Commissioners, fire department approve agreement

BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

The Crockett County Commissioners' Court and the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department approved an interlocal agreement during a special meeting on Monday.

County Attorney Jody Upham made changes to the agreement that were discussed at the March 9 regular commissioners' court meeting.

Upham said the agreement states that the county wants the fire department to fight the fires and the county will provide the equipment and building.

She also said that the agreement is an automatically renewing contract every year.

Both entities agreed that the county will set a budget each year, and that if the fire department has an expense go over it needs to be brought to commissioners' court.

The agreement also states the fire department recognizes that any damages sustained as a result of intentional abuse of the unauthorized use of equipment by a member of the fire department may be determined as negligent and therefore the financial responsibility of the fire department.

The commissioners also that will cause their budget to approved reimburse 911 Addressing Coordinator Bob Falkner for in county travel expenses, if the Concho Valley Council of Governments did not reimburse him.

The next regular commissioners' court meeting will be 9 a.m. April 13 at the courthouse annex. The meeting is open to the public.

Commissioner Frank Tambunga was absent from the meeting.

Murr files budget transparency bill

Crockett County state leg- tricks have islatures have filed bills dealing with budget transparency and alternative fuels.

Friday, March 13, marked the 60th day of the 84th regular session of the Texas Legislature and was the final day for state lawmakers to file non-local legislative bills and proposed constitutional amendments.

State Rep. Andrew Murr, R-Junction, reaffirmed his commitment to budget trans- the dependence of the legisla parency by joint-authoring a ture on using surplus account bill that will help end the use of accounting gimmicks to balance the state budget.

House Bill 7 will clarify the appropriate uses for general revenue dedicated accounts, and it also opens up the possibility of reducing, or entirely eliminating, certain fees.

"For far too long, the Texas Legislature has been playing a shell game with the budgeting process; using dedicated funds to certify the budget," Murr said. "These Washington-style accounting no place in Texas, and HB 7 is an important step towards budget transparency and ensuring that fees that are paid by taxpayers are used appropriately.'

House Bill 7 will reduce balances to certify, or "balance" the budget. It also lays the groundwork for future legislatures to lower or eliminate additional fees, as the bill requires that fees be suspended or cut entirely when they exceed the amount needed for appropriations.

"We shouldn't be collecting more from taxpayers than is absolutely necessary to operate state government. Fees should be collected and used

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me." - Philippians 4:13

> BY MELISSA PERNER THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Strength through faith is the message of Kayla Davidson's latest children's book "The Ride."

A touching story about a little girl and her bicvcle. Davidson's book has a wonderful message and is filled with beautiful illustrations by Kim Felts, of Boerne.

Davidson will hold a book signing at 5:30 p.m. Monday, March 23, at Ozona Mercantile. Everyone is welcome.

The story is based on Philippians 4:13, "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me," a verse that Davidson said has been a big part of her life.

"I wanted to do a children's book centered around that verse. One

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

OMS gives students positive opportunity

Dear Editor,

I wanted to take a minute to thank Mrs. Tammy McWilliams and her staff for going beyond teaching students, to reaching their students. Last week, Mrs. McWilliams took her entire school (faculty, staff, and students) to go see the very inspiring movie, "Mc-Farland, USA."

I was invited to come along as someone who works with her students, and was so grateful to Mrs. McWilliams for bringing the students a positive opportunity.

In my job, I don't always get to enjoy young people getting a positive moment, so it was really great for me, in that respect.

Whether it was because it was a story they could relate to, or because they don't get to go to the movies very often, or because they simply got a moment to enjoy the school day, the care for students speaks to the character and true teaching professionalism of the faculty and staff of Crockett County Common Consolidated School District.

The most positive moment of the day was to see how respectful the students were, behaving and cleaning up after themselves. Their attitude on that day reflected a sense of gratitude and pride for their school.

It almost reflected the movie! You students should be very proud of yourselves, and in the spirit of the movie, I wish you all the best in the track season.

And Mrs. McWilliams, you and your staff should all give yourselves a pat on the back for making school just a little more memorable for these students this year.

Thank you for allowing me to witness it.

Go ahead, take closed government personally on't take it personally? That's usually good advice, but today we urge the opposite reaction to all government bodies operating in the shadows, purposely avoiding public scrutiny and genuine transparency.

In other words, take closed government personally. Please!

Take it personally when a reporter is kicked out of a city council meeting so members can hold an illegal or unnecessary executive session.

Take it personally when public access to government records is refused, limited, or attached to excessive fees.

Take it personally when a judge jails a reporter for refusing to reveal a confidential source.

Take it personally when government fails to limit political contributions, and ignores ties of mutual benefit between private business and elected officials.

Take it personally when a governor issues secretive pardons.

Take it personally when a presidential administration works vigorously to identify and criminally prosecute government whistle-blowers.

Take all of this personally because it directly affects the quality and scope of government information you get from the press.

Wouldn't it be great if more people understood a reporter's exclusion from a meeting also excludes them, the general public, from learning details that are being hidden?

Wouldn't it be great if everyone embraced the notion that government openness is an essential pillar of democracy?

Wouldn't it be great if more people remembered the press serves as their eyes and ears in the halls of government?

Wouldn't it be great if more people became

that jailing journalists not only intimidates the press, but also chills the public's right to know? Wouldn't it be great to see thousands of citizens press Congress to pass a federal shield law protecting reporters from being locked up for doing their job?

We love that scene in "Return of the King" when a resurgent monarch inspires his small army to stand against overwhelming odds by delivering a stirring cry to arms.

Wouldn't it be great to see people everywhere show that kind of passion and unity in the fight for freedom of information and the battle against government secrecy? With apologies to J.R.R. Tolkien, that speech might go something like this:

"A day may come when the courage of men fails and our freedoms die: when speech and religion are governed; when we forsake our reporters and break all bonds of fellowship with the Fourth Estate

... but it is not this day! "There may come an hour of darkness, wolves and shattered shields that bring our First Amendment crashing down ...

but it is not this day! "On this day, we battle for our Bill of Rights! This day, we join with journalists in the war against government secrecy, corruption, and waste. "This day, the press and public stand ... together! This day, we fight ... together!"

Wouldn't that be great?

Inside The Box

Column writers, publishers and dogs who like to bite mailmen have a love-hate relationship with the Post Office. They keep us occupied, but at an ever-increasing

People have always complained about the Post Office, from the constant postage increases back to its inception when folks complained that it cost the same to ship a one ounce letter from New York City to Troy, New York, as it did a barrel of flour over the same distance. But postal delivery has gotten better over the last 165 years, at least that's what I'm told. In the 1850's mail service was so poor that in the time it took the mail to go from Washington D.C. to San Francisco notifying a politician he was a new Congressman, he might find his term of office was over by the time he got to our nation's Capitol to serve.

Oh, if we were only that lucky these

I guess it beats carrier pigeons, but not if you ask a friend of mine who went to pick up her mail in her Post Office box and found a note in it asking her to talk to a specific person at the front desk. There was a long line and only one teller so it took her 45 minutes to finally get to the front desk where she asked for the Post Office employee. He came from the back room, took her aside and asked, "Your last name is the same as mine and I'm a genealogy nut and I was wondering if we might be related?"

IT'S THE PITTS

LEE PITTS

"That's it?" she screamed. "I waited in line for nearly an hour so that could ask me about my relatives! You're a nut all right!"

She was as exasperated as I often am when I go the Post Office to pick up my mail. Quite often an employee I don't know will say, "Wasn't that good news about your aunt's surgery?" Or, "Not much mail today. Just one bill but I bet it's a doozie!" Or, "I hope you resubscribe to that antique newspaper because I sure will miss it if you don't."

It's comments like these that lead me to believe someone is reading my mail before I do. It galls me that I have to pay a yearly box rent for my P.O. box. Why should I have to pay for my Post Office box when I'm saving them money because they don't have to pay for gas, a Jeep and an employee to deliver my mail to my home?

There are advantages of having a P.O. box versus roadside delivery of mail, as my friend ReRide will attest. He called me and wanted to borrow a worming gun and since I didn't want to drive down his corrugated dirt road I put it in his mailbox. Did ReRide get an earful from the nostman! "It's against the law to put things in other people's mailboxes because the Post Office owns the inside of your mailbox and people have to pay postage for using it."

"Wait just a darn minute," said ReRide. "I paid for the mailbox, it's on my property and I didn't see you helping dig the hole for the post. How can it be yours?'

"It just is," was the postman's reply. So when some teenage vandals put a chain around ReRide's mailbox and pulled it out ReRide naturally called the Postmaster and said, "When are you going to put up your new mailbox so I can get my mail?"

"Excuse me," said the Postmaster. "The Post Office doesn't actually own the post or the box. We own the inside of your mailbox. If we had to pay for putting in everyone's mailbox we'd go broke."

"But you already are!" said ReRide. Next, ReRide bolted an old wooden ammunition box underneath his new mailbox and painted "Mine" on it. On his mailbox he painted "Yours". One day the mailman innocently placed a box too big to fit in the Postal Service mailbox in ReRide's ammunition box. So he marched right down to the Post Office and demanded to see the Postmaster. After the compulsory half hour wait the Postmaster emerged and ReRide handed him an envelope.

"What's this?" asked the Postmaster. "It's a bill," said ReRide. "YOUR box rent is due."

Lawmakers seek to control elements of state spending

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling | Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Debates over the Texas House and Senate versions of the state budget lie ahead, and movement toward setting budget controls to blend into a final, agreedupon budget for 2016-2017 emerged in low-numbered bills filed last week.

SB 20 by Senate Finance Chair Jane Nelson, R-Grapevine, would strengthen state agency contract reporting requirements, require agency heads to sign off on contracts worth more than $1 million and require agencies to post a list of all contracts on their state website, according to a report posted by the Senate's in-house news service. "These contracts are paid for with taxpayer dollars," Nelson said. "We must ensure that they are awarded with the highest degree of ethics and transparency." Nelson said her committee would vote on SB 20 this week.

SB 9 by Sen. Kelly Hancock, R-North Richland Hills, would tie the state spending cap to population growth, plus inflation, rather than stick with the current benchmark, personal income growth, to devise a boundary for state spending. The state constitution limits the growth of the state budget to no more than the growth of the state economy.

In other news, the Senate Select Committee on Government Facilities examined deferred maintenance at state agencies, meaning the costs of upkeep that get put off due to lack of funding. Select Committee Chair Kevin Eltife, R-Tyler, said state agencies need $1.5 billion to fix state facilities, up from $400 million in 2006. "If you don't fix the roof, it's not just the cost of the roof five years out, it's the cost of the walls. It's the cost of the carpet and repairs." Eltife said, and called for a four-year plan, including a special account, to catch up with deferred maintenance.

BILL-FILING DEADLINE PASSES

Friday, March 13, marked the 60th day of the 84th regular session of the Texas Legislature and was the final day for state lawmakers to file non-local legislative bills and proposed constitutional amendments.

True to form, bill filing reached tsunami proportions in the last week of bill filing, with more than one third of the total rolling in a matter of days. Statistics kept by Texas Legislative Council show 4,114 House bills, 1,226 Senate bills, and 133 House and 65 Senate joint resolutions (proposed constitutional amendments) were filed. And those, in addition to concurrent resolutions and congratulatory and memorial resolutions submitted by members of both bodies came to a grand total of 7,989 bills.

BY BRENDA NEWTON SENIOR CENTER DIRECTOR

We are sad for the loss of one of our board members. Dale Bebee worked hard for the center and was always trying to get people to come and enjoy what we have to offer here. He delivered meals for Meals on Wheels and visited with each of the ones he delivered to.

He was always concerned with their health and if it failed, he was at their bedside offering a prayer. It didn't matter if he spoke their language, they always knew he cared. We need more of this kind in our midst. Rest in peace, Dale, and ride those hills.

This week's movie will be "Bernie" starring Jack Black, Shirley MacLaine and Matthew McConaughey. This is a film of a true story in a tiny, rural town of Carthage, Texas. It is a story so unbelievable it must be true. Come on out and enjoy yourself with popcorn puffs and drinks at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Don't forget to come out April 7 for the Concho Valley Community Action representative to help with your electricity payments. They have not received as much funding for this program so you need to take advantage of this meeting.

Remember that this building is for all citizens of Ozona that are 50 and over. Also remember that you can come to the center at night if you let me know when you want to.

My daughter called from ASU this last week to let me know her car had a dead battery. Of course being the "good father", I went to San Angelo on Saturday and put a new battery in her car. This triggered a thought in my mind that day: How great would it be if, when my battery is dead or drained, that I could just call up my dad and say "help!" and he would just pop in a new one and I would be back at full steam! Wishful thinking...right?

While I can't speak for anyone else, it doesn't appear that I am the only one that deals with a physically dead battery. Just take a closer look at the convenience store the next time you go; look at all the energy and caffeine drinks! It would seem our answer to "low voltage" is to just add a little "go-go juice" and keep going. But is that really the solution that our Creator intended for His children?

God understood that His creations would get run down and wore out and that we would need to be recharged regardless of age, but His solution for our weariness was not chemical induced. Jesus said "Come to me, all who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest."(Matthew 11:28) Then back in Isaiah 40 we are told "He (God) gives strength to the weary, and increases the power of the weak....the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint."

So it is not wishful thinking; I can call on my Heavenly Daddy, my "Abba, Father" (Romans 8:15) and He will answer my call and He will pop in a new battery so to speak and I can be soaring in no time! Of course the only way He can be your "Abba, Father" or Heavenly Daddy is for you to believe that Jesus Christ is His Son, and that He willingly gave His life to die on a cross for all of our sins, and that God raised Him from the dead on the third day (Easter), and then call on Him to be your personal Lord and Savior!

The Bible assures us that "...Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved." (Romans 10:13) And remember, God is never out of His "service area" and He is always at "full signal", so any time of the day or night that you choose to "call on Him" He will be there!

FALLING OFF THE WAGON

Many years ago when I was just a youngster my friends and I would try and hitch a short ride on one of my grandfather's wagons going to the cotton fields. Teams of mules pulled the wagons and if the drivers weren't in a hurry they would slow down so we could run and jump on the back and ride for a short ways. We would be laughing and giggling so hard sometimes we couldn't get completely on or we would fall of the wagon. It wasn't very far to the ground and the dirt was soft so no harm done. Those events made me aware of some problems we face in our Christian lives. Many times we will make a personal promise or even a vow to God and fail (1 John 1:9). Maybe we want to stop drinking, cursing, smoking, lose weight or anything that may not honor God. It might even be reading our Bibles daily or attending Church regularly. If we try and fail (fall of the wagon), no problem just try to get back on and go on. For victory it takes our effort and a lot of help from God (Philippians 4:13). So start with prayer continue in prayer and finish with a big thank you to God (2 Timothy 4:18). The more we bad things we can eliminate the more joy and peace, (Galatians 5:22-25).

See you in Church next Sunday.

Max Brown

The Rev. Max Brown, former pastor of First Baptist Church of Ozona, died March 15, 2015 at the age of 76. Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today (March 18) at the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, Texas directed by Schooler Funeral Home, 4100 S. Georgia St. in Amarillo.

OBITUARIES

Dale Haworth Bebee

Dale Haworth Bebee of Ozona, Texas passed away on Monday, March 9,2015 of a massive heart attack while skiing in Colorado. Dale was born on May 28, 1936 to Franklin and Frances Bebee in Joplin, Missouri. He was one of seven children and grew up in Neosho, Missouri.

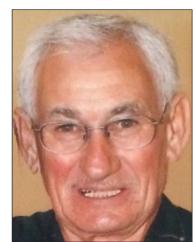

Dale began a career in the oil business with Gulf Oil Company in 1955 which took him to Hobbs, New Mexico where he met and married Sandra Sue Carter on March 16,1957.

His career eventually took him to Ozona, Texas where he supervised the building of the Indian Wells Gas Plant on Pandale Road, south of Ozona. His career took him from Texas to Oklahoma then back to Texas.

In retirement he spent his time between his homes in Ozona, Texas and Breckenridge, Colorado. Dale loved hiking, skiing (both water and snow), fishing, kayaking the Pecos River, gardening, playing racquetball and biking. Through these activities he developed a myriad of friendships and loved participating in these activities with family and friends.

Dale was a lifetime member of the Masonic Lodge where he held various positions including District Deputy Grand Master. He will be remembered for his love and commitment to community service. His volunteerism included Meals On Wheels, Crockett County Historical Society, Crockett County Museum where he served as a board member, the Ozona Visitor Center Interpretive Nature Trail, Crockett County Ambassadors, Crockett County Senior Center where he assisted teaching square dance lessons and served as a board member.

Dale is survived by Sandy Bebee his wife of 58 years. His daughters Belinda Faye Wilkins and husband Steve Wilkins of Ozona, Texas, Karen Sue Bebee of New York, New York and Kimberly Dale Aldridge and husband Vaden Aldridge of Christoval, Texas. His grandchildren Tara Wilkins of Dolores, Colorado, Lauren Matthews and husband Josh Matthews of Castle Rock, Colorado and Mason Wilkins of Ozona, Texas.

Great grandson Lucas Mark Matthews, numerous nieces and nephews, bonus great grandchildren Makailey and Vallyn Rosales and god grandchildren Sammie, Annie and Ben Van Norstrand. He is also survived by his sisters Pat Narup of Denver, Colorado, Sue Wilson of Ardmore, Oklahoma and Karen Mill and husband Bob Mill of Denver, Colorado. He was preceded in death by his sisters Mildred Hoofnagle and Jeanne Kinney and brother Jack Bebee.

In lieu of flowers the family request that donations be made to the Ozona United Methodist Church Building Fund, the Ozona Community Handbell Choir, the Crockett County Museum or the Ozona Chamber of Commerce Interpretive Nature Trail.

Services were held at the Ozona United Methodist Church on Saturday, March 14, 2015.

Dale will always be remembered as a man who had a kind word and a firm handshake for all those who crossed his path.

Gloria C. Palacio

Gloria Carranza Palacio of Rocksprings passed away on Friday, Feb. 20, 2015 in Ozona. Funeral mass for Mrs. Palacio was held on Monday, Feb. 23, 2015 at Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic Church in Rocksprings with Fa. Adrian Adamik officiating. Burial followed in Rocksprings Cemetery.

Mrs. Palacio was born on November 27, 1941 in Leon Guzman, Durango Mexico to Blas Carranza Garcia and Maria Vargas Carranza.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Felipe Palacio; her parents, Blas and Maria Carranza; and sisters Ofelia and Cleotilde.

Those left to honor and cherish her memory are her daughters: Lourdes Ibarra and husband Jesus; Claudia Elena Carrizales and husband Israel; Patricia Villarreal and husband Antonio Villarreal, Jr., thirteen grandchildren: and four great-granchildren.

She is also survived by her grandchildren, Armado Ibarra, Jose Luis Ibarra, Alejandra Lira, Ariana Lira, Anthony Villarreal, Kevin Patrick Villarreal, Erik Carrizales, Jacob Palacio, Jamie Palacio, Joaquin Palacio, Phillip Palacio, Emilio Palacio and David Palacio and one sister, Agripina Esquibel and two brothers, Juan Carranza and Guadalupe Carranza.

Card of Thanks

We want to thank the Crockett County Care Center employees for their loving care of our mother Gloria Palacio in the last months of her life. We can't express how much we appreciate the entire staff for everything they do, day-in and day-out for all of the residents. With love.

Comprised of 1,200 members from all over the United States, the NOMADS travel in their RVs and trailers.

"Some people remember the NOMADS acronym as Nice Older Methodists Avoiding Deep Snow. Since we travel in RVs, we do follow the sun," according to their website.

Working in one of the church's bathrooms, John and Kitty Hahn have logged more than 100 NOMAD projects.

They don't have a permanent home just "wherever the RV is parked," Kitty Hahn said. Their children live in Illinois.

The couple has spent 18 years as NOMADS roaming the country and has traveled to nearly every state, including Alaska twice.

"We meet lots of people and new NOMADS," Kitty Hahn said.

Once again the group is working on a variety of projects within the church, including remodeling a bathroom, repairing a drainage issue, painting, repairing doors, adding handrails to the parsonage and building a porch for some elderly members of the church.

"That doesn't sound like much, but it's a whole lot," said Sadie Davidson, one of the church members overseeing the projects.

"They help us see things we don't see on a day to day basis. It's not neglect but things we have become familiar with," added Pastor Jean Reardon.

They also found two wooden doors in the church's basement that they are renovating to go on the remodeled bathroom and the pastor's office.

"We have found treasurers," Davidson said.

The group is in Ozona for three weeks working Monday-Thursday from 8 a.m.-4

Linda and Jerrel Fielder, of Arkansas, spent time in Ozona working last year.

"It feels good to be back," said Linda Fielder. "We love the people."

Starting in January the organization offers projects across the southern states from California to Florida. As the year progresses and the weather gets warmer, projects gradually are offered farther north.

Most of the time, the volunteers with NOMADS are meeting each other for the first time when they start a project. Members also do not have to be affiliated with a Methodist Church.

For Barb Schmoll, of Iowa, her visit to Ozona was her first NOMAD project.

"I'm in training," she said as she scraped the outside posts of the fellowship hall. "We just retired last year. We wanted to help other people. It's a great experience."

for their dedicated purpose, and once that purpose is met or no longer needed, we should stop continuing to collect them. HB 7 will help shine light on the budgeting process and work to end the reliance upon unallocated dedicated funds to balance our state budget," Murr said.

Sen. Carlos Uresti, D-San Antonio, Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, Railroad Commissioner David Porter and other legislative, agency, and industry leaders today announced the filing of Senate Bill 12 to provide financial incentives for state agencies, counties and cities to purchase vehicles that use less-polluting alternative fuels.

"Senate Bill 12 will jumpstart the use of natural gas and other alternative fuels here in Texas," Uresti said. "We have an abundant supply of natural gas, and a portion of that supply is flared into the air every day due to a lack of demand. We can reduce flaring and put that gas to use—starting with our state fleet."

The bill will allow agencies or entities that operate more than 15 vehicles to apply for grants to convert or replace vehicles to models that use compressed natural gas, liquefied natural gas, or liquefied petroleum gas.

"By transitioning state government vehicles to this domestic fuel, we can set an example for the rest of the state and nation, and inject some serious fuel competition into the transportation sector," said Porter, who launched his statewide Natural Gas Initiative in 2013.

Funding for the program will come from fees already collected from motorists and industry for the Texas Emissions Reduction Plan (TERP), which was established by the legislature in 2001 and currently contains more than $800 million.

The bill allows up to 3 percent of the TERP fund balance to be used each year to finance the new governmental alternative fuel fleet program. SB 12 will also expand a program that provides state grants to build alternative fueling stations.

"Expanding the market for Texas natural gas and alternative fuels will put more Texans to work. It's past time to put this funding to good use" Uresti said.

Uresti also filed Senate Bill 705, which requires any agency with a contract that has increased in cost by more than 20 percent to submit the contract to the Comptroller's Contract Advisory Team for a full review.

The State Auditor's Office (SAO) recently examined the 14 largest contracts and found that state agencies generally failed to follow their own rules regarding contract oversight.

As a result, agencies made payments without corresponding invoices, prices increased inexplicably, and ethical disclosure provisions were amended out.

"SB 705 will require that agency leadership and the Legislature are notified when a contract doesn't pass the smell test-no more plausible deniability. We have a diverse state with a variety of contracting needs; however, agency heads and those who appoint them have largely evaded responsibility for a whole string of contracting blunders. We have a responsibility to the taxpayers to account for every single penny, and I'm going to ensure we do," said Uresti.

Art exhibit benefitting West Texas Rehab

Celebrating its 16th year, Stribling Art Extravaganza will showcase 170 Concho Valley Artists and Artisans March 27-29 at historic Fort Concho's Quartermaster, Commissary and Barracks 6 buildings.

The public show and sale is free and open to the public. Since its beginning, Stribling Art Extravaganza has raised over $800,000 for West Texas Rehab and continues to serve as a great outlet to feature local talent.

Featuring pieces of original art from a variety of mediums including oil, watercolor, pottery, mixed media, pastels, sculpture, drawing, fiber, glass, wood, clay and photographs, this show will have something for everyone. Guests can come and enjoy the art Friday, March 27, from 10 a.m.-7 p.m., Saturday, March 28, from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. and Sunday, March 29, from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Every piece will be for sale and supporting this show not only benefits the Rehab Center, but supports the local artists.

"It's a partnership" says Justin DeLoach, Donor Relations Coordinator for WTRC. "The artists graciously agree to a portion of the sale of their art to come back to the Rehab. Those dollars directly go back to our patients we see each day here at the Rehab Center."

The Stribling Art Extravaganza is graciously sponsored by Beverly and Ben Stribling. The show's name proudly displays the Stribling's love for art and local artists.

"This event is a great example of neighbor helping neighbor. It is our pleasure to offer such an event to local artists as we partner together to make a difference in the lives of family, friends and our community," said President/CEO of WTRC Woody Gilliland.

OMS students attend STEM conference

Six students from Ozona Middle School recently attended the "Expanding Your Horizons" STEM Conference at Angelo State University.

The Expanding Your Horizons (EYH) Network is a nonprofit organization dedicated to encouraging young women to pursue Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics careers.

These conferences nurture middle and high school girls' interest in science and math courses, encouraging them to consider careers in science, technology, engineering and mathematics.

uate students conducted breakout sessions in which the girls participated in hands-on science and math experiments.

Popular sessions included "Anatomy of a Cow Eyeball," "Fun With Robotics," "Beekeeping in Texas," "Are You a Tigger or an Eeyore?" and "Birds of San Angelo."

The keynote speaker for the luncheon was Ginger Kerrick, flight director for the International Space Station. A native of El Paso, Kerrick is the first Hispanic female flight director. Kerrick was ASU professors and grad- honored last year as one of the "Women on the Move" by the Texas Executive Women. With a passion for inspiring the younger generation, Kerrick uses her position to inspire others to take a path toward more opportunities and encourage them to set goals for themselves in following their dreams.

The conference concluded with a pyrotechnics show sponsored by the chemistry and physics clubs at ASU. Students from OMS have attended the annual STEM Conference for the past five

Utah man dies in accident

A Utah man died in a two-vehicle accident last week one mile east of Sonora on Interstate-10.

Karle J. Maxwell, 77, of Midvale, Utah was pronounced dead at the scene by Sutton County Justice of the Peace John Wilson, according to a report from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Maxwell was driving at 2001 Sierra Pickup traveling east on I-10 at a slow rate of speed when a 2004 Freightliner towing a utility trailer struck Maxwell's vehicle from behind, the report stated.

The frieghtliner was driven by Chad J. Boyer, 43, of Buckeye, Ariz. He was taken to Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital in Sonora.

The report also stated that Maxwell was not wearing a seat belt.

Two new ways to keep Texas wild

This month, Texas Parks and Wildlife is launching two new conservation license plates to raise money for native wildlife diversity projects in Texas. Money raised from the purchase of the plates, emblazoned with a Lucifer hummingbird and western diamondback rattlesnake, will contribute to a vast array of projects involving the horned lizard. Attwater's lesser prairie-chicken, whooping crane, and an assortment of other mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and plants.

The plates cost $30 per year, with $22 going to support Texas conservation efforts.

Public Notice

What makes newspapers the best source for public notice?

Newspapers are independent, credible, and can guarantee readership. Newspaper readers pay attention to what's going on in the community.

Newspapers are read both in print and online. So are the public notices we publish. And after they're published, we archive them. Forever.

Since 1836, Texans have relied on their newspapers to provide public notices. They still do...for lots of good reasons.
