kids haven't "These played their best football yet, and that is exciting heading into the playoffs," said Coach Ray Brown.

Ozona (8-2 overall and 4-1 in district) finishes the regular season in second place in District 14-A.

The Lions will now face the Holland Hornets at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Marble Falls. The Lions will be the home team.

Holland is 5-5 overall, 1-3 in district and finished third in District 13-A. That district is made up of Flatonia, Thorndale, Thrall and Weimer.

Brown said Marble Falls was the best site due to Kerrville playing in the playoffs, Boerne and Brownwood being taken and a game San Antonio would have had to play Thursday or Saturday.

Fredericksburg and Llano have grass fields that are worn down, Brown said.

"It is tough to get a good spot in week one of the playoffs. I wanted our kids to have

Canseco concedes congressional race to Gallego

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

After claiming voter fraud, U.S. Rep. Francisco "Quico" Canseco, R-San Antonio, conceded the Congressional District 23 race on Friday, Nov. 9.

He congratulated state Rep. Pete Gallego, D-Alpine, while renewing allegations that voter fraud skewed the results.

"While there is no doubt there were improperly counted votes and improperly cast ballots, a full investigation and recount would be prohibitively expensive and time consuming," Canseco said in a statement.

Gallego said in a statement that he looks forward to working with Canseco during the transition. Gallego takes office in January of a district that spans from San Antonio to El Paso, including Crockett County.

"I appreciate the congratulatory call from Mr. Canseco. It was a long and difficult campaign for both of us. While all of us have opinions and many of us have complaints, fewer are the individuals who actually put their name on a ballot," Gallego said. "I have great respect for Mr. Canseco's willingness to run for office, for his service and for the sacrifices he and his family have made during that service." Gallego defeated Canseco in a close race by 9,222 votes on Nov. 6 Election Day.

On Nov. 7, Canseco's campaign alleged that ofMore election news, page 2

ficials in Maverick County double- or triple-counted some of the early vote sheets. A complaint to the secretary of state indicates that Canseco's campaign found a minimum of 57 duplicate votes when reviewing a list provided by the Maverick County Elections Office. The campaign also alleged that another county used photocopied ballots, a criminal offense, and that an extended delay in counting votes from other counties left "other questions unanswered."

Canseco won Crockett County with 779 votes to Gallego's 574.

In other state races, State Senator Carlos Uresti, D-San Antonio, won another term representing Dis-

Uresti defeated Tea Party Republican Michael Berlan ga, with 118,771 (61 percent) of the vote to 75,756 (39 percent) for the challenger.

Berlanga won Crockett County with 703 votes to Uresti's 557.

Be active in using social media marketing

Remember the old saying, "the lights on but no one's home"? That is exactly how you can describe the Facebook page, Twitter account, or webpage of some new (and old) businesses

Social media marketing for most businesses is the right thing to do. But, it is not something that should be undertaken halfheartedly.

Brick Marketing recently posted an online article 5 Steps for Social Media Success. They correctly point out that many companies rush to create that online presence without having a real plan. Their five steps for social media marketing are relevant to small and large busiyour business, so do some research. You may actually benefit more from a video based media such as YouTube.

The second point Brick Marketing makes is to post information that is "share-worthy." This information should be well crafted and provide concise relevant information.

Remember, this is your business site so keep it business re-

Their third suggestion is to keep it going. It can be exciting to start something new like a Facebook page or a Twitter account. It can become work to keep posting fresh and relevant material. The thing to remember is that you will be getting many more "window shoppers" than you think.

If you haven't posted anything in several months you begin to resemble that dress shop that still has last spring's fashions in their store front window and it is now January.

The fourth step is to be active in your community (through your social media site). You can post about local community events and promote charity events through your site. This becomes a networking forum that can lead to new business leads.

Brick Marketing's final step toward social media success is to engage. More specifically, engage your audience (customers). Encourage your customers and audience to respond to you and to communicate with you.

Be sure to respond back to them when they do communicate their thoughts. This will show a level of care for your customers, clients, and audience that would be otherwise difficult to portray.

Social media marketing is something that is easy, inexpensive and offers the opportunity for increased profits.

It is also something that if done incorrectly can be a waste of time and money which, leads to decreased profits.

The advisors at the SBDC can assist you making your social media marketing successful.

Keep public notices in newspapers

n informed citizen is the ultimate source of power in a democratic government, which is why Texas' governmental entities are required to print notices of their plans for actions ranging from annexation to zoning, and from large expenditures to tax hikes.

For several years, lobbying efforts have been underway to eliminate this essential element of government transparency, which bodes ill for an informed electorate. Some state agencies and some associations representing local governments are pressuring legislators to eliminate printed public notices in newspapers, saying they should be allowed to "publish" notices solely on their government-owned, government-controlled and government-operated websites.

Ever since Texas declared its independence, notices of governmental intent have been printed in newspapers to get the word out efficiently to as many citizens as possible through a non-governmental medium. Newspapers — not obscure pages in the maze of a difficult-tonavigate government website — are still the best way to do this.

Most citizens who are vigilant about government activities also happen to be avid newspaper readers. They are well served by the fact that most of the state's 500 or so newspapers print public notices — and print them at their lowest classified advertising rate, as required by law.

Newspapers also post legal notices on their websites, for the convenience of those who choose to read the paper electronically. And for commercial enterprises that do business with governments outside of their home county, the Texas Press Association maintains a free statewide compilation of legal notices from all over the state.

There is some cost involved to print a newspaper notice, of course. The expenses of paper, ink, personnel and delivery are very real, and like any other business, newspapers must charge for what they provide or close their doors. There's no difference between a local government paying a newspaper for a printed legal notice and paying an automobile dealer for police cars....except for price.

When it comes to printed public notice, that price is miniscule. In 2011 Tex as counties spent an average of 0.00533 percent of their budgets on legal notices regarding procurement. To put that in perspective, imagine that the height of the Empire State Building represents the total budget of a Texas county.

Now visualize the height of a thumbtack, and consider this: 0.00533 percent of the height of the Empire State Building would be the height of the thumbtack.

It's ironic that the associations lobbying to kill printed notice are funded primarily by dues paid by local governments — governments that get their money by taxing the very citizens who'd find it hard to keep an eye on city hall if legal notices were no longer printed.

Legislators considering this issue should consider the Empire State Building and the thumbtack.

And citizens should remind lawmakers that a thumbtack serves a useful purpose and never causes a problem...unless you happen to sit on it.

City Cow/Country Cow

It's hard to believe that dairy cows and beef cows belong to the same species.

Whereas Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys and the rest of their milking sisters are urban and urbane, beef cows are pure country. Dairy cows are gregarious creatures of habit who interact with humans on a touchy-feely basis two or three times a day. Beef cows are loners. They might get together for drinks at the water trough but they quickly go their own way and don't dilly-dally and exchange gossip like dairy cows do. Beef cows usually have human contact once or twice a year and that's usually in a squeeze chute where cowboys prod and poke and stick them with pointy objects.

Milking mommas are far more cultured than commercial beef cows, often listening to mariachi music or opera on the radio, depending on who's doing the milking. Holsteins have the parenting skills of NBA basketball players and can never tell you where their kids are. Beef cows are more like Little League parents and soccer moms and will fight to the the death anything or anybody who threatens their kids. It's a common sight to see two or three generations of beef cow families living together.

Dairy cows freshen up several times a day and have their spigots cleaned for them on a regular basis. Holsteins get pedicures, haircuts and are misted with nerfume every time they go to the milking salon. The only time beef cows take a dairy divas. They might

Beef cows, on the other hand spend three months every year being chased by a gang of boy toys. They really enjoy seeing males fight over them.

The natural enemies of Holsteins are mastitis, heavy handed milking machines and BSE. Natural enemies of beef cows include lions, government sponsored wolves, Cargill, Quarter Horses, cowboys with ropes, and stop-and-go truck drivers.

Holsteins are fussy eaters, refusing to eat anything but the best alfalfa and corn. If they were people they'd shop locally at the farmer's market and buy nothing but organic or natural. They all look like they could use a big helping of Weight Watchers. Beef cows are binge eaters and are anorexic and bulimic during drouths. They'll eat sagebrush and dirt if they have to, have no idea what corn is, and bath is when it rains. Sex any hay they get is usually rain damaged and soon-to-be tinkled on by their spoiled

If dairy cows were cars they'd be fullyloaded Cadillac Escalades with leather, four chrome wheels and rear windshield washers. Beef cows would be old pickups with one window that won't roll up, a missing bumper and are not current in their registration with the DMV. If dairy cows were people they'd be WASPY Republicans, all the same color who have white collar jobs or are U.S. Ambassadors. They can trace their lineage back to the Mayflower and have names like Abigail Hyacinth Kennedy. Beef cows would be blue collar Democrats who don't want to know their ancestry for fear of what they might find. If cowboys ever call beef cows by name they are not monikers we can print in a family newspaper.

Dairy cows are more into politics and are often seen pondering dairy buy-out legislation that might effect their future. Beef cows never vote, couldn't name their Congressman, and say they hate the government, even though some are on Food stamps, Social Security and Medicare. Dairy cows would be appalled at the thought that they might end up in a Mc-Donalds Big Mac or Burger King Whopper, while beef cows would be quite proud, actually, if they knew they might have their loins stolen and passed off as choice beef in some chain of cheap steakhouses

Romney wins Texas, Obama wins nation

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — America elected Democrat Barack Obama of Illinois to a second term as president on Nov. 6, with Republican challenger Mitt Romney of Massachusetts winning Texas and 23 other states.

Unofficial election night returns for Texas posted by the secretary of state's office show the Obama-Biden ticket with 3,294,440 votes (41.36 percent) and the Romney-Ryan ticket with 4,555,799 votes (57.20 percent) of nearly 8 million total ballots cast. Of the total, more than 5 million ballots were cast in early voting. Seven other presidential candidates on the ballot combined for less than 1 percent of the vote.

Also, as reported by the secretary of state's Elections Division, statewide turnout was 58.36 percent of 13,646,226 registered voters. In contrast, more than 8 million Texans voted in the 2008 presidential election, or 59.5 percent of the 13,575,062 voters registered for that contest.

Below the presidential race on the ballot was the contest for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated at the end of the year by Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison of Dallas. Republican Ted Cruz of Houston, a former Texas solicitor general, won with 56.63 percent of the vote to a former state representative, Democrat Paul Sadler of Henderson, who drew 40.45 percent.

Notably, in the races for congressional seats, state Rep. Pete Gallego, D-Alpine, won against incumbent U.S. Rep. Francisco Canseco, R-San Antonio, for sprawling West Texas Congressional District 23. State Rep. Joaquin Castro, D-San Antonio, won CD-20, and will succeed retiring U.S. Rep. Charlie Gonzalez, D-San Antonio. Also, state Rep. Marc Veasey, D-Fort Worth, won the race for Fort Worth's CD-33; former Secretary of State Roger Williams won CD-25 in Central Texas; and state Rep. Randy Weber, R-Pearland, won against former U.S. Rep. Nick Lampson, a Democrat, in the race for CD-14 which includes the coastal counties of Brazoria, Galveston and Jefferson.

In other races, incumbent state Sen. Wendy Davis, D-Fort Worth, was elected to a second term, overcoming GOP challenger Mark Shelton, a member of the Texas House of Representatives. Republican Christi Craddick, daughter of former House Speaker Tom Craddick, R-Midland, won a seat on the three-member Texas Railroad Commission, the state agency that regulates the gas and oil industry.

Looking at judicial, state board of education, and other races, incumbency once again proved an advantage. Complete election results may be found via the Internet at sos.state. tx.us.

THEY MIGHT BREAK-IN

Last week one of my neighbors was telling how another neighbor down the road came home early and encountered a young man entering his home and another putting my neighbor's possessions in their car. He called the sheriff and chased them down the road. The sheriff was able to intercept them and they were apprehended. That event reminded me of something in the Bible. If we have truly accepted Christ as Lord and Savior we have a promise of rewards. Not just salvation or eternal life, forever in the presence of God, but special rewards for how we live our Christian life here on earth. The world we live in, our own flesh and the devil are our enemies, (Galatians 5:16&17, 1 Peter 5:8, 1 John 2:15&16). Do not let them steal our rewards! Every Christian at that rewards ceremony will receive something, but Christians who have acted like saints on Sunday and lived like the devil Monday through Saturday will receive very little, (1 Corinthians 3:13-15). Faithfulness to God, staying true to His word or no false doctrine, constantly seeking and doing His will, leading others to Christ, preaching and teaching God's are just a few of the things we will be rewarded for, (1 Peter 4:1&2). Christians will never stand with those who have rejected Christ because they will be in a different place and encounter a judgment, not rewards, (2 Peter 2:9-22, Revelation 20:11-15). See you in Church next Sunday.

The message I heard on the campaign trail is clear, our state must restore funding to our child abuse prevention programs that were de-funded last session. No child should pay the price of another two years of inaction."

District 19, one of the largest legislative districts in the country spans from southern Bexar County to the Mexico border, and tops out in the Permian Basin of far West Texas. Crockett County is included.

District 19 is majority minority, conservative, with a large population of elementary age minority children that represent the future demographic make-up of Texas.

"I look forward to continuing to work hard on behalf of my constituents," Uresti said. "While the needs of a growing district may be great, the opportunities presented are far greater. As reported by the secretary of state's Elections Division, statewide turnout was 58.36 percent of 13,646,226 registered voters. In contrast, more than 8 million Texans voted in the 2008 presidential election, or 59.5 percent of the 13,575,062 voters registered for that contest.

In Crockett County, 1,471 (61 percent) of 2,392 registered voters cast ballots in the General Election. In the CCCCSD School Board election, 1,399 (58 percent) cast ballots. In contrast, 1,566 Crockett County voters cast ballots in 2008.

The GOP held onto huge majorities in the Legislature and the Texas congressional delegation.

Also, at a time of increasing angst about their ability to thrive as the Hispanic population grows, the Texas Republican Party has fielded the first Hispanic U.S. Senator from Texas — Ted Cruz.

Texas is the only majority-minority state that is reliably Republican, and it has gone longer without a Democrat in statewide office than any other state, according to PolitiFact Texas.

Game Warden Field Notes

The following items are compiled from recent Texas Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement reports.

• An Oily Situation

A Reeves County game warden received a call from Ward County regarding some illegal hunting taking place near an oil rig. The caller said the three out-of-state hunters were driving the oilfield roads shooting dove from their vehicle. The warden responded to the call that night after the men got off work and saw them cruising the roads, but not shooting. After the vehicle disappeared, the warden waited at the rig to talk to the three men and confirm the hunting story. After some discussion, the three men admitted to shooting dove on the oilfield roads with a pellet gun. The men were charged with hunting without a license and hunting dove by illegal means.

Learning by Example While serving an arrest warrant in Lubbock County, two South Plains game wardens heard a distant shotgun blast and decided to investigate. The wardens found a maize field with several guided hunters and a hunting guide, all hunting. When the wardens contacted the group, the guide tried diverting their attention from a large pile of doves and a certain shotgun. After some questioning by the wardens, the guide admitted to having shot more than his daily bag limit of dove with an unplugged shotgun. Citations were issued.

45 James Bond:

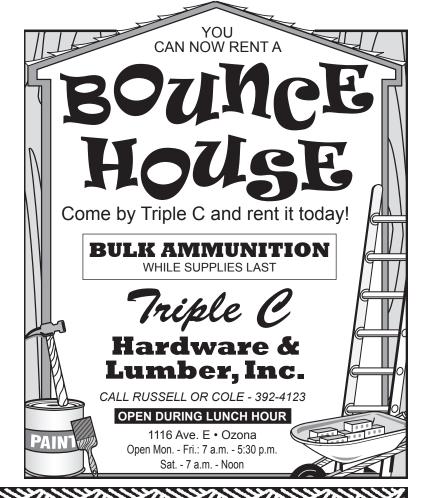

After receiving a call from the Travis County Sheriff's Office, a game warden responded to a Lakeway residence shortly after midnight where the tenants possessed live white-winged dove in an oversized cage. The birds had been brought to the home three or four months ago as nestlings in order to nourish them for release. When asked why they weren't released, one of the residents said that she had grown attached to them. A citation was issued after the release of the game birds.

• Game Fish Aren't Bait

A Dimmit County game warden was checking some fishermen along a recently flooded river and noticed a man sitting by himself and not wanting to look his way. After the warden contacted the man and checked his fishing license, the warden noticed a bait bucket in the water. The warden asked the man about the kind of bait he was using and he replied, "Some shad that I caught." After an inspection of the bait bucket, the warden found the fisherman in possession of seven undersized crappie and five undersized largemouth bass mixed in with the shad and minnows. All of the undersized game fish were released, and citations issued for possession of undersized game fish.

a nice venue and Ozona fans travel well." Brown said.

The Tigers would give Ozona a game in the first Brackett would score first, but the Lions answered on a seven-yard touchdown by Alex Borrego. In the second quarter, both teams struggled offensively until the end of the quarter when Blake Morrow punched the ball into the end zone. Jerrod duBois would get the two-point conversion pass from Jayton Rodriquez making it 14-6 Ozona.

Brackett would come out running tying up the game.

The Lions would quickly find their stride as Borrego caught a pass from Rodriquez and ran the ball 78 yards for the score.

Ozona dominated again on offense with Daniel Gonzalez finding the end zone. duBois once again caught the two-point conversion from Rodriquez giving Ozona a 28-14 end of third.

Morrow would run the ball 37 yards in the fourth quarter for his second touchdown. Tyler Galindo's kick was good making it 35-14.

Gonzalez would add the final score. Galindo's kick was good making 42-14.

"The positives on the game were that we scored 42 points, gave up only 12, and won our eighth game of the year. We had way too many break-downs in special teams, and I thought we played in spurts offensively and defensively. Ultimately we got a win, but I think we can play with more consistency," Brown said.

Ozona Middle School Lions fall to Brackett

The OMS Lions lost to Brackett 22-0 in their final game of the season.

"This was a tough one for us. We had been on a fourgame win streak, and were hoping to finish district undefeated, but we were our own worst enemies," said Coach John Esparza.

On the Lions first drive, they were able to get inside the Tiger 25-yard line only to fumble the ball on third and three.

"Our defense was pretty good in the first half causing a fumble and forcing Brackett to punt twice. But we just couldn't finish drives," Esparza said.

At halftime the score was 0-8 as Brackett would score with 10 seconds left before halftime.

In the third quarter, the Lions would start their first drive at their own 15-yard line. Good solid runs from

Tommy Fay, Matthew Scheel, Jadon Perez and Aidan Fierro would move the Lions to the Brackett 20-yard line before the Lions would fumble the ball and give it back to Brack-"On the drive we did a lot of good things. The line was holding their block and the backs were running hard," Esparza said.

On the Lions next drive, Ozona would again get inside the Brackett 30 before tuning it over on downs.

"It was a tough football game between two evenly matched teams. We fumbled on two of our positions and were unable to convert on third down to keep our momentum going. This was a disappointing end to, an other wise, great season," Esparza

The OMS Lions finished 5-3 overall and 4-1 in district play.

"The coaches and athletes would like to say a special thank you to all of our family and friends for their support through the season and we look forward to great things from this young group

TxDOT reminds motorists drive safely

AUSTIN - As hard as it is to believe, the last day we were able to enjoy without a single fatality on Texas roads was 12 years ago today, November 7, 2000. That means since this date, at least one person has died every single day on a Texas highway or roadway, bringing the total to 41,252 fatalities - almost the size of the population in San Marcos.

In 2011 alone, Texas experienced 3,048 traffic fatalities. The majority of these traffic fatalities resulted from people who did not use seat belts, were drinking and driving and/or driving distracted:

·28.9 percent of people killed in fatal crashes were not wearing seat belts

· 34.9 percent were attributed to drinking and driving

·13.4 percent were associated with people being distracted (i.e. texting and driving)

So far this year there have been 2,545 fatalities on Texas roads. Each month, this number is updated and drivers can see it along with a message on how to drive safely. Additionally, TxDOT continues to educate drivers through various seasonal campaigns that focus on the following simple steps for safe driving:

- · Pay attention.
- · Buckle seat belts. · Put phone away.
- ·Left lane for passing only.
- · Never drink and drive.
- \cdot Obey all traffic laws.

While TxDOT and DPS will continue to work to enhance safety, citizens are asked to step up and do their part to keep Texas roadways safe.

Pursuant to a law passed by the Texas Legislature in 2011, the state has been planning to ban Planned Parenthood from participating in the state-run but federally funded Women's Health Program. If not for a temporary injunction granted last month, funding would have been cut off on Nov. 1.

The state's case for cutting the funding stems from the law's "affiliate ban" meant to punish health care providers that refer women to any entity that offers abortion services.

The temporary injunction now extends until Dec. 17, the date of a formal hearing in state district court.

> FAMED COACH ROYAL DIES

Darrell K Royal, coach of the University of Texas Longhorn football team from 1957 to 1976, died at age 88 in Austin on Nov. 7. A private burial was scheduled in the Texas State Cemetery.

Royal's teams won national championships in 1963, 1969 and 1970. In his honor, the Longhorns' home field was renamed Darrell K Royal - Texas Memorial Stadium in 1996.

Royal compiled the most victories of any UT football coach to date, with a record of 167 wins, 47 losses and 5 ties. His teams won 11 Southwest Conference titles.

Lately, Royal made strides in generating awareness about Alzheimer's disease, which he suffered from. Royal and his wife, Edith, founded the DKR Fund for Alzheimer's research.

NOTED JUDGE KILGARLIN DIES

Former Texas Supreme Court Justice William Wayne Kilgarlin, 79, died Nov. 5 in Albuquerque. Burial was in the Texas State Cemetery on Nov. 10.

Kilgarlin served on the court from 1983 to 1989 and served as a Houston state district judge from 1978 to 1982. A Democrat, he was elected to represent a district of Houston in the Texas Legislature in 1958 and did not seek reelection in 1960.

In 1962 he earned a law degree from the University of Texas.

Among his noted roles were in: (1) the 1964 federal case, Kilgarlin v. Martin, which through the U.S. Supreme Court forced Texas to draw redistricting maps by population rather than land area; and (2) the Texas "Robin Hood" law requiring wealthy school districts to share a portion of their property tax revenue with poor school districts.
