LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

All-star team selection process should be changed

Dear Editor,

I'm writing this letter because I think it's long overdue.

I'm tired of sitting back while the good kids are left out while the coaches do "what's right," or so they say.

It all started after I told my son, "if you don't make it to the all-star team, it's ok there's always next year and you try harder." Well, as I sat there while they announced the team, I started getting upset.

This is all-stars with the coaches choosing their own kids for all-stars whether they are all-star material or not.

Then they start with the rest of the team, as I am sitting there trying to hold myself together. My presumption is that an all-star team was made up of kids that played their hearts out and really know the name of the game because, after all, they will be representing Ozona.

Instead, the coaches have decided that all teams should have at least one of their players on the all-star team. In reality, we all know that not all teams have players who are all-star material on their team, and, because of this, some of the players that played their hearts out throughout the season are left out for some mediocre players. I'm sorry, but is this how we want our league to be ever year? This is the reason why our good athletes leave Ozona at such a young age, mind you, to shine elsewhere.

Yes, I know all parents think their kids are awesome, but, in reality, our kids are not always good at everything.

We all have our own gifts and talent, so I'm writing this because my son was given an award because he didn't get chosen for all-stars. We will be giving the award back, so it will be given to someone who deserves it. My son has improved and there's always room for more improvement.

I think coaches need to stand up for what they believe is right instead of doing it the "traditional way" and we as parents need to stand up for our kids. In reality, if we don't stand up for our kids who will?

An all-star team should be made up of all-star material so that they can shine and represent their town. That's how it should be. I am extremely proud of my son for what he has accomplished. I really hope things change in the future, so the good won't be left out.

I want to thank Jaime Ramos for stepping up and speaking up, even though he wasn't heard. Thank you Jaime for showing my son all about baseball and for that I am very grateful.

To the Class of 2016, the world awaits

Another school year has come and gone.

As the Class of 2016 prepares for graduation, I want to offer some advice from someone who was in their shoes when this class was being born.

When you walk across that stage, you are entering into another part of your life.

Someone once told me that the four years spent in high school are the best ones in your life. While I agree that these four years are memorable, I believe that the best is yet to come for our graduates.

The world is at your feet, but it's up to you to decide how you're going to take that crucial first step.

Whether or not you choose to pursue higher education, or jump into a career, opportunities are out there just waiting for you to grab hold of them.

Of course, there will be times when you are met with temptation, both good and bad.

It's in these moments you have to remember what you've been taught because mom and dad won't always be there to ask. Trust me on this one.

For those of you entering college, you will learn more outside the classroom than in, but go to class. Without those classes, there is no degree.

Be nice to everyone you meet, even if they are not nice to you.

Don't expect to receive awards or recognition just because you participated or showed up for work.

Have a good attitude. My dad always told me that one. As always, dad was right. A good attitude will get you through the toughest times and the hardest decisions.

Trust in your faith. It can also lead you down the right path.

Keep in touch with your friends.

While you may go your separate ways, e-mail, write letters, make a phone call, text message, Facebook, just let each other know how you are doing. I bet they will be in the same boat as you are.

WHAT'S ON MY MIND

You will have to work in a job that you don't want, at least one or two times, before you find the right one.

Remember, it builds character and reminds you of what you want to achieve.

This year's class is a unique blend of characters. Yes, I mean characters, not students.

Each one has a story, a tale to tell, is a part of history that will continue on after they receive their diplomas.

They are a class that has grown up with Internet, cell phones and technology at their fingertips.

Remember, face-to-face conversations are still the best.

This is not the end of your book, but only the ending of a chapter.

Ahead of you lies the wide open world ready for you to explore.

That exploration may take many of you to a university campus. It may take some of you overseas to serve our country.

For others, your journey may begin earning a living.

Whatever path you choose remember you are the author of your own book of life. What theme it will be depends on which choices you make.

As the Class of 2016 heads out into the world, I want to remind you of some advice from a good doctor named Seuss:

"Be sure when you step, step with care and great tact. And remember that life's a great balancing act. And will you succeed? Yes! You will indeed! (98 and 3/4 percent guaranteed). Kid, you'll move mountains!"

Congratulations to the class of 2016. Good luck to all of you!

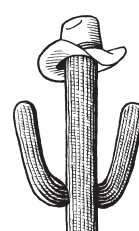

MELISSA PERNER is the editor and publisher of The Ozona Stockman.

Mother Nature, Father Time

Women are nature, men are time. Women are beautiful like a Maui sunset or a forest of pine wearing a fresh blanket of snow, while men are as timeless as Shakespeare, Michelangelo and Da Vinci. Women are full of wonder and just like the weather, they can be full of surprises. Like the tides and the moon, they live according to the rhythms of nature. Women are as complex as chlorophyll, DNA and a spaceship all rolled into one and if you can figure one out you're a genius. Men are more predictable, like a moth drawn to a flame, and are governed by the time clock, calendar and wrist watch, or should I say I phone?

Women are thunder and lightning and can be as cold as an Arctic winter and smokin' hot, hot hot. Like most females in the animal kingdom the female is the most deadly and like a hurricane or tornado, heaven knows they can cause incalculable destruction. Just ask any rejected man who is madly in love with someone he can't have. These Queen bees can be as hard to predict as next year's climate and they command our respect. Other than credit card companies and decadent chocolate cake, they have few natural enemies.

Women have compassion for all living things and have been known to herd spiders or bugs outside instead of just smashing them like a man would do. But don't mistake this tenderness for weakness for they will turn into a fierce combatant when their nest is threatened. There are few things in nature as dangerous as a beautiful woman with a comelike look in a bar who is not your wife. The Queen Bee's sting can be deadly and they work their own cures.

IT'S THE PITTS

I've seen creative women who could make a nativity scene out of a few palm fronds, a spare dog and a Barbie® doll. Men take one look and want to know how much it cost and how long it took to build. A woman can see the beauty and wonder in chickens and their multi-colored eggs, while the only thing a man wants to know is when will his omelet be ready.

Looking at a stunning field full of cotton, corn or cows a woman sees a photo for her Facebook page or Snapchat, or whatever those things are called that men think are such time-wasters. All the man wants to know is what will it yield to the acre. A woman can see the beauty in a field full of mustard while all a man sees is a crop of inferior hay.

A woman thinks it would be great to organize a big birthday bash for her three year old and she hires a donkey for the little kiddies to ride, while her husband wonders how long he'll have to work to rent the stubborn beast and how long it will take to clean the mess up. The woman of the house tends her garden of mums, daisies and yellow roses and sees raindrops on rose petals as tears from God. A man sees only weeds, feels only thorns and stays awake half the night worrying that the rain will ruin his crop, or his golf game.

Men are impatient while waiting on their date, or their spouse, to get properly painted. Even their games, like football and basketball, are ruled by a clock. He's called Father Time for a reason, you know?

I wonder if man is so driven by time because he knows he has less of it to squander than women do? Our life expectancy is far less, in more ways than one. Time, or lack thereof, is the reason men don't watch chick flicks or read Danielle Steele. We haven't got that much time to kill, even when we do. It's why men collect old cars, gas pumps and signs... we're trying to live twice. I know it's why men reminisce with old friends and buy life insurance for the wife. And after loyally working for forty years what are we given? A wrist watch, of all things. We hurry up only to wait with no time on our hands. One lifetime's too short to get it all done.

Mother Nature's a female, Father Time is a man.

3 states seek clarity on federal transgender guidelines

AUSTIN — The current method devised by the Texas Legislature in 2011 to fund public education does not violate the state constitution, the Texas Supreme Court unanimously ruled May 13.

The lawsuit challenging the state's education-funding method originally was brought in 2011 by more than 600 school districts identifying themselves collectively as the Texas Taxpayer and Student Fairness Coalition. Lawyers for the coalition argued that the state falls short of the constitution's imperative of equitable funding by failing to provide enough money for school districts' classroom instruction, maintenance and operation and other critical budget areas.

Article 7 of the constitution says: "A general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools."

In a 100-page ruling, the court said the current system ensures that "all Texas children have access to a quality education that enables them to achieve their potential and fully participate now and in the future in the social, economic, and educational opportunities of our state and nation." The court agreed that the current funding system, while imperfect, is "good enough" to satisfy the constitutional mandate, and going forward, it is up to the Legislature, not the courts, to amend the funding formula.

Gov. Greg Abbott called the ruling "a victory for Texas taxpayers and the Texas Constitution." Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, House Speaker Joe Straus, Attorney General Ken Paxton and many Republican lawmakers joined the governor in welcoming the ruling. Paxton echoed the ruling in saying school finance "must be debated and shaped by the Texas Legislature, not through decades' worth of ongoing litigation in the court system."

In contrast, organizations such as the Texas Association of School Boards, the Mexican American Legal Defense and Education Fund, the Texas Democratic Party and a number of Democratic lawmakers expressed disappointment over the nine-member, all-Republican court's ruling.

Sen. Royce West, D-Dallas, said, "The Texas Supreme

Court's ruling held that the state's school funding system met 'minimum constitutional requirements,' turning a cold shoulder to at least two-thirds of Texas school districts that were desperately seeking relief from an inequitable, inefficient and unsustainable school

OHS Junior Dacie Taylor was honored as one of the 20 San Angelo Standard-Times Star Students last week at a banquet at Howard College in San Angelo.

The event included, through the generosity of Angelo State University, a $200 voucher that can be applied toward courses at ASU.

She does her best and does not complain. Dacie is devoted to her family, her church, her school, her work and her community."

She is involved with the OHS Yearbook Staff, UIL Academic events, One-Act Play and is a member of the National Honor Society and Student Council.

"It is an encouraging view of our area's future," stated an article in Sunday's Standard-Times. "All these students show outstanding character and commitment to their communities."

Meadows talked about the history of his family and their love of Crockett County and Fort Lancaster. Family members were also on hand for the ceremony.

"We are very pleased our parents had the opportunity to donate this land," Meadows said.

The Texas Historical Commission completed a two-year renovation that includes a new visitor's center built from the original building, with a substantial new gallery exhibit on the north side.

The new exhibit presents the story of Fort Lancaster through artifacts, images, scale models, a life-sized camel replica, and an introductory video.

To increase visitor comfort, a large outdoor canopy was built facing the fort ruins. This project marks the first major site improvement since the 1970s, and reflects the THC's commitment to protecting cultural resources while providing enjoyable educational opportunities for the public.

The center also contains a small table dedicated to Joshua Meadows and his service in the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Fort Lancaster is preserved because of the Meadows Family and all their work to make sure this land is preserved. All around this country places that get preserved are preserved because care about them. Look at the land around us and it looks like it did in the 1800s because the family maintains the land like that. We are aware of that and we thank you," added Jefferson Spilman, site manager. "We sacrifice and we give back to the history of this place."

Texas Historical Commissioner Pete Peterson and Mark Wolfe, executive director of the THC, spoke on how authentic the fort grounds look.

"Very few places in Texas where you have the landscape and you can say to yourself 'I'm standing right where they stood and it looked like this.' This is pretty remarkable place," Wolfe said. "It's through the exceptional generosity of these families that we have the opportunity to stand, or sit here, today in our ancestor's shoes and see the land the way they saw it."

Crockett County Judge Fred Deaton spoke about the county's continued support of the fort.

"Our commissioners' court is certainly very proud of this. This is pre-history of Crockett County. It's very important to us. It's given us a lot of our landmarks and landmark names," Deaton said.

With the end of the U.S. war with Mexico in 1848 and the discovery of gold in California, thousands of people journeyed west. One of the routes stretched from San Antonio to San Diego. Known in Texas as the Lower Road, it passed through Apache and Comanche lands. The U.S. Army protected the route, which required soldiers and forts. Fort Lancaster played an important role in westward expansion by providing escorts for mail carriers, wagon trains, and settlers on the Lower Road.

Fort Lancaster was the only Army post in Texas attacked by Native Americans.

HUDSON FOWLER pets a camel during Fort Lancaster's Western Frontier Days on Friday. More than 270 children visited the fort for the event.

Fort Lancaster is the only fort owned and operated by the State of Texas that once hosted military camels. Camels made an appearance at Saturday's event.

The fort also hosted 270 schoolchildren from Ozona and Iraan on Friday as part of the weekend's events.

Spanning 82 acres and surrounded by the wide-open spaces of West Texas, Fort Lancaster State Historic Site is located between Sheffield and Ozona in Crockett County. It commemorates the vestiges of one of the forts established in the 1850s to protect the route between San Antonio and El Paso.

The fort is located at 629 Fort Lancaster Road in Sheffield. Take exit 343 off of Interstate- 10.

Cafeteria charges reduced

BY MELISSA PERNER
THE OZONA STOCKMAN

CCCCSD Cafeteria Lunch Charges have made a big reduction. At the May 18 regular meeting, Superintendent Raul Chavarria reported to the board that the outstanding charges of $13,398 have been reduced to $6,148.

"This is directly due to the no charge procedure that we have implemented. We wish to continue this into next year so that we can eliminate the debt. We are still currently working on eliminating the remainder of the balance owed," Chavarria said.

Chavarria said the district will work with parents on payment plans.

NEW HIRES and RESIGNATIONS

After a short executive/closed session, the board approved the hiring of Susan Cantu, Jackie Martinez and Courtney Mears to one year probationary teaching contracts.

They also approved the resignations of OMS Assistant Principal Erica Cruz, Kellan Jones, sixth grade math teacher, and Teacher's Aide Simplicia Cervantez.

The board also approved Chavarria to hire personnel during the months of June and July. Chavarria said he will still consult with the board on everyone who is hired.

THE BOARD ALSO:

- Approved to take bids for diesel, gas, band equipment, cafeteria supplies, athletic supplies, and other bids needed for the 2016-2017 school year.
- Approved Lopez Construction for the school housing renovation bid.
- Recognized Alex Hopper for competing in the UIL State Golf Tournament, McKenna Moses for competing in the UIL State Track Meet, Regional and State UIL Academics Qualifiers and OMS TMSCA and Robotics State Qualifiers.

FUTURE MEETINGS

The next regular school board meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. June 22 at the Administration Building, 797 Avenue D. The meeting is open to the public.

finance system that Texas courts had previously labeled unconstitutional."

Rep. Carol Alvarado, D-Houston, said, "Our children deserve more than a minimal education and the Legislature should do all they can to ensure we repair this broken system. Over five million public school students are counting on us."

Speaker Straus acknowledged "there is ample room for improvement" in school funding and said the Texas House "will continue working to deliver value for taxpayers and provide an outstanding education for our students."

REVENUE IS UP SLIGHTLY

Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar on May 11 announced his office would send cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts $767.7 million in local sales tax allocations for May.

The total was based on sales made in March by businesses that report tax monthly, plus sales made in January, February and March by quarterly filers. It is 1.1 percent more than allocated in May 2015.

"The cities of Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso and Fort Worth saw noticeable increases in sales tax allocations," Hegar said. "Energy-centric cities such as Houston, Odessa and Midland continue to see decreases in sales tax allocations."

Best High School Memory: My favorite high school memory is going to state in robotics my freshman year. It marked the only time I have ever gone to state in high school. The eccentric team included Logan Glaspie, Jonathan Focha, Kevin Villarreal, and myself. We played road games all the way up to our destination with our teacher, Mrs. Cathy English. Cracker Barrel was the choice of meal that evening and I must say, it was crackalackin. I enjoyed the last minute repairs we did on the day of contest and having to completely reprogram the bot, which was named "yo momma". Our team, the OHS Avengers, were ranked in the top 50 percent of the state. Mrs. English, along with our chaperones Mrs. and Mr. Thompson, congratulated us on our performance. I remember this random kid that was pale as a ghost, had spiky blond hair, and had a deeper voice than I did who was eating raw spaghetti straight from the box. That was the moment I realized I had to become as weird and crazy as possible. On the way back to civilization in Ozona, all four of us passed out cold. When we stopped in Junction to grab a quick bite to eat, I was left in the vehicle asleep, alone, and unaware of where we were. Everyone had received their plate, sat down, and pondered, "Where is Jeremy?" Eventually, (after 10 minutes) I was rescued and proceeded to down the best sandwich in the world at the time.

Future Plans: In the near future, I plan to attend Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. I will major in software engineering and minor in performance arts. I will apply for a job with Tech's work study program or go out in the city to get a job DJing. I would also like to continue my variety show performing as this is my lifetime dream. When I graduate college, I wish to establish a business group similar to Richard Branson's, multinational conglomerate company, Virgin. I would like to take my DJing to the next level by performing at well known EDM places like Electronic Daisy Carnival, Tomorrowland, and Hakasan. My show, DETP, will hopefully be touring the USA and other countries around the world. My main goal is to spread happiness and show that deranged people (like me) can be successful no matter how much tomato sauce you put in your corn flakes.

Administration degree in Cyber Security.
