November General Election, but does not face a Republican opponent.

In Crockett County, English squeaked by with 498 votes to Jepson's 427.

In Pecos County, English had 657 to Jepson's 488.

In Upton County, English had 321 and Jepson 264.

For Sutton County, English had 329 and Jepson 112.

At Reagan County, English won 5 votes to 3 over Jepson.

County wide, 1,186 votes were cast in the Democratic Primary and 13 in the Republican Primary. Crockett County has an estimated 2,500 registered voters.

As of press time, former congressman Ciro D. Rodriguez had 51.3 percent of the vote over State Rep. Pete Gallego, 34.6 percent, and John Bustamante, 14.1 percent, for the U.S. House of Representatives District 23 race in the Democratic Primary.

The winner of that race will face Republican incumbent Francisco "Quico" Canseco on the November ballot.

Local State Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville, won his Republican Primary race over Cary Wise with 72 percent of the vote.

Also, as of press time the Associated Press said the Republican Primary U.S. Senate race will go to a runoff between David Dewhurst and Ted Cruz.

President Barack Obama and Republican Challenger Mitt Romney easily won the statewide primaries.

With the win, Romney clinches the Republican presidential nomination.

Attract customers with summertime incentives

As the summer approaches, now is the time to be thinking about how to attract customers on vacation and looking for things to do with their families.

During the summer months, many businesses can be creative with advertising and catering to customers to maintain your business.

Sponsorship can be a valuable, targeted way to advertise your business. For example, during spring and summer, there are more charity walks, runs and bike rides. As a business, you can sponsor an event and get your name in the advertising material. Another idea is to donate either product or your time at an event. Volunteering your time can be the most affordable advertising for a new business. When cash is limited in a small business,

BUSINESS TIPS

time can be a better way to get your name out in the community. Another opportunity when you volunteer is that you get a chance to meet face to face with potential customers. That is more valuable than any advertisement.

With the longer days and hotter temperatures, customers may be looking for cool respite. Be sure as a business owner that your business is properly cooled. Another thing to consider is drive up or quick take out services. Also consider having cold beverages for your customers. The more comfortable you make your customers, the more inclined they will be to spend time in your business.

If you are in the hospitality business, more people may go out for dinner or drinks to stay cool. In your restaurant or bar, be sure to offer a glass of water to your patrons. In hot weather, consider incorporating this service to your customers.

You as a business owner may decide that summer is the right time for your vacation. If you are in business, you know that vacations are difficult to schedule for a small business owner. If you decide to be away from your business, be sure to have a plan to save or make up the lost revenue while you are away. Also, notify your customers when you will be away and plan to either have someone fill in for you while you are away, or how you can finish projects before you leave or soon after you return. If you are the only one in your business and unavailable to your customers, they may find someone else available for their needs.

Summer is a fun season and we all want to enjoy our time. As business owners there are very simple things you can incorporate into your services to make your customers' summer even more enjoyable. Making little efforts to fulfill customers' needs during the warm summer days can have a lasting effect on your business.

Stockman website keeps getting better

The Ozona Stockman just keeps getting better. For years, ozonastockman.com has kept online readers informed about what all is going on in Crockett County. Two years ago, we started offering digital subscriptions for our online readers.

These changes reflect our commitment to delivering information in whatever form readers want. While we remain devoted to the printed newspaper, we also embrace the many opportunities created by the digital world. Now we have expanded those opportunities. This week, I am proud to say ozonastockman.com has a new look with new features that will make the website faster and easier to use. It offers readers a better interactive experience through an uncluttered design and more powerful displays of photos.

All of the excellent feature stories, reporting and photos produced by our staff will remain. They'll just be easier to find.

The new site will also allow our local and area businesses an avenue for advertising. We are currently working on prices and packages and more details about that will be coming soon.

Our advertising rates are also now available on our site, along with our various forms for social news such as weddings, engagements, births, obituaries and anniversaries.

Another popular feature, our classified ads, will also be available for anyone to read. No online subscription will be needed to view our classified ads each week, making The Ozona Stockman a prime place to post those garage sales, employment opportunities, items and real estate for sale and public notices.

If you are a current online subscriber, do not worry as nothing will change. If you are a new online reader, we hope you enjoy the new look and we have made it easa lot through the years. Initially, we just posted stories that were published in the newspaper, but only after the presses started. Now, we have the ability to break news all day on ozonastockman.com. The website will be constantly updated. We are planning to post videos featuring local events and people. We have links to community organizations and government, as well as our social networking sites on Facebook and Twitter.

Another new feature will be an RSS feed. By subscribing to this feed, you the reader will receive the latest breaking news as it is posted on ozonastockman.com.

Please be patient as we get all of these new features rolling and keep checking back to ozonastockman.com to see what is developing.

Check out the changes then tell us what you think. What have we missed? What can we make better? Send us an email at publisher@ozonastockman.com or give us a call at (325) 392-2551.

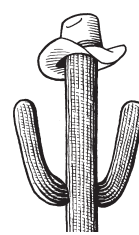

When people ask "what's going on in Ozona?" tell them to go to ozonastockman.com.

We were already proud of our website. We believe ozonastockman.com well serves our readers and their needs. The new website will do it even better.

From news to sports to community events, we've got Ozona covered.

Remember Me?

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

We all like to think we are important enough to have our names remembered. But for most of us that part of the brain responsible for recalling names is usually preoccupied. This became obvious when I attended a trade show wearing the name badge of a friend so I could get in free. Although I knew most people there well enough to share the same toothpick, half the people I met called me by the name on the badge instead of MY name.

When it comes to the name game I see a lot of UFO's (unidentified friendly objects). That's why I was surprised when someone made the comment, "I don't know how you remember everybody's name." Which was funny because I had no idea who they were.

In recalling names I do have a few tricks I use to avoid being embarrassed or appearing aloof. Such as navigating my way to the rear of a rancher so I can read the name on the back of his belt. But this has become much less effective as fashion trends have changed and not as many people have their name stamped in leather on their backside. So lately upon greeting people I have found it useful to slap the UFO on the back and say something like, "Hi, good buddy," or, "Good to see you old friend." Usually they think I'm real friendly and do not suspect for a second that I have no idea who they are.

Some suggest that prior to going someplace where you'll meet old friends you should make a list of people you are apt to meet. I tried this once only to forget where I put the list. I've also read that if you really want to remember someone's name that you should loan them some money. It's a good point; when's the last time you forgot someone's name who owed you some cash?

In leadership training in the FFA they told us that upon first being introduced you should try to associate the person's name with a feature that stands out. For example, when I met a Mr. Burger I made a mental note that his belly stood out like Wimpy, the old cartoon character of my youth who devoured hamburgers. Sure enough, I introduced him at an FFA banquet as "Mr. Hamburger."

Another strategy I use when introduced to a stranger is to have them repeat their name several times while I mentally draw the name on their forehead. The theory is that the next time I meet them I'll look at their forehead and see their name. Usually all I do is draw a blank or call them something like Mrs. Wrinkles.

One of the best tricks I've observed was used by an auctioneer. He sold a set of bred cows to a good customer and when the ring man asked for the buyer's name the buyer said, "The auctioneer knows me." Well, the auctioneer didn't know him well enough to recall his name, so, as he turned to adjust the sound system behind him he whispered to the clerk, "What's that guy's name?" She told him and the auctioneer whirled around and said, "Sure, that's my good friend John Jacobs."

I have seen variations on this theme worked to perfection, such as, coming down with a quick case of laryngitis or a coughing attack. Instead of saying, "Do I know you?" a much better response was one employed years ago in Hollywood: "I didn't bother to learn your name because I knew that with your beauty you'd soon become famous and change your name anyway."

Remembering names is one reason I don't do book signings. All these people that I met once 30 years ago, like my mother-in-law, come up to me to have their books personally autographed and I have no idea who they are. So I have to think fast to come up with excuses why I don't remember their name. Such as, "I didn't recognize you without your mustache." Although, I don't recommend this line for your mother-in-law, or any woman, for that matter. If I am at a complete loss I'll say something like, "Your difficult name is on the tip of my tongue. Tell me again how you pronounce your unusual and very unique name?"

"Sam Smith," they'll answer. Or something like it. Or I'll say, "You, my friend, have a tricky name to spell. Refresh my memory how it's spelled." And then they'll spell out "B-O-B" or "S-U-E."

Panama Canal expansion: What will Texas do?

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Plans are in the works for a Texas role related to the Panama Canal expansion project slated for completion in 2014.

Last week, the Texas Department of Transportation announced the formation of a "Panama Canal Stakeholder Working Group" whose members will give input on road, bridge and port construction here in Texas because of a projected increase in land and sea traffic enabled by the canal project.

"Preparing the state's infrastructure for such an expansion, in terms of sea and land-based infrastructure, is crucial to accommodating this increased freight traffic," said state Rep. Larry Phillips, R-Sherman, chairman of the House Transportation Committee.

TxDOT said port, agriculture, trucking, manufacturing, government, oil and gas, and rail industries have been invited to join the working group, and recommendations from it are due by year's end. Harris County Judge Ed Emmett, a former state representative and former member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, will serve as chair, and plans are for the working group to meet monthly for the next six months.

Work is under way in the Panama Canal to open a new access lanes, build a third set of locks and deepen navigational channels, with more than $5 billion in funding coming from the U.S., Canada, United Kingdom, Japan, China, South Korea, most European countries and Israel.

Having reached its maximum sustainable capacity of ship traffic several years ago, the canal, which opened 100 years ago, was in need of the upgrades.

TEXAS PRIMARIES MAY 29

Secretary of State Hope Andrade, Texas' chief elections officer, on May 21 put in a reminder to voters that May 25 was the last day to cast a ballot early in the May 29, 2012, Primary Elections.

Preliminary results of the primaries should be available on May 30.

Voter turnout for presidential primaries in Texas, like this one, has long trended higher than for gubernatorial primaries and runoffs, but still is quite low.

Recent history shows that in the March 2008 Primary Elections, 10.68 percent of all registered voters voted in the Republican primary and 22.54 percent voted in the Democratic primary. In March 2004, 5.60 percent of registered voters voted in the Republican primary and 6.84 voted in the Democratic primary. And in March 2000, 9.70 percent voted in the Republican primary and 6.78 voted in the Democratic primary.

FOOD, FEEDING ARE BIG ISSUES

The House committees on Public Health and Human Services, whose responsibilities often intersect, met in a joint interim hearing on May 22.

Invited testimony was given by state agencies, charitable organizations and farmers in effort to identify policies to alleviate food insecurity, increase access to healthy foods, and encourage better nutrition within existing food assistance programs.

Topics ranged from how to eliminate "food deserts" and grocery gaps, encourage urban agriculture and farmers' markets, increase participation in the Summer Food Program, to incorporating standards in the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS

Texas Pecos Trail board visits Ozona

BY SHANON BIGGERSTAFF
OZONA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce and Visitor Center hosted the bi-monthly Texas Pecos Trail meeting at the Chamber last Thursday.

There were a total of 35 local and out of town people from McCamey, Pecos, Fort Stockton, Sonora, Junction and San Angelo that attended the meeting.

"The bi-monthly board meeting brings tourism and preservation partners within the region together. It gives the representative of each community the chance to see what projects other communities are working on to foster Heritage tourism. Of course we also conduct our board meetings at this time as well," said Scott Jordan, Executive Director for the Texas Pecos Trail region.

"The Texas Pecos Trail is a regional tourism initiative to promote the heritage, culture, attractions, and events within the 22 county area included in the trail region. The program, overseen by the Texas Historical Commission, was originally formed to help to generate revenue for the trail regions," said Shanon Biggerstaff, Ozona Chamber Executive Director during the opening of the meeting to local attendees.

The program also emphasizes the preservation and restoration of our history, and the education of that history.

"We are delighted today to share two projects in Crockett County that we feel will have a long term positive economic impact on Ozona."

At each bi-monthly board meeting the host community has an opportunity to showcase and educate attendees on their local attractions.

The program began with Terry Tate, owner of Spring Creek Nursery in Mertzon and Crockett County Interpretive Trail Designer. Tate shared with the group the vision of the trail.

"The purpose of the project is to educate local and regional residents, visitors, and children across the country about the importance of water conservation, and daily use of native plants in our lives. Plants are part of our heritage and the trail system can help us preserve and respect their contribution to our everyday lives. They provide food, fiber, shelter, and are eased for medicinal and ceremonial purposes. Visitors to the site will learn about the ecological balance between plants, insects, and animals, and how they each depend upon one another. They will also learn the importance of our most precious resource, water," said Tate.

Gary Bryant, Extension Program Specialist with AgriLife Extension office out of Fort Stockton, addressed the group about the need for water preservation in the state of Texas, and sited a number of examples of the current critical need for better water resource planning.

The group toured and had a first hand look at the Crockett County Interpretive Trail, located across the parking lot of the Visitor Center, that includes the Rain Harvest exhibit.

Following lunch, Tony Eeds and Kate Singleton of the Community Revitalization Strategies, (CRS) Group out of Dallas spoke to participants.

CRS is a company made up of a group of tourism professionals dedicated to providing a unique combination of skills and expertise in economic and community development. CRS services include Economic and Commercial Development, Community Building, Historic Preservation, Planning and Design, Marketing and Public Relations and Tourism solutions. Tony and Kate spoke with attendees about Texas Tourism Opportunities.

They shared with the group positive Texas trends, the top tourism activities, defined Destination Tourism, spoke to the benefits of Heritage Tourism, Experiential Tourism, the importance of taking an inventory of your community, and the basics of selling your town or attractions.

Tony Eeds, who is also the Project Manager for the Escondido Draw Recreation Area, spoke briefly about the ATV park just 20 miles west of Ozona.

"This is a 3,400 acre recreational park offering off-roading for ATV's motorcycles, and jeeps. Long-term there it also the Nature/Eco tourism potential for bird watchers, hikers, campers, star gazers and more," Eeds said.

Anyone interested in learning more about the Texas Pecos Trail program and regional tourism efforts can call Scott Jordan at (325) 387-3900, or Shanon Biggerstaff at (325) 392-3737.

ACTIVITIES DIRECTOR

Nursing Home week, Cinco de Mayo and Mother's Day celebrations were a big success for the fifth year.

During Fiesta Week, some of the residents and staff started one day with breakfast on the back court yard. The started cooking at 6 a.m. that morning and they made fixed carnitas on home made corn tortillas and also served fresh squeezed lemonade for the staff and families. The residents enjoyed guiso, rice, and beans made by the dietary staff. A big thanks to all the staff and family members who participated. It was a lot of work, but it was all well worth it for the residents and their families to enjoy.

The festivities continued on Sunday, Mother's Day. The Mariachi ladies from Midland were with us for their fifth year. They enjoy coming each year and the residents, their families, and staff love to hear them sing.

There were even a few couples that joined in dancing. We served refreshments of cake and punch to a full house. Everyone had a fun time.

We would like to welcome our new Social Worker, Randa Jolley. She is filling in the spot that Dr. Fuller vacated. He has moved to Austin to be close to his family.

Randa will be here on Tuesdays and will begin visiting with the residents and getting to know them individually. We are very glad that she has joined our team!

We will start having more summer activities as the weather permits. If it gets too hot, we definitely do not want to have the residents outside.

We will be serving banana splits, watermelon, coke floats, and all those goodies for their summer snacks.

Come and join us as we sit outside and enjoy each other's company.

OZONA SENIOR HAPPENINGS

BY LYNN ENGLISH
SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

Has anyone noticed how hot the weather has gotten? Take a deep breath because there will be a long, hot summer ahead of us.

The Memorial Holiday was an enjoyable three-day weekend. For those who were out of town, we are praying that all of you returned safely.

Congratulations to all of the Ozona High School graduates. To all of you, it was a job well done, and we wish you all great success in your future.

I will be out of the Senior Center for awhile as I will be having surgery on my right knee on Thursday, May 31.

At this time, I am not sure of what my recovery time will be.

Monday, June 4, the Crockett County Senior Center Board will meet here at the center at 6 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

Med Way Home Health will be here at the Senior Center from 11 a.m. until noon on Tuesday, June 5. They will be checking blood pressures and blood sugar. This service is free to the public.

Also on June 5, Concho Valley Community Action will be here at the Senior Center assisting those who qualify with their utilities. They will be here from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The bridge game will be played on Mondays at 1:30 p.m. Those who attend have the best time playing bridge and they appreciate using our Senior Center.

Also Levis and Lace have changed their regular square dances to every second and fourth Saturdays from 2-4 p.m.

Tuesdays have been set aside for any of you who would like to play dominos. You can play in the late morning or early afternoon. If you would like to set up a game, call Lynn English at 392-9094.

On Wednesday, a group meets to play Mexican Train. These players get competitive and have fun playing this exciting game.

We have our regular activities: bridge, bingo, pool, canasta, domino games, and puzzles. We also have a collection of books, magazines, a Wii game, and two computers that are on the internet for seniors to use.

We also have a projector with a stand and screen as well as a wonderful keyboard.

Activities sponsored by the Crockett County Senior Center Board are for adults 50 years and older.

OZONA GARDEN CLUB

The Ozona Garden Club held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Tina Bean with hostesses Tina Bean and Carmen Sutton. Thirteen members were present with one visitor.

Allison Watkins, horticulturist from San Angelo, presented a very helpful program giving us the months to fertilize, prune trees and shrubs, plant seeds, grasses, how to measure the amount of water we use outside and how to have a weed free lawn.

Our scholarship recipient for 2012 was Kelbie Renfroe. Members present were: Marolyn Bean, Tina Bean, Debi Hamilton,

Track closed for turf project

The track at Lion Stadium is closed as Carter Construction gets underway on the football field turf project.

The track and stadium will remain closed until the completion of the project, estimated in late August.

Those wanting to use the tennis facilities should park and enter on the south side of the courts off of 3rd Street and Avenue O.

THE PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Last week I was traveling in another part of our state so Sunday I visited a cowboy church in that area. I really enjoyed the service and I noticed they had two flags in the sanctuary. One was the American flag and the other was the Christian flag. I was really touched when we said the pledge of allegiance to the American flag and it caused me to renew my commitment and loyalty to our country. We also said a pledge to the Christian flag and it made me think deeply about my commitment and loyalty to God. I affirmed in my heart that I want try and be committed and loyal to God. The Bible talks a good bit about commitment, loyalty and faithfulness. Some people are mentioned for their faithfulness such as Timothy, Tychicus, Epaphras, Onesimus and Silvanus to mention a few. God gives us a chance to see how we are going to do. We can reject Him if we want but we will suffer the consequences. The other area is of service or how we live for Him. Many start with Christ but sooner or later abandon or forget Him, (Matthew 24:45-51). God promises a reward for faithful service to Him, (Matthew 25:21, Hebrews 3:5&6, Revelation 2:10). Those who leave or abandon following God will lose in this life but also a great amount in the afterlife, (Matthew 24:48-51). See you in Church next Sunday. Brother J

Teacher's Workshop: Conservation Education 101

Teacher workshops are held each summer for any teachers interested in conservation and natural resources issues.

The workshops are held in cooperation with the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Teachers are able to earn 16 continuing education units (CEUs) while experiencing nature and the outdoors.

Teacher's Workshop: Conservation Education 101 will be held at the Holt Oaks Ranch in Blanco from June 19-21.

Deadline to register is June 5. Cost is $95. Scholarships may be available through the Crockett County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The event is hosted by Pedernales Soil and Water Conservation District.

Topics covered will be soils, the water cycle, plants in the Texas Hill Country, prescribed burning, wildlife habitat, energy conservation and more.

Registration fee includes lodging, meals and workshop materials.

Teachers of all grade levels will benefit from the valuable information in this workshop.

For more information, e-mail C.A. Cowser or Katy Murrah at pedernaleswcd@tx.nadnet.org or call (830) 868-7237, ext. 3.

percent tax abatement for the first five years and 40 percent tax abatement for the second five years on a 10-year abatement agreement. Commissioner Frank Tambunga voted against the motion and Commissioner Pleas Childress abstained from voting.

Officials from Spinning Star Energy said the 60/40 tax abatement was not what they were wanting.

"Our situation is unique. Our objective is, if it's possible, is to negotiate something that works," said Shweta Sharma, chief executive officer with Spinning Star Energy.

Spinning Star Energy is proposing a 45 wind turbine project for the northwest area of Crockett County. The project must be completed by the end of the year in order for the company to qualify for a federal tax credit.

Spinning Star Energy approached the commissioners three weeks ago about the project.

Project partners listed on the company's website are the United States Renewable Energy Group, LLC, SPG (Shenyang Power Group), of China, United Steelworkers Union, A-Power Energy Generation Systems Ltd. and Cielo Wind Power, LP.

The 60/40 offer was a recommendation by attorney Allen Carmichael, of Sweetwater, who is representing the county.

Carmichael said a recent wind energy project in Kent County used the 60/40 abatement, and Young County, home to another recent wind energy project, used a fixed payment per year that came to roughly 50 percent abatement over a 10-year period or similar to a 60/40.

Crockett County's offer would have Spinning Star paying an estimated 46 percent in taxes over the 10-year period.

"I'm basing my decision on what I think we should do with wind energy in Crockett County. All we're trying to do is figure out the best way to develop our wind resources," Deaton said.

Sharma said Upton County has already approved their tax abatements with Spinning Star Energy and that the percentage was higher than 60/40. Upton County is proposed to receive 55 wind turbines in the project.

She asked the commissioners if they would be willing to negotiate for 70-80 percent abatement.

"We have an option to install everything in Upton County because we have an abatement there," Sharma said. "I think we are running in circles here. All we are asking for is some flexibility on your side."

Spinning Star Energy has also approached CCCSD with proposal of a tax abatement. With the school district, Spinning Star Energy has offered to make in-lieu payments of $100 per student, along with helping to decrease the tax rate if the school district proposes a bond.

"There is another impact here. There is a community benefit here that goes over and above commissioners' court," Cummings said.

Commissioner Frank Tambunga asked if Spinning Star Energy would be willing to donate or make a contribution for a new animal shelter.

"I would like to see us work out a deal. Our county has to face coming up with the funds to build an animal shelter. You are here to get an abatement. There's got to be something we can work out," Tambunga said. "We can certainly put that in to sweeten the deal," Sharma added. "I really want to reach where our break even point is."

However, the rest of the commissioners were firm on making the 60/40 offer.

"Do you realize what 100 percent abatement looks like in the newspapers to us? All people see is 100 percent abatement. We are seeking a standard that is reasonable and prudent," Deaton said. "We need to find a value and negotiate the best value for our taxpayers. That's who we work for, our taxpayers. I have based my idea on what I think is a reasonable price for a product. Most companies stand on their own without a having a tax abatement."

"I think we are wasting your valuable time right now arguing this," Branch added.

Sharma said she would take the offer to her board. She also said Spinning Star Energy is considering the total value of the county's and the school district's offers.

Spinning Star Energy is scheduled to meet with the CCCSD School Board at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, May 31, in the Administration Building. The meeting is open to the public.

Also, a public hearing to create the Spinning Star Energy Reinvestment Zone is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. June 7 in the district courtroom of the Crockett County Courthouse.

The commissioners also unanimously approved wind energy tax abatement guidelines and criteria for Crockett County.

These guidelines are overall rules and requirements for any company seeking wind energy tax abatement with Crockett County.

Carmichael said this was a pre-requisite the commissioners' had to adopt before entering into any tax abatement agreement.

The criteria and guidelines include provisions for using local businesses for site work, goods and services and has a provision that the company must consider local applicants when hiring.

Graham elected to Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board

Marty H. Graham of Rocksprings, Texas, was elected May 1, to serve a successive term on the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board (TSSWCB). Graham represents TSSWCB State District 70, which consists of 51 counties in the western to trans-Pecos region of Texas. District Two encompasses 43 Soil and Water Conservation Districts (SWCDs), including Crockett County.

Prior to his election on the board of directors of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts (ATSWCDs). In addition he is a member of the ATSWCDs Committee of 100.

Graham is also a past president of the Hill Country Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Graham has been a director on the Upper Nueces-Frio Soil and Water Conservation District since 1988 where he currently serves as chairman of the District Board. The Upper Nueces-Frio SWCD has its headquarters in Rocksprings.

In other areas of agricultural leadership Graham is currently a director with the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and a director on the Mohair Council of America.

Graham has been raising cattle and goats on a ranching operation in Edwards County for more than 25 years. He also has a white-tail deer, turkey and exotics hunting operation on the ranch.

Graham lives on the family ranch north of Rocksprings in Edwards County with his wife Joyce, and son, Grayson.

"The whole family is involved in ranching and conservation," said Graham.

As the lead agency for the state of Texas in addressing agricultural and silvicultural forms of non-point source pollution, the TSSWCB also offers a technical assistance program for the state's 216 soil and water conservation districts for the planning, management and abatement of agricultural and silvicultural nonpoint source pollution.

The TSSWCB maintains regional offices in strategic locations in the state to help carry out the agency's water quality responsibilities.

The TSSWCB board of directors consists of five elected members and two gubernatorial appointees who must be actively engaged in farming or ranching.

The five TSSWCB members are chosen in a convention type election by SWCD directors in the State District in which the TSSWCB member represents.

STATE: from page 2

Celia Cole, director of the Texas Food Bank Network, discussed progress in feeding more Texans, mentioning that not being able to afford a healthy diet remains a problem for many and "economic impacts of inadequate nutrition affect all of us," she said, citing diet-related illness and cognitive problems in children.

Cole testified to the beneficial work of public and private partnerships, such as Texans Feeding Texans, a program linking the Texas Department of Agriculture with growers and food banks.

nounced its participation in "Take 25," a public awareness campaign developed by the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children to encourage parents, guardians, educators and other caretakers to take 25 minutes to talk to their children about safety and ways to prevent abduction. Events were staged around the state and nation to make child safety a priority surrounding National Missing Children's Day on May 25.

In its announcement, the DPS said Texas records show more than 4,900 cases active cases of missing children up to 17 years of age.

CAMPAIGN: ABDUCTION AWARENESS

The Texas Department of Public Safety on May 24 announced its participation in "Take 25," a public awareness campaign developed by the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children to encourage parents, guardians, educators and other caretakers to take 25 minutes to talk to their children about safety and ways to prevent abduction. Events were staged around the state and nation to make child safety a priority surrounding National Missing Children's Day on May 25.

DROUGHT EMERGENCY CONTINUES

Gov. Rick Perry on May 21 renewed his emergency disaster proclamation that exceptional drought conditions pose a threat to some 170 of Texas' 254 counties. The proclamation, which started in July 2011, states that conditions "continue to pose an imminent threat to public health, property and the economy." Disaster proclamations are effective for 30 days and renewable as needed.
