Superintendent begins series about $5 million school bond election

Editor's note: The following is the first in a series of articles about the Nov. 7 CCCSD $5 million School Bond Election.

BY RAUL CHAVARRIA
CCCSD SUPERINTENDENT

Recently I was a guest at the Ozona Woman's Forum Meeting to speak on facts about the upcoming Bond Election.

The following are questions that were asked at that meeting, and also questions that I have been asked by others in regards to the $5 million bond proposal.

The proposed bond will be used in three areas, transportation, technology and maintenance.

We will use bond funds in these areas to save money normally spent out of the regular budget, and address the shortfall brought on by the repeal of ASATR (Additional State Aid for Tax Reduction) state funding.

The district plans to:

RAUL CHAVARRIA

- Purchase a truck for our Agriculture Department.

- Maintain computer labs, purchase new computers and support for all campuses.

- Purchase teaching equipment and supplies for student use for all campuses.

- Update our Career and Technology classes such as Nursing, Food Science and Agriculture.

- Address maintenance repairs throughout the district as needed.

- Continue with the updating of existing teacher housing.

Question: If we pass a bond, can we lower the amount that we pay on M&O Tax?

Answer: Yes we could, but part of the problem that we face now is that our taxes do not generate enough funds to maintain our budget, even with the tremendous cuts we have made in the last three years. Currently we are taking advantage of our low tax rate of $1.06 on the M&O (maintenance and operation) side. Through a bond we can make up the difference in funds the state is no longer sending

Lions feast on Owls

It was team effort that put the Ozona Lions over the top Friday night and gave them the 29-16 victory over the Reagan County Owls.

Ozona (2-3) won their second straight game after opening 0-3 against tough opponents.

"I feel like we played a complete game this week," said Athletic Director and Coach Kyle Freeman. "The kids are getting better every week. Our young players are growing up and gaining experience."

Kobe Rodriguez led the team with three rushing touchdowns. He gave the Lions the lead in the second half on a 3-yard run with 7:43 left to play. The TD drive was helped by a good kickoff return by Quarterback Alec Lara and a penalty at the end of the return, giving the Lions excellent field position.

Flu shots still available at Family Health Center

BY MELISSA PERNER

The Family Health Center of Ozona had another successful Flu Shot Kickoff Drive-Thru Clinic last week.

"We gave approximately 300 flu shots, despite the heavy rain," said Susan Bilano, clinic director.

People still needing flu shots can walk into the clinic between 5-6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Children 14 and older, accompanied by a parent or guardian, can get their flu shot by walking in. Children 13 and under will need to make an appointment during clinic hours, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

Cost for the flu shot is $30 without insurance. Medicaid does not pay for flu shots.

The Texas Department of State Health Services encourages everyone 6 months old and older to get vaccinated now to protect themselves from getting the flu, according to a press release.

"The flu vaccine causes your body to make antibodies to fight influenza, but it takes about two weeks for this to happen. So, it's important to get the flu vaccine early, before influenza hits our community," said Dr. Jennifer Shuford, DSHS Infectious Disease Medical Officer. "By getting the flu vaccine every

Your local newspaper: the real deal

While no one should ever say "I know it's real because I saw it on the internet," everyone should be able to say, "I know it's real. I read it in the newspaper."

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK
JIM ZACHARY

Real newspapers reporting real news have never been more important or more valuable to readers and communities.

This week, newspapers across the nation recognize National Newspaper Week and the theme — Real Newspapers...Real News — points to the importance of accurate reporting, watchdog journalism, strong editorials, comprehensive public notices and a free, open public forum that can be easily accessed by readers in more ways than ever before.

In print, on digital sites, via laptop, desktop and mobile devices, through SMS or social media, newspapers across the nation continue to be the leading source of reliable information in all the communities they serve.

In a world of fake news spread on social media and attacks on the media from people in power, it is important for the public to know the difference between legitimate reporting by credible sources and all the noise posing as "the media."

Here are some of the reasons your local newspaper is the most trustworthy source for news and information:

— Newspaper newsrooms are staffed with real people — people you know — reporters, photographers, editors — gathering the news, conducting interviews, covering meetings, attending events, writing, editing, fact-checking and making sure every day you can trust what you read.

— Newspapers rely on recognizable sources. Quotes in the articles you read are attributed to real people and can be easily verified.

— Newspapers work hard to stay away from single source reporting, giving readers context and balance.

— Newspaper websites have legitimate URLs ending in .com or .org extensions, listing contact information, the names of staff members and the media organization's leadership team on the website.

— Newspapers correct mistakes. Everyone makes mistakes at times, but there is a big difference between an error and intentionally and knowingly publishing a false report because of some political or social agenda. Spurious websites, blogs and social media do not correct errors. They thrive on them.

In the United States newspapers have a long and important legacy of holding the powerful accountable, defending the First Amendment and advocating for government transparency.

Democracy is protected when the newspaper provides checks and balances as the Fourth Estate of government from city hall to the courthouse to the statehouse to the White House.

Newspapers are committed to the neighborhoods, cities, counties, states and coverage areas they serve.

Straightforward news reporting and thought-provoking commentary give a voice to the voiceless and empower the powerless. Newspapers hold government accountable because at our very core we believe that government belongs to the governed and not to the governing.

Don't be embarrassed because you shared some sensational, agenda-driven report on social media only to find out it is totally fake. Get your news where real news has always been found: Your local newspaper, the real deal.

JIM ZACHARY, CNHI Regional Editor for Georgia and Florida newspapers, is the president and chairman of the Red & Black Publishing Co., serving the University of Georgia, director of the Transparency Project of Georgia, open government trainer and member of the board of directors of the Georgia First Amendment Foundation and a member of the Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communications Board of Trust.

I'm not in the mood today to try and be funny. And normally I don't believe writers should use their podium to preach to people. In most cases I don't have the qualifications or the credentials.

This column is in response to a plea from a long and loyal friend. I've written about Carole Levitz before. She's the daughter of arguably the greatest magician who ever lived, The Great Cardini.

As an amateur prestidigitator myself, I've always had a "magical" bond with Carole. Besides being a great auction clerk Carole is also a mother and grandmother, although today her brood is greatly diminished. One minute Carole's daughter and granddaughter were alive and well and the next minute a drunk driver killed them both.

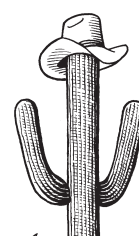

If you needed further proof that life isn't fair, as often happens in such tragedies, the drunk wasn't seriously injured. And hear this, it was his third or fourth drunk driving offense.

Writing a sympathy card to Carole was some of the hardest writing I've ever done. And I'm a writer! I got a lovely note back and Carole enclosed the memorandum they handed out at the funeral.

As I perused the cover with a dozen photos of Carole's beautiful family celebrating life's goodness, I felt my throat tighten and what felt like a tear in my eye. Nah, it couldn't be, big boys don't cry.

Inside the pamphlet were two photos of Raeleen and Raegan, next to each other in life, as they were in death. By the time I'd read the unfinished story of Raegan I was angry enough to kill the idiotic driver improving our nation, there dropped on the pamphlet salty proof that big boys do indeed cry.

A Mother's Plea

IT'S THE PITTS

In a P.S. to Carole's letter was one mother's plea:

"Being a writer can you write anything about drunk driving and what this country can do to fix it?"

I owe it to Carole to at least give it a try.

Sadly, drunkenness is something I know a lot about. As the son of a mean, raging alcoholic I've seen first hand how booze can destroy a family. I've never bought into the idea that alcoholism is a disease. If so, it's a disease you give yourself. I never wanted any part of alcohol and haven't tasted a drop of it in over 25 years. So I'm no hypocrite on this matter.

In Raeleen's and Raegan's memory I appeal to the politician's and the car manufacturers to act. If we can put a man on the moon or design an I-phone surely we can make a car that can detect when a person isn't fit to drive. Beyond that, I would appeal to your good senses.

Did you know that a single DUI can cost $30,000? That makes a $20 cab or Uber fare seem cheap by comparison. One reason I couldn't attend the funeral is because I stopped driving two years ago. That's when I had a stroke that impaired my ability to think. (It now takes me three days to write a column that used to take three hours.) Is it inconvenient? Sure. But I couldn't live with myself if I killed someone. And I'm not nearly as "inconvenienced" as Carole is these days.

If I can't appeal to your good sense then let me shame you for the jackass you must be if you drink and drive. If you kill someone with your automobile you are a murderer no different than if you loaded a gun and pulled the trigger.

The result is exactly the same whether the weapon is Jack Daniels, Budweiser, Smith and Wesson or a lovely Chardonnay. You do know what our government calls someone who uses a vehicle to kill people these days, don't you? A terrorist.

Is that something you want on the resume of your life?

And I hope you love someone enough to take away their keys, before they take another's life.

P.S. Feel free to pass this along. The life you save may be that of YOUR child or grandchild.

Governor applauds TxDOT efforts in removal of hurricane debris

AUSTIN — Gov. Greg Abbott on Sept. 27 announced the Texas Department of Transportation had collected more than 2.4 million cubic feet of debris left behind by Hurricane Harvey in roadways across the four districts hardest hit by the storm.

TxDOT is continuing to assist in the removal of debris from roadsides in Corpus Christi, Houston, Beaumont and a number of areas along the Gulf Coast region, Abbott said in a news release.

"This is a tall order, but I want to assure Texans that TxDOT is up to the challenge and has already made great progress. We will not rest until this important job is finished, and we are working to do so as quickly as possible," he added.

Texas Transportation Commission Chair J. Bruce Bugg Jr. pointed to TxDOT's "remarkable progress" in bringing agency employees from across Texas to impacted ar-

Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick on Sept. 28 issued a list of interim legislative charges to certain committees of the Texas Senate.

Patrick called for the committees on Agriculture, Water and Rural Affairs, Business & Commerce, Education, Finance, Health and Human Services, Intergovernmental Relations, and State Affairs to study and make recommendations on a wide range of issues related to hurricanes and other severe weather events.

TEXANS ARE NOMINATED

The White House on Sept. 28 announced President Donald Trump's nomination of Texas Supreme Court Justice Don Willett and former Texas Solicitor General James Ho to the New Orleans-based United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

The Fifth Circuit hears cases on appeal from federal district courts in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi and the Panama Canal Zone. It is authorized to have 17 active judges.

Gov. Abbott on Sept. 28 released the following statement: "The nominations of Don Willett and James Ho to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals are outstanding choices by President Trump. As Texas attorney general, I had the pleasure of working with both Don and James and can attest to their brilliance as lawyers and their unwavering commitment to the rule of law. I look forward to their swift approval by the U.S. Senate and to their service on the 5th Circuit, where I know they will uphold the Constitution."

Museum annual meeting features Deaton Stage Line

The Crockett County Museum had their annual Membership Drive and Meeting on Sept. 26 at the Civic Center.

Guest speaker was County Judge Fred Deaton who spoke on the Deaton Stage Line that ran from Comstock, Juno and Ozona from 1888-1910.

Deaton showed photos of newspaper clippings with the schedule of the line, as well as family photos and a map of the line that ran from Comstock up to Ozona.

Historical photos showing stops on the line, including the Kirkpatrick Hotel in Ozona, as well as photos various wagons and hacks that were used, were part of Deaton's presentation.

Deaton said the line kept a herd of 40 or 50 horses to run the stage line. The line carried wool and mohair back to Comstock.

George K. Deaton sold the stage line in 1910. He was 57 years old.

"I am sure that the rough rides were hard on his body," Fred Deaton said.

In 1911, the Santa Fe Railroad extended its tracks to Barnhart.

The event also had a drawing for a Crockett County blanket, which was won by Raymond Hernandez.

Residents enjoy homecoming, bingo social fundraiser

BY MARY WILLIAMSON
ASSISTANT ACTIVITIES DIRECTOR

September has been an eventful month with homecoming week and the bingo social being a few days apart.

During homecoming week, the staff and residents were encouraged to participate in wearing pajamas on Monday, dress crazy Tuesday, do something crazy with their hair Wednesday and wear purple and gold Thursday and Friday.

Everyone wore their Ozona Lions shirts and prepared for the tailgate party to watch the Homecoming parade. The residents also made posters supporting the Lions during the week.

Marta DeLaGarza and Michelle Brown decorated their pickups with purple and gold streamers and signs supporting the Lions, while Ray Lara cooked hotdogs and warmed hotdog buns. Buckets full of ice and bottles of water were placed on one tailgate and hotdog condiments and chips were on the other tailgate. Prior to the parade residents, staff and the public were served.

The band came and played for the residents as the parade went around behind the care center. When the parade was coming toward the front, the band finished and was given water.

BINGO SOCIAL

The day of the Bingo Social the residents wore gray T-shirts sporting the Dallas Cowboy star on the front center of the shirt.

They played a couple rounds of bingo in the morning warming up for the social. After lunch, the residents rested while staff prepared the Civic Center for the big evening.

Residents were ready to play the big bingo when they went over at 5 p.m.

Vicki Childress was the big winner of the Marriott/Dallas Cowboys raffle.

Susie Bishop made the Ozona Lions and Dallas Cowboys T-shirts. We want to thank everyone in the community who supported and participated in our event.

We have a lot of puzzles that have already been worked here at the center. We need more puzzles to work. If you have some at your house that have already been worked, please bring them to us and you can trade for the ones we have.

I still have copies of the Senior Sourcebook for 2017 that lists all the services available for us older folks.

We are still doing the balanced exercised Monday and Thursday at 9:30 a.m. These are simple exercises that are done very slowly so that most are able to do them.

If you let me borrow any of your movies a while back to show here at the center, I have them here. I thank you for lending them to me and would love for you to have them back. Please come by and pick them up.

Niki Bishop is back offering the exercises on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. She is the Wesley Nurse at the Ozona United Methodist Church and has some great exercises, along with checking your blood pressure and keeping a record of it. Niki came last Tuesday and there was a good group. I think you would enjoy these discs. Come give it a try.

We still have Bingo on Thursday afternoons at 2 p.m. Bring your nickels and play as many cards as you can handle at a nickel a card per game. We serve Cokes and popcorn and laugh and hope we get a bingo.

I JUST WANT MY WAY!

A few years ago we had so many good rains we couldn't believe but then it stopped raining and we went a long time with no rain. I learned is that anger doesn't help and if I am angry it is usually because I didn't get my way or something I wanted. I discovered that by these events or experiences I can learn about my relationship or standing with God. First I find that by approaching God with a humble heart, (hat in hand) and asking nicely, (Ecclesiastes 5:2) that he is more apt to hear and respond than if I am demanding to be heard or demanding my wishes be fulfilled. I am not saying that God is purposely trying us or testing but I find that many times if I will patiently wait upon Him, (1 Chronicles 16:11) that He will bring many things to pass that I praying for and many times even better, (Psalms 145:18-21). I also realize also that I must be willing to accept no. At other times I must be willing to wait patiently for things that I have asked for or to come about. I don't mean a couple of days but years, (Luke 18:1). When I pray and learn to wait patiently on Him, (Philippians 4:6&7, Colossians 4:2) and for His will to be done, the best will happen for me.

See you in Church next Sunday.

year, you can help protect yourself from influenza, and thereby prevent spreading it to vulnerable people in your family or community."

It is especially important for people with chronic health conditions, pregnant women, young children, older adults, and the people who live with them to get vaccinated in order to minimize the risk of developing serious complications from the flu. Family members and others around babies should get vaccinated to protect the babies and themselves since infants under 6 months of age cannot get vaccinated, the release stated.

Influenza is an illness caused by one of a number of related viruses. Symptoms usually start suddenly and include fever, body aches, chills, a dry cough, sore throat, runny nose, headaches and extreme fatigue and can last a week or longer. It is important to note that not all flu sufferers will have a fever.

People can help stop the spread of illness and reduce their chance of catching the flu by getting vaccinated, washing hands frequently, covering coughs and sneezes and staying home if they're sick.

All flu vaccines this season are made to protect against viruses similar to the strains A/Michigan/45/2015 (H1N1), A/Hong Kong/4801/2014 (H3N2) and B/Brisbane/60/2008 (B/Victoria lineage). Some vaccines include an additional vaccine virus strain, B/Phuket/3073/2013 (B/Yamagata lineage).

The CDC advises against the use of the live attenuated influenza vaccine, commonly called the "nasal spray" vaccine and sold under the trade name FluMist. Research from prior flu seasons measured no protective benefit.

People can contact their health care provider, local health department, local pharmacy or use the Vaccine Finder at TexasFlu.org to find out where flu shots are available.

If people are experiencing flu symptoms, health officials encourage them to seek treatment promptly. Antiviral drugs may help shorten the duration or lessen the severity of the flu if started within 48 hours of the onset of symptoms.

Additional flu information and tips are available at TexasFlu.org.

play - put the game away. The Senior Lion also had 115 yards rushing.

After trailing 8-7 at half-time, Ozona reclaimed the lead (15-8) on Rodriguez's first touchdown, a three-yard run with 3:22 left in the third quarter.

"This means a lot. Coming from last year we made a big comeback," Rodriguez said. "We just executed on what we needed to execute on. We just had to get that win tonight."

Lara had 72 yards rushing and 72 yards passing and was a perfect six completed passes for six attempts with one touchdown pass to Zachary Talamantez on a 20-yard catch for the 7-0 lead with 7:19 left in the second quarter.

Ozona had 300 total yards of offense including 228 yards rushing with 72 yards passing.

"We played a heck of a game. We played as a team. They got up on us by one, but we didn't let get to us. We had some bad calls on us, against us, and we just bounced back. We came out with the win. It was a good team effort," Lara said.

KOBE RODRIQUEZ scored three touchdowns and rushed for 115 yards during the Lions' 29-16 victory Friday night over Reagan County.

Ozona lost to Reagan County last year 49-21.

Lions, however, stopped Reagan County on a fourth-down attempt in the last four minutes to seal the victory.

Junior Marcus Perez led the Lions' defense with an outstanding game in the secondary, knocking away what could have been three big pass completions for the Owls.

"The defense stepped it up against them and we are playing more aggressive on both sides of the ball. It was a satisfying win," Freeman said.

Reagan County had scored 42 points in each of the last two games, but were held to 16 by the Ozona defense and untimely penalties.

The Lions were not immune to untimely penalties as they had a 21-yard TD pass from Lara to Talamantez called back due to a penalty with time running out in the first half.

Ozona will take on Rocksprings (3-2). The Angoras are coming off a 12-7 loss to Roby. They have wins over Irion County, Miles and Eldorado and a loss to Menard.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Friday in Rocksprings.

JV Lions pounce Owls

JESSE VEGA scored a touchdown and threw for a touchdown in the JV Lions 20-12 win over Reagan County on Sept. 28.

BIG LAKE - The JV Lions defeated Reagan County 20-12 on Sept. 28.

Jaden Fay scored on a two-yard run in the second quarter.

Jesse Vega threw a touchdown to Marco Rodriguez with time expiring in the first half.

Vega scored on a two-yard run in the fourth quarter, followed by a two-point conversion by Fay to make the score 20-12.

"The defense played lights out all night and did an outstanding job against Reagan County," said Coach Steven Jackson.

Emmanuel Venegas, Jose Dominguez and Colby Mendez played a great game on both sides of the ball, Jackson said.

The JV Lions are off this week as Rocksprings does not have a JV team.

us while keeping our taxes low. In essence we control our own tax rate through a bond, without sending those bond funds back to the state. Remember, 100 percent of bond money stays in Crockett County Schools and is not affected by Robin Hood.

Question: How long do we have to spend the bond money?

Answer: We have 10 years to spend bond funds. Many people think that we only have one year to use the funds and that we are in a rush to spend it. Although we will not take 10 years to spend the money, it is nice to know that we can use the money as needed for the projects listed.

Question: Will teachers and staff get a raise?

Answer: Unfortunately we cannot use bond funds for salaries or utilities. However the money that we save in the regular budget due to bond funds could be used for that purpose. The goal of the CCCCSD Board of Trustees is to make sure our teachers receive a competitive salary. Not only that, we are one of the few districts around that pay a majority of employees' health insurance. That is a huge benefit to our teachers and staff.

Question: Why do we need an Ag Truck?

Answer: Our Ag teacher has done an excellent job in growing our Ag program. Our kids are now building projects and entering competitions with those projects. We need a truck that can haul a trailer with those projects to competitions. Some people may not know this but there is tremendous potential in scholarships for students in 4-H, FFA and Ag Metals, and our kids are starting to see success in this area.

Question: If we are a "rich" school district, why do we need a bond?

Answer: Because of the "Robin Hood" plan, Crockett County Schools has to send back money to assist other schools. We send back about 56 percent of the tax money raised in Crockett County. Most "rich" school districts pass a bond every two-three years to avoid sending money back to the state. Those schools rely on bond issues to address transportation, maintenance and technology.

I want to make this clear, any money raised by a bond issue stays in Ozona. That means 100 percent of the $5 million would stay here to be used for our kids and not sent back to the state.

Question: My parents are on a fixed income and have always supported CCCCSD.

Will their taxes go up due to the bond?

Answer: All of the rules and exemptions of the Homestead Exemption and the over 65 Exemption are still in effect if the bond passes. This means that those with these exemptions will not see a change in their exemptions. Taxpayers that are 65 and over will not have their taxes go above the frozen levy amount/ceiling that was established whenever the Over 65 exemption was granted. For more information, contact the Crockett County Appraisal District in the courthouse annex at (325) 392-8258.

In next week's article I will address more questions on the bond as well as provide you with area schools tax rates and budgets, and what taxpayers will pay in Crockett County.

If you would like me to come visit with any group for a Question and Answer session I would be more than happy to. For more information about the school bond, call Chavarria at (325) 392-5501.

Tuesday is voter registration deadline for November election

The last day to register to vote in the upcoming Nov. 7 Constitutional Amendment Elections is Tuesday, Oct. 10.

Crockett County Voters can register to vote at the county tax office in the courthouse annex.

CCCCSD is one of more than 400 school districts statewide that have signed a pledge to participate in the Texas Secretary of State Office's High School Voter Registration Initiative to make sure voter registration applications are distributed to all eligible students.

Along with the seven state propositions on the ballots, Crockett County Voters will be deciding on a $5 million school bond.

Early voting will run Oct. 23-Nov. 3.

The Texas Secretary of State's Office reminds voters who do not possess and cannot reasonably obtain a form of approved photo ID that they now have additional options when voting in person.

Those who do not possess and cannot reasonably obtain one of the seven forms of approved photo ID may vote by (1) signing a declaration at the polls explaining why they are reasonably unable to obtain one of the seven forms of approved photo ID and (2) providing one of various forms of supporting documentation such as a utility bill or a voter registration certificate.

The seven forms of approved photo ID are:

- Texas driver license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS)
- Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS
- Texas personal identification card issued by DPS
- Texas license to carry a handgun issued by DPS
- United States military identification card containing the person's photograph
- United States citizenship certificate containing the person's photograph
- United States passport

With the exception of the U.S. citizenship certificate, the approved photo ID must be current or have expired no more than four years before being presented for voter qualification at the polling place.

Voters with a disability may continue to apply with the county registrar for a permanent exemption to showing approved photo ID (which now may be expired no more than four years) at the polls. Also, voters who (1) have a consistent religious objections to being photographed or (2) do not present one of the seven forms of approved photo ID because of certain natural disasters as declared by the President of the United States or the Texas Governor, may continue apply for a temporary exemption to showing approved photo ID at the polls.

Moving Forward By Giving Back

James B. & Lois R. Archer Charitable Foundation and Sonora Bank

James and Lois Archer will be the first to tell you that they consider themselves to be among the very fortunate. And, in typical West Texan style, you will never hear them talk about the hard work or the sacrifices it took to get there. They understand that in order for individuals and communities to move forward, we must all give back.

Sonora Bank has also harnessed that same culture of giving back by promoting and supporting volunteerism across West Texas. The bank and our employees are there helping non-profit organizations through donations and time. It's a big part of the foundation we were built on.

New Texas law criminalizes drone use near animal farms, telecommunication and certain oil and gas facilities

BY ANDY DUEHREN
TEXAS TRIBUNE

David Mimplitch was on his lunch break in 2011, flipping through the 606 aerial photos he had just taken with a drone outside Dallas, when he noticed something strange: a creek stained scarlet with blood.

"That's blood. Surely that can't be right, surely that can't be legal," Mimplitch remembers thinking.

It was pig blood. Authorities quickly traced the waste back to Columbia Meat Packing Company, then a Dallas-area slaughterhouse and meat packing facility. A grand jury indicted the company and two executives on 18 counts, which were later dropped, and Columbia shuttered its slaughterhouse. It eventually reopened as a stand-alone meat packing facility.

Mimplitch never set out to uncover the pig waste — he enjoys documenting the progress of large infrastructure projects in Dallas — and he doesn't count himself as much of an activist. But he and others worry that a new Texas law could restrict the ability of hobbyists, journalists and activists from using drones to make observations like the one Mimplitch did.

House Bill 1643, which went into effect Sept. 1, makes it a crime to operate a drone over "concentrated animal feeding operations," as well as telecommunication facilities and certain oil and gas facilities. It also bars Texas cities and towns from making their own rules regulating drone usage — a measure that has become controversial in its own right.

While the Columbia Packing facility may not classify as a "concentrated feeding operation," Mimplitch said the law strikes him as an attempt to protect companies from unfriendly eyes in the sky.

"Texas is trying to protect the businesses from prying eyes, from being vetted," he said.

But proponents of the law see it differently. To them, drones pose a threat to agriculture across the state. As the technology develops, some fear the unmanned aircraft could be used to nefarious ends, like poisoning livestock or knocking out power lines.

State Rep. Drew Springer, R-Muenster, one of the authors of the legislation, said he was concerned about drones being used to infect cattle with foot-and-mouth disease.

"That disease could be spread through drones very easily and that is a massive fear for the economy of Texas, for the food supply in Texas, and really all of the United States," he said.

While he couldn't point to an example of a specific threat or complaint about spreading diseases through drones, he said "that was the natural next step if you look at security risks that would be anticipated."

"There are people who disagree with eating domesticated animals and they will stop at nothing to make sure nobody else can do that," Springer said.

EDDIE SEAL | TEXAS TRIBUNE
TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY-CORPUS CHRISTI ENGINEERING STUDENT ADAM ERSEPKE and lab coordinator Jack Edward Esparza prepare for the take off of the University's RS-16 unmanned aerial vehicle, otherwise known as a drone, for a test flight over the Kennedy Ranch near Sarita, Texas on Jan. 18, 2013. A new state law makes it a crime to operate a drone over "concentrated animal feeding operations," as well as telecommunication facilities and certain oil and gas facilities.

Opponents of the bill are skeptical of the threat that drones pose to the facilities and argue that many of the activities it seeks to prevent — like poisoning the national food supply — are already considered crimes in Texas.

"It would be an act of terrorism," Judith McGeary, the executive director of the Farm and Ranch Freedom Alliance, said. "There'd be multiple felonies that could be brought, the idea that a class B misdemeanor for flying the drone is how you're going to stop that kind of action is absurd."

McGeary said she fears that the law targets academics and other researchers who want to shed light on practices in the agriculture industry. Still, though, she said she doesn't know of any academics using the technology to conduct that kind of research.

Josh Cohn, the political director of EFF-Austin, a technology advocacy group, said that the new law prevents people from taking advantage of drones in the future.

"Instead of adapting to these new technologies like drones, Texas is restricting the people we want using them," he said. "We want to promote free speech and research. Drone enthusiasts are going to be penalized by this bill."

But Josh Winegarner, the director of government relations for the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, said that ranchers often cooperate with outside researchers.

"We cooperate with universities, we've done a lot of stuff with journalists," he said, adding that hiding the facilities from public view was "not an intent behind the bill."

Concerns about the bill extend beyond the bovine. The Texas Association of School Boards, the Texas Municipal League, and the City of Plano all sent letters to Gov. Greg Abbott asking him to veto the legislation. They each argued that the law's new rules limiting local control over drone usage would have detrimental effects.

"The bill's requirements would hinder school districts' ability to quickly respond to safety and privacy risks to our students and communities," Jim de Garavilla, chairman of the Texas Association of School Boards' legislative committee, wrote to Abbott.

THIS SEMI-TRACTOR TRAILER was one of three vehicles involved in a multiple vehicle accident where no injuries were reported on Sept. 27 west of Ozona on Interstate-10.

No injuries reported in multiple vehicle accident

A multiple vehicle accident resulted in traffic being diverted off of Interstate-10 last week.

According to a report from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Osvanis Cruz, 37, of Florida, was driving a 2003 Truck-Tractor, towing a semi-trailer, when he failed to drive in a single lane, rolled, struck a guardrail and came to rest in the roadway.

Juan Altamirano, 58, of Tennessee, driving a 2012 Kenworth crashed into Cruz's vehicle and jackknifed, the report stated.

Then a 2003 Nissan passenger car, driven by Emma Rachel Larabee, 18, of New Mexico, with passenger Melissa Larabee, 49, also of New Mexico, weren't paying attention and struck debris in the roadway, the report stated.

Emma Larabee and Melissa Larabee had no injuries, the report stated.

Cruz and Altamirano were both possibly injured but refused EMS service.

The accident occurred around midnight on Sept. 27 west of Ozona on Interstate-10.

Emergency personnel had to divert traffic onto the frontage road until debris and vehicles could be moved.

Ozona Volunteer Fire Department, Crockett County EMS, Texas Department of Transportation, Texas Department of Public Safety, Crockett County Sheriff's Department and Treto's Towing Service all responded.

Applications for state historical markers being sought

The Texas Historical Commission (THC) is currently accepting historical marker applications for subject markers, designated Historic Texas Cemeteries (HTC), and Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks (RTHLs).

Applications must be submitted to the appropriate County Historical Commission (CHC), and the deadline for CHCs to forward applications to the THC is Nov. 15, via email, to markerapplication@thc.texas.gov. The THC will approve up to 185 new applications; up to 15 additional markers will be approved through the Under-told Stories marker program.

One of the most visible programs of the THC, historical markers commemorate diverse topics from the history and architecture of houses and commercial buildings to religious congregations and individuals that have made lasting contributions to state and local history. With more than 16,000 to date, historical markers can be found in all 254 Texas counties.

Applications for historical markers are available, along with a marker toolkit on the THC website at thc.texas.gov/MarkerToolkit.

the failure of the Graham-Cassidy healthcare bill in the U.S. Senate on Sept. 26.

"With healthcare premiums skyrocketing and access to affordable insurance shrinking, it is irrefutable that Obamacare is broken, and must be repealed. The question is whether our healthcare system evolves into a Bernie Sanders-style government-run single-payer healthcare system or we empower states with the flexibility to craft patient-driven health care plans that meet the unique needs of their citizens," Abbott wrote.

"The Graham-Cassidy bill aspires to the goal of reducing the role of the federal government in health care decisions and giving states more flexibility to help their citizens make health care decisions better tailored to their unique needs. I trust Texans know better how to address their health care needs than bureaucrats in Washington," Abbott added.

zens make health care decisions better tailored to their unique needs. I trust Texans know better how to address their health care needs than bureaucrats in Washington," Abbott added.

AARP, the American Medical Association and the American Hospital Association have refuted assertions that the current healthcare law, widely known as Obamacare, is broken, and did not support passage of the Graham-Cassidy bill.

Eligible fuels include natural gas, biodiesel, hydrogen, methanol, propane and electricity. Information and the application form are available at terpgrants.org.

FLU SHOTS ENCOURAGED
 Texas Influenza Awareness Day was Oct. 1, and the Texas Department of State Health Services is encouraging everyone six months old and older to get vaccinated.
 "The flu vaccine causes your body to make antibodies to fight influenza, but it takes about two weeks for this to happen. So, it's important to get the flu vaccine early, before influenza hits your community," said DSHS Infectious Disease Medical Officer Jennifer Shuford.
