A DREAM REALIZED

Muleshoe Girl Touring European Countries; Will Report On Travels

Marilyn Gupton, Muleshoe girl will report to The Journal this summer on her tour of European countries. She's our first accredited foreign correspondent, and we look forward to reading her stories from time to time. Marilyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Gupton of Muleshoe. She's probably landed in England by now; this week's article deals with visits to Washington, D. C., and New York.

Did you ever wish that, some day, you would be going to Europe? I don't doubt that many people, old and young, have often dreamed of doing just that, as I often did. Now I am going to realize that dream. I am with a party of 4 journalism majors from the University of Texas, traveling on our own, and bound for Southampton, England. We plan to see many tourist attractions, but also we plan to see many things not advertised in romantic travel folders. Our motto might well be: "See Europe on a shoestring—see the country; meet the people"; with special emphasis on the latter. We will enjoy the historical spots and remember them long, I am sure, but I feel that the people we meet and the friends we make will be remembered even longer.

Our party consists of Carol Sutherland from Austin, Betty Jo Taylor from Dallas, Helen Shafer from Houston, Ruth Pendergrass from Sweetwater and myself.

On the morning of June 3, 1955, Betty Jo and I climbed aboard the Mt. Vernon coach that would take us to Washington, D. C. From there we would go by train to New York City the following day, after seeing as much of Washington and the surrounding landmarks as possible in the limited amount of time we would have.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burford and their son, Charles, originally from Ft. Worth, met us at the Washington National Airport and took us immediately to the Lincoln Memorial, the Library of Congress, and the Archives Building.

From the Lincoln Memorial the Washington Monument and the pool reflecting it are visible, while in the background the Capitol could be seen, as though guarding the city. We went to the Library of Congress next, which houses 16,000,000 books. The main reading room can be seen from a large rotunda overhead, on which impressive bronze statues stand and looking up, beautiful murals which are painted on the dome can be seen.

Doorways leading to the stacks of books are situated all around the circular reading room and from them, glimpses of hundreds of the books there can be caught. In the main room of the Archives Building we saw the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States in their marble cases. The cases holding these documents sink from the main floor into the shelter area where they are kept while the building is closed.

The next morning we got an early start at seeing the remainder of Washington. We took the daily tour that goes through the White House, and quickly went through the Smithsonian in order to see the gowns worn by the first ladies at each inaugural ball. The gowns are displayed among settings that reflect the furnishings of each respective period.

We stopped by the Jefferson Memorial for a few minutes before starting out the beautiful Washington Memorial Drive that leads to Mt. Vernon. Mt. Vernon covers a large tract of land, very well kept. The main house as well as the separate kitchen, wash house, weaving room, coach house, etc., are all restored in their original furnishings.

From Mt. Vernon we hurried to Arlington Cemetery to be present at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier for the changing of the guard. This takes place every hour, day and night, rain or shine. Lee's Mansion is very near Arlington and from there the view of the city of Washington is excellent. After going to the statue of the Flag Raising on Iwo Jima, we returned to downtown

Washington, where we discovered that the capitol was closed, as well as the Washington Monument.

We left Washington, tired from our concentrated effort to see as much as possible, but very glad that we had been able to see so much. This would have been impossible except for the Burfords, who made wonderful guides. Our grateful thanks goes to them for taking us under their wing for our short but very profitable efforts to see Washington.

We met the other three members of our group in New York City. While there we saw Greenwich Village during a street art exhibit. Paintings — oils, water colors, and hammered copper works all were hung on tennis backdrops, fences and against the walls of buildings. We also toured the U. N. Building on the East River.

We were able to get tickets to the Monday night performance of "The Palama Game", a musical comedy concerning the labor problem of a pajama factory. Through a friend that I had met at camp last summer and who is now working in New York City, we met Dai-Keong Lee, the composer of the music for "The Teahouse of the August Moon". Mr. Lee was very nice to "the girls from Texas". He requested tickets for the five of us for "The Teahouse of the August Moon" and got them! We were very impressed — the box offices were sold out for that play. One of the musical numbers of the play was "Deep in the Heart of Texas" — Okinawa style — much to our surprise and delight. "The Teahouse of the August Moon" is a comedy set to music and similar to movies in that respect. The music was Oriental, but yet had a modern touch to it. The story is a satire on the American occupation and "orienting the Orientals".

Our trip until now has been very interesting and unique and we are eagerly looking forward to our voyage across the Atlantic.

RETURNED FROM VACATION TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Luttrell have just returned from a vacation trip to Colorado and other points.

On the way to Colorado, they visited their daughters, Mrs. George Skates and Mrs. Leroy Moore and families, in Amarillo. They visited their son, Earl Luttrell in Denver, Colo., and took a tour of the Rockies, visiting Lookout Mountain, Loveland Pass, Mt. Evans, and Gray's Peak. They saw men panning for gold, and saw many fishing in the mountain streams for trout, though they didn't do any fishing themselves.

Returning by way of Colorado Springs, they went to the top of Pikes Peak, and visited other points of interest in and around that city.

Both reported a very wonderful and enjoyable trip.

Miss Littlefield Feted With Shower

The lovely new home of Mrs. E. A. Parham was the setting on Thursday, June 16, for a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Shirley Littlefield, bride-elect of Max Steinbock.

Blue and white, chosen colors of the honoree, were carried out in decorations. Shirley was presented with a blue carnation corsage, while her mother, Mrs. Littlefield, and the mother of the groom-to-be, Mrs. Steinbock were presented with corsages of white carnations.

The centerpiece on the mantle consisted of a beautiful arrangement of blue carnations and white gladiolus, which was centered with a miniature bride and groom and lovebirds. Three wedding bells flanked the arrangement on the left, and on the right was a blue satin ribbon on which was written in glitter, Max and Shirley, June 17.

Nealy Steinbock and Imogene Trieder sang, "Make Love To Me", and Nealy presented several selections at the piano.

Small individual cakes iced in blue and white, lemonade, and nuts were served to guests. Place favors were small blue and white net bags filled with rice.

Sixty-eight persons were present for the occasion, and many who were unable to attend, sent

Carl Crawford Sparks Work Of Muleshoe Flying Service

With Muleshoe's recent growth has come the possibility for the development of something which is really in keeping with the times, a local airport. For several years the airport here has served very little purpose besides providing space for aircraft coming into Muleshoe, and a base for the crop-dusters who come here each season. However, plans are now being made to give Muleshoe one of the most up-to-date fields on the West Plains.

M. D. Locker and the City of Muleshoe have recently begun construction on new hangars and the plans for improvement include concrete ramps, leveling of the entire field, modern fueling systems, construction of a new office building, and flying service of almost any kind for the people living in this territory.

Working with Locker in the operation of the Muleshoe Flying Service is Carl Crawford. A vast background of flying experience is included in the story of Crawford's life, and he promises to be one of the most outstanding figures in the building of the new airport. At the present he is staying busy handling the crop dusting orders that are constantly flooding the Flying Service's office. In the time between jobs he is giving student instruction to a number of fu-

Carl's flying career began in 1926. Since that time his aviation work has carried him far from his home town of Tulsa, Okla. He has been crop-dusting since the end of World War II, and has done work all over the United States, Mexico, and Cuba. In Cuba he seeded and dusted rice.

Some of his most memorable experiences date back to the five years he spent flying for AAA photographers. He has made three parachute jumps and has done a good deal of flying in various air shows. One of Carl's most amazing exhibition flights was made at the Onion Festival at Raymondville, Texas, in 1946. He turned 1800 consecutive loops, to set a world's record.

With these experiences to draw from, it is needless to say that Crawford is more than qualified to teach students here to fly by using the most up to date methods. It is hoped that the school will become one of the permanent features of the Flying Service.

Another feature which will be something entirely different to Muleshoe will be charter service to any spot in the U. S., Mexico, or Canada. On July 7 the local Service will receive a new Piper Tri-Pacer, which will seat four persons and will be used for all charter flights.

Plans for all construction on the field in the immediate future have already been drawn up and as soon as possible another of the many features that are making Muleshoe truly the Capital City of the West Plains, will become a reality.

The public is invited to go by the airport and inspect what is being done, and those interested in aviation will find an unusual opportunity awaits them.

Rev. Carrol Jones Leaves For Korea

Rev. Carrol Jones left Muleshoe Friday morning bound for Houston where the ship "Texas Friendship For Korea" was waiting his arrival. The ship will carry to Korea the gifts donated by Texans in Crop's recent Friendship for Korea program.

Jones was accompanied as far as Houston by his wife and two daughters. He preached in the Methodist Church Sunday morning at Louise, Texas, where his brother is superintendent of schools.

Before setting sail Monday afternoon at 3:30, the ship on which Rev. Jones sailed was dedicated by Secretary of Defense, Charles Wilson, and Governor Shivers.

Jones will spend ten weeks in the Far East. Via the Panama Canal it is 17,000 miles to Inchon, Korea, where the ship will dock from Houston.

Col. C. Anderson of the 4-H Administration in Korea will meet the ship at Inchon. Representatives of the various churches in Korea which will receive the gifts designated for them by churches in Texas, will also be on hand when the boat docks. Rev. Jones will assist Col. Anderson in the distribution of the gifts.

Jones said he hopes to visit as many institutions in Korea, supported by churches in West Texas, as possible. He also wants to see every section of the country and to visit in Japan with a brother-in-law, Rev. Thomas Forester, who is missionary for Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Tokyo.

of saving a person from drowning that are pointed out in this course.

REDDY'S Farm Report

FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT
SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Simple-to-install watering trough gives fresh, running water of all times assuring continuous egg laying.

Automatic equipment for delivering fresh, cool, clean, running water to the point of consumption is your greatest asset for keeping your poultry enterprise in the money making column. This fact is proven by two successful poultry raisers in Randall County, Texas.

Mr. Glenn Laing who raises 5,000 broilers under one roof at the same time uses an electric pump to deliver fresh, clean water to the broilers. "Chickens grow faster when they have plenty of water and rapid growth is a must for the broiler raiser," says Mr. Laing.

Mr. Harry Widick, a neighbor of Mr. Laing's in Randall County has over 500 laying hens in cages. He maintains a flock average of 80% production and he contributes this high percentage to the constant supply of clean, fresh water running for his laying hens. The water is allowed to circulate through the trough and on out to the trees around his poultry house. The water runs slowly, carrying away trash and impurities that normally collect in a water trough of that type. This means healthier, disease free, chickens, and time saved because the watering equipment needs less cleaning.

More than one-half of the bird's body and over two-thirds of the egg is water. Tests prove that 400 birds drinking 178 pounds of water daily laid 54 more eggs per hen than those that drank under 130 pounds of water daily. At least two parts water for each one part of feed consumed is required for proper digestion.

Proper feeding is essential to high production but it is the water that enables the birds to make the most profitable use of the feed. The water should be cool in the summer — warm in the winter. Feed is expensive, but water is inexpensive and when it is pumped electrically under pressure, a few cents spent on fresh, clean running water really puts your feed dollar to work.

Below, Mr. Glenn Laing observes automatic feeding and watering system in his 5,000 chick broiler house.

ERADICATION OF KHAPRA BEETLE

A continuing battle is being waged to keep the world's worst pest of stored grain — the Khapra Beetle — out of Texas.

This oriental-born pest, especially threatening in warm states, was first discovered in Southern California in November, 1953. It has spread eastward across Arizona and on into New Mexico, infesting at least 172 locations in the three states.

Quarantine barriers were set up several months ago along the state borders to protest Texas grain and more recently a gigantic fumigation project was launched in states already infested.

The new fumigation-eradication program is a joint effort of state pest control agencies, property owners and chemical companies. In the unique extermination process, entire buildings are sealed over so the Methyl-Bromide gas fumigant will reach the crevice-seeking beetle.

More than a million feet of beetle-infested storage were cleaned in a California fumigation experiment last January by wrapping the area in a gas-tight cover of sealed tarpaulins and injecting 2½ times the normal dosage of the gas. This method proved most effective against the persistent Khapra beetle and has been adopted in other state eradication projects.

Khapra beetles have been found by control workers in warehouses 21 feet deep under solid masses of grain. They have worked their way through a two-foot brick warehouse wall; hence their name "Khapra", which comes from an Indian word meaning "brick".

The Texas Department of Agriculture is cooperating with the Agricultural Research service in an extensive survey of farm storage to keep the destructive pest out of the state.

Any grain in warehouseman or farmer who discovers an unfamiliar insect is urged to notify the Quarantine Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture immediately.

Natural Gas Lines Serving Many Local Farms

Natural gas pipeline, feeders, built both by individual farmers and by the gas firm servicing the area, during the past year have reached many Bailey County farms, enabling power fuel channeled directly to the irrigation wells that dot this richest of Panhandle irrigation districts.

Construction crews of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, with its West Texas Division headquarters in Lubbock, recently laid the final length of pipe in a series of natural gas feeder lines totaling 787.59 miles in 12 West Texas counties. Pioneer's overall investment in the irrigation feeder line program totaled about $7.875 or approximately $10.00 a mile.

The gas utility company's irrigation program was first instigated in 1953. Since that time Pioneer has run feeder lines off their truck lines where a sufficient number of wells and right-of-way can be obtained. The farmers, in turn, have formed consumer groups and run their lines to connect with Pioneer's feeder lines.

The routine chores of everyday life and for the rest of us, there is one very important thing she should do if she is planning to continue working. She should check with her employer to have her social security account number card changed to her new name. The local social security office will take care of this for her at her request. She retains the same social security number she was assigned originally, but her card will now show her married name. Failure to take this action may result in delay and confusion when the time comes for her to claim benefits based on her social security account.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The value of understanding the demonstrable law of God will be brought out this Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" to be read at church services. On the subject of law this Bible verse will be read (Psalms 19:7): "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple."

Further comments in this regard will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (p. 128): "The term Science, probably understood, refers only to the laws of God and to His government of the universe, inclusive of man — A knowledge of the Science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

OUR RELIGION OF LOVE
Read Matthew 22:34-40.
New abideth faith, hope, love these three; and the greatest of these is love. (1-Corinthians 13:13, ASV.)

The Orthodox Church honors particularly two saints, St. Cassian and St. Nicholas. Cassian represents the type of individual religion which is chiefly concerned with one's own soul and salvation, whose life is spent in the contemplation of God and in search of holiness.

Nicholas, on the other hand, spent his life in serving his fellow man by helping the poor, caring for the sick, championing the oppressed. Legend says that the Church dedicated a day every year to St. Cassian because he strongly exercised Christian faith, but to St. Nicholas she dedicated four days every year because he deeply practiced Christian love.

The Apostle Paul writes that if we have not love we are nothing. In other words, faith is the foundation of our religion, but love is its fulfillment. The Christian religion means understanding, responsibility, co-operation, compassion, giving of self; in short, loving one another. We make manifest our faith in the measure in which we love our neighbor.

PRAYER
O heavenly Father, praised be Thy name for the revelation of Thy redeeming love in Christ Jesus. Make us perfect in love and give us power to make it practical by serving our fellow men in the master's name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
"Love" is the fulfilling of the law.

REA And General Telephone Reach An Agreement On Area Service Contracts

An agreement has been reached between General Telephone Company of the Southwest and the Rural Electrification Administration on the form of contract to be used for extended area service between cooperative telephone exchanges and exchanges owned by General. It has been announced by R. E. Blatz, district manager for General.

Blatz explained that "extended area service" is a charge and service arrangement whereby subscribers in different exchanges can call each other without a toll charge. The agreement between REA and General has to do with the contract principles involving apportionment of costs between the exchange owned by the cooperative and the exchange owned by General.

In a published bulletin, REA set forth several points of consideration for its borrowers. The bulletin stated that "before deciding to provide extended area service, a borrower should make the following determinations".

1. That sufficient community of interest exists between the exchanges to justify the additional investment and the annual carrying charges thereon.

2. A borrower must ascertain that EAS is desired and will be used by a substantial number of subscribers in the exchanges involved. Otherwise, the provision of such service would favor a few at the expense of many who would have to pay increased monthly rates for a service of little benefit to them.

3. Where there is any question of the need for EAS, it may be more prudent to establish service initially on a toll basis and, subsequently, study usage.

4. Because of the possible adverse effect of EAS on the feasibility of REA loans, all EAS agreements are required to be made subject to approval by the Administrator.

A part of the contract form to be used by General and REA states that "Proof of public interest and required approvals shall be a prerequisite to the effectiveness of the agreement".

In defining certain terms, the contract form states "Public interest means that the resulting service arrangement and charges will be mutually and reciprocally advantageous to a substantial majority of the subscribers of each exchange. Required approval means formal approval by ordinance or order of the regulatory body having jurisdiction over either rates or service of both or either party. Required approval may also, at the request of either party, include written evidence of approval of a substantial majority of the subscribers of one or both exchanges".

Blatz said his Company has 22 requests from cooperatives for extended area service. Each case will be reviewed and studied on its own merits and this may take considerable time. He said his Company's policy would be to handle these requests on a basis of the order in which service was initially established.

Real Estate Taxes On Farm and Ranch Continue Upward

Real estate taxes on farms and ranches in Texas were 3.2 percent higher in 1954 than in 1953—the eighth straight year of increase.

The average tax per acre for the state in 1954 was 28.8 cents compared with 27.9 cents the previous year, according to L. P. Gabbard, agricultural economist at Texas A & M College.

While this slight increase was taking place in taxes, agricultural prices in Texas declined. The price index of agricultural commodities in the state dropped from 273 in 1953 to 265 in 1954.

The change in the tax-price ratio was from 1.14 in '53 to 1.21 in '54—a relative increase in tax burden of slightly more than six percent.

"In other words, it took six percent more farm commodities to pay taxes last year than it did the previous year", Gabbard said. The tax burden has increased 57 percent during the four year period 1951-1954.

Gabbard cited a high degree of variation in real estate taxes among type-of-farming areas and from one year to another in the same area. In 1954 the average tax per acre in the irrigated Upper Rio Grande Valley was $1.55 while in the High Plains and Thans-Pecos areas adjoining, it was six cents an acre.

The economists found that taxes declined 10 percent in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and increased 16.6 percent in the Coastal Prairie area in 1954 compared with 1953. Variations among counties were even greater.

PARMER COUNTY Farm Bureau News

BY RAYMOND EULER

Legislative Credit: Last week, we wrote bouquet like statements about two of our Texas Senators. We credited them with fighting, tooth and toe nail against the 3c ad valorem tax for water development, and fighting the same way, successfully, to some degree, against the 2c per gallon gasoline tax increase. As you know, we picked some of the inspiration for these statements from radio and news print articles; and the statements were correct.

We had not, however, checked as far into the matters under discussion as we should have. We knew, through correspondence between Representative Jesse Osborn and our local Farm Bureau Officials that he and other members of the House were vigorously fighting the same bills.

It actually developed that the House of Representatives was responsible for finally killing the state ad valorem tax bill, referred to above, after it had been passed by the Senate; and your Representative, Jesse Osborn, of Muleshoe, was your key man in the fight. He has always worked closely with his constituents, and we can assure you from past experience that he desires to know your views at all times.

We are not interested in partisan politics, but we intend to do our very best to give credit where it is due, to the best of our ability, which is limited.

Your Farm Bureau has, for the last several years, assisted 4-H boys (and now 4-H girls) financially, at round up time. The company that makes the FB gate signs has offered us an opportunity to reimburse this expense to some degree by offering plastic, stick-on mail box signs, with your name imprinted. They are also suitable for use on truck beds and numerous other identifying purposes. Order them at $1 per pair at the Office in Friona. 4-H's will benefit.

Mexican Braceros for harvest can be secured for FB members through Texas Harvesting Association, by application at your Farm Bureau Office in Friona. Your directors agreed unanimously that we should provide this service for you.

Your weed committee, originated last year by your Farm Bureau and county agent, is being consulted regularly by other counties for information on its progress. Nelson Welch is Chairman. Other members are: A. R. McCutchan, Ovid Lawlis, Gilbert Kaltwasser, Rene Sneed, Charlie Calaway and Les Bruns.

Letters To The Editor

S. L. BOLES AND OTHERS VISIT OLD TENNESSEE

The Muleshoe Journal Muleshoe, Texas Dear Mr. Editor:

Below is a little travel note if you care to use it.

Mr. S. L. Boles of Route 1, Muleshoe, his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. A. Gammons of McKinney, Texas and his daughter, Mrs. Barney Cockburn of Artesia, N. M., have just returned from an automobile trip to Greenville and Newport, Tenn., areas. He was there for Memorial Day services and visited the Andrew Johnson National Cemetery where several of his family are buried. He was able to visit many of his relatives and boyhood friends and on the return trip visited in Cleburne, Texas.

We drove in heavy rainstorms both going and coming through Tennessee. I believe that Tennessee could easily be called the "Greenest State in the U. S. A".

If only Texas and New Mexico could have some of the seemingly excessive water from the fresh water lakes and running rivers.

My sister, Mrs. C. E. Prytitz of Pecos, Texas, receive The Muleshoe Journal then passes it on to me. It is old when I get it but it is still thoroughly enjoyed.

Yours very truly, SUSIE COCKBURN

About Homemakers & Homemaking IN BAILEY COUNTY

Home Demonstration Agent

This week the agent and six 4-H girls and a leader attended District II 4-H Girls Camp in Lubbock. Girls attending included: Carolyn Parker, and Kathy Pollard from Three Way; Peggy Howell, Jay Carney, Shirley Cherry from Muleshoe and Ruby Cash from Bula. Jay is serving on the recreation committee for camp and all of the girls participated in a skit, "The Enlarging Machine", which the group presented during the Talent Show. Mrs. Roy Carney went as adult leader.

4-H Clothing Workshops went on as usual with adult leaders and junior leaders giving the demonstrations on putting in hems, to the girls. Leaders conducting meetings this week included: Mrs. Totsy Lemons, Three Way; Miss Gracie Lou Altma, Bula; Miss Pat Cooper, Busy Fingers 4-H; Mrs. Fern Davis, Progress; Miss Mary Carney, Bluebird 4-H and Mrs. R. P. Sanders, Sunshine 4-H Club.

It takes active and interested leaders to make a successful 4-H program, and these leaders are contributing immeasurably to the growth of 4-H girls work in Bailey County.

Incidentally the girls 4-H dress review has been moved up to July 9. It was first set for July 16, but due to conflicts, the date has been changed. The modeling of the dresses will be held in the Three Way school and all parents and interested parties are invited.

Summer decorating time and there are many things to consider in doing major changes in the house. Color is one of the things. If you are thinking of some painting, papering, or furnishing this summer, colors for a reason. Colors provide the special effects you may want and at the same time serve as a comfortable and safe background for day living.

Begin by trying the room. Its use, shade exposure will determine the best suited.

Decide you want the room to look white and gay, restful or dramatic? Do you want it to be dominantly warm or cool?

A good color has few colors, usually more than two or three—in tent values and intensities, best color schemes grow in a dark color, a light color, a bright color. Black, white are not considered colors are often used to give a neccessity of light or dark.

Choose a favorite color if you do not consider the colors which you must choose or select a picture or which has your chosen color and plan your scheme from it.

Good proportion of the different colors important. This means their color scheme will be dark or light and that warm or cool colors will dominate. Proportions of 60 per cent for one color, 30 per cent for a second color and 10 per cent for accent, insure good portion.

When you place the colors in a room, of the color for the largest and first-floor covering, walls, large upholstered pieces. Most cases, these should be most livable colors, or color that are greyed in intensity. Choose colors for small upery and the window treatments. This treatment may be aid of the room colors for accents and small areas—pill lamps, ash trays, etc. Usualis accent color is the bright color.

Progress Club Met On June 9

Mrs. McGuire served sandwiches, cookies and punch following the regular meeting of the Progress Home Demonstration Club in her home June 9.

Mrs. G. T. Maltby led the group in the singing of "America". Roll call was answered with "A game for children". The club voted to send $10 to Boys Ranch.

The program, which was led by Mrs. G. T. Maltby, was on recreation for small children.

Attending the meeting were the following ladies: Mmes. Maltby, Self, Mardis, Wells, McGuire, Haley, Simmacher, Batchelor, Meads, Simmacher, and Mrs. Ross Goodwin, who was a guest.

BABSON DISCUSSES—

THE FUTURE

Babson Park, Mass., June 23—Since President Eisenhower's great address at Pennsylvania State University last week, I have been much more hopeful of the years ahead. This world may be entering a new Industrial Revolution commensurate with the two previous great Industrial Revolutions of a century and more ago.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTIONS

The first was based upon the invention of printing by movable type, upon the development of education combined with Bible reading, and upon the discovery of America. Thus, the three great men of that day were Gutenberg, John Rogers (my ancestor), and Columbus.

The second Industrial Revolution was due to the harnessing of steam and steel, the development of democracy, and the building of railroads and steamships. Thus, the three great men of that time were Watts, Washington, and Stephenson.

My purpose this week is to impress upon readers that future history may show we are now entering a third great Industrial Revolution. This could come from the harnessing of uranium, the development of labor unions accompanied by the redistribution of property, and the possibilities of aviation. The three men responsible for these developments were Einstein, Roosevelt, and the Wright Brothers. The first two Industrial Revolutions, with the exception of the discoveries of Columbus, were largely confined to nations and bounded by national lines.

AIRPLANES MAKING GREAT CHANGES

Let me now state that any third revolution will know no national boundaries, but must be a world revolution. For instance, uranium is found everywhere and can be used anywhere; the masses all over the world are demanding property, education, and opportunity; while airplanes, telephones, and television know no boundaries. They are reducing the size of the world to the size of an average country a generation ago. Today I call London by telephone as freely as I called New York a few years ago. Members of my organization are lunching with me today; and they are having breakfast in London tomorrow morning. Furthermore, the difficulties of communicating with the people of other nations, which handicapped the two previous industrial revolutions, have been eliminated by radio and television.

The stock market, of course, will have bad breaks. Then will be the time to buy more of the stocks which will profit from this new Industrial Revolution. The main purpose of this week's column is to get you to become world conscious and to recognize the great possibilities ahead. Some look upon advances in electricity as bringing on a new era; but no, electricity is simply a new method of distributing power already manufactured by coal, oil, or gravity. This same applies to electronics and many other inventions which people are going crazy about. Actually, these are incidental. Great new eras are based on the use of a new power; material, spiritual, political, or a combination of all, as "Billy" Graham is preaching.

HOW TO LOSE MONEY

All kinds of speculative promotions followed the inventions of Watt, Stephenson and especially Columbus. Hundreds of new companies were formed and floated to get gold from Mexico or Jeru, to enjoy the Fountain-of-Youth in Florida, to import sugar, spices and slaves from the West Indies, to get timber and ore from Virginia or New England. The settlement of Gloucester—my home city—was undertaken by an English company to make money by gathering the cod, halibut, and mackerel which were said to fill Gloucester Harbor. A few of these companies made money, but most of them, including the Gloucester enterprise, went broke.

Too many investors of those days thought only of themselves and tried to get rich by speculating in individual companies; but they lost out. Those, however, who did not attempt to speculate in these new companies but who got the vision that a new industrial revolution was fanning out before them, applied this vision to their own business, whether banking, insurance, manufacturing, merchandising, or foreign trade. They became wealthy. I forecast that those who now get and so usefully apply this vision will be likewise rewarded.

LET US NOW BE OPTIMISTIC

So, I close with this appeal. Let us forget, for the present, World War III, Russian Communism, threatened Stock Market Collapse, Juvenile Delinquency, and all the other pessimism featured today. Instead, let us think of what Aviation, Chemistry, Wonder Drugs, Television, Weather Control, Cybernetics, Automatic Factories, and the greatest of all, uranium will do for us who ket this vision and are anxious to work. Even this does not mean bothering your head to find some uranium stock to buy. The fact is, future history may look back upon the present stock markets as you and I look back on horses and buggies! Therefore, may we awaken to a new vision. May we think how we can use airplanes, uranium, and especially advertising, to develop our own business, and help our children and grandchildren. Without doubt some stocks are good short sales at the present time; but don't now sell the world short!

One more thought: On the 6th of last December I completed fifty years in very active business. This year, 1955, I am devoting to selecting 2,000 enthusiastic persons—preferably those physically handicapped as I have always been, but who have the Vision—to represent me and the United Information Service in 2,000 cities. A list of these selected cities will be sent, on request, by my Babson Park Mass., office. Any reader who can help in this work will be doing a good thing both for the person selected and for the new merchants of the community in which he or she lives. If you doubt it, read in the Bible the first sentence of Verse 18, Chapter 29, of the Book of Proverbs.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS

He and Eisenhower Both Leap World Affairs From Their Farm

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses a well-known farmer this week, while he probably should have been working his crop.

Dear editor: I read in a copy of a newspaper which I borrowed out of my neighbor's mail box yesterday before he got there, like a lot of foreign countries, I believe in the good neighbor policy, that is, I believe in having neighbors who are good at loaning things to me, where President Eisenhower has warned the

What this proves is that Eisenhower's farm, which a lot of people have criticized him for visiting too much, is standing him in good stead.

Anybody who has ever fooled with a farm soon catches on not to expect too much.

I don't know what all the President is raising on his farm, any more than he knows what I'm raising on mine, but whatever it is, I know by now he has discovered it won't grow nearly as much as he expected it would, and I think it's a fine thing he is learning from it and carrying his knowledge over into international affairs. Contending with a farm is ideal training for contending with a country like Russia.

I have been using this system out here on my Johnson grass farm for years, and it saves me from a lot of disappointment. When a candidate, for example, shows up out here during a campaign and promises double farm prices, I know to react. I figure prices will be about the same or maybe the less.

Elmo Jones, Littlefield, builder who has supervised a large number of Friona oil projects in recent years retained on salary basis superintendent of the hospital structure, ordering materials managing the job.

TWO THIRDS MUST APPROVE

Eligible Wheat Growers Are Urged To Vote In Marketing Referendum

COLLEGE STATION, June 21—Quotas or no quotas is the question wheat farmers will decide in their wheat marketing referendum on June 25.

The vote, according to the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will have an important effect on the marketing and price-support programs for the 1956 wheat crop. If two-thirds of the farmers voting approve quotas, quotas will continue in effect for farms with more than 15 acres of wheat along with marketing quota penalties of 45 percent of parity on the production from acreage in excess of the farm allotments. Price support on the crop in the commercial states, which includes Texas, will be available at 76 percent of parity or at a minimum national average of $1.81 cents a bushel.

If more than one-third of the voters cast ballots against quotas, there will be no quotas or penalties on the 1956 crop but the available support price to farmers who plant within their farm allotment will drop to 50 percent of parity as provided by law.

The Texas ASC Committee points out that wheat acreage allotments are not being voted on. Regardless of how the vote goes in the referendum, acreage allotments will continue in effect. They may be dispensed with only in time of emergency, adds the committee.

The committee points out that wheat supplies are now 66 percent more than the normal supply and large enough to meet current needs for domestic use and export for the next two years. Marketing quotas, by law, must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture when the total supply of wheat exceeds the normal supply by 20 percent. Finally, the Texas Committee urges every eligible wheat producer—in Texas includes wives—to vote in the June 25 referendum. The decision is an important one. Growers with unanswered questions should contact their local ASC office for more information.
